PRESIDENT ASKS REPEAL OF WAR TIME DRY LAW; ANNOUNCES RETURN OF RAIL LINES

NO DEFINITE NEWS HEARD FROM HAWKER

Now Feared Daring Pair Came to Grief Soon After the Start

OTHERS PLAN FLIGHT

Vimy Bomber Will Fly From St. Johns With Coming Full Moon

LONDON, May 20.—No definite news of the whereabouts of the Sopwith biplane carrying Harry Hawker and Lieut. Commander Mackenzie Grieve having been received here, it was believed in admiral circles early this afternoon that the daring aviators had come to grief soon after they left the shores of Newfoundland Sunday afternoon.

According to all reports, no messages came from the biplane's wireless, not even a note of farewell, and it is believed that Hawker would have sent some messages unless he met with an accident soon after the start.

Off the Irish coast the weather is bad today and there are no further rumors that the biplane machine fell into the sea within sight of land.

In the house of commons last night Josiah Wedgwood and other members severely criticized the government for wanting to provide means for finding Hawker in his flight across the Atlantic.

Captain Elliott declared the country would be the government has been lamentably remiss and especially careless of the honor of the country "and the life of a gallant gentleman."

ST. JOHNS, May 20.—Ships at sea from the American coast to the British Isles swept the air in all directions throughout the night with wireless queries regarding the fate of Harry G. Hawker and Commander Mackenzie Grieve, unheeded from since they left from St. Johns on Sunday afternoon on their unprecedented trans-Atlantic air journey but all radiograms which have reached Cape Race up to this morning from more than twenty vessels were negative. The Sopwith plane had not been sighted and repetition of its call letters "D. K. A." went unanswered.

With the result of Hawker's endeavors in doubt, plans for another prospective race began to develop today similar to that for which Hawker and Frederick P. Raynham were lined up here longer than a month.

The Anglo-American team, Alcott as pilot and Brown as navigator, of the Vimy bombing plane, which is due to arrive here tomorrow, announced that this flight for Ireland would be undertaken with the coming of the next full moon. Alcott today wired to Vice-Admiral Kerr at Harbor Grace for permission to use the flying field of the Handley-Page plant now assembling there for a "take off." Alcott said he would fly from St. Johns to Grace Harbor and there would start with a full load on his trans-Atlantic flight. The Handley-Page will be ready at the same time in the opinion of Admiral Kerr, and a race for what may still prove to be the first crossing is expected to result.

Alcott expressed confidence today that his twin-engined bi-plane, which was built to drop explosives on Berlin, could outstrip the big Handley-Page super-bomber, notwithstanding the latter's four engines.

TEXAS LABOR ENDORSES ROAD AMENDMENT
Beaumont, Tex., May 20.—More than four hundred delegates to the Texas Federation of Labor, representing every section of Texas, by unanimous rising vote this morning went on record as favoring the good roads amendment to be voted on November 4, and pledging the efforts to secure its passage.

WARSAW, Monday, May 19.—The Ukrainian offensive against the Poles has been completely broken, according to an official communique issued today. After hard fighting the Poles occupied Balica and Novosolki. The Ukrainian losses were extremely heavy.

MAY BE MIDDLE JUNE BEFORE TREATY SIGNED

However Will Be Known Earlier Whether Germans Will Sign

OTHERS PLAN FLIGHT COUNTER PROPOSALS

German Answer Expected to Be Voluminous and Will Require Time

PARIS, May 20.—The treaty of peace may not be signed until some time during the middle of June, according to advices from Paris, it probably will be known by June 8, however, whether the Germans will accept or reject the terms of the Allies before the 15 day period given to the Germans to make replies to the terms of the treaty expires on Thursday of this week, it is expected the enemy delegation will submit counter-proposals so voluminous and elaborate that it will take the peace conference until June 1 to frame a rejoinder. After that the Germans, it is said, probably will be given a week to frame their final reply. This will be on or about June 8 and the treaty must be engrossed in final form for signing. The German delegation was called together yesterday by its chief, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, who laid before his colleagues the instructions he received at Spa on Sunday. It is reported that an announcement has been prepared by the Germans, but has been referred to Berlin for approval.

PARIS, May 20.—The German plenipotentiaries will deliver their observations on the peace treaty terms Wednesday of this week. No extension of time for replying has been given them.

The general impression in conference circles is that the Germans will ultimately sign the treaty.

PARIS, May 20.—The German plenipotentiaries will deliver their observations on the peace treaty terms Wednesday of this week. No extension of time for replying has been given them.

BERLIN, May 20 (via London).—The German reply to the peace terms will be handed to the representatives of the Allied and associated powers Thursday, the Tagesspiegel says. The contents of the reply, it is added, will adhere closely to the German version of President Wilson's 14 points.

The 15 days given the Germans to make a reply to the peace treaty will expire Thursday.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Wilson's message to the extraordinary session of congress was read today in the House and Senate with most members in their seats. There was no demonstration in the Senate but members on both sides smiled at the President's mention of the return of the telegraph and telephone properties to private control.

After the reading of the message the House adjourned until tomorrow out of respect for the late Representative Carl C. Vandryke, of Minneapolis. The Senate adjourned at 1:15 o'clock until Friday after the usual flood of bills and resolutions had been introduced.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Wage increases affecting 150,000 textile operatives in New England and other northern states were made public today. In most instances the advance was announced as approximately 15 per cent. Both cotton and woolen mills are affected.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The 90th Division, comprised of national army men from Texas and Oklahoma and several thousand replacements, chiefly from New England, began moving from the area of occupation today for home.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Among special war taxes which the President in his message to congress today suggested should be eliminated are those on water and so-called luxuries, such as expensive articles of clothing and personal equipment, on proprietary medicinal and toilet preparations and on such manufacturers' products as automobile trunks and accessories, watches, sporting goods, chewing gum, candy, camera and camera supplies, firearms, electric fans, thermos bottles and motor boats.

NC-4 REACHES PONTA DELGADA THIS MORNING

Dispatch From Admiral Jackson Reports Safe Arrival

NC-3 BADLY DISABLED

Will Not Be Able to Resume Trans-Atlantic Flight— Hull Leaking

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The naval seaplane NC-4 arrived at Ponta Delgada from Horta at 10:24 a. m., Washington time.

Admiral Jackson's dispatch, filed at 10:25 a. m., Washington time, said: "NC-4 arrived Ponta Delgada 14:24 H. M. T. (10:24 a. m., Washington time). All O. K."

The official report to the navy department from Rear Admiral Jackson showed that the big plane covered the distance of 120 in one hour and 24 minutes or at the rate of more than 55 miles an hour.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The naval plane NC-3 will not be able to resume the trans-Atlantic flight. A message to the navy department early today from Admiral Jackson at Horta said the damage resulting from the buffeting she received when forced to land while nearing the Azores had definitely put her out of the race. Her hull was leaking.

HOBA, AZORES, May 20.—10:10 a. m.—A series of squalls, which seemed to chase one another over the nearby mountains and along the course between Horta and Ponta Delgada, delayed the departure of the seaplane NC-4 for Ponta Delgada this morning.

COBLENZ, Saturday, May 17.—The 90th Division, comprised of national army men from Texas and Oklahoma and several thousand replacements, chiefly from New England, began moving from the area of occupation today for home.

THINKS SENATE WILL RATIFY THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democrat of the Senate foreign relations committee, predicted in a statement today that the Senate would ratify the covenant of the League of Nations and that the necessary majority vote to amend or separate it from the peace treaty would be obtained.

Senator Hitchcock has been the chief spokesman for the administration throughout the long senate controversy over the League of Nations and his statement generally was regarded as a reply to that issued last night by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader who said the league covenant was not acceptable to the majority of the senate.

"The supporters of the peace treaty in the senate are confronted by divided forces," said Senator Hitchcock. "First there are those who would like to eliminate that article of the treaty which established the League of Nations because they are radically opposed to any League of Nations under any circumstances. Second, there are those who profess to support the League of Nations but insist on amending some of the provisions to meet their own particular views."

"Either of these plans to succeed must receive the support of a majority of the senate. In other words the opponents of ratification can beat the minority by securing one-third of the votes of the senate to reject the treaty but in order to amend it they must secure a majority of the votes of the senate."

