Advice states that American food supplies are to be removed from Spalato. That city has been one of the centers from which relief work is being done in the Adriatic coast and American marines and bluejackets are said to have been forced to intervene between Italians and Jugoslavians at Spalato.

FEDERAL TROOPS IN CONTROL AT GARY

CALL MADE BY THE GOVERNOR AFTER PARADE AND MEETINGS ARE STAGED BY THE STRIKERS

GARY, IND., Oct. 7.—Steps to curb activities of the radical element in the Gary steel strike were taken by army officers today. Six cases were made by army intelligence officers seeking alleged anarchist and radical literature. One of the places raided was the home of Attorney Paul Glazier, counsel for the strikers.

Colonel W. S. Maps, who was left in charge of the regular troops here by Major General Leonard Wood, announced that a military court had been established here to handle cases arising following the announcement that will be tried by court-martial with the possibility of imprisonment in Fort Leavenworth, he stated.

GARY, IND., Oct. 7.—Gary, site of one of the United States Steel Corporation's greatest plants, affected for more than two weeks by the nationwide strike in the steel industry, today was under military control of approximately 1,000 regular troops, commanded by Major General Leonard Wood, commandant of the central department of the army. Five hundred more troops, from the riot duty at Omaha, Neb., were on their way here early today.

The call for federal troops was made by James P. Goodrich, governor of Indiana, after thousands of strikers paraded and held mass meetings after being forbidden by the mayor, the police and approximately 300 state militiamen stationed at Gary.

Little violence. The course of the strike here has been marked by little violence. With the reports during the past week that strikers in increasing numbers were resuming their old places in the steel mills, the attitude of pickets, who numbers also increased, became threatening and for a time it seemed as if a serious clash would be unavoidable.

With the parade yesterday, however, according to a statement by Governor Goodrich, the situation became so threatening that it was deemed advisable to ask for federal troops. The governor acted on the advice of Mayor Hodges of Gary and Harry B. Smith, state adjutant general, who issued an alarm at the attitude of the 10,000 strikers in Gary and said they feared that the small number of state troops would not be sufficient to cope with the situation.

Upon the arrival of the federal soldiers and the issuance of a proclamation by General Wood proclaiming military control, the state militiamen were ordered to withdraw from East Chicago, Ind., where Governor Goodrich declared martial law.

The approximately 1,000 men under General Wood are regarded as sufficient to enforce his directions that no public meetings or assemblages be held and forbidding parades and demonstrations against the military. Carrying of weapons of any description by persons other than the police, military authorities, troops and members of the city government also was forbidden.

Proclamation issued. Following the action of several scores of men wanting the military of the United States in leading the parade against orders of the mayor and police yesterday, General Wood's proclamation ordered the strikers in the uniforms of the United States armed forces on duty within the city limits, will be examined, and those who are the service of the United States will be given the same organization on duty in the city limits and continued on duty during the present disturbance.

It was made known that martial law had not been declared. The federal troops, it was stated by a member of General Wood's staff, will be used to preserve order in the city in lieu of law instead of by courts martial, he said.

The military rule will be patterned after that put into effect at Omaha, the officer states, or like that in the occupied portions of Germany, where many of the federal soldiers here recently saw service. The military will be directed mainly through the regularly constituted authorities.

No indication of disorder. Immediately upon their arrival here the soldiers began patrolling and early today Gary showed no indications of disorder.

The troops wore steel helmets but did not walk their posts with fixed bayonets.

Ample reserve forces were on hand, it was stated, to check any outbreak no matter how extensive. Four one-pounder guns and a machine gun detachment were among the forces. The usual infantry equipment and reserve supplies made up the strength of the command, it was said.

Picketing by strikers at the various plants will not be stopped, Captain Charles Molte, officer of the day, stated early today. It was not intended to interfere with the general course of the strike except insofar as disorder or destruction of property were concerned.

The federal troops here are from the Fourth and Sixth overseas divisions.

SEVERAL PLANTS AT PITTSBURGH OPERATING

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7.—A number of steel plants in the Pittsburgh district which were forced to shut down two weeks ago, when the strike of steel workers was initiated, are operating again today, according to reports from company sources. Some of the mills are operating full time, the companies say, while others which had been "down" started working in part. The companies claim that their efforts to re-open the plants yesterday met with success and that many men returned to work.

Union leaders urged the efforts of the employers to start operations a "failure" and they declare that the mills reported to have resumed work Monday have very few men on the job. Latest figures from union headquarters, as of October 6, indicate that 27,500 steel workers are on strike in the United States. This is an increase of 25,500 compared with the figure issued shortly after the strike started.

