Declares For Nationwide Prohibition, Woman's Suffrage and Other Things—Nominating Speeches Heard This Morning.

By Associated Press. St. Paul, July 21.—J. Frank Hanley, former governor of Indiana was nominated for president of the United States on the first ballot of the National Prohibition convention this afternoon. Hanley received 440 votes against 381 for William Sulzer, former governor of New York, his nearest competitor.

The convention was called to order shortly before 10 o'clock. After a brief discussion the platform was adopted without serious opposition. By a rising vote the convention included in the platform A. W. Chas. plank endorsing the initiative, referendum and recall.

The names of the new members of the national committee were presented and confirmed.

The nomination of presidential and vice presidential candidates was the next order of business. Nominating speeches were limited to ten minutes and succeeding speeches to five minutes. Alabama yielded to Indiana and amid an outburst of applause Sumner W. Hayes began his speech nominating J. Frank Hanley.

The delegates cheered as Mr. Hayes extolled the work of former governor Hanley in behalf of the prohibition party. As he concluded a demonstration began. Indiana waved flags and banners and stood on their seats and shouted. The Indiana delegation began marching through aisles and over the platform, singing patriotic songs. Other state delegates joined the procession which grew as it circled the hall. Hanley leaders announced from the platform that they had agreed to permit no demonstration. Order was restored after the demonstration had proceeded 12 minutes.

Arizona was next called and Eugene W. Chan placed in nomination for vice president of New York. He was elected by a majority when he concluded with the declaration that "Sunday school politics have prevailed too long in the prohibition movement. A demonstration was begun, lasting four minutes.

George H. Gough nominated Finley C. Hanson of Cumberland Maryland. The Maryland delegation cheered.

Dr. Gratton D. Day nominated Dr. James Gilbert Mason of New Jersey. Daniel A. Pendergast seconded the nomination of Mr. Hanley. John C. Coffin of Florida seconded the nomination of Sulzer.

The platform of the prohibition party, adopted today, denounces the liquor traffic as a crime, declares for national wide prohibition and equal suffrage and opposes the prohibition party, but favors a "constructive program in preparation for peace."

The platform makes the following declarations: "Opposes opposition to the wasteful military program of the democratic and republican parties but favors preparation for peace."

Support would be given a "compact among nations to dismantle navies and disarm armies, but until such court and compact is established, we place ourselves to maintain an effective army and navy and to provide coast defenses entirely adequate for national protection."

Favors reciprocal trade treaties to be negotiated with all nations and commissions appointed to gather facts.

Favors national legislation to encourage the establishment of an adequate fleet of American merchant ships.

Opposes war with Mexico; pledges aid to the protection of our lives and interests of force when necessary.

SMALLER NAVY ADVOCATES LOSE

SENATE DEFEATS AMENDMENTS TO REDUCE BUILDING PROGRAM.

VARIOUS PLANS FAIL

Controversy Over Claims of Bethlehem Steel Company Results In Argument.

By Associated Press. Washington, July 21.—Senator Cummins' amendment to the naval bill to reduce the number of dreadnaughts to be constructed in three years from ten to two and battle cruisers from ten to four was rejected by the Senate today, 60 to 14. Three democrats, Senators Lane, Thomas and Vandeman voted for it. An amendment to reduce the number of dreadnaughts from ten to four also was rejected, the vote being 58 to 15.

Senator Kenyon's amendment to make the number of battle ships four, to be built at once, was defeated 51 to 17. Senators Lane, Shaforth, Orin, Underwood and Vandeman, democrats voted for it.

Without debate the Senate next rejected an amendment by Senator Thomas, democrat, substituting the house provision for five battle cruisers for the Senate capital ship program. The vote was 65 to 13.

Action on the bill was delayed by a controversy between Senator Reed of Missouri and Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania.

During the delay Senator Penrose recurred unanimously of the Senate to publish as a document the Bethlehem Steel Company's argument against the government steel plant. Returns to the chamber, Reed denounced the action as a "shameless proposition and an outrage" and declared the company's statement "false and misleading." Senator Oliver challenged Reed to show the statements referred to.

Arguments followed until Vice President Marshall intervened. Senator Thomas finally withdrew his request for the publication of the company's documents and said he would not attempt to hold the Senate to its agreement.

OFFICIAL PHOTOS SHOW HOW BRITISH AT KUT HELD OUT UNTIL NEAR STARVATION

Striking testimony to the grim endurance with which General Townshend and his gallant troops at Kut-el-Amara held out in the face of suffering and privation was afforded by the emaciated condition of the sick and wounded men who were magnanimously permitted by a line of helpers to be sent through to the British lines in order to receive adequate medical attention. The larger picture herewith shows Indian "walking caps" tenderly assisted by a line of helpers. The inserted picture depicts a Red Cross orderly carrying a very youthful British soldier on his back to the hospital tents.

