U. S. WILL NOT DISCUSS PEACE

BRITISH-AMERICAN ADVANCE CONTINUES

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES NEAR ST QUENTIN, Oct. 8.—American troops going into battle in conjunction with the fourth British army on the St. Quentin-Cambrai front today attacked near the point where the last line of the Hindenburg system already had been smashed. The early reports indicated that progress was being made despite stiff machine gun opposition.

Simultaneously the third British army attacked on the front from Cambrai south along the continuation of the Masnières-Beaurevoir line. There was a frontal attack on this line and at the same time an effort to turn it at its northern extremity. The attacks of the two armies were converging operations, the general direction of the thrusts being northeastward. The assault was accompanied by one of the most terrific bombardments of the war, the massed British cannon firing wheel to wheel.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—General Pershing's communique for Monday reports that after driving the enemy from Chatel Chery, American forces have seized the commanding heights west of the Aire.

(By Associated Press.)
Renewing major war operations on the center of the front, the Anglo-American troops today are smashing into the rear defense of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Cambrai. While Field Marshal Haig is attacking on the twenty mile front north of St. Quentin, the French and Anglo-American troops today are smashing into the rear defense of the Hindenburg line between St. Quentin and Cambrai. The French have reached the junction of the Sulpice and Aire rivers and have forced their way into two large towns on the middle Sulpice. The Anglo-American thrust along the vital sector between Cambrai and St. Quentin follows successful local operations Monday in the regions of Beaurevoir and Mont Trehin in which 230 German prisoners were taken. On the front of attack the British and Americans are pushing eastward from the hills west of the central junction of the Sulpice and Aire rivers and the railway lines running north and south which are important to the German supply system in this region. Menace Security of Laon.

Successful continuation of the French advance north and northeast of Rheims is menacing the security of the Laon massif. After capturing Berry-Au-Bac, the French are fighting their way into Cond-sur-Sapelle at the junction of the Aire and Sulpice. Progress northward from these towns would outflank both the Champagne and Laon positions now occupied by the Germans. The French are pushing north from the junction of the Aire and the Sulpice. In the center by entering Isles-sur-Sulpice and capturing Sulpice and made necessary a retirement to the town of Aire further north. On the north the Belgian and British pressure is maintained and under threat of further major attacks. The Germans continue to withdraw from the Belgian coastal region. It is reported the enemy is removing all telephone lines and burning his stores at Knokke, five miles from the Holland frontier.

From the Sulpice to the Meuse on the southern end of the lines the French and Americans continue to press the enemy back. The lines are reported behind the German lines on the sector east of the Argonne and the important town of Reuilles, on the western bank of the Meuse, is burning.

New Peril to Germany.
Crossing the Aire at Berry-Au-Bac, the French have brought new peril to the whole German line in the Laonais and Champagne sectors in France. This advance by General Berthelot's men seems to be a stroke which may be considered in the future as the first step in the final operation designed to hurl the Germans out of the positions they have held for so long from the Ailette river to the Meuse.

If the French are able to debouch from Berry-Au-Bac and obtain a bridgehead on the north side of the Aire, the German forces still clinging to the Chemin Des Dames along the ridge to the north of the Aire, further west, will be completely cut off. At the same time the Germans are retreating before General Gouraud's army further to the east, will find the Aire, their apparent objective in the present retirement, is not a refuge. It may, on the other hand, be but a trap for the shattered forces now streaming back from the Pynon and upper Aisne rivers.

General Berthelot's wedge has penetrated faster than was expected by the lay world. It wrested the hills northwest of Rheims from the enemy, swiftly swept the enemy back to the Sulpice river, and then seemingly at a single bound, reached the Aire and (Continued from page four.)

LOAN CAMPAIGN IS EFFECTED BY "FLU" EPIDEMIC

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The overnight increase in Liberty Loan subscriptions reported to the treasury department today was $2,334,000, raising the total to $1,406,951,000. This rather poor showing is attributed partly to the increasing interference of the influenza epidemic with campaign plans. As far west as Kansas City and as far south as Atlanta, mass meetings and theaters have been closed by health authorities, depriving the workers of an effective method of rousing up subscriptions. Committees have turned quickly to the house to house canvass plan and reports from this method are showing good results.

