

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

Five Strikers are Killed And 15 Wounded In Riot At Hammond, Ind. Plant

HAMMOND, Ind., Sept. 9.—Five strikers were killed and 15 wounded today in a battle between 1,000 former employes of the Standard Steel Car Company and the police.

Two months ago 2,000 workmen at the plant went on a strike for increased wages, and improved working conditions. Five weeks ago there was a riot between strikers and the police in which a number of persons were injured and as a result of this outbreak Governor Goodrich sent a regiment of the Indiana state militia to Hammond to restore order. The troops were withdrawn about two weeks ago.

Yesterday 200 strikers returned to work and this caused considerable bad feeling among the men who refused to return.

Today when the 200 men were on their way to the plant a crowd of 1,000 foreign-born strikers gathered and threatened them.

Twenty policemen and twenty special guards ordered the disturbers to disperse. The order was greeted with yells and shouts of "Boob." Captain Ben Strong, in charge of the police then instructed that the leaders of the mob be arrested. When the police attempted to execute the order the crowd attacked with sticks and stones, several of the strikers drew revolvers and fired a number of shots, according to Captain Ben Strong.

The police replied by firing about 75 shots into the crowd, killing five and wounding 15 strikers. Later the strike leaders were taken into custody and taken to jail. None of the policemen or special guards was wounded in the fight.

RESOLUTIONS CALL FOR MORE CAPABLE PUBLIC OFFICIALS

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Resolutions calling for more experienced men to handle governmental affairs; for less interference in business affairs by "prying investigators" and for a better understanding between employer and employee were presented to the "Our Country First" conference here today.

Charles Fies, Chicago, chairman of the resolutions, said that the resolutions were the result of suggestions by leading business men, manufacturing and farmers attending the conference.

Before presenting the resolutions, Fies told the conference of various plans which are being worked out by which employes may have a greater part in the earnings of their company. He stated that he believed that such a system, when perfected, would be the solution of the labor difficulties.

Other speakers on the program to date included: J. P. Orr, Cincinnati; L. C. Boyle, Washington, D. C.; and R. D. Oviatt, Rochester, N. Y.

DALLAS PROFITEERS THREATENED WITH TAR AND FEATHERS

DALLAS, Sept. 9.—A coat of tar and feathers on the whipping post is threatened as a remedy for profiteers in an article received by a local newspaper today signed "Vigilantes of Dallas."

After October 1, the article says, "rent profiteering in Dallas must cease," and rentals return to the basis of 1917, with refunds to those who have paid increased rents in the interim.

Other alleged profiteering will be dealt with after the rent proposition is settled, according to the article, which bore no tangible clue to the identity of its authors.

MEXICAN MAYOR WOUNDED AND HIS SECRETARY KILLED

LAREDO, TEX., Sept. 9.—Leopoldo Blanco Bueno, mayor of Cholula, Mexico, was seriously wounded and his secretary, Jose Maria Perez, killed by unknown assassins who fired on the Mexican officials as they were boarding a train at Cholula for Puebla last Friday, according to the Mexico City newspaper El Universal, copies of which arrived here today.

The assassins fired from ambush, escaping after a running revolver battle with pursuers.

It is believed, the dispatch states, the assassins were members of the deposed county of Cholula, who are said to have joined a rebel faction.

State Files Suit to Recover 160 Acres Valuable Oil Land In Stephens County Field

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Suit to recover 160 acres of oil land situated in Stephens county valued at $8,000,000 was instituted today in the 53rd district court by the attorney general's department on behalf of the State of Texas against Gulf Production Company et al. The State is also asking for $300,000 damages. It is alleged by the State in its petition that the land in question belongs to the public free school fund of the State. The defendants acquired the land through the vendee of J. M. Kidd, but the State alleges that the vendee forlornly let their interest in the land by non-payment of interest. It is claimed there are four producing wells now on their tract of land which is described in the petition as the northeast one-fourth of section 22, block six, Texas & Pacific Railway Company survey, certificate 2,845, Stephens county, Texas.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE FOOD IN NEW YORK

In the effort to curb food profiteers the New York State government officials have delegated a commission to delve into the conditions now prevailing. Martin H. Glynn, former Governor of the State, together with Dr. John H. Finley, are among the members of the commission who will investigate matters. Dr. Jonathan C. Day is another member of the investigating committee, while Isidor J. Kresel will serve as counsel. J. Ogden Armour, of big packing concern, is shown in the picture.

STEEL WORKERS MEET TODAY TO VOTE ON STRIKE PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Representing workers in all mill centers, presidents of 24 steel and metal trade unions were arriving here today for a special strike vote meeting. The meeting was scheduled to begin late this afternoon.

Reading of a telegram from President Wilson to President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor will be the first business taken up.

Although the message has not been made public, the President, it is believed, has taken action that will cause the steel men to delay calling a strike, at least until October 6, the date of the "round table" industrial conference.

It is unlikely the steel men will act in any way until the return of Gompers, who was called to his father's bedside at Dorchester, Mass., yesterday.

The steel workers are demanding recognition of their union by the United States Steel Corporation, after Judge Eibert Gary twice refused to receive a workers committee, headed by John Fitzpatrick and Wm. Foster, chairman and secretary of the organization committee. Gary's refusal automatically placed the national officers in a position where they must call a strike or disobey the orders of the workers, as expressed at a recent convention in Youngstown, Ohio, according to Fitzpatrick.

The strike call was withheld, it was explained, to give Gompers a chance to telegraph the President at St. Louis asking him to intercede with Gary.

SPENCER DECLARES GERMAN TREATY IS ONE MAN DOCUMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The treaty with Germany is a "one man document," Senator Spencer, Missouri, declared in the Senate today. He said President Wilson mistated the issue in his St. Louis speech last week.

"The real issue is whether we prefer the treaty precisely as written or whether we shall have reservations in the United States which will protect our independence of action in the future," Spencer declared that if Japan should purchase Lower California, the United States might be brought into conflict with the great powers of the world under article 10 of the league covenant. He referred to rumors that Japan had already purchased this land.

The senator declared his approval of the Lodge amendments to the treaty.

FOREMAN OF SHOPS IS SHOT AND KILLED

ROODHOUSE, ILLS., Sept. 9.—William Nolan of Springfield, Ill., a workman at the local Alton shops, was shot and killed early today.

Nolan last night discharged W. W. McDermott, a machinist. Police have arrested McDermott and formally charged him with Nolan's murder.

COTTON PRODUCERS DECIDE TO ORGANIZE A BUYING COMPANY

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9.—Cotton producers from ten Southern states at a meeting here today decided to organize a buying corporation in every county and parish in the belt with the object of buying every bale offered, then holding the staple until the minimum price, to be recommended by a committee of growers was offered.

DISCUSSES HIGH COST OF LIVING AND DECLARES RATIFICATION OF TREATY WILL AID SOLUTION

By HUGH BAILLIE
United Press Staff Correspondent
STATE CAPITOL, ST. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 9.—President Wilson today addressed a special session of the Minnesota legislature, called to consider domestic problems including the high cost of living.

He went first to the governor's room and chatted a few minutes with Governor J. A. Burnquist.

The house chamber at the capitol was filled to capacity. Troops were drawn up on the capitol steps, presenting arms as President and Mrs. Wilson stepped from their flag draped automobile.

Wilson wore formal attire, frock coat and tall hat.

