HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT
EXERCISES AT WICHITA
THEATRE MONDAY

AWARDS ANNOUNCED

Address to Seniors is Delivered by Dr. Randolph Clark—Large Crowd in Attendance.

There were 24 graduates of the 1916 class of the Wichita Falls high school who last night received their diplomas and heard the commencement address delivered by Dr. Randolph Clark of Stephenville, the exercises being held at the Wichita Theatre. An even larger audience than usually attends the commencement programs was present, the capacity of the theater being taxed.

The first part of the program consisted of vocal selections by the various musical organizations of the high school under the direction of Miss Agnew, supervisor of music in the public schools. Miss Mary Spook Clark did very efficient work as accompanist. Since Miss Agnew has been in charge of the music of the schools, three terms, her music classes have furnished music for such occasions and their share in the program of Monday night furnished a splendid entertainment. The opening chorus, "Night Song," and the senior glee club gave "The Lullaby of Life" by Leslie. The senior quartet's selection, "Tosti's 'Goodbye,'" was received with such favor that an encore, "Come Where the Lilies Bloom So Fair" was given.

The speaker of the evening Dr. Randolph Clark, was introduced by W. J. Bullock, president of the school board, who referred to him as a pioneer in the realm of education in the state of Texas and a man whom the people delight to honor. Dr. Clark founded the old Add-Ran college, now known as Texas Christian University and one of the highest institutions of learning in the state.

From his years of experience and his deep knowledge of human nature the venerable educator delivered an inspiring address to the graduates and one that very forcibly impressed the auditors. Laying particular stress on the need of a foundation for every individual and institution he urged that the precepts of the great Teacher be followed by the young people, just now stepping out into the world of men, to take their places in two grifts and conflict of life.

"Build on the Rock he said, 'for all other foundations are but as shifting sands.' Character, determination and love and obedience to your Maker are the best foundation.

"The world strife now raging retrieved the attention of the speaker who found in his consideration of the motives impelling the carnage and slaughter that there had been no foundation of love and brotherly feeling and that the spirit on which the states now at war were built.

He closed his address with an appeal to the young people to choose the better things in life on which to build and to arrange their life scheme in accordance with the plan of God and His plan of service.

Three medals, the gifts of jewelers of the city were presented to the honor students of the schools at the close of Dr. Clark's address. A medal presented by B. T. Burgess to the student in the grammar school making the highest average went to Leoti Clark, a student in the seventh grade of the Austin school. The Halton & Friedly medal for the high school student making the highest average went to Goldie Maricle and Jeannette Snuggs, honor student of the senior class received a medal given by Halton & Friedly, having made the highest average in the senior class. The presentation was made by Prof. J. B. Jones, principal of the high school.

Announcement was made by Prof. Clark of the awarding of scholarships in various institutions to the honor students, Jeannette Snuggs, Edna R. Sandidge, Mary Coffey, Lucille Bennett, Wanda Bennett, Bertha Schulz, Grover Bullington, Oje Meares, Jr., Clyde Murph, Ray Barnard, Ross Bassinger, Olga Morris, Marion Maer, William Hoxe, Elizabeth Miller, Robert Nolan, George Ross, Mae McClullin, Rheba Gardner and Harry May.

SEVERAL CHANGES BY P. B. M. COMPANY

Pennington and Millspaugh Retire From Firm—Interior of Store is Rearranged.

Important changes are announced by the P. B. M. Co., both in the management of the business and the arrangement of the store. The personnel of the corporation has been changed through a deal made whereby both Mr. Millspaugh and Mr. Pennington have sold their holdings and will retire from the firm. C. J. Barnard and Jack Barnard have taken over the Pennington stock and Mr. G. V. Wood has purchased Mr. Millspaugh's holdings. Mr. Millspaugh will give up his position on June 15. In the reorganization of the company C. J. Barnard will be president and general manager, Jack Barnard will be secretary and treasurer and G. C. Wood will be vice president, and these three will also be the directors and the sole stockholders. Mr. Barnard will have charge of the buying and selling end of the business, acting in the buying in conjunction with the various heads of the departments.