"It would require a majority of votes, of course, to strike out the League of Nations article just as it would require a majority to change any part of the League of Nations. I do not believe a majority can be mustered for that purpose. It must be evident to everybody that while the senate can amend the treaty such amended treaty is a new treaty whether it strikes out of the League of Nations provision or whether it amends the League of Nations provision."

It could not possibly go into effect until all of the nations party to the treaty accepted the amendment. If one refused to accept it that would produce a deadlock and make peace an impossibility.

R. M. WAGGONER DEFENDANT IN $500,000 SUIT

Former Owner Land Claims Defendant Promised Half of Oil Rights

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

Plaintiff Asks in One Action that Conveyance Deed Be Rescinded

Suit for half a million dollars has been filed in the 30th district court against R. M. Waggoner by E. L. Maxey, of Dallas county, the action growing out of the sale made to him of 500 acres of the Red River valley lands and the subsequent discovery of vast quantities of oil in the field northwest of Burk Burnett.

Maxey declares that Waggoner has "failed and refused to pay to the plaintiff his just proportion of royalties" and has refused to sign a division order.

In his alternative action, Maxey alleges that a breach of contract has been committed, and he asks that the deed of conveyance be rescinded, judgment for damages be awarded and the original title to the lands be returned to him.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Among special war taxes which the President in his message to congress today suggested should be eliminated are those on water and so-called luxuries, such as expensive articles of clothing and personal equipment, on proprietary medicinal and toilet preparations and on such manufacturers' products as automobile trunks and accessories, watches, sporting goods, chewing gum, candy, camera and camera supplies, firearms, electric fans, thermos bottles and motor boats.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Purchase of Lower California and also a tract of Northern Sonora were proposed in a resolution today by Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat, which was referred without action to the Foreign Relations Committee.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS ADVISES CHANGES IN TAX LAWS AND OTHER DOMESTIC LEGISLATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Wilson, in his message to Congress today, recommended repeal of the war time prohibition—so far as it applies to wine and beer only; announced definitely that the railroad systems and telegraph and telephone lines would be returned to private ownership; urged a revision of war taxes, particularly to abolish the manufacturers' and retail sales excise; and outlined generally a program respecting labor.

These were the "high spots" of the president's message cabled from Paris.

Besides that, he again urged enactment of the woman suffrage constitutional amendment; recommended that the tariff laws be supplied with teeth to protect American industry against foreign attack; spoke for legislation to facilitate American enterprises through the expansion of shipping and backed Secretary Lane's program for returning soldiers.

Of the Paris peace conference and the league of nations, the president merely said it would be premature to discuss them or express a judgment. He also avoided discussion of domestic legislation at length because of his long absence from Washington.

Congress heard a unique document; the only one of its kind ever transmitted across the ocean from a president on a foreign shore. For the first time in six years it heard a presidential message read by a reading clerk instead of assembling to hear the president deliver an address in person.

The recommendations for the repeal of war time prohibition and for return of the rail and wire systems, while not unexpected by some, contained the greatest element of surprise that provoked the most widespread comment of the many tasks set before congress by the president.

In his reference to prohibition, the president did not enter extensively into the considerations involved. "De-mobilization," he said, "merely has progressed to such a point that it seems to me entirely safe now to repeal the ban on the manufacture and sale of wine and beer."

His recommendation regarding return of the railroads and wire lines was the most important declaration by the administration of its future policy and greatly surprised many members who had interpreted the developments of the last few months to mean that Mr. Wilson eventually would propose some form of permanent government operation. On the contrary the directness of the president's message was clear.

"The telegraph and telephone lines," said the message, "will of course be returned to their owners as soon as the transfer can be effected without administrative confusion. The railroads will be returned to their owners at the end of the calendar year."

In the case of each the president asked for legislation to make easier the readjustments necessitated by the change.

In his recommendation for readjustment of taxation the president said he had a fundamental objective in mind: a fundamental readjustment of the Democratic tariff rates that have been operative the last six years. He asked for tariff changes only to protect special interests like the dyestuffs industry. Some reductions were advocated in war-time excess profits taxes and the present taxes on retail sales the president thought could be dispensed with entirely.

What will be the reply of the Republican congress to these proposals became at once the topic of discussion everywhere about the capitol. In returning the railroads it generally was conceded, the republican leaders will readily give the president their co-operation. But as to prohibition and tariff and internal revenue taxation the case was more doubtful.

These are problems on which no very clear sentiment apparently has been formed in either of the great parties.

The recommendations regarding labor were general but the president called attention to the need for a partnership between capital and labor and a genuine "democratization of industry."

CLODBURST OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Such a cloudburst of bills and resolutions descended upon the senate today that Vice President Marshall remarked to the senators, practically all of whom had something to introduce: "It can't be in a hurry, you have all day."

There were many on the same subject. Woman suffrage probably had the most; repeal of daylight saving hour was urged; other proposals more related to oil, timber and public lands. Several proposed return of railroads, telegraph and telephone to private ownership and the remainder covered a wide range of subjects.

None of them got immediate consideration. Senator Kenyon, Republican of Iowa, put in bills to create a federal industrial relations commission.

A bill to change the name of the Panama Canal to the "Roosevelt Canal," as an enduring monument to the late Theodore Roosevelt, being one of his many great achievements, was offered by Senator Calder, Republican of New York.

Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, put in a resolution to direct the secretary of state to furnish information as to the claims against Mexico and steps to collect them. The resolution also called for a complete list of Americans and other nationals killed in Mexico since the administration of Porfirio Diaz and information regarding the confiscation of property of American citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO JOYOUS OVER PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE
SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Word of President Wilson's recommendation to congress that war time prohibition be suspended in so far as wine and beer are concerned, was the signal today for a city-wide outburst of joy by those interested, led by representatives of the San Francisco brewers and distillers.

Rudolph Samet, president of the California State Brewers' association, announced yesterday that he has arranged to renew brewing of beer immediately.

California's 1919 vintage of 350,000 acres of wine grapes valued at $10,500,000 will be saved if President Wilson's recommendation is followed by congress officials, the Grape Growers' Protective association says.

GERMANS FIND PEACE TERMS INACCEPTABLE
COFNENHAGEN, May 20.—The conference of German political leaders and German peace delegates at Spa on Sunday agreed that the peace terms were unacceptable, according to a German semi-official statement and that Germany will leave no stone unturned in an attempt "to find a practicable basis of peace which takes into account our opponent's just demands and those capable of being borne and carried out by the German people."

PERSHING'S VISIT TO ENGLAND HAS BEEN POSTPONED
LONDON, May 20.—The proposed visit to England of General Pershing, the American commander in chief, has been indefinitely postponed. It is inferred here that this postponement is due to the official view that it would be inadvisable for the commander to leave the files until the Germans had signed the peace treaty.

6,000 SHIPBUILDERS STRIKE AT PHILADELPHIA
PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—Six thousand employees of the Merchant Shipbuilding corporation, whose plant is at Harrison, Pa., on the Delaware river, went on strike today. The result is a serious and unexpected delay in settling labor disputes at the yard.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO SECURE CALL FIELD HOSPITAL

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ENDORSES PLAN OUTLINED BY MRS. KENDALL

TO FORM AN ASSOCIATION

Believed Government Will Give Use of Hospital Account Oil Industry.

Another attempt will be made by the Chamber of Commerce to obtain the hospital at Call Field for the use of Wichita Falls and Wichita county. Further action was decided upon at the weekly meeting of the chamber's board of directors this morning, following the presentation to the board of a memorandum of suggestions by Mrs. Oscar J. Kendall, president of the volunteer organization that established and maintained the United States service hospital in San Diego, Cal.

Mrs. Kendall declared that in seeking to obtain the use of the aviation camp hospital situated on the Call Field upon the paramount importance of the oil industry here.

"Your oil production is of national importance," she stated, "and particularly desirable that the attention of the government be called to the very grave and menacing condition that prevails in the oil camps of this territory, owing to overcrowding and lack of sanitary conditions, unless something very speedily is done to correct this pestilence and disaster will stalk through these flourishing camps to their own great damage as well as reaching out into a national hurt."

