DISCREDIT GERMAN APPEAL ARRANGE TO RETURN TROOPS

ORDERS ALREADY ISSUED TO RE-LEASE 200,000 MEN IN TWO WEEKS.

RELEASE 30,000 DAILY

Flow of Returning Troops to Be in Full Tide, Before February One.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Arrangements for bringing home the troops in France are being worked out rapidly from a shipping point of view, the shipping board announced today, in issuing a call for 5,000 volunteers to man the ships that will be used for that purpose.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Movement of American troops across the Atlantic has stopped entirely and demobilization of troops in cantonments and camps at home is under way. General March, chief of staff, made this announcement today, outlining the war department's plans in answer to the questions the country has been asking since the armistice was signed and it became apparent that the war was over. He said orders already issued would send 200,000 men back to civil life within two weeks and that when the program was in full swing about 30,000 would quit the army daily.

Fighting divisions of General Pershing's army in France will be demobilized as far as possible in their home communities. The chief of staff would make no prediction as to when the first divisions would start home. It appears probable, however, the flow of returning troops can be in full tide before February 1. Quarters will be established for them at the cantonments by that time.

Some officers regard it as possible certain divisions may be recalled in advance of the general return movement. General March indicated that the 42nd (Rainbow) division, because it is composed of men from 26 states, and in recognition of the fighting record it has made in France, would be marked for special treatment. The 26th (New England National Guard) and the 1st (Sunset) divisions are in the same class, so it would not cause surprise, therefore, if these three organizations should be designated by General Pershing as the first to return. With six weeks of 1918 left it is possible they may be home before New Year's Day.

Supplementing General March's statement, Secretary Barker said it would not be necessary to maintain all the existing cantonments for demobilization purposes and that a study was now being made of those desirable for that purpose. The others, with all the divisional camps, he indicated, will be abandoned as soon as the men now occupying them have been mustered out.

Order of Demobilization. Demobilization will be in the following order: First, development battalions, 71 in number and comprising 98,199 men; second, conscientious objectors not under arrest; third, spruce production division; fourth, central training schools for officers with some modification; fifth, U. S. guards, numbering 135,000 men; sixth, rail-way units; seventh, depot brigades; eighth, replacement units; ninth, combat divisions.

"We have in the United States now something like 1,700,000 men and to muster out a force of that kind, of course, will take some time," said General March. "Each man has to be examined physically, his final account made, so that the men may get compensation for use are entitled to. Plans for their being shipped to the various camps for use as these orders go into effect.

In handling this problem of demobilization one of the features which had to be considered was the subsequent retaining of men for the regular army, when congress passes laws reorganizing that army. When these were broken out there were only a small number of such men in the service, and the great number of men who filled out these units were men who voluntarily enlisted for the period of the war. So we have offered these men the option of re-enlisting if they cared to.

BRITISH SUBMARINES MAKE A GOOD RECORD

By Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 16.—Details can now be given of the part which British submarines played during the war. GOMPERS WARNS NO BACKSTEP IS TO BE PERMITTED

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Says Time Has Come When Working People Are Coming into Their Own.

By Associated Press. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 16.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor in the closing hours of the pan-American labor conference here today gave formal warning that no general reduction of wages or increase of working hours after the war would be accepted without a bitter fight by organized labor. He issued a statement inspired by a recent public utterance of William H. Barr, president of the National Foundry Association, that a reduction of wages and longer hours would be the only means to enable American manufacturers to compete with foreign industries after the war.

ALLIED GOVERNMENTS UNDERSTAND SITUATION

(By Associated Press.) BERLIN, Nov. 16.—(By Wireless to London)—Foreign Secretary Solf has sent a message to Secretary Lansing urgently requesting President Wilson to give permission for a German commission to immediately leave Germany for the United States so as to personally lay before the American government the conditions existing here and to assure the taking of steps to purchase foodstuffs.

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 15.—Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary according to a German wireless message, has sent to Secretary Lansing a note referring to the article in the Anglo-Turkish armistice requiring German citizens to leave the Turkish empire immediately, and declaring that a literal fulfillment of the article "must cause severe hardships, especially to poor people and appears unreasonable after the conclusion of a universal armistice."

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 16.—(By Wireless to London)—In accordance with the decision of the council of national plenipotentiaries the departments of state in the new government have been filled as follows: Foreign office—Dr. W. Solf; Treasurer—Dr. Schiffer; Economic—Dr. August Mueller; Industrial demobilization—Dr. Koth; War food—Emanuel Worm; Labor—Dr. Bauer; War Major General Scheuch; Admiralty—Mann; Justice—Dr. Krause; Postoffice—Dr. Reudlin.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 16.—(By Wireless to London)—In the all-historical appeals of the German provisional government to the sympathies of a large element of the American population more or less connected by blood ties with Germany. With such sympathies aroused for the German government, it was said, Germany hopes to influence the approaching peace conference towards leniency.

WILLIAM TREATED AS DISTINGUISHED FOREIGN GUEST

By Associated Press.
 AMERONGEN, HOLLAND, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—William Hohenloer has not been interned by the Netherlands government. He is regarded rather as a distinguished foreigner who has sought refuge and who has a claim to protection.
 Presumably he is free to go where he likes but the fact that his suite has actually been interned restricts his movements.
 Count Von Bentinck explained today that the former crown prince as well as the former emperor ceased to be soldiers when they abdicated. Nothing is known at the castle concerning the former emperor's future movements, or as to the whereabouts of the former emperor.
 The former emperor was seen today strolling about the castle grounds with Count Von Bentinck and the count's son. He wore a gray military overcoat. This afternoon he was shown over the castle of Zevenhuizen a mile away, and the residence of Count Von Bentinck's brother.
 The members of the former emperor's suite today surrendered their arms and today's formality completed the act of internment.

FORMER CROWN PRINCE INTERNED IN HOLLAND

By Associated Press.
 LONDON, Friday, Nov. 15.—Former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany has been interned at the castle owned by his friend, Count Gisbert Wolff Metternich, at Swalmen, a town in the province of Limburg, Holland, says an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. It is reported his wife is with him.

Germany Is Due France Sixty-Four Billion Dollars

By Associated Press.
 PARIS, Nov. 16. (Havas).—Germany's debt to France is estimated at three hundred and forty billion francs by the Matin, in an editorial today. The newspaper apportions the debt as follows:
 "Return of the indemnity for 1871 with interest, 60,000,000,000 francs; expenses in the present war 140,000,000,000 francs; pensions 40,000,000,000 francs; and reparation for damages 100,000,000,000 francs.
 Germany and Austria. It adds, should return to the Allies a minimum of seven million tons of shipping in payment for that destroyed in the war, but they have at their disposal only three million tons. Consequently the delivery of the entire German-Austrian merchant marine would constitute only half reparation.

RESUMPTION OF CONSTRUCTION BY THE GOVERNMENT

By Associated Press.
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Resumption of construction work on postoffices and other public buildings was ordered today by Secretary McAdoo, thereby rescinding orders of last December, suspending all public building on account of war conditions.
 Many millions of authorizations for new buildings are awaiting action. Mr. McAdoo specified that one of the first construction propositions to be taken up would be for a new arches building in Washington.
 The policy is considered as affecting the attitude of the capital issues commission which is affiliated with the treasury, in passing on proposed issues of security to finance building operations, from a period of scarcity of labor and materials.
 In this connection, Secretary McAdoo said:
 "The resumption of construction work by the government will contribute toward facilitating the industrial transition of the country from a war to a peace basis, and will tend to encourage others to undertake without delay the fulfillment of the many and varied industrial peace needs of the country."

DUTCH PARLIAMENT HAS BITTER DEBATE

By Associated Press.
 THE HAGUE, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—The second chamber of the Dutch parliament engaged in a bitter debate today. Addresses were made denouncing demands made by Pieter J. Troelstra, that the premier give further details as to expected food supplies from the United States.
 DAVIS WYNKOOP, the revolutionary socialist made a speech demanding the immediate abdication of the queen and urging a general strike. He proposed that demobilized troops should refuse to surrender control of the armies until they were assured of food supplies for themselves and families. He remarked incidentally that Troelstra and his adherents were on the side of the bourgeoisie, "just as Scheidmann and Ebert are in Germany."

KING LEOPOLD III HAS ARRIVED AT RORSCHACH

 PARIS, Nov. 16.—King Ludwig III, of Bavaria, arrived at Rorschach, a town on the Swiss bank of Lake Constance, on Friday. He was taken there from Lindau, a town across the lake in a Bavarian boat, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Petit Journal. An automobile from the German consulate at Zurich met him and took him to an undisclosed destination.

 for accomplishment just as it does between individuals.
 "This conference has earned a permanent place in history as a constructive effort. We have had here an example of popular diplomacy in which people of different nations have met and talked out their differences and, finding themselves in harmony at the conclusion, are prepared to go forward in unity of purpose for the greater gain of all.
 Pledged to Democracies.
 "This Pan-American Federation of Labor comes into being at an hour in the world's history when we need all the intelligence and effort we can muster for the right and for the development of the opportunities that have been safeguarded to us by our glorious victory over the Hun.
 "The mighty world force thus knit together is one of the great hopes of the world. Its full importance cannot be estimated today. But all who are here associated stand pledged to the fight for human advancement. Labor redeems its pledges at their full value. This conference and the federation here formed must mean more of life for the working people of pan-America."

GERMAN REPRESENTATIVES MEET THE ALLIED OFFICERS

By Associated Press.
 PARIS, Nov. 16.—In accordance with Marshal Foch's instructions conveyed through Major Slaterton to the German great headquarters, German military and technical representatives met Belgian officers at Bruges, British at Mons and French and Americans at Nancy yesterday afternoon.
 The purpose of the meetings says Marcel Hutin, of the Echo de Paris, was to arrange the details of the withdrawal of the Germans across the Rhine and to discuss questions relative to railroads, rivers, canals and telegraph and telephone service.
 The Germans gave information concerning the different systems of communication and the destruction effected or planned by the Germans. The British and Belgians dealt with the territory limited by the Dutch-Belgian and the Dutch-German frontiers, the Rhine and the line of Coblenz. The French and Americans discussed the region south of Charleroi and Bonn to southern Alsace.

ARRANGE RETURN OF U. S. TROOPS

 The American expeditionary force 1 cabled General Pershing to report in plain English and not in code so as to save time, name of every man killed, wounded and missing up to the time of the armistice not hitherto reported, have had an answer this morning saying that he would expedite it in every way.
 Regarding the return of troops in France General March said the order in which the divisions will be withdrawn is being left to General Pershing. It is the intention of the department, so far as practicable, to return each division to the locality from which the majority of its men came and to parade the division in adjacent cities so that the people may have a chance to give fitting welcomes.
 Orders have been cabled to General Pershing to begin the return at once of all casualties, sick and wounded, who can be moved, and convalescents. A steady stream of these men should begin immediately to cross the Atlantic.
 To Clear Home Camps.
 Camps at home will be cleared out to prepare for the return of the expeditionary forces and the general in full value. The process would be expedited. A unit of regular troops will be left at each camp to guard and police it in preparation for the arrival of the overseas units.
 Because of its unusual composition, General March said, and its brilliant record at the front, the 42nd (Rain-bow division) will be given special consideration in the demobilization plans. The purpose of the department is not outlined specifically but the impression was gained that the division will be paraded in Washington before it is mustered out.
 Steps already have been taken toward the organization of the permanent army. All men now in the army have been or will be offered an honorable discharge from the emergency enlistment and an immediate re-enlistment in the new forces. A furlough of one month will be given as an incentive to re-enlistment.
 Month's Salary as Bonus.
 It was announced that congress will be asked to give each man discharged from the army regardless of whether he re-enlists, a bonus of one month's salary. General March pointed out also that all soldiers are entitled under law to wear their uniforms for three months after discharge. This will make less difficult the immediate task of supplying civilian clothing to the demobilized army.
 The return of commissioned personnel of the army to civilian life, General March said, would be effected by dividing the present list of officers into three classes, those who desire commissions in the regular army, those who are willing to hold themselves available for future service as reserve officers and those who desire honorable discharges from the service.

IN MEMORIAM OF LITTLE ROBERT WINFREY. He was just a little rosebud, As pure as the morning dew, He was given by God, your Father, To be cherished and loved by you.

But little Robert had to leave His mother and father dear, And go back to the God who gave, And leave them lonely here.

He is waiting, watching, calling, From that home so bright and fair, Where all must become as little children, Who hope to enter there.

Weep not, mourn not, For he is free from pain, And in that blessed city, You shall see your child again.

