British Troops Are Demanding Release

LONDON, Tuesday, Jan. 7.—Soldiers objecting to delay in the demobilization of the British armies engaged in further demonstrations today. The vicinity of the war office was invaded by lorries filled with men and by marching soldiers. They came from the Shoreham camp. Many of them were on leave from Saloniki and objected to going back.

On the sides of the lorries were banners reading "Get a move on." "We won the war; give us our tickets." "Get on with it, Lloyd George, and other similar sentiments. The men were generally well behaved and treated the matter humorously, although they refused to disperse until a deputation was sent by officials, who assured them that Viscount Milner, secretary of state for war, and Sir William Robertson, were then in conference on the grievances advanced by the soldiers.

AMERICAN TROOPS WERE FIRST TO BREAK THE HINDENBURG LINE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The adjutant general's office today announced that the American troops were the first to break the Hindenburg line, according to the Daily News in its comment today on the report of Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig on the operations from the end of April last to the close of hostilities. The news points out that at least the first mention of a break through contained in the field marshal's report, was in the course of his description of the day's work on September 29 in which he wrote: "North of Bellefleur, the thirty-third American division, Major General E. M. Lewis, having broken through the dense defenses of the Hindenburg line, stormed Bellefleur and seized Nouy. On their left the 27th American division, Major General O'Ryan, met with very heavy sniping by machine gun fire but pressed on with great gallantry as far as Jouy, where a bitter struggle took place for possession of the villages. The fighting on the whole front of the second American corps was severe, and the Bellefleur-Nouy-Githement-Farm and a number of other points, amid the intricate defenses of the Hindenburg line, strong bodies of the enemy held out with great obstinacy for many hours."

These points of resistance were gradually overcome, either by the support troops of the American divisions or by the fifth and third Australian divisions.

RAILROAD FUTURE UP TO CONGRESS SAYS MR. CLARK

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Congress and not the president, should determine when the railroads are to be turned back to private management, said Interstate Commerce Commissioner Edgar G. Clark today, counting his testimony before the Senate interstate commerce commission.

"If I had my way," said Mr. Clark, "I would have Congress fix the date on which the railroads should be returned back. This should be sufficiently far in advance to permit the roads to prepare for changed conditions and then all the uncertainties and disruption of morale which is talked about so much, would be prevented.

"To state it bluntly, I think Congress ought to withdraw from the president the power to turn back the roads on an hour's notice and Congress itself ought to determine when this shall be."

The commissioner explained that he believed most of the legislative and operating reform proposed by advocates of unified operation could be effected even if the railroads were relinquished before Congress had a chance to act.

How a Father Has Learned to Save Shoe Bills.

"My son is very hard on shoes, so keeping him properly shod has been quite an expense to me," writes Mr. J. Allison Allen, of Amity, Arkansas.

"But since I started to buy Neolin-soled shoes for him I have found that it costs only about a third as much to keep him in shoes.

"This is because Neolin Soles are so tough and durable that they wear a very long time. Shoe bills are kept down because you don't need so many pairs.

"You can get Neolin-soled shoes at almost any good shoe store. They come in all styles and for all members of the family. Neolin Soles are also available everywhere for re-soles.

sentation as a memento of his part in the Spanish American war.

Church Service at 12:55: The church service beginning at 12:55 o'clock was concluded in 15 minutes. The Episcopal ritual was followed and the only mention of the ex-president's name was when the rector spoke the word "Theodore" in the final prayer.

The casket was borne to the altar by porters. Draped in an American flag, it was covered also by two banners of the rough rider regiment, upon which rested a large wreath of acacias tied with the yellow ribbon of the cavalry. These flowers, the only tribute near the casket, were from the colonel's comrades of the famous unit of Spanish American war.

Among the flowers banked against the altar rail were wreaths from President Wilson, Vice President Marshall, the Senate and House, Secretary Daniels and the officers and men of the battleship Indiana.

Back of the altar were hung two American flags, while another floated from the church entrance.

The guests were received personally by Captain Archibald Roosevelt, assisted by William Leob Jr., who was Mr. Roosevelt's secretary during his presidency.

The casket was not opened in the church.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS PRESENT AT FUNERAL

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Long before the hour set for the simple funeral services for Theodore Roosevelt this afternoon silent crowds of villagers and visitors collected in the vicinity of Sagamore Hill, Christ Episcopal church and Young's Memorial cemetery. Many tried in vain to gain admittance to the spacious grounds of the Roosevelt estate but mounted police, special deputy sheriffs and detectives kept all on the move.

