Draft Registration on September 12th WAY PREPARED TO OCCUPY PERONNE AND ADVANCE EAST

LAW IS VICTED AND PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY PRESIDENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 31.—All men from eighteen to forty-five years of age in the army or navy already registered, were summoned by President Wilson to register for military service on Thursday, September 12.

Machinery of provost marshal general's office was set in motion to carry out the second great enrollment under a presidential proclamation extending the draft ages. The bill, completed in congress yesterday had been sent to the white House for the president's signature today soon after the house and senate convened.

Expect 12,778,758 men will register. It is estimated that 12,778,758 men will register compared with nearly 10,000,000 in the first registration of 1917. The number now it is estimated will be called for service, probably 3,500,000 more coming from the 18 and 21 age groups. General March has called into the army in France before the end of the month a force of 100,000 men to be trained in their own country. The necessary qualifications for the special technical classes will be conducted as heretofore. All draft boards are called upon to aid the provost marshals in their work to preserve order and discipline among the registrants. The order of registration will be held in their respective classes.

Number of men estimated today at 245,000. In a proclamation authorizing the 21 to 31 age group, the younger men are to be drafted where their parents were. We solemnly entreat the nation to do its duty with pride and with the confidence that the government will be able to handle the situation. The hour has come when we must make immediate decisions for the future of our country.

GOVERNMENT MAY STOP DRILLING IN BURKBURNETT POOL

Drilling in all wells in the Burk Burnett pool except those already in the oil sand was stopped at midnight last night and will not be resumed until after a mass meeting of the oil interests at Burk Burnett at three o'clock Monday afternoon. Whether drilling will then be resumed will depend whether committees appointed in Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls are able to reach an agreement with representatives of the Oil and Gas division of the Fuel Conservation Department of the Federal government. There were broad intimations on the part of the representatives of the government that unless the people interested could get together on some plan to lessen drilling and conserve fuel, labor and materials that the government would have to order drilling stopped.

Interest intense. Owing to rumors of contemplated action to stop drilling by the government, the day Saturday was one of great excitement and agitation in Wichita Falls and Burk Burnett. Three meetings, two of which were attended by the government representatives, were held during the day, but these meetings failed to evolve any satisfactory solution of the problem. The matter is now in the hands of two committees, one of nine members from Wichita Falls and one of nine members from Burk Burnett, who are to try to find some solution of the problem for representation at a mass meeting to be held at Burk Burnett at three o'clock Monday afternoon.

The members of these committees are: Burk Burnett—W. M. Daniels, J. W. Ross, R. L. Eeds, H. C. Cooper, C. C. Calhoun, W. L. Mann, A. A. Knehn. Wichita Falls—W. D. Cline, C. H. Clark, Mack Thomas, Frank Kell, Roy R. Jones, R. E. Huff, L. E. Finley, Chester Hilde and M. P. Kelly.

TROOPS BRIGADED WITH ALLIES TO JOIN FIRST ARMY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—American troops brigaded with the British and French forces are being with drawn as rapidly as possible to join the first American field army under General Pershing. Proximately 70,000 troops are being moved to the front in the present offensive but the impression was given that the program of concentrating the army for action under General Pershing was going forward satisfactorily.

General March said the last figures on men actually landed abroad show 1,225,000 in France on August 7. Several hundred thousand have been landed since then, however, and last week General March announced that the number embarked had passed 1,500,000.

These are Alpine regiments, Prussian guards and picked Bavarian and Saxon units. General Mangin has in his command some of the finest American divisions together with elite French and Colonial troops. The fighting during the last 48 hours has equalled in ferocity anything as yet seen during the war.

RUSSIA NEEDS MORE ENTENTE ALLIED TROOPS

ARCHANGEL, Thursday, August 29.—More Entente Allied troops are needed to aid in framing a screen behind which the Russian army may be able to join the Allies in the war on Germany, Nicholas Vassilovitch Tschakovsky, president of the new soviet government of the northern region of Russia, told the Associated Press today.

It was the first interview accorded to a foreign press and Tschakovsky frankly discussed the position, history and aims of the new government.

We want to restore the eastern front against Germany together with our Allies, Tschakovsky said. We thought the only way to do so was to add to the agitation of our own people, would be to have a firm military basis and screen to work behind and to protect us from immediate attacks from the Germans and the bolsheviks.

Need Allied Troops. Therefore, we required a screen in the shape of at least some Allied forces. We have some but we need to move quickly and, therefore, we certainly need immediately a number of Allied troops.

M. Tschakovsky explained that the government does not rely exclusively on troops of the Allied governments. "We have our own forces," he said. "In the short space of a few days, with the aid of the Allies, we are confident of success. We naturally expect American aid. We need soldiers, food and agricultural machinery from America and if the Japanese finally decide to come from the east they are welcome, too. We should like America to come with them."

Provinces of Government. "As at present formed, our government includes the provinces of Archangel, Murman, Vologda, Vyatka and the northern parts of Novorod, Perm, Yarovsk and Kostroma. Perhaps Yaroslavl and Novgorod will join us," Tschakovsky continued. "The head of our government was born at Moscow. We include all

CARGO SHIP IS SUNK BY U-BOAT 13 ARE MISSING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Twenty members of the armed naval guard of the American cargo steamer Joseph Cudahy, torpedoed and sunk off the English coast August 17, have arrived safely at an Atlantic port, the navy department tonight announced. The 22 crew members were reported saved in previous dispatches to the navy department.

Arrival at another Atlantic port of the part of the merchant crew was reported tonight to the navy department. Only thirteen of the sixty two persons aboard the Cudahy remain unaccounted for. The survivors landed today were picked up by slow sailing westbound vessels.

Thirteen are missing. Two submarines made the attack and two torpedoes struck the ship, the first striking the fuel tank and the second the engine room. The captain of the ship reported that he was taken aboard one of the U-boats and questioned. Of the missing 22 were members of the naval armed guard, only two of the guard being reported rescued. The ship was torpedoed about 12:30 o'clock and the fate of the others was unknown.

Rescue sixteen of CUDAHY CREW. AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 31.—A British freight steamship which arrived here today from a European port brought sixteen members of the American steamship Joseph Cudahy, torpedoed and sunk August 17. The survivors said there were 68 men in the crew and that the fate of the others was unknown.

SIX HUNDRED YAQUI INDIANS HAVE REVOLTED

NOGALLES, Aug. 31.—Three hundred Yaqui Indians, under the command of General Gomez last Monday, captured 600 Yaqui Indians south of the border. They fought a brief engagement with federal forces from the command of General Gomez. The Yaquis are operating entirely and have not joined the federal forces. Three hundred additional Yaqui soldiers have revolted near Culiacan, it is reported here, and attempted to enter that city but were driven away by Mexican federal troops. It had been definitely confirmed that ninety percent of the Sonora federal army is composed of Yaqui troops.

MONT KEMMEL FALLS TO BRITISH FORCES

LONDON, August 31.—Mont Kemmel, the famous stronghold south-west of Ypres which was the scene of heroic fighting during the German offensive in Flanders in April, has been captured by the British, according to a dispatch from the front. The British troops which captured Mont Kemmel were the 1st and 2nd Divisions of the British Expeditionary Force. The British troops which captured Mont Kemmel were the 1st and 2nd Divisions of the British Expeditionary Force.

LAW ENACTED AND PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED FOR DATE

President's Proclamation.

"Fifteen months ago the men of the country from twenty-one to thirty-one years of age were registered. Three months ago and again this month those who had just reached the age of twenty-one were added. It now remains to include all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five.

"This is not a new policy. A century and a quarter ago it was deliberately ordained by those who were then responsible for the safety and defense of the nation that the duty of military service should rest upon all able bodied men between the ages of 18 and 45. We now accept and fulfill the obligation which they established, an obligation expressed in our national statutes from that time until now. We solemnly propose a decisive victory of arms and deliberately to devote the larger part of the military man power of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose.

"The younger men have from the first been ready to go. They have furnished voluntary enlistments out of all proportion to their numbers. Our military authorities regard them as having the highest combatant qualities. Their youthful enthusiasm, their virile eagerness, their gallant spirit of daring make them the admiration of all who see them in action. They covet not only the distinction of serving in this great war but also the inspiring memories which hundreds of thousands of them will cherish through the years to come of a great and a great service for their country and for mankind.

Commanding Duty of Life.

"By the men of the older group now called upon the opportunity will be seized with the calm resolution of those who realize to the full the deep and solemn significance of what they do. Having made a place for themselves in their respective communities, having assumed at home the graver responsibilities of life in many spheres, looking back upon honorable records in civil and industrial life, they will see as no others could, how entirely their own fortunes and the fortunes of all whom they love are put at stake in their action. They will know that the very records they have made render this new duty and the commanding duty of their lives. They know how surely this is the nation's war, how imperatively it demands the mobilization and massing of all our resources of every kind. They will regard this call as the supreme call of their day and will answer it accordingly.

"Only a portion of those who register will be called upon to bear arms. Those who are not physically fit will be excused; those exempted by allegiance; those who should not be relieved of their present responsibilities; above all those who cannot be spared from the civil and industrial tasks at home upon which the success of our armies depends as much as upon the fighting at the front. But all must be registered in order that the selection for military service may be made intelligently and with full information. This will be our final demonstration of loyalty, democracy and the will to win our solemn promise to all the world that we stand absolutely together in a common resolution and purpose. It is the call to duty to which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause at whose summons every true heart offers its supreme service."

ESTIMATED THAT TEXAS WILL REGISTER 548,187

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—An official estimate by the war department today places the number of men who will register for military service on September 12 at approximately 548,187.

This is on the basis of the last census and the figures in the opinion of some officers may be exceeded.

CLAIM POSITION OF BOLSHEVIKI IS MORE SECURE

By Associated Press. COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.—Bolshevik authorities in Russia appear to regard their position as more secure than formerly according to Hans Vurst, probably Germany's best informed writer on Russian affairs.

Writing from Moscow on August 29, Vurst says that the main reasons for the change in the attitude of the authorities are the recent victories over the Czech-Slovaks, the feeling that Entente intervention in Russia is less formidable than was at first feared, and the recent German defeats which have given rise to a feeling that there was nothing to fear from Germany.

Vurst calls attention to the fact that an article appearing in the Pravda, on August 17 from the pen of a Bolshevik leader employed a tone never before used from this source in an appeal to the bourgeoisie to make common cause with the laborers.

NINETY-FIVE OF I. W. W. WILL APPEAL CASES

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—William D. Haywood, general secretary and treasurer of the I. W. W., and ninety-four of his associates sentenced yesterday to prison terms ranging from ten days to twenty years and to a fine aggregating $2,335,000 for conspiracy to obstruct the government's conduct of the war, will appeal their cases. George W. Vanderveer, chief counsel for the defendants, announced next Tuesday he will apply to the U. S. circuit court of appeals for writ of error. Judge Landis has granted a stay of execution which will permit the convicted men to be held in Chicago until next Friday.

YOUNG GIRL'S FATHER KILLS WEALTHY CLUBMAN

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, August 31.—William E. Bradley, wealthy clubman, is dead at a hospital as the result of a mysterious assault last Thursday night, it was announced today. He was stabbed over the heart as he was about to enter his south side residence, but influential friends succeeded in keeping the story quiet until his death at midnight last night.

Bradway made a statement to the authorities at Columbus, Kansas, to search for J. Norman Cook, in connection with the murder of Bradley. It is said that before he died Bradley made a statement to the effect that he had been stabbed by J. Norman Cook, the father of a 13-year old girl whom he met in Kansas City. Bradley died. It is said he was completing his statement.

SUCCESSFUL TEACHING

Even though given the best of musical equipment, many teachers fail to cultivate the gifts of nature, more or less developed in every normal being. Successful teachers must have and continually cultivate very definite qualities, as in tuition, patience, physical force, foresight, originality, ability to read human nature, and a host of other like qualities.

In successful teaching the individuality of each student, such as the physical equipment, mental advancement, progressiveness, and ability to assimilate must be carefully weighed. Few teachers realize that students seek a musical education in perfect seriousness and with an interest already aroused up to a certain point. The more successful the teacher, the longer that interest and eagerness is kept going, besides continually inculcating in the student ideas and ideals.

Full term is now open. Only a limited number of pupils accepted. Write or phone for handsome booklet of advice.

GOVERNMENT MAY STOP DRILLING IN BURKBURNETT POOL

The recommendation of the committee was in the form of a resolution which was as follows:

Resolution Reported.

"Resolved, by the oil interests of Burk Burnett: "First, that we pledge ourselves to cooperate with the U. S. Government in its efforts to conserve the use of fuel, casing and other materials, so far as possible considering conditions in which some of our company have already bound themselves by contract."

"Second, that as to stocks where no rig has actually commenced drilling operations, that only one well be permitted in each paying sand block, same to be as near the center of the block as practicable, that only one well be permitted as long as we request the government to designate rules to make the pooling of all interests in the same blocks mandatory so as to protect all who have interests, and that in case two or more individuals or companies desire to drill and cannot agree which shall do the drilling, that the representative of the government then shall determine which of them shall be allowed to proceed, and that the interests of all shall be protected, and that the payment of expenses incurred by the government in supervision and that the representative of the government be authorized to appoint a person who shall assess the values of all conflicting interests in any block so as to have the interests in said block pooled, and that the pooling be mandatory."

"Third, that in cases where more than one well has been commenced and drilling begun, that all wells in said block stop until the interests in said block be pooled; all interests in said block to be pooled and to have fair and equitable interest in said well, and if the pooling interest shall fail to agree, that the government be requested to do which shall be completed, and upon the value of conflicting interests, so as to give justice to all as near as possible. Provided, however, that any well or wells that shall be drilled into the sand shall have the right to be completed and shall pool with all others in the block, and that operations on such well or wells shall not be stopped."

"As Mr. Huff proceeded with the reading of the committee report an attitude of hostility developed, and fairly broke into a storm of opposition the minute the reading of the report of the committee was rejected was quickly offered, and hours of debate which at times became heated then followed."

W. H. McKenzie, speaker on behalf of the committee, explained that under the committee report the interests of the stockholders of all the companies would be pooled, and argued that a stockholder's proportionate interest in a pooling of drilling operations would be more valuable than interest in one of two or three companies drilling on the block."

John C. Kay, on the other hand, for an expression, declared that any man who had room to put a well on his property could be taken care of by the federal courts. He said that a man with letters from Washington could not sweep away the property of other men by voting in a pooling house, he asserted.

of applause which told, if anything was needed, where the sympathies of the audience lay.

Mr. McKenzie controverted the statement of Mr. Kay that a man's property could not be taken except by due process of law, pointing to the fact that the food administration and the fuel administration were daily seizing property with no process of law whatever.

Mr. Donnelly was called on for an expression and said that the government had put the matter up to the oil interests and said that he could merely report what action had been taken.

Charles F. Spencer said that more than 500 people in his county, Montague, were interested in the Burk Burnett field and that the action contemplated would be a greater disaster to them than the drought.

Urges Careful Thought.
W. D. Cline urged that careful thought be given the matter. He presented the belief as a practical oil man that one well on each block would get every drop of oil under every block in Burk Burnett. He pointed to the saving of lumber, fuel, labor and casing that would result, and declared that what the government was seeking was economy in operation. He pointed to the waste involved in sinking two wells to get the oil that one would bring to the surface. Mr. Cline said that he had foreseen the situation that had arisen as soon as the Fowler well came in and that he had called attention to the possibilities of the situation to Mr. Blair, State fuel administrator, but that Mr. Blair had felt that he had no authority to act. He said that it was his confident belief that every well in the northern half of the town would get enough oil to be a paying proposition whether one well or four were drilled to the block but that one well to the block would bring as much return to the stockholders of companies as four wells, which he felt certain would weekly drain the field and leave it barren.

Mr. Kelly pointed to the fact that there was a surplus of labor and that the work offered at Burk Burnett was a Godsend to drought refugees.

