GERMANS GO FOR PEACE TERMS REPUBLICANS ARE IN CONTROL

INDICATIONS POINT TO G.O.P. HOUSE MAJORITY; SENATE IS IN DOUBT

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The republicans have reversed the democratic control of the House on the face of the incomplete returns up to 3 p. m. today.
 At that hour both the republicans and the democrats were claiming a majority of the Senate. Returns indicated that the membership of this body would be close and possibly a tie in which event Vice President Marshall would have the deciding vote.
 With 17 districts missing, the republicans apparently had succeeded in filling 225 of the total number, 435, of the seats in the House.
 The democrats seemed assured of 191 seats, the socialists one, and the independents one.
 The Senate race was in doubt at 3 p. m. The democrats had seated 45 on the face of the returns up to that time and the republicans a similar number. Reports from six of the contests were still incomplete with returns so far favoring three republicans and three democrats.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the democratic national committee this afternoon issued the following statement:
 "Reports received up to 2 p. m. indicate that the democrats will control both the House and the Senate. While there have been some losses, there have been corresponding gains. The democratic majority in the Senate will be not less than two and probably four, while the democratic majority in the House will be between five and ten."

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Safe majorities for the republicans in both Houses of Congress were claimed by the republican national committee on the basis of returns to headquarters at ten o'clock this morning. These returns, Secretary James B. Reynolds said, showed fifty republican senators and 230 republican representatives with good prospects for larger majorities in both houses.
 (By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Republican national headquarters issued a statement early this afternoon claiming a majority of at least five and possibly six in the United States Senate.
 (By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Some well known figures in public life will be retired or at least have close shaves by yesterday's voting. Prominent among them are Senator Weeks, the junior republican senator from Massachusetts defeated by former Governor Walsh, democrat; Senator Lewis of Illinois, the democratic whip defeated by Representative Medill McCormick of Chicago; Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, president pro tempore of the senate, defeated by Senator Ball, republican, and Representative Sherman, democrat, of Kentucky, chairman of the appropriations committee.
 Folk Is Defeated.
 Joseph W. Folk, former governor of Missouri, and now chief counsel for the interstate commerce commission, running for senator, was defeated by Judge Spencer, the republican nominee.
 Out of 40 senators being elected 28 had been accounted for early today. They were:
 Alabama, Bankhead, democrat; Arkansas, Robinson, democrat; Delaware, Mills, republican; Georgia, Harris, democrat; Idaho, Borah, republican; Illinois, McCormick, republican; Iowa, Kenyon, republican; Kansas, Capper, republican; Louisiana, Ransdell, democrat; Maine, Fernald, republican; Massachusetts, Walsh, democrat; Minnesota, Nelson, republican; Mississippi, Harrison, democrat; Missouri, Spencer, republican; Nebraska, Norris, republican; New Hampshire, Morriss and Keyes, republicans; New Jersey, Edge (long term), and Bayard (short term) republicans; North Carolina, Simmons, democrat; Oregon, Mulkey (short term) republican; Rhode Island, Colt, republican; South Carolina, Dial (long term), Pollock (short term), democrats; South Dakota, Sterling, republican; Tennessee, Shields, democrat; Virginia, Martin, democrat.
 Cannon Is Returned.
 In the election for the House former Speaker Cannon was returned to his seat from Illinois for what will be his twenty-second term; Meyer London, the only socialist in the House was defeated by former Representative Henry M. Goldfogel, democrat.
 The loss of the socialist seat, however, was offset by the election of another socialist, Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, who defeated representative Stafford, a republican. Berger previously served in the House and at present is under indictment charged with having violated the espionage law.
 Senator Walsh of Montana is running ahead of republican and independent opponent.

