FAMINE THREATENS IN GERMANY

Peace Descends Like Mantle Over Battlefields of Europe

(By Associated Press.)
WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES ON THE MEUSE AND Moselle, Monday, Nov. 11.—The last French town to fall into American hands before the armistice went into effect, was Stenay. Patrols reported they had found it empty not more than a quarter of an hour before eleven o'clock. American troops rushed through the town and in a few minutes Allied flags were beginning to appear from the windows. As the church bell solemnly tolled the hour of eleven, troops from the nineteenth division were pouring into the town.

Only a line of glowing camp fires marks the front tonight. Except for the rattle of thousands of trucks and other noises incident to the stirring of enormous armies there is not a sound to indicate that two great forces are still facing each other. So far no violation of the armistice has been reported, there not being an occasional burst of machine gun fire.

Flags appeared like magic over the shell torn buildings of Verdun today. French and American colors were flying side by side.

Northeast of Verdun just before eleven o'clock American artillerymen in loading a six inch howitzer wrote "Good luck" on a ninety pound shell and "Let'er go." The shot was aimed at the cross road at Ormes just ahead of the American lines.

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN France, Monday, Nov. 11.—Orders announcing that the armistice between the Allied powers and Germany had been signed and giving directions as to the future conduct of Allied soldiers along the line were sent to every corps this morning. They were transmitted to the units in the front ranks. The orders follow:

"1.—You are informed that hostilities will cease along the whole front at eleven o'clock, a. m. November 11, 1918, Paris time.

"2.—No Allied troops will pass the line reached by them at that hour and date until further orders.

"3.—Division commanders will immediately take steps to ensure the return of their troops to their own lines. The order will be returned to headquarters by the courier bearing these orders.

"4.—All communication with the enemy, both before and after the termination of the hostilities is absolutely forbidden. In case of violation of these orders severe disciplinary measures will be immediately taken. Any officer offending will be sent to headquarters under guard.

"5.—Every emphasis will be laid on the fact that the armistice is an armistice only, and no peace.

"6.—There must not be the slightest relaxation of vigilance. Troops must be prepared at any moment for further operations.

"7.—Special steps will be taken by all commanders to insure strictest discipline and that all troops be held in readiness fully prepared for any emergency.

"8.—Division and brigade commanders will personally communicate the orders to all organizations.

"9.—The order will be carried out in advance of the hour. Apparent and actual German soldiers and runners were used in carrying the orders and so well did the big machine work that even patrol commanders received the orders in advance of the hour. Apparent and actual German soldiers and runners were used in carrying the orders and so well did the big machine work that even patrol commanders received the orders in advance of the hour. FORMER EMPEROR AT COUNT BENTICK'S CHATEAU AT VALP

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 12.—William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, arrived Sunday at Count Bentick's chateau of Middachten at Valp near Arnhem, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express dated Sunday at Valp.

Final Peace Negotiations.

When or where the final peace negotiations will be held officials would not conjecture. Thirty days in the time allowed by the armistice terms for assembling of the peace conference. The armistice, however, includes a provision for its extension. The great interests involved, the many governments and nationalities concerned and the difficulties to be met in convening such a conference in a short time may cause an extension of the thirty days limit. It is regarded as likely that the peace conference will be similar to the meeting at Versailles where the armistice terms were formulated. The victors' meeting was the one that will decide upon terms and the defeated be permitted to enter pleas of modification.

Demobilization of Army.

The military looked today to the breaking up and return to civilian life of the great army mobilized in the past nineteen months. Further increases of the military forces were checked yesterday through cancellation of all outstanding draft calls. The return home of the nearly two and a quarter million overseas and the mustering out of the troops in this country will not come immediately. The United States entering the war last year will probably be called upon to do much of the police and guard duty in France and Belgium. Future operations in Russia are uncertain and the small forces there may have to be augmented. Transport facilities are more or less limited. Embarkation of additional units will not stop immediately. Secretary Baker has said, aimed at such a time when the overseas largely will be medical and similar units.

Great Tasks for the Navy.

