

WAGE CONTROVERSY OVER LEAGUE SETTLE

ONLY SIX FOR THE RESOLUTION ASKING GOVERNOR TO RESIGN

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., July 17.—The House resolution asking for the resignation of the Governor was defeated in the House today by a vote of 108 to 6.

The previous question on the substitute and the resolution had been ordered, and, aside from discussions on the point of order, Pope was the only speaker. He said the House rejected his resolution that it would place all fraud and deceit, as set out in the investigation committee report, upon Walker Crawford and Bassett Blakeley, owner of the farm. He continued that under the law Mr. Crawford was not under obligation to keep confidante with the governor. He then reviewed testimony of the investigation.

By Associated Press. AUSTIN, TEX., July 17.—When the House resolution asking for the resignation of the Governor for his alleged participation in the attempt to relinquish the state's opinion to purchase the Blue Ridge tract farm was taken under consideration by the House today, Representative Brown of Tarrant and Pedro of Travis offered a substitute. This substitute proposed that the House assume a share of the blame for the transaction, because it had failed to instruct the Governor concerning a prison policy of terminating all leases held by the prison system on farm lands when the Governor had specifically asked for this instruction during the regular session and after that session, but that he would not act until the session adjourned. The substitute was held out of order by the speaker because it was not germane to the original resolution.

PLAYGROUND FOR THE CHILDREN OF NORTH SIDE CITY

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE AT MEETING OF THE ROTARY CLUB TODAY.

PLANS ARE WELL UNDER WAY

Improvement to Represent an Expenditure of About One Thousand Dollars.

Construction of a playground for children on the North Side in the immediate future was announced at the luncheon of the Rotary club at noon today by A. E. Myles, chairman of the Public Affairs committee of the club. Mr. Myles spoke of being present at a mass meeting on the North Side for consideration of this and other matters, which was attended by a large number of residents of that section, during which twenty men had volunteered to give part of their time to the erection of the equipment of the park. As several of these men are carpenters who agreed to donate an hour or two per day for the work, quite a saving in the matter of labor would be effected. Mr. Myles stated that he proposed to ask the city council to allow the use of one or two of the city teams to do the grading and cleaning up of the lot, which is now occupied largely by squatters and used in part as a stock yard. With this help and the expenditure of $100 donated by the civic league, and $500 by the Rotary club for equipment, Mr. Myles is of the opinion that the children of the North Side will be afforded a playground which will represent a value as an improvement of at least $1,000. Legal transfer by the city to the school board of this lot for this and school purposes will be asked of the city council tonight, by Judge P. A. Martin, president of the board.

The selection of the North Side as the site for the first playground, Mr. Myles stated, was made after a careful consideration by Mrs. T. B. Smock and other ladies of the civic league, working with the Rotary committee, and the conclusion formed that this location was the most logical one and the one where a playground would fill the greatest need.

In answer to a question by Dr. Curly Atkinson as to what educational work along the lines of proper sanitation and sanitary precautions the committee had in mind among the North Side children, Mr. Myles stated that he had been informed the city council that they were not at present in position to afford the North Side the proper sewer and other sanitary facilities to which they were entitled on account of lack of funds. While for the last eighteen months he has known nothing of the state of the city's finances, he stated that he did know that eighteen months ago the sewer fund was the only money making fund the city had. At that time an estimate of $100,000 was placed on the value of the sewer system here, all of which had been built from money derived from sewer rentals with the exception of the original investment, derived from $40,000 worth of sewer bonds.

An expression of pleasure at having had the opportunity to accompany the Wichita Falls and other Texas delegations to the International Rotary convention at Salt Lake City from James E. King, bandmaster of the Lone Star band was read by Ira Brown, secretary.

A number of vocal selections during the club's luncheon were rendered by Miss Jessie May Agnew, supervisor of music in the city schools. Among the visitors introduced were W. P. Daugherty of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., J. W. Harper, Penn Denton of Dalhart, F. E. Van Warner, W. Freear, E. H. Bredlove, and Charles Steele.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bipro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nervous Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ribs, jaws, the rounding off of protruding shoulders with the attendant bloom of hue and attractiveness, it is no wonder many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously undervalued in many of our standard text books."

It seems to be well established that the deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bipro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a well-known change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollow and astringent aspect, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the skill and strength to be up and doing. It is sold by Miller Drug Co. in Wichita Falls, and all good druggists. CATTYON'S-White Bipro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc. those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use CATTYON'S-White Bipro-Phosphate.

ROTARIANS OPPOSE PROPOSAL TO SHARE OHIO WITH BROKERS

ACTION IS TAKEN AT REGULAR LUNCHEON OF CLUB TODAY.

SEVERAL DISCUSS SUBJECT

Councilman McFall Refers to Position of City in Action Already Taken.

Opposition to the proposal advanced that parking space be limited on Ohio and the part of the street this freed from automobiles be given over to the curb oil brokers was voiced at today's luncheon of the Rotary club, and the club went on record as approving the attitude of the council in enforcing the ordinance driving the brokers from the street and sidewalk on Ohio, this action being adopted on motion by A. E. Myles.

The discussion of the curb market proposal was inaugurated by Judge P. A. Martin, who called attention to the fact that such a proposal had been advanced, and stated that he was thoroughly opposed to the use of the street for any other purpose than that for which it was dedicated to the city for the accommodation of public travel.

The street belongs just as much to the huckster and fruit vendor who sells his wares in a pushcart, said Judge Martin, as it does to the curb oil stock salesman.

Johnston Approves Suggestion. Judge Martin's attitude on the question was supported by B. F. Johnson, who expressed himself as being opposed to any such recognition of the curb salesman by the city as would be afforded by such action as that proposed.

J. M. McFall, speaking as a member of the council, pointed out that the matter had been discussed and resolved by the council under which the activities of the curb brokers are being at present limited, which action was fully justified, if it needed any justification, by the needs of the traffic on Ohio for all of the street proper.

