Crop Insurance On Three Year Basis

Farmers have everything to gain and nothing to lose in the shift to a three-year contract for wheat crop insurance, according to Olan N. Schlueter, chairman of the Parmer county AAA committee.

Federal all risk wheat crop insurance this year is being sold only on a three-year contract rather than on a yearly basis as in the past, the AAA official said. The three-year contract makes it possible for the wheat grower to know what his minimum income from wheat will be for the next three years, Schlueter declared, since the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation guarantees that it will not lower the yield or increase the premium rate during the life of the contract.

At the same time, the grower has the privilege of cancelling the contract and signing up for a new three-year period in any year when the yield and rate established for his farm would be more advantageous to him, he explained.

In other words, the chairman explained, growers in this area who made good crops this year will still be able to take advantage of lower rates and higher yields when this year's good crop is figured in. If rates and yields established for their farms next year are to their advantage, then they can cancel the insurance and sign for another three-year period. This year's crops will affect rates and yields for the first time next year.

Crop insurance applications are being accepted at the county AAA office now. Deadline for applying is August 31 or before seeding of wheat, whichever is earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Manderscheid and sons, Wayne and Doyle, departed Monday for Grand Prairie for a short visit with their daughter, Mrs. Edward Massie, and family.

SONS in the SERVICE

The Star takes pleasure in publishing the following letters written by Friona boys now in some branch of Uncle Sam's armed forces.

We feel that these letters are read with deep interest by a large number of our readers and particularly by the other boys from Friona and locality who are now also in the service of their country.

RAYMOND JASPER PROMOTED

McDill Field, Tampa, Fla. July 18, 1942

Dear Mr. White: I am so sorry not to have written you sooner, but in this branch of the armed force one does not have much time for writing. I do want to take this time to say "Hello!" to my friends in and around Friona, and to thank you for sending me the "Star". I get a lot of pleasure in reading about my friends and comrades in other branches of the armed forces, and I don't know of a better place to read about them than in the Friona Star—the greatest little paper in the West, and I mean that. I'll try telling you now about what I am doing. I am a Crew Chief. I have a crew of boys working under me, and we take care of the ships. We are the group that fixes 'em to "Keep 'em Flying". I've changed squadrons, as you might notice at the heading of this letter. Since I have been in this Sqdn. I have been promoted to the rank of Corporal. It feels great to be something other than Private. But I have to be as good as a Corporal as I was as a Private, but that won't be too great a burden. Well, if I keep this up you won't have room to print it in your paper and anyway, I must sign off, as it will be mess call soon. Forgive me and I'll be more prompt next time. Again thanking you for the Star, and hope you will continue sending it, I remain, Yours truly, Cpl. Raymond D. Jasper, 442nd Bomb Sqdn., McDill Field, Tampa, Fla. U. S. Army.

Raymond is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Jasper of Friona.

JAMES EDW. WILLIAMS WRITES MOTHER

Dear Mother: I am sorry I didn't write you sooner, but our ship was finished, so I have been very busy loading supplies aboard. Our ship is the P. C. 578 and is she a beauty—She is the most beautiful thing you have ever seen. Her crew is the toughest and fightingest men ever to set sail from any port in America—no, I mean the world. The food is the best cooked by anyone but you. The officers are the smartest and wisest ever to wear the gold of a commissioned officer. I'm in Bremerton now, and I don't know when we will go to a Bomb Base.

And here is a letter that he wrote direct to the Star: July 21, 1942

Dear Sir: Is everyone getting married and joining the army or the navy? It seems so. Well, that proves that Texas is one State that when Uncle Sam asks for help, does her part. Oh, yes! My congratulations for and to so many marriages at Friona. It seems as if my address is always changing. It is now U. S. S. P. C. 578, Care Post Master, San Francisco, Calif. I think it will stay that way for a while. You see the U. S. S. P. C. 578 above? Well, she's my ship, and a good one, too. Well, good luck to all and may it be clear sailing ahead.

Hamlin Presents Important Gift To WT Museum

CANON—Another important gift to West Texas State College has marked this year as one of the best in the institution's history.

Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell has given title to his magnificent collection of art objects, which will be placed in the new two-story addition of the Panhandle-Plains Museum. This collection, which has a value estimated in excess of $50,000 includes Old English silver, English ceramics, Oriental bronzes, miniatures, Indian jewelry and rugs, Japanese art, 15 paintings, about 25 Oriental prayer rugs, and other objects.