WICHITA COUNTY DEMOCRATS FAIL TO GO TO POLLS

REPORTS INDICATE VOTE IN COUNTY FALL BELOW ONE THOUSAND.
AMENDMENTS CARRIED
 One Diversion Is Provided in Contest for Constable at Electra Box.
 Wichita county democrats generally failed to show enough appreciation to the administration to go to the polls Tuesday to vote. Incomplete returns indicate that less than a thousand votes were polled in the county. There were a few dozen republican votes and probably a dozen socialist votes in the county.
 Both the amendment to provide certain changes to permit the taking of depositions in criminal cases and the amendment to provide a special school tax and for free text books carried overwhelmingly in this county.
 The democratic county ticket was the only one offered the voters but at Electra Ike Parnell, the democratic nominee for constable was opposed by R. M. Ham, an independent candidate. Parnell received 110 votes and Ham 87.
 In practically every box there were a few votes who scratched Governor High and either who scratched Morley Sheppard for senator, so that these candidates ran a few votes behind the rest of the state ticket.
 In the City Hill box Governor Hobbs received 74 votes, the republican candidate 11, the socialist candidate 22 votes. The amendment to permit the use of depositions received 47 votes while 4 votes were cast against it. The amendment for free school books received 43 votes and 9 votes were against it.
 In box 12 the vote for governor was: Democrat, 128; republican 7; for deposition amendment 90, against 12; for school text amendment 36, against 9.
 In box 13 the democratic nominee for governor received 163 votes, the republican 8, 121 votes were cast for the deposition amendment and 11 against; 123 for the school book amendment and 13 against.
 At Electra the vote for governor was: democrat, 14; republican 14, socialist 3; for deposition amendment 36, against 6; for school book amendment 101, against 7.
 At Burkburnett 56 votes were polled for the deposition amendment 2 for the republican and 1 for the socialist. The vote for the deposition amendment was 25, against 6; for the school book amendment 30, against 11.
 Fifteen votes were polled for the republican nominee for governor at Cashlon, 2 for the republican. For the deposition amendment 9, against 1; for the school book amendment 14, against 1.

LEADS FOR GOVERNOR IN NEW YORK STATE

(By Associated Press.)
BASEL, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—The Berlin government has issued a manifesto signed by the imperial chancellor, Prince Max, the vice chancellor, Frederick von Payer and the secretaries of state appealing to the people to bear their hardships and assuring them that resolute work is being done for the transformation of Germany into a popular state, which will be behind no state in the world in liberty and social progress.
 The government and chiefs of the army and navy desire an early peace. "The German people in itself, in its future, a future of safety for Germany. That aim we have before our eyes. We must already begin to work for happiness, times to which the German nation has a right."
 "The new government is engaged in this work. Important work has already been done. Equal suffrage in Prussia is already assured. The new government has been formed of representatives of the majority parties in the reichstag.
 "The imperial chancellor and his colleagues require for continuance in office of confidence of the reichstag and of the nation. The fundamental rights have been transferred from the person of the kaiser to the representatives of the nation. Declaration of war and conclusion of peace require the sanction of the reichstag.
Change Being Made.
 (By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 5.—In appealing to the German people for support the Berlin government declares that it must have the confidence of the people and the reichstag in carrying out reforms. The government's manifesto, which was issued today, says that Germany is being changed to a democratic state, but if the transformation is to be a success there must be self discipline among the people.

SAY TERMS AWAITED WITH CALM DIGNITY
 (By Associated Press.)
BASEL, Sunday, Nov. 3.—An official statement from Berlin in announcing that the terms of the armistice for Germany had not arrived at the German capital up to today adds: "Whatever it may be, the message is awaited in Germany with calmness in conformity with our dignity. Truly there exists the right to ask how the delaying tactics of our adversaries can be reconciled with the speeches of the Entente's leaders, who recently reiterated that it would be a crime to prolong the bloodshed one hour longer than was absolutely indispensable."

ANOTHER ENEMY LINE SMASHED BY THE AMERICANS

NEW GOVERNMENT ISSUES APPEAL TO GERMAN CITIZENS

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 6.—The retreat of the Germans along the Meuse, Nov. 6.—Another formidable enemy defense line, on which the Germans planned to make a stand was smashed by the Americans late Tuesday when they captured the town of Betanne, in the bend of the Meuse, south of Mouscron. From Betanne the lines extended along the Meuse through Pouilly and Inor and eastward.
 This line was part of the new defenses along the Meuse from Stenay northward to Sedan. An elaborate trench system recently had been completed, along with numerous wire entanglements, concrete dugouts and pillboxes. The German positions were equipped with heavy machine guns, in some places the emplacements were only fifteen yards apart.
Resistance Stiffened.
 German resistance against American pressure west of the Meuse stiffened considerably today. The Germans are using artillery, gas and machine guns.
 The village of Beaumont where there are more than four hundred French civilians, is the particular target of the German attacks. All night the deluged Beaumont with poison gas.
 American troops continued the advance between the Meuse and the line moving forward at one place more than three miles.
American Still Driving.
 On the west bank of the Meuse, the Germans have been driven entirely from the Bois de Hespion, two miles north of Beaumont.
 Along the heights of the Meuse in the region of Saisy and between Milly and Dun the Americans made progress despite heavy machine gun and artillery resistance on the part of the Germans.
 The Germans continue their rear guard actions on the rugged hills and wooded districts east of the Meuse against which the Americans are advancing steadily.
 When they reached Chemery, the troops of the American first army had advanced slightly more than 21 miles since the offensive east of the Meuse began on September 26.

