NUMBER 226

10,000 U. S. SOLDIERS ARE STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR IN THE CASUALTY LISTS

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Official tables of the major battle casualties of the American forces in France made public today by General Marchant, chief of staff, show that approximately 10,000 men remain wholly unaccounted for nearly three months after the ending of hostilities. The deaths of missing and known prisoners are tallied up to January 10 for each of the 30 combat divisions of General Pershing's army. The total is 56,554 of whom 17,434 are classified as missing or captured. An appended statement shows that only 29 American military prisoners were believed to still in Germany on January 8 and that 4,000 prisoners had been checked up as returned and 118 died in captivity.

Many of Missing Killed. Some portion of the great body of missing men may be located as the return of the army finds out the American force in France. Indications are, however, that the majority of the 10,000 finally will be added to the roll of honor shown in the tables of those killed or died as wounds, now recorded as 29,150 men.

To that figure also must be added 1,551 men of the marine brigade, figures for which, not carried in the tables, were obtained from official sources. This brings the aggregate of deaths from battle up to 40,709 in returns estimated officially to 95 per cent. As figures on missing and prisoners of the marines are lacking, the number unaccounted for which finally will be added to the roll of the dead cannot be accurately estimated.

Prisoners Accounted For. The army tables, however, give a total of 14,649 men missing in action, and 2,745 known prisoners, making up the 17,434 missing or captured. The appended statement shows that the army rolls record 4,910 American military prisoners accounted for. Admittedly, there are many possibilities of error but the statement says it is anticipated that the indicated unaccounted for list of 12,516 will be brought down to less than 10,000.

On November 15, General Pershing estimated that his total killed and died of wounds would be 40,455. Presumably publication of the lists of these known deaths and exclusive of the unaccounted for is nearly completed, having exceeded the estimate by more than 3,000, due in part to additional deaths from wounds and to the listing as dead of men formerly reported missing.

The names of 149,418 wounded had been published up to tonight, compared with a November estimate of total of 152,955. Of those missing in action, 11,676 have been published against the estimated 14,260 total and a summary population of the lists of (Continued on Page 3, Part 1)

Special to The Times. AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—Five additional specific charges were filed tonight by Representative J. T. Canales of Cameron county with the legislative investigating committee now probing into the activities of the ranger forces. One of the charges is against the adjutant general, three against rangers and one against an investigating officer of the adjutant general's department.

Representative Canales says the charge against the adjutant general is that he "has been using the present ranger force for the purpose of showing special favors to his political friends and political pets of the administration."

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST GUARD AGAIN CHARGED

CLAIM THAT OFFICERS WERE REMOVED TO MAKE ROOM FOR REGULARS.

LETTER IS PRODUCED

Is Signed by Forty Wounded Officers Alleging Orders Were Issued To Report Them Unfit.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Reiterating in the House today charges that national guard officers were removed from their commands after practically continuous fighting service to make room for regulars, Representative Galivan of Massachusetts, democrat, read a letter signed by forty wounded officers alleging investigation would prove that medical officers had been ordered to report as unfit officers who might replace the regulars' first assigned for duty.

The letter also asserted that national guard officers and reserves were sent into the thick of the fighting while the regular army men were held back. Asked by Representative Hamilton of Michigan who was responsible for the removal of national guard officers after months of service on the front line, Mr. Galivan said it was due to "the Leavenworth clique by its influence with the high command."

Refers to "High Command." The "high command," he explained, was the general staff in Washington referring to Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the Massachusetts representative said: "When General Wood visited the front he was treated more like a German spy than an officer of the United States. We have the word of several colonels that know him well for this. He was ordered back from his 'last' (Continued on Page 3, Part 1)

VESSEL CARRYING TROOPS WRECKS ON SUBMERGED ROCK

By Associated Press. SOUTHAMPTON, Feb. 1.—In the early hours of the morning, in a calm sea, but a blinding snowstorm, the American steamer Narragansett ran on submerged rocks off the east end of Isle of Wight, which has claimed many victims in the past.

The crew was American and the ship carried 2,000 soldiers, of whom sixty were American. Most of the men were in their bunks when the crash came. Bunks called them to the decks. All were ordered to get into life boats, which had been tugs attempts to draw the ship off the rocks but failed. Then destroyers took the troops off without loss. They were brought to Southampton.

The Narragansett was so badly damaged that salvage officers think she will be a total wreck. All speak in the highest terms of the conduct of the captain and crew.

FAVOR APPROPRIATION FOR NATIONAL GUARD

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—An appropriation of $2,000,000 to maintain the national guard at a strength of 105,000 officers and men during the next fiscal year was tentatively approved by the house military affairs committee.

SAYS GERMAN OFFICERS COMING TO AMERICA

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Warning to the American people that many German officers are planning to come to the United States "to evade payment of war taxes at home" was given here today by Major Monson Morris, of the 36th infantry, upon his arrival on the army transport Siboney.

ROBERTSON REFUSES TO SIGN WITH GIANTS

By Associated Press. RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 1.—Dave Robertson, star batter in the world's series of 1917, it was learned today refused to sign a 1919 contract with Manager McGraw of the Giants, who has been last evening. Robertson said he was through with baseball in the national league.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—About 200 officers and 3,500 men were included in the army units announced by the war department today as having embarked for home. The battleship Rorick Carolina due to arrive at New York February 8, has on board the twelfth battalion, 20th engineers, 32nd company, 20th engineers, casual air services troops and 29 casual officers. The transport Saxonia with 164 officers and 1,158 men enrolled as sick and wounded is due at New York February 9.

VIVIANI REPLIES TO CRITICISM OF FRENCH DEPUTIES

RETIRE FROM FRONTIER

MAKES NEW DISCLOSURES IN CONNECTION WITH THE BEGINNING OF WAR.

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 1.—On July 30, 1918, the French government ordered its troops to retire eight or ten kilometers from the frontier, having heard that the German troops were moving toward the front line. Reports that the French government declared in the chamber of deputies last night in the course of disclosures concerning the origin of the war which never before have been made public. M. Viviani was premier when the war broke out.

"On the same day," he continued, "I requested Paul Cambon, (French ambassador in London) by wire to inform Sir Edward Grey of the measure taken. General Dik no object.

"Could we risk a nutritious war upon the chance meeting of patrols? Had we met with an observation from General Joffre to the effect that the measure might endanger the fate of the country, I should not have hesitated but would have kept the watch on the frontier. No objection came from the general."

M. Viviani's speech was in reply to questions by Deputy Fernand Engerand who sharply criticized the abandonment of the ten kilometer zone. He claimed that it was a technical mistake because the mineral zone of Bry was within range of French guns and had been bombarded intensively for three or four days the German iron ore deposits and factories would not have been destroyed. Germany placed in an inferior position regarding minerals. This, the deputy thought, would have brought about an end of the war in six months.

Deputy Engerand added that the abandonment of the French sources of minerals and iron without a fight created a situation which would have been a pyrrhic victory instead of the absolute defeat of the enemy.

Former Premier Viviani replied that the abandonment of the Briey Valley in the event of war had been decided upon by the general staff in January, 1914. A withdrawal to a depth of 25 kilometers was at first considered said Mr. Viviani who read a telegram from General Joffre dated July 30 reading as follows: "For diplomatic reasons it is indispensable that no incident occur at the frontier. No unit or no patrol shall advance east of the line fixed."

M. Viviani then read a message from the minister of war at that time, as follows: "In order to assure English collaboration, it is indispensable that French troops do not cross the general line decided upon unless a regular attack is made upon them."

On August 2, General Joffre, learning that no incident would occur at the French frontier had been committed, telegraphed to Premier Viviani as follows: "The interdiction against crossing the line indicated is lifted, but for national reasons of diplomatic and moral order, it is indispensable to leave the Germans the entire responsibility for hostilities. Consequently, our troops will merely hold the enemy back and hem him upon the frontier without pursuing him beyond."

M. Viviani, amid tense silence, continued: "Then war was declared. It is essential that the world know that in order to assure the peace of the world, we were making such a sublime sacrifice in uncovering our frontiers to the Germans and Poles. Do you think that great and noble America would have remained indifferent to such a striking demonstration of our good faith and our high influence upon her final decision?"

By Associated Press. FORT WORTH, TEX., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Robert Sneed, wife of a ranchman in Mills county near the little town of Star, was shot to death yesterday afternoon, according to word received here today. She was about 30 years of age. Mrs. Sneed was of German ancestry, it is said. The shooting, according to reports from Hamilton, Texas, followed a quarrel over the world war. No arrests have been made but officers are pursuing a fugitive.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—About 200 officers and 3,500 men were included in the army units announced by the war department today as having embarked for home. The battleship Rorick Carolina due to arrive at New York February 8, has on board the twelfth battalion, 20th engineers, 32nd company, 20th engineers, casual air services troops and 29 casual officers. ALLIES ARE AGAIN FORCED TO RETIRE; BOLSHEVIKI ARMY USING GAS SHELLS

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The situation in Archangel district is regarded by military officers in northern Russia as extremely critical.

Advices to the war department today made no reference to an appeal for reinforcements, but it was said here that inasmuch as this was a matter for determination by the supreme war council at Paris, a more complete report had been sent to that body, possibly with a request for additional support. Reports that the bolshevik forces were using gas shells was taken here by some officers to mean that this equipment had been supplied through German sources, notwithstanding the terms of the armistice, and if this was established as a fact it was intimated that drastic action against the Germans would be taken by Marshal Foch.

Approximate Allied Strength. Available figures obtained by war department officials show that the British force in the region of the north is approximately 8,000, American 4,500, French 1,000, loyal Russians under British officers 1,200, and 1,000 other soldiers of one of the smaller Allied countries.

The exact disposition of those forces is not known officially in Washington, no report on this having been made. Army officials said that the body of troops now retreating before well armed and reinforced bolsheviks was small, being little more than an advance post. Reports of a 40 mile retreat, however, led experts to believe that a larger body was engaged than had been supposed. General March, chief of staff, said a week ago that the number of troops in the advance south from Archangel was sufficiently large to keep the situation in hand.

Use of gas and high explosives by the bolsheviks was looked upon by army men as the most disquieting feature of the military reports as they mentioned. Terevso from which it was reported the Americans had been forced to retire, is a small town about 130 miles directly south of Archangel.

TEXTILE WORKERS ARE GRANTED THE "48-HOUR WEEK"

By Associated Press. NEW BEDFORD, MASS., Feb. 1.—After a conference today between textile council and the Cotton Manufacturers Association the latter granted the basic 48 hour week demanded by the operatives. The wages will be 40 cents per hour for 48 hours work. Thirty thousand operatives here are affected.

By Associated Press. NEW BEDFORD, MASS., Feb. 1.—Acceptance of the basic 48 hour week in the textile mills here effective next Monday was announced by the manufacturers association of this city today. Approximately 30,000 operatives are affected. The wages will be 40 cents per hour for 48 hours work. Thirty thousand operatives here are affected.

ORDER ARREST OF NOTED OFFICERS OF GERMAN ARMY

By Associated Press. BASEL, Friday, Jan. 31.—The arrest of officers and captains of the German navy, have been requested by the Central committee of sailors at Hamburg. The officers are accused, especially Admiral Schroeder, with being responsible for the execution of two sailors, although they were conversant with the general amnesty order.

Admiral Schroeder became notorious when he ordered the execution of Captain Hans Fryer, while he was commanding the German naval forces at Bruges.

REPORT ON CONDITION OF CLEARING BANKS

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they held $67,217,390 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $19,085,820 from last week.

WACO SOLDIER AMONG CANADIAN CASUALTIES

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Today's overseas casualty list gives the name of a Waco soldier killed in action. Died: A. E. Wells, Waco, Texas.

ILLNESS PREVENTS MANY AMERICANS LEAVING VIENNA

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—About 200 Americans, including children, are in Vienna and the immediate vicinity, according to advices to the state department today from Bern. Conditions in Vienna are reported serious and even worse than in the provinces. Twenty per cent of the Americans there are unable to leave because of illness. Bern representatives of the United States are in touch with them and are keeping them supplied with food.

REACH AGREEMENT ON REVENUE BILL BEFORE CONGRESS

CONFERENCE REPORT AND FINAL REDRAFT WILL BE CALLED UP FRIDAY.

PASSAGE IS PREDICTED

Absence of President Makes It Doubtful as to Date When Law Will Be Effective.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The war revenue bill revised to raise about six billion dollars by taxation this year and four billion dollars annually thereafter, assumed final form late today when the senate and house conferees reached a complete agreement on the measure. It will be presented to the house Wednesday.

The conferees already had announced agreements on all tax rate adjustments and today was devoted to comparatively minor provisions. Among these was the income tax contribution, a senate provision which the house yesterday voted to reject and then afterwards to accept if modified to apply only to future campaigns. The senate conferees, it was reported, yielded the amendment and agreed to its elimination.

The conference report and final redraft will be called up in the house Friday with the expectation of its approval before adjournment. It will go to the senate Saturday and Chairman Simmons of the Senate managers said tonight its passage was certain. Absence of President Wilson, however, stated, made doubtful the act date the new tax law would become effective, but would not interfere with treasury plans for collection of the new taxes. A president's caution probably will be on the point of calling legislative action on the bill is concluded, Senator Simmons said tonight. The conferees probably would be held here for his approval. He then would have ten days to consider it. Agreement by the conferees that the president's endorsement of the legislation, which President Wilson and former Secretary McAdoo asked last May. The final draft like both house and senate measures, provides that of the gross levy, war excess profits and income taxes shall bear the heaviest burdens.

TO ATTACK JUAREZ ON FEBRUARY 5TH

By Associated Press. JUAREZ, Mex., Feb. 1.—Threats made by General Felipe Angeles, a Villa general to attack this city on February 5, the anniversary of the adoption of the old Mexican constitution, caused the authorities today to employ a battalion of sappers digging trenches around the city, placing machine guns and field pieces in Fort Hidalgo and double all outpost guards on all sides of Juarez.

Colonel Mora, garrison commander, announced he was not anticipating an attack but was taking every precaution against a surprise by Villa's command which is reported to be in the Juarez district.

By Associated Press. BASEL, Friday, Jan. 31.—The arrest of officers and captains of the German navy, have been requested by the Central committee of sailors at Hamburg. RECONCILE VIEWS ON DISPOSAL OF COLONIES

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 1.—The accord reached by the council of the great powers concerning the disposal of the German colonies and occupied regions in Turkey-in-Asia is much more definite than is generally supposed and, besides acceptance in principle of the American mandates, it embraces the following main features:

The Allied and associated powers are agreed that the German colonies shall not be returned to Germany, but to the more advanced nations, who will act as mandatories. The conquered regions of Armenia, Syria, Mesopotamia, Palestine and Arabia shall be detached from the Turkish empire. Provision is made whereby the well-being and development of backward colonial regions are regarded as the sacred trust of civilization, over which the league of nations exercises supervisory care. The administration of these regions is entrusted to the more advanced nations, who will act as mandatories. These mandatories are not uniform, but vary according to the degree of development of the colonial region and its approach to the stage of self-government. The mandates in Palestine, Syria and other portions of Turkey where well-developed civilization exists would be comparatively light and probably would permit of the provisional recognition of the independence of these communities.

On the other hand, colonies like those in central Africa would require a mandatory with large powers of administration as responsible for the suppression of the slave trade, the liquor traffic, ammunition and arms traffic and the prevention of military authority on the part of the natives, except for native police purposes. Other colonies and localities, such as those in German Southwest Africa and some of the south Pacific islands, have such sparse and scattered populations and are so separated from other communities that the laws of the mandatory country would probably prevail.

The mandatories will report at stated intervals to the league of nations concerning the manner in which a colony is being administered. The foregoing outline indicates on broad lines the terms whereby it is declared conflicting views were finally reconciled and a common agreement was reached acceptable to all the powers.

PERSHING DENIES SOLDIERS GUILTY OF DISTURBANCES

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—General Pershing in an official telegram to Secretary Baker today characterized the sensational reports in French newspapers of assaults and burglaries having been committed in Paris by American soldiers as "gross exaggeration."

The number of crimes committed by American soldiers, he said, was almost negligible, considering the large number of men in the vicinity. He recommended that a full refutation of the charges be put before the American public.

Since the conclusion of the armistice, the report added, Paris has offered attraction to men mischievously and criminally inclined and this has resulted in minor disturbances, but the American military police organization is excellent and disorders are kept at a minimum.

General Pershing's cablegram made public by the department said:

"None of the disorders are traceable in any respect to faulty pay systems. No complaints against the food in Paris. There are individual cases of delayed payment due to a change in pay system which took place during hostilities. The new pay system enables a soldier to get pay from paymaster when money is due him. Generally speaking, the pay has been almost always correct. The pay department has been sending officers to find casuals at our hospitals and elsewhere with directions to pay men whose records are entirely lost."

NEGROES ARE REFUSED PASSPORTS TO PARIS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Passports for negroes desiring to attend a Pan-African congress at Paris have been refused by the state department which announced today that the French government did not consider the present a favorable time to hold such a conference.

The department issued the following statement:

"The state department has been approached by various colored delegations with a view to sending representatives to Paris to participate in a Pan-African congress composed of colored people from different parts of the world. The department has been in touch with the French government on the subject and is now in a position to state that the French government has not been approached but does not consider this a favorable time to hold such a conference."

"Under such circumstances the department will not be able to grant passports to persons desiring to proceed to Paris for the purpose of attending such a conference."

ALLEGED PAN MOTOR HAS FRAUDULENTLY OBTAINED BIG SUM

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—More than $5,000,000 is alleged to have been fraudulently obtained through misuse of the mails in an indictment returned here today against 13 officers and promoters of the Pan Motor Company, a Delaware corporation with a plant at St. Cloud, Minn.

It is charged that 50,000 persons were victimized by buying stock in the concern.

Those indicted are Samuel C. Pandorf, president of the company; John Barritt; Norman A. Street, an attorney; George Heidman; Charles B. Schwab; Charles P. Ladner; Fred Schlipin, a newspaper editor of St. Cloud, Minn.; Charles F. Bunnell; George E. Hahscom, Hugh Evans, H. C. Jewin Jr., H. S. Wigle and Peter H. Philman.

The indictment alleges that the company has not been making automobiles, trucks and tractors, as represented by the promoters, but has assembled only a few machines.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICE FOR NAT C. GOODWIN

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Funeral service for Nat C. Goodwin, who died here yesterday, were held today under the auspices of the Lambs Club, a theatrical organization, and in the presence of hundreds of men and women who were associated with the actor during his stage career. The Lambs Club quartette sang hymns. The Rev. Dr. Nathan Seagle, pastor of St. Stephens Protestant Episcopal church, conducted the service and the eulogy was delivered by DeWolf Hopper.

Present also were the actor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel C. Goodwin of Roxbury, Mass., where the body will be buried, and Miss Georgia Gardner, who was to have been Goodwin's sixth wife.

LEGISLATURE OBJECTS TO JAZZ AND CARNIVAL

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—Prohibition of dancing in jazz and carnival exhibitions in Texas is proposed in a bill introduced in the upper branch of the Texas Legislature by Senator Charles R. Floyd of Red River county. The senator claims these dances are immoral and should be banished from the state.

Senator Floyd would also levy an occupation tax of $10 for each side show operated in connection with the usual circus.

MEMBERS DRAFT BOARDS OF OKLAHOMA RELEASED

ARREST MAN ON CHARGE OF USING MAIL TO DEFRAUD

By Associated Press.
FORT WORTH, TEX., Feb. 1.—John F. Barrett, alias John Francis, alias William L. Baker, was arrested here late last night by postoffice inspectors from California and Texas, accused of using the mails to defraud. He is said to be the leader of a gang that has operated fraudulent brokerage exchanges in cities from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Other alleged members of the gang are under arrest in Kansas City and Cincinnati.

One of those held in Cincinnati is a woman. Barrett was arraigned before a United States Commissioner this morning and his bond placed at $10,000. Barrett recently opened an oil exchange here.

CONTEST PLANNED OVER JUDICIARY REFORM MEASURE

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—The Judiciary reform measure which was prepared by the Texas bar association, was today decided to be reported favorably by the House judiciary committee. Notice of a minority report was given and the resolution was amended in the committee so as to provide six year terms of office instead of 12.

This amendment, if adopted, will revolutionize the judicial system of Texas and introduce the collegiate system, which is now in force in England.

One Hundred of Best War Stories Cabled To Baker

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—"One hundred best stories of the war," have been cabled to Secretary Baker by General Pershing and turned over to the Liberty Loan bureau for publication during the next loan campaign. Some of these stories of heroism of young soldiers will be used as advertisements, some as moving picture scenarios and others in pamphlets for public speakers and school children.

REPORT ON THE NINE JURY BILL IS UNFAVORABLE

Special to The Times. AUSTIN, TEXAS, Feb. 1.—Senate committee on roads, bridges and ferries later today made a favorable report on the house concurred resolution providing for an investigation of the activities of the State Highway department after having amended the resolution so as to provide that the probes shall be conducted exclusively by house members...

FRENCH DELEGATE PRESENTS PLAN OF NEW SOCIETY

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 1.—Leon Bourgeois, French delegate to the Society of Nations, today presented to President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Orlando the text of the proposal for the formation of the league as agreed upon by the international organization embracing the American of which William Howard Taft is president; the British of which Viscount Brey is president, the Italian, French and other nations...

