Born October 27, 1858, in New York City on October 27, 1858, in a house in East Twentieth street, the baby Theodore was a weakling...

So frail that he was not privileged to associate with the other boys in the neighborhood, Roosevelt was tutored privately in New York and during travels on which his parents took the children abroad. A porch gymnasium at his home provided him with physical exercise with which he combated a troublesome asthma.

A few months after his graduation, Roosevelt married Miss Alice Lee of Boston. She died in 1885, leaving a child, Alice, now the wife of Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

After this experience he dropped out of politics for many years. Going west, he purchased ranches along the Little Missouri River in North Dakota, and divided his time between outdoor sports, particularly hunting, and literary work.

Returning to New York he became the Republican candidate for Mayor in 1886. He was defeated by President Harrison in 1889 appointed him a member of the United States Civil Service Commission and President Cleveland continued him in this office, which he resigned in 1895 to become New York City's police commissioner.

"A thing that attracted me to this office," Roosevelt said at the time he accepted this appointment, "was that it was to be done in the hurry-burry, for I don't like cloister life." Honesty was the watchword of this administration, and the two years of his occupancy became memorable through the reforms he inaugurated, attracting the nation's attention while holding a position which was obscure in comparison with the events to come.

inet position with war offering something more exciting. Leonard Wood, now Major General, was then President McKinley's physician and one of Roosevelt's staunchest friends.

Organizes "Rough Riders." The famous Rough Riders were organized by Wood and Roosevelt—a bold fighting man in need of a cause whose name today suggests immediately the word "Roosevelt." They came out of the west—plainsmen, miners, rough and ready fighters who were natural marksmen, and Wood became their Colonel and "Teddy," as he had become familiarly called by the public, their Lieutenant-Colonel. In company with the regulars of the army they took transports to Cuba, landed at Santiago and were soon engaged in the thick of battle.

Policies Carried Out. The policies of McKinley, Roosevelt endeavored to carry out after he succeeded the former upon the President's tragic death at the hands of an assassin. Roosevelt retained his predecessor's cabinet as his own and he kept in office the ambassadors and ministers whom McKinley had appointed.

It was thus that "the man of destiny" idea became associated with his life. Ostensibly, Roosevelt, leaving the governorship of New York, to become President, was moving forward from State politics into national politics, so his political opponents, professed publicly to believe; but it was their secret desire to "achieve" the man and eliminate him from prominence in their own community, it was said, that prompted these political foes.

At the height of his public and political career, during the four years which he spent in the office of Governor, Roosevelt accomplished many achievements which historians will rank high in the international and industrial progress of the country.

Lectured in Many Countries. Theodore Roosevelt, besides being a prolific writer, lectured and made public speeches extensively, not only in his own country but in England, Spain, South America and other parts of the world. The facility with which he made political enemies and followers made him a marked man for both the bitter and friendly attention of cartoonists and paragraphers.

Opposed Taft's Renomination. A rift in the friendship between Roosevelt and his successor as President, William Howard Taft, led to the former's announcement of his opposition to Mr. Taft's renomination. The ex-President's influence had been large in securing Mr. Taft in the White House. Now his influence was equally strong in preventing Mr. Taft from remaining there. Men who had clashed with the Taft policies quickly rallied to Roosevelt's support.

House included boxing. It was not until about eight years after he left the White House that it was disclosed that during one of these bouts, which he welcomed as a means of keeping him in fighting trim, a blow landed by a sparring opponent injured one of the Colonel's eyes. Later blindness of this eye developed.

Advocate of Preparedness. When the European war began, Roosevelt vigorously advocated a policy of national preparedness, urging universal military training for the youth of the country and in his magazine and newspaper writings he criticized, in this respect, the policies of Woodrow Wilson during Mr. Wilson's first term as President.

Engages in Literary Work. Roosevelt, after leaving the White House devoted his life largely to literary work, hunting and exploration. He became contributing editor to the Outlook in 1909, continuing this for five years, and later held editorial positions with The Metropolitan and the Kansas City Star. From 1882 to 1912 he published about fifty volumes of his experience in hunting, biography, history, hunting, biography, his hunts for big game and his zeal for exploration took him into the American West, the heart of Africa and the wilderness of Brazil.

