RESIDENT DISCUSSES HIGH PRICES

NO SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE UNTIL THE SHOPMEN NOW OUT HAVE RETURNED TO POSITIONS

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Reports to the railroad administration today said that in response to President Wilson's action of last night, shopmen were rapidly returning to work on the Lackawanna, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Western Maryland, Rock Island & St. Paul railroads and on the Pennsylvania lines.

KANSAS CITY, August 8.—Responding to the appeals of the heads of their national organizations striking railway shopmen of the six federated crafts, at a mass meeting here today, voted to return to work immediately. Local labor leaders said the men would resume work at once.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Director General Hines today awaited word from the unions that all of the striking shopmen had returned to work before undertaking to carry out President Wilson's instructions to settle the wage controversy of its merits. The telegraph system of the railroad administration was put at the disposal of the union officers and peremptory orders that the men should go back to the job went out to 500 local chairmen. Until the men have resumed work, railroad administration officials said today, they would not discuss the procedure to be employed in adjusting the wage demands. As the shopmen's reasons for wanting a 25 per cent increase have been considered thoroughly by the board of railroad wages and working conditions which divided three to three, it was believed possible that the evidence in that case would be put immediately before the director general for a decision.

Other unions have demands pending, however, which will necessitate the presentation of evidence and to hear this, a new board may be constituted or the old board enlarged to twelve in accordance with the suggestions of union men especially qualified to deal with the subject in hand would be appointed to handle the different classes of wages.

By RALPH F. COUCH
WASHINGTON, August 8.—Whether wage demands of railroad employees will be peacefully arbitrated or whether the workers will defy the government attempt to crush the strike by striking apparently depended today on the response of striking shopmen to President Wilson's order that they return to work before their requests for more pay will be considered.

The President in a letter to Rail Director Hines told him to take up the wage question without further authority from congress, but also told him there would be no dealings with the employees until the railroad shopmen, who walked out without the sanction of their leaders, went back to their jobs.

Jewell Makes Request
B. M. Jewell, acting president of railway department of the American Federation of Labor, has wired the shopmen asking them to resume work so that a settlement of all the railroad employees demands will not be delayed.

Answers to Jewell's appeal were looked for today in the action of the unauthorized strikers. If they go back to work negotiations between the railroad administration and employees will proceed. Otherwise, according to Wilson's letter, the government will ignore the wage demands.

Deal Only with Unions
"Until the employees return to work and again recognize the authority of their organization, the whole matter must be at a standstill," wrote the President. The letter emphasized that the rail administration will deal only with duly accredited national heads of the union.

"You are hereby authorized," the President ordered Hines, "to say to the railroad shop employees that the question of wages they have raised will be dealt with only on the basis of their merits by the rail director with their duly accredited representatives."

The letter made no mention of rates. President Wilson instructed Hines to decide the wage question following receipt of a letter from Senator Cummins who said the Senate interstate commerce commission had advised the President had full power to act.

The appeal of organized labor for government ownership of railroads, backed by veiled threats of serious unrest until the plan is adopted, has so far found no open champion among the house and senate interstate commerce committees.

Even Representative Sims, who introduced their plan as a house bill by request, today definitely stated he could not agree with it in any detail. He favors government ownership of the fixed equipment of the lines, with leases to private corporations for operation, the owners being allowed to keep the rolling stock. Sims generally believed the bill even in modified form will not be reported out by either house or senate committee.

Interest in Next Move
Interest now centers in the brotherhood's next move, the threatened expense of forced closing of many railroads by Wall street interests, with a demand for congressional investigation. Nothing definite has been reported with regard to the conference railroad control which Glenn Plumb, attorney for the railroad employees, said had been called to meet in Washington, and to which many prominent persons, including Governor Allen of Kansas and Frank P. Walsh had been invited. The date remains to be fixed.

DECLARES NO IMMEDIATE AND COMPLETE REMEDY AVAILABLE; MUST RATIFY TERMS OF PEACE

PRESIDENT WILSON TOLD CONGRESS

Methods by which some of the present high prices are produced are criminal. Existing law is inadequate. There will be no real peace prices until there is peace. The world is on the operating table without anesthesia. All that can be done to restrain profiteering until peace comes must be makeshift.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Addressing Congress today and proposing remedies to check the high cost of living, President Wilson declared that existing laws were inadequate and that high prices were not justified by shortage of supplies, present or prospective but were created in many cases "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices."

The President recommended that the food control act be extended to peace time operation and that Congress exclude from interstate as well as intrastate shipment goods which did not comply with its provisions.

Further the President recommended a federal licensing system for corporations engaged in interstate commerce which would embody regulations to insure competitive selling, and prevent unconscionable profits in the method of marketing. He also urged prompt passage of the law pending to control security issues.

TEXT OF WILSON'S MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Wilson's address to Congress today embodied recommendations designed to reduce the cost of living follows: Gentlemen of the Congress: I have sought this opportunity to address you because it is clearly my duty to call your attention to the present high cost of living and to urge upon you with all the persuasive force of which I am capable the legislative measures which would be most effective in controlling it and bringing it down.

Some Methods Criminal
"Some of the methods by which these prices are produced are already illegal, some of them criminal, and those who employ them are not ethically proceeded against, but others have not yet been brought under the law and should be dealt with at once by legislation."

Surplus stocks of food and clothing in the hands of the government, the president said, would be sold and guards of food in private hands would be forced out under the existing provisions of the food control law.

Regulation of Securities
The pending bill to regulate securities issues, the president referred to, had been set at naught in the price of food in private hands would be forced out under the existing provisions of the food control law.

as a measure which "would do much to stop speculation and to prevent the fraudulent methods of promotion by which our people are annually fleeced of millions of hard earned dollars."

Leaders of organized labor, the President said, will be glad to yield to a second sober thought and like the great mass of their associates, think and act like Americans.

"No remedy is possible while men are in a temper," said the president, "and there can be no settlement which does not have as its motive and standard the general interest."

The President warned Congress, however, that no complete and immediate remedy was to be found in legislation or immediate action.

