HUNS USE UP RESERVES

It Is Now Two Weeks Since Disastrous Repulse of Enemy To North of Kemmel Hill.

The war situation of today is sum marized by the Associated Press as Assurance in their ability to stem the tide of German force grows among the Allied leaders as the enemy de-lays a renewal of his offensive from day to day. With the French reserve almost intact it has been decided not to incorporate the American army in the Anglo-French armies at this time and not to use it until it is complet;

and self-sustaining.
Washington has no official confirm ation of this report, received in let ters in the form of a summary of report issued by the British war cab, inet but gratification is felt that the American army will be able to mee. the foe as an entirety. When the German menace against Amiens, Paris and the channel ports became so serious and General Foch assumed supports and the channel ports. preme command, all available Amer can troops were offered the general-issimo. A large number were rushed to the important battle line and besetter west of Montdidier is now held by American soldiers.

Use Up Reserves. Germany's military leaders have used up most of their reserves in their attacks since March 1 and the Brit ish and French armies, with the re-serve French force, are deemed fully able to deal with further enemy on-rushes. The Allied strategy is aided by the fact that the Germans must attack or admit defeat.

attack or admit defeat,
It is now two weeks since the disastrous repulse north of Mont Kemmel and in that time the Germans have gained hardly a foot in either Flanders or in Picardy. The French and British, however, have taken ing farm. It is felt the Germans cannot delay their attacks in strength much longer and that invertent sectors southwest of Ypres and between Arras and the Somme will soon resound again to the clash of mighty battles. Meanwhile the opposing canthaugands of shells innon are firing thousands of shells in-to and behind the hostile positions.

Fighting Sharper. On the Italian front the fighting is becoming sharper with the Italians on offensive. After the successful operations on Monte Carno, south of Asiago, the Italians have wiped out an Austrian, advance post on the imtween the Brenta and Plave. Austrian patrol parties were repulsed north of Lake and along the line west repulsed

Announcement that Emperor Charles had gone to the front to witness the start of a new offensive against the start of a new offensive against the Italians, which has not developed, has not improved international conditions in the dual monarchy and the existence of a separate Austrian state is reported to be in danger. Baron Burlan and the emperor now have gone to the German great headquarters, where it is said, the foreign minister will discuss plaus for the military and Austria-Hungary. The serious of food which has caused outbreaks in justify and Bohemia, has spread to Calicia and many are resorted to be dying of hunger.

The ambassador authorized the following statement:

"The statement attributed to the British war cabinet to the effect that the allies are so confident that having been given the choice of a small immediate American army for defense or waiting till they are reinforced by a complete, powerful, self-supporting American army, they have chosen the latter, is diametrically opposite to all the information received by me from the British war cabinet and to all the requests which I have been asked by them to make to the United States administration.

"I am quite in the dark as to the origin of the statement. At present al I can say is that I am convinced that the document has not been issued with the knowledge of the prime minister or the CAMPAIGN British war cabinet."

Morning Sermon.

Jesus speaking of the church at Pergamus said "I know." That is a characteristic attribute of God: to "know." Men may guess, but God knows Where you were last night, and the night before knows what you said what you did and what you thought. God knows where you thought. God knows where you live, the number of your house and some numbers you don't want Him or any one else to publish. Also, He knows how you live at home. If there is any dog in a man it will come out. is any dog in a man it will come out at home. There is the place he will growl. Some pessimist said this was the hardest town I had ever been in. I think he is mistaken. The devil has not got his headquarters here but have an idea that he keeps a branch

The Pergamus church needed dressing up, even though it held a high place on some respects. You can sin by eating meat offered to idois, although eating meat seems an unlikely place to start a sin factory. Paul said in his big way "If I eat ordon't eat is not the issue. The real issue is, will my eating break down my brothers standards? If so I'll never eat as long as the world stands." That's Christianity, and there is nothing like it in the world. A boy once began to write on a glass window with a dlamond, when another standing by said. "Don't write there." "Why not?" "Because you can't rub it out." Influence of Man.