Mr. Millspaugh has not yet decided just what he will engage in. He has been offered several very flattering positions in the city, and as he has decided that he wants to live in Wichita, he has accepted one of them. He is considered a splendid merchant, with a knowledge of the business which embraces every line of both the buying and selling, and with the help of friends that he has made in the four years that he has been here, he will make a splendid success. He has been an important factor in the building up of the fine business, now enjoyed by the P. B. M. Co.

In making the change in the business end of the firm is also making changes in the interior of the store which it is thought will be of material convenience to its patrons. Instead of the line of department shelves now arranged along the ladies' side of the lower floor, a single long line of these shelves will be arranged in the center of the store and counters will be arranged on the side, so that customers may go from one department to another with less trouble and have the same line of goods on hand until all of their purchases have been completed. The soda fountain will also be taken out to make room for other goods more in line with the firm's business.

HOW FLY PROBLEM IS SOLVED AT ST. JAMES

Manager Dickson, of the St. James hotel, has solved the fly problem in a manner that beats the swatting all hollow. He has constructed a number of traps, and in the past few days has put about a half bushel of these out of the way by setting the traps near the garbage barrels and other fly breeding spots in the rear of the hotel. The traps are circular in shape, and made of ordinary fly screen wire. The wire is bent around a piece of board for a top, and the bottom is made of screen wire in the shape of an inverted funnel. The trap is about two feet in length and is set on legs about two inches from the ground. Under the trap a plate of vinegar and brown sugar in a thin mixture is placed for bait, and the flies going after it are led up into the trap. The trap is a most ingenious contraption for the purpose and can be constructed at the cost of only a few cents.

"Oh, mama, look!" said Tommy. "Baby's grabbed a speck of raw bacon and tried to swallow it." "Baby" hastily exclaimed the father of the family. "I—oh—meant the baby, of course, Maria," he added a moment later. "Why are you looking at me in that horrid way?"—Chicago Tribune.

For three years this bank has conducted a school savings department with the assistance of the teachers and each year three prizes have been given; one to the child making the largest number of deposits, a second to the child whose deposits total largest and the third to the teacher who has the largest percentage of the enrollment of her room depositors.

There were a number of students who had made deposits every day in the school year and the bank had provided that in case of a tie the prize should go to the student whose average was the highest. The winner, Frankie Adickes, made an average of 53.17. Nolan Bullock, the winner last year ran a close second, his average being 53.11-18.

Joe Rosenberg, who received the prize for the greatest total deposits, had deposited during the nine months just past something over $150.

Miss Stewart, the winner among the teachers, had succeeded in enlisting every pupil in her room in the savings thus scoring 100 per cent.

The prizes were presented by Judge W. E. Fitzgerald.

PROSPECTS GOOD IN NORTON WELL

EIGHTEEN FEET OF OIL SAND ENCOUNTERED IN IMPORTANT WILD CAT TEST.

RESULTS NOT KNOWN

Test Cannot Be Completed For Several Days But Indications Are Discouraging.

With eighteen feet of oil sand encountered at a depth of 1850 feet, indications are that a sizeable well will be brought in shortly on the Grant farm south of Iowa Park, where W. E. Norton is drilling a deep test. The well can not be tested for several days, but the promise of a strike has caused much activity in leasing in that section and a general air of expectancy pervades oil circles. The importance of this strike would be very considerable, probably indicating the opening up of another deep field. Rotary tools were used in drilling the well, and in rotary-drilled wells, oil does not show up in the same manner as when standard tools are used. The exact situation at the Norton well will not be known until the casing is set for about 300 feet, which will require a day or two.

MEETING IS HELD BY BROTHERHOODS

Railroad Employees Hear Discussion of Their Demand For Eight-Hour Work Day.

That the railroad men of this country are not receiving a square deal at the hands of the railroad employers of the country in the matter of the work hours was the sentiment expressed at an open meeting of the four railway brotherhoods of this city held at the U. O. F. Hall last night. The eight-hour question and its relation with the overtime agreement was taken up at length by C. F. Goodridge, state chairman of the Legislative Council of the Order of Railway Conductors.