"There can be no energy of endeavor," he said, "unless it is directed to the world as it is on the operating table and it has not been possible to administer any anesthetic."

"There can be no confidence in industry, no calculable basis for credits, no confident buying or systematic selling, no certain prospect of employment, no hope of reconstruction, no hopeful attempt at reconstruction of the proper reassembling of the dislocated elements of enterprises unless there is peace in the mind and so far as may be guaranteed."

"This, the President said, in connection with his reminder that a peace treaty should speedily be ratified. Speaking of retail prices, the President said:

"There can be no little doubt that retailers are in a position to realize in large part—responsible for exorbitant prices."

It was practicable, the President said, to supply the public through established governmental agencies and through publicity with information on which it might judge what profits should be. Congress should provide necessary funds for these agencies, the President said.

The world, of course, the President reminded Congress, must pay for the cost of the war. The result of the war is the result of food fields turned to battle grounds. At the same time it must help Europe back to her normal state.

"We, as we almost alone, hold the world steady," the President said, "and it is in this supreme crisis—this crisis for that mankind, that America must proffer her aid."

"Wheat shipments and credits to facilitate the purchase of our wheat can and will be limited and controlled in such a way as not to raise but rather lower the price of flour here," said the President.

The Government within certain limits has power to regulate that, he said.

TEXT OF WILSON'S SPEECH TO CONGRESS

There follows close an increase in the price of the products whose producers have been accorded the increase, not a proportionate increase, for the manufacturer does not content himself with that but an increase considerably greater than the added wage cost and for which the added wage cost is in times hardly more than an excuse.

The laborer who does not get an increased wage when the price of his product is raised, and the strike which is likely to strike, and the strike which is likely to strike, and the strike which is likely to strike.

These are facts and forces with which we have become only too familiar but we are not justified because of our familiarity with them, or because of any hasty and shallow conclusion that they are "natural" and inevitable in sitting inactively by and letting things take their fatal course.

We must, I think, frankly admit that there is no complete immediate remedy to be had from legislation and executive action. The free processes of supply and demand will not operate themselves and no legislative action can force them into full and natural operation until there is peace.

STARS AND STRIPES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.—In the course of the new flag for the British empire—the Union Jack is but a combination of the flags of England, Ireland and Scotland.

This tribute by an Englishman to the American flag is the occasion for issuance by the National Geographical Society of the following bulletin, based on a communication to the society from Commander Byron McCandless, U. S. N.

"In the embryonic days of the republic, when the Thirteen Original States were still feeble British colonies bordering the western shores of the Atlantic, there were almost as many varieties of banners borne by the revolutionary forces as there are today in the flags of the free liberty-loving American people.

"Disinclined to sever all ties with England, yet bitterly resentful of the treatment accorded them and unwilling to reflect the feeling of the nation, the colonies, they were almost as many varieties of banners borne by the revolutionary forces as there are today in the flags of the free liberty-loving American people.

"One of the colonial ships, the Lady Washington, was captured on December 7 by H. M. S. Povey, and her colors, still in the admiralty office in London, are described as bearing a blue field with a white pine tree on a white bunting, with the motto, 'An Appeal to Heaven.' This flag was flown by all the ships under Washington's command at this time.

"Prior to the receipt of the news of the capture of the British brig, the Lady Washington, by the British, the Washington's ships under command of John Manley, the continental congress had appointed Esek Hopkins commander-in-chief of the navy built by the colonies.

"The manner in which that command was assumed is of signal importance that the colonies marked the hoisting of the first truly American flag. And the distinction of having released the banner to the breeze is claimed by the colonies.

"This was the flag which afterward figured extensively in the literature of the day and the day of the Revolution, from the fact that it first floated over the navy controlled by congress.

"The flag was a blue field with 13 stars, alternating red and white, and a blue canton with 13 stars, representing the colonies. It was the union bearing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew combined (the national flag of Great Britain) and signifying the mother country.

HISTORY OF KOREA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.—Because of the widespread agitation concerning the future political status of Korea, and the charges of foreign persecution there, the National Geographic Society has issued a bulletin concerning one corner of "the hermit kingdom."

Although Korea has a civilization extending nearly 4,000 years into the past, many of the natives in the north have never seen a white man, says the bulletin which is quoted from a communication by Roy C. Andrews.

"They are living among the hills today much as did their ancestors centuries ago, worshipping mythical gods in the rocks and trees on every mountain top, keeping their women in semi-slavery, and dying in ignorance that beyond the confines of their own peninsula lies a world replete with undreamed of wonders.

"Wrapped in the mantle of oriental seclusion, for centuries Korea successfully shut out the world from its mountains and her people; but at last the clamor of foreigners at her doors could no longer be stilled, and she yielded to the which is quoted from a communication by Roy C. Andrews.

"After the Russian-Japanese war of 1904, however, when the country was freely opened to foreigners and its railway had been built through Manchuria, the northern part progressed by leaps and bounds, until only the north-central area lay along the Tumen and Yalu rivers.

"This was said to be a region of treacherous swamps, densely forested plateau, and gloomy, desolate, and vast wilderness, treasuring in its depths the ghostly peak of the Long White Mountain, wonderfully beautiful in its robes of white snow.

"Few white men have been fortunate enough to wander inland to the gates of this ancient land, and the Russian-Japanese war several Russians took refuge there, and since then a half dozen foreigners have discovered it; but except for these stragglers, the land is unknown to the western world. The great central palace, or reception hall, remains intact, and close by, in partial ruins, are the palaces of the king. The smaller public buildings, the watch-towers, and most of all, the walls themselves, each one has its own peculiar interest, telling its own story or adding a chapter to that of its neighbor.

"We spent three weeks hunting there. The northern fens are splendid animals, more beautiful than their relatives of India or the Malay Peninsula, and range among the bitterly cold mountains of China, Korea, and Manchuria, and up into Siberia.