Little Interest Manifested. Mr. McFall stated that the council is glad at all times to meet with the business men of the city, and glad to receive their suggestions and co-operation in all matters of public interest. Mr. McFall took this occasion to say that there was less interest in the city government displayed by the citizenry at large of Wichita Falls than any place he knew of. He spoke of the time and effort members of the city government were giving to the affairs of the city, although as fully pressed by the calls of their own business interests as the other business men of the city.

In the matter of the ordinance directed against the activities of the curb brokers, the council took its action after full and mature deliberations, feeling that the action taken was for the best interests of the city, said Mr. McFall. "In view of this fact we naturally do not appreciate the proposals to go over our heads, as it were, by being asked to clear part of the street for these salesmen. We appreciate and want the suggestions and co-operation of the business men at all times in the city affairs, and we keenly feel the lack of interest shown by the citizenship of Wichita Falls in its city government. We have done the best we know how in the matter, and if there are some here who do not like the action we have taken in the matter, I feel that the only thing to do is to tell them to get busy at the next election and elect a city government who will run things like they want them to."

For interests of the council and of the Rotary club, M. A. Bandy expressed himself as standing for what he believed to be the interest of Wichita Falls, as against that of the interest of the stock brokers from other places. In moving that the Rotary club go on record as approving the action taken by the council in this matter, and in opposition to the proposal to devote part of Ohio to the curb market, A. E. Myles expressed doubt as to any benefit to the city or the oil industry here from the activities of curb brokers, being of the opinion that every reputable oil stock could be purchased at the established stock exchanges, or if not listed on the exchange, references obtained to people from whom it could be purchased.

After the armistice he was with the medical inspection department at Nice. After a visit with friends and relatives here Mr. Cassell will go to Pawhuska, Okla., where he is in the drug business.

Both young men have spent many years of their lives in Wichita Falls, and are welcomed to the city by a large number of friends.

POOR WAY TO AROUSE SYMPATHY

Our sympathies for the Irish Republic have cooled somewhat after reading some of the things that have happened at mass meetings addressed by Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish Republic.

President Wilson's name was blazoned. Sir Douglas Haig's name was blazoned. Had's greeted mention of Lloyd George.

The name things happened at Chicago where a great demonstration was staged for this Irish guest.

Did De Valera denounce these indignities with the stinging rebuke they deserved? He did not. Reports of his speech indicate rather than he encouraged and justified them.

NORTH WICHITA TO HAVE A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

North Wichita is to have a school building to be completed in time for the opening of the fall term of school.

The board of directors of the North Wichita Independent school district will ask the city council to deed to the board the public square in the section north of the Wichita River.

The board several years ago, when they desired it for school purposes. The board's plans call for a four room frame building, of sufficient size to care for the needs of the north side at present and for several years to come, to be erected at a cost of approximately $7,000.

Judge P. A. Martin of the school board announced the plans for the new school building, and the creating of a ward for the residents in North Wichita, at a mass meeting of citizens, held at the Northside Methodist church last night.

J. Pat Murphy, pastor of the church, who has taken an active interest in securing a school for the north side, also addressed the meeting, and A. E. Myles, representing the Rotary Club, told of the plans for the children's play park, which the civic organizations of the city are going to install in North Wichita.

Twenty men, whose homes are in the section, volunteered to give a certain amount of time in the construction of the playground equipment. A number of men are carpenters, and their services will enable the clubs to have the playgrounds completed in a short time.

The money for the equipment has been appropriated by the civic organizations. When the original townsite was laid off a public square was reserved on the north side, and given to the city. It is this square which will be utilized for the playground, and where the school board expects to build the school.

admiring way with reference to Mr. Ford advancing wages and doubling his production.

Evidence is Recalled. Mr. Stevenson invited attention of the witness to the testimony of Henry A. Wise Wood who quoted him as stating that he would take down the American flag from his factory never to go up again.

This was published in the Detroit Free Press in a report of a speech by Mr. Wood.

"Did you read it in the Free Press?" asked the lawyer.

"My attention was called to it."

"Did you write a denial of it to the Free Press?"

"Not that I recall."

"And Theodore Delavigne, your publicity man, wrote to Mr. Wood stating that you were grateful for what he had said?"

"I don't remember."

"Do you wish to retract what you said about Mr. Wood yesterday, that he was a slave of the big interests?"

"Not a slave; he is simply controlled by them," said Mr. Ford. "He was preparedness."

"Oh, that's it, he was a slave because he was preparedness," said the lawyer.

"In the same class with President Wilson."

"No."

"Both are in the murder class."

"No."

"But you said yesterday that you yourself were a murderer in 1917?"

"No; a murder helper."

The attorney was unable to get the witness to place the President in the "murder" class except by deduction and analogy.

Witness returned such answers as "Well, he was for war."

Mr. Ford was still under examination at adjournment.

may be international, should be properly safeguarded. The storm center of these reservations seems to be article 10. As to the retention of this article much may be said on both sides.

It may be argued that the United States ought not to bind itself for all time to guarantee the territorial integrity and political independence of the members of the league against external aggression and yet that argument might not apply with the same force to protecting the territorial settlements made by the Peace Conference until this new world order is fully established and the present peace of the world made secure.

There is a wide distinction between a temporary and a permanent retention of article 10.

"Upon the question of reservations I reserve my judgment for a full discussion and consideration."

PRESIDENT INVITES REPUBLICAN SENATORS

Three other Senators, Jones of Washington, Colt of Rhode Island, and Nelson of Minnesota, had been invited to call at the White House during the day, but Senator Jones was out of the city. The President expected to see Senators Colt and Nelson this afternoon.

Others Are Invited. Invitations to several more Republican Senators to call at the White House tomorrow have been sent by the President, it was announced. Their names were not disclosed, but it was understood that there were five on the list.

It was intimated that the President planned to invite all of the Republican Senators to the White House, devoting four or five hours each day to conferences with them.

Sensors Borah, Idaho, and Johnson, California, two of the bitterest opponents of the League of Nations, were expected to be on the list, but there apparently was some doubt in administration circles whether they would accept.