P. B. Cox said that as the government had asked for an expression from the investors, it ought to be given frankly. That was the purpose of the meeting, he declared.

Report Rejected.
A call for a vote on the motion to reject the report of the committee brought action with the result that the report was overwhelmingly rejected. A motion was then made that a recommendation be made that all work started and financed or partly financed be carried out whether one well or four wells or more to the block. The committee was instructed to draft such a resolution. The committee then reported the following resolution:

"In view of the fact that many wells have already been started and in many cases are in the sand, or nearly in the sand, and in many other cases companies have been formed and capital stock paid in for development purposes, and other companies, partly financed, that we petition the U. S. government that all rigs that are already drilling or ready to drill be allowed to proceed to completion and that all companies that have been financed and partly financed for development on less than a block be permitted to develop a block of property, but that in the future no new company be formed for development, if less than a city block."

"Resolved, further, that we request the representative of the Federal government now present to withhold any action until a full statement of the actual conditions can be presented to be furnished to the fuel administration, and in view of the further fact that millions of dollars have been invested and thousands of persons become interested in the development of the Burk Burnett pool, whose investments would be lost if drilling is arbitrarily stopped."

Aber Davis urged the postponement of action upon this report, saying that if it was the final action of the mass meeting that the government representative might order the closing of operations. He urged that the committee be given until three o'clock Monday afternoon for further efforts to formulate a plan that could be endorsed by the government representative. His suggestion was incorporated in a motion which was adopted.

Another mass meeting was held in the 30th district court room at 8:30 last night. The court room was packed and the same tense interest was manifested as at the two earlier meetings. A resolution offered by Mr. Kelly that it be declared the sense of the meeting that all contracts that had been entered into in good faith be carried out before the government restrictions were imposed was adopted.

Upon a motion three more members were added to the committee from Wichita Falls to attend the meeting at Burk Burnett Monday afternoon. The additional members of the committee named were E. J. Findley, Chester Halle and M. P. Kelly. These members were named as representatives of the investors in stock companies on the Burk Burnett townsite.

Mr. Donnelly and Mr. Dwyer were uncertain last night whether they would remain over until Monday afternoon or not. "We were sent here to deliver a message," said Mr. Donnelly. "We have performed our mission and must make our report. The matter is now out of our hands unless those interested here can still formulate some plan of action."

groups except the extreme left and the monarchists. Siberia already has a similar government and soon our groups will form regional governments in central, eastern and southern Russia. We are ready to join in some sort of federation and then call a constituent assembly.

"All the members of our government were members of the former constituent assembly, which was elected by the people. We call ourselves a sovereign, instead of provisional government because we believe in the need of firm authority. We have no personal ambitions."

M. Tschakovsky said he felt the Russian people were capable of a republican form of government despite the general illiteracy and cited the success of the village government. "The leaders of our group including myself, were in constant danger of arrest and had many narrow escapes before Allies came to our aid," he said.

Plans Are Formed.
"Some of us came to Archangel early in July and launched our plans. I cut short my usually long beard and remained in hiding in disguise. We raised about 600 soldiers, with officers, and struck on the night of August 1. The Allies came the next day."

M. Tschakovsky, venerable and with the white beard of the typical Russian, was born in Vyatka province in 1850. His father was a land owner and he is a distant relative of the composer of the same name. As a student in Petrograd he engaged in revolutionary propaganda. He fled to America where he lived from 1875 to 1879 and then to England where he was a refugee for twenty-eight years. He returned to Russia in 1907 and was arrested. He was tried, together with Catherine Breshkovskaya, grandmother of the Russian revolution, and was acquitted, while she was convicted.

M. Tschakovsky later visited America again on a lecture tour. While he has been in Russia he has been directing co-operative societies, which he believes will prove the real basis of a new commercial Russia.

BLOCK 4 WELL SHOWING FOR A GOOD PRODUCER

After a delay of several days the Wichita Oil & Gas Co., drilling on block 4 at Burk Burnett, succeeded in getting a packer seated and started flowing Saturday afternoon. The well is showing for a good producer.

Three more wells are on the sand and will be brought in in the next day or two. They are the Wichita Southern Oil Co., near the Northwestern station, the Peoples Oil Co., on block 15 and Willis and Crowell, also on block 15.

There are several other wells nearing the sand and this week is likely to see more new production in the North Texas field than ever before known in a similar period.

POLICE STRIKE IN LONDON HAS BEEN ADJUSTED

By Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The strike of the London policemen composed of more than 22,000 men in the metropolitan district and the city has been settled. Agreement between the government and the strikers was reached this afternoon at a conference at which the demands of the policemen were met by the government. Under the terms of the agreement the police will receive a minimum wage of 43 shillings (£13.25) weekly and a maximum wage of 53 shillings (£17.25), plus a war bonus of 12 shillings (£3.88) and an allowance of 10 shillings for children of school age and two shillings and sixpence for other children.

After twenty-six years of service policemen will be entitled to retire on a pension of 25 shillings (£8.40). Recognition of the National Union of Police and Prison Officers as a federation, but not as a trade union has been granted by the government as well as the reinstatement of a constable who was discharged because of his activities in the organization of the police.

dent's proclamation read as follows: President's Proclamation. "Fifteen months ago the men of the country from twenty one to thirty one years of age were registered. Three months ago and again this month those who had just reached the age of twenty one were added. It now remains to include all men between the ages of eighteen and forty five. "This is not a new policy. A century and a quarter ago it was deliberately ordained by those who were then responsible for the safety and defense of the nation that the duty of military service should rest upon all able bodied men between the ages of 18 and 45. We now accept and fulfill the obligation which they established, an obligation expressed in our national statutes from that time until now. We solemnly propose a decisive victory of arms and deliberately to devote the larger part of the military man power of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose. The younger men have from the first been ready to go. They have furnished voluntary enlistments out of all proportion to their numbers. Our military authorities regard them as having the highest combatant qualities. Their youthful enthusiasm, their virile eagerness, their gallant spirit of daring make them the admiration of all who see them in action. They covet not only the distinction of serving in this great war but also the inspiring memories which hundreds of thousands of them will cherish through the years to come of a great day and a great service for their country and for mankind.

Commanding Duty of Life. "By the men of the older group now called upon the opportunity will be seized with the calm resolution of those who realize to the full the deep and solemn significance of what they do. Having made a place for themselves in their respective communities, having assumed at home the graver responsibilities of life in many spheres, looking back upon honorable records in civil and industrial life, they will see as no others could, how entirely their own fortunes and the fortunes of all whom they love are put at stake in this war for right and will know that the very records they have made render this new duty and the commanding duty of their lives. They know how surely this is the nation's war, how imperatively it demands the mobilization and harnessing of all our resources of every kind. They will regard this call as the supreme call of their day and will answer it accordingly. "Only a portion of those who register will be called upon to bear arms. Those who are not physically fit will be excused; those exempted by all-conscience; those who should not be relieved of their present responsibilities; above all those who cannot be spared from the civil and industrial tasks at home upon which the success of our armies depends as much as upon the fighting at the front. But all must be registered in order that the selection for military service may be made intelligently and with full information. This will be our final demonstration of loyalty, democracy and the will to win our solemn notice to all the world that we stand absolutely together in a common resolution and purposes. It is the call to duty to which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause at whose summons every true heart offers its supreme service."

ESTIMATED THAT TEXAS WILL REGISTER 548,187

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—An official estimate by the war department today places the number of men who will register for military service on September 12 at approximately 12,778,158. This is on the basis of the last census and the figures in the opinion of some officers may be exceeded. The estimated total number of males is 13,190,000 but from this number 410,000 is deducted to cover the men of the new draft ages already in military or naval service. Based on the ratio shown by the registration of men from 21 to 31, June 5, 17, the shares of the new registrants expected in each state are estimated as follows: Alabama, 243,271; Arizona, 49,794; Arkansas, 198,746; California, 398,552; Colorado, 112,139; Connecticut, 213,326; Delaware, 29,489; District of Columbia, 43,152; Florida, 110,940; Georgia, 309,972; Idaho, 55,461; Illinois, 559,824; Indiana, 340,920; Iowa, 287,847; Kansas, 290,412; Kentucky, 254,108; Louisiana, 212,580; Maine, 80,770; Maryland, 162,090; Massachusetts, 483,546; Michigan, 498,965; Minnesota, 296,956; Mississippi, 185,715; Missouri, 398,509; Montana, 117,003; Nebraska, 137,665; Nevada, 163,116; New Hampshire, 50,013; New Jersey, 405,509; New Mexico, 44,632; New York, 1,245,457; North Carolina, 264,242; North Dakota, 87,329; Ohio, 739,437; Oklahoma, 227,884; Oregon, 84,404; Pennsylvania, 1,087,692; Rhode Island, 71,431; South Carolina, 179,649; South Dakota, 77,179; Tennessee, 251,865; Texas, 546,187; Utah, 58,863; Vermont, 36,316; Virginia, 241,974; Washington, 146,853; West Virginia, 167,732; Wisconsin, 326,377; Wyoming, 30,520.

CLAIM POSITION OF BOLSHEVIKI IS MORE SECURE

By Associated Press. COPENHAGEN, Aug. 31.—Holshevik authorities in Russia appear to regard their position as more secure than formerly according to Hans Vorst, probably Germany's best informed writer on Russian affairs. In the course of a review of the situation printed in the Tagblatt of Berlin. Writing from Moscow on August 20, Vorst says that the main reasons for the change in the attitude of the authorities are the recent victories over the Czech-Slovaks, the feeling that Entente intervention in Russia is less formidable than was at first feared and the recent German defeats which have given rise to a feeling that there was nothing to fear from Germany. Vorst calls attention to the fact that an article appearing in the Pravda on August 17 from the pen of a Bolsheviki leader employed a tone never before used from this source in an appeal to the bourgeoisie to make common cause with the laborers. NINETY-FIVE OF I. W. W. WILL APPEAL CASES CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—William D. Haywood, general secretary and treasurer of the I. W. ## SUCCESSFUL TEACHING

Even though given the best of musical equipment, many teachers fail to cultivate the gifts of nature, more or less developed in every normal being. Successful teachers must have and continually cultivate very definite qualities, as in tuition, patience, physical force, foresight, originality, ability to read human nature, and a host of other like qualities.

In successful teaching the individuality of each student, such as the physical equipment, mental advancement, progressiveness, and ability to assimilate must be carefully weighed. Few teachers realize that students seek a musical education in perfect seriousness and with an interest already aroused up to a certain point. The more successful the teacher, the longer that interest and learning is kept going, besides continually inculcating in the student the ideas and ideals.

"HIGH COURAGE." Under the tremendous excitement of intense action in battle men perform deeds of uncommon heroism. Already not a few of our men have won recognition for bravery under gun fire. Fine as this is there is a courage even finer. It is the high courage of those who have suffered sublimely and still "carry on" with a smile and a word of good cheer. Some great day we shall read the story of those mothers and wives whose sons and husbands went "over seas," and their women—God bless 'em—sent them out with a winsome smile and a tender, endearing word all covering a breaking heart and a soul suffering in anguish.

One of our men tells the story of a British mate of an army transport. This English sailor-man seemed at least sixty, and as spry as a two-year old. To our men, particularly the young officers, he was friend and brother with always an inspiring word and a smile that was contagious. His stories and his songs never failed to drive away the nausea of homesickness. The thought took the form of words, "Well, here's one Britisher the war has not touched." And this was the result: this sturdy, happy-faced naval officer when the war started had four many sons. This quartet promptly enlisted. One was gassed. Another was killed in a charge, and the other two "went West" when the German military machine was rolling its hordes toward the Channel ports. There was also a remarkably fine daughter and sister in this family of the mate. She went into the Red Cross work, and like her father and brothers, made good. Soon she was given an ambulance, having become so able a nurse. One day she went too far and the German machine caught her. Later, she was found dead and horribly mutilated!

Gentlemen, here is High Courage! A man is giving his best to cheer our boys up, and in his heart he holds in sacred memory the scenes of a quiet English home wiped out by the Un-speakable Prussian. Sons—gone! daughter—gone! home—gone! he alone, and with steady heart and true is doing his bit to win the war. No whine, no complaint is his, just High Courage.

"FACTS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS." There is a danger ahead of us occasioned by the turn of the tide in the war. The will to strike, when and where for the first time lies with the Allies. Out of this already there is coming "small talk," the whispered word that we would not be too hard on the vanquished. Can it be that German propagandist contains provision for defeat, and that a strong under-current of feeling in favor of Germany is to be created that shall make for an easy peace negotiable to Germany? Let the facts speak, and so may we sober up!

The common every day term in the English papers for the Germans is "The Baby-Killers." German citizens justly earned this name because of a fiendish delight in ridding defenseless English cities and bombing pell-mell the homes of the people. If some enemy-plane were to come over our city and blow up YOUR home with its defenseless loved ones what would you say? International law signed by Germany and all other nations of power forbids this.

The Germans have been called "Pirates" because they have earned that name. When a German submarine sinks an enemy vessel carrying munitions or food there may be some excuse in desperation, although none at law. There is no excuse whatever when that ship is sunk without warning as Germany has been doing for years now. On top of that put this: Germany has made a practice of sinking NEUTRAL ships, with or without warning as the whim takes the submarine commander. Norway alone has lost in killed and drowned over 1000 sailors, not to say a word of the financial loss in ships sunk. If this is not murder, and robbery on the high seas, then we do not know beans! Then add to this awful record the facts of German submarines at night without warning sinking Red Cross Hospital ships. You will have to invent a new name for the human beings who can commit such dastardly crimes. The Germans are barbarians because they go on devastating lands in France where no "military necessity" can possibly exist. Think of systematically destroying at the top root all fruit bearing trees and vines; poisoning the sources of drinking water, and removing all farming implements from the land. Sherman said "War is Hell." But the hell Sherman had in mind is a heaven in comparison to the hell Germany has brought to the peoples and the land where the German soldiers have trod.

The Germans are Huns by right of their fruits, and by right of their own choosing. When the German soldiers were to be sent on that cowardly, brutal expedition into China to wreak reprisals because of the Boxer uprising the German Kaiser delivered himself of this speech: "You know very well that you are to fight against a cunning, brave, well-armed and terrible enemy. If you come to grips with him, be assured quarter will not be given, no prisoners will be taken. Use your weapons in such a way that for a thousand years no Chinese will dare to look askance upon any German. Be as terrible as Attila's Huns." When "The Beast of Berlin" was so speaking to his soldier-slaves, the President of this United States was writing to our ambassador to China urging that he be as easy as possible with the Chinese Government as it was not responsible for murders committed by a rebellious mob. And further to remit to China whatever indemnity might be apportioned to the United States.

For four years we have given the German the benefit of the doubt and he has proven from every angle unworthy. The only thing that we can honorably do is to do just what the Kaiser has boasted his soldiers have done: kept the war off German soil and carried war in all of its Hun frightfulness onto innocent soil. So we must carry the war to Germany and bring home with telling force the meaning of Germany's running amuck among the nations. A far greater than any of this earth said, "By their fruits ye shall know them." So we know them as HUNS!

PUBLIC OPINION

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW NAMES OF VIOLATORS

To The Times: I have followed the discussion in your columns regarding the vice situation in our city with considerable concern, and I too desire to express my admiration for the stand Mr. Bean takes in the matter. I, too, want to know who is responsible for the red light district. I think the word respect should have several question marks when used in reference to their names. Mr. Napier goes into some details in regard to the manner in which these men, who are solely responsible handle their ends of the disgraceful deal, and at the same time dodge the criminal laws, and in my humble judgment I believe the law abiding element of Wichita Falls would like to know the names of all these men. We would also like to know what ministers would shield his good paying member in such a wicked, un-Christian act, and then, too, our general government has called on us, as a war measure, to stamp out such vice, to cut down war expenses in treating such matters in the army, and aside from all morals in the case, winning the war is the only and paramount issue before the American people now. Let's see what we can do. Keep the thing so hot that somebody who does know who they are will tell the world. J. L. MEARS.