Upon his return from his African journey—a return during which he made triumphant entries into European capitals and was received by nations' rulers, including the Emperor of Germany—he arrived in New York to experience what was generally considered to be the greatest ovation an American private citizen was ever accorded by the people of his country. This was in 1910. At the head of an exploring party in South America in 1914 he discovered and followed for 600 miles a Mad'ira river (tributary which the Brazilian government subsequently named in his honor Ito Theodore). This was the famous "River of Doubt"—so-called because in many quarters considered authoritative, it was questioned whether Roosevelt was the first man to explore the stream.

Denied the privilege of fighting for his flag, Theodore Roosevelt's interest was centered on his family's participation in the war. His four sons and his son-in-law, Dr. Derby, carried out a prediction made by the former President before the United States entered the war that if war came they would enter service. Theodore, Jr., became a Major and Archibald a captain, both in France. Quentin entered a French aviation squadron, and Dr. Derby the medical service, also now in France. Kermit, failing to pass a physical examination which would admit him to the United States army, received a commission in the British army and was soon in Mesopotamia.

BIG TRANSPORT NORTHERN PACIFIC AGROUND ON FIRE ISLAND SANDBAR

Ploughing along through a heavy fog and against pounding seas in an effort to obey the universal demand of nearly three thousand American soldiers, many of them wounded, to reach New York on New Year's Day, the big oil-burning steamship Northern Pacific, of the Transport Service, crashed high ashore and over the outer bar of Fire Island beach, at a point opposite Lepusville. Turned broadside to the gale-driven seas, the helpless vessel was thrown higher and higher for more than twelve hours until it seemed certain that she would break up upon the reefs where scores of great vessels have gone down. Distress rockets brought the Coast Guard men from the Fire Island, Oak Island and Point of Woods stations and wireless calls brought five destroyers from nearby waters.

"PRIVATE PEAT" AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE TODAY. Of the personal experiences in the world war that have been published in the last two or three years, those of Harold Peat, known as "Private Peat" have engaged public attention almost exclusively. Mr. Peat's two years in the trenches, which are spoken of in his famous feature, "Two Years in Hell and Back With a Smile," were experiences allotted to few and they have been vividly strikingly brought out in the photoplay "Private Peat," in which Mr. Peat is the star, and which will be displayed at the Empress theatre today and tomorrow.

FINED TEN DAYS Pay for Killing Soldier With Fist

By Associated Press. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 6.—Forfeiture of ten days' pay was the penalty which a court-martial at Camp Travis assessed against A. B. Morton, horseholder in a supply company, for killing a man with his bare fist. The findings of the court were approved by the reviewing authorities. The circumstances surrounding the case are very unusual. Morton and Joseph Copotorto, another soldier, got into a dispute. Copotorto is alleged to have aroused Morton's indignation and they decided to "fight it out." Morton struck such a hard blow the other soldier was killed.

Market Report

Cotton Market Grain Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled during today's early trading. A sharp break in the Liverpool market was attributed to improving shipping conditions as reflected in a statement by the British minister of shipping to the effect that the ending of hostilities had made tonnage available for imports to the British Isles equivalent to an increase of 1.5 million tons per annum. This was considered favorable in its bearing upon probable exports of cotton but Liverpool was a good seller here while there was also considerable selling for southern account and after opening first at a decline of 56 points to an advance of six active months sold some 60 to 70 points under Saturday's closing figures. The southern selling there was more active than recently and probably increased the nervousness of old longs and stop orders were uncovered on the decline. The market closed steady. The market closed steady. The market closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—Bear pressure was felt by the cotton market today around the opening at prices 10 to 15 points lower than the 45 points in the first half hour of trading. The tone was steadied at the decline to reports of continued ocean freight rates and a further decline in the level of the morning prices was 7 1/2 to 8 points down. The market was steadier on a larger mill takings for last week, 36,000 bales, according to the delayed statistical statement made during the morning.