ORDER IS ISSUED TO RESTORE MEN AT HIGHER WAGE

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—In a supplementary order in the Kansas City Street Railway labor controversy, the war labor board today directed that the company restore striking employees to duty Monday at the higher wage scale already prescribed, without awaiting the outcome of an application for permission to increase fares.

DISCRIMINATION AGAIN CHARGED

(Continued from Page 1, Part 1) here without being allowed to visit the Italian front, or returning through England as he was invited to do by Lloyd George. General Wood was the idol of the army, officers and men alike, and was one of the most efficient officers, yet he was kept in a corner all the time. Who did it? We can prove also that scores of men were sacrificed because officers in command were anxious for promotion, the letters also declared. We know of a national guard colonel relieved of command after a successful advance and sent back to the service of supply because of jealousy. The letter concluded by saying that the officers signing it were of various political affiliations. Eight said they were national army officers; four national guard officers and the remainder reserves. Their names were not made public by Mr. Gallivan. Market Report

Cotton Market

Table with columns for date (May, July), price (1.18, 1.14), and other market data for cotton.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—An early break in the cotton market was followed by partial recovery this morning, with the close steady at a net decline of 1/8 to 3/16 points. There was scattered Southern selling early, while there also appeared to be rather active liquidation by brokers recently credited with buying for Wall Street account. The market soon weakened under this pressure. Prices later then steadied on covering and last prices showed rallies. Southern selling was not greatly in evidence and most of the pressure was attributed to liquidation of long account. Local brokers through the disposition to open up commitments for over the week end was probably increased by uncertainty as to developments in connection with the 48 hour week proposals on Monday. New England advices indicated that in some sections, workers would accept proposals for the 48 hour week with a corresponding reduction in pay but in other sections labor was said to be insisting on the reduced hours without change in wages. In recommending the adoption of the 48 hour week beginning with Monday, the emergency committee of the Fall River Textile Council did not raise the question of wages. The steadier tone late in the morning was considered partly due to the larger exports.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 1.—Unusually narrow price changes developed in the cotton market today, sentiment appearing to be more evenly divided than usual. For a while offerings were rather liberal on predictions of increased labor troubles among the mills the coming week, but the undertone was steady and finally the demand increased on reports of a continuous good spot demand and by the prospects of general rains in the cotton region. Last prices showed net losses for the day of one to 14 points. It was claimed that in the local spot market the demand was reaching the lower grades and interior reports stated that buyers were finding difficulty in locating cotton. Complaints of bad roads were made in some sections and it was felt that further rain would make them worse in addition to further interfering with work preparatory to the new crop. At no time, however, was there a general demand for contracts.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Corn averaged lower in price today, weakened more or less by the fact that country offerings had become a little larger. The market closed unsettled with the final range varying from 1/4c net decline to 1/2c advance. In oats the result was unchanged to 1/2c down and in provisions off 3/8c to 6c. The greater willingness that rural owners displayed to part with holdings appeared to be connected with a renewal of work by sellers in important sections, especially of Illinois and Indiana. Prospects of colder weather seemed likely also perhaps to stimulate the crop movement. Bearish reports were current too that within 40 days Argentina shipments would be landed in the United States at less than $1 a bushel. Withdrawal of government buyers from the rye and barley markets was viewed likewise by many traders as an element of depression. Abundance of hogs and the weakness of grain curtailed inquiry for provisions. The fact that a temporary embargo had been placed on hog arrivals here was apparently ignored.

10,000 SOLDIERS UNACCOUNTED FOR

Explanation of Tables

The war department's explanation of the tables follows: "The following pages are a tabulation of casualty tables received to January 10. They give totals of the casualties which put a soldier permanently out of action. They do not include wounded figures as the lists of those slightly wounded are still incomplete. The totals given are about 75 per cent complete for each division. A few new reports of casualties are still coming in but most of the changes since January 10 are decreases in the missing in action figure and corresponding increases in the other totals. This change is due to the release of prisoners and reports of deaths by eye witnesses. The total figure for missing has now been reduced to close to 10,000. Field signal battalions, ambulance companies and trains are not included in the tabulation of the divisions. The record of units outside of divisions will be available in a few days. This addition will have a relatively small effect on the totals here given. Examination of the losses by regiments shows clearly that the brunt of the fighting fell on the infantry. In every division which got into action, losses were many times greater, even proportionately to the strength of the units, than those of the artillery, machine gun battalions, trench mortar batteries or engineers. A score of regiments lost fully one-third of the full strength of 3,700 men, in killed, died of wounds, missing and prisoners. When figures on the wounded are available officers believe the total casualties in several regiments may equal the full strength. Artillery Loss Light. The artillery regiments escaped with relatively light losses. In some cases machine gun battalions suffered severely and there are a number of the divisions in engineer regiments that paid a heavy toll for their place in the front lines. The first regular division built up out of the original force (General Pershing's) suffered the heaviest casualties with a total of 5,248 recorded in today's tables. This division was first to reach the line and was almost constantly in action until the end. A striking feature of the table is the losses of the 28th (Pennsylvania National Guard) division, which stands second in the list with a total of 2,850 casualties. The records of the 26th New England national guard, 27th and 77th both New York divisions, the 32nd, the famous 42nd (Rainbow) and the 79th (Pennsylvania, Maryland and District of Columbia troops), with more than two thousand casualties each, tell of the work they did. These and every other national guard or national army division that was given an opportunity at the front won its ground despite losses in men and equipment. Analysis of the strenuous service record of the 28th division, army officers said, would explain its high casualties. The 28th was ordered over-land on June 1, 1918, spent the fortnight of June 14 to July 1 in a training area and then moved up to the front line, taking its position northeast of Paris, on July 15. From that date until the armistice was signed with the exception of a rest period from September 4 to September 10 the Pennsylvania division was in the forefront of the fighting. In killed in action the first regular division leads the list with 2,303. Other divisions with more than 1,000 men killed in action stand in the following order: 3rd, 1,901; 42nd, 1,702; 32nd, 1,694; 28th, 1,544; 4th, 1,500; 26th, 1,384; 2nd, 1,353; 27th, 1,302; 77th, 1,274; and 30th, 1,084. Many Die of Wounds. The only division to lose more than 1,000 men died of wounds was the first with 1,050. Only three divisions

D. B. KEELER OF THE DENVER ROAD DIES SATURDAY

DEATH FOLLOWS OPERATION AFTER SERIOUS ILLNESS OF SEVERAL DAYS.

LONG RAILROAD CAREER

Had Been Connected with Denver and Wichita Valley for the Past Thirty Years.

Word was received in Wichita Falls Saturday morning of the death of D. B. Keeler, for 30 years head of the Fort Worth & Denver and the Wichita Valley railroads, and vice president in charge of the corporate interests of the Colorado & Southern railroad properties in Texas since the first period of government control. The news came as a serious shock to residents of this city, where Mr. Keeler had hundreds of friends and business associates and where he was loved as deeply for his personal qualities as he was for his railroad abilities and his business integrity.

Death followed an operation at 10 o'clock Saturday morning after Mr. Keeler had been seriously ill for several days. Few of his friends here even were aware of his illness, as he had enjoyed splendid health for years. Mr. Keeler was 59 years old, and is survived by an invalid wife and a brother, who is living abroad.

Long Railroad Career.

Although he had many other business interests both in Texas and in Denver, Colo., among them an interest in the Fort Worth National Bank, Mr. Keeler's life had been devoted primarily to railroad work. He was born in the East, and when only a young man entered railroad employment as a freight clerk in the Union Pacific offices. Later he was also with the Colorado & Southern in Denver, leaving his position there to become general freight and passenger agent for the Fort Worth & Denver. As head of the Fort Worth & Denver and the Wichita Valley lines, Mr. Keeler became one of the best known railroad men in the Southwest. The regard in which he was held throughout this section of the country was well expressed Saturday by J. A. Kemp, president of the Wichita Traction company and prominent business man and banker of this city:

Tribute by Mr. Kemp.

"I knew Mr. Keeler intimately for more than 20 years," Mr. Kemp said. "Not only was he a fine railroad man, but he was one of the best men I have met or known at any time in my life. He was fair and honest, and straightforward. His principles were always manly, and he was loved by every man who knew him."

O. E. Maer, former superintendent of the Wichita Valley railroad and now federal superintendent of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas and the Fort Worth & Denver lines for this district, declared that "there is no man on the Fort Worth & Denver road today who will not feel that he has lost a friend, in fact no man who has not actually lost one."

"Mr. Keeler grew up with the industrial development of West Texas," Mr. Maer added. "He was always to the front in promoting that development, and he took a personal interest in every man he met in this section. He was always very close to the railroad men, fair and just and reasonable in all his decisions and beloved by big officials and by poor employees alike."

Was Sad Message.

Another prominent Wichita Falls business man who was deeply shocked by the news of Mr. Keeler's death is M. A. Bundy, now with the Sunning State Refining company but who was for eleven years general agent of the Fort Worth & Denver road here.

"Few finer gentlemen ever lived than David Burr Keeler," was Mr. Bundy's tribute to his former "boss" and friend. "He was more like a man at the head of a big family than the hard-headed executive of a big railroad system that he might naturally have been expected to be. He visited his employees often, and rode on the road with them, and he traveled frequently with the traveling public over the Fort Worth & Denver lines, always keeping in mind and noting the needs of both his employees and the public that his road served. Words really cannot tell how deeply sorry I am to hear of his death."

Browns Convicted; Suspend Sentence Against Woman

After being out only a little more than half an hour Friday afternoon the 30th district court jury that tried R. L. Brown and Mrs. R. L. Brown of Burk Burnett for assault with intent to murder upon J. L. Powell Jr. at Burk Burnett last September returned a verdict finding both of the defendants guilty. The jury fixed Mr. Brown's punishment at three years in the penitentiary and Mrs. Brown's punishment at one year but granted her plea for a suspension of sentence. The jury did not grant Brown's plea for a suspended sentence. The defendants filed a motion for a new trial. This motion will be heard within a few days.

TOTAL OF 3,022 POLL TAXES PAID IN THIS COUNTY

It is yet to be learned whether the women will vote like the men or no, but County Tax Collector M. L. Tittle is ready to testify that they pay their poll taxes like the men—a large percentage put off this duty to the last day and even the last hour. A considerable number of women paid poll taxes this year and a number of them paid on the last day and some of them paid after nine o'clock on the night of the last day. Even with a number of women paying poll taxes the total paid this year is far behind last year when more than 4400 receipts were issued. This year the number was 3022. There were 32 exemptions, in addition to this number.

PROSPECT FOR DECREASE IN ACREAGE IN OATS

The frequent rains have interfered with the sowing of oats and unless fair weather prevails long enough to allow the ground to dry out enough to be worked the acreage in oats will be small in this county.

Farmers in this section usually try to get their oats in the ground before the end of January.

CALL FIELD HAS ONLY 242 MEN AND 11 OFFICERS

Call Field is now completely skeletonized, and with eleven officers and 242 enlisted men, the force is what will presumably remain until the field is ordered closed, according to Major Alfonte, the commanding officer. The length of time that the camp will remain here is up to congress, Major Alfonte stated.

Officers Remaining.

The officers remaining at Call Field include: Major Alfonte, the commanding officer; Major Neville, engineer officer in charge of the post hospital; Lieutenant De Monte, adjutant; Lieutenant Conn Brown, quartermaster; Lieutenant Evans, supply officer; and Lieutenants Anderson, Ramseur and McBride.

BREVITIES

The Federal grand jury, which has been in session will complete its work by Monday when a report will be made. The regular monthly meeting of the Graduate Nurses association will be held at the Wichita General Hospital Tuesday evening February 4th at eight o'clock. The regular monthly meeting of the Civic League will be held at the library Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Lee Harris, field manager for Dodd & Hale in the Burk Burnett field, accompanied by D. C. Cron, left Saturday on a short visit to their families in Hastings, Okla.

DEMOBILIZATION OF ARMY PASSES MILLION MARK

GENERAL OFFICERS ARE NOW BEING DISCHARGED FROM SERVICE.

HOFFMAN MUSTERED OUT

Oklahoma Officer Among Those Released from Command During the Past Week.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Demobilization of the army passed the million mark during the past week, General March announced today, with 61,237 officers and 932,411 men actually discharged. Of the officers mustered out, 2,444 were on duty in Washington.

ajs, all except four of them being regulars who return to their rank in the regulation establishment. Guard Officers Mustered Out. Three national guard officers ordered mustered out are Brigadier General Charles X. Zimmermann, who commanded the 73d infantry brigade, Roy Hoffman, who was temporarily in command of the 3rd division, and LeRoy S. Sweetzer, Brigadier General John A. Johnston, a former regular appointed from civil life, is the fourth other than the regulars to be discharged.

The total number of men ordered for early discharge has reached 1,396,000, including 153,000 returning from overseas. General March said 10,706 officers in the United States had passed back into the reserve corps, furnishing a strong reserve of training men in this important branch and with the overseas forces yet to be heard from. He said 4,293 reserve or national guard officers had now applied for permanent commissions in the regular army.

FIELD ARTILLERY UNIT FOR A. & M. COLLEGE

By Associated Press. COLLEGE STATION, TEX., Feb. 1.—Orders for the early establishment of a field artillery unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Agricultural and Mechanical College here have been issued by the War Department. President W. B. Bizel is advised that special artillery training officers will be sent here for instructing student soldiers.

MAJOR CASUALTIES OF 35TH DIVISION REPORTED AS 1,733

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—General March today announced that the total major casualties of the 35th division (Missouri and Kansas troops) were 1,733 divided as follows: Killed 596; died of wounds 217; missing in action 808; prisoners 112. General March said complete casualty statistics on all divisions would be given out later in the day but because the casualties of the 35th division had been recently a subject of speculation, he would announce those immediately. As to other reported heavy casualties, General March said fifteen divisions in France had sustained losses greater than those of the 35th. In that list the 92nd (national army negroes) division, also reported to have suffered severely, stood twenty-eighth and the 93rd division stood twenty-fifth.

While General March did not announce the order of losses for the entire list, it may be stated that the first and second regular divisions, the first to get into action, and the longest, to serve at the front, and the twenty-sixth (New England national guard), and forty-second (Rainbow) divisions, will stand close to the top of the list.

LEGISLATURE CAN REVOKE PLAN FOR NORMAL SCHOOLS

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—In an opinion given to Representative N. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches, the attorney general's department held today that the legislature has the right to repeal the laws creating the new state normals and not come in conflict with the state constitution. The department holds that a state normal is a character of institution "which is completely under the control of the legislature, it may be enlarged, or diminished, or even discontinued by any session of the legislature, but only and always because such action on the part of the legislature is for the good of all."

PERMISSION REQUIRED FOR ENTRY TO WEIMER

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 1.—Since Thursday no one has been allowed to enter the city of Weimer without permission, says a Zurich dispatch to the petit Parisien which says that after Monday no one will be allowed to enter without special pass. The opening of the session of the German constituent assembly is fixed for one o'clock next Thursday.

NAME COMMITTEE TO SELECT LANDS FOR DEVELOPMENT

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—The governor today appointed Stewart Smith, Beaumont; Clinton H. Hearney, San Antonio; R. H. Spencer, Houston; Senator A. C. Buchanan, Temple, and Senator F. M. Gibson, Bonham, upon the soldiers settlement committee. This action grows out of the request from the Secretary of the Interior Lane, through his Texas representative, to appoint a committee to designate lead projects to be settled and developed in accordance with the plans of Secretary Lane, to provide lands for soldiers now pending in congress. This committee is also the result of a conference held here recently with the governor attended by the representatives of the chambers of commerce of a number of leading Texas cities.

RECLAMATION ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES TRINITY RIVER

DALLAS, TEX., Feb. 1.—The North Texas Reclamation Association in a recent meeting here discussed ways and means for improving levees of the Trinity river and reclaiming land periodically inundated by flood waters.

Continue Treaty Once Denounced By Government

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—By an exchange of notes today between Assistant Secretary of State Phillips and Minister Bryn of Norway the treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Norway, which was denounced by the state department a year ago, effective tomorrow, was continued in force with changes eliminating articles in conflict with the seamen's act of 1915. The treaty, nearly a century old, was one of a number of such conventions which the American government found it necessary to denounce with the required year's notice because of conflicts with the seamen's act. The sections eliminated related to Norwegian consular control over Norwegian seamen in American ports. Without them the treaty remains in effect just as it was negotiated in 1827.

NORTHWEST OF BURK IS LOCATED SUMMIT PETROLEUM COMPANY'S HOLDINGS, consisting of 10 acres, where two wells are to be drilled as soon as this Company's stock is sold

Two five-acre tracts—Note location on Map—Two well—at once—$60,000.00 capital—Shares $10 each. Two of the best wells in field came in Friday, the 24th, near the Summit Petroleum Company's lease—The Humble Well reported making 2500 barrels—The Ray-Hammond well making more than 1000 barrels. Our lease now valued at $40,000.00—We paid only $15,000 for it.

The strong belief that the big pay oil will be struck on our location caused the owners of the lease to accept stock in payment in full for the same.

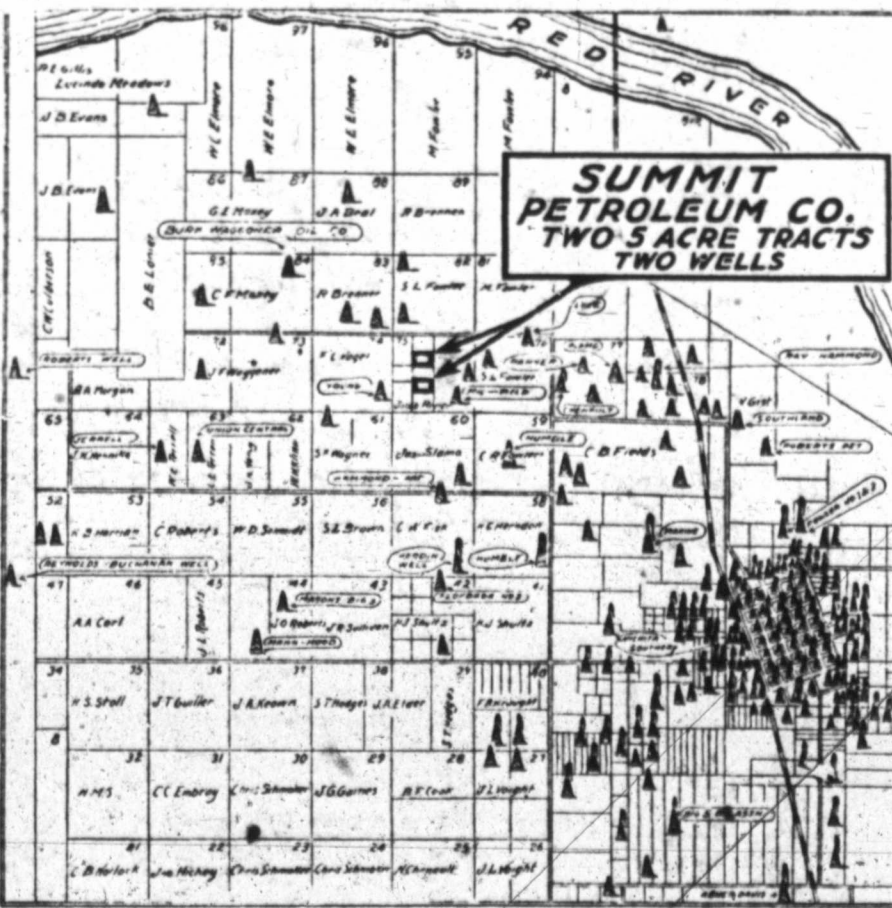

MEN AT THE HEAD
Since conservative, successful business men, all of Fort Worth, are to manage this company, the stockholders are assured a clean business deal; economically handled, with equitable division of all profits.

WE GUARANTEE
That after the two proposed wells will have been completed and production struck that we will not do any more developing until each shareholder of this company will have received 100 per cent dividend on his investment. Thus each of the purchasers of stock at par may expect all of his money back as soon as the drill can bring the production to us. No royalty, other than one-eighth to owner, is retained.

POPE & COMPANY TO ESTABLISH BIG SUPPLY BUSINESS

E. J. Pope, who opened up the offices of Hockaday and Company, fiscal agents for the Weovna, Bishop-Evans and Pershing Oil companies, and the Hockaday Pipe Line Company, effective Saturday, Feb. 1, and has gone into business for himself, in company with Alex Johnson, who has been representing the Murray Oil Well Supply Company of Dallas. The new partnership is to be known as Pope and Company and will establish a heavy oil well supply business with Wichita Falls as headquarters and with branch houses at Burk Burnett and Iowa Park.

Mr. Pope previous to entering the oil business, had been commercial agent for the M. K. & T. for several years. He quit the railroad business after 22 years of experience to enter the oil game. He retains his interest in the various companies which management he has been associated with Hockaday and Company, and will continue to be interested in the production end, as represented by the companies, while he is actively engaged in the business of supplying oil well materials.

Mr. Johnson is also well and favorably known throughout this section, and the new company gives much promise of success from the first.

Organize Company To Drill Near City Of Wichita Falls

Coming right up to the doors of the city with drilling people of Wichita Falls are yet very likely to be able to see the derricks from their home windows, if the plans of a new company now being organized are consummated with success. The company is to be known as the Margaret Adella Oil Co., owners of a fifty-acre lease in the McIntyre lands two and one-half miles northeast of the city. The promoters of the company are T. A. Ardis, of the Scruggs-Ardis Co., Frank Taylor, J. L. Ardis and D. W. Shivers. The latter two gentlemen are from Dallas. T. A. Ardis has long been of the opinion that there is oil right up against the city, and has had in mind the location north and northeast of town. As he has been in the drilling business for more than seven years in this county, and has drilled as many wells as any other one man in the county his opinion is not without weight.

