GERMAN OFFENSIVE RESUMED TODAY IN AISNE REGION

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER RATES ORDERED INCREASED ONE-FOURTH

BLANKET INSTRUCTIONS ARE GIVEN BY M'ADOO

Higher Cost of Men and Materials Said To Necessitate This Action of Director.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—To meet wage increases just announced, and higher costs of coal and other supplies this year, Director General McAdoo today ordered railroad freight rates in the United States raised 25 per cent and passenger fares increased to three cents a mile from the present basis of about 2 1/2 cents. It is estimated that the program will bring between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000 more revenues to the railroads within the next year. It represents by far the biggest rate increase in the history of railroads.

The new freight charges, which cover both class and commodity rates, become effective June 25 and the passenger increase will go into effect June 10.

Wipes Out Lower Rates. Issued under authority granted by the railroad act to President Wilson acting through the director general, the order wipes out all intra-state lower rates effective on either freight or passenger traffic.

Travelers in standard sleeping and parlor cars are required to pay 3 1/2 cents a mile in addition to pullman fares and in tourist sleeping tourist cars 2 1/2 cents. Pullman rates remain the same.

Commutation and other suburban rates on railroads are increased 10 per cent. Fares on electric interurban lines are not affected.

Boat Line Will Be Raised. Both freight and passenger rates on boat lines operated on the lakes, rivers or coast will be raised proportionately with the general increases.

Export and import freight rates are ordered cancelled and the higher domestic rates will apply to and from ports.

A number of flat increases, instead of percentage additions, are ordered for coal, coke, lumber, ore, stone, grain, cotton, livestock, meats, sugar, bullion and other commodities.

Existing differentials and rate relationships between various localities are to be preserved so far as possible but many adjustments will have to be made later. All rates are subject to review and correction by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Increases Necessary. In announcing that the rate increases are required by public interest, Director General McAdoo referred to the $300,000,000 or more added to the payrolls of railroad labor under an order published today to the rapidly rising cost of coal which he estimated this year alone at $160,000,000 more than last year and to higher cost of every other material entering into railroad transportation.

No part of the increase is on account of the increased program of a billion dollars of improvement, additions and equipment this year, he explained.

"It is earnestly hoped," said the director general, "that all citizens affected directly or indirectly by this increase of rates will support the general principle of such increase as an unavoidable war measure and accept the additional burden in the same spirit of self-sacrifice in which they have accepted other inconveniences and burdens and various personal losses which are parts of the price that the nation is patriotically paying for world liberty."

Mr. McAdoo called attention to the fact that "there is no way in which the present increases will insure to private profits."

Standard Rates. The provision that the interstate rates shall be abolished wherever substitute interstate rates between the same points exist and that all shall be related to a standard national level, develops the first definite conflict between powers of the federal railroad administration and of the state railroad and public utilities commissions, which heretofore have claimed exclusive jurisdiction over intrastate rates.

Railroad rate agents will file tariffs containing the new rates with state commissions as well as with the interstate commerce commission, but state commissions are permitted no review under the railroad act.

Mr. McAdoo announced that he expects to be impeached by the House of Representatives on complaint of shippers or other commercial interests and changes will be made in the commission's recommendations. This is necessary to adjust the nation-wide fabric of complicated rates, each interdependent on scores of others and so delicately adjusted in hundreds of thousands of cases that a change of a cent or two causes distinct industrial and commercial disturbances.

The commission will be busy for months hearing complaints and protests.

WILSON URGES REVENUE ACT

SLATED FOR IMPORTANT POST IN NEWLY CREATED AIRPLANE SERVICE

BRIGADIER GENERAL CHARLES MCKINLEY SALTZMAN

Brigadier General Charles McKinley Saltzman, assistant to Chief Signal Officer General Squier, is expected to be transferred from the Signal Corps to the division of Military Aeronautics, the newly created army organization which will have charge of the airplane service. An announcement of this is likely to be made in a few days. In the division of Military Aeronautics Brigadier General Saltzman is expected to hold one of the important positions.

He is a native of Iowa, graduated at West Point in the class of 1896 and started his army career as a lieutenant of cavalry, in which arm he saw his first active service in the Cuban campaign of 1898. Before entering West Point, Saltzman had become an expert telegrapher in the service of the Western Union and several Western railroads. Lieutenant Saltzman was transferred to the Signal Corps in 1901 and has risen in that corps in sixteen years from first lieutenant to colonel. He served in the Philippines during the Philippine insurrection and the Moro campaigns in Mindanao. Colonel Saltzman is also a specialist on radio telegraphy and cable service, and in 1912 was a delegate of the United States to the international radio conference in London.