Before Wilson entered the house chamber the chaplain prayed for the personal safety of the president on the trip.

Speaker W. I. Nolen called the joint session to order.

The greatest military turn-out that has greeted the President on his trip was drawn up before the capitol as he left. Approximately 1,000 troops from Minneapolis and St. Paul, it was stated, composed the escort.

STATE CAPITOL, ST. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 9.—Ratification of the peace treaty is essential to a "settling down" of world conditions which will tend to bring down the cost of living.

President Wilson today told a special session of the Minnesota legislature.

The cost of living is primarily a world condition, due to the loss of material power in the war, and the demoralization of industry, he said. "Factories must again be devoted to peace purposes and labor redistributed. This process can not begin, he argued, until real peace is assured by ratification, commerce resumed, and the world begins to settle down."

Other Methods.
There are other methods of reducing costs, the President said, by operating up food hoards, but it is necessary to look with an "unsympathetic eye" at "some of the processes" which retard distribution, he said.

Labor is at present not satisfied with its relations with the employer, he asserted. "This condition is world wide, he declared, and mentioned the labor section of the peace treaty as a means of ending this state of dissatisfaction."

Labor Clauses.
The labor clauses, he said, aimed to establish something approaching American labor conditions everywhere, insofar as possible. There must be a constructive program with regard to labor to relieve the strains all over the world, he said. The interests of both capital and labor are concerned in this, the President said. Labor, he said, no longer can be regarded as a commodity. When the labor problem is solved production will go forward "by leaps and bounds," he predicted, and "that will be one of the means of bringing down the cost of living."

Legislators Attentive.
The legislators listened for the most part in silence, leaning forward in their seats to hear better.

Wilson argued America should help the world get on its feet again so trade might be re-established for the financial betterment of America.

Senators who oppose the League of Nations are afflicted with "downright ignorance," he said. There was handclapping, a few cheers and Mrs. Wilson, sitting in the gallery, smiled.

America must play a part in world affairs, he said, and it must play this part "either inside or on the curb."

MEXICAN SOLDIERS MUTINY AND MURDER OFFICERS AT POST

EL CENTRO, CALIF., Sept. 9.—Mexican soldiers at the garrison at San Luis, Arizona, mutinied and killed all the officers, according to information received today by F. N. Cronholm, superintendent of the imperial irrigation district, whose headquarters are at Adrade, near the California-Mexican boundary.

INCREASED CHARGES DECLARED UNREASONABLE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—In a tentative report the interstate Commerce commission today ruled "unjust and unreasonable" increased charges for loading and unloading cattle cars made by the Union Stockyards and Transit Company of Chicago.

The increases were 25 cents per car for unloading and 50 cents for loading. Complaint was filed by the Chicago Livestock Exchange.

FALLS 75 FEET AND IS SLIGHTLY INJURED

ST. LOUIS, MO., Sept. 9.—James Hamilton, of Kingston Springs, Tenn., district chairman of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, in a season here fell 75 feet from the eighth floor of a hotel to the ground early today but escaped with only superficial bruises.

Rumor That Impeachment of Burleson Is Now Being Considered in the House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Postmaster General Burleson's administration will be investigated by the House, Republican leaders had practically decided today.

Reports are current at the capitol that impeachment is being considered, but members of the steering committee state no such plan has been discussed.

The investigation has been prompted by resignation of Chas. M. Galloway as a member of the civil service commission, who claims that Burleson disregarded the merit recommendations of postmaster candidates and selected officials solely on account of political advantages.

Plans are to conduct an investigation on the resolution Chairman Steierson of the House postoffice committee has offered to take the decision out of politics by providing appointment of its members by supreme court instead of the President.

Rumania Refuses to Sign The Austrian Peace Treaty

PARIS, Sept. 9.—The Rumanian delegation to the peace conference announced today that it would not sign the Austrian peace treaty, the signing of which by Austria and various other powers interested is set to take place tomorrow morning.

Before the Rumanian announcement was made it had been indicated by members of the supreme council that Rumania was expected to take the course she has announced in refusing to sign the treaty, because of the council's flat refusal to grant her the privilege of making reservations in connection with the rights of minority in territories detached from the former Austrian empire, as provided for in the peace treaty.

It is also considered as improbable that the Jugo-Slav delegation will sign the treaty. It will be granted several days delay, however, to communicate with its home government. The Jugo-Slav objections are similar to those of Rumania.

FT. WORTH DEALERS REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

FORT WORTH, Sept. 9.—Fort Worth food dealers have declined to recognize either the authority of County Food Administrator Wray, named by State food administrator, or his price list. Wray in a statement today said his price list would stand but suggested the appointment of a joint committee of grocers, consumers and business men to settle the dispute. The grocers claim the administrator has no authority to fix prices, that authority having expired with the war.

EIGHTEEN INDICTED BY GRAND JURY IN THE FEDERAL COURT

REPORT IS MADE TO JUDGE SMITH LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON.

MAJORITY UNDER ARREST

May Be Reconvened to Consider Matters Not Concluded During the Session.

Eighteen indictments were returned when the federal grand jury returned to Judge Smith in United States district court at 6:40 o'clock last evening. Some of the bills were made public immediately following their return.

Twenty grand jurors were present in open court, and after ascertaining from J. W. Bradley, foreman of the jury, that at least 16 jurors had concurred in each indictment, Judge Smith asked the foreman if the grand jury had concluded all work before them. Mr. Bradley replied in the affirmative and Judge Smith excused the grand jury, explaining that the jurors will be recalled should occasion demand the further investigation of anything.

Indictments made public were as follows: A. A. Smith, W. A. Jenkins and J. B. Chauncey, charged with transporting liquor, June 20, 1919; R. D. Page, charged with stealing two checks signed by the federal railroad administration, one for $37.69 and one for $40.25, from the Wichita Falls & Northwestern railroad in Nowata county, July 16, 1919, two counts.

C. A. Downs and W. W. Pugh, charged with violating the Harrison narcotic law, March 19, 1919; J. S. Graham, charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibitory liquor laws, July 5, 1919; Earl Woods, charged with transporting a woman from Kansas City, Missouri, to Burkburnett, July 25, for immoral purposes.

Earl Carmichael and T. I. Jarrard, charged with the theft of railroad administration checks for sums aggregating $6,000 from local offices of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern railroad and with disposing of the checks, July 1, 1919, five counts; E. E. Brumbaugh and Coleman Butler, four counts, two of which charge violation of the liquor laws and two of which charge the illicit use and cancellation of stamps and seals upon bottles of whiskey in violation of the internal revenue laws.

C. C. Twyman, charged with violation of the liquor laws and with violating the war time prohibition laws, July 20, four counts; Mrs. J. B. Legois, charged with making liquor in violation of the war time prohibition laws, two counts; Charles Brown and Mamie Brown, charged with making liquor for beverage purposes in violation of the war time prohibition laws, August 5, two counts; R. C. Strothers, charged with violation of the war-time prohibition laws and with bootlegging, August 20, two counts.