Visitors were impressed with the hush that fell over the town as the hour for the service approached and the general air of sorrow on the countenances of the citizens. School children, dismissed for the day, assembled in the streets and talked in subdued whispers. The droning of the motors of army airplanes that hovered over the Roosevelt mansion seemed to accentuate the stillness. Business was virtually suspended.

Many buildings were draped with crepe and flags drooped at half staff.

Members of Family Present.

Only the immediate members of the family were present at the prayer service at the home prior to the rites at Christ church, as follows:

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Captain and Mrs. Archibald Roosevelt, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., Mrs. Richard Derby, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, the colonel's sister; Mr. and Mrs. T. Douglas Robinson, the former being the colonel's nephew; Rear Admiral W. S. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alsop, W. Emile Roosevelt and John K. Roosevelt, cousins of the colonel; Mr. and Mrs. E. "A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic.

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sidesache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

One or two at bedtime for quick so you can eat what you like, and 23c per box. All druggists.

Re-election of the president officers of the Civic League, and the forming of plans for an open meeting to be held on January 24, when the men will be invited to be the guests of the League, formed the features of the annual business meeting of that organization, held Tuesday afternoon at the Kemp Library.

The open meeting, at which the men will be guests of the Civic League, will be held Friday evening, January 24, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Kemp, and at that time the men will hear what the women of Wichita Falls, represented by the Civic League, are planning to do during 1919, and will also have their share in this work outlined. Invitations will be sent out in a short time.

BREVITIES

Abe Levenson of New York City, who is a cousin of Saul Levenson, of Saul's Dry Goods store of this city, is in Wichita Falls for the purpose of making investments in oil developments in local fields.

LEASE BARRACKS IS SUGGESTION OF THE WICHITA CLUB

COULD BE USED TO ACCOMMODATE OVERCROWDED CONDITION IN CITY.

IRRIGATION IS DISCUSSED

Committee Is Appointed to Procure Permanent Quarters for Organization.

The Wichita Club by a vote of its members at its weekly luncheon today requested the Chamber of Commerce to take up with the War Department the matter of a temporary lease on the barracks and quarters at Call Field with a view of operating them as a rooming house or hotel, to relieve the overcrowded condition in the city.

A committee comprised of T. E. Smock, F. N. Lawton and G. C. Wood was appointed to lay the matter before the Chamber of Commerce directors at their next meeting.

A committee was also appointed to take charge of the band instruments bought for Call Field through the efforts of the old Lions Club of which the Wichita Club is the successor.

To Negotiate for Home. At the suggestion of the president, N. H. Martin, the appointment of a committee was authorized to negotiate for a permanent home for the club.

A number of new members were admitted at today's luncheon, a chicken dinner which was served by the ladies of the Civic League.

Several interesting talks were made by visitors. One of these was V. H. Schoffelmeyer, a representative of the Bellas News, who is here to secure data for a story in the News on irrigation. Mr. Schoffelmeyer is devoting his entire time to the irrigation problem.

Irrigation Discussed.

The irrigation movement, he said, was "the greatest step forward that Texas can take." He said that there was a large area in Texas that was susceptible to what he termed "supplemental irrigation." He mentioned a belt particularly extending from the Wichita Falls territory to the region of Dallas in which the average yearly rainfall was in excess of 20 inches, sufficient to raise good crops if properly distributed. The trouble, he said, was that it was not evenly distributed, but that if the flood waters could be conserved in part there would be an abundance of moisture. He mentioned the Lake Wichita irrigation project as demonstrating the possibilities of supplemental irrigation.

Another Source of Supply.

He discussed also another source of water for irrigation, the supply to be found in gravel beds at a shallow depth in many places and surface streams. He told of a successful experiment in pumping water from the Brazos river near Waco, where irrigation fields in the Wichita Falls territory and a bale of cotton to the acre and fields at their side that were not watered made only eight bushels of corn and one-fourth of a bale of cotton.

Mr. Schoffelmeyer was the guest of J. A. Kemp. He was made an honorary member of the club.

Co-Operation is Urged. E. Stanley Field, architect, who has just come back to Wichita Falls, urged the importance of closer relations between the business men of the city and laboring men. He urged that the Club invite laboring men into its membership and that everything possible be done to promote a better understanding between the laboring men and the business men of Wichita Falls.

