WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 28.—The American long range guns this afternoon began firing on Longuyon.

The town of Longuyon is 28 miles northeast of Verdun. The American long range gun also is being directed against the vital Voie De Rocade on the railway line paralleling the front. The Germans are depending on this road to shift their troops and supplies from one point to another.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—British troops in their offensive on the Austro-Italian front up to last night had captured more than 5,600 prisoners according to an official statement issued today by the war office. The British who captured 29 guns including six 9-inch howitzers.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Oct. 28.—(Reuters)—General Debeney's army has won a signal victory. The German forces holding the Serre-Oise front are in retreat and the whole German line between Chateau Porcien and the Argonne is in danger of being turned.

Persistent attacks by General Debeney's indefatigable infantry has broken the river line, which is the last water line commanded by the enemy between the present front and the Meuse.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 28.—Belleau wood, east of the Meuse is finally and completely in American hands after strenuous fighting for several days. The wood was taken in a successful local attack last Sunday.

Fighting is still taking place in the eastern portion of Ormont wood in the same region.

Day's War Developments

By Associated Press. Austria-Hungary's close upon the heels of Germany's request for Allied armistice terms, replies to President Wilson's note of October 19, declares her readiness to negotiate a peace and an immediate armistice on all the Austro-Italian fighting fronts.

The Austrian government also says it accepts all the views expressed by the President. This would indicate that Austria is willing to have the Czech-Slovaks and Jugo-Slavs determine the measure of independence they desire from the Hapsburg monarchy, but with the text of reply not yet received, this point is not clear.

No Reply to Germany. Allied reply to Germany concerning armistice terms has not yet been announced. The text of the German note has been received in Washington, but it is indicated that the President probably will not reply to the German government, whose note is looked upon as an acknowledgment of the President's latest note.

On the fighting front in France activity has died down greatly except on the front of the French armies between the Oise and the Aisne. There has been no change in Belgium and the British on the vital sectors, about Valenciennes, have halted their strong attacks for the moment.

Field Marshal Haig's men have repulsed a German attempt to drive them from Farnars, south of Valenciennes, where the British outflanked that town. Further south the British have pushed closer to the Morval forest.

British Gain Further Ground. North of Valenciennes toward Tournai the British have gained further ground north of the Raimes forest.

General Debeney's First French army continues to press the Germans back between the Oise and the Serre. Unofficially they are reported in the outskirts of Guise and along the road between Guise and the important railroad point of Marle, toward which General Mangin is advancing east of the Serre. Further east toward the Aisne, the Germans are reported to be retiring before the continued French pressure.

Fighting continued in the Italian theater with the British extending their line east of the Piave in the region of Asiago where they have advanced more than two miles from the river. In these operations the British have captured more than 5,600 prisoners. Vienna reports the recapture of Monte Asolone between the

ACCEPTS ALL TERMS OF PRESIDENT WILSON

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 28.—Austria, in her reply to President Wilson, accepts all the views expressed by the President in his note of October 19. Austria says she is willing and ready and without waiting the result of other negotiations, to negotiate a peace and an immediate armistice on all Austro-Hungarian fronts. Austro-Hungary in notifying president Wilson that it is ready to enter upon peace negotiations and arrange an armistice, asks President Wilson, in its reply to him, to begin overtures on the subject.

Austro-Hungarian foreign minister instructed the Austro-Hungarian minister at Stockholm yesterday to ask the Swedish government to send the note to Washington government. In his reply to Austria-Hungary October 19, President Wilson said that since his speech of January 8, the fourteen points of which were accepted by Austria, the United States had recognized the Czech-Slovaks as a belligerent and had recognized the aspirations of Jugo-Slavs for freedom. He continued:

"The president is therefore no longer at liberty to accept the mere 'autonomy' of these peoples as a basis of peace, but is obliged to insist that they and not he shall be the judges of what action on the part of the Austro-Hungarian government will satisfy their aspiration and their conception of their rights and destiny as members of the family of nations."

In the last few days it has been reported that the Czechs were in complete control in Bohemia. It also has been reported that the Jugo-Slav nations have taken steps to throw off the yoke of Austria and establish a free state.