GERMAN RECOVERY IS PROBLEM SAYS COUNT MONSIEGEL

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 6.—Germany will slowly recover from the disasters wrought by the war and will in time regain its place among the nations of the world—but in a democratic, not a monarchial spirit, according to Count Max von Montsiegel, formerly in charge of American affairs in the foreign office at Berlin and now German minister to Switzerland, Vice Baron von Rosenberg, retired. "This recovery," he said today, "will be endlessly hard and will require every ounce of German discipline but it can be accomplished only in case the Entente nations give Germany a breathing chance. That is, to alleviate the blockade sufficiently to permit Germany to pursue her fisheries as formerly and not to impose sufficient industrial and economic conditions such as the occupation of territories west of the Rhine. Count Montsiegel is hopeful that some change at Berlin indicates a beginning for new Germany which will definitely exclude threatened bolshevism. He believes the German people are overhelmed by it—unless the food situation grows worse and starvation sets in and the public be subjected to the alternative of dying or rioting.

BAKER, A MAN OF VISION.

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, is a man of vision. He is also a man of organizing ability and action. Had he not been a man of vision he could not have planned the war activities of the American nation on the great scale which he did. Had he not been a man of ability and action America could not have exceeded not only the expectations and hopes of her allies but of her own people as well and become the military factor she did become. Mr. Baker also has another great ability; that of expression. Next to our President who is the ablest and clearest spokesman of Democracy in the world, Mr. Baker is probably our best spokesman. By way of parenthesis, it may here be observed that vision, executive ability and power of expression are very essential qualities in an American president.

Mr. Baker never spoke more clearly or with a greater vision than he did at Buffalo Saturday night, when he voiced the hope of the world that the peace conference about to sit at Versailles would provide for a league of nations or some other arrangement to prevent the disaster of another world war. "It is not proposed out of cabinets of absolute ministers," he said, "but is rather the passionate demand of the man in the street, the simple and the unsophisticated who know little of the intrigues and wiles of statecraft, but who know a great deal about the suffering and sacrifices which war entails." Mr. Baker has interpreted the desire of the people aright. He has hope and confidence that come from vision and with courage. "For my own part" he said, "I refuse to be afraid about America's capacity to do new things which are needed in a new world. I decline to distrust our purposes or to shrink from moving forward because the road seems wider and higher than roads we have traveled hitherto. I do not know what form these arrangements can take. I am not wedded to any particular method of preserving the peace of the world. I do not believe that so great an object can be accepted by merely adhering to a particular form of words or phrases."

COLONEL THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, fighter, is dead.

His death removes one of the strong characters of modern times. Few Americans have attained greater fame nor yielded a wider influence than the former president.

Intolerant of the opinions and views of others and too ready to stigmatize those who differed with him, the high courage, the sincerity and the outspoken frankness of this man of wide experience, of versatile learning and restless energy made him probably more popular than any other president America has ever known. His popularity was not confined to America but extended throughout the civilized world and even among tribes and peoples scarcely known to the general public.

Quick to distinguish between right and wrong, Colonel Roosevelt formed instant decisions, seemingly impulsive, yet with almost unerring accuracy, and no matter who or what forces opposed him, Colonel Roosevelt sustained his convictions with great vigor and effectiveness, and has led American opinion on many points of far-reaching importance.

Even those whom he has bitterly and perhaps unfairly assailed, and who have opposed him in many matters, will sorrow at his death and will pay tribute to his great courage and to his unwavering loyalty to his country and to what he conceived to be the best interests of its people.

One of the great needs of Wichita Falls is an institution or institutions for higher learning. While we are building skyscrapers and organizing great financial, commercial and industrial enterprises we ought also be giving attention to provisions for higher learning. Wichita Falls is the financial and commercial center of Northwest Texas. It will have failed in its opportunity and its duty if it does not become the education center for this territory as well.

The Sandman Story For To-Night

CHEERY ROBIN YOUNG.

It was nice and warm and sunny in the Southland, so, of course, Mr. Robinyoung was not at all to blame for thinking it was time to start North. He was told by the older birds that he better wait a while as he might find it cold and rainy in the Northland. But Mr. Robinyoung had a plan in his mind. He wished to have a home for Miss Robindainty when she arrived with her mother in the Northland. "I will go ahead and get our home ready," he told her. "You shall find it warm, cozy and in a high leafy tree."

Miss Robindainty looked into his eyes and peeped a sweet note which told him she was sure he was the very best Robin in the world, and away flew Robinyoung, his heart as light as his wings. All went well and he reached the Northland one bright sunny morning without having any rain or cold on the way. All day he looked about and while there were no leaves yet on the trees Mr. Robinyoung had good judgment about such things, and at last in a big apple tree in an orchard he decided to build a home for himself and his bride.