"On the first day's hunt at Hozando a deer was shot. The bullet, passing through both lungs, filled the thorax with a rich, creamy, and as soon as the animal was opened, a large, white, cream-colored mass, drinking and eating until the last drop was gone, then moving the stream of blood out of its cut in into slices, swallowing them as fast as possible.

"I was tremendously surprised, but I learned afterward that it is not, as I believe, the blood of a deer or any wild animal, if drunk when warm, to be a splendid tonic. Tiger's claws, whiskers, bones and teeth are especially valuable, and preparations made from these materials were often given to soldiers before a battle or any especially hazardous enterprise, since they were believed to incalculable bravery."

NO FIRE PROTECTION FOR 1500 HOMES IS REPORT TO COUNCIL

STATEMENT IS MADE BY FIRE CHIEF MCCLURE, QUOTING STATE FIRE MARSHAL.

AN INVESTIGATION IS MADE

Part of City Affected Lies in the Lower End of Southland Addition.

That more than 1,500 homes in this city are without fire protection was brought out at Thursday night's session of the council. This statement was made by Fire Chief J. L. McClure, quoting S. W. Inglish, State fire marshal, who recently made an extensive investigation of the fire protection existing in the city. The matter came up in connection with an inquiry from Attorney J. M. McCall to F. N. Lawton, manager of the Wichita Falls Water Company as to when the council could expect the installation of a number of fire plugs ordered from a year to year and a half ago. The company now has the necessary number of fire plugs on hand, Mr. Lawton stated, but were being held up by inability to secure the necessary pipe for the fire mains. This pipe had been ordered for months, and supposed to have been in transit for several weeks, but the company has been unable to secure either delivery or information as to their whereabouts from the railroad companies, said Mr. Lawton. Installation of the necessary plugs will be made by the water company as soon as they can obtain the necessary pipe to which end all possible effort had been, and was being made by the company.

Affect Southland Addition.
The principal part of the city now unprotected, lies in the lower end of the Southland addition. It was brought out, "if a fire were to break out in some portion of this district, which would be too big for us to put out with chemicals, I don't know what we could do except to wait until it burns up within reach of our hose lines," said Chief McClure. "Furthermore, you all know what proposition a fire is after three or four houses get on fire. With the wind in a certain direction, I hate to think what would happen in case of a fire in this section of the city."
Permission for the installation of a booster pump for the purpose of increasing the pressure on the water line to the Katy roundhouse, was given Mr. Lawton for the water company. The pump will be installed in the alley between Ohio and Indiana north of Fourth street, and is expected to make possible a pressure of 100 pounds an inch on this line.

Expect to Meet Demand.
With the installation of this pump, and the increased pressure on the line to the roundhouse, Mr. Lawton expects the water company to be able to meet the increased demand of the railroad, which is now three times what it was less than two years ago. Lack of sufficient water for motive power at this point has in the past held Katy power in the local roundhouse for hours, materially contributing to the congestion of traffic on that line.

Confirmation of the appointment of three additional patrolmen to the city police force was also made by the council. The new policemen are W. C. Miles, formerly on the city detective force at Waco; E. M. Johnson, formerly member of the Corpus Christi police force and E. Counts, formerly member of the military constabulary of the canal zone at Panama.

Fire Alarm System.
Consideration of the purchase of an automatic fire alarm system was turned over to the committee on public safety.

AVIATION TURNS ATTENTION TO PRODUCTION OF HELIUM FOUND IN THIS TERRITORY

Due to recent disastrous explosions and fires in lighter-than-air aircraft, interest of the aviation world is again turning to the large plant for the production of helium, the non-inflammable and non-explosive gas, whose production was discovered through the war, which is located at Petrolia, according to Van H. Manning, director of the Bureau of Mines. Mr. Manning, accompanied by a corps of experts from the Bureau of Mines, and a party of New York engineers interested in the process used at Petrolia, passed through Wichita Falls Friday morning en route for that place. An inspection of the Petrolia plant will be made Saturday morning.
The plant at Petrolia is of particular interest since it makes use of the Norton Process for the reduction of helium from the Petrolia gas which is particularly rich in helium. The Norton process, the latest of three processes discovered for the production of helium in quantities, has proved the simplest and cheapest of the three processes used for the production of this gas in quantities, requiring less power and a smaller outlay for machinery than proved necessary in the two other processes, plants for which were constructed in Fort Worth during the war, but have since been abandoned. Petrolia gas was also used by the Fort Worth plants, being piped to those plants through the mains of the Lone Star Gas company. The investment at

CITY HAS $70,000 FOR STREET IMPROVEMENT
With the receipt of the money for the recent $75,000 street improvement bond issue the city now has something more than $70,000 in the fund available for street improvement, according to an announcement by Fred C. Barron, city treasurer. Although a number of paving applications are now on file with the city council, it is not yet known just what streets will be improved with the funds now on hand.

NO EMBARGO ACCEPTED FOR EMBARGO SECTIONS
Although the local railroads are now accepting all freight consigned to points on their own lines, they are refusing to accept freight destined to points on the lines who have declared an embargo due to strike conditions. Officials of the railroads here state that it is impossible at this time to predict just what the effect will be in this city of the present situation.

FURTHER SHORTAGE OF CARS EXPECTED BY DENVER PEOPLE

Lack of storage facilities and the large production of grain in the country around Amarillo, will cause an increasing car shortage in this city, according to representatives of the Denver.
At present the farmer is having to haul his grain direct to the cars. It has been impossible to satisfy the unusual demand for grain cars this year for this reason. It is estimated that the lack of freight cars by the railroad companies and inadequate storage facilities of the farmer will delay the shipping of some grain as late as November. Practically all of the grain handled by the Denver railway is diverted through Wichita Falls to Galveston.

PARTNERSHIP IN INDUSTRY.

We believe that no man who looks to the future with hope will dispute that the workmen will have some voice in the control of industries in which they are a vital part and which are vital to them.

Enlightened selfishness alone will lead, and indeed, is leading capital to take labor into partnership with it.

Just as autocratic political government has been found top-heavy, inefficient, unable to meet modern demands and a failure, so is autocratic control in industry being found.