A. S. Wilson of Battle Creek, Michigan, mentioned a number of Battle Creek products that were used in daily life in Wichita Falls and compared the progressive spirit and the vision of the business men of the two cities.

Captain Rogers, a lawyer, who came here from Camp Pike, Ark., recently to engage in the practice of his profession, said that his duties in the military service took him practically to every part of the country and that he had kept his eyes opened to the possibilities of the towns and cities he visited. He said that he had located in Wichita Falls as the city offering the greatest possibilities.

Justice Gwinn, of precinct one, is confined to his home today on account of slight illness. Justice Arrington of precinct two is handling the work of both courts today.

AMUSEMENT

"WHEN A WOMAN SINS" AT EMPRESS THURSDAY

A woman's untamed impulses pitted against a young divinity student's stern rules of conduct form the story of "When a Woman Sins," the Theda Bara super-production, which with Theda Bara as the star, will be the chief attraction at the Empress theater for two days, beginning Thursday.

The woman, Poppea, had, through an unjust accusation, become a notorious wanton. Admirers flitted about her like moths, but she stripped them of their wealth and then flung them away. At last she meets a young divinity student, and upon his stern character her charms beat in vain. She loves him wildly, and finally, in despair, she is about to attempt suicide when he sends her a message of forgiveness and love wrapped up in a bunch of lilies.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MISS MAUDE WALKER

A farewell "open house" for Miss Maude Walker, who leaves tonight for New York, where in a short time she will sail for France to take up her C. A. cañon work, was held Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Walker. The entertainment was most informal. A quartet from Call Field, Messrs. Gustafson, Edmond, Hoffman and Reid, and Miss Agnew gave vocal numbers. B. Brown gave readings and J. Wilk-Talbert also contributed to the program.

DARE-DEVIL OF SCREEN IN SECRET SERVICE PLAY

Tom Mix, the William Fox star who ranks foremost as a portrayer of dramatic western roles and is the screen's greatest daredevil will be seen in an entirely new character in "Mr. Logan, U. S. A.," which will be shown for the first time at the Empress theater today.

The role that the intrepid Mix plays in this newest Fox production is different from those that he has most recently appeared in but the action still takes place in the great West.

"Mr. Logan, U. S. A.," shows the inner workings of the secret service. It tells of the work of two men ostensibly affiliated with a renegade labor organization who try to cause a strike in one of the great tungsten mines.

Mix's portrayal of William Logan, the secret service man will keep one in suspense throughout the picture. The photoplay abounds in thrills and a real love story that engages one's sympathies for the man who is unable to justify himself in the eyes of his sweetheart until the unexpected finale.

"THE HELL CAT" THURSDAY AT MAJESTIC THEATER

The measure of constructive skill spent on Geraldine Farrar's second Goldwyn picture, "The Hell Cat," at the Majestic theater Thursday, is never to be reckoned with in ordinary terms. Its author, Willard Mack, while he has in the past been responsible for some inferior products of the screen, shows us in "The Hell Cat" that he has absorbed some of the technique of the Helasco school of melodrama—the Pelasco school which made his "Tiger Rose" an enormous stage success. This consists of polishing rough melodramatic surfaces until they shine with realism.

"The Hell Cat" is thrilling in its effects. It is absorbing in its simplicity and the skill with which it has been written and produced. The acting of Miss Farrar is deeply penetrating, while Tom Santschi's rendition of the heavy lead logan as a magnificent portrayal of a character swayed by elemental passions alone.

The sweep of the western backgrounds add not a little to the effect of the melodrama. They provide a rich setting indeed for the story. And this story, let it be still further emphasized, while in the brief telling, it dwindles to the single effort of a villain to procure a woman for his own, supplanted by her fierce resistance, is so finely made from whatever angle it is viewed that its sometimes sordid aspect is surely obscured by its artistic production.

Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those gathering to speed Miss Walker on her journey to work that promises to be of so much interest were: Misses Katherine Roney, Gorman, Agnew, Brothers, Ethel Fitzhugh, Chamberlain, Seale, Mrs. Fitzhugh, Mrs. Seale, Mrs. A. H. Huff, Mrs. M. M. Walker, Mrs. Fennessey, Mrs. E. B. Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shumaker, Messrs. THEFT OF A COW IS CHARGED IN COMPLAINT

A complaint was filed with District Attorney Fletcher Jones yesterday in which the theft of a cow is alleged. The defendant waived an examining hearing and was released under bond of $1,000, fixed by Justice Arrington.