A man who writes his influence down can never rub it out and it goes on forever written indelibly on another person or thousands of persons. If you have lost influence for Christ you have lost for the wrong way. "Don't write there." We lost influence by disloyalty to Christ. The man who professes to believe that the church, his church, is the way of salvation and therefore the greatest necessity to humanity, and then side-tracks the church for lodge persistently, side tracks it for shows, side-tracks it for Sunday excursions, and makes the church play second fiddle, has lost his influence. It is not a question of good or bad, call it what you want to, it has made you inefficient and the call rings out "Don't write there. Men when the lodge and church calls the same night stab the church and nurse the lodge. Women, when the church and a club or entertainment clash the same day, stab the church and pet the club. All along the line the church and a club or entertainment clash the same day, stab the church and pet the club. All along the line the church of God is made to play second fiddle, and Jesus Christ is given the scraps that are left over. If we are not too tired after the other things we give the church some morning service.

I don't say a man defiles himself ing service.

I don't say a man defiles himself by going to Sunday baseball, or a Sunday theater, but I do say he loses his influence for God and his church and the call comes "Don't write there."

Recent Card Party.

Some women one day were discussing a recent card party and a Sunday school teacher's name was mentioned. A little girl standing by whom they had not noticed said quickly. "Not my teacher." They said smilingly "Yes, your Sunday school teacher. She is a fine player." The little one walked out of the room and after the company was gone the mother.

one walked out of the room and after the company was gone the mother found her in the garret shaking with sobs and between gasps crying uncontrolably, "Oh, my Sunday school teacher my teacher! I am not discussing the rightness of it, but the call rings out, "Don't write there. Why? Because you can't rub

The reason so many men are perfectly satisfied with their lives is because they have never seen any god except the one they look at in the mirror every morning. CHAIRMEN PREPARE FOR GREAT DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN IS NOW BEING ORGANIZED IN CITY.

Preparatory to opening the big drive for the Second Red Cross War Fund next Monday, May 20, Wichita county chairmen of the various committees of the drive began work this morning, planning to carry on an educational campaign throughout this week to to culminate in rallies held Sunday at Burkburnett, Electra and lows Park and a grand county Rel Cross parade and rally held in Wichita Falls next Monday evening, the parade to terminate in a meeting at the Brown evangelistic tabernacle, corner of Eighth and Lamar.

W. D. Cline, general chairman, assisted by P. B. Cox, the speakers chairman, Frank Collier, publicity chairman and A. E. Murdock, treasurer, are perfecting their plan of action today and tonight. The office of McFall and Orth, on Ohio, is again to be used as Red Cross headquarters and Mr. Murdock is to be in charge of the accounting and will be at this office. Mr. Cox and Mr. Collier are getting ready their speakers and literature to send broadcast over the county, preparing them for the Sunday rallies and the big county rally at Wichita Falls on the opening of the financial drive, May 20, which the president has designated as National Red Cross Week.

Equalization of the county's allot-

Week.

Equalization of the county's allotment between the various towns is also in charge of the committee. It is thought that there will be no difficulty in raising the $43,000 asked of the entire county and each community is expected to do its part, as it did in the first Red Cross war fund drive in 1917.

In this enlightened age when the average of intelligence is higher, when the people are better informed and their means for securing information are better developed, the circulation of wild and disconcerting rumors has less excuse, and investigation has shown, in many instances. that the rumors are subtle German propaganda

.Wichita Falls in the past ten days has experienced a "spell" of rumors such as has seldon been known any where. Rumor has had it that : young woman whose burning words have inspired a flood of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan was not a woman at all but was a man and a German spy; that a certain prominent mili-tary officer had teen shot as a spy; that German agents had been arrested at Call Field while tampering with nirplanes and numerous other rumors of similar character. These rumors gained widespread circulation and there was the usual suspicion on the part of some that the newspapers were concealing facts. Scores of othwere concealing facts. Scores of others telephoned to the newspaper of fices to learn whether there was any truth in the rumors.

As these rumors spread details were added. One man just knew that the rumor of the execution of an officer was true because a man who had told it to a man who told it to him had it from a sergeant at Cail Field, who had it from a commission ed officer who had read it on the printed orders. Another had been fire? Call statement.

Another had been given the details of the execution by a man who had talked to a man who had been told all about by a cadet who had witnessed the execution while flying above an aviation

The absurdity of these rumors ought to be their best refutation.

Just how many and how much them ought to be attributed to German propaganda, and how much to mischieviousness of soldiers hard to determine. Some of the old timers in these parts are recognizing in the soldiers a trait that was mark ed in the cowboys of other days. The cowboys took delight in stuffing the credulity of a tenderfoot. The more improbable and absurd the story, the more delight the cowboy took in putting it over on the tenderfoot. It appears that some men in uniform have been acting under a similar impulse of humor, or what ever is the proper name for it.