DELEGATION LEAVES BERLIN TODAY FOR THE WESTERN FRONT

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Nov. 6.—An official statement issued here today says: "A German delegation to conclude an armistice and take up peace negotiations has left for the western front."
 (By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 6.—The latest information regarding the military situation at Ghent goes to show that the Allies have reached the suburbs but that the town itself is still holding out.
 It is possible that like Lens, Ghent will hold out for some time until a successful encircling movement has been accomplished.
 extends northeast and north from one to three miles.
 As an indication of the plight of the retreating Germans it is known that on the entire western front the enemy has in reserve only one division which has been out of the battle one month, and four divisions which have been resting from two to four weeks. Two of the divisions are east of the Meuse.
 The Germans, it is believed, have used all their reserves on the front opposite the Americans, the last enemy division in reserve on this sector having been thrown in in the desperate effort to stem the American advances.
 (By Associated Press.)
AMSTERDAM, Nov. 5.—General E. G. Von Gruenell, Germany's military delegate to The Hague peace conference, General H. K. A. Von Winterfeldt, Admiral Meurer and Admiral Paul Von Hintze, former secretary of foreign affairs, have been appointed members of a commission to deal with the Allied powers on armistice negotiations.

HUNS ARE DEVASTATING COUNTRY IN THEIR RETREAT
 WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY on the Sedan Front, Nov. 6.—In their retreat east of the Meuse, according to reports reaching American headquarters the Germans are destroying property and cutting down trees along the roads. French aviators reported today that the highway from Stenay northward to Uilly-Sur-Chiers is blocked every few yards by the Allied guns. The destruction of the town begins just beyond Stenay and

AUSTRIANS LEAVE PEOPLE DESTITUTE AND MANY STARVING

(By Associated Press.)
ITALIAN HEADQUARTERS IN Eastern Italy, Nov. 6.—People living in the districts occupied by the Austrians east of the Piave river were left in a destitute condition when the Allied advance drove the enemy eastward. Major Julius Roth, chief of the traffic supply department of the American Red Cross, says that at Conegliano and Vittorio the population was starving when the American Red Cross trucks arrived.
 Many stories of Austrian brutality are being told. In numerous instances Italians who were taken prisoner were mutilated and murdered.

GERMANS REMIND ALLIES CIVILIANS IN VILLAGES

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE ALLIED ARMY IN France, Nov. 6.—In a wireless yesterday addressed to the French and American commanders, the Germans reminded the Allies that there were many civilians in the villages north of the roads. French aviators suggested that the artillery men be notified to this effect. None of the villages was named, however. The message was signed by the German field commander.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

British troops. The fighting there is apparently between German rear guards and the Allied forces for civilians are said to be close behind the lines and reports from Belgium watched the beginning of the assault against the city.
 Scheidt No Longer Protects.
 The line of the Scheidt is no longer any protection to the enemy in Belgium. It has been crossed everywhere from Ghent to Valenciennes and it is probable that Allied troops have been flung across the canal north of Ghent. Between Ghent and Brussels there is no great natural obstacle except the dense forest which will add to the difficulties in conducting defensive operations and it seems probable that the enemy will not turn at bay until he reaches the Namur-Brussels Antwerp line which is said to have been prepared for a grim struggle.
 American forces north of Verdun have crossed the Meuse at three places and have gained ground on the east side of the river. This advance is most important for it threatens the Sedan Longuyon line at a new point rather than from the east and west. The quantity of munitions which horses moved quickly under ordinary circumstances have fallen into the hands of the Allies.
 To the north Ghent is closely invested by the French, Belgian and

THREE AMERICANS GIVE THIAUCOURT GREATEST THRILL

By Associated Press.
WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES in France, Nov. 6.—It was three American privates who gave the French civilians of the German occupied village of Thiaucourt the greatest thrill of their lives. For four years they had been waiting—and then the Americans came.

When the three privates—an advance guard of swarms of other Americans in their wake—swung into the war-torn village of Thiaucourt, a soul was in the streets. But within a few minutes news spread among the seven hundred civilians that the Americans were there and men and women and children came in droves from cellars where they had been hiding in terror for two days and nights. And from other cellars and dugouts there came six hundred German soldiers who were delighted with the idea of giving up.

The offensive of the first American army, which wiped out the 5th, 10th and 11th divisions of the German army, began on a Thursday morning and it was Saturday afternoon when the weary Americans reached Thiaucourt, hungry and fatigued from fast walking; in their eagerness to keep pace with the fleeing Germans.