VILLA'S DEFEAT COSTS PRESTIGE

NO LONGER FEARED AS HE WAS BEFORE REVERSED AT FARRAL.

NATIVES ARE LOYAL

Unconfirmed Rumor That Pershing Plans to Reoccupy Nacaju, is Circulated.

By Associated Press. El Paso, July 21.—Passengers arriving from Farral say Villa's ineffectual attempt to take that town was a greater moral than military defeat, so far as the Villista cause is concerned. Before the attack, Villa was regarded with awe by the populace of the Farral district; his name inspired more than respect in the Carranza garrison. But now Villa is a fallen idol and the natives of the parts pride themselves on their loyalty to the de facto government. They are also extremely proud of their part in humiliating the bandit leader.

Shipment of 250,000 rounds of small arms ammunition from Columbus, N. M., to the punitive force which gave rise to sensational rumors here today, is explained by the military authorities as merely the usual supply for target practice.

Rumors that General Pershing intended to move south and reoccupy Nacaju, a former bandit stronghold, have been current here but find no support among the army men and government officials.

AGREEMENT FOR MEXICAN PARLEY BELIEVED NEAR

STATEMENT WITH REGARD TO PROGRESS OF PRELIMINARY NEGOTIATIONS EXPECTED SHORTLY.

MAKE NO COMMENT

Reports From Mexico City Last Night do Not Discussed at State Department, But Text Believed to Be Similar.

By Associated Press. Washington, July 21.—While it was admitted at the state department that a note had been received from the de facto government of Mexico under date of July 11 proposing the appointment of a joint commission to settle border difficulties, officials refused to comment upon the statement given out at Mexico City last night, purporting to present the text of the communication.

It was learned from an authoritative source, however, that the Mexico City text, thought substantially similar, is not identical with that presented by Eliseso Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate on July 12. Mr. Arredondo saw Acting Secretary Polk before the latter went to the cabinet meeting today. It was intimated some formal statement with regard to the progress of preliminary negotiations might be given out today or tomorrow.

The general impression prevailed that a tentative agreement has been reached along the general lines of the Mexican proposal. However, the scope of the discussion may differ somewhat from the suggestions of the Carranza note.

3000 VOTES ARE EXPECTED TO BE CAST IN COUNTY

CAMPAIGNS WILL CLOSE TONIGHT SEVERAL LOCAL RACES HOLD INTEREST OF VOTERS AND CLOSE RESULTS EXPECTED.

COUNTING BIG TASK

Will Probably Be Many Hours After Polls Close Before Some Races Are Decided—Interest in Various State Contests.

One last round of the street corners, one last passing of the cards, one last appeal to friends—and the counting begins. It is a task of no small magnitude and one which will probably be completed within an hour or two, but it will be many hours before the larger boxes complete the count. The box at Electric and Boxes 2 and 12 in this city usually require much longer than any of the others, and where the races are close, candidates and their friends must remain on the various seats for many hours.

The saloons will remain closed all day, according to law. Chief interest in this county seems to be in a four cornered sheriff's race and the eight cornered race for tax assessor, though the contest for county clerk, county superintendent, county treasurer and judge of the 75th district have claims of a peculiar character of the public's attention: County Judge Harris, County Tax Collector Bullard, District Clerk Kerr, District Attorney Hunter, and the race for the Peace J. P. Jones are unopposed for re-election.

The election may result in a new commissioner's court, and three of the present members who are seeking re-election having opponents. In the district contests, Wichita county has several candidates. Judge Bonner of the 30th district, comprising Wichita, Clay, Archer and Young counties is opposed by Judge Simpson of Hemetia. In the 10th representative district, consisting of Wilbarger and Wichita counties, both candidates, Enos B. Greenwood and P. Haney, reside in this county. Wilbarger's aspirant having withdrawn.

In the congressional race, the opponents of Judge Stephens, who is seeking reelection, have three candidates to pick from—Marvin Jones of Amarillo, W. E. Probst of Cottle county and Robert H. Elliott of Palfrey, Texas. There is no election for state senator in this district. W. A. Johnson of Hall county, the present incumbent, has several candidates. In addition to the numerous state candidates, two issues are submitted to the voters of the state, one of a prohibition of a constitutional amendment and the question of the retention, without amendment of the Robertson insurance law. Both issues are of interest to voters here in either of these issues, and if the usual rule is followed in this election there will be many voters who will be expected to express themselves either for or against them.

Chief interest in the state contests is manifested in the senatorial race, with its six candidates, all of whom have many friends here. Four of them have spoken here during the campaign, and another was represented by a friend. Both the candidates for governor also addressed local voters here this summer. The fact that Governor Ferguson is seeking a second term causes many to take it for granted that he will be reelected, but it is certain that his opponent, C. H. Morrell, will receive a large vote, both in this county and elsewhere. Almost no interest at all has been shown here in the races for minor state offices.