Plan Outlined. Mrs. Kendall's plan, through which she believes the government can be persuaded to turn over the use of the hospital at Call Field, is, briefly, as follows:

A recommendation shall be made to the government to the effect that the hospital be turned over to the people of Wichita Falls provided they form a benevolent corporation to be responsible for the property, and pledge themselves to care for the patients of the hospital under the supervision of the medical officer of the camp. It is further stipulated that the hospital shall be non-denominational, and as long as the camp shall remain in Wichita Falls the medical officer shall have complete authority pertaining to all questions of sanitation.

The official directorate of the corporation to be formed shall consist of the commanding officer of Call Field, represented by his medical officer; the president of the County Medical Society; the president of the Chamber of Commerce; the city health officer; the county physician; the president of the Bar Association; the president of the Ministerial Association; the chairman of the local chapter of the Red Cross and the local representative of the American Federation of Labor. This directorate would meet once a month or oftener, and have general supervision of all matters pertaining to the hospital.

The directors shall appoint a committee of three to have direct supervision and management of the hospital, the committee to consist of the three physicians on the board.

It was also further suggested by Mrs. Kendall that the government should detail a superintendent of nurses to have charge of the training of student nurses, and that this school be used for the training of nurses for the government.

It was pointed out that the proposed corporation should have as large a sustaining membership as possible, and also privilege memberships, with a stipulated yearly fee.

Plan Endorsed. The Chamber of Commerce endorsed Mrs. Kendall's plan unanimously, and J. A. Kemp, John O'Donoghue, R. F. Johnson and T. B. Nobbe were appointed a committee to take immediate steps along the lines indicated.

The chamber also voted to give its support to the home ownership amendment, following the receipt of a telegram from Governor Hobby quoted below the idle lands of Texas and develop the agricultural industry of the state with home owners no more important measure has yet been proposed than the home ownership amendment to be voted on next Saturday. I hope your body will use its influence and appoint a special committee to get out a full and complete vote in behalf of this measure for the development of Texas.

Hubert M. Harrison, a former Dallas newspaper man who has been recommended to succeed Porter A.

Whaley as secretary of the chamber, appeared before the board and discussed the nature of commercial work he has handled in the past.

BREVITIES

Two gamblers, two for wrong parking, one for passing street car and another party charged with disturbing the peace were the only cases to stand before the bar in police court this morning and receive the consideration of Judge Ogil. The craps shooters drew a fine of $10 each, the three gamblers who violated the rules governing the operation of gasoline propelled vehicles paid into the cash box $5 apiece, and the lone disturber of the peace was fined $10.

The city water which was reported to be slightly contaminated at last week's test has now been made absolutely free from injurious bacteria, according to Mrs. T. B. Smock, food and dairy inspector. As soon as the water company was notified last Saturday they immediately increased the treatment of the water with the gratifying result that the test made yesterday showed the water to be pure.

SOUTHWESTERN OIL JOURNAL ISSUES WICHITA FALLS SPECIAL

The Southwestern Oil Journal gave Wichita Falls and the city's development, a 30 page section of the journal's number of May 17, this issue being the Wichita Falls Special. Stories of the oil development throughout the district, and especially at Burkburton, with numerous pictures, make the number especially attractive, and unusually complete.

The refineries are given special attention, and all other phases of the great growth and development of Wichita Falls in the past year are shown, both in story and picture. Pictures of the many new buildings now in course of construction and of number of the handsome residences of the city, also of the schools and churches, show that Wichita Falls has more than oil derricks and refineries to make it a worthwhile place.

SYMPATHY STRIKE BY ELECTRICIANS IS CALLED HERE

A sympathetic strike of the local union electricians was instituted yesterday morning when about 65 workers refused to work until the Texas Power and Light Co. had met the claims of the striking linemen for an 8-hour day with 37 1/2 cents an hour wage scale. The strike is reported to be serious in North Texas towns that are supplied by the T. P. & L. Company especially in Fort Worth and Denton who are reported to be greatly inconvenienced as a result of the strike. Denton is in darkness and it is understood that the strike will be made to include several more branches of organized labor in a sympathetic effort to force a recognition of the union. According to local labor sympathizers the strike is not intended to be against the contractors in any way and they claim in most cases the contractors are in sympathy with the walkout.

No important developments in the matter of a settlement have so far arisen although it is reported the striking linemen have been replaced by foreign labor. The grievance the linemen claim is low wages, they were paid 35 cents an hour for a 9-hour day, which they claim is not in proportion to the danger of their occupation and the risk entailed by occupation of the fact that the insurance companies refuse to accept linemen as risks for insurance.

The strike in no way affects the Wichita Falls Electric Company which supplied this city with electricity. Officials of the company state on account of their employees being non-union men. When questioned regarding the possible attitude of the T. P. & L. people in regard to the strike their local representatives said they had received no information in regard to the matter.

These reports were instructive and interesting. Following the program a social time was enjoyed and Mrs. Pogeppohl, acting as hostess, served refreshments. The next Guild meeting will be held Monday, May 25, Mrs. Stonewall Brown to be hostess.

FORT WORTH BARBER FEELS LIKE NEW MAN

"My health has improved a hundred per cent and I feel like a new man since I started to taking this Organon," said Robert Plinchon, residing at 812 West Weatherford street, Fort Worth. Mr. Plinchon is the well known instructor on the first chair at the Moler Barber College, on Main street, and has a wide circle of friends in this section.

"I didn't know what it was to sit down and enjoy a square meal for over three years," he continued, "for everything I ate gave me indigestion; I was often very nervous at night and not able to get the proper rest that I should and just got to the place where I couldn't sleep at night on account of nervousness and disordered stomach. I was weak and run down and so tired and worn out nearly all of the time. I took every sort of medicine that I could get hold of and nothing did me any good. I have spent many restless nights on account of the misery that these troubles caused me and the worst of it was that I couldn't see where I would ever get any better.

"I read several articles in the paper telling what Fort Worth people said about Organon and what it had done for them and I thought that I might as well try it also and I got a bottle and started taking it.

"Organon has driven every sign of indigestion and nervousness away and I can eat as hearty a meal as any man and enjoy it, because I am not afraid of the effect it will have. I have a good appetite now and I have gained in weight and strength. Nervousness and restlessness don't bother me any more and I am full of life and energy all the time.

"I certainly can recommend Organon because it has done me worlds of good. I tell everybody that I have a chance to how it benefited me."

A tired overworked stomach and kidneys, produced by too much hastily eaten food, can cause muscular ailments, among them being dyspepsia, nervous breakdown, blood troubles and even rheumatism. People so affected, and there are thousands of them, are lazy and nervous and feel tired. They are worn out after a little exertion and are moody and depressed. They are apt to suffer from sleeplessness, also, and as a general rule, lose rapidly in weight. These are symptoms of overworked vital organs which need cleansing and toning up. Organon does this very thing.

Organon is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the T. F. Young Drug Co., (successors to Shaw-Chambers), 215 and Indiana avenue, under the personal direction of a special Organon representative. Out of town customers are being supplied. All charges prepaid upon receipt of price.

'WOMAN AND WIFE' AT PLAZA TONIGHT

Alice Brady's second Select Star Series feature is "Woman and Wife," adapted from the ever-popular "Jane Eyre" by Charlotte Bronte. This picture will be shown at the Plaza Airdome tonight.

When the story opens, Jane Eyre is living with her rich relatives, the Reeds, but the petulance of the Reeds boy causes her to be sent to an institution conducted by the heartless Brocklehurst. Jane's sweetness of facts soon influence over even him, however, and it is on his recommendation that she secures the position of governess to little Adele, the daughter of Edward Rochester.

He had parted from his wife, Valerie, when she became insane; and her mother had told him she was dead. Accordingly, when he falls in love with Jane, of whom little Adele has also become very fond, he proposes to her and is accepted. The announcement of their engagement is seen by Valerie's brother, Raoul; he brings her to Rochester's apartment and blackmails him out of some money. Rochester, at his wife's end, sides the demented girl, but she breaks loose on the scheduled day of the wedding, and the truth of her identity is disclosed. Jane is ready to leave, but is persuaded to stay by her lover. In the meantime, Valerie has escaped to the water, where she is drowned. Fate has finally been kind to the long-suffering Jane Eyre, and all is now clear for her marriage to Rochester.