The new company is to be capitalized at $65,000 and the well is to be drilled with cable tools. Work will commence on it at an early date.

PRODUCTION LINE EXTENDED BY THE NEW ADAMS WELL

Production lines are extended to the north in the Hardin tracts out of the Dubose survey, west of Burk Burnett, by the Adams, Brown and McAllister well which is reported as striking the sand Saturday. This well is about 500 feet north, and a little to the east of the Martie well, and also some distance north of the Clint Wood well on the Hardin-Dubose which was reported as drilling into the sand on Friday.

According to Mr. Adams the well will be drilled in the early part of next week, preparation being made to set casing Monday.

TEXAS COMPANY PAYS LARGEST TAX IN COUNTY

The Texas Company was the largest tax payer in Wichita county this year, paying $40,701.76 in state and county taxes.

The second largest tax payer in the county was the Magnolia Petroleum Co. This company paid $31,543.85 in Wichita county.

The Fort Worth and Denver Railway which for many years was the county's biggest payer of taxes has dropped to third place, paying together with the Wichita Valley, a total of $20,405.75.

While a number of individuals have failed to pay their taxes all the larger corporations paid up without incurring a penalty.

Pump Is Connected To Black Diamond On Munger Tract

After considerable delay caused by bad roads and freight congestion, the pump was being connected up at the Black Diamond Oil Company well on the Munger on Saturday. The well has been on the sand for more than a week, and has been drilled in, but a test has been impossible because of the lack of tanks and pumping facilities, which have now been secured, according to reports from officials of the company.

WICHITA FALLS TO BE REPRESENTED AT CHICAGO MEETING

Wichita Falls oil men will be represented at the meeting of the American Petroleum League convention to be held in Chicago in March. Colonel G. Clint Wood, chairman of the oil bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, gave Walter G. Willard, the assistant secretary of the league, that assurance Saturday, and the representative is to be chosen later. Mr. Willard arrived in Wichita Falls Friday for the purpose of interesting local oil men in the convention, which promises to be the most important gathering of oil interests that has ever been held in the United States.

All branches of the industry will be represented at the Chicago convention. Mr. Willard states. Each city or district represented will be given a part on the program, and Wichita Falls is to have a part. Various matters pertaining to the oil industry, both sectional and national will be taken, among the most important being rates and legislation.

Lone Star Tool Co. To Meet Demands Doubles Capacity

To keep pace with the growing demands of the oil field for repairs and new oil well machinery the Lone Star Tool Company is making additions to its plant which will more than double its capacity. When the plant is completed it will have room for the employment of at least seventy-five men and these will be put on as fast as skilled workmen can be employed.

Among the additions to the equipment are some extra heavy lathes and drills capable of handling every class of oil machinery work.

Messrs. Painter and Finton, managers of the Lone Star, are among the most optimistic of the oil fraternity and have every confidence in the continued growth and extension of the field, and in enlarging their plant their idea is to make it the equal of any of its kind in the country.

NEW TEX REFINERY WILL BE LOCATED ACROSS THE RIVER

Wichita Falls' newest refinery to purchase a site and begin the sale of stock is the New Tex Refinery, which has purchased a 20 acre site directly across the road from the Power Refinery, and a short distance along the Iowa Park road from the American Refinery. Dr. E. B. Bailey, Wichita Falls surgeon, who is also interested in various oil developments, is president, George L. Croft, business and oil man of Wichita Falls and Dallas is vice president; H. D. Frankfurt and F. C. Millbury, recently located in Wichita Falls, are secretary and treasurer, respectively. J. H. Haggerty, for about twenty years connected with large refineries, including the Gulf and the Cosden refineries, will be superintendent of the new plant, it is announced, and W. E. Fitzgerald, prominent attorney, is to be the legal advisor.

The capital stock is $200,000, shares being $1.00 par value. The refinery capacity is to be 2,000 barrels. Officials of the company state that they have already contracted for their crude oil supply, two of the directors having agreed to furnish the necessary amount to operate the refinery at 2,000 barrel capacity.

RAISE NO OBJECTION TO COUNT VON BERNSTORFF

ABANDONMENTS IN BURKBURNETT FIELD NOW NUMBER TEN

NO BREAK HAS DEVELOPED IN FORMATION OF THE PROVEN POOL.

PRODUCTION LINES ARE UNCHANGED

Rush to the West Most Important Feature of Recent Developments.

As the list of completions at Burkburnett is being lengthened week by week, and the production grows, there is quite a little bit of interest in the wells that have been abandoned and here another surprising feature of the pool is disclosed, namely, that there have seemingly been no dry holes in the proven pool, showing there is no break in the formation or it has not been discovered so far.

Ten Abandonments. So far only ten abandonments have been finally reported. These, including the ones reported as dry, and the Jimmed holes, follow: Staley-Willis on the Hardin, south and west of the townsite, the Wichita Western, the McAdoo, Mary Jane and Seven Friends wells, in the Hardin; the Progressive, on the Smith, west of the Mary Jane; the LaRue, adjoining the townsite on the south; the Stockman Oil Company's well on the Hardin, south tract; the Floydada Western, on block 42, Red River Valley Lands, and the Farquhar on the East, north of town. This last well is only a short distance from a dry hole that was drilled several years ago by Andy Urban on the Pickle farm. This dry hole on the Pickle farm furnished one of the arguments offered to S. L. Fowler that there was no oil near Burkburnett.

Production Lines Unchanged. None of these abandonments are late ones, consequently the lines of production have been unchanged for several weeks, or rather the lines of non-production. Similarly the completions, with the exception of the Humble well to the west, have been of no importance so far as the extension of the proven field is concerned. The Humble well started a rush to the west that is now ancient history, in the Burkburnett field, and the impetus that it gave acreage prices promises to send this western end of the field far above any other section.

SINGLE CLEW TO TRIPLE CHINESE MURDER MYSTERY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—With only one clue to follow, Washington police today sought to clear the mystery surrounding the shooting to death of Dr. Theodore Wong, director of the Chinese educational mission to the United States, and his two assistants, C. H. Hsieh and Ben Sen Wu, all Chinese of the highest caste, at the headquarters of the mission in the fashionable Mount Pleasant residential district. The bodies of the three men were found late yesterday by Kong Li, a fellow student of Hsieh and Wu at George Washington University, who called at the mission's headquarters to ascertain why the two had been absent from classes.

CONTROVERSY OVER RIVER BED LEASES STILL UNSETTLED

SECOND POSTPONEMENT IS TAKEN IN DISTRICT COURT AT AUSTIN.

REFUSES TO DISSOLVE

Judge Holds That State Has Jurisdiction And Overrules Motion Of Defendants.

Controversy over the Red River bed oil leases and placer mining claims are still unsettled, the hearing at Austin on Friday and Saturday on the motion of Fisher and Gilliland of this city to dissolve the injunction against their drilling having resulted in a second postponement of ten days.

Additional Affidavits. The ten days delay was given to enable both sides to prepare additional affidavits regarding the territory in question, as regards the ownership of the unsurveyed land and the right of the river with the United States government, and who were preparing to drill.

Jurisdiction Is Questioned. The defendants offered a motion that the case be dismissed because of lack of jurisdiction, the defendants holding that as the land in question is part of Oklahoma and that the case should be heard by the United States Supreme court. Judge George Calhoun overruled this motion, holding that the court had jurisdiction. The court also refused to dissolve or modify the injunction granted to the state restraining the defendants from drilling for oil in the river bed, but the case was continued for ten days, as stated before, to give time for preparation of further affidavits.

FULTON ADMITS STAGING A "FAKE" WITH DEMPSEY

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—Fred Fulton authorized the San Francisco Call today to make the statement that his fight with Jack Dempsey at Harrison Park, N. J., July 27, 1918, was a pre-arranged affair to the extent that he and Dempsey were to box an eight round "exhibition" and that Dempsey won in the first round by "double-crossing" him.

Fulton said he wanted a chance to fight the winner of the proposed Willard-Dempsey match. "I was in on the thing, on the 'fake,' if you wish to call it that, because I went ahead and did what my manager told me.

"Now with Jess Willard wanting to fight and with Dempsey picked by most critics as the man to meet him, I do not propose to keep still any longer. "I know I can whip either Dempsey or Willard. Perhaps I won't get the chance at Willard.

By making a clean breast of the part I played in that Harrison Park affair, I hope the public will forgive me and grant me the privilege to fight for the world's championship, if not in the show that Tex Richard is promoting, then with the man who wins the fight."

SMITH WILL MANAGE THE SHREVEPORT TEAM

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR REDUCTION OF COTTON ACREAGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The plan of waging a campaign in the south to urge reduction in the cotton acreage and retention by growers of all their cotton until a price of 25 cents a pound is reached, will be discussed early next week at a meeting of members of senate and house from the cotton states.

The meeting was decided upon at a joint session of the senate and house agriculture committees today called by Senators Smith of South Carolina; Sheppard of Texas; Smith of Georgia, and Representatives Heflin of Alabama; Lee of Georgia; Jacobway of Arkansas; Chandler of Mississippi and Young of Texas.

The advisability of amending the cotton futures act to prevent delivery of accumulated stocks of cheap, low grade cotton on exchanges in settlement of contracts calling for higher priced and higher graded cotton also will be discussed at the meeting.

Mr. Heflin said the demand for American cotton is six million bales greater than the supply and that just as soon as peace terms are signed, the price will be advanced to 40 cents a pound.

STATEMENT

Two Wells Oil Company, well No. 1 is now on sand with casing set and cemented. We have been trying to get Star rig on this well for sometime, but have been unable to do so, account of recent rains, which made streets at Burkburnett impassable. I am quite sure that Star rig is on the location by this time, also quite sure that well will be drilled in this week.

We have always advised our stockholders to hold their stock, and not to sell for the small profits, which were being offered. We still offer the same advice, "Hold your stock."

Well No. 2 to be started as soon as can get derrick, which we believe will only be a few days.

This company will own two entire wells, with 1-8 royalty to land owners. Capital only $55,000.

STRIKE IS OVER AND STREET CARS BEING OPERATED

MEN RESUME WORK SATURDAY AFTERNOON FOLLOWING CONFERENCE.

NEW MANAGER ARRIVES

Final Settlement of Controversy is Yet to Be Reached According to Statement.

The street car strike is over. At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon the conductors, motormen and barn men of the Wichita Falls Traction company, whose walkout last Wednesday night completely tied up all street railway traffic in this city for two days and a half, returned to their jobs. By 6 o'clock cars throughout the city were again running on normal schedule.

Although no positive agreements have been reached between the traction company and the men, there is every indication that all differences will be amicably adjusted, that the attitude of both employees and employers will receive fair consideration and that the needs of the traveling public will be recognized.

New Manager Arrives. A new manager of the local street railway company appeared in Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon. His services having been obtained by Frank Kell, vice-president of the traction company, who is confident that the new manager, Leonard L. Albritton, will prove a strong figure in cementing friendly relations between the company and its employees.

Albritton, who has been with the Oklahoma City Traction company since 1905 and has seen street railway service all the way from the grade of track man up to general superintendent, will investigate immediately the requests made by the local men, and it is believed all difficulties will be satisfactorily ironed out before the close of this week.

Conference is Held. The return of the men to their jobs and the resumption of street car service followed a conference Saturday afternoon participated in by Mr. Kell, J. A. Kemp, president of the traction company; R. C. Sloan, representing the motormen and conductors, and Mayor J. B. Marlow, who presented a strong appeal for consideration of the public, was of material aid in bringing at least temporary solution to an embarrassing problem.

Mr. Kemp frankly advised the men to return to work, assured them the company, realizing the men are all citizens of Wichita Falls with homes and families here, is anxious and willing to give the utmost consideration to the men's needs and promised them that Mr. Albritton, the new manager, will make it one of his first duties to confer with them.

Mayor Marlow also gave the men assurance that they will receive every fair opportunity, and urged upon the men the real duty they owe to the traveling public in maintaining efficient street car service while all existing problems are being settled.

Public Interests Considered. With these assurances, and with the question of recognition of the local union held open for later discussion, the men returned to the barns and four hours after the conference the cars were running on schedule again. Both the men and the officials of the company showed a ready spirit to recognize the fact that the street car service is a genuine necessity and that the needs of the local public should be recognized as far as possible until a final agreement can be reached regarding the requests made by the railway men.

Mr. Kemp, discussing the situation later with a representative of The Times, called attention to the fact that a statement had been made which might leave the erroneous impression that he had intruded in the strike situation on his recent return to Wichita Falls. "The facts are," he declared, "that Mayor Marlow called on me late Friday afternoon and stated that they had succeeded in settling the strike among the waiters, and that a number of the traction boys were at the city hall and he believed if we could get together that we could adjust their differences also. I stated to Mr. Marlow that I did not feel qualified to discuss the matter with them, as Mr. Kell and Mr. Lawton had been handling it and that I did not care to mix up with it, and further stated to him that Mr. Kell had secured the services of a street railway manager of long experience, who would be here Saturday and that I would then be glad to go with him and Mr. Lawton and Mr. Kell and discuss the matter with the employees with the hope of arriving at an amicable adjustment."

Improvement in Service. Mr. Kell stated that in obtaining the services of Albritton he felt sure improvement in the street railway service of the company would be increased. Mr. Albritton started with the Oklahoma City Traction company fourteen years ago as a track man, was successively a motorman, conductor, foreman and one of the general superintendents of that property, comprising 105 miles of trackage. With Mr. Albritton handling all the operations of the traction company here, F. N. Lawton, his predecessor, will be free to devote all his time to the management of the Wichita Falls Electric Light company.

WAITERS STRIKE HAS BEEN SETTLED; EMPLOYEES AT WORK

Sirloin steaks, cuts of mince pie a la mode, veal kidneys saute, cherry waffles, Cameron style and all the other ticklers of the palate and soothers of the troubled appetite can now be obtained in Wichita Falls with speed, celerity and dispatch—which is a left-handed manner of introducing the fact that the waiters strike is now a dim memory and that "service" is again the cafe watchword of the hour.

The differences between the striking cooks, waiters and waitresses were adjusted Friday afternoon, following a conference in Mayor Marlow's office between representatives of the union and the restaurant proprietors with the mayor playing the role of mediator.

The greater number of the requests made by the cooks and waiters were granted, including the wage increases, recognition of the union and a working day of ten hours. On the other hand, the demand that representatives of the union be permitted to talk to union cooks and waiters at any time and the further demand that uniforms be provided for waiters both were stricken from the contract signed by the employees and the proprietors. Although this contract has not been signed by all the restaurant men as yet, it will be submitted to all this week and no further trouble of any kind is anticipated.

NUMBER OF HOMES ARE TRANSFERRED DURING THE WEEK

As far as activity and good prices are concerned, the real estate business in Wichita Falls is rivaling the oil game in this district, and one of the best evidences of the boom that real estate is experiencing at this time is the list of sales made by N. O. Monroe, who has been engineering some good sized deals lately, and also a number of sales, where medium priced homes were involved.

Sales for the Week. Mr. Monroe's largest single sale this week was that of the home of J. L. Mears, 1002 Scott, to J. W. Ferguson. This property consists of two lots and an eight room house, but is prospective business property, being just off Tenth Street. This place has been the home of the Mears family for twenty years. The residence was one of the first houses of any size to be built in Wichita Falls, having been built about 25 years.

AUTOMOBILE SEALS AND NUMBERS ARRIVE
A supply of automobile seals and numbers from the State Highway Department have been received at the county tax collectors office and are ready for distribution to those who pay their automobile license.

AUTOMOBILES MUST HAVE LAMPS WITH DIMMERS
Chief of Police Fred Smith asked the Times last night to warn owners of automobiles that they must provide their lamps with dimmers or lenses which reduce the glare. Some months ago most of the automobiles driven on the streets here had lenses or lamps that complied with the law. New machines, however, are generally equipped with ordinary lenses and lamps so that the automobile lamp that complies with the law is now the exception rather than the rule.

ready for distribution to those who pay their automobile license. On account of the delay of the department in furnishing these seals no penalty will be asked from applicants for license who are delinquent.

Assets and Opportunities

The Big Money Oil Company Offers a doubly attractive investment to a limited number of wide-awake, conservative people.

1/4 Mile From Five Producing Wells With Assets As a Base; A Big Chance to Win

To a very few lucky people, the Big Money Oil Company offers a rare opportunity to invest in a gilt-edge, sure-to-strike proposition. You are familiar with the luck and prosperity of the shareholders in these wells. Perhaps you missed that chance; but here is that selfsame, golden opportunity presented again. We are going to drill within one mile of the famous Zink wells—five producing wells within one fourth mile of Big Money's holdings. Mr. T. H. Friedly, so well known in Wichita Falls, is behind this rare opportunity—don't let it pass unnoticed—come in with the few; they are going to win.

This is not a one-acre wildcat; it is a twenty-acre solid set opportunity; it is a one-chance-to-lose to a twenty-chance-to-win investment. How many are twenty acres? Quite a few, when you consider that they are in proven territory and the holdings of a company of only $15,000 capitalization. Deep tests are being made within a mile of this lease. Suppose one of these tests proves up—there will still be the original acres, but their value will be inestimable. Isn't this practically offering you cash with the possibility of you making a fortune thrown in? We are ready to drill—low capitalization—large acreage—over the sand; act now.

LOVE, LAUGHTER AND SONG.
 Love, laughter and a bit of song,
 White clouds in a blue sky,
 And all the paths you go along
 Fairly before you lie.

Love, laughter and a bit of song,
 And the glass heart try,
 And any day however long
 Goes smoothly slipping by.

Love, laughter and a bit of song,
 To send along the breeze,
 And steps grow light and hearts grow strong,
 And blossoms kiss the knees.

Love, laughter and a bit of song,
 As winds through Happy Land,
 And in your hand a hand,
 And though life's road be steep and long,

PIONEER FAMILY LEAVING CITY TO RESIDE IN DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Wyatt left Friday for Dallas to make their home. Their daughters, Mrs. John McCollum and Mrs. James Tardy having preceded them. A handsome home has been purchased in Manger Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt are among the pioneers of Wichita Falls, and to Mr. Wyatt belongs the distinction of building the first "skyscraper" in Wichita Falls, as the Westland hotel was, in comparison to the two story buildings that predominated with an occasional three story building, when the hotel was first started there were very few who could see the wisdom of attempting a five story building of that nature, but developments of the past few years, and especially the past few months have shown that Mr. Wyatt was right when he declared that the city needed a hotel not only of five stories, or of seven, as he added two extra stories, but one double the size. The Westland was built at a time when its construction was a far greater undertaking than the 10 story building that are to be built immediately and was built by the efforts and money of only one man. It also has been a potent factor in making Wichita Falls the oil center of the Northwest Texas district, for several years ago when the first boom was on, many people came to make Wichita Falls their headquarters rather than any of the nearby towns, because of the hotel accommodations afforded by the Westland.

For the greater part of the time since the hotel was built Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt have been actually in charge, and frequent business visitors to Wichita Falls who have been calling the hotel "home" for years heard of the sale of the hotel with much regret, as it meant the removal of the Wyatt family, and their friendly interests in the hotel guests and the home-like atmosphere they gave. Similarly the friends residing in the city regret the departure of the family to make their home elsewhere. Mr. Wyatt is retaining considerable property interests in Wichita Falls and owns some valuable business property, so that they are still regarded as Wichitans, though their home will be in Dallas. The best wishes of numerous friends are with the entire family in their new home.

SHREVEPORT MAN WITH HINES UNDERTAKING CO.

J. C. Parker of Shreveport, La., arrived in the city Saturday and will be connected with the Hines Undertaking Company. NEW BUILDING TO BE ERECTED SOON NINTH AND SCOTT

WILL BE OCCUPIED BY THE NORTH TEXAS FURNITURE CO. AND OTHER FIRMS.

T. W. ROBERTS TO BUILD

Will Erect a $30,000 Home on Tenth Street in the Seventeen Hundred Block.

Building is on the corner in Wichita Falls. The basement of new home and new office structure are being "popped in" daily. Foundation work is in progress in many sections of the city; contracts are being let; building organizations being promoted and architects are working long after regular office hours co-ordinating plans for business building and residences. A new building to be constructed by T. Clyde Thatcher, manager of the Oklahoma City Mill & Elevator Company and former banker of this city, a new home for T. W. Roberts, for years a prominent resident of Wichita Falls, and the announcement of further details regarding the 10-story City National bank building were disclosed among the most interesting building items made public Saturday. Thatcher to Build. The new Thatcher building which will be six-story in height, will be constructed at Ninth and Scott streets at a building cost of $40,000.

The building will face 150 feet on Ninth and 100 feet on Scott street, and old residences on the site will be torn down to make room for the new structure. The lots have been owned by Mr. Thatcher for several years. The North Texas Furniture company will occupy 100,100 feet, with a mezzanine floor, in the Thatcher building, and the remaining 50 feet will be divided into two 25-foot store properties, one of which has already been rented to the "Coke" company. E. J. Pate, local architect, has been engaged to draw plans for a $30,000 residence for T. W. Roberts which will be built on Tenth street in the 1700 block. The plans call for a home that will compare favorably with the finest dwellings now in the city's residential district or under construction there.