Jack Trout and D. McClary, charged with transporting two girls from Oklahoma City to Wichita Falls for immoral purposes, three counts; B. Brettler, S. Brettler and S. H. Schmid, charged with robbing a railroad car of interstate freight and with receiving goods stolen from an interstate shipment, three counts; Louis Taylor, charged with violation of the liquor laws July 21, two counts; Will Dunbar, charged with violation of the liquor laws September 3, two counts; Beasle Bradshaw and R. C. Finkley, charged with conspiring to violate the prohibitory laws and with conspiring to engage in the retail liquor business, two counts; Bob Covington, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act by transporting a woman from Oklahoma to Burkburnett, two counts.

MONEY RECEIVED BY SALVATION ARMY TO BE USED IN THE CITY

Money contributed in Wichita Falls toward the Home Service Fund of the Salvation Army, for which a campaign for raising $1,000,000 in the southwestern states is in progress, will be used by the organization for relief work in Wichita Falls. It is pointed out in a communication from the Texas campaign headquarters. The quota of Wichita county in this drive is $2,500.

It is also pointed out that the Salvation Army, through its very low overhead expense, more nearly gives a whole dollar's worth for every dollar contributed to its work, than nearly any other relief organization in existence, and that no organizations give more.

IRRIGATION PETITION NOT TO BE PRESENTED AT THE PRESENT TERM

Announcement that the petition for the creation of the Wichita irrigation district would be presented at the term of the commissioners court was rather premature, said J. A. Kemp Tuesday. "While we expect to present the petition at an unannounced time, there is yet a great deal of detail work to be accomplished before the petition can be presented. Another matter which prevents the presentation at this time is the desire of those back of the matter to hold a conference with some of the prominent citizens of Wichita Falls, in order to determine the relation of the project to the city, which is presented at this time by the absence of those with whom we wish to confer. This conference will probably take some time this month. We wish the cooperation of the people of the city in this matter, and believe that the project will be of a very great incidental value to Wichita Falls."

SOCIAL MEETING OF REBEKAHS THURSDAY

A special social session for welcoming strangers and new members into the order will be held by the Rebekah lodge, No. 235, in the new building on the Stewart-Wood building on Thursday afternoon. The meeting opens at 2:30.

In the absence of any routine business matters to come before the members of the lodge, the decision was made to devote the time to a social hour and urgent invitations have been issued to all strangers and new members to be present and acquainted with the Wichita Falls Rebekahs. Refreshments will be served.

Notice: All Yeomen members are urged to be present Wednesday 8:00 p. m., Sept. 10, at 605 Scott. Very important business and election of officers. Mrs. E. L. Richardson, Corp., 162-24p.

AMUSEMENTS

GLADYS BROCKWELL AT THE EMPRESS WEDNESDAY

Glady Brockwell, the Fox emotional star, will appear at the Empress theatre Wednesday in her latest picture entitled "The Sneak." She has set a rapid pace for herself of late in the high character of her subjects, but her new offering is said to be comparable with any picture in which she has appeared in regard to the appealing quality of the role.

Miss Brockwell is seen as a gypsy girl who is pledged by her father, the chief, to Wester Churchmen, one of the members of the tribe. Inasmuch as the latter is a daring gypsy and an excellent lover, Rhona, as the girl is called, is entirely satisfied. Not so Francisco Buckley, whose love for her takes on a jealous character. When an artist from a summer colony near the coast asks Rhona's consent to pose for him, Francisco makes out to the tribe she is compromised. So the girl is cast out as unclean. How she clears her good name, how she discovers that the artist is not sincere and lashes out on a jealous character. When her father and Wester learn that Francisco is at the bottom of the treachery are events that compose a dramatic conclusion. It is a picturesque role in which she makes the most of her opportunities.

The realities are conveyed so splendidly that one forgets his environment for the hour and lives the life of a gypsy. Edward LeSaint, the director, has brought out some human touches and his atmosphere is commendable. Miss Brockwell has the support of an excellent cast that includes William Scott, Alfra Hollingsworth, John Oaker, Harry Hilliard, and Irene Rich. Patrons know that they are always dependable. "The Sneak" was written by J. Grubb Alexander, while the adaptation was made by Ruth Ann Baldwin.

UPSTAIRS AND DOWN AT MAJESTIC WEDNESDAY

"Upstairs and Down" is the Selznick photoplay starring Olive Thomas, scheduled to appear at the Majestic theatre Wednesday. This is the little star's first production under Selznick's banner, she is supported by an excellent cast of well known screen players. Charles Giblin directed the production, which is from the story of Frederick and "Fanny" Hatton.

She was a little thing and a born flirt. There are said to be plenty of opportunities offered for flirts at a house party and little Alice, portrayed by Olive Thomas, never missed a bet. Luckily her older sister arrived in time to save the hostess from utter despair. But Alice had been having too good a time to let her sister spoil it and she had already made one trip to New York City, where in company with an irresistible young Irish guest of the same house party, she witnessed a midnight show.

But the older sister was gone plain herself and managed to cut Alice out by winning over the young Irish man herself. Then Alice acted just as the deep-dyed villain generally acts in the melodramas. She told lies over her sister's right to see him. And she almost succeeded—but not quite. There are many methods and in the end the story and is carried through to the happy party, both "Upstairs and Down" and "Fanny Hatton." Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donohoe have returned from an extended vacation in California.

YOUR CATARRH MAY LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

Dangerous to Use Treatment for Only Temporary Relief.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air passages, and other distasteful features. The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications.

S. S. S. has proven a most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh because it goes direct to its source, cures a bottle today, begins the only logical treatment that gives real results. For free medical advice write Medical Director, 47 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Record for Service: The 1918 record of the Salvation Army, aside from the war work, is as follows: Persons afforded temporary relief outside industrial homes and hotels numbered 661,218. Our work has gained the praise of President Wilson, who says that the organization should be supported on the premise that anything that makes good citizens out of bad is entitled to the support of the public.

SAYS SHE FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN. "I want to tell you right here and now, it's the only thing that I've ever gotten hold of that helped me one-tenth as much as two bottles of this treatment," said Mrs. Minnie Dyer, residing at 2318 Lee avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, while in Renfro's Drug Store a few days ago. "I had suffered from pains in my side and a weak run-down condition for two years, and it had begun to look like nothing on earth could reach my case or give me any permanent relief until so many of my friends persuaded me to give Orgatone a trial. Now I'm just like a different woman, and it will take a good deal to keep me from going on with it until I take a few more bottles. "The pains in my head and side gave me a lot of trouble, and, besides that, I was nervous all the time and suffered from indigestion and constipation something awful. I felt weak and tired and didn't seem to be equal to any kind of work without becoming worn out entirely, and my stomach was in such a bad condition that I couldn't eat a few things that wouldn't hurt me. "I just kept on in this condition and no matter how hard I tried, I didn't seem to be able to find anything that would relieve the pain or make me feel stronger and better, until a few weeks ago, after hearing so many of my friends talk about it, I made up my mind to try some Orgatone. "It was lucky step for me, for after taking the second bottle of it my troubles commenced to leave me and I have improved so much that I can eat anything I want without the slightest trouble with my stomach. Orgatone just seemed to pick me up and put me on my feet, for I'm a whole lot stronger, and there's all the difference in the world in my general condition. "Nothing could have pleased me better than the way this Orgatone has helped me, and I am so proud of it, I'm telling all my neighbors just what it's done. "Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by T. J. Young Drug Company, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.—Adv.

No Replacements in Twenty-Eight Months

Take a concern like the Dallas Coffin Co., of Dallas, for example. Lay up one of its trucks even a day while new tires are being applied and its transportation is hindered seriously.

