PAYROLL DELIVERED AND THEN STOLEN BY MEXICAN SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Reports reached the State Department today that an oil camp at Tanguila, Mexico, had been robbed recently by 250 soldiers in Carranza uniforms. The men were said to have been led by the colonel of a regiment of Mexican federal soldiers.

Under the original agreement with the Carranza Government, the payroll was to be delivered by the oil companies to the federal authorities at Tampico, but today's reports said the Mexican General commanding the Tampico district had officially announced to the companies that he was unable to deliver the payrolls in the district south of Naranjos.

Sheppard, of the Order of Railway Conductors, will meet Wednesday with Rail Director Hines to receive his answer to demands of their organization for immediate wage increases. It was announced here today.

Lee and Sheppard represent two of the four great railroad brotherhoods whose members have been threatening to strike since early this summer when their demands were presented. This strike, if voted by the railroad union rank and file, would begin early in November, soon after the scheduled nation-wide walk-out of miners.

COMMISSION IS EXPECTED TO HOLD HEARING IN WICHITA FALLS

While no definite announcement has as yet been forthcoming either from the commission or from local people who are believed to be in touch with them, it is regarded as highly probable, in fact almost a certainty, that the Texas railroad commission will hold an early hearing in Wichita Falls upon which time all the complaints against various pipe line companies advanced by oil operators will be thoroughly threshed out.

Post Office employees' bill is enacted. The act of the joint resolution providing increased pay for postal employees was completed today with the adoption of the conference report by the Senate. The measure now goes to the President.

DECLARES STRIKE UNJUSTIFIABLE AND UNLAWFUL AND THAT WAY WILL BE FOUND IN EMERGENCY

WASHINGTON, October 25.—President Wilson issued a formal statement tonight with the approval of the full membership of his cabinet, declaring the projected strike of bituminous coal miners under present circumstances "not only unjustifiable, it is unlawful."

The statement called upon officers of local unions to recall orders for the strike, and added: "I can do nothing less than to say that the law will be enforced and means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business."

FURTHER AWAY FROM VOTE ON PEACE TREATY

Not Expected That Roll Call Will Be Reached Before Tuesday or Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—After talking all day on the Johnson amendment to the peace treaty, the Senate tonight seemed further away from a vote on the proposal than it was when the day's debate started.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The departure for the Baltic provinces of General Mangin, head of the mission which had been constituted to supervise the evacuation of the region by the German troops, now appears improbable.

COMMISSION IS EXPECTED TO HOLD HEARING IN WICHITA FALLS

KING ALBERT STAGES AN IMPROMPTU RACE WITH PRINCE LEOPOLD

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 25.—King Albert staged an impromptu race with his son, Prince Leopold today—and beat him.

The King's mount was an airplane. The Prince rode a New York Central Special train. The Prince got away from New York to a start of several minutes but his father's machine—flying along the Hudson parallel to the railway—passed the train about midway of the 50 mile run and reached West Point ten minutes ahead. As the airplane buzzed past the train the Prince and his party gazed out the windows at the receding machine and "pulled" for their engineer to put on more speed.

The King was greeted with a salute of 21 guns when he stepped from the airplane. After a review of the cadets he was entertained at a brief reception by Brigadier General Douglas MacArthur. Albert returned to New York at noon but Leopold remained to watch his first American football game, an encounter between the army and Boston College.

DECLARES REPORT OF RED ACTIVITIES ARE MUCH EXAGGERATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Reports of "Red" activities in the steel strike districts have been exaggerated, the senate committee investigating the strike was told today by W. A. Rattenburg, a striker from Gary, Ind.

"All of this weight has been put on talk about radicals to hurt us," he said. "It's a ghost conjured up since the strike began. This is an American Federation of Labor strike."

Strikers wanted an eight hour day and "collective bargaining." Rattenburg said, adding that wages were not particularly the issue. His own pay averaged $12 a day for twelve hours.

"We cannot protect ourselves unless we have organization," he explained.

PRESIDENT WARNS THE COAL MINERS

in favor of such a strike under these conditions.

"When a movement reaches a point where it appears to involve practically the entire productive capacity of the country, with respect to one of the most vital necessities of daily domestic and industrial life, and when the movement is asserted in the circumstances I have stated and at a time and in a manner calculated to involve the maximum of dangers in the public welfare in this critical hour of our country's life, the public interest becomes the paramount consideration.

"In these circumstances I solemnly request both the national and the local officers and also the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America to recall all orders looking to a strike on November 1 and to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent any stoppage of work.

"Time for plain speaking. These matters with which we now deal touch not only the welfare of a class, but vitally concern the well-being, the comfort and the very life of all the people. I feel it is my duty in the public interest to declare that any attempt to carry out the purpose of this strike and thus to paralyze the industry of the country with the consequent suffering and distress of all our people, must be considered a grave moral and legal wrong against the government and the people of the United States. I can do nothing else than to say that the law will be enforced, and the means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business.

"I express no opinion on the merits of the controversy. I have already suggested a plan by which a settlement may be reached, and I hold myself in readiness at the request of either or both sides to appoint at once a tribunal to investigate all the facts, with a view to aiding to the earliest possible orderly settlement of the questions at issue between the coal operators and the coal miners, to the end that the just rights, not only of those interests, but also of the general public may be also fully protected."

MAURETANIA TAKES ON COAL AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 25.—Owing to the longshoremen's strike in New York, the Cunard liner Mauretania, en route from Southampton to New York, put in here today to take on coal.

COMMISSIONERS MAY HEAR THE IRRIGATION PETITION ON MONDAY

MARK IS SET FOR MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN WHICH OPENS MONDAY.

TWO ELECTIONS TO BE HELD

Income From New Memberships Will Go Toward Realization of Plans for Market.

At a meeting of the irrigation committee Saturday afternoon decision was reached to present the petition calling for an election to vote on the organization of Irrigation District No. 1, at a meeting of the commissioners court Monday if the court can be gotten together to act on the petition. The petition has already been circulated in the district and bears many hundreds of signatures.

The action of the committee ratifies a tentative decision reached several weeks ago. Kemp, the head of the irrigation movement and the chairman of the meeting was out of the city at that time and it was decided to postpone definite action until Mr. Kemp could be present. The committee voted unanimously to present the petition for the election for District No. 1 Monday morning.

District No. 1 includes the city of Wichita Falls and about 15,000 acres adjoining the city. The bonds will be issued against the property values in this district.

District No. 2 embracing the farming lands will be organized separately. This district in turn will vote bonds which will be held by District No. 1. The bonds are to be issued against District No. 1 because the property values in this district are so much greater than in the other district and with these values behind the bonds they can be marketed at better advantage.

It was the sense of the committee that District No. 1 be organized and the dam built whether District No. 2 was organized or not.

The election for which petitions will be presented tomorrow is to determine the question of the organization of a district. Another election must be held for the issuance of the bonds.

GOOD WEATHER GIVES PROMISE OF RAISING RAILWAY EMBARGOES

In view of the big improvement in traffic conditions on railroads entering Wichita Falls during the good weather and speeding up of unloading modification of embargoes and more leniency in the granting of permits is expected to result commencing with this week.

First indication of a let-up in the restrictions came in the announcement that the Fort Worth & Denver and the Wichita Valley would modify its embargo on coal, which is expected to be needed for fuel during the gas shortage probable this winter. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas also made it known that it would be more lenient in the issuance of permits on coal shipments.

Both the Katy and the Fort Worth & Denver have been moving nearly twice the number of cars per day than formerly due to the acquisition of additional equipment and ten days of uninterrupted pleasant weather. The railroads found themselves struggling under a big handicap during the recent wet weather. Cars piled up on all roads and the embargoes became more stringent and in the case of the Wichita Valley and Denver permits were cut off. The Wichita Valley and Denver expect to restore the permit privilege sometime this week.

The Katy has been moving on an average of 500 to 600 cars a day while the Fort Worth, Denver and the Wichita Valley have moved approximately 300 to 300.

It is quite probable that the next item to be placed on the exception lists will be paving materials as pressure is being brought on the railroads by paving contractors to show the great necessity of getting these materials into the city. The Chamber of Commerce and the Realty association are co-operating with the contractors in an effort to obtain material promptly.

HOSPITAL AT CALL FIELD TO RE-OPEN WITHIN FEW DAYS

A temporary, yet modernly equipped hospital with a capacity of 50 beds is practically assured for Wichita Falls for use within a few days.

This announcement was made Saturday night following a number of conferences in progress for several days between Miss Louise Whitesides, graduate nurse of Corsicana, three other nurses from Dallas and Corsicana and Wichita Falls physicians, headed by Drs. Everett Jones and Q. B. Lee and the Chamber of Commerce.

Tentative arrangements have been made to take over and operate the hospital at Call Field. Miss Whitesides and her companions, some of whom saw overseas services with the Red Cross returned Saturday to Corsicana to arrange to bring an organization to Wichita Falls to operate the hospital, which is greatly needed to relieve the overcrowded conditions at the local hospital.

Meantime the physicians interested, the Chamber of Commerce and a number of prominent business men are expected to work out the details of opening the hospital.

It is stated that the use of the Call Field institution which is completely equipped and ready for operation, is intended as only temporary as a campaign is to be started at once to raise the necessary funds to build a hospital suitable to care for the needs of the city. The promoters are waiting the return to the city of several prominent business men before taking any final action on the campaign for the permanent structure.

Miss Whitesides and her companions came to Wichita Falls early in the morning to offer their assistance in establishing either a temporary or permanent hospital. In case of taking charge of a temporary hospital they would take up the necessary details for a permanent institution whenever it should be built.

At the meetings of the Rotary and Wichita Clubs the urgent need of a hospital has been brought out with the suggestion that something be done immediately to relieve congested conditions at the Wichita General hospital. It was stated that the corridors of the building were crowded with cots, and that while the administration at Wichita General was doing a great and efficient work, they were seriously handicapped by lack of room.

It is understood that one firm of surgeons alone can fill Call Field hospital in a week if it is taken over for temporary relief.

WAGGONER CITY DECISION WILL BE RENDERED MONDAY

Judge Scoury announced yesterday that he will render a decision in the Waggoner City case Monday morning.

This is the case in which R. M. Waggoner and others attack the validity of the incorporation of Waggoner City and question the right of the recently elected officers to serve the terms for which they were elected.

A temporary injunction restraining the officials from serving was granted by Judge Scoury when quo warranto proceedings were instituted by County Attorney Deavenport in relation to Waggoner and the others and this still is in effect.

Members of the local Express Workers Union report a most enjoyable time at their meeting Friday night, which was attended by about 75 members of the organization. In addition to receiving 10 new members, much business was transacted, and ice cream and cake was served as an especially attractive feature of the occasion. Some good music was rendered by members of the organization for the entertainment of those present.

On the evening of November 7 another enthusiastic meeting will be held, when refreshments will again be served.

TEACHER SECURED; HOWARD SCHOOL WILL OPEN MONDAY

After trying for a month, County Superintendent Hall at last has procured a teacher for the school in the Howard district. She is Mrs. Vanele and she resides in the city, planning to go to and from her school each day. Difficulty has been experienced in securing a teacher because there was a place for the instructor to reside at Howard.

The Howard school will open Monday, leaving one school in the county that will not be in session. This is the Cobb school, which was consolidated with the Elm Grove school. The Cobb school house is being moved to a point midway between Cobb and Elm Grove and will be in readiness to begin work in a fortnight, it was said.

NEW TRAFFIC MAN FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NAMED

James W. Chatham Jr., formerly with the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, has been chosen traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce. He will begin his duties November 1.

Mr. Chatham has been engaged for several weeks in clearing up local traffic congestion in the Burk Burnett-Devol district on the Katy with results which are said to be very gratifying to his superior of shippers.

Mr. Chatham has spent almost his entire life in railroad service. He was for many years at Greenville and Dallas. He recently returned from overseas duty with the army in Southern France. He is well known to all railroad men throughout Texas. His father is one of the veteran railroad men of the Southwest.

The appointment was announced by T. B. Noble, chairman of the traffic board of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Chatham will establish a department at the Chamber of Commerce which will serve shippers in the tracing of shipments and the relieving of local congested traffic conditions.

Mr. Chatham came to the Chamber of Commerce with unusual recommendations. Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said Saturday, "I consider the organization and the city fortunate in securing his services. It has been my plan to departmentalize the work of the Chamber of Commerce in view of the enormous increase in the duties devolving upon the office as a result of the rapid growth of the city.

The traffic department under Mr. Chatham, the work now being carried forward by the Wichita Falls Realty Association under E. A. Van DenBroek, statistics and records under Miss M. R. Kerr, now give us three active, well organized departments, capable of rendering real service at a time when the city is most in need of careful and efficient civic development.

ANOTHER SURVEY WILL BE MADE FOR INTERURBAN ROUTE

Surveyors who last week completed a survey of a route for the Dallas Wichita Falls interurban from Dallas to Wichita Falls, gaining the line by way of Sildell, Bowie and Henrietta were ordered back to Bowie to survey a line by way of Decatur to Dallas from Bowie, according to Wiley Blair, who is here from Dallas to remain over Sunday.

Mr. Blair stated Saturday that eastern parties had pledged support to the project if the reports of the engineers were favorable. He said that a number of different routes were being surveyed and data obtained to determine which was the best when all the factors were taken into consideration. Mr. Blair said that favorable progress was being made with the preliminary arrangements.

OFFICIALS PROTEST ON HARRIS' REFUSAL TO ISSUE WARRANTS

DECLARE REFUSAL TO PAY ACCOUNTS BEFORE MEETING PARALYZING WORK.

UP TO ATTORNEY GENERAL

County Clerk Basing Stand on Status Agree to Leave Decision to State Official.

County Clerk Will T. Harris' refusal to issue vacation warrants for county expenses incurred while the county commissioners are not in session, crystallized Saturday morning in a meeting of protest in County Judge Jones' office.

Action of the county clerk in refusing to issue the warrants on any account which has not been approved by the commissioners in regular session, was declared by Judge Jones to be completely tying up any construction, road building or special labor program the county might have trapped out. Even freight bills will not be approved and no warrants will be issued until the commissioners have taken formal action on them, and this is expected to result in long delays, excessive bills for demurrage and to have other unsatisfactory and costly angles, Judge Jones stated.

In a statement to a Times reporter Saturday afternoon, Mr. Harris justified his refusal to issue vacation warrants and declared he was being governed solely by the law. He has agreed to leave the matter up to the attorney general's department and whatever the ruling of that department is will determine the future course of the county clerk regarding warrants. County Attorney Davenport and Mr. Harris are to agree upon the facts in the case and present them to the attorney general this week.

Mr. Harris said he was sorry that he was forced to refuse to issue vacation warrants, but said the law was plain. Had the lenient arrangement he consented to some time ago not been abused, he said, the present friction would not have occurred. His statement in full is given further in this story.

At the meeting Saturday, besides Judge Jones and Mr. Harris there were present District Attorney Fletcher S. Jones, County Attorney John Davenport, Assistant County Attorney John Martin, one or two of the county commissioners and County Auditor Murphy.

Commissioners May Meet Weekly. The result of Mr. Harris' stand likely will be that the county commissioners will hold regular weekly meetings, recessing from week to week. This plan was agreed upon some time ago and then abandoned because the laws governing their sessions stipulate the frequency of their meetings, which are to occur often only when matters of extreme importance are to be considered. At special sessions bills and accounts cannot be approved.