God gave and God took away Your darling little son, 'Tis hard but best to say, Not my will, but Thine be done.

Now he is resting, sweetly resting, With Christ in heaven so fair, There death will never come, Nor does pain enter there.

It is in this home on high, You will see your child so fair, He is now a little Angel, And is waiting for you there. MRS. H. M. YOUNG.

J. R. Ogle Is Named Local Assistant To Food Administrator

The State Food Administrator, E. A. Peden, has appointed J. R. Ogle an assistant food administrator in Wichita county. His duties are to represent all the fraternal orders of the county, it is the desire of the state administrator as well as the assistant to have every such order in the county at once select their own representative in each order, and to give his name and address to Mr. Ogle.

who will then be in a position to supply them with the information as it reaches him on very short notice. All fraternal orders are requested to at once carry out this suggestion, so that it will not be found necessary to call on each of them in person or by letter. The list of such orders in the state does not include union organizations, so that it is not known at this time whether or not they are included, but Mr. Ogle states that he would like to have them also, unless he is instructed otherwise. If a nice home is your desire see ads elsewhere in this paper of N. O. Monroe. 161-11p

PUBLIC IS URGED TO HOLD LIBERTY BONDS

Consequently a campaign of education seeking to have owners hold bonds will be started after the next war loan. The treasury has practically given up hope of developing a scheme for artificially stabilizing the price. The extent to which the sinking fund has been used to absorb bonds has not been disclosed.

The $5,000 remaining to be secured will be the goal set for Monday night, October 18. House to House Canvass. The house to house canvass on Friday netted $1,993.67 turned in so far, with five committees yet to make a report. The canvass among the negro district amounted to $44.30, according to the report turned in. Mrs. Bert Bean was in charge of the canvass, assisted by Z. E. Trimble, one of the teachers at the Washington school. The campaign among the girls who work resulted in a contribution of $2,100. The Victory Boys and Girls had a contribution approximating $2,200. In addition the academy contributed $205, results of a concert given Friday night.

Young People Give Liberally. "If every business man had given like the girls who work and the school boys and girls, the additional 50 per cent asked for an over-subscription would have been easily raised."

Mr. Martin stated Saturday. "This class of subscriptions were by far the most generous made, proportionately." The money for the pledges made by the Victory Boys and Girls section must be earned according to the regulations of the organization, and a number of high school boys and girls are planning to pick cotton next Saturday, to raise a part of their quota. The Rotary Club has also promised to arrange ways for the high school boys to earn their subscriptions.

BANKS PERMITTED TO SUBSCRIBE TO WAR WORK FUND

Special to The Times. NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—That national banks may subscribe to the United War Work campaign for funds for the seven civilian war agencies, is the declaration of John Skelton Williams, United States Comptroller of Currency, in a telegram to Director General John R. Mott today. The telegram follows:

"In reply to your inquiry I regret to advise you that the joint resolution empowering the boards of directors on behalf of national banks to make subscriptions to the United War Work campaign, which has passed the Senate, has not been reported upon by the House committee for lack of a quorum. It is hoped this resolution may become a law shortly. Meanwhile there is no reason why national banks desiring to do so should not make conditional subscriptions to the fund, such subscriptions to become effective only when the bill becomes a law."

This announcement by Comptroller Williams is considered of tremendous importance at the present critical hour when the entire country is lagging far behind in the great campaign.

KEMP TO CAPITAL FOR CONFERENCE WITH SEC'Y. LANE

INTERESTED IN COLONIZATION OF RECLAIMED LANDS BY GOVERNMENT. INVESTIGATION IS MADE

Government Plans to Purchase Large Tracts for Sale to Returned Soldiers.

In connection with a new scheme for colonization of the lands reclaimed by the proposed irrigation district and damming of the Wichita River, J. A. Kemp left today for Washington, to go into conference with Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, Dr. Elwood Meade, transfer of California settlement act, and other national authorities interested in placing soldiers on farms when they are demobilized and brought back to the United States. Mr. Kemp's trip to Washington follows a visit of P. A. Welty, engineer from the Department of the Interior, a short time ago, in which an inspection of the irrigation district which is now being surveyed was made quietly and without any information being given to the public. Mr. Welty with L. G. Sinaud, also of the department of the interior, was making an inspection of the lands of Texas with the view of adaptability for government purchase to be resold to returned soldiers for colonization.

With the favorable report which Mr. Kemp is assured that Mr. Welty made of the section around Wichita Falls and which would form the Wichita irrigation district, it will be possible, Mr. Kemp believes, to have the government give very material assistance in financing the irrigation scheme and come in and take a hand in the construction work, making it possible to complete the work in a much shorter time than would be possible otherwise. The government will buy large tracts of lands for farming and colonization and it is believed that the Wichita Falls district stands an excellent chance to be one of the first in the south to be colonized by the government for this project.

Point Out Advantages. It is pointed that even without irrigation the Wichita county lands, and land in other counties which would naturally be a part of the irrigation district, make good crops when the seasons are good, and that the returned soldier would not have to wait to take up his land and to go to work cultivating it. Much of the land offered in other parts of the state, particularly to the south, is at present almost arid and it would be a matter of several years before it would be arranged for colonization, whereas, the land which Wichita county will have to offer will be ready for immediate settlement and cultivation. It will even be possible for the returned soldiers to have some of the government work, if the government takes the final land over in its colonization scheme.

According to reliable information that Mr. Kemp is in possession of a bill providing for reclamation and colonization of lands for those of the military forces who desire them to be framed immediately. It is understood that Secretary Lane has selected Dr. Elwood Meade, who assisted in pushing the Australian colonization scheme and framed the California Land Settlement Act, and Dr. Meade is already at work on the bill. Mr. Kemp is a personal friend of Dr. Meade and he will confer with him while in Washington.

Once Visited District. Dr. Meade visited the proposed Wichita Falls irrigation district many years ago, when Mr. Kemp was first agitating the damming of the Wichita River, and pronounced great possibilities for the country. Mr. Kemp is certain that his advice will be of much value, now that the time has finally come when the people are ready to form the irrigation district. He is more enthusiastic than ever over the situation and hopes to have matters much expedited on his return from Washington.

Survey Well Under Way. The survey is progressing rapidly under direction of V. L. Sullivan, chief engineer, and his assistant, Mr. Steen. Mr. Kemp reports. Already the plot of the district and the proposed damsite have been finished. It is estimated that the actual survey of the land will be completed in about two months. By this time it is highly probable that the scheme will be a national affair for reclamation and development, instead of a district, financed alone by the people residing in the Wichita Valley.

Meeting Today To Organize a Church In Floral Heights

As was announced a few weeks ago that upon Sunday, November 17, at 3 p. m. there would be held a meeting at the corner of Tenth and Kemp Boulevard for the purpose of organizing a new church to be known as the Floral Heights Baptist church, the committee again invites all the outstanding church members of like faith and order to meet with them at the above mentioned place and time for the purpose of discussing the work, and if at that time it is found to be desirable, when all the facts are made known, the new church will be constituted.

The committee also invites all the Baptist brotherhood of the city, the pastor and members of the First Baptist church, the members of the members of the Fourth Street Baptist church to meet with them to aid in the constitution of the new church. "Let whosoever will come." Bring your friends to this important meeting. The soldier boys from Call Field and all others will find a glad hand and a very cordial welcome.

High School Team Outplays Visitors From Chillicothe

The local high school football team won another victory in Friday afternoon's game, defeating the Chillicothe team by a score of 26-0 in a game played on the local field. The game was played almost entirely on the visiting team's territory, and the Wichita Falls goal was never endangered.

In the first quarter Johnny Moran scored for the local team and Bob Trotter kicked goal. The second touch-down came in the third quarter when Trotter carried the ball across, this time falling to score on the goal kick. During the last quarter Johnny Moran, intercepting a forward pass, attempted by the Chillicothe quarterback, ran seventy yards to goal. Trotter kicked goal.

Besides Trotter and Moran, LaRue and Bashara starred for Wichita Falls, and Craig for Chillicothe. The Chillicothe team was clever with the forward pass.

The line-up for the Wichita Falls team was: LaRue, center; McConkey, right guard; Geroek and Nolan, left guard; Dowis, right tackle; Wilson, left tackle; Haney, left tackle; Hughes, left end; Scott, right end; Patton, right end; Jordan, left end; Trotter, quarter; Moran, left half; Bashara, right half; Ray Patton, full. Friday's game leaves the local team with a perfect record. Three out of the four games of the season have been won, and the remaining contest was tied. Only in one game during the season has the local team been scored on.

This record has made the boys eager for even stiffer contests, and they are looking forward to the game with the Bowie high school team to be played on the local field on Saturday afternoon of this week.

Royal Neighbors Attention.

There will be an all day meeting Thursday, Nov. 21. The meeting will be called to order at 9:30 a. m. The program includes balloting for candidates and practice of the drill team. Out of town members are urged to be present. Visitors from Electra and Henrietta and are expected.

Austin School Is 100 Per cent For Junior Red Cross

Students of the Austin school have added further laurels to their already enviable record for service during the months of war in going one hundred per cent for the Junior Red Cross for the school team after a short campaign under the direction of Miss Jessie Sammons during the past week. Every child in the school, which is said to be among the largest ward schools of the state, is an active member of the Junior Red Cross and is ready to take whatever part is assigned the young people in the work of reconstruction after more than a year of war-time service. The school has taken a prominent part in all war activities where children have been given a place and has a high place in regard to the present campaign for funds for the United war work organizations, although the ward schools have not been called upon to take any definite part in the work. The teachers and leaders at the school, are proud of the students and the young people are to be congratulated on their splendid record.

Miss Catherine Brothers was in charge of the children's story hour at the library Saturday evening and a number of little folk enjoyed the hour with her.

EIGHTH REFINERY WILL BE ERECTED AT WICHITA FALLS

CHICKASHA, OKLAHOMA, PLANT TO BE LOCATED ACROSS THE RIVER.

1,500 BARREL CAPACITY COMPLETIONS EXPECTED

Lawton Men Are Largely Interested in The New Business Organization.

Wichita Falls is to have its eighth refinery within the radius of a mile, the Chickasha Refinery Company having decided that Wichita Falls was the logical point for a refinery and the coming oil center of the southwest. Saturday, Clark Trammell, of Chickasha, the vice president of the refinery, announced the closing of a deal for the purchase of a refinery site which is between the site of the American Refinery and the Panhandle Boiler Works. The company has purchased 15 acres from H. P. Dutton at this city, and construction on the plant will begin immediately.

Have Complete Equipment.
Complete equipment for a new plant had already been bought and was to have been installed on a site at Chickasha, but the officials of the company became interested in Burk Burnett and decided before the machinery was unloaded to move their refinery to Wichita Falls. The plant will have 1,500 barrel capacity at the outset, with facilities for increasing it to a 2,500 barrel plant by installing more stills. At present the plan is to start out with a three still plant, each with a daily capacity of 500 barrels. Mr. Trammell stated.

Officers of the Company.
The officers of the company are: Ed. F. Johnson, president; Clark Trammell, vice president; J. R. Travis, general manager; S. M. Cowan, secretary; J. L. Breneman, treasurer. All of these officers, with the exception of Mr. Travis, who is from Lawton, and Mr. Cowan, from Oklahoma City, are of Chickasha. W. A. Hartray of Cushing, Okla., will be the superintendent of the plant and he and Mr. Trammell are already here to make Wichita Falls their home. There is a possibility of other of the officers making Wichita Falls headquarters after a time, it is understood.

Capital of $300,000.
The Chickasha Refinery Company is capitalized at $300,000. The Capital Lease Committee has authorized the sale of $150,000 of stock at this time, and there is at present only a small amount of this on the market. Mr. Trammell stated. If new capital can be secured in sufficient quantities, he added, the refinery will be in operation within ninety days. There is sufficient production among the stockholders of the company to operate the plant at its full capacity, he stated. The refinery will build its own pipe line from the nearby oil fields, this line to be arranged later, he stated.

Eighth Refinery Here.
This makes the eighth refinery to be built, or projected for Wichita Falls. The Panhandle Refinery was the first plant built near this city and the second in the county. The Lone Star Refinery has been in operation almost a year, and the Powers and Shine State and Fisher-Gilliland Refineries are now under construction. The American Refinery will be built shortly, the equipment being brought on the way, in the case with the refinery to be built by W. C. Myers, J. A. D. Smith and others on acreage just south of the Lone Star Refinery.