ALL AMERICAN CITIZENS LEAVE CITY OF MOSCOW

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, August 31.—Ninety-five Americans, including all consular officers except Consul General Poole, all the personnel of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. representatives of the American bank and a number of private citizens, left Moscow for Petrograd on a special train the evening of August 26. American interests previously had been turned over to the Swedish control.

With the Americans were the Italian military mission, a party of seventy-one persons. This news, transmitted today through the Swedish government, did confirm recent reports from German sources that the last of the Entente representatives had left Moscow and it is thought here that the British and French consular officers probably still are detained. In belated dispatches received today from Mr. Poole himself, the last dated August 28, the consul general reiterated his intention of remaining in Moscow to give moral support to his British and French colleagues, held by the bolshevik government. The Swedish government also advised that passports of the Americans and others who had left Moscow had been advised to leave Russia and that permission from the Finnish government to pass through Finland would be awaited at Petrograd. This permission already has been authorized.

OUR TABLOID SERMON

REV. PERCY G. CROSS

"LABOR AND THE KINGDOM." A Sermon for Labor Sunday. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, are the supreme ideas in the model prayer Jesus gave to His disciples. Two thousand years have passed and mankind is just beginning to catch the vision contained in these two simple statements. The kingdom comes in society as God's will becomes our will; His Spirit quickening our spirit; His purpose directing our desires; His wisdom illuminating our wisdom. The kingdom comes in the proportion as human relationships become right relationships. The kingdom comes when the righteousness of God becomes the rectitude of man. The kingdom comes when God's way becomes man's way; God's word, man's word. Men and women, workers in a working world, here is a program big enough for all Jesus placed this world-program in prayer form thus insuring it a sacred place, and a sure place in the life of man. The mighty vision of the master-builder compels our attention, and commands our allegiance.

Workers of head and of hand, we must pray this prayer as idealists. The architect sees in his mind first the building before he commits it to plan and blueprint. We must learn to visualize the ideal before we can press on toward the goal. Make your ideal the kingdom of good will and take it with you as you enter the marts of life. Many a time a soldier will smile when some poet or philosopher puts in ink his dreams and ideals. Realize that in the final outcome of the issues of life the souls of high vision are victorious. Believe it or not, the pen is mightier than the sword. Ideals and ideas rule us, not bullets and bayonets. Somehow you and I are to swing along the way of life and labor seeking in the future a new earth where dwelleth righteousness. Thus must we for our own sakes as well as that of our loved ones "carry on" toward this goal of the race. The great hearts always have with them the vision of the plan perfected in the building. Jesus cried, "Behold Satan as lightning fall from Heaven." This the vision of a victory not consummated in fact. Paul wrote, "While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen." And John dared to declare that he "saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem coming down out of Heaven." The real marvel in all of this is that these souls of vision spake when man, the great mass of men, were slaves, branded and beaten.

Seek Ideals of All Men. Diogenes stalked abroad in mid-day with a lantern looking for a man. In contrast we must fare forth as workers looking for this ideal in all men. We must determine to see in the other fellow the ideal man, citizen to be of the new earth. Our eyes quickened by our hope in God, will see beneath the dirt and grime of sweaty toil, the living stones the master-builder is fashioning for the eternal city. We are liable to forget the glory of the goal in the pleasures of the moment. When we smear the vision by our foolishness we will smear the task. It is a common trick of man in sin to make the means toward an end. Yet some make church-going both means and end, thus they become obstacles in the progress of the kingdom. Others never go to church and in so doing defeat the very desire that reigns in every human heart for such a coming of that kingdom as to make for eternal peace founded in righteousness.

Pray this prayer as a laborer, be you digging in a ditch or driving an airplane; working with a machine or wrestling with a nation-problem, pray this prayer for all are laborers. There are no exemptions for man in the labor of the kingdom. There are no easy jobs nor special privileges in this work of God in man. Jesus said, "My father worketh unto now and I work." Paul wrote, "If any man will not work, neither let him eat." All of us do well to read and re-read the parable of the laborers in the vineyard. Yet in spite of the word, and in the face of the stern lessons of the past, man takes a childish delight in working with a "pull," standing in with the man higher up; pulling wires and laying wires to get something for nothing. With God merit, not money, wins recognition. Must Hold to Ideal. This task is get-at-able when we begin right at home. Begin within! Get the vision in the heart for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. Too, the wise man was right when he wrote, "Keep thy heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life." We must at any cost hold ourselves to this ideal of good will. Let us incarnate it then, we will see it become in reality each day. This is no easy thing—and thank God too. Rather let us rejoice that we are co-laborers with God in the work of the kingdom here upon earth. So no matter where you are, in the shops or on the locomotive; on the scaffold or in the field; in the home or across the seas, there you are to build a bit of the kingdom. Hold up your work in the light of the kingdom and be a MAN! Doing this you will never be a wage-slave nor an exploiter of labor. See with wide-open eyes that you and your work of head and hand go to the make-up of this coming kingdom of Good Will. Here lies the solution of all economic wrongs, and the adjusting of all social inequalities. And let us all ponder this fully: all bad work, crooked work, dirty work delays the coming of the kingdom just that much. The penalty of a final scattering as dust all such is certain!

First within, then without into our own little world shall we take the ideals of the kingdom. No one can pray "Thy kingdom come," and refuse consecrated service to city and country. In every city there are crooked paths to be made straight. In every state there are stagnant "holes" to be cleaned out. Children cry aloud for help and health. Old age by right of life demands protection. Captives of cruel circumstances, victims of the greedy strong await liberation. Dare we be self-indulgent when the kingdom cometh? Can we be indifferent when the best in us urges to be up and doing; for the best is yet to be? And Jesus said, "After this manner pray ye: Thy kingdom come, and Jesus was a carpenter! Go, work today, for the night cometh when no man can work."

CAPTURE OF MOUNT ST. QUENTIN SERVES TO PLACE THE GERMAN ARMY IN PRECARIOUS POSITION

By Associated Press
 WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN France, Aug. 31.—With Mount St. Quentin in British possession the Germans to the north and south for a considerable distance are placed in a precarious position. Peronne itself must be evacuated and if this is not done quickly, the enemy may lose many more men there.
 Starting out from east of Clercy about five o'clock in the morning the Australians fought their way forward despite the heavy fire from the boche machine guns and swarmed into Feuillicourt. They captured 200 Germans. About the same time another body of Australians, "silently"—which means they were unaided by artillery—attacked Mont. St. Quentin. The Germans were taken completely by surprise, for they had no idea that the Australians would dare attempt such a feat. By eight o'clock the Australians had fought their way to the top of the mount and soon after that signalled its capture.
 Mount St. Quentin was alive with Germans who came from everywhere and cried "Kamerad." Those who did not were driven from their retreats or killed with grenades and bombs. Hundreds of prisoners were captured at this place.

 Reminder to Germans.
 While the hill was being mopped up, British guns, which had been moved up close to the river, cut loose and began pounding a torrent of steel back of Mount St. Quentin as a reminder to the Germans that they had better start moving quickly. The Australians must have worked with great swiftness to make so much progress in so short a time.
 At various points between Kemmel and Bethune the Germans have been retiring and the British have regained a very considerable amount of ground.
 Several counter attacks delivered during the day east of Bapaume astride the road to Cambrai literally withered away before the fire of the British machine guns. The road to Cambrai and the ground on either side for some distance was dotted with the bodies of Germans who dashed against the British in useless attempts to drive them from the positions they had captured.

 About the same time the Germans were being beaten here, the Canadians launched a fresh attack just south of the Arras-Cambrai road and drove in to the enemy lines for some distance. Heavy fighting is reported to be still in progress between the Arras-Cambrai and the Bapaume-Cambrai roads.
 British Holding Gains.
 British troops have come close up to the Brocourt-Queant line and are holding on while the boche is trying desperately to dislodge them. Counter attack after counter attack has been launched here and the battle has been raging constantly, first forward, then backward, neither side being given a chance by the other to get the slightest rest. The instant German counter attacks are beaten off the British re-attack and gain a little more ground. If the British fall back slightly before powerful boche strokes, as soon as they have quieted down a little, the British attack again and hurl the Germans out, not only gaining ground, but improving their positions.
 The Germans have fought well in this locality but have gained nothing and have suffered enormous casualties.
 It is noted that in the fighting here the enemy seems virtually to have abandoned the rifle as a weapon and is doing nearly all his fighting with light and heavy machine guns.

Further advances have been made during the day along the Bapaume-Peronne road.
 Langatte and Ecoust, from which the British retired yesterday, were retaken and the number of prisoners increased.
 Bullecourt is being mopped up. South of Hazatime the British have captured Riencourt-Les-Bapaumes.

AMERICANS GIVE GERMANS A DOSE OF MUSTARD GAS

By Associated Press.
 WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON The Vesle Front, August 31. The Americans early Saturday gave the Germans in Fismette and its vicinity the heaviest dose of gas sent over since the Americans and Germans took foothold along the Vesle. The Americans used mustard gas and observers after daylight reported that Germans individually and in small groups were leaving the lowlands where the gas fumes clung.
 The Germans answered with mustard gas, firing about a thousand shells before settling down to the usual artillery firing. There was no infantry action.

OKLAHOMA CORN CROP IS ONLY 19 PER CENT NORMAL

By Associated Press.
 OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., August 31.—With corn in the southwestern part of Oklahoma an entire failure, and damaged over fifty per cent in the remainder of the state by continued drought, broken only by light showers, the present condition of the crop is 19 per cent of a normal, according to summary of crop conditions issued today by the state board of agriculture. This is a decrease of 20 points as compared with last month's condition of 39 per cent. The condition of corn in August of 1917 was 43 per cent.
 An estimate on the yield of corn per acre has not been compiled by the agricultural board, but prospects do not promise near the 6.5 bushels per acre of 1917, which was practically the poorest year the state has seen.
 Cotton shows a decrease of 43 per cent in growing condition as compared with the report for July. The condition of the crop at present is 22 per cent. Condition at the end of August 1917, was 72 per cent.
 Revised figures for the state's wheat yield show 11.5 bushels per acre for total area sown in the fall of 1917. Final estimates for the state production is 31,300,000 bushels. Of this amount farmers still have on hand 37 per cent.

To Trace Is Found Of Body of Former Emperor of Russia

By Associated Press.
 MICHIGAN, Friday, Aug. 16.—No trace was found of the body of the former emperor Nicholas of Russia, who, Czechoslovak forces captured Yekaterinburg July 26. This information was brought to David R. Francis, the American ambassador, by a Czechoslovak army officer who has arrived at Archangel with dispatches from the American consul at Yekaterinburg after a long and perilous trip through two lines of hostile hot shot troops.
 The officer said he had no definite information as to the disposition of the body of the ex-emperor but the most credited report was that it had been taken to the deepest pit in the Yekaterinburg coal mine and there destroyed. The officer was unable to learn the whereabouts of the deceased emperor's family except that he knew they had been spirited away from Yekaterinburg.
 The execution of the former emperor took place July 16. So far as the informant of the Yekaterinburg soviet who was reported to be a sailor, killed Nicholas with a revolver. Red guards who were commanded to kill their former emperor refused, as also did a Leftish firing party. Then the commandant drew his own revolver and shot Nicholas dead.

STRONG APPEAL FOR FOURTH LOAN BY MR. HOOPES

IN THIS PROFOUND CRISIS IS TEST OF CITIZENSHIP, HE SAYS.

A LOAN OF SACRIFICE

Must Lend as Our Boys Have Given Lives. Courageously and Cheerfully.

Special to The Times
 BIRNEY REPORT, I.A., Aug. 31.—To arms, citizens, is a cry which must ring from one end of the Eleventh Federal District to the other. In this profound crisis is the test of citizenship. This is a loan of sacrifice. We must adopt the English slogan, "Carry on." We must lend as our boys have given, and lend as they have fearlessly, courageously, even cheerfully. When this loan is made, there must not be a single dollar of idle money in the whole of this Eleventh Federal District. Idle money is pro-German money. To think of percentages today is moral treason.

These are some of the expressions used by J. W. Hoopes, deputy governor of the Federal Reserve bank at Dallas, and executive manager of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, in his speech to the Liberty Loan organizers of East Texas and Louisiana at Shreveport last night. The meeting was held at the Yonkers Hotel and aroused the greatest enthusiasm. Mr. Hoopes spoke in part as follows:

"This is a loan of sacrifice. We must get down to the same basis as have the French and the English people. To enter this war with our spare cash is an impossibility. We must devote to it our bodies, our comforts, our very necessities. We must lend if necessary until it breaks us. We must lend, if necessary, until we have to go about, even of bread. American gride dictates that we should take no other course. It is unthinkable that we should allow our European Allies to beat us in bravery, sacrifice or in effort. Despite bad conditions in some parts of the territory, we must, as the English people say, 'Carry on.' We must get that spirit which makes men turn from casualty lists or demands for half of their income with chastened smile. Through the lips tremble, we must repeat to one another 'Carry on.' We must lend as our boys have given. They are giving income, loved ones, home, even life itself and we must be worthy of them.

"Your message to the wealthy man must be a firm one. Extremely heavy responsibilities rest upon the man who, while he may be suffering through bad business conditions to day, yet has made money in the past. He must dig down and dig down deep into his bank account, and bear the burden that his poorer neighbors cannot bear. In this profound crisis is the test of citizenship.

The speaker outlined many details of organization to the assembled county representatives of the loan movement, and called for an organization

Plan Wolf Drive To Rid Arkansas Of Wild Animals

By Associated Press.
 GLENWOOD, ARK., Aug. 31.—More than 400 hounds, two hundred and fifty harness and 200 automobile parties have already entered for the big drive to rid this section of wolves and other wild animals which will start on September 9 and last during that week. This was announced today by Game Warden Graham Burnett who said that other entries were coming right along. Requests for camp reservations are being received from adjacent states and those as far north as Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. A northern film company has made arrangements for pictures of the big drive against wild creatures that have become pestiferous throughout this section of the state.

Stock raisers have suffered recently from the ralley, wolves and other animals, and it is believed the riding of the country of wild animals will lead to the settlement of many of the unoccupied lands of the territory now infested by the beasts. The drive will end with a hunters' frolic and barbecue on the Caddo river near here. Scaps and bounties resulting from wolf drives will be devoted to the fed Cross.

LOCAL RETAILER MAY SELL FLOUR ON 80-20 BASIS

NEW REGULATION SUPERCEDES THE FIFTY-FIFTY RULE OF LATE.

PURCHASE OF CORN MEAL

If Used for Bread Should Be Purchased Separately From Combinations.

New flour regulations, governing flour and bread baked, either for sale or home consumption, have been issued by the National Food Administration, and these rules are made public by W. S. Currier, the Wichita County Food Administrator. Summed up, the new regulations are as follows:

Under an international bread policy formulated by the inter-allied food council in London, all bread made after September 1 for France, England, Italy, the United States and other allies, will be made of mixed flour, containing 80 per cent wheat flour, 20 per cent substitute. For this purpose, regulations are formulated below effective September 1, providing:

In regulations covering the case where straight wheat flour is sold by retailers, that the same time twenty per cent of other cereal flours must be sold incidentally.

Requiring that all bakers' bread shall contain twenty per cent of other cereals, and the Food Administration relies upon the householders of the country to mix at least twenty per cent of the substitute cereals into the wheat flour at home for all uses.

Corn meal for use of corn bread should be purchased separately from combination sales.

The new regulations supersede the fifty-fifty rule. The retail dealer selling standard wheat flour is required to carry in stock either barley flour, corn meal or corn flour, and with every sale of wheat flour must sell a combination of some one or more of these in the proportion of one pound substitute to each four pounds of wheat flour.

Retailers are required to keep a record of flour and substitute sales. Public eating places are still required to limit service of Victory bread to two ounces and quick breads or wheatless bread to four ounces per meal per person.