SHADOWS OF SUSPICION AT MAJESTIC WEDNESDAY

"The Shadows of Suspicion" will be shown at the Majestic tomorrow. This is the latest Lockwood picture produced by Metro.

Harold Lockwood shows to good advantage as a young Englishman in the secret service. He is well supported by a good cast.

Excellent photography is shown in depicting a Zepplin raid on London. The huge airships, pursued and attacked by numerous airplanes, create a scene of thrilling interest. A number of scenes also show the bursting of bombs and the destruction of homes.

The picture is full of action. From the beginning to the end the attention of the audience is not permitted to lag for a moment. The story carries a lot of punch and is well worked up to a sensational finish.

Aside from the work of Lockwood, that of Naomi Childers and Bigelow Cooper is also commendable. Capt. Leslie Fessenden, in a small part, is very good.

Marriage Licenses issued.

The following marriage licenses have been issued: Jon Evans and Mrs. E. L. Meredith, James Martin Williams and Miss Williams, Filgo.

Why I Stand for Good Roads—

I stand for good roads because I am always for everything that is beneficial to the community in which I live. Good roads facilitate business, mean a saving of both time and property, and add to the sum total of the health and happiness of all of our citizens. Experience has proven beyond a doubt that good roads are an excellent investment.

C. W. REID, President

laughed Uncle Wiggly in poetical fashion and rhyming. "Climb up, Jackie and Peetle!"

So up jumped the two little puppy dogs, one black with a white spot on his nose, and the other white with a black spot on his nose, and they, too, were given a ride to school in Uncle Wiggly's jitney, only, of course, the rabbit gentleman didn't charge any five-cent pieces, since all the animal children were, friends of his.

And then, all at once, Baby Bunty cried: "Oh, Uncle Wiggly! Danger! Danger! See that red thing in the road!" "Surely there is something red there!" cried Uncle Wiggly, and he pulled on the brake and stopped the automobile very short, thinking maybe there was a hole in the woodland road and that perhaps a butterfly was waving his red wings to tell of danger.

"Why it's only a lot of lady bugs!" cried Susie Littlefall. "Sure enough!" said Uncle Wiggly peering through his glasses, and the red spot Baby Bunty had seen really was about the red lady bugs, with pretty spots on their wings.

"Don't you lady bugs want to ride in my jitney auto?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Thank you," said the head lady bug. It's very kind of you to ask us. I'm sure. We are going shopping to the five and six cent store. We could fly, but riding in your auto will be much better."

So the lady bugs crawled up in Uncle Wiggly's auto, and as there wasn't quite room for them all on the seats Sammie and Johnnie and Billie and Jackie and Peetle, the little boy animals, politely got up and gave the lady bugs places to sit down.

"Well, here we go again!" cried Uncle Wiggly, and he was just starting out when out of the woods popped a bad old wolf. He was going to catch Uncle Wiggly, but suddenly about 300 of the lady bugs flew on the wolf's nose, and tickled him so ticklishly that he sneezed a sneeze, sauntered over backward and didn't get the rabbit gentleman after all.

Then Mr. Longears took the lady bugs to the eight and nine cent store, and he took the animal children to school and that's all there is to this story. But if the postage stamp does not get stuck fast in the letter box when it's trying to get out and play tag with the mail man, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the gentleman bug.

GIBBS AN DUNNING TAKE OVER NOLAN HOLDINGS

J. D. Gibbs of Louisville, Ky., and W. H. Dunning, who has offices in this city, 621 Ohio, have taken over the holdings of the Wichita Nolan Oil Company, which was begun by Woods, Wilfong, Caries, and Johnson, Heay and Cotton and others of Wichita Falls, and will begin immediate operations in Nolan county. The money for stock subscribed through the original organizers was returned to the subscribers last week. Kentucky capital is to be used largely in the field operations of the company. Mr. Gibbs states. The company is capitalized at $150,000.

The local men retain large blocks of acreage in Nolan county, and will be interested in the development which Messrs. Gibbs and Dunning are planning. Dr. Dunning will be general manager for the Wichita Nolan Company.

Uncle Wiggly and the Lady Bugs.
 "Oh, Uncle Wiggly!" called Baby Bunty one morning, to Mr. Longears, the rabbit gentleman. "Please get out your automobile, make believe it's a jitney and take me to school in it."

"Oh, boy! So you want to ride to school in my auto, instead of hopping; do you?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Well, I suppose I might as well get it out. I'll soon be wanting some rides myself."

So Uncle Wiggly ran his auto out of the woodshed, where he had kept it all winter. He put on a new turnip steering wheel, took a little of Nurse Jane's fresh pepper, to dust on the managage tires when he wanted to go faster, and then he was ready to give Baby Bunty a ride to the hollow stump school where the lady mosses taught the animal children their A, B, C lessons.

"Oh, there's Sammie and Susie Littlefall! Give them a ride in our jitney!" cried Baby Bunty, as she saw the girl and boy rabbits hopping along the woodland path.

"Whoo, there!" called Uncle Wiggly to his auto, to make it stop. "Hop up, Sammie and Susie," he said. "You may as well ride to school with Baby Bunty."

"I guess Uncle Wiggly's glad to ride me this way, so I won't make him chase me and play tag," spoke the little rabbit girl, moving over on the seat to make room for Sammie and Susie Littlefall.

"Ho, ho! I guess I am!" cried the jolly rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose like a light at night on the back of a milk wagon. Then he started off again, and pretty soon the auto was sailing along once more, faster than ever.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! There's Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels," suddenly cried Baby Bunty. "Can't they have a ride to school, too?"

"Oh, yes, I guess so," said good-natured Uncle Wiggly. "Scramble up, Billie and Johnnie!" and up the two squirrel boys scrambled like a poached egg on toast, and they settled down in a seat as happy as could be.

"This is lots more fun than walking to school," chattered Johnnie.

"Yes, indeed! Thank you, Uncle Wiggly," said Billie. "Are you going to run your jitney every morning?"

"Oh, yes! I'll get him to do it!" cried Baby Bunty. "He'd rather do that than chase me. I'm sure!" went on the little rabbit girl, who was found in a stump. "Running a jitney to school now and then will keep Uncle Wiggly almost as limp and limber as playing hop Scotch," she said.

"Um!" said Mr. Longears, non-committal like and asparagus.

So the auto with the turnip steering wheel ran along a little farther, and pretty soon Baby Bunty called once more.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! There go Jackie and Peetle! How Wow! Can't you give those cute little puppy dogs a ride in your jitney auto?"

"Whoo! Whoo! I guess so!"

DIRECTOR FOLAN DENIES RUMORS OF SLEEPING SICKNESS

Director Dan Folan of the Rotary Council has issued an official denial last night of the rumor that there are several cases of that terrible malady, sleeping sickness in the Wichita Falls Rotary Club.

"The story is absolutely without foundation," protested Mr. Folan. "It was probably started by some member of the Wichita Club who woke up long enough to think up those Wichita Club members have been telling all around town about the big things they expect to pull off when the Rotary ministers are produced—and this tale about sleeping sickness sounds very much like some of their Made in Wichita stuff. I understand that President Martin of the Wichita Club has been thinking deeply and for about a week, and my advisers and I imagine that is where the tale got its start.

Members of the Rotary ministers company admitted, reluctantly, when questioned that J. Marvin McFall and Bert Bean did go to sleep during rehearsal the other night, but simply on account of the extraordinary low price for the best seats in the Rotary minstrel and that Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 27, 28 and 29th were entirely the right dates for the show." Doc Smith also admitted that the Creaking Gate Quartette would be a riot. He also insists that that beautiful melody Wedding Bells is just naturally big time stuff, and would make a hit as sure as heck. So you see that disposes of all those wild theories about there being sleeping sickness in the Wichita Rotary Club.

"Now I do hope," Mr. Folan begged, "that when you use the columns of your justly re-nowned paper for the purpose of doing full justice to the facts in this case, so that the public may be fully informed as to the true status of the situation, you will not find it necessary to give too much publicity."

