CAPTURE 24,000 PRISONERS

Montdidier Is Taken By Allied Troops

ENEMY IS RETREATING ALONG ENTIRE FRONT ATTACKED BY FRENCH

(By Associated Press.)
The French have driven the Germans before them for an important gain east of Montdidier in Picardy. That city, which was the apex of a German salient that now has been wiped out, fell to the French first army at mid-day Saturday. Before nightfall, according to the French war office statement, the victorious French forces had carried the battle line onward to an average of six miles on a front of approximately twenty miles.

In the three days of engagements that culminated in the taking of Montdidier the French took 8,000 prisoners. Their captures also include 200 guns and an enormous amount of material.

Enemy in Full Retreat.
Crushed by the impact of the British, French and American offensive attacks on the battle line from Albert, northwest of Amiens, to the Oise, north of Compiègne, German forces are streaming back toward the Somme River and the Neuse-Noyon canal. So far as can be determined, the enemy is in full retreat along the front against which the Allies flung themselves on Thursday morning. It is reported from Paris that French patrols are in Chaumes, the principal German center, west of the Somme.

Montdidier at the tip of the German salient in Picardy has been taken by the Allies. The cut-off large numbers of the enemy when they sought to beat a retreat from the city. Thousands of prisoners were taken there by the Allies. It is reported that the Germans are retreating north of the Somme station-enemy resistance at Chilly Spur, a height which dominated the whole valley of the Somme in that region. North of the Somme station-enemy resistance at Chilly Spur, a height which dominated the whole valley of the Somme in that region. North of the Somme station-enemy resistance at Chilly Spur, a height which dominated the whole valley of the Somme in that region.

South of Montdidier the French have planned through the German lines on the hills west of the Matz River and are reported to be in the valley of the stream at Marquègnies. When the situation is studied on a map, it can be seen that the Germans are in a serious position east of Montdidier. The Allies have closed the Chaumes and have had the railroad junction south of that town under artillery fire for two days. It is reported that the Germans will be forced to make a long and costly march eastward over country roads toward Noyon. The rapid progress of the French below Montdidier has placed the road in jeopardy and made it almost impossible as an avenue of escape for the harassed enemy.

In the center the Germans are reported to be in full retreat. Allied airmen have seen roads filled with German motor lorries and have been active in bombing these lines of transport. The bridges on the Somme River south of Peronne are under fire and the one at Peronne is reported to have been broken. This will throw new complications in the German high command's plans. The German lines in Picardy must have been stripped when Crown Prince Rupprecht sent troops to the rescue of the German crown prince's armies south of the Aisne river. Paris newspapers remark on the fact that the captives taken are, for the most part, rather old and it is said they are members of reserve divisions.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, however, is known to have a large number of splendid troops which will probably be thrown into battle at once. So far only two of these divisions have come in contact with the Allies, but they have been unable to check the onward rush of the victorious armies of Haig and Debeney. The number of prisoners captured during the first three days of the offensive is very large. It is hinted in Paris that the excesses of the figure given out in the official statements.

Two divisional headquarters, with their staffs, are said to have been taken by the enemy constitute a very heavy loss. Since the American forces occupied Flamette, the northern suburb of Fismes on the Vesle, there have been no reports of further attacks in that region. It is believed, however, that the Allies there are gathering themselves for a new assault which may have its effect on the great battle going on further north. Although there have been rumors of heavy fighting south of Arras, there has been no confirmation of them as yet. Nothing is known of the situation in Flanders, where on Friday, the Germans are reported to be withdrawing from their advanced positions.

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR MORE VESSELS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Contracts for 18 cargo vessels and 16 wooden barges, were let last week, the shipping board announced today. Eight vessels of 3,500 tons each and ten barges will be built by the Midland Iron and Bridge Company, Houston, Texas.

IS HINTED THAT WAR STATEMENTS MINIMIZE GAINS

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Aug. 10.—Several newspapers hint this morning that the official statements issued by the war office are purposely reticent and that very interesting news might be made public if the war office chose to do so. They say that the number of prisoners is actually far above the figure authoritatively announced.

Short Line Roads To Operate Under Federal Tariffs

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The railroad commission today issued an order authorizing the application of general order number 28 of the United States railroad administration to intrastate freight traffic moving jointly over the lines under federal control and lines not under such control. The effect of the order is to authorize the Texas lines not under federal control to operate under the same rates as those under federal control on intrastate traffic. The order shall be effective on traffic moving on and after June 25, 1918.

TO REINSTATE MEN WHO WORE UNION BADGES

(By Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 10.—The strike of the members of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, employed by the Western Union in Alabama, Georgia and Florida, set for Monday, was called off today by the southeastern district executive committee which announced receipt of assurances from Postmaster General Burleson that operators discharged for wearing union badges would be reinstated.

VON HUTIER'S ARMY RETREATS IN HASTE

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Aug. 10.—The German army of Von Hutier is retreating from the Montdidier-Noyon line. The retreat of the army is showing traces of utmost haste. Much war material is being left behind. The German error guards are fighting desperately.

The retrograde movement of the Germans is being accelerated by the favorable progress of the new attack south of Montdidier. Von Hutier's retreat from Montdidier was cut off when the French captured Payevilles. The German position along the Montdidier-Roye road is precarious. The German retreat is under heavy pressure from the French armies. Behind Von Hutier is a country completely devastated during the German evacuation in the spring of 1917 and gain overrun during the German offensive in March of this year. The territory offers little opportunity for the formation of a defensive line for an army in full retreat.

"BOCHE ON RUN" IS NEWS CARRIED BY THE WOUNDED

MEN RADIANT WITH ENTHUSIASM TELL OF CONFUSION OF ENEMY.

GERMANS ARE CAUGHT

At Montdidier They Are Between Jaws of Vice That Has Closed In.

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—The Germans at Montdidier are caught between the jaws of a vice which are closing in this morning. Converging attacks from the north yesterday and from the south this morning had succeeded in virtually encircling the town. They had also rendered useless to the Germans the Montdidier-Chaumes railway which was the only line feeding the front at the bottom of the Montdidier pocket.

The forces remaining there were in danger of not getting out without heavy losses. The booty taken during the past two days has been so large that it has not been possible to make an inventory of it as yet. It includes an enormous quantity of shells of all calibers and arms of every description. The attack extended to the eastward this morning giving an unexpected development in the French participation in the battle. The wounded men coming back from the front are radiant with enthusiasm, shouting to their comrades. The Boche is on the run. The French have captured twenty-one cannon since last night, including six 8-inch guns at Labeville-sur-Tessons. The Germans had moved the most of their heavy guns to the rear and defended their positions at Montdidier principally with machine guns. In this new battle of the Somme the French are showing that after four years of war they have lost none of their dash and courage. They have also proved that the Germans are not always able to plead surprise as an excuse for defeat. The French successes north of Montdidier were partially due to surprise but the Germans were aware of the impending attack south of the town. They were defeated, just the same.

Attacking at six o'clock last evening, the French troops conquered the heights of Amiens, and Rubicourt in two hours. This morning they struck along the line down the front through the region of Mery, south of Montdidier, moving their line ahead more than four miles, taking Favorelles by storm.

Says Memphis Is the Center of Narcotic Traffic

(By Associated Press.)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Charles A. Rosewater, government expert, who recently completed a survey in Tennessee, has submitted his report to Harry L. Eskew, state commissioner of food and drugs. Dr. Rosewater terms Memphis the "center of the narcotic traffic of America." Dr. Rosewater estimated that there are 22,000 drug addicts in Tennessee and that each spends not less than $1 per day for drugs. He says that 15,000 addicts annually purchase are sold in Memphis annually, besides a vast amount of heroin, opium, cocaine and caffeine. Dr. Rosewater says that federal statutes are not sufficient and urges drastic anti-narcotic laws by the Tennessee general assembly.

EXACT REPRODUCTION OF JULY MANEUVER

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—The attack launched by the French south of Montdidier this morning is an exact reproduction of the military maneuver which brought about the capture of Chateau Thierry on July 21. General Debeney struck the Germans from the southeast toward the town of Oise and succeeded in carrying our front to a point three kilometers east of Montdidier. At that time the French front extended from Favorelles to Aasn-ot-les-Bains. Montdidier was surrounded by three sides, the west, south and east. The enemy retains only one narrow means of exit. This is along the road running from Montdidier to the northeast. His retreat along this line has become extremely difficult and hazardous as the road is under a cross fire from the French cannon at Davenocourt and Favorelles.

MORE PRISONERS THAN ALLIES ARE ABLE TO HANDLE

STATEMENT IS CONTINUED IN CONFIDENTIAL REPORT TO GEN. MARCH.

SUMMARY OF SITUATION

Time for Greatest Efforts. Keep the Enemy Running Says Chief of Staff.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—"This is the time for the greatest efforts; keep the enemy running." General March, chief of staff, summarized thus today to newspaper men the situation in France.

On military maps he pointed out that the kerat battle front was rapidly being straightened out from the Somme to the sea. "They have not yet," he said, "got ten back to the original Hindenburg line, where the German began his advances this year. We still have some territory to gain, so when statements appear that indicate the war is over at this point, discourage it. This is the time for the greatest effort, keep the enemy running. That is the reason the United States is being called upon for increased manpower, that is the reason we want the age limits for the draft both lowered and raised to cover more men. It is no time now to talk about the war being over. It is the time to hit hard."

The greatest advantage of the whole thing has been the change of the Allies from the defensive to the offensive, which is a great military asset. It has been a great question, not instead of guessing ourselves. From a confidential report General March read the following account of the situation on the British-French front south of Albert: "Allied troops found little opposition and have captured more prisoners than it is possible for them to handle, including a large number of their staff, showing elements of a surprise attack. British report their prison camps back of Amiens so full that it is impossible to hold more. They have captured all the artillery in this sector."

Describes Operations.
Describing the effect of the Allies' operations, General March said: "Broadly, you see that there have been a number of places where we have been nibbling along the Vesle River and the Somme, but have not yet attempted to go up the slopes on the north side where German entrenchments are supposed to be. The part of the line has remained stationary. As the line has become stationary, Foch has kept up his pressure on the enemy, working on the perfectly sound principle that when you get an enemy going you keep him going, never give him a chance to recuperate or think it over; keep on hitting him."

On August 8, a combined British and French force, commanded by Field Marshal Haig, attacked on a front of twenty miles east of Amiens. This time the enemy was not so well while some time ago there were some clumps of woods, all of those undoubtedly have been leveled long ago by artillery fire so we can count on the British front practically level with very little natural impediment to an advance. There are a few valleys, perpendicular to the front of our advancing army, which are parallel to it, so that the advancing troops can go right through the valleys.

Enemy Taken by Surprise.
The enemy were apparently taken by surprise and made no special resistance in the center, continuing their strong resistance to the flanks. Hitting the big salient on a 13 mile front, it was pushed back for eight miles, and reduced it from an outer salient to an inner salient. That gives us a salient somewhat corresponding to the Marne salient and places the enemy again in a bad position. The advance of the British and French at this point comes in so that they are getting into control of the railway line. The communications, which at that point run up from the Montdidier sector to Chaumes.

On the Flanders salient the enemy on August 9 was withdrawing on the southern sector of the salient, south of Merville and British occupied that territory. The general effect of these movements is straightening out the line everywhere. Answering a question as to the 42nd division's record, General March said: "The Rainbow division had its combat training in the Lorraine sector north of Luneville. It left that position to arrive east of Rheims where on July 25 it helped break the main German attack. When the French-American counter-offensive was launched on the Marne salient the division appeared there shortly in relief of other units."

REVENUE BILL STILL BILLION SHORT OF MARK

TENTATIVE DRAFT DOES NOT MEET REQUIREMENT OF GOVERNMENT.