TWO REFINERIES ARE TO BE BUILT AT ELECTRA SOON

ONE WILL HAVE A CAPACITY OF TWO THOUSAND BARRELS, SECOND 1,000.

THIRD BEING PROMOTED

R. E. Huff is Trustee and May Be President of the Larger Company.

Two refineries are to be built at Electra at once. One is to be built by the Beaver-Electra Co. and will have a capacity of 2,000 barrels daily. The other is to be built by W. L. Waggoner and D. T. Cross and will have a capacity of 1,000 barrels daily. A third new refinery is also being promoted at Electra.

The following concerning the two refineries named above is taken from the Electra Leader:

"There has been under consideration during the past twelve months several developments in the refinery line, under the urge of the Chamber of Commerce for the retention at home of profits arising from the utilization of our basic raw material crude oil. Some of these have hung fire, and one or two have died out in the burning, leaving but three distinct and definite projects now under consideration. These comprise the proposition now being carried to realization by the Waggoner and Cross interests; the undertaking of our fellow citizen, Mr. S. Walker, and the Beaver-Electra Refining Company, all of which are assured undertakings.

Capacity of Plant. The plant to be erected for the Beaver-Electra Refining Co. will have a capacity of two thousand barrels daily, and will be a replica for two plants, already constructed by those obtaining the contract for the local plant, one of which is located at Quay and the other at Yale, Oklahoma. The former plant has been in operation for over a year, and has been carefully inspected by Mr. Overby of Iowa Park and Mr. W. L. Thomas, before the plans and specifications were accepted by the trustees last Monday week, when Mr. Huff, who had been in Colorado, returned for the specific purpose of completing the deal.

Included in the contract with the contractors is a patent for the use of the largest proportion of gasoline from the crude oil, for which usually a royalty of $5 per barrel is required. Mr. Thomas was enthusiastic in his report of the plants inspected. Whatever the character of the other two refineries may eventually turn out to be, that being erected by the Beaver-Electra Company will be found to measure up to the best wishes of its owners.

Crude Oil, Water and Switching Facilities Ample Provided For. Included in the list of stockholders are owners of production, and royalties in crude oil, sufficient to operate the plant at full capacity, however, independently of that source, there is already provided a sufficient quantity of crude for all purposes.

The septic plant being constructed by the city, to the east of the limits, will be midway between the city and the plant of the Beaver-Electra Company, and the overflow of water from the septic plant will be run into the refinery tank. In addition, if necessary, a line will be laid to the city tanks, while the company water tanks will be greatly enlarged, to take advantage of rainfall.

The switch will be fourteen hundred feet long, and will have access to the plant at both ends. Work on construction will be begun without delay, as the contractors are already assembling the plant at shipping points, and it is most desirable that no time be lost in beginning actual operations in refining. It is hoped to be refining long before the necessary, but not immediately imperative, structural work is finished.

Advantage to the City Banks. The handling of funds necessitated through the treatment of two thousand barrels of oil per day in a local treasury large balances, rendering money conditions easy all around; for while settlements for the crude will be made bi-monthly, the unutilized profits on operation, and funds for payment of government taxes will comprise a considerable sum.

Plan of Organization.

The plan adopted by the promoters, Messrs. Y. L. Jones and E. L. Daniels, who worked in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, is one that offered unambiguous appeal to the stockholders, and was accepted with a promptitude that denoted the ability of the Electra investor to see good points in a proposition. It was simply this: The stockholders are to provide a fund of $100,000 for the erection of a complete plant, and the necessary fund to operate. Immediately the plant is in operation, and living returns the stockholders shall be repaid, dollar for dollar, every cent invested before the promoters shall share in the success of the undertaking.

Meanwhile the company will be organized on a basis of $300,000, and after the original stockholders shall have been repaid their investment, the stock shall be sold to the public, every one originally taken, while the promoters are to have the balance or one-third of the stock. Not one cent has been paid or will be paid, for the plan of stock and the promotion stock goes to the parties named as the share for building and putting the man in operation. All money invested is to be expended by the trustees named above, while a committee composed of Messrs. J. L. Parker, Ed Schilke and J. W. Dunn, is to supervise construction, pass on bills, and do everything possible to facilitate completion of the plant in the shortest possible time. Mr. T. E. None will be on the ground every morning of the time till the plant is complete. Mr. C. M. Baker will do the outside work, assembling the plant and taking it to destination as it is shipped, while Messrs. Y. L. Jones and E. L. Daniels will have supervision of the whole operations, the main object being, first, to secure the best possible refinery plant, and second, to get it in operation, and put into operation in the best and quickest possible manner, consistent with good work.

Personnel of Directorate, etc. The promoters are under obligations to provide the organization to start and operate the plant when contacted. There is a general desire that Mr. R. E. Huff shall be president of the company.

The directorate will be chosen from our own home people, and the industry will be financed and managed by citizens of Electra. It will be in the Electra industry, in every sense of the word, there being but two stockholders in the large list who reside outside our city.

This is most gratifying to those who have worked hard, and conscientiously, to bring this development to pass, and it is the further hope of the promoters that, successfully operating, it will be the means of securing larger investment in local developments in the future in the utilization of the opportunities afforded in this city of such promise.

Payments on stock, 25 per cent of amount of subscriptions, are now due, and stockholders are urged to lose no time in depositing to the credit of the company. Messrs. R. E. Huff, W. L. Thomas and C. W. Coffey, at the head of the local banks, so that no money may be lost in bringing this good move to an early beginning.

It was learned early this week by a reader representative that another company is a surety for Electra, and that the pipe for the water line is now being laid.

The site for the new plant will be in the Wilbarger county. The men in charge are W. L. Waggoner and D. T. Cross, both of whom control and own considerable acreage and produce in and around Electra.

According to information received by the Griffith super production, the plant will be one of a thousand barrel capacity. A permit has already been obtained from the government for a switch and the material for same has been appropriated. The machinery has been bought and erected, work on the building of a number of cottages on the site will start as soon as the water line is completed.

Regarding the water supply, it is stated that an abundance has been obtained from some shallow wells located on the Enggenberg farm, nearly ten miles from the location of the plant, and it is the belief that there will be water to spare.

Messrs. Waggoner and Cross are promoters in Electra and rank as local leading financiers. Mr. Waggoner owns the extensive ranch which runs the town on the south and has large royalties. Mr. Cross owns a number of fine farms on Red River and is quite a bit of a production in the town, and is the belief that the combined production of Messrs. Cross and Waggoner will be sufficient to supply the plant with all the oil they can handle.

His happy-go-lucky personality wins the sympathy of his audiences and he has some new comedy stunts. The supporting cast, including the "Glad-tukh-kow" boy, "Little Miss Personality," is strong and a clever, attractive chorus completes an unusually well chosen cast.

The Cinderella Girls will open the week with a comedy feature, "The Stubbhorn Cinderella" Monday night.

BIG GRIFFITH FEATURE AT EMPRESS THIS WEEK

Practically the same cast of players used in the Griffith super production, "The Birth of a Nation," has been chosen in a new big feature based on the present war, "The Great Love."

Shown at the Empress on Monday and Tuesday.

The story, while based on the present war, contains none of the lurid elements which characterize most modern war pictures. The thread of the whole plot is a simple love story, which ends all right, and leaves everybody happy. It deals with a young American who enlists in the British army in a rage against the Germans for the Belgian atrocities. While training near London he falls in love

"MARINE OIL COMPANY"

Messrs. Cline, Wood, Clark and Staley express their appreciation of the interest manifested by the public in the matter of investing their money in the $200,000.00 oil development proposition at Burk Burnett.

These gentlemen have purchased 60 acres due east of Burk Burnett as well as 60 acres just across the river in Oklahoma. The 60-acre tract seems very valuable, the more so when compared with the prices prevailing on all acreage adjoining. The 60 acres across the river has a good prospective value. These two tracts cost, respectively, $15,000.00 and $24,000.00 which was paid from the $240,000.00 surplus fund which was provided by the organizers from the sale of interest in the enterprise.

All interest which has been sold is represented by receipts given to the purchasers and all purchasers own an undivided interest in the property. It is the purpose of these gentlemen later on, if this acreage proves productive, to incorporate the company under the Texas laws and certificates will be issued to all owning an interest.

In the meantime the good of all will be looked after by these men to the best of their ability, and should the land or any considerable portion of it prove to be oil land, the company will have a valuable asset. However, it is well to bear in mind that, if entirely dry, your money is lost. Unless changed for some good reason we will designate this company when organized, the "Marine Oil Company."

EMPRESS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY "WOMAN AND THE LAW" Written and Staged by R. A. WALSH Producer of "The Honor System" and "Carmen" This photoplay is based upon the internationally sensational DeSautles domestic tragedy that shocked not only the United States, but South America as well. Newspapers gave more space to the accounts of this affair than any other happening since the opening of the war. The story is a great moral lesson; the finest picturization of mother-love ever made; the greatest woman's picture ever staged. Who should possess the child—the mother who bore him in body and soul-torn agony—risked her very life that he might come into the world. Or the father who neglected them both for the lure of Broadway? Adults 25c—Children 12 and Over 15c—Under 12, 10c

MAJESTIC SPECIAL LABOR DAY PROGRAM MONDAY "THE HOUSE OF MIRTH" From Edith Wharton's famous novel with an all-star cast INCLUDING Kathrine Harris Barrymore, Christine Mayo—Henry Kolker, Lottie Briscoe—Sidney Brack, Joseph Kilgour—Edward Abeles. Edith Wharton's novel has been read by hundreds of thousands on three continents. The story is one of gripping intensity with a plot reaching to the very heart of decadent society, laying bare the conditions which govern the upbringing and marriage of girls for wealth and social position. It shows that in this respect modern society is little in advance of the Turks and other Orientals, who sell their beautiful daughters to the highest bidder. One of the unusual features of the play is the aggregation of so many noted players in one production which in itself is enough to insure perfect artistry. Then too, the story is one of the most thrilling ever written, dealing with every form of human emotions. —ALSO—

TUESDAY MADGE KENNEDY IN "THE SERVICE STAR" (The Flag of All Mothers) By Charles A. Logue "It's a Goldwyn Picture" This picture is a drama of the American home and of mothers' daughters' and lovers' hearts. Not one scene of it is laid in Europe. Not one scene reveals a battle, or preparation for battle. There are no spies, no struggles, no tense unhappy moments to bring grief or pain to the womanhood of the nation. But there is a WONDERFUL STORY and all the way through it you see A WONDERFUL GIRL, who, through the power that God puts into the souls of women, sends away A WONDERFUL BOY to make this A WONDERFUL WORLD TO LIVE IN. 15c 10c 5c

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY The Seven-Reel Masterpiece That Gives The World a New Thrill. "TO HELL WITH THE KAISER" The hideousness of Prussianism laid bare. When fate deals with the Beast of Berlin, Decency's Challenge to Hohenzollerns. A majestic marshaling of patriotism and daring on the side of right. History, Romance and Hope. Peace gained by victory. An astounding prophecy. The picture opens with details of the Prussian war lords plans to conquer the world, and shows their attempt but the final defeat of the plans. The Devil offers the Kaiser the entire world in exchange for his soul, this temptation is entirely too much for the Kaiser; he falls and the deal is closed. He undertakes to take possession of his Devil's title property but in the end the Devil's promises are shown to be as futile as they are on all occasions and the picture ends with scenes of the Kaiser and the Devil in Hell where all Devils belong. 25c 15c 10c

D. W. GRIFFITH PRESENTS "The Great Love" —CAST INCLUDES— Lillian Gish, Robert Harron, Henry Walthall, George Fawcett, George Siegmann, Maxfeld Stanley, Rose Mary Theby, Gloria Hope You saw them all in "The Birth of the Nation" LIKE "THE BIRTH OF A NATION" and HEARTS OF THE WORLD, "THE GREAT LOVE" is the result of long and untiring effort on D. W. Griffith's part. He first spent eighteen months on the battlefields of France to photograph the stupendous scenes of the Great Conflict. Then he came back to his California studio and wove these undying scenes into the greatest story of woman's part in the fight-story that proves that, though women are not using cannon and machine guns and bayonets, they're fighting just the same. By all the rules and precedents of the motion picture art a picture made by D. W. Griffith should be presented as "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World" were presented in the legitimate theatres at high prices. But Mr. Griffith has waived his right to a special presentation of this picture, so that all may see what England's women have sacrificed and that the women of America may be even more inspired by the example of their sisters of Britain. The latest picture made by the master producer, D. W. Griffith, deals with events of the great war. It is a story close to the hearts of us all and has been pictured in the usual effective manner of the Griffith features. Enacted by a cast of unusual excellence, aided by members of England's Royal family, "The Great Love" is a picture that will make us better Americans and adversaries of the unspeakable Hun. HERE ONLY TWO DAYS This picture ran in Dallas for a solid week at prices ranging from 25c to 50c, we are going to charge only the small sum of 10c, 15c, and 25c. Adults 25c, Children 12 and over, 15c; Under 12, 10c EMPRESS THEATRE MONDAY and TUESDAY

BOY-ED CHARGES A SECRET TREATY U. S. AND ENGLAND

By Associated Press.
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN France, Aug. 31.—It was a secret treaty between Great Britain and the United States that caused America's entry into the war, according to Captain Karl Boy-Ed, former German spy at a trial at Washington, whose book on the subject has been published in Berlin, according to a prisoner taken north of Soissons.
The prisoner told his captors that Captain Boy-Ed's book told the story of his "investments" in the United States and that it explained clearly that had it not been for a secret advance America certainly would never have entered the war. The prisoner expressed belief in the story adding that it was as accurate as true by his countrymen generally.

Market Report

Grain Market

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The grain market opened quiet today without notable price changes. Traders mostly adjusted their accounts, to be on the safe side over the two day holiday. Sunday and Monday. Labor day. Corn opened 1/2 cent lower to 3/4 higher, oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, and the first sales of provisions were unchanged to 1/2 cent lower. October corn opened at $1.56 1/2 to $1.56 3/4, and October oats at $1.72 to $1.72 1/2. The first hour's fluctuations were within very narrow limits.
The close was only 1/4 cent under yesterday with October at $1.55 1/2. Pork closed 25¢@27 1/2 lower, and lard and ribs 2 1/2% down.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—From its firm but listless opening today's stock market gradually moved with a moderate increase of operations to higher levels under the impetus of a further inquiry for seasoned rails. Leaders of that division made gains which extended from large fractions to more than a point, low priced issues, especially Southern Railway also displaying greater activity. U. S. Steel captured the industrial, approximating its best quotations of the year. Other equipments were appreciably higher, also the less prominent specialties, including sugars. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 17,000 shares.
The weak end session on the stock exchange opened with a firm undertone but dealings were insignificant, reflecting the reduced attendance of members. Steel shippings, Southern Railway and some of the coal carrying rails were fractionally higher. Canadian Pacific was the only investment issue to register a decline. Liberty Bonds hardened a trifle and foreign bonds retained most of their strength.
Final bids on Liberty bonds were: 3 1/2's 101 1/2; first convertible 4's

PLANS COMPLETE FOR CELEBRATING LABOR DAY HERE

PARADE WILL START FROM THE COURTHOUSE PROMPTLY AT TEN O'CLOCK.

PATRIOTISM TO FEATURE

Red Cross Float Will Be an Attractive Part of the Possession as Planned.

All arrangements have been made for the Patriotic Labor Day Parade to be held Monday morning, according to announcement made Saturday afternoon by Harry Awker, chairman of the committee and Grand Marshal, who stated that he expected a large attendance of the members of organized labor, as well as a splendid showing of decorated cars and floats.

The parade is expected to start promptly at 10 o'clock from the courthouse and will traverse the principal business streets of the city. Mayor Marlow and Chief of Police Fred Smith will lead, followed by the Wichita band. Next will come the Red Cross float, appropriately decorated, this to be followed by members of organized labor. Following the labor unions will be decorated floats and automobiles representing business organizations and fraternal societies.