PREMIER JUGOSLAVIA HAS BEEN SELECTED

By RAYMOND CLAPPER (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A law creating a federal "clearing house" for labor disputes probably will be recommended by the Senate labor committee investigating the steel strike, according to members of the committee today.

This is strongly favored by Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, and other members of the committee, including Chairman Konyon.

Undoubtedly some form of legislation to prevent a repetition of the steel strike will result, Walsh said, ought to be devised to act as a clearing house for industrial disputes.

Legislation should go no further than that at present, Senator Walsh said, in the question of compulsory arbitration.

Labor's Only Weapon. "You can never pass a law for compulsory arbitration," he continued, "that would take the right to strike from labor. This is labor's only weapon and it would not be given up without a fight. Compulsory conciliation, in which the strike would be delayed after a conference would only result probably in postponing a strike for a few months, during which time the employer could stock up goods with which to supply his trade during a prolonged strike. Then the employer could simply lean back and change labor at his leisure, the employer being unable to save up against a longer period of idleness."

Government operation of such factories in this case would be the only solution, Walsh said.

Flat refusals to negotiate would result, if a government "clearing house" could be established to get the facts, he believed.

The committee is hopeful of getting to Pittsburgh this week but the date is not settled, pending an agreement regarding treaty votes.

ORDER IS RESTORED UNDER MARTIAL LAW

GARY, IND., Oct. 7.—Order was restored under the reign of martial law in the Gary-steel district today.

Riotous elements which terrorized Gary, East Chicago and Indiana Harbor since Saturday evening, evidently lost all inclination for fighting when 4,000 regular troops, world war veterans under command of Major General Leonard Wood, assumed control of the situation.

The first regular troops arrived early last night from Fort Sheridan, Gov. James P. Goodrich sent for the regulars when 300 state militia had been unable to stop outbreaks. The militia was openly defied by a parade of striking steel workers and sympathizers. Scores of discharged soldiers, wearing United States army uniforms, participated in the parade.

The state militia was hooded. One of the first orders issued by General Wood on assuming control of the city was that no man should wear an army uniform unless actively engaged in army service.

Wood backed up his orders with the statement that "if we decide to take a man prisoner we will do it, alive or dead, no matter who or where he is."

Automobile trucks, carrying mounted machine guns, moved slowly through the Gary streets today. Soldier guards were stationed every few yards throughout the residence, industrial and the business sections.

The Fort Sheridan troops brought 16 machine guns, 50 automatic rifles, trench mortars and one pounders, which were mounted on specially designed trucks.

Heavy Arms. Troops arriving from Omaha early today brought additional heavy arms. The speed with which the men from Fort Sheridan got under way after receiving orders, showed they were prepared for the emergency. Within 20 minutes after the call had reached the fort, 1,000 men fully armed, were loaded into trucks and en route down the lake shore.

General Wood declared martial law immediately after arrival of the regular soldiers.

The state militia was withdrawn to Indianapolis, East Chicago, where Adjutant General Harry B. Smith of Indiana issued a proclamation declaring that district under military rule.

General Wood announced that the military authorities would conduct the affairs of the city through the city government in so far as possible. He issued orders against public meetings, parades and non-soldiers wearing army uniforms.

NO AGREEMENT AS TO SHANTUNG VOTE IN U. S. SENATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Until Senate leaders formally agree upon a definite program regarding a vote on the Shantung amendments, debate upon the peace treaty will proceed along almost any line.

Half an hour's reading will bring the Senate to that part of the pact relating to award of Shantung to Japan and whether the Foreign Relations Committee would give back to China.

As the next fight will be on this provision, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, in charge of the Democratic forces, indicated today he would insist upon early action.

PRESIDENT IS IMPATIENT TO GET TO WORK

Continues to Evince a Lively Interest in What is Going on Over Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—"The President's improvement has continued," said a statement issued at 11:30 a. m. today by President Wilson's physician. "His appetite is decidedly better and he is sleeping well," the announcement said.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson was better today following a good night's rest, it was stated at the White House.

He is still restless, it was said, and desirous of beginning work.

Nothing is to be brought to his attention, however, because it is feared it will not be possible to keep him from attending to others.

The President himself does not wish to leave Washington, it was learned, feeling that there is no necessity for it and his doctors and family believe he can be kept as effectively at the White House as elsewhere.

Among the messages received at the White House was the following from President Ador of the Swiss Confederation:

"The Swiss Federal Council, truly grieved to hear of your illness, begs you to accept its wishes of speedy and full recovery."

Another message came from President Eartiguevane of Hayti. It said:

"With most sincere wishes for speedy recovery, send to his excellency, the President of the United States, the sentiments of genuine sympathy in which the government and people of Hayti heartily join."