In the selection of truck tires, a concern of this size figures LENGTH of service as a highly important factor. Not only as contributing more mileage, but as minimizing delay.

And because no replacements of Goodrich Truck Tires have been necessary in 28 months of hard service on trucks of the Dallas Coffin Co., when the average truck owner figures eighteen months as a maximum of service from truck tires, it believes there is a big economical saving in the use of Goodrich Tires.

If you will question any Goodrich De Luxe Truck Tire user in your town, you will find that he supports the Dallas concern in this regard.

De Luxe Tires save as they serve.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression stamped upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound solicitude. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You owe it to the happiness and welfare of your family to keep trim in body and keen in intellect. You are the sun and the inspiration of their lives. ### VATICAN JOINS IN ACCEPTANCE OF NEW PLANS

Has Cast Its Lot with the New World-Wide Liberty Movement.

THE POPE JOINS HANDS WITH THE DEMOCRACIES

Four Definite Planks in the Program for Establishment of Social Peace.

By HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Politically the Vatican has joined hands with the democracies and cast its lot with the world wide liberty movement, it was brought out in a Papal letter addressed to Cardinal Lucon and made public today in connection with participation of French Catholics in the coming parliamentary elections.

The Vatican will hereafter accept democracy as the only source of political power and will work to build up and permanently establish democratic government.

Four Definite Planks. The Vatican program contains four definite planks for establishment of social peace. They comprise:

Co-operation of all classes.

Coalition of all classes against bolshevism.

Acceptance of democracy.

Education of the proletariat.

Immediately preceding the war, decline of monarchs and growth of democracies had left the Vatican with the archaic for political alliance. No diplomatic relations were maintained with Europe's democracies.

The fall of the Hapsburg dynasty left but one Catholic monarchy and the Pope faced the necessity of recognizing democrats or of practically disappearing from the diplomatic world.

Pope Benedict has frankly announced his choice of the former.

One almost certain result of this policy will be eventual resumption of political and diplomatic relations with France and Italy, thus gaining support in the two leading Catholic countries of Europe, a movement which will make up for the loss of influence in Austria-Hungary. The movement for reconciliation with political governments is already well advanced in Italy.

The Pope's Letter.

In his letter to Cardinal Lucon, the Pope said, in part:

"The great outstanding fact in the world today is the ever strengthening current everywhere towards democracy. The proletariat classes, as they are called, having taken the preponderant part in the war, desire in every country to derive there from the maximum advantage.

"Unfortunately, this is often pushed to excess. They would overturn the social order, which human nature renders necessary, to the detriment of everybody.

"The Catholic church has always loved those who suffer and has always taught that public powers established for the common good must work especially to improve conditions of those who suffer.

"That is why the Catholic clergy must not oppose the proletarian revolution, but must favor them, provided they remain within the limits of honesty and justice."

COMPLETE MYSTERY STILL SURROUNDS DOUBLE MURDER

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Complete mystery still surrounds the double murder of Mary E. Messner and Norman W. Shear, whose bodies were found with Shear's automobile on a lonely highway near Kenmore yesterday.

Medical Examiner Cook scouted the idea of suicide, as no weapon has been found.

On the road at the left side of the car there was a pool of blood. Leading from it, bloodstains traced the way 100 feet to the rear, where the girl's body lay. Her outer clothing had been torn, indicating a struggle. Her stockings and underclothing were bloodstained and coated with mud, apparently caused when she dragged herself along the road from where she had first fallen at the side of the car.

BODY OF MESSENGER MISSING WITH BONDS IS FOUND NEAR ROAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—State and city police are trying to determine whether Benjamin Binkowitz, 21, was slain where his body was found beside a road near Milford, Conn., or was murdered in New York City and later taken to that place.

Binkowitz, a messenger for Richard Whitney and Co., Wall street brokers, disappeared August 12, while carrying $178,000 worth of bonds to another brokerage concern. At the time it was assumed he had absconded with the securities and a bonding company is understood to have turned over $100,000 to his employers.

On August 20 a party of picnickers discovered a body in a thicket near a road just outside Milford. The body was buried two days later but officials photographed it. Last night the photograph was identified by Binkowitz's mother as that of her son.

When discovered the body was lying face upward. A dozen knife wounds had mutilated the face almost beyond recognition. There were also nine knife wounds in the chest. The right hand was cut and the left clasped the lower strand of a barbed wire fence.

Medical authorities said Binkowitz probably was killed August 17. Persons living nearby said they saw two automobiles standing in the road near the spot that night.

A key ring, a knife and $7 are all that was found in the boy's pockets.

ECONOMY SAVING AND INVESTMENTS IS ONLY SOLUTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Economy, saving and investment must replace extravagant spending and speculating if the cost of living is to be readjusted, according to James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

In an interview today Alexander told the United Press: "The need of consolidating the benefits derived from the war is an outstanding feature of the present situation. It is time for the inevitable reaction which followed the accomplishment of the American people in the war to give place to thoughtful consideration as to our future.

"Existing instability in many countries is an index of the desirability of strengthening our own economic position."

Invest in Production. Alexander pointed out that not only must increased economy be practiced but savings must be invested in production rather than used for speculation.

"Until conditions revert to normal," he said, "we must practice increased economy in consumption, coupled with increased economy in production. Given the first, the other will follow.

"This general situation does not appear to be properly appreciated. Expenditure is being concentrated upon the purchase of goods for consumption and surpluses are being diverted to speculative purposes rather than to productive investment."

Benefits from saving have never before been so striking, thinks President Alexander, who says he finds from a study of the situation that wages have not been outstripped by high prices.

ARMED POSSES HUNTING FOR A GEORGIA NEGRO

Experts or Theorists—Which?

The packing industry is intricate, complex—far more so than the railroads or the telegraph.

Every day multiplying needs of society increase its problems and multiplying responsibilities demand more of it.

Highly trained experts, specialists of years' experience, thinkers and creative men, devote their lives, their energies, their activities, to solving the problems of the packing industry and meeting its widening duties.

Swift & Company is not a few dozen packing plants, a few hundred branch houses, a few thousand refrigerator cars, and a few million dollars of capital, but an organization of such men. It is the experience, intelligence, initiative and activity which operates this physical equipment.

Can this intelligence, this experience, this initiative and creative effort which handles this business at a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound from all sources, be fostered through the intervention of political theorists, however pure their purposes? Or be replaced by legislation? Does Congress really think that it can?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES LEGISLATURE TODAY

Heals that are of little use for the general civil population. The world is not going to settle down, my fellow citizens, until it knows what part the United States is going to have in the peace.

"The United States has accumulated a great debt too, but not in proportion to those that other countries have accumulated. We depend upon our wealth as compared with theirs. And we are the only nation in the world that is likely, in the immediate future to have a surplus of money and of free capital to put the industry of the world up and finally on its feet."

"Our railroads at this moment are not adequate to moving the commerce of the country, and they are being run through a little neck, for example the Pennsylvania system at Pittsburgh, where everything is congested."

"Then we, sitting in legislatures like this and in Congress of the United States, have to see to it if you will permit a vulgar expression, that nobody monkey with the process. (Applause.)"

"We have got to realize that we are face to face with a great industrial problem which does not center in the United States. It centers elsewhere, but we share it with the other countries of the world."