However, even weekly meetings are not expected to relieve the situation said to have arisen as a result of Mr. Harris' position. Should the commissioners meet each Monday, and 10 or a dozen cars of material for the new highway system arrive Tuesday, the material would have to stand on the tracks until the following Monday, demurrage bills accruing. Judge Jones asked County Clerk Harris if he would agree to be governed by an opinion from the attorney general's department on the matter of issuing warrants on account that are necessary and that are certain to be approved as soon after presentation as the commissioners meet. The county clerk replied that he would.

Judge Jones' Statement. "A few days ago Mr. Harris refused to issue warrants for some labor done in Commissioner Fore's precinct," said Judge Jones, in this connection. "The orders for pay had been approved by the commissioner, by the road superintendent and by the foreman, but because the commissioners had not put their approval upon them, warrants were refused and the men who did the work are without their pay. The total amount of the labor bill was less than $100."

"During the last cold weather blizzards and quilts were needed at the road camp. After the foreman had priced the covers he found that he could save $41 by paying cash. Rather than charge the bill to the county and lose the $41, an effort was made to procure a warrant, which the bill did not bear the commissioner's O. K. "No road work can be done under this arrangement. The commissioners will not order material shipped in here and have it standing on the tracks, piling up demurrage and causing delays, until they can meet and approve a freight bill. Why, the loss to the county would be great. While the railroads quickly would refuse to handle county freight if the county held their cars for days, when cars already are too scarce, and our delays would cause further freight congestion."

Asked what the county was going to do about it, Judge Jones said he did not know. The county clerk is standing pat, and warrants without his signature are valueless.

Mr. Harris' statement, which goes into the warrant controversy in detail, is as follows:

"Under the statute regarding the duties of the county auditor, it is provided that all claims against the county must be filed with the county auditor at least five days before the meeting of the county commissioners at which they are to be approved or disapproved. No claims, under the law, are to be approved until they are O. K'd by the county auditor.

"The law governing the duties of the county commissioners stated, briefly, and not in full, of course, provides that all bills, accounts and claims against the county shall be approved by the commissioners, who shall order payment of them.

"Upon reading the statutes last spring, the commissioners found themselves handicapped to meet the demands of the railroads for the payment of freight bills on materials shipped here, for such bills must be paid in cash. In a discussion as to how to meet the situation, I suggested to the commissioners that if they would pass an order authorizing the county clerk to issue warrants for the payment of emergency bills, like freight charges for materials, on the O. K. of the county road superintendent, O. K'd by the county auditor and the county judge, I would issue the warrants.

"The commissioners entered the order as suggested, but instead of confining demands for warrants to items such as freight, presented all other items to be paid out of the special road fund and out of the second-class fund, to whichever class the bill presented referred.

"Realizing the importance of the judicial and careful handling of county monies and after a study of the law regarding the items referred to, I was convinced that the county commissioners had no right to pass such an order as was passed and that all of these warrants had been issued without proper authority, not having been approved by the county commissioners in regular session.

"I notified the commissioners of my conclusion as to the law, but without any action by the court upon the suggestion that I was with authority in the matter, they continued to insist that I issue the warrants as had been done previously.

"In order to force action by the court in regard to the premises stated, I refused to issue any more warrants without their first being approved by the commissioners. Left to Attorney General. "The county attorney and I agreed that we would meet with those interested and discuss the features of the law relative to the points involved. However, this morning we could not agree upon the course to pursue, so have decided to submit the statement of the case to the attorney general for a decision, which will be aided in by the commissioners and the county clerk." Mr. Harris pointed out that there is a solution to the differences, that the law permits the commissioners to meet seven days in a month and that the meeting need not be continuous. The commissioners could hold 14 half-day sessions in a month, if necessary.

The opinion of the attorney general's department is anxiously awaited here, for the county attorney's construction applies to salaries of county officials and employees, too. They have been paid on the first of each month, heretofore, but henceforth they will have to await approval of their claims by the commissioners, the second Monday in the month.

The Sealy mattress is not only unique because of its Tuftless construction, but also because it is the product of the only mattress company owning a 15,000-acre plantation and having its factory in the very heart of its cotton fields.

When you sleep on the Sealy you sleep on the finest cotton grown; the quality of Sealy-grown cotton begins with the selection of the seed and is maintained throughout the process of mattress manufacture. The Sealy is an inseparably air-woven, single unit—not a series of layers.

ONE THOUSAND NEW MEMBERS IS GOAL OF CIVIC LEAGUE DRIVE

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO GET SPECIAL MEETING TO ACT ON PETITIONS.

FEES TO MUNICIPAL MARKET

First Will Determine Creation of District; Second Issuance of Bonds.

With the addition of one thousand names to the roll of paying members of the Civic League as the goal, a membership campaign of one week will be started Monday, October 27, and end Tuesday, November 4, with a tea to be held at the First Christian Church. Each active member of the League at present is named a chairman of a membership campaign committee, asked to select two helpers, and to bring to this tea a minimum of ten new members, who will contribute to the support of the League according to the plans announced by Mrs. T. B. Smock, the president of the League.

A large membership, especially among the new comers to Wichita Falls is desired, in order that they will feel a keener interest in the work that the Civic League is undertaking for the coming year, according to the president and with the large membership which is hoped for, the League will be able to accomplish more than ever before. Though there may be only a minor percentage of the new members active members, still their names on the roll will give the organization an increased standing, and will make it stronger than ever before. There are two hundred members on the rolls at present, but all enrolled are not working members. The enrollment fee of one dollar per year of the new members is to go to the fund for the Municipal Market which will be established next spring for the purpose of bringing fresh fruits and vegetables to the housekeepers of Wichita Falls at a cheaper price. This has been made the work of the League for the year, and every effort is being made to secure during the winter months sufficient funds to establish and operate this market. Since it is a movement by which all the women of the city will benefit the League is inviting all the women of the city to join with them by at least enrolling their names, paying the nominal membership fee, and giving their most earnest support.

The Civic League members who will work in this membership campaign are to secure the promise of new members during the week, and will bring them to the tea November 4, when the members will be enrolled. The enrollment committee has been appointed as follows: Mesdames L. E. Stone and E. F. Johnson.

It is planned to make this tea a "get acquainted" meeting for the new comers, as well as the termination of what is expected to be the most successful membership drive the league has conducted. Several committees have been appointed to care for the entertainment, as follows: Refreshments, Mesdames E. B. Kirby, C. J. Hunter, Charles Pogonoh, J. Cohen, Bert Bean and C. M. Miller; music and entertainment, Mesdames J. L. Mayfield, J. A. Kemp, and J. W. Cuyler; reception committee, Mesdames J. A. Kemp, C. R. Hartsook, W. W. Silk, E. B. Gorsline, C. W. T. T. Reese, W. Lee, Louisa Pink and H. F. Weldon.

EXAMS FOR TEACHERS CERTIFICATES TO BE HELD FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Friday and Saturday the examinations will take place in Superintendent of Public Instruction Hall's office at the courthouse. He said yesterday that he was desirous of having a number of applicants for teachers' certificates take the examination. At the last examination in this county there was one applicant for a certificate to teach.

TWO YEAR CONTROVERSY OVER STATION IS SETTLED

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The two year controversy over the railway station of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railway at Kerrville, was ended today when the State railway commission instructed Assistant Attorney General Townsend to draw up an order requiring the company to use the station.

The station was built at order of the commission but never used because citizens of Kerrville obtained an injunction, objecting to location of the station.

MAN IS PLACED IN JAIL ON A FORMAL CHARGE OF MURDER

VIRGIL WINIFORD ARRESTED ON COMPLAINT GROWING OUT OF RECENT KILLING.

PRISONER DENIES HIS GUILT

Further Than This Contents of Statements by Prisoner and Others Not Made Public.

Formal charges of murder have been lodged against Virgil Winiford by District Attorney Jones. A complaint charging murder was filed by Jones in justice court Friday, and Winiford waived preliminary examination, being brought to answer to the grand jury Wednesday.

The charges against Winiford are that he shot and killed D. D. Dameron at Burk Burnett a week ago last night. Winiford and his brother, Jess Winiford, were arrested Thursday night at Burk Burnett by Sheriff McFall and Deputy Sheriff Morris. Jess Winiford was released from jail without bond by the district attorney yesterday, having been exonerated of all blame in connection with the shooting.

Dameron was killed while walking the streets of Burk Burnett on the night of October 18. He died immediately after the shooting without making any statement. His wife was with him at the time of the shooting. Winiford is Mrs. Dameron's cousin. Sheriff McFall's investigation last Sunday led him to seek Winiford, but he and his brother had gone to Oklahoma on business and did not return to Burk Burnett until Thursday. Immediately upon their return the arrest was made but it was feared by the sheriff's office that if news of Winiford's incarceration was published new angles in the case would arise that would be injurious to the investigation.

Mrs. Dameron made a statement to District Attorney Jones and Sheriff McFall yesterday, as did Jess Winiford. What the statements contained was not announced.

Dameron was shot from a distance of less than four feet. Death resulted almost instantaneously. It is believed from the appearance of the wounds that a .38-calibre automatic revolver was used, although no weapon has yet been found.

Virgil Winiford, as far as the sheriff's office has been able to ascertain, never owned a .38-calibre revolver, and this is a strong point in his favor, it was said. He has made a statement to the prosecuting attorney denying his guilt.

The case presents several complex angles and other arrests are looked for in connection with it.

MEN PAST 60 SHOULD NOT MARRY, SAYS JUDGE SCURRY IN DECIDING DIVORCE CASE

"Men past the age of 60 years should not marry. You should have known better than that," said Judge Scurry in the 75th district court room yesterday in granting a decree of divorce to the Reverend J. W. Brazzleton, a Baptist minister. Mrs. Eunice Brazzleton was the defendant in the case.

The Rev. Brazzleton claimed in his petition that his wife quarreled with him about her son, who was his step-son.

May Robertson also was granted a decree of divorce from Loyal Robertson by Judge Scurry.

Suits filed in district court yesterday were devoid of particular public interest. They were as follows:

J. D. Sartin vs. J. A. Holland and C. Q. Thorpe, suit on an oil lease.

Bertha Boyd vs. Fred D. Boyd, suit for divorce on the ground of abandonment.

Susie Renfrow vs. W. T. Renfrow, suit for divorce on the ground of abandonment.

Maxwell & Davis vs. Trinity Oil Co., suit for debt.

S. F. Kinard vs. Prairie Hill Oil Co., damages in the sum of $6,806, alleged to be due on a drilling contract.

National Bank of Commerce vs. H. H. McBride, suit on note.

National Bank of Commerce vs. G. E. Henderson, C. T. Engle and H. H. McBride, suit on note.

National Bank of Commerce vs. the Max-U-Dee Oil Co., garnishment in the McBride case.

ODD FELLOWS PLANNING UNUSUALLY ACTIVE WEEK

The following announcement is made in connection with the meeting of the Odd Fellows Monday night: The Odd Fellows will confer the Third Degree upon fully a half dozen candidates at their hall Monday night, and as the team is working in better shape than in some time, members of the order may be surprised at the way in which the work is put on. It is the intention of the captain of the degree team to have all positions filled as fast as possible, and to have substitutes for each place just as soon as it can be had. New members coming in at a rapid rate and many of them are anxious to learn all they can, and are very willing to be used in the team.

Arrangements are almost completed to organize the Encampment Degree here, Iowa Park will remove their chapter here which will make one of the strongest Encampments in the state. Fully 100 members will make applications for this branch, which consists of three degrees.

Arrangements are going along nicely for the smoker to be given at the new Odd Fellows Hall on next Friday night which will be in the nature of a home-coming event, and every one of the almost three hundred members of the lodge are expected to be present or show cause. A great number of the members have not been present at a meeting in a year, and excuses should be few and far between on this occasion. The Grand Master of the state and other officials have been invited to be present. An invitation is extended to all members of the Odd Fellows in this vicinity, and no pass word will be required, but members in good standing are all welcome.

Texas University Wins Over the Baylor Eleven

HIGH DOWNS BOWIE SATURDAY 45-0 IN FAST GRID CONTEST

Wichita Falls High administered a healthy walloping to the Bowie aggregation in a fast game Saturday afternoon at the Katy park before a fair crowd by the decisive score of 45 to 0. The visiting team which was out-weighted by the locals made only one first down during the game and were unable to hold the charging Wichita Falls High team. Individual stars were plentiful on the Wichita Falls side, in fact the whole team fought with a spirit that was remarkable considering the hot weather. There was no lack of fight on the Bowie team but they were simply outclassed from the start.

Bowie won the toss and elected to defend the south goal. Wichita Falls kicked off to Bowie who was forced to kick to Patton who returned 5 yards. By a series of end runs and line bucks the locals advanced the ball within striking distance of the goal. Gerock for the locals recovered Wilson's fumble and crossed the line for the first touchdown of the game. Wichita Falls kicked goal. The quarter ended with the ball in the possession of Bowie on the Wichita Falls 35 yard line.

In the second quarter Wilson of the locals crossed the visitors line for two touchdowns, both of which were secured by long end runs. Both attempts at goals in this period were successful. Bowie had the ball on her own 40 yard line with three downs when the whistle blew, ending the half.

Beginning the second half Wichita Falls received the kickoff on Bowie's 40 yard line but lost the ball on downs. Bowie attempted an end run but lost the ball to Wichita Falls, when Bowie fell on the fumbled oval. On the next play Wilson playing fullback for the locals got away for a 25 yard run around left end for a touchdown. The try-at-goal was successful. The other two touchdowns were of the third stanza were made by Edwin Weldon, quarter, and Ray Patton, fullback, respectively on hit bucks and end runs. Both goals were made.

In the final quarter the Bowie defense seemed to stiffen a little and the ball seewaxed back and forth, but in Bowie territory all of the time. The only field goal of the game was made by Whitley, of Wichita Falls High, from the 25 yard line and was one of the prettiest plays of the game. The game came to a close with the ball in Wichita Falls' hands on Bowie's 2 yard line with only 2 downs.

The officials of the game were: Referee, Ward; Umpire, Mathis; Head Line-man, Walker; of Bowie. The next game of the season will be played next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Katy park with the local high and the locals expect to retrieve the defeat they sustained at the hands of this team. According to Manager Head, the team's performance was a remarkable improvement in the style of football the Wichita Falls eleven dispensed today over the first game in which they were defeated by Bowie.

The above six sturdy lads are trying for places on the Cornell varsity football team. All six made a name for themselves in school football. Francis M. Sutton, Jr., who played left tackle, a out for a tackle position at Cornell, and a backfield candidate is E. S. Erickson, who was formerly a fullback. Sherman Trowbridge, center on his high school eleven, and A. B. Trowbridge, tackle for two years on the same team, are in the running at Cornell. F. S. Pendleton, Jr., varsity guard there in 1917, and Harold Caminez, a backfield candidate, was halfback back home for two years.

OFFICIAL AVERAGES OF PLAYERS WHO COME TO WICHITA FALLS FROM THE WACO LEAGUE TEAM

Official batting and fielding averages, which were issued during the past week by President Walter Morris of the Texas league, show that one of the men Manager Walter Salm is to have on his Wichita Falls team next season led the league in his position last season. When it is considered that there are nine positions and eight clubs with about 150 players and that 200 or more figure in the statistics, this isn't bad.