He said the overtime clause of the petition has created the false impression that the railroad employees want more pay instead of working shorter hours. The brotherhoods do not want overtime, he said, but want a chance to do the most efficient work possible in that they wish to operate the freight trains on a 2 1/2 mile per hour schedule instead of the 10 mile now in force. The overtime penalty was further explained as being merely for the protection of the employees and not to bring about increased earnings. Mr. Goodridge pointed out what he thought to be inconsistencies of the railroad authorities with reference to the petition in the arbitration with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Locomotive Fireman in 1914-1915 and their stand at the present time. In the arbitration in 1914 and 1915 when the railroad employees protested against the long hours and desired more pay the railroad officials testified that the average run was something around eight hours and now, says Mr. Goodridge, the officials claim an eight-hour run is not possible. The recent vote taken by the Brotherhoods was not a strike

Great Variety of Summer Furs Offered For Warm Weather Wear

Special to The Times. New York, May 29.—From Fashion's New York, four comes the word that summer furs will be more modish this year even than they were last. The huge box of white fox held the favored place last summer, but this season the shops are offering a variety of furs for summer wear. In spite of the apparent absurdity, a wide soft stole of mole, mink, seal or ermine often proves a very grateful addition to the sheer summer dress. The long, wide stole will be more used for evening. A particularly interesting stole of tallish ermine, shown in one of the large fur shops, is lined with a startling black and white striped pattern. The idea of mole skin has vivid orange lining. Here again is offered an effective way to introduce the bright bit of color so necessary to the summer costume. Plain, striped, checked, dotted and patterned voiles, in all colors and combinations, are in demand for the covered, ruffled, fluffy lingerie frock. There is a hint here and there of the return of hand painted muslins for blouses and dresses. Probably the colored, ruffled, fluffy lingerie frock, which is quaint and pretty, if not exactly practical. All sorts of clever notions might be worked out by the woman with ingenious brain and fingers, but if the material were to Colonel Roosevelt is whooping it up at Kansas City today in a Memorial Day address. The colonel is making a bid for western support for his candidacy, and of course will hand it to 'em strong.

About the only thing that is left for the Democratic national convention is to select a good strong man as a vice presidential candidate. The Texas Democratic convention apparently didn't trust the national convention to do even that much, as it instructed the Texas delegates to vote for Vice President Marshall.

If other folks would follow the example of Manager Dickson of the Saint James hotel there would soon be a notable diminution in the fly population of Wichita Falls. Mr. Dickson is catching flies by the bushel. A few dozen bushels of flies destroyed daily would soon tell on a pest even as abundant as the house fly. Now would be a good time for everybody to get busy in this matter and make Wichita Falls much more comfortable and certainly more healthful during the hot summer months.

Reports from the country tell that binders are being started in the wheat fields and by the end of the week many binders will be in operation and by the first of next week harvest will be on in full blast. As before stated in these columns the wheat yield this season will likely be much less than last season but the net income to the farmers will probably be nearly as large. Last year there was a great volume of straw and the harvesting of the crop was an expensive undertaking. This year the straw is much lighter and the cost of harvesting promises to be much less. A good price for the crop is indicated by present prices.

In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president. This reads the constitution of the United States. The chances that the man who is elected to the vice presidency may become president are by no means remote and none but the strongest and best men should be nominated for that office. One faction of the Texas democracy in reprinting the activities of leaders of another faction in the state convention at San Antonio last week specifically endorsed Vice President Marshall and instructed its delegates to the national convention to vote for him for re-nomination. Such instructions were against precedent in Texas Democratic conventions and it is feared may embarrass the party in the coming campaign. Vice President Marshall is an amiable and high minded gentleman, there is no one to dispute this, but there is a feeling that he has not the ability to measure up to the presidency. This feeling is as prevalent in Indiana, his home state, as elsewhere. If he is nominated on the ticket with Wilson this feeling, in the event of a close contest, might easily be a determining factor against the Democratic ticket. There ought to have been no instructions by the San Antonio convention for any candidate for the vice presidency; the selection should have been left to the national convention.

THE SERMON HIT HIM.