Muskogee, Oklahoma, has oversubscribed.

NO PRICE FIXING ON COTTON CROP SAYS MR. LYDAY

(By Associated Press.)
FORT WORTH, TEX., Oct. 8.—A price on cotton won't be fixed by the government, President D. E. Lyday, of the Farmers Union, who returned today from conferences in Washington, assures farmers of the south. He said, however, the agitation had prevented the price from going to forty cents per pound. He thinks the prevailing price this fall and winter will be higher than last.

EXTORTIONATE PRICES CHARGED AT BORDEAUX
(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Oct. 8.—Two of the leading restaurants at Bordeaux have been closed to American soldiers by their military authorities because of exorbitant prices. One café is said to have charged two American officers $2.60 for four eggs and two small glasses of beer, while another expected $1.80 for a coffee. Sentries were placed at the doors to warn all men in American uniform that they were not allowed to enter either establishment.

BREWERIES MAY BE INVESTIGATED BY GOVERNMENT

CHARGES ARE FILED WITH SENATE COMMITTEE BY SENATOR JONES.

INVOLVE NEWSPAPERS

Also Charge Contributions to the National German-American Alliance.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Charges that the United States Brewers Association and individual members have secretly financed newspapers in the interest of the liquor traffic, contributed to the National German-American Alliance, been convicted of corrupt political influence, and that the interest of the state and national legislatures were renewed in a memorandum filed today by Senator Jones of Washington, republican, with the Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigating loans by the brewers to Arthur Brisbane in connection with the latter's purchase of the Washington Times. Senator Jones, author of the resolution adopted by the Senate and under which the subcommittee is acting, presented his memorandum for the purpose of indicating that the inquiry is unlimited in scope and not as has been suggested confined solely to the Washington Times.

The question of the scope of investigation authorized has been raised by the subcommittee and Senator Jones, chairman, stated at the last meeting, that the question should be decided by the full committee. In his memorandum submitted today, Senator Jones said neither the preliminary recitals in the resolution's preamble nor any remarks made in the Senate were intended to limit or restrict the inquiry. Every charge against the brewers, he declared, will be fully supported by documents of Allen Property Custodian Palmer and the department of justice.

Evidence to Establish Facts.
Decisive evidence, the memorandum asserts, will establish the following facts: That the United States Brewers Association, individual brewers and corporations have financed newspapers in the interest of the liquor traffic; that the United States Brewers Association and individual brewers and liquor dealers have made political contributions to the National German-American Alliance; and that the United States Brewers Association and individual brewers and liquor dealers have made political contributions to the National German-American Alliance.

That the United States Brewers Association and certain individual brewers who are certain individual newspapers advocating the liquor traffic also contributed to the National German-American Alliance; and that the United States Brewers Association and individual brewers and liquor dealers have made political contributions to the National German-American Alliance.

BETWEEN 150 AND 200 ARE AFFECTED WITH INFLUENZA

PICTURE SHOWS AND OIL EXCHANGES ARE CLOSED TO PUBLIC.

PHYSICIANS TO MEET CLOSE TO WAR NEEDS

Will Discuss Epidemic and Suggest Means to Prevent a Further Spread.

(By Associated Press.)
At a conference late this afternoon between the school authorities and members of the Board of Health it was decided to close the schools indefinitely as a measure to prevent the spread of influenza. It is also likely that the churches will be asked to hold no public services and that all public meetings be banned.

A conference of physicians of the city has been called for tonight at which other preventive measures will be discussed.

With a partial quarantine having already been placed, including this morning the picture shows and oil exchanges, physicians of Wichita, Kan., will meet at 7:30 tonight with the city board of health to determine what other steps may be necessary in order to safeguard the public health during the present Spanish influenza epidemic. A meeting of the board of health, with the mayor, J. B. Marlow, and Lee Clark, the superintendent of city schools, was held at 7:30 this morning. The morning and the conference of the physicians was devoted upon the suggestion of Dr. J. E. Reed. The approximate number of cases, the origin of the epidemic which have presented themselves locally will be discussed by the physician, and a decision reached as to whether it will be necessary to close the schools and churches and impose a more stringent quarantine than existing at present. It is expected that the city will have a down-south situation. These measures have been reported to in some cities, where the epidemic has reached alarming proportions.