Judge Hamlin declared, in the deed: "The eventful years of my life have been lived in the Texas Panhandle and it is here that I shall end my days. I love its people and their plain individuality, integrity, and ideals. I love the institutions that have brought wealth, education, and refinement and culture to our people. The ideals and culture of our pioneer stock are worth preserving. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society is an instrumentality for preserving the fine and ennobling things of life. In this spirit, I execute this instrument of gift and dedicate 'The J. D. Hamlin Collection' to every good purpose."

Judge Hamlin is president of the Historical Society.

Recently another fine gift was received by the College when Mr. and Mrs. Allen Early deeded their $100,000 residence to the institution for educational purposes. This will be called "The Amarillo Center" and will be used for instruction, exhibits, lectures, and a nursery school.

June Maurer Writes Of Canada Trip

A card was received this week from Miss June Maurer, who has been attending the National Conference of the Congregational-Christian Churches at Durham, N. H., and visiting relatives at or near Stratford, Ontario, Canada, the past three weeks. The card reads as follows: Dear Mr. White:

Well, at long last, here comes a card. I have been so busy visiting relatives and I was so busy at Conference, which was positively wonderful, I've hardly written to my parents. Canada is swell and so are the people. Honestly, everyone has gone out of their way to show me a good time and make me feel at home and I've decided I would like to live here. The church I've checked on the front is the one I attended last Sunday. Keep the Star shining.

Love, June.

On the front of the card was the picture of five of the local churches, and the one June had checked was the Sebastopol Lutheran Church.—Ed.

Mrs. L. L. Hill and children of Canyon visited friends here the first of the week.

Soil Building Payment Up For Year 1942

Parmer county farmers will have four times more money for soil-building work this year than in 1941, Olan N. Schlueter, chairman of the Parmer county AAA Committee, said this week.

The soil-building allowance for the county under the 1942 program is approximately $187,300.00 as compared with $42,666 under last year's program. Shifting a portion of AAA payments, which formerly were made for seeding within special acreage allotments, accounts for the increase.

Shortages of labor, equipment and machinery probably can be off-set if conservation practices are started earlier than usual. Instead of waiting until the last two or three weeks of the program year to carry out conservation practices, work should be completed in plenty of time to earn maximum payments this year, Schlueter explained.

Practical conservation practices which may be carried out during the next few weeks include terracing, furrowing, contouring and chiseling non-crop pasture, building tanks and reservoirs and planting non-leguminous green manure, or cover crops, leaving sweet sorghum stubble at least twelve inches high, leaving grain sorghum stubble not less than ten inches high, and listing of 1942 wheat stubble on the contour.

Failure of Parmer county farmers to carry out extensive soil-building practices not only will result in loss of soil fertility but will seriously hinder food and feed production in the war program.

"Conservation has always been a sound farming policy. This year it's a wartime necessity," the chairman said.

According to incomplete reports of the Parmer County election, most county officials will return to their posts for another two-year term and the only run-off races will be for two commissioner posts in the county.

The county followed the general trend of the state by supporting Senator W. Lee O'Daniel and by giving Governor Coke R. Stevenson an overwhelming vote to present him with his first elective term as chief executive of Texas.

Commissioner Vote

For county commissioner in precinct 1, David Moseley received 149 votes at Friona, 29 at Black and 11 at Lakeview; C. A. Wickard received 97 at Friona, 3 at Black and 6 at Lakeview; and D. O. Robason received 65 at Friona, 21 at Black and 37 at Lakeview, with Robason and Moseley scheduled for a run-off race.

County Posts

County Judge Lee Thompson, County Clerk D. K. Roberts, Sheriff Earl Booth, County Treasurer Roy B. Ezell and County Attorney A. D. Smith were all elected without opposition.

State Returns

W. Lee O'Daniel fell slightly short of his "ain't gonna be no run-off" boast, and if Texas Election Bureau figures are correct will face Judge James V. Allred in the August run-off race. The Friona precinct, the only one for which a complete report is available at this time, gave O'Daniel 204 votes; Allred, 77; Moody, 20.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson, in the Friona precinct, received a vote of 193 compared to Collins 88. For Congressman the vote was Worley, 245; Miller, 25; for railroad commissioner, Thompson, 133; Boone, 70; Sausbury, 7.

Farwell gave O'Daniel 124, Allred 72 and Moody 35; for congress, Worley, 181, and Miller, 40; for governor, Collins, 55; Stevenson, 144.

Bovina gave O'Daniel 100 votes, Allred, 20 and Moody, 7; for governor, Collins, 32 and Stevenson, 87.

