CAMBRAI IS TAKEN BY BRITISH

NEARLY 10,000 GERMANS ARE CAPTURED

Hindenburg Line No Longer Bars Path of the Allies

HEAVY FIGHTING DURING NIGHT ON CAMBRAI FRONT

DEFEATED ENEMY SMOTHERED UNDER STEEL AND EXPLOSIVES

CAPTURE MANY GUNS

American Troops Alone Take Two Complete Field Batteries Tuesday

By Associated Press.

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN armies near St. Quentin, Oct. 9.—Heavy fighting continued throughout the night in the Cambrai-St. Quentin front and the British and Americans continued their progress of Tuesday from the British artillery. The defeated enemy was almost smothered under the great deluge of steel and explosives. A large number of German guns have been captured by the British and Americans in addition to the great batches of prisoners which continue to arrive at the cages. The American troops alone captured two complete field batteries and a battery of heavy artillery. The Americans captured these guns Tuesday afternoon when they suddenly visited both ends of the valley south of Premont, capturing the German guns there.

German reinforcements have arrived but as these troops have been engaged several times recently their presence merely adds to the confusion in the enemy ranks. Throughout Tuesday and last night the British had kept control of the air. Roads, barracks, messes and batteries behind the German lines all were targets for the busy British bombing campaign.

Few Enemy Planes Are Seen

During the day it was noticeable that German airplanes were seldom seen. The few that were seen were engaged in aerial fighting and a considerable number of the enemy were brought down.

There is great confidence within the British ranks. On the front of the two British divisions, elements of the 10th and 11th divisions were identified along the twenty-mile fighting line. Such concentration of troops seems almost incredible until it is realized that some of these divisions have been engaged almost continuously since August 8 and many are mere shadows of the old organizations.

The ground over which the great battle is being fought is covered with dead men and horses. Many Germans are buried under tons of British collapsed dugouts. Only a few of the prisoners captured had heard of the Anglo-American plea for an armistice and their ideas on the subject were extremely hazy.

From all sources it is learned that a virtual certainty that no formidable wire barriers are ahead of the British and Americans until the Valenciennes line is reached and after that the line of the Meuse river.

German Towns in Flames

The Germans have started burning towns far east of the line on which they now are fighting. Maroît, between Clary and Bohain, is in flames. The Germans are being given, no rest, whatever, for in addition to the barrages falling on them as they advance they try to stem the onrushing British and Americans. Other British guns are hammering the rear lines, paying especial attention to roads.

At darkness fell Tuesday night the sky was dotted with British airplanes, hovering over the smoking and flaming battle field, while others were on their way to add to the general confusion behind the enemy lines by dropping bombs on all sorts of targets.

German prisoners indicate that the enemy intends to retire first to the Valenciennes line and then to the line of the Meuse. The bulk of the Germans in France are already retreating. However, there undoubtedly will be hard fighting all the way back to the prepared positions for the country is lined with machine-guns and obstructions of all kinds.

But it will be fighting over open and new country where the whippet tanks, armored motor cars and cavalry should have, if they not already are having, the opportunity to do the work cut out for them. The German positions north of Cambrai are dominated by the new British gains on the southwest. The British are in position to hasten the retreat there by (Continued on page 5.)

PRESIDENT NOW TURNS ATTENTION TO BATTLEFIELD

DISMISSES PROPOSAL AND CALLS GENERAL MARCH IN CONSULTATION

CONFERENCE IS SHORT

Chief of Staff Points Out the Advance of the Victorious Allied Armies

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—With the German peace offensive met and halted unless the enemy is actually ready to sue for peace on American and Allied terms, President Wilson today turned his attention to the battle field where the once conquering Teutonic armies are being driven back to their own shores. The president's attention was turned to the battle field by the chief of staff, General Pershing, who appeared with a huge military map of the front.

The conference which lasted only the few minutes required for the chief of staff to show the present battle lines and point to the advances of the victorious American, British and French armies, which are making inevitable a German retreat on a great scale. An important change recorded just before General Pershing was summoned showed Cambrai, a Hindenburg line stronghold in the hands of British and the Allied forces advancing beyond.

Military men are vastly pleased over the president's refusal to even consider an armistice when German soldiers remain on invaded soil and where thus very flatly replying to the phase of Prince Maximilian's overtures though the note dispatched yesterday was in the form of an inquiry.

The president is known to be ready to act without delay when the German chancellor has answered the pointed questions asked in that note whether the chancellor in asking for peace negotiations has already laid down and whether he speaks for the German people themselves or only for their military masters. If peace negotiations are to be undertaken, the president is known to be ready to act without delay when the German chancellor has answered the pointed questions asked in that note whether the chancellor in asking for peace negotiations has already laid down and whether he speaks for the German people themselves or only for their military masters.

CONSIDERS REPLY TO SURRENDER DEMAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the Senate military committee, expressed the opinion today that President Wilson's inquiry in response to the German peace proposal was quite an effective one if he had bluntly proposed unconditional surrender.

"It must elicit a reply," said the senator, "which in the very nature of things will disclose whether or not the German government was sincere in the original proposition for peace negotiations. I am inclined to believe that the German answer will disclose her absolute insincerity."

"She cannot comply with the fourteen fundamental propositions laid down by the president and the terms eagerly awaited. Her possible character having been widely discussed, the general tone of the rank and file comment was a quiet satisfaction that no armistice would be granted while the enemy troops were on Allied soil."

AMERICAN ARMY HAS RECEIVED PEACE REPLY

By Associated Press.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES in France, Oct. 9.—President Wilson's reply to the German peace proposal reached the rear lines of the American army this morning. It has been eagerly awaited. The possible character having been widely discussed, the general tone of the rank and file comment was a quiet satisfaction that no armistice would be granted while the enemy troops were on Allied soil.

DIPLOMATS REGARD REPLY AS CLEVER AND LOGICAL

LONDON, Oct. 9.—In diplomatic circles here President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of Prince Maximilian, the imperial German chancellor, is regarded as clever and logical. It is felt in these circles that the president was wise in refraining from (Continued on page 5.)

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Hindenburg line no longer bars the path of the Allies. The definite rupture of it was achieved on the first day of the fighting in the new development toward the north of the great battle now raging from the Escaut to the Meuse.

To Anglo-Saxon forces went the honor of storming the last remnants of the extraordinary maze of defenses, in some places 12 miles in depth, between Cambrai and St. Quentin. Apart from this achievement the results of the day's fighting were notable in that the enemy's losses must have run into tens of thousands of men during the day's fighting in the various sectors of the long battle front. In addition, important strategic objects were attained.

Allies in Open Country. The Allies are now in the open country on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front and threatening Bohain, an important junction of roads and rail ways, the Americans last night having pushed within two miles of that place. Once the masters of Bohain, the Allies should they push toward Valenciennes, would take in the rear not only the Laon-St. Gobain massif but the positions along the River Sere, dubbed by the Germans the Hindenburg line, which joins the Chantonnay-Perchon line and the Brunhild line running along the Aisne.

The Germans were so confident in the strength of the Cambrai-St. Quentin front that they neglected to organize the rectangular position bounded on the north by the line of Cambrai and Landreville, and south by the Sere position, of which Valenciennes is approximately the center. As a result of this omission all the German positions parallel to the German frontier

MEETING LAST NIGHT

Every Precaution is Being Taken to Prevent Spread of Influenza Epidemic.

Three deaths of influenza, since Tuesday, one of the victims living outside the city, an increase in cases in the city, and a total of about 20 cases at Call Field shows that the epidemic of Spanish influenza is at least holding its own in Wichita Falls, according to a report by the board of health at a meeting held last night with the physicians of the city. It is in effect today and will continue for two weeks or longer, it is stated, if city officials announced today. Major Atkinson, medical officer in charge of the Call Field hospital, stated this afternoon that while there were a few more cases reported today than were reported on Tuesday, the increase was not at all alarming and the epidemic at the camp remains practically unchanged.

Complete quarantine of schools, picture shows, theaters, churches, all public gatherings, pool rooms, domino parlors, all exchanges, public dances, and other places where a number of people have been in the habit of congregating was ordered by the board of health of Wichita Falls, following a meeting held with the physicians of the city on Tuesday night. The order also given to close up all soda fountains and cold drink stands until they put in sterilizers or paper drinking cups. Hotels and business houses were also notified to discontinue use of common drinking cups and towels and a strict prohibition of all infirmarys of the regulations imposed by the board of health were ordered.

Houses where there are one or more cases of influenza have also been ordered quarantined. Cards will be put up on the houses and the occupants put under quarantine regulations.

