CARRANZA SENDS 30,000 MEN INTO BORDER DISTRICT FRENCH FOLLOW UP THEIR SUDDEN GAINS AT VERDUN

ORIGINAL PLANS FOR SENDING 10,000 TROOPS ARE CHANGED BY DE FACTO GOVERNMENT, WASHINGTON IS ADVISED

EFFECT ON ATTITUDE GROUND BEING HELD

Believed Withdrawal of Sibley's Expedition After Accomplishing Its Mission Will Have Good Bearing on Conditions in Mexico.

By Associated Press. Washington, May 23.—The Carranza government has ordered 30,000 troops into the region south of the border to exterminate bandits, according to information received today at the state department.

The new troops are already in movement, he advised state. The columns are routed north by way of Saltillo, since the railway strike has interfered with movement of troop trains over other lines.

Officials here were inclined today to anticipate a further delay by General Carranza in dispatching his new force regarding the border situation because Colonel Sibley's expedition in pursuit of the Boscawen raiders has returned across the border.

Prompt withdrawal of this expedition will probably have a beneficial effect on future negotiations with the de facto government, officials here believe.

General Carranza cannot fail to look upon the retirement of the troops when the immediate mission is concluded as demonstrating the purpose of the American government to be only the policing of the region.

Mustering of the Arizona and New Mexico guardsmen is being delayed. General Funston reports, until companies can be recruited to required standard. Official figures on the number of Texas Guardsmen actually mustered into the federal service were 2444 of an increase of 447 men over the full strength of the organization when it was called out.

Col. Sibley's four cavalry troops which entered the Mexican border in search of the Boscawen raiders were back on the border without casualties, having penetrated 134 miles to unknown country. They rescued two Americans held by the bandits and brought back from Mexico prisoners.

Maxton Leitcher, American consul at Chihuahua, was due to arrive in Washington today with a full report on economic conditions in northern Mexico to be made to the state department. Officials understand the conditions are bad.

At Mexico City the Carranza government was making another motion to be sent to the United States within a few days. Officials here suggested it might contain a renewal of the demand for withdrawal of 150 members of the Texas National Guard are subject to court martial for refusing to take the mustering oath to enter federal service. Baker was to be advised concerning possible action in this case.

NEW PROTEST ON MAILS SEIZURE FINISHED TODAY

By Associated Press. Washington, May 23.—President Wilson sent to the state department today the completed draft of the new law to Great Britain protesting against interference with American mails. It was not laid before the cabinet, but its general terms were explained. The note will be cabled to London immediately and it is understood that a duplicate will go to the French government.

Secretary Lansing and legal experts at the State Department made the original draft of the note, and the President revised its phraseology. It is made up largely of legal agreements to meet the contentions of Great Britain in the memorandum concurred in by France, presented to the State Department several weeks ago. The United States taken the position that the practices complained of in its first complaint on the subject have been continued and that the American Government must now insist more emphatically that they cease.

State Department officials consider that the weakness of Great Britain in her policy of taking neutral mail vessels into British jurisdiction and submitting them to local censorship. It is on this point that the renewed protest is based.

The new British memorandum avoided this phase of the question. Rapid transmission is promised to "true correspondence," but the right to seize contraband sent in the mails was maintained.

The Hague convention of 1907, the United States contends, guarantees the inviolability of postal correspondence, and the new note points to inconspicuous and actual money loss resulting from the continuance of the British policy of taking neutral mail vessels into British ports and there examining and detaining the mails.

A mass of evidence has been collected showing the effects on American business of the British policy.

Eighteen cars of food and forage shipped over the Mexican & Northwestern railroad reached the American command at Chisos Grandes yesterday, according to reports here. This, taken with the dispatch of an engineer company to repair roads to the colonias Dublan, was taken here as supporting the contention that for the present no general withdrawal of the expeditionary command is contemplated.

CONVENTION OF REPUBLICANS IS ABOUT TO SPLIT VICTORY FOR FERGUSON IN FIRST CLASH

ACTION OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IN COUNTY CONTESTS CAUSES DELEGATES TO MEET AT FORT WORTH

AGAINST ROOSEVELT

Sentiment in Convention Said to Be Decidedly Opposed to Former President—Harris County Negroes Are Refused Seats.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, May 23.—With two conventions threatened, one the regular and the other a second, the Republicans of Texas began the selection of their delegates to the Chicago national convention this morning. The Harris county delegation was to meet the regular convention to order at 10:30 o'clock.

Discussion arose last night when the executive committee decided to select temporary chairman of the convention. The convention will be decidedly anti-Roosevelt.