PRESIDENT CONTINUES TO IMPROVE SLOWLY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson continued to improve slowly, it was indicated at the White House this morning. Apparently he had a satisfactory night. It was said, although official announcement of the effect was lacking.

Cooler weather, it was believed, will bring a favorable reaction.

Last night's official statement from Dr. Gary T. Grayson said:

"The President had a fairly comfortable day with a slight improvement."

The President continued to evince a lively interest in what is going on outside the White House but there were no indications his physicians propose to change in any way their prescription of rest and quiet.

Stronger hope was expressed that the President is permanently on the upward with the improvement recorded for two days. Still he is not yet at the stage where all danger may be said to have passed.

Physicians regarded as a favorable sign the fact he is impatient to return to work and at times has been quite insistent.

MUCH CONCERN OVER PRESIDENT'S CONDITION

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The British press shows great concern over President Wilson's condition.

The Chronicle says: "It is not too much to say that no sick bed in our time, perhaps in any other time, has commanded such universal concern and sympathy. Not only America but all of mankind is involved in Wilson's welfare."

"Great Britain," the Daily Mail says, "awaits the news of President Wilson's condition no less anxiously than the people of America; strain on the nervous system is the penalty of the conscientious fulfillment of any great task."

WANT THE CITY TO CONTINUE HANDLING TRASH PROPOSITION

DECISION IS REACHED AT MEETING OF COMMITTEE HELD THIS MORNING.

SOME POINTED EXPRESSIONS

Permanent Solution of Problem is Expected in the Revision of the City Charter.

"It is a certain fact that the city sanitary department is not being competently handled, don't know who is to blame, but the fact remains," said Mr. T. B. Smock, president of the city council...

That the city would be shirking a responsibility at this time to "get out from under" in discontinuing the removal of the trash and garbage was the view expressed by E. P. Johnson...

Lack of service on the part of the city sanitary department in removing the garbage was assigned as the reason for several of the business men objecting to the assessments made against them for such service...

Mr. Thomas was borne out in this by W. W. Anderson, one of the local merchants, who was a member of the Chamber of Commerce representatives...

The decision to ask the council to resume the handling of the trash and garbage came after considerable discussion of the relative merits of handling this work through the city sanitary department or through the city...

The continuance of this work by the city is advanced as a temporary way of meeting the situation due to the emergency existing by reason of the sanitary condition of the city, characterized by Mr. Johnson as "choleraic"...

All pipe lines, oil companies and others operating on block 88 or having business with E. E. Elmer, owner of the royalty thereon, are requested to see me as his attorney in fact, John P. Marrs, Eldora Hotel, 124-tfc

RICKS-ENLOE WEDDING SOLEMNIZED ON SUNDAY

Sunday morning at 10:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ricks, 704 Burnett, the marriage of their daughter, Kate, to Charles Enloe was solemnized. The affair was very quiet only the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom being present, and came somewhat as a surprise to the many friends of the young people. Mr. and Mrs. Enloe will continue to make their home in Wichita Falls, residing at 708 Burnett. The bride has lived in Wichita Falls with her parents for a number of years and is very popular among her circle of friends. The bridegroom is associated with his father in the Enloe Contracting Company, and enjoys the esteem of all, and congratulations of their numerous friends are with Mr. and Mrs. Enloe.

J. O. MATHEWS DIES MONDAY AFTERNOON

J. O. Mathews, a stenographer-clerk for the Gulf Production Company in the office of Assistant Superintendent Eckerty, died Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Beall's hospital in Fort Worth, where he was taken Sunday. Mr. Mathews had suffered for a short time from leakage of the heart, and his condition became suddenly alarming the latter part of last week, and he went to Fort Worth for treatment. The body will be taken to St. Louis by his sister, who was on her way to Texas when his death occurred. Mr. Mathews was 22 years of age, and had been employed by the Gulf company in its local offices since the first of July. He returned from France with the 30th Division, but served for a year with the Thirty-fifth division, going from St. Louis, Mo. His home was originally in Alton, Ill. During the few months that he had lived in Wichita Falls he had made many friends, both among his associates in the Gulf offices, and on the outside, and his sudden death comes as a shock.

NO MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS ON TUESDAY

No meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce was held Tuesday morning due to the absence from the city of Herbert Harrison, secretary, who is at Dallas in charge of the Wichita Falls exhibit at the Texas State Fair, and the fact that only routine matters were on the docket for consideration.