FRENCH ACE IS CREDITED WITH 190 VICTORIES

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Lieutenant Rene Frenck, according to announcement here, has brought down four German airplanes within twenty minutes on the same day. Frenck now is credited with 70 official victories and has actually brought down 108 German machines.

(By Associated Press.)

The German position has been rendered considerably worse as a result of yesterday's fighting in the opinion of the military command.

Major Pershing, in the opinion of the military command, is the most important factor in the success of the offensive. The German losses have been enormous and not only in prisoners. In a single section of a British front, two fresh German divisions were thrown into the furnace melted away in a few moments.

General Ludendorff's delay of his general retreat so long, but in view of the critics, he is in danger of leading back merely the remnants of his army to the famous lines which protect Germany.

Major Pershing asks for an armistice does it depend from a vision of disaster?

SURRENDER OF TURKEY EXPECTED

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The surrender of Turkey within the next 48 hours will not surprise well informed quarters in London, the Evening Standard says today. The British authorities, it adds, are in possession of information showing that a process of disintegration exists in Constantinople.

TURKISH PREMIER AND MINISTER OF WAR HAVE QUIT

LONDON, Oct. 9. (Via Montreal.)—Talat Pasha, the Turkish premier, has resigned and has been succeeded by Tewfik Pasha, former premier and ex-ambassador at London, according to advances received here. Enver, the minister of war, also has resigned.

RUMORED THAT AUSTRIA WOULD AID AGREEMENT

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 9.—Referring to an extraordinary session of the Dutch cabinet which has been held, the Handelsblad says it is very probably rumored that the government is considering offering its services to both the belligerent groups with a view of their reaching an agreement. No confirmation was obtainable at the Dutch foreign office.

CRISIS IS AVERTED IN SPANISH GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press.

SAN SEBASTIAN, SPAIN, Tuesday, Oct. 8. Antonio Maura, the resignation of whose cabinet was reported today, has formed a new government in which he takes the post of public instructions, which was vacated by Santiago Albiol, who as the chief minister succeeded in the new cabinet. Premier Maura's enthusiastic attitude gives the impression that a crisis has been averted.

ARMY UNDER GEN. HAIG TAKES LONG RESISTING GERMAN STRONGHOLD

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The city of Cambrai has been captured by the British. Here and elsewhere 8,000 prisoners were taken in yesterday's fighting.

Field Marshal Haig announced the capture of this long-resisting German stronghold in his official statement today.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Nearly ten thousand Germans were taken prisoner yesterday by the Allied forces in the fighting along the various fronts of the battlefield, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo De Paris today. The Germans he adds are evacuating the Argonne forest. The battle is continuing.

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN armies near St. Quentin, Oct. 9.—The great battle between St. Quentin and Cambrai continues today with unceasing fury. Strong attacks were resumed at daylight this morning by the British and American armies. The troops of Field Marshal Haig and General Pershing are carrying their lines steadily to the eastward.

ALLIED TROOPS GO OVER THE TOP IN DRIVING RAIN

FORWARD MOVEMENT CONVERGING IN DIRECTION OF LE CATEAU.

APPROACH IS RAPID

Troops Follow Terrific Barrage from Massed British Cannon, Wheel to Wheel.

By Associated Press.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN France, Oct. 9.—Generally speaking the forward movement in the Cambrai-St. Quentin sector seems to be converging in the direction of Le Cateau and the important towns of Bohain and Caudry. These last towns are being rapidly approached.

The British and Americans went over the top in a driving rain behind a terrific barrage from massed British cannon, which were firing wheel to wheel. This came after a combination of a bombardment of greatest intensity which crashed into the German defenses levelled wire entanglements, swept in dugouts and played havoc with the terrified Germans. The German counter-barrage, fired from a considerable range, appears to have been thin and weak at most points, although at one or two places the shells came in quite heavy. In spite of this bombardment and the destruction of the German positions, the casualties on the Allied side were extraordinarily small according to all available reports. Once during the forward attack in which a large number of infantry units were assisted by three German tanks. It is not probable that this counter-attack was in the region of Cambrai.

ENEMY IN TUNNELS

It was known that quite a large number of enemy troops was gathered in the intricate tunnel system built under Cambrai. The story tells of the town were capable of holding a large number of men.

It was the enemy troops undoubtedly who called for the counter-attack but it was fruitless and resulted only in piling up German dead. Enemy tanks were speedily disabled and (Continued from page four.)

BRITISH ARE ADVANCING WITH LESS RESISTANCE

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The British advance along the battle front between Cambrai and St. Quentin is proceeding very well today all along the line. There is not so much resistance by the Germans as yesterday. This probably is due to the Germans having retired during the night.

In the American sector of this front, the Germans are resisting very strongly. The American losses, however, have not been heavy. The total American casualties is less than half the number of Germans taken prisoners.

bullet holes in his clothes, but with a stab wound in his back. He had one bullet wound in his chest which had killed the man behind him.

A machine gun fired at this lieutenant from a distance of 100 feet and he was hit in the chest. He was cut away but the officer was unharmed. It was not until midnight when the news first reached the weary and exhausted men that they were being rescued. The rescue was made on those of the "lost" battalion and at last they were able to get home.

While fresh troops drove the Germans in on their flanks from the sector of their anticipated triumph, the tired heroes of the battalion began to fall back to their bases. Many of the men were suffering from a variety of wounds, but most of them were not seriously hurt. They were so exhausted and so nearly starved that they could scarcely get up when they were rescued with their wounds and injuries. A group of private soldiers, who had been taken from a field hospital which had been temporarily established in a ruined church close behind the front line, would not talk of their experiences but told of a second lieutenant who came out with his machine gun disabled and (Continued from page four.)

DECLARES GERMANY PUTS TRUST IN PRESIDENT WILSON AND A KIND FATE

By Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday, Oct. 8.—Bernhard Bitterli, complains that Prince Maximilian neglected the opportunity to declare that Germany was ready to discuss with France the fate of Alsace and Lorraine and with Russia the question of border provinces. He says this omission on the part of the new government means to perpetrate the political conception of the government and declares that the continuation of this policy is extraordinarily dangerous. He concludes: "The government only puts its trust in President Wilson and a kind fate."

Like ghosts, remembrances of former chancellors' speeches filtered through the chamber, speeches invariably based on reports of the victorious march on the German troops.

POSTMASTER GENERAL BURLESON AND TELEPHONE OFFICIALS IN AGREEMENT

Explanation of the situation confronting the Southwestern Bell Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company is to give such advice and assistance as the postmaster general may require. It is to maintain its scientific, technical and engineering departments and its patent protection for the benefit of the property in the same manner as heretofore. The postmaster general will have the benefit during the period of control, in the operation of the wire systems, of all inventions, discoveries and ideas which may now or hereafter be controlled by the Bell system.

"These provisions are for the protection of the property, the service and the art, and provide for the continuation of the service and for the development of the art as well as the protection of the developed situation and for the full protection of the public in its service and the proprietors in the property and development.

Dividends.

"For the security holders is provided payment of the interest and existing amortization charges on all outstanding securities or obligations of the Bell system in the hands of the public, including the 6 per cent convertible bonds issued Aug. 1, 1918; payment of dividends at the existing rate upon the shares of capital of the Bell system out of the hands of the public; payment of any charges, interest, dividends or other costs on above securities or obligations shall be invested in property of the system. American Telephone & Telegraph company surplus shall be invested in its property. Surplus profits from operation may be invested by the postmaster general.

"If securities or capital can be issued at fair terms the Bell system will issue its securities if desired, but the nominal value of the securities shall not exceed 60 per cent of amount expended in the property. Extensions to its property made with the approval of the Bell system by money furnished by the postmaster general shall be paid for in installments of 5 per cent per annum after the date of control ceases. Extensions by the postmaster general to meet abnormal conditions and made without the approval of the system shall be appraised by the interstate commerce commission at the end of the period of control and their value to the systems appraised shall be paid for in installments of 5 per cent per annum. The whole basis of the negotiations on both sides was to ask no more than was right, to grant all that was right and to protect a great property and a great service to the public in every possible way.

"In closing the public should bear in mind that we are in the midst of very abnormal times. Scarcity of labor, high costs of living, and great increases in demand on the service which are congested and not well distributed, will create conditions which it will be difficult for the telephone systems to meet no matter how much charges and wages are increased, and some consideration must be given before criticism is indulged in."

LETTERS FROM OUR BOYS "OVER THERE"

TWO SONS IN SERVICE WRITE LETTERS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Downing, who live south of this city, have two sons "over there" now, as both Ross and Solon, the eldest sons, have gotten across safely and are enjoying the new experiences immensely, according to letters which their parents have received recently. These letters tell of something of the sight the boys have seen, follow:

Letter From Ross.