But, oh, the next morning what a difference when Robinyoung awoke! The sun was not shining, and it was wet, the rain coming down all over poor Robinyoung. "What is the difference?" he asked himself. "It will have to stop some time. I know the sun is up there behind the clouds. I'll just wait." He found a place where the rain did not fall on him, and there he sat and sang a little song about the sun, and the warm, sunny days to come, and before long out came the old sunman's smiling face from behind the clouds and smiled at Robinyoung.

"Oh, I knew the sun was there!" laughed Robinyoung as he went to work on his new home. The next day the sun shone, but by night it was cold, and the wind rattled Robinyoung's feathers in a very unpleasant manner. But Robinyoung hopped about on a limb and chirped and twittered to keep himself warm, always saying to himself, "It will be warm some time. I know that summer is on the way. In the morning it was cold, but the sun was shining, and Robinyoung sang as he worked about the beautiful summer and the flowers and the sun. "What in the world are you so happy about?" asked a satiny black bird, shivering on a limb nearby. "It is cold and looks like a snow; wouldn't wonder if it did snow by morning and then I guess you would sing a different tune."

"Oh, no, I wouldn't," replied Robinyoung. "I would sing louder about the summer and the warm days to come. What is the difference if it is cold and wet? I am here safe and sound, and I know the summer is coming and the sun is behind the clouds if it rains and the flowers are under the ground and the birds are on their way to Northland and—"

But he found them always, and Mrs. Robinyoung grew to think her husband could drive away the rain by talking about the sun he knew was behind the clouds, for it was sure to peep out warmer and brighter than even after Robinyoung had talked about it awhile.

The Sandman Story For To-Night

CHEERY ROBIN YOUNG.

It was nice and warm and sunny in the Southland, so, of course, Mr. Robinyoung was not at all to blame for thinking it was time to start North. He was told by the older birds that he better wait a while as he might find it cold and rainy in the Northland. But Mr. Robinyoung had a plan in his mind. He wished to have a home for Miss Robindainty when she arrived with her mother in the Northland. "I will go ahead and get our home ready," he told her. Walter Morgan Is Promoted To 2nd Lieutenant

Walter P. Morgan, son of Mrs. C. W. Morgan of this city, has returned to France after having spent several weeks in German territory, according to information contained in a letter received from him by Mrs. Morgan today, which further stated that he had just received a commission as second lieutenant while on his way back to France. Lieut. Morgan is with the American Cavalry and has been overseas since the early part of last year. In his letter he said that he expected to sail for the United States within a short while and hoped to be home soon. While in Germany he was stationed at the town Buan, and when the letter was written he was at Chateau Leir, France. On his return trip to France from Germany he met Max Gardner, who is well known in Wichita Falls, and that they had time for a long talk. He did not say whether or not Mr. Gardner was with forces occupying German territory or was still in France. Lieut. Morgan was manager of the Morgan Feed Store here before he entered the service of the United States Army.

DON'T THROW AWAY YOUR OLD SHOES

Make Them Wear Like New—As Did This Canadian Officer

A Canadian army officer, William Pemberton, of the famous Princess Pat Regiment, told of the extraordinary wear given him by a pair of army boots twice repaired with Neolin Soles. "Six months of trench warfare under destructive conditions put the first pair of Neolin Soles out of business," said Lieutenant Pemberton, "but ordinary soles would have gone to pieces in much less time."

Don't throw away shoes that can be repaired. Have them re-bottomed with tough, durable Neolin Soles. Any cobbler or repairman will do the work for you. The price is no more than for soles that give less wear. Remember—Neolin Soles are created by science to be what soles should be. They are flexible and waterproof as well as durable. They come on new shoes of all styles. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

LOADING RACK OF PIPE LINE CO. TO BE USED TUESDAY

The first cars of oil will be loaded at the Hockaday Pipe Line Company's loading rack at Burk Burnett on Tuesday, E. J. Pope, manager of the pipe line, stated this morning, the rack being completed now to the extent that it will accommodate 15 cars.

The company's loading rack and tank farm is on the Hardin land, just opposite the Western Oil Corporation's loading rack. There are three batteries of tanks being installed, and the loading rack's capacity is also being increased.

