NEW TEN-STORY HOTEL PLANNED FOR EARLY DATE

WILL BE ERRECTED ON CORNER NOW OCCUPIED BY THE MARION.

SNIDER AND BASHARA

Believe Conditions Favorable For Such Improvement in Hotel Facilities.

Erection of a ten-story hotel building on the corner of Eighth and Indiana, now occupied by the Wichita State Bank and the Marion hotel, is being contemplated by the owners of the property, C. W. Snider and M. J. Bashara. The end of the war and the consequent promise of an early return of normal building conditions, and the oil boom have given Messrs. Snider and Bashara reason to believe that this venture would be a success, and the plans for the building are expected to reach consummation shortly.

The property includes the building occupied by the Wichita State Bank, the Marion hotel, the optical shop and the Collier buildings on Indiana up to and including the Richardson and Smith Tailoring establishment. It is the plan, Mr. Snider stated this morning, to have a modern bank building on the lower floor, and a commodious lobby also on this floor, then the remainder of the building, which will be ten stories in height according to the present plan, to be devoted to hotel purposes. A large dining room will be put in the basement, according to the present plan, and all other will be in every way a modern city hotel, as Mr. Snider and Mr. Bashara believe Wichita Falls future entirely justifies. Both men have been successful in their ventures in the oil game in the Wichita Falls fields and they are evidencing their faith in the future of the city and the hotel by their plan for this new building.

FRENCH TROOPS ENTER RECOVERED LORRAINE TODAY

WELCOMED BY PEOPLE ASSEMBLED IN THE TOWNS AND VILLAGES.

FRENCH LEGION LEADS

Ride Out Soon After Dawn to Meet the Columns of Advancing Army.

By Associated Press. WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN Lorraine, Nov. 17.—French troops made their first entry into recovered Lorraine today and were acclaimed by the populations that assembled in the towns and villages to meet them. The honor of leading the advance across the recently abolished frontier fell to the Moroccan division, including the famous Foreign Legion. The soldiers of the legion wore their decorations, the highest accorded to any unit in the French army during the war. They also wore their new sargollettes or shoulder tags.

Laugh, Shout and Weep. Soon after dawn the boys of Lorraine who had unearthened bicycle tires hidden from the Germans during the many long months, rode out to meet the column marching toward Chateau Salins. The French Tri-color could be seen in the early morning light flying from the first houses of the town, although the last German troops had not left. The streets were filled with the troops came into sight and when the head of the column appeared with General Dogan in the lead, men, women and children rushed out with improvised paper flags, laughing, shouting and waving their arms.

Scene Was Thrilling. The first automobiles, containing French officers, were taken by storm and loaded to overflowing with boys, girls dressed in their Sunday clothes, cheering for France and singing the Marseillaise while wheezy phonographs, the only music the town afforded, executed the national anthem from records that had escaped the eyes of the Germans. It was difficult to conceive that Chateau Salins could ever have been a German town. After 47 years of German rule, the town appeared even more intensely patriotic than French towns which had never known other than French rule.

General Dogan's entry was preceded by the formal surrender of the town by four German officers, who remained to turn over the official administration. With grave difficulty, the Germans marched out of the town to meet the advancing column, while the inhabitants looked on in silence. After turning over their powers, the Germans withdrew and watched from a distance the scene of delicious joy that moved all other spectators to tears.

As the Zouave band marched down the main street playing the Marseillaise the inhabitants pressed forward singing the French national anthem. They seemed to have taken it up just where they left off forty seven years ago. Chateau Salins is hungry but happy. The inhabitants have forgotten most of the trying privations of the last four years and have begun to live in the joy of the future.

A uniform patrol of Moroccans, which preceded the column created the first sensation of the day as the uniforms had never before been seen in Chateau Salins. The khaki uniforms of the Zouaves and Foreign Legion also caused some amazement as the population knew only the old French uniform of blue and red.

After making his entry, General Dogan reviewed the division in the public square. The Foreign Legion was drawn up in the square before General Dogan who saluted and kissed the flag held by the colonel. He had scarcely left fall the folds of the Tri-color when the inhabitants rushed in and pressed their red, white and blue silks to their lips, turning away with tears moistening their cheeks.

Released Prisoners Arrive. The eyes of the ceremony was wet when, just as the ceremony was drawing to a close half a dozen British prisoners of war, turned adrift in Germany a few days before, hobbled into the town on their way toward France. They were road-stained, footsore, hungry and emaciated. Thousands of returned prisoners in the same wasted and exhausted condition are arriving by all roads leading through Alsace and Lorraine after a tramp of four days during which they lived only on what the population could spare from the meager supplies to them. The British prisoners who came into Chateau Salins passed within a few yards of a party of German officials whose well-fed appearance furnished a most striking contrast with the boys who, although they had been in captivity only since April, and lost ten, twenty and thirty pounds in weight. The Britishers were received with great emotion by the inhabitants who did everything possible to make easier the rest of their pilgrimage.

King Albert and Queen Elizabeth Are Welcomed To Ghent With Enthusiasm

KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM

QUEEN ELIZABETH OF BELGIUM

By Associated Press. GHEENT, Wednesday, Nov. 13.—King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold of Belgium made their official entrance into Ghent today. Huge crowds, delirious with enthusiasm, lined the streets the royal party moved through cheering throngs amid showers of roses and chrysanthemums. Every balcony, window and roof was covered with people, some of whom clung perilously to chimneys and cornices. The royal party entered through the Bruges gate at eleven o'clock. The king wore the uniform of a Belgian general, with other decorations. He rode a tall bay horse, Prince Leopold, in the uniform of a private soldier of a second line regiment, rode a white prancing Arabian. Both the king and the prince had steel helmets on their heads. The queen looked slender and girlish as she sat on her huge brown horse with elegant ease. She wore a simple champagne-colored habit. The troops which entered the city formed the first division of the Belgian army. In peace times these men were quartered at Ghent. They were given a great reception by the citizens, their battered helmets and tattered uniforms bearing evidence of the recent fighting.