"I have arrived safely over here, somewhere in France. I had a nice trip on the ship. I have seen a good many antique buildings. The people seem very sociable to me. Americans, but of course I can't talk to them. This is sure a pretty country and the weather is fine.

"I will write to Solon soon, as I have his address. I am anxious to hear from him, but I don't think he is very close to me.

"I suppose you wrote me several weeks ago, but I haven't received any mail since I arrived over here but hope to soon. When you write to me write a long letter as I won't hear from you often.

"I wonder if it has rained there yet."

Solon Writes Home.

"We all got a lot of letters yesterday. I got two from you and some from other places. I don't think the boys were all very glad to get their mail, many of them hadn't had any at all yet.

"I am liking it fine over here. It is like a pleasure trip and we always have a jolly bunch to keep something stirring. Yesterday I went up on two small mountains, one in the morning and one in the evening. The scenery was very beautiful. We could see several villages and lots of pretty hills and valleys. I went swimming in a little river nearby. It was so clear we could see the bottom easily when the water was over our heads.

"I am learning to like the French people fine. They are very nice to us and seem very willing to talk to us and help us learn French. We often get the children to help us learn the language. They seem to be pretty smart kids. We are all learning to say a few things in French and can make our wants known to almost anyone.

"I have some kind of amusement at the Y every night. One night two American girls gave a fine entertainment. The Y has lots of smokes and cats to sell us and some things are cheaper than at home.

"We see lots of French and American boys from the front and they all give the Sammie credit for being some fighters. If you are all having as fine a time as I am everything is alright."

"SOLO"

WILL TONEY TAKES TRIP TO "NO MAN'S LAND"

September 4, 1918.

Dear Father and Mother,

A letter from you dated Jan. 11th received yesterday. I certainly took it through the channel. When I got it, it looked more like a much abused scrap book than a letter; probably got mixed up with the Chateau Thirty advance. It would have been hard to have done much more to it, and left the address so it could have been read.

I am now confined to quarters—slight cold. You see the way the "doc" has me doped up with every thing a doctor's tool kit consists of, including the far famed "C. C." pills. I am going back on duty in the morning. I feel fine now. This is only the second time I have been laid up since I came to France, so you can see the French climate, army crowd and vin rouge agree with me.

How He Caught Cold.

"But I am about to forget to tell you how I caught my cold last Saturday. Two other boys and myself decided to take a little trip away from the camp, didn't know where to go, so some one said "let's go up to the trenches." We can't get a pass unless some village is our destination, so we got a pass and found a place with a keen sounding name, went to headquarters to get the passes fixed up, we have permanent passes but we take them out, anyway we got them and started out. We'd walk a while, ride a white out-truck, harrow road and such. None of the M. P.'s we passed seemed to know the exact location of our town; all said it was up near the front, so we went, right in the trenches. Got there about 9:30 p. m. met a dough boy, sergeant machine gun company. He gave our passes the once over to make sure that we were not "square heads." When he saw where we were headed for he asked us if we were anxious to get there and said "we would have a little hell in making it; it's to your left across No Body's Land, on that hill is your town, do you want to go there?" Naturally we did not. So we stayed in the trenches, didn't go to the morning. It rained and I caught cold, so here I am not much the worse for my trip. No you need not get alarmed as I written on the chance as I am going up there again. I forgot to tell you that this town was across "No Man's Land" on German territory. When we got back to camp we did not tell the rest of the bunch anything about it. Like all good jokes it gradually leaked out and I am afraid that we will never hear the gorate comere commission at the end of the period of control and their value to the systems appraised shall be paid for in installments of 5 per cent per annum after the date of control ceases. Extensions by the postmaster general to meet abnormal conditions and made without the approval of the system shall be appraised by the interstate commerce commission at the end of the period of control and their value to the systems appraised shall be paid for in installments of 5 per cent per annum. Another Shipment Of Workmen To the Plant at Nashville

On Saturday a shipment of workmen to a government plant in Nashville, Tenn., will leave Wichita Falls, and G. W. Minton, the local examiner for the U. S. Department of labor, states that this is a splendid opportunity for men who desire to get into essential work immediately, without waiting for the registration of labor, and an enforced change. Mr. Minton issues the following statement:

"With reference to the article in The Times of October 8 regarding the registration of labor, this office desires to call the attention of all of those who are ready to accept essential work that there will be a shipment of carpenters, electricians, riggers, pipe-fitters and common laborers to Nashville, Tennessee at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday, October 12. It will be necessary for those desiring to accept this service to be in this office not later than 9 p. m. Friday. The transportation from Wichita Falls to Nashville is $25.48. This amount is advanced and later deducted from wages. The work will last as long as one year and there is a very urgent demand for the classes above referred to. We expect a patriotic response to this call as the men who are engaged in this work are the ones who are furnishing the ammunition to back our army in France."

Compare the Price of Good Clothes With the High Cost of Cheap Clothing.

It costs a merchant just as much to sell you a poor suit of clothes as a good one. The transportation cost is just as high from the mill to the maker, and from the maker to the merchant's store. The mill-over-head and labor-cost of weaving poor material may very well be as great as with better goods. When it comes to cutting and making a cheap suit of clothes, the price of the work is out of all proportion to the material.

The House of Kuppenheimer Has Always Maintained Its Standards.

PROMPT ACTION MAY PREVENT EPIDEMIC HERE.
 The managers of the picture shows, the school board, the board of health and proprietors of the soda fountains and soft drink places are to be praised for their prompt action to prevent the spread of the influenza contagion.

The time to lock the door is before the horse is stolen and this appears to have been done in Wichita Falls against the spread of an influenza epidemic. Had things been allowed to run as usual, the spread of the contagion would have been almost certain, but the closing of the picture shows and the closing of the soda fountains and soft drink places are the preventive measures in effect to check the spread of the epidemic.

VICTORY IS NEAR.
 Wichita county having subscribed its quota for the Fourth Liberty Loan will not excuse any citizen from the performance of his duty in subscribing every dollar he can for this loan. This county ought to oversubscribe its quota heavily.

Blows that are calculated to bring the German army to its knees are being struck by the allies on the western front. These blows will be doubly effective if the Liberty Loan is greatly oversubscribed.

Our armed forces will fight the more valiantly if they are assured of our strong support at home. Knowledge of the overwhelming support of the people of the United States for its armed forces will add to the discouragement of the enemy. The enemy is already discouraged and is being beaten on every front. A great united effort of the people of the allied countries and their armies will complete the victory.

DIPLOMACY MUST HURRY.
 President Wilson coupled his suggestion that the Central Powers must withdraw their forces from invaded territory as a preliminary condition to peace discussions, with the question whether the German chancellor in his peace proposals was speaking for the German people or merely the constituted authorities of Germany.

The whole meat of the President's answer to Germany is in that question. It cannot be answered without turning the German government over to the German people, and there can now be no question that the German people are ready to do so.

AMERICAN FORCES DRIVE FORWARD EAST OF MEUSE

By Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY Northwest of Verdun, Tuesday, Oct. 8, American forces drove forward today on the east side of the Meuse and occupied Charly.

In company with the French they captured the villages of Consenvoye, Erbaum, Haumont and Beaumont. They drove the enemy well beyond these towns and are pushing the enemy northward in a desperate fight. In today's operations more than 3,000 prisoners were taken of which 1,600 were captured by the French.

Further progress was made yesterday evening east of Sequehart and in the region of Bohain and Maritz. Our troops reached the western outskirts of Wallcourt and gained the line of the La Targete-Cambrai road, capturing Forville.

"At 5:30 o'clock this morning the attack was resumed on the whole front of the fourth army. First reports indicate that rapid progress is being made everywhere.

"Shortly after midnight Canadian troops attacked and captured the village of Lauxiere in the neighborhood of the village. Our troops have entered Cambrai.

"The number of prisoners taken by us yesterday exceeds 8,000 and we have captured many guns."

ALLIED TROOPS GO OVER TOP

while this was being accomplished, the British sent shells streaming in to the Meuse front.

So far this has been the only one-way reaction reported.

The push toward Castry is of great importance for well east of that place runs the road between Cambrai and Le Cateau, to which the Germans must resort to get what remains of their supplies out of the Cambrai district. It is quite obvious, by a glance at the map, that this road is not far away and the cutting of it would mean disaster to the Germans in this immediate locality.

Penetrate Five Miles.
 The greatest depth of penetration by the infantry seems to be not less than five miles. Fighting continues everywhere and more ground is being gained each hour. The French whose line joins that of the British to the south are also reported to have gained correspondingly deep.