Picture Shows Closed.
Last night Dr. Beckman, the city health officer, ordered the closing of the picture shows and the stock exchanges. The oil exchanges will be open for business but will have a closed session night or morning in compliance with the order of the health officer. This shutting down will be in effect until further notice is given by the board of health. Dr. Beckman stated this morning.

The order to close the schools has not yet been given, Dr. Beckman stated. He said that the school board is not yet in session and that the school board will be called together for a few days. Both Dr. Beckman and the superintendent and members of the board of health are reported to have been in the city since the influenza epidemic broke out.

It is not known exactly how many cases of the influenza exist in Wichita Falls at present, but the number is estimated at between 150 and 200. The board of health will be able to determine the number more definitely when the physicians meet tonight.

The first death from the influenza is reported today. Mrs. Norma Wagley, who lived on Seventh street, east of the tracks. A number of other victims of the epidemic are reported in serious condition.

ONLY FOURTEEN NEW CASES REPORTED AT CALL FIELD
Only fourteen new cases of Spanish influenza were reported at Call field today, according to Major Atkinson, medical officer in charge. There are only a few scattering cases from the other squadrons at Call field and all of the first cases being from Squadrons D and E which came in from Fort Worth a short time ago. There were several patients who were very sick. Major Atkinson stated, but the majority were doing nicely and suffering only slight attacks.

PUBLIC MEETINGS ARE STOPPED AT BEAUMONT

NO CONSIDERATION UNTIL HUNS WITHDRAW FROM ALL INVADED TERRITORY

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Wilson today informed the German government that before the United States can discuss an armistice German troops must withdraw from all invaded territory.

He asked Chancellor Maximilian whether he represented the German people or the authorities of the empire who are conducting the war.

The president's message was not a reply—but in the form of an inquiry. The imperial German government is asked whether it accepts the terms laid down by the president in his address to congress January 8 and subsequently addresses.

The text of the communication handed to the charge of Switzerland here, follows:
"Sir, I have the honor to acknowledge, on behalf of the President, your note of October 6th enclosing the communication from the German government to the President, and I am instructed by the President to request you to make the German communication to the imperial German chancellor."

"Before making reply to the request of the imperial German government, and in order that the reply shall be as candid and straightforward as the momentous interests involved require, the President of the United States deems it necessary to assure himself of the exact meaning of the note of the imperial chancellor, issued on October 6th, stating that the imperial German government accepts the terms laid down by the President in his address to the congress of the United States on January 8, and in subsequent addresses, and that its object in entering into discussions would be only to agree upon practical details of their application."

"The President feels bound to say with regard to the suggestion of an armistice, that he would not feel at liberty to promise a cessation of arms to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated against the central powers, so long as the governments upon their soil. The good faith of any discussion would manifestly depend upon the consent of the central powers to immediately withdraw their forces everywhere from invaded territory."

"The President also feels that he is justified in asking whether the imperial chancellor is speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire, who have so far conducted the war, or whether he is speaking in a capacity vital from every point of view."

"Accepting Sir the renewed assurance of the imperial government that it will not make any consideration of the terms of the armistice until the German government has withdrawn its forces from all invaded territory, the President of the United States is pleased to receive the assurance of the imperial government that it will not make any consideration of the terms of the armistice until the German government has withdrawn its forces from all invaded territory."

RED CROSS ISSUES BULLETIN ON ORIGIN OF SPANISH INFLUENZA AND PREVENTATIVE MEASURES TO EMPLOY

SPANISH INFLUENZA PRECAUTIONS.

By F. G. Pernoud, Medical Advisor Southwestern Division, American Red Cross.