SHALLOW FIELD NOW ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

Oil operators were reminded this past week that Burk Burnett isn't the only oil pool in Wichita county, by the bringing in of new wells, that opened up new pools, with seemingly unlimited possibilities for development, and activities in the Sunshine Slope well now drilling at 1100 feet, and the rival Burk Burnett. Two wells have been completed recently to the east of Sunshine Hill, on the Mollie Beds farm, which, within a comparatively unproven territory and which are considered to open up a new pool. The Charlie Oil Company's well, about midway between the Sunshine Slope well now drilling at 1100 feet, and the H. T. Goetz farm, and the furthest east shallow wells of Sunshine Hill, was reported last week. It is considered good for at least 200 barrels, possibly even better. This week Graham Kemp and associates of Chillicothe completed a well also on the Mollie Beds farm, at 1077 feet, which is estimated good for 100 barrels.

The new pool at Iowa Park was opened by the well on the Watkins farm which has been previously reported. These two districts are diverting attention in a measure from Burk Burnett, but here activity continues more feverish than the imagination could have believed possible, three months ago. Several new derricks have been erected this week, and there are a number of wells just waiting for the cement to set, before drilling in.

SEVERAL DEEP TESTS IN FRIBERG DISTRICT

Several deep test wells are to be put down in the Frisberg district, it is reported. The Ground Floor Oil Company is preparing to begin a deep test on the Segrave land, having already made a location and let the drilling contract. L. E. Key and associates of Vernon are also to make a test in this section. It is understood that Vernon operators are largely interested in the Frisberg section, and that an extensive development is planned.

$15,000 AN ACRE REPORTED PRICE FOR BURK LEASE

RECORD PRICE SAID TO HAVE BEEN PAID FOR TRANSFER LAST WEEK.

COMPLETIONS EXPECTED

Number of Wells on Sand and Will Be Brought in During the Week.

On the west side of the townsite there are two wells which will be drilled in next week, the Allday and the Beckman on the Kasper lease. The standard rig for drilling is being installed at the Beckman well and the drilling in will be completed early in the week. The Allday is waiting for the cement to set and will probably be completed by Wednesday or Thursday.

Boiler trouble for two or three days has prevented the completion of the Victory Petroleum well on the Schoepfer and Schweder addition. W. W. Priddy, the manager of the well reports. The hole was cleaned out after the cement had hardened and balled for several days this past week, a strong flow of oil being reported. Barring any other trouble the well should be completed within the next few days.

Fisher-Parker Looks Good.
The Fisher-Parker well on block 3, Burk Burnett townsite, is reported on the sand at 1538 with indications of being an unusually good well. The Big Seven Oil Company well nearby has their casing set at 1532 feet, and will drill in next week, according to reports Saturday night.

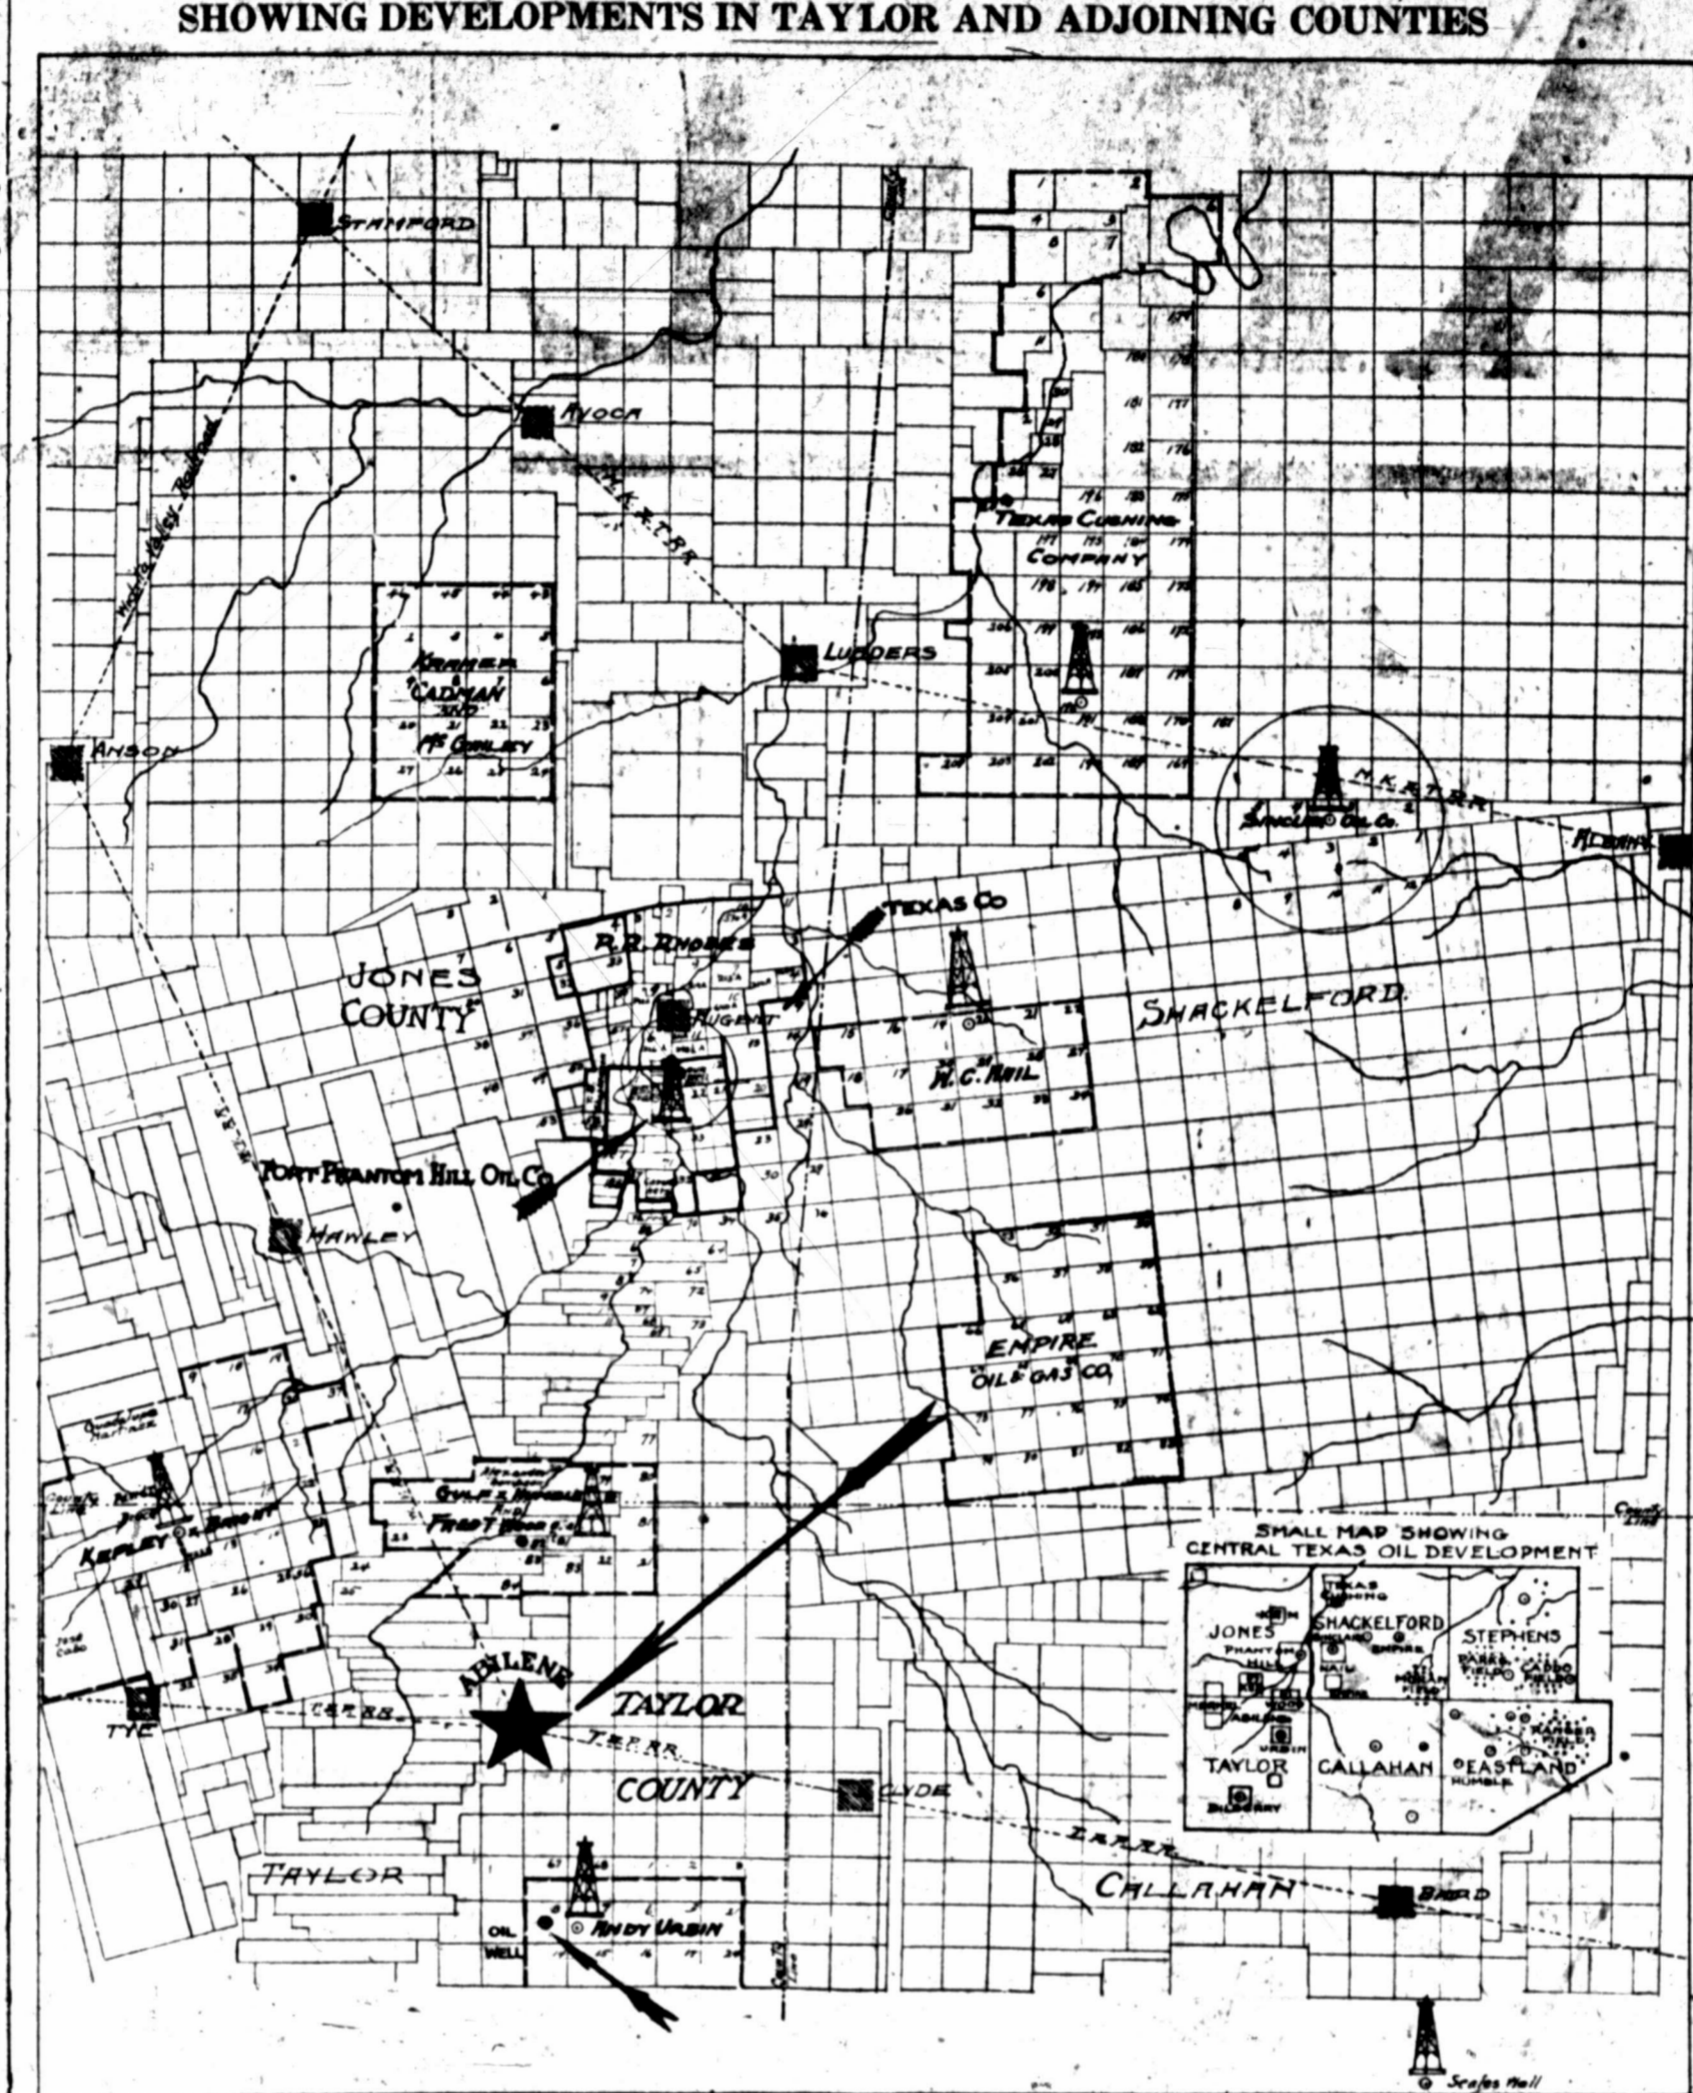

The Direct Line Oil Company, which is drilling west of Burk Burnett, reports a good sand at 1540 feet, with indications of an 800 or 1,000 barrel well. The casing has been set and cemented and the well will be drilled within a few days.