For the navy also great tasks lie ahead. The military must be cleared of mines. Occupation of the German naval base of Helgoland may be necessary as a result of the revolution in the German government. The navy peace finally is concluded there will be patrol work to do. The newly constructed and rapidly increasing merchant marine must not only bring the supplies from overseas but carry to France and Belgium, devastated by the war, to lands of southern Europe long unproductive through lack of rainfall. The means of keeping alive the war-weakened populations. Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Harby will leave to survey the situation. The American people from their plenty will be called upon to feed Europe.

Heavy Expense Involved.

Money will be needed to bring the troops home from France and allow completion of the necessary projects. Another loan probably will have to be floated. The revenue bill placing upon the American people taxes amounting to more than six billion dollars must be passed by congress. Industrially the change from war to peace will create as many problems as the change from peace to war. War contracts plants must be converted to make the production of peace. Wage standards changed by the war must be readjusted; the position of women in industry must be determined. The way industries are run must be changed. The board, the war labor board and other governmental agencies must be continued or substituted by the solution of these problems. The returned soldiers must have work and a home. This is a reconstruction question that congress will be called upon to consider.

Government Control of the Railroads.

Government control of the railroads, while insured for 21 months longer, must be decided as to permanency or abandonment as well as the control of telegraph and telephone systems. Supervision of food and distribution and the fixing of prices for necessary commodities are other problems of reconstruction.

STATE COMMISSIONERS ARE CONSIDERING PEACE PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Railway and utility commissioners from nearly every state, meeting here today to consider reconstruction problems, received a recommendation of the standing committee that state committees now resume exercise of their normal functions which have been held in abeyance since the outbreak of the war. This should be done, however, the committee suggested with due regard to the unusual conditions existing.

AMERICANS RECEIVE ORDERS IN GRAY LIGHT OF MORN

HAVANA STREET CAR TRAFFIC IS TIED UP

HAVANA, Nov. 1.—A great strike in support of the federated harbors union has been called by a committee representing every union in the city.

BATTLE LINE WHEN FIRING CEASED

When the last shot was fired the Allied battle line from the Dutch border to Switzerland was approximately as follows:

The frontier of Holland north of Selzaete to east of Audenarde to Grammont to east of Mons to east of Maubeuge and thence east of the Franco-Belgian border to north of Rocroi. Thence the line was along the Meuses to Mezieres to Sedan and across the river in the region of Stenay. Thence southward south of Monmedy and northeast of Verdun to the Moselle near Pagny; southeast of Pont-A-Mousson. The line then paralleled the Lorraine frontier to west of Markirch where it entered Alsace-Lorraine thence southward to Switzerland on a line about twenty miles west of the Rhine. France had been entirely cleared of the invaders, except for the narrow strip of territory from the Meuse to Alsace.

Soldier's Bread Is Baked Into Loaves Weighing 12 Pounds

Associated Press Mail Correspondent. AMERICAN ADVANCE ZONE, FRANCE, Oct. 28.—Bread for the Yankee soldier in France is baked, not in the dainty one-pound loaves used at home, but in loaves that weigh twelve pounds each.

All the baking is on a huge scale. Asked for the recipe by which American bread has attained its superiority among all the Allied armies, the chief baker gave it as follows: Flour, 160 pounds; sugar, 30 lb.; yeast, lard and water, 50 pounds; total 210 pounds.

The huge quantities of dough always on hand "ripen" or rise under the influence of the yeast, which is a giant battery of snowballs. Each dough mass weighs 200 to 300 pounds, which two men handle with difficulty. Over it the soldiers bend, naked to the waist, kneading, rolling, rolling, rolling, until the rolls along to the next table, where it is drawn into long thick strings, which the soldiers deftly chop off.

There is but one standard of army bread, for officers and men alike, and General Pershing says exactly the same kind of a pound loaf as the soldier in the ranks. In fact, the American army bread is so superior to the civilian bread commonly on sale in France, that it is regarded as a great luxury, officers and men are besieged by civilians to get them some of the fine, white American bread, and American officers at hotels are the envy of other guests for the army bread they are able to eat.