Naval Surrender Is Greatest in History

By Associated Press. LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 17. (British Wireless Service).—This week will see the greatest naval surrender which the world has ever witnessed.

A great fleet of German battleships, battle cruisers and light cruisers and destroyers will leave port Monday morning at five o'clock for an unknown destination. They will be met by the British fleet, accompanied by American and French representatives and conducted to their destination.

A Berlin telegram received in Amsterdam gives this list of the vessels to be handed over: Battleships—Kaiser, Kronprinz, König Albert, Kronprinz Wilhelm, Prinz Regent Luitpold, markgraf, Grosser Kurfürst, Bayern, König and Friedrich Grosser. Battle cruisers—Hindenburg, Der Flieger, Seydlitz, Moltke and Von Der Tann. Light cruisers—Bremen, Brummer, Frankfurt, Koeln, Dresden and Emden.

The German cruiser Dresden was sunk off Falkland Islands by the British Under Admiral Sturdee, while the Emden was sunk in the Indian Ocean after it had raided shipping in the Far East. It is probable that old ships had been given the names of the ships sunk or that new ships have been built to replace them.

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION MOVES FORWARD

QUARTER OF MILLION MEN ADVANCE UNDER MAJOR GENERAL DICKMAN.

OVER LINE AFTER DAWN

Repatriated Foreigners and Released Prisoners Encouraged Trudging Along Roads.

By Associated Press. WITH AMERICAN FORCES OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 18.—On part of the American army of occupation moved forward into Belgium today while the remainder of the line swung steadily forward toward the German frontier.

Throughout the night the army rested on its line of approximately fifty miles in such a tactical position as to be able to meet any eventuality. Flanking forces were ready for immediate action and the support were in their proper intervals, the artillery was moved into position and even machine gun emplacements were made. The instructions are that similar care and preparedness must be exercised throughout the movement.

The quarter million men of Major General Dickman's American army of occupation which is the official designation of the force, snuggled into their blankets during the coldest night of the season. The roads were frozen and a heavy clouded sky added to the dreariness of the field of operations, but notwithstanding weather conditions the men were cheerful and the scene presented from the heights overlooking the area was one of the most spectacular of the war.

Camp Fires Burn. Miles and miles of camp fires betrayed the presence of the army on the hillsides and in the valleys. The increased need of caution caused the men to abandon the custom of shielding their fires and instead of the miniature affairs previously allowed there appeared thousands of fires, some of which approached the proportions of celebratory bonfires.

The advance into Belgium was made from Ecoville just on the French side of the border. Advance patrols of the American army were followed by Major General Le Jue's second division at Montmedy.

The men went over the frontier line just after dawn. La Morueuse just over the line, was the first village occupied.

Joy at Seeing Americans. From La Morueuse the line moved up the road to Veriton, where many civilians remained. Their joy at seeing the Americans was given full play. Additional repatriated foreigners and released prisoners continued to be encountered trudging along the roads to meet the Americans, while hundreds of German soldiers were added to the lists of those who will be interned or made prisoners of war. A few of these last had been cut off from their organizations and found it impossible to rejoin them, but the great majority seemed to belong to that class which preferred capture to returning home under present conditions.

American Prisoners Return. Among the prisoners who re-entered the lines between noon Saturday and noon Sunday were 204 Americans. They had been captured during the operations. They had been captured about October 15 in the vicinity of Landres St. Georges. They had not been treated with great severity, although they said they had fared better at the hands of the Saxons and Wurttembergers than at those of the Prussians.

The total number of Americans who have re-entered the lines since the armistice was declared is 244.

MEASURE IS TO BE IN FORCE DURING DEMOBILIZATION OF THE ARMY.

EFFECTIVE ON JUNE 30

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Final legislative action was taken today by the Senate on the national wartime prohibition bill, effective July 1 next and continuing during demobilization. The measure will go Thursday to President Wilson for his approval, confidently expected by prohibition advocates.

As transmitted to President Wilson, the prohibition feature would stop sales of distilled malt or various beverages June 30, 1919, and thereafter during the war and demobilization. ## SUPREME COURT WILL NOT REVIEW THE MOONEY CASE

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The supreme court refused today to review the case of Thomas J. Mooney, under sentence to die December 13 for murder in connection with a bomb explosion two years ago in San Francisco.

AMERICAN ENTRY INTO SPINCOURT IS SPECTACULAR

GERMANS DELIVER TWO 16-INCH CANNON THEY USED ON VERDUN.

OFFICERS ENTERTAINED

German Lieutenant Expressed His Pleasure That the War Had Been Concluded.

By Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY Northeast of Verdun, Sunday, Nov. 17.—Two 16-inch cannons, which were turned over to the Americans at Spincourt on Saturday, were guns used by the Germans to shell the Verdun region. Forty two guns of various calibers were turned over. The 16-inch guns were taken apart by the Germans into three sections, each section being drawn by a tractor. The entrance of the Americans into Spincourt on Saturday was one of the most spectacular features of the American advance. Although the details of the American plans had been communicated by wireless to the Germans, the carrying out of the schedule was delayed. The Americans were expected at Spincourt at 10 o'clock, but did not arrive until 2 o'clock the afternoon because of roads which had been shattered by shell fire.

Inspection of Guns. Lieutenant Emmet Gruner of St. Louis represented the first army with Lieutenant Robert Nicolson, of Salisbury, N. C., going as military expert to see that the guns were all in good condition. The lieutenants were accompanied by an infantry sergeant and four privates. Lieutenant Gruner, the sergeant and one private went ahead in an automobile carrying a wireless set. Lieutenant Nicolson and the other privates followed.