"The point I wish to make is that the world is looking to America to set the standard with regard to the relation of labor and capital, and it is looking to us because we have been more progressive in those matters than others."

"By progressive I do not mean a man not ready to move, but a man ready to move who knows where he is going, and a man who has a workable plan for the future."

"Very well, then, we have got to have a constructive program with regard to labor, and the minute we get it we will relieve the strain all over the world, because the world will accept our standards and follow our results."

"The principle is that the interest of capital and the interest of labor are not different but the same; and that men of business sense ought to know how to work out an organization that will express that identity of interest."

"We didn't find American banks in Shanghai and Calcutta and along the entire circle of the world. We found English banks and German banks and Swedish banks and French banks, but no American banks, and the American bankers have not had to really handle international exchange."

More Important Cases Are Yet to Be Heard Before Term Is Concluded.

Boottleging, white slavery and the sale of narcotics in violation of the federal laws occupied the United States district court's attention during the Tuesday morning session, the opening day of the criminal docket.

Heart throbs and pathos, a tinge of irony, a story of alleged police corruption in Fort Worth and ignorance of the law and the lack of respect for the court, all of Judge Smith's sentences were punctuated with mercy.

MO-TEX OIL CO. NO. 2 GEORGE WELL ESTIMATED AT 2000

The Mo-Tex Oil Company's No. 2 George, Block 818, W. P. George tract, is reported as having blown itself in Monday afternoon, spraying oil over the derrick. There is much gas, it is reported, and the well is estimated as a 2,000 barrel producer, some estimates running higher.

The No. 1 George of this company came in last week, a splendid well. This is the company that was organized on Friday, June 13, and let drilling contracts for Nos. 1 and 2 on this same day. The contracts for Nos. 3 and 4 were let on August 13. B. E. Davis, the president states, that there is again expected to bring them luck in these latter wells. Drilling on the three additional locations is scheduled to start at once, it is stated.

The Mo-Tex Pipe Line company was organized by the same people as the production company, organization being effected on August 13, and it is stated that financing this project has been about half completed. Ninety-five per cent of the Mo-Tex stock is held in St. Louis, Mo. Dr. H. O. Harkins is secretary and treasurer, C. Rohrer is president and B. E. Davis, the president is general manager, with his offices in Wichita Falls.

DOES NOT ANTICIPATE RAISE IN PRICE OF OIL

"While I do not look for any immediate rise in the price of oil as long as we have the present large flush production, the recent rises in other sections would seem to show at least that there is no danger of a fall in the local market price of oil," said P. P. Langford Tuesday in discussing the probability of recent raises in the Pennsylvania and other eastern fields being reflected in the mid-continent fields.

"Our immediate need here, of course, is pipe line facilities sufficient to care for the needs of the oil field, which in my opinion will be taken care of within the next 90 days. "As for sales of oil below the market price, I do not believe that there has been anything approaching a general practice in this respect. I do not doubt, however, that there may have been isolated instances of such sales.

"Producers who have sold oil below the posted price, however, have made a very grave mistake, for such reductions have failed to get the many appreciably greater quantity of oil which has been run by the big companies at the market price."

RECEMENTING RESTORES WELL LEAKING WATER

A successful cementing of a well which lost its seal while the well was flowing a large amount of oil, is reported from the Waggoner pool, the well being the sensational Klammell & Dillard well, which extended the line of production in the Meadow tract, and is one of the biggest wells ever brought in.

This well, it is reported, lost its seal, the soft shale which was above the oil sand not supplying a firm seal and water came in. The hole was plugged with cement, allowed to harden and the cement drilled out, and the well is now said to be as good as before the casing and water trouble set in.

This is a rather exceptional undertaking in this field, it is stated, where because of the soft formation above the oil sand, particularly in the northern part of the northwest pool, there is much trouble with unsealed casing, and it is frequently necessary to set the second string of pipe.

TO DEVELOP SCIENTIFIC HISTORY OF WAR

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 9.—A scientific history of the war is expected to be one of the developments of the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science here this week.

Among the lecturers will be general poets and a good many women, which brings the prospect that it will be the most popular as well as the most scientific meeting the association has ever held.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wheat and daughter, Mrs. Floyd Covington and baby daughter, returned Sunday from Colorado Springs, where they spent the summer months.

The Burk Burnett Petrolia Syndicate, making these tests, is composed of experienced oil men and big operators. Latest issues of "The Oil Weekly" and "National Petroleum News" give account of sale of properties in Pine Island field, Louisiana, by same group of men for $8,000,000.

Their local manager is Mr. E. E. Osman, 822 Ohio avenue. Did you see the article on oil page in yesterday's Times?

ORGANIZATION AIDS NEGRO POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Clubs organized among negroes in the South by the Department of Agriculture and the state colleges are resulting in cleaner premises, walls and spring houses and better repaired houses and cabins, a review of the work issued today by the department declared. The negro embraces with eagerness the opportunity offered through the clubs to improve conditions on their homes.

It was stated. In 1918, 1,663 rural negro women's clubs were organized with 37,913 members and 1,952 girl clubs were organized with a membership of 50,994. The total negro club membership is 108,377.

The negro club women have organized 117 co-operative poultry breeding associations and fifty co-operation egg circles are the means by which they obtain a better price for their products.

M'KENZIE OPPOSES RATIFICATION OF THE TREATY BY CANADA

OTTAWA, ONT., Sept. 9.—Ratification of the peace treaty by Canada will commit this country to foreign wars and may conceivably lead to a situation where Canada will be aligned against the motherland, according to argument advanced in the House of Commons late yesterday by J. D. McKenzie, leader of the opposition party in the House. McKenzie spoke a length in opening the treaty debate. He declared that ratification of the treaty carried with it acceptance of the League of Nations, with "troublesome" Article 10, obligating the signers to maintain the integrity of all other signatory nations.

If I could have a thousand years—just one little thousand years—more of life, I might, in that time, draw near enough to true Romance to touch the hem of her robe.

Up from ships men come, and from waste mazes and forest and road and garret and cellar to mander to me in strangely distributed words of the things they have seen and considered. The recording of their tales is no more than a matter of ears and fingers. There are only two things I dread—deafness and writer's cramp. The hand is yet steady; let the ear bear the blame if these printed words be not in the order they were delivered to me by Hunky Magee, true camp-follower of fortune.

Biography shall claim you but an instant—I first knew Hunky when he was head-waiter at Chubb's little beefsteak restaurant and cafe on Third avenue. There was only one waiter be-

... successively, I caromed against him in the little streets of the Big City after his trip to Alaska, his voyage as cook with a treasure-seeking expedition to the Caribbean, and his failure as a pearl fisher in the Arkansas River. Between these dashes into the land of adventure he usually came back to Chubb's for a while. Chubb's was a port for him when gales blew too high; but when you dined there and Hunky went for your steak you never knew whether he would come to anchor in the kitchen or in the Malayan Archipelago. You wouldn't care for his description—he was soft of voice and hard of face, and rarely had to use more than one eye to quell any approach to a disturbance among Chubb's customers.