There is no doubt that the victory is overwhelmingly complete but the next few hours may see its scope greatly widened. Anything may happen now. The British have the Germans on the run and apparently intend to give them no rest.

that rejection. The president, however, it is considered, displays the same attitude of benevolence to the British and continental statements concerning the good faith of the German government and desires satisfaction on this point before taking further steps.

It is believed that a satisfactory answer to President Wilson's questions will severely test Germany's faith while an affirmative reply will mean an acknowledgment of a German defeat.

The acumen and logic of the American executive in framing the reply is regarded by the diplomatists as characteristic of him.

OFFICIAL

BRITISH AND AMERICANS MAKE PROGRESS IN ATTACK

By Associated Press. LONDON, October 9.—The Anglo-American attack was resumed this morning on the entire front south of Cambrai, Field Marshal Haig reported today. Rapid progress was being made on a broad front.

Last night additional progress was made east of Sequehart and toward Bohain and Maritz. The British captured Forville and reached the western outskirts of Wallcourt.

The attack this morning was on the front of the third and fourth armies and began at 5:20 o'clock.

The text of the statement reads: "Further progress was made yesterday evening east of Sequehart and in the region of Bohain and Maritz. Our troops reached the western outskirts of Wallcourt and gained the line of the La Targete-Cambrai road, capturing Forville."

"At 5:30 o'clock this morning the attack was resumed on the whole front of the fourth army. First reports indicate that rapid progress is being made everywhere."

"The number of prisoners taken by us yesterday exceeds 8,000 and we have captured many guns."

AMERICAN AND FRENCH STEADILY DRIVE ENEMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—American and French troops are steadily driving the enemy from the scene of a desperate struggle for Verdun, General Pershing reported today in his communique for yesterday's operations.

An advance on both sides of the Meuse and the capture of more than 3,000 prisoners during the day. It also reported the capture of many guns against stubborn fighting in the continued advance in the Argonne forest.

The communique follows: "We captured Cornay and against stubborn fighting continued our advance in the Argonne forest."

East of the Meuse French and American troops serving with the first army made a brilliant attack in the vicinity of the Bois d'Haumont. The villages of Consenvoye, Erbaum, Haumont and Beaumont have been occupied and the enemy has been driven well beyond them.

"On both sides of the Meuse our own troops and the French are now pushing the enemy from the scene of the desperate struggle for Verdun. The number of prisoners taken as a result of the day's operations exceeds 3,000. Of these 1,600 were taken by French units east of the Meuse."

"This brings the total number captured by this command in the last few days to over 4,000. The French also captured 18 mortars of heavy caliber and other material."

FRENCH LAST NIGHT TAKE GERMAN DEFENSES

PARIS, Oct. 9.—French troops attacking last night captured the German defenses between Harly and Neuville-St. Vaast and drove past the latter town on the north, today's official statement by the war office.

The text of the statement reads: "In the course of the night in the region south and east of St. Quentin the French captured the strongholds of Harly and Neuville-St. Vaast and drove past the latter town on the north, today's official statement by the war office."

"The artillery fire was violent south of the Oise and on the Sulpice front."

"North of the Arnes the Germans attempted to recapture the ground we gained yesterday. They failed and sustained heavy losses. The number of prisoners in yesterday's fighting in the Arnes front exceeds 600."

PRESIDENT'S REPLY HAS PLACED TRAP FOR THE GERMANS

NOTE IS CHARACTERIZED AS AN ADROIT DIPLOMATIC MOVE.

CLEVER AND LOGICAL

Leaves Open Way to Peace and Places Responsibility on The Shoulders of Enemy.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, October 9.—By an adroit diplomatic move, President Wilson has laid a trap for the German government heads if the peace proposal made by Chancellor Maximilian was in the least insincere. This was demonstrated by the communication addressed by President Wilson yesterday to the German chancellor.

Confronted by the strategy of diplomacy, the President in the view of officials has countered with strategy just as Marshal Foch has met the military tactics of Hindenburg and Ludendorff with superior strategy.

And yet, in his communication the President has left open the way to peace.

The President by calling upon Prince Maximilian for information as to whether he represents the German military masters continuing the war or the whole German people, laid a trap for the German government heads if the peace proposal made by Chancellor Maximilian was in the least insincere.

Through the communication sent yesterday the last hope of the German militarist to point to the Allies as waging a war of extermination is considered as having been removed.

Don't Suspend Hostilities.
 At the same time today the President in words, the meaning of which cannot be controverted, has notified the German government that its proposed suspension of hostilities cannot be granted while a German soldier remains on Allied soil. The German government must state to the world whether it will accept the conditions laid down by President Wilson wholeheartedly or "as a basis for negotiation," which position cannot be considered by the United States and the Entente Allies.

The step taken by President Wilson, according to indications today, has met with the approval of the American people. A newspaper editorial comment almost universally commended the move. Congressional leaders after carefully studying the communication sent by the President praised it as a brilliant diplomatic stroke.

The attitude of the public and the press of the Allied nations was awaited eagerly but without misgiving. Disquiet approval was expected from Great Britain, France, Italy and the other belligerents.

T. R. WATSON IS DENIED ANOTHER TRIAL OF CASE

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 9.—The court of criminal appeals today overruled a motion for rehearing in the case of T. R. Watson, who is under a ninety-nine year sentence for the killing of Banking Commissioner John S. Patterson of Tarrant county. Watson was president of the Farmers State Bank at Tarrant. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed June 19.

The court of criminal appeals also affirmed the judgment of lower courts in the cases of Jim Castleberry, Nogoches, Texas, under four year sentence for manslaughter, and John Williams, Austin county, under five year sentence for manslaughter.

The case of P. C. Weaver, under death sentence for killing T. E. Mason, a milk man in Austin, Texas, is submitted for rehearing and oral argument. Submission of oral argument is also made in the case of E. E. Sapp, who was given a ninety-nine year sentence for manslaughter.

Now Appreciate How Unkind the Remark of Turkish Troops

Associated Press Mail Correspondent. JERUSALEM, Sept. 19.—Allied soldiers in the valley of the Jordan know how really unkind were persons who, in pre-war days, wished them to "loose their skins."

To those fighting men, Jericho and its dust-covered environs mean heat, flies, mosquitoes and snakes, mildly advertised by the Turks in his message set up opposite the British lines. "Don't fear an offensive from us; we will come over later when you are all dead."

This summer, day after day, army thermometers along the Jordan register from 105 to 125. Yet with scarcely a breeze, and these dust-laden, the Austrian and New Zealand troops in his message set up opposite the British lines, "Don't fear an offensive from us; we will come over later when you are all dead."

The minor evils, the snakes are the worst, but due to the precautions taken by officers and men, casualties from snake bites have been comparatively insignificant, despite the number of reptiles and their venomous stings.

One captured Turk had been in a British hospital, he told how he had stretched the ropes to and fro, bringing his nerves shattered by the incident, and medical officers said it would be years before they were again normal.

NEW KING SAYS WILL OF PEOPLE SHALL PREVAIL

By Associated Press. BASKIL, SWITZERLAND, Oct. 9.—The will of the people of Bulgaria will be the guide of King Boris, the new ruler, declared at a dinner to the members of the Bulgarian cabinet, says a dispatch from Sofia.

SECOND DIVISION OF U. S. ARMY IN MIDST OF BATTLE

By Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES in France, Oct. 9.—It is now permissible to state that the second American division which bore the brunt of the re-ensued fighting in the Champagne. This division took St. Etienne and the positions leading to that town which reached the high salient now projecting into the German lines.

BRITISH ARTILLERY DID REMARKABLE FINE WORK

By Associated Press. WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN Armies Near St. Quentin, Oct. 9.—The British artillery did remarkable fine work in supporting the infantry in the fighting Tuesday and during the night. In addition to their other work the gunners were called upon for a few salient shots against German batteries which had made themselves especially conspicuous.

As the American troops storming forward in the night, the German outposts of Braineourt, the Germans began to shell the place heavily. The British cannon quickly came into action and forced the enemy guns to diminish their fire and finally silenced them altogether.

Hard Fighting For High Ground. Very hard fighting took place for the high ground in front of Fresnoy-le Grand. The German earthworks were literally alive with machine guns which poured bullets from their weapons as they moved forward. Here again the artillery moved up hurriedly and got to work. Firing through open sights the British guns have brought him much trouble.

Pershing's Order Is Bringing Results That Are Pleasing

Associated Press. HEADQUARTERS AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Sept.—General Pershing's order forbidding the use of alcoholic beverages, except for medicinal purposes, and instituting various forms of athletics and wholesome amusements to prevent immorality has brought him much gratifying and favorable comment from American and Allied sources which have been striving for the betterment of the men in the field. His administration of "prompt disciplinary action" is having a salutary effect.