NEW WAR TAXES HELD ESSENTIAL AT THIS SESSION

PRaises CONGRESS FOR ITS WORK AND URGES CONTINUANCE AS DUTY.

REFERS TO GREAT DRIVE

Declares Report of Renewed Offensive Lends Solemnity to Spirit in Which He Faces Body.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Just as the German cannon were thundering their herald of the renewed offensive on the western front, President Wilson today appeared unexpectedly before congress and demanded that, laying political considerations and all others aside, it remain in session until it has enacted new war tax laws to finance the growing cost of the war and prepare the country for the burden it must bear.

At the conclusion of his address, the President pausing, laid his hand over his manuscript and added another precedent breaker to the long list he has established in his dealings with congress. He addressed the senators in a large, extemporaneous, speaking earnestly and forcefully while the auditors sat in a rapt and surprised silence.

"May I add this word, gentlemen," said he. "Just as I was leaving the White House I was told that the expected drive on the western front had apparently begun. You can realize how that solemnized my feelings as I came to you and how it seemed to strengthen the purpose which I have tried to express in these lines."

"I have admired the work of this session. The way in which the two houses of congress have cooperated with the executive has been generous and admirable and it is not in any spirit of suggesting duty neglected, but only to remind you of the common cause and the common obligations that I have ventured to come to you today."

President's Address. The President's address in full follows:

"Gentlemen of the Congress: "It is with unaffected reluctance that I come to ask you to prolong your session long enough to provide more adequate resources for the treasury for the conduct of the war. I have reason to appreciate as fully as you do how arduous the session has been. Year labors have been severe and protracted. You have passed a long series of measures which required the debate of many doubtful questions of judgment and many exceedingly difficult questions of principle as well as of practice. The summer is upon us in which labor and counsel are twice arduous and are made more so by the heat, by the fatigue and by the long hours of the day. The elections are at hand and we ought as soon as possible to end and render account of our trusteeship to the people who have chosen us to act for them in the weighty and anxious matters that crowd upon us in these days of critical choice and action. But we dare not go to the elections until we have done our duty to the full. These are days when duty stands stark and naked and even with closed eyes we know it is there. Excuses are unavailing. We have either done our duty or we have not. The fact will be as gross and plain as the duty itself. In such a case lassitude and fatigue seem negligible enough. The facts are a tonic and suffice to freshen the labor."

Additional Revenues. "And the facts are these: Additional revenues must manifestly be provided for. It would be a most unfortunate policy to raise too large a proportion of them by loan and it is evident that the four billions now provided for by taxation will not of themselves sustain the greatly enlarged budget to which we must immediately look forward. We cannot in fairness wait until the end of the fiscal year is at hand to apprise our people of the present financial year, whose accounts and expenditures will then be closed. We cannot get increased taxes unless the country knows what they are to be and practices the necessary economy to make them available. Definiteness, early definiteness, as to what its tasks are to be is absolutely necessary for a successful administration of the treasury; it cannot frame fair and workable regulations in haste if it is not to know its exact task until the very eve of its performance."

"The present tax laws are needed moreover by inequities which ought to be remedied. Indisputable facts, every one and we can not alter or (Continued on page five.)

POINT OF ATTACK GIVEN AS BETWEEN RHEIMS AND SOISSONS IN FLANDERS

By Associated Press. The war situation of today is summarized by the Associated Press as follows:

Germany has resumed her drive for a decision on the western front after a lapse of nearly four weeks, striking in the south between Rheims and Soissons and in Flanders on the northerly side of the Lys salient.

While it is too early for the true formation to be disclosed, the effort apparently is simultaneously to push through to the channel ports in the north, thus breaking up the British front and to strike for Paris in the south, in an effort aimed mainly at the French.

The southerly blow, which covers a front of some forty miles, and apparently is by far the more important of the two, has come to a point not considered the most probable for a renewal of the German attack. The fact that both British and French hold this front indicates General Foch has large forces massed there. It was on this front the enemy flank was most exposed.

If this attack neither is meant to cover a main effort elsewhere nor is a drive at Paris, it is possible it was intended to drive the Allies from their advantageous positions and thus forestall a flank counter effort. The strike in Flanders, on a ten mile front, is aimed at points the Germans must take before they can advance further toward the coast. Behind the Locre-Voormezele area lie the hills constituting the backbone of the Allies position, only the outlying peak of which the Germans captured when they took Mount Kemmel. The Allied positions along both fronts under attack strong.