"Women wouldn't last one day in this kind of hard work," he said. "This is bread making by the ton, and by millions of loaves, and it takes physical strength to handle the huge quantities of material. It would be impossible for women and it is the hardest kind of work for men."

Thousands of loaves of hot bread, fresh from the ovens were being stacked in the tent warehouses, where for two days the bread is being allowed to cool, dry and season, before being shipped to the front. Hot bread, the expert explained, cannot be shipped as it steams in the cars and begins to get musty and mouldy.

TO CONTINUE MANUFACTURE OF PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Manufacture of passenger automobiles after January 1, the date fixed for one hundred per cent curtailment, is likely to continue because of the sudden collapse of the war and the consequent expected lessening of the government's steel demands.

OBJECTION MADE TO THE BLOCKADE BUT WAS SIGNED

By Associated Press. PARIS, Monday, Nov. 11.—The new German government, it appears, considered the armistice conditions at a sitting late on Sunday at Berlin. Having decided to accept them, it telephoned instructions from Berlin to Spa, German headquarters, authorizing the delegates to affix their signatures to the agreement.

The courier who was waiting at Spa left immediately for the lines and crossed them without incident north of Chimay. He reached the Chateau de Francfort at about two o'clock in the morning and found the German plenipotentiaries waiting for him.

Each delegate first read the terms of the armistice. A discussion which is described by Temps correspondent as being "rather long" took place upon certain clauses, particularly that concerning the maintenance of the blockade.

The German plenipotentiaries insisted, above all, upon the question of food. "We will maintain, it is well understood, the blockade during the term of the armistice. Nevertheless, as the situation in Germany and Austria is desperate we will do everything possible to feed them that we can in fairness to ourselves. It is the question of transport which dominates all these problems."

One Less U-Boat To Account For In Peace Settlement

Associated Press. Mail Correspondent. ON BOARD AMERICAN DESTROYER, American Port in France, Oct. 22. One German submarine which lay in wait for American transports outside the harbor entrance here recently is believed to have paid the full penalty for attacking one of our repair vessels. American naval men believe the Hun craft is now lying destroyed on the ocean floor, the effect of the explosion of a 500-pound depth charge. The captain of the big repair ship which was recently attacked off the cape, came aboard an American destroyer during the visit of the Associated Press correspondent and there was an opportunity to hear from him some of the features of the attack. "The submarine screened itself by coming to the surface back of one of our casars which lay off to port," said the captain. "The lookout saw the torpedo coming and it looked as though it would strike the stern. But it just cleaved us, passing under our fantail, and as the fantail has an over-hang of only twelve feet from the rudder-post you can understand how close it came. Then the enemy ducked as the guns opened fire and that was the last seen of it." "Believed to Have Been Destroyed." The submarine which made the attack is believed to have been destroyed soon after at almost the same spot where she fired on the repair ship. A destroyer came across her near the shoals off the harbor entrance, immediately a 500-pound depth charge was dropped at a distance of 80 yards from the enemy. This was the reason for such a charge, and the water explosion must have had serious effect. "The listening gear, or 'tin ears' as the sailors call them, established that the submarine was lying helpless on the bottom. Another depth charge went down on the floundering victim. This time a great patch of oil rose to the surface indicating that her fuel-oil tanks had been blown up. The 'tin ears' showed there was no further sound from the stricken craft, and though the waters remained on guard through the night, the submarine made no move from the bottom. "The appearance of the patch of oil on the water is a pretty sure sign," said the officer, "and yet it is not absolutely certain because of a cunning device which the enemy is using. Knowing that oil on the water indicates their destruction, they now carry an oil tank which releases oil even when they are not hit. They trust by this to create the impression that they have been disposed of, and then as their attackers move off the submarines scurries away." AT THE THEATERS