But there is as wide a chasm between a genuine partnership in industry and the soviet control now in vogue in many parts of Europe as there is between bolshevism and true democracy.

They are a class autocracy that is a great deal more destructive and worse than the old political autocracy.

Capital, the educated man, and the experienced executive are given no place in this system.

The aspiration of labor for a partnership with capital in industry is in accord with the spirit of the times but there are some who are mistaking a soviet autocracy for the genuine article and are ready to appeal to force.

The doctrine that might makes right is as detestable here at home as it was in Europe and those who seek to enforce this doctrine ought to remember that the people of this country were willing to make the utmost sacrifices to defeat this principle.

Another resolution declared that equal suffrage would give assurance of continuance of the national prohibition amendment.

SAYS MILITARY TRAINING PLAN CONSCRIPTION

Such Is Comment of Senator Hiram Johnson in Discussing March Proposal.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The war department's plan for universal military training is "peace conscription," Senator Hiram Johnson, California, declared today in commenting on the proposal as outlined by Chief of Staff March to the Senate Military Affairs subcommittee.

Johnson said the program would cost one billion dollars a year when in operation.

Peace conscription at a cost of one billion dollars a year is the price we are to pay for the League of Nations," Johnson said.

He explained that the actual authorized strength of the peace army under the war department plan would be 376,000 men besides, 600,000 to 800,000 men in addition to the military training provision.

Senator Thomas, Colorado, said today that if the war department estimates for clothing and feeding of participants were to hold good the cost of living would have to be considerably reduced.

Senator New and Chamberlain believe that preparedness is, essentially, a matter of training the youth of the nation in the physical benefits of three months' rigid war schooling for every youth the nation will benefit in an economic way.

Senator Sutherland, West Virginia, suggested a one year enlistment in the army as a means of training a reserve force.

Further findings were announced late yesterday after the August grand jury had struck because, it said, no evidence against white participants had been presented by the state's attorney's office, work was continued, however, after State Attorney General Brandage and State Attorney Hoyne appeared before the grand jury and told them evidence against whites will be offered as soon as the negro cases had been disposed of.

Fourteen of those indicted were arraigned yesterday before Judge Connelley, all pleaded not guilty. The first trials were set for September 3.

United States to Cultivate the Trade of South America

SANTIAGO, CHILE, Aug. 8.—The United States government is considering earnestly a proposal to create a regular trade mission to the commercial centers of South America, according to Julius Klein, commercial attaché of the American embassy at Buenos Aires who discussed South American trade conditions here today.

The American government, he said, is greatly interested in South American markets and recognizes the need for a better knowledge of each other by the people of the United States and the South American republics as a means of developing commercial relations.

Coal His Temperature.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—When Mrs. Harry Whitley testified that her husband's "high temperature" caused him to beat her regularly, the judge sent Harry to the cooler for ten days.

MEXICO CITY WILL RETAIN STATUS AS INDEPENDENT CITY

MEXICO CITY, Thursday, Aug. 7.—The chamber of deputies today rejected by a vote of 136 to 29 a proposal submitted by the executive branch of the government depriving Mexico City of its status as an independent municipality and placing it under the federal government's jurisdiction.

An attempt originating in the chamber to end the present extraordinary session of congress on August 15 and giving the legislators a recess until the regular session starts September 1, is apparently doomed to failure because of opposition in the Senate.

While the lower house has passed the new labor law the senate still has much to consider. This is taken to indicate that important legislation will not be enacted until the regular session.

President Carranza is understood to have postponed his proposed visit to a month in the northern states of the republic in order to present his message at the opening session in September.

LOOK TO RAILROADS FOR RELIEF FROM THE OIL FIELD SITUATION

REPORT INDICATES THAT THE PIPE LINES HAVE DONE ALL POSSIBLE.

MEETING HELD ON THURSDAY

Rumors of a Strike Have Added to the Apprehension of Those Interested.

A conference was held Thursday evening by J. L. Mildren, representing the State Railroad Commission, and officials of the pipe line companies operating out of the Wichita Falls district, to which representatives of the railroads were invited but none were in attendance.

According to the discussion today in the city offices the consensus of opinion is that the situation presents many very dangerous possibilities and that the relief must come from the railroads, the pipe lines having done what they could to remove production for the smaller producers proportionately and equitably.

After a general discussion the opinion was expressed by Mr. Mildren that solution of existing difficulties lies with the railroads, and he telegraphed the State Railroad Commission this night stating the situation and today has been interviewing the officials of the railroad companies here as to possible measures of relief.

Neither the Missouri Pacific or Frisco will take freight from the M. K. & T., and the latter will only receive oil shipments for stations on its own line. It was intimated today that at any time an order might be promulgated by the Katy refusing to handle oil on the entire system, or at least on this section of the north central fields.

There was a rumor in circulation today to the effect that the railway shippers of the Katy system have voted to strike and are awaiting the order from headquarters to walk out, thus tying up the line and placing a complete embargo on oil traffic.

Motive Power Tied Up. It is claimed that more than half the motive power of the Katy shop is in the shops, or ought to be; that it is but a stalling efficient, is too light and not suitable for the traffic in this district.

There is a theory abroad that the railroads are being operated by the United States government, and that it would be feasible for one railroad to borrow motive power from another in an emergency. It was a frequent practice when the roads were operated by the corporations, and in alleged competition, to borrow motive power and rolling stock like friends and neighbors, but now that Uncle Sam is in sole control he does not seem to be able to do anything that is not dictated by the underlings in charge of interests of the big game.

Wichita Falls is to be the center for the field investigation work to be carried on by the Bureau of Mines in this section of Texas, according to a statement by Van H. Manning, director of the Bureau of Mines, to Hubert Harrison, secretary of the chamber of commerce. A number of expert investigators will be stationed here to conduct investigations and carry on conservation measures in the oil fields of this district.