Upon reaching outskirts of Spincourt they were met by a lone German lieutenant who spoke English. He conducted the Americans to the village hotel, where billets had been provided. After saying he was glad to see them and expressing his relief that his responsibility was past, the German said: "I am damn glad the war is over." Germans Rejoice. As the Americans entered Spincourt, the rest of the German divisions which had held the place were just withdrawing. The Germans rejoicing as they marched away. A few artillerymen were pottering around the big guns as if they really were looking their pets behind. All the cannons were camouflaged and some had names. One six-inch was named Marton and had a prominent place on the front line.

The German lieutenant escorted the Americans to the hotel and endeavored to make them comfortable. Lieutenant Nicolson and the German began checking the guns and continued the work until dark. Then the Germans entertained the two lieutenants at a dinner. The German continued wearing his silk until after breakfast, when the Americans also wearing theirs. Take Off Side Arms. After dinner, the German said that he thought that he did not feel nervous during the afternoon after the German infantry had retreated, as he was confident as if they really were taking their side arms and spent the night at the hotel. The German slept on the first floor and the Americans directly above. They had breakfast together and finished checking the guns, after which Lieutenant Gruner gave the German a receipt for them. Just before noon, the German ordered the hotel to serve chocolate and began packing up his effects. He told the Americans that 3,500 machine guns awaited them in Longuyon. Two orderlies brought up his horse and tucking the receipt into his inside pocket, the enemy officer mounted, saying good bye. Then he added: "I hope my troubles are over for a while, I hope to forget all about guns and war and lattlefields forever." He rode away, his orderlies following him in a horse drawn cart.

Revenue Bill Is Delayed In Senate To Next Congress

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The war revenue bill, the Senate finance committee agreed today can not be reported to the Senate before the new session of congress opens December 2. The cause of the certain delay in the committee, due to Secretary McAdoo's proposals for downward revision to make the total law $6,000,000 for 1919 and $4,000,000 for 1920, it was the consensus of opinion that the present session of congress might well be adjourned at once.

BRITISH RESIDENTS OF MOSCOW WERE LONG SUFFERERS

ARRESTED BY RED GUARDS AND KEPT IN PRISON ON FLIMSY PRETEXT.

NO MERCY IS SHOWN

Three Thousand Prisoners Occupy Cells in a Single Jail Noted for Filth.

Associated Press Mail Correspondent. LONDON, Nov. 18.—Sufferings of some of the British residents of Moscow in the Bolshevik prisons in that city who they were kept for six weeks after having been arrested by the Red Guards upon flimsy pretexts are vividly portrayed by a Reuters correspondent at Moscow, who was there early this month and has reported Haparanda, Sweden. In his report wired from Haparanda, says he was arrested while in the home of the British consul in Moscow, and together with the chaplain and several other Englishmen and women was marched on foot two miles through the streets to the Lubyanka House of Detention. "I was separated from my companions and was led to a room in which were some thirty prisoners, mostly civilians including a few women," writes Mr. Berlinger. "I spent five days and nights in this room in which there was just sufficient space for the inmates to sleep on the floor. There was no bed of any kind for food was had a piece of black bread and a few slices with a wooden spoon into a bowl of the thinnest possible cabbage soup containing some herring heads. Eight of us had to share the contents of this one bowl. Many people who were without provisions from outside were literally in a state of starvation. Treatment was insulting. "Like the Russian prisoners we were treated as helots and were addressed insultingly in the second person singular by low brutes among the Red Guards. "Late one night when some of the other prisoners were singing suddenly there was a deathlike hush. I looked up and saw a Red Guard officer and soldiers standing at the opening of the ante room in which the prison guards were stationed. A list of twelve names of civilians and soldiers were read out. No one doubted what this meant. It was the list of those set down for immediate execution. It included two pairs of brothers. All the condemned men rose without delay and shook hands with their neighbors. Not one showed the slightest fear. "The iron folding doors between the big room and the ante room were then closed. This was done only when prisoners were taken away for execution. The doors remained closed for a few minutes and were then reopened and the names of two other soldiers who had previously been overlooked were called out. These also rose without a tremor and the folding doors were shut a second and last time. The condemned prisoners were either shot in the basements of the prison with their backs to the firing party or they were taken out to the suburbs in motor carriages and there told to get out and get away. Then volleys were poured into them while they were walking or running away. The bodies are sometimes recoverable by relatives on payment of heavy bribes. "Later Berlinger was transferred to Butyrky jail at the other end of the city which contained some 3,000 prisoners. In the cell he occupied there was a Russian ex-judge, a few soldiers and some members of the middle and working classes. The vermin was as bad as at Lubyanka and the sanitary conditions worse. There was no possibility of taking a bath but Berlinger was allowed a half hour's exercise daily in the yard. "There he and some of the others received assistance from Major Allen Wardwell of the American Red Cross who, he writes, "literally slaved on behalf of the prisoners. "The bolshevik leaders show no mercy. In their newspapers they hold up Marat as the ideal friend of the people. They urge that his example should be followed and proceed to the extermination of the entire middle class."

Superstition Plays Part In Incidents Concluding War

By Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 18.—People of Albert, France, are convinced that their prophecy has been fulfilled that when the famous statue of the Madonna at Albert fell the war would end in a victory for France and her allies. This quaint conceit grew out of the fact that it was shattered by German shells fired from its perch on the tower of the church at Albert during the first mad rush of the Hunns through France in 1914. The base of the statue was shattered that it hung over the main road from Amiens to Bapaume which passed the walls of the church. When the British line was driven back in March last the Hunns again entered Albert and when the Germans retired at the beginning of the Allied offensive the tower with its statue had fallen. This curious superstition marked the high tide of German invasion. From that day on the Hunns were pressed back. The people of Albert believe luck of the Germans deserted them when the Virgin of Albert was fell.

By Associated Press. ### BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel causes many have with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that uneasy feeling come from constipation and a sluggish liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brains and how they "perk up" the spirits. 25c and 50c a box. All druggists.

GERMANY'S DEBT IS FAR REACHING IN PROPORTIONS

STUDY OF FINANCIAL SITUATION BEING MADE BY GOVERNMENT AGENCIES.