At tomorrow's election here, one city box will be at the city hall, and numbers 11, 12 and 13 will be at the temporary court house. The election officers appointed for the occasion are: Hall No. 1—E. O. Jones and J. B. Pitts, judges; A. J. Chambers and L. C. Huckleby, clerks. Court House No. 2—C. Ward, president; judges: E. B. Gorstline, judge; K. V. Grinn, J. A. Farris, J. Hoyer, W. B. Duke, W. A. McCarty, clerks. Alexander—W. H. Gwinn, J. P. Billingsley, judges; A. A. Priebe and S. B. Ladolphus, clerks. Cashier—H. H. White and R. F. Lavender, judges; J. H. Shaw and Ira Greenhouse, clerks. Beaver Creek—William Guthrie Jr., judge; B. C. Ellis, A. Foster, clerks. Electra—J. H. Marriott, presiding judge; S. E. Honaker, S. H. Smith, A. A. Honaker, B. E. Grayson, judges; Charles Pridden, A. T. McDonald, C. V. Harris, clerks. Burk Burnett—W. W. Graham, presiding judge; Martin Alday, August Leboeuf, C. A. Walling, judges; L. W. Proctor, A. L. Clark, Ben Davis, A. J. Batts, clerks. HANEY GETTING DESPERATE

TO THE VOTERS OF WICHITA AND WILBARGER COUNTIES

It has just come to my attention that during the last week a number of papers of this District have carried an article signed by W. J. Bullock as President of the School Board. This article is paid political advertisement and so handled by the papers which published it. I talked to the Secretary of the School Board and to other individual members of the Board, and all of them informed me that the School Board had taken no action endorsing any candidate. Therefore, the endorsement of which Mr. Haney has tried to make so much is nothing more than the personal endorsement of one man. It is usually presumed that the official signature of an officer of any organized body is attached only to matters which bespeak some action of that body, but since that is not true in this instance, I am forced to conclude that Mr. Bullock signed his endorsement officially either with the hope or the intent that the people would consider it as voicing the action of the School Board and thereby be deceived.

I firmly believe the individual members of that Board and the people in general will scorn this apparent attempt to convert a worthy board of school trustees into a political organization. If there is any institution on earth which should be kept free from politics, next to the Church, it is our public schools.

Now, with reference to Mr. Haney being elected speaker of the House, that is the same old song we heard two years ago, that Wichita County would be "dignified" by the "speaker-ship" but after the election nothing more was ever heard about the "speaker-ship." Why I leave the public to draw their own conclusions, doubtless a great majority of the membership of the House can tell you.

It has been said that "a drowning man will grab at a straw." This and other recent actions of my opponent indicate to me that he is realizing the desperateness of his chances, although Mr. Bullock says he will win overwhelmingly, but this is not the first election in this County in which Mr. Bullock has made predictions and if he misses his guess as far this time as he usually does, my election is assured.

These "overwhelming majority" cries are always made in desperation, hoping the appeal will be heard by a few, who they suppose will follow what appears to be the largest crowd, but Mr. Bullock and his candidate have misjudged the people this time. Instead of being misled by the noise and dust, they are going to vote their own honest convictions.

To all who vote for me and to those who vote against me, alike, I only repeat my pledge of sincere, honest and impartial service.

I thank, in advance, each and every voter for any consideration given my candidacy for Representative of the 101st District.

Yours very truly, E. R. GREENWOOD. (Political Advertisement)

NINE DEFENDANTS, ONLY ONE IS FINED

Variety of Cases Disposed of at Today's Session of the Corporation Court.

Only one prisoner out of nine that faced the court at this morning's session of the police court was fined, one party being fined $5 on a plea of guilty of disturbing the peace. Three smart boys who were arrested Thursday morning on complaint of teachers at the high school building for raising a disturbance while circling the building in a car were allowed to go after a severe lecture. In his lecture the city attorney told the boys that in his opinion what they needed most was to take a trip to the wood shed in company with their parents.

One case of resisting an officer was passed. The defendant is an attaché of a rooming house here and he is charged with giving notice to the inmates of a visit by the officers as they stepped into the building. A case against a woman charged with disturbing the peace was passed on she could get a lawyer. She is alleged to have been drunk when she created the disturbance. A case of affray originating in the flats was dismissed for want of evidence. A Mexican was charged with creating a disturbance in a local restaurant, and as no witnesses appeared against him and no one seemed to know much about the case was turned loose.

True Friend to the Cause. By mistake a farmer had got aboard a car reserved for a party of Princeton graduates, who were returning to their alma mater for some special event. "No," said the old man, earnestly, "but I believe in it."—Harper's Magazine.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

We misinterpret death. We are too stupid about death. We will not learn. How it is wages paid to those who earn. How it is the gift for which on earth we strive. To be set free from bondage to the flesh. How it is turning seed corn into grain. How it is winning heaven's eternal gain. How it means freedom evermore from pain. How it untangles every moral mesh. We are so selfish about death. We count our friends. Far more than we consider their relief. When the great Reaper gathers in No more to know the season's constant change. And we forget that it means only life. Life with all joy, peace, rest and glory rife. The victory won, and ended all the strife. And heaven no longer far away or strange.
 —William Crosswell Doane.