MASS MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT TO DISCUSS BURKBURNETT ROAD

For the purpose of taking immediate action to improve the terrible condition of the roads in the Burkburnett oil field, a meeting of oil operators and all others in Wichita county interested in the roads in the oil fields has been called for Saturday night, at 8:30 in the county court room, by the chamber of commerce, with the commission's court sitting in the call, and promising full support. The call is issued at the instance of a number of prominent oil operators and other citizens of Wichita county, who are frequently compelled to travel the roads, especially the bad road to Burkburnett and the northwest.

As to the necessity for action on the road proposition. Anyone who has traveled over any part of the road to Burkburnett has had the fact that the roads are in a condition entirely beyond the English language to describe, brought very forcibly to his attention. There is no need for argument but lots of need for action, in the words of Secretary Harrison of the chamber of commerce when issuing the call for the meeting, and it is believed that at Saturday night's mass meeting some definite action will be taken, and argument and oratory put aside until the five foot holes in the public highways are filled up, and the roads put in half way passable condition.

BEGIN DRILLING ON THE FISHER-WHALEY

Drilling operations began on the Fisher-Whaley Oil Company's test in 32-4-14, in Tillman county, this morning. The test is being made with cable tools and was spudded in today, according to reports from the field. In the light of recent extensions on the Texas side, the Oklahoma operations are of much interest, and this test will be closely watched.

DISCOVERY OF GAS DIRECTS ATTENTION TO MONTAGUE COUNTY

The discovery of a gas sand believed to be good for about four million feet in the Nocona Oil and Gas Company test north of Nocona last week has attracted a great deal of attention in Montague county. Leadline is quite active there on leases three miles from the well are selling as high as $50 per acre. Many of the big companies are now represented there.

The well is about eight miles north of Nocona. It is about thirty miles down the river from Petrolia and about the same distance southwest of the Healdton field. It is said that the drillers only tapped the top of the sand. George Williams and associates of Pittsburg, Pa., are the chief owners of the Nocona Oil and Gas Co.

FURTHER EXTENSION OF NORTHWEST POOL BY SINCLAIR WELL

Sand has been reached in the Sinclair-Gulf Company's No. 1 Meadows, a half mile northwest of the Kimmell and Dillard well, in block 98. Setting of casing is now in progress and a test will be made as soon as possible. This is an important location, as production here will mean a considerable northern extension of the line of production.

HOLLYWOOD FARM HAS FIELD DAY THURSDAY AT GRAND CIRCUIT MEET

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8.—J. L. Dodge of the Hollywood farm, Lexington, Ky., had a field day at North Hants yesterday, finishing the winners of the two feature events of the grand circuit meeting. The card furnished the most spectacular finishes of the season, exceptionally fast time being made in each heat and race.

Trotting the fastest two heats of the season for 3 year olds, Dodge drove Periscope to the front in straight heats in the championship stalling stake valued at $4,495, the first futurity this year for 3 year old trotters. Molly Knight was second with the odds on Favorite, Brusloff, third.

The first heat in the 2:06 1-2 set a season's record for juveniles. In the $3,000 Plain Dealer purse for 2:08 trotters, the first heat went to Miss Perfection under strong handling by Dodge. Hollywood Kate captured the following two heats, and raced in a very easy fashion.

The 2:12 trot went to Edith Carter while the 2:14 went to Jack Keith. Roth won in straight heats and were the only favorites of the day to win.

By finishing second to Jack Keith, after the favorite had been barred from the main race, Dodge's $358.60 on a $2 ticket.

SQUINT AT THE SCORE.

Yesterday's hero—Sam Vick. This gent from the south whacked a four satchel smack off Al Botohorn of the Browns with the base lines checked, boosting the Yanks to an 8 to 2 win over the Browns.

The Red Sox popped the Indians for seven runs in the first inning and wound up with an 8 to 7 victory.

Tight pitching featured a pair of contests in which the Athletics and White Sox broke even.

The Reds brought out the home crusher and used it on the Dodgers, turning in a 3 to 0 score.

The Cardinals started off like another victory over the Giants, but were headed and lost, 4 to 5.

The Tigers made it a victorious series when they whalloped the Senators, 4 to 3.

First Strike of Legitimate Actors On in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The first strike of legitimate actors in history was under way here today. As a result, 13 of the 23 big theaters were closed.

The strike was called by the Actors Equity Association, following refusal of the Producing Managers Association to recognize the union. In addition to recognition, the union demanded:

Minimum engagements of two weeks; two weeks' notice of dismissal; limited number of performances in a week, and limited number of free rehearsals.

More than 300 actors participated in the strike, which was called only a few minutes before the curtains were scheduled to go up to night. Audiences got a new thrill. They were turned loose into Broadway—with their money refunded—at an hour when that famous thoroughfare usually is comparatively deserted. They wandered about the street in dense throngs, turning the situation into an impromptu celebration.

The theaters closed were The Princess Shubert, Playhouse Forty-fourth Street, Lyric, Republic, Astor, Gaiety, Broadhurst, Selywn, Cohan and Harris and Knickerbocker.

In some instances other theaters attempted performances with chorus girls in principal roles. The audiences were treated to unintentional comedy.

Francis Wilson, president of the Actors Equity Association, is directing the strike. E. H. Sothern sought to bring about an amicable adjustment of the situation at the strike meeting last night but was hoisted into silence.

The producers have announced they will fight the strike.

The deal involves between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 and the goods include food, clothing and medical supplies.

Pledging the support of the 600,000 members of the order to quench radicalism of all forms.

Admiral's Speech Suffers at Hands of Secretary Daniels

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Aug. 8.—A speech especially prepared and handed to the press in advance by Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the new Pacific fleet, remains in his pocket undelivered today, for Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels last night censored the prepared address just before the admiral was to speak before a banquet given in honor of Secretary Daniels, Admiral Rodman and other notables at the Hotel Del Coronado, across the bay from here.

Admiral Rodman announced to the banqueters when called upon to speak that permission to deliver his prepared address had been refused by the Secretary of the Navy, and he responded to the toast by expressing his pleasure at the reception tendered the officers and men of the Pacific fleet.