There is a good deal of interest in leases around the Helen Elizabeth well, according to reports, and some fancy prices are being paid. Due to the fact that the big companies bought up this land, the Vanclieve farm, early in the Burk Burnett boom there, it is believed that a transfer in which $15,000 an acre was paid has been reported. This land is to the east of the townsite, and the Helen Elizabeth well extended the line of production almost to the east.

ABILENE CENTER OF OIL ACTIVITY FOR NEW FIELDS

NUMBER OF PROMINENT OPERATORS ATTRACTED TO THAT SECTION.

DRILLING IN PROGRESS

Estimated That a Million Dollars is Represented in Contracts Already Made.

Special to The Times.
ABILENE, TEX., Nov. 16.—Perhaps never in the history of the oil industry has an unproved field enjoyed such activity as that which Abilene is the center. This unprecedented activity is the result, largely, of extremely favorable reports by reputable geologists covering a period of years. These reports have brought to the Abilene territory some of the largest operators in the southwest, and hundreds of thousands of dollars are being invested in this immediate vicinity. The big concern who have bought up leases covering the more favorable formations. Many wells are now drilling and many others are to be drilled. Abilene is coming into its own as the natural center of the oil industry in the West Texas fields, and hundreds of oil men are locating here permanently with their families.

The attention of the oil interests was first attracted to this section by the favorable reports made by Dr. J. A. Udden, geologist for the State of Texas, a number of years ago. Since Dr. Udden's report dozens of favorable reports have been made by geologists for big oil companies and development syndicates and by independent geologists. The drilling contracts already made and acreage bought represent an expenditure in this section of over one million dollars.

