Charge of Graft in Airplane Building Is Ordered Investigated By President

COFFIN REQUESTS THAT INQUIRY BE INSTITUTED NOW

SCULPTORS ALLEGATIONS OF PRO-GERMAN INFLUENCE ALSO TO BE PROBED.

By Associated Press
Washington, May 6.—A department of justice investigation of the charge of graft in aircraft production made by Gutson Borglum, the sculptor, was ordered today by President Wilson.

Borglum's charges of pro-German influence also will be investigated. Demand for criminal investigation was made in the senate recently.

Investigation by the department of justice was asked of the president by Howard Coffin, formerly chairman of the aircraft board, who declared he requested it that the reputation of innocent men might not be ruined by charges that have been made.

At the same time the order for investigation was announced President Wilson's correspondence with Gutson Borglum, the sculptor, who made an investigation of the aircraft production situation was given out at the White House. He never was considered an official investigator and practically the department disposed of his services.

Writes Thomas
The president wrote Senator Thomas of Colorado today that he had ordered the department of justice investigation following the senator's request of Friday.

"Every instrumentality will be used to investigate and pursue the charges of dishonesty or malversation," wrote the president. "Only in this way can the reputation of those whose actions have been perfectly regular and blameless be protected and the public assured there is any definitely lodged where it should be lodged."

In January the president, after conferring with Secretary Baker, invited Borglum to lay the whole matter before the war department and gave him the advantage of having a member of Secretary Baker's staff detailed to assist him in the investigation.

"Every facility of inquiry will be placed at your disposal," the president wrote the sculptor, adding that if differences of judgment remained, he would be glad to have a report from Borglum.

In February the correspondence shows Borglum had made a preliminary report and the president transmitted it to Secretary Baker.

In March, Borglum evidently had inquired about his report, for the president wrote him saying the whole aircraft situation was undergoing thorough review, and that "Borglum's report had been placed before the investigation."

On April 15, the president wrote the sculptor declaring he "was under a serious misapprehension." Borglum evidently had said he was not supplied with expert assistance necessary to an investigation.

"I never at any time considered you an official investigator," wrote the president. "I merely gave you the right to look into the matter of your motion and I am sure that in the letter which the secretary of war provided you with, he gave you the same purpose and idea. We have wished at every point to assist you and to make possible for you what you wish to make we have at no time regarded you as the official representative of the administration in making the investigation. If I had so regarded you I would of course have supplied you with such assistance as you feel you have lacking."

The military committee probably will not re-open its investigation unless instructed.

Any information developed by the committee regarding misappropriation of funds, or any other criminal responsibility Chairman Chamberlain said would be properly under jurisdiction of prosecuting attorneys.

Major General Squier chief of the signal corps, according to information received by senators, has demanded that the war department make an investigation of its own, preferably by court martial.

NATIONAL TOTAL OF LOAN MONEY NOT YET KNOWN

NUMBER OF SUBSCRIBERS MAY HAVE REACHED 17,000,000 IS REPORT.

By Associated Press
Washington, May 6.—The treasury today abandoned all efforts to tabulate the nation's total Liberty Loan subscriptions because local committees reported they were too busy counting the great number of pledges turned in Saturday to give current accounts of the totals. Some reports today indicated that the total number of subscribers might run above 17,000,000, the treasury's previous estimate. It is now calculated that 22,000,000 people own Liberty Bonds of the first second or third issues. A few scattered reports today raised the money total of the loan to nearly $2,500,000,000.

BRITISH COMMANDER, WHO HOLDS VON ARNIM IN CHECK AT YPRES

FIELD MARSHAL SIR DOUGLAS HAIG

ANTI-DRAFT TALKS BY IRISHMEN ARE MADE IN LONDON

JOHN DILLON AND EDWARD DE VALERA SPEAK FROM SAME PLATFORM.

By Associated Press
London, May 6.—Anti-conscription speeches were made from the same platform by John Dillon, nationalist leader, and Professor Edward De Valera, head of the Sinn Fein yesterday at Ballaghaderreen, in Dillon's constituency. Good humor and enthusiasm characterized the demonstration, attended by 15,000 persons.

Mr. Dillon said that if the Irish kept united and determined for another two weeks, they would defeat conscription. It was an atrocious form of oppression to try to compel a people to fight for a country not their own. He personally opposed conscription, whether in Great Britain or in Ireland and believed it was a great blunder to depart from England's settled policy against compulsory service, especially when it was not to defend the soil of Great Britain but to send huge armies to the continent. If the nation's unity was broken in the event of the present terrific danger, Mr. Dillon continued, the government would be encouraged to pursue its wicked and insane policy.

Ireland's Rights.

The nationalist Sinn Feiners, he said, actually agreed that the whole struggle for Ireland's rights was based on the principle of her rights as a nation. There was an impression in the country that all danger was over. This was a terribly false impression. There was no question that the government had been staggered and no longer was so confident about the practicability of its policy as professed when the bill was introduced.

A powerful section of the house of commons and organized labor of England had declared against conscription in Ireland, Mr. Dillon added, until an Irish parliament and an Irish government were established. These things combined with united opposition in Ireland and the action of the country bishops had caused the government to pause, but it would take an army mistake to think that the danger had passed. He suggested the formation of Irish committees attached to every church and chapel so that in the event of a struggle being forced upon them the church could be the rallying point.

Take Great Army.
The nationalist leader declared he was convinced it would take an army such as England could ill spare to carry out successfully conscription in Ireland. He was also convinced that the government would split on the Irish rock and instead of destroying the Irish nation, the Irish would destroy them.

Professor De Valera said his followers would unite with those of Dillon to defeat conscription. With the reference to the issue raised in East Cavan he said there was only one arbitrator to whom the Sinn Fein would submit, namely the free choice of the electors.

NO GERMAN PEACE PROPOSAL MADE IS BALFOUR'S REPORT

By Associated Press
London, May 6.—Foreign Secretary Balfour told the house of commons today that no peace offer had been made recently by the enemy. He added: "There is no representative of a neutral nation in this country who has made tentative or informal suggestions of peace negotiations."

Dutch Intermediary.

A Central News dispatch from The Hague says the Dutch intermediary is reported to be Jonkheer Colyn, former minister of war. The proposals made by Jonkheer Colyn, the dispatch from The Hague reports, are said there to have been as follows: "1.—Germany to renounce all claims in the west. "2.—Restoration of Belgium. "3.—Alsace Lorraine to be autonomous within the German federation. "4.—The status in the east to remain as at present. "5.—Austria to make certain concessions to Italy in the Trentino. "6.—Balkan questions to be solved by an international conference. "7.—All colonial questions affecting Africa and Asia Minor to be settled by a conference of all the belligerents. "8.—Germany to abandon all claims to her former Chinese protectorate of Kiao Chau, but in exchange to receive certain economic concessions in China."

Went to England.

Jonkheer Colyn went to England last week at the head of a mission whose purpose was said to be to explain the British difficulties caused by Germany's demand on Holland concerning the transfer of German materials across Dutch territory to Belgium.

ALLIED POSITIONS ARE IMPROVED ABOUT LOCRE

HUNS ARE STILL UNABLE TO CONTINUE OFFENSIVE

The war situation of today is summarized by the Associated Press as follows:

Germany has not yet taken up the offensive in the west and probably another effort against the Allied armies is held in abeyance to be made simultaneously with the heralded Austro-Hungarian drive against the Italians.