The executive committee continued its contest hearings all morning, discussing of only one important case, the Galveston county contest, in which the Ben Saxe delegation was seated. Eugene Marshall of Dallas was selected temporary chairman of the convention. This afternoon the executive committee decided to seat the regular Harris and Texas county contestants. A number of Harris county negroes, refused a vote in the convention, left for home last night.

By Associated Press. New York, May 23.—The slate continued to pile up medical testimony today as the foundation of its case against Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, charged with murdering his aged father-in-law, John Peck, of Grand Rapids. Mr. Peck was reputed to be a millionaire and the theory of the prosecution was that the defendant committed a murder for money.

SINKING OF THREE SHIPS IS REPORTED

Seven Members of Crew of British Vessel Killed When Mine Is Encountered.

By Associated Press. London, May 23.—Lloyd's today reported the sinking of three ships. The Greek steamship Adamantios Korais of 2847 tons gross was sunk by the Austrians in the Mediterranean. The Italian sailing vessel Fabricotti was sunk in the Mediterranean. The British steamship Rhebas of 285 tons gross was sunk by a mine; seven of her crew were killed.

NORWEGIAN STEAMER IS SUNK BY AUSTRIAN SUB

Paris, May 23.—The Norwegian steamer Tjomo has been sunk near Alcudia, island of Majorca, by an Austrian submarine, according to a Havas dispatch today. The crew of seven was saved. The Tjomo was of 1453 tons, gross, built in 1892.

Madrid, May 23.—The owners of the Steamship Marguete De Meduza which left New York for Bilbao on May 1 believe the ship has fallen a victim to a submarine. Nothing has been heard from her since she sailed.

ALPINE PEAKS ARE HELD BY ITALIANS

Claim That Further Advance By Austrians Is Impossible—Desperate Fighting Proceeds.

By Associated Press. Rome, May 23.—The Austrians have transferred to the Italian front a number of 321 and 420 millimeter guns. The latter cannon have been taken from the batteries which have been bottled up in the harbor of Pola since the beginning of the war.

The detonnations of these famous cannon seem to actually split the Alpine peaks, causing frequent avalanches, but in spite of the terrific bombardment that is going on day and night and the reckless expenditure of ammunition by the Austrians, their further advance seems impossible in view of the positions which the Italians hold tenaciously.

EARLY COMPLETION OF OREURY EXPECTED

By Associated Press. Waukegan, Ill., May 23.—Judge Charles Donnelly sitting in the case of Will Orpet, University of Wisconsin student charged with the murder of Marian Lambert, Lake Forest high school girl, predicted that the jury in the case would be completed before adjournment today.

OPponents OF TOM LOVE GIVEN PLACEMENT IN TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION AND ON PERMANENT COMMITTEES TODAY.

SESSION IS BRIEF

Convention Works Less Than An Hour, Adjourns Tomorrow to Give Various Committees Time to Prepare Reports.

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Tex., May 23.—Proceedings in the state democratic convention which opened at 12:15 o'clock today were brought to a sudden halt by a five minute adjournment. The permanent committees were announced and approved the convention's adjournment until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

On account of the number of important questions before the convention, adjournment was taken at an early hour in order to allow the various committees to hold conferences this afternoon and make reports tomorrow.

The outstanding feature of today's short session was Chairman Ward's declaration that there will be no outside influences, particularly of organizations, allowed to work outside the convention and the apparent defeat in the first skirmish of the prohibitionists by the appointment of opponents of Thomas B. Love of Dallas as national committeeman to the temporary organization and the permanent organization.

Speculation has taken another turn since the early adjournment and it is now believed that unless something unforeseen should develop the so-called Ferguson-Hughes program will be put through in a short time tomorrow.

Between 500 and 600 spectators in addition to the delegates filled the hall to capacity.

Previous to the convention all forces caucused in the hotel lobbies, relating plans of campaign while congressional district convention names their choice as delegate to the St. Louis meeting. Predictions on the duration of the convention changed somewhat as temporary chairman Ward rapped for order. It was believed in some circles that three days would be the minimum. This surmise, however, is believed to have been due to the determination of the prohibition forces to carry out their platform of opposition to anything which "savors of the so-called liquor party."

Wearing apparel of delegates and visitors which ranged from the broad brimmed hat, flannel shirt and cowhide boots, of the range delegates to the tropical attire of the South Texas contingent, reflecting the vagaries of Texas climate, served to make the scene a variegated one.

ROOSEVELT GOT ONLY 200 VOTES IN OREGON ELECTION

Portland, Ore., May 23.—Late returns today from Friday's presidential primary gave Justice Hughes a plurality of 57,000 to 20,000 per cent of the vote still unreported.

The vote stands: Hughes 50,257, Cummins 23,704, Burton trailing far behind. Roosevelt's vote will probably not amount to 20,000 in the entire State. His name did not appear on the ballot. His supporters were expected to write in his name.