Chairman Kitchin Will Confer With Secretary McAdoo During the Week.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The House ways and means committee tonight is an even billion dollars short of its eight billion dollar goal in framing of the tentative draft of the revenue bill and that amount short of total revenue, including all so far tentatively adopted, and the whiskey and beer taxes, held until the last, and the luxury schedule, which falls very far short of the $200,000,000 allotted it. The committee next Monday, in what it plans to be its final week of framing the measure, will be forced to devise means to make up the billion dollars deficit. Chairman Kitchin of the committee, expects to confer with Secretary McAdoo next week before the bill is given its final approval, and differences between the treasury and the committee regarding the excess profits tax are expected to be straightened out. The treasury desires excess profits rates in the present law to stand while the committee has tentatively raised them.

The treasury view is that the rates bear too heavily on small business, especially the contractor class, and that the present rates are entirely too low, not sufficiently effective as to big business and yield considerably less revenue than the proposed plan.

Plan Gross Sales Tax.
In considering how best to raise the remaining billion dollars, there was renewed talk among committee members today of the advisability of a gross sales tax. It was calculated that one per cent on every line of business would produce between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000. But it was held that to apply to every business would be too drastic and that a few businesses only should be selected for such a tax. There was also talk of an excise tax on tea, coffee and sugar. A tax of three cents a pound on sugar and coffee and to be 1 cent a pound of tea. It was stated it would produce between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000.

The whiskey and beer tax practically has been agreed upon but for the good of the government, the rates are being withheld by the committee until the last moment to avoid large withdrawals from the bonded warehouses to escape taxation. In soft drink, however, it may be said that they will raise $10,000,000 and soft drinks $20,000,000.

Some members of the committee are said to be in favor of a special tax on hotel rooms, where the charge is more than $1.50, with a tax on restaurant, cafe and cabaret charges above a certain fixed figure. No action, however, has been taken along this line.

ARCHIVIST, STATE LIBRARY, TENDERS RESIGNATION

(By Associated Press.)
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 10.—Mrs. Margaret McKenney, archivist of the Texas library and historical commission, today tendered her resignation effective September 1, to become librarian of the Southwestern University, Georgetown. The vacancy has not as yet been filled.

ELEVEN DIVISIONS OF GERMAN ARMY CRUSHED

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 10.—The advance of the Allied armies on the Picardy battle front continued today, according to the latest dispatches reaching London this afternoon. The British have the Germans yet been able to organize for any severe stroke. The guns captured by the Allies are now nearly 400 in number. Eleven German divisions have been not only defeated in the fighting of the last three days but so utterly crushed that the German higher command has been unable to make any counter stroke anywhere. No further count of prisoners had come in at this hour, but the total is probably mounting rapidly because of the disorganization of the Germans. The Allied casualties including all the killed, wounded and missing are less than 6,000, or not more than one-fourth of the number of prisoners counted. On the other hand the German casualties have been tremendous.

LIST INCREASES AS LATE REPORTS COME FROM FRONT

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 10.—The number of prisoners taken from the Germans in the fighting in Picardy has increased to 24,000 today's war office statement announces. American troops delivered an attack in the angle between the Somme and the Ancre and achieved a considerable success. American and British troops captured the town of Morlan-court between the Somme and the Ancre. Canadian and Australian forces captured Bouchoir, Mehari-court and Libons, and have entered Rainescourt and Proyart. The French forces captured Le Tronquoy, Lefretoy, and Assainvillers.

TWO AMERICANS EACH BRING DOWN GERMAN AIRMAN

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—North of the Ancre the British have firmly established their positions and are pushing out patrols toward Bray. The Germans throughout the day were retreating all along the line, endeavoring to save whatever they could as the French launched their new attack against Montdidier. The French attack today resulted in the taking of Montdidier. This movement is considered as most significant as the Allies have now penetrated far into the enemy lines in the Amiens district. The Germans are retreating rapidly out of the pocket of which Montdidier was the apex. The Americans and British have now advanced beyond their objectives north of the Somme. The whole of the Chilly spur is now in their possession after fighting of the most desperate character.

Casualties Not Alarming.
The casualties of the Americans were not more than was to be expected, considering the bitterness of the fighting. The elements of the brilliant battle which the Americans and British fought for the spur are now available. In order to go over the top at the appointed time yesterday afternoon, the Americans were forced to make a rapid march in the last part of which they ran, so as to be in the fight. Hurried on their way by the advancing British, the Americans and American troops on the Amiens-Somme battlefield, the Germans throughout the day retired all along the line, attempting to hold up the Allies as they could as the French launched a new attack on Montdidier. The elements of the German divisions became badly confused in their operations through trying to hold up the Allies on several attacks. It was a victorious day for the Allies, who smashed all the German resistance.

Allies Destroy 65 German Airplanes In Picardy Drive

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 10.—Sixty-five German airplanes were destroyed by British aviators or driven down by control in the fighting on August 8 when the Allied offensive in Picardy opened, tonight's official statement on aviation operations show. Fifty British machines are missing, the British losses being due entirely to fire from the ground.

CLAIMS FIETY TO SIXTY THOUSAND PRISONERS TAKEN

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Aug. 10.—(Via Ottawa) Speaking at a luncheon today at Newport, Monmouthshire, Premier Lloyd George emphasized the importance of the pushing back of the German front within gun range of the Amiens railway. "Hundreds of trains used to pass through Amiens daily," the premier said, "but we were temporarily deprived of its use until recently, when we were able to employ twenty trains daily. Amiens now is safe through the recent Allied triumphs on the Marne and the Somme which were due to the unity of command. Those two great victories have resulted in the capture of between fifty thousand and sixty thousand prisoners and between eight hundred and nine hundred guns."

Put Out of Action.

The Germans were unable to fire until the Americans and English put them out of action. North of the Somme and also south of it the Germans are showing every sign of a rapid retreat. Most of the shells that came over from the batteries today were of small calibre and fired at extremely long range, showing that the enemy probably were removing their heavier pieces for a further retreat. The Allied forces, who everywhere today advanced their lines, moved their artillery along with them.

There was further cheer in the report that reached here late today revealing that the French had started another offensive that resulted in the taking of Montdidier. In that region too, the Germans made preparations for the withdrawal that military observers confidently had expected. The eleven German divisions which the Allies have torn to pieces are already in such a condition that they can be of little use to the German command for a long time to come, and probably some of them can never be reformed. Another German divisional headquarters was reported captured today at Libons.

BULLETINS TODAY.
The Times will again receive bulletins today on the progress of the battle in Picardy. The bulletins will be posted on the windows of the Times building.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF FIGHTING NEAR CHATEAU THIERRY

GIVEN IN LETTER FROM OFFICER OF THE MARINES TO MAJOR BARNETT.

AMERICANS SAVE PARIS

Was Stand of U. S. Troops Along This Line That Protected Parisian City.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—A graphic eye witness' account of the fighting near Chateau Thierry in which American divisions, including the marine brigade took part early in June, was made public today by the navy department. It is in the form of a long letter from an officer of the marines to Major General Barnett, commandant of the corps, and the story told in it is of peculiar interest as it is the opinion of many officers here it was the stand of the Americans along this line which saved Paris.

The writer declares the rifle fire of the marines amazed the French, who saw it. "That men should fire deliberately and use their sights and adjust their range," he says, "was beyond their experience. It must have had a telling effect on the morale of the boche, for it was something they had not counted on. As a matter of fact in pushing back the weakened French and then rushing up against a stone wall defense, they were literally 'up in the air' and more than stopped. We found that out later from prisoners, for the Germans never knew we were in the front line when they made that attack. They were absolutely mystified at the manner in which the defense stood up until they found that our troops were in line."

The letter tells in detail of the days of fighting that followed. It describes a daylight charge after a machine gun post and of scouting raids up to June 8, when the whole brigade swung forward to straighten out the line. This action resulted in the capture of Belleau wood. Major Sibley's battalion of the sixth marine regiment led the way here with Holcomb in support. The woods were alive with enemy machine guns. That night word came back that Robertson with twenty men had taken Bourches, breaking through a heavy machine gun barrage to enter the town. Robertson, fighting with an automatic in either hand, was hit three times before he would allow himself to be taken to the rear. Speaking of individual acts of bravery, the writer says: "Duncan, a company commander 'before he was mowed down, had his pipe in his mouth and was carrying a stick." Later he adds, "Dental Surgeon Osborne picked up Duncan and with a hospital man had gained some shelter when a shell wiped all three out."

Private Dunlavy, killed later, captured an enemy machine gun in Bourches which he turned on the foe with great effect, while at another point, "young Timmerman charged a machine gun at the point of the bayonet and sent in 17 prisoners at once."

Disclaims Intention to Suggest to Voters What Action Shall Be.

By Associated Press. JACKSON, MISS., Aug. 10.—Myron McNeill, attorney of Hazlehurst, Miss., tonight made public a letter he had received from President Wilson in reply to one Mr. McNeill wrote the President, regarding Senator James K. Vardaman's candidacy for reelection to the United States Senate. The President's letter follows: "Replying to your letter of the 23rd of July, let me say that it is always with the utmost hesitation that I venture to express an opinion about candidates for election, either to the Senate or to the House, because I feel that it is not from any point of view my privilege to suggest to the voters of a state what their action shall be."

Allies Feel First Physical Effects Russian Downfall

By Associated Press. PARIS, Friday, Aug. 9.—In the recent fighting the Allies have felt the first physical effect of the downfall of Russia. Much of the war material which has fallen into Allied hands was that supplied to Russia by the Allies in happier days. Officers who inspected the dead and questioned the prisoners, say that the German clothing was of good quality, that the arms were in excellent condition and that the rations taken from the dead and wounded as the Allies advanced were plentiful and nutritious.

Fraze Statement Is Repudiated By League Executives

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Clark C. Griffith, fifth manager and part owner of the Washington club and Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans, today wrote President Johnson of the American league repudiating the statement attacking his policy which Harry Frazee, one of the owners of the Boston club, issued at the American league meeting in Cleveland a week ago today. Griffith said the statement was issued absolutely without his authority and that it originated with Frazee. President Comiskey expressed surprise that his name had been attached to the document which charged President Johnson with "bungling the affairs of the American league," in urging the club owners to close the championship season on August 20 and then stage the world's series before September 1.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI DEFEAT RED GUARDS

By Associated Press. AMSTERDAM, Aug. 10.—General Semenov, the anti-bolshevik leader, with the help of Chinese artillery, defeated the Russian red guards on the Chinese frontier and dispersed them, according to a Moscow telegram to the Reinsche Westphalian Gazette of Essen.

German Wounded In Allied Stations Are In Majority

By Associated Press. BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—The present battle has brought more German wounded to the Allied clearing stations than are wounded among the Allied soldiers. Many German doctors and hospital attendants have been captured and they are doing good service in attending the wounded. Since July 18 the Germans have lost almost as much material as they captured in their big offensives earlier in the year.

Elaborate Plans For Handling the American Troops

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Elaborate plans of the French government for enlarging and improving port facilities to handle American troops arriving under the new war program have been reported to the war department by General Pershing.

Members of the Senate military committee at their weekly conference at the department were told today that improvements already are in progress and that the French have promised to construct additional piers.

CHECK FIGURES AS EVIDENCE IN MARTIN'S TRIAL

FORMER JUDGE OF GILLESPIE COUNTY CHARGED WITH SCHEME TO DEFRAUD.

LETTERS ARE INTRODUCED

Alleged Defendant Represented to Clients Plan to Prevent Their Incrimination.