A Mexican girl who was arrested several days ago and charged with stealing a diamond was given an examining trial before Justice Arrington and released on bond to await the action of the grand jury.

INVESTIGATION OF FIRE HAZARDS TO BE MADE SOON

Wichita Falls is to have a Fire Prevention Campaign this year, led by experts from the department of state fire marshal, Chief J. B. McClure, started today. Arrangements are being made to have the state representative visit Wichita Falls in a short time on this campaign, and a later announcement will be made relative to the line along which the campaign will be conducted.

One object of this campaign will be to get people of Wichita Falls, and especially those in the business section, to remove fire hazards that are now causing them to pay extra charges on their fire insurance. Some of the commonest defects in the business section and the extra charges, per hundred dollars valuation, on the insurance policy payments, are enumerated by Chief McClure as follows:

Dangerous lights in windows, or exposing stock, ten cents; sawdust on floors or in wood caspides, five cents; unsafe ash tray or waste receptacles, five cents; unsafe flues or chimneys, ten cents; unsafe heating devices, five cents; rubber hose or flexible metal gas connections, twenty-five cents; accumulation of empty boxes or barrels, ten cents; merchandise crowded, obstructing aisles of windows, ten cents.

The campaign will be educational and will be designed to show the people of the city the way to keep their premises and homes or places of business, so that the fire risks will be a low, and as slight as possible. The school children will also be given a part to play in the campaign, Chief McClure added.

MRS. LEFFING WELL'S BOOTS

A different type of comedy. It isn't froth and bubbles, it isn't slap-stick, but has real substance, it's the kind of comedy that brings two dollar prices in legitimate houses—was one of the biggest stage hits in New York and Constance Talmadge makes a riot of it on the screen—CHRISTIE comedy also on the bill.

TOMORROW GERALDINE FARRAR "THE HELL CAT"

Geraldine Farrar proves her right to be called the star of stars in "The Hell Cat," newest of her Goldwyn Pictures. Rarely has she been provided with a more colorful, dramatic role. Never has she been enabled to acquit herself so magnificently in a thoroughly modern environment.

Though the entire production was made in the heart of Wyoming's Rockies, "The Hell Cat" in no sense is a conventional "Western" drama. Replete with color and movement, the ranch atmosphere is merely a background for an uncommonly strong clash of wills. The characters are swayed by primitive emotions and impulses, and in the freedom of the superb mountain vistas the drama is played sweepingly and without restraint.

EMPRESS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Theda Bara in "When a Woman Sins"

No character in all the history of the human race holds a greater appeal than the woman who has sinned. From the days of the Bible down through the records of all the races, the scarlet woman has absorbed the attention of historians and the great masters of literature.

This is because her sins are the echoes of the sins of each one of us; because in her folly we see ourselves if we but gave rein to the impulses that sometimes crowd our hearts for domination.

In "When a Woman Sins" we not only have a woman who has sinned, but we also have a woman who, fundamentally, is good and true and whose soul yearned for the peaceful, happy times that could be found only in a great clean love.

SHORTCOMINGS OF THE PRIMARY SYSTEM.

One of the shortcomings of the primary system of choosing candidates is discussed by the Waco Times-Herald in an editorial under the title, "Jones, He Pays the Freight." "The question of taxation is with us always," the Times-Herald reminds us. "The great need, the imperative need is a lessening of the size of the governmental establishment. There are too many departments. There are too many bureaus. There are too many commissions. There are too many courts. What Senator McNealus calls the swivel-chair, roll-top jobs are very much in evidence. But we should not in any way seek to belittle the men who fill these places; they have come in obedience to our call. What we need to do is to abolish all useless places, and many such there are.

"But how can we hope to make progress in this direction under our present method of choosing the members of the legislature? No man goes to the Texas legislature by party decree; he goes there by direct appeal to the electorate, and he made and makes his own platform. Here we have not a majority committee at the outset to a definite program, but each man practically a law to himself. Under circumstances like these, it is impossible to secure a consistent and comprehensive body of legislation. There is no mandate to the legislature from the people; each member of the body can claim, and justly so, that he made certain pledges to his constituents and there his responsibility ceases, and that would be all right, perfectly legitimate, if only his constituents and not himself had built his platform—they had no say!