Admiral Rodman's speech had been given to the press and was in type in many newspaper offices throughout the country. No intimation that it would not be delivered was given until the admiral arose to address the banqueters and made the announcement himself. Secretary Daniels was but two seats away from the admiral when the latter commander spoke. No reason was advanced by Admiral Rodman for the ban on his speech. Neither was any forthcoming from Secretary Daniels.

A NERVOUS WRECK. From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well. 'Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work. I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only case I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head. I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties. I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me." Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in nerve troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Small Proven Lease. Right in the center of the biggest production near the Waurika and Staley gushers. Absolutely proven, south line Block 96. A well here should bring $250,000 out of production in 90 days. Why pay $30,000 to $100,000 for proven leases when we will sell you this lease for $5,000? With a flow estimated at 2,000 to 2,500 barrels a day, the Burk-George Oil Company's No. 1 George was completed on Thursday, according to James Calvert, one of the officers of the company, who was at the well up late last night, and who returned this morning to the field. Oil shot high into the derrick on several occasions, it is reported. This well is of especial interest, because of its location in the southern and the extension of the line of production which it affords. The company was particularly fortunate in making a pipe line contract with one of the big companies, Mr. Calvert states, and there will be no shut-downs on pipe line connections.

BURK-GEORGE WELL IS MAKING AROUND 2500 BARRELS A DAY. THE SCIENCE OF BEING USEFUL. Business is the state of being busy. American Business is the entire American people in the business of providing itself with a living. Only through the usefulness of all can everything be done which must be done and everyone rewarded who does it. THE AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK, like other American institutions, interprets its mission as more than the mere science of making money. It realizes the surest way to make money is to prove its usefulness; that the more useful a business is the more successful it must be, because it is a greater benefit to mankind. The splendid progress the American National Bank has made since it opened for business February 10, 1919, is a measure of the quantity and quality of its usefulness—of the number of people it helps and the number of ways and degrees in which it benefits them.

SENATOR DECLARES U. S. IS A MILLION HOUSES BEHIND NEED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.—The United States is one million houses behind the needs of its people, Senator Calder, N. Y., asserted today in a Senate speech urging congressional action to stimulate home building.

Calder advocated passage of his bill creating "home loan banks," the establishment of which he said would make available $2,000,000,000 for home construction.

High rents must continue, Calder warned, unless some way is found to increase the number of home owners. Abnormal profits in building materials should be reduced, he said.

"My own opinion is that we are not far from many ways going to have any respect construction. While it is true that the wages of workmen are high, still, in comparison with the things these wages purchase, they are not too high," said Calder. "I am in favor of the government selling all its buildings constructed last year for housing purposes just as speedily as they can be disposed of."

"In the United States every year there is need of approximately $3,000,000,000 of building construction to meet the demand of this country. Of this total perhaps $2,000,000,000 worth is required for housing people."

OVERLAND COMPANY TO BUILD BIG NEW PLANT

ELYRIA, OHIO, Aug. 8.—With the announcement today of the purchase of 160 acres on the outskirts of this city, it was learned that the Willam Overland company will build at once the largest engine works of its kind in the world. Sleeveless engines and an engine for home lighting plants will be manufactured, it is said, giving employment to nine thousand persons.

BLANTON SAYS ANARCHY EXISTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A joint resolution "declaring that a state of anarchy exists in the United States and authorizing the President to free interstate mails and traffic from further unlawful interference and to adequately protect citizens in their property rights," was introduced today by Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas.

INCREASE WEIGHT AND VITALITY WITH PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion frequently evidenced in newspapers and magazines is not only the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, sickly, angular frame with

At the seaside too, the plump well-rounded figure is most admired. The well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness. That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercise, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving ugly hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate known as bitro-phosphate and sold by the Miller Drug Co., in Wichita Falls, and good suggestions everywhere.

The essential phosphoric food elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce a pleasing change in nerve energy, and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones.

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is innocuous for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders, owing to its tendency to increase weight, one should watch the scales while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

URGES PHILOSOPHY TO DOWN BOLSHEVISM

URRAIN J. LEDOUX

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," so said Fanny Fern, and this philosophy is being rigidly followed, with the addition of clean clothes, a good bed and a job to those in need, by Urrain J. Ledoux, graduate of two universities—in Canada and Paris—for eleven years American Consul in Europe and founder of the Bahai Fellowship in the United States. In his attempt to wipe out greed and prejudice and make all persons of one thought and religion.

"In other words," declared Mr. Ledoux, "I am endeavoring to spread broadcast the principles of Bahai Fellowship, which undoubtedly will save this country from the fate that is approaching in England, France, Italy and Spain—internal revolution." This is a broad statement from a man who has lived in Howery lodging houses, worked as a day laborer and lived on sometimes less than $5 a week, though he says himself he had to stoop to menial labor to get acquainted with the masses to enable him to go out among the classes and preach the principles of Bahai Fellowship.

CRIMINAL ANARCHY IS CHARGED AGAINST FOUR MEN ARRESTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Charges with criminal anarchy under an old section of the penal code four men were arrested here today by detectives of the bomb squad after a raid on their apartment in the Bronx. Much anagogistic literature and a loaded revolver were found in the flat.

According to the detective the four men, all Finns and three of them claiming to be carpenters, have distributed a large quantity of revolutionary literature among foreign-born workmen in the United States. This literature urged that violent measures be used to overthrow the government.

OBJECTS TO ARRESTS FOR IMPROPER PARKING CARS UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS

The strict interpretation of the traffic ordinance which has led to such a number of arrests of local motorists within the last week for leaving their cars unattended in the street for a moment while they run into a store is opposed by members of the Retail Merchants' Association, according to John W. Thomas, secretary of that organization.

"Three arrests were made in front of one store yesterday afternoon, where the drivers of the car had run in for just a moment's shopping," said Mr. Thomas. "There was no place for the parking of the cars in front of this store, and the only alternatives open to the shopper were to leave the car and be fined, or to drive on and not do the shopping. The former works an injustice to the shopper, and the latter to the store."