One night I found Hunky standing at a corner of Twenty-third street and Third avenue after an absence of several months. In ten minutes we had a little round table between us in a quiet corner, and my ears began to get busy. I leave out my sly ruses and feints to draw Hunky's word-of-mouth blows—it all came to something like this:

"Speaking of the next election," said Hunky, "did you ever know much about Indians? No? I don't mean the Cooper, Beadle, cigar store, or Laughing Water kind—I mean the modern Indian—the kind that takes Greek prizes in colleges and scalps the halfback on the other side in football games. The kind that eats macaroons and tea in the afternoons with the daughter of the professor of biology, and fills up on grasshoppers and fried rattlesnake when they get back to the ancestral wickiup.

"Well, they ain't so bad. I like 'em better than most foreigners that have come over in the last few hundred years. One thing about the Indian is this: when he mixes with the white race he swaps all his own vices for them of the palefaces—and he retains all his own virtues. Well, his virtues are enough to call out the reserves whenever he lets 'em loose. But the imported foreigners adopt our virtues and keep their own vices—and it's going to take our whole standing army some day to police that gang.

"But let me tell you about the trip I took to Mexico with High Jack Snakefeeder, a Cherokee twice removed, a graduate of a Pennsylvania college and the latest thing in pointed-toed, rubber-heeled, patent kid moccasins and Madras hunting shirt with turned-back cuffs. He was a friend of mine. I met him in Tahlequah when I was out there during the land boom, and we got thick. He had got all there was out of colleges and had come back to lead his people out of Egypt. He was a man of first-class style and wrote essays, and had been invited to visit rich guys' houses in Boston and such places.

"There was a Cherokee girl in Muscogee that High Jack was foolish about. He took me to see her a few times. Her name was Florence Blue Feather—but you want to clear your mind of all ideas of squaws with nose-rings and army blankets. This young lady was whiter than you are, and better educated than I ever was. You couldn't have told her from any of the high stopping in the swell Third avenue stores. I liked her so well that I got to calling on her now and then when High Jack wasn't along, which is the way of friends in such matters. She was educated at the Muscogee College, and was making a specialty of—let's see—eth-

yes, ethnology. That's the art that goes back and traces the descent of different races of people, leading up from jelly-fish through monkeys and to the O'Briens. High Jack had took up that line too, and had read papers about it before all kinds of riotous assemblies—Chautauquas and Choctaws and chowder parties, and such. Having a mutual taste for musty information like that was what made 'em like each other, I suppose. But I don't know! What they call congeniality of tastes ain't always it. Now, when Miss Blue Feather and me was talking together, I listened to her affidavits about the first families of the Land of Nod being cousins german (well, if the Germans don't nod, who does?) to the mound-builders of Ohio with incomprehension and respect. And when I'd tell her about the Bowery and Coney Island, and sing her a few songs that I'd heard the Jamaica niggers sing at their church lawn parties, she didn't look much less interested than she did when High Jack would tell her that he had a pipe that the first inhabitants of America originally arrived here on stilts after a freshet at Neanfly, N. J.

"But I was going to tell you more about High Jack.

"About six months ago I get a letter from him, saying he'd been commissioned by the Minority Report Bureau of Ethnology at Washington to go down to Mexico and translate some excavations or dig up the meaning of some shorthand notes on some ruins—or something of that sort. And if I'd go along he could squeeze the price into the expense account.

"Well, I'd been holding a napkin over my arm at Chubb's about long enough then, so I wired High Jack 'Yes,' and he sent me a ticket, and I met him in Washington, and he had a lot of news to tell me. First of all, was that Florence Blue Feather had suddenly disappeared from her home and environments.

"Run away? I asked.

"Vanished," says High Jack. "Disappeared like your shadow when the sun goes under a cloud. She was seen on the street, and then she turned a corner and nobody ever seen her afterward. The whole community turned out to look for her, but we never found a clew."

"That's bad—that's bad," says I. "She was a mighty nice girl, and as smart as you find 'em."

"High Jack seemed to take it hard. I guess he must have esteemed Miss Blue Feather quite highly. I could see that he'd referred the matter to the whiskey jug. That was his weak point—and many another man's. I've noticed that when a man loses a girl he generally takes to drink either just before or just after it happens.

"From Washington he railroaded it to New Orleans, and there took a tramp steamer bound for Belize. And a gale pounded us all down the Caribbean, and nearly wrecked us on the Yucatan coast opposite a little town without a harbor called Boca de Coacoyula. Suppose the ship had run against that name in the dark!

"Better fifty years of Europe than a cyclone in the bay," says High Jack Snakefeeder. So we get the captain to send us ashore in a dory when the squall seemed to cease from squalling.

"We will find ruins here or make 'em," says High Jack. "The government doesn't care which we do. An appropriation is an appropriation."

"Boca de Coacoyula was a dead town. Them biblical towns we read about—Tired and Siphon—after they was destroyed, they must have looked like Forty-second street and Broadway compared to this Boca place. It still claimed 1,300 inhabitants as estimated and engraved on the stone courthouse by the census taken in 1597. The citizens were a mixture of Indians and other Indians; but some of 'em was light-colored, which I was surprised to see. The town was huddled up on the shore, with woods so thick around it that a subpoena-server couldn't have reached a monkey ten yards away with the papers. We wondered what kept it from being annexed to Kansas; but we soon found out that it was Major Bing.

"Major Bing was the ointment around the fly. He had the cochineal, sarsaparilla, logwood, annatto, hemp, and all other dye-woods and pure food adulteration concessions cornered. He had five-sixths of the Boca de Thingamajiggers working for him on shares. It was a beautiful graft. We used to brag about Morgan and E. H. and others of our wisest when I was in the provinces—but now no more. That peninsula has got our little country turned into a submarine without even the observation tower showing.

"Major Bing's idea was this. He had the population go forth into the forest and gather these products. When they brought 'em in he gave 'em one-fifth for their trouble. Sometimes they'd strike and demand a sixth. The major always gave in to 'em.

"The major had a bungalow so close on the sea that the nine-inch tide seeped through the cracks in the kitchen floor. Me and him and High Jack Snakefeeder sat on the porch and drank rum from noon till midnight. He said he had piled up $300,000 in New Orleans banks, and High and me could stay with him forever if we would. But High Jack happened to think of the United States, and began to talk ethnology.

"Ruins!" says Major Bing. "The woods are full of 'em. I don't know how far they date back, but they was here before I came."

"High Jack asks what form of worship the citizens of that locality are addicted to.

"Why," says the major, rubbing his nose, "I can't hardly say. I imagine it's infidel or Aztec or Nonconformist or something like that. There's a church here—a Methodist or some other kind—with a parson named Skidder. He claims to have converted the people to Christianity. He and me don't assimilate except on state occasions. I imagine they worship some kind of gods or idols yet. But Skidder says he has 'em in the fold."

"A few days later High Jack and me, prowling around, strikes a plain path into the forest, and follows it a good four miles. Then a branch turns to the left. We go a mile, maybe, down that, and run up against the finest ruin you ever saw—solid stone with trees and vines and underbrush all growing up against it and in it and through it. All over it was chiselled carvings of funny beasts and people that would have been arrested if they'd ever come out in vaudeville that way. We approached it from the rear.

"High Jack had been drinking too much rum ever since we landed in Boca. You know how an Indian is—the palefaces fixed his clock when they introduced him to firewater. He'd brought a quart along with him.

"Hunkey," says he, "we'll explore the ancient temple. It may be that the storm that landed us here was propitious. The Minority Report Bureau of Ethnology," says he, "may yet profit by the vagaries of wind and tide."