In preparation for further enemy attacks on the Flanders battle field the British and French have been improving their positions in local operations. The Allied troops in an attack between Locre and Drocourt have advanced their line 500 yards on a front of one thousand yards, gaining positions which strengthen the important section of the front between Schorpenberg and Mont Fouge. German counter attacks were reported having failed. The artillery fire continues most intense on both legs of the Lys salient and south of the Somme, in Picardy.

On the southern leg of the Lys salient, which is the one the Germans must attack if they wish to connect this battle with the one in Picardy by wiping out the Arras salient, the Germans have made no further attempts to push back the British from their gains at Hinges, earlier efforts having failed. The artillery fire continues most intense on both legs of the Lys salient and south of the Somme, in Picardy.

The coming of a strong push on the Italian front is heralded officially from Vienna which announces that Emperor Charles and his military advisers are now on the front. In the Trentino and the Tyrol there have been large movements of enemy troops. Rome does not report any marked infantry fighting, nor does Vienna, but the Italian war office notes a great increase in the violence of the Austrian artillery fire, especially on the Trentino front where the new attack probably will come, in an effort to force the Italians from the Piave line. Aerial activity in northern Italy is intense.

Political Unrest.

Emperor Charles leaves his capital for the fighting front at a time when Austria is seething with political unrest. In Bohemia and all parts of his domains, the liberals are protesting against his action in dismissing parliament. It is announced in a pan-German Berlin newspaper that the German food department has taken over control of most of Bohemia "in response to the demands of the German population." Three members of Austrian cabinet are reported to have resigned.

Germany Are Angered Result Lynching Of Man At Collinsville

By Associated Press
Amsterdam, May 6.—The lynching at Collinsville, Okla., last month of Robert P. Traylor, German, who was accused by the mob which hanged him, of disloyalty, has infuriated German editors. The Zeitung Am Mittelweg by Berlin calls upon the government to make strong representations to Washington reminding the American government that Germany holds a number of American prisoners upon whom reprisals might be taken "in order to prevent the lynching of Germans in America from becoming a fashionable sport."

United States Guard Is To Be Recruited To Relieve Regulars

GERMANS FINDING "LUCK" IS AGAINST THEM UPON NORTH

APPEARANTLY HAVING TROUBLE IN WHIPPING THEIR MEN INTO SHAPE

STILL ARE REFORMING

Allied Artillery is Maintaining Severe Fire Against Lines All Along the Front

By Associated Press
With the British Army in France, May 5.—Luck seems to be going against the Germans along the crucial northern battle area. Sunday still found the Prussian commanders working desperately to whip their organizations in shape for a renewal of the delayed offensive, while the Allied forces aided by the weather continued counter operations which are most disconcerting to an enemy playing against time.

It was apparent the Germans intended another assault in Flanders yesterday morning but the arrangements were upset by a combination of events. These were the Allied operations and the heavy rain which converted the ground into mud flats over which it was difficult to move either infantry or artillery. There was also confusion arising from wholesale retreats and the arrival of strange troops in the German area.

Artillery is Busy

The allied artillery has been maintaining an incessant bombardment of enemy territory and Friday night before the projected German attack the French and British gunners played havoc with the German preparations. The Allied troops also have been carrying out local operations which improved their lines and upset enemy schemes.

Yesterday the Allies occupied a large number of important positions at various points along the front of 4,000 yards west of Kemmel. The British also made an advance of 500 yards along the front of 1,000 yards northwest of Locon, thereby gaining a number of positions which had been contested many days. This morning the Germans tried to regain some of the positions but were repulsed. An enemy attack yesterday morning in the Locon area under cover of a heavy barrage likewise was smashed.

On the southern battle front the British last night near Sully-Le-Sec advanced their line in a minor operation without casualties. Many Prisoners
The German prisoners taken in all these local engagements make a considerable total.

GERMAN AVIATORS ARE PLAYING SMOOTH GAME TO TRICK AMERICANS

By Associated Press
With the American Army in France, Friday, May 3.—German aviators are now resorting to unorthodox tricks in an endeavor to outwit American fliers. The trickiness of the German soldiers' foot is emulated by enemy aviators who are marking their machines to make them look as much like Allied marking as possible.

The Germans have taken to rounding off the corners of the cross on the wings of their planes to make them look like Allied badges. The game of the German aviators is to play around, get in a shot if he can and then run. American fliers for fear of attacking a probable friend must get up close to an enemy machine, usually after considerable maneuvering, before opening a fight.

LARGE NUMBERS ATTEND FIRST REVIVAL MEETING HELD IN THE TABERNACLE

MONDAY'S PROGRAM
 7:30 "Under the Juniper Tree"
 Mr. Brown.
 Tuesday, 10 a. m., "The Spirit Filled Life," Mr. Brown.
 3:30 Mr. Stover with the Boys and Girls.
 7:30, "The Old Hitchhiker Post," Mr. Brown.

The tabernacle revival went out of the roundhouse on schedule time. For a short time it looked as if Fireman Stover would have to take the engine out on the main line, because Engineer Brown was trying to work his way out of the curves of the "K's" right up to the minute set for the first run. The evangelist made it and addressed a crowd at the morning service that almost filled the big building.

Mr. Brown speaks deliberately, very earnestly and has a good way of stopping a moment after he has hit the last blow and letting the audience get a square look at who has been done. "Brother Brown is about five feet eleven and will weigh about one hundred and eighty five pounds. There is a note of finality about his speech that helps get his argument over. It is not aggressive finally, but a sort of "here are the facts in the case" note that seems to set well on a crowd. The night meetings will all be held at 7:30. This is pretty early under the new time but a large majority of the audience voted for it.

Came in at All Hours.
 The audience drifted in at all hours last night but the song service began at 7:00. Mr. Stover made several strong appeals for singers to join the chorus and finally started the songs with about seventy five on the platform. The music was good and the cream of Wichita Falls singers were there, but naturally the director wants a big body of singers for the sake of the broad effects that only can be produced by large numbers. It will do the singers good to be under Mr. Stover's direction. He knows his business, and last night gave a good idea of what is going to come to pass once he gets into his stride with the big chorus occupying the hill side.

Tonight Mr. Brown will speak on "Under the Juniper Tree," a sermon-lecture for those with a grudge, and he recommended that a special effort be made to have those present who had a case of chronic "kick" or felt that trouble sat upon their chests day and night.

A strong program involving all the party will swing into line on Wednesday.

Preliminary Remarks.
 With a house full and automobiles parked for two blocks around last night the evangelist made some preliminary remarks. "If you think you will not be able to willingly stay through the entire service I wish you would park your cars at least a block away. It is a direct annoyance to two thousand people to have cars and whirring engines just as the sermon begins. The Chief of Police requests you to lock your cars. Two officers will be on duty every night but if you will take some precautions yourself the police will have a better chance to handle any derelict who has no car and wants one by deviant routes."

Taking the Fourteenth chapter of Judges as a text Mr. Brown said in part:

Samson was a Hebrew, but had been backsliding over into the territory of the godless Philistines. Over there he saw a woman that caught his eye, and he came home slinging her songs and carrying her photograph. He no sooner got in sight of the home fires than he began to tell his father and mother what a fine girl there was in the other part of the world. The old folks tried to sidetrack him, and told him all about the beautiful girls of his own faith, but Samson wouldn't listen to reason, common sense or appeal, and the only rejoinder he made was: "Well she looks good to me, pa; get her for me."