To Start on Bank. Announcement was made Saturday that Sanguinet, Staats & Pate had been selected as architects and that work will be started this week on the foundation for the new 10-story bank and office building to be constructed at Eighth and Scott streets by the City National bank, associated with many prominent oil men of Wichita Falls. The allotment of floor space will be ready also within a few days, and plans for this allotment will be in the hands of C. W. Snider, cashier of the City National, W. Newton Maer, who originally promoted the plan for the big building, is serving as president of the building committee; W. S. Curlee is secretary, and C. W. Snider treasurer. It is expected now that the structure will be known as the Oil Men's and Bank Building.

The names of the directors of the building organization also were made public Saturday. They are W. Newton Maer, J. A. Kemp, J. A. Fisher, T. P. Adams, T. J. Lee and W. S. Curlee. Vanleave Farm Leases For Sale. Seven wooded, three 2 1/2 acre 5-acre tracts out of block 102 Vanleave lands, south of road, offsetting Horne and Marine wells. Stay up close and get good wells. For prices and terms call W. B. Friday, Room 408, Kemp & Kell office. Phone 71. Residence phone 1756. 216-tfc

MUCH ACTIVITY DURING WEEK IN REALTY CIRCLES

Burkburnett is a townsite founded upon an oil pool; Wichita Falls is a city of versatility founded upon many phases of business activity. Visitors often obtain the hazy, first-hand impression that Wichita Falls also depends upon the petroleum industry; an impression based on the presence here of big oil interests and wealthy oil men.

But a truer insight into the versatility of Wichita Falls as a business city is evidenced in the remarkable increase in realty values and the tremendous growth of the real estate business here. During the week that has just closed J. J. Moran, an individual real estate operator, handled deals involving 15 Wichita Falls lots and four residences as a total monetary figure of $107,550. It is impossible to estimate the amount of money and the number of deals represented in the combined activities of all the city's real estate men for the week, but it is fair to assume that Moran's activities were not unusual and that they throw an interesting light on the astonishing growth and spread of the local real estate market.

Two Lots $47,000. In one instance last week Moran sold two lots to J. N. Prothro for $32,000, and two days later Prothro resold the same lots for 47,000—a fair sample of the increasing value of realty in this city. Four Wichita Falls homes changed hands last week. The Jack Hays' home at 1803 Lucille street was sold for $5,500 to A. A. Ewain, of Burkburnett; the home of Robert J. Scherferly at 1114 Taylor street became the property of Austin C. Hatchell, of Plattville, Texas; for a cash consideration of $2,500; M. M. Cook sold his home at 2012 Huff avenue for $9,000 to Jack Hays, and the J. B. Stokes residence at 700 Lamar street passed into the hands of M. M. Cook at the fancy price of $15,750. Moran also sold one lot on Scott avenue to Prothro for $32,500, and a lot for $32,500 to Drs. C. R. Hartsock and F. Stripling. Ten lots in the Federal Heights section also changed hands during the week for a total of $1,100 with Moran on the business operating end of the deals.

One hundred and sixty-seven thousand, five hundred and fifty dollars, even when spelled out slowly and at length, may not appear startling to some men who have made fortunes almost overnight in the Ranger and Burkburnett oil fields—but that figure is a fine substantial sum when it is considered in the light of one real estate operator's deals for a single week in Wichita Falls business and home property.

French Sacrifice For Liberty Heroic

Six millions of French sons have offered their lives that democracy might live. Thirty million other French men and women sacrificed their all for the same purpose. America's debt of gratitude to France for this is very great. We also are indebted to her for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, discovered by her peasants, which it is reported has saved many American lives and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere. adv.

ODD FELLOWS ARE TO CONFER INITIATORY

The Odd Fellows will confer the Initiatory Degree upon four candidates at their meeting tomorrow night, and a good attendance is desired.

A discussion of their new home, which they expect to move into about the first of April, and other matters of vital importance to the lodge are to come before this meeting.

The new officers are now in charge of the meetings, and a good way to assist them is by being present, especially Past Grand, who can be of great benefit.

This lodge expects to have come kind of an unusual meeting, perhaps in the nature of a "home-coming affair" in April.

Resolutions of Respect.
Whereas, the Supreme Ruler of the Universe has by His infinite wisdom seen fit to call unto Himself from the walks of this life the father and wife of our brother, Harry R. Haynes, leaving him and those members of his family to mourn their loss and

Whereas, Brother Haynes, has been a faithful member of bricklayer local No. 4 in every way exemplifying its teachings and endeavoring to put to practice unionism.

Therefore, be it resolved by members of brick layer local No. 4 in this and hour through which Brother Haynes is passing we tender him our tenderest sympathy and pray that he who doeth all things well will uphold Brother Haynes with his free spirit.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes a copy furnished the press and a copy sent to Brother Harry R. Haynes.

In Memory of Willie Bull.
Willie Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bull of Mexahoma, Okla., died Wednesday, after an attack of influenza which developed into pneumonia. He was here attending high school and was rooming at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Kerr, 407 Scott street. With all the loving care the kind nurse and doctor could do he grew worse until the tenth day when God saw fit to call him away at 12 o'clock Wednesday. His father and two uncles were at his bedside during his illness and at the time of his death.

A precious one from them has gone. A voice they loved is still missing. A place is vacant in their home, which no one e'er can fill.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Scene from "Trail of the Lonesome Pine"—Wichita Theater, Tuesday, February 4th.

A MUSEMENT

Majestic Calendar.
Monday: Ethel Barrymore in "The Divorcee."
Tuesday: Miss Louise Price in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."
Wednesday: Clara Kimball Young in "Cheating Cheaters."
Thursday: Tom Mootz in "Go West Young Man."
Friday and Saturday: Mildred Harris in "For Husband's Only."

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG TO PRESENT "CHEATING CHEATERS"

"Cheating Cheaters," a screen adaptation of the famous Broadway success of the same name, will be presented at the Majestic theater on Wednesday by Clara Kimball Young and Her Own Company. Miss Young is seen in her forthcoming Select Picture, as Nan Carey, a member of a famous band of crooks, who are posing under the family name of Brockton. They establish a home in fashionable section of New York and become acquainted with the wealthy Palmers.

Finally a time comes when Ruth Brockton, alias Nan Carey, is invited to spend the night with the Palmers, but instead of making a haul of the famous Palmer jewels she discovers that they are paste and that the Palmers also are crooks. At last the situation is straightened out and the leaders of the two gangs prepare to form a truce. They hold a meeting for the purpose of arranging plans when the police make a raid and arrest all the members.

ELABORATE PRODUCTION OF WIDELY READ STORY

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which appears at the Wichita theater, Tuesday, Feb. 4, is the story of big humans, big hearts and big purposes, beyond all the futile spirit of feudalism there is the blue in the skies capturing the lonely rugged tree, the sweet spirit of June; and the iron-willed, masterful Judd.

A most elaborate production has been given Eugene Walters' dramatization of John Fox Jr.'s widely read book, and those who love June in the romance will be more than charmed with Miss Louise Price's delightful presentation of the mountain heroine, who has already become enshrined in the hearts of a million book lovers.

ETHEL BARRYMORE IN "THE DIVORCEE" MONDAY

"The Divorcee," a Metro picture starring Ethel Barrymore, will be the piece de resistance of the Majestic on Monday. This is by all odds one of the most brilliant and clever society dramas that the management has ever offered. Taken from W. Somerset Maugham's play "Lady Frederick," it deals with this lady's cleverness in solving the love affair of a man much younger than she, the affair happening to be his love for her. This constitutes the body of the action, although there are many other situations of a force and subtlety that everyone will appreciate.

"The Divorcee" is one of those high society dramas that once were in great vogue on the stage. They deal with clever people, people who use brains in act and speech and are, consequently, the most fascinating form of dramatic fare. Under the skillful direction of Herbert Blache the Maugham play was converted into a picture that matches itself creditably beside the original.

As for Miss Barrymore, it may safely be said that never before has she appeared to such exquisite advantage

Beauty That Lasts

Hose of Luxite

has charm and beauty that last. Its rich luster, soft, firm body and stylish elegance are due solely to fine close stitches, superior materials and pure dye.

Some makers seek the same effect by using dyes heavily loaded with metallic compound to give gloss and weight. Such hosiery cannot endure wear and washing, for strong chemicals destroy fine threads.

We offer Hose of Luxite because we know it merits the approval of a particular clientele. The wide range of styles and prices will suit every purse and purpose.

Von Hertling's Son Denies Report That Army Asked Peace

By Associated Press.
BASEL, Friday, Jan. 31.—A son of the late Count George F. Von Hertling, former imperial chancellor of Germany, has published an indignant denial of the allegation that the German Imperial government was twice requested by the supreme command of the army to conclude peace while his father was holding office.

ENTERS UPON DUTIES AS CITY TAX ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR

H. J. ANDERSON.

H. J. Anderson took the oath of office yesterday as city tax assessor and collector, succeeding H. F. Robertson whose resignation on account of ill health took effect Friday night. Mr. Anderson's bond had previously been approved by the city council. Mr. Anderson's appointment assures that the tax assessors and tax collectors work for the city will be efficiently done. Mr. Anderson has been connected with the city and county tax assessors' offices for the past six years, first under Mr. Robertson in the city tax assessor's office, then under John Robertson, former county assessor now dead, and T. E. Ragdale, present county assessor. Mr. Anderson has done most of the assessing of city property for the county in the past five or six years. When deputy under John Robertson he was in charge of the office during the latter months of Mr. Robertson's life, on account of the latter's ill health. Upon being sworn into office Mr. Anderson announced that he would be a candidate at the April election to fill out the unexpired portion of H. F. Robertson's term.

High School Is Making Plans To Promote Athletics

Plans are being made at the High school for an athletic schedule of inter-class contests of basketball, volleyball, play ground baseball and tennis which will soon be put into operation. It is stated by the faculty under whose supervision the schedule will be played. A team in each sport will be chosen from every class and the championship will be decided by elimination. The games are to take place at lunch periods and after school hours, and the faculty is already considering a big field meet to close the game schedule. "Boys and girls do better work when they have a certain amount of recreation," said one of the teachers, "and we expect to increase their efficiency in school studies as well as their physical condition by getting them interested in athletics in general."

New Secretary of Chamber Commerce Beginning Monday

Porter A. Whaley arrives Monday to assume the duties of secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, succeeding B. F. Johnson, who has entered the oil business. The new secretary has been connected with commercial organizations in Brownwood, Amarillo and recently has been working with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Whaley begins work with the organization with a very important year before it. Several important matters connected with the prosperity of the city are to be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce. There will also be considerable oil ventures to look after. The organization hopes to settle the matter of a larger federal building, the present structure being insufficient for the local postoffice and federal court. The present postoffice has been outgrown by the city and an appropriation of $250,000 is needed for a new federal building.

HOTEL PROPRIETORS VISITING OIL FIELDS

Two hotel proprietors are in Wichita looking over the oil fields. H. L. Canode of Hotel Amarillo and R. L. Mitchell and wife of the Hotel Hemming of Casper, Wyoming, are registered at the Westland.

The poorly paid school teachers of this city can make good money selling stock in the Lilly Oil Company after school hours. Apply at once to Room 202 First National Bank Building. Phone 195.

Drillers & Producers Oil Co.

Offers a Few Remaining Shares at $2.50 Per Share

Capitalization $95,000, Par Value $2.50

Fully Paid and Non-Assessable.

We now have one rig being set up; preparing to start drilling—and unless unforeseen circumstances arise, will be drilling by February 3rd. The material for the second rig is on the location, ready to go up. Material for the third rig is in transit and should arrive momentarily.

The holdings of the company consist of an oil and gas lease—hold estate in and to seventy-five acres of land described as beginning at a point four thousand and two feet east from the southwest corner of the S. A. & M. G. R. R. Co., Survey No. 1 in Wichita County, Texas, thence north two thousand four hundred and sixty-one feet, thence east thirteen hundred twenty-seven feet, thence south two thousand four hundred and sixty-one feet west to the point of beginning.

This property is located in the Burkburnett Field, three miles southwest of the city, one-half mile from the Big Allies' wells, and a little over a mile from the famous Surine wells—the largest in Northwest Texas.

STOP A MINUTE and figure. Our neighbors have brought in big wells of 1000 and 1200 bbls flow, by going to the deep sand, WHERE WE ARE GOING. Why shouldn't we do the same, drilling within less than a half mile on the same strata and same formation?

WE WANT TO PAY YOU DIVIDENDS!

We Want Dividends on Our Money That's Why We Are Going After the Deep Wells—Big Production.

We don't want to fool ourselves, nor you, by bothering with shallow wells. We intend to thoroughly develop this property, by placing 15 deep wells on the 75 acres. We will take care of shallow wells, if they produce better than 35 to 50 barrels per day, but if not, we will not waste our time on them.

The first $100,000 that is taken in from production, net, will be set aside for dividends in order that you might receive all your money back and have a profit. 50 per cent of the net production after that will go into the dividend fund, and 50 per cent for future developments.

We expect to own and have in operation at least six drill rigs by June 1st. If we never get any oil out of our wells when drilled, you can figure how easily we can make money to pay big dividends, drilling wells for the other fellow. That is why we are going to own our own rigs, to guard against the most remote conditions. We have already secured a contract for 26 deep wells. Our material is being rushed as fast as possible. One rig having arrived and is being set up, we will in all probability be drilling by February 3rd.

Read a few facts and figures that will give you some conception of how we can pay you handsome dividends. As we foretold we are going after large production by drilling deep wells. We are told that the price of oil in this particular part of the field is now $2.45 per bbl. We will figure off the 45 cents for one-eighth royalties and expense, and figure $2.00 per bbl. net to the company. At the rate of a 1000 bbl. well per day at $2.00 per bbl. net would be $60,000 per month, and $120,000 in two months. With 60,000 to 70,000 shares of our stock sold—Par value $2.50, you can see that with a two months run, we could pay you almost $200 for each $100 invested and still leave you retaining your valuable interest in the company, as a part owner in every asset. We'll cut the 1000 bbl. well in two and make it 500 bbls. per day, which figured on the same basis would be $30,000 per month and four months will give you the $120,000 to be divided among the few share holders. We will figure even lower than that, a 300 bbl. well, or $700 per day which is $21,000 per month, run would figure over an 80 per cent return on the number of shares we intend to sell. After all, we rob no man—only pierce MOTHER EARTH.

CAN A BLACKSMITH SUCCESSFULLY RUN A DRUG STORE AND FILL PRESCRIPTIONS?

The oil business is like all other business. It calls for experience. With sane and sound management such as we have, being well experienced in the oil business, and able to take advantage of every opportunity we believe we can make this company one, among the biggest payers that has ever been launched in any field—especially with the high price of oil.

The above data will give you an idea of the reason Mr. L. Johns, President of our company, personally guarantees to refund every dollar that anyone puts into this company, on their demand within 30 days of purchase date and pay interest at 10 per cent. If you are not satisfied after thoroughly investigating. Remember that this does not mean that I will return your money after drilling for 3 or 4 months. It is the conclusive guarantee that the company will stand the most rigid investigation.

There is not a share of promotion stock in this company, and it is co-operative all the way through.

Why is it that the salesmen pay for this ad—in a co-operative Company? Because the newspaper brings the customer to him and brings him ten where he could otherwise locate one!

ONLY a few shares remain to be sold at $2.50 per share—AVAIL YOURSELF! This is your opportunity.

Make all checks or money orders payable to

L. JOHNS, Trustee

Tel. 2671, Wichita Falls, Tex. 707 Ohio St.

No Certificates issued for less than 25 shares.

Read why we call this a co-operative company. Every salesman must be a stockholder. Every driller or other employee of the company must own stock in the company.

This ad is of no cost to the Drillers & Producers Oil Co., as the cost of same is deducted from salesmen's commission.

LEASE QUARTER IN OKLAHOMA PAYING $1,000 AN ACRE

Burkburnett and Miami and Oklahoma City capitalists have bought leases on a quarter section of land in Oklahoma a mile and a half east of the wagon bridge across Red River and are preparing to drill within the next two weeks. The land leased was the northwest quarter of section 19, township 5, range 12, and the amount of the transaction was $100,000 or $1,000 an acre.

OKLAHOMA LEASE NEAR BURK-BRIDGE $3,750 AN ACRE

Land in section 23, on the Oklahoma side, opposite the Burkburnett pool, was leased at the rate of $3,750 an acre, at a public auction of Indian lands, held at Anadarko. The tract which brought this price comprised nine acres. This section is the same in which the Burk-Bridge Oil Company's lease is situated. This Burk-Bridge well is now drilling below 1400, and going very slow, according to the latest reports.

SCULPTURE

Oil Is Reported In Shallow Well Dug In a Cellar

Ben F. Dancer of the Montgomery Investment Co. received a telegram from Quana Saturday saying that workmen engaged in digging a water well in the cellar of the American Cement Plaster Co. at Agatite dug in to an oil sand at 15 feet Friday morning. The flow of oil from the sand amounted to two and a half barrels by Friday night. The oil is reported to be of a very high grade.

The place of the strike is only about a mile and a half from the location of the Nee-She Oil Co. for its test on the Stewart tract.

MAKING PLANS TO DRILL DEEP TEST NEAR CHILDRESS

Childress has a chance to become an "oil center" according to latest reports, which are to the effect that the Merritt Oil Company is to commence a deep test on the Badley farm, about six miles northwest of Childress. The company is headed by E. T. Merritt, and has been given leases on 25,000 acres of land in that vicinity. Work on erecting the derrick is scheduled to begin in a short time. The derrick will be 86 feet, and the lumber, it is said, will cost $1,000. The drilling outfit will be of the heaviest California type.

Applications From Seven Received By Knights of Pythias

Pioneer Lodge Number 48, Knights of Pythias, met Wednesday night and five candidates were given the rank of page. Seven applications were voted on, making a total of eleven favorably acted upon since the first of the year. The lodge now has a membership of about 220 and is growing fast. Pioneer Lodge is determined to show to the returning soldiers and to the world what it means to be a Knight of Pythias and what Pythianism and Pythians stand for.

FONVILLE OPTICAL CO. UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Frederick Woolsey, optometrist, for eight years with the Arthur A. Everts Co., has arrived in Wichita Falls to take charge of the A. S. Fonville Optical Co. Mr. Fonville is retiring from the business to look after his oil interests which are now so extensive as to take up his time. The business will be continued under the name of the A. S. Fonville Optical Co. Mr. Woolsey was licensed as an optometrist in the state of New York and has had years of experience as an optometrist and refractometer. He comes to Wichita Falls with letters of the highest commendation. He is now in full charge of the company's business.

Notice.

By mutual agreement Roy R. Nanny has retired from the firm of Moore, Nanny & Blacklock, and with Mr. Percy Cornelius of Mangum, Okla., bought out the fire insurance business of H. J. Bachman & Co. We will conduct a general real estate and insurance business, and will be located in Room 1, Friberg building, the same location as the old firm of H. J. Bachman & Co. Mr. Cornelius is an old experienced insurance man and we will be in position at all times to give prompt and efficient service in the insurance business as well as the real estate. We earnestly solicit your listings.—NANNY & CORNELIUS, Rooms 1, Friberg Bldg. Phone 157. 226-37c

LEAGUE DISCUSSES THE CIVIC GROWTH OF WICHITA FALLS

PAVING LARGER CITY HALL AND A CLEANER CITY ARE AMONG SUGGESTIONS.

MEET AT KEMP HOME

Husbands of Members and Others Are Guests of Honor—Mayor One of the Speakers.

Wichita Falls growth from a civic standpoint, including more paving, a larger city hall, a cleaner city and a city plan, so that the future growth be along systematic lines instead of haphazard, was discussed at length by the various speakers at the Civic League's open meeting held Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp. Husbands of the Civic League members were guests of honor, and the League was honored with the presence of Mayor J. B. Marlow and several of the members of the City Council.

In his talk Mayor Marlow spoke in appreciative terms of the work that the Civic League had undertaken and accomplished in years past and pledged them even closer co-operation from the mayor's office than heretofore. He also spoke of plans for more paving, as a means of city beautifying, and stated that he believed it would be only a short time until the courthouse is paved about, thus giving the Civic League a better chance of securing the trophy for the most attractive courthouse in Texas, for which they have entered into competition with a large number of civic organizations in Texas.

Wishes by Mrs. Pink. Mrs. Louisa Pink opened the program with a short address of welcome, embodying in a clever bit of original verse some of the achievements of the Civic League. Her contribution is reproduced below.

Councilman J. W. McFall made the need of Wichita Falls for a new city hall the theme of his talk, and he stated that before a city hall that would be in keeping with the size and importance of Wichita Falls could be secured the citizens must demand it, and that the Civic League could help much in creating this demand. He pointed out that the hall was built at a time when Wichita Falls population was only around 5,000 and the city governmental departments few, and with but few employees. He showed how conditions had changed, and the city had grown out of all proportion to the building, and urged that those present do what they could to work for a new city hall.

Plant More Trees. Planting of more trees was urged by Mrs. S. H. Burnside and Mrs. J. A. Kemp in their talks. Both urged a general observance of Arbor Day, and the planting of trees as one of the best means of beautifying the city. Mrs. Kemp urged a driveway lined with trees from the city to Lake Wichita.