PANTAGES VAUDEVILLE PLEASES TWO CAPACITY HOUSES LAST NIGHT

That Wichita Falls is "vaudeville hungry" was evidenced last night at the opening of the vaudeville season at the Wichita theatre, which now is on the Pantages circuit. Two audiences, which caused the S. R. O. sign to be hung out by Manager Kirkpatrick, crowded into the playhouse and they encored every act but one, and had many laughs at it. Excellent music monologue and dialogue, catchy songs, some very good acting and entertaining stunts and feats, with jokes original enough to bring waves of applause from every row of seats, furnished entertainment that satisfied the hunger for amusement and entertainment referred to. The promised seven-piece orchestra is there, two ways, present and slant, for it made good music. The pretty girl ushers with their black and starchy white uniforms, the service that was advertised and the women's rest room which has been told of—all of them were there. In fact, the efforts of Messrs. Crotty, Kirkpatrick and their associates to make the appointments of the place commensurate with the attractions offered have been successful, and the crowds seemed to appreciate this fact.

As for the show, this critic knows not whether it was his and the audience's hunger or desire for just such an attraction or whether it was the excellence of the program, but it took wonderfully well. No better illustration of this could be offered than the fact that it overlapped the time limit half an hour solely because of encores. From "The talented and tattered" gentlemen, right through to "Some By By" with its baby vampires, the bill is excellent. A picture, Dorothy Phillips in "A Soul for Sale," which taught a worthwhile lesson in morality, preceded the vaudeville.

Will Morris, the tattered but talented one referred to, possibly knows more about bicycles than the men who make them, and last night, and all this week, for that matter, he is showing something of his knowledge in a most amazing way. He has become tangled and untangled more ways in an ordinary-looking bike than one would think there are ways. He was encored for his especially good feat of a leap onto a wheel while it is standing on one end.

The staff of the Wichita Theatre Co. consists of Chas. Kirkpatrick, manager; Ernest T. Pool, property manager; Larry P. Cassell, scenic artist; H. R. Fickle, electrical director, and Herman Voss, stage carpenter. L. V. Lawler is director of the excellent orchestra.

Until the world's series ends two performances will be given each night. After the series ends at the scoreboard is silent, a daily matinee will be given.

WHO CAN BEAT IT.

For the first time in his life B. J. Bean, who has been a merchant in Wichita Falls since 1859, has written an advertisement in which he uses the personal pronoun I.

It tells how his father and himself opened a grocery store on Ohio avenue in 1859. They didn't like the brands of coffee they were able to buy nor the idea of selling or drinking "stale coffee."

It is a fine thing to see a man work indefatigably at a thing for thirty years. It is a fine thing to see him constantly making a better product and to make a better product his constant ambition, and it is a fine thing to see financial success crown a man's efforts for superior service.

THIRD NATION PUTS TREATY INTO EFFECT

Only Requires Final Formalities On Part of Great Britain and France.

By J. W. T. MASON (Written for The United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Ratification of the peace treaty by the King of Italy will formally put the treaty into effect without participation of the United States, as soon as final formalities have been taken by Great Britain and France, the two other ratifying powers.

The King of England has yet to affix his signature to the treaty, which has already been passed by parliament and the French Senate has still to follow the lead of the Chamber of Deputies in accepting the pact.

By postponing these official acts, Great Britain and France can hold up complete ratification until the United States has signified its final intentions toward the treaty.

Three Approvals Obtained. With Great Britain, France and Italy having accepted the treaty, the three approvals stipulated by the peace conference before the treaty can become operative will have been obtained.

It is probable therefore, that the first meeting of the League will not be in Washington, but in some European capital, possibly Paris.

SOX LOSE HEART AND SERIES IS OVER SAYS JOHNNY EVERS

By JOHNNY EVERS
(Written for The United Press.)
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The Sox have lost heart and the world series is over. The Reds are proving they are a really great club. They are playing with a confidence that is unbeatable. When a team plays that way it makes its own "break," but it's not the breaks that are winning for the Reds. They are simply out-gaming, out-battling, out-hitting and out-maneuvering the Sox. They are winning from every angle of the game.

Again yesterday pitching was a deciding factor. Eller's exhibition was really a wonderful one. The Sox could not hit him. They showed their nervousness by continually examining the ball. To an experienced baseball man that showed weakness.

The break in the game came when Eller got his double. He has been hitting all season. He is a dangerous—hard hitter and the hit was no fluke. It started the Red scoring machinery and the game was over.

Once more Moran has shown his complete mastery of the situation by his selection of his pitcher. Much as I dislike saying so, he has shown superiority over Gleason in that respect. But the kid is to be commended for one thing—for sticking right at his coaching position even with the Sox going against him. A real game thoroughbred. Hats off to him.

