Six Local Sorghum Growers Honored By Northrup King

Local sorghum growers have been honored by Northrup, King and Co., for outstanding achievement during 1972. A total of six growers in this area have been named to membership in the 1972 NK Carload Sorghum Club including: Jimmy C. Briggs planted three NK Hybrids last spring and in October harvested 1,073,400 pounds of grain. He seeded 169 acres to NK285, NK280 and NK222. The NK 285 averaged 7,100 pounds per acre, the NK 280- 6,500 pounds per acre and the NK 222, 4,000 pounds per acre.

Barley County farmer, Raymond Scott planted 203 acres to NK280 in early spring of last year and harvested 1,100,000 pounds (enough to fill 5 and a half hopper cars) in October. He seeded his fields at eight pounds per acre, 40 inch double rows and applied insecticide and herbicide. Scott's excellent crop averaged 5,916 pounds of grain per acre.

side dressed with 150# of NH3 and applied insecticide and herbicide during the growing season. He harvested 873,600 pounds of hybrid sorghum and averaged 7,280 pounds per acre giving him a 1,000 for 1 return from his seed investment.

Over eight hopper cars of NK 280 Hybrid Sorghum was harvested in Bailey County on the Bill Turnbow farm in 1972. Planted at nine and a fourth pounds per acre in 40 inch double rows, his crop averaged 7,158 pounds per acre.

Wesley Barnes was "well pleased" with his '72 crop of NK 280 sorghum. He harvested enough to fill five and a half hoppers full of grain and averaged 7,600 pounds per acre. Barnes seeded his good crop at 10 pounds per acre in 40 inch double rows and applied insecticide and herbicide to the crop.

Gene Smith of Lazbuddie planted 220 acres of NK280 last May and harvested 1,716,000 pounds in October. Smith seeded at nine pounds per acre after applying 150# of 10-40-10 to the soil. During the growing season, he applied insecticide and herbicide to the crop. Smith's crop averaged 7,800 pounds of hybrid sorghum per acre.

Formed by Northrup King as a means of bringing recognition to sorghum growers all over the nation, the club provides a clearing house for ideas on production techniques and offers assistance in dealing with all types of crop problems. The 1972 awards take on unusual significance in view of USDA predictions of the second biggest sorghum harvest in history, despite reduced planting and unusually difficult harvest conditions in the fall of 1972.

"Exceptional yields like these are a tribute to the dedication and ingenuity shown by American farmers," said James Massie, president of Northrup, King and Co. "Since the introduction of hybrid sorghum less than 20 years ago, sorghum has moved from being a marginal crop to a position as the second most important feed grain crop in the United States. We feel this is an outstanding achievement and we are happy to honor a group of farmers making a vital contribution to the world

Cotton Equipment Demonstration Set

LUBBOCK -- A field day featuring herbicide and incorporation equipment and new cotton production implements has been set for March 14 at the St. Lawrence Community Center in Glasscock County.

Announcement of the event comes from Roy Childers, area agricultural engineer-cotton mechanization with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

The field day will include equipment display and performance tests in nearby cotton fields, says Childers. Seven companies will exhibit their wares. Cotton producers will have a chance to discuss costs and performance of the implements with customer representatives.