RESTORATION INVOLVED

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Study of Germany's financial situation has been undertaken by government agencies here with a view to throwing light on the ability of the German nation to pay big sums as reparation for devastation of invaded countries. Unofficial reports indicate that Germany's national debt, represented mainly by war bonds, held within the empire, is now nearly $35,000,000,000 or almost two-fifths of the estimated national wealth of eighty billions.

No Estimate of Demands.

Although there has been no announcement of the aggregate amount which the Allies will expect Germany to pay it is certain to run into billions of dollars, and necessarily the terms of payment must accord with Germany's ability to pay. This ability will be measured by the nation's power to revive her peace time industries and trade and to tax this for state purposes. Financial observers here say some claims for restoration and restitution set forth by interests in a few Allied nations are extravagant because they are beyond the nation's ability, even though this is estimated at the highest. Few Bonds Owned Outside. The victorious Allies will not concern themselves primarily, it is believed, with Germany's redemption of her own national debt, since this is largely internal. Comparatively small amounts of German war bonds are owned outside Germany and perhaps the largest sums are held by citizens of the United States, former German subjects. Officials here who have known internal conditions in Germany in the past do not believe the government will repudiate the internal indebtedness but think rather that taxes will be made so heavy as to force citizens to turn in their bonds in settlement. In this way the debt would be cancelled without actual repudiation. Payment For Restoration. Though the government is official circles here of the advisability of the Allies requiring payment of an indefinite amount for restoration, the sum to be determined in the future by commissions, as the physical reconstruction progresses in Belgium and France and the actual cost of the work becomes more clearly determined than now. It is pointed out that future prices can not be measured accurately at present. Interest on the part of American officials on the subject is somewhat indirect, however, inasmuch as the government expects none of the payments to go to its credit. Task Is Enormous. Whatever may be the weight of the final burden of reparation and restitution to be placed on Germany, the country is well ahead of the task. It is illustrated by comparison of her national debt with that of the United States. Germany has 60,000,000 population and an estimated national wealth of $25,000,000,000.000. The United States has 110,000,000 population and an estimated national wealth of $25,000,000,000.000. Germany's war debt already created or approximately $23,000,000,000 within another six months. This means that the per capita burden will be at least three times greater in Germany than in the United States.

MUST PROTECT WOMEN EMPLOYED IN WAR WORK

The women who are to be displaced by the returning soldiers should be given full opportunity to find other gainful employment, she said, before their income is cut off.

NEW BOUNDARIES FOR TIME ZONES IN UNITED STATES

LINES ARE MOVED SLIGHTLY WESTWARD EFFECTIVE JANUARY 2

DAYLIGHT SAVING ACT

Former Zones Had Been Fixed Only by Custom or by Local Law.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—New and official boundaries for time zones in the United States, unifying existing lines and moving them slightly westward, were announced today by the interstate commerce commission to become effective at 2 a. m. January 1 next. This order is pursuant to the daylight saving act, which in addition to authorizing an advance of the clock during the summer, provided for permanent United States standard time, and required the commission to define the limits of the standard time zones, which previously had been fixed only by custom or by local law.

The line fixed by the commission separating the eastern and central time zones beginning at the Great Lakes runs through Toledo and Columbus, Ohio, Washington, N. Y., Bristol Virginia, Tenn., Asheville, N. C., Atlanta, and Thomasville, Ga., the north boundary of Florida to River Junction, and the Apalachicola River to the Gulf of Mexico. Between central and mountain time, the line begins at the Canadian boundary at Port St. Louis, running through Minot, N. D., and following the Missouri River to Pierre, S. D.; then through Long Pine, North Platte, McCook and Republican Junction, Neb.; Philipburg, Plainville, Ellis, Earl City and Liberal, Kansas; Waynesburg, Clinton and Sayre, Okla.; Sweetwater, Big Springs and San Angelo, Texas, and the 103rd meridian to the Rio Grande river. Mountain and Pacific Time. Between mountain and Pacific time zones the line is fixed following the eastern boundary of the Blackfoot Indian reservation in Montana, and the continental divide, to Helena and Butte, Montana; Pocolletto, Idaho, and the Oregon Short Line at Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah; thence the Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad and the west and south boundaries of Utah to the 113th meridian, thence to Parker, Ariz., and along the Colorado river to the Mexican boundary. All of Alaska is left within a single time zone.

Red Cross Does Not Share In the War Work Fund

Headquarters of the American Red Cross are requesting that full publicity be given the following statement as to the relation of the Red Cross to the present United War Work campaign. The Red Cross, while urging most cordial support and co-operation on the part of all its members, does not participate in the United War Work Fund. It is quite evident there has been a misunderstanding by the public in many places on this point. The Red Cross is equipped with funds with which to carry on its needs until next spring, at which time a campaign for funds for its work will probably be necessary. It is the fair to the organizations in the United War Work Fund that contributions last week were exclusively for their work. It is also fair to the public that the people should know that provision for the needs of the Red Cross during the coming year is not taken care of during this campaign. The Red Cross did not authorize anyone to carry on a campaign last week for funds in its name or for its work, but it did urge the utmost possible generosity towards the United War Work campaign for the seven recreational organizations whose budgets have been approved by the National government.

Lieut. D. S. Blue Now Captain Is Gassed In Action

The following extract from a letter from former Lieutenant, now Capt. D. S. Blue, who went to France with the Thirty-Sixth Division, will be of interest to his friends in this part of the state. The letter was written to Mrs. Blue, at Arlington, Texas, and the extract herewith printed in the Burburnett Star: "We went into action last Monday, I am in a hospital now, was gassed, but not seriously. It is impossible to tell the horrors I have seen in the last few days. I never dreamed that I would ever see so much suffering. Our regiment lost heavily, both officers and men. My captain and lieutenant were killed. Nearly every officer was wounded, gassed or killed; also learn that Captain Simpson, Buddy Yates and Porter are here in this hospital. "I was notified the day before we went into action that I had been promoted to captain. I guess will receive my papers as soon as I can notify headquarters of my whereabouts. Haven't received any mail in some time. The last letter was dated August 27th. Tell Mrs. Farris that Sergeant Farris was all right the last account I had of him. He has been promoted to Major. Sergeant. Have not heard from Joe in a month; don't know whether he is killed or wounded. I am writing to tell to his commander to find out."