Probable batteries for today: Ruetter and Rariden for the Reds; Kerr and Schalk for the Sox.

GLEASON SAYS SOX PLAY BALL LIKE A HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

By ROSS TENNEY
(Written for The United Press.)
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Though they are hopeless and heartless after their quadruple trimming, the White Sox have a hero. He is George Weaver, who plays and fights at the third base. Day after day through-out the trying series, Weaver has gone his work and smiled. In spite of the certain fate that closed inexorably about the shapes of the Sox, Weaver smiled and scraped.

One by one his mates gave up in a manner that was apparent to those who followed the game. Weaver continued to grin and fought the harder. Clotte and Williams fell and the Sox were two games to the bad. Weaver's smile never faded and his spirit never waned.

Clotte tried again and failed. Buck was in there chattering, encouraging and playing ball.

Williams made his second game attempt, but the Red juggernaut rolled on. In the terrible sixth inning when Moran's men slugged and pounded the Sox into submission again, Weaver pulled his cap lower over his eyes and grinned and never quit. Two of the three Sox hits were lined out by his bat.

The Reds have beaten the spirit and fight out of the Sox—all but Weaver. Buck's spirit is untouched. His flag is still up. And when the Sox go down in the final game—as the baseball gods apparently have willed they must—Buck will go with them, but his smile won't fade. And he'll die fighting just as he has fought throughout every heart-breaking game.

Buck is Chicago's one big hero; long may he fight and smile.

WEAVER IS HERO OF THE WHITE SOX SAYS ROSS TENNEY

By ROSS TENNEY
(Written for The United Press.)
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 7.—Cincinnati today greeted her returning victorious baseball team, while everything was in readiness for resumption of the world's series of 1919 between the White Sox and Reds at Redland Field this afternoon.

The victory of Manager Moran's outfit at Chicago have only added to the enthusiasm that was displayed here during last week and today's attendance promises to be greater than ever, if such a thing is possible.

The weather man was exceptionally kind during the two games played here last Wednesday and Thursday and indications were for fair weather, although the torrid baseball weather of last week can hardly be hoped for.

The announcement that comes from Chicago that Moran will work Ruetter today leads all of the fans here to believe that an additional game on Wednesday will not be necessary but in opposition to this view it is called to mind that Manager Gleason of the visitors will in all probability use Kerr, the pitcher that scored the only victory over the Reds that has thus far been tallied and who held them practically hitless, allowing them only three runs.

With Kerr as pitcher, pitching the game should develop into a pitcher's ball that might even exceed the work of the pitchers in the previous games, all of which has been good with the exception of the initial contest when the Reds managed to connect freely with the curves of Eddie Cicotte.

The game of yesterday was the last in which the players shared in the proceeds and should the Reds win today, the series will come to an end, thus ending in short order the chance of the clubs to make big money. However, if the Sox win, the two teams will do battle here tomorrow and should the Sox again win, they will go back to Chicago on Thursday for the eighth game.

TEXAS TO BATTLE WITH A NEW FOE
AUSTIN, TEXAS, Oct. 7.—When Phillips University of Minn. appears on Clark field here October 11, Texas University varsity will measure strength with a new foe in football opponents.

The Phillips University squad became prominent in football limelight two years ago when they succeeded in scoring against the strong Hendricks college team after that aggregation had swept the West without allowing the ball to cross their goal line. The date scheduled for their appearance was left open by the athletic council while an endeavor was made to select a strong out-of-state team.

The schedule of Texas University football games, already published, is now completed. A change was made in the date of the game with Haskell Indians here upon the recommendation of President Vinson and they will meet Friday, November 14, instead of the following day. The change was made on account of local conditions.

The manufacturing census, however, is separate. The late one was made for 1914. It showed factories under normal conditions for seven months, after which the world's production was in progress, and a temporary industrial depression occurred. The coming census, which will cover the year 1919, will show factories in the transition from a war to a peace time basis.

AIRPLANE MOST INVINCIBLE ELEMENT

Rear Admiral W. F. Fullam, United States Navy, says: "It is probable that a complete revolution in naval architecture will be forced upon us by the near future and that the present types of dreadnoughts and battle cruisers will be driven from the seas. There are five different methods of attack that involve the possible destruction of the immense and costly ships that are now regarded as the measure of sea power. 1. The plunging fire of modern guns at extreme ranges of 16,000 yards and above. 2. Attack by bombing from aircraft. 3. Submarine mines. 4. Torpedoes fired from destroyers. 5. Torpedoes fired from torpedo-boats. The decks and upper works of modern ships are completely vulnerable to the plunging fire of big guns as well as to bombing airplanes. Aircraft will not only constitute dangerous offensive weapons in themselves, but they will contribute greatly to the accurate and effective use of a ship's guns in battle. They will be of double value, and from present indications airplanes will soon become one of the most invincible elements in sea power."