U. S. LEADS NATIONS IN NUMBER OF DIVORCES

The United States has the record of the world as the greatest nation of home-breakers of the age. Only Hungary leads the United States in its percentage of marriages to marriageable population, but on the other hand no country even approaches America in its tendency to rush into the divorce court and smash the domestic relation over the judge's bench. Japan was outdoing the United States in divorces up to 1898, but after the census of that year had established this fact, the Mikado's liege Statesmen and others passed laws making the obtaining of divorces harder, strangling the desires of the Japanese to emulate the example of their big brothers across the Pacific. The Census records show that divorce is increasing at a most alarming rate, and that now the ratio is about one divorce to every twelve marriages. No one person in twenty, perhaps, can guess in what state the most divorces are granted. Washington is that state. Washington is followed in the order named by Montana, Colorado, Arkansas, Texas, Oregon and Wyoming. The statistics show that while a person is more likely to be married if living in the south, he is more likely to be divorced if living in the west. The evils of divorce are graphically shown in "The Blindness of Divorce," a photodrama of life today, produced by William Fox, which will be shown at the Empress theater on Wednesday and Thursday.

THE WAR IN REVIEW IN CRASHING THROUGH TO BERLIN

Jack Cohn, film editor for the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, in assembling the great war review, "Crashing Through to Berlin," has accomplished one of the most pretentious projects in the world of motion photography. This marvellous offering which will be shown at the Majestic theater Wednesday is the first authentic history in pictures of the struggle which began in Europe in 1914. The interesting sequence of the hundreds of scenes have made "Crashing Through to Berlin" a desired and to text-books and newspaper reports of the struggle. The picture starts with the funeral of Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, who was slain in 1914, and over whom Austria, at the instigation of Germany, raised an issue which involved all of Europe. Then follows the Russian mobilization, the resistance of the Belgians when the Germans tried to violate their territorial integrity, then the springing of France to arms. The action continues as England, Italy and other Allies enter the conflict down to the entry of the United States into actual participation of American troops. Views of the German army, the Kaiser himself, the great Krupp gun works at Essen, the battles of the Marne and Verdun, the sinking of the Lusitania and of hundreds of other thrilling events and incidents are shown. The review has been called the most comprehensive and interesting history of the war yet compiled.

ROY STEWART IN "BY PROXY" AT GEM TODAY

In "By Proxy," Roy Stewart sets out to woo a pretty girl for bashful Aleck, employed on Red's ranch. The Chinese cook, Ah Sing, wins all the cowboy clothes by playing a weird hand at poker. When "Red" returns with the girl, he finds Ah Sing lamenting the loss of his clothing which he had packed on a horse, only to have his horse run away from him. Taking Ah Sing back to the ranch with him and Lindy, "Red" learns that he has brought Aleck the wrong girl and promptly proposes to her just the same.

WORK ON REVISION OF PRIORITIES LIST

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The war industries board today nearly completed revision of the priorities list, at least partially removing restrictions on non-war activities and readjusting industries to the new situation arising from the end of the war. Railroads and shippings, it is expected, will be placed at the top of the list and munitions at the bottom. The revised list will be made public probably tomorrow.

Celebrating Peace By Getting Drunk Little Expensive

Getting drunk in a dry town is no way to celebrate peace, it would seem from Judge Ogle's verdict in the case of two defendants in police court this morning, charged with intoxication. One was fined $20 and the other $10 for their Monday celebration. One speaker held over from Sunday, was fined $10. Infractions of the traffic laws yesterday were disregarded by the police force, who would have been kept busy, indeed, had they tried to take all violators of the traffic laws into custody. Five gamblers were also before the court, three of these being fined $10 while the cases of two were passed.

LINEMEN REPAIRING DAMAGE BY CELEBRATION

Workmen were busy today repairing the telephone cable lines that were shot in two by enthusiastic peace celebrators on Monday. Several lines were parted by shots, all in the business district, by men shooting into the air, as their contribution to the noisy welcome that was given the announcement of the end of the war. Entertaining Program Rendered by Call Field Soldiers and Other Local Talent.

The double purpose of celebrating the close of the war and of commencing what will probably be the final drive for funds for the various war work associations was served by the mass meeting held at the Wichita Theater Monday night.