Efforts are being made to keep every American soldier, when he is not actually under fire or in the trenches, occupied with instruction on various useful subjects, work, drill, baseball, football, wrestling, boxing, target shooting and other forms of sports, athletic games, theatricals, amusements and clean motion picture shows.

The determination of the American commander to secure a rigid enforcement of his anti-drunkness and anti-immorality regulation was indicated in a letter written by General Pershing appointing representatives to a British-American conference on the subject, in which he said:

place to take influenza patients who are taken ill in hotels or boarding houses, rather than to the hospitals were of the opinion that this was a very necessary movement. No definite action was taken last night, but may be taken in a short time, if the situation warrants it, city officials stated this morning. Dr. Meredith of the Wichita General Hospital urged this as an imperative precaution to be taken for the sake of serious cases of influenza which exposure to influenza would mean serious consequences.

Quarantine For Two Weeks. The quarantine voted at last night's meeting will last two weeks, or longer if necessary. Dr. Patton amending the motion of Dr. C. Tyson that the quarantine be made for two weeks to provide for a longer period of time if the epidemic was still menacing when the two weeks was up. The health department ordered every twenty-four hours as an additional precaution, and the police officers were authorized to keep a strict watch for violators of the health department's ordinance. Barium & Bailey's circus will be given a notice to move on and the attractions which were to have appeared at the Wichita fair during the coming two weeks have been canceled.

A number of the places ordered closed down by the meeting last night (Monday) are now being visited by authorities and the city health officer taking the initiative earlier in the day and closing schools, oil exchanges and picture theaters. About 300 Cases Reported. There are about 300 cases of influenza in Wichita Falls, some of the patients being reported in a serious condition, according to the discussion of physicians at the meeting Tuesday night. Several instances have been reported where the victim has been stricken suddenly while on the street and affected similarly to a light at a lack of appetite.

MUST RESPECT RULING OR KEEP STORES CLOSED

Compliance with the ruling of the board of health that fountain must be closed during the Spanish influenza epidemic is reported by Mrs. T. E. Smock, the food and drug inspector, who stated that the soda fountains and soft drink bars this morning. There was only one refusal to comply, one drug store owner stating that he did not believe that he was compelled to do so, according to Mrs. Smock, and refusing to either put in a sterilizer or paper cups until he was shown the law compelling him to do so.

One other proprietor of a soft drink bar when attention was called to the public toilet hanging in his place, said, "Oh, we don't use that for the public." Mrs. Smock stated, however, she agreed to take his public toilet down and to sterilize glasses, stating, however, she did not consider it necessary when this epidemic was over, to continue such formalities.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DISCONTINUES SERVICES

The First Presbyterian church has discontinued all services until further notice, the pastor, Rev. S. E. Grafton, announced. The church takes this action to co-operate with the board of health in preventing the spread of the Spanish influenza. It is the first church in the city to announce such a step.

PUBLIC PLACES ARE CLOSED AT HOUSTON

By Associated Press. HOUSTON, TEX., Oct. 9.—A proclamation today closed all moving picture shows, theatres, dance halls and other places of public amusement because of the influenza epidemic. Public schools will not reopen and the churches of the city have been asked to discontinue their services.

Services at the First Methodist Church South Called Off

Owing to the seriousness of the influenza epidemic in the city and surrounding country and inasmuch as the public schools and places of amusement have been closed, we feel that it is our duty to close our church until the danger of further spreading of the disease is passed. We desire to co-operate in every way possible with the authorities for the good of our city and her people. Therefore all the services at the First Methodist church, south, have been called in until further notice.—S. A. BARNES, pastor.

Market Report

Cotton Market

By Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—The cotton market showed a steadier tone at the start today. New Orleans was a fair buyer, while there were further trade buying and covering which caused an opening advance of 5 to 20 points and set active months about 70 to 20 points net higher after the call, with December selling at 30.95 and January at 30.35. This bulge met renewed selling and liquidation however and prices soon weakened with December selling off to 30.50 and January 30.09, or 12 to 25 points lower. Sellers seemed to be impressed by a belief that accumulating supplies in the south were leading to increased spot offerings or hedge selling against spot supplies.

Grain Market

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Sharp breaks in the price of corn took place today owing to fresh selling due to the peace outlook. Opening quotations which were 1/2 cent lower than yesterday's, advanced, with November $1.18 1/2, and December $1.18 1/2, were followed by rapid declines all around.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—Enough selling developed on the opening of the cotton market today to depress prices to the extent of 5 to 20 points, but the demand improved, and the decline so that at the end of the first hour of trading the active months were 12 to 14 points over yesterday's closing. Buying was based on a favorable view of world politics.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 9.—Cotton spot fair demand, prices easy. Good middling 24 1/2; middling 23 1/2; low middling 22 1/2; ordinary 20 1/2. Sales 2,000, including 1,200 American. Receipts 2,200, all American. Futures closed weak October 21 1/2; November 21 1/2; December 21 1/2; January 20 1/2; February 20 1/2.

New York Stocks

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Recessions extending to the end of the year, a point by such leaders as J. P. Morgan and J. C. Harrington, were the only conspicuous exceptions to the general firmness of stocks in the first half hour of trading. Available strength was displayed by oil, utilities, especially and telephone and telegraph issues, and Bethlehem and other steel issues. Latest war developments induced moderate covering of short contracts but dealers were comparatively light.

Day's War Developments

(By Associated Press.) Americans on the north rapidly are outflanking it.

German resistance is stiffening along the front east of Rheims, but not sufficient to stop the forward movement of Generals Gauraud and Tardieu. The French-American positions in Champagne and the Artois to the Meuse have been improved by the successful French and American troops. The advance there from the west of the Meuse from the menace of German artillery north of Verdun. In its operations on these sectors the French-American troops captured 2,000 prisoners and a number of guns. Along the Arnes the French yesterday took six hundred prisoners.

Offensive Reaches Climax

There is every reason to believe that the great offensive of the Allied armies in France has reached a climax and that the next few days may witness events which will mark an epoch in the history of the war. On a front extending from Roulers on the north to Verdun far down toward the other end of the battle line, the Germans are being battered by successive blows and in some sectors the storm to be in a very serious position.

GERMANS ARE USING NEW TYPE OF BOMB

By Associated Press. PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Germans during the last few days have been using in their air work a new type of inflammable bomb, combining great effectiveness with light weight. A single airplane, it is said, can carry 200 of these bombs.

GENERAL POLO MADE CHIEF OF POLISH ARMY

By Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN France, Monday, Oct. 7.—Within the sound of the roar of the artillery at the front but in a tree dotted part of France unmarred by battle, General Polo, who as a captain in the Austrian army fought against the Russians in 1914, was sworn in Sunday as commander in chief of the Polish army.

"Y" Becomes Biggest Vaudeville Booking Agency in the World

Supplies Free Entertainment for Soldiers in Training Throughout the Country—Jugglers and Former Presidents, Bishops and Clog Dancers, Grand Opera Stars and Blackface Comedians Are All Jumbled Together on Programs.

ANY booking agency able to route over its chain of theatres such "acts" as Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President of the United States, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., William H. Taft, Mme. Louise Homer and others on the entertainment and educational rosters of the Eastern Department of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., would proclaim all over the world that it was the biggest booking agency on earth and handled the greatest "talent" obtainable. Yet the Red Triangle has gone quietly ahead and in the space of half a year has built up an organization that sends 1,200 "acts" a month to the training camps, aviation fields, forts, navy yards, battlefields, etc., to entertain and instruct our soldiers, sailors and marines.

Attractions Are Varied. In the Y. M. C. A. booking office's roster of attractions appear such other names as Charles S. Whitman, governor of New York, organist, famous violinist; Countess Turczanowicz, the National Quartette, the Orpheus Four, John Maschell Major Boehme, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Dr. N. Slattery,

Mr. John Watson, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, S. S. McClure, Job Hedges, Rev. Charles A. Eaton, Jack Ross, E. M. Beck and many others. All departments of the Y. M. C. A. corresponding to the military departments of the country, are booking attractions for the camps month by month. Securing such talent as his camp needs for that month. If the boys have liked a stage act to hear it again, the secretary wants the request and the booking office does its best to comply with it. The camp secretary has the right to reject any act booked for his camp.

Results Checked Up. The office keeps a record of every act booked. The camp secretary reports back to Mr. Richards on the quality of each act, lecture or sermon and whether the boys enjoyed it or not. It also reports on the camp, the service being done there and "taps" and away from associations that might tend to undermine his morals or his physical strength. It also keeps his people up to a high pitch and in this belief the government has turned over to the Red Triangle the task of instructing and entertaining the man in uniform as well as ministering to his spiritual needs when he makes request for it.