By Associated Press. —AUSTIN, TEX., Aug. 10.—A cancelled check for $500 which testimony showed was mailed to Attorney Clarence Martin, of Austin, former judge in Gillespie county, was introduced in federal court here today, at the trial of Martin charged with devising a scheme to defraud. Henry Herbert testified he gave the check to Albert Ottmers, to mail to Martin. Herbert and Ottmers with William Herber and C. H. Herber, all of Gillespie county are the four men on which the alleged fraud is charged to have been perpetrated. It is alleged that Martin represented to the four men that their loyalty had been questioned and that he would undertake to adjust matters with the government so they would not be indicted. Testimony regarding the check, Herbert said he "did not know whether Judge Martin had done anything for him or not."

Several letters written by Martin to Albert Ottmers were introduced as evidence today. One of these letters advised Ottmers to:

"Tell your friends not to talk about this affair as it will do no good and might do harm. I'll do all the talking."

Another letter said: "We have made further progress and now feel we have matters in good shape."

The letter added that there still was one little matter to be adjusted and concluded by saying: "It was only by the hardest work on our part that we were able to convince the officials that they were wrong."

Ottmers testified that he had paid Martin $250. On cross examination he said he thought the check was indorsed by Martin and Attorney C. C. McDonald, of Austin, of the firm of Martin and McDonald.

Ottmers said he did not know who reported to federal authorities that he used disloyal language.

"I asked Judge Martin what the trouble was and he said he had come across a written statement while in San Antonio. He said the statement accused us of being disloyal."

Ottmers was still on the stand when court recessed for lunch. Cross examination of Ottmers was continued this afternoon.

"Did you tell Mrs. Jacob Gold, a neighbor, a few days ago that you were sorry the matter ever came up and that you were satisfied with what Judge Martin had done for you?" queried counsel.

"Something to that effect—that I wished it never had been taken up," witness replied.

Pressed further witness said he thought the case "was settled all right."

"Isn't it true that Judge Martin made no misrepresentation to you at any time?"

After hesitating about a minute, Ottmers replied:

"Not any that I know of."

D. A. McCaskill, San Antonio district attorney, testified that Martin came to him some time ago and wanted him to dismiss cases charging disloyalty against Albert Ahlers and Armand Keeneke, who were arrested at Kelly Field. Martin was shown statements the two men made.

COMPLETE A FLIGHT COVERING 2000 MILES

By Associated Press. —LONDON, Aug. 10.—Two Royal air force officers, with two machines, have completed a flight from England to Egypt, a distance of 2,000 miles, in a type of airplane that has seen considerable service on the front. The official report, in announcing this feat, says:

"One or two hags were made for petrol, but the flight was merely a bit of routine work."

A FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLAR BLAZE AT ATHENS

By Associated Press. —ATHENS, Tex., Aug. 10.—Fire of undetermined origin late today caused property damage here estimated at $400,000, the principal loser being the Mayfield Wholesale Grocery Company, in whose building the flames were discovered at 4 o'clock. At ten o'clock tonight the fire was still burning, but was believed to be under control. Besides the Mayfield building, the Hills garage and the Athens Daily Review plant were completely destroyed. There were rumors of incendiary activities but no foundation for the rumors could be learned.

HAYWOOD ON TRIAL IN CONSPIRACY CASE

By Associated Press. —CHICAGO, August 10.—William D. Haywood, general secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., charged on the witness stand at the conspiracy trial today that federal operatives through illegal tactics, have so tied up the organization defense funds that there is scarcely money enough available to go through with the trial.

"You understand, gentlemen," pointing to the jury and raising his voice, "we receive no German gold. The defense money is obtained through assessments and donations." He added that three hundred sacks of mail was being held up in Chicago, that express packages had not been delivered and produced envelopes to substantiate his assertion concerning delayed mail.

Mr. Haywood vigorously denied that any member of the I. W. W. had been expelled for joining the army and declared that organization had gone through its many strikes without committing violence in one of them.

CANCEL CONTRACTS WITH INDICTED FIRMS

By Associated Press. —WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Immediate cancellation of all contracts for raincoats with the firms and individuals who have been indicted in connection with the alleged fraud, bribery and corruption in the selling of raincoats to the war department, was ordered today by Brigadier General R. E. Wood, acting quartermaster general.

New contracts will be let to companies and individuals not involved in these frauds so as to obtain the needed supply.

AVIATOR TAKES PARACHUTE LEAP AT 3,000 FEET

By Associated Press. —FORT WORTH, TEX., Aug. 10.—Lieutenant James H. Dale of St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., jumped from an airplane traveling ninety miles an hour at an altitude of three thousand feet with a parachute and landed without injury before twenty thousand spectators at Tataro Field this evening. Dale, harnessed to the parachute, crawled out on the left wing, let his body down near the fuselage and let go.

Aviation officers said a parachute system is being rapidly developed and all fliers will be equipped soon.

Have Ascertained Cause of Disease Menace to Troops

By Associated Press. —WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The cause of emphysema, the disease of the lungs which assumed the proportions of an epidemic in the training camps and cantonments last winter with a large number of deaths has been ascertained and the best methods of treatment established, Surgeon General Gorgas announced today. The new treatment consists of removing the fluid formed in the lungs by aspiration.

DEMAND EXPULSION OF GENERAL HORVATH

By Associated Press. —LONDON, Aug. 10.—A dispatch to Reuters from Vladivostok under date of August 8, says that the district Seemstvo has handed an ultimatum to the consular corps, demanding the immediate expulsion of General Horvath, self-proclaimed dictator of Siberia. The Seemstvo threatens to suspend its functions if this demand is not acceded to.

DISMISS CHARGE OF SANITARY VIOLATION

A junk dealer who had congregated a collection of bones near his place of business was up in police court Saturday morning for violating the sanitary ordinances, but he was dismissed with the warning to refrain from assembling bones in various stages of ripeness in the future.

Deport Woman Who Eludes Officers and Returned to Ireland

By Associated Press. LONDON, Aug. 10.—Mrs. F. Sheehy Skiffington was deported from Kins-ston, Ireland, Friday night. She was in charge of two prison wardens.

Mrs. Skiffington, who lately visited various parts of the United States was permitted to return to England on condition that she would not go to Ireland. She arrived in Dublin, however, on August 3, having eluded the authorities and she was arrested there Thursday. Her husband, formerly editor of the Irish Citizen, was shot and killed by a British officer during the revolt in Dublin early in 1916.

ADMIT DEATH OF COMMANDER WHO SANK LUSITANIA

By Associated Press. LONDON, August 10.—Lieutenant Commander Schwieger, who commanded the submarine which sank the Lusitania, is dead. His death occurred in September, 1917, but has only been admitted by the German admiralty, according to reports received here.

Last September Schwieger, in command of the U-88, was in sight of Heligoland with another submarine. The U-boats submerged and the other commander felt a chain sweeping along the side of his boat and believed he had run into a sunken British mine field. A terrific explosion under water followed. The second boat rose rapidly and signaled for the other. There was no reply. A watch was kept for the U-88, and she has not been heard from since. There is little doubt the reports say that she sank.

ITALIAN AIRMEN VISIT VIENNA AND DROP MANIFESTOS

By Associated Press. ROME, Aug. 10.—The feat of dropping manifestos on Vienna Friday morning was accomplished by a patrol of eight Italian machines and all returned safely except one. The airplanes were commanded by Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio and the patrol was composed of one biplane and seven monoplane. The total flight was about 1,500 kilometers of which 800 was over enemy territory.

The throngs on the streets could be seen plainly by the aerial visitors. A semi-official note says they were not attacked.

The missing machine appears to have been obliged to land near Vienna-Neustadt, owing to engine trouble.

By Associated Press. ASTORIA, TEXAS, Aug. 10.—Governor Hobby today appointed J. W. O'Banion of Quanah, as a member of the state text book commission, to succeed Charles S. Meek, of San Antonio, who was disqualified as a member because he had not been a resident of the state five years.

MILLION YOUTHS TO BE ORGANIZED BY GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Organization of a million youths to do industrial work take military training in preparation for later army service and at the same time attend specially arranged technical or vocational schools is planned by the government as a means of dealing with the growing shortage of labor without drawing boys away from their schooling.

The corps will be developed through extension of the United States boys working reserve, which has already enrolled 250,000 youths between the ages of 16 and 21, engaged mainly this summer in farm work.

Many of these boys will go back to school this fall, but a large proportion, together with others to be enrolled will be drafted into industrial work to fill vacancies left by men now being drafted for the army. These boys are to be organized as units in each community, serving under an adult training officer, taking courses of study in night schools or by some other systematic program, living either at home or in camps and wearing the uniform of the reserve corps, which will be of gray cloth with roll collar jacket.

Professional Success

Professional success must not be confounded with financial success. There are instances on record of teachers who by some peculiar attraction have drawn people to them, take their money and give little in return. Professional success means more than this. There must be some fruitage, some lasting effect in the after lives of the pupils. No matter how well the teacher may give the lesson the pupil expects and is entitled to something more.

To the technical work must be added the personal element—the individuality of the teacher, his strength and sincerity. It is this that causes the lesson to be retained in the mind of the pupil.

The successful teacher will not only teach music well, but will do much by example toward creating in the minds of his pupils normal conceptions of life.

FRENCH ADVANCE LINES DEPTH OF SIX MILES

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Aug. 10.—The French advancing eastward after their capture of Montdidier at midday have advanced their lines to an average depth of six miles on the front extending from Andeschy, which is seven miles northeast of Montdidier, to Elnecourt, lying ten miles southeast of the captured city, according to the war office statement issued tonight.

The text reads:
 "On the Aisne river battle front our attacks continued all day with increasing success. After the morning's operations, Montdidier outflanked on the east and the north fell into our hands. Continuing our victorious advance on the right of the British forces, we carried our lines nearly seven miles east of Montdidier on a front running from Andeschy to La Boissiere and Escampé.

"Still enlarging our action south-east, we have attacked German positions on the right and left of the road from St. Just-En-Chaussée to Roye, on a front of more than 12 miles. We conquered Rollot, Ozeville, Ressons-Sur-Matz, Conchy-Les-Pots, Laverrière-Sur-Ressons and Elnecourt, realizing at some points an advance of nearly seven miles.

"In three days of battle French troops have progressed nearly 14 miles along the Amiens-Roye road. The number of prisoners taken during the same period exceeds 8,000. Among the enormous material abandoned by the enemy, we have counted up to the present time 200 guns.

"Eastern front, August 9. In Albania there have been patrol encounters that yielded no more prisoners.

MONTDIDIER FALLS TO FIRST FRENCH ARMY
 By Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 10.—Montdidier fell to the first French army which has been operating south of Montdidier, according to the British war office announcement tonight. Many prisoners and great quantities of material were taken by the French.

The general line reached by the Allies in the Albert-Montdidier sector now runs from Lihones to Fresnoy-Les-Roye, Lignieres and Conchy-Les-Pots. The statement added that the number of prisoners was increased. The text of the communication follows:
 "The attack launched yesterday evening, in accordance with the Allied plan of operations on our right by the French first army south of Montdidier was developed by our Allies this morning with complete success. Enveloped from the north and from the southeast Montdidier fell into the hands of the French before mid-day, together with many prisoners and great quantities of material."
 "During the remainder of the day the advance of the French first army

continued with the cooperation of the French army on its right and the right wing of the British fourth army. Pressing hard upon the retreating German troops south of Lihones, the British troops have overcome the enemy's resistance and made substantial progress.

The general line reached by the Allied troops now runs virtually north and south from Lihones to Fresnoy-Les-Roye, Lignieres and Conchy-Les-Pots. The number of prisoners was increased.

GERMANS CALL IT A WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS
 By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Via London, Aug. 10.—In the center of the battle front the enemy has gained ground beyond Rosieres and Hangeat, says the official communication from general headquarters tonight.