"We went in the rear door of the bum edifice. We struck a kind of alcove without bath. There was a granite davenport, and a stone wash-stand without any soap or exit for the water, and some hardwood pegs drove into holes in the wall, and that was all. To go out of that furnished apartment into a Harlem hall bedroom would make you feel like getting back home from an amateur violoncello solo at an East Side Settlement house.

"While High was examining some hieroglyphics on the wall that the stonemasons must have made when their tools slipped, I stepped into the front room. That was at least thirty by fifty feet, stone floor, six little windows like square portholes that didn't let much light in.

"I looked back over my shoulder, and sees High Jack's face three feet away.

"High," says I, "of all the—"

"And then I noticed he looked funny, and I turned around.

"He'd taken off his clothes to the waist, and he didn't seem to hear me. I touched him, and came near beating it. High Jack had turned to stone. I had been drinking some rum myself.

"Ossified!" I says to him, loudly. "I knew what would happen if you kept it up."

"And then High Jack comes in from the alcove when he hears me conversing with nobody, and we have a look at Mr. Snakefeeder No. 2. It's a stone idol, or god, or revised statue or something, and it looks as much like High Jack as one green pea looks like itself. It's got exactly his face and size and color, but it's steadier on its pins. It stands on a kind of rostrum or pedestal, and you can see it's been there ten million years.

"He's a cousin of mine," sings High, and then he turns solemn.

"Hunkey," he says, putting one hand on my shoulder and one on the statue's, "I'm in the holy temple of my ancestors."

"Well, if looks goes for anything," says I, "you've struck a twin. Stand side by side with buddy, and let's see if there's any difference."

"There wasn't. You know an Indian can keep his face as still as an iron dog's when he wants to, so when High Jack froze his features you couldn't have told him from the other one.

"There's some letters," says I, "on his nob's pedestal, but I can't make 'em out. The alphabet of this country seems to be composed of sometimes a, e, i, o, and u, but generally z's, l's, and t's."

"High Jack's ethnology gets the upper hand of his rum for a minute, and he investigates the inscription.

"Hunkey," says he, "this is a statue of Tlo-paxl, one of the most powerful gods of the ancient Aztecs."

"Glad to know him," says I, "but in his present condition he reminds me of the joke Shakespeare got off on Julius Caesar. We might say about your friend:

"Imperious! What's-his-name, dead and turned to stone— No use to write or call him on the 'phone."

"Hunkey," says High Jack Snakefeeder, looking at me funny, "do you believe in reincarnation?"

"It sounds to me," says I, "like either a clean-up of the slaughter-houses or a new kind of Boston pink. I don't know."

"I believe," says he, "that I am the reincarnation of Tlo-paxl. My researches have convinced me that the Cherokees, of all the North American tribes, can boast of the straightest descent from the proud Aztec race. That," says he, "was a favorite theory of mine and Florence Blue Feather's. And she—what if she—"

"High Jack grabs my arm and walls his eyes at me. Just then he looked more like his eminent co-Indian murderer, Crazy Horse.

"Well," says I, "what if she, what if she, what if she? You're drunk," says I. "Impersonating idols and believing in—what was it?—reincarnation? Let's have a drink," says I. "It's as spooky here as a Brooklyn artificial-limb factory at midnight with the gas turned down."

"Just then I heard somebody coming, and I dragged High Jack into the bedless bedchamber. There was peep-holes bored through the wall, so we could see the whole front part of the temple. Major Bing told me afterward that the ancient priests in charge used to rubber through them at the congregation.

"In a few minutes an old Indian woman came in with a big oval earthen dish full of grub. She set it on a square block of stone in front of the graven image, and laid down and walloped her face on the floor a few times, and then took a walk for herself.

"High Jack and me was hungry, so we came out and looked it over. There was goat steaks and fried rice cakes, and plantains and cassava, and broiled land crabs and mangoes—nothing like what you get at Chubb's.

"We ate hearty—and had another round of rum.

"It must be old Tecumseh's—or whatever you call him—birthday," says I. "Or do they feed him every day? I thought gods only drank vanilla on Mount Catawampus."

"Then some more native parties in short kimonos that showed their aborigines punctured the near-horizon, and me and High had to skip back into Father Axletree's private poudoir. They came by ones, twos, and threes, and left all sorts of offerings—there was enough grub for Bingham's nine gods of war, with plenty left over for the Peace Conference at The Hague. They brought jars of honey, and bunches of bananas, and bottles of wine, and stacks of tortillas, and beautiful shawls worth $100 apiece that the Indian women weave of a kind of vegetable fiber like silk. All of 'em got down and wriggled on the floor in front of that hard-finish god, and then sneaked off through the woods again.

"I wonder who gets this rake-off?" remarks High Jack.

"Oh," says I, "there's priests or deputy idols or a committee of disarrangements somewhere in the woods on the job. Wherever you find a god you'll find somebody waiting to take charge of the burnt offerings."

"And then we took another swig of rum and walked out to the parlor front door to cool off, for it was as hot inside as a summer camp on the Palisades.

"And while we stood there in the breeze we looks down the path and sees a young lady approaching the blasted ruin. She was bare-footed and had on a white robe, and carried a wreath of white flowers in her hand. When she got nearer we saw she had a long blue feather stuck through her black hair. And when she got nearer still me and High Jack Snakefeeder grabbed each other to keep from tumbling down on the floor; for the girl's face was as much like Florence Blue Feather's as his was like old King Toxicology's.

"And then was when High Jack's booze drowned his system of ethnology. He dragged me inside back of the statue, and says:

"Lay hold of it, Hunkey. We'll pack it into the other room. I felt it all the time," says he. "I'm the reconsideration of the god Locomotor-ataxia, and Florence Blue Feather was my bride a thousand years ago. She had come to seek me in the temple where I used to reign."

"All right," says I. "There's no use arguing against the rum question. You take his feet."

"We lifted the three-hundred-pound stone god, and carried him into the back room of the cafe—the temple, I mean—and leaned him against the wall. It was more work than bouncing three live ones from an all-night Broadway joint on New Year's Eve.

"Then High Jack ran out and brought in a couple of them Indian silk shawls and began to undress himself.

"Oh, figs!" says I. "Is it thus? Strong drink is an adder and subtractor, too. Is it the heat or the call of the wild that's got you?"

"But High Jack is too full of exultation and cane-juice to reply. He stops the disrobing business just short of the Manhattan Beach rules, and then winds them red-and-white shawls around him, and goes out and stands on the pedestal as steady as any platinum deity you ever saw. And I looks through a peek-hole to see what he is up to.

"In a few minutes in comes the girl with the flower wreath. Danged if I wasn't knocked a little silly when she got close, she looked so exactly much like Florence Blue Feather. 'I wonder,' says I to myself, 'if she has been reincarnated, too? If I could see,' says I to myself, 'whether she has a mole on her left—' But the next minute I thought she looked one-eighth of a shade darker than Florence; but she looked good at that. And High Jack hand'd drunk all the rum that had been drank.

"The girl went up within ten feet of the bum idol, and got down and massaged her nose with the floor, like the rest did. Then she went nearer and laid the flower wreath on the block of stone at High Jack's feet. Rummy as I was, I thought it was kind of nice of her to think of offering flowers instead of household and kitchen provisions. Even a stone god ought to appreciate a little sentiment like that on top of the fancy groceries they had piled up in front of him.