- 1. Keep in mind that like most contagious diseases influenza is spread by contact... 2. Avoid crowds as much as possible... 3. When sneezing or coughing, place your handkerchief before your nose and mouth... 4. Make sure that you are properly clothed... 5. Fresh air is always good... 6. Keep your organs in good condition... 7. Drink water freely... 8. Avoid common drinking cups... 9. Wash your hands frequently... 10. Use a mild antiseptic as a nose spray... 11. If you have a "cold" use utensils for your personal use... 12. Consult family physician at first onset of symptoms...

The American Red Cross is issuing bulletins regarding Spanish influenza giving information as to what it is, the symptoms and the necessary precautions.

The bulletin, advising precautions, follows: "Spanish Influenza—Three-Day Fever—The Flu."

General. The disease now occurring in this country and called Spanish influenza resembles a very contagious kind of influenza accompanied by fever, pain in the head, chest, back of the neck, and a feeling of soreness in the throat. In most of the cases the symptoms disappear after three days, but in some they rapidly recover, some of the patients, however, develop pneumonia, or inflammation of the ear, or meningitis, and many of these complicated cases die. Whether this so-called "Spanish" influenza is identical with the epidemic of influenza of earlier years is not yet known.

Epidemics of influenza have visited this country since 1647. It is interesting to know that this first epidemic was brought here from Valencia, Spain. Since that time there have been numerous epidemics of the disease. In 1889 and 1890 an epidemic of influenza, starting somewhere in the Orient, spread first to Russia, and thence over practically the entire civilized world. Three years later there was another flare-up of the disease. Both times the epidemic spread widely over the United States.

Although the present epidemic is called "Spanish influenza," there is no reason to believe that it originated in Spain. Some writers who have studied the question believe that the epidemic came from the Orient and they call attention to the fact that the Germans mention the disease as occurring along the eastern front in the summer and fall of 1917.

How Can "Spanish Influenza" Be Recognized? There is as yet no certain way in which a single case of "Spanish influenza" can be recognized on the other hand, recognition is easy when there is a group of cases. In contrast to the outbreaks of ordinary coughs and colds, which usually occur in the cold months, epidemics of influenza may occur at any season of the year, thus the present epidemic raged most intensely in Europe in May, June and July. Moreover, in the case of ordinary colds, the general symptoms (fever, pain, depression) are by no means as severe or as sudden in their onset as they are in influenza. Finally, ordinary colds do not spread through the community so rapidly or so extensively as does influenza.

In most cases a person taken sick with influenza, feels sick rather suddenly. He feels weak, has pain in the eyes, ears, head or back, and may be sore all over. Many patients feel dizzy, some vomit. Most of the patients complain of feeling chilly, and with this comes a fever in which the temperature rises to 104 to 105. In most cases the pulse remains relatively slow.

In appearance one is struck by the fact that the patient is sick in the eyes and the inner side of his eyelids may be slightly "blood shot," or "congested," as the doctors say. There may be running from the nose, or there may be some cough. These signs of a cold may not be marked; nevertheless the patient looks and feels very sick. In addition to the appearance and the symptoms as already described examination of the patient's blood may make every possible effort to breathe as much pure air as possible.

What is the Course of the Disease? Ordinarily, the fever lasts from three to four days and the patient recovers. But while the proportion of deaths in the present epidemic has generally been low, in some places the outbreak has been severe and deaths have been numerous. When death occurs it is usually the result of a complication.

Bacteriologists who have studied influenza epidemics in the past have found in many of the cases a very small rod-shaped germ called, after its discoverer, Pfeiffer's bacillus. In other cases of apparently the same kind of disease there were found pneumococci, the germs of lobar pneumonia. Still others have been caused by streptococci, and by other germs with long names.

No matter what particular kind of germ causes the epidemic, it is now believed that influenza is always spread from person to person, the germs being carried with the air along with the very small droplets of mucus expelled by coughing or sneezing, forceful talking, and the like by one who already has the germs of the disease. They may also be carried about in the air in the form of dust coming from dried mucus, from coughing and sneezing, or from careless people who spit on the floor and on the sidewalk. As in most other catching diseases, a person who has only a mild attack of the disease himself may give a very severe attack to others.