Weather has improved on the eastern front and allied airmen work of harassing German troops concentrations, airbases and transport. British aviators, while suffering no losses themselves, have destroyed eight German aircraft and disabled two others. On the Toul sector American aviators apparently have gained the mastery over the enemy and German planes were seen in the vicinity of the front Sunday.

In the minor fighting in the past four weeks the Anglo-French troops southwest of Ypres and east of Amiens have gained some valuable, although small positions. Of greater importance however, was the opportunity to prepare for the next big move and to harness most successfully with artillery fire and aerial raids German attempts to re-construct and replenish their shattered units.

No Change on Sector. There has been no change on the American sectors. Northwest of Toul and east of Lunville the artillery fire continues light. Near Lunville an American patrol has been successful in a brush with the enemy, the Germans being repulsed with the loss of several dead after a sharp fight. The weather is most favorable for the artillery and aerial arms are more active than the infantry. At some points there have been patrol encounters and small scale infantry actions of note have developed.

Reports are closely watched at capital.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Reports from London and Paris were watched closely today by army officials here for indications of the extent and object of the German attacks.

Early reports were too meagre to disclose whether the operations consisted of a resumption of the normal drive at Amiens or the channel ports. The fact that the Germans are striking simultaneously at the extreme flanks of the whole battle front from the drive against the impression that these might be both covering movements designed to mask later direct assaults on the Amiens front. The front attack indicates in Paris advices from Pinon to Rheims is an extension of the battle front already more than a hundred miles across if a straight line from Pinon to Ypres and by the fighting line is probably double that distance.

Two Theories. Two theories that might lie behind today's attacks suggested themselves to officers here. The Pinon-Rheims effort may be intended as an effort to undermine the French line on the southern flank of the old battle front. The French position here has been regarded as offering great opportunities for flank attacks upon the German forces thrusting at Amiens as it stands almost parallel to the German line of advance on Amiens throughout nearly 40 miles, the depth to which the first assault on that place was driven. The Berlin strategists may plan to break through south of the French flanking line, forcing a withdrawal of this whole threatening front behind which the bulk of the French mobile army is supposed to be massed.

Heavy Attack. On the other hand heavy attacks at both ends of the long battle front may be intended to draw French and British reserves away from the center before Amiens, the Germans relying on the fact that they hold inner lines and therefore can move forces from front to front within the great salient they have created more quickly than Allied reserves can be rushed around the outer lines to meet them. If the French are compelled to make dispositions to the south to check the Pinon-Rheims front, it was suggested the Germans might rush back forces for a new assault on the Amiens front hoping to break through before Allied reserves could be returned from the extreme of the lines.

Americans May Aid. American troops may be taking part in the new battle. Early in the spring there were several references in news dispatch to the presence of artillery detachments in training but at one point at least infantrymen were in the trenches. There has been no recent reference to Americans here, however, and they may have been withdrawn.

The front between Soissons and Rheims is a difficult one offering the Allies excellent facilities for the defense. The country is hilly with a series of strong natural positions to the rear of the Allied lines. The Germans already have sustained two severe defeats on this front. Last July they overtook what is usually re-

WAGE INCREASES ARE ANNOUNCED BY GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Wage increases approximating $300,000,000 for the nearly 2,000,000 employees of the United States were announced by Director General McAdoo published today.

In ordering the increase the director general carried out substantially the recommendations of the railroad commission submitted several weeks ago. The advance becomes effective next Saturday and is retroactive to January 1, 1918.

The order provides for recognition of the basic eight hour day with no actual reduction in hours of work, though overtime is to be paid pro rata, owing to exigencies of war; equal pay for women engaged in the same work as men; equal pay for negroes in similar employment as white men; an increase of at least 2 1/2 cents an hour over last December 31 for day laborers, and establishment of a 55 cent an hour minimum for shop trades.

CAPTAIN DE ULTIN IS WINNER OF NEW BATTLE

By Associated Press. PARIS, May 27.—Captain De Ulthin, it is announced, has won his twentieth air fight. The captain was a partner of the late Captain Guynemer, the famous French Ace.

GERMAN AIRSHIPS ARE REPORTED BY ONE RUSSIAN CITY

By Associated Press. MOSCOW, Tuesday, May 21.—Apparently for the purpose of terrifying the city, German airships have appeared over Novorossiysk and German submarines have entered the harbor. The Trans-Caucasian government has refused to cede the city to Turkey in accordance with now demands made by Turkey in the peace conference at Batoum, which is now deadlocked.