Covers Wide Range. "Our conversation covered a wide range," said Senator McCumber, "and if the President wants to say what we talked about that is all right. But as far as I am concerned, I consider that our conversation was confidential, and I do not feel at liberty to disclose what happened."

Senator McCumber added that his position in regard to the League of Nations "had been made as clear as the English language could make it."

and that his position now was the same as it always had been. Senator McCumber would not say whether the Shantung situation was under discussion.

Senators invited to the White House tomorrow to discuss the treaty included McNary, Oregon, who is understood to favor the League of Nations and Kellogg, Minnesota, and Capper, Kansas, who have not announced any definite stand on the league proposal.

The President's invitation to Senator McNary asked that he come to the White House to discuss the treaty and all it involves.

Market Report

COTTON MARKET

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 17.—The cotton market was feverish and unsettled during today's early trading. First prices were two points higher on May, but generally five to 25 points lower and active months sold 25 to 35 points under last night's closing figures shortly after the call. There was further liquidation and rather aggressive scattered selling on the easier cables and continued weakness of foreign exchange but there was some easing over reports of heavy rain in the Carolinas and the market rallied several points after selling at 33.97 for October and 33.75 for January.

Reports that the trade was buying against forward needs helped to steady the market later in the morning and covering became more active after the publication of the detailed weather reports showing more rain than expected in the eastern belt. October sold up to 34.65 and January to 34.35 around mid-day or 25 to 30 points net higher.

The market eased again early in the afternoon on reports of threatened labor troubles at Fall River and there were reactions of 15 or 20 points from the best.

The cotton market closed steady.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 17.—Demoralization in sterling exchange had an unmistakable bearish effect today on the corn market. The fact that sterling had fallen 29 points in about a week appeared to have left exporters unable to figure on business. A drastic setback this morning in the value of hogs tended likewise to depress corn to so too did failure of bullish weather predictions. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2c lower with September $1.95 1/2 to $1.96 1/2 and September $1.64 1/2 to $1.65 1/2 were followed by declines all around.

Oats weakened with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2c higher, including September at 31 1/2 to 32, the market under went a general sag.

Provisions dropped with hogs and grain.

Prevalence of labor troubles tended to obstruct any important development of rallying power. The market closed heavy 1/2c to 1/4c net lower with September $1.94 to $1.94 1/2 and December $1.62 1/2 to $1.63 1/2.

The market closed nearly the bottom point of the session.

CONTRACT FOR STONE FOR USE IN BUILDING ROADS

Contract was closed today by Judge J. P. Jones, acting for the commissioners court, with the North Texas Stone company, whereby this company will furnish the county with about 250,000 tons of crushed rock, at a consideration of $1.35 per ton, for use in the construction of the concrete highway system in the county. The company was represented in the transaction by G. D. Anderson, secretary of the company. The company has agreed to make bond for their performance of the contract, while the stockholders of the company have agreed to assume personal responsibility for the fulfillment of its terms. The county, on its part, will make an advance payment to the company of $100,000.

Jarrard, being held for alleged implication in the wholesale pay voucher theft from the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railway offices, was reduced from $25,000 to $2,000. Jarrard was arrested some time ago in connection with this theft, and was implicated by the confession of Earle B. Carmichael, arrested in Fort Worth.

At the hearing yesterday, a number of witnesses who were standing at the pay window at the same time Jarrard, who was formerly an employe of the railroad, drew his check, testified as to their belief that Jarrard did not steal the checks, one of them stating positively that the only checks Jarrard got at this time were two back pay checks for him and the check for his pay for the month of June.

Carmichael in his confession at Fort Worth declared that Jarrard stole the checks while at the window drawing his pay. Carmichael was not produced, which was a hindrance for the arrest of more witnesses.

Wichita Falls Motorman Makes an Open Statement

Mr. C. W. Stearman, residing at 1908 Ninth street, Wichita Falls, Texas, who is one of the street railway company's most trusted motormen and a man who has become well known for the past year for his alert attention to duty and his polite manner towards passengers, does not hesitate to say that Orgatone is the only medicine he has ever been able to find that gave his wife any relief from her constant suffering from nervous indigestion and general run down condition.

"Several months ago my wife became troubled with her stomach," said Mr. Stearman. "We found out it was nervous indigestion and it kept getting worse until she was in such a weak run down condition that she had scarcely energy enough to do her own housework, especially during the hot summer months.

"Everything she would eat soured on her stomach and caused gas to form and if she would have eaten certain kinds of food she would have been in constant misery all the time. She could hardly sleep at night and got so little rest that when she got up in the morning she would be so tired and worn out she wouldn't have energy enough to do her own housework as she thought she ought to.

"She had taken quite a lot of other medicine without getting any relief, but the very first bottle of Orgatone stopped the gas on her stomach and those headaches and improved her appetite wonderfully. She has taken two bottles now and she feels as well as she ever felt in her life. She can eat anything she wants now and has no trouble afterwards. Her housework is a pleasure to her now, and we both feel so grateful for what Orgatone has done in my wife's case we are willing to tell anybody how this treatment put her in condition when everything else had failed.

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the T. E. Young, Drug Company, corner Ninth and Indiana, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Other agents are Clark Drug Company, Burkburnett. Look for the Orgatone sign.

How World Looks At Cremation

SIR HENRY THOMPSON, LATE PROFESSOR OF SURGERY IN UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, LONDON, SAYS: "NO DEAD BODY IS EVER PLACED IN THE SOIL WITHOUT POLLUTING THE EARTH, THE AIR, AND THE WATER ABOVE IT"

WHAT do you know about cremation?

Why, you say, it is a means of disposing of dead bodies by burning instead of burying them—not a very decent or religious way of doing things, and certainly not traditional, but a new fad of some sort.

And with that observation you are probably inclined to dismiss the subject from your thoughts. Cremation is the means of disposing of corpses by burning instead of burial. Thus far, your probable observation is good. But the rest of it is a matter of opinion which becomes unimpeachable when subjected to a thoughtful study of the process, history and sanitary advantages of cremation.