ROOSEVELT SEEMS IN FAVOR AT WACO

Indications Are That Progressive State Convention Will Give Him Instructed Delegates.

By Associated Press. Waco, Tex., May 23.—It is expected that Roosevelt will be endorsed for president and the 46 delegates who will represent the progressives of Texas instructed to vote for him at the national convention as a result of the state convention which began here this morning.

GERMANY'S FOOD PROBLEM PUT IN DICTATOR'S HAND

The president of this board will be empowered to dispose of all foodstuffs, raw material and other articles necessary to the supplying of food, fodder and material necessary for the feeding of animals.

The appointment of a food dictator was forecast by the Cologne Gazette following the resignation of two German cabinet ministers.

CONSIDER HUGHES BEST BET JUST NOW

Justice Receives News of New Delights Without Comment. Is Picked Against Field.

Washington, May 23.—Justice Hughes received without apparent excitement news of his overwhelming triumph in the presidential primaries in Oregon.

His secretary announced, when the returns were read to him, that there will assuredly be no expression from the Justice, and that it could not even be said whether he was interested in the contest.

Republican leaders who believe they have control of the coming republican convention, however, took an entirely different view of the situation. "Hughes against the field," was the expression of one prominent senator, and he declared the only figure in "the field" who could be regarded as more than a favorite son since the beating given Cummins and Burton in Oregon, is Colonel Roosevelt.

Because of the failure of the forces friendly to Roosevelt in Pennsylvania to do better than an even break, if that well, with Penrose, the Justice was declared a leader over the Colonel in the face of incomplete returns in Oregon, Cummins and Burton followers made no formal statements. It is known, however, both had determined to make the presidential campaign by coming a national rather than a local candidate, by a defeat of Justice Hughes in a contest where popular sentiment has been all for the Progressive States of the West.

One conservative leader, while claiming to regard the first ballot in the coming convention as among the least consequential events, gave out this estimate of strength: Cummins 35, Burton 10, Fairbanks 140, Root 120, Weeks 120, Borah 8, Dupont 6, Sherman 90, Hughes 90, Roosevelt 65, La Follette 25, Ford 30, Brumbaugh 30, and the other thirty-six miscellaneous. In this computation, however, are included many uninitiated delegates, of whom the men who claim them are uncertain.

Senator Weeks, for instance, believes he will have 174 on the first ballot, but one of his friends qualifies this "if we can hold them." He complained of the Southern delegates as quick as a week's worker left the "front door, somebody else came in from behind."

Only one more primary remains, South Dakota. May 23. West Virginia has a formal primary, but the State convention has agreed upon a slate of candidates whom general support is said to have developed. Senator Cummins is expected among politicians to show his normal Prairie State strength in the South Dakota fight.

WILSON TO WRITE PARTY'S PLATFORM

Foreign Policy Expected to Receive Particular Attention in Document

Washington, May 23.—President Wilson will write the Democratic platform that will be adopted at the party convention, if party leaders are correct in their statements.

He will receive suggestions from Democratic leaders, but it is taken for granted that the president's influence is said to have been shown in Missouri Democrats and the latter document is believed to forecast to a considerable extent the national platform, so far as foreign affairs are concerned. The Missouri platform endorsed Wilson's foreign policies saying:

The United States has been kept out of war. America's rights have been forcefully championed. A policy of non intervention into Mexico has succeeded, while prompt action followed raids across the border.

The Monroe doctrine has been upheld, fair dealing with states American republics insisted upon and friendly feeling created. Planks on domestic issues likewise will be chiefly devoted to nothing with pride to these things declared to be accomplished:

Federal reserve system, new currency act, federal trade commission, tariff reductions, rural credit, relief to labor unions from the anti-trust laws, the Alaska government railroad, increases in the army and navy.

What will be said of child labor legislation, merchant marine, conservation and certain other questions, depends on what Congress accomplishes in the next three weeks.

Routh also of Springfield, and the two drew up a ritual. It was then found that not

WAR CAUSES DEATH OF TEXAS WOMAN

Cut Her Hand to Obtain Blood With Which to Write to Wilson Urging Peace

Special to The Times. San Antonio, Tex., May 23.—The European war was brought close to home Friday, when Mrs. Helene Darby was adjudged in a state of insanity resulting from worry over the fate of her brothers, who are fighting in the German army.

She suffered a breakdown while preparing to become a trained nurse to enlist in the European war. She wrote a letter with blood obtained by cutting her hand to President Wilson, asking him to stop the war.