The company was organized and started its work about the middle of December, and through pushing construction it has been able to achieve this progress. The loading rack when completed will accommodate 40 cars, a double track to be built. At present there has been opportunity and material for the construction of the single track only. The pipe line will be built as soon as possible, it is stated.

Hockaday and company are fiscal agents for the Bishop-Evans Oil Company, which has one well ready to produce oil and a derrick up for another, the Weowna Oil company, which has four wells producing, is ready to turn into the tank this week, and the Pershing Oil Company, also operating in the Burk Burnett field. The pipe line company is organized primarily to care for the oil from these companies' wells, to forestall any delay such as other companies were experiencing, due to the pipe line congestion. For the present it will be possible only to care for the oil from these wells, Mr. Pope states, but soon the company hopes to be able to take other oil.

R. W. Hockaday is president of the pipe line company and C. H. Evans, secretary and treasurer, while Mr. Pope is office manager. L. B. Chipley, who has been with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway for a number of years in various capacities, the last being an emigration agent with offices at Houston, is here to act as traffic manager for the company.

Weowna Company Swabbing Wells On Right of Way

Swabbing on wells four and five of the Weowna Oil Company, on the M. K. and T. right-of-way at Burk Burnett was begun Sunday and will continue today, making a thorough test. E. J. Pope, representative of the company, stated this morning. The completion of these wells has been retarded by lack of pipe line and tankage facilities, but satisfactory arrangements have been made, Mr. Pope stated, and the wells can now be turned loose, as the Hockaday Pipe Line Company is arranging to care for the oil of the companies for which Hockaday and Company are fiscal agents, he continued.

Weowna No. 3 will be ready to commence hauling by the latter part of the week, Mr. Pope added. When this well starts putting oil into the pipe line the Weowna will have four producing wells. No. 6 on the stock pens is down 1400 feet and there are three other wells or locations on the right-of-way at Burk Burnett.

IOWA PARK OIL FIELD OUTLOOK IS VERY PROMISING

The West Pool well, near the Watkins, 10 1/2 miles southwest of Iowa Park, is down 375 feet and is being watched with much interest. Drillers say it should be in within the week. The Park Pool and Atlas, both in the same section are expected to start drilling as soon as the weather will permit.

A Star rig is being unloaded to be transferred to the farm of Mrs. M. A. McCleskey south of and near town.

A Standard rig is being erected in the southwest part of town, on the H. A. Wigley tract. This well is to be drilled to a deep test, and according to the geological survey, of this section, a greater production will be found at the deeper depth than that now in the valley.

There are four Star rigs in the railroad yards here now, which will be moved to locations just south of Iowa Park as soon as the roads are in condition to permit heavy traffic, being at present very miry, due to the recent and frequent snow, sleet and rain storms.

The holidays, the influenza epidemic and extremely bad weather, cold and wet, during the past two weeks, caused a lull in the oil activities in the Iowa Park field, following the bringing in of a good well on the Harry Zink farm one mile south of Iowa Park during the month of November, but, with the New Year here, and better weather, things are expected to begin in earnest right away.

Considerable leasing activities are expected to begin with a vim, and the Herald hopes to be able in a week or two to report the beginning of at least a dozen wells on the land closely adjacent to Iowa Park and in the immediate vicinity of the Zink well, which well is still flowing, though connected with a pump, but the power has to be turned on.

Zink No. 2 Going Down.

Zink No. 2 is down to about 300 feet, and a log of this well shows the shallow sand struck in it at the same depth it was encountered in the Zink No. 1, which was 40 feet instead of 18 feet, as was at first reported. Those connected with the drilling of this well are confident of getting a better well than the Zink No. 1.

Deep Tests Will Be Made.

Contracts have been let for several deep tests on the lands lying north and east of Iowa Park, and leasing in these localities is in full swing, and the proving of the big Iowa Park oil field from the series on the north to the Watkins on the southwest, now seems to rest more in the hands of the weather man than anyone else.

Everyone in Iowa Park and for miles around, is imbued with the spirit that the Iowa Park oil field is destined to prove to be the biggest oil field in Wichita County. If not the biggest one in the State—Iowa Park Herald.