Cremation is the dissolving of the human body into its integral chemical elements in a few hours by an artificial process instead of allowing nature to take years and years at the job and then not do it half so well. It is a question of quick burning opposed to a slow, draw-out burning—incineration against putrefaction.

Of course, you never stopped to think of it in that way. And you probably never stopped to think of cremation as much more than a fad. But suppose we look into the matter together and discover some of the why and wherefore of this "fad" which is centuries old.

The human body is made up of two groups of chemical elements—the gaseous part of the body is carbonic acid, water and ammonia, and forms about 80 per cent of the body. The solid part consists of lime, phosphorus, iron, sulphur and magnesium. When death occurs the energy which held these chemical elements together is expended in separating them. We have a short, unpleasant word for this—we call it decay. Whether a body is buried or exposed to the wind, rain and the sun, this change will take place. The liquid element will evaporate; the solid will be left.

Ancient Egyptians Were Able to Check Decay.

Only the embalming process of the ancient Egyptians has been able to check decay. And then the check has been merely a retardation, not a prevention. Burial certainly is no check to decay. It merely puts the process out of sight without actually preventing the other aspects of it from striking our sensibilities.

If we accept modern science's statement of the chemical composition of the body—and we imply our acceptance of it if we believe in the efficacy of the family physician—we can not deny that the decomposition of the body is the separation of it into its constituent chemical elements. Then, say the advocates of cremation, is it not better that this separation take place in a few hours instead of in ten or twenty years?

The problem of disposing of the dead is one which demanded the unending attention of the living all through history. Except in Egypt, Judea and China, cremation was the solution applied to the problem by the ancient world. In Egypt bodies were embalmed, and the mummies which remain to us today are relics of the Egyptians' marvelous methods of embalming, which nevertheless, has not prevented decay. In Judea bodies were buried in sepulchres. In China burial took place in the earth. This burial was not, however, the sort with which we are familiar, for they were unable to dig very deeply, and consequently could not cover the dead to even a healthy depth.

When the early settlers came to America they found the Indians disposing of their dead by placing the bodies up in trees, where the elements of nature could play upon them, or else placing them in caves. Every where else in the ancient world, beside the three nations mentioned, corpses were disposed of by incineration.

The Romans are famous for their funeral pyres. And it is probable that the early Christians in the Roman Empire were no different from their fellow-citizens in the manner of disposing of their dead. However, when the persecution of the Christians began obviously to burn a dead body was to expose the friends and family of the deceased to the malignant torment of the pagans. Hence the early Christians had to resort to earth burial in order to avoid persecution, and as the Western world became Christian the pyre gave way to the grave.

Cremation reappeared in the last century, when a few desultory incinerations occurred in England. It was the age of great scientific development, and cremation took hold. In 1874 the first society for fostering the practice was founded in England, and the custom was revived on something like a firm basis.

Crematoriums are similar in the seventy large cities in America. They are composed of two buildings, the crematorium and the columbarium. In the former the cremations take place. In the latter the ashes of the dead, contained in metal or earthenware receptacles, are stored away by those who do not wish to remove the ashes to some other place or to bury them in the burial plot outside.

"Cremation taken about three hours," said an official in charge of the buildings and the cremations, who conducted the writer through the institution and explained the process to him. "No special preparation is necessary. The body should be dressed simply and placed in an inexpensive coffin. The funeral may be held in quite the same way as a funeral where earth burial follows. We have our chapel, where funeral services may be conducted."

The chapel, which occupies the upper floor of the crematorium, is quite churchlike in its dignity. The benches range along the sides, leaving an aisle down the center that leads to the altar, upon which stand the organ and a lectern. At the end of the aisle and just in front of the steps leading up to the altar is the sarcophagus, or altar tomb. This sarcophagus is both a receptacle for the coffin of the dead and the upper end of the elevator which conveys the casket to the retort below. Built after the Grecian style, the sarcophagus stands about five feet high. It is painted white, and from the opening in front, through which the coffin enters, two heavy bronze doors are hung. "I expect a funeral in a few minutes," the official stated as he explained the sarcophagus to the writer. And he had hardly made the statement when the organist perceived the expected cortege turn into the avenue. The mourners entered the grounds of the crematorium and halted before the chapel. The mourners descended from the carriages and the casket was borne into the building. Carried down the aisle of the chapel, it was deposited upon the slab within the sarcophagus, whose doors were allowed to remain open during the services which followed, and the casket was in full view of those who had come with it.

A clergyman delivered a brief sermon and the rest prayed for the soul of the deceased. When the services were concluded, instead of the sickening thump, thump of clouds of dirt falling upon the wooden coffin the doors of the sarcophagus were closed as the mourners withdrew. As far as they were concerned, the ceremony was over. While the closing of these doors marks the final sight of the deceased for the relatives and friends, it is only the beginning of the process for the attendant in charge. The official went downstairs to the other end of the elevator and lowered the platform or slab upon which the casket reposed until it was flush with the top of a small truck. This truck moves on steel rails laid in the granite floor. It is made of iron beams, and upon the half dozen pairs of wheels suspended horizontally at the top a long steel tray is placed.

Removes Metal From Coffin Before Placing It In Oven.

Onto this tray the cremator pushed the coffin. While the casket was on this truck he removed the metallic handles and all other visible parts. He then transported the truck with its freight to the turntable in front of one of the retorts, "twisting the apparatus around and made ready to place the casket within the retort.

The retort or oven is made of bricks, reinforced with steel supports and girders. In the front is an opening three feet square to allow for the admission of a casket, only one coffin at a time, of course, being accommodated in the oven. The heat is supplied by the combustion of wood, subjected to a strong draft, and is introduced to the oven from the rear.