H. Burnside.

DR. BROOKS THE WINNER

From all parts of the great State of Texas comes the news that Dr. S. P. Brooks of Waco is the leading man in the Senatorial race. When he entered the race, the politicians said he couldn't win, because they said he was unknown in politics and knew nothing of the ways of a politician. They said the same thing of Woodrow Wilson when he resigned as President of Princeton University and ran for the Governorship of New Jersey, but the people said he is a big man, a clean man, a brainy man and as good as he is great, and they elected him over the politicians. Then we nominated him and elected him President in spite of Tammany Hall and Wall Street, and in spite of all the money and scheming of the professional politicians.

Dr. Brooks may well be called "The Woodrow Wilson of Texas." He is President of Baylor University, is the son of a preacher, the same as President Wilson, and has been sneered at as "a College Professor," and entered this race without money or political pull, and he is now closing it the most popular Senatorial candidate in the field, and why? Because he has conducted his campaign on a high plane. He has run upon his own merits abused nobody had no secret agents with full purses to sneak about over the country seeking the low purchasable vote, has had no paid speakers' bureaus, but has gone straight to the people and told them what he stands for and why. His conduct and ability is such that none of his opponents have dared make any attacks upon either his integrity or ability, but all recognize him as the man they must beat to win the race.

No other candidate in the history of Texas has ever received such hearty and spontaneous support from the people. They talked for him, made speeches for him, wrote splendid articles in the papers for him, wrote to their friends about him, did personal work for him, and spent their money for him more freely than was ever done for any other candidate for any office in the political history of this great State.

There are more newspapers supporting Dr. Brooks than all the other Senatorial candidates combined. There are more Brooks Clubs than all the other candidates have. He will lead in the Senatorial race by more than 25-000 plurality. In South Texas it is Brooks and Colquitt. In Southwest Texas it is Brooks and Colquitt. In Central Texas it is Brooks and Henry, and Dr. Brooks will carry every County in Congressman Henry's Congressional District with the possible exception of Falls. In Dallas and North Texas it is Brooks and Culberson, with Culberson slightly in the lead in Dallas. In East Texas it is Brooks and Campbell, and Brooks will carry Tyler and Smith County, next door neighbor to Campbell. In West Texas, it is Brooks and Colquitt. Brooks will carry Wichita County by receiving more than one thousand votes.

Remember what we say and vote right.

Wichita Falls, Texas, July 21, 1916

Tomorrow the boys from the forks of the creek are coming out to express their choice for Culberson.

Speaking of Judge Hughes being a Baptist, the Lawrence (Kansas) Daily Journal is reminded of the story told of Uncle Jack Case, an Oklahoma Baptist preacher. It was said that he discharged his washwoman because she persisted in sprinkling the clothes.

Former Governor Colquitt has come and gone. Those who pretend to know something about conditions here still predict that he will run fifth in the senatorial race in Wichita county. Henry is still counted the leader in this county with Brooks, Campbell and Culberson crowding each other for second place.

The Amarillo News says that reports have been received from the Marvin Jones' club at Wichita Falls to the effect that of the 2900 votes in Wichita county Jones will receive 2500. Somebody is going to be badly disappointed when the voters are counted.

It's always a mighty poor plan to swap horses while crossing a stream. Wichita Falls is making an effort to secure a federal court. Congressman John H. Stephens is at work on this matter and is using his influence in Wichita Falls behalf. If one of his opponents is nominated Saturday all that has been done will be lost, and it might be that the man who is nominated would on account of his personal affiliation favor some other city in the district in preference to Wichita Falls. Wichita Falls is crossing a stream in the movement for a federal court.

O. B. Colquitt is making a strong bid for the anti-prohibition vote. His speech here last night, as has been his speeches everywhere, was directed to the anti-prohibitionists. A good many anti would support him if they believed he could win in the second primary, but there's where the rub comes in. It is hard to believe that a majority of the democrats of Texas will vote for the man who has declared over his own signature that "The Wilson administration has been the biggest failure in the history of the presidency" and who predicted that the electorate of 1916 would end the democratic regime. The selection of O. B. Colquitt as one of the two candidates for the run off primary would be considered by the people of the country as a slap at the Wilson administration by Texas democracy. The Times believes that the great majority of Texas democrats endorse the Wilson administration and that the success of Mr. Colquitt, in view of his statements and his attitude toward the administration, would be a humiliation.

which no right thinking democrat would want to inflict upon the democrats of Texas.

Fort Worth is making an effort to secure one of the farm land banks soon to be opened by the federal government. Such a bank at Fort Worth would serve a large territory which sorely needs such an institution. That city will have the support of Wichita Falls in this undertaking.