The hero of the locals, or the men who led the league in his position last year was Grubb, who played shortstop for Waco. He accepted 157 chances without an error, making but five errors in 162 total chances, and having a fielding average of .969. Duddy, third sacker, was really the second best third baseman in the circuit, making 21 errors in 455 chances and having an average of .954. He played the corner after Oma Dodd blew. Paske, who may come here, was next to the leading first baseman with a fielding average of .961.

The men Manager Salm gets from the Waco club, the franchise of which has been moved here, played last year as the following figures in batting and fielding show. Had there been different management and had not some of the best men been disposed of, Waco would not have gotten into the last minute in at the close, it had good play-

THREE AUSTIN PLAYERS BREAK INTO BIG LEAGUE

AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 25.—Austin promises to break a record with three of her baseball players headed for the major leagues next year and six being courted by the Texas league.

"Bib" Faulk, undefeated pitcher for the University Longhorns for two seasons, who smashed out two hits in the exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox here last spring, has an opportunity of placing his name on the dotted line in company with that of Manager Gleason of the Sox, according to sport gossip.

"Rip" Collins, former Austin High star, who pitched for Dallas last season, has been offered a berth with the New York Americans, according to reports.

Roy Moore, who pitched St. Edwards College to a victory over the University of Texas and the state collegiate championship in 1918, and who served with Waco last season, has signed a contract with Connie Mack's Athletics.

Roy Clements and Dick Whitworth, members of the same team have not who played with a city team here last season, will go to San Antonio and Fort Worth, respectively. Four other accepted Texas league offers tendered them.

SUPERIOR TEAMWORK WINS FOR TEXAS IN GAME WITH BAYLOR

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—By superior teamwork and ability to pierce the line and gain around ends, the University of Texas defeated Baylor University here today 29 to 12.

Texas University made four touchdowns and one field goal. Texas gave two touchdowns by steady driving, an intercepted forward pass gave the Longhorns a 70 yard gain which netted a touchdown, and a 40 yard end run was responsible for the fourth.

Baylor scored two touchdowns, one of which came from a 25 yard forward pass, Dotson to Wolf, who ran 65 yards to the Longhorn goal. The other was made by long forward passes.

OHIO STATE DEFEATS THE MICHIGAN ELEVEN

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 25.—Outplayed in practically every department of the game, Michigan went down to defeat before Ohio state, 13-to-3, today for the first time in 15 years. The defeat, it is generally conceded, eliminated Michigan as a contender for the western conference football championship.

Michigan's only score was the result of a pretty drop kick by Sparks in the second period. Standing on Ohio's 35 yard line, he sent the ball squarely through the visitors' goal posts.

JOHNSON IS ENJOINED FROM SUSPENDING MAYE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A temporary injunction against Byron Bancroft Johnson, president of the American baseball league, restraining him from suspending Pitcher Carl Mays of the American League club in New York pending disposition of the case by the courts, was granted today by Supreme Court Justice Wagner. The injunction was granted on the application of the New York club.

YELLOW JACKETS SHOW A STRONG COME-BACK

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25.—The University of Pittsburgh football team defeated Georgia Tech today, 16 to 8 in a game in which a strong comeback was made in the part of the Yellow Jackets in the second half of the game, when they played the Panthers off their feet and crossed their line in the third period, held the flag and Gold in the fourth quarter when they recovered the ball on downs. Then they fell back and Davis, the str player at Pitt, by a run of 47 yards, put the ball on Tech's 14-yard line in the last minute of play, but before the Panthers could push their man over the whistle blew.

HARVARD ELEVEN DEFEATS UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 25.—The Harvard eleven found no difficulty overcoming the University of Virginia today, making touchdowns almost at will and totaling a score of 47 to 0. The Crimson, however, had its usual scare.

On the first play in the last period G. Kurl, successor of the Harvard forward and reached the Crimson 18-yard line for a first down. In two plays the ball was placed on the 11-yard line, but here the Crimson line stiffened and three rushes were thrown back without a yard of gain. Virginia, with no field goal kicker, fell back on a forward pass which was hurled 15 yards over the Harvard goal line and the Crimson received the ball on downs.

NEBRASKA AND OKLAHOMA STAGE BATTLE TO A TIE

OMAHA, NEBR., Oct. 25.—Nebraska and Oklahoma battled to a tie this afternoon, the fourth quarter ending with the score 7 to 7. Nebraska scored first in the second quarter with a touchdown, had a good chance for a second touchdown in the third, but failed with the goal line five yards distant to make downs. Oklahoma's touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Davis, the Oklahoma quarterback, dodged a broken field from Nebraska's 30 yard line, raced across the line and then kicked goal.

GUN CLUB SHOOTS WILL HEREAFTER BE HELD ON SATURDAY

DECISION REACHED IN BUSINESS SESSION HELD AT CLOSE OF SHOOT FRIDAY.

NEW SECRETARY IS ELECTED

L. Nabb is Named by Club to Succeed Late Gus Wilfong.

Good scores, election of a secretary and a change in the day for the regular weekly shoot were features of Friday's meeting of the Wichita Falls Gun club, which is working hard to earn a championship match with the Dallas Gun club, now state leaders.

Three squads of shooters were out Friday, and after some delay caused by the breaking of the traps by visitors, who entered the club's quarters and smashed many of the targets, the shooting proceeded with alacrity, many good average scores being made.

The club held a business meeting following the shoot and elected J. L. Nabb secretary to succeed Gus Wilfong, who died recently. Mr. Nabb plans much activity for the club during the winter.

After next Friday the weekly shoot will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. instead of Friday which has been the general custom heretofore. The shoot this week will be held at 4 o'clock Friday.

Visitors at Shoot.

Among the visitors Friday were Mr. Morrison of Hastings, Okla., and Mr. Hankin of Dallas. Morrison scored 22 out of 25 and Markin 42 out of 50.

Williams led the local shooters with a score of 47 out of 50 followed by Pate whose score was 46. Hill started in by breaking 21 but had trouble with his gun and was unable to continue what promised to be a top-notch shooting.

Programs have been issued for the registered tournament on Friday, November 11, and a large number of visitors from out of the city are expected to be here.

SEGREGATION PLAN TO PREVENT RACE RIOTING AGREED ON IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Segregation to prevent further racial trouble was agreed upon today by white and black leaders here. Negro leaders called in to conference by white property owners alarmed at the depreciation of values because of encroaching black buyers, said their race is glad to waive constitutional rights.

J. Gray Lucas, negro lawyer, said it was not a social question, but a question of existence—furnish homes for the negro and he would remain away from white neighborhoods.

Committees from both races, anxious to avoid further rioting here were appointed to consider the establishment of a regularly defined black belt, the founding of loan associations and other matters which might tend to make the negro more comfortable in his own home.

Keep the Home Fires Burning

Without an adequate home base of supplies of food, munitions, money and men during the late war, our soldiers and sailors could not have fought so effectively to make the world free.

But the line held at home as well as on the battlefield, and victory came.

The next task is to rout ignorance and superstition and error and sin from the world, and if our missionaries on the firing line do the most effective work, they must be supported by the prayers, intelligent co-operation and gifts of people at home.

There are 13,000,000 people in the Southern States who are not Christians.

There are countless people of foreign birth here who need to be evangelized.

Our brethren in black need to be lifted to a higher life through the gospel of Jesus Christ.

On the frontier along the Mexican border, in the mountains of the South and among the Indians there is need for missionary work of a constructive character.

Many homeless churches need assistance; 9,000 others which are not co-operating fully in the Master's work need to be enlisted and developed, and schools, hospitals and orphanages must be strengthened for their important work. The

Learning Art of Motion Picture Writing

GERALDINE FARRAR
Goldwyn Star

THE day of the trained author who will write almost exclusively for motion-picture presentation will come—is coming, in fact. It should arrive in about two years from now. I say two years because already a few gifted writers are studying the needs of the photoplay and are learning the art of motion-picture authorship.

Writing photoplays is emphatically an art apart. It is just as distinct as the art of the stage dramatist is from that of the novelist and short-story author. In fact, the relationship of the novel and the spoken play is closer than is that of the book and the screen drama, for the reason that dialogue is as essential in a stage play as plot and more so than action, whereas action and expression are the outstanding characteristics of the screen play.

A "school" of photoplay writers has not yet been definitely created, and when I say "school" I use the word in the same sense that we speak of a school of dramatists or of artists. Such a school is forming now, and several recognized writers are turning their attention to writing photoplays. One well-known dramatist is now with the Paramount Company, because, as he puts it himself, "I am content to learn from the ground up, because I find that writing motion-picture stories is a vocation distinct from anything else; because it is intensely fascinating and because it is going to be one of the best paying vocations for the trained and talented writer."

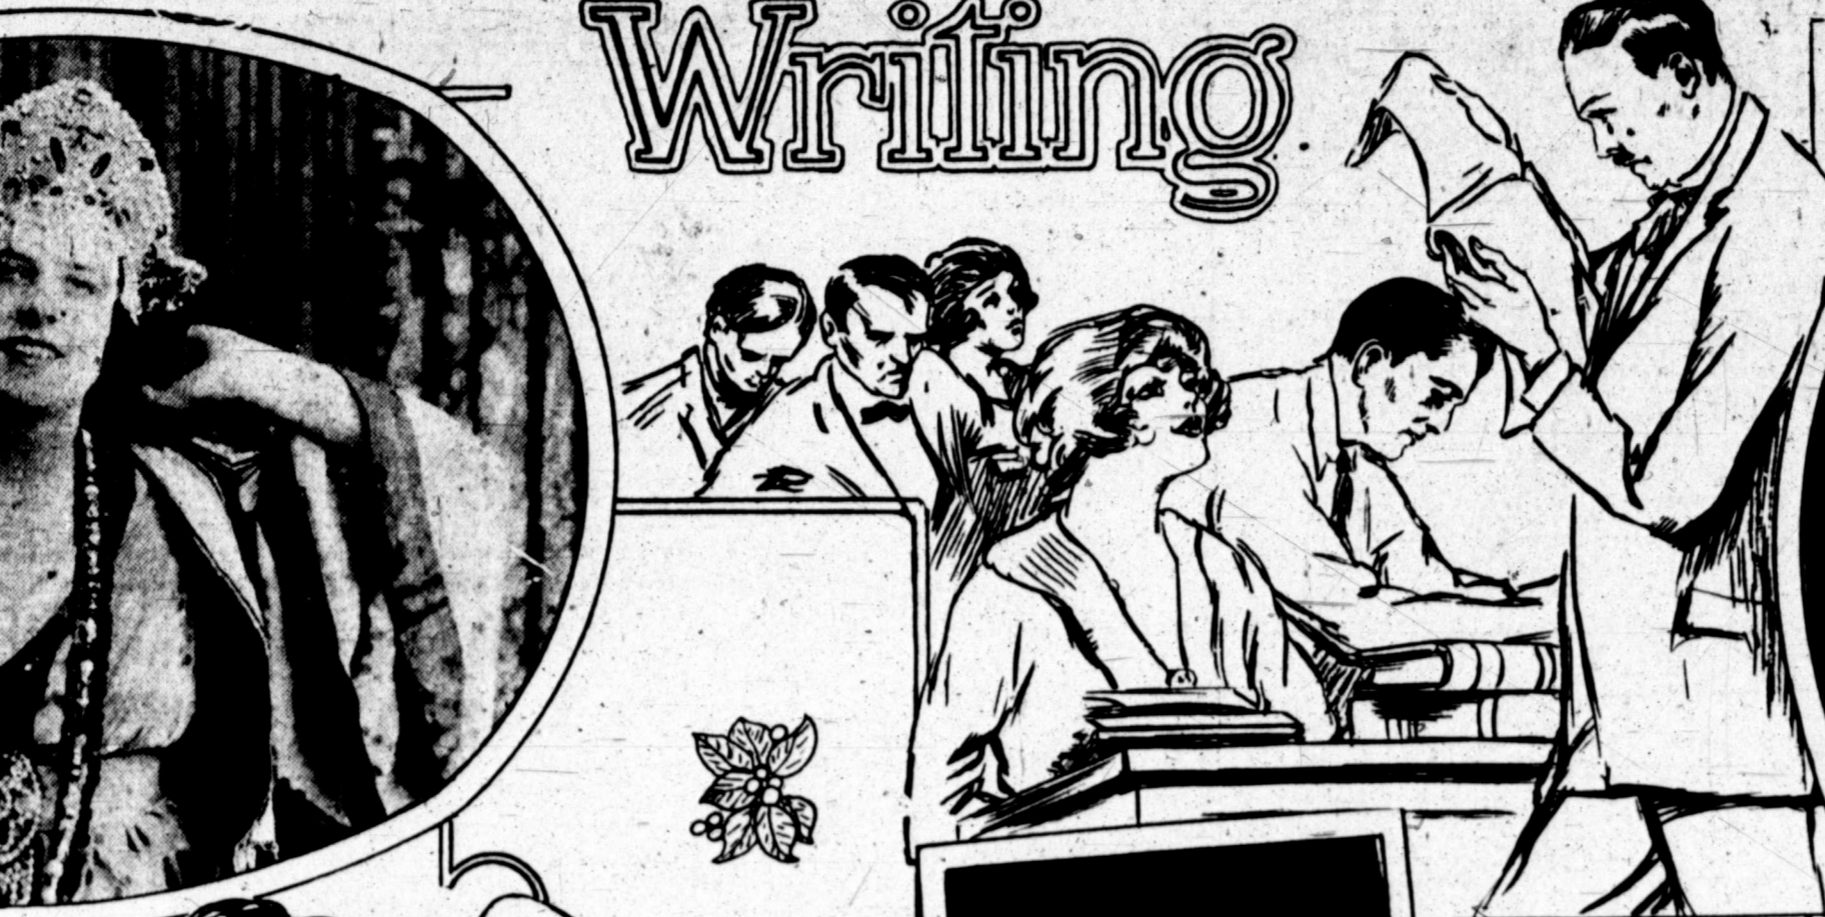

I believe with this man that we have to gradually establish writers who are trained to write for the screen as apart from any other branch of the writers' profession, and that this will take time, but that when that time arrives these trained writers will become as famous as Sir James Barrie, Sir Arthur Pinero, Clyde Fitch, Henry Arthur Jones or the many other writers of stage plays, but not until the school of screen writers has firmly established itself.

Breed Own Craftsmen.

Until the screen has bred its own craftsmen in the same way the stage and fiction has done, its writers will never rank with the recognized authors. We have good trained adapters already, but we want more than this. We need men of big mentality, thinkers, men of genius.

We are using copyrighted material, adaptations from books, stage plays and short stories largely because the stories are better than the original material submitted. The printed stories have a more definite plot and are more carefully thought out and written, and are therefore more desirable. The life is coming when the available copyrighted material will be more or less exhausted and motion-picture producers will be dependent on current literature and original stories and principally the latter. Demand always creates the supply, and that is why several far-seeing men are training themselves now—training for a certain big figure when producers will make the labor worth while to students and recognized writers.

Among the hardy pioneers of the school of photoplay writers are Anthony Paul Kelly, who has already earned a big reputation and who has written a stage play, "Three Faces East," which enjoyed a big run in New York, and whose income is now large and deserved; Gardner Sullivan, who trained himself to write for pictures and who specialized on his profession, and, of course, there is David W. Griffith, who has written his own stories, but whose ability to create his own picture material has almost been lost in his genius as a producer and showman. Jeanie Macpherson, Elaine Sterne, John Emerson, Anita Loos and others have mastered their trade, and all these have had their setbacks and have gone through special training to earn their rights to be considered photo-dramatists. These men and women have succeeded as photoplay writers because they have trained themselves to become writers, and also, of course, because they add exceptional creative ability to specialization.