As a result of his one-idea mind, Samson set out for Timnath a second time to see his girl, and as he went along joyously, a young lion came out in the road and roared at the young man. It is possible that the young lion was going to a far country to find a mate, but whatever his reason, it was a bad day for the lion. Samson invited the lion to get out of the path, and met only another roar. There were only three things for Samson to do.

Could Avoid Lion.
 He could go around the lion, perhaps, but that meant loss of time and the loss of self respect, and the last thing was to go ahead.

We are all making the journey through life, down to Timnath, and every one of us will sooner or later meet with men there are but three ways to deal with them.

The man who is a quitter is incurable, and God has less chance with him than any other kind of being. The quitter is a byword for God and man.

To go around difficulties weakens character. The man who is forever making excuses will soon have nothing to excuse. Finally, to kill; meet and overcome your lion means success. Only about three in every one thousand of business men win what the world calls success.

Failure Dogs Paths.
 Failure dogs one path, and professional men sell in large numbers even after a special preparation for life. The chief cause of failure is because men fail to slay the young lions that come out and growl in their path when these men have a program. Kill them as they come because lions prostrate and there will be more the next time you try to come down that road. The "quitter" never hears the "Well done, good and faithful servant." God cannot decorate in heaven a slacker or coward who has failed down here.

The way to get the Garden of Eden of the Legion of Honor is to go out and get a hide a way of lions that meet you and it won't be long till you are in the hero class, and lions will go out of your way rather than meet a man with a record.

This is a fine time for lion killing. The preachers should kill some lions, the deacon must kill a few, the elders must start in on lions, and the church members should be bringing in lion hides, and just to keep in style the evangelist will slay a few and hang their hides decently where they will growl or roar no more.

Fault Finding.
 One lion to be killed is "Fault finding." If there is any chronic grudge in the audience will you please stand. I would love to be pastor in Wichita Falls because of all this great crowd of nearly three thousand people there is not a single faultfinder or grudge. The happy preacher here sure has a heavenly time. (Laughter). Healthy criticism is good, but catching faultfinder cankers effort. There is a difference between flatter and healthy praise. The flabby flatterer is a slobbering soap suds; whose words make one curl your lips and/or you sick at the stomach. Praise is another matter and helps men ver rough places. We are a nation of Lower givers at funerals. I'd rather have mine when I can smell 'em. One flower to a live wife will do her more good than a car load piled on her casket. Faultfinding is a bad lion. Church members sometimes let their faultfinding of the preacher or his wife roar in the family circle and their children soon get a sort of disregard for the very one who is their spiritual adviser and guide. It should be a pretty bad actor in the pulpit before you let your lion roar in the home. And even then it would be better to kill the pulpitier rather than find fault in the family circle. The latter puts a club in the hands of the devil to knock your children into hell, will never knock the man who is doing more than I can. If Billy Sunday can save five hundred souls a day by pulling his coat off, I think it's a great way and if I could do the same I'd pull my coat, vest and shoes off. The knocker wastes the breath he breathes.

Indifference.
 Indifference is a sin of our nation. It is strong in religious life and even in the great war now on we have not the proper proportions of the importance of the work. There is no force in indifference. It is hard to wake up and loses momentum at the first obstacle. Any old many toothless lion can stop an indifferent person. Samson was a man with a program and was not indifferent about it. It would take the whole lion family to make him even hesitate, and for one young lion "Whoo" and it was all off and Samson whistled along the path to Timnath. Get a program, train your spiritual muscles and have some hides to show when this meeting is over.

Selfishness.
 Selfishness is a good hide to bring in. A lot of selfishness is being killed but more are still at large. Man fear is a lion to be killed. Failures in business are crowded because men have been afraid of the other fellow. They wanted to be a "good fellow" when that involved a lowering of standard. You can fall by catering to men instead of God. You can laugh a man into hell and failure but you can't laugh him out. The men who have their pictures hung on the walls of fame have been the ones who could not be laughed off their program. Washington, Wellington, Lincoln, Napoleon, Bryan, Roosevelt or Wilson don't stop cause of the cackle of some small fry. The big man knows at a glance what the laugh or laughter is worth and down to Timnath for the prize.

A man recently in one of my campaigns hit the key note when he said "I'm going home and kill a whole managerie." That is the system. If you have let them creep in until they hold possession of a large part of your estate, bet busy and when this campaign is over max you show an array of hides that Wichita Falls will remember it for years as the greatest open season on lions ever recorded.

RED CROSS

The Red Cross has received a $15 donation from B. F. Johnson, this amount being the surplus money collected by Mr. Johnson for a watch to be given State Food Administrator R. A. Peden as the gift of the district administrators. The watch was presented at the recent meeting of the district administrators in Houston. The collection amounted to $16 more than needed and the Wichita Falls Red Cross was the beneficiary.

The Federal grand jurors have voted to give their pay checks to the hostess of several Wichita Falls men on the grand jury so this will mean another good donation.

JACK MUNROE AND BOBBIE BURNS, WAR HEROES

LIEUTENANT JACK MUNROE AND HIS MASCOT BOBBY BURNS

As one of the foremost of the wearers of the padded mitt in the days when the heavyweight title at boxing meant something to followers of the sport and those who aspired to honors in the ring, Jack Munroe today stands head and shoulders above the majority of the present day winners in that he has been "over there." Jack (now Lieutenant) Munroe has put behind him all the glamour of the prize ring, and while he had his measure of victories and defeats in the squared circle, where he met the best of the heavyweights, including Jim Jeffries, he admits that he has not now the punch he was wont to have because of a shot through the right shoulder at the hands of a German sniper, when he was in the trenches at Arras.

AMERICAN GIRL JOINS ARMY OF FARM WORKERS TILLING BRITISH SOIL

From Reciprocal News Service:
 London, May 6.—Early this morning a slim figure in white breeches, coat, puttees, boy's shoes and Maud Munroe had bashfully stepped out of a fashionable Cromwell Road hotel and into a waiting taxi. The taxi sped to a railway station where other girls similarly attired were arriving. They were the day's additions to the British Land Army's corps of farm girls.

The slim figure was Miss Grace Baldwin, of East Liberty, Pittsburgh, Pa., who surely cannot be a day over 18. She was quite nervous. It was all so new. She had never been away from her mother before. The parting at the hotel had been rather tragic. "What it was going to be I-I like, she hadn't the slightest idea except that she was told it was the biggest sort of work in the war that a girl could do.

Had Been Clerk.
 "I had been working as a clerk at the Admiralty," explained Miss Baldwin. "We have been in England for three years, ever since my dad, a doctor, enlisted in the British Army. Of course, if you are idle over here you are a disgrace, so I found work at the Admiralty. A month ago I was passing the recruiting station of the Land Army, and was quite impressed by the appeals made for young women to work on farms."

"I know some very fine women who have joined the farm workers and all that was told me at the recruiting station sounded attractive. So I joined, saying that I would be free on April 15. Then I forgot about it. But Friday I got a notice asking me to report at this station this morning to proceed to some big farm 'way down in Dorsetshire. No, I really don't know if I am to be a plow girl, a cow girl, shepherdess, or a beekeeper."