WHY MR. SCHIFF IS FOR WILSON.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican—Jacob H. Schiff of New York, head of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., along with other independent voters who will support President Wilson in his campaign, has given reasons for his position, and this passage in his statement is worth quoting.

"What I consider President Wilson's greatest accomplishment is that he has in a great measure succeeded in bringing about rapprochement between the producing and consuming classes, so that the great and hurtful antagonism which before the present administration came into power, had made itself felt almost in every substantial interest, has now almost ceased."

This is a phase of the President's record that will make appeal to many, and it is significant that a representative of "big business" should lay emphasis upon it. As a candidate Mr. Wilson has promised to do what he could to bring about conditions under which, through obedience to law, business could gain a new freedom. Mr. Schiff recognizes accomplishment sufficient to make him a Wilson man.

Before this campaign ever thymus must be a broad study of what this president of the United States has accomplished under conditions of difficulty that were better appreciated at the start than they are today. Mr. Wilson came to power embarrassed by what republicans had come to call "the wild horses" of the democracy. The party was demoralized and unaccustomed to rule. The "team work" which the President called for seemed, to observers in Washington and to the republicans especially, unlikely of achievement. Leadership such as Mr. Wilson was destined to give to his party had long been conspicuous by its absence. The work of making congress democratic in both its branches, pull together loomed up like an impossibility ahead. The critics were many, and the men of faith, even among the democrats, were few. President Cleveland came to cross purposes with his party, which followed him relentlessly, and in the end there was open break between the two. Could President Wilson hope for better luck?

The country felt that this president was strong and would keep faith with his promises, but the capacity of the democracy for going forward along the lines of his purposes was greatly doubted. Whatever else may be thought or said of Woodrow Wilson, it must be admitted that he brought democracy together and accomplished through it a volume of legislation that constitutes a remarkable achievement in the public interest, as step by step, he led the way to one enactment after another. It is this record of industry and of achievement in the settlement of vexed problems that appeals to Mr. Schiff, especially as it relates to the establishment of a broader basis for business activity, and has assisted in allaying acute antagonisms that were very much in evidence when President Wilson undertook the task which the people called him to perform.

ASKS WICHITANS TO VISIT ENCAMPMENT

Urged To Show Interest In Big Gathering of Woodmen to Be Held Here

John W. Thomas, acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce urged that all Wichitans should by all means go out Saturday and Sunday and see the Woodman encampment at the lake, both because the five hundred tents make a sight that will well repay a visit and show the visiting officers that the people of the city feel an interest in this big encampment they are bringing to the city. The large force of men who were at work erecting nearly five hundred of the tents which were blown down in Wednesday night's storm have completed their work and the camp today looks as it did before the storm struck it. All plans for the reception of the visiting companies are completed. The first of the increasing companies are expected to put in an appearance at an early hour Sunday morning and all will be conducted to the encampment in special cars immediately after their arrival.

FARMER IS ROBBED, NEGRESS ARRESTED

Archer County Visitor Losses Pocket-book But Prompt Arrest is Made

Dora Oden, a negro woman well known to police authorities, was arrested just before noon today and lodged in the county jail charged with taking about eight dollars from a farmer of Scotland, Texas. The victim made a complaint to the police station at a time when all the officers were out on call, and as the case required instant action Desk Sergeant A. J. Chambers sent out after an ex-citing chase of several blocks. The farmer who came to Wichita Falls to spend the day from Seymour, where he is chopping cotton, said that he saw the woman in front of a house down in the flats, and at her solicitation he went in with her. While in the house with the woman, he says she took the money from his pocket and ran to the door gave it to a negro boy who promptly disappeared in one direction and the woman in the other.

RUTH ROLAND AT MAJESTIC SATURDAY

"Who's Guilty?" the new serial with a complete story in each two reel picture is showing Saturday at the Majestic, also a False natural color. The Matrimonial Martyr, starring Ruth Roland, Erma Desmond lives with her aunt and uncle on the latter's large estate on Long Island. She is in love with Chester Lynch, but her uncle from whom she has inherited the estate decides to elope. Meanwhile, Mrs. Hugo Stanley, wife of a scientist, and a lady of a very irascible disposition, is holding the fort against her husband and daughter. She is in a "temper" and her family fights shy of her. Erma plans to elope, but balks at the prospect and decides not to go. Her uncle, however, learns of her plans and forbids her to return to his house. She goes to the city and takes up her abode with a friend. Later, she leaves to accept a position as the daughter in answer to an advertisement, in the home of Mrs. Stanley. The latter notes the marked likeness between the maid and herself and hires her. Mrs. Stanley then, her husband and daughter having gone off, leaves for a pleasure trip, installing Erma as head of the house and leaving her a check of large proportions to cover the expenses. There is a house party in progress at Stanley's at the time, but even the guests and servants fail to recognize Erma as the former employee. They do not, however, the chamber in manner, and are greatly elated thereat. But sometime later Stanley and the girl for his daughter's hand to whom Mrs. Stanley objected, and a niece the daughter comes home from boarding school, all of which greatly complicates matters. Stanley falls in love with Erma, thinking her his rejuvenated wife, and Gilbert, another son, smooches her with kisses. She doesn't know what to do. Finally matters are straightened out, but not without many sad and various complications; and a message from Mrs. Stanley, who had fled to Reno, announcing that she has secured a divorce, clears the road for Stanley to follow out his desires.