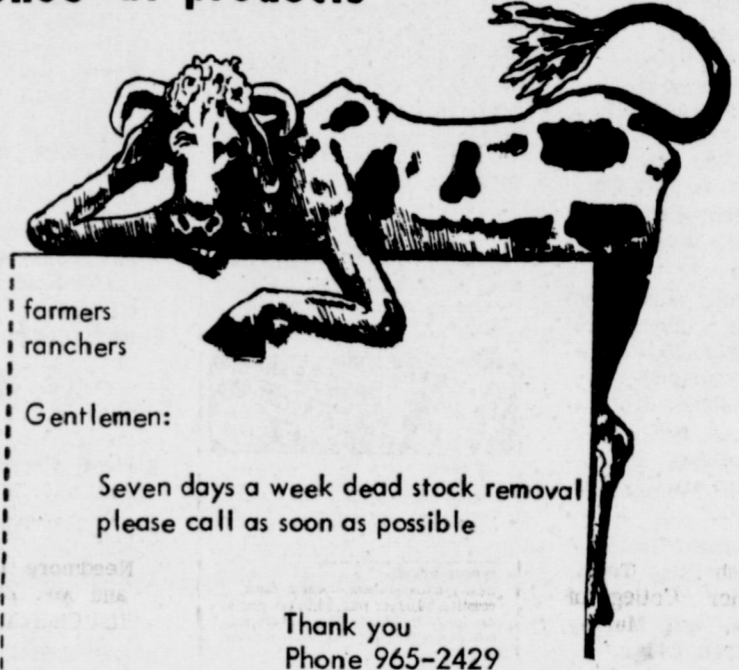

Some 40,000 acres are placed in cotton production each year in Glasscock, Upton and Reagan counties, most of it in a skip-row pattern, states Childers. The Glasscock County Extension Cotton Committee is sponsoring the demonstration to bring the producers new technology in production and harvesting efficiency.

St. Lawrence is situated south of Garden City on Farm Road 2874. Travelers can reach the community center by going 9.9 miles south on Farm Road 33, and turning west on Farm Road 2874, about five miles.

 to get the land ready for planting following the unusually late harvest, will be delayed for several days from working in the fields. The rains were welcomed by ranchers and wheat farmers and will also add to the available moisture for planting row crops.
 The farmers need clear weather following the moisture to finish land preparation for planting. Early vegetable crops of potatoes and onions were being planted on the onset of the rainy weather. It was expected that corn would be planted by the end of the month, with the cotton and grain sorghum crops being planted later in the spring.

SPAG Health Advisory Council To Meet

COLLEGE STATION --- Fryer chickens remain a bargain in comparison with other high-protein food--although chicken prices increased in recent weeks.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, also listed eggs as an economical protein choice with large-size eggs the "better bargain."

She cited lower pork supplies for this time of year as the reason for price boosts in that market section.

"Some markets are spotlighting a wide variety of choice ham selections, including center ham slices -- which usually represent a good menu choice. "Scattered features are available of beef, as this is the time of year when steaks are in less demand.

"Chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver generally make the most economical choices.

"In evaluating chuck cuts, remember the tender blade roast provides less edible meat per pound, so figure only two servings per pound from it and three from the round bone roast."

Turning to vegetables, the specialist named root vegetables as most plentiful--carrots, turnips, potatoes and dry, yellow onions.

"Cabbage is in generous supply with attractive price tags. "Fresh asparagus, eggplant, sweet potatoes, celery, broccoli, squash, cauliflower and head lettuce offer menu variety generally at moderate price levels.

"Fruit counters are continuing to show plenty of citrus, apples and bananas as the lowest costing items. Avacados and fresh strawberries sport rather economical price levels."

day, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. John Jaquez, pastor of the Baptist Spanish Mission, spoke to approximately 80 persons who attended. He stressed the importance of the kindergarten in helping the children get off to a good start in public school.

Mrs. George Washington showed slides of the kindergarten work, featuring the children who have attended the last three years. She stated that the aim of the kindergarten was to meet the physical, social, emotional, intellectual and spiritual needs of its pupils in the name of Jesus, and for His glory.

The program was closed by prayer led by Kenneth Precure. Following the program, refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Mrs. John Jaquez, Micky Hernandez and Mrs. Jimmy Gonzalez. The kindergarten classrooms of Mrs. Virginia Valle and Mrs. Washington were open for visitors to display the pupil's work.

Food Is Still A Bargain

WACO--(Spl)--The president of the Texas Farm Bureau said farmers are afraid that "misguided public concern" over food prices will lead to a price freeze on raw agricultural products.