She has likewise written letters to editors of New York newspapers, asking them to aid her in her mission of peace. She believed that peace should come by means of arbitration through the Jews. She had planned to become a trained nurse to go to the battlefields and enlist in the cause of the fatherland, but she suffered a breakdown under the mental strain and her present pitiable condition is the result. She left here for Cincinnati about a month ago, where she entered a training institution, and while there she went to Washington, where she called on the editors of several newspapers and it was here she was taken in charge and placed in the Bellevue hospital, after which she was brought to her home here. She is 34 years of age.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

There is a fair sweet way our feet may tread. An upper way where noblest ones have led; There is a garden where the blossoms blow That crown the pure of heart who upward go. But, ah, a cruel word may cloud the day And shut the sunshine from that upper way. A cruel whisper all the blossoms blight And cast a gloom where erst was cloudless light. This cruel work, oh yow you will not speak! Oh, love that you relentlessly will seek To silence what might cost another pain or harm. If it perchance were told again; That you will say of others only good And walk this way of higher womanhood. —Anna Robinson Watson.

ENGLAND'S STRIFE ON ISLAND OF HAITI

Public Almost Never Free Black Revolution—has Interesting History

The National Geographic Society, from its headquarters in Washington gives the following account of the revolution ridden Siamese (now of the family of nations): "Less than two months after Columbus first sighted France in the western hemisphere he had set foot on the northwest extremity of the island which he named Española (later Santo Domingo), subsequently renamed Hispaniola and now known as Haiti. Four years later Santo Domingo, on the southeastern coast of the island, was founded by the first European settlement in the New World. For two hundred years Haiti, then called Santo Domingo, remained a Spanish colony, but by the treaty of Madrid, signed in 1763, the dominion of Louis XIV of France, through a peculiar combination of circumstances, constituting our story in the history of the western world, Tortuga, lying off the northwestern coast of Santo Domingo, had been divided into two parts. One part, that of a group of adventurous English and French seamen, led by bold and ruthless commanders. These privateers, as they were called, had been waging a bitter warfare against Spanish commerce, their animosity being actuated by Spain's repressive trade regulations. Santo Domingo, under the control of the Spaniards, was the scene of the butchering of wild cattle, the deer being sold to the natives. The natives prepared this meat in huts which they called boucans and the English and French seamen, learning the trick of curing the meat, became butchers and buccaniers supplying passing vessels with preserved beef and afterward robbing these same ships.

"When the peace of Ryswick was concluded so many Frenchmen had settled on the west end of Santo Domingo that this portion of the island was called by France. A hundred years later Spain parted with the eastern end also, but before the whole island came under her jurisdiction, France had begun to have her troubles with the slaves whose importation from Africa had begun under the Spanish regime as early as 1612. While the Europeans were divided among themselves over the problems of the French revolution the negroes rose against their oppressors and under the leadership of Toussaint L'Ouverture, one of the most famous slave men ever produced by the black race, attained their freedom. Toussaint, the grandson of an African chief, was a military genius who made the grave mistake of styling himself the Black Napoleon. His resentment being aroused against this self proclaimed underdog, France's Man of Destiny sent his brother-in-law, Leclerc, to Haiti to subjugate the negroes. Through treachery Toussaint was captured and sent to France where he died in 1803.

"Deshaired Toussaint's follower, declared Haiti independent and assumed the title of emperor in 1804. After his assassination two years later by two of his officers, Christophe and Pétion, the northern section of the island came under the sway of the former, a negro, while Pétion established a mulatto republic to the south. Jean Pierre Boyer, a mulatto of exceptional ability, succeeded these two and gained complete control of the whole island, ruling with firmness for nearly a quarter of a century, the French having recognized the independence of Haiti in 1825.

"In 1844 the eastern two thirds of the island set up the independent republic of Santo Domingo, with the city of the same name as its capital. On several occasions the latter country has made overtures to the United States proposing annexation and at one time negotiations had progressed as far as the ratification of a treaty by the Dominican people, but as in the case of the proposed purchase of the Danish West Indies two years previously, the United States Senate by a tie vote, rejected the proposal.

"For the last three quarters of a century rulers in both Haiti and Santo Domingo have followed each other like birds of passage. Flight, assassination and forcible removal from office being the rule rather than the exception. The republic of Haiti which reflects its French character in the language of its people and in the customs of sending the children of its wealthy class to Paris to be educated occupies a territory somewhat larger than the combined area of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The capital Port au Prince, is a city of about 75,000. Jérémie, one of the smaller cities, is noted as the birthplace of the elder Dumas.

SUM ADVICE ON "ETIKKET."

Teacher says Etiket is good manners. Pa says he ain't shore what it is but a good thing to know because it proves you're better than the other feller even though he has got more money. I just took a peek in the dictionary in the front parlor and it says Etiket is "conduct," but it don't say what that is.