The Gem.
Today the first chapter of the new serial, "The Secret of the Submarine," which is creating a furore in motion picture circles will be shown at the Gem. Also on the program is a two-part drama, "The Sheriff of Pine Mountain," with Ben Wilson and Dorothy Phillips starred. There are lots of thrills in the feature picture, "The Secret of the Submarine."

The Majestic.
H. B. Warner in the "Beggar of Cawnpore," a Triangle feature, will star on today's program at the Majestic.

The Empress.
"His Great Triumph," one of the sensational feature productions of the season, with Marguerite Snow, the talented and winsome artiste, and William Nigh, one of the foremost actor-directors in the country, in the stellar roles, will be seen here at the Empress today. This feature was produced for the Metro by the Columbia Pictures Corporation, under the direction of Mr. Nigh. In addition to directing the feature and playing one of the starring roles, Mr. Nigh is also the author of "His Great Triumph." It was due to this fact that he agreed to play a part himself, as the story is one that has long appealed to him, and he expects it to add greatly to his already notable record as a writer, producer and actor. Mr. Nigh has exercised extreme care in selecting a cast, and the number includes Robert Elliot, Roy Applegate, Julius D. Cowles, Martin J. Faust, David Thompson, Frank Montgomery, R. A. Broese, Cecilia Griffiths and Florence Vincent.

NOTHING LOST IN ITALY.

This is a sample of thorough European police methods. junction just across the lagoon from Venice, for breakfast and the last change of cars. I was as stupid as though I had been drugged.

When at last I arrived at my destination my camera and field glasses were missing. I could not remember when I had seen them last, but running over the confused memories of the night I was sure that I had them when I got off the train at Mestre. I notified the station master at my destination. On my way back I investigated at Mestre. No one had seen anything of my lost property. I did not notify the military authorities, because I felt that they were too busy with the war to bother with the property of an alien civilian, there by courtesy and sufferance.

Two weeks later, in Paris, I received a letter, asking me if by any chance I had lost a camera and a pair of field glasses. I sent on a description of my property. In due time the camera and field glasses arrived, with a letter of explanation.

I had done exactly what I could have sworn I did not do. I had left them on the train from which I transferred at Mestre. That train went on to Venice. There the conductor turned my property over to the military police. Neither camera nor glasses bore any mark of ownership. However, the camera, of German make, had been bought in Fifth Avenue, New York, as the little metal brand of the dealer showed. There was a clay for the police—it belonged probably to an American or one who had lived in America. Still there are two hundred thousand Italian-Americans in the Italian army. However, there was a roll of exposed films inside. The military police had them developed, revealing six views of a regimental staff on whom the Associated Press men and I had been billeted. We two Americans appeared in one of the prints—for this picture I had handed my camera over to an Italian sergeant. The Italian military police put two and two together. This was an American-bought camera. The two civilians in the picture looked like Americans. What kind of civilian Americans were likely to be in the zone of operations, fraternizing with officers? Correspondents, most likely! Besides, correspondents usually have cameras.

The military police sent the photographs to the censor. He identified us as two correspondents who had passed inspection a month or so before. The censor wrote to us both; and now my camera has come home again. "You see nothing is ever really lost in Italy!" said the letter of advice.

FOR SHERIFF OF WICHITA COUNTY

J. L. HUFFINES

I am asking the support of the voters of Wichita County for the democratic nomination for sheriff, and I therefore feel that it is my duty to state plainly the return which I expect to give them for their support.

I will conduct the business of the sheriff's department in a business like manner. I expect to be on the job at all hours of the day and night myself, and will not leave the management of the office to deputies.

I will treat every man who comes under the action of the department in the same way. No matter what may be the cause or the consequence, if I am elected sheriff there will be one rule of action for all parties, and that is, the rule of the law. They will look alike to me if they break the law.

I am a farmer—some folks call me a rube—but I know what the law is, and I know that it was not made for one man to kick about as a plaything and another to obey. I know how to handle the business of the office, to keep the books, and to take charge of the prisoners. I expect to be elected, and I am going to try to make you the best sheriff that Wichita County has ever had. I will thank you for your support, and after election I expect to be just the same common old farmer and decent man that I am trying to be now.