The city building plan was also urged by Mrs. Kemp, who stated that the present was the best time to rectify mistakes that have been made in the laying out of the city. A city planning expert could be secured, she said, who would lay out plans for the building of the city along systematic and attractive lines, and would save time and trouble later, when the mistakes in a haphazard building plan would be seen, too late to rectify, without needless expense.

Tribute to Dr. Reed. Mrs. Kemp also paid a tribute to Dr. J. F. Reed, member of the City Council and an indefatigable worker on the park and cemetery board. Much of the city beautification that has been accomplished, she said, has been due directly to his enthusiasm and zeal in the work, and the Civic League considered him an invaluable ally to them in their work.

The League's president, Mrs. T. B. Smith, made a short talk, and brought up a matter which she said she considered a subject for the civic organization to deal with, that of the charging of exorbitant rates for room and house rent. She gave several illustrations of high rents demanded persons who could not afford such prices, but who were forced to do so because of the scarcity of accommodations. The Civic League, she stated, believed that such matters should be investigated and some action taken by public spirited men and women.

Mr. Dickson Tells Why. A. A. Dickson, manager of the Westland Hotel, who has recently returned to make Wichita Falls his home, after a stay in California, was asked to speak on "Why I Came Back to Wichita Falls." Mr. Dickson's talk was quite humorous and in his recital of the reasons he liked Wichita Falls he referred so frequently to the Civic League that other speakers stated that the Civic League was so prominent the reason that Mr. Dickson returned to Wichita Falls.

A delightful musical program was carried out in addition to the talks. Miss Ennis Johnson contributed piano numbers, Mrs. Wade Walker sang and Miss Ruth Nolen gave several readings that were much appreciated. A ten-minute refreshment course was served by members of the Civic League. The meeting was very well attended and was considered as exceptionally successful.

Mrs. Pink's welcoming verse follows:

Welcome in Verse.
A cordial welcome I extend to all of you tonight
And when you listen to our pleas, we trust you'll think we're right.
Whatever happens in this town—that is, if it's for good,
It managed by our Civic League—we want that understood.
For instance, there's the courthouse, it's in an awful state,
It seems some men will never learn just where to expectorate.
It's no wonder that we're kicking and we're resenting feeling;
They tell us men, soft everywhere—from the floor up to the ceiling,
And here's a thing that we must do and do it without fail,
If we haven't all things besides, we must clean up the jail.
They say it is an awful place and that we can't expect
To not had people in that jail and have a good effect.

Perhaps some of our guests tonight are fond of picture shows
And that they need a censorship is something each one knows.
We want plenty of amusement and all the fun there's in it,
But all must come to realize their certain is a limit.

And don't neglect another thing, that is as time advances
We must provide a censorship for all our public dances.

Perhaps you all remember when the world our praises sang—
We cleaned up all the side streets and were called the Alley Gang.

Our city we must beautify by fixing up the lots
And planting trees and vines galore and making garden plots.
We'll keep our children off the grass and teach them civic pride.
You'll find this prove the wisest thing that you have ever tried.

'Tis well known—to our dismay—some people call us "Cats"
That this in ruder you will agree, though we did get rid of the rats.

Our President, you will recall, is helping save the nation,
For she spends nearly all her time in City Sanitation.

If you are sick and ill at ease—really getting thinner,
Just take a tip from all of us and try a City League Dinner.

Now if these strikes continue, and we earnestly hope they won't,
The Civic League will run the cars—you just see if we don't.
As waitresses we're experts, on that point you'll agree.

And though I have but mentioned a few things that we need,
The Civic League is hoping that it has sown good seed.

We need help and co-operation from all assembled here
And are sure that when we ask it you'll respond with goodly cheer,
We know we're only women and called the "weaker sex."

But please don't use that term again, it surely does us vex.
We want to boost our city and see where duty calls.

So please give your help and strong support to the Civic League of Wichita Falls.

GAIN OF NEARLY FIFTY PER CENT IN POSTAL RECEIPTS

The receipts at the Wichita Falls postoffice for the month ending Saturday night show an increase of 49.4 per cent over the corresponding month of 1918. The business of the office, as announced Saturday morning by Postmaster Ed Howard, for the month of January amounted to $13,758.97. For January, 1918, the total receipts were $9,274.52, representing a gain of $4,484.45 in the volume of business.

These figures emphasize most forcibly the rapid development of the commercial interests of Wichita Falls, a condition perhaps more correctly reflected by postoffice statistics than by any other source, and indicates an increase in local business activity of almost 50 per cent within the year. The figures also serve to reflect the vast amount of work involved in handling the present business of the office when compared with the proportionately slight increase in the number of employees engaged in handling the mail a year ago, and should serve to impress the authorities with the importance of providing additional clerks.

The volume of business and the marked increase in receipts should likewise be sufficient argument in behalf of the effort being made to secure a larger building at this place.

MAER BUILDING ON SCOTT AVENUE BRINGS $65,000

Sale of the Maer Building on Scott avenue, adjoining the telephone exchange building for $65,000, as announced by W. Newton Maer, as having been consummated this week, Stonewall Brown, of the Big Burk Oil companies and a heavy investor in the local fields, is the purchaser.

The building is 50 by 80 feet and two stories in height. The cost of the building when constructed, several years ago, and of the lot, totalled around $25,000, Mr. Maer stated. This building is on the block with the site of the new Oil Exchange building, which will be the home of the City National bank building, and was the first business brick to be built on Scott avenue below Eighth street. It was the forerunner of a solid block of business houses, ranging from three to ten stories in height, there remaining only two gaps to be filled in the block, and buildings for these have already been contracted for.

What Successful Men Say for Good Investments

"One good investment is worth more than the savings of a life time."—E. H. Harriman.

"The man who wins success is the man who buys when the stock is first offered."—Chauncey M. Depew.

"Five thousand men are millionaires because they invested in new things."—George Westinghouse.

"Pick out an enterprise in its infancy, make sure it is a business in which large profits can be made and that it is honestly managed by competent people, and then put your money in it. If you wait until it is a money making proposition, you will buy on a four or six per cent basis, while by investing at the start you can get something on a basis that will return a per cent of hundreds and sometimes thousands."—Russell Sage.

An Investment In Refinery Stock Is Not Gambling

Refinery investments are safe and sure and make large profits. It is the big dividend earning end of the oil business. There are refineries in Wichita County that are making many times their capitalization. The COMMONWEALTH REFINING COMPANY is going to make a lot of money. The affairs of the Company are in able hands and the management will be efficient in every particular. Construction work has been started and the contractor, Jas. D. McMahon, assures us that the plant will be finished and ready to operate on or before March 15th.

Some of the Problems Confronting Teachers

To be bright, happy, well dressed, to go places and enjoy life in general on a salary of $65 a month with fifty of that going out for board and room and the remaining $15 to be divided for clothing, laundry, dentist and doctor, is an impossibility. Yet that is just what is expected of the teachers in the schools. The teacher must set the example for the future citizens of the city and she must teach happiness.

In the course of an English lesson or any other lesson with which she is trying to help the students she has also to think "where am I going to stay tonight?" While teaching arithmetic she has the greatest problem any person could ever have working in her mind, "how can I pay board and room with my salary?" or "where is my next meal coming from." It is a known fact that some of the young women here teaching are actually without money during the latter part of the month and often these are asked for their rooms because the landlady has decided she does not want to keep roomers any more.

Four live in One Room. Four school teachers living in one room were notified Thursday that they would have to give up their rooms Saturday, and every night and noon these girls walked the streets looking for a place to sleep. Can one expect these teachers to set an example of happiness for the children at school the next day?

Even some of the teachers who have room and board are being very poorly fed when they are paying for the best. A certain woman in town has managed to raise her board and room every month although not telling the girls until they go to pay their rent. This past month the teachers were paying $38 for room and board, not including lunch and she has probably raised the price again.

Where a teacher can get only a room and have to take her meals elsewhere she is even worse off. Sometimes she gets her breakfast, but lunch and dinners are yet to be found. A store near the school house affords a kind of lunch and then dinner is bought in town. Two young teachers who have to manage this way say they can never get dinner for less than a dollar and a dollar means much to them.

Not a Tempting Lunch. A lunch consisting of a honey sandwich and a fish coquette would be spurned by the majority of laborers, yet a school teacher who earns her living if anyone ever does, was given this for lunch by a boarding house.

A pitiful incident happened just the other night when a teacher who had been walking all afternoon looking for a room, went into a store to get a bite of something for supper. The lady in the store refused to let her have anything on credit—not even for a day, and the teacher did not have a cent of money. A friend came in and insisted upon writing a check, but one of the little school boys who was in the store went clashing home to his parents with tears in his eyes. He soon returned with a bill and gave it to the teacher to pay back whenever she could.

Another Problem Presented. Here's a problem one teacher had to try to solve: After paying room and board she had ten dollars left and her laundry for one week had the ridiculous price of $5.20 upon it. How can she live and teach the future citizens?

A teacher who has spent more time on education than any one else and works from six to eight hours each day earns her living. She more than earns it. Anyone else working as hard would earn enough for a summer of comfort, yet the teacher will hardly have enough money left to buy her ticket home much less have a pleasant summer or attend summer normal.

True, quite a number of prominent people of the town have taken the matter up and tried to help the school teachers but these seem to have done more talking than anything else. It yet remains for some one to assume the responsibility of attempting to remedy the situation. Women have opened their homes to the teachers in a number of instances but they have made the teachers feel that they did not like to do so. A teacher does not want charity for she earns her living. People who have opened their homes have entirely overlooked the fact that a school teacher needs a comfortable place to live in order to accomplish what is expected of her. A cot in an attic is little worse than being without.

"Classed as 'Finticky.'" A woman applied the term "finticky" to the school teachers when they spurned her offer of a room for $25 a month with the restrictions: "When you have company you may meet the gentleman at the door and go to the moving picture show and after you come home you cannot sit very long because the light and gas bills are too high." What young woman wants to meet her company at the door and inform him that she has to go to a moving picture?

Other rooms have been offered but frequently they are the rooms formerly used by servants and without any comforts whatsoever. A school teacher is entitled to comfort and furthermore she must have it. After teaching all day and sometimes part of the night she is physically tired and weary and must have comforts.

Suggest Raising Fund. One suggestion offered as solving the situation is to get up a fund for raising the teachers salary for the rest of the term. This will put the solving upon those who will be willing to get up a fund of $5,500 to raise the sixty-five teachers salaries twenty-five dollars a month for the remainder of the term.

If this cannot be done then it remains for the women of the town who have children to take care of the teachers, to make room in their homes for them until the end of the term. Some have already done this. One woman takes care of two teachers for $20 a month because she herself was a teacher and many others are doing the same, but still there are many teachers who are not being cared for and who are suffering not only for wholesome food but ever a room.

This condition will not only injure the teachers but the future of the town will be affected. Thus it is up to the mothers and fathers of school children to solve the condition, and get the salaries raised.

HELP SOLVE ROOMING PROBLEM

Oil Men's Hotel Company Offers Some Stock to Public

Congested conditions in Wichita Falls have caused men experienced in the hotel and oil business to organize the Oil Men's Hotel Company for the purpose of erecting a frame structure at the corner of Ninth and Trayis streets. The company will be capitalized at $75,000 divided into 750 shares of $100 par value each. Some of this stock is hereby offered to the public at par.

Hotel To Be Built In Ninety Days Because the need for hotel accommodations is so urgent the organizers have planned to erect a frame structure which can be completed and be ready for occupancy within ninety days. The building permit has been secured and the plans and estimates made. Everything is ready for immediate work. There will be running water in all the rooms. The location "up the hill" will give the guests the benefit of all the fresh air higher up and will also give them a splendid view of the city and surrounding country. It is four blocks from the Post Office.	Project Sure To Be Profitable Everyone who has either looked for sleeping rooms or office space or has rented rooms or space to others knows that the prevailing prices are such that owners are reaping a golden harvest. With 200 sleeping rooms in the Oil Men's hotel and 30 offices on the first floor of the hotel for oil men it needs no argument. It is a sure thing with no chance of a "dry hole" or "salt water."	Monthly Dividends To Be Paid The officers of the company in their declaration of trust filed with the County clerk have pledged themselves to distribute the earnings from the income of the hotel to the stockholders monthly. There will be no long waiting for returns. In the declaration the organizers have guaranteed capable and honest business management. It is confidently believed by the organizers that the stockholders will get an amount equal to the par value of their shares in the form of dividends within six months after the opening of the hotel.

Organizers Know Hotel Business

The Oil Men's Hotel Company will be managed by men who know the hotel business in all its details. Nothing will be left to chance. Every phase will be looked after and made to bear a profit. At the same time it is the desire of the men that service of the best kind shall be given to the guests of the hotel and the renters of office space.

D. E. WALCOTT, the president, has had many years of experience in the hotel business and until the time he became president of the Hearn Oil Company was connected with the Hearn Hotel of this city.

J. F. Curtis, vice-president and building manager of the new hotel comes from Paris, Texas, and has had much experience in building hotels.

John G. Lane, the assistant manager is of Wichita Falls and knows the needs of oil men along hotel lines.

C. M. Bishop, secretary and treasurer of the hotel company is the head of the Bishop Investment Company of Wichita Falls.

W. E. Orcutt of Fort Worth, Texas, who is one of the directors is the scale superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad Company.

NEWSPAPER WISDOM.

Among the fundamental gifts that Anglo-Saxon civilization has given to the world of man the Freedom of the Press is easily one of the best. We would be hard put to it if we had to tell the story of the vital worth and meaning of this priceless gift. Given at the price of tears and blood we would be willing to pay just as big a price to keep it. The average man little realizes as he picks up his daily paper and scans the market reports, or cons the editorials the worth and work that the paper represents in the cause of Liberty and Progress. All of us are far too prone to take such gifts of the past for granted. In such a day as this the Man on the Street, and not less the Hand on the Farm, and the Head in the Office would do well to prize the paper that touches life outdoors and in! The Newspaper—YOUR paper, Sir—by reason of its work for the common welfare of man has won a place in your family circle. That is a sacred place, too, and we would be worthy of this honor. Newspaper wisdom dictates that we live up to this position won by "news" and "wisdom" based on night hours, day dreams, eternal vigilance and self-effacement. In keeping with these words what do you say of this from the Minneapolis Journal: "A church where men may sit down perfectly comfortable in their sins, where men can come and go, self-satisfied while loving their sins, is no church at all. It may be a successful lodge or club. It may do much good, but it is not the Church the Nazarene came to found." From one of the twin cities let us go to the Windy City and hear some more newspaper wisdom: "Distillers are frantically rushing about in their search for a pull-motor with which to revive old John Barleycorn."—Chicago Daily News. The same paper exclaims, "No good reason appears why the strains of the world should dance to the restraints of the Russian jazz." And we would humbly add, no good reason appears why that pull-motor for Old John should be found! In the words of the New Republic, "We are for peace, not for empire, and against that Russian jazz, Begorra!! Talking about peace just here let the Newark News—a down east paper to us Westerners—join the circle and speak a bit of wisdom. "We do not have to be fretted with the problem of who is the boss. If Britain is right, she is boss; if we are right, we are boss. Right can rule when we deal with her. If both are right we know no boss," and just so long as right rules there'll be no need of a boss. We're strong for right! Let's come back home and close this shop-talk editorial with a bit of wisdom from the Birmingham Age Herald: "The road to success is apt to be a long, hard one, my boy. "Are there no short cuts, father? "Yes, my son! Our pentecostaries are full of men who took the short cuts."

THE WHY OF PROHIBITION.

January 16, 1920, the United States will be dry! The first great nation by the will of the people to take this advanced step in making Democracy safe for the world. There is not a single argument economic or social that can be used in favor of "booze." The home and industry, church and state are loaded from A to Z with unanswerable arguments for a dry nation and a dry world. But we desire here to bring out a hidden fact that explains the why of prohibition. Not only so but it reveals the genius of a people, the soul of a nation. Back in 1914—the first war year—a German of superior ability and training, Professor Kuno Francke with a keen-sighted analysis, gave to us the key that unlocks the mystery of the Pentecost mind as well as the American mind. Now read by words carefully, "In contradiction to this fundamental American trait of self-possession I designate the passion of self-surrender as perhaps the most significant expression of national German character. He loves to surrender to feelings, to hysterics of all sorts; he loves to merge himself in vague and formless imaginings, in extravagant and reckless experience, in what he likes to call living himself out. No one is more prone to forget his better self in this so-called living him self out than the German." There are two compound words in that quotation that are key-words: to-wit, self-possession and self-surrender. In the ratification of the Prohibition Amendment to the Constitution of the United States by a majority of the states in this mighty Union there is clearly and unmistakably revealed the spirit of the nation, the mind of Americanism that wills to give up a selfish, personal desire for the up-building, the undergirding and the stabilizing of the nation. No finer example of self-possession can be found in all history than this. And the more this example becomes a part of our citizenship the greater and more glorious will be the welfare of the citizens and the future of the nation. World-leadership logically and naturally will gravitate to the nation with such a determination, and world-leader to the nation lacking it.

Advertising will play no small part in making Democracy safe for the world, and in making the world safe for Democracy. The genius of Christianity is evident in the advertising of today. The philosophy and psychology that is in and behind modern advertising is a wonder and a joy to the lover of humanity and gives a sure hope of a glorious future. As you come to know the words and deeds of man you come to know man. Man apart from words—those mobile, tumbling, marshalled sounds of the mind—is an animal. The finer the form of expression the finer must be the former of that expression. In writing, in singing, in speaking we give a part of our inner self. A word is an outward sign of an inward work—of grace or hate. A double-page ad. in a national journal is headed with this call, "Forward, No Halting!" The same concern in another journal supplements that with this even better call, "Forward With Our Faith!" The old adage says, "He who hesitates is lost." That is true in more senses than one. PUBLIC OPINION

Crying Need of Wichita Falls: The Public School Problem.

To The Times:

As a member of the Board of Education, I certainly appreciate the awakened interest of the people in the school situation. Many valuable and timely suggestions have been offered, since my first article and some of our people, not as many as we could wish, however, have opened their homes to our teachers. Every one has been ready and willing to help and many have voluntarily said they would contribute financially to assist in running this term out to its usual length. In answer to the valued communication of "Citizen" a few days ago I wish to say that I believe the board will follow his suggestion, and, as an early date, give the people who desire to help, an opportunity to do so. The pressing need of the immediate future can only be met by a general and patriotic contribution of the people. When the taxes for the last year were assessed, no man expected such a vast increase in population, and no one foresaw the coming of such living conditions as confront us now. When the annual contracts were made with our teaching force, although we all realized that their salaries were low, yet we had no idea, and neither had they, that the price of rooms and board in the city would scale the lofty heights they have now reached and all thought there would be a margin of profit in the business of teaching that would at least enable our faithful forces to have enough money to spend their summers at the norm or have a few weeks holiday with their home folk. I want to again call upon the good people of the city, and especially the good women, interested in the schools, to take teachers into their homes to board, at reasonable rates. They are being crowded out of their usual boarding houses by new people coming in who are able to pay better prices and until the Y. W. C. A. building is built they must be taken into the homes of the people. They cannot pay the boom-time boarding-house prices and should not be expected to do so. Some of the most excellent homes in Wichita Falls have already been tendered and I am sure there will be others. The people can usually be depended upon to do the right thing in this sort of an emergency. As to the future, it is clear that the resources of the board must be greatly augmented. Not only is this true, as to the maintenance fund, but we must have more school houses, too, to keep up with the growth of the city. Already our high school building is inadequate and if the influx of population continues for another six months as it has been in the last six months (and there is every reason to believe that it will continue to grow instead of diminishing), we will be compelled to have another high school here. It ought to be built at once, in fact, for there is every reason to believe that our population will grow by leaps and bounds in the present year. Then the people of the North Side have suffered long for relief, which was instead of being granted, but on account of a disastrous fire and litigation growing out of the insurance money, they have not yet gotten. The Board of Education long ago promised the Board of Education one of the "public squares" over on the north side, if we would build a school house on it and if ought to be done right away, for there is a large population on the north side needing a school. Another school is badly needed on the south side of the town also, not only to accommodate the people there, but to relieve the crowded conditions at the Austin school, now so full that the best results cannot be attained. In addition to these the present indications are that the incoming children of Southland addition will have to have a new building for neither the Austin nor the Alamo can hold any more. So I will say right now that the people of the city may expect, at no distant date, not only a large increase of taxes for school purposes, but a bond election of no inconsiderable proportions to meet these conditions. The busiest and best built city in Texas cannot afford to be behind the foremost in educational facilities and I trust the present interest will not be suffered to lag until these problems are all solved in the "Wichita Way." P. A. MARTIN.

Bedtime Stories

(By Howard R. Garis)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND MR. CHUCK.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she stood in the doorway of the hollow stump bungalow one day and watched the bunnies rabbit uncle gentleman starting to hop across the snow-covered fields. "Oh, I'm just going to look for an adventure," said Uncle Wiggily, "and also see if I can find out how much more winter we're going to have, so as to tell about getting in any more coal."

"Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane. "How can you tell how much more winter there is going to be?" "I can't, for sure," replied Mr. Longears. "But you know tomorrow is Candlemas Day, and, as I told you, if a bear or groundhog or woodchuck (which last two animals are the same) sees his shadow on Candlemas Day there may be six weeks more of winter. If it is cloudy and he doesn't see any shadow in the sun, why we may have but four weeks more."