J.T. (Red) Woodson made the comment in reference to a news report that retail food prices have made the greatest one-month increase in 20 to 25 years. He warned that price controls would result in scarcities instead of benefitting the consumer.

"We cannot produce food unless we make a profit which will permit us to stay in business," the head of the 137,000 member general farm organization said. "Consumers must realize that prices farmers received over the past 20 years have gone up only about 12 percent while farm production costs have soared to ten times that."

The farm leader said that, despite publicity over food price increases, food is still a bargain.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

A salad is often the most exciting dish for a busy-day schedule. Serve meat loaf made by your favorite recipe and use a dip of ice cream on a warmed donut for dessert to round out your menu.

Green Salad

- 1 head lettuce, torn in pieces
- 2 stalks celery, chopped
- 2 green onions, chopped
- 2 tomatoes, cut in wedges
- hard boiled eggs, 1/2 per person.

Combine salad ingredients. Arrange sliced eggs on top. Use French dressing or any dressing preferred by individuals. This combination makes an attractive individual salad also.

Guiding Children's Behavior With A Positive Approach

COLLEGE STATION --- Typically, parents punish children more than praise them, according to one authority. Jane Fleischer, specialist in family life education with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University, stressed that punishment isn't the sole method for guiding behavior.

"There's also the positive approach--which encourages a child's good behavior through rewards.

"Nevertheless, positive guidance isn't simply rewarding good behavior instead of punishing the undesirable--it involves guiding by reward.

"When using this approach, parents should remember three

"First, when a child behaves in a desirable way reward him immediately. Thus, he learns what things or actions will gain a reward.

"Second, rewards should apply to a child--such as something special or something he enjoys. This varies with children, depending on their interests and personal likes and dislikes.

Miss Fleischer pointed out that the strongest rewards are those which "make a child feel 'good inside.'"

Examples are "Thank you for helping with the dishes--they're sparkling clean" and "Pick up your toys, then find a story and we'll read."

"Third, don't wait until the ultimate goal is achieved. Reward progress--encouragement is needed along the way."

"After receiving a reward, a child is likely to repeat the act to get another 'good feeling.' Children learn through repetition, since behavior changes slowly.

Turning to punishment, the specialist emphasized that behavior taught through punishment is usually difficult to change.

"For example, a child guided by punishment into being quiet and subdued may not easily become outgoing and aggressive later."

At this point, Miss Fleischer requested that parents take a close look at their own situations -- by answering the following questions.

"What are your children doing that meets your approval? "What are you doing to encourage repetition of those actions? How do you relay your satisfaction or approval?"

"What words are used in rewarding children? What others could be used more effectively?"

"Remember, the goal of guidance is to change the desire--not just the behavior," the specialist concluded.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

A New High . . . Auction Receipts Decline . . . Sheep and Lamb Feeding About Steady . . . Still Only Three . . .

For several years, the human population and the cattle and calf population in Texas were at about equal levels. But as of January 1, that has all changed.

The inventory of all cattle and calves in Texas is now 15,350,000 head, while the human population is around 12,000,000.

The 15,350,000 cattle and calves represents a 14 per cent increase over a year ago levels.

And as numbers went up, so did the value. The inventory value of all cattle and calves on Texas Farms and ranches is $3.5 billion; this is 42 per cent higher than a year ago.

Beef cow numbers at 5,320,000 head are up 16 per cent; milk cows at 360,000 are up one per cent; and beef replacement heifers at 1,043,000 are up 21 per cent.

The calf crop in Texas totaled 5,444,000; this is a three per cent increase.

Nationwide, the number of cattle and calves is up four per cent from the previous record. The nation has 121,990,000 cattle and calves. "Texas continues to be the leading state in the nation in totals of cattle and calves," Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

AUCTION receipts for cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and goats in Texas are below year-ago levels, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

During this past year, 181 livestock auctions inspected by the Texas Animal Health Commission reports a six per cent drop in calf and cattle receipts.

Sheep receipts were down 11 per cent; goat receipts were 26 per cent below the previous year. Hogs receipts were down 19 per cent.