People Weep for Joy.

As the Americans swung into the village and the French realized more and more that again Thiaucourt had come into her own men stood in the streets and cried openly and women sat about on doorsteps and bits of wreckage caused by shells and wept until near exhaustion. And in the confusion the children cheered but even some of them, the older ones realizing what it all meant, cried top and kissed the hands of the officers and men.

What food they had on hand the French turned over to the Americans, the villagers insisting upon the Americans taking all they wanted of what they had. So in the streets and in the houses, some of them occupied only a few hours previously by German officers and men, the Americans made themselves at home, for a short breathing spell and the French population of the village endeavored to satisfy the appetites of their deliverers.

From the time the Germans reached Thiaucourt in September, 1914, until a few days after the village had been retaken by American troops the civilians were entirely without fresh meat of any kind excepting now and then a chicken or a rabbit which were raised in cellars without the knowledge of the Germans. All the cattle in the region of Thiaucourt were taken by the Germans but two cows being left to furnish milk for the babies.

Until the United States entered the war food was sent to Thiaucourt by way of the Netherlands by the American relief committee and later by a Spanish relief committee. This consisted principally of bacon, flour, rice, sugar, beans, peas and some cocoa. Two boxes of condensed milk were received in Thiaucourt each month and now and then a shipment of salt meat. Twice several boxes of American shoes arrived for the inhabitants and at long intervals there were small shipments of clothing.

During the four years' occupation by the Germans none of the civilians was allowed to leave the town. However, on one or two occasions individuals were permitted to visit a nearby village to attend the funeral of relatives accompanied by a soldier guard.

Portable Huts To Be Named For the Ten States Leading

Ten portable huts which will be "carried into Berlin" will be named after the ten states who go over in their subscription to the United War Work Campaign fund first, and Texas intends to be one of those states to have a hut named after they follow the victorious armies into Berlin, L. A. Coulter, the state campaign manager wired C. W. Snider, the district chairman, Mr. Snider is urged to see that his entire district "overs its quota on the first day."

Local committees are asked by Mr. Coulter to perfect their organization, so that the fund can be raised on the first day. His telegram to Mr. Snider says "Texas boys are now in the fray and started to Berlin with a speed that cannot be stopped. We at home must keep pace with them, must provide them with recreational facilities so that their bodies and minds may be renewed after the battle and able to go back into the fight until victory is proclaimed. Let the people at home keep the name of Texas at the front by their contributions, as the fighters are making the name glorious by their strength of arms."

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Wichita Falls Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Wichita Falls citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ill, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Wichita Falls citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demonstrate more convincing proof of merit?

J. H. Parker, says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for my experience with this remedy warrants me in doing so. I had been suffering for some time from lumbago and rheumatic pains. At times my back bothered me a lot through the night and hindered me from getting my proper rest. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at Starks Drug Store and began to use them. In a short time I was benefited; the backache ceased and the other troubles left me entirely."

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui.

By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-129

ABDICATION OF KAISER IMMINENT AGAIN DISCUSSED

By Associated Press.
ZURICH, Nov. 6.—Emperor William's abdication has become imminent according to information received from Berlin by the Munich Post. The newspaper says that serious differences have arisen between the Munich and Berlin governments and adds:

"The Hohenzollerns and the military party would make a mistake to play with fire, for the people are by no means inclined to remain passive."

HOPE THAT DISCUSSION WILL INFLUENCE ALLIES

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Newspapers here are studying references made in the German and Swiss press in regard to the probable abdication of Emperor William. There seems a general opinion that abdication is being discussed openly by the press because of its probable effect upon the situation.

"It is with the hope of swaying the Allies or even disuniting," says the Temps, "that the Germans may sacrifice William II. They may offer this abdication to the United States and the people of Europe as a great sacrifice and as a definite bait for the Allies, although the effectment of the man principally responsible for the war will only relieve Germany from embarrassment. With territory and economic riches intact the empire is safeguarded, with or without the Hohenzollerns. With the accession of more or less of the Austrian-Germans the German empire would remain for its neighbors and for Europe a capital danger. We ought not to be dazzled by abdication no matter how beautifully staged. Germany could only gain by the disappearance of William.

"Her throat would remain and her force would increase. The problem of security will remain whether the emperor of tomorrow will be at Munich or whether there is a republic at Berlin."

Reference to Munich in the Temps editorial quoted above is an allusion to the claim made by the royal family of Bavaria to the German throne should Emperor William abdicate.