Some vaudeville skits, hastily gotten up to suit the unusual happening of Monday, opened the program, and the second part of the evening was given over to the presentation of the appeal for the United War Work Campaign, which began in Wichita Falls this morning.

J. A. Kemp presided over the meeting, following the amusement features, and delivered a short stirring address on the downfall of autocracy, his talk being halted frequently for stirring applause and cheers from the audience.

Did one of these 200 letters come to you?

A DUSTY courier slid off his motor-cycle at the big double hut in a French town and tramped up to the canteen. "Got a note for the secretary from my commanding officer," he said. He handed a piece of paper across the counter to a smiling middle-aged man.

This is the note the Secretary read: "We landed here three days ago—miles from anywhere. Can you send us some supplies, especially writing paper? This is the first chance the boys have had to write home and we have no paper to give them."

The older man looked up and grinned. "Got you away off in the woods, have they?" "I'll say they have!" "Can you carry anything?" "All you'll give me!"

From the shelves the secretary took big packages of paper and envelopes. "Too much?" He asked. "It will be gone ten minutes after I get back!" said the boy. "Tonight," the secretary went on, "I'll drive out a truck with more supplies and a man to stay with you. And tell the boys that if their letters are finished, I'll bring them back with me tonight, and get them into the mails."

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before! The need is for a sum of 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,000,000.

RED CROSS AID NEEDED DURING RECONSTRUCTION

SIGNING ARMISTICE DOES NOT MEAN ANY APPRECIABLE CHANGE IN WORK.

URGED TO "CARRY ON"

Unlimited Quantities of Knitted Articles Needed for Soldiers During the Winter.

Signing the armistice does not mean any appreciable change in Red Cross work, according to a letter sent out on Nov. 9, two days before the signing of the terms, by George W. Simmons, manager of the southwestern division of the Red Cross. Mr. Simmons warns all chapters against the relaxation of any effort and states that the needs will continue practically the same during the reconstruction period as they have been during the war. He quotes a telegram from the Red Cross war council sent out when the prospects of an immediate peace were growing brighter, calling upon the Red Cross to "carry on" in its great work as unselfishly as it has during the past months. Mr. Simmons' letter says, in part:

"It is the unanimous consensus of opinion that even though an armistice should immediately be signed, which would indicate an early peace, the work of the American Red Cross will not in any way let up. With the exception of surgical dressings and some hospital supplies, the calls for finished articles will be as great as ever. Unlimited quantities of knitted articles are still needed. Therefore, the knitting work must continue."

"Peace will be a crucial test by which the people of American will demonstrate to the world that we are not only united in war but we are also united in peace. We must carry on with reconstruction abroad and at home with the same unselfish confidence in our national leaders, as we made possible the marvelous results of our war work abroad and at home."

The following is the telegram from the war council to the divisional managers:

Copy of Telegram.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 8, 1918.
Mr. George W. Simmons,
Louis, Mo.

On February 10 last year nearly six weeks before the United States declared war, National Red Cross headquarters advised its chapters to prepare for war. That which has followed in the record of the Red Cross in helping to win this war and to relieve the suffering growing out of it constitutes something of which every American citizen has a right to be proud. Every American Red Cross worker must feel a sense of gratification in having had a share in it all. The moment is now come to prepare for peace. Actual peace may come at any moment, it may be deferred for some time. Until peace is really here there can be no relaxation in any Red Cross effort incident to active hostilities.

But even with peace, let no one suppose that the work of the Red Cross is finished. Millions of American soldiers are still under arms. Thousands of them are sick or wounded. Owing to the shortage in shipping, it may take a year or more to bring our boys home from France. But whatever the time, our fighting armistice must be about them and their families over the whole period which must elapse before the normal life of peace can be resumed.