Novorossiysk is 320 miles northwest of Batoum and these two cities are the most important ports on the Black Sea coast of the Caucasus. Novorossiysk is the capital of the Black Sea province and has a population of about 17,000. Part of the Russian Black Sea fleet was reported to have taken refuge there after the Germans captured Sebastopol.

Women Must Register In English If They Are To Cast Ballot

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., May 27.—Women, otherwise qualified for registration under the woman suffrage act, must register in the English language, according to a ruling made today by the attorney general's department. This ruling was in answer to a query from the county attorney of Haer county who pointed out that there was many Spanish women who could not read or write the English and he wanted to know if they could register in Spanish. They can not under the ruling.

It was also held by the attorney general's department that a married woman can qualify as county superintendent of public schools, after having been nominated in the democratic primary election and selected in the general election.

OFFICIAL

GREAT BRITAIN. LONDON, May 27.—Strong German attacks developed early this morning against the British and French positions between Rheims and Soissons, the war office announces. The Germans also attacked this morning in Flanders between Locre and Voormezele on the northern side of the salient.

Extend Battle Front. By their attack of today, the Germans have extended the active battle front as far east as Rheims, taking in a new sector which has been quiet since last fall. The thrust between Locre and Voormezele is along the northern leg of the Flanders salient, on a sector measuring about eight miles where the Germans met with one of the bloodiest defeats of the war when their drive for the channel ports was halted last month.

The attack between Soissons and Rheims, however, is the distinctive feature of the new German operations. The front of the German attack is along the sector and small scale infantry actions of note have developed.

Unexpected Point. Turning to a new sector to strike their blow the Germans have taken a course contrary to that which had generally been predicted by military commentators.

The view usually expressed has been that the Germans were committed so heavily to the campaign in Picardy and Flanders and were occupying such a grossly exposed position that they were under the necessity of striking again at those points when they resumed the attack. The German strategy may conform to the view that the Germans are in sufficient strength to compel General Foch to withdraw troops from the north, in the hope of involving the Allies suddenly on the Aisne front to weaken their lines in Picardy and Flanders.

If the Germans counted on surprise to assist them in the new attack they probably have fallen into a miscalculation. It is evident from the official British statement that new dispositions of troops have been made along the Aisne front. Before the March offensive the British line ran to the Oise river, south of St. Quentin. Going to the assistance of the British the French took over a sector extending to a point east of Amiens. There has been no previous intimation of the presence of British troops on this part of the line except for last night's German official statement. In this statement it was said that in the region of the Aisne, northeast of La Neuville, British were taken prisoners.

American troops may be taking part in the new battle. Early in the spring there were several references in news dispatch to the presence of artillery detachments in training but at one point at least infantrymen were in the trenches. There has been no recent reference to Americans here, however, and they may have been withdrawn.

FOUR SERVICES AT TABERNACLE HELD ON SUNDAY

PROBABLY LECTURE TO WOMEN IN AFTERNOON MOST SPECTACULAR.

- Tuesday, 9 a. m., Mr. and Mrs. Stover... 10 a. m., Mr. Brown... 12:15, Brown party... 4 p. m., Boys and girls... 5 p. m., High school girls... 8 p. m., Mr. Brown.

Four services ushered in the last week of the revival. All were attended by a large number of people and the tabernacle was a scene of going and coming all day.

Probably the lecture to women in the afternoon was the most spectacular number of the program. Mr. Brown came down hard on the matter of social amusements and just as hard on the matter of dress in public places.

Tomorrow morning the evangelist starts the series of four lectures that have made him extremely disliked by the cults.

The evangelist announced last night that under no circumstances would the revival carry on beyond next Sunday.

The woman's lecture follows in part. "Four miles from Shechem, eight miles from Tabor and 53 miles from Jericho stood the city of Shunam."

It was said to be one of the most beautiful places in the Holy Land and we know that it was celebrated because the place was mentioned in the Bible.

However, when God makes a title on a man or woman it sticks. The word "ideal" has been dreadfully abused until it has lost its significance.

Ideal woman has two forces. One is the negative and the other is the positive. She will have the power to say "no" when the season for it arrives.

Nothing is further from our conception of an ideal woman than the one who blows hot or cold, as the company she happens to be in.

This Shunamite woman evidently was a woman of high social position in her city. Everything about the story points to this.

She saw what many men might have passed over, and one day she said: "I perceive that this man who eats dinner with us often is a holy man of God."