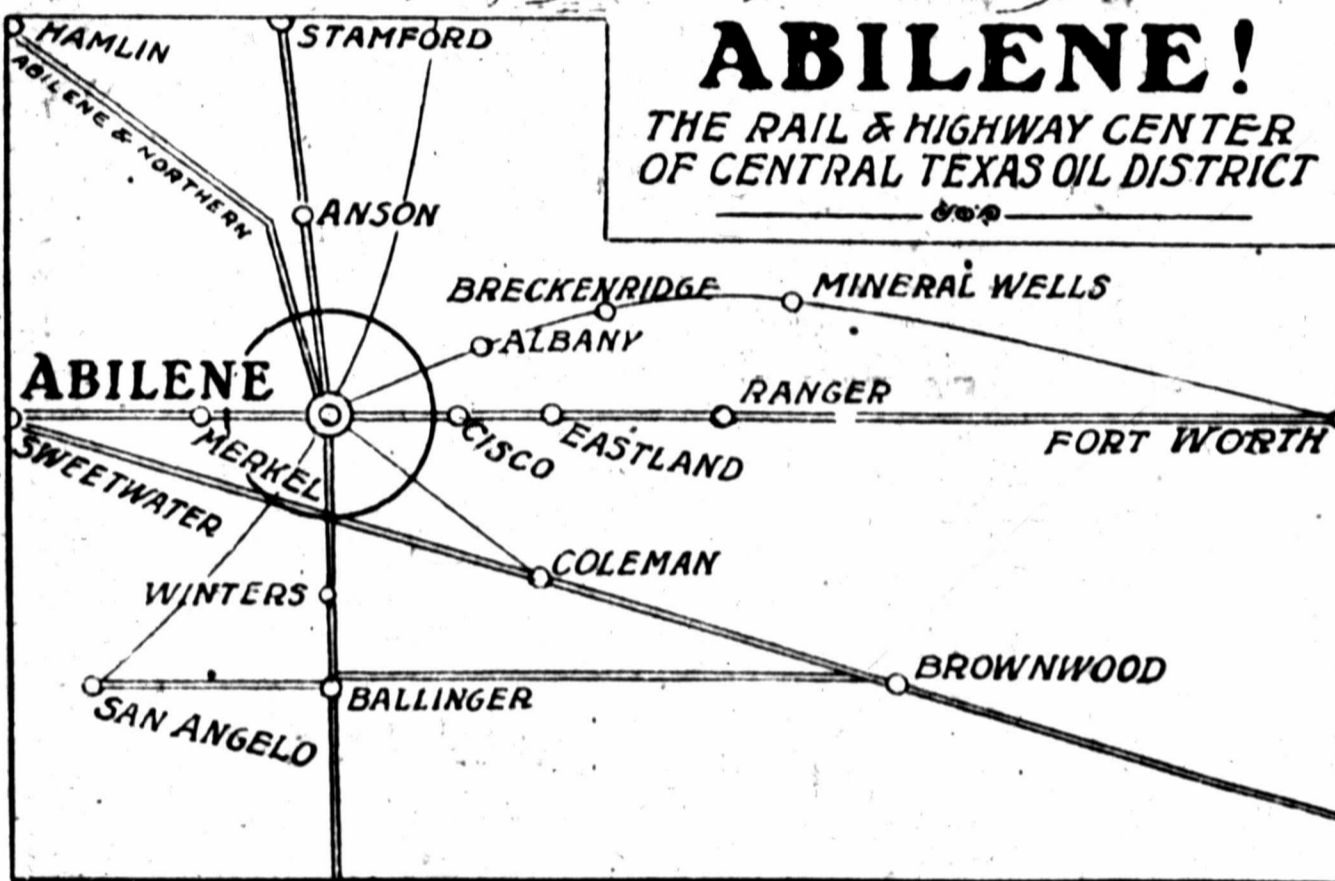

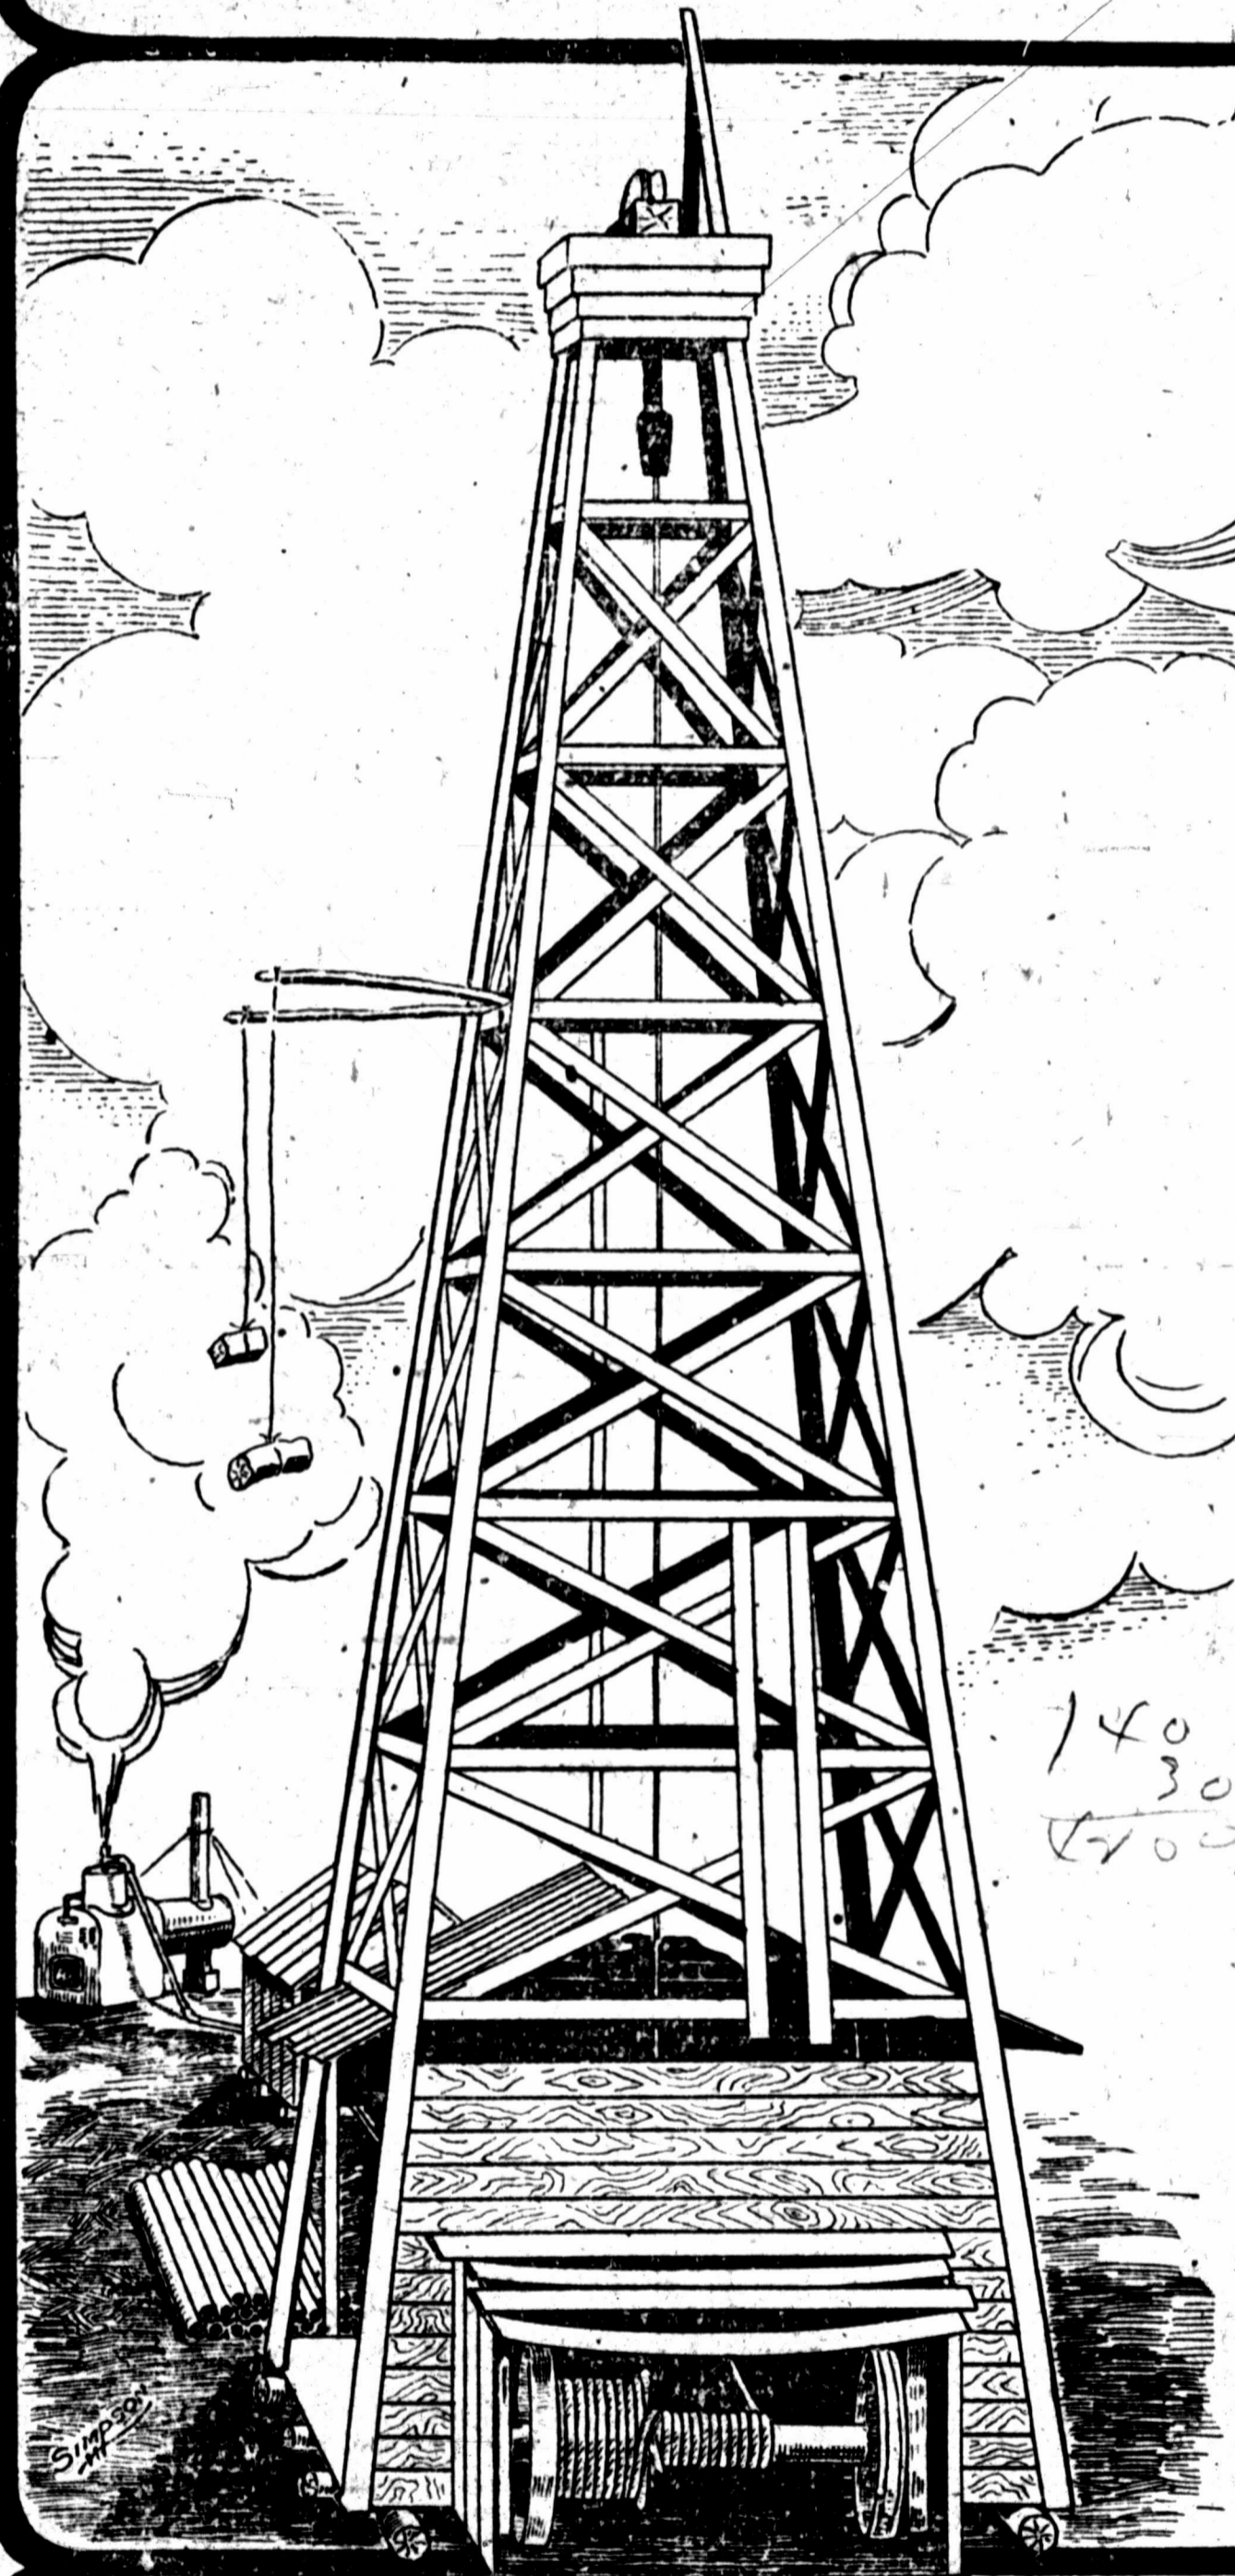

As an index to the activities in the Abilene field the following reports on wells actually drilling will be of interest:
Wells Now Drilling.
Fort Phantom Hill Oil Company, location 300 feet east of center of west line of section 13, block 14, T. & P. Ry. Co., Jones county, 16 miles north of Abilene; set 15 1/2 in casing at 270 and are now drilling at 500 feet.
Texas-Cushing Company Well No. 1, south half section 182, Shackelford county, northwest of Abilene, now setting 10 in. casing at 1485 where an oil sand was found. This company has rig iron and timbers now unloaded at Luaders for their well No. 2 to be located five or six miles north of No. 1 and has leased the Colbert ranch seven miles northeast of Stamford under contract to start a deep test within 90 days.

Krepley & Bright's No. 1 is located 1100 feet west and 1500 feet north of southeast corner David T. Bruce survey, Taylor county, seven miles northwest of Abilene. Now drilling at 100 feet.
Gulf-Humble-Wood, located in the northeast corner of the John Jarmon survey No. 83, Taylor county, four miles northeast of Abilene; now drilling at 300 feet.

The Sinclair-Gulf test, section 3, Shackelford, northeast of Abilene, is now setting casing at 600 feet.
Andrew and Reese, Allen, northwest corner of southwest one-fourth section 7, L. L. A. L., Taylor county, seven miles southeast of Abilene, now drilling at 30 feet. This location is half a mile east of the Anderson well, which is pumping about 15 barrels of oil and furnishing the fuel for other tests in the district. The Scale well, 1 1/2 miles southeast of Abilene, has derrick erected and tools on ground ready to start.

RESTRICTIONS ON LIGHTS REMOVED BY ADMINISTRATOR

ORDER IS ISSUED BY WILEY BLAIR EFFECTIVE ON MONDAY.

EXCEPTIONS ARE MADE

Administrator Extends His Thanks to Co-Workers Throughout the State.

State Fuel Administrator Wiley Blair of Dallas has issued an order effective Monday removing the lighting restrictions that have been in force for several months with exceptions as noted therein. He also extends his thanks to those who have been associated with him, announcing that the state order will be continued indefinitely in accordance with instruction from Dr. Garfield.

Order Number Fifteen, effective 7 a. m. Monday, November 18, 1918, is as follows: "The United States Fuel Administration acting under authority of an executive order of the President of the United States, dated August 23, 1917, appointing said Fuel Administrator, and of subsequent orders, and in furtherance of the purpose of said orders and of the act of congress therein referred to and approved August 19th, 1917, having heretofore appointed the undersigned Federal Fuel Administrator for the State of Texas, with power and authority to said Federal Fuel Administrator with respect to coal and coke within said state, to prescribe and administer reasonable rules for the regulation, sale, shipment, distribution, appointment, storage and conservation of all fuel within said state.

Restrictions Removed. "And now said Federal Fuel Administrator for Texas, believing from information received from the conditions which caused the promulgation of the lightness night order, having passed to such an extent that warrants in a measure the removal of the restrictions on all lighting in Texas, hereby advises that all lighting in this state can be used as in pre-war times with the following exception:

Section 1: The extravagant or wasteful use of light generated or produced by the use or consumption of coal, oil, gas or other fuel for illuminating purposes in the streets, parks or other public places of any city, village or town, or for other outdoor illumination, public or private, is hereby prohibited.

Section 2: All county fuel administrators are requested to see that the above is carried out and notify this office of any violation.

Thanks Extended. "Mr. Blair extends his thanks to members of the State Advisory Committee and the County Fuel Administrators in the following communication: "I want to take this opportunity of thanking each and every one of you for the hearty and full co-operation that you have extended in handling fuel matters in our state. Without your able assistance, it would have been impossible for me to have accomplished anything. As it is, the results obtained through your efforts and help are such that our people have been protected, our government has been helped wonderfully, and with the result that the most cruel war ever waged has been brought to a successful conclusion, and our flag never trailed in defeat. It is today waving proudly in victory on foreign battle fields.

"For this great victory, we should all feel proud, yet our hearts should be softened by the sorrow that has come to many and for those into

State Food and Drug Inspector Here Last Week

Tom H. Johnson of the state food and drug inspection department, returned to Austin Saturday afternoon, after spending two days in Wichita investigating some cases of alleged violation of the state pure food laws at Electra. Mr. Johnson also visited local dairies with Mrs. T. B. Smock, the local inspector.

Mr. Johnson will return in a week's time to make an inspection of conditions at Burkholder. He will also have to return to Austin to finish the cases, as some witnesses were not present when he conducted the investigation there this past week.

SATURDAY NIGHT CADET NIGHT IN WICHITA FALLS

BOYS OF WHITE HAT BAND TO BE WEEKLY HOSTS TO GIRLS.

DANCE LAST EVENING

Thirty-Five Couples Enjoy Delightful Program at St. James Hotel Last Night.

Saturday night is to be Cadet Night on the social calendar of Wichita Falls girls, the boys of the white hat band having mapped out a social program which will provide for some social event each Saturday night with the cadets as hosts. The first affair was the dance of last night which was staged under the management of Cadet Cook at the St. James hotel. There were about thirty-five cadets and an equal number of girls who were their guests. Mrs. M. M. Adickes and Mrs. E. H. Maupin were the official chaperones. Delectable and numerous dances sandwiched in between, just as long as the cadets are here completing their flying course.

Coming events, planned by the enterprising cadets, will include a marshmallow roast, a barbecue, the big society vaudeville show which will be staged in December and numerous dances sandwiched in between, just as long as the cadets are here completing their flying course.

THE BOYS ARE COMING HOME.

Nov. 11, 1918.
O'er the rolling broad Atlantic;
Safe across the crested foam,
Victory written on their banners,
Lo, the boys are coming home.

Mothers by the million wait them,
Those brave, bonny boys of ours,
They are coming, surely coming,
Nothing else above this towers.

Governments and fathers glory
In the mighty victory;
But sings each and every mother:
"Sammy's coming home to me."

All the world is garbed in gladness,
Allied flags above it floats,
While the mighty cry of Freedom
Comes from many million throats.

Little children, fathers, sweethearts,
Join the ever-swelling song;
But the mothers "Halleluia"
Rises high above the throng.

She who to her bosom cradled,
Once, a tiny, helpless son;
Never once her hope hath slackened—
Never, since his life begun.

When the night dropped down its darkness,
When the father, wearied, slept,
And the mother all unmindful,
She, alone, the vigil kept.

She, alone, beheld the rainbow,
Up, above, the battle's hell;
Ebe, alone, did trust the promise:
"I am with him—all is well."

"I will guard him when the terror,
Of the arrow doth befall—
Perilance shall not come near him
When it spreads its awful pall."

Oh, the trust and faith, and patience,
Found within "the Secret Place,"
When the mother of a soldier
Placed him there and claimed God's grace.

Now he's coming, coming homeward,
Praise the Lord, the most high,
Who is bringing back the boys,
After they had dared to die.

Daring Aviator Thrills Crowds Frederick, Okla.

Immediately upon his arrival in Frederick Wednesday morning, Lieutenant Leon C. Brooks and his mechanic, Carl Anderson, of Call Field Wichita Falls, performed daring aviation feats that kept the crowds on Grand avenue thrilled and sent chills down numerous backbones. Lieutenant Brooks and Mr. Anderson came for the victory celebration, but previous to landing at the aviation field east of the city flew over Frederick, looped the loop and did various other stunts. Their chief performance was in the afternoon, however, Frederick leader.

Chief Engineer Officer of Call Field Seeks Opportunity for Service With Overseas Army

Major E. E. Neville, chief engineer officer of Call Field, on last Monday morning, before the whistles which announced the end of the war had quit blowing, wrote Washington, asking to be transferred to the infantry and sent overseas until the reconstruction work was over, as did Major A. J. Farrel, Call Field's commanding officer. Both majors have been in hopes of being sent overseas, but as the War Department considered their work in the training camp more necessary during the war, they are now asking for an opportunity of assisting in the rebuilding of the ruined regions of Belgium and France and the occupation of Germany.

For the accompanying picture of Major Neville, and the following review of his service the Camouflage is indebted to the Call Field Stabilizer of November.