TESTIMONIAL OF APPRECIATION TO FEDERAL DIRECTOR LEWIS

Special to The Times.
SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Nov. 6.—In appreciation of his services to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, H. W. Lewis, now Federal Director of the United States Employment Service, was presented with a handsome gold ring upon which is embossed the emblem of a 32nd degree Mason.

From 1907 until 1918 Mr. Lewis served as a representative of the Trainmen, and from 1911 until the time he took up the work of the government, he was chairman of the general board of adjustment for the brotherhood members on the M. K. & T. railway system.

A decision to make the gift to Mr. Lewis was reached at the annual meeting of the general committee of the brotherhood held in October, at which there were 22 delegates present from the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas. The chairman of the committee, F. A. Patton, presented the ring to Mr. Lewis in person, making an informal speech in which he expressed the appreciation of the organization for Mr. Lewis' efforts in their behalf, and wished him every measure of success in his new undertaking for the United States.

Germans Are Being Pressed Hotly By The Allied Army

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Enemy forces are in full retreat on the front of 75 miles from Valenciennes to the Meuse. They are being pressed hotly by the Allies.

British troops have crossed the Belgian frontier east of Valenciennes and have stormed Mormal forest, which covers Maubeuge. Farther south the French are within eight miles of the great Mons-Verwilt-La Capelle road, the main artery of the central part of the German front in France. They are separated from it by the Nouvon forest.

General Guillaumet and General Gouraud are advancing on the southern side of the salient and the American army threatens the retreat of the German forces for its only one mile from Sedan. The Americans have carried their lines past Dun-Sur-Meuse.

As the result of the latest battle, in which the Allies have soundly beaten 140 German divisions hundreds of villages have been freed and thousands of prisoners have been captured. The enemy's position, which was bad before, now may be said to be desperate.

The problem confronting the German general staff may be summed up briefly as follows:

The enemy has nine armies strung out in a semi-circular line from Ghent to Moulon, on the Meuse, a distance of 160 miles. All that immense fighting force must flow back to Germany through Belgium, the gap between Liege and Moulon measuring only seventy miles.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO OPEN A CANTEEN AT SOLDIERS' CLUB

With the assistance of the other women's clubs of the city, the Civic League will undertake opening a canteen in the Soldiers' Club, Mr. Loomis, of the War Camp Community Services, under whose auspices the club is being operated, having requested this action at the regular meeting of the League held Tuesday afternoon at the Kemp Library. The canteen feature, where home made lunches of a simple nature will be sold to the soldiers for a nominal charge, will be open two or three times a week, the details to be decided upon later. The W. C. C. S. had asked the Civic League to be responsible for the service, but respected all the club women to participate, as in other cities where Soldiers Clubs are in operation. The League agreed to undertake the work on the condition that the other clubs will join in, and will shortly ask their co-operation formally, and will also begin a campaign for new members for the League. A more important work has been undertaken.

W. S. Curlee, of the Lions Club, also appeared before the League and requested that the organization undertake the serving of the weekly lunches for the Lions, making the same arrangement that had been previously made for the Retirees at the League. He agreed to this request and will serve the lunches in the Soldiers' Club as soon as the necessary arrangement of the club rooms can be made.

Dr. Walker Writes Of Day In London Before Departure

American Officers' Club, 9 Chesterfield Gardens, London, September 25, 1918. Dear Velma: I am spending my last day in England resting, getting ready for my trip to France. Have everything packed and ready. Did that yesterday, and am taking the only real day's rest that I have had in months. I am glad I am telling England goodbye, though I have had a wonderfully interesting experience and the most instructive time of my life. But something big is going to happen soon and I want to be over there. The newspapers are predicting the biggest drive that has ever been made. Wouldn't it be fine if the war could be won this year? I was invited out yesterday afternoon to a tea at Lady Henry's. However, the tea consisted of a real splendid feast of many good things. I went with a doughboy captain, and some others from the flying corps and a few naval officers. Lady Randolph Churchill and Lady Reading were there and both had a dance with some of the lieutenants, who seemed to be well satisfied with themselves. Lady Randolph is the mother of Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty. There were some very charming young ladies present also, several of whom sang and recited beautifully. There was one who has been serving in some capacity all through the war and was in the retreat from the Mons in 1914 and had been decorated with the Mons ribbon. She is a very accomplished singer.

Stroll About London. It is certainly a sight to stroll about London now and watch the antics of the American Sammys and see them by the hundreds about Trafalgar Square smoking cigarettes and swinging their feet off the steps around the statues of Cromwell and Lord Nelson. I walked out on the Strand the other night at midnight and the only persons in sight were a crowd of Yankee doughboys and sailors. They were coming singing along like they owned the whole of London. Guess they had out a few scouts on the lookout for M. P. They are the only people here that mar their pleasure in the heat.