The combustion of fuel does not take place within the retort itself, but in an especially constructed firebox which adjoins. There are two such fireboxes. One generates the preliminary heat for establishing the required initial temperature in the retort and for igniting the coffin and clothes of the body to be cremated. This is a small one and does not produce a very great heat. The other, however, is set beneath the level of the floor and is much larger. A steady draft is kept upon the fire, and the heat given off by it is much more in-tries he rolled the tray off its wheels and on to the floor of the retort, closing the heavy doors and locking them.

"What happens first," it was explained, "is the reduction of the coffin and the clothing to ashes. You see, if both the coffin and the body were burned together, the ashes of the dead would have mingled with them the coarse and insignificant ashes of the coffin. In order to insure the separation of the body ashes from those of the wood and clothing, we have to burn the coffin and clothing first.

"That flame will ignite the coffin, and in an hour all the extraneous substance will be reduced to ashes. When the consumption of the coffin and the clothing is complete, I draw out all the ashes by creating an intense draft through the furnace. This residue withdrawn, the body is ready for its own pure incineration. It takes from forty minutes to an hour to burn the coffin and remove the ashes.

"When the retort has been cleared of all these substances, the real heat of the larger furnace is turned into the oven. No flame touches the body. But the interior of the retort becomes heated to a temperature above 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit. This heat is sustained for about three hours. By that time, incineration is complete.

Cremation Is a Chemical Process—Evaporation.

"You know, most people imagine the body is burned—goes up in flames and leaves a few charred cinders. That isn't true at all. What happens is entirely a chemical process. More than nine-tenths of the body is liquid, and this will not burn. It is evaporated, just as, for example, if you were to subject a solution of salt water to intense heat, the liquid would evaporate, leaving the crystalline solids. The liquid or gaseous portion of the body is evaporated and the body or solid remains.

"This is what the ashes look like," he said, holding out a copper vessel in which he declared were the ashes of a nurse who had been cremated twenty years ago, and who had stipulated that her ashes be shown to all visitors at the crematorium. The substance in the vessel was a light grayish matter composed of particles varying from very minute granules to pieces about the size of the tip of an adult's little finger. They all had a lime appearance, were hard and dry, and emitted no odor whatsoever.

In order to make certain that incineration is complete, a very small slide door has been placed upon the iron doors of the oven. This small door may be lifted and a glimpse of the interior of the oven obtained through the aperture. As this involves a matter of delicacy in the cremation of the body, the cremator was careful not to permit the writer a view of the inside of the oven after the casket had been placed within. He had suspended one of his rules in permitting any visitor to be present during the part of the process just described. But he would not go farther than that and allow outside eyes to peer into the recesses of the oven after the coffin had entered it.

Three hours after the time the casket is put in the oven cremation is usually complete. Through the sliding door, however, one can ascertain when incineration has taken place, and there is never any premature removals from the oven. In the case of persons whose death occurred from a drooping affliction the time required is longer, because of the greater amount of liquid in the body, more time being required in the evaporation of this extra amount of liquid matter.

Innocent or Guilty?

In a certain case, where the charge was the theft of a watch, the evidence was conflicting. As the jury retired the judge observed that he would be glad to help in adjusting any difficulties that might present themselves to the minds of the jury.

Eleven jurors filed out of the box. The man who remained wore an expression of extreme perplexity.

Observing his hesitation, the judge said:

"Would you like to ask me a question?"

"Yes, your honor," replied the juror eagerly. "I'd be very glad if you'd tell me whether the prisoner really stole the watch."

tense. The heat of this fire incinerates the body.

The cremator opened the heavy iron doors which guard the front of the oven, disclosing an interior hardened by long exposure to the heat and played upon even then by a lambent stream of fire.

"That flame," he said, "does not touch the body. It merely heats the retort, and when the coffin is placed inside it ignites the wood and reduces it with the dead person's clothing to ashes before the cremation proper takes place.

While he spoke he had pushed the truck bearing the casket up to the level of the mouth of the oven. In a

COMPLETIONS NOT SO NUMEROUS AS RESULT OF COMMISSION ORDER

Completions in the Waggoner pool for the past week were not so numerous as for the weeks preceding, due to the uncertainty of affairs, which the temporary shut-down order of the railroad commission caused. GLASS WATER BOTTLES POPULAR IN OIL FIELD
 The five gallon water bottles made by the Illinois Glass Company are proving very popular in the oil fields in Texas, as they make a most convenient vessel for carrying and holding water for the oil field workers. An advertisement of the bottle appears in today's issue of The Times. A number have already been sold here. The bottles are handled in Wichita Falls and surrounding territory by the Nash Hardware Co.

JASBO WELL PROVES UP A LARGE PORTION OF BLOCK NO. 73

A considerable portion of block 73, was proven up by the Jasbo Oil Company's No. 1 Schmisser, which brought itself in on yesterday. The production of the well was not estimated, it is reported, because of the shutdown which was made in compliance with the railroad commission's order, but it is probable a test flow will be made today if the restrictions are off, as is believed to be the case. From all indications, however, the well is expected to prove up to the average of the pool.

The Mona Marie Oil Co.'s No. 1 Schmisser, offsetting the Jasbo, is on the sand, and will be completed as soon as conditions will permit, according to reports of the officers of the company.

Are You Looking for A Real Oil Investment?

If so you must consider three points

FIRST—THE VALUE OF THE HOLDINGS OF THE COMPANY

SECOND—THE SIZE OF THE COMPANY

THIRD—THE MEN BEHIND THE COMPANY

FIRST—THE VALUE OF THE HOLDINGS OF THE COMPANY

The Texas Wonder Pools Oil Company owns clear title to all commercial oil and gas leases on 287 acres of Texas Oil Lands. These leases are subject to One-Eighth Royalty only.

45 Acres of this property is in the proven gusher field of the northwest BURKBURNETT POOL. Tract No. 1 is the northwest 5 acres of the A. Lanier survey, and is surrounded by 1000- to 5000-barrel wells. A nearby 5-acre tract with a well recently sold for $570,000.00.

40 Acres in the heart of the famous Watkins shallow field, containing one 15-barrel well.

202 Acres located in three different counties of Texas, each of which is surrounded by deep test wells, now being drilled by big companies.