Review of Service.
Major Eugene E. Neville, Chief Engineer Officer of Call Field, entered the United States Army, leaving his first officers training camp at Fort

Riley, Kansas, where after graduating on October 15, 1917, he was commissioned captain and assigned to duty as captain of Company K, 254th Infantry, 88th Division, 17th Brigade. On February 16, 1918, Captain Neville was transferred to the Aviation Section, Signal Reserve Corps, as an Engineer Officer, and on the same day was assigned to report to Call Field as assistant to the Engineer Officer. Upon reporting at Call Field, Captain Neville was first assigned as Officer in Charge of Transportation, and demands during the war were made Commandant of sets, which latter office he held until May, 1918, when upon the departure of Captain Pierce, he was assigned as School Engineer Officer. A much desired Majority was given Captain Neville on October 11, 1918, and all his friends join in extending congratulations. The present high state of efficiency and the unprecedented cooperation of the Engineering Department of Call Field is due to Major Neville's untiring efforts to maintain the standard of efficiency which the government expects and demands during this period of greatest emergency.

WAR WORK FUND CAMPAIGN THIS WEEK AT FIELD

A United War Work Campaign is to be put on at Call Field this week for the benefit of the funds for the soldiers "over there." Lieutenant Thomas J. Farrell is to conduct the campaign, which will doubtless meet with as much success as did the Fourth Liberty Loan, which went over big. The soldiers at Call Field have always been prompt to contribute in any worthy cause, and this cause of keeping up their "brothers in a common cause," who have been fortunate enough to get over before the war was over, is interesting them.

WILL INVESTIGATE ALLOWANCES BY THE GOVERNMENT

An investigation will be conducted in a short time by representatives of the government with regard to government allowances which are being received by relatives of soldiers in Wichita Falls and Wichita county. The local board states that any person receiving a government allowance, when they were not dependent on them, for support are defrauding the government and should return the money they have received at once. This means that any mother whose son was not by some means of support before entering the army, should not receive an allowance from the government. In addition to the allowance her son makes from his pay, familiarly with any other relatives. It is stated that there are many such cases believed to exist in this country, some of them where the fraud is unintentional and unwitting, and such people should return to the government all money which has been secured in this manner. George Thornburn, of the local board states. This warning is given before the investigation starts, for the benefit of those who have been unwittingly defrauding the government, and who will be given a chance to make restitution.

HERE IS ANOTHER FROM LIEUT. FARRELL.
Here's a note. See if you can figure it out. It's a good one for Lieutenants. First Looney: See Lieut. Reagan just flying much nowadays.
Second Looney: Yep, the student of Lieut. Farrel's.

FOOTBALL GAME ON THANKSGIVING WITH CARRUTHERS

After the Thanksgiving turkey which can be eaten in true thankfulness this year, that the world is again at peace and that America had a hand in making this condition, Wichita Falls will spend the afternoon in the time honored way, watching a football game for Lieutenants Tom Keane of Call Field and transferred to Detroit with Carruthers Field post team to play at Call Field Thanksgiving afternoon. Work on selecting a team to represent Call Field will begin this week. Lieutenant Keane announced and the best football talent on the field will be selected, officers, men from the squadrons and cadets to enter for places on the post team.

The Carruthers Field post team is a good one, that has been pulling down victories for some time, but with such talent as Tom Keane of Yale, Baker of Yale, Heath of Kansas and other former football stars, who are at Call Field, the local team will be able to play a game that will be well worth seeing. This game, as the one today, and other contests which may be staged later, will be for the benefit of the camp gymnasium. The patronage of the public will be appreciated.

LIEUT. MORROW IS KILLED IN CRASH AT DETROIT, MICH.

Lieutenant Clifford K. Morrow, commissioned at Call Field on April 15 of this year, was killed in Detroit, Michigan, on Monday, Nov. 11, when his plane crashed through the roof of a building while he was going stunts over the city in celebration of the signing of the armistice. News of his death was received by his friends here through the Wednesday edition of a Detroit newspaper. Lieutenant Morrow was transferred from the local field on July 17. The body was escorted to his home by Lieutenants H. F. Haines and H. B. Griffin, both commissioned at Call Field and transferred to Detroit with Lieutenant Morrow. He remains were interred with military honors. It has been suggested that the new testing field at Detroit where Lieutenant Morrow was stationed be called Morrow Field.

Peace Celebration Featured by Dance With Jazz Music

Lots of pretty girls, good jazz music and other dance accessories made the peace celebration at the officers mess Monday night a success. The post officers were hosts, getting the affair up hastily to celebrate the close of the war. As usual with affairs staged at the post was thoroughly delightful.

SQUADRON D TO STAGE MINSTREL MONDAY, NOV. 25

On Monday, November 25, Squadron D of Call Field will stage a minstrel at the Wichita theater. Work has begun on the production, under the direction of Lieutenant Southworth, the squadron commander, and Lieutenant Sullivan, the squadron football team coach. The proceeds will go to the football fund of the organization. The complete program will be ready for staging on next Sunday, the producers state. There is some unusual talent among Squadron D, much of which has never appeared on the stage in Wichita Falls before, and this will be introduced in the minstrel. One of the feature attractions will be Private Buckman, one of the latest additions to the squadron, who was the first prize in vaudeville before entering the service.

Wrestling Match Features Program Of Next Fite Nite

Cadet Glouskin, former Yale athlete, and Horwitz, of Squadron E, will stage a wrestling match that promises to be the feature of the "fite nite" program this week. Lieutenant Heath, "fite nite" manager, announced. Three entries have been booked for the program. Thursday night, a boxing match between Morris of Squadron E and Carlson of Squadron C and a wrestling match between Mohama and Sabowski, both of Squadron B, in addition to the match between the cadet and the Squadron E representative. At least two other numbers will be arranged for Tuesday night. Lieutenant Heath states that the program promises to be one of the best since the institution of "fite nite." The public is invited. The start-up program will sound for the first match at exactly 7:30.

Stabilizer for November Very Attractive One

Call Field editors, artists and literary fairly outdid themselves in the November Stabilizer, which was out the first of the week. There is a timely cover, representing the American eagle, wings spread and screaming victoriously as the American Thanksgiving. The magazine is unusually full of good stuff, the contributions from each of the squadrons being exceptionally readable. Lieutenant Heath's cargo, whose closeness with his post gained him fame in Wichita Falls in the days before the war, has been at work and the results did much to the magazine. Every department is represented and the poets also have their shinnings. The winners of the prize story competition are printed. Martin Koenig won the first prize, "If You Don't Weaken." There are also other prize winning stories published. The magazine will be of interest to the friends of the soldiers and will be an interesting souvenir, as will the coming numbers for the days when the flying school will not be needed, as the sure to come in time, with the readjustments of peace.

K. OF C. ACTIVITIES.

The past week has been a lively one at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Picture shows were given two nights, which were greatly enjoyed by the boys. Thursday night was the band concert, which was held in the hall and was attended by a very select crowd of young ladies from Wichita Falls. Music was furnished by Call Field "Jazz" Orchestra. The chaperones of the evening were Misses James Walker, Delaney, Fitzgerald, Lewis, Bullitt. The boys are anxiously waiting for the date of the next dance, which probably will be a Thanksgiving party.

The program for the following week, Monday night, a musical show, to be given by the cadets, moving picture on Wednesday night and Sunday night.

SQUADRON E TO MEET FT. SILL ON LOCAL GRIDIRON

GAME WILL BE CALLED THIS AFTERNOON AT 2 O'CLOCK AT CALL FIELD.

FOR GYMNASIUM FUND

Former College Football Stars Will Appear in Line-up of Both Elevens.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Squadron E team of Call Field will meet the celebrated Post Field squad on the local gridiron. The proceeds of the game will go to the Call Field gymnasium fund, after the expenses of the visiting team are paid. Both teams have former college football stars in their line-up and a fast, exciting game is anticipated. Lieutenant Tommers, the former Yale coach who is at Call Field, is coach of the local team and has pronounced them in shape to put up a good stiff battle. Lieutenant Forch, a Syracuse University man, who for a time was Lieutenant Keane's assistant at Call Field, now at Post Field, arrived Saturday morning to complete the necessary arrangements for the game. Lieutenant Heath, the assistant athletic director, flew over to Lawton for the Post Field officer Saturday and he will be the guest of friends here for the week-end. Lieutenant Forch will act as referee, Lieutenant Baker of Yale, as umpire and Major Neville will act as headlinesman.

The line-up of the local team follows: Miller, center; Nolan and Kennedy, guards; Flynn and Schib, tackles; Notes and Pestrowicz, ends; Jurice, left half; Woods, right half; Buckwall, fullback; Wooding, quarterback; Melrodald, Melrodald, Phillips, Carpenter and Atkinson, substitutes.

OUR THANKSGIVING.

Our souls rejoice in Victory,
Our hearts are glad to see
Rejoice that right has triumphed
And nations may now be free.
Free from the yoke of the tyrant
To live as men should live,
Enjoying a life to its fullest
That only republics can give.
To the men who have fought our battles,
Forever let honor be,
To those who return to us,
And those who sleep over the sea.
To the ones among us who've given
The pride and joy of their life,
To fall in this terrible conflict
Where pain and death were rife,
Let us share if we may their sorrow
Let us help them throughout the lands,
Till their spirits are reunited
In that "house not built with hands"
They paid the price of our freedom
With the dearest of all they have,
When the steel of the shrapnel
silenced
The song of a soldier lad
To the wonderful man in the White House,
To the strength of his heart and mind,
To his purpose that has not faltered,
To his heart divinely kind,
Let us pay full measure; "tribute"
Full measure of all our praise,
For he steered our nation wisely
From gloom to glorious days.
By his deeds he has built a temple
To be venerated in many lands
Two fine pyramids and a tower
Built in past by human hands.
For the brain and brawn of our Sunny Land,
For the strength of our boys and their willing hands,
For our leaders at home and over sea,
Oh, merciful God, we offer to Thee
Thoughtful and praise forever,

NEW TURN TO OLD TANGLE
 IN "SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE"

If you were a pretty and neglected young wife what would you do if a middle-aged and designing widow took advantage of your husband's interest in his work to try to win him from you? This is the problem that forms the basis for a delightful comedy in "Sauce for the Goose," the new Sedet Picture in which Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge, which will be shown at the Majestic theater on Wednesday.

The story is from the successful play by Geraldine Bonner and Hutchinson Boyd, adapted by Julia Crawford Ivers. DAVIDSON'S John Constable, a young writer, is working hard on his book, "Woman's Struggles." Mrs. Alloway, a widow, takes an interest in his work and Kitty, the young wife, remarks that the widow is trying to land John. When Mrs. Alloway goes too far in her designs, Kitty connects a clever retaliatory plan of her own, covers the widow with poison and wins her husband back in a jiffy. The theme of the picture is the handling of it in this picture.

PEGGY HIGHLAND PRESENTS BONNIE ANNIE LAURIE
 In her latest and best photoplay pretty Peggy Highland presents one of the most touching stories that

MARY PICKFORD COMING IN "MOBILIZATION OF JOHANNA"

For genuinely delicious humor and timely interest, announcement is made that Mary Pickford's newest photoplay, "Johanna Enlists," a screen adaptation of Rupert Hughes' successful story, "The Mobilization of Johanna," which will be shown at the Empress theatre next Monday and Tuesday is perhaps the most pleasing offering of the season, and in many respects one of the most novel and delightful vehicles ever provided for this famous cinema star.

One feature of unusual interest which makes this photoplay most notable is that the military scenes with which it abounds present the members of the 143rd Regiment, Field Artillery, of which Miss Pickford is the honorary colonel. The troops were encamped at Universal Ranch, in California, where the scenes were "shot," and they will, of course, be absolutely realistic, even to a court martial which is carried out with every attention to detail.

Miss Pickford has a charming role in this picture. She is a freckled country girl with a highly romantic turn of mind, and when she decides to take a milk bath to improve her beauty, interesting developments occur. A jealous soldier and his rival, an officer, provide the situation which ends in an insult, a court martial, and the appearance of the hero on the scene. Of course, Miss Pickford is splendidly supported by a cast of picked players, her leading man being Douglas MacLean.

Date for World Famous Singer Is December 10

On Tuesday evening, December 10th, Arthur Middleton will appear in concert at Wichita Falls High school. The date set for the Merle and Bechtel Alcock concert is February 5th. To hear a great American sing American compositions gives pleasure to every loyal citizen of the land. Furthermore, Mr. Middleton possesses a most charming personality, and in spite of his high rank as an artist—makes every person in his audience feel perfectly at ease.