"This legislature, it is safe to say, will be an exception to the rule of the past twenty years; it will grind out an immense lot of legislation, some of it wise perhaps, but the most of it either of doubtful good or positive harm. Legislative bodies, and this includes the Congress at Washington, no longer trust the people to work out their own salvation; the underlying idea of practically all procedure is that we can perfect our morals and increase our prosperity by a simple "do it enacted." The incoming legislature, it may be taken for granted, will whip up to pass its predecessors along this line. There will be an increase in the number of roll-top desks. There will be new duties for the attorney general's department. There will be added business for the courts. Not a single law will be repealed. Fresh methods of taxation will be discovered. Jones, he pays the freight."

The Anheuser-Busch brewery in St. Louis is to be converted into a packing plant. The great brewery was closed about a month ago by the operation of the federal law closing all breweries and distilleries for the period of the war. During this period of temporary closing it is probable that enough states will ratify national prohibition so as to assure a dry nation in the near future. Good business men that they are, the St. Louis brewers have foreseen the fate of their industry and have decided now to get into the "packing" business. There is no doubt that in the new industry the former brewers will prosper even more than they ever did in the liquor business and will add fame to their own names and to their city as well.

MAKE THRIFT PERMANENT The impulse to save, and lay up money, so powerfully stimulated and so productive during the war, must be made a permanent force in the national life. We say must, because the need itself is imperative, it is vital, and of the vital thing that should be done we are warranted in saying that it must be done. The thrift habit can be made universal and permanent in this country, it will be made so if men who understand the need and know the way to meet it put their hands to the work.

was the foundation. The government had need of billions to carry on the war. The money could be raised only in part by taxation, for the rest recourse was had to the resources of the people. The appeal was made, not alone by general exhortation, but by personal solicitation. Every man and woman, every boy and girl in the country was asked to subscribe for Liberty Bonds, to buy Savings Stamps. The appeal was made first, of course, upon the ground of patriotism; but duty to support the government; but stress was everywhere laid upon the fact that the money raised in this way would be used to buy the things that we need, the things that we want. Wage-earners were urged to subscribe for bonds on the basis of bank loans; it was pointed out to them that they could pay off the loans in installments out of their savings and when paid for the bond would not only yield an income, but it would be an insurance against need, a provision to be drawn upon in time of illness or disability. The response was wonderful. More than 20,000,000 of Americans subscribed for Liberty Bonds, and if War Savings Stamps are reckoned into the account the total subscribers would be much greater.

That is the habit that must be made permanent, the habit of putting aside small weekly or monthly sums out of earnings; in short, the habit of thrift. The sure way to make the thrift habit permanent and universal is to continue to make the personal appeal, actual solicitation just as it was in the war by tens of thousands of volunteer workers in the hall of the Liberty Loans and War Savings Stamps sales. Depend upon it, Americans will continue to buy Liberty Bonds, and if War Savings Stamps are reckoned into the account the total subscribers would be much greater. Verenal Disease Law Is Argued In High Court By Associated Press ALSTIN, TEX., Jan. 8.—In the court of criminal appeals today, which was held in a hearing before the U. S. Senate committee investigating German propaganda as having been a party with the Chase National Bank of New York in a loan of $2,000,000 to the German government today denied any knowledge of such a loan. K. Fukushima, president of the company, which is owned chiefly by Japanese, telegraphed Senator Overman, chairman of the senate committee, asking permission to present proof that the concern made no loan nor was connected in any way with German loans or propaganda.

The Sandman Story For To-Night

LITTLE NEVER UPSET.

Little Never Upset was a roly-poly fellow, with weights in his little body, so placed that no matter how he was treated or tumbled about he always bobbed up smiling. His face was a jolly little round one, with a smile that could not be rubbed off, and no matter how the other toys fussed or disputed among themselves Little Never Upset did not take a part. "One night when the clock struck the midnight hour Miss French Doll and Miss Calico Doll began to fuss. "You treated me very badly," said Miss Calico Doll. "When we were in the carriage riding in the park one would have thought we did not live in the same playroom."