Personal Study of Stars Necessary.

Other good writers are coming along and are not above starting at the bottom of the ladder, learning the requirements, limitations and possibilities of motion pictures. These men do not expect to receive small fortunes at the outset, and are prepared to make far less to learn the fundamentals of their profession than they could earn writing novels or short stories. They are building solidly along new lines for the not too distant future, when many of them will be recompensed by the large returns and recognized names by the producers and the public. Of this I am convinced.

The writers today who are making the swiftest progress are the ones who are making a personal study of such actors and actresses as Will Rogers, Tom Moore, Madge Kennedy, Geraldine Farrar, Mabel Normand and Pauline Frederick. The authors have discovered that it is also necessary for them to be familiar with studio surroundings and know what the stars do and can do.

I believe that it is easier to write a play for the stage than it is to write one for the screen, and at that there are not many great dramatists. In a play of equal quality there are more things to consider in a picture than in a stage play. The art is less straightforward and more intricate. I believe that most of the writers who have specialized on screen work and who have succeeded could write a successful stage play after proper training and study.

I do not call to mind any writers of the spoken drama who have yet written a successful original screen play, and in order to do this they would have to educate themselves along fresh lines and forget most of the technicalities and formulas of their present calling. I do not think one could adapt one of their own plays for screen purposes without some initial study. This is not casting any slur at the writers of plays. I am simply insisting that writing spoken drama and screen plays are arts and professions apart and that they are entirely dissimilar, and each needs its own special training.

Scarcity of Trained Screen Writers.

Owing to the absence of trained screen writers, photoplay authors at the present-time are not ranked with dramatists, novelists or even the writers of short stories, nor as a body do they yet deserve to be, but from the ranks of the trained writers for the photoplay will arise a school whose names will become well known. The often unmerited feeling against writers for the screen will gradually die out and their profession will parallel with and be accepted as honorable, lucrative and distinguished as other branches of the writers' profession.

It must be remembered that the novelists and dramatic and historical authors have the tradition of centuries behind them, while the writers of photoplays have been experimenting for but a very few years. It is hardly possible that a "school" could have been established in that time.

A number of wild statements are written by authors and others regarding the license taken, by adapters of books and plays. Much has also been published with reference to the poorness of original photoplays—that is, as far as the stories are concerned. Many of these criticisms are penned by well-meaning writers who are unacquainted with their subject and who show astonishing ignorance of the necessary technique and needs of the screen drama.

The frequent complaint that an author's cherished work is man-handled by hacks is often true, but it is also true that much copyrighted material is entirely unsuited to adaptation for the screen and if it was produced as it was originally written it would show a series of incidents or would have to revert to frequent "visions" or cut-backs of previous happenings, which sadly interfere with the story proper and which are boring and directly against the proven needs of a successful photoplay. The most successful photoplay today is the one which tells a direct, simple story, and episodic photoplays are no longer popular.

Authors Take Exceptions to Alterations.

Again, authors take great exception to the alteration of some of their stories when presented on the screen, but permit such alteration to be made without serious comment, when adapted to stage purposes.

As I have pointed out before, and still maintain the greatest thing, which can happen for the good of the motion picture is the creation of its own school of talented, trained writers, and next to that, the encouragement of recognized writers to work in conjunction with trained continuity writers. In this way the latter will absorb the spirit of the story and the author's ideas, while the author will understand how very necessary it is at times to make certain alterations in order to meet screen requirements and to build up the best possible story to present on the screen.

It is not sufficient that authors shall give their ideas through the mails to the continuity writers who are supposedly working with them. It is just as necessary for the recognized author to learn certain technicalities from the trained, continuity writer as it is for the latter to keep as closely to the story as certain necessities will allow. Indeed, this is the only way a recognized author may school himself to make his own continuities or write original stories direct for presentation on the screen.

A good scenario was hardly necessary in the early days of the motion picture, when people were amazed to see anything on the screen. A good picture, when people were amazed to see anything on the screen. A good continuity is a necessity today. The novelty of moving photographs has worn off. How many thousands of miles do you suppose the villains and heroes of the screen have run and galloped, up hill and down dale, by foot, on horseback and by automobile?

Rupert Hughes has been learning the ways and methods of motion-picture production at top speed the past month. He has just returned to New York from daily conferences with the Goldwyn studio staff. He learned a lot on the camera lot of general interest. He took great pains with his first continuity from "The Cup of Fury." Hear what Mr. Hughes has to say. Question 1:

"Why have photodramas got in a rut?" "I should say it was largely the fault of the scenario editors, but not altogether their fault. They have been crowded too much and have lost their freshness and their point of view. If you take a nice linen cloth and pour lemonade through it, and then ice cream and strawberries and sugar, then when you pour champagne through it you get something that tastes a little of lemonade and ice cream. That is what has happened in scenario writing. Everything tastes pretty much the same."

Basil King has recently described the same condition as regards his novels. "They made my peaches into standardized apple sauce, very good of its kind, but if they wanted apple sauce why didn't they start with apples in the first place?"

"What was the remedy?" Mr. Hughes was asked.

"More sincerity, better continuity and higher respect for the intelligence and taste of the movie theater public. They are a little tired of photodramas that merely move and miles of scenery with wild horsemen galloping through it, even when the scenic effects are unusual. They want a story, and they want a story that is different.

PAULINE FREDERICK

the lines that the author has put into the text of his novel. It wouldn't surprise me if sometimes the scenario editor would find these to be quite as good as his own."

Frank E. Woods who passes judgment on most of the Paramount stories, foresees a danger, as far as magazine stories and the screen are concerned. "Commercialism and writing ability should go hand in hand," says Mr. Woods, "but when commercialism is regarded as being so much more important than artistic results it not only cheapens the writer's calling but makes it very difficult to adapt many stories into photoplays."

"In the brisk competition for the output of numerous well-known popular authors, it is a fact that stories are sold before they are thought out or written, often on the installment basis, and the result is that the same thought is not given the work and they are not closely enough knit for picture purposes, besides which they have no beginning, middle or end. In other words, they are obviously written for installment purposes."

Terse Points for Scenario Writers.

1. Take as much pains with a scenario as you would with a short story, for a magazine.
2. Use good language and good grammar.
3. Typewrite it as carefully as you would a short story.
4. Your best school is seeing good photoplays on the screen; study them from the story standpoint.
5. Do not submit a story you do not think unusual or exceptionally good, otherwise you are insulting your own and the producers' intelligence.
6. Remember that conversation does not register on the screen, except in the titles—avoid conversation.
7. Do not think out horrible incidents or situations.
8. Don't submit a detailed continuity until you have studied how; stick to a well composed synopsis.
9. Do not give a lot of advice to the director; he knows how to obtain results better than you do.
10. Avoid too many adjectives and for that matter, superlatives.
11. Do not write of "phases of life you are unacquainted with."
12. Remember that imagination must link with facts.
13. Do not say, "and somehow so and so managed to do such and so forth"; give the actual happening and the reason for it.
14. There should be a logical reason for everything you write.
15. Avoid starting with childhood and finishing up with old age; constant lapses of time are, as a general rule, uninteresting.
16. Do not dare to write in pencil or use both sides of a page. There is no excuse for either.
17. Do not request an immediate answer. If you do, you will get your brain chafed quickly—unread.
18. Don't omit to enclose a stamped, directed envelope for the return of your script.
19. Do not write "begging" or letters of appeal. Motion picture producers are cold-blooded business men.
20. Do not send your stories direct to the stars. Not one in 100 will read them.

WILL ROGERS

The producers have been getting the stories, and paying for them, but the public has been paying for them and not getting them. I have been paid $10,000 for a novel and then been unable to recognize the characters as they were transferred from the book to the film.

"It seems to be a part of the religion of the average scenario department to leave nothing as it stands, to change every single thing except the title. Now, I am not the author to say of any novel of mine. This is God's work; do not touch a single line." I know that many scenes have to come out, and some of the characters, also, to bring a well-developed novel down to the size of a five or six reel picture. I am delighted when the imagination of the scenario writer improves on the original story. If he can think of a title that is better than mine, so much to the good. But when he puts in titles that don't fit and ignores lines in the text that were at least appropriate, then I say the man does not know his business.

Writing Comedy Is a Science.

"The writing of comedy lines for a book or a play or a picture is an art, or a science, rather. I don't believe the producers today begin to appreciate their box office value. When they do we shall have together with better continuity, titles or captions that count just as much as some of the scenes. There are not many good writers of comedy lines in the speaking theater, and it will take time and money to develop equally good writers for the screen. Meanwhile there are

TIME BRINGS CHANGES BUT TODAY BRINGS A CHANGE IN THE TIME

Backward, turn backward, oh, Time in thy flight,
 And give me one more hour to sleep every night;
 And give me an hour more just for glad play,
 Night shouldn't be morning, nor darkness the day.

If you didn't sleep an hour longer this morning than you have been sleeping for the past few months, then you are a victim of circumstances and forgetfulness for Old Father Time scythed one off the days and put it back onto the tail end of the nights, where it used to belong.

To be more precise, or pithy, all clocks, watches and other timepieces, were to be turned back an hour at 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

There will be no more daylight saving. Thereafter buy thrift stamps if you want to save.

It used to be that time, tide and some other things that could be mentioned, waited for no man, but when a man as great as President Wilson happened along, he halted time for an hour a day for months, and congress speeded it back up, made it catch up with itself again, as it were, for an hour.

While railroad and city time and naval observatory time are not sun time, they are now again based on sun time and the world will rock along as it did before it was necessary for everybody to save an hour a day by getting up earlier than most people wanted to.

COUNTRY IS AGAIN ON STANDARD TIME BASIS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Today is the last day of daylight saving as a national institution. At 2 a. m. Sunday clocks will be turned back one hour, putting the nation on a standard time basis.

The daylight saving law, passed early in the war to encourage backyard food production, was repealed by congress. Farmers who declared that the law was working them injury was largely responsible for the repeal, which was accomplished after the president had twice vetoed repealing measures.

A number of cities are discussing enacting daylight saving ordinances of their own despite repeal of the national act.

CLASS OF 60 PEOPLE IS CONFIRMED BY BISHOP LYNCH AT LOCAL CHURCH

A class of 60 young people of the Sacred Heart Catholic church were confirmed Thursday by Rt. Rev. Joseph P. Lynch, bishop of this diocese. The candidates attended mass, received holy communion and then were confirmed. This is a ceremony that occurs hardly more than once a year in many churches and was attended by a large outpouring of Catholics.

Another class of about 20 were confirmed at Electra Friday, after which the bishop left for his home in Dallas.

RESOLUTION IS INTRODUCED TO PREVENT STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Officers of the federal government called upon to take appropriate action "in enforcing obedience to and respect for the constitution and laws," in the threatened coal strike by a resolution offered today by Senator Thomas, Colorado. No action was taken on the resolution.

It declared that the strike would injure or suspend nearly all industries and inflict continued and increased hardship and suffering upon all people and provoke disorder, violence, bloodshed and insurrection.

It added:

"Other Provisions.

"We hereby give the national administration and all others in authority the assurance of our constant, continued and unqualified support in the great emergency confronting us, and call upon them to vindicate the majesty and power of the government in enforcing obedience to and respect for the constitution and the laws, and in fully protecting every citizen in the maintenance and exercise of his lawful rights and the observance of his lawful obligations."

John Lewis, acting head of the United Mine Workers today issued a statement charging that operators had refused to negotiate a new contract with mine so that they might have the strike as an excuse to boost coal prices. In some places coal at the mine has already gone up a dollar a ton, he said.

WICHITAN RETURNING WITH FAIR EXHIBIT HAS NARROW ESCAPE

While returning from the Dallas Fair with the Wichita Falls Refinery exhibit packed in the rear of his automobile, John E. Dum, was caught in the rush of waters from a broken levee 17 miles north of Denton last Monday afternoon, and narrowly escaped being drowned.

Forced to abandon his automobile and flee for his life, Mr. Dum swam the swollen stream and tramped back to Denton. He was on the road 22 hours without food. He managed to return to the scene of the flood the next day and drove his car into Denton where he stored it. He returned to Wichita Falls late Friday night by train, considerably fatigued from his experience.

Mr. Dum is superintendent of the New-Tex Refinery company which is doing some construction work in the Burk Burnett field. He assisted H. J. Frankfurt and Hubert Harrison in the installation of the refinery exhibit, and was engaged to take it down and bring it to Wichita Falls where it was to be exhibited at the Wichita State bank.

Mr. Dum left Dallas Monday afternoon after seeing Mr. Harrison off at the depot. When he reached Denton he was warned of the flood, but was told that if he hurried he might be able to cross through the valley before the threatening levee went out. Fearing that he might be delayed for days if he did not make the valley before the flood, he started out, when he reached the valley and was about ready to cross he saw the wall of water pouring down toward him. He dropped the curtains of his machine after covering up the exhibit and started to turn back, but was too late. He was caught in the rising water and was obliged to swim to safety. He did not ascertain how much damage had been done to the mine-ture refinery, but was of the opinion that it was negligible.

MY WAGE.

I bargained with Life for a penny And Life would pay no more, However I begged at evening When I counted my scanty store.

For Life is a just employer, He gives you what you ask, But once you have set the wages, Why, you must bear the task.

I worked for a menial's hire Only to learn dismayed, That any wage I had asked of Life Would have been paid.

Jessie E. Rittenhouse.

CLASS IN CALISTHENICS AND FOLK DANCING

At the meeting of the Girls Friendly Society at the Episcopal Parish house on Friday evening an attractive feature was introduced by Miss Ruth Clark, recreational secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in leading a class in calisthenics and folk dancing. The work will be continued in meetings once each month. The girls packed a box for the French orphan the society is supporting, and planned for a Halloween entertainment on Friday of this week. The social hour which followed the business session and the folk dancing was unusually pleasant.

WEDDING AT CORICANA OF INTEREST LOCALLY

The following item, from the Society Page of a Corsicana daily, will be of much local interest, as the groom was for some time pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian Church, and assistant pastor for the First Presbyterian Church, and the bride has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Annie Talley Hood, of Kemp Kort in this city, on numerous occasions.