"Well, girls I'm going to speak on Etiket, today, becuz you must know it if you want to be a lady. All the men like a girl who knows Etiket becuz they think you are safe even in Leap Year becuz you are so polite to speak out of your turn. But goodness knows, I wudn't let Etiket stand in my way if the rite man came along. Being polite three years out of four is a purty good average.

The first rule of Etiket is to be very nice to company and hever whisper behind their backs. A real lady will always wait till the company has left and enyway its heaps safer. Another rule of Etiket is always be dressed prim and neat, cutting dresses and such like, when company calls. Young men don't like untidy wimmen and besides he mite not know you if he didn't care to stick around for an introduction you'd be in an awful pickell. As Pa says "A bird in the hand is worth an hour of painting and powdering."

When you hev a party at your house it is good Etiket to invite all your girl friends even them who are purtier than you. Course you can forget to make there invitashuns until the day before the party. Then tel them when it is too late for them to get new dresses and they hev to come in the old ones which every-body knows are last year's and not half so stish as yours.

It is good Etiket to put in the corners of our invitashuns some letters that only you know the meaning of like, R S T U or D E F G or enything like that. Then your friends will all rise becuz they tel you there coming becuz they are all curious to know what you meant. To tel the truth girls, there ain't much more to say about Etiket. It is just hard way of doing eny things. Supposh you want to send the hired man over to Sarah Spinks to borrow her ice-cream freezer becuz you'll all rise becuz you tel you'll have the minister to the house for dinner. Don't jest say "Hiram run over to the Spinkes and get there ice-cream freezer and see if it is returned." And by the way, hasn't returned my December and October—copies of the Womman's

Reports from the country surrounding Wichita Falls regarding the condition of the wheat crop are very flattering—rather they are much better than could have been expected a month ago. The recent rains have helped out most wonderfully and while the yield per acre of wheat as compared to last year will fall considerably short, there are many wheat fields that will yield an average of over twenty bushels per acre. As to the acreage, as compared to that of last year, it is just about the same after deducting the amount that was frozen out during the winter and the fields planted to other crops. All things considered, the chances for a fairly good wheat crop are very favorable at this time.

A London financial expert has figured out the indebtedness of the belligerent nations together with annual interest up to August 1st of last year which is as follows: Germany, $16,000,000,000, with $762,000,000 interest; Russia $15,000,000,000 with $725,000,000 interest; France $14,000,000,000, with $625,000,000 interest; Great Britain $13,950,000,000, bearing $550,000,000 interest. The annual interest charges at the end of the war, it is figured, will not miss by far the annual total expenditures, counting interest on debts of all the warring nations accrued before the war started. The United States has a debt of about one billion with an annual interest charge of only about one-tenth of that of either Germany or Great Britain is paying and will have to pay until their war obligations are settled. The American citizen who is the least bit inclined to believe that the United States, the richest nation on earth, will not be able to hold its own with any of all the nations now at war in a financial way, should study these figures. These war debts will have to be met, in order to meet them a sufficient tax will have to be levied upon the people of Germany, Great Britain, France and Russia, and thus burdened they can not hope to be competitors of the United States in any line.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, after weeks of investigation, have been unable to come to a definite conclusion in the case of Louis D. Brandeis and have referred the matter back to the Senate to be settled one way or the other. Brandeis is the man selected by President Wilson to fill a vacancy on the Supreme bench occasioned by the death of Justice Lamar. Charges were preferred against Brandeis which in effect said he was corrupt and not a suitable person to hold such a high and responsible position—the highest and most honorable that is within the power of the President to bestow. Ex-President Taft and four ex-presidents of the American Bar Association joined in this clamor to besmirch the character of Brandeis and have his appointment thrown down. The result was that an investigation was ordered, and this investigation has been made most thorough. Every charge that was brought against Brandeis has been firmly and it is now right up to the Senate to accept the nomination or turn it down. The Senate has a Democratic majority.