"Why do you not have something to wear besides that old calico dress?" asked Miss French Doll. "I never was so disgraced as when we met Miss Marie Doll in her beautiful clothes. I am sure she wondered who you were. "Anyone would think you never had a broken arm and had to go to the hospital," replied Miss Calico Doll. "You were a sorry looking sight with your hand and part of your arm, but I did not feel ashamed of you. I thought you were sitting on the front porch."

MUCH INTEREST IS MANIFESTED IN THE FORTHCOMING SESSION OF LAWMAKERS

Special to The Times. AUSTIN, TEX., Jan. 8.—With the convening of the Texas state legislature but a few days away, the people of Texas are looking anxiously for news which shall tell them what they may expect from that body in the way of economy or extravagance, wise laws or foolish statesmanship or political windmilling. Governor Hobby has been at home most of the last two weeks—and it is unofficially given out that he is working on his inaugural message to the legislature. Those in position to know say that the governor will stay close to the platform adopted by the democratic party of the state of Texas at the Waco convention on pay. Of course the governor was responsible for the ideals and ideas incorporated into that document. Largely, in all probability, he wrote the very words of the state democratic platform. For the state to enter upon the purchase and sale of land—the placing of the landless man upon the manless land will be necessary to adopt an amendment to the Texas constitution. This has been difficult in the past, but Governor Hobby tackled the job secure in the knowledge that the people of Texas and most of the state's big newspapers are with him. And that will possibly be one of the matters dealt with in the coming message. Going back to the democratic platform it is evident that education is next in importance in the governor's mind; and he has recently called a joint meeting of the Texas University regents and the A. and M. college directors to prove that he is staying on the job. The legislature will, without doubt, be called upon to pass legislation providing for the future—and a great future—for the Texas educational institutions. Sanitation and Health. The same platform has two planks dealing with the health of the people of Texas; and the governor knows that Texas democracy is behind him in his effort to make the most healthful state in the Union. Already much has been done along this line since W. P. Hobby became governor Sept. 23, 1917, but he is far from satisfied. Some weeks ago the governor named a commission to study the laws relating to health and to suggest improvements and needed new laws. The governor will probably offer the report of this committee with some recommendations to the legislature—and he will press for adoption of the proposed measures. For he believes that a healthy citizen ship should be one of the first aims of the state. The same convention at Waco went on record with a demand for equal pay for men and women for equal work; for the protection of the children of the state; and for "a living wage for women workers." Since that plan was written, Governor Hobby has lent his co-operation to the placing of a child welfare bureau in the Texas department of labor; but he will go still further in his message to the legislature and if that body shall listen to the governor Texas will have model laws for the protection of the mothers and the children of the state. The Primary Election Law. The Waco platform recommended that the legislature make the election laws of the state conform to the people's needs; simply the halting and force the prompt return of election results. The governor is in thorough sympathy with these demands and will do what he can to have the election laws made effective. While the Waco platform did not carry the plank asking for an amendment to the Texas homestead law, it is well known that Governor Hobby would like for the legislature to submit to the people an amendment to that section of the constitution. Whether he will recommend such a change probably depends on whether he thinks friends of the movement can muster votes at an election sufficient to adopt the amendment when it is submitted. That same democratic platform asked for the enactment of such laws as would give the state a better system of highways and complete co-operation with the federal government in the construction and maintenance thereof. Just what that will mean remains to be seen—and the governor may or may not pay any attention to it. But just the same Governor Hobby has a weather eye on Texas public roads and there may be recommendations regarding them. The Iniquitous Fee Bill. Since the Waco convention little has been said about the plank dealing with the "fee bill," which has been one of the worst features of Texas government. That convention went on record as favoring the placing on all district, county and precinct officers on a salary basis; but how far the governor will ask the legislature to go along that line remains to be seen. The teaching of fire prevention in the public schools of the state is another platform demand which may not attract the attention of the governor, though it has his cordial endorsement. Many of the demands of the Waco convention had to do with war needs—and with the war over they will receive no attention at the hands of the lawmakers. On the other hand, there will be other needs of the state to be met, some of which are so urgent that Governor Hobby without doubt will call attention to them. Governor Hobby without doubt will see the need of a state budget system, and so many of the members of the state legislature are already committed to such a system that little trouble will be found in enacting the necessary laws. The governor, it is known, has been gathering data to prepare for himself a budget, and it may be possible that he will submit to the legislature a tentative budget for the coming biennium. Legislation Laid With Bills. So much for the recommendations of the governor of the state. Next there are coming to Austin nearly 3000 legislators and a number of them already have their "grips" packed with bills. Thirty-one men were on the legislative investigating committee which tried things loose in Texas government affairs last winter, and every one of the thirty-one has a bunch of pet bills that will be fed into the hopper the minute the gong of the starter sounds. One of the pet bills developed then was that which would provide for a board of control for all state institutions and departments. This bill has already earned the mortal enmity of every member or prospective member of any school or institutional board in the state, as well as of practically every state official. How the governor stands on it nobody knows. Then there is the proposed public utilities commission which would have control of all telephones, telegraphs, electric light and power; plants, interurbans, etc. This law is in force in some states and has worked well, but in Texas it appears to be the creature of the very corporation it seeks to control—and there will be a freight before it is placed on the statute books. State Tax Board. The Texas Association of Tax Assessors in their recent meeting at San Antonio went on record as favoring a state equalization board. Saturday their committee was in Austin to confer with Governor Hobby on the matter, but the chief executive was sick and could not see them. However, a bill meeting their wants will be introduced and may become a law. And there will probably be 500 other bills that will keep the legislature busy every minute of a long and useful session. A couple of fights for seats in that body will enliven the first few days—one in the senate and one in the house. Also there is in sight a pretty little wrangle over the chief clerkship of the house, a job sometimes held by one Bob Barker. Mr. Barker announced at the Waco convention that he was promised enough votes to re-elect him chief clerk, but there are any number of prohibitionists in the lower house who declare he shall never again get the job. And this short list contains by no means all the attractions that are to be presented by the Texas legislature in the next session.