GOVERNMENT FURNISHES NATURAL GAS STATISTICS

More than 2,100 cities and towns in the United States are supplied with natural gas, which is furnished to domestic consumers at rates that should arouse the envy of those consumers of artificial gas who have to pay about a dollar a thousand cubic feet. The average price per thousand cubic feet charged to domestic consumers of natural gas in the United States in 1917 was about 30 cents. The average price charged to manufacturers was less than 12 cents.

County Auditor W. W. Murphy has received a lengthy opinion from Attorney General Cureton's office on the fee law, which clears up the confusion which has existed here over the construction of the law. Murphy wrote the attorney general's department September 27 for an opinion constraining the law and the manner in which it pertains to this county, which presented an exceptional case because of its rapid growth and the fact that the old law limited salaries of assistants and deputies to $100 and $75 a month, respectively, and officials here could not keep help at such small salaries.

DID NOT WAGER ON GAME BUT IS LOSER $22.50 AND COMPLAINS TO OFFICERS

At least one man in Wichita Falls is poorer and wiser as a result of the world's series, which wasn't by a long shot, but he lost $22.50 on his hard earned shooks. Now, he taboos women he knows nothing about. Tuesday the victim in the case, a well known citizen, appealed to his county attorney's office to help him get back his $22.50 or a diamond ring a pretty young manure got from him Monday. REPORT ON OIL AREA IN OSAGE RESERVATION

Oklahoma still contains large resources of oil to supply in part the increasing demand for various fuels and products of that indispensable commodity. Coal may be king, but petroleum is a prince of mighty power, even in its power of threat to the gradual and irrevocable loss and eventual extinction as the result of our tremendous demand on it. Battleships, merchant vessels, factories and railroads are run by oil, and every man who owns a motor car wants gasoline, one of his most valuable products.

ACTING before the camera is far different from acting on the stage. Nowhere in life is the proverb "necessity is the mother of invention," apply more aptly than in the motion picture game. There is no better industry to develop gray matter with logical thinking in the production of films. Everyone connected with the work is expected to prove equal to the emergency and think his way out of the difficulty without asking a lot of foolish questions. He or she is expected to have vast experience and knowledge; to be able to engineer the construction of a bridge, crack a safe, blow up a house or run a farm. He must be an all-around athlete, high diver, aviator, good on long hikes. This is in addition to being able to act. Acting before the clicking camera is different from acting upon the spoken word. In the former instance there is no means of telling where your acting is getting over. The scenes are consistent. A man may be killed in one of the first scenes, shot without any apparent reason. Later he enacts scenes that lead up to the killing. He is expected to play these scenes so that when the reel is made up it will appear as though scenes were taken in sequence.

Actors Must Reach High Standard.

The acting, photography, sets and direction are finally criticized by a staff of expert critics before a picture is released. Everything about the picture must measure up to the high standard set by the officials before the picture is released for exhibition. The extra man must handle the role assigned to him with as much skill and care as though he were playing the stellar part. He must support the star and enhance her acting.

Harry Lehrman, for many years one of the foremost creative artists in the field of motion-picture comedy, gives in an interview, an interesting exposition of the changing tendencies of film humor, and the difficulties which confront those whose task it is to make two laughs flourish where only a smile grew before. Lehrman's unconventional originality as supervising director of Sunshine comedies has within the past two years undoubtedly been a considerable factor in the progress which has been made.

"To the superficial observer," says Lehrman, "the creation of film comedy appears to be the easiest branch of the production endeavor. The novice in scenario writing almost invariably begins by dashing off a succession of comedies, leaving the more serious themes for treatment after he shall have acquired a certain facility of expression in the language of the screen, and a more accurate knowledge of the so-called mechanics of the art. The comedy director is often looked upon as having failed to reach the pinnacle of artistic accomplishment occupied by his brethren of the drama, and the idea persists that anyone can make comedies.

Production of Comedies Serious Problem.

"Nothing could be farther from the actual facts. The production of comedies is the most serious in the film world. It involves the exercise of the utmost in resourcefulness and ingenuity. It is probably true that more thought, more labor and more painstaking care are lavished on a successful two-reel comedy than on the average dramatic feature of more than twice its length. Indeed, the comparison applies as well to the time consumed in production, each two-reel length picture requiring several weeks to film.