The Red Cross float promises to be the feature of the parade and will depict a wounded soldier being attended by two nurses, with a soldier and sailor standing guard on either side. The float will be attractively decorated with appropriate banners, and will be carried at intervals throughout the line of march. A banner carrying the words "Win the War for Freedom" will be displayed, as will be a service flag showing the number from the ranks of organized labor in Wichita Falls who have gone to the front.

Those marching in the parade will be provided with United States flags and two large flags will be unfurled at one of the principal street corners, between which the possession will pass with heads uncovered. A sentiment of patriotism will prevail throughout the celebration, as has been suggested by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor.

The committee has asked that the announcement be made that all cars will be expected to park either on Lamar or Scott in order to keep the main street clear for forming the parade, and those who have decorated vehicles and expect to take part can fall in line as directed by the Grand Marshal, either at Lamar and Seventh or Scott and Seventh. Further announcement is made that the committee may be reached at the Labor Temple today and the marshals from the various organizations are requested to secure flags for their membership.

For the accommodation of those who parade to see the parade, an abundance of free ice water will be provided and will be located conveniently on the main business street corners.

The committee reports an unusual degree of interest in the celebration and it is expected that the parade will be one of the longest ever held in the city.

Confusion Incident To Filing Papers In County Clerk's Office

In connection with the requirements incident to the filing of legal papers, especially as applied to revenue stamps, the following statement is issued from the county clerk's office:

"The county clerk's office is having trouble in getting the proper revenue stamps placed on instruments filed. It is not the duty of the clerk to put the stamps on but of the party filing them and they are subject to prosecution for not putting on stamps before instrument is filed. A difficulty has arisen as to whether transfers and straight sales of leases are subject to revenue tax, some lawyers contending that they are. The clerk's office has been accepting such instruments without stamps and will still do so until advised by the revenue collector at Austin, or some one in authority, to do otherwise.

"If transfers and sales of leases are taxable it will bring a large amount of revenue to the government in this county. If such instruments are taxable they will be up to the parties having same recorded to settle with the government, and the clerk's office is not responsible if parties bringing deeds for record would place the stamps on them as far as able before bringing to the office it would be quite a help to the force in the clerk's department. Instruments come from every part of the United States by mail without the proper revenue stamps and it requires a good deal of time and postage to notify these parties to send stamps."

FIRE DAMAGES THE HOME OF DR. SMITH

Fire of an unknown origin, Friday afternoon caused damage estimated around $600 in the home of Dr. R. C. Smith, 1410 Bluff. The house was empty at the time the fire started, about three o'clock, no member of the family having been at home since one o'clock.

The flames are believed to have originated in a bed room. Quick work by the fire department prevented the spread of the fire throughout the house. Much of the furniture was uninjured. The damage is practically covered by insurance.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. GENTRY.

Mrs. Minnie Gentry, wife of A. L. Gentry, who was a member of the Cashion Baptist Sunday school and church, after a brief illness, passed away Aug. 9, 1918. She was 45 years old and had been a member of the Baptist church for 19 years. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Ross, her pastor, assisted by Rev. Duncan, after which all that remained on earth of this dear wife and mother was laid to rest in the Riverside cemetery, Wichita Falls, Texas.

It is said by all who knew Sister Gentry, that her sweet face made sunshine in a shady place. How doubly deep would be the grief did not such bright lives inspire the belief that there is a better world beyond.

Farewell, dear wife and mother. We have said our last adieu. Your loving hands are folded over thy heart so good and true. But we cannot wake this loved one in her grave within the tomb. The angels up in heaven missed her. So they came and took her home. While we mourn what she has lost, let us submit to the will of God, and say, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

CALL FIELD CAMOUFLAGE

GOOD PROGRAM FOR "FITE NIGHT" AT CALL FIELD

WILL BE A DOUBLE ATTRACTION AT THE OPEN AIR THEATRE OF Y. M. C. A.

GOOD BOXING TALENT

Splendid Music Hawaiian String Band, A Quartet and Cadet Beckwith.

Tuesday night, regular "Fite Nite" at Call Field there will be a double attraction to draw the public to the open air theatre of the Y. M. C. A. as the best boxing talent of the field will stage five bouts of four rounds each, while the quartet of the 192nd squadron and the Hawaiian String Orchestra will play. As an extra special feature Cadet Beckwith will give baritone solo selections, playing his own accompaniment on the guitar.

Cadet Utley, who won a bout at Dallas recently in the 150 pound class, will be one of the features of the Tuesday night event. His opponent has not yet been selected. Tuesday week a man will come from Camp Dick to box Cadet Utley. This will be one of his opponents in Dallas, who fought him without a decision. The fight will be held at 10 o'clock, and as the local boxer keeps in perfect condition all the time the fight is expected to be well worth watching.

The initial "fite nite" staged last Wednesday on the outdoor squared circle was very successful, though a larger crowd of people from the city was present. The boxing was staged by Lieutenant Bagnall, the athletic officer stated. The military band was out and entertained in between bouts and there were about a score of cars from town. The soldiers made up the greater part of the audience.

All the bouts, with the exception of the 125 pound weight, were decided by the referee, Lieutenant Donegan, went to Hart, whose opponent was Robertson. Other bouts were staged by Glickman and Boland, 140 pounds, and Larsen and Barker, 135 pounds. All of the contestants were from the 192nd squadron.

Boxing at Call Field is just in its infancy, Lieutenant Donegan stated, and while many of the men who were college boxers of high ability, have neglected their training for some time, still they are expected to come back with a vim after a little practice, and some of the really good exhibitions are anticipated. The public is invited to attend these weekly exhibitions and are promised an unusually diverting entertainment and an exhibition of good, clean sport. These programs are free and for the evenings which they are offered the public has the privilege of driving to the open air theatre in their cars, remaining in them during the program.

MAJOR ALFONTE PLAYING SECOND BASE OFFICERS TEAM

Officers of Call Field have taken up baseball with vigor, and Major Alfonse without some new star being discovered. The commanding officer himself has decided that baseball gives him just the needed amount of recreation, and is now playing second base on the officers' team.

TAIL SPINS.

Major Atkinson frolicked up to Captain Neville, waved his spotted handkerchief under his nose and cried, "You're it, captain dear." Whereupon the Captain toyed with his mustache for the briefest tota of time, crushed the kerchief to his breast and walked around the circle of bright-eyed, rosy cheeked kadets attempting to tag the Major. The Major however built close to the ground and escaped the playful Captain.

And so began the new play hour at Call Field. Thrilling games of old that delighted our grandmothers and grandfathers like run sheepy-run, ring-around-the-rosie, drop-the-handkerchief, are on the program each afternoon. Many virile athletes are expected to be developed under this strenuous training program. It's so sweet!

Speaking of airplane ambulances, Cadet Walker says he's nuts about flying, but that's what he has no desire to ride in. The cutest little bundle of trampador that ever wiggled a spotted tail, now bunks in Barracks B and answers to the name of "Tailsapina." Mysterious as it's ancestry is, "Tailsapina" is free from all suspicious as he evinces no dachshund tendencies. It was even unknown what bunk it preferred until Charley Shoeshine stepped on it's tail accidentally Thursday evening. The freedom of the post (excepting the engineer lab) has been given to "Tailsapina."

Thirty Minute Play Time For Call Field Each Day

Call Field is having a thirty-minute play period daily now, since the athletic director, appointed by the war department, has arrived. Lieutenant Keene, for a number of years athletic director of Syracuse University, one of the oldest and most noted athletic colleges, has been sent to Call Field, and Tuesday of this week took up his work of teaching soldiers, cadets and officers to play. A systematic recreation course has been mapped out by authorities on recreation and athletics, trainers of international reputation, such as Walter Camp and Lieutenant Keen himself being put on this committee, and this course is now being given all at Call Field. The play period begins at 4:30 each afternoon. The war games that are played at the National Army cantonments are being played at Call Field. Games such as "Swat the Kaiser," "Cavalry Charge" and many others too numerous to mention, are enjoyed very much by all participating. Lieutenant Donegan, the athletic officer of the local field, has arranged weekly boxing contests to be given in the new ring at the Y. M. C. A. open air theater. Baseball games are being held every evening and every man in Call Field is keenly interested in the new sports. Camp life naturally becomes monotonous and when pay day is yet some distance away the men find these war games and the old reliable amusements of boxing and baseball, very good ways to spend their afternoons and evenings. Those same games that are pleasing the local air service troops are in evidence at all times behind the lines in France. They are the great excitement since the old days of hide-and-seek. Some contests are in the process of manufacture regarding the new games, and inter-squadron athletics will be augmented to the extent of war games.

THE RISING OF 1917.

(Apologies to the original "The Rising of 1776"—History repeats itself, why not poetry?)

By MRS. BENTLEY BACON.

Across the seas the wild news came: There was danger to the world of a German reign. There were wrongs done nations—'twas humanity's cry: Who'd own a country that failed to reply? America heard and answered the prayer Of suffering humans "Over There!" The word was flashed from shore to shore. Again America, with a mighty roar, Sent forth the oath of Freedom's gun. But this time 'twas from Washington, The fighting hosts of the U. S. A. Were called from their posts of work and play. To make our army the greatest in history, when the world was in a hurry. That swelled the discord of the hour, Within the shades of elm and oak, In the midst of the city's din and noise, Groups of idle rich and country folk Discussed with pride the strength of our boys. Whose names would form a sword of might, As, side by side, with purpose of steel, On land or sea, even in air they'd fight. Till the world was safe from Germany's heel.

How sweet the days with peace and sunshine full, When all the happy people walk, Decked in fashion's best or homespun. With thought of war to mar their talk. But now the youths are khaki clad, And very maid with simple art, Both knit and sew with hearts that are glad. To give their all if strength it imparts. Our land, one united force, To drive the kaiser beyond his last resource. The President came before his cabinet, His brow was hallowed with thought and care. Calmly but firmly the issue was met, In them a nation had placed its trust. Their duty was hard but he done it must. In the cry of old they saw the light, "The Lord of hosts shall arm the right."

"Think of the wrong too long endured, Of sacred rights to be secured." From our President's patriotic tongue came in stirring words of freedom came: In stirring words he spoke Of the chance for us to make God's world free, safe and clean. But it must be done by every hand Helping to bear the battle brand, And in face of death daring to fling Defiance to a tyrant king. Our army is growing day by day it is reviewed, And each soldier lad with one idea imbued: To stand for the right and never retreat. Till the flags of the Allies o'er Berlin shall meet. Our women are doing their part as well. All vanities and pleasures flung aside, For time is too precious to divide. So it is all for "OLD GLORY," she's ready to call you and me. As she watches our boys walk over the sea. Let there be no moment's pause Or questioning the justness of the cause. When we win we will cease, And glory in everlasting peace. God's message of old comes again to guide us. "His holiest places now are ours; His temples are our forts and towers That crown upon the tyrant foe; In this the dawn of freedom's day, There is a time to fight and pray."

"Who dares," this is our President's cry; And it is echoed all over the land—"Come out with me, in Freedom's name." For her to live—for her to die? A nation's hands flung up reply—A nation's voices answer, "I."

The uniform satisfaction expressed by customers of the National Bank of Commerce is the best possible proof of the success of its service.

FLAG AT FIELD AT HALF MAST OUT OF RESPECT

The flag in front of headquarters flew at half mast Saturday out of respect to Lieutenant A. P. Price, who died last Saturday in an airplane accident. The usual military formalities were observed as the body of the hero was taken to the post for the home-ward journey. The body of Lieutenant McGiffen was accompanied to Fresno, California, by his widow and Major Chester Portland, the officer in command of the post for the home-ward journey. The body of Lieutenant Knight, with the body of Cadet Babcock, took the Saturday afternoon train for Washington, D. C., where the bodies of the two cadets will be buried. Both men were unusually popular at the field and their death was keenly felt on account of the incident. The week-end trip of the officers' baseball team and the Call Field band to Denison was postponed.

Lieutenant Learns Of Recent Death of Friend In Service

Lieutenant A. A. Price, gunnery instructor at Call Field, has received newspaper clippings telling of the death of his friend Lieutenant Fred A. Norton, who was killed in action in an air battle, July 27, following an air battle. Lieutenant Norton was formerly a star in athletics at Ohio University, and one of the post noted college baseball stars. Young Norton's parents live in Columbus, Ohio. The clipping contains a letter which he received from Major H. A. Hartung, in command of the squadron of which Lieutenant Norton was second in command when he met his death.

The letter tells of the last flight of the Ohio aviator, when four machines of the American forces met twenty German planes in the air, during a storm. Norton was shot in the chest and forced to land. He was taken to an American hospital where he died a few days later. A portion of the letter follows: "Fred was a born leader. He seemed to possess a wonderful ability for handling men. Those in his flight squadron simply followed him. He had been recommended for a squadron command because of his gallantry on the field on many occasions and would have undoubtedly have commanded a squadron within a month had he lived. "Do not grieve over his loss, Mr. Norton," rather he proud that he fought and died bravely. For this squadron he is not dead; he is ever present in spirit—an example for us all of true American manhood, fighting for freedom, to make the world free for democracy."

OPEN METEOROLOGICAL AND WEATHER BUREAU

With Captain Putnam, signal officer of the field, in charge, a meteorological and weather bureau has been opened at Call Field. Three enlisted men who have completed the prescribed course of training at A & M have been assigned for this work, arriving this week. They are Cosche Thompson, Samuel N. Gaines and Harold P. Parker. The letter tells of the last flight of the Ohio aviator, when four machines of the American forces met twenty German planes in the air, during a storm. Norton was shot in the chest and forced to land. He was taken to an American hospital where he died a few days later. A portion of the letter follows: "Fred was a born leader. He seemed to possess a wonderful ability for handling men. Those in his flight squadron simply followed him. CAPT. TYMMS OF ROYAL AIR FORCE VISITS THE CITY

BRINGS MESSAGE TO OFFICERS AND CADETS LOCATED AT CALL FIELD.

WEARS MILITARY CROSS

Has Other Decorations Because Of Valor Displayed in Battle of the Somme.

"Don't get tired of the tedious and sometimes irritating staff work you have to study over here and don't stir over any of it for the time may come when this very staff will mean that you make a mistake, when you're over there, and a mistake that means a life, yours perhaps, or your pilot's, or maybe annihilation of a whole battery of your men; you can't afford to be careless now, and now is the time to correct mistakes, while you are in training and not after you get on the front."

This was the message brought to the cadets and officers at Call Field by Captain F. Tymms, war hero of the Military Cross, and a member of the Royal Air Force, who has seen service on the front for two years and wears his Military Cross because of valor displayed in the battle of the Somme. He also has two other decorations, the Chevalier of the Order of the Cross, bestowed by King Albert of Belgium and the Belgian Croix de Guerre. These two latter decorations were received for service on the Aisne battle-front.

Lectures at Call Field. Captain Tymms, since early spring has been in the United States lecturing to air observers, and has been in Texas for the past week. He gave two lectures at Call Field, one Friday, the second Saturday. These lectures were particularly interesting, dealing with the intricacies of observation and gunnery work over the enemy lines, and were illustrated with slides made from photographs taken by the crew of the photographs were taken over points where the Allies have just driven the Hunns back and were for this reason particularly interesting. Various sections of the Hindenburg line were shown and some of the sectors which are being strongly contested at present were pointed out. Captain Tymms, various examples of camouflaging of batteries were pointed out on the photographs.

Former Call Field Officers In France To Fight The Hun

Four former Call Field officers, Lieutenants Harris, Mason, Donahue and Art Klein, racing star, have arrived in France and are preparing to make the Hunns know they are back. According to a letter received this week by Captain Neville, chief engineer officer at Call Field, from Lieutenant Klein. These four officers left here at the same time and were on their way to France as quickly as possible. When the letter was written they had had no active service but they had an opportunity in a short time to see the Hunns.