Must Amuse Soldiers. Clean, high class entertainment has recently come to be regarded as a necessity for the man with the colors. It keeps him amused and entertained in his leisure hours and that dangerous period between the hour of five in the afternoon and "taps" and away from associations that might tend to undermine his morals or his physical strength. It also keeps his people up to a high pitch and in this belief the government has turned over to the Red Triangle the task of instructing and entertaining the man in uniform as well as ministering to his spiritual needs when he makes request for it.

Americans Reach Objective. American troops, with the French have struck the German lines east of the Meuse river north of Verdun and have carried the villages of Charny, Trabant, Haumont, Consenvoye and Aumont, lying just to the east of the river. This attack was carried out with such force that the objectives assigned for the troops were reached. At last reports the Germans were being driven slowly back, desperately fighting.

Most of the Meuse there has been no fighting, but no significant advances have been made during the past day. The American progress along the eastern edge of the Argonne forest has been reported. The Germans into a narrow strip of the forest from which it seems, his egress is pretty well barred.

Disparities from Berne state that the French cabinet has resigned and there is great excitement in Constantinople. This may be an indication of the early withdrawal of Turkey from the war. Allied forces operating in the region of Damascus have scored another success and have captured many prisoners as well as valuable booty.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK

The Chalet is a Welcome Sight to Tired Travelers

A Park of Beautiful Lakes, Mighty Peaks, Glistening Glaciers, Rushing Rivers, Wild Mountain Gorges and Quiet Valleys—A Never-Ending Delight To the Tourist

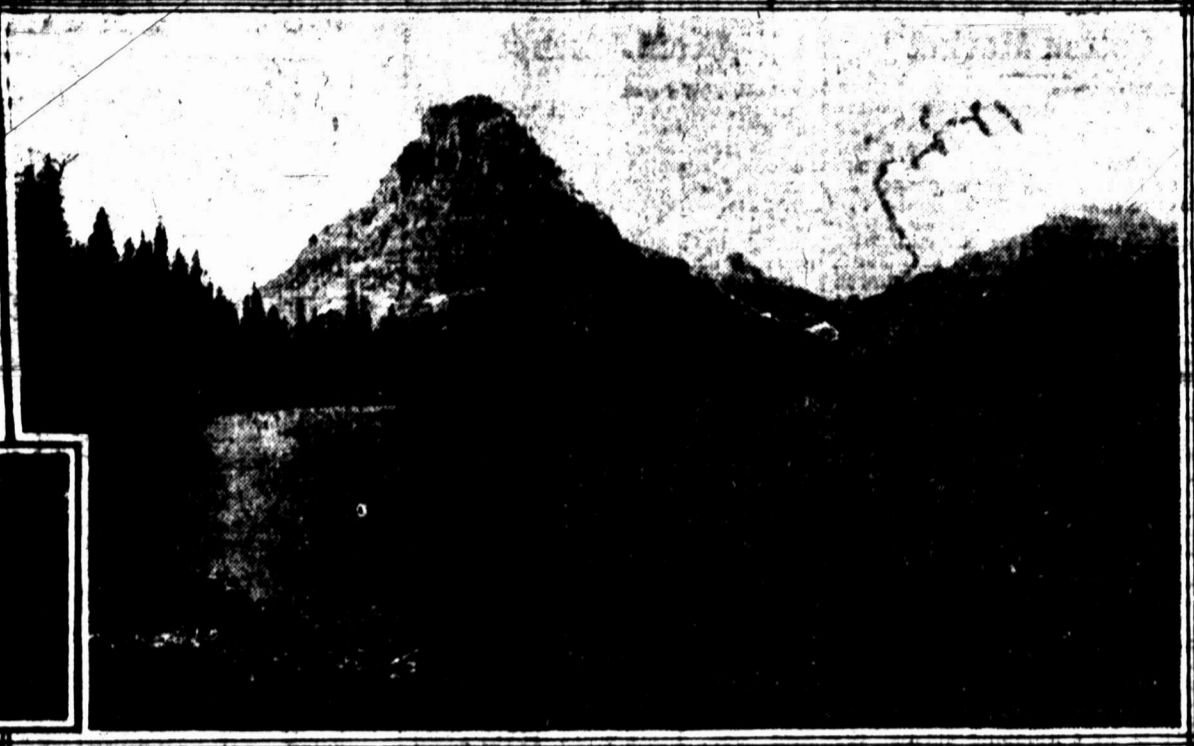

IF YOU WOULD know somewhat of the beauty of a Rocky Mountain region which until a few years ago was unscathed by hunters and trappers so to the Montrose Review, where because of the continuous divide they uplift to two miles above the sea, and are wonderfully sculptured by mighty glaciers. You can enjoy the pleasures of hiking, horseback riding or automobiling and launching in this Glacier National Park. You may snowball in midsummer, watch Mr. Rocky M. Goat as he grazes on the mountain sides, go into paths that lead through woods thick with wild flowers, skim over the surface of mile high lakes, scale the Rocky Mountain divide and climb glaciers, and you can sleep outdoors or in Swiss-patterned chalets built of logs. You can spend a summer or a day.

Walking Tours

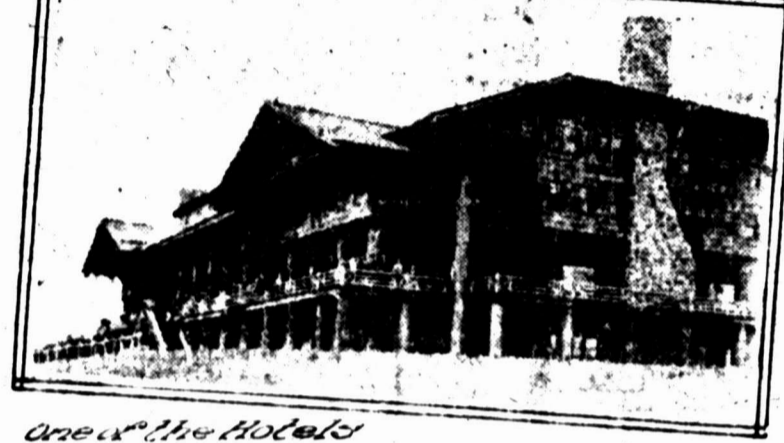

Of all our National Parks probably Glacier offers as fine or better facilities for walking tours. When the park was opened to the public, the chalets or small log huts were placed at scenic points about a day's distance from each other, and a hiker, seasoned or unseasoned, can walk from one to the other with enough comfort so that tours afoot have become popular. Some persons stay over night at the chalets, others take their hotel with them—in other words they carry their own tenting and culinary outfit, pitch the tent wherever they desire and follow no hard and fast rules or a pack horse can be obtained to carry impedimenta. Most of the trips where the chalets are reached by night are from nine to twenty miles. A good walker can do this in from five to ten hours and some persons go every summer in parties and spend ten to sixteen days going into the park one way and coming out another. Those who do not care for hiking can join a horseback party, where the expenses of guide and pack horse are divided among the party or they can cover the ground by automobile, take the launch on the lakes and make side trips from the hotels to nearby attractions.

Glacier National Park has comfortable hotels and chalet groups, ten in all, situated at various scenic features. At the east entrance a large hotel fashioned of big timbers and so suggestive of the forest motif that the Blackfoot Indians call it the Great Tree Lodge. Outside and in, the trunks of massive fir trees have been utilized and twenty-four trees form two feet in height and four feet in diameter, with bark retained, serve as pillars in the lobby. A buffalo skin tepee, for centuries the council lodge of the Blackfoot tribe is pitched upon one of the balconies, and there is a unique indoor camp fire arranged by setting a bed of bricks in the lobby's floor so that logs of pine can merrily crackle and whisk their smoke roofward through a steel track. Another unique hotel in the heart of the park's fastnesses is at Many Glacier. Here, built in the very heart of the Rockies out of spruce and balsam hewed and sawed on the shores of Lake McDermott is a hotel fitted with every comfort, unique in its quaint Alpine fashion. There are Japanese rooms, a camp fire, and the decorations in the dining room were painted by Medicine Owl and eleven other Blackfoot chiefs and depict the history of the Blackfoot nation.