A colored preacher was vehemently denouncing the sins of his congregation. "Brethren an' sistern, Ah warns yo' 'gainst de heinous sin ob shootin' craps! Ah charges yo' 'gainst de black rascality ob liftin' pullets. But above else, brethern an' sistern, Ah demolishes yo' 'gainst de crime ob melon stealin'!" A brother in a back seat made an odd sound with his lips, rose and snapped his fingers. Then sat down again with an abashed look. "Whiffo, ma fren," said the parson sternly, "does yo' tar up an' snap yo' fincubs when Ah speaks ob melon stealin'?" "Yo, jes remind' me, pahson," the man in the back seat answered meekly, "wha' Ah lef' mah knife."—Exchange.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION HISTORY.

The coming Republican convention at Chicago, with the uncertainty of what the outcome will be, directs attention to the history of the convention of that party in the past. They have been marked by bitter contests and again by the triumph of careful and unshakable organization. The party's first national convention was held in Pittsburgh, February 22, 1856. Although John C. Fremont was nominated on the first ballot, William H. Seward had been regarded, up to the time of the meeting of the convention, the strongest candidate. Seward, however, had little faith in the chances of election and had declined the honor in advance. He received but one vote in the convention to 359 for Fremont. Judge John McLean of Ohio, received 136, in this convention, too, Abraham Lincoln received 119 votes for vice president. The convention of 1860 at Chicago opened with a long list of candidates. Seward was in the lead. On the first ballot he received 172 votes to 102 for Lincoln. Simon Cameron, Salmon P. Chase, Edward Bates, William L. Dayton, John McLean and Jacob Colamer received the "scattering" strength. On the second ballot Lincoln's vote had mounted to 181 and Seward's to 184 1/2. The third ballot ended the contest, Seward dropping to 180 and Lincoln receiving 221 1/2. The number of votes necessary to a choice was 223, but before the roll call was completed Ohio changed four votes to Lincoln, and before the stampede was ended he had 345. Although the dissatisfaction of radical opponents of Lincoln's conduct of the war had led to a revolt in 1864 and the nomination of Fremont at a convention at Cleveland, there never was any doubt about the result of the regular convention which was held in Baltimore. That year, Lincoln received the votes of all the states represented, except Missouri, whose delegates were instructed for General Grant. In the convention of 1868, which was held in Chicago General Grant received a unanimous vote on the first ballot, as he did in the convention which met in Philadelphia four years later. In 1876 the Republican convention, which met at Cincinnati, was "up in the air." Blaine was the leading candidate and held his lead for six ballots. His competitors were Oliver P. Morton, Benjamin H. Bristol, Roscoe Conkling, Rutherford B. Hayes and Governor Hartranft of Pennsylvania. Hayes trailed along with fewer than one hundred votes up to the fifth ballot while Blaine had risen from 285 votes on the first ballot to 308 on the sixth. On that ballot Hayes had but 113, but on the seventh Morton, Conkling and Hartranft dropped out, Blaine rose to 351 and Hayes got 384—five votes more than were necessary to a choice.

The convention of 1880 met at Chicago. The movement for Grant for a third term and the strong rivalry of Blaine presaged a long contest. The first ballot disclosed Grant's strength. He had 304 votes and Blaine 284 with John Sherman and George F. Edmunds as tallies. The strength of the two leaders remained practically unchanged for thirty-five ballots. In the early balloting Garfield had received one and two votes, and sometimes none, but on the thirty-fifth he began to gain, on the thirty-sixth he began to draw from the Blaine strength and on the thirty-sixth the stampede set in and he was nominated with 399 votes. In the convention of 1884 President Arthur was a candidate but was distanced by Blaine from the start. Only four ballots were necessary, the last giving Blaine 541 to 207 for Arthur.

In 1888 a contest developed which required eight ballots to settle in favor of General Harrison. His leading competitors were John Sherman, General Alger and Walter Q. Gresham. Nineteen candidates were voted on at different times. Harrison was renominated in 1892 on the first ballot, although Blaine, McKinley, Thomas B. Reed and Robert T. Lincoln received votes. In 1896 McKinley was nominated on the first ballot and again in 1900. One ballot only was required to nominate Roosevelt in 1904, and Taft in 1908 and 1912.—Kansas City Star.