In these days if a society dame discovered a pious or holy man in her district she would not go to the shore or mountains until he had lost his way.

She was distinctly pleased that this kind of character passed her gate often and proceeded to make it easier for him to pass and easy for him to stop.

This woman said: "This man is a good one to have around the family; his influence is good, talk is good, and I think we had better build him a special room, put in a bed, chair and candle, and the fact that we have shown our willingness will encourage him to come this way."

court, what I say to the king will be taken care of. I can advance her husband or herself.

The ideal begins to crop out bigger than ever. This woman had wealth, stood high in her own town and yet had no aspirations to go fooling around the court.

shut. I will before God tell the truth and the judgment bar shall not take me with the charge, "coward." (Applause.)

L. L. Baker, secretary of the N. Y. Travelers' Association, says there are 600,000 girls in the red light; poured in steadily and the great stream is from the dance halls.

More girls are poured into the brothel in a year than all the churches of America put together have safely gotten inside the fold.

It's a shame that we do not stiffen our backbone and set our heads against the tide.

Some mother says, "But, Brother Brown, if I don't let my girl go to the dance she won't have a chance. I know what she means. Chance to meet certain men. Chance for what, sister? I can assure you, if you let her run loose in that crowd she will have a chance all right, and God help her because she did not have a mother to guard her like a wall. An old man will fight for her chicks against a hawk. She wouldn't let her little one take a chance if it took her last drop of blood. It's a cheap chance."

The mother who displays her girl on the five cent counter will get just five cents for that girl. It's all she is worth.

It may be the last man in America fighting this thing. I may be called "old fog," but I'll stand four square before God Almighty, and I infinitely prefer being called narrow by men than weak by God.

The ideal woman will guard her home, sacrifice some of her pleasures and get a joy out of the fact that she is building character in herself and in her children.

FOCH IS WINNER OF REAL VICTORY BY MANEUVERINGS

CONFIDENCE IN FRENCH GENERAL IS GREAT IN LONDON.

By K. WALTER. LONDON, May 23.—It may now be said with some assurance that Foch has won his first strategic success since assuming supreme command, besides many small tactical successes achieved at various points on the line. In the present phase of the war it must always be remembered that there is a great deal more happening at the front than is reported in the daily bulletins. Maneuvers on a colossal scale take place without as much as a hint of them being made public, and a victory of maneuver, which defeats the enemy's aims just as surely as any bloody contest, is none the less a victory for being won in silence. A success of this nature appears to have been the first fruits of the single command.

Only Alternative. When Hindenburg struck last March he had discovered a weak spot in the line. Since his armies have been held and have had time to be renewed in strength he has been looking for another opening. Great concentrations have been observed behind his line prepared to strike at the first opportunity. The only alternative, the most coveted objective, were so well defended that the capture of either of them by a further extension of salient already unacceptably deep would invite disaster. The key of the line, no weak spot was found. The alternative to attacking the enemy where he was weakest was to attack him where he was strongest. The key of the land as well as recent experience showed the stronghold of the British line. Three weeks ago extraordinary concentrations were being held available for an extensive attack on this stronghold. Aerial successes and the strategic dispositions of Foch appear to have defeated the enemy's plans, or at least delayed them. If they have been defeated and the work of many weeks has had to be abandoned, Foch will have won an alternative plan of action, it may be objected. The question is whether the Area plan was not the alternative itself. Amiens and the sea being always the main objectives. In this case Hindenburg, or his successor, might well choose to delay further action until he had gained knowledge of Foch's intentions, prepared for a rapid and forceful reply to any counter offensive. But that is where Foch would have him in a corner. We are not impatient; we shall not complain however deliberate the acts of our generalissimo. Hindenburg has a very different public opinion behind him; the German people demand victories with their daily rations. They have been told that this was the great final victory offensive. Growing public impatience and the internal condition of Germany, caused by persistent naval pressure, may at any moment cause a forced move.

In any case here in London confidence in Foch has been greatly enhanced by the silent events of these weeks. Hindenburg was prepared to strike and the blow has been seriously delayed, possibly foiled. Foch has won an advantage, if not a victory; and at the present rate of influx of American troops the advantage is very real. Another matter which may have contributed to the delay of German plans has been the close surveillance to which enemy activities in Ireland have been subjected for many weeks. The supreme German effort naturally includes every kind of diversion—by water, by air, and in Ireland. Enemy communications with traitors in Ireland were intercepted; it is hardly more coincidence that the day on which every one in Ireland was expecting a rising the renewal of the German offensive was due.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADS ENCOURAGED TO GO NEXT TO COLLEGES

Now that the school term is over and the problem of what to do comes up before the boys of high school and college age, the following message of advice from U. S. Commissioner of Education, P. P. Claxton, will be of timely interest...