PRAIRIE PIPE LINE TO BUILD BRANCH TO BURKBURNETT

More relief for oil producers at Burk Burnett, who have to keep their wells shut down part time on account of congested pipelines, is promised in the report that the Prairie Pipeline Company will build a branch of the Ranger-Drumwright Pipeline to Burk Burnett. It is not known when it will be possible to construct this line but quick action is promised, when weather and labor conditions become better. The Ranger-Drumwright line is scheduled to be finished this week according to latest reports.

WARMEST WEATHER IS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The warmest weather in Wichita Falls within the past week was registered Sunday afternoon when the thermometer rose to 45 degrees.

The coldest temperature recorded during the recent blizzard was on last Wednesday morning when it dropped to 9 degrees.

TILLMAN COUNTY TO BE SCENE OF MUCH ACTIVITY

Tillman county, just across Red River from Wichita county, is to be the scene of extensive drilling operations in a short time, according to present indications. This county adjoins Wichita county on the north-west, and is directly northwest of the Burk Burnett pool. The Frederick Leader records the following developments in the county:

"Approximately 30 per cent of Tillman county has been leased for oil exploitation purposes, George Burkhardt, who is an authority upon such matters, estimated Saturday.

"While drilling is progressing upon but one well in the county now, several other projects are to be begun, while drilling will be immediately resumed upon several holes where the prospects for oil are good.

"The Conder Oil company is drilling a well with a new rig on section 15, one south, 15.

"Work is to be resumed immediately on the Kingsley location, section 35, one north, 15. This hole is down about 400 feet.

"One the Evans location, section 11, two south, 15, a standard rig will be erected and the hole will be drilled 2500 feet.

"Operations of the Johnson-Boase-Finley interests on section 7, two south, range 18, will begin as soon as the weather will permit, it is expected.

"Drilling will be resumed on the Lurdett well, section 7, two south, range 18, in the near future. T. L. Ball is manager of this project.

"It is also expected that drilling will resume on the Burlington well, section 25, one south, range 17, in the very near future. This oil project is nearer the city than any of the others and interest in its development has been keen."

Receives Message Telling of Death Of Lieut. Skiles

News has been received by Martin L. Alday by wire, informing him of the death of First Lieutenant Robert L. Skiles at Austin, Texas, this morning at 9 a. m., while in military uniform. Lieutenant Skiles had just received his discharge from the army and had come to Wichita Falls, where he had formed a partnership with Mr. Alday, and had just returned to Austin to complete his arrangements when he contracted influenza, which immediately developed into pneumonia, causing his death.

Lieutenant Skiles was a graduate of both the academic and law departments of the University of Texas, and was a very popular student in the University and had many friends in Wichita Falls. He was also very prominent in University circles, having represented the University on several debating teams, oratorical contests, as well as several of the University publications. He was a member of the Delta Chi fraternity. He leaves a surviving wife, his mother and father and several brothers, who reside in Bonham, Texas. He will be buried in Louisville, Kentucky.

A dividend of 100 per cent was declared at a meeting of the Kap Oil Company's trustees held this morning. This dividend is payable on or before January 15, this year.

This company was organized at this company's well some time ago, causing considerable delay and difficulty, the management of the Kap Oil Company declares that there has been less expense in the drilling and operating of this well than any other one in the field.

Burkburnett-Mann Prepare To Swab At Second Sand

Two sands, one of 18 feet from 124 feet and the second from 1580 to 1601, have been drilled into in the Burk Burnett-Mann Oil Company's No. 1 on the Wichita addition and preparations are being made to swab the well and give it a thorough test. When the first sand was penetrated by the drill the well made an effort to flow, W. L. Mann stated, but the flow was cut off while the second sand was being drilled. The first showing was good, and with the two sands a well that will prove exceptionally good is expected.

OIL DERRICK UP WITHIN 3 MILES OF WICHITA FALLS

The oil derrick has invaded Wichita Falls, immediate vicinity, and now it seems as if it will be only the matter of a short time before the city will be surrounded with derricks. The first derrick to be erected within plain sight of the city and less than three miles away was completed today on the East Wichita Oil Company's lease of 600 acres out of the Cherokee County School Lands, and drilling, with cable tools, is scheduled to begin within a short time. The location is 430 feet east and 484 feet south of the north-west corner of the Cherokee county school lands survey.