"Our counter attacks brought him to a standstill west of Lihones and east of the Rosieres-Arville line. During the night we withdrew our troops fighting on the Aisne and on Don Brook to the rear lines east of Montdidier. Southeast of Montdidier we repulsed strong partial attacks of the enemy. We shot down 32 airplanes over the battle field.

"The enemy has been lively activity on the part of the enemy between the Aisne and the Aisne. At many points on this front the enemy launched thrusts and partial attacks which were repulsed before our lines in hand to hand fighting.

"Yesterday the British and French, bringing strong reserves into action, continued their attacks on the front between the Aisne and the Aisne. On both sides of the Somme and astride the Foucaucourt-Villers-Bretonne road we threw the enemy back by our counter attacks. He suffered heavy losses here.

FRENCH PENETRATE AUSTRIAN LINES
 By Associated Press.
ROME, Aug. 10.—French troops penetrated deep into the Austrian entrenchments on Monte Sisemol this morning, capturing 250 prisoners, according to an official statement issued by the war office. The statement says:

"This morning French troops penetrated deeply into the enemy's strong points on Monte Sisemol, destroying part of the garrison and forcing the remainder to surrender. Two hundred and fifty prisoners and eight machine guns were taken. From our positions on Monte Di Val Bella, Col. Del Rosso and Col. Di Chiesi succeeded at various points in passing the enemy lines and inflicting heavy losses. We took 59 prisoners. Our losses were light."

ALLIES ADVANCING IN DENSE WAVES
 By Associated Press.
VIENNA, Via London, Aug. 10.—The Austrian official communication to day says:

"Between Canove and Asiago Entente Allied troops advancing in dense waves were thrown back everywhere with heavy losses. Enemy attempts to extend the positions held on Monte Asolone broke down."

SCROLL RESTORED TO SYNAGOGUES WITH CEREMONIES

Associated Press Mail Correspondent.
JERUSALEM, June 30.—Restoration of the parchment scrolls of the Law to the various synagogues in Tel Aviv and Jaffa was one of the interesting ceremonies which followed the British occupation.

These scrolls of the Law of Moses which are all written by hand and are preserved in marvellously ornamented cases, some of them in solid silver are the most sacred and holy possessions of every Jewish community. So when Bismarck, in his hostility to the Zionists, carried out the tyrannical evacuation of the bulk of the Jewish population of Jaffa in April, 1917, the Jews carried with them these sacred Torah into exile.

These sacred Scrolls had been carefully guarded by the Jews at Petach Tikvah (Machabeh) and were brought back in solemn procession to Jaffa. A triumphal arch was erected at the northern confines of Tel Aviv, every house was decorated with flowers and bunting and the whole of the Jewish population turned out en masse to meet the return of their sacred possessions. Jews came not merely from Jaffa, but also from Richon-le-Zion and the other neighboring colonies.

The young men and girls of the Maccabees Athletic Association dressed in white clothes, with blue sashes and ties maintained order and kept a pathway clear for the procession.

through the crowds. The procession was headed by the Australian Military Band and the ceremony at the Triumphal Arch was attended by officers representing the Military Governor and by Dr. Weizmann and the members and officers of the Zionist Commission.

The Haham Bashi (Chief Rabbi) of Jaffa mounted by small steps near the Triumphal Arch and delivered an eloquent Hebrew address in which he recounted the hardships of the evacuation. He thanked and invoked blessings upon the British Governor and the British Army and expressed the hope that success would crown the efforts of the Zionist Commissioners.

The Jews desired to regenerate and build up Palestine, not merely for their own benefit, but for that of all its inhabitants whose friendship and help he invited. The re-establishment of the Jewish people in their ancient home in Palestine, he said, would be for the good of all humanity.

Then the Shofar or Ram's horn was blown and the scrolls were carried under canopies by the Chief Rabbi, Dr. Weizmann, and others to the various synagogues to which they belonged.

In the afternoon the town of Tel Aviv remained en fête. There were processions of school children crowned and decorated with flowers, the Yomentes carrying small lambs and goats on their shoulders and bearing palms in their hands. Children sold flowers and confetti in the streets. The proceeds of which go to a fund started recently by the Zionist teachers for translating into Hebrew and publishing in Hebrew, English books and literature. In the evening the Maccabees gave an athletic demonstration in the Public Gardens, and the proceedings closed at sunset with the singing of "God Save the King" and the Zionist National Anthem "Hatikvah," the Song of Hope.

Second Congressional Primary, Saturday, August 24th

VOTE FOR LUCIAN W. PARRISH

In the first primary Mr. Parrish received the largest number of votes. Under the old Democratic rule this would have entitled him to the nomination without a second primary.

Friends who have known Mr. Parrish for years believe him to be the best man for the place. His home county gave him a majority of 1061 over all other candidates, and a plurality of 1541 over his present opponent.

Mr. Parrish stands for the highest ideals in American life, and for true democracy. If elected he has pledged himself to give every effort to the winning of the war, and to support the administration in all its war measures.

Raised a farmer, Mr. Parrish has always been the friend of the man who toils for a living, and while he has successfully educated himself for any position within the gift of the people, he still retains the friendship and confidence of the man behind the plow and in the shop. Without the sophistry of the demagogue, he advocates principles of statesmanship that mean the perpetuation of the free American institutions and the equality of American citizenship.

The selection of a congressman at this time is one of the most important duties now before the voters of the 13th congressional district. Our country needs strong, able men in congress now more than at any time in the history of the country, for upon the action of our congress in the coming reconstruction period which will follow the war, depends the future prosperity and happiness of the nation. We believe that Mr. Parrish will rank well up among the really big men of the nation, and with him as their representative the 13th district will have a place in the congress that will lead lustre to our entire district.

The Westcott Six

You will never tire in it or of it!

IN MOST MOTOR CARS there is some particular seat that rides more easily than any other part of the car. In the new Westcott all seats are equally comfortable and all are superbly luxurious at all speeds. This is due to the perfect balance of the car, the semi-underlung position of the body, the incomparable spring construction, the generous leg room in both compartments and the scientific design and construction of the upholstery.

Pride of ownership never ceases because Westcott beauty, like the Westcott chassis, is built to endure. The lines are indescribably graceful. The painting is done with exquisite taste and fundamental honesty. The "self-acting" top is of genuine Pantasote and is the embodiment of artistic design. The upholstery is of the finest leather with a soft, dull finish, exceedingly durable. It is applied with invisible fasteners and in French pleats. The instrument board, wind-shield and steering wheel are masterpieces.

When you buy your Westcott you will be securing the maximum of roadability, comfort and lasting satisfaction.

Market Report

Grain Market

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Sharp declines took place in the corn market today, chiefly as a result of well come rains and seasonable temperatures. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 1 1/2 lower, with September 11.00 to 1.41 and October 11.11 to 1.47, were followed by material further setbacks.
 Our shortage complaints made some change but failed to bring about any permanent reaction. The market closed weak, 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 lower, with September 11.35 and October 11.50.
 Expected deliveries on contracts had a weakening influence on oats. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 off, with September 69 1/2 to 69, the market receded still more.
 Firmness in hog prices gave strength to provisions. The market closed at the highest point of the day.

Cotton Market

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—There was a further advance of approximately $4.50 a bale in cotton market during today's early trading. First prices were firm at an advance of 24 to 48 on a renewal of the buying movement which found further encouragement in the continued favorable war news, the failure of early weather advices to indicate any break in the Texas drought and the reports of sharp advances in some of the southwestern spot markets. There was scattered southern selling and releasing but it was readily absorbed around the opening figures and before the end of the first half October contracts were selling at 29.98 and January at 29.70, or 80 to 90 points net higher and its new high ground for the season.

The market showed increasing activity and strength during the mid-session. The reports of big Allied victories in France seemed to be creating a more bullish sentiment than at any time previously this week, and there was trade buying as well as covering and a broadening commission house demand on the advance which extended to 30.42 for October and 29.90 for January, or 111 to 127 points above last night's closing figures on the active months. There was realizing enough to check the upward movement at this level but the close showed only slight reactions with the tone firm at a net gain of 109 to 117 points. The cotton market closed strong.

New Orleans Cotton.
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10.—Continued favorable war accounts stimulated heavy buying of cotton today, causing a rise of 45 to 75 points in the first hour of trading. Dry weather was again reported in the western belt and it intensified bullish feeling. Buyers found only a scanty supply of contracts to work on.
 Constant buying was felt throughout the session and the market rose easily with only moderate and short lived reactions under profit taking from satisfied longs. Late in the session the active months were 105 to 114 points above yesterday's final prices.
 The market closed steady at a net advance of 101 to 114 points.

New York Stocks

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The short session of the stock market today was again stimulated by the further success of the Allied forces in France. War issues and shippings were especially favored and gained from 1 to 2 points, a few specialties recording similar advances. The movement was featured by U. S. Steel, which attained its highest quotation in several months. Coppers also improved with fertilizers. Rails played only a nominal part in the rise and General Motors lost 3 points. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 200,000 shares. Liberty 3 1/2's again touched 100.2 and Paris sixes gained a point.
 Additional victories of the Allied forces on the western battle front infused further strength to stocks at the opening of today's trading. War equipments and shippings led the advance at large fractions to a point with the usual active specialties. Rails and coppers shared only in minor degree with tobacco and oils. Liberty 3 1/2's repeated their recent maximum of 100.02.
 Final prices on Liberty Bonds were: 3 1/2's 100.02; first convertible 4's 94.26; second 4's 94.04; first convertible 4 1/2's 94.30; second convertible 4 1/2's 94.00; third 4 1/2's 95.50.

Reynolds, temporary guardian of the estate of Oida Reynolds and Glean Reynolds, minors have this day filed my application in the above numbered cause, for an order of the county judge of Wichita County, Texas, authorizing me as the temporary guardian of the estate of said wards to make a mineral lease upon such terms as the court may order and direct of the following described real estate belonging to the estate of said wards, to-wit:

Being a part of outer block 21 of the town of Burkburnett, Wichita county, Texas, described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning 10 feet south of the N. E. corner of a 14 acre tract of land sold to H. J. R. Sowell, now owned by H. C. Nott, thence south 22 1/2 degrees, east 198 feet, said Nott's S. E. corner, thence east with Ashford's north line, 80 feet thence north 22 1/2 degrees west 38 feet, thence west parallel with Third street extended, of the town of Burkburnett, Texas, 80 feet to the place of beginning.

Said application will be heard by the county judge at the court house in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1918.

THE CAR WHOSE PRICE HAS NOT ADVANCED

The Case Idea — and Yours Of an "ALL-Feature" Car

ONE that combines architectural beauty with soundest mechanical principles—one that offers complete pleasure and utility value, without being a costly burden—one that is so complete, so proven, so perfect that the buyer is assured a dependable car.
 In our latest offering are embodied these ideas to the greatest degree.

Every part, every engineering principle, every structural nicety is fathered by long experience. Not only the broad experience of Case engineers, but also the talent of 24 other leading concerns. The Case-Continental engine and Case-Westinghouse Electrical equipment are but two examples of this co-operative engineering.