To be able to produce matchless tones ranging from low to high in a bass baritone register is sufficient proof of an artist's ability; but when to perfect technique or singing, the charming personality of such a man as Mr. Middleton is added, an audience feels that there is nothing left to be desired.

The personal magnetism of this singer is perhaps more noticeable in his French and Italian selections than in any other numbers. School children, who do not understand the meaning of any word sung, select these songs as their favorites because they feel the beauty of them. He is equally gifted in impersonating an agonized mother or the fate of Danny Deever; the voice and the magic personality of the man hold every hearer enthralled. In bringing these artists of song to Wichita Falls, the High school is actuated by a desire not only to entertain but to educate the students, and patrons of the school to a higher appreciation of the cultural value of music. The prices of tickets will be placed within the reach of all, and it is confidently expected that every seat in the High school auditorium will be occupied at each of these concerts. The ticket sale will be launched in the near future, and full information will be given the public through the High school pupils and the press.

BAYLOR COUNTY RECEIVES MONEY FOR GOOD ROADS

The county commissioners have received a check for $300,000, as the receipts from the sale of our road bonds. The money has been placed in the four banks of the county.

This is very fine, but not as fine as it would be if we were ready to go to work. A wire has been received from the engineer stating that on account of serious illness in his family it is impossible for him to come at once. However, he will come in a short while and will move his family here when they are able to come. He is arranging for his force, and it will not be long until they are ready for business.

Commissioners court placed an order this week for more tools. They will be shipped out at once.

The court thinks now that we will be able to begin the work about the first of December.—Seymour Egan.

The erection of great army camps all over the country has brought an element of much needed romance into many a country girl's life. Lordy, the boys are as thick as flies round a jam pot. And she marries the best boy of the lot and rides off on a gun carriage—some picture!

Belgium Under the German Heel

(By BRAND WHITLOCK.)

As the autumn of 1918 advanced we had something more than a presentiment that peace was further off from Europe than ever, and that before it came again to the earth our own country would be swept into the vortex of the war. The great conflict was growing more bitter, there was a lower, deeper note of savage hatred in the choruses of universal strife, and the great tragedy seemed to be wheeling to some awful doom.

At evening we imagined a more portentous war than the Zepplins saw. In the low and passing directly over our roof on their far flight across the English Channel, monstrous birds of night, grim and black in the deep purple skies. At morning we were awakened by the burst of bombs the English and French aviators were hurling on the banners of those who were by the boom of the shrapnel the Germans were firing in their effort to bring them down, even if the efforts were unsuccessful. These at night there was always the thud of the guns along the Somme, deep, distant, lugubrious. They had come to have something of the permanence and persistence of the roar of some mighty waterfall producing the appalling sense one has sometimes at Niagara, an almost unupportable impatience with the noise, and the desire to stop, if but for an instant's surcease in its mighty pain, and then the consciousness that it has gone on always, and will go on forever and forever.

During the latter part of that month of September, a great court-martial was in progress at Limbourg, trying over sixty persons for spying or for treason in times of war. The court meant, in the Legation, women in tears, pleading in a confidence that was pathetic enough to break the heart they naively thought to be only one it was necessary to touch, yet never sufficient even to move the heart whose dictates alone could have prevailed. Before the month was over, seventeen had been condemned to death, many of the others to imprisonment at hard labor for life, and most of the remaining to some rigid penitentiary in the German empire whose horrid secrets are never revealed, whose pains are never even temporarily mitigated by those revulsions of public sentiment which now and then make for some reform in our own.

A woman and her daughter came to the Legation all the way from Luxembourg to ask my help in securing some mitigation of the sentence of death that had been pronounced on her nephew and her niece, two others of the same family had been condemned to hard labor, and there were three others still in the Belgian army and at the front. The mother of the condemned boy set out on what under the conditions of travel that prevailed in Belgium if one was poor, was a long pilgrimage to Brussels to plead for her son and daughter, and to have her case reviewed. Having no illusions as to what the sentence would be, she started before it was pronounced, but at Brussels a lawyer told her that her daughter, too, had been condemned and was bound to be shot, and the old mother collapsed. And it was her sister who came, and she and her daughter sat there in their black garb, weeping, begging, pleading, imploring, and I, who would have done so much, quite powerless in the midst of all that welter of woe in which the world had been plunged.

Our difficulties increase. The problems of the relief work seemed to be increasing each day. It was always the same—the impossibility to secure a reasonable compliance with the guarantees concerning native produce. The exceptions which we had admitted were being used by the military to justify every kind of infraction, cattle were being lifted and driven off across the border, but was being seized—even from the farm of Monsieur Solvay, the President of the Comité National.

It was growing more and more difficult to exercise control; if the C. R. B. delegates reported that the soldiers were taking food, the military darkly hinted at spying; it was not permitted to make observations as to the conduct of soldiers. The Germans, too, sagaciously with their eyes on the prize, tried to exasperate the C. N. to induce its members to do something of which complaint could be made. Poor Vermon Kellogg was well-nigh driven out. It would have worn me out, too, but long years dealing with human nature in the ugly form it so often assumes in politics, provided me with practical experience which no more secluded existence in the classic academic groves had not yet developed. Hoover was there much of the time, and he had his troubles, too, not all with the Germans.

It was indeed an impossibility that we had undertaken to carry out, a miracle we had impudently tried to perform. We could control the imported food, because it remained in the hands of the Belgian or American organizations; but the native food the soldiers would take where they found it, and when they went home to Germany they filled their valises with it. The soldiers persisted in making these seizures, despite, sometimes we were forced to believe in very defiance of the assurances on that score which by such plans and efforts we had secured from the Governor-General. Von Villobart himself had explained to me that it was difficult to restrain the appetites of the soldiers, especially when they came back from the trenches, and doubtless that was true, especially since the officers in immediate command over them did not care whether they were restrained or not. The Governor-General had promised me, after Villobart's dinner that night, to put a stop to this, and he did issue more stringent orders, even going so far as to threaten, no doubt as the best of punishment he could think of, to send to the front all officers who permitted these seizures.

The German Zentrale. But we were learning; it was not altogether the fault of those soldiers, half-crazed by the inferno of Verdun, nor of their complainant officers, the German organization, rather back behind the military élite itself, a system, dark, mysterious, sinister, well camouflaged, working silently and remorselessly through the Zentrale, or central bureaus.

Up to that time, I may as well confess, had no mechanical distinction of products—militarism, socialism and plutocracy working hand in hand. They were in reality limited companies to which the Government of Occupation granted franchises. This is the Butter-Zentrale had a monopoly of butter, the Kartoffel-Zentrale had a monopoly of potatoes, when it could get any, and so on as to all sorts of products.

The Zentrale multiplied; there was a Zentrale for everything, in the end, one even for jam. These bureaus, each with its monopoly, had behind them in every case decrees of the Governor-General forbidding all trading by others in the article in question, and in some quarters it was said that half of the profits they made went to the German army; in other quarters it was asserted that they went elsewhere. I know nothing as to the fact, only I used to think that if muckraking had not gone out of style, occupied Belgium might have afforded a good ground for adventure of this sort of some mighty waterfalls.

It used to be one of our most cherished superstitions, a part indeed of our very stock in trade, in the old days of municipal reform in America, that German cities were ideally governed. I had accepted all that was written about them and never had any doubts, until, myself making certain studies in Germany, I was told at the Rathaus in Dresden, when I innocently inquired what salary the mayor was paid, that my question was indiscreet, I found some police scandals in Berlin of the familiar kind, and in another city some speculation, but I assured myself that these incidents must be exceptional, and, determined to be orthodox in reform, went on believing as before. But if there is any analogy between the methods employed in German cities and those that I observed on the part of certain Gchelnrate (privy councillors) in Belgium, I think they might much better be muck-raked than our own.

I suppose, now, that German methods impressed us because they were foreign and mysterious and we knew nothing about them. Any machine in an American city will gladly govern the city, and govern it with more or less efficiency, on the same terms. We never put our best foot forward. The slightest irregularity, the least mistake, is published from the house, and cried abroad the welkin always ringing with denunciations of some one, and the atmosphere darkened by the flying missiles of the unscrupulous and unscrupulous. A charge and indictment that is always going on. No doubt it all has its effect as a police measure and proves us to be a very virtuous people, either by teaching out our own sins with a remorseless and implacable conscience, or else searching out the sins of our neighbors. There was none of this in German cities, and there was, and could be none in occupied Belgium, and so the Zentrale had pretty much their own way.

The managers of any given Zentrale, would buy the products of the producers, and, to justify its existence, would lay aside from five to twenty per cent of it for Belgian consumption. The local brokers, sometimes renegade Belgians, sometimes Germans who came into the country to profit by the situation, would buy that product of the Zentrale, but it was openly said that in order to obtain a stock of any commodity it was necessary to bribe certain employees of the Zentrale. The brokers were always willing to pay large commissions—thousand marks for a stock of sugar was said not to be unusual. The brokers could easily afford to pay this, because, having a monopoly, they could extract from the consumers, who were among the easier class in Belgium, what prices they please, and I was told that brokers and the corrupt officials of the Zentrale in fact built up considerable fortunes. The Berner Bund of Louvain, one of the Catholic co-operative societies, organized generally in the cities, and with proceeds from the people the same benefits that the Socialists were giving them in their co-operative societies, made application again and again at the C. N. bureaus, because it would not offer bribes or commissions.

The German army was victualled through the central office at Brussels known as the Proviant-Amt (commissariat), and the Zentrale worked in close company with it as did the brokers, who were always to be found in the cafes around the Bourse, it was not only the brokers that were there, for instance, butchers' assistants who set up for themselves, and though they did not sell one pig a week, bought fifty on market day, it was not a violent assumption to conclude that the forty-nine pigs went to the Proviant-Amt, and so to the German army. The Proviant-Amt, too, could exercise a great difference in the price, simply by instructing its agents to stop buying; the price of course would go down and then the brokers would obtain corners on coffee, beans or peas. Snag fortunes were undoubtedly made in sugar and in coffee.

The brokers who met early in the morning and late in the afternoon, not in the Bourse, but on the curbstone near the Bourse, were for the most part professional speculators, men who had followed the race tracks, and the like. There were among them, too, professional thieves, and waiters in cafes, and the great profits they made went the way such profits generally go, in several or to women. These brokers bought not only of the Zentrale but they bought for a while from stocks that had been hidden away in the early days of the war and water from the communal shops, and made up either from small quantities smuggled across the frontier from Holland or from bits of food purchased from the communal shops, or even, in some instances, the rations of the poor, as, for instance, rice.

Traffic in Rice. There was for a time in operation what almost amounted to a system for the purchase of rice. The Belgians had not generally eaten rice before the war; they did not like it, and when the C. N. imported it and the C. N. distributed it, they sold their minutes to agents who went about the country and small towns. And thus the agents collected, as one might say, a grain at a time, and so made up stocks which they sold to the brokers. They would have stocks smuggled into Brussels sold more or less clandestinely on the curb, and the broker would send a cart to their hiding place at night to fetch them.

German soldiers aided in the smuggling that went on at the frontier; as it goes on at all fronts. There were certain inns and out-of-the-way cafes where the smugglers and the soldiers and renegades of all sorts met in comradeship, with the cigars or other luxuries that had been brought through the electric wires by the connivance of the soldiers, and there divided the spoils. Soldiers, too, used to go to the farms with large baskets and try to buy eggs or chickens, and the peasants were afraid to send them away empty-handed. There was an additional incentive to smuggling in the fact that it was forbidden by the Germans to transport food from one commune to another. It was always going on, with Brussels as Antwerp as the goal and final market. Women and young girls from the Quartier de Marolles would go out into the country and slip back into town at night with baskets of various farm produce—butter, potatoes or flour. They passed the soldiers on sentry duty by giving them a few marks, and sometimes, so the gossips said, the sentries exacted a payment of a nature somewhat more delicate and indiscreet. With the German army seizing so many horses, Belgium was for a long time a paradise for horse-traders, who, with the greatest adaptability that seems to distinguish the horse-trader everywhere in the world, profited by the situation. For a long time they worked in conjunction with certain German officers said to be susceptible to bribes, and when a carter's horse had been seized, or requisitioned by the Germans, the traders went to console the proprietor by fluence of publicity, and with conditions as they were in Belgium it was impossible to let in the purifying, antiseptic light. We struggled in despair, but we could never obtain, as far as the native foods were concerned, the results we were so proud of in the case of the imported food products. The loss in these was a small fraction of one percent; no business anywhere could show such a result, no government could conduct its custom houses with such near approach to perfect. That was due, of course, to the fact that the imported foods were always in the hands of the C. R. B. or the C. N. until they went into Belgian stomachs, but we despaired of ever producing such ideal results with the native products, which we never touched and could not control. Again and again we made representations as to the abuses to be attributed to the Zentrale. There were in the German administration those who did not hesitate privately to recognize their evil, and in the limited circle where such things were known, they became a scandal, but nothing was done, and under the civil administration new Zentrale were constantly organized.