A misapprehension, which seems to be general, has arisen in connection with the demands of the railway brotherhoods for an eight-hour day basis of pay. It has been the impression of many that a strike vote has already been taken and that the brotherhoods are likely at any time to go out on a strike. No strike vote has ever been taken in connection with the present controversy. A referendum vote of the membership of the brotherhoods has been taken on the question of presenting the demands, but the question of a strike has not been submitted. A strike vote will not be taken until after a failure of the conference in June between the representatives of the brotherhoods and the railway managers to reach an agreement. While some extremists among the brotherhoods have been quoted—as saying that arbitration would not be acceptable, no one in authority has made such a declaration. The brotherhoods, it is pointed out, have heretofore advocated and practiced arbitration, and there is no good reason, it is claimed, to believe that they now would abandon something for which they have heretofore stood. Until after the failure of the conference between the representatives of the men and the railroads to reach an agreement acceptable to both sides, there will be nothing to arbitrate.

American Business. Peace and Preparedness. The Times has just received from Harris Winthrop and Co., investment and security brokers of New York and Chicago, a summary of the composite opinion of 1700 American business men from every section of the country on American business as affected by peace and preparedness. Answers and letters from manufacturers, bankers and wholesalers are included in the list. In stating their own conclusions from these replies Harris, Winthrop & Co. say: "Speaking generally we may say that a careful examination of the replies received leads us to feel great satisfaction in the economic condition of the country and increased confidence in the political common sense of the people. If we were mapping American prosperity we should paint New England, Pennsylvania and Michigan in the most roseate colors. In fact, one correspondent in Detroit says that 'the boom is dangerous.'" "In the Southern portion of California the absence of war induced prosperity has been to some extent offset by the winter influx of tourists from the East and the demand for petroleum production of that locality. The clouds have almost disappeared from the Cotton States as a result of the higher price of cotton and cotton seed and the increase in cattle production." "In the Middle West, the remunerative figures obtained for the grain crops for the past two years have made the East and the demand for iron, although there is some complaint that the high ocean freight rates are interfering with the export movement." "Dealing with what we may describe as the politico-economic situation disclosed by our report, it may be said that there is evidenced a much keener appreciation of the essential relation between good government and good times and while there is but little disposition to disparage the constructive achievements of the present administration, there is a widespread dissatisfaction with the selfish political individualism of the present Congress and a disposition to hold the reins of power more rigidly accountable." "Our confidence in the permanent prosperity of the country and our optimism in regard to the benefits and quality of representative government have been increased and to some extent rehabilitated by this investigation and we are greatly indebted to all those who have answered our inquiries. Our services are reciprocally at their disposal in any way that we can of this pamphlet may be had free of charge upon application. Is the consumption of the goods you distribute or manufacture appreciably reduced by the relatively higher prices now prevailing? Answer: Yes, 299; No, 1088. 3. 5700 POUNDS OF FRUIT IS BURNED

IS FOUND INEDIBLE

Is Taken to City Incinerator and Burned After Examination Discloses Worms in It.

Dried peaches and prunes—5700 pounds of them—were consigned to the flames of the city's garbage incinerator this morning when it was found that the fruit was infested with worms.

The worms were discovered by J. K. Brim of the state department of food and drug inspection, who is in the city today and he and Dr. Traylor, city inspector, decided to put the fruit where there was no danger of its being offered for sale again.

Mr. Brim did other inspection work while here and collected a number of flour samples which will be sent to Austin for analysis.

No objection to the destruction of the worms was raised by the proprietor of the concern where it was found.

POPE CONFIDENT OF GETTING OIL

BONUS-SEEKER HAS MUCH FAITH IN VENTURE HE STARTED TODAY.

LOCATED BY DEVICE

Has Instrument Which He Claims Indicates Oil Underneath—Rig Now in Operation.

"We will get oil at 620 feet" said W. C. Pope this afternoon, shortly before he started his rig on the Frisberg farm just northwest of the city, where he is drilling in an effort to get the $10,000 bonus hanging up by the Chamber of Commerce.

"Some folks laugh at me when I tell them, and they call me a faker," Pope continued, "but the laugh will be on the other way."

Mr. Pope does not appear to have the slightest doubt that he will strike oil in his test, and he says he will find it at 620 feet.