"My only instructions were that it is a nice outdoor life and that I should go to any department store to buy a uniform. Please don't look at it! I feel as nervous as Midge in 'In Old Kentucky.' Our pay is $5 a week, but we are charged $4 for food. The uniform is quite expensive, so there really is no pay but the food."

Goes Cheerfully.
 "I am going cheerfully enough, because I want to be of the most value. It's going to be a struggle, but mother is coming down in about a week to live near me. There is one thing that bothers me a little. At a hotel where we stayed several months ago was a rather frowsy maid who announced, when she was discharged, that she was going to join the farm girls. Wouldn't it be awful if I were her bunk mate? You know, we sleep two together in barracks and sheds."

Several young British naval officers, who had evidently missed Miss Baldwin at her desk at the Admiralty, were down at the station to see her off. Yes; she is very pretty.

SLANDER AGAINST WOMEN WORKERS IS QUICKLY PUT DOWN

WOMEN'S ARMY AUXILIARY CORPS STANDS TEST OF AN INQUIRY.

By MARGARET WALTER. London, May 6.—England has her little Clarence True Wilsons and Hoywood Bronzes and one of their nastiest jobs of misrepresentation has been to attack the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps with the nastiest kind of slander.

The women of the commission, no one of whom has any connection with the government, chose their own time for the visit and carried passports which admitted them to any camp, hotel, hospital or working base, and authorized them to interview any official.

The very first thing they found out in answer to sensational charges, was that among the 6,022 women of the W. A. A. C. on foreign duty up to that time only three cases of pregnancy had occurred in France.

From July 1, 1917, to March 11, 1918, the following punishments had been recorded: fines, 17; confined to camp, 41; restriction of privileges, 22; admonitions, 7; total, 88.

Conditions Abnormal. "The employment of women for the first time in history as an organized corps of workers in close connection with the army has been a new and in some respects a revolutionary experiment," says the report.

Special watchfulness is therefore essential on the part of the authorities as regards the personnel of the Corps, and the avoidance of even accidental situations which, innocent in themselves, may give rise to unfounded rumors. We desire to record our unanimous conviction that up to the present every effort has apparently been made by the authorities to safeguard the position, and that the conduct of the W. A. A. C. in France has been upright and self-respectful.

Working Conditions. Once the moral character of the W. A. A. C. was established the commission gave particular attention to the conditions under which the girls are living and to the work they are doing in France.

They found that the sanitary arrangements at the various camps and hostels which they visited, 29 in all, were as nearly perfect as the military authorities could make them. The comfort of the girls had been considered in every way compatible with a state of active service and the life though simple and Spartan is not in the wrong sense of the word, rough. There is no hardship in sleeping on Army beds in Army blankets, and the great amount of out-door life is so good for the health of the girls that they save the commission an impression of abounding vitality and good spirits in spite of their long hours of work.

Good Discipline. But the real enthusiasm of the commission came when they reported on the morals and discipline of the W. A. A. C. on the work they are doing, and doing so well that even their men companions and the army officers who work with them side by side day after day are obliged to praise them.

Many of the women's camps are in close proximity to the men's and in these cases a certain military discipline is enforced; for instance, the women go to and from their work in companies and are obliged to observe rather strict rules of conduct in order that there may be no suspicion of irregularity.

The cooking department of the W. A. A. C. has earned the most enthusiastic praise from the Army itself. It appears that the girls of this department, having passed through an intensive course of scientific cookery before they leave England, have been able to deal in novel and ingenious

THE DAILY FASHION HINT

An odd little frock suitable for morning or school wear. It is quite evidently copied from the grown-up designs popular in gingham, as it crisses in surplus fashion and has a ruff and ruffles in white. The skirt is box pleated, with pockets applied.

Officers with the regulation Army uniform; the food in consequence is twice as varied since they came into the service and one hundred per cent more appetizing. Officers and men expressed nothing but gratitude to the cooks in khaki for the benefits they have conferred.

Of course for a country like France, with social and domestic traditions so different from those of England and America, it has been mighty hard to realize that men and women, both wearing uniform, could meet and mingle together on the most friendly terms without danger, not to say disaster.

Kings and Queens. To an American the real use of a King and Queen sometimes seem a little vague, but it is in cases like this present one, when a great body of women has been subjected to baseless slander and vague undermining abuse, that the opportunity of royalty comes. No sooner had the commission returned from France than Queen Mary, after receiving an advance report in person, decided that it was up to her to intervene.

"UNDER THE GERMAN HEEL"

If you are not reading the installments of Brand Whitlock's story "Under the German Heel in Belgium" in the Sunday Times you are missing something worth while. Any man who can read Whitlock's recital of the German atrocities and not buy a Liberty Bond, buy Thrift Stamps or go and enlist is so lacking in a sense of justice as to be hopeless.

TWO PAPERS BUY LINTOTYPES

Two more weekly newspapers in this section have announced the purchase of typesetting machines. Jack Stevens, editor of the Iowa Park Herald announced several weeks ago that the Herald had placed its order for a lino-type. Last week's issue of the Archer County News announces it has ordered a lino-type. Charley Martin, editor of that paper said, a few weeks ago in his paper that a combination of automobile, street car and prohibition had put him into a position to purchase a typesetting machine.

WANT THEY GET THEIRS!

From the very beginning of the war it has been known that the United States intended to concentrate upon the construction of thousands of airplanes and the training of thousands of men, especially equipped by nature to fly these planes, fight them or conduct observations at the front of enemy activities.

Control of the air was one of the chief promises which the entrance of the United States into the war seemed to make to our allies—and this a danger, in itself, to Germany, not less serious than was the danger to the Allies of the submarine campaign in the hey day of its hellishness.

A year has passed. Plans were made for battle planes upon a great scale. President Wilson and his chief advisers, knowing it is impossible for them to supervise details, entrusted the carrying out of the program to men whom they believed both honest and capable. Meantime, training planes, in sufficient numbers, were manufactured and hundreds of aviators were being made ready to man craft which had never been made. Many of these aviators are ready to go. Many of the planes for them have not yet been completed. But the program, after so long a time, has at last been placed upon a systematic basis and the output of machines now seems likely to justify early expectations.

Charges have been made in Congress of graft and the use of pro-German influences as detriments to the making of these planes. An investigation was asked and the same has been ordered by President Wilson.

It is right that such charges should be investigated, whether they have been made by a democrat or republican, and if there is one iota of truth in them, we hope that the men criminally responsible for the costly delay in the aviation program, will be dealt with by the government with justice but no mercy.

They have shown no mercy for the thousands of men who have been sent to the Western fighting front from homes in the United States. These men have need of airplanes with which to "see" the enemy and gain knowledge of his plans.