"So, I thought I'd go call on Mr. Stubbail, the brown bear gentleman, or Mr. Whitewash, the Polar bear, or Mr. Chuck, the father of Woodie and Waddie, the woodchuck boys, to see if I can find out whether any of them expect to go out and see their shadow in the woods tomorrow."

"Oh, that will be a good idea," said Nurse Jane. "Then you can come back and tell me."

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, and away he started over hill and dale, through the woods and over the fields to where Mr. Stubbail, the brown bear father of Noddie and Beckie lived. "Hello! Who's there?" called a voice from inside the hollow tree where Mr. Stubbail lived during the winter. "This is Uncle Wiggily Longears," was the answer. "I called to see if you are going out to look for your shadow in the sun tomorrow."

"Oh, ho hum!" yawned Mr. Stubbail, lazy like. "No, Uncle Wig, which excuse me for calling you, shortlike, I don't believe I'll go out. It's too nice and warm in my hollow log. Let Jack Frost make any kind of winter and as much more of it as he pleases. I'm not going to look for any shadow."

"And then Mr. Stubbail began to snore again. "Dear me!" thought Uncle Wiggily, "this isn't at all right. I must go see Mr. Whitewash."

"He found the big, nice, white shaggy polar bear in his cave of ice, tossing up snowballs in his play. "No," said Mr. Whitewash, comfortable like, "I don't believe I shall go out tomorrow. Winter may last as long as it likes for all of me. I'm not going to look for my shadow."

"Then I must try Mr. Chuck, the groundhog gentleman," thought the bunnies, and he can tell me what the weather will be so I can tell about ordering more coal. I'll go call on him, and at the same time, I can see Woodie and Waddie."

Another school is badly needed on the south side of the town also, not only to accommodate the people there, but to relieve the crowded conditions at the Austin school, now so full that the best results cannot be attained. In addition to these the present indications are that the incoming children of Southland addition will have to have a new building for neither the Austin nor the Alamo can hold any more. So I will say right now that the people of the city may expect, at no distant date, not only a large increase of taxes for school purposes, but a bond election of no inconsiderable proportions to meet these conditions. The busiest and best built city in Texas cannot afford to be behind the foremost in educational facilities and I trust the present interest will not be suffered to lag until these problems are all solved in the "Wichita Way." UNCLE WIGGILY AND MR. CHUCK.

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she stood in the doorway of the hollow stump bungalow one day and watched the bunnies rabbit uncle gentleman starting to hop across the snow-covered fields. "Oh, I'm just going to look for an adventure," said Uncle Wiggily, "and also see if I can find out how much more winter we're going to have, so as to tell about getting in any more coal."

"Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane. "How can you tell how much more winter there is going to be?" "I can't, for sure," replied Mr. Longears. "But you know tomorrow is Candlemas Day, and, as I told you, if a bear or groundhog or woodchuck (which last two animals are the same) sees his shadow on Candlemas Day there may be six weeks more of winter. If it is cloudy and he doesn't see any shadow in the sun, why we may have but four weeks more."

"So, I thought I'd go call on Mr. Stubbail, the brown bear gentleman, or Mr. Whitewash, the Polar bear, or Mr. Chuck, the father of Woodie and Waddie, the woodchuck boys, to see if I can find out whether any of them expect to go out and see their shadow in the woods tomorrow."

"Oh, that will be a good idea," said Nurse Jane. "Then you can come back and tell me."

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, and away he started over hill and dale, through the woods and over the fields to where Mr. Stubbail, the brown bear father of Noddie and Beckie lived. "Hello! Who's there?" called a voice from inside the hollow tree where Mr. Stubbail lived during the winter. "This is Uncle Wiggily Longears," was the answer. "I called to see if you are going out to look for your shadow in the sun tomorrow."

"Oh, ho hum!" yawned Mr. Stubbail, lazy like. "No, Uncle Wig, which excuse me for calling you, shortlike, I don't believe I'll go out. It's too nice and warm in my hollow log. Let Jack Frost make any kind of winter and as much more of it as he pleases. I'm not going to look for any shadow."

"And then Mr. Stubbail began to snore again. "Dear me!" thought Uncle Wiggily, "this isn't at all right. I must go see Mr. Whitewash."

"He found the big, nice, white shaggy polar bear in his cave of ice, tossing up snowballs in his play. "No," said Mr. Whitewash, comfortable like, "I don't believe I shall go out tomorrow. Winter may last as long as it likes for all of me. I'm not going to look for my shadow."

"Then I must try Mr. Chuck, the groundhog gentleman," thought the bunnies, and he can tell me what the weather will be so I can tell about ordering more coal. I'll go call on him, and at the same time, I can see Woodie and Waddie."

OUR TABLOID SERMON

(By The Country Parson.)

"ADS THAT PREACH."

Text: "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in baskets of silver." Prov. 25:11.

Advertising will play no small part in making Democracy safe for the world, and in making the world safe for Democracy. The genius of Christianity is evident in the advertising of today. The philosophy and psychology that is in and behind modern advertising is a wonder and a joy to the lover of humanity and gives a sure hope of a glorious future. As you come to know the words and deeds of man you come to know man. Man apart from words—those mobile, tumbling, marshalled sounds of the mind—is an animal. The finer the form of expression the finer must be the former of that expression. In writing, in singing, in speaking we give a part of our inner self. A word is an outward sign of an inward work—of grace or hate. A double-page ad. in a national journal is headed with this call, "Forward, No Halting!" The same concern in another journal supplements that with this even better call, "Forward With Our Faith!" The old adage says, "He who hesitates is lost." That is true in more senses than one. To live in the past means to live among the dead. The past is gone. The present is won. The time to go is now! Do it now! Begin now! Start now! Today is the only day. Make expectation realization—by going "forward with your faith."

PUBLIC OPINION

Crying Need of Wichita Falls: The Public School Problem.

To The Times:

As a member of the Board of Education, I certainly appreciate the awakened interest of the people in the school situation. Many valuable and timely suggestions have been offered, since my first article and some of our people, not as many as we could wish, however, have opened their homes to our teachers. Every one has been ready and willing to help and many have voluntarily said they would contribute financially to assist in running this term out to its usual length. In answer to the valued communication of "Citizen" a few days ago I wish to say that I believe the board will follow his suggestion, and, as an early date, give the people who desire to help, an opportunity to do so. The pressing need of the immediate future can only be met by a general and patriotic contribution of the people. When the taxes for the last year were assessed, no man expected such a vast increase in population, and no one foresaw the coming of such living conditions as confront us now. When the annual contracts were made with our teaching force, although we all realized that their salaries were low, yet we had no idea, and neither had they, that the price of rooms and board in the city would scale the lofty heights they have now reached and all thought there would be a margin of profit in the business of teaching that would at least enable our faithful forces to have enough money to spend their summers at the norm or have a few weeks holiday with their home folk. I want to again call upon the good people of the city, and especially the good women, interested in the schools, to take teachers into their homes to board, at reasonable rates. They are being crowded out of their usual boarding houses by new people coming in who are able to pay better prices and until the Y. W. C. A. building is built they must be taken into the homes of the people. They cannot pay the boom-time boarding-house prices and should not be expected to do so. Some of the most excellent homes in Wichita Falls have already been tendered and I am sure there will be others. The people can usually be depended upon to do the right thing in this sort of an emergency. As to the future, it is clear that the resources of the board must be greatly augmented. Not only is this true, as to the maintenance fund, but we must have more school houses, too, to keep up with the growth of the city. Already our high school building is inadequate and if the influx of population continues for another six months as it has been in the last six months (and there is every reason to believe that it will continue to grow instead of diminishing), we will be compelled to have another high school here. It ought to be built at once, in fact, for there is every reason to believe that our population will grow by leaps and bounds in the present year. Then the people of the North Side have suffered long for relief, which was instead of being granted, but on account of a disastrous fire and litigation growing out of the insurance money, they have not yet gotten. The Board of Education long ago promised the Board of Education one of the "public squares" over on the north side, if we would build a school house on it and if ought to be done right away, for there is a large population on the north side needing a school. Another school is badly needed on the south side of the town also, not only to accommodate the people there, but to relieve the crowded conditions at the Austin school, now so full that the best results cannot be attained. In addition to these the present indications are that the incoming children of Southland addition will have to have a new building for neither the Austin nor the Alamo can hold any more. So I will say right now that the people of the city may expect, at no distant date, not only a large increase of taxes for school purposes, but a bond election of no inconsiderable proportions to meet these conditions. Wherein We Differ from Mail-Order Houses

The J. C. Penney Company stores extend from the Pacific to the Atlantic oceans and cover twenty-seven states. This remarkable growth has been accomplished in 16 years. Starting in the small town of Kemmerer, Wyoming, store No. 1 is still doing business increasing in volume every year. Every store becomes a permanent institution and is a part of the community where located, paying taxes to your county and state, helping in every public enterprise, giving employment to your own people spending their money at home. The mail order houses having nothing in common, paying no taxes in your community, employing none of your townspeople, are not an asset in any sense, simply drawing the money out with no chance for any returns. Under these conditions we feel that prices being equal we are entitled to your patronage. By helping your home town you are helping yourself. We can and do meet any mail order competition. Give us a fair test; don't pick out one of their leaders and make comparisons. Bring in your complete order and let us figure with you. See the goods and get them when you pay instead of waiting two weeks and buying sight unseen. If you are not a shoes customer of ours you no doubt are paying too much for your foot wear. Advertised brands are all right. We favor advertising, but allow us to call your attention to two numbers in our men's dress shoes. If you are paying ten to twelve dollars for your favorite brand we believe you will agree with us when you examine these shoes, that you are paying too much.

Headed by Experienced Drillers--Own Standard String of Tools FACTS—READ—FACTS

FACT NO. 1—COMANCHE-PATTERSON OIL ASSOCIATION is headed by experienced drillers who have had from 10 to 20 years' experience in the oil fields. They own a standard string of tools and are just completing a 3,700-foot well for T. P. Coal & Oil Co. They will see that our wells are put down as quickly and economically as possible. Owing to the difficulties of securing experienced drillers and standard rigs, many companies are held up several months on drilling contracts. "Where can we get this help?" Our answer, "WE HAVE GOT IT!"

FACT NO. 2—We have 40 acres in one tract, situated 2 1-4 miles east of the FAMOUS DUKE AND KNOWLES GUSHERS on the southwest corner of the W. Ashworth Survey. Phoenix Oil Company is on the adjoining survey to north and drilling at about 1,000 feet. Gladstone, Gulf, Magnolia and Comanche Chief's locations are within about one-half mile of us. DON'T BE FOOLED ON ACREAGE. Our 40 acres only 2 1-4 miles east of the Big Gushers, are worth more than several thousands of acres miles away. One good producer will pay you as a shareholder in COMANCHE-PATTERSON OIL ASSOCIATION big dividends. Why? Because we have our acreage in block to back it up.

FACT NO. 3—We agree to drill at least one well to the depth of the DUKE AND KNOWLES GUSHER oil sands, unless oil is found in paying quantities at a lesser depth.

FACT NO. 4—Drilling to begin immediately after limited amount of stock is sold.

FACT NO. 5—Stock is fully paid and forever non-assessable, and all stock is common and participates equally in the earnings of the Company.

FACT NO. 6—Our 40-acre lease pays us 7-8 royalty.

A BIG DIVIDEND PAYER

VON BERNSTORFF STATES POSITION OF THE GERMANS

DISCUSSES FOURTEEN POINTS PRESCRIBED FOR PEACE BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

ACCEPTED AS OFFICIAL

Says Dominating Note is Found in The Proposition For a League of Nations.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Count Von Bernstorff has given the Associated Press a statement written by him after a consultation with Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantau and other high officials of the German foreign office.

"The question what would Germany consider a peace of right and justice may be answered in this way: 'That we would regard as such a settlement by which the terms of peace laid down in President Wilson's address to congress January 8, 1918, and the principles of settlement in his subsequent addresses, are carried out in true accordance with the high minded and far-seeing spirit in which they were conceived.'

"Among the fourteen points the dominating note in our opinion is to be attributed to point number fourteen, providing for the constitution of a league of nations which Mr. Wilson said on September 9, must be a part and in a sense the most essential part of the peace settlement itself.

third points in Mr. Wilson's program, we are in perfect accord with him. 'Abolish the military service.' 'In connection with point number four it may be mentioned that Germany is about to abolish obligatory military service, which thus far has been considered the cornerstone of her exposed position in Europe. As for point number five we welcome 'Free open minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims' proposed by Mr. Wilson and accepted by the entente governments, and we are looking forward to a discussion of those claims in the peace conference in the spirit outlined by the American president.

"Regarding point number six we are completely disinterested concerning all questions relative to Russia except insofar as they concern our own frontier. Naturally, however, we do not desire a sprang of bolshevism over Germany and other countries.

"As for point number seven we are prepared to pay for all damage done to the Belgian civil population and their property as far as will be proven to have been perpetrated by German troops. We are prepared to pay for point eight, relative to damage done civilians and their property in northern France. As for Alsace Lorraine, we are prepared to pay for all damage done to the French people and their property if through the peace settlement a new wrong should be permitted. That, however, would be the case if the German people were to become French against their will. Likewise, it must be emphasized in connection with point number nine that justice would forbid forcing Germans to become Italian subjects without their free consent.

"Point number ten treating on the question of Austria-Hungary has been subsequently enlarged by the American government, in the sense that the Slav nationalities of the former dual monarchy must be granted not only autonomy but absolute self determination. Justice will demand that the same privilege be accorded to Austrian-Germans. In the same manner we consider points eleven and twelve merely the demand of justice that various peoples of the Balkan peninsula and the Ottoman empire should be given their rights without distinction and the freest opportunity for self determination.

"Concerning all territorial changes to be considered by the peace conference we absolutely rely on point number two of Mr. Wilson's address at Mount Vernon in which he emphasized the fact that settlement of all such questions must be made upon a basis of free acceptance of settlement by the peoples immediately concerned. Indeed, a peace of right and justice presupposes that under guarantee of the league of nations, the people of national self determination will be made superior to all territorial questions.

by the peoples immediately concerned. Indeed, a peace of right and justice presupposes that under guarantee of the league of nations, the people of national self determination will be made superior to all territorial questions.

REPRESENTATIVE CANALES IS OF SPANISH DECENT

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—Representative J. T. Canales, of Cameron county, who has stepped before the public eye in his fight for a measure to recognize and regulate the state ranger force of Texas, is of Spanish descent. He says that his ancestors came to Texas in 1785 and obtained land on which the city of Brownsville now stands by direct grant from the King of Spain. His mother still owns land on this grant, which has been reaped by succeeding authorities.

Representative Canales was born in Kleberg county and attended business college at Austin. He graduated from the high school in Kansas City in 1896, and then went to the University of Michigan where he graduated from the law department in 1899. He is now serving his fifth term in the Texas legislature, having been elected to the 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd and 33rd sessions.

Huge Cypress Log Reposes In River More Than Century

By Associated Press. BEAUMONT, TEX., Feb. 1.—After reposing more than a century in the bed of the Neches river, a huge cypress log will become a part of a modern type ship, under construction by a shipbuilding company here.

When pulled from the river bed workmen found carved on the log the letters "1810." A steel cable was passed under the log and the relic pulled to a mill where it was made into ship timber. There were several sugar holes in the log, and in these were driven oak pegs, which were evidently used in rafting.

OLDEST MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATURE IS EIGHTY

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., Feb. 1.—T. B. King, of Erath county, the oldest member of the House of Representatives, is 84 years old. Representative King says he is the oldest prohibitionist in Texas, substantiating his claim on the grounds that while he was city attorney at Liberty, Mo., in 1869 he voted to abolish the saloons of that city. While this is Mr. King's first term as representative, participation in government affairs is a trait of the family.

MODEL LAUNDRY
709-711 19th Street. Wichita Falls, Texas.

We Told You

In Sunday's Wichita Times that you might count yourself fortunate to get some of the stock in Chase-McCoy Well No. 1. We again make the same statement.

Our 10 acres in the East 1/2 block 88, Red River Valley Lands Sub-division, is large enough FOR FIVE OIL WELLS, amply distanced from each other. Most companies put two acres or less in to their propositions. It will be our plan if our stockholders agree, to drill additional wells out of the production from the first well, after paying satisfactory dividends.

The geological reports on the land northwest from Burkburnett are emphatic and convincing. As bearing out these reports Burk-Waggoner on Block 84, adjoining the block of which Chase-McCoy No. 1 is to be drilled, is reported to have caught oil and gas in a fifteen foot sand at 575 feet the past week. Of course that well will be drilled to the Deep Pay, approximately at 1700 feet, where we also expect to find it.

The 2500 bbl. Humble well on the Herdon, Block 88, which came in Sunday, is 2 1/4 miles southeast of our 10 acres. The Marine, 700 to 800 bbls., is 2 1-3 miles southeast of our tract. Several deep wells are nearing the sand in our section of the field.

The members of Chase-McCoy Syndicate are sufficient guarantee that you will get a square deal in Chase-McCoy Well No. 1, capitalized at $75,000, stock $100.00 a share, unincorporated. They are: Fred Chase of Quanah and Wichita Falls, well known newspaper publisher in Texas since 1891; F. L. McCoy, cashier Farmers State Bank, Burkburnett, well known in banking circles in Dallas and other Texas cities; L. H. Squires, vice president Farmers State Bank, Burkburnett, and several years Texas State Bank examiner. Mr. Squires is well known by nearly every banker in Texas. And the Farmers State Bank of Burkburnett is trustee for the stockholders in this well. Don't that look good to you?

With acreage for five wells without crowding, you can readily figure for yourself what your stock in this proposition will be worth even on a measly little small well of 200 bbls daily production. AND WHAT WILL IT BE WORTH—1000-BBLS. DAILY, PER WELL?

The time to buy your stock in Chase-McCoy Well No. 1, is NOW. Don't wait till the well is nearing completion and expect to get it for $100. Some things won't wait for the slow thinker. A good oil proposition is one of them, and THIS IS IT.

LONDON PRESS IS NOT SATISFIED WITH PLAN FOR GERMAN COLONIES

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Friday, Jan. 31.—The comment of the London morning newspapers regarding plans for the disposition of the German colonies displays a continuance of dissatisfaction in many quarters. The Post accuses the British delegates in Paris of weakly acquiescing in the abrogation of British sovereignty. Referring to the statement from Paris that President Wilson objects to the word "annexation" the newspaper says: "If a word is the only cause for a difference and if the annexation of German territories is not justified by such precedents as the occupation of the Philippines, there is doubtless room for accommodation. But the idea of making the British government the servant of an international superior is an idea the British people will not endure."

The Post also thinks it necessary to "correct the tendency in some quarters—not American—to regard President Wilson as the source of authority and the law giver." It reminds its readers that the President is merely a delegate to the conference on equal terms with the others.

The Express declares that Germany deliberately gambled the colonial empire she had against the world empire she hoped to have and lost. "We never heard that she proposed in the event of victory to hand over conquered French and British possessions to a lot of neutral, inexperienced gentlemen in frock coats," the newspaper says.

The Graphic, contending that Great Britain is content to recover from the aggressor such compensation as the latter can be made to pay, says: "When the United States defeated Spain she annexed Spanish possessions without making any noise about the matter."

The Chronicle, while approving the mandatory plan, says: "It is the counsel of perfection rather than of necessity, and if some governments remain blind to its merits, it is not a case where they can be cudgelled into seeing them."

The Mail, noting that the arrangements are officially described as provisional, assumes they may be modified in the future and says that in the process of modification the opinion of the dominions will certainly be considered, with assurance of Great Britain's sympathy and support.

Bradford Well in Stephens County Making 1400 Daily

Special to The Times.
FORT WORTH, TEX., Feb. 1.—In a consensus of opinion that the oil wells should not be returned to Germany, add: "But to press unduly the claims of this of that country to their control."

The Bradford No. 1 in Stephens county is making 1400 barrels daily. It is located on section 67, block 6, of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. survey of Stephens county.

The Winston No. 1 of the Texas Company in Stephens county is reported to be standing 2500 feet in oil. Neither of these wells is said to open up much new territory.

The Stoker No. 3 of the Texas Company, which was reported in Thursday as around 1800 barrels has either fallen off or the production of the original estimate of the production was far too high. It was reported Thursday night to be making not more than 800 barrels. The stoker is an important well for Stephens county, it does not open up and great stretch of territory but holds a better face on a territory that had begun to look bad. It is located about three quarters of a mile north of the J. O. Curry No. 1 of the Texas Company which has not proven very successful. That puts the Stoker some distance north of the nearest production.

The No. 1 Grosschule of the Texas Company, which is some north of the Stoker, is nearing the critical depth. If this should come a good producer it will give a north and southwest trend in the Stephens county sand that will mean a big extension to the field.

Not Discouraged Over Failure To Increase Output

Special to The Times.
FORT WORTH, TEX., Feb. 1.—Instead of being discouraged over the failure to get further production in drilling deeper the Bailey deep test in Brown county, the trade here is more hopeful and it is reported leases again have taken a jump on the theory of the operators that there is a deep-seated which has not yet been encountered which will have paying production.

Proof that there was no oil in the sand which has been drilled through leads them to believe that the present showing of oil and gas in the well is from some other source.

WILL A MAN ROB GOD?

Ponder the question with which this paid advertisement begins.

Malachi was in earnest when he delivered God's message to the people of his day to deal honestly with Jehovah. Many men then as many men and women of today try to rob and succeed in robbing God of His royalties as they would not attempt to rob their fellow tradesmen.