"And then High Jack steps down from his pedestal, quiet, and mentions a few words that sounded just like the hieroglyphics carved on the walls of the ruin. The girl gives a little jump backward, and her eyes fly open as big as doughnuts; but she don't beat it.

"Why didn't she? I'll tell you why I think why. It don't seem to a girl so supernatural, unlikely, strange, and startling that a stone god should come to life for her. If he was to do it for one of them snub-nosed brown girls on the other side of the woods, now, it would be different—but her! I'll bet she said to herself: 'Well, goodness me! you've been a long time getting on your job. I've half a mind not to speak to you.'

"But she and High Jack holds hands and walks away out of the temple together. By the time I'd had time to take another drink and enter upon the scene they was twenty yards away, going tip the path in the woods that the girl had come down. With the natural scenery already in place, it was just like a play to watch 'em—she looking up at him, and him giving her back the best that an Indian can hand out in the way of a goo-goo eye. But there wasn't anything in that reincarnation and revulsion to tintype for me.

"Hey! Injun!" I yells out to High Jack. "We've got a board bill due in town, and you're leaving me without a cent. Brace up and cut out the Neapolitan fisher-maiden, and let's go back home."

"But on the two goes without looking once back until, as you might say, the forest swallowed 'em up. And I never saw or heard of High Jack Snakefeeder from that day to this. I don't know if the Cherokees came from the Aspics; but if they did, one of 'em went back.

"All I could do was to hustle back to that Boca place and panhandle Major Bing. He detached himself from enough of his winnings to buy me a ticket home. And I'm back again on the job at Chubb's, sir, and I'm going to hold it steady. Come round, and you'll find the steaks as good as ever."

"I wondered what Hunkey Magee thought about his own story; so I asked him if he had any theories about reincarnation and transmogrification and such mysteries as he had touched upon.

"Nothing like that," said Hunkey, positively. "What ailed High Jack was too much booze and education. They'll do an Indian up every time."

"But what about Miss Blue Feather?" I persisted.

"Say," said Hunkey, with a grin, "that little lady that stole High Jack certainly did give me a jar when I first took a look at her, but it was only for a minute. You remember I told you High Jack said that Miss Florence Blue Feather disappeared from home about a year ago? Well, where she landed four days later was in a neat five-room flat on East Twenty-third street as you ever walked sideways through—and she's been Mrs. Magee ever since."

WICHITA FALLS WILL BE CONNECTED WITH THE "CIRCLE ROUTE"

G. A. Yelton, field manager for the Circle Automobile Men's Association of America, was in Wichita Falls recently and made arrangements to connect this city with the "Circle Route."

The Circle Route, according to Mr. Yelton, is a system of highway marking being developed on a national scale by the Circle Automobile Men's Association of America, whose general offices are in Dallas, Texas.

The revenues of this association are derived from membership dues and these are used to purchase the best of the best dealers in automobile supplies and other specified lines of business and professions in each community.

Members are known as "Circle Dealers" and acquire a right to display the association's trade-marked "circle" signs in front of their places or to attach the "Circle" designs on their doors and windows.

The Circle Route system contemplates placing permanent markings on all public roads and highways in the United States. These markings are wooden posts and circles set upon patented "everlasting" concrete bases, the circle on each post being about seven feet from the base, and these are the name of the next town with the mileage thereon, together with the letters "Camaa."

Great care has been taken to safeguard the interests of the public, and the association through the co-operation of its dealer-members plans to eliminate any difficulties that have marred the pleasures of cross-country touring in the past.

That is where the local dealers come in, said Mr. Yelton. Local dealers become Camaa members in order that they may better serve the traveling public.

STEEL GANGS ARE NEARING THE CITY REBUILDING TRACK

Steel gangs laying heavier steel on the Katy are now within 15 miles of Wichita Falls and should reach here within the next 10 days, according to F. W. Grace, superintendent of the Wichita Falls division of the Katy.

The heavier steel, together with rebalancing and the strengthening of the bridges, will enable the Katy to handle much heavier trains than is the case at present, making it possible to handle a greatly increased amount of freight and run even fewer trains than is the case at present.

Travellers, however, will be urged to recognize the "Circle signs" when in need of supplies or work, as these signs are similar in appearance to those which have guided them in their travels from town to town, and such patrons will be protected by the association against overcharge and dishonest work.

That is where the local dealers come in, said Mr. Yelton. Local dealers become Camaa members in order that they may better serve the traveling public.

ELEVENTH ARREST IN CONNECTION WITH ALLEGED BURGLARIES

The 11th arrest made either upon information furnished by the sheriff's office or directly by the sheriff in smashing the two burglary rings which operated here, was perfected by Sheriff McFall and Sheriff John Self, the latter of Baylor county, late Sunday, Sheriff McFall announced Tuesday.

John Reagan, as a consequence, is in the county jail nursing a badly shot right foot. He was shot in the foot as he tried to escape from the officers, both of them firing and it is not known which shot took effect.

The arrest was made in Baylor county near the Knox county line. Reagan was brought here Monday and a physician is attending his injured foot.

But one man of the two gangs yet is at large, and the sheriff believes this fugitive will soon be arrested.

COMMISSIONERS ADJOURN TO MEET AGAIN MONDAY

After devoting the afternoon to the transaction of routine business the county commissioners adjourned Monday afternoon to meet again next Monday.

At that time the tax-rolls of the county will be approved by the commissioners and all business outstanding to from Monday will be disposed of.

OPERATORS EXPECT EARLY INCREASE IN THE PRICE OF OIL

An increase in the price of crude locally is looked on by some operators in the local field as an early possibility, following the advance of last week in Pennsylvania crude, and the forecast of the advance of Oklahoma crude.

A prominent operator, who is a contractor and producer and also connected with the refining industry stated today that in his belief it would be only a very short time before an advance was posted.

This man has foretold an advance for some time, even when some baneful rumors were in circulation of a cut in the posted price of crude because of the inability of the pipe lines to care for the heavy flush production in the Wagoner pool.

A shortage of crude for domestic refining purposes, as well as for export purposes, government figures showing oil stocks in storage to be much less than at this time last year, and an increased cost of drilling operations, are two reasons given for an advance. Local congestion of pipe lines and shipping facilities have worked to keep crude away from refineries in Oklahoma that are running on short capacity because of lack of crude, it is further stated. The demand is growing greater and it is naturally to be expected that when the demand exceeds the available supply prices will advance.

Pipe line companies locally have no new information on the price of oil. There has been no change in price since March 20, 1919, when the price of $2.25 a barrel was posted. Many contracts for 12 months time were made at that time, and later, for bonuses amounting sometimes to as much as 25 cents extra on each barrel.

AN ADJUSTMENT OF VALUES We are asked a good many times, "Why the high price of coffee?" There are, of course, many contributory reasons. Among them: The frost damage in Brazil last August. The fact that Europe has had practically no coffee for four years, and the surplus in the United States is practically nil. Prohibition is also a factor. But the REAL REASON is an adjustment of values among commodities. A few years ago Rio sevens sold for 5 1/2 cents per pound, so did cotton. Now cotton sells for above 30 cents and Rio sevens for twenty-two. What used to fluctuate between sixty-five cents and a dollar, and is now two-twenty. So it stands to reason the Brazilian can't take the old prices for his coffee and get by. Coffee is still the cheapest commodity of consumption—and the last to advance.