The "full dinner pail" and prosperity have always heretofore cut a big figure in presidential elections, and in nearly all instances the benefits of such arguments have gone to the Republicans. But this year "the full dinner pail" and "prosperous times" are at work on the side of the Democratic party and for Woodrow Wilson, who, really, is stronger than his party and much stronger man today than he was in 1912, when the presidential race was a three-cornered affair, fought to a finish between Wilson as the nominee of the Democratic party, Taft of the Republicans, and Roosevelt of the Bull Moose or Progressive party, composed principally of Republicans who, either were much dissatisfied with Taft, or were crazy about Roosevelt. In that election 6,282,019 votes were polled for Wilson; 4,119,507 for Roosevelt, and 3,484,956 for Taft. President Wilson was elected by a minority vote. But this year there is every indication that he will be re-elected not only by a majority of the electoral vote, but by a popular majority. The reason for making this prediction is that better wages are being paid for labor now than ever before in the history of the country and there is less idle labor. In fact, there was never a greater demand for labor than at the present time, which is very unusual, considering that it is a presidential year. All of which tends to show that the people of the United States, both capital and labor, have the utmost confidence in President Wilson, and it matters not who the Republicans nominate, that party realizes it is going to be a most difficult matter to defeat Wilson. Their nominee must be a national figure—a man as big in brain and ability as Woodrow Wilson, and so far that man has not shown up. President Wilson has kept the United States out of war, and as a result the United States is enjoying greater prosperity now than ever in her history. With her competitors burdened and hobbled with war debts that will require more than fifty years to pay off, there is not the slightest chance or excuse for the cry of the "empty dinner pail" or low wages for the American laboring man so long as the people of the United States keep at the head of their government as big a man as Woodrow Wilson. But should the laboring vote of the Eastern States fail to appreciate to the full extent what President Wilson has done for and is still doing for it, and fail and refuse to support him for reelection then there will come a change, and as to whether such a change can be of benefit to the laboring people is largely a matter of speculation. It is difficult, however, for a laboring man to compare present conditions to the conditions that existed under the seven years administration of Roosevelt and four years of Taft, and see where he can hope to be benefited by swapping off Wilson for any man the Republicans can nominate.

tion of which was removed Tuesday night, is a delightfully frank and interesting review of his three years in the White House and his impressions of foreign and domestic problems. He could not have addressed an audience having a more comprehensive knowledge of the tremendous responsibilities he has been face to face with ever since the movement of his accession to the office of chief executive, nor one which could more keenly sympathize with him in the trying ordeal of rightly determining the proper course of action to pursue in reflecting the will of the American people in conscientiously and intelligently meeting these responsibilities. The outstanding thought of the address is that his administration has been guided wholly by a sense of duty in holding the Republic true to American ideals and purpose in all of the relations which extraordinary developments in world affairs impose upon it when sanity has apparently fled from all the other great world powers. "America," said the president, "is for peace because she loves peace and because she believes that the present war has carried nations to a point where they can not be held to ordinary standards of responsibility. None know better than the correspondents whom he addressed, with what firmness of purpose and multiplying difficulties, he has labored to keep this country from becoming a party to the great international conflict and at the same time uphold the rights and interests of the American people at home and abroad, on land and sea, when all of the belligerent nations have been intent on violating international law, and the rights of neutrals under the established code of conduct, in the face. In this purpose, he has been hampered at home by a false sentimentality, and abroad by a false sentimentality, whose horror of war is so keenly felt that it regards no sacrifice of rights and interests as too great to secure immunity therefrom. This sentiment of peace-at-any-price is not the sentiment which animates the heart of the American people, hence in his endeavor to reflect the American will in its desire for peace with honor, for peace without the sacrifice of American rights, the difficulties of his task have weighed heavily upon him, inasmuch that there is a touching pathos in his confession that he had been kept awake at nights considering the European situation, because there might come a time when the United States would have to do what it did not desire to do and "the great burden on my spirit has been that it is up to me to choose when that time came. Under these multiplying difficulties, some of them extremely acute at times during the progress of the war in Europe, he has been compelled to take the initiative in promptly determining the proper course of action to pursue in the knowledge, as he says, that his duty was a duty on a national scale, when he could not be sure that he had the right elements of information to interpret truly. To such extent have the trying duties of the president weighed upon him that every true American can appreciate the depth of feeling of his utterance that "if I did not go off at week ends occasionally and throw off as much as it is possible to throw off of this burden I could not stand it." Houston Post.

WHERE IS THE DISASTER?

We find the esteemed Peoria Star, up there in Illinois, talking in this strain: "Wilson's tariff policy and his fiscal policy have been such as to bring disaster upon the country, and we are now paying the price in warless war taxes and an increased price for almost every commodity. The people have no confidence in the President's ability to bring about an improvement in conditions, therefore they will vote against him at the coming election. We are at a loss to understand talk like that. We can readily see how fruit might be found with President Wilson as to some of his foreign policies; we ourselves have not been in rapport with him in all done and left undone in our foreign relations. But his domestic policies, it seems to us, are fully vindictive themselves. The revenues from the tariff are inadequate because the war in Europe has interfered most seriously with our importations. If the goods do not come from abroad, there can be no revenue at the customs house. The goods are not coming. This loss of revenue must be made up from other sources, and hence what the Peoria Star calls "warless war taxes." A ten-year-old boy will tell you that if there are no pay admissions at the door, the show will bankrupt unless some one put up the cash to tide it over. The paid admissions at our ports are few and far between, and hence the necessity for getting the cash needed to run the government in some other way. When the war is over, a different set of affairs will exist. Why not be fair? As for increased prices, how is that to be avoided when all the world is looking to us for supplies? If the editor of the Peoria Star had a little farm in the edge of town and raised a few bushels of wheat, doesn't he sell that wheat at the market price? Aren't we all in the same boat in matters of this sort? Isn't every man striving to get the highest price for his labor and the products of his labor? The demand is here; shall we refuse to sell because the price is high? Outside