Lieutenant Klein wrote he had seen several other officers he had known at Call Field in France but mentioned that he was not with them. He mentioned that he had three companions on the trip he passed out to all his friends at Call Field and hoped to see every one of them very shortly, to help wind up the scrap.

Little News Items From "The Stars and Stripes"

The star on a bullseye background, of red, white, and blue, originally adopted as the official marking for American airplanes, has been abandoned. A simple bullseye with a red outer circle, a blue inner circle and a white center now is the official marking. The star, it was found, might be mistaken for a cross, the German marking at a high altitude or when seen at an angle by another airplane. The adoption of the new marking takes the American insignia uniform with that of our allies. All Allied aircraft bear circular markings containing their national colors, and when an A. E. F. soldier sees an airplane with a circular marking he will be safe in assuming that it is a friendly craft unless the circle is solid black.

The Belgian and Italian marks are made up of the national colors of two nations. The Italian is of a red, white and green, and the Belgian of black, white and yellow. You remember that old uniform of yours that you turned in when you were sent to the front, the old one, and you know how the old one was front and grass stains on the rear, with the sleeves ripped when you tried to wrestle with your bunk mate and the pants torn when you were in too much of a hurry to get through the wire? A sight wasn't it? And you thought that when they had you out at the front that you'd never see the old one again? But you may think, "No, it won't be issued back to you, but it will be your gang. When you see it again, it will be fairly well patched up, dyed green, and worn by a rather heavy fellow, who will be trucking along by road or working by the side of it with some other fellows all ragged up the same old line."

The design, which will become most familiar to the Americans will be the familiar arrangement of red, white and blue, the national colors of the land, France and the United States. The French markings are from the outside in, red, white and blue, and the British the red, blue and white.

TEXAS BOY HAD A MESSAGE HIS OWN FOR KING GEORGE

One of the favorite stories among the soldiers overseas concerns a Texas boy, a cadet at Call Field, who has brought home the noted Eagle Y. M. C. A. but in London a few weeks ago. The actual event is related in a letter from McCune of Roswell, N. M., to the Y. M. C. A. headquarters at San Antonio, and recently camp general secretary at El Paso, Texas.

The King and Queen of England were visiting the Eagle but where a large number of soldiers were enjoying the usual "Y" advantages. There was more or less formally about the event until a new arrival Texas-donkey came in. "This little guy with the lady," he asked. "You don't say so?" "I know what was happening in the Texas had wormed his way through the crowd and was gripping the hand of the King of England, and saying in the well known Texas drawl: "King, George, is my name. I want to shake hands with you and tell you that since we got over here, we think you are all right. The King seemed to enjoy the incident very much.

STUDENT OFFICERS ARE ARRIVING AT CALL FIELD

The first of the student officers assigned to Call Field for training in the advanced school for pilots, arrived Saturday and the entire first contingent of men is expected to arrive by the end of the week. Preliminary arrangements for beginning the course in puff target and observation training have been completed and the cadets will probably begin their training this week, as soon as the first class has arrived. In the meantime the cadets who have not yet finished their preliminary training will continue with the regular preliminary flight instruction and will be commissioned as fast as they graduate.

AT THE "Y"

It has been one round of fun at the "Y" since the first week of the new year. The regular program failed to put in its appearance but Y men are accustomed to make the best of most any situation. One of the officers presided at the piano and a real song fest was had. Then the men asked questions with all due say from "When do we leave here?" to "Can we love the Germans?" This part of the meeting was conducted by Mr. Robertson. Some of the questions remained unanswered but the one good purpose of the meeting was to afford the men an opportunity to express themselves. They did. Wednesday night was "Fite Nite." It was a great success and plenty of excitement. These meetings will grow in interest and under the leadership of Lieutenant Donegan much clean sport will be had. Friday night the Christian church entertained the men and one round of fun all told had a good program was rendered and the climax came by ending in a "song fest" with R. E. Shepherd leading. This was followed by a night when Call Field men always enjoy. The program for next week is as follows: Monday, Thursday and Saturday night are movie nights. Tuesday night is a "song fest" with Mr. Draper as speaker. Wednesday night, Fite Nite and Friday night the Call Field band will give a concert. At the close of the concert there will be a surprise and something different from any thing yet pulled off in Y work. A checker and chess tournament starts next week and already men are showing great interest in it. If you want in on this sign up by next Tuesday.

You will hardly know the old uniform. The blouse will have a large stenciled "P. W." in the middle of the back. The pants will have a large stenciled "P. W." on the left leg, and a stenciled "P. W." stands for "Prisoner of War."

FRENCH FLYER EMPLOYS MOST UNIQUE TACTICS

By Associated Press. PARIS, Aug. 22.—With forty-one of the most unique tactics and for almost two years, a French flyer, named Maddon, has been bringing down his prey. Maddon has formed the habit of taking occasional holidays far over the German lines. His particular hobby is to settle down on some enemy airfield, to play around it for a time until he has aroused his foe's suspicions. He starts after him thinking that he has been brought down by some trouble and just at the moment when they are ready to pounce upon him he showers them with a load of incendiary bullets from his machine guns. This method has succeeded again and again.

Sergeant J. I. Buchanan recruiting officer for Wichita Falls, has received newspaper clippings from friends, telling of the home that Evansville, Indiana, has built for Mrs. Alice Deane, the wife of the late Corporal James Gresham, one of the first three Americans to give up their lives in the present great war. This cottage was built by the residents of the town of Evansville with the labor unions furnishing the work and the home was dedicated by the mayor, Mrs. Alice Deane. It is to be hers as long as she lives and then will become a memorial to hold the war relics gathered by the towns heroes of the present war. The cottage is built near Garvin Park. MAJOR ALFONTE STILL WAITING FOR GOOD ROAD

"We are still waiting for the road improvements which we were to begin on August 1," said Major Alfonse, commanding officer of Call Field Saturday. "Not only is there no improvement in the roads, but they have grown worse, as was to be expected by the long continued dry weather. The existing conditions make travel to and from the camp difficult, but as long as we have expectations of getting the road fixed we manage to wade along with the bumps." August 1 was the date set for starting work on the road improvements. It is now a month past that time but there hasn't been any work done and the camp is interested in those who are in charge of the road work as to the reason of the postponement or the new date set for commencing work. CALL FIELD TO HAVE LABOR DAY BASEBALL GAME

PEOPLE OF CITY ASKED TO CELEBRATE OCCASION BY ATTENDING.

DANCE IN EVENING

Officers of the Field Will Entertain the Entire City in New Hangar.

Wichita Falls is asked to celebrate Labor Day with Call Field by attending the baseball game which commences at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the camp diamond, to which the public will be admitted. The ancient rivals, the baseball teams of the 16th and the 192nd squadrons will be the contestants who will provide the entertainment, and the Call Field Military Band will give a concert before the game and after the game, the sports committee of the field announced. Captain Neville will act as umpire of the game.

In the evening the officers of the field are entertaining the enlisted men with a dance in Hangar No. 1, recently completed and again the invitation is made general to the friends of the camp. The band will furnish the music. These dances in the hangars are to be made regular monthly affairs at the camp as a means of increasing more "camp" in the life of the camp as one of the officers expressed it. A collection will be taken at the hangar games for the purpose of purchasing equipment for the camp gymnasium. A record attendance and a correspondingly good collection is hoped for. Admission to the game is free. The collection will be in the nature of a free will offering for the gymnasium equipment.

What A Dollar Will Do

A dollar will pay for just so much and the same is true of all the dollars of a thirty thousand dollar company, such as the 20 to One Oil Company.

Center of town, showing congestion of automobiles in the wild scramble, trading in oil property at Burk Burnett

If all of the capital of the 20 to One Oil Company is invested in one lease and the drilling of one well on one lot and that well should be dry or only a small producer, that thirty thousand dollars would not prove very profitable. But with our interest in 20 separate and scattered wells, certainly big returns must result.

The Burk Burnett Oil Field is the newest and by far the richest ever opened in this country.

Every condition is favorable. The rich gusher sands are found at 1689 feet producing thousands of barrels per day. There is plenty of water for drilling purposes, one very important feature not found in most fields. Fuel oil is plentiful for drilling operations. Pipelines and refineries are at hand. Labor is plentiful and with the other large wells adjacent and the thousands of shallow wells all over the country, this may be regarded as the greatest poor man's storehouse of natural wealth on earth.

There is always a certain risk in drilling oil wells, the man or company able only to drill one well takes a much greater risk than the man or company or combination that is able to drill four wells and thus protect themselves by continuous operations.

Experience has taught me that the oil business must be handled carefully and conservatively just the same as banking or any other business if we are to make sure of success.

The failures are made by the men or company that is unable to keep going, the larger organizations succeed because one dry hole does not use up all their capital.

The shares owned in the 16 other companies alone should return to us large dividends on the total amount of the capital of this company, in addition to our own drilling. This is an investment feature, simply designed to make loss to our shareholders impossible for we feel that it is an absolute impossibility for any of these 20 wells to come in dry being located as they are in already proven and producing territory, close to other big gushers.

20 to One Oil Company shares are just as sure to sell at a big advance within 30 days as the certainty of a great oil pool is now proven at Burk Burnett.

Co-Operation Is Protection.

Scattered holdings reduces risk. With 20 of the best selections for quick returns, the law of average must be greatly in our favor. No promotion shares, except one share to each of the trustees and directors.

Possible Sources of Income.

Dividends on shares from 16 wells being drilled by other companies. Oil from our own jointly owned wells. The re-investing of a portion of our income in further developments and thereby pyramiding profits.

Continuous Operations.

By the joint arrangement with the several operating companies the Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company will be a continuous going operating company, not only drilling on its present holdings but a portion of its profits will be set aside for drilling more wells and acquiring more leases and property. The idea being to build up a large and permanently profitable oil producing and refining organization.

FIRST OFFERING OF SHARES TO PUBLIC:

This Company paid for its leases, paid for its derrick, put up the money to contract the drilling of its first well, has the material on the ground or moving for its second and third wells before it has asked the public to invest a dollar.

There is no promotion stock, except $500 to Trustees. The organizers have financed the Company for legitimate oil development and to drill for Gusher Oil Wells.

We firmly believe that fully 95 per cent of the wells drilled upon the known anticline and geological structure in the Burk Burnett field will prove big producers.

We believe every company operating in that field who drill deep wells will make money for its stockholders.

We claim only that because of our splendid locations and scattered holdings reaching out in three directions from the first production that our success is assured. The fourth location will be made only after further tests show the exact trend of the big production.

If you want shares in a conservative company—small capitalization—operating with ample financial backing and a sure money-making investment to hold or a quick profit producer to turn for two or three to one, we offer you the shares of the Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company at par—$100.00 per share.

 Drilling and Financial Success

20 To ONE OIL CO.

Which Is Best All of One Well or 1-4 of Four Wells ?

We are prepared to say without question that our locations are of the best—our holdings are properly placed to insure production. We are going to follow the trend of developments and take advantage of results of other drilling and with 20 chances to win with many of these wells already drilling, returns may be expected even before we can bring in our own wells.

The 20 to One Oil Company will own 1-4 interest in the three other wells drilling under joint arrangement in addition to the 1-4 interest in the first well drilled by the 20 to One Oil Company and will thereafter of course own the full interest in everything that it may buy or develop for its own account.

The idea being to hedge against loss in the early stages of developments and when success has been attained then proceed on a safe but larger scale.

Success Assured.

The Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company will be drilling just as quick as a rig can be installed.

It is working in harmony and under a close joint arrangement with the Pyramid Oil & Refining Syndicate, an Illinois Corporation with very large holdings and amply financed, with present production and continuous drilling operations under way in Wyoming and Oklahoma.

The Guarantee Trust Company, a Hundred Thousand Dollar Trust Company, incorporated and doing business with headquarters at Kemmener, Wyoming.

The Allied Petroleum Company of Cheyenne, Wyoming, one of the largest of the oil companies in the great Wyoming country. The Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company also has the financial assistance of the Guarantee Trust Company, thus it is plain that with these connections the Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company can carry out its plan successfully.

Safety.

By our system of scattered interests covering the entire field, our shareholders are given a number of extremely valuable properties and holdings with assets large enough to carry on a successful oil development enterprise and bring in many oil wells.

Furthermore, a portion of the profits earned may be used for further development, the acquisition of valuable property and the drilling of other wells, thereby continuing to earn dividends.

A few shares in the Abner Davis 20 to One Oil Company may lay the foundation for a fortune and future independence.

We confidently believe that this company's shares will sell at many times their par value within thirty days.

Geology.

Our expert examination and the geological conclusion back up the belief that our holdings are located upon the very apex of the anticline and that the largest wells to be found may be expected on our property. These things we believe gives us the right to look forward to the early realization of our hopes to become large dividend payers. No further expense whatever on shares owned.

Contract made for immediate drilling.

My success has been through co-operation, scattering of interests and profiting through the Unfailing Law of Average.

One well might not prove the best investment but four wells in four localities following the trend of developments and in the proven territory makes success sure.

The risk to each Company and each well is reduced and the greatest maximum results are brought to us by my plan of co-operation and joint drilling.

The four companies operating under my plan are:

- Allied Petroleum Co., Cheyenne, Wyo.
- Pyramid Oil & Refining Syndicate, Chicago.
- Guarantee Trust Co., Kemmener, Wyo.
- 20 to One Oil Co., Wichita Falls, Tex.

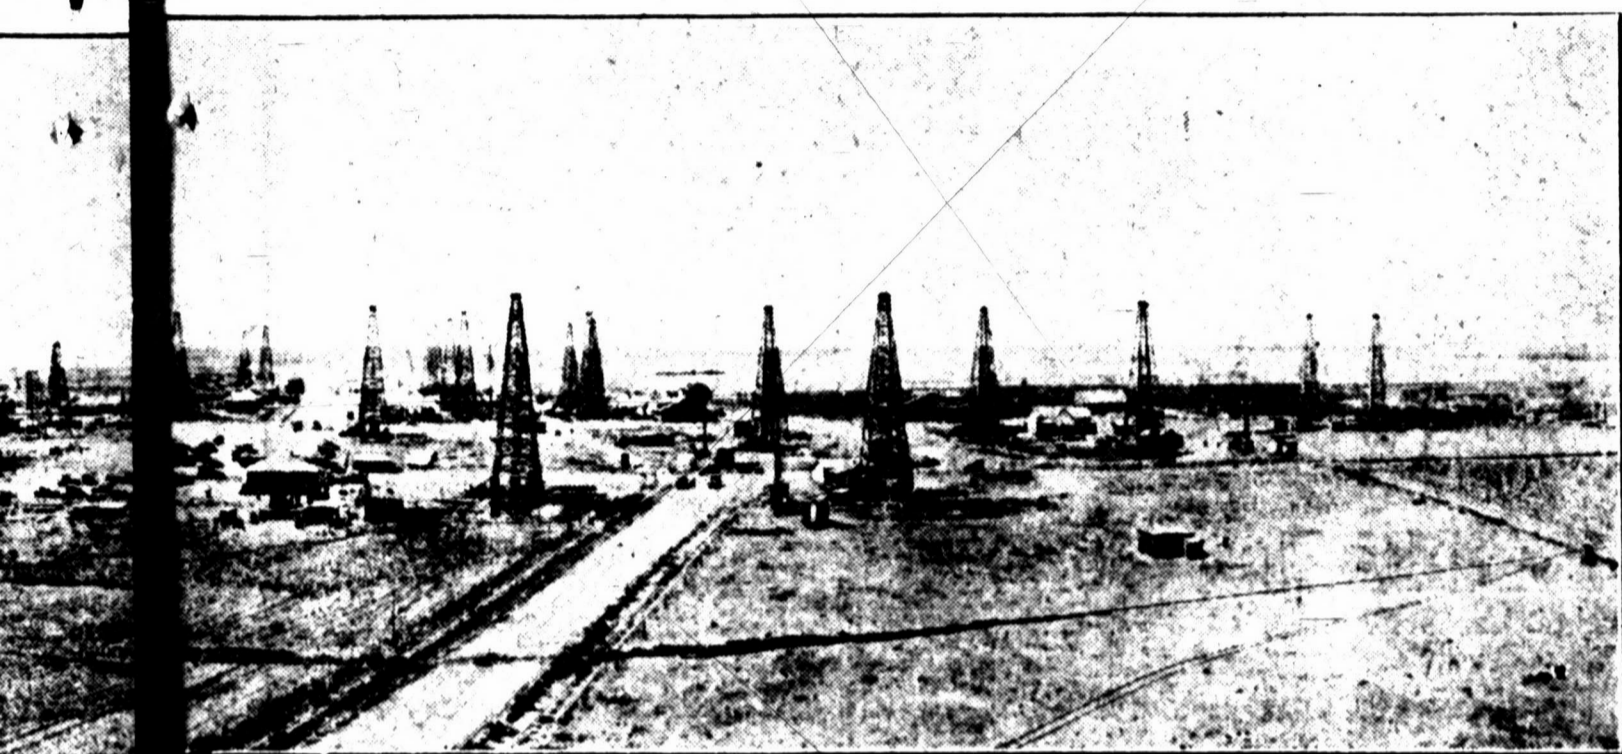

These four companies will drill four wells and each of them will profit from each of the four wells equally.