"To these facts can be attributed much of the progress made in film comedy during the past two years—an advance which has far exceeded that in the dramatic field within the same period—and has wrought a complete change in the standards of humorous productions. While producers of film drama have given scant evidence of progressive thought, pictured comedy has shown a constantly changing improvement of method and execution. The forcible contact of the common chicken egg with the human visage is now in distinctly bad odor, whatever the age of the egg. The custard pie as a weapon of defense is more than apt to prove offensive. No longer can the kick in comedies be registered entirely with the feet. New lines of "business" or action must constantly be devised, new "gags" introduced, new situations contrived—always it must be either funny or breathlessly thrilling. In these days of the sophisticated audience it is not sufficient to do the unexpected. The bias film fan is constantly expecting the unexpected, and it becomes necessary to cap the unexpected action with some further bit of humorous play to induce a laugh.

Comedy Must Cause Genuine Laughter.

A film company is not simply making a picture with some laughs in it. A successful comedy must be an unbroken succession of laughs, resulting either from purely humorous action or from the part of the formers from the prompting of humorous thought on the part of the audience; or from the depiction of thrilling situations or actions which culminate so disastrously or so miraculously that the spectator must laugh from the very force of pent-up emotion. There must be a continuously ascending degree of the ludicrous and never a lag in the tempo of the action, once the pace is established. It is difficult enough to write a laugh from an audience, but to pile laugh on laugh, and to keep it up for forty minutes requires not only a thorough understanding of the possibilities of picture action and the ingenious application of such knowledge, but the unlimited patience and hard work. I once spent more than three weeks in securing a few short close-ups of a pair of flies in the bowl of a spoon, and considered myself fortunate in finally obtaining just the action that I desired.

Must Amuse and Entertain.

All the wild animals, be they flies or lions, are more temperamental than the most intractable star, and this fact only adds to the woes of the man whose business it is to be funny. The constant demand for the thrills has made the production of comedies the most dangerous branch of film work, and has necessitated the tedious repetition of the hazardous "stunts." In an effort to secure a few seconds of satisfactory action on the screen.

"Since the province of the motion picture is to amuse and entertain, the comedy must be accorded a high position in the film world. Many a theater owner has seen a good comedy bolster up a weak feature and literally 'save the show.' The producers are starting new productions with the conviction that the future possibilities are unlimited, and that the coming years will see every motion picture judged not by its length, but by the quality of the entertainment which it offers."

The uncensored Superman may sneer at melodrama, but the great spirits of comedy see beyond its banality to the measured melodramatics of the Greek tragic poets and their European and Anglo-Saxon-American descendants. The fact is there is no art that can be cheapened; poetry in the hands of jinglers becomes an advertising medium, and painting in the hands of a mercenary artist suffers the same fate. To most Americans today—the word melodrama has a connotation of tawdriness; it brings to mind the old trap doors, foolish heroics and more foolish villainies. They forget that the dawn of civilization, of history, at least, and the great empires and the ideals since have been most adequately celebrated by melodramatists—by Sophocles, Euripides, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, Goethe and others.

Melodrama in the movies has suffered the same fate. dealt to it on the stage. The screen medium is essentially a medium of melodrama; it allows huge picturizations, rolling seas, ships in agony, towns in flames, armies in combat. Never was the line, "All the world's a stage," so true as after the perfection of the motion picture machine. That discovery made "properties" out of the earth's foundations and the high clouds. Not satisfied with this, the promoters of the screen melodrama attempted to intensify both with added color and heat. They didn't succeed—except in making themselves and their picture ridiculous.

Geraldine Farrar in Spanish Melodrama.

Since an illustration is the clearest exposition of an argument, I will discuss one of Geraldine Farrar's pictures, in which the famous diva played the part of a tempestuous Spanish girl involved in vendetta against her lover. The whole structure of the piece is melodramatic; and the characters endowed with the usual melodramatic characteristics of the Latin. Yet both story and picture rang true, I think. Why? Because the actors in the tale remembered that in melodramatic situations people exhibit the very soul of their human roots. Instead of becoming disoriented from the fecting their inventions and patenting the product of their dreams. They long ago wiped out all danger of the child's mind becoming contaminated with things it should not know.

PROMINENT BANKERS OF DETROIT ON VISIT TO LOCAL OIL FIELD

EXPRESS THEMSELVES AS BEING AGREEABLY SURPRISED AT DEVELOPMENTS.

GUESTS OF NOBLE COMPANY

Visit Burk Burnett Monday and Are Guests at Dinner Yesterday Evening.