Cottage Villages

Besides these two large hotels there are eight cottage villages in the park. Each of these villages is made up of chalets like those in the Alps. A lounge or dining chalet forms the principal unit and clustered around are dormitory chalets—some two and some three-roomed. All are built of logs, with log-banded ceilings, massive stone fireplaces and Indian blankets on the walls. Glacier Park has two lakes on which are boats—St. Mary's Lake and Lake McDermott. It must not be supposed that these two lakes are all that are in Glacier Park, there are probably three hundred but these are located off the main trails. There are many side trips from the camps which ought to be taken and for this reason it is desirable to remain two or more days at each camp, if one would in a measure understand this park. A horse costs from three to four dollars a day and the expense of a guide is usually shared by several persons who make up a party. There are nine scheduled horseback trips from Many Glacier hotel, at least five of such trips from Going-to-the-Sun camp and several from the other camps. Iroquois Lake, Avalanche Lake and other attractions are seen in this way. By all means you should see Iroquois Lake, for in a secluded spot with walls half a mile in height near a small glacier, is this lake filled with small blocks of ice, which float about in midsummer though at least six-sevenths of each iceberg is submerged.

Covers 1400 Square Miles

Nature has been so lavish in this fourteen hundred square miles of the range of the Rockies that it is no wonder that legends of the Indians are clustered about it and that they thought it a fit place for the immortal gods to dwell. Here, many moons ago the great medicine men withdrew to hold councils of war, here they smoked the pipe of peace and lived in harmony and as the towering peaks, crystal lakes and roaring cataracts cast their spell over them, they gave various names which were significant of the power and reverence for the Almighty to the more pronounced of Nature's images. There are fourteen hundred square miles of the range of the Rockies in the park and the extreme ruggedness of mountains makes magnificent peaks which tower thousands of feet in the air. This ruggedness is largely due to the work of ancient glaciers, remnants of which can be visited. Year after year as more snow fell and melted it has been transformed into moving ice, and at the present time there are ninety known glaciers varying in size from a few acres to six square miles.

Some of these glaciers moving from high mountains head large amphitheatres or cirques. Many of these cirques are empty, others are occupied by little lakes from which in some instances the waters spill into the valleys below. Iroquois Lake is on one of these cirques. At Lake McDermott there are falls running from a chain of lofty mountains bearing snow fields and glistening glaciers. Imagine wild mountain gorges, rushing rivers and waterfalls, valleys clothed in wild flowers—in all there are seventeen of these large valleys, and lakes reflecting the clouds and mountain peaks. Picture all this—and then some summer go there. You will laugh at yourself as you realize you had not begun to imagine its beauties.

Lakes 400 Feet Deep

Some noted geologists have spent summer after summer studying the different features. Owing to the large number of lakes all have not been studied, but geologists have visited many and taken soundings and studied the life of the waters. In this way the depths of Lake McDermott, Avalanche Lake, McDermott and Alyn Lakes, Grinnell Lake, Iroquois Lake, St. Mary Lakes, Goodright Lake are known and some are nearly four hundred feet deep. These lakes are the supreme glory of the region. There are many stories that these mountains, glaciers and lakes could tell of how this region was made. One, it was covered with water probably the sea. Perhaps due to pressure, the bottom of the sea rose and became dry land, and then as the pressure continued and the earth's crust bulged, there came mountains. Peaks, precipices and gorges followed and upon them fell the snows and rains of countless centuries and then, ice and frost and rushing water caused an area of distinguished beauty.

The Blackfoot Indians

You may spend a day, a week or months and you will love it just as the Indians have done, for it was once their hunting ground, and it is probable there are small parts that have never been explored save by them. These Indians still live in the park during the summer and have homes Blackfoot Indian tribes are noted for their valor and though they have adopted many of the ways of civilization, the Braves and Warriors can be seen in their traditional costumes at the hotels and on the trails. The region, known to them, was not visited by white men until 1805 when a government engineer, exploring for a route to the Pacific, ascended that of the creeks by mistake and returned with word that no railroad could be built there. The next explorers were engineers who established the Canadian boundary line in 1861. Then copper was found and prospectors rushed there and in 1895 Congress bought the land from the Blackfoot Indians. The copper craze died down, big game hunters came and in 1910 it was made a National Park. It is a place of climaxes and surprises. The last camp fire is always left reluctantly. Donning city clothes and packing suitcases is a melancholy occasion even though one may leave with visions of rolling prairies where galliard, blue lupine, lavender bergamot, white Indian flower, suggested a marble carpet. Possibly you have studied the geology, botany and all the rest of the interesting features, but the chances are you have not. You have simply enjoyed yourself and that is the Alpha and Omega of Glacier National Park.

The Devil Don't With the Rifle is Giving a Fritz Right in the Adams' Apple—(a Rifle) Marines Bayonet Practice Back of the Lines in France

Thorough Training in Bayonet Work Given the Marines Before They Depart for France To "Stick" the Huns

IN HIS HILARIOUS account of his experiences abroad as a war correspondent, Ring Lardner, the you-know-me Al humorist, tells of meeting an American captain at an A. E. F. trench school in France, who spoke in complimentary terms of the French tutelage given the American warriors. "They've been more than diligent with us," Lardner, in his book, "My Four Weeks in France," quotes the officer as saying. "They've never shown impatience when we failed to grab their point, but have gone over it and over it till we've learned it to our hearts' content. The difference in language makes it hard sometimes to get what they're after, but they eventually make to make themselves understood. The only fault I have to find with them is that they don't give us credit for knowing anything at all. They tell us this thing's a rifle, and the thing on the end of it is a bayonet, and so forth."

That may have been the state of mind of the French when the first American troops were turned over to them for final training on French soil. But the United States Marines, fresh from their unique course of overseas training at the Marine Corps camp at Quantico, Va., have helped to convince their blue devil pals that some things need not be told to the Marines.

Experienced "stick-up" men are as soon as the Marine Corps established its "Frisco" camp at Quantico shortly after war was declared, modern bayonet instruction was made part of the course. Canadian veterans who themselves had gone over the top and had done their share of sticking up the Hunns were brought to Quantico as instructors. They had been through the real thing, and could speak to their new brother-in-arms from experience as well as with authority.

Marines in training now get the rudiments of bayonet art even earlier in the game, for bayonet schools flourish at all the recruit camps at Paris Island, S. C., and Mare Island, Cal., doing their part to speed up the intensive training that the Soldiers of the Sea are undergoing to make them efficient in modern warfare in the shortest possible time.

Fighting with the bayonet is not at all the genteel parlor game of heavy weight fencing that "bayonet exercise" used to be. It took the Huns to make the civilized nations realize that the evolution of warfare, scientifically developed, must inevitably circle back to the first principles of primitive combat. Knife to knife and club to club, fighters now fight much as they did before the dawn of civilization.

So the bayonet has ceased to be merely a glittering ornament at the end of a rifle. Bayonet drill has developed a purpose far beyond its quite recent function as merely a form of physical exercise. The pretty evolutions that used to be part of the infantry's fancy and spectacular "bayonet drill" are forgotten, and the bayonet, no longer an ornament, has become an ever-useful and super-deadly weapon.

Know How, Or Get Killed

"The hardest job in camp," is what the young Marines at Paris Island call the bayonet training there. They get introduced to it when they are about four weeks out of civilian life. "If you don't know, you get killed," is the cheerful slogan that is impressed on the minds of the recruits, orally and by placards conspicuously displayed.

It does not take the recruits long to see that this is indeed serious as well as strenuous business, and the "spirit of the bayonet" is quickly assimilated. Long and short thrust, high and low party, butt strokes and the various other positions in advance are taught the Marines, and this is followed by charging and jumping in and out of trenches with fixed bayonets.

With the abounding energy and strength that Marine Corps training induces, the devil dogs catch the knack of adding to their hand and foot work the terrifying war cry of the Marine on destruction bent. This yelling, the officers from over their shoulders, is essential in putting fear into the heart of the Hun. Bayonet training continues from now on. If a Marine is selected for the school for non-commissioned officers, he gets it every day, and is brought to the point where he can qualify as a bayonet instructor.

At Quantico, where Marines selected for overseas duty are transferred after completing their recruit training, fresh inspiration comes from bayonet instructors who have handled bayonets with blood on them.

"You've got to know, and know immediately, and then do it—quick!" said one Canadian veteran instructing a group of Marines there. "If you don't get your man, he'll get you. Remember that. And if you take time to fool with him, another Fritz will come along and get you. There's no time for sparring. You've got to get your man with the first jab, know how to get your point out of the body, and go along to the next."

Stick 'Em in the Neck

"Stick your man in the neck. If you can, rather than in the stomach. It scares a man extra bad to see the blade coming at his face. And if you go for his stomach he's likely to grab the bayonet and deflect it or keep it from going deep enough."

The Canadian picked up a rifle with fixed bayonet and thrust it close to the stomach of one of the Marines.

"You don't mind that, do you?" he inquired.

Suddenly he poked it about an inch short of the Marine's chin. The youngster jumped back six feet.

"You see, there's a difference in the feel of it," laughed the Canadian. "Another advantage is that all it takes in the neck is a couple of inches, and the point comes out easily. Stick a man in the stomach and it takes all your strength to pull free, and you have to use your foot, too."