Should I Enlist?

Many a 1918 high school graduate is debating with himself this year: Shall I go to college, or shall I enlist at once for military service?

The War Department has just made it possible to do both. It says, in effect, to the ambitious young American: "You serve your country by going to college. To make sure that you do not lose thereby the opportunity of serving your country in a direct military capacity you will be asked to join the special U. S. Army college training units that are to be formed..."

Two Fold Object. This new policy aims to accomplish a two-fold object. The War Department announces, "First to develop as a great military asset the large body of young men in the colleges; and second, to prevent unnecessary and wasteful depletion of the colleges through indiscriminate volunteering, by offering to the students a definite and immediate military status."

No nation has made such generous provision for combined military and college education as has the United States in this new plan. The youths who avail themselves of the privilege will be serving their country as immediately as well as future needs.

Red Cross Auctions Prove Successful In Several Texas Towns

J. S. Bridwell returned Saturday night from a trip to Stephens and Young counties. At Breckenridge Saturday he saw a calf sold for $1000 at a Red Cross auction. The purchaser was Brack Walker, a banker and oil man, of Breckenridge.

Over in Archer county a number of ranchmen are each volunteering a yearling to make up a carload to be sold for the Red Cross. Among those who have made this offer are B. W. Garvey, Chas. S. Richardson, Zack Scott, R. S. Morrison, Charles Abercrombie, W. O. Covington, L. A. Snider and C. C. Conner.

"Gets-It"—2 Drops—Then to the Dance!

"Goodnight to Corn Pains—Corn Peel Off With 'Gets-It.'"

"Say, girls, you can laugh at these blisters or damp, corn-pulling weather, big bumpy corns, calluses on the soles of your feet, corns between the toes, hard and soft corns."

"It's All Off With This Floor Corn New—'Gets-It' is Magic." If you will just touch of Gets-It. What a blessed relief it gives to corn pain! You won't limp any more, you can enjoy your dance every minute. Then to see how that corn or callus will come right off completely like a banana peel and without the least pain, is just wonderful. 'Gets-It' is the biggest seller among corn removers in the world today, simply because it is so wonderfully simple and always works. Be sure you get 'Gets-It'.

Postoffice Receipts For Last May Already Surpassed In Office

Postoffice receipts for May have already outstripped those of the whole month of May, 1917, by $1669. Postmaster Ed Howard states: "There are four more days of business, May 30, Decoration Day, being a holiday; and in this time the increase over last year should amount to about $2,500. Up to Saturday the receipts in this Houston. Adequate instruction is total receipts were $6,047.95."

WOMEN IN COUNTY NOT TO REGISTER IS OPINION GIVEN

A question having arisen here as to whether women who wished to vote in the Democratic primary in Wichita county would be requested to register, W. T. Harris wrote to the attorney general's office recently asking for a ruling. He has received a letter from Attorney General Looney inclosing opinions quoted to J. H. Avery, county chairman of Potter county, and to J. P. Word, county attorney at Meridian, which indicates that women in Wichita county will not be required to register in order to vote.

CONGRESS ASKED TO WORK.

President Wilson has asked the members of Congress to remain in Washington in order that they may enact needed war revenue legislation. No doubt it is the duty of Congress to stay put, but we have the same sympathy with its members that we used to have with the barefoot boy caught in the act of playing hooky.

WILBARGER HAS CANDIDATE.

Wilbarger county, it is reported, will have a candidate for representative from the 101st district, and will ask the support of Wichita county for their man. It is reported that a delegation is coming down from Vernon this week to ask the support of Wichita county for their man. Since the district was created Wichita county has sent two representatives to the legislature, while Wilbarger county has sent none. In view of the fact that Wichita county has no avowed or announced candidate, so far as is known, it will be a courtesy that our Wilbarger county friends will appreciate, if Wichita county gives its support to Wilbarger's candidate. Draft one of your best men, Wilbarger county, and call upon Wichita county to support him.

CONFIDENCE CONTINUES.

In spite of the fact that the advantage lies with the attackers in launching an offensive, they, only, knowing definitely just where the blow is to fall, reports received from abroad today indicate that there is the most perfect confidence in all of the Entente Allied countries in the ability of General Foch and the great armies upon the front to administer another defeat to the advancing Germans.