BRAND WHITLOCK'S REVELATIONS

Many of our people are reading a serial by Brand Whitlock, that appears each Sunday in the Wichita Times and the Star-Telegram. Mr. Whitlock was ambassador from the United States to Belgium at the time war broke out in Europe and that country was overrun by the German army. He writes from his personal observations and from statements of others who were eye witnesses to the terrible treatment to which the people of Belgium were subjected when the Germans had them under their power. They are sickening to read and much of it seems unbelievable were it to come from any but a reliable source. Had the people of the United States known at the time of the terrible atrocities being committed by the Germans on those helpless people, it would most surely have hastened this country into the war and it seems strange that our people were not informed sooner. Mr. Whitlock undoubtedly kept the State Department at Washington informed in regard to the matter. It is now very evident that the United States waited much too long to get into the war. Had we declared war on Germany at the time of the sinking of the Lusitania, as we should have done, we might at this time have had an army in Europe that would easily have turned the tide of the great battle that is now raging with the results still greatly in doubt. But our people being uninformed and anxious to remain neutral, it was hard to arouse public sentiment to the fighting point. American people could not believe that Germany dare get into the war, and it now seems that Germany believed the American people would take almost any kind of insult before going to war. A certain number were sadly mistaken, we for not going to war sooner by about two years and Germany for presuming that this country would not fight when necessary.—Burkhardt Star.

EFFORTS FELT ELSEWHERE

Wichita Falls has gone dry; not only by state statute, but by her own volition. The recent prohibition election there was a satisfying example of patriotism. The government had said saloons were not desired near army or aviation camps and Wichita Falls was the only town in the state that has been the only wet spot in this section of the state, and its wetness has become a certain amount of influence every small town in its vicinity.—Seymour Banner.

Johnson, the secretary, has been present since January, and which will be several matters of importance to come up. A committee on attendance on the meeting of the Oil Belt Highway to be held Thursday, May 9, at Graham, will be appointed. Mr. Johnson is to address the meeting on "The Money Value of Towns of Through Highways." The meeting promises to be of much interest.

Dickerson, the manager of the Oil Belt Highway and State Engineer Merrittweiser were through Wichita Falls Sunday on an inspection of the highway with a view of determining the amount of Federal and State aid which would be available. B. F. Johnson entertained the visitors while they were in this section of the district. Further work on gaining outside aid will be planned at the Graham meeting. It is understood that the Ozark Trails Association, will be held on Thursday and a representation from Wichita Falls will be named at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. It is understood, Mr. Johnson was on the program for the Abilene meeting but was forced to decline on account of the Graham date.

SONS OF VETERANS TO ELECT SUCCESSOR TO CAPTAIN BALDWIN

FEDERAL COURT TRANSACTS MUCH BUSINESS TODAY

FINAL REPORT OF GRAND JURY IS EXPECTED IN AFTERNOON.

MANY PLEAS OF GUILTY

One Youth Receives Small Fine as Result of Effort to Transport Loin.

Indications were favorable for the Federal grand jury completing its work this afternoon. U. S. District Attorney W. M. Odell announcing that a final report would probably be brought before Judge Meek in the afternoon.

Indictments have been coming in since last Thursday, when 29 were returned, and since that time the number has been more than doubled.

Judge Meek convened court at 2:30 this afternoon. Pleas of guilty by defendants indicted last week were continued. The first defendant, G. W. McMahon, charged by indictment with conspiracy to transport a certain quantity of whiskey and beer into Oklahoma, was fined $25 on his plea of guilty.

Leater Tinsley, twenty year old youth, was given a $5 fine, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to transport a quart of liquor into Oklahoma. Judge Meek in sentencing him held in his hand a letter from his home town, which the judge said, showed that the defendant was a hard working boy, son of honest, hard working parents, and he said he was sorry that he had transgressed the law, such a serious transgression that it took away from him his rights of citizenship at such an early age, before he had quite become a man in the eyes of the law.

The third defendant to enter a plea of guilty was Joe Paalhl, Hawaiian, charged with violation of the Mann Act, by causing to be transported one Sweet Russell from Oklahoma City to Wichita Falls for immoral purposes. Judge Meek deferred imposing sentence until he could be more thoroughly acquainted with the case.

Adjournment was taken by the court at 3:30 until five o'clock when the grand jury will report.

Pleas of Guilty Made. Pleas of guilty were made by defendants on five indictments, and those assigned by Judge E. R. Meek in two cases this morning.

Charles Reid, who was indicted with his brother, Arthur Reid, on complaint charging transportation of two quarts of liquor into Oklahoma, was fined $25 on his plea of guilty, and Judge Meek ordered that the case be dismissed against his brother, who is a soldier in the United States Army and now in France, having entered the service after the alleged offense was committed.

J. E. Gignoux, J. P. Bootner, John Scott and C. D. Barker, charged on one indictment with conspiracy to transport liquor into Oklahoma, pleaded guilty and were fined in the sum of $25 each.

Reed Pool, indicted for violation of the Mann act, pleaded guilty and requested that he be permitted to make a statement. Judge Meek told the defendant that he would be given an opportunity to speak later and sentence was deferred.

Sentence Deferred. A. Pielle and W. T. Stephenson, indicted on charges of conspiring to transport liquor into Oklahoma, pleaded guilty and their sentences were deferred.

Number of other cases were called in which defendants were not ready for trial and those cases were postponed to this week. Several cases were found neither defendant nor attorney to answer for them and District Attorney Odell called this to the judge's attention and suggested that some action be taken to have defendants or their representatives on hand to give some report when cases are called and not delay the action of the court.

TODAY'S MARKETS

COTTON PRICES ARE LOWER ON MORE SELLING

New York, May 6.—Cotton futures opened firm 25 to 30 points higher on firm cables, Liverpool buying and covering. But after selling at 25.14 for July and 24.50 for October prices turned easier on good rains in the south-west and renewed liquidation. July sold off to 24.70 and October to 24.00, or 18 to 20 points under Saturday's closing. The decline was checked by covering.

The rally extended to 25.60 for July and 24.82 for October during the middle of the morning, or about 52 to 62 points net higher. After a fairly wide urgent demand from shorts had been supplied however, the market eased off under renewed pressure accompanied by talk of a bearish weekly report from the weather bureau on Wednesday.

Trading was quiet during the early afternoon and further price changes comparatively narrow. With July ruling around 25 and October 24.32, or about 13 to 18 points net higher.

The market closed firm. Cotton futures opened steady. May, July 25.12; October 24.47; December 24.25; January 24.14.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, May 6.—Nervous and unsettled market. A fairly wide range featured the early trading in cotton here today. Rains in the western belt caused buying on the first call, which put active months 21 to 35 cents up, but heavy offerings met the advance and sent the market 30 to 20 points below Saturday's close.

Buying again set in and at the end of the first half hour prices were 15 cents up. The market then advanced and sent the market 30 to 20 points below Saturday's close.

Crop complaints from many sections of the belt, both east and west and rumors of new peace overtures from Germany increased the buying. In the trading up to noon the prices were set 45 to 55 points over Saturday's closing figures.

The market became quiet with a tendency to sag. At one o'clock the active months were 17 to 20 points over Saturday's last quotations.

Cotton opened steady. Opening bid May 24.85; July 24.25; October 24.40; asked: December 23.22; January 23.13. Cotton closed steady at an advance of 47 to 55 points.

Standard Oil Men Reach This City; Visit Oil Fields. R. A. Furlow arrived from Enid, Oklahoma, yesterday with a party of officers and stockholders in the South and Oil Co., which is drilling a well on the Goetze farm in the Burk Burnett district.

Included in the party were George F. Southard and son, Harry E. Southard, of Enid, Oklahoma; Charles E. Force, W. M. Bennett and J. F. Livingston, of New York City, and C. A. Briggs of Boston, Mass.