The derrick is on a hill and can be seen for miles around. The prophecy was made today that this is the forerunner of dozens of derricks around the city, for all of the land surrounding Wichita Falls is taken up in leases. The closest derrick to the city at present is several miles away, and the closest producing wells are in the Iowa Park shallow field.

Otto Schelleymeyer is president of the East Wichita company and John R. Abernathy, R. E. Marlow, Judge E. W. Nicholson and W. P. Honaker among the directors. The capitalization is $100,000 and the holdings comprise a 600 acre lease.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CIVIC LEAGUE TUESDAY

All members of the Civic League, and especially new members, are urged to be present at the annual election of officers to be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Barry. The plan for the 1919 work will also be made and the meeting promises to be exceptionally important.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND GRIPPE

Ask any physician or druggist and he will tell you that the best and only effective remedy for a bad cold, sore throat, influenza or a gripple is what he calls "a brisk calomel purge," which means a big dose of calomel at bed time. But as the old style calomel has some very unpleasant and dangerous qualities physicians and druggists are now recommending the improved nausealess calomel, called "Calotabs," which is purified and refined from the old-fashioned calomel, and whose medicinal virtues are easily improved.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No nausea, no pain, no slightest interference with your diet, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished and your entire system is purified and refreshed.

Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist guarantees Calotabs by refunding the price if you are not delighted. Adv.

NEW ASPIRANT FOR MIDDLEWEIGHT HONORS

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Chicago has a new aspirant for middleweight boxing honors in Stockyards Tommy Murphy, proud wearer of a gold service stripe earned aboard a submarine chaser engaged in convoy service. Murphy is a home with honorable discharge papers after eighteen months in the navy and is ready to resume his ring activity.

Previous to becoming a bluejacket, Murphy boxed at an unfortunate weight. He was too heavy for the welter and too light for the middleweight with the result that he had to fight the latter class and always under a handicap. After donning the navy uniform and feeding upon Uncle Sam's "chow" he picked up weight until he is now a full fledged 160-pounder.

Stockyards Tommy is pupil of Packey McFarland, who came from the same neighborhood. He has Packey's speed and the McFarland knack of hitting from all angles, coupled with a knockout punch.

GIBBONS-BARTFIELD BOUT IS CALLED OFF

By Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Jan. 6.—The proposed ten round contest between Mike Gibbons, St. Paul middle weight, and Soldier Bartfield, scheduled for Jan. 14, has been called off.

Gibbons declined to go through with the engagement as he feared he might make a poor showing because of his

EARL CRADDOCK PLANS TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

DES MOINES, IA, Jan. 6.—Earl Craddock, a sergeant with the Eighty-eighth division in France, is expected to return to Iowa within a few months and defend his title as world's wrestling champion against all logical opponents.

Joe Stetcher of Dodge Neb; is one of the foremost contenders for the wrestling crown, and it is likely that a match between Stetcher and Craddock will be sought immediately upon the latter's return.

Solve Problem of Transportation of Locomotives

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The shipment of American built steam locomotives weighing each 73 tons and assembled all but the smoke stacks and the tender so that they could move away under their own steam within a few hours after their arrival in France was among the accomplishments of the United States Army Transport Force under stress of war and has since been continued.

More than four hundred of these locomotives were so shipped from New York in a few months. It was learned here with the lifting of the war censorship regulations, and these were in addition to 1,200 which were shipped in sections—nine locomotives packed in cases. The ships used to transport the locomotives, completely, were of a special type with the three holds, each hold measuring 60 by 102 feet entered by hatches 35 feet wide and 42 feet long.

Into each of the three holds was placed twelve locomotives—thirty-six in all. For a bed for flooring on which they rested for the voyage, was used more than 3,000 tons of steel rails. The locomotives when in position were braced with heavy wooden beams and the space between the boilers to the level of the top of the steam dome packed solid with highly compressed baled hay.

All Space Utilized. On this day another flooring was laid, and on this floor was placed the tenders—the smoke stack, with masts and other light cargo, packed in the space where coal is to be carried. On top of the tenders was packed still more cargo to the deck level, and during the "rush days" the above deck space filled with crated airplanes. When completely loaded with

I am not thinking of a particular settlement. I am very much touched today, Sir, to receive at the hands of wounded soldiers a memorial in favor of a league of nations, and to be told by them what it was that they had fought for, not merely to win this war, but to secure something beyond, some guarantee of justice, some equilibrium for the world as a whole which would mean that there was no longer any need to fight a war like this again.