What Should Be Done by Those Who Catch the Disease? It is very important that every person who becomes sick with influenza should go home at once and go to bed. This will help keep away dangerous complications and will, at the same time, keep the patient from scattering the disease far and wide. It is highly desirable that no one be allowed to sleep in the same room with the patient. In fact, no one but the nurse should be allowed in the room.

If there is cough and sputum or running of the eyes and nose, care should be taken that all such discharges are collected on bits of gauze or rag or paper napkins and burned. If the patient complains of fever and headache, he should be given water to drink, a cold compress to the forehead, and a light sponge. Only such medicine should be given as is prescribed by the doctor. It is foolish to ask the druggist to prescribe and may be dangerous to take such so-called "safe" and "harmless" remedies advertised by patent medicine manufacturers.

If the patient is so situated that he can be attended only by some one who must also look after others in the family, it is advisable that such attendant wear a rubber apron, or gown over the ordinary home clothes while in the sick room, and slip this off when leaving to look after the others.

Nurses and attendants will do well to guard against breathing in dangerous disease germs by wearing a simple fold of gauze or mask while in the patient's room.

It is well known that an attack of measles or scarlet fever or smallpox usually protects a person against another attack of the same disease. This appears not to be true of "Spanish influenza." According to newspaper reports the King of Spain suffered an attack of influenza during the epidemic thirty years ago, and was again stricken during the recent outbreak in Spain.

How Can One Guard Against Influenza? In guarding against disease of all kinds, it is important that the body be kept strong and able to fight off disease germs. This can be done by having a proper proportion of work, play and rest, by keeping the body well clothed, and by eating sufficient, wholesome, and properly selected food. In connection with diet, it is well to remember that milk is one of the best all around foods, obtainable for adults as well as children. So far as a disease like influenza is concerned, health authorities everywhere recognize the very close relation between its spread and overcrowded homes. While it is not always possible, especially in times like the present, to avoid such overcrowding, people should consider the health danger and make every effort to reduce the home overcrowding to a minimum. The value of fresh air through open windows cannot be over-emphasized.

Where crowding is unavoidable, as in street cars, cars should be taken to keep the face wet, or not to inhale directly the air breathed out by another person. It is especially important to beware of the person who coughs or sneezes without covering his mouth and nose. It also follows that one should keep out of crowds and stuffy places as much as possible, keep homes, offices and workshops well aired, spend some time out of doors each day, walk to work if at all practicable—in short, make every possible effort to breathe as much pure air as possible.

Cover up each cough and sneeze, if you don't you'll spread disease.

MILES OF NEW COSTUMES WILL BE SHOWN IN BIG CIRCUS PARADE

The circus parade, which will be held on the streets when the Barnum & Bailey show comes to Wichita Falls on October 10, presents an great a problem in estimating and estimating as any part of the big circus performance it precedes. There is nothing about the three miles of gaudy wagons and marching horses and men that start from the circus lot only a few hours after the arrival of the show's paraphernalia. There is a place for everything and everything is in place before the parade starts to march. Should the band wagon, for instance, take a place in the parade to which it had not been assigned by the management it would be considered that the general effect of the whole had been impaired.

"WATCH YOUR STEP" AT WICHITA THEATRE OCT. 14

In a class by itself is claimed for Irving Berlin's international syncopated musical success, "Watch Your Step," which will be the attraction at the Wichita Theatre Oct. 14. It is a novel entertainment in many respects. Musical to a surprising degree, it is full of charming and hilarious songs. Its fine features, beautiful costumes and scenery—built on the urban idea in three acts and seven scenes—all are new and original. "Watch Your Step" has to be in a remote way, with the will of a wealthy man, which stipulates that a fortune of two million dollars shall go to that male relative who has never been in love, married or engaged by one of the female sex. In the event of the male relative falling in love, then this fortune must go to the relative of the opposite sex who has never been in love. It is a million dollar proposition, and in every respect it represents the greatest of the organization whose presence it heralds.

both insist that they are eligible contenders for the fortune. The maid is from Philadelphia and has never known love. The young man is a plain-looking teacher and he, too, has never been engaged. Tricks lawyers would entrap the two by making each for something and this serves to bring them into all manner of odd situations.