The New Way

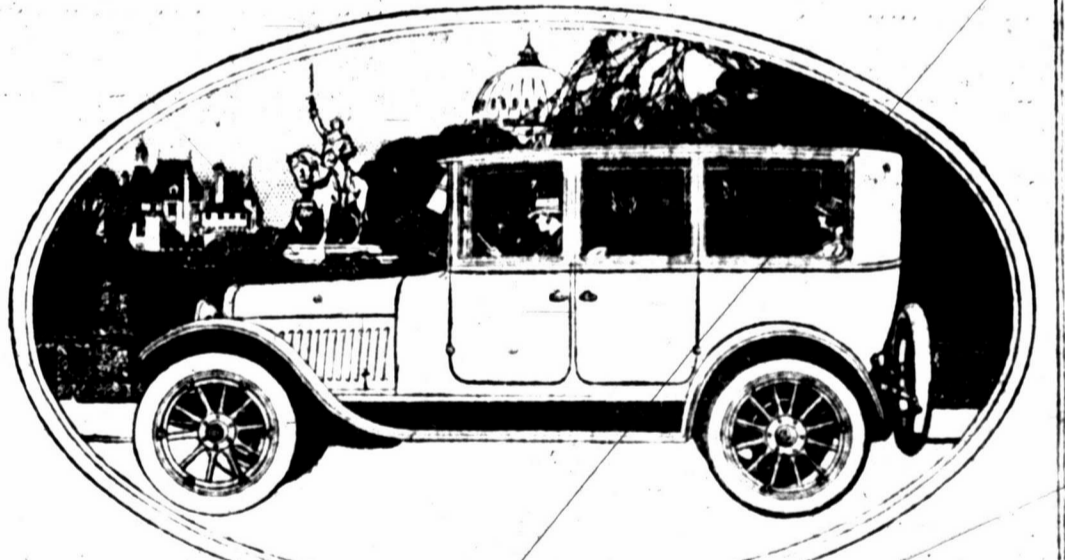

Throughout the car are dozens of features of recognized merit—searched out and properly combined. No one feature dominates at the sacrifice of others. So speed, economy, responsiveness—all the basic fundamentals of good car building—reach a new climax in this Case Six.

Then artists have contributed worthy efforts in housing the mechanical parts in a body design of rare beauty. They added many appreciated comfort features, such as Marshall Cushion Springs and floor room of unusual spaciousness. Refinements too numerous to mention here class this car with those costing far more.

 Know for yourself the Case meaning of an "All-Feature Car." We will be glad to show you the New Case Six.

WICHITA BOYS AT CAMP TRAVIS ARE PROMOTED

The members of the 48th Company 165th D. B. Camp Travis, are beginning to think of Wichita Falls as the original army man's town. Of the men coming here June 24th, E. H. Walpole and John Trimble have been accepted as candidates for the Central Officers Training School. But these are not the only men from Wichita who are making rapid progress in Uncle Sam's army. On July 20th Privates H. R. Overby, J. O. Andrew and W. H. Gasker were advanced to the rank of corporals. Since the above date these men have cast many proud glances down their right arms viewing the two stripes worn by all army men of their rank.

It requires hard consistent work to win recognition in the army, and every man in the 48th Company is glad to see these men advanced, and is sure that this is only the beginning of a series of steps upward which will continue as long as they are here.

Private Leslie Carter, formerly a resident of Wichita Falls, and a son of Mrs. Minnie Carter of 504 Scott avenue, Wichita Falls, was promoted from 5th Co. 9th Bn. 165th Depot Brigade to the Detachment, Q. M. Corps at Camp Travis, Texas, on July 16th, 1918.

George C. (Red) Station, formerly of Wichita Falls, now with 35th Company, 165th D. B. Camp Travis, says that Sherman must have been "doing time" on K. P. when he said "war was hell"—and he is right at that.

Arnold P. Baker, formerly of Wichita Falls, says he would certainly like to draw himself a glass of beer. How about it, fellows?

DENVER PLANS TO PRESENT SERVICE FLAG AT REUNION

Denver, Colorado, will present a mammoth service flag to the sons of Confederate Veterans at the Tulsa Reunion in September. Judge Edgar Scurry who is serving their country at the present time rests with the chapter of the S. C. V. and the U. D. C. Wichitans who have relatives in the army, navy, marines or the air force are asked to notify Judge Scurry as soon as possible so their names may go on the service flag to be placed for them in the service flag.

Judge Scurry asks that the name, rank and division of service be sent him, preferably on a separate card, and urges that those having sons or other relatives who are entitled to a place on this flag lose no time in sending in their names.

SHORTAGE OF DWELLINGS KEENLY FELT IN DENMARK

LONDON, July 2.—A shortage of houses is adding to the woes of the people of Denmark. Many brick yards, according to a Dane who has just returned here from Copenhagen, have had to close, with the result that building virtually has ceased and flat hunting had developed into what might be called flat auctions.

If a flat was advertised for rent in the papers, probably a hundred persons would assemble that day outside the building. No one was admitted to the flat, but the caretaker, when he thought a large enough crowd had collected, would throw open his window and say something like this:

"The rent of this flat, ladies and gentlemen, is so much a year. Which of you will pay me most for arranging matters?"

Then a kind of auction would be held and whoever made the largest bid for the services of the caretaker could secure the flat.

Now the flat famine has developed to such an extent that the diligent flat seeker studies the death announcements, proceeds immediately to the residence and assails the mourners with questions about their plans with regard to the flat.

JUDGE MONTGOMERY MEMBER OF COMMISSION OF APPEALS

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, TEX., Aug. 10.—The governor today appointed the commission of appeals which was created to relieve the congested condition of the supreme court. This is the personnel of the commission: Section A—Leon Sonfield, Beaumont, Texas; Beeman Strong, Nacogdoches, Texas; William Taylor, Dallas, Texas.

Section B—J. T. Montgomery, Wichita Falls, Texas; S. P. Sadler, Gatesville, Texas; J. W. McLendon, Austin, Texas.

JUDGE J. T. MONTGOMERY.

Judge Montgomery received a telegram from Governor Hobby late Saturday afternoon notifying him of his appointment to the commission. He will accept the appointment.

The commission was authorized at the last session of the legislature. It is to assist the supreme court of the state in passing on the large number of cases on the docket which is now above five years behind its filings. Two sections of the commission were appointed to work separately. Each will examine different cases and will make recommendations to the justices.

His name was presented to Governor Hobby by his friends and he was given the endorsement of many of the leading attorneys of the State. He will leave for Austin about October one to take up his work on the commission. His family will probably reside in Austin during his period of service with the commission, which was created to serve for two years, but they will continue to count Wichita Falls their home and they expect to return here as soon as the two years are over.

Judge Montgomery, who is a member of the law firm of Carrigan, Montgomery and Britain, is known as one of the ablest lawyers in Texas, and his appointment is very gratifying to his friends here and throughout the State.

The commission will meet on the first Monday in October and arrange for carrying out its duties. It will continue in operation until the last Saturday in June, 1920, according to the act of the 35th legislature creating it. Members of the commission will receive a salary of $5,000 per annum, the same as is paid members of the supreme court.

Take Applications Today and Monday For Nashville Job

Today and until six o'clock Monday applications will be received at the office of the U. S. Employment Bureau, first floor of the city hall, from workmen and carpenters who will go to Nashville, Tenn., to work on the big government munition plant which will be constructed at that place. G. W. Minton, the examiner in charge, announced Saturday that he would be in his office all day today for the convenience of those who might not be able to call and learn the particulars of the new opening any other time, and would be glad to explain the terms offered workmen in the government munition construction work, and take applications for this work. Wages paid unskilled laborers will be $3.20 a day with double time for Sunday. Carpenters will receive $6.05 a day with double time for Sunday. Board and lodging can be secured near the work for $5 a week. Mr. Minton states he is advised from Nashville. An unlimited number can be used and he expects to put a large number on board the train leaving here Monday night, who have signed up for this important work.

SPENCER SAYS HE'S IN THE RACE AND EXPECTS TO WIN

Judge C. F. Spencer, candidate for congress in this district, came up from Bowie yesterday, and will be here over Sunday. In discussing the congressional campaign, he said: "I was very much surprised when I reached the city to learn that it had been circulated that I would probably not make the race in the second primary. I have put in practically every day since the official count in organizing my forces in the lower end of the district for the second fight, and came to Wichita Falls to confer with friends here. I had an enthusiastic meeting and find that my friends here are trimming themselves for the second run. A thorough organization is being formed in Wichita county and my friends in the lower end have organized each of the four big counties there and are preparing for large majorities in those counties. All I ask of my friends here is to work."

"I was very much surprised on reaching this city to learn that some capital is being made out of a little difficulty which I had with one I. H. Kilgough, when I was last in Wichita Falls. This man had circulated slanders about me and every member of my father's family over the district during the campaign, and when I met him he giggled and laughed in my face and I could not resist the temptation to slap his face. I do not have to go to congress, but have to keep my self-respect."

DRAFT EVADERS FIND NO WELCOME IN JUAREZ

JUAREZ, MEX., Aug. 10.—Deserters, draft evaders and pro-Germans who seek refuge in Mexico find little welcome or comfort here. These aliens sit around the old passenger depot, waiting for a chance to steal a ride south, walk up and down the main street begging money for meals from any of their own nationality or work at the most menial jobs obtainable in the stores and homes of the foreign residents.

Recently three draft evaders who appeared on the streets here were true types of the many who have come to Mexico since the United States entered the war. One was a German

MISS ORTH TO BE CHAIRMAN JUNIOR RED CROSS WORK

Miss Mary Orth is to be appointed chairman of the Junior Red Cross for Wichita county, to succeed the present chairman, Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, at a meeting of the Red Cross local board Tuesday afternoon, August 13. Mrs. Hartsook makes this announcement with the statement that she is compelled to resign from the work on account of other duties. Miss Orth, she says, has been her chief assistant for several months, and has in fact, borne the greater part of the responsibility for some time. She has found her a faithful and energetic worker and believes that the children's work this coming winter will exceed all expectations under Miss Orth's capable guidance. Just at this time the plans for the junior work for the school term are being formulated, and the summer work is being carried on at the same time. A shipment will be made shortly, the quota for July, August and September having been practically completed in about half the time allotted for the work. Mrs. Hartsook will give a detailed account of the work of the Junior Red Cross of Wichita county since its organization at the board meeting Tuesday. There are at present Junior auxiliaries in every school in Wichita county, and all are at work.

CHIROPRACTIC IS THE SCIENCE OF ADJUSTING THE SPINE SO THAT THERE MAY BE NO IMPINGEMENT OF THE NERVES AND THEREBY REMOVE THE CAUSE OF DISEASE.

That is why it may be applicable to every part of the body. That is why diseases of the liver, kidneys, stomach, lungs, in fact every organ or tissue of the body, respond to Chiropactic adjustments. This is why Chiropactic is a preventative of disease as well as a curative agency, and its logic is so simple as to be easily understood by any one who will give it the least thought.

DR. CHARLES MAYO

One of the world's greatest surgeons, says: "Preventative medicine will displace surgery. The drugless healer is one of the best things that has come into the life of the present day." And Dr. G. H. Patchen, another of the country's great physicians, says: "Chiropactic adjustments eliminate the cause of disease more promptly, radically and permanently than any other known method."

If you are suffering from any form of disease we would like to talk with you and demonstrate to you what Chiropactic will do. We do not claim that Chiropactic will cure all diseases, or any disease, but we do claim that it will remove the cause, and with the cause removed, nature will cure itself.

CHIROPRACTIC

If Chiropactic was no good it would have died of its own accord. Since its discovery by Dr. Palmer, nearly twenty years ago, it has fought its way gallantly forward, and has won on merit. It is founded on the science of cause elimination, and is the only method of specifically adjusting the cause of so-called disease that has ever been provided by fact.

THE THEORY OF BRAIN CONTROL

Nervous energy, known also as life force, originates in the brain and follows nerve channels to every cell in the body. The body is but a complicated piece of machinery, and every part must work in harmony to make health. The brain is the power plant of the body and the organs are motors which are run by power delivered over the nerves. If the nerves are interfered with or impugned the motor stops, disease is the result.

be our official landing station for schooling our cross country flying cadets.

"After a week of flying in tail spins, nose dives and various other aerial work a day spent out here in rest and recreation cannot be beat," said Captain Dorland, officer in charge of flying at Call Field. Captain Dorland returned to Call Field Sunday afternoon flying in a new Curtiss. He was accompanied by Lieutenant H. G. Carg.