The plan of the 20 to One Oil Company is to co-operate with my other Companies, scatter interests and share in their own four wells. Then go ahead with its own independent operations in the future—but first make sure of production and income and when safely financed it can expand and grow into a great permanent operating organization.

Re-Investing or Pyramiding Profits.

The plan of the 20 to One Oil Company provides that not more than one-half of its income can be used for further development purposes and that at least 50 per cent must be paid in dividends to shareholders as fast as accumulated.

The properties to be developed by these Companies is located to the very best advantage so as to insure successful wells not only in the Fowler Gusher Sands but the shallow and medium depth sands are also an absolute assurance of profitable production on our holdings.

record breaking activity of only three weeks in Burkburnett, Texas. 5 Gushers with estimated production of 100,000 bbl. Many others down to the sand awaiting storage facilities.

TO THE INVESTOR:

My years of experience in the oil fields of Oklahoma, Wyoming and Texas, the financing of Companies and the drilling of wells is of inestimable value to investors in our present operations.

My early arrival in this field upon the bringing in of the Fowler Discovery Well and my quick work in acquiring choice well-selected drilling locations close in, as well as being able to secure my choice of acreage covering the most desirable location in the entire field has enabled me to make a most extremely attractive offer to those who join with me in developments here. All of the property which I secured has doubled, trebled and quadrupled in value.

The shares in 16 other Companies surrounding and adjacent to the first production which were turned in to the 20 to One Oil Co. at cost are in many cases selling at 2, 3 and 5 to one, several of the Companies will have their wells in almost any minute, greatly enhancing the value of 20 to One Oil Co. shares, and all of this is in addition to our own extensive operations and the drilling of 4 joint deep wells.

When I say that 20 to One Oil Co. shares will advance from 100 to 300 per cent within 30 days I am giving my honest opinion based upon the sure knowledge of what is being done and will be done by the interests operating with and forming THE ABNER DAVIS COMBINATION.

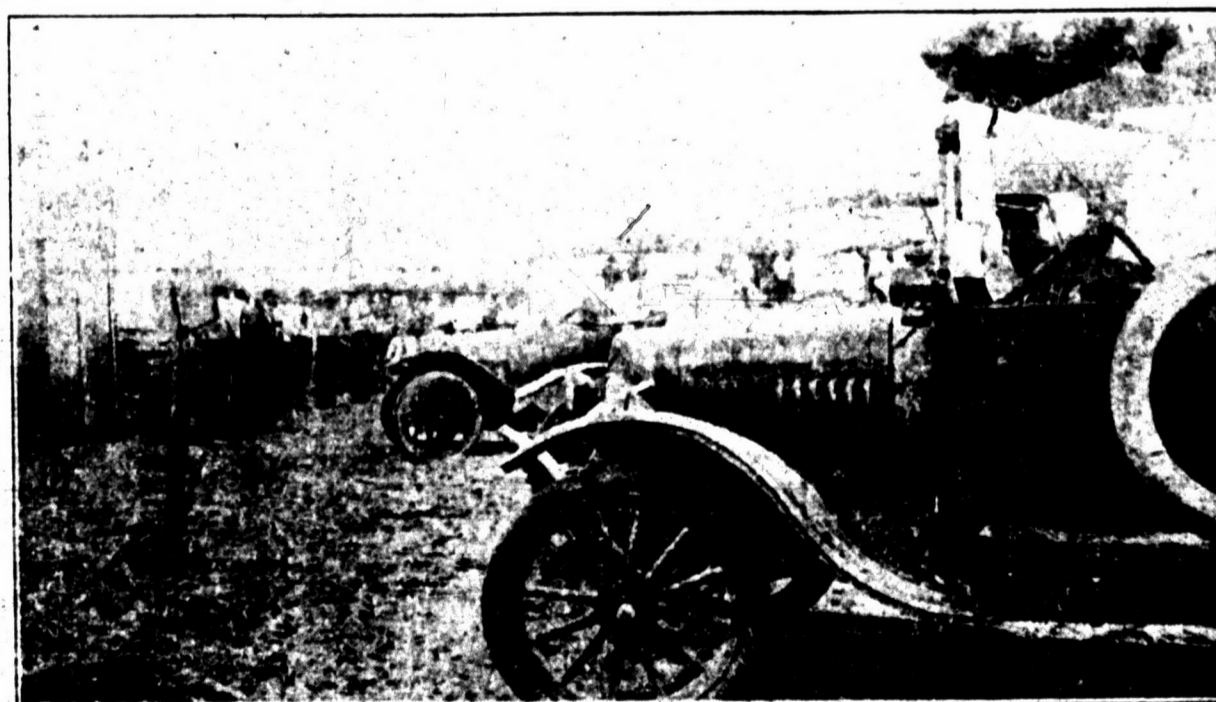

Sincerely,
ABNER DAVIS.

Gates Is Chairman Of Local Committee To Interpret Prices. F. W. Gates has received notice from E. A. Peden, state food administrator of his appointment as chairman of the Wichita Falls price interpreting committee. Mr. Gates announced that a food organization of the community made and that a new price list will be prepared during the week. Mr. Gates has received instructions that five cents a pound is the maximum profit allowed retail dealers for handling butter at cash and carry stores and 6 cents a pound where delivery is rendered. A higher profit than these figures, his instructions state, will be considered as prima facie evidence of an attempt to extort an unreasonable profit.

Society Brand Clothes

A Union of Hearts and Hands

Labor and Capital, soldier and civilian, are united in one cause, with but one object in view—the winning of the war.

"Work—don't waste" is the motto of every patriotic American. And it is well to remember that the false economy of buying cheap clothes is among the most hurtful varieties of waste.

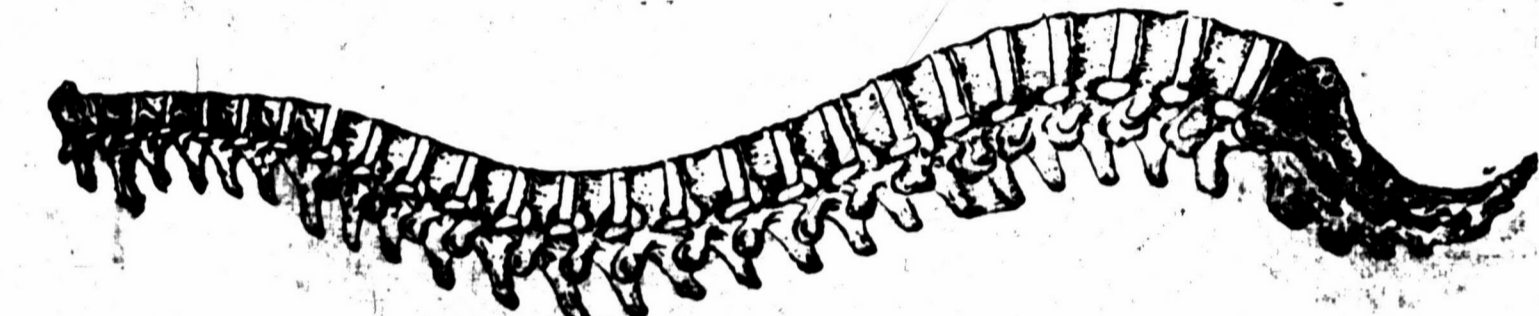

It is wasted labor that goes into the making of clothes from inferior fabric, fabric which soon wears out and causes the clothes to lose their shape. It is a waste, too, of the fabric itself which otherwise might be put to practical uses.

There is no waste or extravagance in buying SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES. They represent the true economy—the getting of a dollar's value for every dollar you spend. They give the most in workmanship, style, fit and fabric.

You will find an attractive line of Society Brand clothes here.

Store Closed All Day Monday.

THE SPINE AS IT SHOULD BE

Nerve Force Is Life Force

AS LONG AS A SUFFICIENT AMOUNT OF LIFE FORCE IS FURNISHED THE ORGANS OF THE BODY THERE WILL BE NO DISEASE.

This force originates in the brain and is distributed to the organs through the nerves. A glance at the accompanying illustration will give you a good idea of the nerve-plan of the body, and the importance of the spinal cord and the nerve system, in the general scheme of life. It will also illustrate the Chiropractor's claim that nearly 95 per cent of the so-called diseases are due to a pinched condition of the nerves. For instance, put a pressure on the nerve that leads to the fingers—you will have a numb, deadened finger, and if the pressure is sharp enough, or is maintained long enough, the finger will cease to have feeling and would become diseased or dead.

REMOVE THE PRESSURE AND THE LIFE FORCE WILL SPRING BACK INTO THE FINGER, AND A NATURAL CONDITION WILL RESULT.

And this is true of every other organ or part of the body. The body is so constituted that practically the only place the nerves can be pinched is just as they leave the spine. As a part of the backbone, for protection to the nerves, little prongs of bone, cushioned with cartilage, extend out from the center of the backbone some what in the shape of the tongues of a pair of pincers. Many different things can cause a pinching of the nerves at this point. So many, in fact, that any organ of the body may be affected and the patient not know what the cause really is. One has stomach trouble. He thinks he has eaten something that did not agree with him. He takes a lot of medicine to clear out the bowels. A very good plan for a sudden, acute attack, but it does not remove the cause. Gradually he gets worse—takes more medicine—temporary relief, but the cause still remains. Finally it becomes chronic, and a constant and ever increasing, ever changing form of dope is required to keep going. And the same is true of every other organ.

THE CHIROPRACTOR LOCATES THE NERVE AS IT LEAVES THE SPINE AND WITH A FEW DEFT MANIPULATIONS ON THE SPINE RELIEVES THE PINCHED CONDITION AND REMOVES THE CAUSE.

It is the most wonderful health agent that has been discovered in a century. Through it there is hope for almost every so-called incurable case. Practically every spine can be put into perfect alignment, causing a 100 per cent of life force to circulate through the body, with the result that nature itself will take care of the "disease."

No Matter What Your Ailment

Do not say it is incurable until you have investigated Chiropractic. It costs you nothing for examination or consultation, and if we do not think we can help you we will freely tell you so. There is so much merit in Chiropractic that we do not need to be other than absolutely honest with you, even if we wanted to. The hundreds of persons we have been able to help right here in Wichita county will bear witness to the good that it does.

It was about that time that M. Lemonnier, the acting Burgomaster was having some of that trouble which was so constantly his in the hard position of being the successor of Max. He filled it gallantly, simply and well, even if there were always many to criticize—those, numerous in all human generations, who feel themselves better qualified to discharge public functions than those invented with them. It was difficult enough of itself, to be the successor of Max, whose popularity grew each day of his absence, and at the same time successfully to resist the incessant demands of the Germans, and to assure the continuance of that independent communal life which was the pride of every Belgian. But the Lemonnier had that unquenchable patience and bravery which bore it for two years and a half, until broken in health, he, too, joined that perilous column of German prisoners. The trouble M. Lemonnier was having just then had no relation to the secret; it concerned the Belgian refugees. The German authorities had imposed a special tax on all Belgian citizens who had left the country, and the college of "echevins" (aldermen) had protested against the measure. The German authorities would not yield, and had ordered the Burgomaster to prepare and deliver to them a list of all the absent, which he had refused to do.

Germany, not only by removing the danger of Belgian revolt, but by relieving Germany of the responsibility imposed by the conventions of The Hague. If the Germans considered the relief work in any wise an aid or comfort to them, they never said so; in fact, everyone seemed to hold to the view that in some way it was a great favor to the Americans to let them do the work that in everyone save the Belgians. The Germans were already beginning to show feeling against the Americans; they resented the killing of munitions by Americans, which they always insisted upon representing as the sale of munitions by America and they did not hesitate to bring up the subject with almost any American they met, although none of the Americans in Belgium then were, so far as I know, manufacturing any munitions. If this feeling against the Americans was not allowed to show itself in the attitude of the diplomats, it was shown by others. The delegates of the C. R. B. if they were not treated as spies, they were often made to feel that they were suspected of being spies, or at least potential spies. The German officers with whom they were often brought into contact seemed not to understand or not to appreciate the work American agents were doing; perhaps because they had an obscure sensation that somewhere in the vast scheme there was involved a certain reflection on them, some vague reproach, though there were no such carefree guarded neutrality, tried to let no such sentiment appear. Mr. Hoover himself, in one of those frequent visits he made to Belgium, visits that involved the uncomfortable and dangerous voyage across the North Sea, went to see the Governor General himself, threatening to withdraw from the work and to leave the onus on the Germans. That interview concerned passports (it was before the question was settled) and about the same time he had an interview with a certain captain at the Pass Zeentrale, who said to him, point blank: "What do you Americans get out of this, I should like to know." Mr. Hoover looked at him an instant, and his eyes flashed, but he said only this: "It is absolutely impossible for you Germans to understand that one does anything with pure, disinterested, humanitarian motives, so I shall not attempt to explain it to you."

Life indeed was made up of such vexations, whether one was Burgomaster or agent de police or minister; and if one were minister one could scarcely go to see a friend without being called out from one's salon, where there was discussion of the trouble of the day before or those that were anticipated for the morrow, in to another to hear the latest trouble of that very morning. It was usually some one who had just been arrested and wished ahead before he could be taken off to Germany. Perhaps it was the banker, as in the case of Goldschmidt, who was taken away without trial or any judgment—other than that the secret police pronounced before they seized him; or perhaps it was only the man from Dinant, who had his foot shot off during the horrors there, and had been arrested for telling what he had seen.