TWENTY-FIVE OF CADETS FINISHING FLYING COURSE

Major Alfante, commanding officer of Call Field, expects to graduate about 25 men within a week's time; the cadets being hard at work to finish their course, before orders for transfer of flying cadets to Love Field at Dallas comes. The weather is said to be fine for flying at present, and the cadets are getting in a large number of hours each day. This will be the last class of flyers to be graduated at Call Field, if they are permitted to finish their course, and the sight of planes in the air will become as unusual as it now is commonplace within a short time. Orders at present are to the effect that a force of about 200 men will be kept at the camp, for guarding the government property, indefinitely.

On Saturday about 50 enlisted men are scheduled to receive their honorable discharges. This is the first time that any number of enlisted men have been discharged at one time, the discharges granted previously being limited to only a few. More officers are being discharged this week, and the force is being rapidly cut down to the men who have applied for commissions in the regular army.

Reckless Driving Charge Results In Fifty Dollar Fine

A man charged with reckless driving was fined $50 in Police Court this morning. It was alleged in the charge that on last Thursday night three automobiles on Tenth street were run into and damaged by the defendant. Judge Ogle stated that the case was a very unusual one of reckless driving and for that reason felt that he would be justified in setting the fine at $50. The defendant pleaded guilty to the charge but testified that his car became unmanageable and that he ran into the other cars before he could bring his own to a stop.

ONLY TWO DAYS IN WHICH TO PAY MOTOR CAR TAX

Only two more days remain in which all owners of automobiles and motor vehicles may procure their 1919 seals or else lay themselves liable to prosecution by the city police department. Chief of Police Fred Smith announced on the first day of the month that all automobile owners must secure the new seals by the 10th and after that date all who did not have them would be fined in city court.

A large number of car owners have secured these numbers in compliance with the instructions issued by Chief Smith and the State Highway Department, but many have not done so, it is reported. These new seals can be secured from the county tax collector's office at the courthouse. All owners of motor vehicles who do not have numbers by the 10th of the month are to be prosecuted, it is announced, as the police department intends to strictly enforce all state highway and traffic laws in the city of Wichita Falls. These numbers are now at the office of the county tax collector, and can be secured at any time.

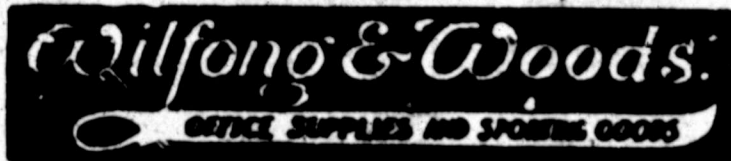

Failure to provide motor vehicles with the new 1919 seals which are distributed from the office of the state highway department, is punishable by a heavy fine.