The party made a trip to Burk Burnett, up through the oil pools by way of Sunshine Hill to Electra. The visitors were surprised at the magnitude of the pools here. While at Sunshine Hill they saw a new well on the Ward and Todd tract about half a mile south and west of the main pool brought in. This well is producing from a new sand at 1250 feet, and is an added indication of the connection of the Burk Burnett and Electra pools.

The Southard Company has extensive interests in Oklahoma and Texas. The party will leave tonight for other Texas points. Mr. Bennett, one of the party, was the Republican candidate for mayor of New York City.

New York Stocks. New York, May 6.—The success of the Liberty Loan and further encouraging war advances were reflected in the firm to strong opening of today's stock market. Steels, shippings, tobaccos and prominent specialties gained from half a point to 1 1/2 points. Oils and minor equipments were included in the advance. Rails recorded little change aside from Reading and Union Pacific. Initial gains were generally extended before the end of the first half hour. Liberty Bonds were steady.

Trading quiet in the early afternoon but the market's tone showed increasing strength. U. S. Steel, which dominated the list, added a fraction to its previous maximum and rails, including low priced issues, were in better demand.

Top prices were registered in the last hour, steels, rails, shippings and tobaccos leading the rise. The closing was strong. Liberty 3 1/2's sold at 98.34 to 98.94, first fours at 96.06 to 96.10 and second fours at 96.00 to 96.04.

CORN MARKET IS MADE LOWER BY PEACE GOSSIP

Chicago, May 6.—General attention to peace gossip made the corn market today lean to the bear side. Besides favorable weather conditions hindered buying. The fact too that receipts were more liberal than has been the rule of late, counted as a handicap on the bulls. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as Saturday's finish to 1/4 lower with May 1.27 1/2 and July 1.48 to 1.48 1/2 were followed by a decided further setback.

A little scattered selling carried prices like corn sagged owing to peace talk. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 down with July 68@68 1/2, the market continued to decline.

In the last hour the market rallied owing largely to reports that much planting was being put off as a result of fears that the germination of seed was doubtful. The close was unsettled, May 1.27 1/2 and July 1.47 1/2 to 1.47 3/4, 1/4 off to 1/2 advance compared with Saturday's finish.

OFFICIAL

GERMANY

Berlin, Sunday, May 5.—Répulse of Anglo-French attacks on the Flanders battle front is reported in the official announcement by the war office today. More than 300 prisoners are reported captured in the fighting. Increased artillery activity south of the Somme is announced in the statement, which reads:

"After the strongest artillery preparation French divisions attacked our positions on Kemmel hill and near Bailleul unsuccessfully. They were repulsed with heavy losses and left over 300 prisoners in our hands. An intended attack by an English division west of Bailleul failed to develop because of our fire.

"South of Hebuterne, (north of the Somme) strong British thrusts failed. The battle front on both sides of the Somme saw a revival of artillery activity in the evening. It increased especially near Villers-Bretonneux and on the west bank of the Avre."

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, May 6.—The British line has been advanced on a considerable front between the Somme and Ancre Rivers west-southwest of Morlancourt, says the official statement from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters today.

The British positions in the neighborhood of Locon and the Lawe River on the southern leg of the Lys salient in Flanders have been improved as the result of local fighting.

The statement reads: "A successful minor operation was carried out by us last night between the Somme and Ancre rivers, west-southwest of Morlancourt. Our line in this territory has been advanced on a considerable front in spite of strong opposition from the enemy whose losses were heavy. Over 150 prisoners, two machine guns and a trench mortar were captured by our troops. Our own casualties were slight.

"Local fighting took place last night to our advantage in the neighborhood of Locon and the Lawe River. Our positions in this locality have been improved.

"On the remainder of the front the situation is unchanged."

GREAT BRITAIN (Aerial)

London, May 5. Sunday.—The official statement on aerial activity issued tonight by the war office reads: "Saturday evening nine tons of bombs were dropped on the Chaulnes railway junction and on Bapaume, Arranciers, Merville and Estaires.

MRS. POTTER PALMER IS DEAD AT WINTER HOME AT SARASTA, FLORIDA

By Associated Press. Sarasota, Fla., May 6.—Mrs. Potter Palmer of Chicago, is dead at her winter home here.

Mrs. Palmer, who was born in Louisville and was the widow of Potter Palmer of Chicago, where she was a social leader, had been some time. Several days ago her family was summoned to her bedside and medical specialists came here from the north. The body will be taken to Chicago for burial, leaving here tomorrow.

During the Chicago International Exposition, Mrs. Palmer was president of the board of lady managers and visited Europe for the purpose of interesting foreign governments in the fair. Later she was appointed by the president of the United States as the only woman member of the American commission to the Paris exposition.

She was the possessor of a membership in the Legion of Honor, awarded by the French government.

For years Mrs. Palmer had spent her winters at her home here, which is considered one of the most beautiful in Florida.

Later it was learned that Mrs. Palmer died of pneumonia.

Bolshevik Demands Allied Consuls Be Removed At Once

By Associated Press. Moscow, Sunday, April 28.—Bolshevik demands that the American and French consuls at Vladivostok be recalled have brought no official statement from Ambassador Francis and French Ambassador Mautou. The definite demands made by Foreign Minister Tchitcherine were coincident with the arrival of Count Von Mierbach, the German ambassador in Moscow.

Regardless of the strong warnings put on the Entente embassies in the last few weeks to recognize the soviet government which is making this use of the Siberian incident, the position of the embassies remains unchanged.

The bolshevik demands on Ambassador Francis were: First, the removal of John K. Caldwell, American consul at Vladivostok; second, investigation on his part in the alleged negotiations with the American legation at Peking; and third, the attitude of the American government toward the soviet republic.

Leader of Sex

Mrs. Potter Palmer was one of the first women prominent in society to become actively interested in public affairs. Gifted with wealth, culture and beauty, she was a pioneer in the movement which eventually led to the affluence in favor of women being given the right of suffrage in many states.

She was the friend of working women and was instrumental in 1888 in organizing the Chicago Business Women's club, which had a membership of several thousand.

Perhaps the most notable achievement of her public career was as chairman of the board of women managers of the world's Columbian exposition in Chicago in 1893.

The cleverness and tact displayed in discharging her official duties in this position won her worldwide attention and recommendation.

Mrs. S. P. Warren is seriously ill at the Amason-Hargrave Hospital.

NO GREAT NOVELS ARE EXPECTED TO BE WAR INSPIRED

NO VICTOR HUGO HAS YET SHOWN SIGNS OF RISING.

By GEORGE T. BYR
London, May 6.—Thomas Burke, the famous English novelist, does not believe the war will inspire any great stories in this generation. A Victor Hugo approves signs of rising. The world holocaust has blighted too many hearts, writers, publishers and public, he believes, are being deemed to any appeal of war themes, and little interest remains in the period ignored lately preceding the war, that there is bound to be a revolution in literature back to swash-buckling knights and lovely princesses in castle towers, and to other rejuvenated characters of history relation.