Mr. Folan's remarkable reticence and his shy, retiring disposition is well known among his Wichita Falls friends. The cabinet scene in the Rotary Minstrel, he added, "is one of the biggest numbers that has ever been put across in Wichita Falls. We will use nothing but special scenery painted by the best artists of America—all living in Burk Burnett. Our electrical effects are stupendous, but I wish you would stiffen the belief in Wichita Falls that the scene on board ship is so realistic as to make the audience our gentlemanly ushers—all of whom are Rotarians, will be supplied with the latest and best known remedies for this malady, and will be thoroughly competent in their use."

"As I said," Mr. Folan added, "I do not believe in publicity on such an occasion as this—I feel that it would hurt the show to let all these things be known in advance and I give this to you in strict confidence."

WILL CALL UP SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION WEDNESDAY

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican leader, announced in the House today that the resolution proposing submission of an equal suffrage constitutional amendment would be called up tomorrow for passage. His announcement followed a favorable report on the resolution of Representative Mann of Illinois by the House suffrage committee.

A similar resolution was offered in the Senate today by Senator Jones of New Mexico, retiring chairman of the Senate woman suffrage committee, and supporters plan to urge quick action. This was the first measure to be introduced in the Senate at the extraordinary session, a flood of other bills going over until after the reading of the President's message.

CHICAGO MEN HERE TO LOOK OVER THE BURKBURNETT FIELD

Thirty-two members of the Guaranty Trust Oil Land Company, an Eastern corporation with extensive holdings in Texas, arrived in Wichita Falls this morning on a special train from Chicago. The visit is said to be here several days looking over the company's acreage south of Burk Burnett, and in the shallow fields northwest of the McGregor. They also have made arrangements to have motion pictures of the Wichita fields taken, the pictures to be shown later throughout the city.

Among the visitors are R. E. Probasco, general manager of the company; P. D. Leffers, with the Central Trust Company of Illinois; J. P. Leach, district superintendent of the Pullman Company; J. A. Murphy, treasurer of the Chicago and Indiana Railway Company; G. L. Walters, sales manager of the Adams & Wesley Company; Cy De Vry, director of the Lincoln Oil and Gas Co., and Dr. H. E. Benke, vice-president of the Women's Association of Commerce.

The company owns a total of 2,100 acres of Texas and Oklahoma oil lands, including 33 acres southeast of Burk Burnett and 27 acres near Sunshine Hill. The visitors will spend the day at Nowata, Oklahoma, to inspect properties there.

The King Eight Oil Co., No. 1 Wagoner, is reported drilled in today. The standard was rigged up Monday ready for completion, and drilling in was successfully accomplished this morning, according to the report, which was semi-official. The well is in block 84, and the third producer in the quarter section where the Burk Wagoner No. 1 opened up the new northwest pool. No estimate of the production was available.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The text of President Wilson's message as cable from France and read before Congress this afternoon follows:

Gentlemen of the Congress: I deeply regret my inability to be present at the opening of the extraordinary session of Congress. It still seems to me my duty to take part in the councils of the peace conference and contribute what I can to the solution of the innumerable questions to whose settlement it has had to address itself. For they are questions which affect the peace of the whole world, and from them therefore, the U. S. cannot stand apart. I deemed it my duty to call the Congress together at this time because it was not wise to postpone longer the provisions which must be made for the support of the government. Many of the appropriations which are absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the government and the fulfillment of its varied obligations for the fiscal year 1919-1920, have not yet been made; the end of the present fiscal year is at hand; and action upon these appropriations cannot longer be prudently delayed. It is necessary, therefore, that I should immediately call your attention to this critical need. It is hardly necessary for me to urge that it may receive your prompt attention. I shall take the liberty of addressing you on my return on the subjects which have most engrossed our attention and the attention of the world during these last anxious months, since the armistice of last November was signed; the international settlements which must form the subject matter of the present treaties of peace; and of our national action in the immediate future. It would be premature to discuss them or to express a judgment about them before they are brought to their complete formulation by the agreements which are now being sought at the table of the conference. I shall hope to lay them before you in their many aspects as soon as arrangements have been reached.

Domestic Problems. I hesitate to venture any opinion or press any recommendation with regard to domestic legislation while absent from the United States and out of daily touch with intimate sources of information and counsel. I am conscious that I need, after so long an absence from Washington, to seek the advice of those who have remained in constant contact with domestic problems and who have known their close at hand from day to day; and I trust that it will very soon be possible for me to do so. But there are several questions pressing for consideration to which I feel that I may and indeed must, even now, direct your attention if in only general terms. In speaking of them I shall, sure say, be doing little more than speaking your own thoughts. I hope I shall speak your own judgment also. The question which stands at the front of all others in every country amidst the present great weakening of the question of labor; and perhaps I can speak of it with as great advantage while engrossed in the consideration of interests which affect all countries alike as I could at home, and amidst the interests which naturally most affect my thought, because they are the interests of our own people. By the question of labor I do not mean the question of efficient industrial production the question of how labor is to be obtained and made effective in the great process of sustaining populations and winning success amidst commercial and industrial rivalries. I mean that much greater and more vital question, how are the men and women who do the daily labor of the world to obtain progressive improvement in the conditions of their labor, to be made happier, and to be served better by the communities in the industries which their labor sustains and advances? How are they to be given the right advantage as citizens and human beings?

Co-operation Essential. We cannot go any further in our present direction. We have already gone too far. We cannot live our right life as a nation or achieve our proper success as an industrial community if capital and labor are to continue to be antagonistic instead of being partners; if they are to continue to distrust one another and contrive how they can get the better of one another; or, what perhaps amounts to the same thing, calculate by what form and degree of coercion they can manage to extort on the one hand work enough to make enterprises profitable, on the other justice and fair treatment enough to make life tolerable. That bad road has turned out a blind alley. It is no thoroughfare to real prosperity. We must find another, leading in another direction and to a very different destination. It must lead not merely to accommodation but also to a genuine co-operation and partnership based upon a real community of interest and participation in control.

There is now a real community of interest between capital and labor, but it has never been made evident in action. It can be made operative and manifest only in a new organization of industry. The genius of our business men and the sound practical sense of our workers can certainly work such a partnership out when once they realize exactly what it is that they seek and sincerely adopt a purpose with regard to it.

Labor legislation has, of course, chiefly with the status, but the new spirit and method of organization which must be effected are not to be brought about by legislation so much as by the common counsel and voluntary co-operation of capitalist, manager and workman. Legislation can go only a very little way in commanding what shall be done. The organization of industry is a matter of corporate and individual initiative and of practical business arrangement. Those who really desire a new relationship between capital and labor can readily find a way to bring it about and perhaps federal legislation can help more than state legislation could.

Democratization. The object of all reform in this essential matter must be the genuine democratization of industry, based upon a full recognition of the right of those who work, in whatever rank, to participate in some organic way in every decision which directly affects their welfare or the part they are to play in industry. Some positive legislation is practicable. The Congress has already shown the way to one reform which should be world-wide, by establishing the eight hour day as the standard day in every field of labor over which it can exercise control. It has sought to find the way to prevent child labor, and will, I hope and believe, presently find it has served the whole country by leading the way in developing the means of preserving and safeguarding life and health in dangerous industries. It can now help in the difficult task of giving a new form and spirit to industrial organization by co-ordinating the several agencies of conciliation and adjustment which have been brought into existence by the difficulties and mistaken policies of the present management of industry and by setting up and developing new federal agencies of advice and information which may serve as a clearing house for the best experiments and the best thought on this great matter, upon which every thinking man must be aware that the future development of society directly depends. Agencies of international counsel and suggestion are presently to be created in connection with the League of Nations in this very field; but it is national action and the enlightened policy of individuals, corporations and societies within each nation that must bring about the actual reforms. The members of the committees on labor in the two houses will hardly need suggestions from me as to what means they shall seek to make the federal government the agent of the whole nation in putting out, and if need be, guiding the process of reorganization and reform.