Every Session in City Court With Variety of Cases

"De law" had a busy day Sunday and as a result this morning's police court reminded one of Wichita Falls being busy days when there was "one of them on each corner and two of them in between and some on the alley" except that there was only one drunk. Two shiners who engaged in a Sabbath game of craps which was rudely interrupted by minions of the law were before Judge Ogle. One was fined $10 and the second, a youngster, was turned over to the juvenile court. Two defendants charged with affray were fined $5 each, one case of disturbing the peace was passed. A speeder had a $20 fine hung on him for having appeared in court too often, and another speeder, whose first offense it was, got off with a payment of $10. The lone drunk got a $10 fine and a vagrant who added to the trouble contributed another ten spot. The judge, the city attorney and everybody else concerned called it a day and adjourned. AT THE THEATRES

ANDERSON'S "GOLDEN FLEECE" AT THE GEM TUESDAY. With vivid insight, first-hand knowledge and delightful humor, Frederick Anderson dished off "The Golden Fleece," picturing the adventures of the innocents for Saturday Evening Post readers. The Gem is showing the picturization of the story on Tuesday.

It is the tale of a country genius who hits upon the Big Idea, "Build Your Own Car," a knock-down auto proposition. The bumpkin, Jason, falls into the hands of "absarrrr" and dashes through a maze of wild struggles and uproarious complications to the arms of his sweetheart and the possession of a fine, new touring car. Thus getting the laugh on those who derided his ambitions.

MARY PICKFORD IN PICTURIZATION OF HUGHES STORY

Although a military photoplay which deals only indirectly with the world struggle for democracy, Mary Pickford's new Arctcraft picture, "Johanna Enlists," which will be presented at the Empress today and tomorrow, is an offering of timely interest to the thousands of admirers of that dainty Arctcraft star. "Johanna Enlists" is a picturization by Frances Marion of Rupert Hughes' celebrated story, "The Robustion of Johanna." It was directed by William D. Taylor and the military atmosphere was provided by "Our Mary's" own regiment of soldiers—the 143rd Field Artillery—of which she is the honorary colonel. There is a real military court-martial, filled with thrills and military impressiveness. The regulations are strictly adhered to and in this respect the picture is in the nature of an educational force for those whose knowledge of military matters in time of war is limited. It is said the picture abounds with novel and humorous situations and enables Miss Pickford to do some of the most delightful work of her career.

MANNERS GREAT WAR DRAMA HERE TONIGHT

A cast headed by Thomas W. Ross, Amelia Bingham, Pauline Lord, Mary Shaw and Frederick Wardle, will present the great war play, "Out There," at the Wichita Theater tonight. "Out There" had a long run in New York City, one that lasted an entire season between the Globe and the Liberty theaters, and the dramatic critics united in declaring it to be the best war play that has yet been written. In writing it undoubtedly the author, J. Hartley Manners, had in mind the idea of making it more or less propaganda; but at the same time desiring to preserve dramatic interest and in both these wishes he has been successful.

It is not to be wondered at that when the idea was promulgated among the theatrical interests of sending an all-star cast for a tour of the larger cities, to raise funds for the Red Cross during the recent drive for that purpose, that "Out There" was the play selected. To begin with "Out There" is a Red Cross play, its theme is "service" and the Red Cross idea runs through it from beginning to end. When those in charge of the affair saw Annie Hudd, the little London slum girl, who was transfigured by service for others, it seemed as if no other play that could be thought of, would be so perfectly in accord with the whole proposed plan. So it was that "Out There," with an all-star cast of players, left New York for Washington, where the first Red Cross performance was given with President and Mrs. Wilson in the audience, and after visiting sixteen other cities turned into the treasury of the Red Cross $68,348, after having given just twenty-three performances.

Want Children In War Industries To Return To School

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—An active campaign to secure the return to school of thousands of children who have been drawn into industry during the war shortage has been launched by the children's department of the department of labor. In many instances children under 14 are being employed more than eight hours a day, it was said, and children as young as five years have been found in industry.

Mary Pickford "Johanna Enlists"

By RUPERT HUGHES SHE lives on a lonely farm, does Mary Pickford in this picture, and then the soldiers came.

Never a beau before and now lovers, three! A hardy aristocratic Captain, a handsome Lieutenant, and a peppery private! Who gets her? Bet you can't guess. The private knows he is heavily handicapped and calls the lieutenant "a piece of cheese"—which naturally gets him introduced to the Guard House, followed by a Court Martial. The Captain is the Prosecutor in the case, but Cupid adds the brains of everybody concerned and eventually Mary Pickford rides away on a gun carriage to be married. WICHITA FALLS MUST MEET DEMANDS OF OIL INDUSTRY. If Wichita Falls is to maintain its place as the leading oil center of Texas it must do two things.

Wichita Falls holds its leadership as an oil center today partly from the fact that the Wichita Falls district was the first in North Texas to be developed and partly from the richness of the pools in this section.

These things have given Wichita Falls a pre-eminence as an oil center without special effort on the part of her citizens.

"NEVER AGAIN" FOR GERMAN PEOPLE SAYS MAXIMILIAN

BASEL, Nov. 18.—Prince Maximilian of Baden, the former German imperial chancellor, in an article in the Prussian Year Book, in which he reviews certain facts about his brief term in the chancellorship, says:

"The German people by the formation of a popular government is liberated from the dictatorial rule of General Ludendorff and will never tolerate another. It would be a shame for Germany if its enemies, wishing to talk only with a legally established government, were themselves obliged to convocate a constituent assembly.