Our soldiers and sailors are enlisted until the Commander in Chief tells them there is no more work for them to do in the war. Let every Red Cross member and worker show our returning soldiers and sailors that to care for their health, welfare and happiness, we are enlisted for no less a period than they are.
The cessation of war will reveal a picture of misery such as the world has never seen before, especially in the many countries which cannot help themselves. The American people will expect the Red Cross to continue to act as their agent in repairing broken spirits and broken bodies. Peace terms and peace conditions will determine how we may best minister to the vast stricken areas which have been harrowed by war, and in this great act of mercy, the heart and spirit of the American people must continue to be mobilized through the American Red Cross.
On behalf of the war council, we accordingly ask each member of our splendid body of workers throughout the land to bear in mind the solemn obligation which rests upon each one to "Carry On." We cannot abate one instant in our efforts or in our spirit. There will be an abundance of work to do, and specific advice will be given, but even at the moment of peace let no Red Cross worker falter.
Our spirits must now call us to show that it is not the roar of cannon or the blood of our own alone, that directs our activities, but that a great people will continue to respond greatly and freely to its obligation and opportunity to serve mankind.
(Signed) The War Council of the American Red Cross.

EDIBLES MUST BE

All edibles sent in the one thousand Christmas cartons, which the local Red Cross chapter has been asked to send to soldiers in France who have no relatives, must be bought and packed by Red Cross officials, according to orders received from headquarters today.
Edibles are interpreted to include both chewing gum and chewing tobacco.
Contributions in money for the purchase of the edibles may be brought to the Red Cross and the cartons will be filled, sealed and mailed by officials there. It has been suggested that all the cartons be filled, according to his plan even where the gifts are not edible. Red Cross officials are not only more familiar with regulations, but are able to make more economical purchases. There is, however, no rule governing gifts other than edibles.

Work of cleaning out the well of the Victory Petroleum Company, on the Lchoefner and Schwieger addition to Burk Burnett, is in progress and it is reported that the well will soon be drilled in. This well is reported to have run a six inch stream of pure oil for some time yesterday, and during the time it has been swabbing has filled a big tank with oil.
The Mann-Nabor well on block 1 was reported 25 feet in the oil sand on Monday and swabbing. Indications are that it is a very good well, though no gauge has been put on the production.

BEGIN DRIVE TO RAISE QUOTA OF WAR WORK FUND

COMMITTEES REPORT THEY ARE MEETING WITH SPLENDID SUCCESS.

HOUSE CANVASS FRIDAY

All Workers Are Asked to Meet at Red Cross Room at 8:30 On That Day.

Early this morning the drive began for the $45,000 which Wichita Falls is asked to contribute as a minimum to the United War Work Campaign Fund, and according to reports made to Norris H. Martin, the campaign chairman, the efforts of the men who are making the drive are meeting with much success. The people are contributing as if they wished to show in this way their joy at the close of the war. Mr. Martin stated, and his committees believe that if the same spirit continues, that they found when they first started out this morning that there will be a liberal oversubscription in this city. For this to be possible every man, woman and child approached by one of the several committees at work will have to give to the limit, but it is believed by the general committee that such is the rejoicing over the close of the war that people will be glad to make a sacrifice, if need be, in giving to this United War Work campaign fund.
The Canvass Resident District.
The house to house canvass which the women's committee will undertake will be confined to Friday, instead of being held Thursday and Friday, as was the plan at first. Miss Pauline Richolt, the city chairman of women's work, stated this morning. A meeting of the district chairmen for this purpose was held this morning, and the pledge cards given out and the other necessary literature distributed. Plans for the canvass have been perfected. All workers for this Friday drive are asked to meet at the Red Cross rooms in the Masonic Temple promptly at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning. Workers are requested to bring notebooks and pencils to take down names and amounts of subscriptions.
Today the canvass of the women and girls who are employed down town began, and the school children are also given a chance to contribute, special committees being appointed for this branch of the campaign. Miss Polly Roberts had an engagement to take subscriptions to the fund at the Academy of Mary Immaculate today. This school has an organization for the work and it is expected the contribution will be very liberal.

Not least of the Camp helps is the "eats" provided for the boys, especially good things from the homeland. Often a happy group may be seen enjoying a dish of Grape-Nuts, a delicious and nutritious food that makes thousands happy every day "at home."