Backs Lane's Program. I am sure that it is not necessary for me to remind you that there is one immediate and very practical question of labor that we should meet in the most liberal spirit. We must see to it that our returning soldiers are assisted in every practicable way to find the places for which they are fitted in the daily work of the country. This can be done by developing and maintaining upon an adequate scale, the admirable organization created by the department of labor for placing men seeking work; and

F. C. BARON, Vice Pres., W. M. FRANK, Cash.

It can also be done, in at least one very great field, by creating new opportunities for individual enterprise. The secretary of the interior has pointed out the way by which returning soldiers may be helped to find and take up land in the hitherto undeveloped regions of the country which the federal government has prepared or can readily prepare for cultivation and for many of the cut-over or neglected areas which lie within the limits of the older states; and I once more take the liberty of recommending very urgently that his plans shall receive the immediate and substantial support of the congress. Peculiar and very stimulating conditions await our commerce and industrial enterprise in the immediate future. Unusual opportunities will presently present themselves to our merchants and producers in foreign markets and large fields for profitable investment will be opened to our free capital. But it is not only that that I am thinking; it is not chiefly of that that I am thinking. Many great industries prostrated by the war wait to be rehabilitated, in many parts of the world where what will be lacking is not brains or willing hands, organizing capacity or experienced skill, but machinery and raw materials and capital. I believe that our business men, our merchants, our manufacturers and our capitalists will have the vision to see that prosperity in one part of the world ministers to prosperity everywhere; that there is in a very true sense a solidarity of interest throughout the world of enterprise, and that our dealings with the countries that have need of our products and our money will teach them to deem us more than ever friends whose necessities we seek in the right way to serve.

Merchant Marine.
Our new merchant ships, which have in some quarters been feared as destructive rivals, may prove helpful rivals, rather, and common servants, very much needed and very welcome. Our great ship yards, new and old, will be so opened to the use of the world that they will prove immensely serviceable to every maritime nation in restoring, much more rapidly than would otherwise have been possible, the tonnage wantonly destroyed in the war. I have only to suggest that there are many points at which we can facilitate American enterprise in foreign trade by opportune legislation and make it easy for American merchants to go where they will be welcomed as friends rather than as dreaded antagonists. America has a great and honorable service to perform in bringing the commercial and industrial undertakings of the world back to their old scope and swing again, and putting a solid structure of credit under them. All our legislation should be friendly to such plans and purposes.

Taxation.
And credit and enterprise alike will be quickened by timely and helpful legislation with regard to taxation. I hope that the congress will find it possible to undertake an early reconsideration of federal taxes in order to make our system of taxation more simple and easy of administration and the taxes themselves as little burdensome as they can be made and yet suffice to support the government and meet all its obligations. The figures to which those obligations have arisen are very great indeed, but they are not so great as to make it difficult for the nation to meet them, perhaps, in a single generation, by taxes which will neither crush nor discourage. These are not so great as they seem, not so great as the immense sums we have had to borrow, added to the immense sums we have had to raise by taxation, would seem to indicate; for a very large proportion of those sums were raised in order that they might be loaned to the governments with which we were associated in the war, and those loans will, of course, constitute assets, not liabilities, and will not have to be taken care of by our taxpayers. The main thing we shall have to care for is that our taxation shall rest as lightly as possible on the productive resources of the country, that its rates shall be stable and that it shall be constant in its revenue yielding power. We have found the main sources from which it must be drawn. I take it for granted that its mainstays will henceforth be the income tax, the excise profits tax and the estate tax. All these can be so adjusted to yield constant and adequate returns and yet not constitute a too grievous burden on the taxpayer. A revision of the income tax has already been provided for by the act on 1918, but I think that you will find further changes can be made to advantage both in the rate of taxation and the method of its collection. The excess profits tax need not long be maintained at the rate which was necessary while the enormous expenses of the war had to be borne, but that it should be made the basis of a permanent system which will reach undue profits without discouraging the enterprise and activity of our business men. The tax on inheritances ought, no doubt, to be reconsidered in its relations to the fiscal systems of the several states, but it certainly ought to remain a permanent part of the fiscal system of the federal government also.

Excise Taxes.
Many of the minor taxes provided for in the revenue legislation of 1917 and 1918 though no doubt made necessary by the pressing necessities of war time could hardly find sufficient justification under the existing circumstances of peace and can now happily be got rid of. Among these I hope you will agree are the excises upon various manufacturers and the taxes upon retail sales. They are unequal in the incidence on different industries and on different individuals. Their collection is difficult and expensive. Those which are levied upon articles sold at retail are largely evaded by the readjustment of retail prices. On the other hand, I should assume that it is expedient to maintain a considerable range of indirect taxes; and the fact that alcoholic liquors will presently no longer afford a source of revenue by taxation makes it the more necessary that the field should be carefully re-studied in order that equivalent sources of revenue may be found which it will be legitimate and not burdensome to draw upon. But you have at hand in the treasury department many experts who can advise you upon the matters much better than I can. I can only suggest the lines of a permanent and workable system, and the placing of the taxes where they will least hamper the life of the people.

There is, fortunately, no occasion for undertaking in the immediate future any general revision of our system of import duties. The serious danger of foreign competition now threatens American industries. Our country has emerged from the war less disturbed and less weakened than any of the European countries, which are our competitors in manufacture. Their industrial establishments have been subjected to greater strain than ours, their labor force to a more serious disorganization and this is clearly not the time to seek an organized advantage. The work of mere reconstruction will, I am afraid, tax this capacity and the resources of their people for years to come. So far from there being any danger or need of accentuated foreign competition, it is likely that the conditions of the next few years will greatly facilitate the marketing of American manufactures abroad. Least of all should we depart from the policy adopted in the tariff act of 1913 of permitting the free entry into the United States of raw materials and to supplement and enrich our own abundant supplies.

Some Revision Necessary.
Nevertheless, there are parts of our tariff system which need attention. The experiences of the war have made it plain that in some cases too great reliance on foreign supply is dangerous and that in determining certain parts of our tariff policy domestic considerations must be borne in mind which are political as well as economic. Among the industries to which special consideration should be given is that of the manufacture of dyestuffs and related chemicals. Our complete dependence upon German supplies before the war made the in-

If so, then switch to GOODRICH DE LUXE Truck Tires!

For records of DE LUXE users show costs well under that mark.

Just one example.

Two years and three months ago S. Laskau, 1261 Third Ave., New York, bought a three ton truck for heavy inter-city service. GOODRICH equipped all-round.

To date the truck has gone 23,000 miles. The tires are only half worn out. The name GOODRICH is still legible on every tire!

Disruption of trade a cause of exceptional economic disturbance. The close relation between the manufacture of dynamite on the one hand, and of explosives and poisonous gases on the other, moreover, has given the industry an exceptional significance and value. Although the United States will gladly and unhesitatingly join the plan of international disarmament, it will nevertheless be the policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants. The German chemical industry, with which we will be brought into competition, was and may well be again, a thoroughly well equipped capable of exercising a competition of a peculiarly insidious and dangerous kind.

The United States should, moreover, have the means of properly protecting itself whenever our trade is discriminated against by foreign nations, in order that we may be assured of that equality of treatment which we hope to secure and to promote the world over. Our tariff laws as they now stand, provide no weapon of retaliation in case other governments should enact legislation unequal in its bearing on our products as compared with the products of other countries. Though we are as far as possible from desiring to enter upon any course of retaliation, we must frankly face the fact that hostile legislation by other nations is not beyond the range of possibility and that it may have to be met by counter legislation on our part.

This subject has fortunately been exhaustively investigated by the United States tariff committee. A recent report of that commission has shown very clearly that any lack of protection which would extend the substance to women and which passed the House of Representatives at the last session of the congress? It seems to me that every consideration of justice and of public advantage calls for the immediate adoption of that amendment and its submission forthwith to the legislatures of the several states. Throughout all the world this long delayed extension of the suffrage is looked for; in the United States, longer I believe that anywhere else the necessity for it, and the immense advantage of it to the national life, has been urged and debated by women and men who saw the need for it and urged the policy of it when it required steadfast courage to be so much beforehand with the common conviction; and I, for one, covet for our country the distinction of being among the first to act in a great reform.