"And when I speak of suffering men I think also of suffering women. I know that splendid as have been the achievements of your armies and tremendous as have been the sacrifices which they have made and great the glory which they have achieved, the real hard pressure of the burden came upon the women at home, whose men had gone to the front and who were willing to have them stay there until the battle was fought out. And I have heard from your minister of food the story how, for days together there would be no bread. And when they knew that there was no bread—the spirit of the people did not flag.

"I take off my hat to the great people of Italy, and tell them that my admiration is merged into friendship and affection. It is in this spirit that I receive your courtesy, Sir, and thank you from the bottom of my heart for this unprecedented reception which I am receiving at the hands of your generous people.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH PROGRAM OF WELCOME

By Associated Press. MILAN, Sunday, Jan. 5.—President Wilson journeyed from Rome to Milan today, stopping at Genoa en route. There he was greeted by hundreds of thousands of the common people, who were shouting and waving flags and banners, and who were trying to get near enough to touch him and even attempt to kiss his hand or clothing, as he passed through the dense crowds surging and buffeting about him.

Mr. Wilson's visit of three hours to Genoa was marred by a tropical down-pour of rain which drenched the President and all of his party. The streets ran rivers and a gale snapped the flagstaffs. Decorations along the streets were soaked, and torn and flapped in the wind. Nevertheless the President carried out his full program, including a visit to the monuments of Columbus and Mazzini and the city hall where he was given a reception.

Whatever arrangements might have been made to receive the President were dissolved on his arrival, with the city being deluged by the blinding rain squalls. All the members of the official party, except Mr. Wilson and his wife, were compelled to scramble for themselves through the troops-lined streets and make the best way possible back to the official train. The secret service men, seeking to protect the President, rejected motor cars and carriages which were provided by the local committee but somehow managed to get through the program and back to the train without mishap.

Before leaving Genoa, President Wilson laid a wreath at the statue of Columbus, and standing bareheaded in the driving rain, made a short address. Columbus, he said, did a service for

NEWS OF DEATH IS SAD MESSAGE TO MR. ABERNATHY

The Times extra that carried the news of the death of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt brought sorrow to John R. Abernathy, former U. S. marshal for Oklahoma, now a resident of Wichita Falls, who has been a close friend of the president for many years. Mr. Abernathy, in his office here this afternoon, in discussing the sad news, brought out a picture, taken on the laws of the White House, on the occasion of the last luncheon Colonel Roosevelt was host to, while he was president. This luncheon was given to what was known as President Roosevelt's "tennis cabinet" and Mr. Abernathy was included in the list of guests. As a farewell gift the guests presented the president with a bronze lioness and this was in the foreground of the picture.

Mr. Abernathy recounted how he had gone to the luncheon in a business suit, and when the cabinet officials, ambassadors and other guests began to come in attired in frock coats he begged to go back to the hotel and change to his formal attire, but was persuaded to remain. When the picture was taken he tried to get back out of view but President Roosevelt called for him. "You get at one end of this beast, and I'll get at the other," he said, pointing to the bronze lioness, and Mr. Abernathy and the president were in the front of the picture.

This was Mr. Abernathy's last visit with Colonel Roosevelt in the White House, but on various other occasions he has been his guest at Oyster Bay. Two of Mr. Abernathy's sons spent some time in the White House, with the Roosevelt children, several years ago while their father was U. S. marshal in Oklahoma, and the wolf hunts which the president and Marshal Abernathy staged in Oklahoma were events amounting to historical importance, so much did the former president and Rough Rider love the chase.

It has been four years since Mr. Abernathy saw Colonel Roosevelt, the occasion being at Ogden, Utah, but he was planning a trip to the east for this coming spring, and as usual the Roosevelt home would have been one of the main stops. A correspondence had been kept up, Mr. Abernathy having received a letter from Colonel Roosevelt only a short time ago, in which the loss of Quentin, with whom the oldest Abernathy boy, now an officer in the air service, had been chums, was the chief subject.