You have robbed God. "Wherein have we robbed God?" you ask. In tithes and offerings.

You've cheated God out of His royalties. You have made money and have not considered your obligations to pay one-tenth of your profits for the extension of His work. In addition you are to make offerings.

One-Tenth royalty is the very least you should pay God for giving you life, liberty and the opportunities to pursue happiness. This is not a new idea but is older than the Mosaic law.

But one-tenth money royalty is not enough. You owe Jehovah more. "Ye are not your own" wrote Saint Paul, "For ye have been bought with a price. Therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's."

Denying your obligations to God does not free you from them. You may close your eyes to the messages intended for you in the Bible and stop your ears to the pleadings and warnings of loved friends or devoted preachers. Ostrich like you may stick your head in the sands of indifference, but you can't get away with it.

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent, because He hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness by that Man whom He hath ordained; whereof He hath given assurance unto all men, in that He hath raised Him from the dead."

Jehovah could force His will upon you. And you would obey. He could deprive you of the necessities of life. And you would cry to Him as desperately in your need as you thoughtlessly ignore him in your prosperity. God calls upon you, however, through the preachers of old whose holy words are recorded in the Bible and through the greatest of all preachers—the Savior Himself, Jesus Christ the only Potentate the King of Kings and Lord of Lords who sits at the right hand of God—that you turn from your sin and live.

Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say: wherein have we robbed Thee? In tithes and offerings.

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse—and prove me herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground—saith the Lord of hosts. (Malachi 3:8-10)

Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate; Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come that they may lay hold on eternal life.—(1 Tim. 6:17-19).

You can not cheat God in the long run. "The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof." Nothing belongs to you. You owe all to God. He permits you to act as trustee for Him in some of the temporal affairs of this life. The day of reckoning will come and you will have no dividends coming to you in the hereafter unless you are now taking stock in Heaven.

God is making a deep test of your life and love. If there is not the showing of the oil of response after the long expensive deep test to which every one of us is subjected in this life, then depend upon it, that as sure as oil men turn away from a dry hole, so the Great Judge will turn away from you and reject you and say "Verily, verily, I say unto you I know you not."

But if you show after that deep test the signs of the oil of loving obedience and thoughtful worship, be assured that you will hear the welcome message: "Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

It is up to you. You owe God all. You are and have been robbing Him. He wants you to love Him and serve Him with a whole heart, a willing mind and an open check book. If you do you will experience Heaven on earth and more Heaven hereafter. If you don't you will be separated from God here and hereafter for ever and ever.

Pay your debts to God. Accept LIFE.

For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life but the wrath of God abideth on him. How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them which heard Him.—(John 3:16; 3:36 and Hebrews 2:2).

WE WILL BUY OR SELL RED BANK OIL

Thousands of acres of the choice leases on 17 of the best structures in Texas and Oklahoma.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of drilling equipment, casing and liquid assets.

Acreage worth millions and constantly jumping in value. All selected by one of the leading geologists of the country.

Managed by Successful Oil Operators

The President of Red Bank, H. T. Lamb, is one of the old-time operators of the oil business, has made a great fortune in it, and as driller, contractor, producer and refiner, has a record of unflinching success.

The Vice President, F. Julius

Fohs, is a geologist whose clients have in five years made over a hundred million dollars, whose own oil interests make him immensely wealthy. His big geological force have examined over 11,000,000 acres in the oil fields and discovered twenty new pools.

Cool business judgment and analysis of every factor is just as essential in your oil investments as in your every day business.

Red Bank is beyond the gambling stage. Each of its producing wells is the first one on leases of 160 acres or more, so the Company has a hundred locations or more sure for big production.

This stock has a wide market.

You can sell it as well as buy it on short notice. Why not buy with part of your profits a permanent security, that will double in value and double again and for twenty years be worth more and pay bigger dividends each year?

PRODUCTION: Wells now completed prove Big Acreage in Four Fields

Net Income $300,000 a Year

From these wells alone at present capacity reasonably and conservatively assured

HUGE PROFITS ALREADY REALIZED NOT YET REFLECTED IN PRICE OF STOCK

You are accustomed to capitalizations of $5,000 and $10,000 per acre for proven territory, and they are not unreasonable. Red Bank is capitalized on the basis of but little more than five hundred dollars per acre, as there is outstanding approximately only two million common of one dollar a share par value, and half a million preferred. Although enormous prices were paid for some leases and all the property was high class and costly, the company has refused ten times its investment for large parts of its acreage.

Red Bank Oil was financed in New York among multi-millionaire captains of industry by Mr. Pettigrew of this firm. We have been remarkably fortunate in securing a block from a Western interest at a very low price. Red Bank is an investment for clear thinking, conservative business men, who want sound convertible securities. The wells are coming in. There is no long period of waiting. Development is just at the stage when the stock is safe, but the big leap in values will still take place.

We deal in the stocks of established producing oil companies. We offer a small block of Red Bank as an unequalled opportunity. It will make big and quick profits.

TREMENDOUS TEXAS HOLDINGS

Over 1,500 acres in Texas, not just acreage, but every lease selected by a geologist of international reputation. Each lease the choicest of the dome on which it lies, many of the best structures in the Counties of Brown, Grayson, Coleman, Comanche and Eastland. This acreage is increasing in value every day. This week the Parrack well, the first test on the structure North of Eastland, hit the top of the sand and is flowing 200 barrels a day. Will be drilled in soon and looks like a big gusher. Red Bank holds sixty acres better located for big wells and close to it. This lease alone would make the stock a good bet for profits of five to ten for one.

SIX MORE RED BANK WELLS NEARING THE DEEP SANDS

One well is drilling at 2,000 feet, has one good shallow sand well, and in the deep sand should get a gusher. Has production within half a mile on three sides. 160 acres.

Another is drilling at 2,500 feet, on perfect structure has gone through two good sands which would make profitable wells, and is near a 3,000-barrel well. This lease is over 120 acres. This is the first well on it.

One other well is cementing casing above the sand and is within 200 feet of where the Red Bank got a Hundred Million Foot gas well, blowing down the derrick, blowing out the casing and blowing holes in the cotton fields a half a mile away. Care will be taken so this second well can be put through the gas, and it may be one of the biggest wells in the country. 620 acres.

Another well at the top of the sand shot over the derrick and will be drilled in within two weeks, pipe line is being laid and tankage built. This is the first well on a 160-acre lease, and proves twenty locations.

Six miles west of Cushing, in the center of Red Bank's 320 acres its test well is making a maximum of 22,000,000 feet of gas daily, the output contracted to the Oklahoma Natural at 6c per 1,000 feet. This big gas is in the top of an oil sand at about 2,600 feet. The well is making also 3,000,000 feet of gas and spraying oil from an upper sand. This shallow gas is being separated through a Braden head and sold to drilling wells on surrounding leases. In Cushing wells up to 5,000 barrels and 10,000 barrels are usual below this big gas, and this lease is almost certain to produce millions of barrels of oil in addition to millions of dollars worth of gas. U. S. Geological Survey pronounces this the best dome between Cushing and Glen Pool. Adjoining acreage held by the Prairie, Roxanna, Magnolia and the Gypsy.

In Oklahoma the Red Bank dome, surrounded by four of the best oil properties in the world, within two miles of wells frequently over 1,000 barrels, within three miles of the famous Byrd Graham well, which came in 16,000 barrels initial, is regarded by many geologists as the finest undeveloped lease in North America. The Red Bank well here is down eleven hundred feet and should be finished in February. This one well may send stock to many times its present price.

When you have made this investment you are in on the ground floor of one of the great producing oil companies.

We offer Red Bank at this price, not just to get money but to get clients and friends. Every man who gets Red Bank now will in ninety days be driving it home to his friends that the quickest action and the biggest real profits are the stocks we pick. We want as many of that kind of friends as we can get. The Red Bank we can deliver at this price is very limited. We will not sell more than 1,000 shares to any one man, and we reserve the right to return your money if it arrives too late.

Why We Chose The TEXAN

We have carefully watched the TEXAN car and truck for the past year, and have been thoroughly convinced by their exceptional performance under the most exacting conditions, they are the leaders in the medium priced class.

Each unit comprised in the construction of both car and truck are standard, having been thoroughly tried and tested and adopted by the majority of leading cars, far more in price.

Again—the factory being located right here in Texas affords service that cannot be equalled.

To gether with the wonderful mechanical construction is the graceful stream-line body—deep upholstery and elegant finish.

Before you contemplate the purchase of a car or truck, let us confirm our statement with a demonstration.

The TEXAN built in Texas to meet Texas and general Western road conditions—no sand too deep, or oil field going too rough.

They possess substantial dignity of appearance and combine ELEGANCE with ECONOMY—wherever sold they secure distinction, durability and permanency.

The supremacy of TEXAN cars and trucks stands out clearly and easily convinces you the master designers of the Texas Motor Car Association with their exceptional manufacturing facilities, have interpreted the needs of the Southwest in motor car and truck construction.

TEXAN cars and trucks are made of the best material obtainable—they are simple and reliable—as speedy and sturdy as modern engineering knows how, and their stamina assures you of constant readiness.

We are willing to stake our reputation and future on each TEXAN. Give this car and truck a chance to prove to you today and for a long time to come, the TEXAN is the best and biggest buy in the market.

It is the value of TEXAN cars and trucks themselves that makes the Texan Agency such a profitable proposition, and at the price, TEXAN cars and worm-driven trucks are not equalled by any other make.

Exclusive territory is rapidly being taken—if you are interested in a real profit-making agency proposition where the character and price lessens the selling resistance, write or wire us immediately.

Changing Over to a Peace Basis Is Well Under Way

In discussing after-the-war financial conditions in their monthly business letter, the National Bank of Commerce notes that "the changing over of the main activities of the country from a war to a peace basis is proceeding with remarkable smoothness and a lack of friction that is most encouraging."

"In labor circles there has been no dissatisfaction worth mentioning and workers relieved from war industries are being absorbed by general business. It is naturally to be expected that there will be here and there a labor surplus but this will be temporary and the many necessities for national development in almost every line will find work for all."

"The work on the farms. The part played by the millions of men, women, boys and girls on the farms of the country during the war was, as is well known, one of the principal factors in bringing about the success of the cause of civilization."

"The first year of our participation witnessed the nation's record for acreage planted—283 million acres of the leading cereals, potatoes, tobacco and cotton as compared with 181 million for the preceding year and 248 million for the five year average, 1910-1914."

"The food products of the country last year reached a very high level. Corn, while somewhat less in quantity than in 1917, was greatly superior in quality, while wheat came within one of beating its highest previous record by showing a yield of 1.1 million bushels as compared with 650 million in 1917 and 636 million in 1916."

"The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that the total production of cotton in the United States for the 1918-1919 season will amount to 5,595,529,000 pounds, equivalent to 11,700,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. The total production in 1917 was 11,302,375 bales; in 1916, 11,449,920 bales; in 1915, 11,191,820 bales, and in 1914, 16,134,930 bales."

"Texas led in production in 1918 with 2,580,000 bales and Georgia was second with 2,100,000 bales. South Carolina and Mississippi each produced over one million bales, the figures being 1,500,000 and 1,210,000 respectively. Florida made the smallest contribution with 25,000 bales. The price per pound as of December 1, 1918, was slightly lower in most states than for 1917, though the general average was very little less, being 27.6 cents per pound as compared with 27.7 cents for 1917."

"The United States now holds the greatest gold reserve of any country in the world, the total being close upon three billion dollars. The bank of Russia claims to stand second and according to a return dated September 25, 1917, it held over a billion and three-quarters. That, however, was over a year ago and it is impossible to say how conditions are at present. France holds the third largest stock of gold, the total being some-"

THE BIG BURK COMPANIES ARE MAKING RECORD

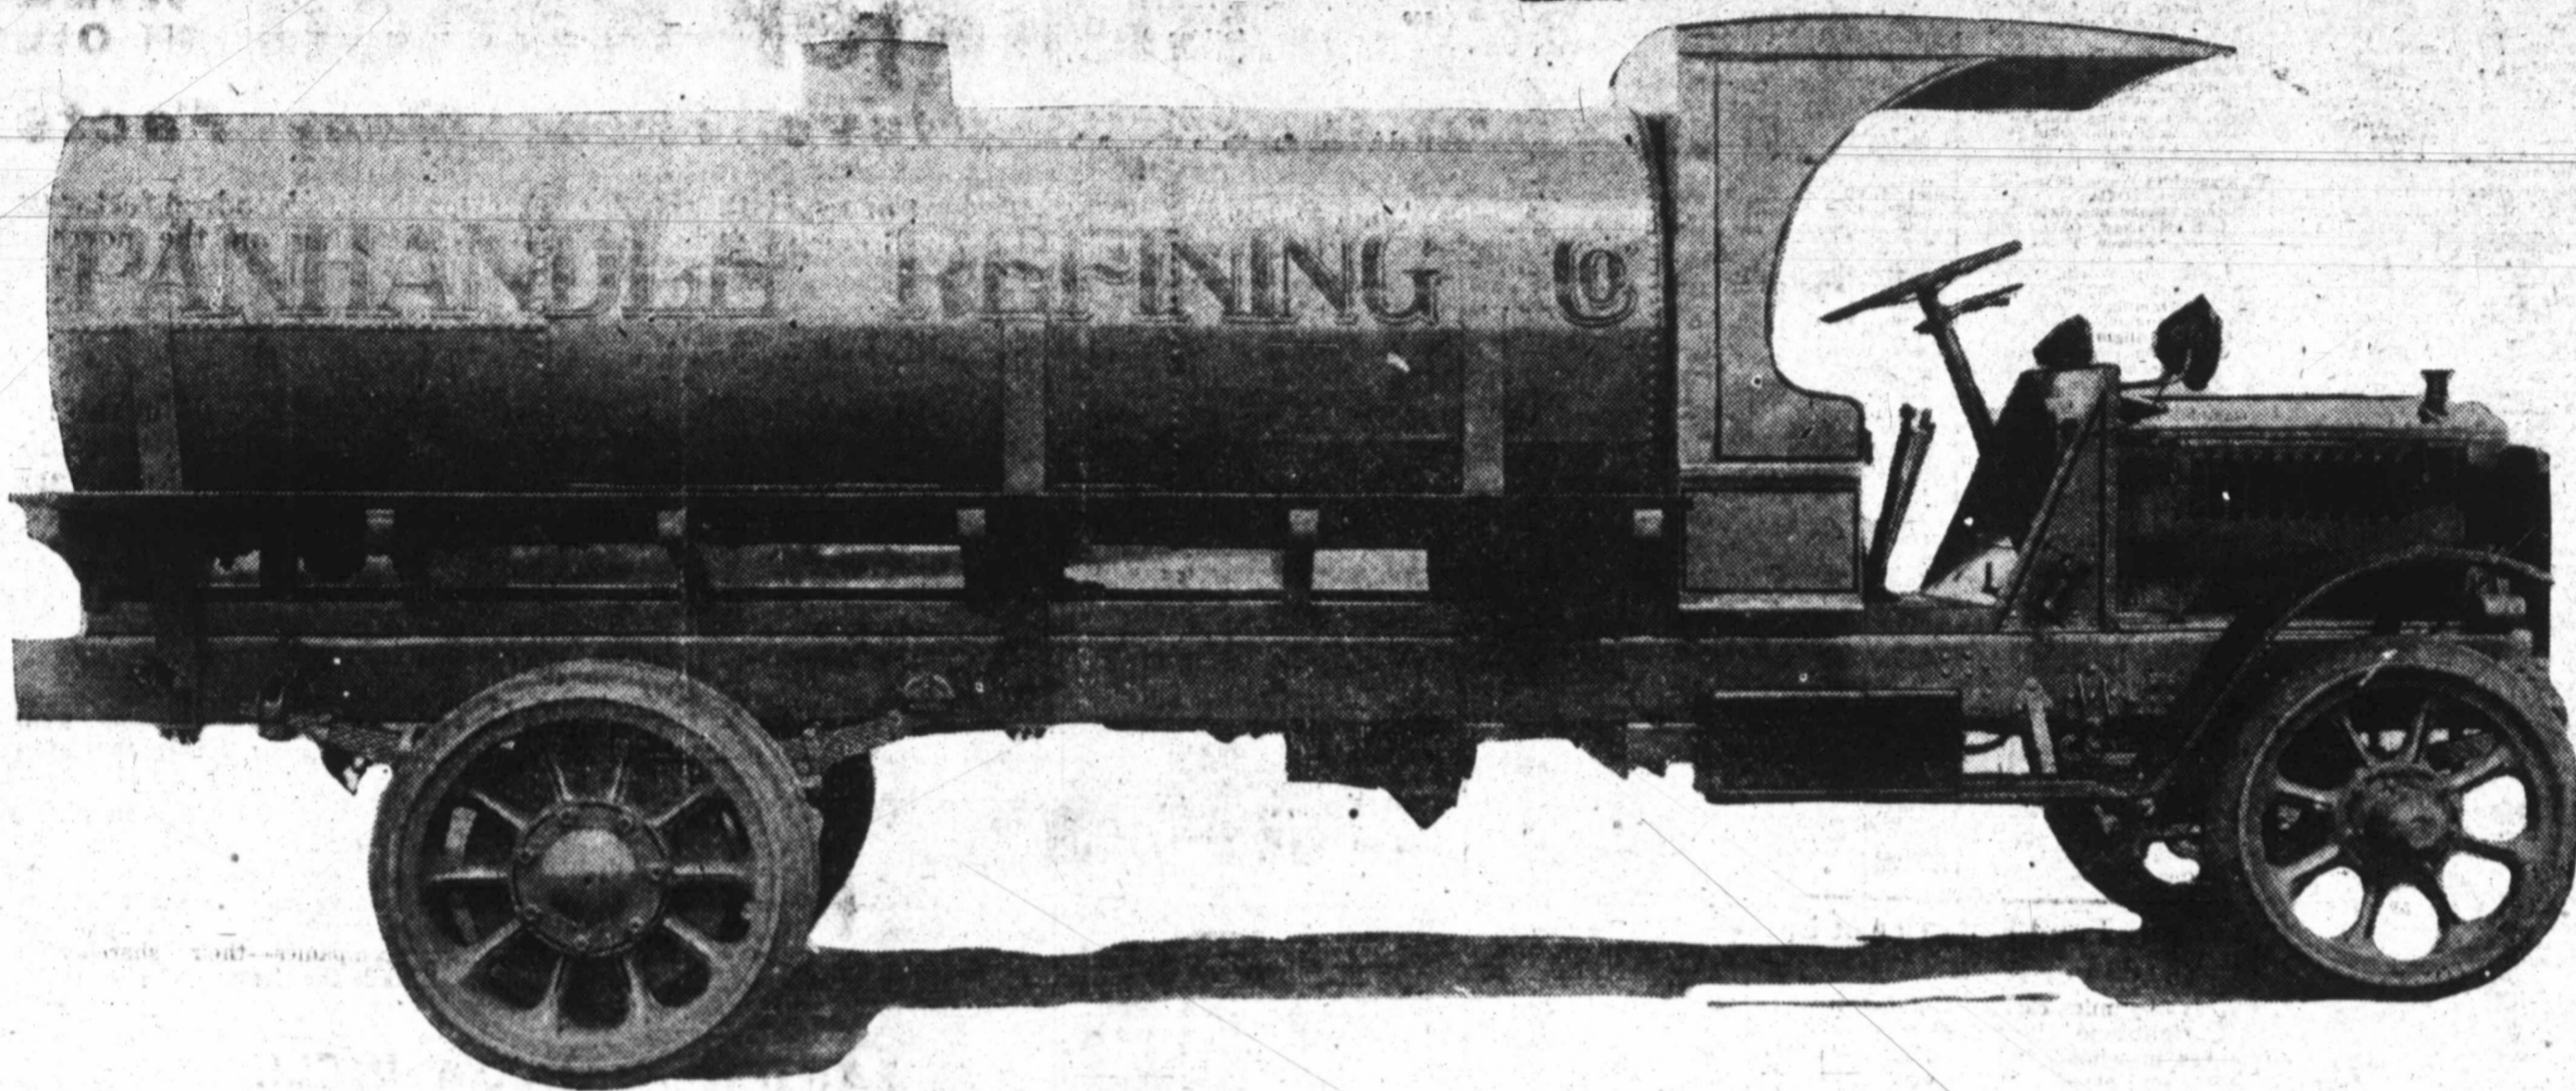

POLICY OF SECURING ONLY PROVEN LOCATIONS SUCCESSFUL. The Big Burk Companies operating in the Burk Burnett field are making a remarkable record with one success following another in quick succession. The policy of the management has been, and is, to secure only proven locations for these companies in the best parts of the field regardless of cost. That investors prefer investing in smaller acreage where a big well is practically assured is proven by the Big Burk successes. Big Burk No. 1 is now producing on south half of Block Two, Witham addition, and a second well is to be drilled. No. 2 on the Harbin is on the sand and settling camp. No. 3 on the Van leave just across the road north from the big Marine-Horne wells is preparing to drill. This company also has 2 1/2 acres across the river in direct line of production. This stock is going fast and promises to be the best of the Big Burk companies.