"Never cant your rifle. If you don't pull it out at the same angle that it went in, you're done for. You can't believe, until you have felt it, what great resistance a body offers to the extraction of a bayonet."

After hearing a few eyewitness stories of the treachery of the German, the importance of "doing them in" is impressed on the students and they go to it at the advanced instruction with deadly determination.

Forms of Bayonet Drill

Bayonet instruction at Quantico is in four distinct forms. One is a modification of the old bayonet exercise, to which have been added some new British movements. It limbers up to swinging the Marine, and accustoms him to swinging a rifle and holding it properly. Another is against stuffed dummies, giving the Marines experience in making thrusts into an opponent. A third employs animated dummies, which makes the student use defensive as well as offensive tactics. The fourth is mimic bayonet duels between living opponents.

The second and third bayonet drills, against dummies, are used in trench practice. Members of the "enemy" are strung on scaffolding about seventy-five yards beyond the Marines' trenches, and in front of opposing trenches, where more dummies lie in wait. At command the Marines

INSIGHT TO COST OF MAINTAINING AMERICAN ARMY

GOVERNMENT SPENDS AN ENORMOUS SUM FOR FOOD ALONE.

CLOTHING A BIG ITEM

American Soldier is Highest Paid Fighting Man in the Entire World.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Why does it cost the United States so much more to make war than it costs any of its co-belligerents?

What is being done with the tens of billions being raised from Liberty Bonds and taxation? One often hears these questions.

The answer is not difficult. It is, simply, that it costs an American more to do anything than it costs anyone else in the world. That is the best reason why Americans should buy Liberty Bonds.

The American army is composed of workmen. The American working man demands a higher standard of everything than any other working man in the world. When he becomes a soldier he carries that standard with him, and, comparatively, gets it.

Napoleon said, and everybody ever since has repeated, that an army travels on its stomach. So naturally the subsistence of the American soldier is the standard of the American and is rapidly running to $50,000,000 a day.

The regular list of the American army calls for forty-nine different items of food. It includes many things which are luxuries to the soldier. The figure is low because the government has the advantage of dealing in billions and tons where the individual deals in dollars and pounds. Even so the army has felt the increased cost of living because it cost only 12 1/2 cents a day to feed a soldier during the Spanish war.

Take into account the almost staggering sums the government has spent for food alone since the war began: $7,000,000 worth of flour, $1,000,000 worth of sugar, $42,000,000 worth of bacon, $12,000,000 worth of beans, $30,000,000 worth of canned tomatoes, $20,000,000 worth of rice. It sounds almost like a good bill for a nation.

Without any disparagement whatever of the rationing system of the co-belligerents it may be said that while the food of the British soldier compares favorably with that of his American cousin, the French ration is less acceptable to the American and that of the Italians would get a very cold reception.

The equipment of the American soldier is no less up to standard than his food. Since the beginning of the war the government has spent $25,000,000 for shoes. Only recently a contract was let which is intended to keep every soldier with two pairs.

For marching and one for general wear. The price in quantity of millions was well over $5 a pair. Old soldiers of the regular army can remember when the government issued "brogans" far removed in quality from the army shoes of today.

The American soldier's clothing so far has cost around $500,000,000. For his blankets the government has spent $1,000,000,000. Everything else is in proportion for in every particular of his equipment the government has supplied the soldier with the same relative high standard he was accustomed to at home in civil life. The extra cost of maintaining an army of foreign soil has entered into the huge bill because it has been found that it costs $425.27 to equip and maintain a soldier a year abroad as against $27.75 at home. Of this sum $25.00 goes for food. The rationing expenses at home is $189.80.

The high standard has been carried to the soldiers pay. For all practical purposes of estimate the American soldier is the highest paid fighting man in the world. He actually gets more than the average German of 100 cents. To the $30 a month a private receives from the government is added a sum of money in the amount of $1000 upon their condition and number of dependents and the other British colonies more nearly approximate the pay of the American soldier than any other of the co-belligerents.

Taking into consideration all these things it is not strange that America's war bill is greatest.

HERBERT HUGHES DIES IN DALLAS AT 3 THIS MORNING

SUCCUMBS TO ATTACK OF PNEUMONIA FOLLOWING SPANISH INFLUENZA.

FORMERLY LIVED HERE

General Manager of Blair-Hughes Company at Dallas at Time of His Death.

Herbert M. Hughes, vice president and general manager of Blair-Hughes Grocery Company, for a number of years a resident of Wichita Falls, died at 3 o'clock this morning in his home in Dallas of Spanish influenza, which developed into pneumonia.

HERBERT M. HUGHES

Hughes, Mrs. Irene Foster, sister-in-law of Mrs. Wiley Blair, Sr., and G. T. Drinkard left this morning and Mrs. Frank Keil and daughter, Mrs. Orville Bullington, left this afternoon.

Mr. Hughes was about 35 years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, formerly Josephine Blair, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Blair, to whom he was married in this city about ten years ago, and two daughters, Josephine and Mildred. His widowed mother, who makes her home in Kentucky and several brothers also survive. His mother was with him when death came, having been summoned to his bedside when his condition became alarming. One of his brothers is serving with the American expeditionary forces.

For about five years, Mr. Hughes had been in Dallas, acting as manager of the central Blair-Hughes house, and during his residence there he has taken a leading part in civic affairs and was recognized as one of the most able and influential business men in Dallas, in fact in the state. He was president of the Texas Grocers' Association and vice president of the Dallas Street Railway Company, and was closely associated in numerous other business and civic enterprises in Dallas. He had been associated with Mr. Blair in the wholesale grocery business since his having entered his employ in his early teens. He was a member of the business and professional associations of Dallas, and was a member of the local chapter of the Red Cross.

During the past year he had taken a leading part in the various war activities in Dallas and it was during his work as one of the district chairmen for the Fourth Liberty Loan that he contracted the fatal illness. There are many friends of Herbert M. Hughes in Wichita Falls who regretted his moving to Dallas, when his promotion took him there, but who rejoiced in his success, and who will now mourn his loss sorely, and extend the deepest sympathy to his stricken family.

SPECIAL CARE IS REQUIRED OF ALL LOCAL DAIRYMEN

Special care must be used by dairymen who supply milk to Wichita Falls during the present influenza epidemic, according to the city health officer, and the city food inspector, Mrs. T. B. Smock, as milk is one of the best means of communication of germs, especially these germs. Notices are being sent to dairymen today that all milk distributed for consumption in Wichita Falls must be in bottles which have been sterilized, the section which governs sterilizing of milk being quoted as follows:

"They shall not use the pails, cans or other necessary articles which come in contact with the milk, unless the same shall have been thoroughly washed in clean, hot water and soap, or hot water and soda, and shall be afterward sterilized in boiling water or steam."

No laxity to be tolerated. No laxity can be tolerated at this time, the inspector stated, as carelessness in obeying the law may mean lives lost. The notice also contains a quotation from the section covering the delivery of milk to premises where there is any infectious or contagious disease. The section follows: "In delivering any kind of quality of milk or cream to any house, room or building in which any person therein is suffering from any contagious or infectious disease, the party so delivering shall not knowingly enter the premises where such house, room or building is situated, neither shall he permit his bottles of milk or cream or other vessels to be taken into such premises, but he shall pour such milk or cream into such vessels furnished by the persons receiving it or at such premises or not otherwise."

Yarn Is Received By Local Red Cross For Sweater Work

The knitting yarn for sweaters has been received by the local Red Cross chapter, and all those desiring to help by knitting will please call for the yarn. The call for the sweaters to be finished as soon as possible is very urgent as the long delay in getting them over to the soldiers before the cold weather sets in. Also all those wishing to donate time for the hospitals will please send them in as soon as possible as the local chapter is still short of their quota of hand towels, bath towels, handkerchiefs and sheets.

Archer County Well Has Reached Sand Is Reported Today

The well on the W. L. This is much the best as it is a wild cat, and may be expected to cause considerable activity in this vicinity.

C. A. DUNKELBERG DIES WHILE VISITING IN WACO

C. A. Dunkelberg, oil operator from Fort Wayne, Ind., who had made Wichita Falls his headquarters for the past year, died Tuesday in Waco, where he and Mrs. Dunkelberg had gone to visit a son at Camp MacArthur. Mr. Dunkelberg was stricken with paralysis according to information received by friends here, and lived only a short time. His body will be taken to Fort Wayne for burial.

When you find it wise to stop coffee for a few days on account of disturbed digestion or too much nerves, switch to Postum and note the result.
Many people who love their coffee follow this plan with excellent results.
Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal which must be boiled, and Instant Postum, made in the cup in a moment. They are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.