While the Germans have been steadily preparing to continue the push, the Allies have been no less busy, strengthening the line at all points and bringing reserve forces in to positions in which they may be easily moved from one point to another where most needed.

Certainly the British, French and American armies know how absolutely essential it is that they stem the tide of Hun, once and for all, and however great may be the preponderance of the enemy the Allies may be expected to give a good account of themselves.

It is believed that this time the American army, brigaded with the British and French, will be in the line.

ROOSEVELT AND BURLESON.

While thousands who read the Hearst papers and others who knew of the attitude of those papers will rejoice at Colonel Roosevelt's denunciation of them, they will not approve of his efforts to provoke and continue controversy with Postmaster General Burleson. Whatever may have been the feeling of Hearst toward our allies at the beginning of the war, his papers have ceased to give utterance to any but patriotic sentiments at this time and there is doubt if anything they did say could have been made a valid basis for barring them from the mails.

Anyway the failure of the post-office department to act as it ought to have acted against Hearst is no reason why it should not have acted against Tom Watson's paper or against Mr. Roosevelt's magazine. Insofar as Colonel Roosevelt's attack against the Postmaster General calls attention to an unpatriotic attitude of Hearst in the past, it is justifiable, but to the extent that it is an effort to involve the Postmaster General in a controversy with Roosevelt, it is a display of prejudice and partisanship that ought to meet with general condemnation. Colonel Roosevelt, Postmaster General Burleson, Mr. Hearst, the Metropolitian magazine and all the rest of us have a common enemy and this is no time for anybody to attempt to stir up partisan strife. Colonel Roosevelt can well devote his great talents to a better purpose than to give vent to his personal malice. The Postmaster General ought to regard the controversy as closed and Mr. Hearst may well let his patriotic zeal from this time on atone for his lack of vision and for his mistakes at the beginning of the war.

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT RATES TO BE INCREASED

ed ten per cent are construed to apply to persons having daily or frequent occasion to travel between their homes and places of employment or educational institutions. To discourage the use of heavy sleeping and parlor cars the new order provides that the following minimum number of tickets should be bought for drawing rooms, compartments or sections: Two adult tickets for a drawing room in a sleeping car; two adult tickets for a compartment; one and one-half adult tickets for a section; five adult tickets for exclusive occupancy of drawing room in a parlor car.

Passenger fares by water routes or by rail and water are to be increased proportionately with the higher rail charges.

The basis for computing charges for excess baggage is to be one-sixth of the normal passenger fare, with a minimum of fifteen cents per hundred pounds and minimum collection of 25 cents per shipment.

The director general provided fully for the redemption of tickets and mileage books purchased before June 10 and rendered invalid after that date when the higher fares become effective. Unused portions of mileage books and unused or partially used tickets will be redeemed at their original purchase rate.

To Class and Commodity. The twenty-five per cent increase in freight charges will apply generally to class and commodity rates but minor variations will be necessary in many cases. For instance where certain relationships exist between rival commercial centers, the 25 per cent increase will apply to the longer distance and the rate to the nearer locality will be the same number of cents less as the present schedule. In this way charges for many short hauls will be raised more than 25 per cent.

New Classification. Classes: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100

Fifteen cents per net ton of 2,000 pounds where rate is now less than forty-nine cents per net ton; twenty cents where rate is fifty to ninety-nine cents; thirty cents where rate is $1 to $1.99; forty cents where rate is $2 to $2.99; fifty cents where rate is $3 or more.

For coke flat increases are established as follows:

Fifteen Cents Per Ton.

Fifteen cents per flat ton where present rate is 49 cents or less; 25 cents where rate is fifty to ninety-nine cents; forty cents where rate is $1.00 to $1.99; sixty cents where rate is $2 to $2.99; seventy-five cents where rate is $3 or more.

For other commodities flat increases are made as follows:

Iron ore thirty cents per ton.

Building and monumental stone two cents per hundred pounds; crushed stone, one cent per hundred pounds; sand and gravel one cent per hundred pounds; ordinary brick two cents per hundred pounds; cement two cents per hundred pounds; lime one and a half cents per hundred pounds.

Lumber and forest products 25 per cent increase but not exceeding five cents per hundred pounds.

Wheat, other grains, flour and mill products 25 per cent increase not to exceed six cents per hundred pounds.

Cotton linters fifteen cents per hundred pounds.

Livestock 25 per cent but increase not to exceed seven cents per hundred pounds.

Meats 25 per cent increase, except that rates from Mississippi points to Mississippi River territory shall be the same as new rates from St. Joseph, Mo.