TEXT OF AUSTRIA'S NOTE. BASEL, SWITZERLAND, Oct. 28.—The text of the Austrian reply to President Wilson reads: "In reply to the note of President Wilson of the 19th of this month, addressed to the Austro-Hungarian government and giving the decision of the President to speak directly with the Austro-Hungarian government on the question of an armistice and of peace, the Austro-Hungarian government has the honor to declare that it equally with the preceding proclamations of the President, it adheres also the same point of view contained in the last note upon the rights of the Austro-Hungarian people, especially those of the Czech-Slovaks and the Jugo-Slavs."

GERMANY ASKS FOR ARMISTICE TERMS IN LATEST NOTE

President Wilson's latest note, asserting that the negotiations for peace are being conducted by a people's government with actual and constitutional powers and that the terms of the American and Allied governments for an armistice are awaited, reached the Swiss legation today by cable. The communication is regarded here merely as an acknowledgment of the president's note with an indication of the anxious desire of those now in power at Berlin to hasten the coming of a definite statement of the terms upon which their enemies will permit hostilities to cease. The president is expected to make no rejoinder. His personal exchanges with the German authorities, officials said today, ended when he transmitted the correspondence to the Allies. The next step must be on the part of the co-belligerents acting in concert. "Frederick Oederlin, charge of the Swiss legation, delivered the German note at the state department at three o'clock this afternoon. It was said not to differ materially from the wireless version.

MARY PICKFORD STARS IN BRAINERD'S FAMOUS NOVEL

The legion of admirers of Mary Pickford will find her new Artcraft photoplay "How Could You Jean?" showing at the Majestic today and Tuesday. The charming photoplay is based upon the novel of the same name by Eleanor Hoyt Brainerd, published serially some time ago, in a leading magazine and later appearing in book form with great success. Jean becomes a cook in a literary family, living in the country, and her leisure hours are devoted largely to repelling the unwelcome attentions of Oscar, a house servant, and to confounding her petty troubles with Henrietta, the new governess. Arrival of Convoy Of American Troops An Inspiring Scene

Associated Press Mail Correspondent.
AMERICAN NAVAL BASE, FRANCE, Oct. 21.—The latest convoy of American transport arrived at noon today, and it was an inspiring scene to see this stately procession under the bright midday sun, with a stiff breeze whipping the flags, the decks crowded with American soldiers, and the piers and castle walls black with cheering people, as the fleet moved majestically past the outer capes to the sheltered inside harbor. Often the entrance is under cover of darkness, to cheat the submarines which have appeared of late off the harbor mouth. But the entrance today was in broad daylight, so that the whole city had a chance to turn out and see the sight.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN "A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS"

Constance Talmadge's latest Select Picture, "A Pair of Silk Stockings," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick, and which will appear at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, is a breezy, whimsical story, brimful of fun, and starts off with a quarrel between two young English married people over which make of motor car they should buy. Swiftly the quarrel explodes, like the rippling from a pebble thrown in a lake, and soon they are divorced. Later they meet at a country house, for Mollie having bought the wrong make of car, breaks down, and finds herself put up at the house where her ex-husband is guest. Sam is just about to take part in amateur theatricals and made up in his costume he seeks out Mollie's room to patch up their quarrel. Before Mollie's arrival the room had been occupied by Bagnal, who now returns. Mollie isn't there when Sam enters her room and he hides in the closet. Bagnal, however, returns via the window and encounters Mollie. During their conversation Mollie remarks that she still loves Sam who registers joy so noisily in his hiding place that the two rush to see who is concealed. Dragged out, and unrecognized, they find Sam with the first thing attainable, a pair of Mollie's best silk stockings. Then locking him in the bathroom, Mollie explains to the guests the cause of the disturbance. Meanwhile, Sam flees, and returns to the assembly in his own attire plus the silk stockings. When Mollie discovers her stocking on Sam, the mystery is cleared.

A thrilling love story of Hun spies, a brave man and a beautiful girl—read what the big New York papers had to say about this best picture William S. Hart ever made.