The patriotic and proper thing for a civilian or a soldier to do when he encounters a rumor of a character tending to excite and disconcert the ignorant and poorly informed is to de How many women are employed in clare it absurd and improbable and munitions plants in England? to say nothing about it to anyone

Governor Hobby's address at Mc Kinney Saturday opening his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination was a plain, straightforward statement and declaration that is certain to appeal to the judgment of sober minded citizens. His address helped to confirm a growing confidence in a Texas governor who was lifted into the office through unfortunate circumstances in the making of which he had no part. In the short period in which he has been governor his appointments and his acts have been characterized by good judgment and the courage to do what conditions have demanded without consideration of political effect. He has now reviewed his administration and declared his policies and has revealed himself an executive and leader on whom people can look with pride and for whom they can have no apologies.

TOMMY ATKINS OIL

With the opening of the Cushing oil field five or six years ago Charles Page secured a lease on lands there from Minnie Atkins, a Creek Indian woman. The lands were in the name of Thomas Atkins, the Dawes commission having enrolled him as the son of Minne. Thomas Atkins, however, has never been found, letting the right and title in his allotted lands rest in his mothers hands.

The lease in question was sought after by many versons but Page was after by many persons but Page was the first person to locate Minnie At-kins, who was married to Harry kins, who was married to Harry Folk at Seattle, a United States army musician now overseas. In the years the case has been in the courts evidence was taken practically from coast to coast in the larger cites. Chief litigants opposing Mr. Page were the Creek nation, acting through its tribal attorney; Nancy Atkins, sister of Minnie Atkins, Henry Carter of Leavenworth, Kansas, claiming to be the enworth, Kansas, claiming to be the original Tommy Atkins. The Creek nation contended that Tommy Atkins was a myth, but the court sustained the action of the Dawes commission in verifying his reality. If Nancy Atkins had a son Tommy, the court held, he had never been enrolled, or allotted lands; and Henry Carter was found to be a son of woman named. found to be a son of a woman named

He pointed a bit further down the line. never wanted so much to speak to people, it just seemed as if I must break in among the boys, now standing at case waiting for the lines to close up. I wanted to shake hands with men who on their home-coming march were carrying little American flags in their hands and smiling at us so friendly. But just then the line began to move.

I had seen our own first battalions narch through London last year and had been stirred by the great British welcome provided for them. But when you come to think of it there could be no greater tribute to a foreign flag than to permit it to be carried through London streets by British soldiers. These Anglo-Americans will fight under two flags, just as American battalions are fighting today in France.

Way to Take Ice

Are you taking our ice with Coupons? Hundreds of our customers are and they say it is by far the most convenient way to pay for ice each day. It saves time and trouble, and sometimes temper. When your ice is brought in you merely tear a coupon rom your book and hand it to the driver. It is so easy, so much easier than looking around the house for the small coins that are often misplaced, much more sanitary than receiving change wet from the driver's hands, so much easier than having to remember, when you are away, to leave the ice money with the maid.

It is easier and more convenient and more sanitary to use coupon books and, in addi, tion, you get MORE ice for your money. Buy a coupon book from the driver today. They are made in two sizes—one sells for $2.50 and the other for $5.00.

What Our Red Cross Is

The American National Red Cross, is by Act of Congress, the official medium of communication between the people of the United States and their Army and Navy.

The President of the United States is the President of

The War Department audits its accounts.

The work of the Red Cross for the war period is directed by a war Council created by President Wilson on May 10, 1917.

In a statement announcing the appointment of the War Council, the President said:

"The best way in which to impart the greatest efficiency and energy to the relief work which this war will entail will be to concentrate it in the hands of a single experienced organization which has been recognized by law and by international convention as the public instrumentality for such purposes. Indeed, such a concentration of administrative action in this matter seems to me absolutely necessary, and I hereby earnestly call upon those who can contribute either great sums or small to the alleviation of the suffering and distress which must inevitably arise out of this fight for humanity and democracy, to contribute to the Red Cross."

The Red Cross Organization is world-wide

The American Red Cross today is world-wide. It reaches into every American village, and over-reaches all national boundaries. There are chapters in our insular territories and in practically every Allied and Neutral country in the world: in Hawaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico, in Cuba and Guatemala, in London and Paris, and the Eastern countries.