SECOND—THE SIZE OF THE COMPANY

Texas Wonder Pools Oil Company is a joint stock association capitalized at $500,000, par value $10.00 per share. The substantial men back of this company have advanced nearly the amount of capitalization for its holdings. $100,000 from the sale of stock will be set aside for a drilling fund.

The officers of this company, before a single sale of stock was made, let the contract and advanced the money for drilling a well on Tract No. 1, which is surrounded by the Texas Chief, New Pool, M. & P. Burk, and the famous Texhoma wells. Drilling will immediately begin and a 2000- to 5000-barrel well will undoubtedly have been produced in the next few weeks.

There is all of the opportunity to make a big return with this company which a ONE WELL Company would offer, and NONE of the RISK. A dry hole for the TEXAS WONDER POOLS OIL COMPANY, will be only an incident, because their holdings are proven and the substantial drilling fund will make possible the drilling of several wells. While on the other hand the capitalization of this company is not so great but that large profits may be made by each investor.

To each person subscribing for One Hundred Dollars worth of stock in Texas Wonder Pools Oil Company, the management will give him one month's subscription to the Wichita Falls Times, and one month's additional subscription for each One Hundred Dollar subscription up to One Thousand Dollars.

The business of and all contracts affecting the Texas Wonder Pools Oil Company is done and made subject to an executed agreement and declaration of trust under date of July 12th, 1919, on file with the Secretary. Liability limited to trust assets of the Company.

RINGSIDE ACCOUNT OF BULL FIGHT AT MATAMOROS, MEX.

By Associated Press. BROWNSVILLE, TEX., July 17.—They toyed in approved matador fashion with the first five "ferocious" bulls, those toreros in the prize ring at Matamoros, Mex., on July 14th, but when the sixth and last bull flashed into the fray, the fight became replete with blood-chilling thrills.

It was at the Plaza de Toros Rodolfo Gaona, whose ringside seats brought three dollars each, that the classic was staged. It rained slightly early in the exhibition, and the slippery arena caused the going of two principals—aside from the bulls.

Here is the ringside account of the affair, as printed in a local newspaper: Jose Ramirez Gaonita, 19-year old matador, was reared in the ribs and again in the back of the neck by the sixth bull. He was painfully injured and will be scarred for life but will recover.

Gaonita, who has named himself after Rodolfo Gaona, the king of the Spanish matadors, is young at the game. At present he has more courage than experience, but he is regarded as promising youngster.

Tricks Famous Trick.

On the last bull he tried a trick that Gaona has made famous: leaning over, half-facing the bull, turning so as to swing the cape behind him, and standing stock still while the bull takes the cape with his horns.

Some spectators say that the bull stepped on one of Gaonita's heels and threw him; others say he slipped on the wet ground. At any rate he staggered, lost one shoe, and the bull's sharper horn went into his ribs through the folds of the cape, wound around him.

Gaona went down, and, following the torero's custom, lay perfectly still. Then he apparently thought the bull had been enticed away for he turned his head to look up. The bull lunged at his head, caught the back of his neck with the blunter of his two horns and tore through the muscles at the base of the skull, severing them. If the sharper horn had caught him instead of the blunt and splintered end of the other Gaonita would not be alive today. As it is he may have a stiff neck for life.

Slips on Wet Ground.

Area, one of the banderilleros, had his girl in a box seat and he made a crucial and daring act of the banderillero planting each time, showing for her. But the same sixth bull got him when he slipped on the wet ground. He had made a good job of putting the darts into this bull's shoulders, but just when he was ready to retire the bull came at him. He started for the barrier, slipped and went down. He lay perfectly still and the bull let him lie.

When the bull's attention was directed elsewhere Area crawled toward the barrier and then tried to skin over it. The bull was a little loopy quick for him, and helped him over the fence with a wicked uppercut. The horn sank in four or five inches, apparently, and it looked like Area had been badly scored. He was out and around Saturday, however, with only a limp and a future scar as a souvenir.

The first four bulls brought into the ring died like respectable beef steers. The fifth was so thin and so flimsy that the crowd hissed and called him out of the ring and spared him for a gentler death or a later fight. The sixth and last made a

To the Woman Who "Never Has Any Luck Putting Up Fruit and Berries"

How even a Beginner can be Sure of Perfect Results in Making Jams, Jellies and Preserves

Good home preserving is now easy to accomplish. Even the housewife who "never has any luck" with all sugar preserving can put up fruit perfectly if she will first make her preserving syrup with 1/2 Karo (Red Label) and 1/2 sugar—instead of sugar alone.

By this method you can always have the finest, most delicious jams, good clear jellies, and preserves with a rich, heavy syrup. Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the fruit juices.

It blends the fruit with the sugar, doing away with one of the great difficulties of putting up fruit at home, and just about cutting the work in half.

You can depend on it that fruit put up by this method will never grow tough or "candy" in the glass.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

SOUTHERN STATES TO FURNISH THIRD OF NATIONAL GUARD

REORGANIZATION PLAN IS APPROVED BY SECRETARY NEWTON BAKER.

TEXAS GETS LARGE NUMBER

Quota Includes Ten Regiments Including Six Regiments of Cavalry.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 17.—Immediate organization of the national guard in the state and territorial possessions of the United States in accordance with plans approved by the war department was looked for today by army officials here. The guard is to be formed on a basis of 16 divisions with a maximum expansion of about 440,000 men, but federal funds available will permit of only 106,000 men for the present.

As soon as the units allotted to each state are formed and inspected federal aid will be made available. It is expected that all the units authorized including 47 regiments and 18 battalions of infantry; six regiments, 17 squadrons and 19 troops of cavalry and 10 regiments, 20 battalions and seven batteries of field artillery, will be organized speedily on a skeleton basis, which will provide 65 men per company of infantry.