Woman Suffrage. Will you not permit me, turning from these matters, to speak more earnestly of the proposed amendment to the constitution which would extend the substance to women and which passed the House of Representatives at the last session of the congress? It seems to me that every consideration of justice and of public advantage calls for the immediate adoption of that amendment and its submission forthwith to the legislatures of the several states. Throughout all the world this long delayed extension of the suffrage is looked for; in the United States, longer I believe that anywhere else the necessity for it, and the immense advantage of it to the national life, has been urged and debated by women and men who saw the need for it and urged the policy of it when it required steadfast courage to be so much beforehand with the common conviction; and I, for one, covet for our country the distinction of being among the first to act in a great reform.

Telegraphs and Railroads. The telegraph and telephone lines will, of course, be returned to their owners so soon as their transfer can be effected without administrative confusion so soon that is, that the change can be made with least possible inconvenience to the public and to the owners themselves. The railroads will be handed over to their owners at the end of the calendar year; if I were in immediate contact with the administrative administration which must govern the re-transfer of telegraph and telephone lines, I could name the exact date for their return also. Until I am in direct contact with the practical questions involved I can only suggest that in the case of the telegraph and telephones as in the case of the railways, it is clearly desirable in the public interest that some legislation should be considered which may tend to many of these indispensable instrumentalities of our modern life a uniform and co-ordinated system which will afford those who use them as complete and certain means of communication with all parts of the country as has so long been afforded by the postal system of the government and at rates as uniform and intelligible. Expert advice is of course, available in this very practical matter, and the public interest is manifest. Neither the telegraph nor the telephone service of the country can be said to be in any sense a national system. There are many confusions and inconsistencies of rates. The scientific means by which communication by such instrumentalities can be rendered more thorough and satisfactory has not been made full use of. An exhaustive study of the whole question of electrical communication and of the means by which the central authority of the nation can be used to unify and improve it, if undertaken, by the appropriate committees of the congress would certainly result, indirectly even if not directly, in a great public benefit.

War-Time Prohibition. The demobilization of the military forces of the country has progressed to such a point that it seems to me entirely safe now to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wines and beers but I am advised that without further legislation I have not the legal authority to remove the present restrictions. I therefore recommend that the act approved November 21, 1918, entitled: "An act to enable

I sincerely trust that I shall very soon be at my post in Washington to report upon the matters which may be present at the peace table apparently imperative and to put myself at the service of the congress in every matter of administration or council that seem to demand executive action of advice.

RUSSIAN BOLSHEVIK DECLARE STATE OF WAR WITH RUMANIA

By Associated Press
LONDON, Sunday, May 18.—Owing to Rumania's disregard of the ultimatum from the Russian soviet government demanding an evacuation of Besarabia, a state of war exists between Russia and Rumania, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow received here. Bolshevik troops have crossed the Dniester river in the Tiraspol district, where they have defeated the Rumanians and occupied Tebrutritsch and Bender, the dispatch says.

Tiraspol is situated on the Dniester 55 miles northwest of Odessa. Bender is on the west side of the Dniester and 35 miles from Odessa.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT WHICH IF CARRIED OUT WILL SOLVE THE Housing Problem

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held last Tuesday a movement was introduced by Mr. C. C. Wood that a building club be organized and that every member who joins agree to build one or more houses in this city and either rent or sell same on the installment plan to wage earners. Out of a dozen directors present all agreed to build from one to five houses.

You can readily see what this means if two or three hundred public spirited men will agree to join this club. It would insure the building of five or six hundred moderate priced houses immediately, costing from $1,000 to $3,000 each. If you desire to render civic service at a time when it is badly needed, phone one of the committee that you desire to join the Wichita Falls Building Club. The committee consists of G. C. Wood, J. A. Kemp, A. L. Huey, J. L. Jackson and W. D. Cline.

Have you ever considered how cheap you can build a home in Scotland Addition?

Have you ever thought about how close in these lots are that we are selling at $400 and $500 each? Do you realize that there will soon be over 1,000 wage earners employed north of the river? Had it occurred to you that this is the logical place to construct rent houses to serve industrial workers and that you can save $300 by not having to put in plumbing? Be a city builder. Buy some of these cheap lots. Build some houses. If you delay and procrastinate you are simply hindering the progress of our city. You have made good, why not help others?

VILLA NOT BANDIT; U. S. FRIEND SAYS FORMER SECRETARY

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 20.—Francisco Villa is not a bandit and has been grossly misrepresented to the people of the United States, according to Dario W. Silva, former military secretary and a colonel in the Villa forces.

"Villa had no part in the raid on Columbus, N. M., and deeply regretted the occurrence. At the time it happened he was seriously ill with malarial fever about twenty miles south of the border. The raid was organized by Candelario Cervantes without the knowledge or consent of Villa.

"Villa was very bitter when he learned what had been done for he knew it would bring about intervention and hostility from the outside. Another phase which did great harm to Villa was the fact that Pablo Lopez, who was second in command in the raid was confused with Martin Lopez in charge of Villa's personal guard, and it was erroneously reported that he was in the raid. This fact more than ever made it appear that Villa was responsible.

"Villa dashed for the mountains soon after the trouble with the United States had started. During his flight he engaged the various forces in battle, inflicting a serious defeat during a battle Villa was wounded at Guerrero, Chihuahua, while still retreating from General Pershing's forces, who traveled faster than we and almost overtook us.

"Villa concealed himself in an isolated cave where there were thousands of bats and he remained there for five days without food or water.

"During that time American troops marched by in the middle of times, Greengreen set in in Villa's wound which he treated only by application of cactus pulp.

"After the American troops had moved away Villa was taken on a stretcher to Durango, where he spent three months recovering.

"Zapata, who has recently been killed, was not a personal friend of Villa, but a great admirer of Villa's military ability. Zapata knew that some time he would be killed and instructed his men to proclaim Villa as their leader in such an event. At present the Zapatistas are under the direct leadership of General de la O, one of the most able officers of the old Zapata forces. Recently the Zapatistas proclaimed Villa their leader in chief and stand ready to do his bidding.

"Having lived in close association with Villa for over three years, eating and sleeping under the same roof, I feel that I really know something of his character and principles. He is a fine man but temperamental, and like a tiger when aroused.

"He has always felt kindly toward the United States and would give all possible support to commercial interests located in Mexico.

"Every time an outlaw band makes a raid in any part of Mexico, Villa's opponents say he was responsible. Villa has learned the language of the United States and hopes home day to enjoy the friendship of the people here."

If the proposition to increase the salary to $10,000 is adopted in the election of May 24 it will apply to about 18 months of the term of Governor Hobby, and will impose an estimated tax of 2 mills per annum upon the people of Texas.

The average cost to the governors of Texas, of maintaining the mansion and paying their grocery bills, as nearly as may be ascertained, has been about $6,000 per year for a period of 20 years.

ITCHING, SCRATCHING, SKIN DISEASES THAT BURN LIKE FLAMES OF FIRE

Here is a Sensible Treatment. For real, downright, harrassing, discomfort, very few disorders can approach so-called skin diseases, such as Eczema, Tetter, Boils, eruptions, scaly irritations and similar skin troubles, notwithstanding the lavish use of salves, lotions, washes, and other treatment applied externally to the irritated parts.

No one ever heard of a person being afflicted with any form of skin diseases whose blood was in good condition. Therefore, it is but logical to conclude that the proper method of treatment for pimples, blotches, sores, boils, rough, red and scaly skin, is to purify the blood and remove the tiny germs of pollution that break through and manifest their presence on the surface of the skin.

People in all parts of the country have written us how they were completely rid of every trace of these disorders by the use of S. S. S. the matchless, purely vegetable, blood purifier. S. S. S. goes direct to the center of the blood supply, and purifies and cleanses it of every vestige of foreign matter, giving a clear and ruddy complexion that indicates perfect health.

MUNICH TERMED A COMBINATION GERMAN OXFORD AND A PARIS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Munich, scene of recent heavy fighting between the Red Guard and the German government troops, is described in the following bulletin from the National Geographic Society:

"Munich, widely heralded before the war as a combination German Oxford and Paris, owes much of its magnificent buildings to the mad Louis II, and its famous English garden to a native of Massachusetts.

"Before the war Munich was larger than Cleveland and smaller than Boston, the third German city in size, and capital of Bavaria, perhaps the least Prussian district in Germany. Indeed, an incidental reason for the Franco-Prussian war was Bismarck's shrewd calculation that Bavaria could thus be cemented to the empire.