The well was located by Mr. Pope with a device of his own, which he claims indicates the presence of oil beneath the surface and also shows the approximate depth at which the sand will be struck.

The location is just across the road from the Panhandle Refinery and is a little over a mile from the business district. Mr. Pope's rig arrived a few days ago and was installed at once.

M. J. Gardner brought up the question of an exhibit at the State Fair at Dallas, and it was decided to request J. W. Campbell, county agricultural agent, to help in this work.

IF BORAH OF IDAHO HAILED FROM STATE WITH MORE ELECTORAL VOTES

SEN. W. E. BORAH

(Senator William E. Borah of Idaho represents a state that is great in area but small in population and numbers of electoral votes. It has only four, and this fact works strongly against the senator's chances of winning the Republican nomination. Nevertheless he is listed among the possibilities. Senator Borah, who is serving his second term in the senate, is one of the leading lawyers and orators of that body. Republicans in the national capital attach much weight to his counsels. Senator Borah is a native of Illinois, but twenty-five of his fifty years have been passed in Idaho, his adopted state. He is also considered a possibility for the vice presidential nomination.)

MUSIC STILL HAS ITS PART IN WAR

Members of Bands Play Under Fire—Put in Part of Time Helping Hospital Corps.

Paris, (By Mail)—Since the beginning of the drama that France is called arms, comparatively little martial music has been heard at the front. Those who have been allowed in the zone of the armies have occasionally met a regimental band with drums and brass instruments slung over their shoulders, plodding along the road toward the front line; musicians go with the combatants and are subject to all the dangers of the war.

The strains of the Marseillaise one day revealed the presence of a regimental band among the ruins of a town still under bombardment and close enough to the Germans lines to require measures against gas. All the musicians had their masks on, giving them a grotesque appearance but not interfering with their lung power.

The Coldstream Guards Band, direct from Arras, and the Royal Italian Carabinieri's Band, fresh from the Isonzo, brought a little of the atmosphere of the front to the Trocadero recently and reminded Paris of the martial strains that stirred the city during the first days of the war. They were greeted by big crowds with the same enthusiasm as prevailed on the boulevards in the memorable first week of August, 1914. The immense auditorium itself was crowded long before the announced hour for the opening.

The bandmen at the front is not a mere musician; after inspiring the troops with martial strains and when the shot and shell have done their work, he drops his instrument and, with the Red Cross on his sleeve, goes out over the field to pick up the wounded. Sometimes he helps to bury the dead, and in some emergencies he brings up supplies and ammunition.

At the assault of Vauquois in February, 1915, the band of a regiment was ordered to execute the Marseillaise from shelter, but at the moment of the charge the colonel assigned an uncovered spot to the band, which became a standing target for the enemy, only 300 yards away, but continued none the less ardently its mission; it played the Marseillaise eight times during the engagement, not a man was killed.

A few days later, the musicians of a regiment acting as stretcher bearers were ordered to sound the charge for a battalion that was about to go into action. The twenty-six men took their instruments and went to the place where the attack was to be made. The enemy's artillery just then began to enfilade the cross road where they were sheltered while waiting for the order. The ground was ploughed by shells and covered with wounded in a few minutes.

When the regiment is resting behind the front, the musicians are the only ones who work; they give concerts for the civilians in the towns where the regiments are quartered, while the combatants are resting.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. MURRELL

Victim of Sunday Afternoon's Tragedy is Buried Today in River.

The funeral of Mrs. J. J. Murrell, victim of the shooting in Clay county Sunday afternoon, took place this afternoon from the chapel of E. G. Hill's undertaking parlors at 4 o'clock, burial being in Riverside. The husband, two sons, Harry and Houston Murrell and Mrs. J. Dent, daughter of Mrs. Murrell, were present at the funeral. Two sisters of Mrs. Murrell, Mrs. C. Flynn of Weatherford, and Mrs. W. E. Wilkerson of Bonaville, Texas, arrived this morning.

Tom Ware, the farm hand held in connection with the killing, was taken to Henrietta yesterday afternoon. He was barely able to stand unassisted.