The aviators spent their time around the club house and lake of the Rod and Gun club. They were more than pleased with the accommodations. With large porches overlooking the ninety-acre lake and plenty of reading matter the aviators spent considerable time resting and reading. They were far away from the usual military air and seemed to forget for a few hours all military work and were truly taking a day of rest.

Captain Dorland praised the Denison field very highly and also the manner in which the field was arranged, so close to bathing and cafe accommodations. He spoke of other fields where flyers must land and must watch their machines in relay while other members of their squad go to town and get meals and baths. Usually people of these towns invite them to luncheon at the hotels where they are always treated royally but the flyers do not like to impose on the public often and that is the main reason for the aviators "claiming the local field to be above all others."

They have accommodations which they are free to use. They may land, work over the machines, take a swim, eat lunch, come to town, take a nap, fish and in fact enjoy the privileges freely without care or worry. The double accommodation furnished here for flyers is becoming known to officers in various fields and a new one is being placed on the map in a new and at the same time novel way, according to visiting officers.

AUGUST NUMBER OF CALL FIELD ENGINEER OUT

Today the August number of the Call Field Engineer is on sale at the Richardson Drug Store, where those interested can purchase as many copies as possible. This is the last publication of the magazine under the name of the Call Field Engineer. The name to be changed to the Call Field Stabilizer with the September issue.

The magazine is dedicated to Second Lieutenant William Carson, who lost his life at Fort Sill on Friday, August 2, while on a flight from this field. Many new departments are added which gives the publication a wider interest, both to soldiers and civilians. Lieutenants Williams and Ware are responsible for this issue, but Lieutenant Ware has been ordered away, and will hand over his share in the work to some one else. Sergeant Edwin Cartwright, a newspaper man of wide experience before enlisting in the army when war was declared, has been at work on the August number with the two officers and will continue this work.

Previous issues of the magazine have been distributed free to the friends of the camp, but the call for copies has become so heavy, and the size has increased, as well as the general interest, so the publishers decided that it was worth the fifteen cents of any Wichita who might want one. They are hoping that the people of the city think so, too, as they doubtless will.

Call Field Brevities

Inspector B. H. Mills, special radio inspector from Washington, was a visitor at the local post this week, inspecting the radio department.

Call Field has been "in tears" literally speaking this week. Lieutenant Clark and his lachrymatory gas being the cause.

Lieutenant Erwin McCarter and Lieutenant Vance flew to Fort Worth Saturday to take in the Gymkhana which is in progress at the aviation center of that city. Mrs. McCarter went down on the train Saturday afternoon to join her husband. They will return tonight.

Captain Putnam is reported almost ready for his first solo in a Ford. Lieutenant Rooney, adjutant of the camp, soloed to town in one of the khaki lizzies Saturday morning, taking a half holiday.

The first Cadillac has come out of the shop a khaki color, instead of its former shining black surface, to conform to the surrounding, matching both the uniforms and the Texas sand. The commanding officer's car is now undergoing a change of color in the paint shop. The Y. M. C. A. lizzies have been ready to come out of the shop with its fall coat of paint, also khaki. All the machines with the exception of the little red fire engine will be given a coat of oil, in compliance with a recent order issued at Washington.

CALL FIELD BIRDMEN ENTERTAINED AT DENISON

Honoring Lieutenants Rogers and Hoffman of Caruthers Field, Fort Worth, and Lieutenants Curt, Tommer and Alexander of Call Field, Wichita Falls, who spent Saturday and Sunday in the city, a number of the younger society set of Denison together with the canteen ladies and members of the Red Cross, enjoyed an informal evening at the Rod and Gun clubhouse Saturday. Music and dancing contributed to the pleasure of those present and a valued acquaintanceship was formed among the Denison people and the young birdmen where were their guests.

Wednesday noon a four-course chicken luncheon was served to the eighteen young aviators from Caruthers field, who, in charge of Lieutenant Baxter, flew over the city early Wednesday, alighting at Stone Field. In the afternoon some time was spent by the visitors and club members in fishing and swimming.—Denison Herald.

Dr. A. O. Scharff, who has been attending the Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Conference at Colorado Springs will be in his office Monday, August 12th.

AT THE THEATRES

Empress Calendar.
Monday and Tuesday: Douglas Fairbanks in "Say Young Fellow."
Wednesday and Thursday: Pershing's Crusaders, the first U. S. official war feature.
Friday: Taylor Holmes in "Ruggles of Red Gap."
Saturday: Gladys Leslie in "The Soap Girl."

Majestic Calendar.
Monday: May Allison in "A Successful Adventure."
Tuesday: Warren Kerrigan in seven reel special, "Turn of a Card."
Wednesday: Constance Talmadge in "Up the Road With Salie."
Friday and Saturday: Dorothy Dalton in "Green Eyes."

"Pershing's Crusaders," the great official picture of the United States in the war, released under the auspices of the Committee on Public Information, is this week's extra special feature at the picture theatres. The pictures were taken under official direction and give a striking impression of the gigantic results accomplished in less than one year by a great nation with its whole heart in a great fight. The full extent of American participation, the factories, the army, the navy, the training camps, every part of the mighty machine which has been moving with increasing force and rapidly during the past year, are thrown upon the screen for the first inspiration of the nation whose efforts have already brought such results. The picture will be shown at the Empress on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Other pictures on for this week are all in a light vein. The week opens at the Empress with the redoubtable "Dou" in "Say Young Fellow," on both Monday and Tuesday. The charming ingenue, May Allison, is starred in "A Successful Adventure" at the Majestic Monday, and a big seven reel feature, "Turn of a Card," in the vehicle for some of Warren Kerrigan's best work at the Majestic on Tuesday. "Up the Road With Salie," starring Constance Talmadge is featured Friday and Saturday at the Dalton in "Green Eyes" closing the week's entertainment at that place with a delightful comedy drama featured Friday and Saturday at the Empress. On Friday Taylor Holmes appears in "Ruggles of Red Gap," and Gladys Leslie in the star "The Soap Girl" at the same theatre Saturday.

MAE ALLISON IN FEATURE AT MAJESTIC

Now comes May Allison in "A Successful Adventure" bristling with romance, adventure and all that goes to make for an enjoyable hour's entertainment on the screen of the Majestic Monday. Miss Allison needs no introduction. The management feels assured that every one of his patrons or prospective ones knows Miss Allison by reputation and by the excellent work she has done before the camera. While co-starring with Harold Lockwood she was seen in some of our best pictures. Since she has won the right to star in her own name and she has proved that she is deserving of all the confidence placed in her by the Metro Pictures Corporation. "A Successful Adventure," written by Katherine Kavanaugh and June Mathis and produced under the direction of Harry LaFranklin. Miss Allison is supported in this production by Harry Hilliard, formerly leading man for June Caprice, Frank Currier, who is seen in "To Hell with the Kaiser," Edward J. Connelly, Christine Mayes, Kate Blanche, Fred Jones, Pauline Dempsey, and Anthony Hynd.

KERRIGAN IN BIG SEVEN REEL FEATURE

The events that transpire in "The Turn of a Card" featured at the Majestic on Tuesday make a highly entertaining subject of the pleasant type. It has moments that are decidedly dramatic and yet the predominating note is one of enjoyable comedy. Soon after the marriage Virginia dies, leaving a baby girl. Years later the daughter learns of the identity of the two brothers, one of whom is her father. She decides to go to New York and bring them together. How is this done?

"OLD LOVES FOR NEW" AT THE GEM WEDNESDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Marton Jr. are said to have come to a parting of the matrimonial ways. A violent disagreement has arisen between the two. Their attempt to bring about a settlement of their differences in New York, moving to Mr. Marton Sr.'s ranch in Arizona has proven to be a failure. It will be remembered that the cause of the first quarrel between Mr. Harvey Marton and his wife was the unrestrained extravagance of Mrs. Marton.

Troubled up by a worldly, scheming mother who had dissipated the family fortunes in her wild search for pleasure, and cordily affected by her environment, it is no wonder that Mrs. Marton came down to earth. Her husband, Harvey Marton thought only of Harvey's money when she married him. But a day of thought and of reckoning came to the young man who found his wife in the arms of Jerry Marquis, foreman of the bar 1/2 ranch to which Harvey's father had sent him with his young wife. And Harvey came close to the soil in hard struggle and fought himself into a clean, little, panther-like, hard-fisted claim to manhood, awakened his wife to true ideals, and brought the shackles of a corrupting environment in told in Triangle's interesting photograph, "Old Loves for New," to be shown at the Gem theatre on Wednesday night.

TRAVIS TROUBADOURS AT PLAZA THIS WEEK

The Travis Troubadours, "clean, classy, full of pep" are offering this week's entertainment at the plaza. Chorus stars number fourteen people and the company comes unusually well recommended. The costumes and scenic effects are special features of the full weeks run, with a change each night.

"Say, Young Fellow"

Doesn't that title sound just like Doug Fairbanks? Well, it is, too, only you will find our athletic star in a somewhat different role in this story—that of a young cub reporter, whose smiling optimism wins him a host of friends, and the confidence of his city editor. When he is sent out to cover a certain assignment, however, his enthusiasm almost ends his journalistic career. Then the girl happens along, and, well—you can guess the rest. It's Fairbanks all the way through.

"Pershing Crusaders"

The first U. S. Official War Feature.
America will breathe more easily after seeing "Pershing's Crusaders."
It makes you an eyewitness of America's might.
It takes you for a visit to our boys "over there."

Pershing's Crusaders is the United States official review of this nation's part in the war. A vivid and all-encompassing panorama of what America has done, is doing and will do to make the world safe for democracy. It follows the flag from training camp to first line trench, and shows what our boys are doing "over there." From great cantonment, through mammoth munition plants, on the sea with the bulldogs of war, in the streets of London and Paris, to the very brink of that threatening rim of hell called the western front, you will travel with "Black Jack" Pershing and the fighting sons of these United States of America. It is one living history inspiring picture, of our war vital to every man, woman and child in America, presented under the auspices of the United States Government through the Committee on Public Information.

BURKBURNETT SCENE OF INVESTMENTS TOTALLING HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS

Staff Correspondence to The Times
BURKBURNETT, Aug. 10.—All is expectancy at Burk Burnett. The Staley, Langford and Chenault's Hedge No. 1, a few hundred feet from the big Fowler well at the edge of the city in down more than 1,000 feet and may reach the sand today or tomorrow. The same formations have been encountered in this well that were found in the Fowler well and unless a big well is brought in there will be great disappointment.

Those experienced in the oil game, however, know that dry holes are often found close to big producers and if this well should come in a dry hole, it will not check operations.

Remarkable progress has been made in drilling the Staley, Langford and Chenault wells and it is rumored here that the drillers are to receive a substantial bonus if the well is drilled to the sand tonight.

Burkburnett has been the mecca during the past two weeks for oil men from all sections of the country. The town is overcrowded and the streets are filled from morning until late at night with crowds of lessees, promoters and investors. A representative of The Times Friday afternoon listed fifty-one companies either organized or in process of promotion and this number was probably not more than half of those which have been promoted. Most of the stock in these companies has been sold right on the streets of Burkburnett, and it is nothing unusual for a company of $30,000 or more to be launched and the stock fully subscribed within half a day.

Thirty-eight Derricks Up.
 Thirty-eight derricks are already up within the corporate limits of Burkburnett and the number is being increased by a half dozen or more nearly every day. Derricks are being set up in back yards and on vacant lots in every part of the city, being more numerous in the northern part nearer the Fowler well. It is expected that three wells come in with a good flow it can safely be predicted that wells will be started on every block in the city.