"Munich's cue in German propaganda seems to have been to sordidly depict the inevitable 'Verboten's' of most German cities and to advertise instead an extreme cordiality which, even as described by friendly visitors, suggests an uncomfortable degree of familiarity. If having a street car conductor pass his snuff box, taking it for granted that all guests at beer halls need no further introductions, mingling with street crowds during 'Karneval' when a masked woman tacitly extends the supposed privileges of the mistletoe—and practically all are masked—or being expected to buy beer for all new made friends if you strike a bargain at the 'rag fair,' makes you feel at home, by all means pre-war Munich was the place to visit.

"To the French the gusto of Munich hospitality was oppressive, to the Italians—accustomed to light-soiled carnival scenes—the Munich brands of hilarity and beer were somewhat odd. Suspicion that beer, at least that of Munich, makes for sobriety is somewhat disarmed by the extensive nomenclature the Munich natives seem to have evolved for all stages of inebriety.

"Louis (or Ludwig) I was the Maecenas of Munich. A dilettante, perhaps in politics, he was an ardent, not wholly discriminate, art patron. Before his adventure with Lola Montez led to his abdication, he had laid the foundations of the university and galleries. Munich beer and comic papers of the 'Jugend' type added attractions for the Teutonic student, artist and Bohemian.

"One Munich gallery exhibited such works as Titian's 'Christ Crowned with Thorns,' Rembrandt's 'The Descent from the Cross' and a Raphael 'Madonna,' and contained works of Rubens, Van Dyck, Heineken, Elmer, Perugino, Botticelli and Fra Filippo Lippi, from which it will be seen that Louis did not hesitate to acquire the masterpieces of other nations.

"Louis II saw Bavaria gradually absorbed in the empire, but, before madness drove him to suicide, he furthered the art development begun by his grandfather. His reign was notable for his encouragement of Wagner's development of the music drama, and to his royal generosity, which would add more to his fame had it not been for the oppressive taxation it imposed and his later excesses, were due the Bayreuth production, epochal in the history of music.

"To those who hold Kaiser Wilhelm mad, it would be interesting to compare the later monarch's eccentricities with the wild night rides, incognito travels, the extravagant castle building and other symptoms of megalomania in Louis II. In the final stages of the latter's insanity he developed a mania for solitude, a constant fear of pursuit, and ordered lavish theatrical productions at Munich which he alone attended.

"With the history of Munich the name Louis is inseparable. It was Louis the Severe who, in the 13th century gave the city a start by living there, and Emperor Louis, the Bavarian, next in succession, who built the first city wall. The city owes its beginning to Duke Henry the Lion who established a mint there in 1155 and built a bridge across the Isar so he might levy toll on the salt from springs of Reichenhall and neighboring villages. The city occupies the site of the ancient monastery Tegernsee, hence its name (Munichen, the monks).

"Resisting the Reformation, the Munichians cling not only to ancient Christian beliefs but to many pagan rites. Witchery and black art still are accepted, and led to a trial for the war god, Ares, and Thursday is Pfingstag, from Greek for the fifth day. From the Odia heather custom is retained the observance of Twelfth Night, when evil spirits are driven from homes by burning herbs on live coals and writing the mystic sign of the 'Three Wise Men' on every door with sacred chalk. Every seven years is the carnival known as the Coopers' Dance, which had its origin during a plague four centuries ago when the guild of Coopers arranged a spectacle to hearten the populace.

"It was Benjamin Thompson, a native of Woburn, Mass., who laid out the magnificent park of 600 acres known as the English Garden. Upon clearing the streets of Munich of more than 2,500 medallions and housing them in an institution where they became self-sustaining, Thompson said: 'To make vicious and abandoned people happy it has generally been supposed necessary first to make them virtuous. But why not reverse this order? Why not make them first happy and then virtuous?'

EL PASO MEN FORM COMPANY TO DRILL ACREAGE HERE

The Silver Cycle Oil Company, composed of El Paso capitalists, and Wichita Falls and Burkburnett oil men, have purchased $75,000 worth of acreage in Block 75, adjoining the tract held by the Golden Cycle and has completed plans for the drilling program. The contract for the first well has been let to Cliff Smith, of Burkburnett, a member of the partnership and son of J. A. D. Smith.

W. C. Porterfield of El Paso, is representing his associates of the western city in the deal. J. A. D. Smith, George Soureker, C. F. Johnson, W. C. Best and J. C. Smith, operators of this city and Burkburnett are also interested in the company, which is capitalized at $150,000. Mr. Porterfield has been operating at Ranger for some time, and was attracted to Burkburnett by the sensational northwest strike. He was associated with J. A. D. Smith in several Ranger companies, the Ocean Oil and the Ranger Central Companies particularly.

BURK 88 CO. WILL SPUD IN WEDNESDAY

The Burk 88 Oil Company expects to spud in its well on Block 88 north of Thrift No. 2. The company has a drilling site of two and a half acres in about the center of the block. The capital stock of the company is $60,000. J. H. Falson is president, H. Featech, vice-president and R. T. Harris trustee. C. Falson is secretary, J. H. 3,000 ACRES $75,000 CAPITAL

We propose to drill this well 2,500 feet and as much deeper as the drilling fund will pay for, unless oil or gas is found in paying quantities at a lesser depth.

This test will be drilled with Standard tools, and will be started with casing sufficient to go 4,000 feet if necessary.

This property has been thoroughly examined by two well-known geologists, who pronounced it good, claiming that paying oil will be found near the 1700 foot depth.

If oil is found on this 3,000 acres in paying quantities, you figure what it is worth, we can't. Get your stock today, as only a limited amount will be offered for sale.

DEMPSEY TO BEGIN LIGHT TRAINING TODAY

By Associated Press.
 TOLEDO, O., May 20.—Jack Dempsey slept last night in his training camp on the shores of Maumee Bay, which will be his quarters until his championship battle with Jess Willard in Bayview Park here July 4. Light training will be started by the challenger today. Serious work, however, will not be begun until later in the week.
 The deal for the camp, an exclusive club, was closed yesterday afternoon. Members of some of the most prominent families in Toledo voluntarily surrendered their privileges there so that Dempsey could occupy it.

 An outdoor gymnasium will be constructed at once. Dempsey was so delighted with the camp that he told friends he probably would not return to the city until after the battle.
 Jimmy DeForest, a veteran boxer and manager of Plainfield, N. J., has been selected as chief trainer for the challenger. He was Dempsey's first handler. The sparring partners will be instructed to report within a few days.

The Toledo Ministerial Union, which, a week ago, filed a protest with Mayor Schreiber against the Willard-Dempsey battle, instructed its committee today to seek an injunction, if necessary, to prevent the contest. The committee was empowered to take whatever action deemed necessary, but none of its members would say when action would be taken.

LODGE SAYS LEAGUE NOT ACCEPTABLE TO THE SENATE

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Lodge, Republican leader, and Chairman of the foreign relations committee, in a statement tonight declared that the revised League of Nations "is unacceptable" and predicted it would not be accepted by the majority of the Senate without amendment.

Senator Lodge's statement follows: "So far as I can judge—and I have had conversations with many Senators, including members of both parties, I am satisfied that a majority of the Senate feel very strongly that the league as now treated must receive amendment, that in its present form, without any change, it would not be accepted."

"To say that the amendments put forth in the Senate and proposed and formulated by Mr. Root on the suggestion of the State Department have been met is without foundation. Not one of the suggestions of the Senate, not one of the amendments proposed by Mr. Root have been carried out. Some have been entirely rejected, from the terms imposed upon Germany in many respects, really are.

"There is no desire anywhere to delay the treaty of peace with Germany one moment beyond the time necessary to understand it, but we must have it before us in the official form. As to the League of Nations, the American people must know just what they are to be asked to agree to. By that league they are invited to take the gravest step taken by the United States and no organized clamor, no manufactured pressure of any kind, will sway the Senate from its high duty of laying before the American people exactly what the league involves and what it means to the United States and to the future peace of the world."

The months from the beginning of May to October are called the wet season in Cuba, although rain falls in every month of the year.