The wedding of Miss Kate Salmon Prince, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. E. Prince, to Rev. J. H. Smith, claimed exclusive attention in the social world Wednesday and was a notable society event of the Autumn season. The ceremony took place in the Third Avenue Presbyterian Church, the scene of so many beautiful weddings in this past year, and was largely attended by a large number of relatives in the city, and from other points in the State. The ceremony was at ten-thirty in the morning and was performed by Rev. J. Frank Smith of Dallas, a warm personal friend of the bridegroom. The decorations in the church were both elaborate and beautiful, the flower scheme being yellow and white, which was carried out with some chrysanthemums, queen of Autumn blossoms. The chancel was garlanded with smilax, also the overhanging chandelier, which held a large cluster of yellow and white chrysanthemums tied with love knots of ribbons, in the same colors. On either side of the altar, pedestals held baskets of chrysanthemums, making a very lovely color note among the rich greens of the palms and ferns. The pews for the immediate family were marked with clusters of gold and white chrysanthemums held with ribbons of the same hue. While the guests awaited the advent of the bride, a lovely program of appropriate music was rendered. Miss Fattie Mays sang very charmingly "I Love You Truly," Miss Kate Cunningham of Fort Worth, a very dear friend and college mate of the bride, sang "Because," with decided style and finish, the rich tones of her voice filling the auditorium to the delight of the listeners. Mrs. Perry McCammon was accompanying at the organ, and for the bridal procession played the march from Lohengrin. There was a large group of attendants. At the first sound of the wedding march, the bridesmaids, attended by the ushers, came down opposite aisles—Miss Mildred Ellen Carpenter, Miss Mildred Carroll of Athens, Miss Louise Green of Hillsboro. The ushers were Messrs. King Elliott, Ralph Stell, Leslie Kelton and Truman Bragg. The bride had as her maid of honor, Miss Dora Witherspoon of San Antonio, and matron of honor, Mrs. Allyn Lang. The bridesmaids wore handsome gowns of dark brown, with hats to match, and carried arm clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Witherspoon and Mrs. Lang carried white chrysanthemums. The little flower girls, Elizabeth Johnson and Mildred Jones in ruffled frocks of yellow organdie, both with dainty bows, scattered flower petals in the bride's path to the altar, where she was awaited by the groom and his brother, Mr. Norman Jones of Wauzabachia, who acted as best man. The pages were Master Billie Hood, cousin of the bride, and Master James Wiley McCammon. The bride came in on the arm of her brother, Mr. Robert Prince Jr., and was attended by a lovely young girl bride, wearing an elegant traveling costume of dark blue, with smart toque to match. She carried a beautiful bride's bouquet of pure white bride's roses, showered with lilies of the valley. While the solemn vows were being taken to the low organ strains of a Schubert melody, the sun, in hiding for so many days, sent its shimmering rays through the stained glass windows, seeming to sanction the sacred ceremony being enacted and to portend future brightness and happiness for the young pastor and his bride. The noon train was taken for Galveston and other points. So, on their return the bride and groom will be at home at the manse of the church, Miss Prince has been a special favorite in the younger set here, almost most of her girlhood has been spent in school and in college, being a graduate of both the Corsicana High School and of Trinity University, having finished at the latter in June last. The groom is the much beloved pastor of the Third Ave. Presbyterian Church, which position he has so capably and faithfully filled for the past three years. A host of friends at home and over the State wish for this happy young couple all of life's brightness and happiness that will reach through a long vista of years. A very lengthy list of beautiful and useful gifts received gave silent evidence of the popularity of both bride and groom. A great many were from the different organizations in the church.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF FAIR-BROWN WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Lydia Fair of Bowie, to Olin E. Brown of this city, solemnized in Dallas on Friday, October 17, has been announced. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fair of Bowie, and is popular among a wide circle of friends in Wichita Falls, having spent much of her time during the past several years in this city. Mr. Brown was born in Wichita Falls and educated in the local high school. Since leaving school he has been connected with the McFall Brothers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown, and for the present he and his bride will be at home with his parents at 1210 Twelfth street.

TIMELY RECIPES FOR A WINTER DELICACY

Can you make gingerbread? So many good cooks never think of making it, for they consider it too commonplace or ordinary, but if gingerbread be properly made it is not to be scorned. All children are fond of it. Of course, if it is not fresh, as is often the case, or made too dry, with flour, 'tis not good eating. Gingerbread is surely an ancient cake, for it was made and sold in Paris in the 14th century, of rye dough kneaded with ginger and other spices, and honey.

After being introduced into England it played an important part at fairs and festivals. Especially do we read of keepers of gingerbread stalls at the Bartholomew Fair in England, the Greenwich Fair and Llandaff, the greatest fair in Wales, where "they sold a thriving trade in oranges, nuts and gingerbread."

In Times Gone By. It even gave its name to the hero of an old and celebrated English nursery tale, Giles' Gingerbread. Goldsmith speaks of "a pennyworth of gingerbread," and Shakespeare said: "If I had but one penny in the world thou shouldst have it to buy gingerbread."

Passing a few years, we read in an old book that "great was the consumption of gingerbread" on Pinkster Day, a holiday celebrated at Whitauitide, in early New York. Following are the receipts for three different kinds, but (if properly made) delicious gingerbreads:

Gingerbread Sponge. Melt butter the size of an egg, mix it with one pint of molasses, one tablespoonful of ginger and one quart of flour. Dissolve one heaping tablespoonful of saleratus in one-half pint of milk; strain and mix with rest of ingredients, add flour to roll out easily, roll one-half inch thick, bake in flat tin in quick oven. If made in this way it will be light and spongy if quickly baked, but will not keep long.

Recent Recipes. More recent recipes are: Superior—Stir together one-half cup of butter, one-half cup of brown sugar, one cup of New Orleans molasses and two cups of un sifted flour. Put one teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful of ginger in a cup and fill with boiling water; pour this into the dough; beat two eggs light and put them in last. Bake in a dripping pan; the batter will be quite thin, but do not add any more flour. Be sure to have the water boiling, and do not sift the flour.

Soft Gingerbread. One small cup of butter, one pint of molasses, one tablespoonful of ginger, one pint of flour, two beaten eggs, a bit of fresh lemon peel cut in strips, two teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in one-half pint of milk, and flour to make it the consistency of pound cake. Bake one-half hour.

A Fruit Variety. Two pounds of flour, three-fourths pound of butter, one pound of sugar, one pint of raisins, one pound of currants, two cups of molasses, one-half cup of sour cream, six eggs, one heaping teaspoonful of ginger, one teaspoonful of extract of cinnamon. Mix well; add fruit last, dredged with flour; beat thoroughly.

COURT AWARDS MRS. ELMER JUDGMENT AGAINST ABNER DAVIS IN SUM OF $750

After a brief hearing on a motion for a change of venue in the suit of Mrs. E. B. Elmer against Abner Davis for $750 in connection with the sale of a diamond ring, Judge Surry in the 78th district court Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, denied the application and rendered judgment in favor of Mrs. Elmer for $750.

Several witnesses testified during the hearing on the motion for the change of venue, among them being Sheriff McFall and District Attorney Jones, who both testified as to the character of Davis and his business methods.

Mr. Jones testified as to an investigation made of Davis' business methods, and Sheriff McFall told of talk he had heard relative to Davis. After Mrs. Elmer testified that she had given Davis a ring to sell and declared that he had failed to pay her $750 he had received for the ring, the court awarded her judgment.

Notice. Mr. Jones testified as to an investigation made of Davis' business methods, and Sheriff McFall told of talk he had heard relative to Davis. GROWING ENTHUSIASM IN MOVEMENT TO ORGANIZE LOCAL SHRINE TEMPLE Enthusiasm is growing in the movement to secure a Shrine temple for Wichita Falls and a campaign committee has been selected to canvass this city and the surrounding country to secure applications for a temple.

In order to receive the consent of the Imperial council of Shriners which meets at Portland, Oregon, next June, the placing of a temple here many obstacles will have to be overcome, local Shriners say, and they are getting an organization under way that can not fail to bring results.

Members of the club believe that Wichita Falls is large enough to support the finest temple in the State of Texas, and these live wires declare that by this time next year they firmly believe they will have under construction a temple that will be a pride to the Shriners of this vicinity. The chairman of the charity committee, Claud Woods, announces that any one knowing of any cases where there are sick or disabled Masons should notify him at telephone 260.

MORNINGSIDE PARK IS EXCLUSIVE NEW RESIDENTIAL PLACE

J. A. KEMP, HARRY BAUM AND F. LAUCK ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR NEW ADDITION.

Morningside Park, the materialization of the vision of an architect, and the hope of two far-sighted business men who in addition to seeing in Wichita Falls a place to make money visualized in the near future a beautiful city and a desirable place to live, is now introduced to the people of Wichita Falls.

J. F. Lauck, former Kansas City architect, J. A. Kemp and Harry Baum are the men who are responsible for this new addition, the first announcement of which is now given to the public. Not until all details were perfected for this new residential district was anything made public, but now that actual work has commenced the prospective home builders of Wichita Falls are being told about this exclusive and restricted district, where the restrictions are relating to beauty of architecture and harmony of the buildings with the general plan of the addition, rather than any restriction as to price.

On Ninth street, at the Grant avenue intersection, the new addition begins and on Tilden is the entrance to Morningside Park proper. Out on the hill, northwest of the Kemp home, the circle drive and the parkways are already being laid out.

The present plan calls for 36 building sites, there will be no "lots" laid, and the houses, which the company will build to suit the purchasers, or which may be built by the purchasers of the lot, will be built with conformity to the neighborhood group.

To fully appreciate the wonderful possibilities of this new addition, under the plan which Mr. Lauck has laid out, a visit should be paid to the site, where the lines of newly humped earth, marking the grading of the paved drive, and the outlines of the addition, the stores of paving material and the busy stirring activities are indications of coming accomplishments. The office, where the Morningside Development Co. has already taken up its headquarters is just alongside the entrance to the addition, which will be marked with a large ornamental gateway. A natural curved driveway, suggested by the undulations in the land, with tiny parks at intersections is being laid out, and the drive will form a complete circle. All the building sites will face on this drive. Inside the circle will be a group of six streets.

The houses will be of English or Colonial architecture, and will be set in miniature parks, which will be in harmony to the whole scheme. Arrangements have already been made for the landscape treatment of the addition, and a vast quantity of shrubbery has been ordered. Some of the big trees of the Wichita River, of which there is a beautiful view from the heights of Morningside Park, will be moved and used in the landscaping and the young trees and shrubbery combined to give effects that are generally to be found in natural parks, or after years of careful attention.

A leaf has been taken from the history of Kansas City's beautiful residential district, Sunset Hill, designed by George Kessler, famous landscape architect, and the lessons that this city, and other cities, have learned of the difficulties of clearing, tearing and remodeling the residential section of a city, after it has been built for years, can be profited by in Wichita Falls. Sunset Hill, recognized as the most beautiful residential residence sections in all America, is a place of homes in gardens, and is itself a huge garden, without one discordant note, nature and architecture being harmonized in the highest possible degree.

While dwelling on the artistic side of Morningside Park, the practical side should not be omitted. Of much more interest to the practical businesslike builders of Wichita Falls is the modern conveniences which are to be offered. Water, lights, sewer and gas all the modern conveniences which the city has to offer, have already been secured. Harry Baum states, and what is unusual at this time, all of the paving, from Grant and Ninth, up to Garfield on Ninth, Circle Drive, and the other drives in the park, has already been contracted for, and work has commenced. All material for the paving and for the other conveniences, has been secured, Mr. Baum states, and there will be no delay in making Morningside Park ready to be lived in.

The Morningside Development Co. is preparing to build up the park, and building materials in carload quantities are already on the way. Some material has already been received and work shops are to be constructed on the ground.

The building force is being organized and the company is making its plans so that as far as possible, there will be no hold up in the work occasioned by conditions that may arise locally by shipping congestion and similar emergencies, which have greatly hampered building.

No home sites have been offered for sale, and though a number of people interested have been ready to purchase sites and let the contract for homes in Morningside Park, the company is adhering firmly to their original plan of getting the addition completely laid out and the work well started before making any sales. In three weeks' time—the announcement, they will be ready to show the addition to the public, with the view of making sales. By this time two houses will be under way, much progress will be made with the paving, and it is hoped that there will be some visible promise of what the park will really be.

Details of the plan of the development and growth of this addition, a permanently restricted exclusive residence district will be given out later, it is announced.

The success of the enterprise from both a business and an artistic standpoint is forecast by the three men who form the company. The public is entirely familiar with the success that all three have achieved in their line of business. Mr. Baum was one of the organizers of the Baum & Gardner Store, in which he only recently disposed of his interest in the business. He will now devote his entire time to the Morningside Development Co.

Mr. Lauck came to Wichita Falls with an enviable record in Kansas City, and now he has a similar record of success, though he has been in the city less than a year. His ability as a designer and builder is shown in the numerous "Lauck Built" houses, already constructed, or now under construction in this city.

Famo Stops Seborrhea The Dandruff Disease

No other hair remedy even remotely resembles FAMO. FAMO kills the dandruff germ and stops the unhealthy flow from the sebaceous glands. Every ingredient in FAMO is well known to physicians. But none of these ingredients were ever before applied to saving the hair. Science perfected FAMO in one of the oldest pharmaceutical houses in Detroit—famous for its laboratories which supply physicians all over the world with medical goods. FAMO not only kills the seborrhea microbe but it makes the scalp and hair as clean as that of a baby. It ends all itching of the scalp. Even where baldness has already appeared (unless the hair roots are absolutely dead) FAMO will encourage and stimulate the growth of new hair. Many women say FAMO has caused their hair to grow from four to six inches. FAMO retards grayness and strengthens the natural color. It contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and produce gray hairs. It makes the hair lustrant and lustreful, and if there is a tendency to waveness FAMO intensifies it. FAMO should be used by every member of the family.

PLANS FOR CLEANUP CAMPAIGN RAPIDLY BEING PERFECTED

Plans for a general cleanup campaign throughout the city to be conducted by joint committees from the city council, chambers of commerce, and the Wichita and Rotary clubs, are now taking shape and are expected to be put into effect within the next few days, according to W. W. Silk, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce cleanup committee.

"The two most important undertakings in the upbuilding of a city are its schools and sanitation," Mr. Silk said. "We are in need of a vigorous campaign to make the streets and premises of business houses clean and attractive. Merchants have agreed to dispose of unsightly boxes and rubbish while restaurants, cafes and hotels have arranged to have garbage cans placed in boxes out of view of the public."

"Our streets and sidewalks in the business district should be swept up and cleaned every day. They should be spotless and we should maintain a battalion of 'white wings' to keep in after the work."

"With winter approaching it would not be fair to order the tent houses off the streets because they house many persons who have been unable to find quarters in houses, but we should be in shape to go away with these tents by spring. If they are permitted to exist much longer we may find ourselves facing a very serious epidemic because these improvised dwelling places are not equipped with the proper sanitation facilities."

The joint committees are planning on having a large number of placards printed quoting extracts of the city ordinances pertaining to sanitation and maintaining clean streets and premises. These are to be placed in conspicuous places in store windows and elsewhere to stimulate activity in cleaning up, Mr. Silk stated.

Among some of the extracts to be printed on the placards will be the following:

"That it shall be unlawful and is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person to obstruct any sidewalk or public passage way or any street, alley, or public ground in the city of Wichita Falls, by placing or leaving thereon any boxes, barrels, merchandise, implements, vehicles, lumber, wood or material, or to place any dirt or rubbish of any kind on said streets, alleys, sidewalks or other public places in said city, or to ride or drive over or along any sidewalk, or to dig any holes or plant any post in said streets or alleys without authority of the city council."

"To allow any growing weeds on any premises or vacant lots, owned, occupied or controlled by them (residents), or any fifth or rubbish of any kind on the premises, vacant lot or lots, or any sidewalk, gutters, drains, streets or alleys to the center of the same adjoining the premises so owned, occupied or controlled by them, and the same are hereby declared to be nuisances, and as such liable to be abated, and the person or persons, causing, creating or keeping the same are liable to punishment as hereafter provided."