"Rialto melodrama is screen at best. Five reels pass like one in 'The Border Wireless,' with William S. Hart."—The New York Sun.

"The best picture that William S. Hart has made is being shown at the Rialto this week. It is called 'The Border Wireless.' The way the various scenes were worked up, and the suspense which is felt, make the picture one of the best things of the kind done on the screen."—The New York Tribune.

"Hart again scores. William S. Hart, in 'The Border Wireless,' yesterday, packed the Rialto. Hart, the familiar hair-trigger hero, this time running down a band of German spies. His appearance as a U. S. soldier was a pleasant change. William Lawley unusually charming. The craftsmanship of the production is of the usual excellent standard."—The New York Evening Mail.

"The film fan's best bet is the Hart picture, 'The Border Wireless.' He throws a glamour over 'The Border Wireless' that makes it different from the ordinary spy play."—The New York Globe.

In the neighborhood of Valenciennes, the British are still fighting their way ahead but their progress over the restricted front between Mormal forest and the bend of the Scheidt is quite slow.

There is no evidence of lowered morale in the savage resistance of the Austrians before the Italian attack in the Brenna and Piave sectors in Italy.

Dallas Man of 74 Has Volunteered For Messenger Service

DALLAS, TEX., Oct. 28.—The blue and gray, reminiscent of the war between the states have been welded together here into the swiftest uniform that ever graced Dallas streets. The new combination is the result of the patriotic desire of W. W. Ough, a member of Forrest's Cavalry corps, to actively serve his country to the best of his ability. Mr. Ough offered his services when the immense increase in telegraph business threatened to hamper the government camps and the local business men for the want of messenger boys. Not enough boys could be had for love or money and the telegraph company sought to solve the problem by the use of girl messengers. Ough's response to an appeal to make the sight of a man in a Western Union cap on top of the regular feminine garb, a familiar figure but still there were not enough to handle the business, so the Confederate Veteran volunteered. He wears the dignified gray uniform of the Confederate Army in which the familiar blue cap gives an indescribably raucous taint. Mr. Ough's service is purely one of patriotism for he is a man of comfortable means. In addition to the task of delivering messages, he has recruited a number of men of his own age into the service. He is 74 years old.

NOTED EVANGELIST TO TELL OF WORK OF WAR SOCIETIES

GYPSY SMITH TO SPEAK AT THE OPERA HOUSE AT 8 O'CLOCK.

Tonight Gypsy Smith will tell his Wichita Falls audience of the great meeting of the various war organizations which the United War Work campaign is representing have proven to the soldiers at the front and he will speak from a store of personal knowledge gained from four years at the actual fighting front with the Y. M. C. A. which with six other war work organizations is conducting the approaching drive for campaign funds for the past year. The famous evangelist will speak at eight o'clock at the Wichita Theater and the program will be free to all. No admission charge and no collection taken and the local committee, Norris H. Martin, chairman, invites everyone interested in any way in the life of the soldier abroad and in the camp at home to be present.

Too Old to Fight. Gypsy Smith told an audience in Dallas that he was speaking from an incredible distance which prevented him from actually fighting in the trenches, so he did the next best thing, went to the front to do war work. He explained that the inspiration from which he was speaking was also coming from other words that he was born too soon. But his mature age and his wonderful effectiveness as an evangelist, who rose from the depths of the London slums in the presence of evangelistic work, with a record for personal work, and reputation of being a brilliant speaker made it possible for him to serve the soldiers, if he could not be one of them. And the story that he has to tell is a marvelous one, according to those reports wherever he has spoken.

Volunteers His Services. When the United War Work campaign was planned Gypsy Smith volunteered his services for work, and came to this country direct to the front. He has been assigned to work for the campaign and Wichita Falls is one of the first cities in his territory. G. P. Johnson, secretary of the local committee, who is in charge of that body to the campaign committee for the southern department and who is executive secretary for the department of organization, has heard the noted evangelist speak on several occasions and deems that he is the finest war work speaker he has heard, and that he knows his audience in an unusual manner. Mr. Johnson is here today for the purpose of being with Mr. Smith and he urges that the audience be as large as possible.