DRYLOT sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 90,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter as of February 1. This is the same as the number on feed a month earlier but three per cent below the number on feed a year ago.

Current intentions to market are: 45,000 in February; 35,000 in March; and 10,000 in April.

ONLY three commodities are above effective parity in Texas. They are oats, calves and sheep.

All feed grains except grain sorghum showed advances during the recent month. Wheat averaged $2.40 per bushel, up nine cents; corn averaged $1.78 bushel, up seven cents; oats averaged $1.05 per bushel, up four cents; and grain sorghum averaged $2.75, down four cents.

Hogs averaged $30.40 per hundredweight, beef cattle averaged $37.20; calves averaged $52.10, sheep averaged $13.50, and lambs averaging $34.80.

Eggs were up two cents from the previous month averaged 52 cents per dozen.

Milk averaged $7.75 per hundred pounds, down a nickel from the previous month.

Cotton declined during the past month. It now averaged 20 cents per pound, which is down 1.2 cents per pound.

DE students have common objectives and interests. Each is studying for a specific career in marketing and distribution.

There are 560 high schools in Texas that teach Distributive Education courses to more than 19,000 students.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNER . . . Tracie Webb, a fourth grade student, was the grand prize winner in the Mary DeShazo Elementary Science Fair held Tuesday, March 6. Her science exhibit was on the growth of plants.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Contract for Lifetime Care

"You get everything I own. In return, I get complete care for the rest of my life."

In effect, this was the agreement that an elderly widower made with a retirement home. And when he died a few years later, the management put in a claim for his remaining assets.

However, the man's relatives went to court with an objection. "This was gambling, pure and simple," they argued. "No one knew how many years he would live. No one knew how much property he would have when he died. And gambling contracts are illegal."

But the court saw nothing illegal about the contract. Finding it no more of a gamble than an insurance policy, the court said the law had no objection so long as both parties understood what they were doing.

In most cases, contracts for lifetime care have been upheld as lawful and reasonable. Courts say they serve a useful purpose for those who want the security of a safe haven in their declining years.

Nor does the contract become invalid just because it happens to work out better for one side than the other.

In one case, a retirement home got a financial windfall because a relatively young resident, after paying a large membership fee, died within a few months.

In another case, a retirement home tried to back out of its contract after paying hospital expenses for an ailing resident for more than four years.

But in both cases, despite complaints, the courts ruled that a deal was a deal and had to be carried out.

Still, a contract might be invalidated by deception. One retirement home carefully avoided telling an incoming resident that he was signing over all of his property.

In this case, after the man died, his property was held to belong to his children, not to the home. The court said it could not fairly enforce an agreement on which there was no "meeting of the minds."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets his mind off of world problems and onto sports this week, for a change.

Dear editor:
The trouble with most problems afflicting the human race is that people attack the problems backwards, sideways and every other way except straight on.

Take the problem of basketball. As I understand from reading the sports pages recently, recruiting of basketball players by the colleges is getting out of hand, in fact scandalous.

"You wouldn't believe what's going on," one prominent coach said when a bunch of colleges were being investigated for violating recruiting rules, like paying the players far more than the rules allow, giving them free automobiles, getting their parents cushy jobs, etc.

As it appears to me, basketball is now a game of height, and since the number of high school seniors who have reached a height of 6 feet 6 inches, or 6 feet 8 or in a few cases among the top-ranked teams 7 feet, is limited, naturally there's a wild scramble for them all over the country and it's no longer considered unusual for a boy say in New York to decide to get his higher education in California for example, although any other combination of states can be used. Tall boys just seem to get a better education at distant schools.

College professors who set up the recruiting rules are thus fighting a losing battle, because when the demand exceeds the supply, the price jumps, whether it's basketball players or T-bone steaks.

The answer to the problem is simple. Instead of setting up more rules and hiring more people to enforce them, all you'd have to do is raise the baskets four or five more feet.