WILL ASSUME SUPERVISION OVER MUSIC DEPARTMENT CITY SCHOOLS

G. L. HAWKINSON

Intensive and progressive development of all phases of the musical training in the local public schools is the program to be inaugurated by G. L. Hawkinson, teacher and concert artist, when he arrives to assume supervision of the teaching of music in Wichita Falls schools. Mr. Hawkinson comes to Wichita Falls from the District Agricultural school at Lawton, Okla., with the highest recommendations. He has outlined very definite plans of procedure for his work here. These plans include a number of concerts and recitals for both elementary and high school students, and the organization of oratorio choruses, an orchestra and band, glee clubs, and several quartets among high school students. The study of musical masterpieces as works of art will be stressed in preference to the detailed technical instruction throughout the grades. Special programs and concerts on Thanksgiving, Christmas, and in the spring are being planned. Municipal musical organizations will also have their place in the supervisory program if the work prove practical here. Musical journals will be used as supplementary texts for students, keeping the work strictly on a modern progressive basis, according to Mr. Hawkinson's plans. The schools this year have met with numerous difficulties in filling this supervisory position and several changes having already been made in the plans for the year. Officials are especially glad to secure Mr. Hawkinson's services in this capacity. In addition to his work with the agricultural college in Oklahoma, Mr. Hawkinson obtained valuable experience and earned an enviable reputation as band master of the 52nd Field artillery band at Camp Travis during the war. The new supervisor is expected within the next few days to take up his work.

LOCAL WOODMEN TO PROTEST AGAINST PROPOSED INCREASE

At a meeting of the local camp 2001 Woodmen of the World at the Woodmen hall Friday night, J. W. Collins was selected as the delegate to the State convention of Woodmen to be held at Waco on Oct. 30 and 31 for the purpose of organizing a movement of protest against the proposed 20 per cent increase in the rates of the lodge for the coming year.

Local Woodmen declare that the projected increase will serve to force the older members of the lodge to allow their membership to lapse on account of the prohibitive rate and they are determined to voice their beliefs in the form of a definite protest to be presented to the supreme council.

At this meeting it was also decided that the next regular meeting, next Friday night, should be turned over to the Woodmen Circle, Grove 1447, who will serve a supper for the Woodmen.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" IS SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT THE EMPRESS THIS WEEK

On three days of this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Empress theater is featuring one of the most widely advertised photoplays of the present season, "The Miracle Man," a picture produced by the Paramount-Atcraft company, starring Thomas Meighan and Betty Compson supported by a cast of featuring players. A brief resume of the story follows:

Tom Burke, Rose, the Frog and the Dope are a gang of clever crooks who make their living by fleecing the unwary pilgrims. Tom Burke is head of the gang and directs their nefarious operations. One day he picks up a newspaper and reads that a healer has made his appearance in a certain small town and is credited with marvelous cures. Burke conceives the idea of capitalizing on the healer; that is, create a demand for his services and keep all the money for himself and his pals.

Burke motors out to the little village where the healer lives and, for his purpose, becomes ill. The villagers advise Burke, Rose, the Frog and the Dope so, under one pretext or another establishes his residence there. He sends for his pals and instructs them in their parts—Rose is to play the part of a sweet unsophisticated girl and pose as the healer's nearest relative, which is possible because the healer can hear no; see; the Frog is to pose as a cripple and permit himself to be healed so as to create talk, and the Dope is to assist in drumming up trade.

The Frog, contorted into a misshapen being, attracts attention on the train, and he announces loudly that he has come to the village to see him, regarding whose wonderful powers he has heard thrilling reports. The passengers scoff at the idea, but the Frog insists that he is genuine. On the same train, but in a private car, are Richard King, a millionaire, and his sister, Claire King. Claire's suffering from hip disease and has been bed-ridden for many years. The Frog's tale regarding the healer comes to their ears and Claire insists upon being taken off the train to see him.

By the time the train reaches the village the Frog has done his work well and all the passengers detain to see the Miracle Man, and the Frog himself and stands up a straight, healthy man. But the power of the healer begins to work and the little crippled boy drops his crutches and runs, and Claire King steps out of the rolling chair and walks! The miracle creates a profound impression upon the crooks themselves. Burke, who is posing as a rich man, makes a show of giving the healer a check for $25,000. Claire King's brother makes out a check for $50,000 and others contribute according to their means.

The crooks begin to come from far and wide and the crooks are prosperous. Richard King, brother of Claire, finds himself becoming interested in Rose. And Rose unconsciously changes. The influence of her new environment works upon her and without knowing it she is beginning to realize what a "good" life means. Being forced by circumstances to pose as a sweet and unsophisticated girl, Rose reaches the stage where she truly believes she is what others think she is. King falls in love with her and believes she is his ideal—the one woman for him. In the meantime, neither the Frog nor the Dope has been immune to the healer's influence. Both begin to feel that there is something more in life than greed and vice. The Dope falls in love with the farmer's daughter. He throws away the "needle" and all his other vices and in this new element for him he becomes a new man. He meets a nice old lady who had lost her son and he "adopts" her as his mother, remembering ever having one of his own.

The only one of the gang who has not felt the healer's influence is Burke. Still hard as nails, he can see nothing but money and vice. While he notices King's growing regard for Rose, he does not fear losing her love, until, so day when he repels him. Rose tells him she is through with the old life and intends to go "straight" thereafter. Then Burke realizes that he has "lost" his gang. He pleads with Rose to stay by him, and when she refuses he attacks her. Only a opportune appearance of the blind healer saves Rose from bodily harm. Half crazed at the thought of losing Rose, whom he adores, Burke takes his gun and goes to find King and kill him. When he is gone, King comes and reproaches to Rose. She tells him her whole story and, because of it, refuses him. King, broken-hearted, leaves and runs into Burke. Before Burke can shoot King tells him that Rose has refused him. Burke goes back to the house and encounters the healer. And suddenly it comes over him that the healer is right. He realizes that money and vice are not for Burke. Burke confesses her love for Rose and both promise to go "straight" forever after.

DOROTHY DALTON STARS IN "MARKET OF SOULS"

Screen fans who remember the delight with which they viewed Dorothy Dalton in such triumphs of screen art as "Extravagance," "Other Men's Wives," and "Hard Boiled" will welcome the news that Miss Dalton is to appear in another Paramount-Atcraft picture, "The Market of Souls," at the Empress theater Monday and Tuesday. The story is by John Lynch, Joseph DeGrasse was the director. In "The Market of Souls," Miss Dalton plays the part of Helen Armes, a country girl who has been educated as a trained nurse and comes to New York to follow her chosen profession. Her introduction to the gay life of the metropolis is a New Year's Eve revel at a fashionable restaurant—a scene which required the use of hundreds of extras and is one of the most lavish ever shown on the screen. There Helen meets Lyle and Temple Bane, two brothers as wide apart in character as the poles. Lyle, the unscrupulous one, wants her for her beauty and attempts to win her by force. In a quarrel Temple is blinded by Lyle. Matters finally adjust themselves in a manner that is as startling as it is gratifying.

"BONNIE, BONNIE LASSIE" AT THE MAJESTIC MONDAY

Jeremiah Wishart was an elderly Scot with countless millions. He hated most everything but in particular his relatives. Jeremiah was enjoying an orgy of hate one day when a beautiful girl stepped unannounced into his library and addressed him with the burr of old Scotland in her voice.

Although Jeremiah was at- outs with the world in general he was not blind and Alisa Graeme's beauty was like a hot toddy to his heart. Besides Alisa came with a letter from her own grandfather, back in Edinburgh, and Alisa's grandfather was the only man in the world that old Jeremiah could call "friend." It made a difference.

But Jeremiah had other troubles. He had a nephew who did nothing but could be called useful—except perhaps a few hundred paintings a year. Old Jerry rather liked the boy but he would rather pass out than let him know it.

When the beautiful Alisa Graeme arrived he determined to marry her to his nephew, David. Things would have worked out delightfully except for one thing, and that was that Alisa didn't want to marry anyone.

What happened is told in "Bonnie, Bonnie Lassie," a Universal photogram of Tod Browning's direction with Mary MacLaren in the starring role, showing at the Majestic on Monday.

Richardson THE HABERDASHER

Would Not Take $1000 For Good It Has Done Him

"I wouldn't take $1,000 for the good Orgatone did me," said E. C. Nycusse, Wichita Falls, Texas, in a recent conversation in Young's drug store, some days ago.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion for 10 years," he continued, "and what I ate caused me so much misery that I just hated to eat. I didn't sleep at night, and I would get up in the morning feeling all out of sorts and had so little energy I didn't feel like attending to my business properly."

"I guess I would have kept on going down hill if I hadn't read so much about this Orgatone. Some of these statements described my case almost like I was telling it myself so I got Orgatone and right after the second bottle my appetite began to come back and I started eating again. It wasn't long before I stopped having those bad feelings after meals and I didn't dread going to the table like I used to. I just feel better in every way and although I have tried a great many medicines of various kinds I think Orgatone is the most wonderful treatment I ever took for my whole life. To be honest and frank with you I think I would be a dead man today if I had not taken it when I did. Do not believe in the flattery of this kind but will say frankly that Orgatone has made a believer out of me because personally I would not take anything for the good it did me and I think I ought to let everybody I can know what a wonderful medicine it is."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young Drug Co. exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. (adv.)

Automobile News

INNOVATION IS INTRODUCED BY LOCAL AUTO CONCERN

An innovation in free automobile service is being introduced to Wichita Falls by the Southern Tire & Vulcanizing Company, tire and battery service, consisting in a listing with these wide awake specialists by the automobile owners of the number of their cars, and receiving notice when their cars need water in the batteries, air in the tires, adjust the oil in the crankcase should be changed and when the car requires greasing.

This service, which is claimed to be the first of its sort in the state, is free, the only thing the automobile owner has to do is to list his car—"they do the rest."

The concern is run by Joe B. Catlin and Bill Toney and in addition to having one of the most modern and complete vulcanizing plants in the south, they take pride in the fact that every employe of the concern is an ex-soldier and all have had five years' experience in the vulcanizing game. "Foot Suits," is the brand of service they advertise on Firestone-Carlisle Tires and Ever-ready batteries which in United States means something pretty swift, we understand.

The shop work is in charge of Wm. (Bill) Toney, who has had ten years' experience in the automobile tire, vulcanizing business.

DODGE "TOOL PUSHERS" ARE PROVING POPULAR IN FIELD

Dodge Brothers car is not improperly named when it is called the "Preparedness Car" because it is built with the idea of being "prepared" for an emergency. With its capacity for getting over roads which are practically impassable to almost every other make of car, its low cost of operation, together with the ease with which it is handled, makes it exceedingly popular—this fact is being conclusively demonstrated by the numerous orders which are daily being received by McFall Brothers for the "Tool Pushers," which are so much used by the men of the oil field, more especially so since the opening of the new Iowa Park field.

During the past week they have delivered one of the new model tool pusher jobs to Guy Waggoner and A. B. Wharton of Vernon, Texas, who are highly pleased with its performance.

The enclosed model cars are rapidly gaining in popularity and they have a number of orders on hand for the coupe, however, because of having received a carload shipment of sedans they are now, for the first time in many months, in position to make delivery from the floor of a sedan as they still have two remaining out of

WOMAN'S FAITH HELPS HUSBAND

"I owe my good health to my wife who had faith in a newspaper ad she saw of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I was down so badly with stomach and liver trouble after 15 years of suffering and trying every known remedy that I had no hope of getting better. This medicine has certainly been a 'Godsend' to me. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of money refunded.—A. W."

McFALL BROTHERS HAVE JUST RECEIVED SERVICE FROM THE FACTORY TO THE EFFECT THAT THEY WILL HAVE THREE CARLOADS OF CARS EN ROUTE FROM DETROIT NEXT WEEK AND THIS WILL ENABLE THEM TO MAKE DELIVERY ON QUITE A FEW OF THE BACK ORDERS WHICH THEY HAVE ON FILE.

McFall Brothers now have on their floor a Dodge Brothers chassis completely equipped with chemical fire fighting apparatus, which is a duplicate of the fire truck now being used by the city of Wichita Falls.

NOLEN-STRINGER COMPANY DELIVERS CAR TO VERNON

The Nolen-Stringer Co., local agents for the Haynes automobile, report the delivery of one Haynes 7-passenger model to A. J. Honaker, at Vernon. Owing to the inability of securing satisfactory freight service locally, this concern is following the common method of local auto dealers in having the cars shipped to Waurika, Okla., and "bootlegging" them in overland. The cars each containing three of the new 1929 model have been received here in this manner this week.

The local dealers for the Haynes are featuring the new 1929 4-passenger model in their show rooms at this time. This model which is now on exhibition is of low, graceful appearance, with wheel forming fenders, tilted windshield, one man top, long grain hand fueler, leather upholstery combined with mechanical excellence—a beauty of design which makes an ensemble of popular appeal.

Two Garford trucks have been received by the firm this week in the sturdy 2 and 1-4 ton styles designed especially to stand up under the gruelling oil field work.

CADILLAC DISTRIBUTORS EXPECT TO MAKE DELIVERIES SOON

As soon as the roads from Dallas to this city are good enough, the Munger Automobile Company, local Cadillac agents expect to drive 24 or 30 cars through. All of these cars have been sold for some time, in fact this agency has already contracted for the delivery of 50 Cadillac cars in both the open and closed models before Christmas.

FORD DELIVERIES TOTAL 14 DURING PAST WEEK

Deliveries of Fords, mostly trucks, reached a total of 14 the past week and although the local allotment of Fords is oversold for several months, W. R. Langford, head of the Motor Supply Co., exclusive Ford distributor, is in hopes of being able to catch up on orders in the near future.

BUICK AGENCY RECEIVES ANOTHER LARGE SHIPMENT

The Dixon-Keim Motor Co., local dealers in Buick automobiles unloaded 34 cars at Waurika, Oklahoma, Saturday and drove them into the city. This consignment consists of open models of both roadster and five-passenger designs.

WOULD PLACE AMERICA FIRST AMONG NATIONS IN MANUFACTURE OF TOYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Strong efforts to place America first among the nations of the world in the manufacture of toys are being made by American leaders in the industry, as is evidenced by many letters being received daily at the Art Institute here where the first national exhibit of American made toys is to be held. Beginning Dec. 4, the exhibit will continue throughout that month under the auspices of the Art Institute and Art Alliance of America, Central States Division.

A. D. Converse of Winchendon, Mass., foresees two important results from the exhibit—stimulation of the American toy manufacturers through getting each other's ideas and coming in contact with the public which boys and plays with toys, and progress toward the making of more artistic and imaginative toys.