Edison's New Re-Created Music With the New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph

The Edison has no tone of its own. It re-creates music just as it receives the same music. Every fine tone, all of the attributes of the artist. Not the mere mechanical music reproduction of "Talking Machines". But the living, re-creation through the science of chemistry. Let us talk plainly. Few persons understand that Mr. Edison has given the world an invention which is as new as was the first electric light. The greatest trouble we have is to get people to understand that he has actually re-created music. That he has discarded the mechanical "talking machine" for the Edison Diamond Disc, with its finely rounded diamond and unbreakable records. Don't accept our opinion but let us compare it, then decide yourself.

RAILROAD WANTS PAY FOR PASTURAGE ON RIGHT OF WAY

Breenville, Tex., May 23.—A controversy, the like of which has never before been known, in which the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railroad Co., and a farmer are the principals, is watched in this section with interest. The farmer, who lives on the railroad company's right of way, had fattened a prize steer on the property. The steer was recently sold and a local paper made mention of the fact, commenting on the unusualness of the pasturage, inside the railroad's right of way. The paper with the write up fell into possession of one of the company's claim agents. He has sent a bill for pasturage to the farmer. The claim agent explains that if the animal, while feeding on the right of way, had received any sort of injuries the railroad company would have been compelled to pay dearly therefor, and that inasmuch as the farmer had been benefited by letting his steer run at large on the company's property it was nothing but right and proper that the railroad company be reimbursed. The farmer is taking a contrary view of the proposition.

Some 30-Year Mitchells

Built by John W. Bate—Another Efficiency Feat

We know of one Mitchell—built by John W. Bate—which has run 218,734 miles. It is running still.

We know of six Mitchells—built by John W. Bate—which have averaged 184,372 miles each. That's over 30 years of ordinary service.

The Mitchells of today are built better than those cars. We have learned a hundred ways to add strength and endurance.

But the records we cite are unequalled in car building. They will give you a new light on what Bate methods mean.

Why Most Cars Fail

In the 13 years since Mitchell started hundreds of makers have fallen. And hundreds more will fall.

They fail through lack of service. Time proves that rival cars outwear them.

So in every line. Records show that not one in ten meets the test of time.

This concern was 70 years old when it built the first Mitchell car. We knew what Time's verdict meant. So we never attempted a quick success. We built for the years to come.

That was one reason why we secured

This Mid-Year Mitchell, with its 26 extra features, needs no praise. You never saw a car with so many attractions. But we want you to know how much lies back of all the things you see.

John W. Bate, the efficiency engineer, to help create this car.

Ask Some Engineer

This Mid-Year Mitchell presents a hundred appeals. It has all the best features found in 257 Show models. It has 26 wanted extras—things that other cars lack.

Still we say—Don't judge this or any car by externals. Get the inside facts. Measure the men who make it. Ask the men who own it. Learn how engineers regard it.

Every Mitchell dealer has a list of engineers, famous the country over. Each of those experts selected the Mitchell, among the hundreds of cars, for his personal use.

See that list. Mark the standing of the men. That will indicate to you how qualified men regard the work of John W. Bate.

Twice the Value

This new Mid-Year Mitchell offers twice the value we gave you in 1910. It gives you, we think, 20% greater value than any rival car gives today.

That is due to factory efficiency, worked out by John W. Bate. It is due to $5,000,000 invested in a model cost-saving plant.

You get part of that saving in the Mitchell price. No other car of this size, power and class sells anywhere near so low.

You get in addition 26 costly extras—valuable features which other cars lack. Come and let us show them to you.

257 Cars in One

You will find in this one car—this Mid-Year Mitchell—all the best new ideas of the year. Our experts and designers examined 257 Show models before this new design was completed.

One of its best features is the Bate Cantilever springs. No other car has them. They double the ease of riding. They make shock absorbers unnecessary. And never yet has one Bate spring broken. Not one has ever called for repair.

These new models are now arriving fast. If you find this car the car you want we shall not keep you waiting.

A man's losing fight against the craving for drink, his fall to the depths, his rise through the spirit of revenge, the ultimate triumph through love, form the basis of "The Unpardonable Sin," the new World Film feature in which Holbrook Blinn, the noted dramatic screen star, will be seen at the Empress theater today.