A year ago there were 562 chapters in the United States and 486,194 members. Today there are 3,551 chapters, 11,000 branches, 50,000 auxiliaries, 22,000,000 adult members, and a Junior Membership comprising a large proportion of the school children of the land.

American citizenship and Red Cross membership are coming to be coincident terms.

Red Cross ideals

The strength of the Red Cross is in its ideals. The War Council expresses these ideals in three great aims:

- 1 To be ready to care for our soldiers sailors on duty wherever and whenever that care may be needed.
- 2 To shorten the War—by strengthening the morale of the allied peoples and their armies, by alleviating their sufferings in the period which must elapse until the American army can become fully effective abroad.
- 3 To lay foundations for an enduring peace—by extending a message of practical relief and sympathy to the civilian population among our Allies, carrying to them an expression of the American character.

The American people are translating these ideals into facts—into money and personal service. Last June the War Council asked for $100,000,000, and the people pledged $110,000,000, of which $108,000,000 has thus far been collected—collected at probably the lowest cost of collection in the history of such undertakings.

The Red Cross active workers are estimated at millions, and they are doing almost everything known to commerce and science, from bookkeeping to surgery, from knitting socks to feeding American prisoners in Germany.

The generosity of the American people keeps pace with the fast-growing scope of Red Cross activities. The growth of Red Cross has been so amazing, the multiplication of its activities so rapid, that few can be expected to know all that Red Cross means to the world in this hour of the world's need. Many who are active in one Red Cross endeavor are unfamiliar with scores of other Red Cross pursuits.

How Red Cross is organized

The great secret of Red Cross effectiveness is organization. Millions of people are working together through the medium of an organized machinery which coordinates the work of each with the work of all, and transmits the vast quantity of finished products to the people who need them. Thus benevolent emotion is turned into practical aid.

The organization co-relates and directs the work of the chapters, co-operates with the Army and Navy in relief measures, supports relief work abroad, recruits the personnel for overseas service and forwards to its agents in foreign lands the relief supplies produced by the chapter workers or purchased in the market.

Red Cross administration in the United States is decentralized. Red Cross is too vast to be completely administered from one spot. It would disintegrate under its own weight.

So the country is partitioned into thirteen Divisions, and there is a fourteenth Division for the territorial, insular and foreign chapters, with National Headquarters as the co-ordinating force. In each Division there is a manager and his staff, to whom the chapter officials are responsible and the chapter workers deal directly with the Chapter Officers. The organization is military in its well ordered effort, but quite non-military in its democratic equalities, for the chapter worker is quite as important as the National Headquarters official. The Red Cross is organized for efficiency, not for display of authority.

Volunteer service

All of the Division Managers, and many of those on their staffs, are volunteers. Unpaid service is the general rule in chapters, divisions, and at National Headquarters. Most of the department heads in Washington are volunteers.

Service at National Headquarters

Washington Headquarters is a type and sample of the sort of service that Red Cross commands all over the country, high talent without remuneration. The staff is drawn from all parts of the country, made up of men and women experienced in large affairs, with various talents, each fitted into the department where his or her particular talent serves best.

The treasurer of the Red Cross is the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States.

The comptroller of the Red Cross is the comptroller of a great national corporation.

Civilian relief work is directed by one of America's ablest experts in social service work. Men of wide experience in purchasing, warehouseing, and shipping conduct these several activities of Red Cross.

Noted physicians and surgeons constitute the Advisory Medical Board, and some of the most distinguished nurses of the country, the corresponding Committee on Nursing Service.

Every Dollar of the war fund goes to the war relief

Red Cross technical activities are in the hands of technical experts.

Red Cross affairs are economically administered. Every penny has been spent under an appropriation by the War Council after careful study. Membership dues pay the entire cost of operation, with a large balance for the handling of disaster relief and other work.

The work of women

In all the volunteer service of Red Cross none is more notable for devotion, none so notable for extent as that which the loyal women of America are giving in their chapter work. It is estimated that there are two million of these women. many giving most of their time to this work, all giving unstintingly. It is they who do the handiwork of Red Cross; its surgical dressings, hospital garments, knitted garments. To meet the demand for these articles, appropriations of $11,-000,000 for raw materials have been necessary so far. During the month of April, 1918, the women of the country produced approximately 25,000,00 surgical dressings, 400,000 hospital garments, 500,000 knitted garments,

400,000 pieces of clothing for refugees, and many other important and useful articles.