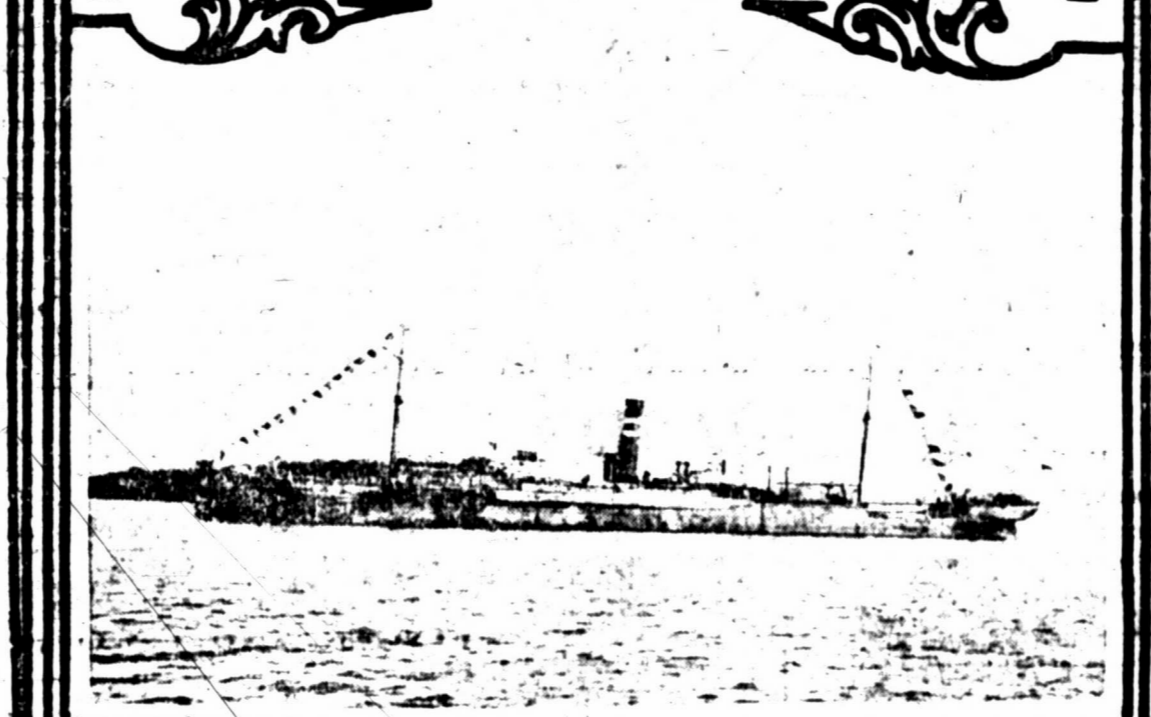

There was little one could do, and in most cases nothing, but in the endless succession of little tragedies there was a constant call on the sympathies of those who were left. There were always delicate ladies whose country homes had been occupied; their stories were chiefly repetition of the same tale of boorishness, but there was one about that time whose husband had been arrested by the Germans for some reason, and who had been in prison after many days of ignorance and uncertainty, she reported to her that he had committed suicide in prison, which she did not believe, but suspected a darker tragedy.

There was, too, the Chevalier von A—standing there in the hall one morning just returned from the Kommandantur, where he had served six weeks' sentence for having written letters to some one at Havre. He had come to thank me for the effort I had made in convincing von Willebier to have him released. The poor little Chevalier was much shaken by his experience, and he had had from all accounts a terrible time. He was confined in a room where there were no comforts or conveniences, with all sorts and conditions of man, many of them well known to his cases. After some weeks of this he complained, and was then confined with those who had what are called "nervous diseases," which he said meant that they were half mad; and that was even worse, so that he nearly went mad himself.

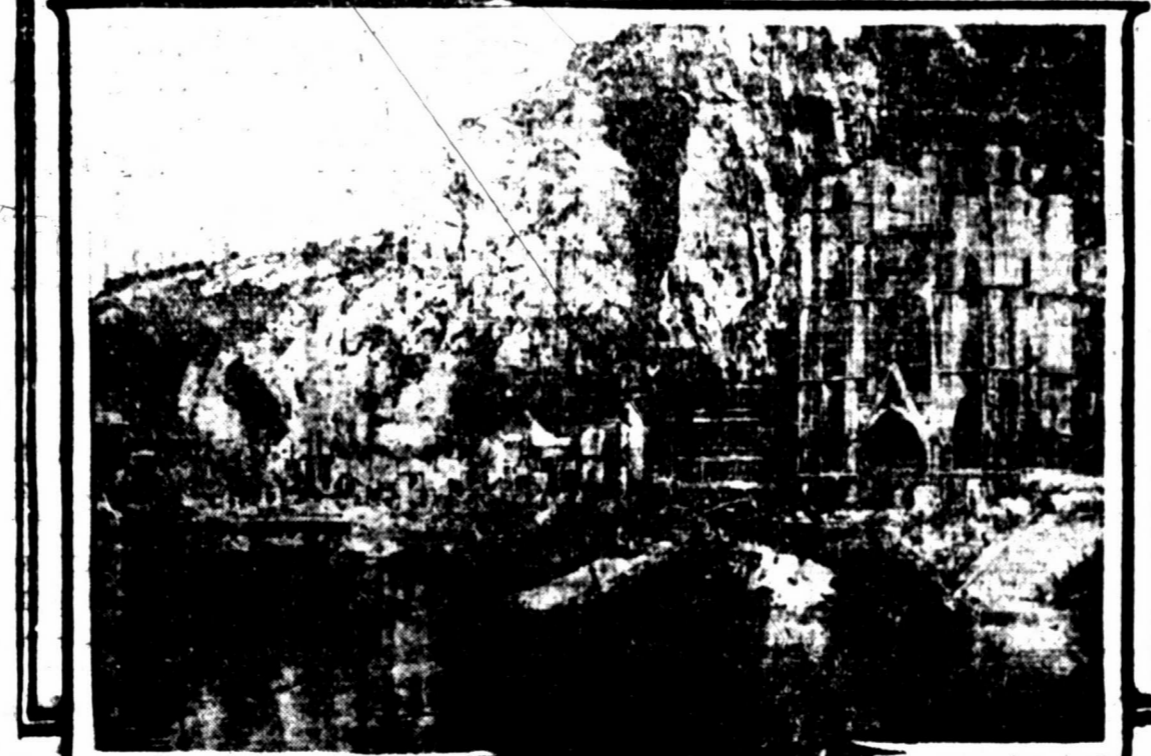

The Herr Doktor was sent into Antwerp, where after more explanations and more insults he was finally for a second time sent to the Kommandantur, where at last he was not compelled to hold his mouth. The authorities were furious and threatened all kinds of courts martial and punishments. I never heard whether the courts martial were held or not, or what was done to the truculent officers, but things did go better after this humiliating if trying experience of the poor Herr Doktor. Everyone in the C. R. B. was ultimately provided with great passes of the Governor General himself—"G.G.s" they were called, and much sought after for the needed effect they exercised on sentries.

Flemish women, each working out her eyes in making one design. Some of the forty thousand lace makers thrown out of work by the war.

The C.R.B. had its flag flying on the seven seas. One of the ships on the way from America.

Dinant, another and a worse Louvain.

that there was some difference of opinion as to just what those assurances were. The Governor General had been offended because Mr. Hoover had himself gone to Berlin, and hence was not disposed to give official recognition to the Commission for Relief; he recognized only the Comité National des Secours, and the patronage of Villahar and myself. Furthermore, he wished me to know that a ship called the "Améric" flying the American flag, loaded with provisions for the "ravallissement," bound from New York to Rotterdam with the flag of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, had put into a British port and there discharged arms and ammunition. And, if this were not enough, the wife and daughter of our Consul General at Brussels, Mr. Watts, had made statements against the Germans, in consequence of which Mr. Watts, just then in Holland, would not be allowed to re-enter Belgium; the Commission for Relief in Belgium cars were flying too many American flags in the faces of German soldiers.

Then it was that the steamship "Doria" of the Commission for Relief on route from Halifax to Rotterdam had departed arms and ammunition in England. Also the steamship "Alcutia" likewise from Halifax to Rotterdam, had stopped at an English port and there discharged arms and munitions. These were a few of the obstacles in the way of a precision of the new guarantees, I had the conviction even then that these reports were all erroneous, but I could assure them that my Government would make an investigation, and observed that it would be easier to feed a lamb confined in a cage with a lion and a tiger, than to try to feed the Belgians with the German and the English supervising the task. I told him also that I should not be surprised at any moment to hear that the English had stopped the "ravallissement" altogether; why, I was asked.

"Because," I said, and I put it bluntly, "because there are those who say that it is your duty, under the Hague convention, to feed the Belgians, and that if you allow them to go hungry they will revolt; and this against you, and thus make your task all the harder."

Mr. Edgar made a tour through Belgium with Mr. Connitt, saw Dinant and Tarnines, and the crosses in the church yard with the date of August 2, 1914, and went back home in the excellent service in the cause of the brave people who were only three weeks from starvation, and in the cause of liberty in the world. And there was a noble woman, Dr. Carolina Hedger, of Chicago, who, with her secretary, Miss Hall, to aid her, did such heroic work among the poor, starving, childless widows in the village of Willebier, near Antwerp, and contributing so much to the saving of the babies. She had the good difficulty of the times—the Germans at Antwerp thought that their soldiers showing the typhoid inoculation were some sort of cipher maps destined to the Allies.

There were all abnormal, she said, speaking of the Germans. "In dealing with them I always remember that I am dealing with the insane; their speech kills me. I wish to feel like a criminal myself, but I know how the neighbors feel when the police are after them."

She said it sadly. "The month before I could see all these poor in Chicago, among whom he had labored so long and so devotedly. There were, to be as I had anticipated, no foundations for the belief that the Commission ships were carrying munitions; my face on soon cleared up at that point; and the members of our Consul's family were duly exonerated of the charge of speaking against the women. They were perhaps already have felt, and Consul General Watts could return to Brussels to resume the duties he so bravely and early discharged out of most of his trying circumstances."

The Commission even added another to the list of services it was rendering. Lace in Belgium means life, real life, as we have to say in Italy, where there are cheap Italian-made lace machines, and most of the real lace of the world was made in Belgium, and before the war the lace makers had interested herself in the plight of the lace makers. They were Flemish women who worked at home in odd hours, each weaving out her lace in making forty-four thousand lace workers knew a monotonous repetition of one single star, or leaf. These parts of designs were collected and assembled by the patron who exploited these women. They made perhaps a franc a day, and when the war came on and no more thread could be obtained, and no lace could be shipped out, there were forty-four thousand lace workers nearing starvation. The Queen was gone, but the ladies of the Committee Her Majesty had organized asked my wife to accept the Honorary Presidency; assurances were obtained from the Germans, the C. R. B. was authorized to import thread and to export the lace and the lace industry was placed on a basis it had never known before. It not only saved the lace workers from their immediate plight, but it released them from their old thrall to the patrons. The articles of Brussels under the inspiration of the Comtesse Elisabeth d'Outremont, the Vicomtesse de Bingham and Mademoiselle Josephe Allard, who directed the lace enterprise, made new lace, and whether that any lace was before, and each woman was allowed to make a whole piece which meant emancipation. And not only were the "ladies" of the world, but the poor, now aesthetically appreciated of this rare and beautiful art was created in America.

The winter was over and spring had come, and to adopt a phrase from that wonderful first paragraph of Tolstoy's Resurrection, spring was spring, even in Belgium. The young leaves were a vivid green, the soft buds were falling on the damp pavement. The flower market in the Grand Place was once more blooming in its brilliant colors. Walking one morning in the rue de la Paix I saw a pretty boy—he could not have been fifteen—playing a guitar, and it was the prohibited "Marselles" that he played. Windows were flung up suddenly all along the street, there was delighted laughter and clapping, and a sudden shower of flowers on the sidewalk, and then all the windows were suddenly closed. Along the avenue I rode under the building chimney, the whole population seemed to be taking down the shutters of the spring air, basking in sunlight after the dreary winter German shades sat before the open cafes, drinking tea, as though they were quite at home, but the people went on their way calmly as though the soldiers did not exist, a way of sending them to Coventry—the only place, apparently, to which they could send them.

In the Bois people were rowing on the little lake, south of and playing cards, and seeking to find the noble trees. In the Park of von Bissing in his blue-grey coat, with the broad white collar and the red revers, the old man sat on a bench, and an enormous white clanking against his boots, accompanied by an aide, was taking the air, walking slowly, stiffly like an automaton. The spring seemed to have affected him, for he was just out in a new "affiche" notice about the pigeons. In view of the excellent conduct—either of the Belgians or of the pigeons, the "affiche" was not quite so hostile—the pigeons might fly from three o'clock to six, but that once more all they should in their coats over me. It was a fact, abundantly known, that the sun on sunny mornings, that the war could not last another winter; there were innumerable reasons, military, political, financial, dynastic, social and hope was high; the Allies might arrive at any time.

where we would as long as we stayed in the "Occupation" belt, "villabier" frequently drove a Samur to inspect a certain Dave, belonging to an aunt, who had left before the occupation. Time of war and was in Spain, and now and then I was called by some lady of my acquaintance, by some whom, to Dinant or Louvain or Mons, and the drives never lost their charm. Much of the country about Brussels would be played over to the war, though one could never escape its presence, the grim fact of it, or rid oneself of the depressing prospect that all was not well with the world.

Once under its influence one can never escape the spell of Belgium or wish to do so. It is not only picturesque, but a detail that is frequently lacks, it is clean, not a fallen twig that is not picked up, the people are scrubbing and polishing all the things they grab, and they are frequently, with once had covered with the splendor of all that land between Valenciennes and Tervuren, and south to Waterloo, the Park and the Bois in Brussels as a reminder of it, and it remains in the chrysalis about Tervuren. I had all the enchantment of the Forest of Arden, which was not, after all, so far away, and I recall a sunny day when there at the right cross roads we turned and went thence on through the woods, with their tender greens and blossoms, and their birds, and their flowers, and their life, and their boom. The wily peasants were, surreptitiously telling the trees. We went on deeper into the woods of Tervuren, along an avenue of noble pines, a Michigan, and then out into a new clearing where whose acres of pines had been felled, a sad spectacle. The trunks lay in rows on the ground, the air was laden with the odor of their balsam. The old Flemish woodsman, his hands black with resin, made a moment for rest, leaning on the log with which he had been lopping, and he explained that he trees were being cut out at the order of the Germans. "Why were they to go?" He shook his wise old head.

As one drove from Dinant, all along the road from Brussels to Namur, and over all the fields, were new trenches with little steel turrets, and German officers in their grey uniforms, their guns slung over their backs, looking by the wayside picking buttons. The steel turrets were the latest thing in French warfare, it was said, and they were used, at least, in the possibility of retreat, and says to the constant rumors that the Germans were about to fall back along the line of the Meuse. There were ruins, too, at Namur, especially in the Grand Place, and Dinant was another and a worse Louvain. The charming little village was quite gone; the curious spire, something like a minaret, so familiar in the pictures of the town, had disappeared and in the main quarter in French warfare, it was said, the ruins were being dug out among the ruins, patriotically hunting some souvenir of their broken lives, or with a courage that was remarkable, perhaps trying to clear away the ruins in order to rebuild their lives. We drove on through the town, through the cleft of the rocky hill, and on up the hill, the little Walloon children staring at us. They were just like the children who were shot that terrible August evening near that very spot on the shore of the river that flows on so quietly. Fortunately, there was some candy to give them.

There are many inexplicable injustices under the sun, but none, in my mind, so inexplicable as innocent suffering, the cruelty inflicted on men and animals. I knew a man near Givet, a rocky wooded country beyond Dinant, where many of the earlier atrocities were committed by the Germans. On the night of the twenty-third of August from his home, a few miles from Dinant, he saw a few flames of Dinant rising higher than any other in the sky, and he was told from an informant. And of all the civilians who were stood up against the walls to be shot not one asked for mercy, but yes, there was one little boy, a boy no older than they placed him against the wall began to whimper and begged piteously. The bullets stilled his crying.

The nature, like man, though not so much, is a creature of habit, and of habit, of habit, in her cruelty, for gets. Already the ruins of Dinant had taken on an ancient and detached, almost a classic air, so that it was not the ruins of a city, but a monument. We viewed the ruins of the Abbey of Villers on the road homeward, a point for the tourists before the war, when there were no other romantic ruins to see in busy Belgium.

German soldiers were guarding the ruins there in that gloomy ravine, but some one remove them, perhaps, although they allowed us to wander about among the ruins and to try to decipher the inscriptions on the stone tablets, taken from the graves of the old abbots and the nobles who once were buried there. "Saviour of Fortifier" and "Post Tebra spero laeviter." Ah, yes, perhaps! The rocks caved from the dripping mossy walls and flapped heavily over the high walls and through the trees, and the sky was blue. All this ruin was wrought in the name of democracy during the French revolution, as ruin is wrought today in the name of monarchy, it is the folly of the human race after all quite incorrigible.