Harry Murrell, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrell states that the story of the killing as published in the Times of Monday, was incorrect in stating that he drove the auto delivery car on the fishing trip, the machine being in charge of a young man from Wichita Falls, who was in the party.

AT THE THEATRES

The Majestic The Majestic is showing the Triangle program, having consolidated for the time being with the Lydia Margaret. Today's picture is "Moral Fabric," a Triangle special with all the merit of the usual Triangle production. A Keystone completes the program.

The Gem. Paul Panzer, well known villain of the popular serial, "The Perils of Pauline" and Betty Gray, vivacious Universal star will be seen at the Gem today in "Scorched Wings," a three part photoplay telling the story of the varied adventures of a society butterfly. An Animated weekly also on the program contains the latest war pictures, telling the story of Uncle Sam's bandit hunt in Mexico.

The Empress George Behan, character actor who starred in "The Sign of the Rose" or "The Alien" is again at the Empress theater in "The Pawn of Fate." A synopsis is given: Pierre Dufrene, a peasant of Normandy and his pretty wife, leave their picturesque farm for the gay world of Paris, confident that in Pierre the world is to discover a new artistic genius. Pierre is really the dupe of a wealthy Parisian painter who has fallen in love with Pierre's wife, Lesar, the Parisian, plays upon Pierre's artistic ambitions and lures him on to become at last the butt of a cruel jest. His illusions shattered and his faith in his wife dimmed, Pierre turns upon his false friend and takes partial toll for his wrongs in physical violence. In the depths of despair, Pierre is about to seek solace in suicide when arrested and confronted by the man he has mortally wounded. In his dying moments Lesar atones and the reconciliation between Pierre and his wife comes in a scene of deep pathos and compelling heart interest.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AT EMPRESS WEDNESDAY

Charlie Chaplin will be shown at the Empress tomorrow in his first Mutual comedy under the new contract. This picture, "The Floorwalker" is having an unprecedented run all over the United States and Canada, 139 prints having been run simultaneously in theatres in New York City. Up to this time this film has brought in $1,300,000 in bookings in the United States alone, establishing a record. In addition, $175,000 in royalties has been paid by Henry Brock, film exporter. Wichita audiences will be viewing some expensive film.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

Murphy's Comedians opened their second engagement in Wichita Falls last night to more than capacity. Notwithstanding the fact that their tent is larger this time than before, people were standing wherever they could. The show is stronger than when it was here before, and the specialties are unusually good, receiving repeated ovations. The play was "The Man From the West," the comedy was good, and snappy, keeping the large audience in an uproar continually. While several of the people are new, they are sure to become favorites if their work last night is their standard.

Margaret Swander was the little girl that handled the comedy before and she has lost none of her ability. Jack Bronson was the same Jack of old; every one was glad to see him, judging from the amount of applause he received on his first appearance last night. The band and orchestra is excellent; a treat to the music-lovers under the direction of Prof. Edward Secc. The big tent is located on the corner of 13th and Indiana, the play for tonight is "The Man Who Came Back."

Japanese Proverbs. Proverbs have great influence with the Japanese in their daily lives, according to a writer in the Christian Register. Among their countless adages those with their English equivalents are quoted: "Some insects feed upon smartweed" (There is no accounting for tastes). "If in a hurry, go round" (The more haste, the less speed). "Live under your own hat" (Let well enough alone). "The mouth is the front gate to misfortune" (The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity).

Men of Science.

Men of science form, as it were, an organized army, laboring on behalf of the whole nation, and generally under a common direction, and at its expense, to augment the stock of such knowledge as may serve to increase wealth, to adorn life, to improve political and social relations and to further the moral development of individual citizens. After the immediate practical results of their work we forbear to inquire; that we leave to the instructed. We are convinced that whatever contributes to the knowledge of the forces of nature or the powers of the human mind is worth cherishing, and may, if its own due time, bear practical fruit, very often where we should least have expected it.—Helmholtz.

Language of Treaties.

The archive copy of treaties is always in each of the languages of all the signatory powers, unless one language may be agreed upon as the common language. Printed copies of treaties are generally in the language of the countries doing the printing. French is generally accepted as the language of diplomacy, but it is not officially an "international language."