Interview With Mr. Burke.
I was lucky enough to have a peripatetic interview with Mr. Burke. I had read his "London Nights," "Imaginary Nights" and "Tinklers," which have been so well-received by American reviewers. I called on him, an authority on London oddities, to beg him to suggest a fool-proof roof through the serious lanes and crooked streets that deliver the elect to shadowy but hallowed havens for meditation in this metropolis of the world. Mr. Burke was good enough to clap on his hat as he said, "I have a crack his knee hook his arm in mine and cry, 'Come! We'll go on a little jaunt together, now.'"

He scuffed out of his interesting "digging" still arm in arm, it being that time that the war had just begun, he marched to the "Load of Hay" for a glass of ale, which we drank with Falstaffian gusto. "Prohibition is a grand thing," said Mr. Burke, "where it is possible. It is inevitable. It is inevitable. This damp, northern climate demands stimulant, or none of us could try, 'Come! We'll go on a little jaunt together, now.'"

Climate Impelling.
"Climate is the impelling cause of some misunderstanding of the English by Americans," he went on. "Our climate causes fogs, for example, and fogs cause adenoids and bronchial troubles which after centuries, probably have resulted in the throats of cockneys. That perhaps is why cockneys talk as if from the roof of their mouths. An American hears a cockney and thinks, 'Well, here is a queer foreign bird'—but he differs very slightly in his rule of life and his ambitions from your Yanks."

British Writers Silent.
"What am I writing now? Nothing. Nothing is being produced by the younger British writers. The old chaps keep grinding away, very little disturbed, for they are safely over draft age. But even those of us who are physically acceptable—my shorts coming in a dirgeful kidney—can work with no imaginative enthusiasm. No matter how young and vigorous a man imagination may be, it has not a diamond edge that is proof against all the hard rules that the war gives. If there were only one air raid, for instance, or one bombardment of Paris, one church full of people killed, one gas attack, one use of jets of flames, one instance of the execution of an captive population, one case of the heads of wounded being bashed in—well, a reflex from horror and disgust might stir the imagination to turn out a notable book. But when this most dreadful monotony of misdeeds keeps up, day after day, month after month, it beats down young imagination, even conquers a love of life."

Italian Jew Section.
"Let's see. Where are we? When I get talking of war, I'm like a drunk man. This is the Italian Jew section of Coho. Aren't the children pretty? Can you see them scurrying up the side of the street at midnight after an air raid warning, bundled up hurriedly in shawls, their big eyes big with terror, making for the shelters? What a world! Well, here's a place, a public house, that is the haunt of poster artists and a few actors. You'll observe that it looks like a studio. Usually there is a crowd of interesting people in here. Those are all actors in their civilian clothes. The man facing this way is well known on our stage, besides he is the father of 'Little June,' a phenomenal child dancer. She is only 14 years old, but she is a business sensation at the Royal Opera."

Mr. Burke introduced me to the group as a journalist from America, and they were flattered by polite. One remarked that Billy Merson was playing at the Palladium this week. "Well, I hope to look him up," said Mr. Burke. On the way to the Palladium, I learned that Billy Merson is one of the two or three most popular comedians in Great Britain, that he draws a salary of about $1500 a week, that he is quite religious and has never cared to make an American tour because he objects to performing on Sundays. The Palladium is a vaudeville theater, exactly like any vaudeville theater in America—music and performance—excepting that smoking is allowed in any seat. We took seats, and watched the show until Mr. Merson's act.

Admiral Magazines.
In the meantime Mr. Burke whispered to me that he was a great admirer of American magazines which he considered superior to English magazines. He said that America leads in short stories—that there was no question of this. He believed this was because authors had to work harder in America. In England an editor orders one short story or a half dozen from an author and he has to buy whatever is delivered to him. Nothing, or very little, is written on speculation; it is considered beneath the dignity of a successful author to "submit" his work for approval. Mr. Merson now appeared as a burlesque pirate and sang a song about confounding a wench. He is very, very funny. When he had bowed for the last time we went around our tables and quickly got back an invitation to tea in his dressing room. I found him a man who looks very much like Briggs, the American cartoonist, and is the same general type of man. He was using a Japanese vibrator to live up after his act. He is not in the best of health, a fact which is at once confessed by his non-presence in the army. We had a good chat, then tea, which was served by a certain Kettle, a celebrated chatter enjoying a week's rest in London, came to visit Mr. Merson, and spent two hours of his rest period doing card and coin trick that were nothing short of marvelous.

It was dinner time when we left the theater. "I am afraid I haven't shown you any of quaint London," Mr. Burke apologized. "Come tomorrow, the next any time. I am at the service of any American. I should enjoy being guide to a party of American soldiers if you will only send them around to me. Good-bye-ee!"

CONDUCT OF HUNS IN UKRAINE DISPLEASES
By Associated Press
Zurich, Switzerland, May 6.—German and Austrian conduct in the Ukraine is condemned by the Arbitration Commission of the League of Nations, which foresees serious complications as a result. "The Ukrainians," it says, "will not regard the occupying troops as liberators from Russian domination but as armed forces establishing a military regime in order to requisition foodstuffs for the Central Powers. The Germans and Austrians will be as much beloved by the Ukrainians as they are by the Letts, Poles, Estonians and Lithuanians."

The Russophile sentiment in that country seems to be strengthened and the separation of the Ukraine from Russia will last only as long as the Austro-German troops remain there.

BASEBALL MANAGER ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Chicago, May 6.—F. (Ned) Egan, widely known in the middle west as a manager of minor league baseball clubs, last night shot and killed himself in a room at a downtown hotel. For ten years he was manager of the Waterloo club in the Central Association and for a short time last winter was manager of the Milwaukee club of the American Association but was compelled to resign because of ill health.

CITY OF LONDON PUTS ON FRILLS FOR AMERICANS

GREAT CELEBRATION IS HELD AT MANSION HOUSE IN LONDON

(By K. WALTER)
London, April 9. (By Mail).—The city of London put on all its frills for the American celebration at the Mansion House, and many Americans present for the first time what a splendid medieval function a state luncheon with the Lord Mayor is, even on war rations.

The realization began with a policeman at the door to ring a bell for you, and the sudden opening of the big doors revealing two great white haired funkeys in scarlet tail coats, heavily embroidered in gold, and knee breeches. More of these magnificent creatures of a past era were on the stairs to direct you to the cloakroom where most ceremoniously you were relieved of your superfluities by one attendant who handed them to another, who handed them to another, who presumably hung them on a solid gold peg in a crystal cabinet.

Has Recovered
By this time you had recovered from your sudden transition from the worn time streets of modern London into the peaceful pomp of the Middle Ages and found yourself in a crowd of quite ordinary looking twentieth century citizens in their Sunday clothes or dress uniforms. But if you knew public faces by sight you soon saw that it was no ordinary gathering. Ministers, ambassadors, generals and admirals seemed to be in the majority. They filled the two wings of the great reception hall, which in size and architecture might have been the main lobby of one of the more handsome state capitols.