J. L. HUFFINES,

Candidate for Sheriff of Wichita County.
(Political Advertisement)

On account of illness, I am unable to be out visiting the voters in these, the last days of the campaign and therefore take this method of addressing you.

I am not seeking sympathy because of illness, but I just want to say that I want your votes for county attorney. I am asking your suffrage on the record I have made in the office. Friendship is a fine thing, and I appreciate the fact that I have enjoyed the friendship of a good part of the people of Wichita County, but I prefer to be elected on the merits of the work already done, and would ask every man to investigate the record made by the county attorney's office in the past two years. I do not wish to take all of the credit for this work to myself, my very able assistant, John Davenport, has been a strong factor in prosecuting the law breakers of the county, and both of us will appreciate your vote of confidence if you record it for us on Saturday.

Yours very truly,

BRUCE GREENWOOD,

County Attorney, and candidate for re-election for second term. (Political Advertisement.)

28 HOUR TRIP TO COLORADO SPRINGS

A. B. Huff/Writes of Tour Just Completed—Good Roads Part of Way
From Wichita to the Colorado Springs in 28 hours and twenty minutes was the time made by A. B. Huff of this city, who left for the resort last Saturday. He has written to Lloyd Weaver as follows: "We got here at 3:40 Tuesday afternoon after what I consider a good trip over good roads. Will give you a brief outline of the trip and you can be the judge of whether the time was good or not. We left Wichita Falls at 2:30 Saturday afternoon and drove to Quanah arriving at 6:40 and spent the night with friends there. We left Quanah at 7:35 Sunday morning and got to Colorado Springs in 102 miles over the worst roads we had at 12:25 and spent 40 minutes for lunch, leaving at 1:05 with the intention of spending a hole the Dalhart. However, at 5:30, when we were two miles from Chaney we knocked the plug out of the bottom of the gas tank, losing a hole the size of a half dollar. By the time I had walked to Chaney and back with some gas it was so late we could not get the tank fixed. I carried a handkerchief in the hole well enough to get to town and by the time I had located a man to fix the tank it was so dark we could not see well enough to get the tank off. He and I worked on it until 1:30 when we gave it up and had jobs. I went to work at the next morning and got the tank off and put a piece of tin over the hole and soldered it over solid. This took until 1:30 when we left Chaney and drove to Texline for dinner, arriving at 12:50. We spent 30 minutes there, leaving at 1:20; drove to Raton, arriving at 4:30; spent the night there and left Sunday morning at 7:10 arriving at Colorado Springs at 3:40 this afternoon. "We had only one machine that being a mile over 121 1/2 speedometer registered 652 miles and you can see by a little figuring that the actual running time was but twelve minutes, or an average for the 652 miles of about 2 1/2 miles an hour. This Hudson-Super Six No. 2223 walked up Raton, arriving at 4:30; spent the night there and left Sunday morning at 7:10 arriving at Colorado Springs at 3:40 this afternoon. "The worst roads we had were between Wichita Falls and Chaney, Chaney and Amarillo where we put it up to between 40 and 45 miles an hour and let her stay most of the way. Of course we had to stay under 45 or my wife would have jumped out of the car. From Pueblo to Colorado Springs were fine, we making the distance of 47 miles in an hour and five minutes. We beat the Santa Fe train, about 10 miles, but had to make 52 to do it. I could not expect a car to do better work than mine did. I believe it was about as good a record as any that has been made with three women in the car. Mr. Huff was accompanied by Mrs. Huff, Miss Della Stone and a servant.

Operation Was a Failure

A young married man, whose wife sometimes lags in her sleep, recently underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils. His health has been benefited, but it is hard to overcome the habit of snoring and he still slumbers with his mouth open at times. The other night he awoke with a start and a gasp in his throat. He wife, too, had been disturbed, although not enough to awaken her, so it was an unconscious effort which spoke when she said irritably, "I don't see why when they are taking out the tonsils they don't cut out the snore, too."

MAKING PROGRESS IN BAG WORM FIGHT

Report is Made to Council—Steps Considered for Further Elimination of Flies.