Experienced oil men and investment brokers who have been through many different sorts of booms and developments and who have grown wise, found the Wichita Falls oil fields worth the extravagant enthusiasm that they have provoked all over the country, according to A. B. Walton of Detroit, a member of the party of bankers and brokers of the north who arrived Monday afternoon in a private car to visit the northwest field, and the properties of the Charles F. Noble Oil and Gas Company in particular. The entire party, Mr. Walton said, was amazed at the remarkable developments that have taken place under such difficulties as are presented in the local field. Justification of the expenditure of the enormous sums that have been put in Burk Burnett is seen in the results, members of the party said, and F. Irving Kiser, of Milwaukee, voiced what seemed to be the general sentiment when he said, "I shall return to Wichita Falls, and will bring more money with me. I believe in the future of Wichita county, and the future big possibilities of the oil fields."

Leonard Darbyshire, one of the pioneer oil investment bankers of Philadelphia and one of the best posted men on oil conditions in that section, was loud in his praise of the field in general, and of the Charles F. Noble company in particular. "We can now well appreciate the vision of Mr. Noble," he said this morning, "in contracting for hundreds of tank cars, and for the great 55,000 barrel tanks by the dozens. This same foresight as evidenced in the enormous amount of supplies which the company has to care for future operations was also commended, and the entire party expressed the highest praise for the Noble property, and the achievements of the company which they consider as representative of the exploitation and development of the resources of the oil field."

The party went again to Burk Burnett today to see the big gasoline plant of the Charles F. Noble company, and will leave tonight for Tulsa, Okla. to inspect the properties of the Gladys Belle Oil Co. Monday afternoon was spent in the northwest field, and on the return Monday evening to Wichita Falls, the party were guests of the company officials at dinner.

The personnel of the party follows: Thos. A. Owen, Fred A. Platt, Douglas Povah, A. B. Walton, H. T. Woods, Hurl Jones, A. J. Nebe, H. Polley, Julius G. Hoffman Jr., Julius Neu-

MEXICAN IS ARRESTED ON SHOP-LIFTING CHARGE

In an arrest of a Mexican at Hendrick Monday the police believe they have the second of the two Mexicans who carried on extensive shop-lifting operations here some time ago, stealing several women's fine dresses at the Mack Taylor store, the cheapest of which was valued at $65. Officer Morgan worked the case and learned of his whereabouts and arrested one Mexican, but the other, hearing that the officers were after him, sought safety in flight.

EVANGELISTIC FORCES OBTAIN LARGE RESULTS

While the influenza epidemic, which forced many churches to close their doors for a number of weeks during last fall and winter, greatly interfered with the work of the department of evangelism of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist Convention, large results were obtained last year. The number of professions of faith was 1,703, total addition to the churches 12,199, volunteers to the ministry or mission work 1,727, personal workers' conferences held 447, addresses and conferences on home missions 179, and shop and factory meetings 512.

TELEPHONE SERVICE AS GOOD AS THE AVERAGE

NEGRO WOMEN TOUCH TWO MEN FOR $234

Two negro women charged with "high jacking" two white men and setting $234 were arrested Monday night by Deputy Constables Belcher and Spiller. The men told the officers that the women accosted them and when they stopped one of the women "touched" a white man for his roll. Both men were oil field workers.

FIVE ARE ARRESTED IN RAID LAST NIGHT BY COUNTY OFFICERS

In a vice raid headed by Assistant County Attorney John Martin and in which Deputy Sheriffs Allen and McDonald took part, four women and one man were arrested last midnight at a local hotel.

Complaints had reached the county attorney's office that the house was being operated contrary to the law, and that women rooming there were practicing vice. Martin planned the raid and Allen and McDonald lent able assistance in carrying it out. Three of the women paid fines, one was locked in jail for the night, and the man was fined, or deposited a cash bond which he said he would forfeit in lieu of a fine. The woman sent to jail said she had no money.

I

For the first time in thirty years, I'm going to use I in an advertisement—and this one is literally sprinkled with them. On the 28th of September, 1889 My father and I opened a grocery store on Ohio avenue under the name of O. W. BEAN & SON. Of course, we handled coffee and I didn't like the blends we were able to buy—nor the idea of selling and drinking STALE COFFEE. So I bought a small roaster using gasoline for fuel and operated by an Armstrong motor and I was IT. Our coffee business increased enormously and I soon bought a power roaster and continued to roast coffee until I quit the grocery business. In fact, the coffee business crowded the grocery business out and in the spring of 1915 I moved to 824 Indiana avenue and established the BERT BEAN COFFEE HOUSE, wholesale and retail, and now my fast increasing business demands larger and better facilities and so I have built a thoroughly modern plant back at the old "stamping grounds" at the corner of Ohio and Sixth and after moving will supply the trade through the grocer, but will continue to furnish them coffees FRESH FROM THE ROASTER each day.