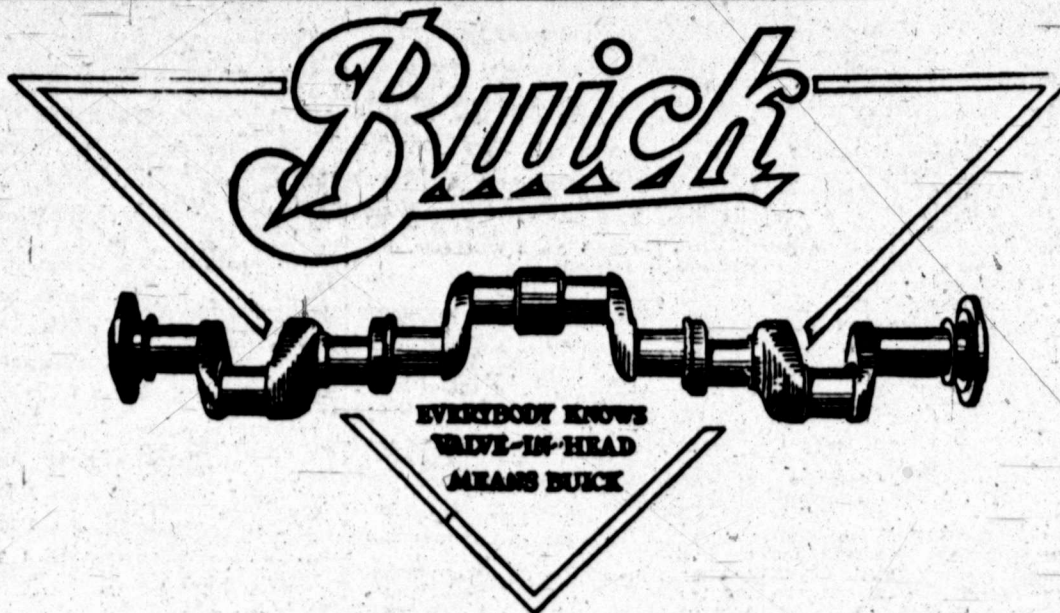

"It is probable that hundreds of manufacturers," he writes, "who are alive to the demand of the present, exercise the imagination and the creative genius will find in the exhibit to be shown at the Art Institute of Chicago in December many toys which are handmade and exhibited by idealists, artists, inventors and model maker and which can easily be built commercially in large quantities without losses to the artistic value of the toy."

American supremacy in toy production will not come without effort, in the opinion of Mrs. Louise Douglas Hyde, chairman of the exhibition committee and herself an extensive buyer of toys.

Germany has already sent at least one shipment of toys to America since the resumption of commerce and a Swiss delegation now is surveying the retail toy shops of this country. French and British manufacturers, in co-operation with their governments have regularly organized traveling toy exhibits, while Japan is making a tremendous bid for American toy trade with a grade of toy Mr. Hyde deems poor in construction and lacking in artistic value.

Manufacturers, individual craftsmen, art and industrial schools and art and manual departments of all schools may exhibit at the toy show. Exhibits must be in by November 15 to allow time for proper mounting.

The Buick Built Crank Shaft has been designated as the back bone of this famous Valve-in-Head Motor because it must withstand the impact of every powerful explosion that takes place in the Buick Valve-in-Head cylinder.

Strength, accuracy and toughness are the fundamental requirements—gauged, hammered and tempered into each crank shaft thru the rigid processes of expert machining, modern drop forging and special electric heating treatment.

Materials of the highest grade, Chrome nickel-steel of a special formulae subjected to rigid metallurgical and chemical tests, are other evidences showing how complete the Buick Factory is equipped to manufacture this important unit so essential in the successful operation of the powerful Buick Valve-in-Head motor.

What Keeps a Battery Young

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job far beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

DESCRIBE LOWER CALIFORNIA AS VERIFORM APPENDIX OF MEXICO AND THE ACHILLES' HEEL OF U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Recent questions that Lower California be bought by the United States from Mexico prompted the National Geographic Society to issue a bulletin describing an area which is described by geographers as the veriform appendix of Mexico and the Achilles' heel of the United States.

It may be unknown to many that the United States or its citizens have had complete possession of Lower California," says the bulletin, "is based on a communication to the Society by E. W. Nelson, during the Mexican War, in 1847, forces of the United States occupied the principal points in the peninsula and declared it American territory, but relinquished it at the close of hostilities. In 1853-54 it was captured and government territory organized by bands of American filibusters under Walker. All advised venture lacked support quickly came to a disastrous end.

Lower California is the long narrow peninsula that projects about 800 miles southeasterly from the southern border of California. Its width varies from about 50 to over 100 miles, and its regular coast-line, over 2,000 miles long, is bordered by numerous bays. Being mainly a mountainous desert region, it is thinly populated, presents many sharply contrasted conditions. Low, sun scorched shores, where death by thirst awaits every traveler, lie close to the coast of towering granite peaks, belts of waving pine forests and in winter by gleaming snow. Great desolate plateaus of ragged rocks have embosomed green-like valleys, verdure-bordered streams and spreading fronds of date palms reveal the mysterious hidden vales of the "Arabian Nights." The western coast is bathed by cool waters and constant fogs, while the eastern shore is lashed by the waves of a warm inland sea, sparkling under almost constant sunshine.

Is Little Known.

Although adjoining some of our known territory and with a rich history which goes back almost four centuries and teems with events, the peninsula still remains one of the least known parts of North America. The early chronicle of its discovery in 1522 by an expedition sent out by Cortes in search of a fabulously rich island said to have been inhabited by Amazons. It has been estimated that at the time of its discovery the peninsula, bordering many of the bordering islands, was peopled by about 25,000 persons. The inhabitants vigorously resisted the intrusion of newcomers, for more than a century efforts to establish military colonies in the land resulted in disastrous failures.

During one period in its history the southern shores of the peninsula served as the lurking place of Sir Francis Drake and other freebooters in wait for the treasure-laden Spanish galleons on their annual voyages from Manila to Mexico.

Half Pirate Smugglers.

Afterwards, during the first two-thirds of the last century, those shores were visited by numerous half-pirates to smugglers and by fleets of whalers and sealers, drawn there by the swarming abundance of whales, fur seal, sea elephants, and sea otter. So ruthless was the pursuit of these animals that in a few decades they were on the verge of extermination, and the business ended, apparently forever.

"During the last half century all parts of the peninsula have been visited, mainly by Americans, in search of mines and other natural resources, but little of the knowledge thus gained has become available to the public. Gold, silver, copper, iron, and other minerals and much fertile land have been found, but the scarcity of water, fuel, forage, and the difficulties of transportation have united with other causes to bring about many failures in the attempts to develop these resources.

Develop Desert.

"The isolation of the desert lowlands of Lower California, combined with alternations of long-continued droughts and heavy rains, has resulted in the development of the richest and most extraordinary desert flora in the world.

"One morning in front of Magdalena Bay, I rode out from a dense growth of bushes into an open area and pulled by horse in amazement at sight of the most extraordinary of them all. Before me was a great bed of creeping devil cactus, which appeared like a swarm of gigantic caterpillars creeping in all directions. These plants actually travel away from the common center of the group, and I saw many single sections 20 to 30 yards away from the others. The part of the stem resting on the ground sends down rootlets and the older stems die in the rear at about the same rate as they grow in front, so they slowly move away from the colony across the flats where they live.

"A large number of the smaller kinds of desert mammals never drink water. They live and thrive on dry seeds and scraps of vegetation in places where the heat and aridity are excessive without ever touching their lips to water, and it has even been found impossible to teach some of them to take water in captivity. Apparently they never know thirst or the delight of quenching it."

The question of extending membership to all officers and men who served honorably with the division at any time will be taken up. According to present rules, only those who served with the division in Europe are eligible for membership in the society.

The JORDAN Silhouette Five

JUST ahead of the London show, and two months in advance of the Grand Central Palace display in New York, Jordan presents the new Silhouette Five—the American ace of light cars.

Everyone knows that the carry-all days of bulk and extravagance in motor cars are passing.

Time was when we bought them like graphophones—large enough to entertain the neighbors.

Now our friends have motor cars of their own.

The world is ready for a real high grade, compact, light weight, good looking, properly balanced, rattle-proof, comfortable and economical motor car, with rare ability to perform, and able to serve the owner satisfactorily over a period of years.

It's a six—of course, for that is the world's trend of motor design. The chassis of finished mechanical excellence is the lightest on the road for its wheel-base. This car weighs only 2800 pounds. In balance it is supreme, holding the roads, speeding forward without a tremor, bouncing and swaying never.

Women, with a natural appreciation for comfort, atmosphere and poise will find it irresistible in its compelling colors and fashion. Comfortable to a delightful degree.

This is the first American light car, in which quality dominates price. The general characteristics of such a car must be quality—unstinted and sustained.

For that is the recognized Jordan ideal.

AIMS OF AMERICAN LEGION OUTLINED BY LOCAL OFFICER

ADJUTANT OF LOCAL POST GIVES PURPOSES OF VETERANS ASSOCIATION.

ANOTHER MEETING TUESDAY

Adoption Of By-Laws And Election Of Additional Officers To Be Considered.

The purposes of the American Legion are best set out, I think, in the preamble to the constitution of the organization," said Elmer C. de Montel, adjutant of the Fat Carrigan post, when asked Saturday for a concise statement as to the aims of the legion.

"This preamble reads: 'For God and Country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.'

Right to Membership.

"The right to membership is another question which I have frequently been called upon to answer within the past few days," continued Mr. de Montel. "This also is definitely set out in the constitution of the legion. The article on membership reads: All persons shall be eligible to membership who were in the military or naval service of the United States during the period between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, both dates inclusive, and all persons who served in the military or naval branches of any of the governments associated with the United States during the World War, provided they were citizens of the United States at the time of their enlistment, and are again citizens at the time of application for membership, except those persons who separated from the service under terms amounting to dishonorable discharge and except also those persons who refuse to perform their military duties on the ground of conscientious or political obligation.

"This last sentence is one of the most important in the article, bearing as it does both the conscientious objector and the soldier who failed in an honest performance of his military obligation through pro-German affiliation.

Wholly Non-Partisan.

"The non-partisanship of the organization is very clearly set out in the article of the constitution defining the nature of the organization. 'While requiring that every member of the organization perform his full duty as a citizen according to his own conscience and understanding, the organization shall be absolutely non-partisan, and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles, or for the promotion of those candidates for any person seeking public office or preferment, in the way this matter is put.

"As was brought out at the last meeting of the local post, this is taken not to mean that the legion will not take active interest in all public questions, as the ex-service men making up this body deem an active interest in all important public questions the highest form of politics, but is simply inserted to insure the legion against its being used for the furthering of any partisan aims or principles.

"So far the only dues that have been collected by the local post are those assessed by the state and national organizations, which make an assessment of 35 cents per member each. An additional 50 cents per year is expected to take care of the local dues.

Next Meeting Tuesday.

"Any ex-service men or women in the city who wish to become members of the local post, have only to drop me a card giving their name, previous organization, business and home addresses, addressing me at 704 Ohio, or better, be present at the next meeting of the organization, which will be held at eight o'clock Tuesday night in the 30th district court room at the Wichita county court house.

"Among the important matters to come up at this meeting are the adoption of a constitution and by-laws for the local post, and the completion of the election of officers. Among the positions yet to be filled are those of post finance officer, post historian and post chaplain. Posts of the legion are being organized rapidly in all parts of the United States, and its members is growing by leaps and bounds, with every prospect of it passing the million mark long before the first year of its existence is passed. A big hole in the organization is the official recognition by the government and the unofficial recognition of the public of the organization as the organization of men who saw service in the war."

OKLAHOMA TO HAVE MEETING WEDNESDAY TO DISCUSS STRIKE

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Oct. 25.—With freezing weather settling over Oklahoma and coal production scheduled to cease November 1, Governor Robertson stepped into the breach in a last hope to stay the walkout of coal miners.

A call for a round-table conference of operators, mines and the public at McAlester next Wednesday was issued at noon. Governor Robertson himself will preside.

"No definite plan has been made," he said. "It is merely a conference for mutual understanding and to create sentiment."

FONVILLE HOME SOLD TO DR. F. R. COLLARD

The A. S. Fonville home, at the corner of Ninth and Filmore, has been sold to Dr. F. R. Collard who plans to make that residence his home. The building is one of the most attractively conceived homes in the city. Mr. Fonville has been instrumental in adding two other beautiful homes to Wichita Falls' residence section, the two former residences having been built and later sold to C. H. Clark and W. H. Ramming.

Mr. Fonville is not planning to leave the city, his large oil and other interests demanding his residence here.

LOCAL NEWSPAPER MEN FORM PUBLICITY BUREAU

Chiefly because they believe "it pays to advertise" and have arguments to prove it, V. A. Baker and T. B. Wheeler has organized the Baker-Wheeler Publicity and have entered the publicity business. Desirable offices are difficult to find here now and it may be a few weeks before the new publicity firm finds a permanent home, and now it can give but a telephone number, 1815, which is, to say the least, a rather slender excuse for an office, especially if the line happens to be busy.

Mr. Baker served during the war in the navy and has had considerable newspaper, advertising and publicity experience, coming here several months ago from California.

Mr. Wheeler is an experienced newspaper man, having worked on papers in Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, New Orleans, on the Pacific coast and in the principal cities of Texas. He conducts a department known as "The Celyum" in The Times, consisting of verse, witticisms, quips and rhymes.

The Baker-Wheeler Publicity proposes to handle all sorts of advertising campaigns, write desirable publicity and do numerous other things calculated to prove that "it pays to advertise."

Why the President Collapsed

Graphic Story of How Woodrow Wilson Met the Five Great Crisis of the Paris Conference

Written in Six Installments

(Copyright 1919 by United Feature Syndicate.)

By Ray Stannard Baker

FIRST INSTALLMENT

President Wilson returned from his western tour in behalf of the treaty and the League of Nations, and his health was at its lowest. He was desperately ill at Washington. His task has broken him down, worn him out. He is as truly a casualty of the great war as any man who fell in the line of duty.

Many people dislike the president—hate him, if you like. But no one who really saw him in action in Paris, saw what he did in those grilling months of struggle, fired at in front, sniped at from behind—and no one who has seen what he has had to do since he came home, with no opportunity for rest or relaxation—will for a moment belittle the immensity of his task or underestimate his extraordinary endurance, energy, courage, both mental and physical.

More than once, there in Paris, going up in the evening to see the president, I found him looking utterly worn out, exhausted, often one side of his face twitching with nervousness. No soldier ever went into battle with more enthusiasm, more aspiration, more devotion to a sacred cause than the president had when he came to Paris, but one day after day in those months, one saw him growing grayer and grayer, grimmer and grimmer, with the fighting lines deepening in his face.

That story of what the president did at Paris, the battle he fought there, the kind of foes he had to meet, the poison gas he used, the story that has been told, people do not see the forces that have brought him low, worn him out. The president himself has not told of the fight—he is constitutionally unable to do so.

There was a man 63 years old—a man always delicate in health. When he came into the White House in 1913 he was far from being a well man. His digestion was poor and he had a serious, painful case of neuritis in his shoulder. It was even the opinion of the greatest physician in America, Dr. Mitchell of Philadelphia that he could not complete his term and retain his health. And yet such was the iron self-discipline of the man—that story has also yet to be told, and it is a wonderful human story—and such as the daily watchful care of Dr. Grayson, that instead of gradually rotting down the presidency in the greatest, most crowded moments of our national history, he steadily gained strength and vigor in Paris he literally worked everybody at the peace conference to a standstill.

It is so easy and cheap to judge the great president, without knowing the problems that were to face. Much of the president's alleged aloofness, so much of his unwillingness to expend energy upon unnecessary visitors—the determination to husband and expend his too limited energies upon tasks that seemed to him essential.

Drove the Leisurely Diplomats. As I say, he worked everybody at the peace conference to a standstill. He worked not only the American delegates, but the way he drove the leisurely diplomats of Europe was often shameful to see. One day he suggested a meeting of the Big Four at 9 o'clock in the morning in Paris. Clemenceau shook his old head and looked despairingly at the president, as though giving him up as hopeless.