A 7-foot boy would then have a lot less advantage over a boy 6-foot-6 or even just 6 feet. If the recruiters come up with a 10-foot boy, raise the baskets still higher. I don't know anything about genetics but I don't believe they'd ever have to raise the baskets till they came out of the roof of the gym. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Never lose your temper because someone else can't think clearly.

MOUNTAIN TOP

"MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCES"... It is not yet vacation time, however that time is approaching and we start remembering the wonderful feelings and experiences of our last trip to the mountains, and now we can start to plan new adventures.

That closeness, and the exciting feeling when worshipping the Lord is often referred to as a "MOUNTAIN TOP EXPERIENCE." We invite you to come worship the Lord in his house, and receive the joys of being close to God. Attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny. The truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

In late April, the 51 Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow representing every state and the District of Columbia -- each accompanied by a faculty adviser -- will gather in Washington, D.C., for an expense-paid tour of the capital city and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Culminating the tour will be announcement of the 1973 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up. To be selected through personal observation and interviews during the tour plus state-level judging results, they will be awarded increases in their scholarships to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

Instituted in last year's Betty Crocker Search, a $1,000 Nutrition Scholarship is included in the program again this year. Recipient of this grant will be the participating student who is planning a college major in nutrition or a related field, ranks among the highest in his or her state on the overall examination and, from those meeting these two criteria, achieves the top score on the FTA nutrition questions.

A total of 665,600 seniors were enrolled in this year's Search, the first in which boys were eligible to participate. Since the program began in the 1954-55 school year, approximately nine million students have taken part and, with this year's grants, scholarship awards will exceed $2 million.

This month's Student of the Month is Donna Herring. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Buckner. She has a brother, Gary, who is a freshman, and a sister, Edna, who is 10 years old.

Donna works at Hensley-Russell, Inc. as a clothing assistant. Among her many responsibilities she bundles garments according to size, and stacks the garments.

That is not all; she also inspects garments as well as becomes familiar with the different kinds and amounts of merchandise on hand and assists with inventory of merchandise at specified times.

Donna says that her main interests are sewing, horsetack riding, Church activities, and the outdoors in general.

When asked to remark on the program, Donna had this to say, "HERO is proving to be a worthwhile experience. This will help me in my future years."

Sandyland Weed Symposium To Feature Control Developments

BROWNFIELD -- If weeds are your problem, and you live in the sandyland areas of West Texas, this conference is for you.

So stated Drs. James R. Supak and Robert B. Metzger, area agronomists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

A half-day symposium on weed control is set for March 13 at the Party House in Brownfield's City Park. Featuring the latest information on controlling weed pests, the afternoon meeting, which begins at 1:30 p.m., will include topics on weed research, herbicide residues, perennial weeds, new herbicides for sandy soils, and application methods.

"This event will last only 2 and 1/2 hours," say Metzger and Supak who will participate in the program along with three researchers specializing in weed control. "But the information a producer would gain could save him heavy economic loss and a lot of frustration for years to come."

The spokesmen for the special meeting, which is jointly sponsored by the South Plains Development Program, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, explain that producers in the sandyland areas of West Texas have been plagued with tough weed problems to the extent that their economic loss on crops is unusually heavy.

Last year, for example, some sandyland producers reported hoe bills up to $40 per acre and some fields had to be abandoned due to the fierce weed competition. These losses were in addition to those resulting from reduced yields due to weed competition with crops.

ON POLICE SLAYINGS

A FBI report shows 112 law enforcement officers killed on duty in the United States last year, down 11 per cent from 1971. FBI Director L. Patrick Gray said 126 officers were killed on duty in 1971.

for water, sunlight and nutrients. The symposium is designed specifically to help producers avoid such losses. District Extension Agent Billy C. Gunter will preside. Others on the program include Dr. Dudley T. Smith, assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station; Dr. Allen

Wiese, professor of weed control at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland; and Bill Turner, an official in research development with a commercial chemical company at Lubbock.