Things come to such a pass that Karl is forced to abandon all hope of continuing his interrupted production. He stays up all night reading scenarios for a new story.

Then she rushes to the alcove in which the newly arrived barberess is donning her apron, and turns over to her the dozing Karl, while the proprietor, operates on the other fairly vibrates the screen as he portrays his regeneration, his triumph over his enemy, and his great moment of sacrifice.

Mr. Blinn has been surrounded by a remarkable cast that includes such favorites of the film world as Helen Faison, Lily Henry, Chester, Walter D. Greene, William A. Morton and Charles D. Mackay.

SOUTH SEA ISLAND PICTURES START TODAY

The South Sea Island pictures taken by Jack London are being shown at the Wichita Theatre today, and will appear again tomorrow and Thursday.

June 22—Late last night we sighted an island of the Banks group. The stars shone so brightly that it was very plain twenty miles away.

June 24—Every day Jack gives me a lesson in navigation, and I in turn give Henry a lesson. Last night as we were playing cards, Jack gave a yell and pointed to Mrs. London's bunk from which a centipede six inches long was crawling.

June 26—A wild and woolly night, lightning and thunder everywhere. We are, here to fer Jack says that land is not more than 25 miles off in some direction but we don't know which for it has been hazy all day.

June 27—This has been an awful day for me, and I am dead tired, but not sleepy. Again we are holed to, in about the same position as last night, only we now know where we are.

MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT IS CALLED A TRAITOR

London, May 23.—Timothy Healy, Irish member of Parliament, created a scene in Commons this afternoon during debate on the executions in Ireland by shooting. "We are not going to stand here and see our people shot. We are not in Russia." Some cheers from Irish members greeted his statement. "He is a licensed traitor," shouted one voice. From all over the house came mingled cries of approval and dissent, and Commons was quickly in an uproar. Healy previously during the debate had declared he had no confidence in the cabinet, and in Sir John Maxwell, commanding the Government forces in Ireland.

LIST OF GRADUATES NOT YET AVAILABLE

Some of 28 Scheduled to Receive Diplomas May Not Pull Through Finals. Nervousness continues to prevail among a portion of the high school senior class, senior examinations are still in order and a complete list of graduates is not yet available. There are 28 members of the 1916 senior class but all indications point to a somewhat smaller number of graduates, according to the powers that be. "But while there's life there's hope" and the students in danger are being given every possible chance to retrieve themselves and acquire a diploma, a number of examination being given over.

FINDS RESTAURANTS SELLING SKIM MILK

Three Out of Seven Declared to Be Violating Law—Dairy Ordinance Approved. The first round of the fight being waged by the board of health for "A 100 Per Cent Sanitary City" was staged Monday afternoon, when Dr. J. T. Traylor, city food and dairy inspector, visited local restaurants and found that three out of the seven places visited were selling skim milk in violation of the law. Dr. Traylor warned the proprietors of the eating houses that a repetition of the offense would result in prosecution.

"PEACE ONLY THROUGH A DECISIVE VICTORY"

Paris, May 23.—"Peace can only come through a decisive victory," Premier Briand told a delegation from the Russian Duma today. "The allies can regard the future with confidence," said the French prime minister. "Peace must not result from diplomatic intrigue, but can come only through a decisive allied victory, which alone can and will restore recognition of international law and rights."

WILL THE STAG

Eight delegates-at-large. Four presidential electors also will be nominated then, their names to be placed on the Democratic primary ballot on July 22.

The Progressive party held its convention in Waco. This party will nominate four presidential electors and elect twenty-four delegates to the national convention, based on one for each of the sixteen congressional districts and two for each United States senator and representative-at-large.

Republicans were holding their convention in Fort Worth, with practically the same business before them as the progressives. They are to nominate four electors, and elect twenty-six delegates to the national convention, having two more than the Progressives.

Attempts to effect a fusion between the Progressives and Republicans, which have prevailed for the past two years, were brought to an end by the death early in April of Cecil A. Lyon, Progressive national committeeman from Texas.

Several "get-together" meetings between Republican and Progressive leaders were held at various times but when the movement was reaching a climax, Mr. Lyon's illness halted proceedings.

Today's Democratic convention is the first of two; the second being held in August to officially canvass the returns of the July primaries.

Nomination in these elections, has, customarily, meant virtual election, on account of lack of opposition to the Democratic party.

It was generally predicted in political circles that the Texas delegation to the St. Louis convention would go instructed for the re-nomination of Woodrow Wilson. As yet there has been no public announcement as to who will be favored for the presidential nomination by either the Progressive or Republican parties in Texas. Texas delegations will not be bound by the unit rule.