ORGANIZATION PLAN IS ANNOUNCED BY BAKER

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 17.—Southern states east of the Mississippi River and the states of Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas will be permitted to furnish approximately one-third of the national guard strength of the nation under re-organization plans approved by Secretary Baker. Southern states are authorized in letters of notification sent out today by Major General Jesse M. Carter, chief of the bureau of militia affairs, to the respective state adjutant generals, to form 17 regiments and five battalions of infantry, out of a total of 47 regiments and 18 battalions of that service contemplated in the entire nation. In addition those states along the Atlantic coast also are heavily represented in the coast artillery branch.

Based on representation. The basis used in assigning the national guard divisions was that of 800 men from each senator and representative, giving the nation a national guard strength of about 440,000 men. Available appropriations, however, will permit a strength of only about 106,000 during 1920, or on a basis of 200 men for each senator and representative.

Of the Southern states, Texas was assigned the largest number of units, six regiments of cavalry, three regiments of infantry and one field artillery regiment. The authority given Texas to organize six regiments of cavalry was regarded as significant in view of the constant menace of armed raids from across the Mexican border. North Carolina and Georgia will rank next to Texas among the Southern states in armed guard strength.

New York Will Lead. New York, due to its preponderance of population, will lead the nation in armed guard personnel with 12 companies of coast artillery, four regiments of infantry and one regiment and a large number of auxiliary troops. Pennsylvania ranks second in the nation. The letters sent to the state adjutant generals authorize them to proceed with the organization of the units assigned immediately. Recognition will be given by the war department as soon as inspections show the units qualified to receive federal support.

The assignments to southern states includes: Arkansas—One regiment infantry, one battalion engineers, one ambulance company. Louisiana—One regiment infantry, one battalion field artillery, one signal company (wire), one field hospital company.

Oklahoma—Two regiments infantry, one battalion field artillery, one signal company engineers, one field hospital company.

Texas—Three regiments infantry, six regiments cavalry, one regiment field artillery, one company engineers, one signal company (wire), one field hospital company, one ambulance company.

BOOTLEGER SELECTS THE WRONG CUSTOMER WHEN SHIP ARRIVES

By Associated Press. GALVESTON, TEX., July 17.—When a certain steamship docked here the other day, a man leaped over the rail and carefully scanned the crowded wharves. He was looking for "customers." He selected a large man of florid countenance. "Like to buy—er—a bottle," he asked the red-nosed man. "Sure. How much?" "Eight dollars." "The money paid, the bottle delivered, the vender was turning away when the red-nosed man stopped him. "You'll be my guest awhile," he said. "I'm the deputy United States marshal." The bottle vender raved all the way to jail. "That's rotten luck, rotten luck," he said. "And bad judgment. Out of all that crowd I picked on you. Can you beat it?" The deputy marshal said he could not.

'HEIR REAPER' WINS THE BIG PAPER MILLS PURSE

By Associated Press. KALAMAZOO, MICH., July 17.—"Pop" Geers, driving Heir Reaper, won the $2,000 Paper Mills purse for 2:06 trotters at the grand circuit meeting at Recreation Park this afternoon. It was a brilliant contest, alive with thrilling finishes and hard fought from the wire. Royal Mack won the first heat in a sharp brush with The Toddler and Prince Lere. But after that, Geers swept to the front and fought every inch of the road for victory. In the third heat Geers' horse and Royal Mack, The Toddler and Prince Lere were so closely bunched that the result was in doubt until the judges made announcement. Only two horses started in the free for all pace but the race was interesting and was won by a short head each time by the noted Indiana Wiggler, Single G. Murphy drove Director J. against him. Murphy won the three years old trot easily with Brustloff, while the 2:11 trot with 13 in the field was won by Echo Direct. Starter Merrill made announcement that the four miles trotted by Peter Billiken and Winnemota in the 2:12 trot Tuesday afternoon constituted a world's record for a four heat race over a half mile track. The time was 2:09 1/4, 2:09 1/4, 2:09 1/4 and 2:09 1/4.

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE WILL NOT RATIFY THE SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

By Associated Press. MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 17.—Indications last night were the Alabama legislature would not ratify the federal woman suffrage amendment at the present session. Nineteen members of the senate, or enough to defeat ratification, at a caucus pledged themselves to vote against it following a preliminary victory in the house by suffrage supporters who forced an adjournment of that body until Friday, thereby disarranging plans for consideration of the measure tomorrow.

HEALTH COMES FIRST

Don't Endanger Health by Using Ice That Is Impure

In these sultry, sizzling days don't take unnecessary chances.

Especially with ice. Ice that is used in drinking water, in iced tea, in the making of those cooling summertime dishes.

Impure ice is not only a menace in itself, but it contaminates all of the food and beverages in which it is used.

Impure ice has an unnecessary and very unhealthy foreign substance in it.

Be sure your ice is pure. Ours is. Made in a big, sanitary plant; made by the most improved machines known to ice manufacture; made from water that has been thoroughly distilled.

Let us be your ice man and you will never have occasion to question the purity of the ice that comes into the home.

NORTH AMERICAN IS OPERATING IN TEXAS ON EXTENSIVE SCALE

Special to The Times.
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—One of the most extensive drilling campaigns undertaken by any of the independent oil companies now operating in Texas is that of the North American Oil & Refining Corporation, of Oklahoma City. This company now is drilling wells the total cost of which will range close to $400,000.

This company has just brought in two wells, one good for 2,000 barrels daily in Block 88, Burk Burnett extension, and one just north of Leo, Texas, and has ten other wells drilling. Its operations are confined to Oklahoma and Texas.

In addition to the well brought in this week in Block 88, the North American is drilling five wells in the Burk Burnett field where extensive gathering lines, flow tanks and loading rack facilities have been completed. One of these will be completed next week. Oil from this field is being utilized by the company's refinery at Pennington and surplus oil will be used in the company's Kansas City and Rosedale refineries.

Drilling at Cement.
 The North American just commenced drilling at Cement, Okla., and has started a second well in Stephens county, Oklahoma. The company already has one producing the Fort Ring well in the latter field.