The story serves only to connect the two, and is an agreeable detour from the usual entertainment, with its sentimental, simple, fetching and jolly music.

GOMPERS DENOUNCES RECENT PEACE MOVE

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is here with a delegation of Amos' labor leaders, strongly denounces the recent peace move of the central powers, saying that the new German peace seeks to weaken the unity of the democratic nations and lessen their fighting spirit.

PARIS, July 26.—The marines of one of the first-line regiments call him Doc. As they went against the enemy in the glorious fighting in the first few days of summer he went with them.

He was nearly to headquarters when a marine came running down the street with the word that the colonel had been shot and was lying along his back in a trench across a stubble field just beyond the officers' quarters.

And so they waited, and waited, one hour, two hours. The doctor looked at his watch—it was after eight o'clock.

After that the Doc wasn't exactly sure what happened. He thought he was going to stay with the marines, but when he got out of the trench in which he had been lying to ride by his major he was in front of a hotel in Paris.

He wouldn't admit it, but there is no doubt that he will think also of how he proved himself a full-blooded American. And he knows that he will never be allowed to lose his nerve again.

COMMENT OF THE GERMAN PRESS ON PEACE PROPOSALS

By Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8.—Commenting on the new German imperial chancellor, the Tagblatt of Berlin, says: "All Germany, or at any rate, that great, honest, and good Germany which is imperishable, feels that Prince Maximilian, in collaborating with his duty as a man and a servant of his people, has done what is right and necessary. Why haven't we learned earlier to know our duty?"

A sample of Pan-Germanic comment may be found in the editorial printed on Sunday by the Lokal Anzeiger, definitely announcing that the German will to the last drop of blood fight those whose aim is to dictate a humiliating peace.

"The newspaper's attitude on our front on enemy land," the newspaper continued, "We shall be able to defend our selves more easily against an entente attack through Finland, against Russia whose millions vainly threatened us for three years. Many a flourishing country side must be laid waste and hundreds of thousands of lives must be sacrificed by the enemy if this maximum of our concessions does not suffice them."

The newspaper somewhat prematurely advised President Wilson to realize the "superhuman responsibility placed upon his shoulders," and in ungrateful tones hopes "he will prove himself worthy of this terrible responsibility hour."

Discourage Sale Of Young Turkeys Prior to Nov. 1st

Special to The Times.

HOUSTON, TEX., Oct. 8.—The Poultry Division of the Food Administration is now sending out circulars to the country shippers and to dealers in the markets requesting them not to buy any new turkeys weighing seven pounds or under, and gobblers weighing under ten pounds (three weeks old) until November 1, 1918.

All hotels, public eating places and clubs are requested to refrain from buying dressed turkeys where the birds weigh less than six and one-half pounds and the gobblers less than ten pounds. The young gobblers weighing 9 pounds at the present time will weigh from 12 to 13 pounds at Thanksgiving, and the "hen" turkeys will increase in weight accordingly.

Every discouragement that is given to the marketing of young turkeys for the next eight weeks will greatly help to increase our turkey supply for the approaching holidays.

Powdered Sugar Not for Consumers.

Wholesale and retail dealers are advised by the Food Administration that powdered sugar may not be sold except for commercial manufacturing purposes and for commercial banking. Its sale for domestic consumption among domestic consumers is forbidden. This ruling becomes effective October 10, 1918, but the Federal Food Administration may permit wholesale and retail dealers to dispose of stocks then on hand, if satisfied they were purchased in good faith.

ALLIES REAPING HARVEST WHERE ENEMY PLANTED

Associated Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept.—Two million bushels of wheat, which the German army intended to send across the Rhine, is being garnered along the battle front by the harvesting battalions of the French army. From the land wrested from the Germans since the middle of July 1,500,000 bushels of wheat have been gathered, and half a million more remain to be cut. Furthermore, each backward step by the invaders adds to the wheat acreage which will feed the fighters of France this winter.

As the tanks and the infantry but for their way toward the artillery comes up behind, and with the guns come the reapers. At one time positions where the French cannot "burn" death into the enemy's ranks, soldiers armed with axes and axes cut the stalks and reaped every kernel that could be saved.