Now that hostilities have ended, I am determined to keep them from these evils so that they may return to their homes as free from disease as when they came under my charge."

AMERICANS MARCH TOWARD THE RHINE OVER FROZEN ROADS

ADVANCE WAS RESUMED THIS MORNING ENROUTE TO THE HEART OF GERMANY.

COUNTRY IS PEACEFUL

Deep Silence Broods Over the Area Where Towns Are Almost Depopulated.

By Associated Press. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN Lorraine, Sunday, Nov. 17.—Early tomorrow the American advance toward the Rhine will be resumed and another big step on the road toward the heart of Germany will be taken. Today's advance went without a hitch. The roads over which the Americans marched were frozen during the greater part of the day. This made the walking bad but not nearly so difficult as it was in the recent past, when mud and ice had been nearly ungodly. The troops have moved out of a shell-torn area where the roads have been hastily and temporarily repaired. It is a relief for the men, because behind the German lines the roads are in excellent condition. Villages and towns along the route looked peaceful, except for some here and there which had been scarred by explosions of aerial bombs. These were the only physical traces of warfare. A deep silence broods over this area, for the people were nearly all moved out by the Germans. In some cases less than fifty persons remain in a village. The people generally were quite timid when the Americans made their appearance. They remained in their houses until assured that the Americans were not another form of enemy. The Germans had told that this would be the case. Once assured that the Americans were friends, the welcome given by the village was some times hysterical in its earnestness.

Marine Oil Co. On the Sand at Depth of 1661

The Marine Oil Company's No. 1 Hardin is reported on the sand at 1661 feet, having hit the sand Saturday. A test is to be given shortly. This well is 3600 feet from the Fowler discovery well and is about a quarter of a mile outside the present production line on the west of Burk Burnett. This is the first well of the Marine company to hit the sand. This company which was organized early in the Burk Burnett boom by Messrs. C. H. Clark, W. D. Cline, J. I. Staley and G. C. Wood, is at present drilling on three locations and has what is considered as some very valuable acreage both at Burk Burnett and at Ranger. Their Vancleave No. 1 has just begun drilling and the second location has been made. The company's lease on this land comprises 50 acres. At Ranger the Fuel Development and the Marine Company is drilling a well on a 160 acre tract for a half interest in the lease. This makes the company's holdings at this place 40 acres. The company is capitalized at $200,000 and practically all of the stock is held by Wichita Falls and Wichita county people.

Market Report

Cotton Market

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The cotton market met considerable realizing on an opening advance of 12 to 30 points today. It seemed the scattering short interest had been very much reduced all the covering movement later in the week and the demand from that source was less active. Trade buying was not much in evidence while there was some scattered selling for spot cotton account and prices soon broke. December sold off from 19.00 to 28.20 and January from 28.25 to 27.65 within the first half hour, with active months generally showing net losses of 20 to 45 points. The market steadied at this level on covering but seemed to be rather nervous and unsettled during the middle of the morning. Liverpool has again changed its maximum fluctuation rate going back from the fifty to the 100 points regulation for the sake of uniformity with American markets. According to an announcement from the committee on cotton distribution, switching will be permitted between months in the local market and between New York and New Orleans, but otherwise the original restrictions placed on selling remains unchanged. Offerings appeared to have been well absorbed on the early decline of 30 to 45 points and the market was quiet later in the morning with prices steady on renewed covering and scattered trade buying. December ruled around 28.75, January 28.20 and March 27.84 shortly after mid-day, or 9 to 20 points net higher. The market showed more or less irregularity during the early afternoon but met some buying for trade account or covering on set-backs and showed a steady tone around 2 o'clock although prices were several notches off from the best under realizing with December selling at 28.40 and January at 27.85. Cotton closed barely steady.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 18.—Cotton bulked 35 to 35 points on the opening on buying orders accumulated over Sunday. Realizing by longs met the advance and at the end of the first half hour of business the active months were unchanged to 10 points down compared with the closing level of last week. What was generally taken to be hedge selling became a factor in the trading. By the middle of the day the market stood 15 to 47 points under the close of last week. Only narrow price movements occurred in the early afternoon. At 1 o'clock the trading months net losses of 10 to 25 points. Cotton closed irregular at a net decline of 106 to 150 points.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 18.—Cotton spot firm; prices strong. Good middling 22.32; middling 21.70; low middling 20.65; good ordinary 19.13; ordinary 18.65. Sales 1,000 bales, including 900 Americans. Receipts 2,000 bales, including 14,300 American. Futures closed at maximum prices. November 20.63, December 19.90, January 19.13, February 18.50, March 17.56.

New York Stocks

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Last week's further reduction of excess reserves as shown by the bank statement emphasizing the further need of credit restrictions, imparted a heavy tone to stocks at the opening of today's session. Oils, equipments, motors and several of the active specialties declined 1 to 3 1/2 points. U. S. Steel rejected a point and investment rails were inclined to sag. Southern Pacific losing 1 1/2 and Atlantic Coast Line 2 1/2 points. Marine preferred was the only prominent issue to show steadiness, rallying two points from its recent severe reaction. During the busiest noon hour leaders yielded again with marked heaviness in utilities. Gas and express shares fell 1 to 3 points and shipping and oils also declined. Mexican Petroleum repeated its low quotation of the morning. U. S. Steel and Marine preferred made their highest quotations of the day in the final hour but other leaders were less responsive. The closing was firm. Liberty bond prices: 3 1/2% 99.90; first convertible 4% 98.40; second 4% 98.90; first convertible 4 1/2% 98.60; second convertible 4 1/2% 97.74; third 4 1/2% 97.78; fourth 4 1/2% 98.00.