The chapters are performing other great tasks. They are helping dependent families of soldiers and sailors. It is estimated that 100,000 such families are receiving help from the Red Cross at the present day.

Co-Operation with the Army and Navy

. The Red Cross is in close co-operation with the military authorities of the country.

Officers of the Army, the Navy and the United States Public Health Service are assigned to National Headquarters of the Red Cross to ensure a thorough understanding at all times of the ways in which Red Cross service can be most helpful.

By order of the Secretary of War, a Red Cross representative and an appropriate number of assistants are accredited to each camp and cantonment, to each division of the army in the field, and to all army base hospitals. These Red Cross men, and others attached to naval training stations and hospitals and working in co-operation with the military authorities, provide emergency hospital and other supplies where needful, keep the men in the hospital in touch with their families, and in many other ways add to the comfort and morale of our men.

Red Cross commissions abroad

Red Cross Commissions operate in France, Belgium, Italy, Greece, Serbia, Russia, Roumania, Palestine and Great Britain. The Commisions and their staffs are in the theatres of war, co-operating with the Army and Navy forces and with the military and civil authorities of the Allied Countries; co-operating also with other relief agencies, avoiding duplication of effort and confusion of purpose, assisting other agencies and assisted by them.

As in Headquarters at home, so on the Commissions, are men and women of great ability, using their talents and their experience where they are most needed.

These Commissions estimate the budgets for foreign relief, and the appropriations are made by the War Council after carefully scrutinizing and sometimes amending the budgets.

What the Red Cross does

The story of Red Cross accomplishment and its plans for the future will be told in more detail in other statements. Here are some of its principal activities, which suggest the importance and scope of its work:

Organization of base-hospitals and ambulance companies, recruiting and training of nursing personnel for service in the army and navy medical corps.

production of surgical dressings, hospital garments, refugee clothing, knitted goods, emergency supply service for our Army and Navy at home and abroad, sanitary service around cantonments, care of dependent families of soldiers and sailors,

study of the problem of crippled soldiers and sailors,

canteen service for troops en route, feeding of American prisoners in enemy countries, casualty information, service to convalescents, disaster relief.

and relief for our Allies, including canteen work, tubercular work, hospital supply service, ambulance and hospital service, dispensaries, recreation centers, reconstruction of homes and villages, maternity work, repatriation of refugees, rehabilitation of mutilated men and many other forms of service.

The Red Cross supplements the work of the Army and Navy. The Red Cross War Council is endeavoring in every way to increase the effectiveness of the whole program of relief by the utmost co-operation with the Commission on Training Camp Activities, the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. H. A. and other great patriotic agencies.

Red Cross Chapters have statements showing in detail how the war fund is being expended. Ask your Chapter for these statements.

This is the first of a series of five announcements covering the work of the Red Cross.

Succeeding statements will deal with activities of the Red Cross in deail.

May, 1918.

LABOR DEPARTMENT URGES CLEAN UP OF ALL COUNTY IDLERS

Labor departments of the state of Texas are taking an active interest in the campaigns of the various coun-ty exemption boards against the idler boards, urging more strenuous action work in the army, thus releasing those who will work. The following letter from Taz W. McClellan, Texas farm help specialist from the Bureau of Labor Statistics at Austin, was received by the Wichita county board and the board has already taken the stand suggested in the letter:

Gentlemen:

Gentlemen:
It has been said, "Food will win the war." That it is one of the most essential things, cannot be denied. In order to have food, we must have producers of food. The productive forces of our state, at this time are far short of our needs, the cry comes to me from every seedtion of the state for farm help and I am writing you to call attention to a service, you have the power to render in this emergency. It is a fact that many men have It is a fact that many men have succeeded in having themselves plac-ed in deferred classes on the plea of ed in deterred classes on the plea of dependents, some of these pleas have merit, many have not. It has been ascertained in many cases where such men secured deferred classification that they not only were not supporting dependents, but were being supported by the said dependents. Some of our boards have examined into this situation and found the man an idler and the wife working to sup-rot nave that power and you are urged to take action wherever and whenever such cases are found. A man that will not work now should be made to fight, in the present emergency our territory is too small to furnish a habitat to the loafer and idler. The man who refuses to work for our faithful allies and our soldier boys, is the most abominable stacker.

This class sent to the "front" w. I release for a reason those who w'll produce food for our fighting forces. It is your duty gentlemen to han lie this situation, we therefore appeal to you to do it in the interest of "our cause over there." Sincerely,