In most of the blocks the lot owners have pooled their leases and there will be only one well drilled to the block. All the lot owners in the block will have a proportionate interest in the royalty from this well, no matter on whose lot it may be drilled. In some instances, however, owners of a lot have refused to join in the pooling agreement and in many cases the other owners have gone ahead and leased their lots without them.

There has been no pooling agreement of the lot owners in some blocks closer to the Fowler well and on several blocks there are already more than one derrick up.

Map salesmen, lawyers and stenographers have been reaping a rich harvest. Maps have been sold by the hundreds. Many hundreds of lease instruments, deeds, agreements, contracts and similar instruments have been necessary. M. L. Allday, Burkburnett attorney, has been deluged with work and his office has been thronged with clients. Judge Chauncey of this city has taken desk room in a real estate office there as has also Judge Carlton. Court stenographer Hankamer has a desk in the same office with Judge Chauncey.

Magnolia Increases Capacity.
 The increased production in the Burkburnett fields during the recent weeks, together with the anticipated production in the town has caused the Magnolia Company to have erected two large steel tanks at the pumping station, two miles south of town. Material is on the way for these tanks which are to be of 55,000 barrels capacity each. The Magnolia Company is to replace their old eight inch line from here to the Electric field with new pipe.

The Fowler Farm Company are this week replacing the one hundred barrel tanks which have been used to care for the Fowler No. 1 well with wooden tanks. They have already erected two 1,600 barrel tanks and three 250 barrel tanks and have the material on the ground for another 1,600 barrel.

Drilling has already started on a score or more of wells within the city limits and many others are being rigged up. As before stated 35 derricks are already up and it is quite probable the number will be increased to 100 within another two weeks. A list of the rigs and the wells drilling follows:

Million Dollar Estimate.
 If there is no check to operations by an undue number of dry holes, it is estimated that more than $1,000,000 will be spent for actual drilling work in Burkburnett within the next sixty days and Burkburnett merchants and business men see still greater prosperity ahead. Many hundreds of thousands of dollars have already been paid out for leases on town lots and acreage property close in and the two Burkburnett banks are getting into the million dollars deposits class. Burkburnett bank clearings run into hundreds of thousands of dollars almost daily.

The capitalization of forty-six of the companies listed below aggregates $1,225,000. It is probable that companies not reported in this list have been organized with as much more capital.

A partial list of the companies organized or organizing, many of which have already started drilling follows:

Organization of Companies.
 Burkwick Oil Co., capital $35,000, block 35, Thomas, Bland, Jaffe, Katz and others.
 Paducah Oil Co., capital $20,000, lots 2 and 3, Fowler and Willis addition, J. H. Beach, W. H. Richardson and J. C. Brown.
 Burkburnett Home Oil Co., capital $40,000, five acre tract east of school house, R. P. Haney, R. J. Edwards, J. W. Stringer of Vernon, E. P. Durham and J. W. Thomas.
 Jamieson Oil Co., capital $40,000, block 28, S. W. Jamieson, president.
 Green River Oil Co., capital $30,000, block 16, Thomas and Bland.

aid, James J. McEwan Jr., Miss De-laney and Miss Hutton.

Central Presbyterian Church.
Plans for a picnic to be held several miles from town along the river were completed at the meeting of the Ladies Aid and Missionary society on Monday. Routine matters were taken up and discussed under the leadership of Mrs. Johnson. The organization will meet for Mission study at the church at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

At the Red Cross on Wednesday the following members completed a number of articles: Mesdames Fuller, Gaines, Fleming, Johnson and Miss Emma McElhinney.

Mrs. Fuller turned in two pairs of socks, a helmet and a sweater.

First Methodist Church, South.
More than six hundred surgical dressings and a number of hospital garments were completed on Monday and Thursday in the Red Cross unit at the church. Members of the unit have been extremely faithful to the work throughout the summer and the work turned out has been almost as great in quantity as that done during the cooler months.

A. T. Russell and family left Saturday for a motor trip to Galveston. They intend camping while away and expect to be gone three or four weeks.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HAS PLEASING PROGRAM

"Ma Dusenberry and Her Gears," as portrayed by members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church in a comedy "Playlet" offered in the church basement Friday evening scored a decided hit with a large audience. Mrs. E. L. Richardson as "ma" had trained her "gears" well and the following numbers included in the program, were much enjoyed:

- Opening march by orchestra.
 - Introduction—Ma Dusenberry.
 - Orchestra, "Marching Through Georgia."
 - Chorus, "Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be?"
 - Male quartet, "Noah's Ark"
 - Parody on "Keep the Home Fires Burning."
 - Chorus, "Old Black Jones."
 - Reading, "Lightly Row." Octavia Zetache as Dorothy Lorraine Whitcomb.
 - Chorus, "Juanita."
 - Solo and Chorus, "Polly-Wally-Doodle." Downs, Williams and company.
 - Male quartet, Parody on "Polly, Wally-Doodle."
 - Violin solo—Mrs. Howard as Hannah Maria Violetta.
 - Chorus, "Old Ike at Home."
 - "Coming Through the Rye."
 - Male quartet, "Bohunkus."
 - Chorus, "My Bonnie."
 - Orchestra, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching."
 - "Star Spangled Banner." Audience and Company.
- Between numbers, "ma" gave the audience some rare bits of humor philosophy.
- The orchestra, with the girls playing on combs, and the boys whistling was one of the features while the costume and scenic effects were among the program's chief attractions.

War Stamp Sale For Week Exceeds Three Thousand

Receipts at the War Savings Bank this week were somewhat above average, due to the fact that two "Thousand Dollar Men" finished paying their subscriptions. The receipts totalled $3,254.28, for the six days from Saturday, August 3, to Friday, August 9.

Mrs. J. W. Stone, acting chairman of the bank during the absence of Mrs. J. W. Lee, reports the request of Mr. Lipsitz for a picture of the bank and detailed information concerning its operation as he desires to establish such banks all over Texas. The information is also given that in districts where the sales of stamps are running behind another War Savings Drive will be put on for the purpose of having the subscribers pay up.

In Memory of W. R. Hammond Jr.
On August 19, 1916, a little life was given to the keeping of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hammond. For seven months this life was blessed with perfect health, then for six months a long illness followed. God in His great love spared the baby boy to his parents and after this his health continued to improve until on July 31 he was again stricken. At this time the family physician advised taking the baby to a cooler climate, but before Colorado, the destination, was reached, the little life was called to his reward at Dalhart, Texas.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our life,
Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love has given,
And though the body slumbers here,
His soul is safe in heaven.
A FRIEND.

Wichita Wounded Youth Does Not Believe That Shells Have His Number

MORGAN SMITH, Recently Wounded in Action in France.

"I believe, like the rest of the fellows that have been in the trenches a long time, that unless a shell has a fellow's number he won't get hit, and I don't believe that any of them have mine, because I have had shells burst three or four feet from me and only get a jar, while the shrapnel from them would kill men fifty and a hundred yards away." So wrote Morgan Smith, the first Wichita Falls boy to appear in a casualty list sent from France, on July 1, some twenty days before he was wounded. This letter, together with three others, dated from June 24 to July 1, was received Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, 1614 Lucile, the parents of the seventeen year old soldier, four days after they had received official announcement of his being severely wounded on July 23 in action on the front.

severe wounds are not known, it is safe to say that he made his vow good and it is hoped that he "got them" without having to pay the price of his own life. Two cables have been sent by Mr. Smith but no additional information has been received. This lack of further details gives the family reason to feel that the boy is getting along nicely, and they hope to hear from him concerning his wound in a short time.

The casualty lists give him the title of "Corporal," while he had been only a private. It is possible, that he has been promoted recently and not yet had time to get the news to his folk. There are lots of reasons why the postman's arrival each day is eagerly awaited by the family at 1614 Lucile.

Inside the brave soldier, now "five feet eight inches," as he proudly told his mother in a recent letter, is a whole lot of genuine American boy, as is illustrated in the following incident, which was contained in the same letter.

"I wish you could have seen me night before last. We went into a small village and spent the night there. We slept in an old vacant house. I was usual, prowling around through it found a suit of clothes. Black looked like a preacher's garb, long swallow tailed coat. It was a good fit for me and I put it on and found a high top silk hat, about eight inches high. I found a lady's fur neckpiece and got some fur and made me a moustache and to finish up I found a walking stick and went out for a walk. I had all sorts of fun until I thought about where I was and then I was afraid to go very far away, for I would have been picked up as a German spy in that outfit.

"I sure wish I had a kodak here. I'll bet that I would have a stack of pictures so high that they would weigh as much as my full pack, and it weighs right around ninety-nine pounds and fifty ounces—that's almost another pound."

Word to His Father.
He tells his father that when he gets back he will be ready to help him in his work. Mr. Smith being a building contractor, and referring to a catastrophe of former days, evidently, he tells him that he believes he could drive a jitney now and around the corner without breaking it or throwing off a wheel.

The boy gives a word of praise to the Red Cross, says that it is the mother of the army, and does more for the soldiers over there than all the other institutions put together. He reiterates in every letter the fact that he is in perfect health and enjoying himself, but always tells of what he is going to do when the war is over and he comes back home.

Belgium Under the German Heel

The incident might have ended otherwise if the wise counsel of Baron von der Lancken had not prevailed over the violent insistence of the military clique. It was not the first of its kind nor was it the last, but it was one of the most serious of the many divergences of opinion between the military and the civil line of the government of occupation that was then getting itself installed. There was a vast change from those first days when General von Jarosky and his staff were occupying the Hotel de Ville. As I have said, General von Lutwitz, when he came, had removed his headquarters to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 8 Rue de la Loi, and there the Governor of Brussels continued to reside, while next door, in the Ministry of the Interior, there was set up that institution which is the heart of the German system, the thing whose name came to have a sinister connotation every time it was pronounced, the Kommandantur. It is a large place, two great buildings, one the luxurious hotel of the Ministry of the Interior and the other the Kommandantur, where the Belgian Ministers live, or used to live, in their ministries and the other devoted to the numerous offices. There was the headquarters of the Chief of Police, in many respects the most powerful man in Brussels, for he seemed to be accountable to nobody and to move in the tragic orbit of responsibility that allowed him enormous latitude in the exercise of his terrible powers. Every morning he came to work, those wide doors the police in grey, ill-fitting uniforms, their trousers stuffed in their short, heavy ironshod boots, square helmets fixed slung to their shoulders. They were distinguished from the others only by the black, white and red brassards of the Imperial eagle stamped on them, and by the metal badges strung by chains about their necks, bearing in large letters the word "Police." This gave them an unaccustomed eyes at any rate, a ridiculous appearance, and gave the Brussels folk a new subject for their incoherent mockery. They did so instantly suggest the little labels hung about the necks of bottles of Curacao and other liquors.

If these had left any doubt as to their authority and function, their British look would have sufficiently declared it. They always went in threes, or at least two, and were stationed at various street corners and at all the entrances to the city; they tramped heavily up and down the streets, returning to the Rue de la Loi late in the afternoon, dragging the latest of their luckless victims, who disappeared in the Kommandantur, until it was time to go in the closed black wagon to the prison, at St. Gilles, or to the field of execution at the St. Pierre Rifle Range. There was always a long line there before the Kommandantur, stretching from the entrance at No. 4 Rue de la Loi to the corner into the Rue Royale, with pellets to keep it straight. Sad faces, for the most part, those in that line, and the drab habiliments of the poor, since it is always the poor who pay first in any calamity. There was something degrading and shameful in the spectacle as they stood in any reckless and irresponsible use of mere brute force. Those people were there on all sorts of errands. Many to secure identification cards in compliance with the harassing regulations of the German system, or may be to ask to see some relative or friend confined there, or to see some always there in rain or frost or sun, huddled along the wall, moving slowly on, step by step, through the long weary hours.