Complete returns for Parmer County will probably be available next week.

Crop Loan Supervisor To Be Here Each Week

R. K. Green, field supervisor for the Emergency Crop Loan Section, Farm Credit Administration, will be in Friona in Frank Spring's office on Tuesday and Friday mornings of each week, until about Sept. 1.

Apply Now For Farm Storage Loan

Producers having farm stored wheat of the 1942 crop who desire a farm storage loan are required, under the regulations, to execute farm storage worksheet prior to the time the loans will be made. Therefore, in order to avoid unnecessary delay, we urge each producer who intends to secure a farm stored loan to contact the AAA office at the earliest possible convenience and make application for such loan.

Parmer '43 Wheat Allotment 108,265.2 Acres

Parmer County's share of the 1943 national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million bushels has been set at 108,265.2 acres, according to Olan N. Schlueter, chairman of the local AAA committee. The Texas allotment is 3,272,966 acres.

Schlueter said that 1943 wheat acreage allotments for individual farms will be released as soon as details for the 1943 Federal Wheat Crop Insurance program are complete. He explained that wheat acreage allotments, farm wheat yields, and farm premium rates are all included in the notification to the farmer.

In announcing the national wheat acreage allotment for 1943 the Secretary said, "Consequently, even with relatively low yields, the 55 million acre lands and equipment are suitable for growing other crops needed more urgently in the war effort, to hold this land for those crops rather than plant it to wheat. In areas where more urgently needed crops can be grown successfully, the war production plans to be worked out for individual farms will call for a wheat acreage substantially less than the allotment. In areas where wheat produces more feed grain per acre than other crops, however, farmers will be encouraged to plant their full allotment.

"America will be going into the 1943 crop year with approximately a two year's wheat supply," the Secretary said. "Consequently, even with relatively low yields, the 55 million acre allotment will result in supplies well above any probable emergency. Domestic food requirements of 500 million bushels could be produced on 40 million acres.

Secret Of "Golden Horses With Fair Manes" Broken By California Breeder

Santa Barbara, Calif.—Twenty miles out in the verdant Santa Ynez Valley is the elaborate 7,000-acre Rancho Fernando Rey, and on the ranch is a stable so elegant that visitors often mistake it for the main residence. In the stable's paneled lobby is a glassed-in wall niche, and in the niche is a bottle of sherry. It is good sherry—Amontillado from Spain—but it is not especially valuable. The reason it is there is because the bottle's name on the label is Juan Palomino.

NOT A SPECIAL BREED

Palominos are not a special breed, but a coloring that occurs with relative infrequency among horses of several strains—a coloring that sets off more beautifully perhaps than any other—the darkness of saddle leather and sparkle of silver mounting—a beauty that has led Palominos to be prized down the ages.

Homer wrote of "the golden horses with fair manes," and Genghis Khan prized them. They flourished in Spain, presumably introduced by the Moors in their Arabian herds, and in Columbus' time were honored as the royal horses and called "the Ysabelias," after the queen.

She sent along a golden stallion and five mares with the first settlers of Mexico and in a few years golden coats were glinting among the herds that roamed ranges to the north.

It was there, in early California that they picked up their name of Palomino, possibly from some outstanding figure of the era associated with them.

TYPE NEAR EXTINCTION

In western frontier days, horses were valued mainly for their serviceability, and men gave little heed to the occasional yellow ones.

The type was in danger of extinction 40 years ago when Dwight Murphy, ailing son of a wealthy railroad equipment manufacturer, came out here to recover his health.

Working as a forest ranger, Murphy learned about Palominos, became intrigued with their beauty and the enigma of their occurrence.

After three years he had to go back east, but in 1925, retired, he returned here, bought the San Fernando Rey Ranch and set out to pierce the mystery of Palominos and to revive the type.

He bought Del Rey, half thoroughbred grandson of Lucky Baldwin's famous Rey El Santa Anita; from Texas got a carload of wild Palomino mares, and started experiments in crossing them.

The results were bewildering. Of three colts, one would be a Palomino, one sorrel and one albino—a freak indicating too much inbreeding.

PATIENCE-TRYING WORK

Then he discovered that by mating a Palomino with a non-Palomino, such as a sorrel, he eliminated the in-breeding element and the albinos—and he got mainly sorrel progeny.

It was patience-trying work. But word of his experiments spread through the horse world. One day a man in Dickinson, Texas, wrote that he had obtained a Palomino from a cross of two non-Palominos. That gave Murphy a clue.