M. W. Warren, general manager, has just returned from Young county, Texas, where the North American is drilling a well southwest of Graham. The Roxana company which has a drilling contract with the North American also is drilling on this tract. The Goode No. 1, drilled jointly by the Roxana and North American has been finally abandoned, owing to failure to recover a string of tools lost in the hole. Gas from the abandoned well is being used in drilling the two wells in the Graham district. Both the North American and Roxana contemplate drilling additional wells in Young county this summer.

South of Duke-Knowles.
 The North American's Haynes No. 1 south of the Duke-Knowles well, bridged after a shot with 170 quarts of nitro. The hole filled up 1600 feet with oil. The well is being cleaned out and it is believed it will be good for at least 75 barrels.

The drillers are underdraining in the Connelley No. 1, on the North American's holding in the Ranger field. "We expect soon to be operating DALLAS, TEX., July 17.—More than 1,100 sailors had been discharged up to June 30, at the Dallas Naval Demobilization Station, according to Lieutenant J. J. Peet, of the navy paymasters corps. The station was opened May 8.

"These sailors have been paid upon discharge a total of $108,000," said Lieutenant Peet. "They are paid their salaries and bonuses, each sailor getting $40 to $300. The average per man is about $100."

"We paid out $67,000 in June and business is keeping up steadily. The men now are being discharged at the rate of about 50 daily and indications are that there will be no slowing up in the discharge activities for some months."

Sailors being discharged at the Dallas station are principally from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico.

SODA WATER TAX WILL BE REPEALED AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Repeal of the soda water tax has been decided on by Republican leaders of the House. The decision, which was made by the republican steering committee, will be referred to the ways and means committee, which will draft a repeal measure. Some leaders predicted that the tax, which levies an impost of 10 per cent on soft drinks and ice cream would be repealed within a month.

Investigation of the postoffice department was understood also to have been discussed by the steering committee, without a final decision.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Ten thousand employees of the McCormick Reaper Works of the International Harvester Company are locked out today as a result of the closing of the plant for an indefinite period, due to a strike which began last Tuesday.

"The men although they have not presented their demands are said to want $1 an hour pay, a 44 hour week and a closed shop."

"If the men want a closed shop they have it now," said Ralph G. Brooks, superintendent of the McCormick works. "They will have all the closed shop they want for the plant is closed and is going to remain closed until the men come to work under the conditions they have just left."

INCREASE WEIGHT AND VITALITY WITH PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) are the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one's social aspirations. One has the thin, sickly, angular frame with here and there a protruding rib.

At the seaside too, the plump well-rounded figure is most admired.

The well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness.

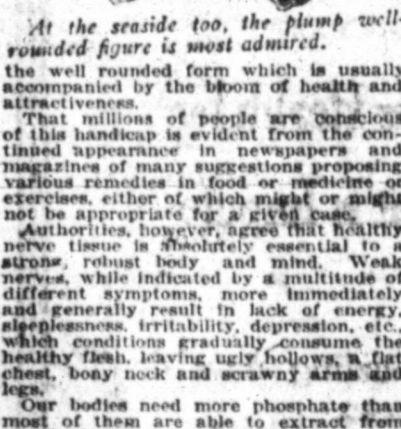

That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercise, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by the Miller Drug Co. in Wichita Falls, and good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the absence of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and rosy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones.

CAUTION.—Although bitro-phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders, owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

SECRETARY WALKUP HAS THEORY ON THE WEATHER

Although he is thoroughly familiar with the old adage concerning the weather, Secretary J. W. Walkup has ventured the assertion that he has a means whereby he can qualify as an infallible weather prognosticator.

"I have about 500 rose bushes on my place, and every time I light in and water the whole bunch, it is sure to rain about the time I get through," said Mr. Walkup. "Tuesday night I watered every bush, finishing about 10 o'clock that night, and hadn't been through much more than an hour before this rain commenced."

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES IN FRANCE HAVE PLAN TO REDUCE HIGH PRICES

By Associated Press. PARIS, July 17.—The minister of justice has introduced in the chamber of deputies the government's bill intended to reduce the cost of living, demanding its immediate discussion. The previous law against speculation included a clause by which it was to expire three months after the cessation of hostilities. In the bill this clause is now prolonged to three years and the penalties increased.

Speculation may be punished by imprisonment from two months to two years and a fine of from 500 to 50,000 francs. If it affects food, drinks, heat, clothes or shoes the prison term is raised to three years and the fine to 100,000 francs. The penalties may be further raised to five years imprisonment and 200,000 francs fine if the merchandise is not such as the accused person regularly deals in.

MEASURES NOT LIKELY TO SETTLE PROBLEM

By Associated Press. PARIS, July 17.—The measures announced Wednesday by the government are not likely to settle the problem of the high cost of living according to a statement issued by the executive committee of the general labor federation after a meeting last night. The committee announced also that another meeting would be held today to discuss final plans for the general strike proposed for Monday.

Marcel Hutin, in the Echo De Paris, declares, however, that the meeting of the executive committee today was called to consider the indefinite postponement of the general strike. M. Hutin declares that the public need be under no apprehension as to events Monday and maintains that among the organizations favoring the postponement of the strike 20 per cent of the members will go out.

The Journal announces that the union of dramatic artists has decided to participate in the general strike. The Paris transportation workers, it adds, also will go out, but there probably will be a limited service on the subways.

AN ADJUSTMENT OF VALUES

We are asked a good many times, "Why the high price of coffee?" There are, of course, many contributory reasons. Among them: The frost damage in Brazil last August. The fact that Europe has had practically no coffee for four years, and the surplus in the United States is practically nil. Prohibition is also a factor. But the REAL REASON is an adjustment of values among commodities. A few years ago Rio sevens sold for 5 1/2 cents per pound, so did cotton. Now cotton sells for above 30 cents and Rio sevens for twenty-two. Wheat used to fluctuate between sixty-five cents and a dollar, and is now two-twenty. So it stands to reason the Brazilian can't take the old prices for his coffee and get by. Coffee is still the cheapest commodity of consumption—and the last to advance.