Presently there was a general stir among the chattering groups and a gilded usher made his way through the length of the hall calling "make way for the mace-bearer, and the crowd opened to let pass a small but most dignified procession consisting of magnificently robed officials of the city, one carrying a heavy golden mace, another the sword of state in its richly ornamented scabbard, one wearing a strangely shaped hat—a kind of top hat twice as wide at the crown as at the brim, and others in plain black with a white ruff and knee-breeches, powdered wig and gown. Before the groups had time to reform the usher returned, this time calling: "Make way for The Right Honorable The Lord Mayor," and the procession returned with the addition of a plump personage in yet more resplendent robes of state. At the far end of the hall this gilded company of hosts formed a line with the Lord Mayor in the center. Then the funkeys went through the crowd announcing: "The Lord Mayor is present, gentlemen; the Lord Mayor will receive you, which was the signal for us to be presented to our host. We arrived in front of his magnificent one by one, whispering our names to a man with the voice of a baseball umpire and in his way not less strangely garbed, who called them in a loud voice so that the whole company could hear, as we approached each in turn and shook hands with the Lord Mayor and his supporters.

Made Most of Names
Brave man, he made the very most he could of some of our modest names. Just ahead of me was a little man who was announced in stentorian tones as "His Excellency The Japanese Ambassador." It sounded fine, I expected my name to sound something like an umpire's pectory call when a ball shoots unchallenged a yard wide of the plate; but the worthy announced as if it were a decision for which he would stand against all the pop bottles in the bleachers. After a few handshakes and the minimum of polite conversation those who had been received lined up on each side to watch the others and spot the notables among them. Admiral Jellicoe was one of the first I noticed. The First Lord of the Admiralty and the First Sea Lord came together. Mr. Balfour and the American Ambassador, Admiral Sims, Major-Gen. Biddle, Sir William Robertson the Archbishop of Canterbury, and many other well known figures of the day followed. Mr. Page was the only guest whose arrival caused a flutter of applause in the assembly. Among other Americans I saw were Judge Ben Lindsey, Edward Price Bell and Ray Stannard Baker, besides a number of American military and naval officers.

The Lord Mayor and his gorgeous staff then led the way into the banquet hall, a lofty spacious place with gilded pillars and one long wall lined with shelves on which stood the historic solid gold plate of the ancient city. The mace and sword were placed crosswise behind the Right Honorable's throne, a robed chaplain said a brief grace, and a host of white haired waiters set the traditional turtle soup before us. This was followed by salmon and whitebait, Eggs Florentine, fruit salad and custard, with champagne, port and coffee.

There was only one embarrassing moment in the proceedings. Cigars and cigarettes were handed round;

FIELD MARSHAL FRENCH VICEROY OF IRELAND
By Associated Press
London, May 6.—The appointment of Field Marshal Viscount French as viceroy of Ireland came somewhat as a surprise. It was known that the government was experiencing considerable difficulty in finding a successor to Baron Wimborne and that this was the reason for the delay in announcing officially the appointment of Edward Short as chief secretary, which was known unofficially many days ago.

No one however, anticipated such a purely military appointment as that of the celebrated field marshal.

Certain-teed Roofing
The roof that copes with all conditions.
Sparks, smoke, gases, acids or fumes have no effect on a Certain-teed roof. Rust cannot corrode Certain-teed. The heat of the sun cannot cause it to melt or run. Certain-teed has the ability to resist every form of roofing attack, and the durability to give year after year of weather proof service, with little or no maintenance cost. Certain-teed offers every practical roofing advantage with a minimum roofing investment.

In every town, city and section you will find Certain-teed. Everywhere Certain-teed is chosen for buildings of all types and sizes, for factories, round houses, elevators, garages, warehouses, houses, hotels, farm buildings, stores, auto bodies, etc. In arid red or green climates, Certain-teed is very popular for residences.

Guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness. Certain-teed costs less than any other type of roof—first cost and laying cost low, and maintenance practically nothing. Certain-teed is more economical than ordinary roll roofing, because it costs no more to lay and lasts much longer.

Certain-teed Products Corporation of Texas.

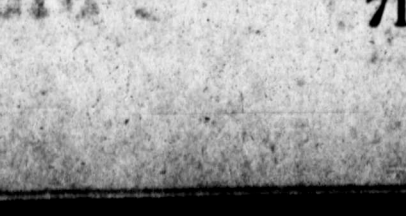

Guardians of the Nation
In Peace and war the Bell telephone girl at the switchboard protects life and property in each community. In danger and disaster, it is her quick response which summons aid and brings order out of chaos.

In the Bell System there are 100,000 operators whose presence at the switchboard adds to the security of the Nation.
More than 12,000 of these faithful operators have been especially trained to meet the requirements of the Government for telephone service.

Like the soldier on guard, the telephone girl is always alert and at her post of duty. Everything is done to make her physically and mentally fit for the splendid service which she renders to the company and to the public.

SEE THE BEAUTY SPOT OF WICHITA

Drive out today through the restricted district of Floral Heights eight feet above the city, higher in fact than any other portion of the city.

Note the cool breeze, the beautiful shade trees sheltering both sides of the streets, the broad commanding view of the world as far as the eye can see.

From a sensible and logical point of view your natural conclusions will be that this restricted district is the place to build swell, expensive homes.

Compare these lots with anything else in the city then call on your agent for prices and terms.

LEWIS CHAMPION OF CALL FIELD; IS IN 192ND

FIELD DAY EVENTS ON SUNDAY PROVE MOST SUCCESSFUL

Lewis of the Hundred and Ninety second Squadron was the individual champion of Call Field's first field day, held Sunday afternoon, and the squadron the champion represented also won the highest number of points. The field day was in every way a success and plans are already under way for a repetition of the field and track events, it is understood. Useful prizes were awarded those winning first and second places in the events, the prizes, which were given by the merchants of Wichita Falls, being presented to the winners at the meet's close by Major Butts, the officer in charge of flying.

Lined With Cars. The field for several hundred yards was lined with automobiles filled with spectators and a large number of others occupied the "bleachers." Soldiers and people from the city made the audience in about equal proportions and at all times a great deal of enthusiasm and excitement prevailed.

The meet was presided over by Neville, clerk of the course, Captain Pierce, announcer; Lieutenant Baker and Horner, judges; Captain Coon, recorder, and Lieutenant Donnan, athletic officer in charge of the meet.

WICHITA COUNTY GOES OVER HIGHEST QUOTA FOR THE THIRD LOAN
Wichita county has subscribed her maximum allotment of $1,087,000 in the Third Liberty Loan. Every community in the county has subscribed more than its minimum quota. Further than these facts the Wichita county Liberty Loan committee could make no statement this afternoon. The totals are now being figured out and will probably be announced tomorrow. The minimum allotted to the county $924,450 was reached a week or more ago and the maximum was reached Saturday. A few subscriptions are still coming in. Members of the committee said today that it would have been possible to have greatly oversubscribed the loan in the county, but when the maximum was reached it was thought best not to push the campaign too vigorously as it is certain that the county will be called on for a large subscription in the next Liberty Loan which is likely to come early next fall.

TRIANGLE FEATURE AT THE PLAZA TONIGHT.
A historic Southern California landmark is shown in the latest Triangle western thriller, "The Law's Outlaw," featuring the cowboy star, Roy Stewart, at the Plaza Theater tonight. It is an abode house on the "Lucky" Baldwin estate and is more than 130 years old. The adobe it is said, was at one time the residence of the late tuffman, who made his fortune out of Southern California lands, but is now the home of a Mexican family which looks after several hundred head of stock belonging to the Baldwin estate. Although pretty tough looking on the outside, the interior is as good as the day it built. It was used by Director Cliff Smith. It was used as the ranch house of Roy Stewart in "The Law's Outlaw."