I had a letter from Jack Fletcher this morning from France. He is as full of enthusiasm as usual, and he is well and happy, and is expecting to get a shot at the right away with one of his big guns. He wanted me to try to meet him in London or Paris for a Christmas vacation. I am anxious to get to France where I can get something to eat. I went to the George Washington Inn for lunch today. It is run by American Y. M. C. A. for American officers, but they have welcomed the English officers, and they like it so well that they have as many English as Americans all the time. Met a doctor there named Worth, Lieut. Montgomery. Well, I suppose you are at home now "carrying on" with your work. I know you are glad to be there and I am glad for you. No one ever knows what home is until he is away among strangers for a time, but we must not complain in this world crisis. I haven't had any mail in two weeks now, except some papers and magazines today. Mail all comes in bunches. I will write you from some place soon. Have sent several letters lately. Love to everyone. I think of all of you, but can't allow myself to much, for I must "carry on." MIKE.

HOUSE OF COMMONS POSTPONES IRISH QUESTION

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 5.—After a discussion lasting all day the house of commons today rejected by a vote of 196 to 115 a motion made by John Dillon, chairman of the nationalist party, that the Irish question should be settled without delay on President Wilson's principle of self-determination. As first proposed the motion asked that Great Britain should not enter the peace conference until the Irish question was settled. This met with vigorous opposition from Edward Shortt, chief secretary for Ireland, and Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, who argued that the war had raised questions far transcending home rule. Mr. Dillon then consented to amend his motion.

STATE TREASURY GETS LARGE INTEREST CHECK

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 6.—A check for $44,754.27, which represents the interest on $3,000,000 in state funds which were invested in short time government securities four months ago, has been received by State Treasurer J. M. Edwards. A reinvestment of $2,000,000 in government securities maturing July 15, 1919, was made.

AT THE THEATERS

IRENE CASTLE IN "THE GIRL FROM BOHEMIA" Whenever Irene Castle revisits her old home in New Rochelle, New York, she is besieged by her former chums and girl friends who want to go to school with her, for advice on how to get into the movies. Mrs. Castle went to the screen fresh from her triumphs as premier ball room artist without previous training or study. Yet in her brief screen career of less than two years, she earned nearly $500,000.

The last picture made by Mrs. Castle before the tragic death of her husband, Captain Vernon Castle, who was a British army aviator, is called "The Girl From Bohemia," a Pathe play. "The Girl From Bohemia," Mrs. Castle is said to perform the best work of her screen career. The play comes to the Empress theatre tomorrow.

UNIQUE PLOT WORKED OUT IN "FRIEND HUSBAND"

What Madge Kennedy does not know about weddings and the nuptial ceremony is not worth knowing. Having been married on the screen in practically every Goldwyn Picture in which she has appeared, the piquant story that was featured in "Friend Husband" is not worth knowing. The situation has a new aspect, however. In that much of the action transpires after the marriage rather than serving as the climax of a romance. In fact, what occurs after the ceremony which united the bride with the groom is the most dramatic element in the play—as well as the most amusing.

In discussing her new vehicle, Miss Kennedy says: "Just imagine a girl, a well bred sort of girl, too, who commissions her attorney to arrange a marriage with a man she has never seen in order that she may benefit by the will of a relative. "This would be all well and good if the man didn't happen to be a forceful individual with ideas of his own about quitting after the ceremony. He simply won't do it. What I undergo while on our strange 'honey moon' is an experience I can't imagine any girl living through and retaining any semblance of sanity."

SUBMARINE FIGHT SEEN IN "THE ITALIAN BATTLEFRONT"

One of the most dramatic and exciting scenes of the Italian government's official war pictures, "The Italian Battlefront," playing at the Wichita theatre Thursday is that picturing the destruction of an Austrian submarine in the Adriatic by a powerful speed boat of the Italian army. The cameraman, who photographed the chase, and final vanquishment of the enemy craft, was aboard the pursuing boat, so that the details of the engagement are brought home with most graphic realism. The first scenes of the film are those showing Italy's mountain warfare in the snow-clad Alps, thousands of feet above the level of the sea, the seemingly impossible difficulties of campaigning in such a region; the terrible hardships endured by the soldiers amidst eternal ice and snow, and the prodigious task of transporting troops, arms, ammunition and supplies to heights hitherto unscalable by man. These Alps scenes are beautiful beyond comparison, and lift the film to a much higher plane than war pictures have ever reached before.