There was somewhere some occult power stronger than the apparent authority that ruled some hidden spring of government which we could not reach, much less dislodge. "What made it all the more difficult was that the Germans were in bad temper as the result of the battle on the Somme and the advance of the British troops, whose distant unceasing drum fire we could always hear. The Germans, indeed, were discouraged with the situation of their armies; never before, in fact, had they considered themselves so nearly beaten, probably never before were they so nearly beaten. Von Hindenburg, it was said, had been in Belgium and had criticized von Bisping, characterizing his reign as too lenient, and urged new rigors. The city should be closed at six o'clock in the evening, all citizens of countries at war with Germany should be placed in detention camps, and, worst of all, there was the first suggestion of that monstrous cruelty, the deportation as slaves of Belgian workmen. There was a quarrel between the two, and von Bisping had hurried off to Berlin to protest against Hindenburg's interference. It was at the moment when the military party in Germany was getting the upper hand; von Tirpitz was claiming the re-opening of the submarine war was being urged; von Bethmann-Hollweg was tottering to his fall; his speech in the Reichstag, warlike as it was, did not satisfy the mad warriors into whose hands Germany was more and more confiding her destinies.

Bowie was chosen as the convention city at the spring convention held in Wichita Falls last March 1 to 3, but owing to war conditions and the influenza epidemic it was not definitely decided to hold the convention there till the meeting last Sunday. At that time the district president, H. B. Brown, of Wichita Falls, appointed the local convention committee as follows:

Program—Rev. Holmes G. Anderson, pastor Southern Presbyterian Church, Bowie.

Publicity—Prof. E. A. Hayes, Bowie Business College.

Social—Miss Susette Meyer.

Registration—Miss Etta Elliott.

Reception and Entertainment—Mrs. Paul Donald.

Music—Mrs. Jas. Hayes.

The following counties are included in the Wichita district: Clay, Young, Baylor, Throckmorton, Wichita, Montague, Archer and Wilbarger.

At the Bowie convention next month representatives from all of these counties are expected to be present. At present there are about twenty-five organized Christian Endeavor societies in the district and a great many members that do not have the advantage of a local organization.

Others of state and national importance in the C. E. work to be present and to participate in the program are: W. Roy Bragg, general field secretary for Texas, and a member of the All-South Extension Committee.

Miss Ada D. Pearce, state recording secretary, and also a member of the All-South Committee.

tor of the Presbyterian U. S. A. church of Wichita Falls; Rev. Holmes G. Anderson, of Bowie; Rev. B. P. White, of Fort Worth; Miss Jessie Grider Bragg, state intermediate superintendent of Fort Worth, and others have been invited to the convention.

This promises to be one of the best district conventions held in the state this fall. The committee in charge of the time for preparation the local committee of Bowie is putting forth every effort to speed up arrangements and have the quota of local registrations at 200. The program in full will be put in the hands of the printer soon and then given to the papers for publication.

Four Pounds Sugar
Per Month to Each
Member of Family

Beginning December 1 the sugar allowance will be increased to four pounds per person for 30 days, W. S. Currie, the county food administrator announced Saturday. This will apply to public eating places and to private households alike, he stated, but should be sufficient to cover all preserving purposes at present, for the private households, so that no other sugar should be needed.

Further announcement was made that the administration was in a position to increase the sugar allowance on Statement A. These certificates will be mailed to holders of A Certificates for their December allowance with an additional 50 per cent of their average monthly consumption.

SUGAR ALLOTMENT GOES UP A POUND DEC. 1ST

HOUSTON, TEX., Nov. 16.—On account of the improved sugar condition this fall, the United States Food Administration is now in a position to increase the sugar allotment to the Statement A manufacturers or non-essentials. "We shall issue within the next few days," announces E. L. Neville, director of the Grocery Division for the Food Administration in Texas, "certificates to Statement A manufacturers for their December allotment, and the amount will be the same as November plus 50 per cent of their average monthly consumption, as shown by files at the state headquarters.

"As the hog killing season is now at hand farmers will make application to their local administrators for additional sugar to cure their meats, and when the Houston office is advised as to the amount of sugar permitted for this purpose, the sugar division will issue additional certificates to cover.

"Beginning December 1st, sugar allotment to the consumer will be increased to four pounds per person per month. This will also apply to public eating places."

WEST OF VERDUN AMERICANS FIND COUNTRY IN RUIN

PICTURE OF DESTRUCTION AND DESOLATION AT PATH OF GERMANS.

AWFUL EFFECTS OF WAR

Reconstruction of Europe is Going to be a Long, Hard and Trying Task.

Associated Press, Mail Correspondent. WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES in France, Oct. 28.—The country over which the Americans fought their way northwest from Verdun presents a picture of ruin, destruction and desolation. The villages are uninhabited and homes seem but sepulchres. Torn by mines causing huge craters, gashed by bombardments which made hundreds of thousands of shell holes and strewn with broken or abandoned guns, wagons, heaps of ammunition, helmets and all the other debris of four years of desperate fighting, the whole route betrays the awful effects of war.

Everywhere, in every direction and protecting each slightest angle and hook across the roads until torn away by shells or human hands, are countless strands of barbed wire, most of it rusted by the rain, crazily top-syturvy on its supporting stakes that have fallen to right and left. "If it takes four years to win the war," said some casual visitor to the front, "it will take six years to roll up the barbed wire that has been used in winning it."

Scene of Bitter Fighting. Take for instance the trip from ruined, desolate Avocourt northward to Malancourt and Montfaucon, the scene of some of the bitterest fighting of the entire war. Avocourt was in ruins before ever the American offensive started.

For a solid mile northward the road winds across foothills that once were covered with green trees but now are shorn and bare. Gigantic mines have torn the road in twain and gouged out holes fifty and more feet deep, a hundred and more feet across to get around or across which engineers have had to exercise their ingenuity and the surrounding country, stripped of its wood, has furnished the rock. Fortunately there is plenty of that.

To either side of the road are the remains of what were once livable, comfortable cottages and buildings, blown into thousands of pieces by discharges of explosive when the enemy retreated. Farther afield and as far as the eye can reach across the low hills are hundreds and thousands of shell holes, their craters overlapping big and little holes from missiles of every character, that have torn and scarred the earth almost beyond the hope of redemption.

Debris is Everywhere. Everywhere is the debris of the battlefield, guns, rifles, articles of clothing, piles and heaps of ammunition, broken-down and splintered wagons, caissons and trucks.

The comparison between Malancourt and Avocourt is striking—because the former has suffered so much more. Buildings no longer have even a semblance of their former state. Where in Avocourt walls at least still stand here and there, in Malancourt everything has been razed as though with dynamite, and the crumbling remnants are used upon to rebuild the shattered roads and make them passable for the insatiable armies ahead that must have more and ever more ammunition and food and supplies.

Neither Malancourt, nor Montfaucon, nor any one of a score of towns within the sector where the Americans operated has a single living inhabitant left. In every direction is a waste of craters and up-torn earth. It is the quintessence of desolation and nothingness.

Hill-sides Are Stripped. The once beautiful wooded slopes and hills are now torn and gashed. Great artillery bombardments have stripped hill-sides of all but the stumps of their trees, which tower pathetically against the sky without branches or foliage, mere crippled relics of their former selves. Many of them have been shattered by shells as by lightning, others cut off as though by bungling wood-choppers unable to fell a tree cleanly.

The reconstruction of Europe is admittedly going to be a long, hard task, far longer than the war that made it necessary. In time to come the meadows and valleys between Avocourt and Malancourt will be green again, and the trees of the sector where the Americans grew up as they did before 1914. But as they all look now it seems very, very far in the future before the ruin, the utter destruction, can be made good and the former status of this portion of France restored.

The Royal Neighbors will meet in all day session on Thursday. All members are urged to be present.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

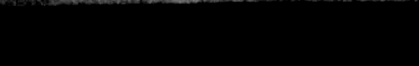

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the fingertip gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chills, chills, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 25c and 50c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Three Gold Stars Added to Flag of Texas University

Special to The Times. AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 16.—Three more names have been added to the Roll of the Dead of former students of the University of Texas. These names are Captain Ira C. Ogden, Lieutenant Alfred H. Carrigan Jr., and Lieutenant Walter A. Schlick. Captain Ogden, '09 Acad., '10 Law, San Antonio, was reported killed in action October 17. Captain Ogden was in command of the 131st Field Artillery, 36th Division. Major Homer T. Wilson, '10 Med., who is in charge of a field hospital of the division, wrote to relatives under date of October 16: "It seems too tragic that he (Captain Ogden) should be killed, as he went over the top seven times that day gaining his objective five times out of the seven. So gloriously did the regiment acquit itself during that battle that it was specially mentioned in the French official communique that evening.

Lieutenant Alfred Holt Carrigan Jr., '20 Acad., Wichita Falls, was killed in action October 7, while leading his men over the top.

Dr. Schlick, '16 Acad., '18 Med., God, sales, died in Cleveland, Ohio, of pneumonia. He was a member of the Officers' Medical Reserve and was awaiting orders.

Lieutenant Horace Neims, '18 Acad., Dallas, was wounded in the battle of Argonne forest where he went "over the top." Lieutenant Neims is with Company A, First Regiment, American Tank Corps. Major Robert Haas-kart, '12 Med., Galveston, has been reported recovering from wounds and gas attack.

The Nervous System

Herewith we show a picture of the human body, outlining the system of nerves as they come from the spine and reach into every organ and tissue of the body.

A little study of it will convince you of the logic of Chiropractic. It will show you why the Chiropractor adjusts the spine to remove the cause of disease. It will show you how impingements of the spine can be and are the causes of nearly ninety-five per cent of the so-called diseases.

As an illustration, take the nerve that controls the life of the kidneys. A hundred different causes can make for the impingement of this nerve as it comes out of the spine. A contraction of the muscles due to a cold, the wrenching of the back due to lifting or a sudden jar, a twisting of the back in any unusual effort—any of these may cause a subluxation of the spine and a pinched condition of the nerve, and a consequent decrease in the amount of life force going into the organ.

THEN YOU HAVE THE DANGEROUS KIDNEY TROUBLES

Cut off the life force to the kidneys and you will have dead kidneys: Reduce the amount of the life force and you will have diseased kidneys.

A dentist to stop a toothache kills the nerve. When he kills the nerve he has to put in a false tooth, because the natural tooth will not live without the nerve. The same is true of every other organ—every ache or pain of every organ is due to a diseased condition of the nerve that feeds it. Local applications to an organ will not cure the cause of insufficient nerve force any more permanently or surely than a dose of dope will permanently stop a toothache. It may lull it to sleep for a time, but it will not cure it.

CHIROPRACTIC WILL REMOVE THE CAUSE.

It smooths out the cranky, crooked, pinched condition of the spine at the point where the nerve leaves the spinal cord, thus permitting a natural and sufficient and regular supply of life force.

You may have any one of the innumerable diseases which medical science has discovered and named—diseases of the stomach, kidneys, heart, lungs, nose, throat, skin—many of them of long standing and pronounced incurable. In about ninety-five per cent of the cases it has been shown that they are due to a pinched condition of the spine, and by putting the spine in proper adjustment the troubles may be remedied.

IS IT NOT WORTH WHILE TO INVESTIGATE?

Our examinations are free, and you are under no obligation in coming to investigate. Chiropractic welcomes the most searching investigation and critical opinion of those who will take the time to study it.

The CHRISTMAS SPIRIT 1918

You will be more anxious than ever this year to make of Christmas a season of good cheer. Those families throughout the nation who have boys in France will make a special effort to provide happiness for the ones at home.

The Government, after much deliberation, has decided that the world-old Christmas spirit—the generous wish to share one's good things with others is an indispensable to the welfare of the nation in war times as in times of peace. For the boys at the front would never consent to the people at home depriving themselves of the celebration of the holiday season.

Do-Your Christmas Shopping Early

Don't that sound natural, even if you haven't heard it this early in other years.

Our Government requests for this year that you begin your Christmas shopping now—that by spreading your purchases over two or three months you will not cause the usual Christmas rush and by so doing will release many people for necessary war work.