Most Palominos had shown Arabian characteristics, and this new information indicated a latent Palomino strain in Arabian horses—breeding Palominos to selected Arabian horses might bring out this latent strain in the offspring.

Three years ago he took nine Palomino mares whose mothers also had been Palominos, giving them a strong color inheritance, and bred them to a light sorrel Arabian stallion. Out of the nine foals, seven were Palominos.

Murphy now, after only five

SATURDAY

Was A Big Day

To The Voters Of Parmer County:

Yes, Saturday was a big day, and we say that not just because you, The Voters, saw fit to return us to office. It was an important day because you have the opportunity to go to the polls and CHOOSE the officers who will serve you for the next two years—you free people of Parmer County don't have to submit to any petty tyrants imposed by a Gestapo.

We deeply feel the responsibility which your choice has put on us and we will—individually and as a team—try to measure up to that responsibility in every way. We realize that at first it may seem unimportant—but we are glad that the people of our country realize the true responsibility by a democracy in this matter, and we will try to live up to the duties of our office.

Concerning these duties, the war has brought on many new responsibilities to all local officials. Already we have seen some changes. Within the next two years there will probably be more.

We are not prophets. We do not know what new duties the next term of office may bring, but we promise to work always to the public interest, bringing our best efforts to bear on the problems of our respective offices. And we will always carry out these responsibilities to the best of our ability.

Sincerely

Your Parmer County Officials

Again, We Say

THANK YOU!

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Price Mark 50th Anniversary With Large Reception

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Price were honored with an open house on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, Sunday, July 19th, from 3 to 6 o'clock at their home, when their four children, Mrs. Otis Massie of Friona, Misses Mary and Flora Price of Midlothian and Marvin Price of Dallas were hosts to 103 friends of the honorees.

Otis Massie of Friona greeted the guests at the door and Mrs. Marvin Price of Dallas presided over the guest book. The Price's granddaughters, Misses Geneva, Frances and Betty Massie poured from a crystal bowl, and Miss Geneva served slices of cake from the elaborately decorated tiered wedding cake.

Another granddaughter, Mrs. Virgil Ferguson of Friona, assisted with the gifts.

Rev. J. W. Crowder of Fort Worth, a former pastor of Mr. and Mrs. Price, who officiated at the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Massie, re-read the nuptial vows to the honorees, following two songs, "I Love You Truly," and "Because," sung by the Rev. Odum, assistant pastor of the Dallas Forest Avenue Baptist Church, and accompanied by his wife, who played a few measures of the wedding march during the brief ceremony. Later in the afternoon Mrs. J. P. Ballew sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," accompanied by Mrs. Bert Goodwin.

The dining table had an unusual motif to carry out the theme—a curved rainbow spanned the table, ending in a "pot of gold" at each side. Golden centered daisies filled the pots. Directly in front of the arched bow was placed the beautiful tiered wedding cake and back of it was arranged the crystal punch bowl.

Small cards bearing the names of the honorees written in gold and having attached, through slots, a loop of narrow white satin ribbon holding a small gold wedding ring were presented to each guest.

One remarkable feature of the occasion was that every member of the family, including children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, were present. Members attending included Mr. and Mrs. Otis Massie of Friona and their daughters, Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, Virgil Ferguson, Misses Geneva, Frances and Betty Massie; the four married sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Massie and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Massie of Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Massie of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Massie of San Antonio, and two small sons, Wayne and Marvin Massie of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Price and son, Billy, of Dallas; Misses Flora and Mary Price of Midlothian. Also six great-grandchildren, Bessie Ruth and Kenneth Ray Ferguson, Delene and Timothy Otis Massie, Troy Leon and David Russell Massie.

Miss Mattie Springer was married to George W. Price at West Point, Tenn., July 20, 1892.

H. D. COUNCIL REPORT

Final arrangements for sending Mrs. C. A. Guinn to the State Convention of the Home Demonstration Association at Ft. Worth on August 18-19-20 was one of the important items taken up Saturday, July 25, when the Parmer County Council met at the Blackwell Store in Friona.

A committee composed of Mrs. Guinn, Mrs. Will Nittler, Mrs. Sam Rundell, Mrs. Giles Cobb and Mrs. Thad Watkins was selected to confer with the commanding officer at Camp Clovis to determine ways Home Demonstration Clubs can best aid camp officials with recreation plans for the men in uniform.

The conclusions of this committee will be taken to the State Convention by the Parmer County delegate to be presented at a round table discussion.

Mrs. Ralph Durstine was elected secretary of the council to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Claude Blackburn.