ALMA RUBENS AS ITALIAN BEAUTY IN "GHOST FLOWER"

Alma Rubens is again given an opportunity to display her wonderful Latin beauty and romantic personality to the utmost in Triangle's superb feature, "The Ghost Flower," to be shown at the Gem theatre on Thursday. In this exquisite production, Miss Rubens portrays the role of an Italian beauty who is coveted by a desperate agent of the ill-famed camera, Tony Cafarelli. In terror she flees from his nefarious advances and the grasping clutch of brutal soldiers. In her flight she drops a little silver crucifix.

a story of terrific action. The story begins with the stranding of a theatrical company, the principals of which are La Belle Geraldine (Jewel Carmen) and her dancing partner, whose splendid Broadway clothes cover a fine yellow streak. This dancer is in love with Geraldine, and when she proposes to win a reward of $2,000 through the dancer's impersonation of Black Jim, a bandit, he hesitatingly assents.

Geraldine's plan is to "get" the supposed bandit, obtain the reward, hurry away and then have the dancer tell the authorities that it was only a joke, and that he is not the bandit at all. The plan fails because Black Jim himself captures both Geraldine and the dancer, and takes them to his secret cabin in the mountains. The dancer's cowardice puts him in a bad light while Black Jim shows a fine manly streak. In the end the latter turns gentleman and makes a strong bid for Geraldine, who has come to admire his manly character.

POLITICAL SITUATION NOT ENTIRELY HOPELESS.

Reports from the congressional elections indicate that the republicans have won control of both the House and the Senate.

But even as disconcerting as this situation appears it is not hopeless. There is every indication that the terms of peace and future world policies will be determined before the republican majorities in the House and Senate take their seats.

It is in domestic questions growing out of the war and of the reconstruction following the war that the results of yesterday's elections will count.

Swift & Company, Chicago, Inc. 1918
One of Our 22 Packing Plants in U.S.A.

Unlike Topsy - Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Growned"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century.

Because of all of these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

LIEUT. CARRIGAN KILLED IN ACTION ON OCTOBER 7TH

LETTER RECEIVED FROM CAPT. PERKINS BRINGS NEWS TO FAMILY.

PAYS SPLENDID TRIBUTE

Says Fighting Has Been Fierce and Many Have Willingly Paid the Price.

Lieutenant Alfred H. Carrigan Jr. affectionately known by practically all of Wichita Falls since his boyhood as "Pat," is dead, killed in battle on October 7, while gallantly leading his company, which was composed of the most part of Wichita Falls boys, over the top in one of the fiercest battles of the war. For several days the family and friends had feared that this was so, as a letter from Captain Standforth of the same company in the 142nd Infantry, stated that "poor Pat C. is gone," but official confirmation was lacking, despite wires and cables to authorities in Washington and in France, until this morning when a letter to Judge and Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, his parents, told the sad news. The letter which was from Captain Duncan M. Perkins of the 142nd Infantry supply company, follows:

October 15, 1918. My Dear Judge: Your son, Alfred Pat, is dead. He was instantly killed on the morning of the 7th gallantly leading his men over the top in one of the fiercest battles of the war. Pat was shot in the head, a small clean wound and death was instantaneous.

Dear friend, there is nothing I can say to you and Mrs. Carrigan in your terrible loss, other than what is left of Pat's company in a letter, and not a man in the company but would give his life to recall Pat. Our Colonel and whole regiment feels that we have lost one of our bravest and ablest officers. Have served in two wars and know I never had as a comrade in arms an abler or more efficient young officer. Loving you as I do, almost like a father, I know what you must suffer.

"A noble son of a noble sire" gave his all for human liberty, giving same freely in life's morning, when the sun was the brightest and the flowers the sweetest. He now sleeps on a foreign battlefield far away from Texas blue skies. We have marked his grave well and Mr. Frank Kell has the location with measurements. When this terrible nightmare is over, if there are any of us left, we will bring him back to dear old Texas and mark his grave in a suitable manner so.

That his glory may not be forgot, While Fame her record keeps, Or Valor points the hallowed spot Where Heroes proudly sleep.

We are still fighting desperately, our battle line far flung, blazing and burning steadily ahead night and day. The Hun prisoners saying they never fought such savage troops as our boys. Some of our companies are commanded by corporals so you see we have willingly paid the price.