Grain Market

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Fresh advances in the value of corn took place today regardless of an aggressive selling drive. European food shortage continued to be a strong bullish factor. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/2 to 3/4 up with December $1.25 1/2 to $1.25 3/4 and January $1.25 1/2 to $1.27 were followed by a moderate general sag and then by a sharp upturn all around. Smallness of arrivals gave firmness to oats. After opening 1/4 off to 1/2 to 3/4 up with December 72 1/2 to 73 1/2, the market ascended with corn. Profit taking sales led subsequently to a reaction but rallies later carried the market higher. Prices closed firm at 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 net advance with December $1.28 1/2 to $1.28 3/4 and January $1.29 1/2 to $1.30. In the last half of the day the mar-

Did one of these 200 letters come to you?

A DUSTY courier slid off his motor-cycle at the big double hut in a French town and tramped up to the canteen. "Got a note for the secretary from my commanding officer," he said. He handed a piece of paper across the counter to a smiling middle-aged man.

This is the note the Secretary read: We landed here three days ago—miles from anywhere. Can you send us some supplies, especially writing paper? This is the first chance the boys have had to write home and we have no paper to give them.

The older man looked up and grinned. "Got you away off in the woods, have they?" "I'll say they have!" "Can you carry anything?" "All you'll give me!"

From the shelves the secretary took big packages of paper and envelopes. "Too much?" He asked. "It will be gone ten minutes after I get back!" said the boy. "Tonight," the secretary went on, "I'll drive out a truck with more supplies and a man to stay with you. And tell the boys that if their letters are finished, I'll bring them back with me tonight, and get them into the mails."

An hour later that motor-cyclist whizzed into camp, loaded down with writing paper, and in ten minutes letters were being written to 200 American homes.

The United War Work organizations know what letters mean to American soldiers. They know that fighters want to get letters and want to write letters.

So in every hut and on every ship your boys find writing paper, envelopes, ink, pens and pencils, and tables where they can get off by themselves and tell the folks back home how things are going.

Millions of sheets are given away free every week to American boys overseas. That is why the letters you get from your boy are written on the stationery of one of these organizations. It is one of the plans to bridge the Atlantic. Help keep the letters coming! Your dollars will supply a whole Company for several days. Dig deep today; help to bind together France and here.

COMRADES HAVE AN EXCITING TIME OPERATING FRENCH TWO-MAN TANK

Associated Press Staff Correspondent. WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES in France, Oct. 25.—American fighters in the French two-man tanks ran into some hot work in front of Romagne during the American army's advance along the west bank of the Meuse early in October and Sergeant James Avertt, of Birmingham, Alabama, with his "buddy," did their share in giving the Hun his due. Avertt's "buddy" was killed in the thick of the fight by a bullet that entered a deep hole in the side of the tank and struck him fair in the face.

It was during the American "push" in the Argonne sector, Avertt's tank went along with a lot of other "brother" tanks in line with the American infantrymen crowding them in the rear. Avertt was the machine gunner of his tank while his "buddy" ran the engine and steered the tank.

"I was so near a number of Germans encountered in a shallow trench that I could see the terror on their faces when my gun began to let fly bullets almost in their very faces," Sergeant Avertt said. "These were the first Boches in the line of our drive and I certainly let them have it as fast as my old machine could fire, and that was some fast, and just kept going ahead and pounding away until every last one of them was stretched out on the ground."

Sighted the Enemy. "Passing beyond my trench, I in the meantime watching my 'brothers' on my right and left and at the same time keeping tabs on the doughboys coming up the right of a little batch of Germans behind a hump in the hill along the roadway, or what had been a roadway before our heavy artillery opened up this morning. These were machine gunners, I soon learned, and bullets began to splash off the tank's sides, particularly those which struck a glancing blow.

"I ordered my tank 'buddy' at the wheel to keep after those runners if it cost us all our wheels. He did, and we went up after them sort of sideways, and I got around on the side of that hump, and my 'brother' and the other side was doing the same, and we wiped that bunch out in a iffy—I believe it was by enflaming fire, as the officers call it."

Sergeant Avertt explained that the tank men, all of whom were Americans using two men tanks invented by the French, always watched each other closely, or endeavored to, the idea being to keep a hundred yards or so apart for their mutual protection and it being important also that they not get too far ahead of the infantry.

Knew Boche Was There. "Just beyond the hump was a clump of woods, and we began to pour bullets into that," Sergeant Avertt continued, "and for a time there was some smoke arising above the trees tops so we knew there were Boches in there. About four of us opened up in full force and showered that woods with lead.

"The machine gun answers were pretty stiff for awhile, as we went forward but I just kept peppering away and talking to my 'buddy' all the time—and telling him what we were going to do—clean out that woods. My 'buddy' on either side went away back of me too were firing right along with us and the Boche in that thick clump must have thought all hell had broken loose because the first thing I knew the firing virtually stopped and I figured all the Boches had been killed or had decided to beat it before we all got there in force.

"Along about this time I noticed that the tank boys on the right were swinging around the side of the clump of woods and from the position of their guns and the speed of their tanks I judged that they were giving fits to some Fritzies running away. I then switched so as to run along side the thicket at a distance, and joined the tank boys going around the end.

"Just about that time there was a volley of machine gun bullets and some anti-tank gun stuff too, from a hill a bit to my left, suddenly my tank just began to tremble or something, and then stopped and lurched all over. I looked down and my 'buddy' was limp in his seat. One of those damned bullets had come in through my 'buddy's' deep hole and hit him square in the face."

BURGOMASTER OF BRUSSELS RELATES STORY OF REVOLT

By Associated Press. WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN France and Belgium, Nov. 17.—The burgomaster of Brussels, M. Lemminger, gave the correspondent the following story of the revolution on November 10:

"I was informed that German soldiers were making manifestations in the streets, setting prisoners free and threatening their officers. The officers resisted but the manifestations overcame them. It was also reported that there was to be a meeting at the Place De Poelaert. I arrived there at 3:30 o'clock and found a crowd of between five and six thousand German soldiers surrounded by crowds of curious Belgians.