Sometimes he would have two meetings going on at the same time. Once I found a meeting of the Big Four going on in his study, and a meeting of the financial and economic experts—twenty or thirty of them—in full session upstairs in the drawing room—and the president oscillating between the two.

It was he who was always the driver, the initiator, at Paris: he worked longer hours, had more appointments, granted himself less recreation, than any other man, high or low, at the peace conference. For he was the central figure there. Everything headed up to him.

Practically all of the meetings of the Council of Four—the "Big Four"—were held in his study in the Place des Etats-Unis. This was the true capitol of the peace conference; here all the important questions were decided. Everyone who came to Paris upon any mission whatsoever, aimed first of all at seeing the President. Representatives of the little, down-trodden nationalities of the earth—from eastern Europe, Asia and Africa—thought if they could only get at the President, explain their pathetic ambitions, confess their troubles to him, all would be well.

I remember vividly one such delegation which symbolized the instinctive trust of the smaller nations in America, and their hope in Wilson's leadership. I came into the office one morning and found two as extraordinary figures as ever came to Paris. They were Polish peasants clad in their own home-spun natural wool, red embroidered with Cossack caps of shaggy black fur. They had with them a Polish priest to tell what they wanted. It seems that they were from a little pocket settlement of Poles in the mountains of Northern Austria, and that in the boundaries that had been set at Paris they were included in the new nation of the Czecho-Slovakia.

They told, and the priest interpreted how they had heard in their mountain homes that the American President who was at Paris had said that people should be free, should have a right to determine how and by whom they should be governed. They wanted to be in Poland, but in Czecho-Slovakia, and so they had set out to walk to Paris to tell the President so. As soon as they got out of their own native mountains they lost their way—so they told me—and turned aside to inquire of a Polish sheep herder. "He was a man," said the priest, "who knew the stars, and the way to go." This sheep-herder, when they told him their story and what they were going to do said, too, "wanted to be free, so the priest expressed it) and came along with them to watch the stars and point out the way to go.

They saw the President. They walked some hundred or more miles into Warsaw where their story attracted the attention of a patriotic Polish society, which sent them on boulevard straight to the Crillon Hotel to find President Wilson. They actually did find him. I saw the three of them—the two peasants and the astronomer who knew the stars, and the priest who talked for them—going up the carpeted stairs of the President's house and into his book-lined study. And I could smell the very odor of their thick woven wool garments, redolent of the soil, in that unfamiliar place.

I think that no one who was in Paris will ever forget the way in which the people of the little oppressed nations of the world turned to America for leadership—or staked their passionate hope in the principles of justice laid down by President Wilson. And it now appears that there are those in America who would shake off every claim to such leadership because it involves new duties and responsibilities.

Well, the President saw and heard scores of such foreign delegations; he received patiently the representatives of many organizations of working men, business men, journalists, women; he saw groups of Jews, Irish, Armenians, Poles, and I don't know how many others; he labored day after day with the disputations, experts of all the delegations; he attended innumerable committee meetings.

Chairman of Commission. In addition to meeting all the problems that Mr. Lloyd George, Mr.

Clemenceau and Mr. Orlando had to meet, he took upon himself, as his special task, the Chairmanship of the League of Nations Commission which, in order not to interrupt the regular sessions of the Council of Ten or the Council of Four often met at night, with the discussions sometimes extending far beyond midnight. It was the hardest worked commission at the Conference.

He saved the list of the president's appointments for a single day (May 9, 1919) on which there happened to be no meeting of the Council of Four. It gives a vivid glimpse of his activities. Here is it:

11:00 a. m. Prince Charoon and the Siamese delegation of the peace conference.

11:30. Dr. A. Markoff and the Carpatho-Russian committee to present the situation in Carpatho-Russia.

11:45. M. Olivier, president of the National Union of Railway Men of France, to explain the humanitarian and sanitary program of the National Union of French and Belgian railway men.

12:00. Mr. J. Jacob, president of the Celtic Circle of Paris, to present an anthology of National Bands and Poets.

12:15. Dr. Juan Antonio Buerro and M. Jacob Verela Acevedo, delegates to the peace conference from Uruguay.

12:30. Turkish Pascha, president of the government of Albania, to present the claims of Albania.

12:45. Senor Vilegas, ex-secretary of state of Chili, minister of Chili at Rome.

2:15. Dr. Edward Benes and M. Kramer, to discuss the problem of Bosnia and the Techen Coal Basin.

2:30. M. Damour, French deputy, chairman of the committee to explain the plans for the erection of a statue at the mouth of the Gironde river to commemorate the arrival of American troops in France.

4:45. A delegation from the parliament of Kouban in Northern Caucasasia.

5:00. The archbishop of Trebisond, M. Chrysanthos.

3:15. Governor Manning of South Carolina.

3:30. M. Joseph Reinach of the Paris Figaro.

I recall asking, when I received this list of appointments: "Is this all?" "That Was Not All," he said. "No, it was not all; he had had guests in for luncheon and he had completed on that day his important message to meet, he took upon himself, as his special task, the Chairmanship of the League of Nations Commission which, in order not to interrupt the regular sessions of the Council of Ten or the Council of Four often met at night, with the discussions sometimes extending far beyond midnight. It was the hardest worked commission at the Conference.

Besides all of these things, he was called upon as no other man of any nation at the conference was called upon—almost forced—to attend public functions of various sorts, to make speeches, to visit neighboring countries—and he was often bitterly censured because he did not do more of this, did not visit more frequently the devastated districts of France, did not revisit this parade, or accept that exhausting hospitality. How he stood up to these stupendous responsibilities, these innumerable tasks, day after day, month after month, is a marvel to those who were there and really knew what was going on.

Once, as is well known, he broke down entirely and was ill in bed for several days at a very critical moment in the peace conference. Yet such was his power of self-discipline, and such the care of Dr. Grayson, that he recuperated swiftly, and each morning seemed as full of energy and as eager to go on with the fight as ever.

Made Powerful Impression. Even when the hardest pressed he never failed to make a powerful impression upon everyone who came into contact with him. I saw many of his visitors soon after they left him; and the reaction was unfeigned. I remember asking a famous Dutch editor—a man who had come into personal contact with nearly every important leader in Europe—what he thought of the president.

"I have never met any man," he said, "who gave an impression of greater distinction and dignity than your president. He has outward strength and inward gentleness."

Whatever may be said by his enemies at home—and he has plenty of them—the president never upon any occasion whatever, no matter how difficult, failed to represent America and the American people with distinction. He never represented what was cheap or crude in American life, but unfailingly what was highest and best; and he was not less successful in capturing the critical audience at the Sorbonne, where he made one of his notable speeches, than he was with the mass of the workers who swarmed around the Crillon Hotel on May day shouting "Vive Wilson, vive le president."

In spite, however, of all the discussion that day his important message to meet, he took upon himself, as his special task, the Chairmanship of the League of Nations Commission which, in order not to interrupt the regular sessions of the Council of Ten or the Council of Four often met at night, with the discussions sometimes extending far beyond midnight. It was the hardest worked commission at the Conference.

Our Semi-Annual Bulletin of Prices

These prices apply only to our present Supply of Merchandise

The 197 busy J. C. Penney Co. stores take this means of acquainting you with its extremely low prices on dependable Ready-to-Wear Apparel for Men, Women and Children—Best wearing Shoes, Dry Goods, Notions.

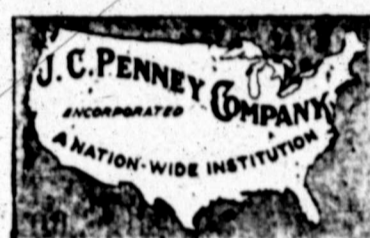

The great buying public of the United States is quick to approve and respond to any sincere system of merchandising that offers a fair deal for one and all alike and that's the thought that prompted the establishment of our first store 17 years ago and the policy that has been persistently pursued by the J. C. Penney Co. ever since. Small wonder then that our Thousands of Satisfied Customers have continued to supply all their needs from our stores in the many reliable lines we sell.

High Quality and Low Prices Combined are the Standards we set up 17 years ago and we've never varied one iota from that cardinal principle in the dealing with our customers in 25 states. Our growth has been rapid because we render a superior service in the communities in which we operate. Test it for yourself in your Fall and Winter purchasing.

TRUE ECONOMY

One of the greatest secrets in the success of a store is the elimination of waste. The history of this store is a record of conservation of human energy and natural resources. Every step that has been made here has been with a view of producing more at less cost—by reducing expenses and increasing the possibilities of handling more merchandise at the same cost.

One visit at this store will convince you that we are prepared to serve the public at less cost; that we can do the volume in trade, and this is of tremendous importance to you as a customer.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY IN MONTANA SHOWS TO BE FAVORABLE

RECENT GOVERNMENT REPORT WILL BE READ WITH INTEREST.

MANY TEXANS INTERESTED

Advise Caution and Considerable Experimentation Before Drilling on Large Scale.

Special to The Times.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—There have been rumors current among Texas oil prospectors that a great new oil field is about to be opened in Montana. Investigations by the United States Geological Survey disclose that surface indications point to a probability of oil sands existing near Poplar, but the government experts advise caution and considerable experimentation before attempting drilling on a large scale.

The Geological Survey's report on this Montana region comes at a time when several Texas drillers have their eyes on the Northwestern state.
In its latest bulletin on conditions in the Poplar district of Montana, the Survey says:

The geological structure in the region around Poplar, Mont., has been supposed to be favorable to the accumulation of petroleum or of natural gas, and recent work of members of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, indicates that there are four structure features in the southern part of this test of the productivity of the region. These features are (1) a rather strong regional dip to the southeast; (2) a series of broad, low folds, which are irregularly spaced from east to west, whose axes strike from north 30 degrees west at Poplar, to north 27 degrees west at Wolf Point, and which are probably part of the Cedar Creek (Glendive) anticlinal system; (3) a system of minor folds parallel to the major folds, whose anticlinal crests are 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 miles apart, the more prominent folds having the greater amplitude; and (4) a system of small folds extending nearly east and west.
The steepest dips observed are to the southeast and for short distances reach six degrees. Northwest dips are rarely seen, owing to the regional dip to the southeast.

As a result of the combination of these features the area between Brookton and Lismas contains two and probably more large, low anticlines that pitch slightly to the southeast, upon whose flanks and crests there are minor domes and structural depressions. These minor domes favor the concentration of petroleum and natural gas, if they present in the region, but test wells should be located with great care.

The axis of the larger of the known folds passes near the northeast corner of sec. 36, T. 25 N., R. 52 E., anticipates the northwest corner of sec.
2, T. 26 N., R. 51 E. It extended this line would pass just east of Poplar and east of and parallel to Rex Elder Creek. The crest of this anticline where it crosses the Lance scarp, in sec. 29, T. 26 N., R. 52 E. is 500 feet, or more above the corresponding major syncline where it passes through sec. 4, T. 25 N., R. 49
E. The eastern limb of this anticline is probably both longer and steeper than the western.

The axis of a second low anticline passes through the northeast corner of sec. 6, T. 25 N., R. 48 E., and extended would pass almost directly through the town of Wolf Point, paralleling the valley of Wolf Creek.
There are probably other folds of this same system in adjacent areas to the west, but these areas have not yet been fully examined.

The part of the geologic section that is of immediate interest to the prospective driller in this area belong to the Montana group, of Upper Cretaceous age. Sands that may serv-as possible reservoirs for oil or gas may be found at the horizon of the Judith River formation, the horizon from which the gas obtained near Glendive probably comes. Sands of the Judith River formation are believed to underlie the region about Poplar at a depth of about 1,500 feet below the top of the Bear pa-(Pierre) shale, or a little more than 700 feet below the river flats at Poplar. The Eagle sandstone, which normally lies about 500 feet lower, may or may not be present in this region, but as it has yielded natural gas at places about 50 miles to the northwest it should be tested in the Poplar area. Lower sands will probably not be found until the base of the Colorado shale is reached, at a depth below the top of the Pierre estimated at from 3,500 to 4,000 feet.

To test fairly the presence of oil and gas in the region wells should be drilled on the Poplar anticlines, but a careful study of the secondary folds should precede drilling. This part of Montana has not yet yielded oil, but the natural gas that has been obtained from the Judith River sands at Glendive and from the Eagle sands near Hinsdale in Valley county, Mont., indicate that sands at the same horizon may be productive near Poplar. The combination of these possibilities would seem to warrant the drilling of test wells in the Poplar area. More detailed information concerning the structure of the area will be published by the Geological Survey as soon as the results of field work now in progress can be compiled.

When you say,
"What's the price?"

WHEN you come in here this fall and pick out a suit and say to the salesman
"How much?"

He'll say "$50" perhaps, or maybe
"$60" or "$70"—depends on the suit you choose.

You may say "Why, I can beat that price $5 or $10."

Probably you can; but that isn't the point, you can't get as much clothes value for your money anywhere else; that $5 or $10 is in the suit; it's the $5 or $10 that makes good quality possible; and that makes the suit outwear the cheaper one two to one.

STATE DOES NOT OBJECT TO ADVANCEMENT OF TEST CASE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The State will offer no objection to the advancement of the woman suffrage test case now pending in the third court of civil appeals, according to an announcement by W. J. Townsend, assistant attorney general, and he said the case is expected to be set for an early date, probably October 29. A motion for advancement made by the plaintiff is pending.

The case first came to trial in Waco, when Tom Hamilton brought suit to prevent the tax collector of McLennan county from issuing poll tax receipts to women, who are allowed under a comparatively new statute to vote in primary elections. In passing upon the case, the district judge at Waco sustained that part of the State's demurrer which set out in substance that the plaintiff has no right to test an election before the election is held.

The State's brief in the court of civil appeals will urge all the demurrers, including the argument that the statute under which the poll tax receipts are issued, is valid, and thus it is hoped that the law will be thoroughly tested. Should the higher courts follow the course of the district court and pass only upon the question decided in the lower court, the constitutionality of the law would still be in doubt.

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The State received $6,000 bonus on 13 blocks of submerged land adjacent to the Goose Creek oil field when these blocks were awarded upon competitive bids. A total of 302 acres was disposed of in this lot.

Survey No. 55 containing 5 acres, brought the highest amount, the Texas-Washington Oil Co. of Houston bidding $1,237 for it. One block containing 25.5 acres went to John L. Wortham of Houston for $30.

Bids upon lands under Matagorda Bay, which were opened the day following the above sale, were not so high, eleven 30-acre tracts bringing only $895 in bonuses.

This land was thrown back upon the market when the land commissioner cancelled leases held by parties who had failed to do necessary development work. And the now contracts call for the drilling of offset wells immediately upon such tracts as have producing wells adjacent.

DECREASE ATTENDANCE AT THE STATE NORMALS

AUSTIN, TEX., Oct. 25.—There has been a decrease in the attendance at all state normal schools, except the Commerce and West Texas Normal, according to Frederick Eby, professor of education at the University of Texas, and there is a considerable increase in the demand for teachers. Last year, he continued, there were at least a dozen college teachers' positions for which there were no applicants, and rural and high school teachers were also very scarce. He said that he fears this shortage will continue until an increased compensation attracts more people to the profession.

This law provides that work of licensed surveyors may become part of court records. Formerly only work of county surveyors was considered as court records.

Mr. Robison announced that it is the intention of the board to call the first examinations simultaneously with those held for school teachers, which will come early in November. A series of questions to be used in these examinations are now being prepared.