Bestly, your friend,

D. M. PERKINS,

Captain of Inf., U. S. Army, A. E. F. Pat Carrigan was the first Wichita Falls boy to go to the front. He had paid the supreme price in the fight for world right. When war was first declared he gave up his college course, at the University of Texas, and went to the first Leon Springs Training camp, but when offered a commission in the Texas National Guard Infantry company which was being organized here he left the camp and came to Wichita Falls to assist in the recruiting, choosing to be with the boys from home. He was commissioned a second lieutenant but was promoted to first, and while at Camp Bowie was one of the best liked of the officers, both among his fellow officers and the enlisted men. At the time of his death he was 22 years of age. Two qualities which won for him friends as an officer, as well as making him loved by young and old alike during his boyhood and school days, were his sincerity and his never failing humor. There were many other good qualities in the boy and the young man, which will make him long remembered by those that knew him, and which caused his loss to be a great one, both to the organization with which he was serving, and to his family and friends.

This first Wichita Falls boy to fall in battle represented two of the most prominent families of this section, the Carrigan and Barwise families, whose names have been prominently connected with the growth of Wichita Falls since its first settlement. Of his immediate family there are living in this city his grandfather, Judge J. H. Barwise Sr., his father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. Carter, McGreer and Miss Elizabeth Carrigan, and one brother, Cadet Joe Carrigan, Air Service, who was sent here from Camp Dick, Dallas, to commence his flying training only last week. There are a number of uncles and aunts and other relatives, as well as a practically unlimited number of friends, to whom the news comes as a sorrow of sadness, and who feel a sense of personal bereavement in the loss of the young man whose past had been filled with right living and whose future seemed so promising.

MRS. BLOOR TELEGRAPHS CONDOLENCE TO FAMILY

Frank Kell this morning received the following telegram from Austin, from Mrs. Bloor, wife of Colonel Bloor, regimental commander, under which Lieutenant Carrigan was serving:

"Received letter from Colonel Bloor confirming report of Lieutenant Carrigan's death. Express sympathy to the family."

Women Applicants For Positions To Release the Men

Women are filling applications with the local office of the U. S. Employment service, to take the place of men in non-essential occupations, according to G. W. Milton, the examiner in charge, who makes the following statement: "The United States Employment Service, at Wichita Falls, has on file to date, about forty applications from women, who are offering their services to take the places of men, who have been transferred from non-essential to essential employment. Some of these women are very high classed and thoroughly qualified in different lines of the work. We have some experienced bookkeepers, some stenographers, clerks, salesladies and women who are experienced in general office work. A number of them are willing and ready to work in garages and automobile accessories shops, and we are especially anxious to get these women placed, and no employer who is called upon to release his non-essential workers can claim that he is unable to fill their places.

"There is a number of women in the city of Wichita Falls who are seriously in need of work to support their selves and children, while their husbands are fighting in the trenches with our army abroad. And we wish it to be understood that we feel that the man who will not comply with the instructions from the Community Labor Board and the Department of Labor to release his male help in order that they may engage in some kind of essential work, is not of the kind of material of which good citizenship is composed. When women and children give up their husband and father, to fight in the war for freedom, the man who is in a position to do so and will not give these women employment should be buried beneath an overwhelming sea of public sentiment, and should be pointed out by the finger of scorn, and should be deprived of the association of all liberty loving people."

One defendant charged with affray paid a $10 fine in police court this morning, this constituting the entire docket.

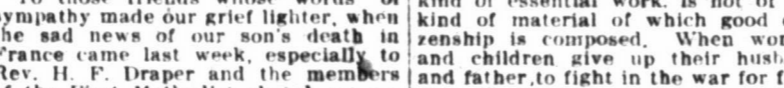

Card of Thanks. To those friends whose words of sympathy made our grief lighter, when the sad news of our son's death in France came last week, especially to Rev. H. F. Draper and the members of the First Methodist church we extend our heartfelt appreciation.

Robt. G. Scheurer Sells Business To Take a Rest

R. G. Scheurer, proprietor of the Wichita Hardware Co., and for several years one of the leading business men of Wichita Falls, will leave shortly for New York for a much needed rest. He has sold his business assets to P. A. Menke, who will continue it in its present location.

Mr. Scheurer has addressed the following communication to his patrons and friends: "I leave Wichita Falls with regret to take a much needed rest and my former business will be continued by P. A. Menke, to whom I have sold same. This is not a final farewell to my friends and fellow citizens, but a note of appreciation and good wishes, as I trust the opportunity will favor me to make return visits to my old friends.

With renewed thanks for their friendship, patronage and good fellowship, and my best wishes for their health, happiness and prosperity, I am sincerely,

ROBERT G. SCHEURER.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headaches—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