Display Red Flag. "A non-commissioned officer and a group of German soldiers on a motor car were displaying an enormous red flag and a bouquet of white flowers. Many soldiers were waving brassards. I was told that they were a committee of soldiers and workmen, organizing a manifestation. Just as a non-commissioned officer was concluding a vigorous speech an Allied airplane appeared above and German anti-aircraft guns opened fire and at each shot which obviously missed the headquarters of the representatives of the German government in the Rue Regence. Here they tramped down a German flag.

"Arriving in the Rue Roi, I found the place black with people. Unfortunately, I must say, were numbers of Belgians singing the Internationale. The Germans had invaded the governor's hotel and hoisted the red flag from the balcony."

PEOPLE OF METZ ANXIOUSLY AWAIT FRENCH TROOPS

By Associated Press. PARIS, Nov. 16.—Louis Forest, one of the editors of the Matin, succeeded in entering Metz, his home town, yesterday. He was the first Frenchman to enter since hostilities ceased. He was given a lively welcome by the populace, although German soldiers and officials were still in the city.

A revolt occurred in Metz November 10 and a soldiers' council was formed under the leadership of two socialist workmen and a non-commissioned officer. The membership of the council was made up of a few workmen and many soldiers.

Governor Von Lequis attempted to resist and marched a squadron of cavalry with machine guns to the Place Des Armes. He ordered the cavalry to charge, but they fraternized with the mutineers. The governor then ordered all authorities to place themselves at the services of the revolutionists.

All went well at first, but the influence of the council proved evanescent and the council lost all popularity. When it was seen that the troops would not be able to get away at once, the soldiers got out of hand and pillaged the military stores. A civic guard had to retreat to Saturday one of the last German regiments to leave broke into a champagne factory at Mouilly. There was trouble and the civic guards had to retreat to the barracks. The drunken soldiers began to use machine guns.

The situation at Metz, M. Forest reports, is difficult. The city is surrounded by armed guards and the population is anxious for the arrival of French troops.

"All examination calls cancelled. Good-bye."

This sign greeted registrants who were called to appear before the local board for examination this morning at the entrance to the office of the board, and apprised them of the fact that their liability for military service was ended, for the present at least.

Work of classifying all the registrants up to the age of 37 is continuing, however. The secretary and his assistants will be busy for some time finishing up the work and making a record of the calls which the board has answered. A record is to be made to be sent to the war department, of every man sent from the county, his number, the date of his going and the camp to which sent.

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—With brightening prospects that there soon will be a general resumption of competition in all branches of sport, today's session of the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States took on added importance. The end of the war is expected to have an immediate effect on applications for permission to hold championship meets next year. Organizations that were slow to ask for some of the events are now said to be eager to obtain them. The awarding of meets is expected to be late today.

Redistribution and representation of delegates to have annual meeting will be considered as will also the amateur standing of athletes who have become paid instructors in army camps.

LOCAL CAMPAIGN WAR WORK FUND TO BE EXTENDED

Wichita Falls campaign for $45,000 for the United War Work Fund has been extended to Wednesday night. The campaign has been extended generally throughout the country. N. H. Martin, the chairman of the county committee, announced this morning. Today about $42,500 of the necessary amount had been raised. The work is to continue until the desired minimum quota has been raised, even if it is necessary to work through to Wednesday night, Mr. Martin said, and urged that all who had not yet subscribed to do so, through any one of the banks.

So far Iowa Park is the only community in the county to raise their quota of $50 per cent over subscription. No report has come from Burnburn or Electra, though Mr. Martin was expecting a report late this afternoon. Further in the county's quota amounted to $60,000 as a minimum, and it is hoped that this amount will be raised, and even gone over, though reports even at this time are regarded by the committee as somewhat discouraging.

Baptist Church Is Organized In Floral Heights

Organization of the Floral Heights Baptist church as an independent institution to meet the needs of all unidentified Baptists in the city was completed in a meeting held under a tent at the corner of Tenth and Kemp boulevards, at Floral Heights, Sunday afternoon. The meeting was called by Rev. O. L. Powers of the First Baptist church and Rev. R. W. McCann, moderator of the Baptist Home Mission Board.

Rev. McCann was elected moderator and G. W. Burns, church clerk pro tem. Sixteen charter members adopted the declaration of faith and the church covenant as laid down in the denomination's church manual. The sum of $1100 dollars was subscribed for support of the church at $104 for state mission work. Organization of a Sunday school will be completed at a meeting at ten o'clock next Sunday morning under the tent, which will continue in use temporarily.

Rev. O. L. Powers and L. H. Lawler were the principal speakers in the meeting Sunday afternoon. Rev. R. W. McCann led the devotional services. The new organization will work in opposition to no other institution according to the statement of its leaders, but will work for the interests of the fifteen hundred unidentified Baptists said to be in Wichita Falls at this time.

FUNERAL OF MRS. DAVIS HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

No Restrictions On Occupations Bureau Announces

Orders regarding the taking of men from non-essential occupations have been cancelled. G. W. Minton, the local examiner for the U. S. Department of Labor, Employment Service, stated this morning, and now a man may work Saturday night. He was last seen at a meeting of the labor union and anxious to serve all employers and men desiring work, and he asked that those needing workmen for any sort of work, of labor, farms or construction, list their needs with his office. There are inquiries coming to the office that indicate that there is a small surplus of labor existing, and he is anxious to get that surplus reduced to a minimum as soon as possible.

MODIFICATION OF RESTRICTIONS ON CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Christmas packages for American soldiers overseas may be sent up until the thirtieth of November and permits for sending packages will be issued from local Red Cross headquarters to families failing to receive permits from overseas, according to revised orders received here today. The former rule naming November 20 as the last day for mailing packages has been recalled and packages mailed before November 30 will be sent. Relatives of an American soldier overseas who have not received a permit for sending a Christmas package will be issued a permit on making proper application at Red Cross headquarters. Persons receiving the permits will first fill out application forms, explaining their relation to the soldier, and stating that they have received no other permit and will send but one package. No other changes in the regulations for sending parcels have been made.