The hour of meeting was moved one half hour. Hereafter, council will meet at 3:00 P. M. on the fourth Saturday of each month.

County Agent News

If farmers of this county are going to do their share of the work which must be done in producing food to win the war they are going to have to have tires to do the work and haul the produce to the market. Right now there seems to be no prospect for increase in tire quotas for the county; therefore, it appears that it is up to those who still have tires to care for them in such a manner that they will last the longest time possible and do the most good.

Authorities tell us no synthetic rubber will be available for civilian use for at least three years. Our enemies control about 90 per cent of the natural rubber supply. Of course, what rubber we do have and what little we can get will have to go into our military program because modern wars cannot be won without rubber. It takes the equivalent of 10,345 tires to make a battleship, 7 tires for one bomber, 26 tires for a two-and-a-half ton army truck, and 120 tires for a 28-ton tank. When these figures are considered it is easy to see that our stock of crude rubber cannot go into production of tires for civilian uses.

Then the thing we are going to have to do is to take every opportunity to let our tires rest. When driving is necessary follow good common sense in saving our tires as much as possible. Here are some tips on saving that precious rubber in your tires. Hold your speed under 40 miles per hour. Turn curves slowly. Watch for bumps, holes, and curbs. Start and stop gently. Keep wheels in line and brakes properly adjusted. Keep correct amount of air in tires at all times. Criss cross tires every 5,000 miles.

Let's save our tires every time we possibly can. We are going to need them next year just as much as we do now. Are we going to let fast, careless, and unnecessary driving slow down our food for victory program.

"ALL WORK AND NO PLAY" By Elsie Cunningham Home Demo. Agent Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

"All work and no play" isn't a good policy so let's have some fun. You have been working so hard all year and now that you have about caught up for a breathing spell, how about inviting some of the neighbors in for a chicken barbecue?

You couldn't choose a better time for a barbecued chicken party, because your party can help in the campaign for eating more broilers. Broilers and fryers are the victory food special right now. (Of course you know a Victory Food Special means there is plenty of this particular food available now and it's cheap and you can help your country by eating a part of this abundant supply of fryers and broilers.)

You can cook the chickens in your backyard fireplace or in a barbecue trench or pit as you prefer. If it should turn out to be a rainy day (my picnics always bring a shower) you could still have your party by cooking the chicken indoors in your oven if it's big enough to hold several chickens at once. But it's more fun out-o'-doors, and actually less work, if you use paper plates and napkins and burn them when the party's over.

Appetites increase considerably when food is served out of doors so allow one broiler to each person. The main thing about any barbecued meat or poultry is the sauce. You use this spicy-sour-sweet sauce for basting the birds during the cooking and then serve sauce with each portion. I suggest that you pass potato salad with barbecued chicken, plenty of big buns, and pickles.

Barbecued Chicken

Now for cooking directions: Dress and clean the broilers. Split them down the back and flatten the breast bone. Unless you have a fireplace or other barbecue grill, dig the barbecue pit about 20 inches deep. Make a charcoal fire with half a peck of charcoal. When the fire has burned to red coals, and all smoke has disappeared, stretch a wire rack over the coals. Place chicken on wire and turn constantly until slightly brown. Have sauce ready nearby in a large pan. Dip each chicken in sauce and return to fire. Continue until chickens are done, never allowing them to get dry. Put in pan, pour remainder of sauce over them, and keep hot.

Sauce for 12 Chickens

Here is the recipe for barbecue sauce: tomato catsup, 2 cups, vinegar, 1 cup; Worcestershire sauce, 4 tablespoons; tabasco sauce, 1 tablespoon; salt, 2 tablespoons; prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons; dash of red pepper, juice of one lemon; half-pound butter. Melt butter, add vinegar, then other ingredients, bring to a boil; let simmer a few minutes and keep hot while cooking the chicken.

If you're planning a large barbecue for a club or a community, just multiply the sauce recipe to correspond to the number of chickens you'll need.

To The Voters Of Precinct No. 1,

PARMER COUNTY

I wish hereby to express to you one and all, my sincere appreciation of your kindly treatment during the campaign as a candidate for County Commissioner, and more especially for the very generous vote given me at the recent Primary Election.

But, owing to the fact that there were three candidates in the field during the campaign that has just come to a close, and that neither of us received a majority of the votes cast, there must needs be a "Run-off" Primary in which I will be one of the contestants, and I am hereby soliciting your vote at that Election and your active support during the intervening time.

Sincerely yours,