North of the Aisne the advancing French found a "straw" machine almost in sight—evidence that the harvesting had been carried on almost up to the East minute. All the other farm implements had been taken away or destroyed.

ADVANCE METHODS OF SURGERY FOR HOSPITAL UNITS

By Associated Press.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Oct. 8.—Within forty minutes after arriving at a advance station, mobile operating units attached to the American army are ready to receive wounded soldiers for major operations. Ordinarily the unit is stationed near a base hospital to await a call from near the firing line. It consists of sixty-two officers, fifty nurses and nearly 200 enlisted men and is composed of five sections each of which is a complete operating group with a chief surgeon, and an assistant, students from the University of Cleveland and who were trained at Allentown, Pa., compose the majority of the enlisted personnel.

Having arrived behind the firing line the unit unloads its equipment and provides beds under canvas for wounded men and must provide all the accessories of a modern hospital for immediate use. The operating pavilion is a tent erected over a metal floor, the outfit includes X-ray plants and sterilizing appliances. Electricity for light and for operation of the X-ray outfit is supplied by a motor and dynamo carried on a truck.

By these advanced methods surgeons are saving human lives today in east where a few years ago the patient would have been counted as morally wounded. This is partly due to the fact that with this modern and swift movement the most difficult and delicate operation may be performed often times within sound of the big guns along the line of battle.

Some of the best known surgeons in the United States are engaged in this work and daily and nightly are performing operations during battle which would have been impossible in previous wars.

Bulgarian Peace Plays Havoc With Norwegian Stocks

By Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 8.—Bulgaria's withdrawal from the war and subsequent peace developments have played havoc with Scandinavian shipping stocks. Norwegian papers estimate that 100 war millionaires have been wiped out by the war in Norway.

In a single day it is estimated that the value of Norwegian shipping stock declined from 100 million kroner, or about $33,000,000, to 50 million kroner. Many securities of mail companies on trading one or two ships whose stocks have been selling as high as 400 kroner on the stock market. Many stocks of this character have dropped in value fifty per cent.

CASTOR BEAN CROP IS READY FOR HARVEST

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 8.—On a farm near Austin a 100-acre field of castor beans stands ready for harvest. This field, and others, marks a new era in Texas agriculture, as this is the first year that castor beans have been grown on a commercial crop in Texas.

Extraordinary demands are being placed on these beans because they form the chief ingredient of oil for airplane motors, and the government has contracted for the entire yield of the crop at fixed prices.

NEW JAPANESE CABINET IS WELL RECEIVED

By Associated Press.

UNIDENTIFIED EPIDEMIC IN SOUTH AMERICA

BUENOS AIRES, Monday, Oct. 7.—The national medical department is alarmed by the persistent spread of an unidentified epidemic among children in Catamarca province. In a month 100 children have died out of a population of 10,000. The disease resembles dysentery and is highly contagious.

EXTRA VIGILANCE TO APPREHEND SLACKERS

By Associated Press.

BROWNSVILLE, TEX., Oct. 8.—Extra vigilance will be used by the Texas Rangers on the border to prevent slacker crossings the Rio Grande to Mexico, Captain Ransom, here on of duty business, announces. Draft evaders, he says, will have little chance of crossing the carefully guarded border.

It has been reported that several alleged slacker have crossed the border at various points. Although it is a difficult matter to guard the many border points, the rangers can fully cope with the situation, it was said.

Make Us Like the Rest.

 Oh, gentle autumn winds,
 You're blowing yonder hills,
 While down here in the vale
 The summer lingers still,
 So come and be our guest,
 Oh, gentle autumn winds,
 And make us like the rest.

The reaping time is over,
 The birds have left their nests,
 The trees upon the hill
 Have on their autumn dress,
 So come and be our guest,
 Oh, gentle autumn winds,
 And make us like the rest.

We want to be like those
 That stand on yonder crest,
 With autumn's golden crown
 A scepter on our brow,
 So come and be our guest,
 Oh, gentle autumn winds,
 And make us like the rest.

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in a way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve.