"Two solutions might be found for this situation. One would be to prohibit all parking for more than an hour at a time during the business hours on downtown streets. Another would be to reserve part of the space in front of each store for a limited parking time for the benefit of the store's customers."

"Pending a solution of the problem, however, it would seem that it would be for the benefit of all concerned for the police to use a more liberal interpretation of the ordinance."

PEACE AGREEMENT WITH AFGHANISTAN

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Peace has been made between Great Britain and Afghanistan. A peace agreement was signed at 11 o'clock this morning. It was officially announced this afternoon.

GOVERNOR PARDONS MAN WHO SERVED IN THE BRITISH ARMY

AUSTIN, TEX., Aug. 8.—D. M. Delmas, who, while wearing the Victoria Cross, which he said was serving with the British army on the western front, was apprehended in Seattle, Wash., as an escaped Texas convict, was pardoned by Gov. W. P. Hobby today.

Delmas' history is that he was sentenced to five years imprisonment for receiving deposits for a San Angelo bank after he knew it was insolvent. In 1912 he escaped from the penitentiary and later entered the British army, with which he served until 1916. He was wounded, discharged and returned to San Francisco, where he was apprehended and returned to the Texas penitentiary. In 1917 he appealed to the board of pardons to be allowed to go to the front for a second time. This appeal was refused, and in the fall of 1917 he escaped and again joined the British forces. He served with them until March, 1919, when he was again discharged and returned to Seattle, when, recognized by the police, he was returned to the Texas prison, where approximately half of his term had been served.

When Delmas' history became known through the press a number of prominent people became interested in him, and in granting the pardon, the governor says.

"It affords me much satisfaction to grant this pardon if Delmas erred, he has won the stain away with service. No man can be a criminal if he has offered his life on the battlefield for freedom and civilization."

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Richardson of Meeker, Okla., are guests of their daughter, Mrs. R. N. Webb, 1206 Tenth street.

THIRTY ARRESTED ON THURSDAY FOR IMPROPER PARKING

Improper parking of automobiles in the downtown district caused the arrest of 30 motorists by the local police Thursday. In practically every case the charge grew out of leaving the car in the street while the driver ran into the store for a moment. Fines of $5 each were assessed in the police court Friday morning, although a few cases were carried over for a hearing Saturday morning.

Five fines of $15 each were assessed on charges of gaming.

Will the Gould Soiled Linen Be Washed Here?

Frank Jay Gould Is Returning from France to Push Case against Brother George and Wife He Divorced Is reported Planning to Fight Him . . .

THE sickle spotlight of notoriety which regularly pricks the security surrounding the wealthy has swung to the descendants of the late Jay Gould.

First, the financial world set aghog by the complaint of Frank Jay Gould, youngest son of the famous financier, of a self-expatriate, that the mismanagement of the estate by his brother George had resulted in the loss of millions. The case reached the courts in spite of the strong defense of George Gould and his sister, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, the former popular Helen Gould, with the result that Justice Whitaker removed George Gould as trustee of the Gould estate.

Directly on the heels of this piquant morsel came word from Paris that the second Mrs. Frank J. Gould, who had been divorced in France by the millionaire sportsman, would come to America and institute proceedings to have the Paris decree set aside and another divorce granted providing ample alimony for herself.

A fortnight later brought the rumor that Frank J. Gould was contemplating a third matrimonial venture with Mme. Florence Lacaze, herself the divorced wife of Henry Chittenden Heynemann, a prominent and wealthy architect of San Francisco.

And now comes the latest dispatch from all that Frank Gould himself, forsaking his beloved Paris and his magnificent chateau at Maison Latite, will arrive in America shortly to anticipate the court decisions which will let him control his share of the $50,000,000 estate of his father.

As a further malicious stroke, the little god of chance will send the first Mrs. Frank Gould, formerly Margaret Kelly, later Mrs. Ralph Thomas, and now the wife of Prince Nouredin Z. Zora, of Albania, to this country to join her children by her marriage with Gould.

Young Senor Mario Casasus, the wealthy young Mexican correspondent named by Gould in his divorce from the second Mrs. Gould, and reported to be her next husband, will also arrive in New York with the beautiful defendant, and it lacks only the presence of the future bride of Frank Gould to complete the amazing intricacies of the triple triangle.

Why this comedy—or is it tragedy—sketched and staged in Paris, should be played out on American soil is an enigma.

Frank Gould chose to exile himself in France because he loved it, but he must return to the land of his birth and the source of his fortune to be extricated from the dilemma into which life in a foreign country has plunged him. He has seen the sea of pleasure on alien shores and he weeps in the homeland.

The first intimation of the second Gould divorce reached America last autumn, when it was reported that the Goulds had separated and that proceedings would doubtless be instituted giving "incompatibility" as the plea. Gould had been divorced by his first wife, the beautiful Margaret Kelly, in 1899, and his marriage occurred a year later to Edith Kelly. The similarity in names was a curious coincidence. No relationship existed, the second Mrs. Gould being an English music hall actress, who was appearing with James T. Powers in "Havana" at the Casino Theatre in New York at the time Gould married her.

The gossip shook their heads at the alliance and tongues wagged freely with dire predictions, for it was not then—as it is now—a commonplace affair for a millionaire to marry a pretty comedienne. But the domestic waters remained untroubled for nearly ten years and not until April 16 of this year did the French courts sever the matrimonial bonds.

Last October society was startled at the receipt of dispatches from Paris telling of the arrest of Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould and Mario Casasus in the latter's apartment on the charge of "indiscreet conduct." They were fined fifty francs apiece, and there the matter apparently dropped. But it was scarcely surprising to learn that the aftermath was Frank Gould's suit for divorce based on the evidence obtained at Casasus' apartment.

The case was not contested and Mr. Gould was awarded a divorce by default, his wife being granted 3,000 francs a month alimony.

It is this unfair allotment which has determined the second Mrs. Gould to renew the case in the New York courts, claiming that her marriage has given her the rights of American citizenship which entitled her to a share in the Gould millions and adequate alimony.