CERTIFICATES ARE TO BE GIVEN FOR RED CROSS WORK

Workers for the Red Cross who served their time in the hospital garment and surgical dressing room or who knitted in their homes are eligible for certificates of award, in recognition of their work, if they have worked a prescribed number of hours for any consecutive six months, during the period between April, 1917, and December 31, 1918, according to a notice received yesterday by Miss Polly Roberts, who is named chairman of awards for this chapter. Members of the local chapter are asked to make a report of the number of hours they have worked and to turn it in to Miss Roberts at the public library before 6:30 on Thursday, January 9, as the amount of time allowed for making up a list of hours worked by applicants for the certificates is very short.

Workers in the surgical dressing departments will have no difficulty in ascertaining the number of hours they worked. For the benefit of those who made hospital garments, or knitted, the following table is published, giving the number of hours allowed for each garment, knitted or made.
Sweaters, 30 hours; pair of socks, 24 hours; helmet, 12 hours; wristlet, 5 hours; muffler, 24 hours; hospital garments, helpless case shirt, 8 hours; bed shirts, 2 hours; pajamas, 16 hours; convalescent robes, 8 hours; operating gowns, 6 hours; trench foot socks, 8 hours; refugee garments; pinafores, 4 hours; child's dress, 4 hours; chemise, 1 hour, and boys suit, 16 hours.

Remarkable Story Of British Major's Airplane Attack

(By GEORGE T. BYE
(Reciprocal News Service)
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS,
British Front, Jan. 2.—The war over, a great many accounts of individual bravery will be heard for the first time.
None will excel this extraordinary tale of a British flying major, now recovering in a hospital, which was told me today.
The major, in a fast single seater scout, was out over the lines on a lone hunt. Discovering an enemy 2-seater machine at 21,000 feet over the Forest of Mormal, the major began climbing sharply to overtake him. The enemy tried his hardest to pull away, but the major in his faster machine got under his tail, fired at point-blank range, and saw the 2-seater break in pieces and fall, one occupant diving out in a parachute.
Heard Bullets Hissing.
While watching the 2-seater crash, the major suddenly heard bullets snapping and hissing about him. Under him was a Fokker biplane. Before he could make a turn he was wounded in the thigh, the shock stunning him for a moment so that his machine fell in an aimless spin.
When he had recovered control he came out of the spin only to find himself surrounded by 15 Fokkers in attack formation. As she was in for a desperate "dog fight" the major decided to try to engage his assailants singly. He drove at the nearest of the two who were at once jockeying for favorable positions in terrific maneuvers that carried them through the other fourteen. Chance shots during these evolutions sent down two of the major's adversaries, and then at ten yards he "got on the tail" of the first Fokker, probably the squadron leader, and shot him down in flames.
Wounded Second Time.
Then the major was wounded a second time, this bullet shattering the bone of his left thigh. In a dead faint, with his engine running at top speed, the Britisher fell in wild swooping circles, until he once again regained his senses and was able to pilot his scout.
A scout machine requires dexterous handling, even for straight flying. One hand works the "joy stick," which controls the elevation or descent of the machine, as well as the machine gun firing lever; the other, the throttle and engine controls. Both feet are needed for the rudder bar which guides the airplane to right or left.
Consequently, when the major was again set upon by another squadron of 15 Fokkers, with his maneuvering greatly impaired, his legs giving him terrific pain every time he pressed on the rudder bar, weak from loss of blood, he decided his time had surely come and made up his mind to destroy himself and one more enemy in a collision.
Charged at Machine.
He charged straight at the machine ahead of him, firing at the same time, but intent upon ramming the enemy. However, when within two or three him go through the most amazing spins, spirals, zooms and all the tricks of the British scout fighter. In a 12-minute engagement he drove down two Germans out of control, broke free of the others, and came home skimming trees and trenches. He had nearly made a safe landing when his machine struck a hedge and had its under carriage "swiped off." He probably will pull through.

In less than an hour the major had engaged fifty to sixty enemies, destroying four, disabling four to six, suffered three crippling wounds and brought back his machine in repairable condition.

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Wichita Falls Citizens.

When a Wichita Falls citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Wichita Falls resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.
G. A. Swope, carpenter, 612 Burnett St. says: "My kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions contained sediment, passed too often, and then again, not often enough and were very painful. Doan's Kidney Pills restored my kidneys to normal condition and the kidney secretions became natural."