There was another entrance to the Kommandantur, back in the Chaussee de Louvain, another wide portal, quite as tragic and perhaps more hopeless. Often I saw prisoners taken in there, men or women, to be charged with one of the countless crimes that irresponsible autocracy invents to allege against those who, even in the likeliest ways, run counter to its whims. Often, in walking down the Chaussee de Louvain, I had to get that way into groups of five, or six, or seven, with a woman, with tear-stained, tragic eyes, and the slatternly skirt and sabots she had on when they suddenly descended upon her, and I rubbed my eyes and wondered if it were not the twelfth instead of the twentieth century.

The Spark That Glowed in the Dark. The door at the Chaussee de Louvain was the more sinister and more tragic portal, in my eyes at least, because I understood that the more important prisoners were taken in that way. I do not know, and it makes little difference. But it was more tragic for another reason, and that is that there streamed in and out of it every day the army of spies, secret police, informers and agents of the police who infested Brussels, and in every way, in every alley and in every by-way, in every avenue and boulevard in the town; they rode in teams, wriggled their way into groups and gathered themselves into the rooms and bedrooms and closets, made friends and confidants in order to betray them, held out bribes and temptations, when there were no offenses they invented them, when these were no disorder they created it, and then lured or dragged the poor victims of their treachery and duplicity to their own lodgings, where they interrogated, badgered, sweated them, before turning them over to courts-martial and the firing squad or sending them to rot in German prisons or die in German camps. They were of both sexes, of all nations and of all ages, the scum and off-scouring of the earth, the moral filth and refuse of the world.

They were everywhere. There was a queer fellow who was the tenant of a building of three stories in the Rue de Treves, across from the Legation. On summer evenings I noticed that in an upper room of this building, where one could command a view of the Legation, was always open, though the chamber was never lighted, in the darkness every evening I would see a coal, as of fire, that would glow bright and then fade into the darkness, and then glow and fade—a cigar, evidently, precisely the effect William Gillette used to produce in the last act of "Sherlock Holmes."

Who is that man in that room in the third story? we wondered, and one morning I sent a servant across the street to inquire of the proprietor, in shirt sleeves, taking the air in the door.

"It's an English soldier," was the word brought back; "left behind at Mons. He's in hiding."

"He is not in hiding," "He is a German spy. Tell the man much good it will do his tenant to waste his time there."

The proprietor, at this took his mirror, as up, gazed—and went in, saw the evening cigar glow and fade no more.

One always had the uncanny sensation of someone at one's elbow. There were furtive shadows when one was out at night; someone always near the doorway, or the door of the motor. Two men, meeting in the boulevard, always turned and glanced about before conversing. And in the trams were silent, for gossip on the rear platforms was the most dangerous of indulgences. Spies or secret agents were constantly coming to the Legation with all sorts of questions. How could one send letters? How could one communicate with France or England? The favorite device was to whisper, "I am a French soldier and I should like to be sent out," or "I am a Belgian and should like to join the army," they tell me that you know the way.

We know nothing of such things of course, but the Kommandantur had no conception of the war in this world. It is after all such a thing as honor in this world. We had one response which in many instances it was a pleasure to make.

"Wait until you can speak French without a German accent, and then come back," we would say.

Somehow, it made the day less dreary.

There were several who came as newspaper correspondents, and not without credentials, usually conducted by German officers, from Berlin. Two of them at least were women.

"What is your opinion, confidentially of the German administration in Belgium?" What kind of man is you thinking they would ask.

Their poor noses were so transparent. How much of the German taxpayer's money has been expended in the purchase of scoundrels? And all waste!

There were dozens of course—one for every one of any importance in town—an official "Who's Who," which, with meticulous and ultimate detail whole lives were laid bare.

The Graves of "Treason." This vast and complicated engine of oppression and of terror was incessantly tirelessly hunting down patriots, seeking out evidence for prosecution for what the Germans, by a very peculiar logic, impossible in any western country, call treason in time of war. Anyone, if it be so desired, may be convicted of treason against Germany, no matter what his nationality may be simply by charging him with treason in time of war. Hundreds of graves where Belgians lie testify to the fact. When this was not the object sought, they were gathering information for the purpose of draining the resources and ruining the industries of the country. The Kommandantur and the secret police formed a section of the central military branch of the government, and were by far its most powerful arm.

The whole organization of the German Government is exceedingly complicated, based on a conception difficult for anyone of Anglo-Saxon or Latin culture and temperament to understand. One hears much expansive admiration of the German genius for organizing, but it comes for the most part from those who have never had actual experience of German organization. Perhaps it is because there is so much to admire, so colossal a task, it is in many ways efficient, no doubt—they get certain things done; but then so do the French, who seem to have so little organization and are so slow in improvisation. But the vast, elephantine deliberation of German organization would drive an American captain of industry mad in a fortnight. It is heavy, cumbersome, and its complicated machinery rumbles on and on, remorselessly, and once set in motion there is no way of stopping it, of turning it aside, of adapting it to sudden exigencies. It is blindly impersonal, inhuman, taking no account of persons or of the personal equation. Wherever it touches human beings it suggests a multitude of regulations, of "Verbotens." Instead of a few simple guide-posts to point the way through a wilderness, the Germans would put up myriads of sign boards telling the traveler where not to go; instead of barking a few trees to blaze the trail, they would hack all the trees in the forest except those along the way they wished to indicate. That, indeed, is what they did in the park there in the center of Brussels, which they took from the people and closed in for their own use. Standing at the east entrance in the Rue Ducale, near the Rue Brialmont, one morning I counted twenty-six sign boards of many colors, with their various "Verbotens." Before the park, the only signs that I recall were those reminding the public that certain places were reserved for the children to play in. But then the Belgians had learned liberty in their communal system, and had their own pride in their own park.

In the German system there is no room for liberty or initiative or imagination. The nation is organized like a penitentiary, with the lock-step. And the difference between the German system and the Belgian or the English, in the French or the American, is that which is expressed so clearly in the famous illustration of Tolstoy—the man in the boat who steers by landmarks along the coast and the man who steers by compass; the one hugs the shore, the other goes forth and roves the seven seas.

Our dealings, fortunately, were with the civil government. We found them usually much like the officials with whom one would have dealings anywhere. They were generally polite, affable, oftentimes anxious to please. They were rather slow, perhaps, and sometimes letters referred from one department to another got caught in the cogs of the terrible machine and were lost for weeks or forever. And there was a way, with no doubt had its convenience of sending one from pillar to post and from Peter to Paul, until one was lost in a hopeless labyrinth, but what was worst of all, the machine stopped clanking sometimes, and the explanation, given with a shrug of the shoulders, was very simple and expressed in two words, "les

There were thousands of these civilians from German troops of German officials. They descended on Brussels, like a swarm of grasshoppers. They crowded all the ministries, warning all the chairs—old bureaucrats and clerks, and took over entire hotels to house them. The salaries of all these functionaries in spectacles, filling luggage, togas were enormous and all paid out of the contributions coming from the Belgians.

The supreme authority and the source of all power and privilege was the Governor General, delegated by the Emperor as his personal representative and responsible to him will was supreme. In other words, he was a dictator. As to offenses committed against the German state and the German army (which is the German state), he had the power of life and death; and yet, if there were no legal restrictions to his powers save as the approbation of the Kaiser was necessary to them, he was nevertheless subject to the ambient military influence, the prejudices, the opinions, the whims of the military caste. The aged von der Goltz, who was there so short a time (the gossip says that he was intended for the post of governor general of France when the Germans reached Paris, and that when the battle of the Marne decisively that dream he was assigned to Prussia) was not so ferocious a man as the world has painted von Blasing, and von Blasing was not so ferocious and he is generally represented, his name bears the odium of all that was done in Belgium, and since he was ultimately responsible no formal injustice perhaps is thereby done him; but he was not always in favor of what was done, and much was done even by him that was against his judgment. Like all executives, he was the victim of his environment, the slave of the system that had produced him. Behind him was the formidable and powerful military machine from whose occult influence he could not escape. And, as in the case of all arbitrary and autocratic rulers, while untrammelled by laws and principles and controlled by the military and by cliques, constantly disputing the possession of him, and pulled and hauled, swayed this way and that by the jealous factions of his staff, he revealed himself now just and merciful, now unjust, cruel and inflexible. There was always in his staff that endless dispute that goes on in Germany between the military and the civil factions. Old soldier even though he was I often thought that, since he was by no means a stupid or unenlightened man, his feelings inclined toward the clique of civilians; but in any matter which the military clique considered vital they always had their way, as in Germany they seem always to do.

Appropriating Power. By decrees of the government general it was announced that the powers appertaining to the King of the Belgians would be exercised by the military governor general; that the powers appertaining to the provincial governors in Belgium would be exercised by the Military Governors of the Provinces, and that the votes of the commissions of Arrondissement would be filled by Kreisreises. On February 5, 1915, von Blasing issued a decree defining the powers of Governors of the Arrondissement, etc., and in Article 5 of the decree stated that he reserved to himself the unlimited right to issue such decrees, ordinances and orders and to take such special disciplinary measures as he chose. On June 12, 1915, the Governor General indicated the jurisdiction of the German military tribunals. These courts-martial were stated to be competent, in conformity with the military penal code of the German empire, to exercise criminal jurisdiction in cases of "treason in time of war" for all cases punishable by the law of the German empire and directed against German troops or crews of military authorities, including orders emanating from the local Kommandant, and for all infringements of edicts issued by the Governor General, Provincial Governors, governors of fortified places, the Governor of Brussels, and the Kommandants of Maubeuge and the camp of Beverloo. In the case of the later decrees, the authorities were stated to be entirely free in the choice of penalties to be applied.

Thus were erected those engines of terror and oppression that set at naught every principle of right and justice and liberty that had been won for mankind by the struggle of the long centuries through which Latin and Anglo-Saxon civilization with such toll had been reared. They were to apply the German laws of war. They were veritable courts-martial, sitting in the principal cities, in theory they were to try persons who had committed crimes against the German state or the German army, but under the almost illimitable powers given them by the decree creating them, they presumed to try and to punish a thousand offenses that were not investigated by criminal law or even by the German military penal code. They tried men for assaulting German secret agents in civilian garb, for harboring wounded soldiers of the Allies, for preaching patriotic sermons, for printing prohibited newspapers, for trying to cross the frontier into Holland, for aiding or permitting and even for not having prevented men from joining the Belgian army, for distributing La Libre Belgique, for helping "le mot du soldat" (word of the soldier, an organization that undertakes merely to obtain news as to the health of soldiers), for doing the goose-step, for "looking at a German woman insolently in the street," for whistling the "Lion of Flanders" in theory they were to continue the publication of a newspaper, in one year over 600,000 persons were condemned to pay fines, to prison, to hard labor, to deportation, or to death. The most terrible of all these exceptional tribunals, perhaps, was the one that sat at Hasselt.

LABOR DAY PLAN FOR BIG PARADE WELL UNDER WAY

Splendid progress is reported by the committee of the Trades and Labor Council in charge of arrangements for the patriotic parade on Labor Day, which it is expected will surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted in this city on that day.

While the program has not been completed, enough is known to permit the announcement that the parade will embody a number of novel and interesting features along different lines than heretofore followed in outlining the plans.

Plans will be further discussed at the Council Monday night and the committee requests that every union in the city be represented at the meeting.

Widow Preferred to Meet Death At Home. "For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to the hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of May's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything. It is simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and plays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

After having been engaged in other lines of work the past year, I have opened my office in the Frieberg building and will again engage in the real estate business. My list of properties covers a wide range of location, quality and price, and I will take pleasure in showing these properties to those in quest of a home. J. J.