She claims that 3,000 francs a month will not buy her horse and terms the arrangement absurd on its very face. The reopening of the case promises interesting international legal complications which will require the keenest skill of New York lawyers.

Meanwhile Mr. Gould makes no comment in regard to his former wife's visit to this country. But he shows no desire to quell the rumors which couple his name with the fascinating Mme. Lacaze, who won such sensational prominence in her divorce suit against Henry Heynemann in San Francisco in August of 1914.

Mme. Lacaze is really a Parisian, though she has spent much of her life in San Francisco. She has been reported an actress and a thorough Parisian, but very little seems to be known of her before her marriage in Madrid in October, 1914 to the wealthy architect and clubman. Her brief six months' matrimonial experience ended in the California courts when she was granted a decree of divorce from Heynemann on the grounds of infidelity. The case, which was necessarily sensational as it was based on the introduction of letters written by the defendant to a "woman of the streets" in which he eulogized the virtues of his wife, received an amazing notoriety when Heynemann later declared that the letters were manufactured by him to provide his wife with grounds and had no foundation of truth. The judge refused to believe the millionaire's denial and ruled that if his contention were true he was guilty of contempt of court and Florence Lacaze could be charged with perjury. So that ended that, and nothing was ever proved.

The young wife was permitted to resume her maiden name and she immediately took passage for France, declaring her intention of becoming an exile. No more was heard of her until rumors began to circulate that she was destined to become the third Mrs. Frank Gould. Then she was lifted from obscurity and branded an actress, until a search of the files of the New she is a beautiful and chic and charming as ever.

At her side will be always found the young Mexican who was named as co-respondent by her former husband, Senor Casasus is a son of a former Mexican Ambassador to Washington. He is likewise a nephew of Juan Azcona, a rich Mexican, who was Minister of Paris from Mexico in 1917 and is now head of the Mexican Senate. Young Casasus is reported to be a man of great wealth, so it may be that the former Edith Kelly will not be required to relinquish her relationship with luxury and will cease to be the wife of one rich man only to become the bride of another.

The young Mexican was a student of engineering at Princeton at the time of his father's death. At the outbreak of the war, although a citizen of Mexico, he enlisted in the American ambulance service.

Mrs. Gould declares that the last three or four years of her life with Frank Gould was unbearable. He had made her promise not to divorce him, she avers, and promised in return that she might do as she liked if she would keep her word. She separated from him in May, 1913, according to her story, but returned at his earnest plea for reconciliation. She declares that he immediately began to drink heavily and create scenes—on one occasion even throwing a pearl necklace out of the window in a rage—and she was forced to leave him again. She left Paris with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Arthur Kelly, and remained in Biarritz until August, when she returned to the French capital, and having no friend but Senor Casasus, went to his apartment, where Mr. Gould found her.

This is Edith Kelly's first divorce, which leaves her rather far behind the other members of the triangle within a triangle, as Frank Gould has already two to his credit, and Mme. Lacaze one. The first Mrs. Gould had already in out one divorce suit—the proceedings which freed her from Frank Gould. Her marriage to Ralph Thomas was quite happy and ended with his death in 1914. Several years thereafter she married the Albanian prince and New York society has seen little of her. This summer, however, she plans to visit her children, who are almost grown. Helen Margaret has already turned seventeen and Dorothy is fifteen. They have been reared by their aunt, Mrs. Finley J. Shepard.

Even aside from his matrimonial difficulties, Frank Gould is a picturesque figure in France and his mode of life has greatly interested the people of his chosen land. With an income estimated at $600,000 francs annually, entirely the best society, extensive racing stables, yachts, motors, all the trappings and activities of a millionaire, his life is as filled with adventure as an Arabian Nights.

Before taking up his residence abroad Mr. Gould was devoted to horse, shows and other equestrian exhibits. But on his arrival in France he took up racing seriously and his thoroughbred repeated his successes at Burtinham and Sandringham. Withal he is a good business man, according to his associates in this country, and it is hinted that he will occupy the offices on lower Broadway which he has maintained throughout his lengthy sojourn abroad and devote himself to serious financial pursuits that his interests may not suffer through trust of another.

Florence Lacaze Heynemann

York Herald's Paris edition revealed the announcement of her marriage to Heynemann three years before.

Now Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould declares that she will show "Frank's gay Paris" carryings-on with Florence and other women.

The former Edith Kelly also prophesies that she will find a jury in America that will give her a square deal and provide sufficient alimony for her support.

The contrast between her former scale of living and the comparative penury into which she has been cast is tremendous. Her jewels, which are famous and include diamonds, emeralds and pearls worthy of an emperor, are the only salvage which she has gathered from the wreck. These, she says, remain in her possession only because she had them secured in a storage vault. Her wearing apparel, personal belongings, wedding presents and her two automobiles have been retained by Mr. Gould.

The chateau, of which the former Edith Kelly was chaisaine, is one of the handsomest estates in France. It is a show place around Paris. Set in the heart of a wooded park at Maison Latite, it is surrounded by exquisite grounds. The house itself, designed, built and decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Gould, has wide corridors in green and white to blend with the spacious lawns outside. The furnishings, which came from Scotland, are admirably suited to the heavy wallcovering in oak which ornaments the salon and dining-room. The grounds contain squash courts, tennis courts, fruit orchards, a model conservatory, and model stables which house the thoroughbreds which represent the millionaire's favorite hobby. But the chief feature of the magnificent estate is the Pompeian marble bath as complete as those of Rome in her glory. The bath contains a pool large enough to accommodate 100 swimmers. The ceiling and the side-walls are mirrors and aquatic flowers and blossoming gardens surround it. Marble couches and soft, plush, fleecy robes are provided for the bathers.

From this atmosphere of grandeur the second Mrs. Gould has been brought to face the poverty implied by 3,000 francs a month. She declares that she is forced to shop for bargains, but it must be confessed that her fashionable appearance has not suffered from her reduced circumstances. Visitors to Paris who have seen her in the smart cafes and about the hotels of the French capital are witnesses that