The Burk-Barwise Oil Company. Offers stock in five acres out of block 103 of the Van Cleave based on a capitalization of $65,000. The shares are $50.00. This lease appeals to us as being among the safest propositions on the market. It is in proven territory, but a stones throw from the Helen-Elizabeth, the Horn, Sentinel and Marine Wells, and in direct line with the Burkbridge now drilling at about 1300 feet. The directors are: M. H. Barwise, D. J. Carithers, H. E. Crain, U. Y. Crain, H. T. Ballard, R. H. Hall, J. S. Geroch, Ed Howard, B. D. Donnell, J. T. Gibson, T. H. Cook, J. E. Cook, R. G. Fuqua and J. B. Marlow. These men are all residents of the city and well enough known to insure careful attention to the business of the company and a fair deal to the stockholders. The company is in effect a mutual partnership with a desire to take advantage of the wonderful opportunities offered in the Burkburnett field. We expect to get oil or we would not go into it. If our friends in the city, or throughout the state desire to take a chance with us we shall be glad to have them with us. We do not believe that any man or company can absolutely guarantee oil under any piece of land, but we have selected that which seems to us to offer the greatest measure of surety, and basing our judgment on the success of others in this particular section, we have put our money into it. We have a number of agents selling stock who will be glad to call and explain the location, etc., or Mr. Rhea Howard, at the Times office or Bullard and Calvert, 808 1/2 Ohio Ave., will be glad to take your subscription.

Look at This! Texas Van Cleave. 2 acres on the famous Priddy Van Cleave acreage, practically offsetting Marine No. 2 within 100 feet of the Helen-Elizabeth, Horne No. 1 and No. 2, Sentinel, Adams and other big wells whose stock is selling at from 3 for 1 to 10 for 1. Since we are right up against such wells as these. A Good Well Seems Certain and It Has the Right Men Behind It. Don't Wait Buy Now. While You Can Get It at Par. YOU "Munger Ranch" WILL KNOW THAT GET OIL Because We Have These Many Facts

Black Diamond, half a mile east of us, is in—Munger Ranch well, two hundred feet west of us, is a flowing well—Watkins well is east of us—Park Pool adjoining on the north—these are only starters—read on

THIRTY ACRES—OVER THE SAND

The holdings of the Munger Ranch Oil Company consist of thirty acres—all on the famous Munger Ranch—and geologists and experienced oil operators all proclaim that this acreage is directly over the main flow. Deep tests are being drilled all around Iowa Park—this should be conclusive evidence that a 30-acre company such as the Munger Ranch Oil Company, will be a rare organization in this field in thirty or forty days.

CAN OIL BE MORE SURE?

With thirty acres on which to drill, we can pay large dividends on shallow oil alone—and tests in this vicinity have proven that there are four oil sands, one at 83, another at 140, a third at 525, and the fourth at 680 feet. Many companies, knowing the inestimable value of these shallow sands, are operating for shallow oil alone, because they know that they will realize handsome dividends.

DEEP OIL

If you had owned one $100 share in the Fowler Company, you would have been wealthy now. In thirty or sixty days you will again look back in regret, if you fail to take advantage of the Munger Ranch Oil Company's deep test. We are going to drill 1,850 feet if necessary. You can't buy stock in our neighboring companies—their shareholders have placed their certificates in the bank. Munger Ranch stock is going up, up, up. This is the Company for you—this is your opportunity—obey that impulse—order today.

Under the German Heel

(By BRAND WHITLOCK)

(Published by special arrangement with the McClure News Paper Syndicate. Copyright, 1918, Brand Whitlock, under the title "Memories of Belgium Under the German Occupation." All rights reserved. Copyrighted in Great Britain, Canada and Australia.)

The cold weather moderated and under the more characteristic downpour of rain Brussels might have worn its normal external air were it not for the fact that the complexion of the world about us is but the reflection of our own. I had not known, even in Belgium, such days of black care and anxiety. The whole question of my own unpleasant position aside, I sat almost desperately concerned over the fate of the relief-work and weighed by the responsibility of those forty or fifty men in the C. R. B.

I had asked for written assurances that they could leave the country at any time without molestation, and while these were promised they were not forthcoming; oral assurances had been given, it is true, at the Political Department, but with the Germans one never knew; from every interview with them, even when the most express and formal understanding and agreement had been reached, one came away with an uncomfortable feeling of uncertainty, wondering if, after all, Brussels just then, of course, could not have been normal in any event or in any weather.

Gradually during those months and years the physiognomy of the city had changed, like the slow and for long while imperceptible ravages made by some disease on the visage of a friend. The town, once so gay and blithe and abuzzing with life, gradually sadder, now it seemed morose.

We walked or drove about, as of old, avoid of last glimpses of the corners we loved; in the Grand Place on Ash Wednesday, where the women of the flower market had somehow through all vicissitudes clung to their trade, the colors did not seem so bright. The woman whom we patronized was seated in the fog and rain beside great masses of white and mauve lilies, and her smile was only a polite admission of what it once had been. She had once been so buxom, so lively, so gay, so full of instant repartee. One day early in the war, noting a great Flemish brooch at her throat, I had asked, recalling the visit of the German Emperor and the Empress to Brussels, on which occasion the great press had economically given a breast pin to one of the delegation of flower women who came to present her flowers.

"Is that the medal that the Empress of Germany awarded you?"
And the flower woman had retorted:
"Humph! If she had given me anything, I should have sent it back a long time ago, me with two brothers in the Belgian army."

She was more, but said, depressed, and her hollow cough echoed all over the square.
The shops were closed, the people were in rags, the lines at the bookstalls trailed their squalid miseries farther and farther down the street; the doors of the outwards, those posts of charity where the poor had been besieged by throngs of pale and patient women. The Germans had put their mark on everything in the city; and physical grace and beauty had been marred by the sight in German which they had put up at all newstands; only German newspapers and German books were sold there, and illustrated journals with their crude and brutal cartoons with never a touch of humor, by which they were then caricaturing the President and Mr. Taft, and Colonel Roosevelt.

The city was crowded with soldiers en route for the impending butchery, being sent to the shambles like cattle that went lowing down the Rue Belliard. And here were officers, pink and fat, racing in motors or insolently swaggering along the boulevards with an arrogance that was the vulgarity of the parvenu. It was even rumored that Brussels was to be placed in the military district.

There was still no coal to be had, and because of the lack of it the schools were closed. One of the common sights in Brussels during the severe cold weather was the long lines of great rumbling carts filled with coal jolting heavily along the Rue Belliard. The carts were guarded by German soldiers, for the coal was being put to German uses. But running behind there was always a bevy of little children with buckets picking up the lumps that fell from the carts. Usually the German soldiers paid no attention to them, but one afternoon from my window I saw a soldier seize some lumps of coal from his cart. I thought he was going to give them to the children, but instead he threw them viciously at a little girl who ran away in terror from the door of the doorway; the soldier leaped down from his cart and caught the little girl and the little boy with her and soundly cuffed them both.

would follow America's example and break off diplomatic relations with Germany; the Chinese wished to do with me when I went and to do in all things as I did—another expression of the confidence that China has to America as a result of John Hay's honest diplomacy.

And now new problems had arisen with myriad new complications; first of all there was the problem, vital in the circumstances, as to how the ships were to get through the submarine zone to Rotterdam. Nothing could be done until that route could be agreed upon, and to bring the German government and the British government into harmony on this essential point was more than difficult. It had been to Berlin several times, and he came back on Washington's birthday reporting that the German government had refused to yield the point. There was another and ancillary problem; there were 85,000 tons of food stuffs belonging to the C. R. B. in English ports, waiting on this decision. The Germans refused to give these ships safe conduct across the North Sea, and the British were threatening to unload the ships and seize the food. When we told the Germans that they were foolish not to allow this food to cross their infested seas, there were only shrugs of shoulders and:
"Ce sont les militaires!" (It's military orders).

The only suggestion they could offer was that 85,000 tons be shipped to Holland in the regular Dutch packets that piled the North Sea, a task that would have taken years.
There were many alternatives proposed, that the whole work of the C. R. B. be turned over to the Dutch government; that it be turned over to the Swiss government; that a new inter-allied commission be formed; and to each of these there was some insuperable obstacle or objection inherent in the delicacies of the situation. And so, argument and discussion and telegram and cablegrams for days and days, interminable, and no conclusion—the solution would not precipitate.

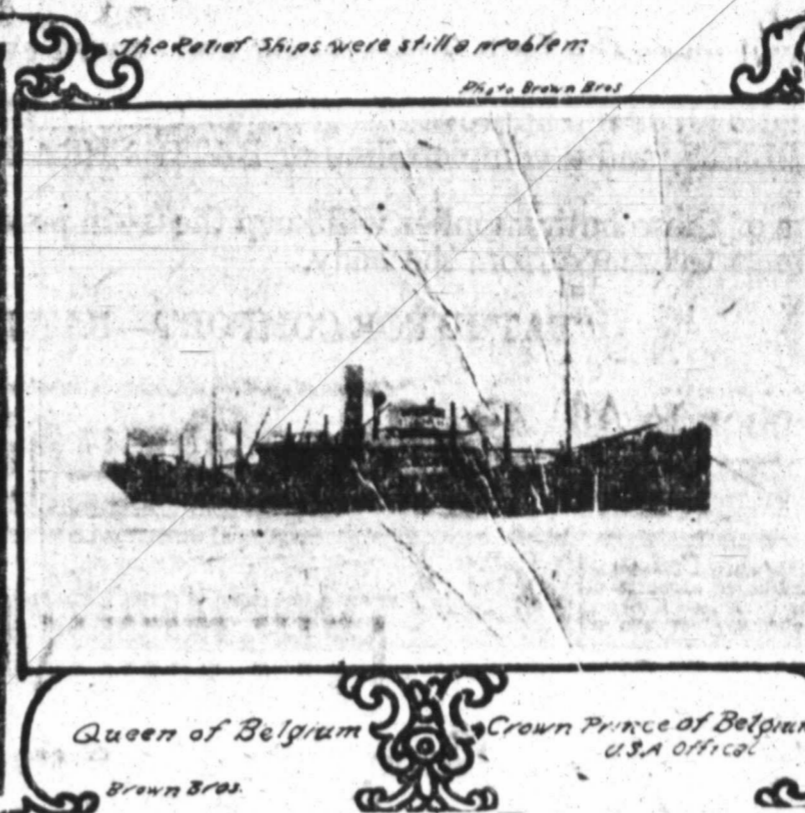

Looking back upon those days I do not know how I could have got through them without the support and sympathy and practical sense of Warren Gregory. I shall be betraying no secret now, I trust, if I say that there were times when he shared my own dark forebodings and was convinced that the men of the C. R. B. might never be allowed to leave Belgium as long as the war lasted.
And yet, all things and all problems one day are settled, and finally we did agree upon a route for the ships. Then there came a telegram saying that the Queen of the Netherlands and the King of Spain had exchanged messages, the result of which was an accord by which they would continue the relief work. The Dutch government had already selected the delegates who were to represent Holland in Belgium; if only remained for Spain to do the same. Thus all the other schemes received their quietus.

There was food enough in Belgium on the first of March to last until the first of May, if only remained for the Germans to the shipment of the 85,000 tons in England belonging to the C. R. B. The situation could be saved. The C. R. B. had 100,000 tons on the seas and had just purchased 100,000 more in New York, and food for Belgium and northern France until September would be over! Villalobar said that the Germans would grant the ships in English ports safe conduct—though confidence in their assurances was somewhat weakened just then by the fact that only a few days before they had torpedoed six ships belonging to the Dutch government which they had promised to allow to leave Falmouth harbor.

Walking one morning down the Montagne de la Cour I met Brohn, Reith, Captain von Schlabach and the first time in my life, Count von Gersky, of whom I had heard so much from the men in the C. R. B. Count von Gersky was what might have been called an officer de liaison between the General Staff in the north of France and the C. R. B. in its work in that region, and he had rendered loyal service to the cause. Mr. Hoover and Doctor Kellogg had always spoken of him with respect. He was a big, fine-looking man who wore a monocle and had a manner that was distinctly English, after his 12 years' residence in London where he had been at the head of the interests of the Hamburg-American line of steam ships. He was smiling and pleasant.
"Shall we have war?" he said at once, and I answered his question with a diplomatic shrug of the shoulders, and as careless as you please as the command. We talked a while there in the street, though rather soberly; the Count said that if we were to abandon the relief, or not to continue to keep it going, the people in the north of France would have to starve, for the Germans had only enough food for themselves.

We watched the spring come once more to Belgium, with pale, melancholy days that would have seemed wholly without hope had it not been for the thought that the great republic in the west was organizing a newer and larger Commission for Relief in Belgium. Our trunks and boxes were all packed and we were ready to leave on a moment's notice, and yet we lived on, as we had lived so long, and had we but known, were destined still to live, sur la brèche (on the brink). And awaiting thus I sauntered about in that sad Brussels, every familiar corner of which wore for me that air of nevermore. And yet the fatigue from which I suffered had grown so great that I had no emotions left for anything, and stopping in one day for a chat with Desambian, an old bookseller, and listening to him expounding to Germans the need of an old ambition to write a history of binding in the Pays Bas—I wished that I could be as much interested in anything on earth as he was in binding.

Belgian Copper For Germany.
Down at the Gare de Luxembourg there were daily long lines of women carrying on their heads the copper batteries, those pots and kettles which they had polished through so many years, which had been furnished and polished by their mothers and grandmothers before them, to make shining masses of gold in Flemish kitchens, taken from them now to be made into munitions with which to kill the husbands and brothers of those women. In the Bois, where the bright new greens were stelaig, there were no smart equipages, no bright toilettes any more, no ladies and gentlemen riding spirited horses, and no lovers courting there; only ragged men in broken sabots, and children, their fingers blue with cold, picking up twigs to make a little fire at home.

One morning, coming back from the Bois, along the Avenue Louise, there near the Place Stephanie, I met my friend de Sincay.
"The Czar had abdicated," he said. "His brother, the Grand Duke Nicholas Alexandrovitch, is regent; there is no constitutional government."
We sat there and discussed the historical sequel, the latest of all the prodigious sequels to the French revolution, in that almost indifferent calm which historical events had bred in us. How the world had changed! Revolutions, the fall of dynasties, the crash of empires, these were but stuff for small talk. An event had to be monstrous to interest us. One heard a big story, as the Journalists say, every hour or two and yet strange and inscrutable irony in things! The very moment in which there was so much news was the one in which censors were at work, and a shortage of that paper in which the journalists would have so loved to print it all!

I walked on, thinking of revolutions; would they come everywhere after the war, as so many were saying: "Care a la democratie apres la guerre!" (Look out for democracy after the war!) exclaimed a man who did not much believe in democracy one evening, shaking a warning finger at the company in the smoking-room. Every one had been predicting a revolution in Germany since the war began, but it had not come, nor would it, said I to myself.
No, it would never come in Germany unless the government ordered it. There they went, those men in field-gray, trailing along the boulevard, with stupid, doglike, bovine expressions, with the sheer occiputs and narrow craniums, their ears thrust out like those of fawns under their little, round skulls.

There was no spirit, no revolt in the air; there was the only country that had not at some time in its history had a revolution—not that revolutions in themselves were good things, but they did at least show independence. They had a little won in 1848, immediately put down. They were tame, doubly mastered and enslaved by Bismarck and Karl Marx, in perhaps unconscious but nevertheless perfect collaboration, one building up the national sentiment within the nation, the other tearing it down in the nations who were its destined enemies, that those nations might become more easily the prey of the ideas of both. What a picture that Heinrich Heine had written of his own people?

"The German is like a slave, who obeys his master without the need of chains or whip. The need work and a simple look suffice. The servitude is in himself, in his soul. Worse than material servitude is spiritual servitude."
Terrible words, but alas, too true! Tame, yes, and docile, yet capable of monstrous brutalities and sanguinary cruelties on weak, unarmed civilians, women and children. To me bitter conclusions had the experiences of those years led me at last.

Except for the Russian lady who found a new expression of snobbish distinction by claiming acquaintance with all the great in the Russian world who were daily reported killed, or imprisoned, or exiled, I think I talked more of the retreat of the German army in the north of France than of any other contemporary event, though no one was quite sure it was a retreat. Brussels insisted that it was, because Brussels liked to think of it as a retreat, but the only results noted were the hordes of refugees from evacuated villages in the north of France who came pouring into the Hainault.

They had fled or two hours' notice in fear and terror, leaving their homes, which were in flames before they could pause for a last look-out them. They were streaming into Charleroi with bleeding feet, grandmothers and grandmothers bearing frightened children with wild, haunted, haggard eyes. Gregory told us that there were 50,000 of them, another vast hegebra of that civilian population that was swept back and forth in tribal wanderings by the bosom of destruction. The Belgian villagers received them with Belgian hospitality; villages of only 500 inhabitants found means of lodging a thousand, and the C. R. B. fed them. And the next morning they were back and forth in that unending struggle.

delight. Freely translated, it was this:
"Him . . . despite the fatigues of the 21st of March. Once or twice already our hopes have been disappointed. What matter? . . . Astronomy is an exact science, and it is mathematically certain.
"His return also is written on the eternal dial of time, and when he makes his triumphal entry into his good city of Brussels, after having waited so long, so impatiently, our joy will be all the greater. That will be the feast of the sun, the feast of the flowers, and the soul of the whole people will commingle with Him."
What unknown writer in that meretricious inspired press had still that patriotism in his soul to write a little poem so cleverly that the stupid German censor never saw the allusion that made all Brussels for the moment happy by its pretty conceit, and buoyed up the hopes, and reaffirmed that faith of which there was imperative need if man was to continue in justice in the universe, in the inevitable coming of that day when the King would return? Whosoever he was, he had his sweet satisfaction, atoning somewhat for the treason his necessities tempted him to commit in writing for their press at all. The liberal unimagined German censor never suspected, and when the authorities had the double meaning explained to them, the newspaper was suspended for its audacity.

But the spring was as tardy as the victory, the smiles faded and the people in the dismal streets wore again the old, moody, preoccupied expression of sadness.
"Volden en beegen!" called the old woman in her still pipe down the Rue de Treves every morning under my windows. Ah, yes! Rags and old bones! To this had the glory of war brought down a world that once was lovely in the springtime and full of new hope each morning.

The Ones Who Own Seanor Shares Will Tell You: "My Shares in the Seanor Oil Association Are Going to Be My Best Investment"

"In buying stock with the Seanor Oil Association, I feel that I showed good judgment.

The concern holds ten acres in Block 56, right in the heart of the world's greatest oil fields—Burkburnett. Less than six hundred feet from us is the Art Hammond well, which recently came in with an estimated production of 800 barrels a day. Eight hundred barrels! You know what that means at the present price of the precious black fluid. And oil experts tell us our land is identical, geologically, with the producers near us."

HARRY S. SANKEY, an oil man of years' experience, has charge of this company. He will supervise the drilling and the financial part of the work.

MARSHALL SPOONTS OF FORT WORTH is attorney for the company, and also trustee of the funds raised on stock sales. He will be responsible for the proper handling of the company's money. With a man of Mr. Spoonst's known honor and high integrity, every stockholder may feel assured that his money will not be wasted or spent carelessly.

LIEUTENANT JAMES C. CREEDEN will handle the sales of stock for the company, assuring the early close of stock sales, and an immediate start on drilling.

Our well is to be drilled with cable tools. Drilling is to start as soon as we are able to obtain material for the completion of the wells. Now is the time to send in your check. Get in on the big developments West before $75,000 companies are put on half acres as they now are on the East. Get in today on a 10-acre company close to the 2000-bbl. Humble well. MUCH INTEREST IN LEAGUE PROPOSAL FOR WICHITA FALLS

WACO HAS ADJUSTED DIFFERENCES BUT TWO TEAMS MAY BE ADDED.

DISCUSSED BY FANS

Thought That Patronage Would Be Sufficiently Liberty to Support League Team.

Although dispatches from Fort Worth deny Thursday's report that Wichita Falls had an opportunity to secure a franchise in the Texas League, baseball enthusiasm has grown in the last 24 hours to a point where it is possible a concerted effort may be made by Wichita fans to obtain such a franchise and to persuade President Walter Morris to restore the Texas League to its former basis as an eight club circuit.

Waco Trouble Adjusted. The Fort Worth dispatch referred to above declared that the report that Wichita Falls would enter the Texas League grew out of trouble between Charles R. Turner, president of the Waco club, and Ellis Hardy, Waco manager. When matters were at a crisis it was suggested that Waco be dropped from the circuit and Wichita Falls substituted.

New Park Essential. A new ball park would be absolutely essential. The old grounds at Wichita Falls are too far out to possess the proper attraction. Leopold believes the old circus grounds across the railroad tracks on Seventh street could be leased at a reasonable rental expense.

Save Proposition Would Pay. "If Wichita will go into baseball in a big way, it will pay big," Mr. Leopold said.

and it is on Sunday and holiday games that baseball always "cleans up" financially. Wichita Falls fans have been bitten again by the baseball cootie. A Texas League franchise would be a big advertisement for the city; a little co-operation, a little gingeer and push and such a franchise may yet be obtained.

Our Methods

We have been asked several times what method we use in our examination of eyes; we use no drugs at all. Only the shadow test to determine the refractive errors and then check our findings with the fogging system, which eliminates all chances of making a mistake. We guarantee entire satisfaction and give more vision with Toric lenses.

An investment such as is offered in the stock of the Victor Refining Company is safe because the oil refining business has proven to be a sure money maker for every concern engaged in it. This company then should be a sure money maker because a plentiful supply of crude oil for refining has been arranged for already, and every element necessary for the successful operation of a large refinery has been considered.