Bullion 25 per cent increase with many flat rate variations.

Sugar, syrup and molasses 25 per cent increase, with many flat rate variations.

Minimum charges on less than car load shipments will be increased in accordance with increased rates, but in no case is the charge on a single shipment to be less than fifty cents. The minimum charge for carload shipments is to be $15 per car.

Referring to differentials, the order says:

In establishing the freight rates herein ordered, while established rate groupings and fixed differentials are not required to be used, their use is desirable if found practicable, even though certain rates may result which are lower or higher than would otherwise obtain.

Director General McAdoo today telegraphed chairmen of state railroad commissions notifying them of the increased rates and asking them to cooperate by suggesting readjustments or changes. The director general does not expect state authorities to overrule any of his rate orders.

Introduction to Speaker—J. A. Kemp, regent of the State University.

Awarding of scholarships—H. E. Lehnert—Senior Glee Club.

Presentation of diplomas—W. J. Bullock, president of school board.

Awarding of scholarships—H. E. Bell, principal of the high school.

Benediction—Rev. S. A. Barnes, of the First Methodist church, South.

Music directed by Miss Jessie Mae Agnew, supervisor of music.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The exercises this evening follow the regular baccalaureate services conducted by Rev. N. F. Grafton at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. The students, in the gray pre-academic cap and gown, marched into the church singing Kipling's recessional. After the invocation by W. J. Bullock, president of the school board, the senior glee club gave Gounod's "Holy, Holy, Holy", followed by the scripture reading by H. E. Bell, principal of the high school.

Following a second number, Mendelssohn's "The Lord is Great", by the glee club, Rev. N. F. Grafton addressed the students and congregation on "Meeting One's Expectations". He said in brief:

"I shall address this morning, not only these graduates, but every young person in the house. The world is waiting for you, it is expecting you to take up and carry on its work. A young man fell asleep and dreamed of a visit from the professor, the jurist, the capitalist, the society leader, the drunkard, each of which offered the fruits of his life to the dreamer that he would already started might be carried on. The leaders of today are growing old, and the world is expecting you to take their places. Are you going to meet its expectations?"

And what must you have to be able to meet your expectations? First of all, strength. Strength is the glory of manhood. But that strength must be controlled and conserved. The powerful engine on the track is a mighty blessing to the world only so long as man controls its force, and the power given you which has meant to continue through three score years and ten may be dissipated in much less time.

The strong man, the man who meets the world's expectations must have hold on eternal resources, he must have "meat that the world knows not of." The man who comes up to the standard must have personality, there must be a personality behind the brush to produce the master piece. So to meet the expectations of the world, you must have strength, mental, physical, spiritual, and that strength must be controlled and conserved and must have the power of eternal resources and living personality behind it."

Rev. Grafton concluded with the reading of an inspiring poem, "Give Us Men."

The service closed with the pronouncing of the benediction by Ensign Robb.

There will be a lawn social Wednesday night, 29th at the convent grounds for the benefit of Sacred Heart church.

There are still a few folks, however, who for some reason or another do not permit us to serve them. We wonder why? We wonder why, because we certainly do sell Good Ice. We wonder why, because we have the most modern and sanitary ice plant that money and brains can erect. We wonder why, because our ice is as pure and healthful as ice can be. We wonder why, because our ice is frozen hard and solid and is more pure and economical than ice with soft, mushy places in it that render it unhealthy and make it melt fast. We wonder why, because our wagons and faithful drivers pass their homes every morning and offer perfect service. Let us be your ice man. We're good, honest folks with a good, honest product. We solicit your patronage because we know we deserve it. We solicit your patronage because your family's health is in danger when the ice that you use in the home is less than 100% pure. MISS HENLEY, FROM A. AND M. WILL BE HERE FOR TWO DAYS.

Miss Kate Lee Henley, dairy specialist from the extension department at A. and M. arrived Sunday morning for a two days stay in Wichita county where she will take up the matter of wider increased production and consumption of milk and milk products among the dairy men and milk consumers of the county.

If less milk is used, less milk will be produced. Farmers will be obliged to sell their dairy cattle because of the high cost of feeding them, and the failure to find a market for the product, and this country will face the same conditions from which the people of Europe are now suffering.

Where possible, provision should be made to supply each child in the family with a quart of clean, wholesome milk a day. For each adult a pint is desirable when the meat consumption is low.

Urges Production. Miss Henley is especially urging the production and consumption of cottage cheese and will bring the matter before the people in the county, in two demonstrations in regard to the manufacture and use of the product.