The campaign for the extermination of the bag worms which are threatening the shade trees of the city is progressing rapidly according to the report of Dr. J. F. Reed, chairman of the park board. The arsenal of lead spray is killing the worms by the wholesale wherever used, says Dr. Reed. J. B. Nail, tree inspector, in meeting with hearty cooperation with everyone in the matter. However, Mr. Nail reports one party who has refused to do anything in the way of having his trees, which are alive with the pest, sprayed. The council took no official action on the case but it is understood that the authorities intend to deal with this case right away unless a change of front is made by the party in question. It was reported that the spray had killed a large number of sparrows in different parts of the city, but on investigation it was decided that the birds had been killed by the storm of night before last. It is said that it is not uncommon for birds to be killed in large numbers by a sudden storm. Dr. Reed said that some time since he tried to get rid of some birds who were stopping the gutters at his home by their nesting, and soaked some chicken feed with the arsenate of lead. The birds ate the feed but it did not prove fatal to a single bird, he said. However, he advised parents to be careful and warn their children against chewing leaves off trees that had been recently sprayed. Although doctors are still much at sea over the means of the transmission of infantile paralysis, it was suggested that the disease might possibly be conducted by flies, and it was decided that the city authorities do all in their power to keep down the flies. It was pointed out however, that this city is already remarkably free from the fly pest. The sanitary authorities were instructed to promptly remove any trash and rubbish which would be likely to be a breeding place for the flies, and those having the weed cutting in hand were urged to push the weed cutting operations still more vigorously. The motor street sweeper was reported satisfactory by the street committee, and a warrant for $350 was ordered drawn in favor of the Elgin Motor Street Sweeper Co., Elgin, Illinois, in payment as per contract with the city. Delicious grape punch was served to the council by Chief and Mrs. J. L. McClure. Alderman J. A. Richolt, chairman of the street committee, is in receipt of a letter from H. W. Peck, agent for the Elgin street sweeper, stating that he and Street Commissioner Drennan of Houston would be in the city Monday to inspect the machine and make a great deal of favorable comment on the progressiveness of Wichita Falls. It is also remembered over the state that Wichita Falls was one of the first to get the first to purchase a motor fire engine. Some one suggested that they were surprised at this city's getting ahead of Dallas twice in this matter, whereupon Mayor Britain suggested that probably Dallas was having a hard time to keep up.

The strongest argument we can offer concerning why you should have us pack your furniture and other delicate or expensive articles for shipment is a visit to any freight or express station and see how busy some articles are injured because not properly packed. STEPHENS for CONGRESS

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF WICHITA COUNTY:

As the Hon. John H. Stephens has remained at Washington attending his official duties during the campaign we, as his friends, wish to call your attention to his record and ask your support for him for re-election as Congressman from the 13th District.

Mr. Stephens has been a faithful representative of West Texas, favoring the opening and settlement of Indian Lands in Oklahoma that so long were a Chinese Wall in the path of progress. He has been a consistent party man. Is the oldest man in point of service in the Texas Delegation. Has always been for economy in public expenditures and supported liberal legislation, in favor of labor. He has been a consistent, steady friend to the city of Wichita Falls, securing an appropriation for our Post Office Building and working to secure a United States court at this point.

We believe that his re-election would not only be the best thing for the district at large so far as the party is concerned, but would especially be of decided benefit to this city.

COLQUITT HEARD BY LARGE CROWD THURSDAY NIGHT

VOICES OPPOSITION TO SUBMISSION AND SUFFRAGE AND DEFENDS RECORD AS GOVERNOR—OUTLINES HIS VIEWS.

REFERS TO MEXICO

Stands By Former Utterances—C. F. Goodrich Speaks Upon Demands of Railroad Men in Present Eight-Hour Day Controversy.

Former Governor O. B. Colquitt, candidate for United States senator and

C. F. Goodrich, chairman of the joint legislative board of the organizations representing the railway employees, spoke last night at an open meeting of the Trades and Labor Council at the Lamar Air dome. A large audience of laboring men and other citizens, together with a number of ladies, heard the speakers.

County Judge Harvey Harris presided as master of ceremonies and seated on the stage were a majority of the candidates for various district and county offices.

Mr. Colquitt was introduced by W. Lindsay Bibb of this city, who made an eloquent appeal for the candidate, calling attention to his record as governor of the state, which he declares reflected credit, not only on the former governor, but upon the democratic party and the state.

Mr. Colquitt varied his usual discourse to a noted extent, in that he devoted a greater amount of time to the discussion of submission and the proposition for woman's suffrage. For the first 30 minutes of his discourse he voiced his opposition to these measures, calling attention to his well known views, especially as to the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition.

The speaker's voice was somewhat husky as the result of strenuous campaigning for the past several weeks, but he was able to make himself heard and during periods of his discourse, as his enthusiasm would increase, the trouble seemed almost to disappear.

Discussing question of submission, Mr. Colquitt declared that such amendment should be the result of the action of the legislature, as voiced in the instructions given the individual members by their constituents. He said that such was the constitutional provision, that it was the province of that body of lawmakers, who by a vote of two-thirds could submit the question whether it was thought opportune, or when that number were so instructed by their constituents. He gave it as his conviction that each district should voice its sentiments in initiating this question, as is done in dealing with other matters of public interest.

"I am opposed to calling an election on this question at this time," said the former governor, "and I am also opposed to the adoption of a prohibition amendment." Mr. Colquitt paid his respects to the Anti-Saloon League, which he characterized as an Ohio corporation that adjusted its politics to that of the state in which it desired to gain control. He charged that members of that organization were affiliating with the democratic party in Texas, which party alone afforded them an opportunity to dominate, and that in states largely republican the members of the league would be found following the flag of that party as the one best likely to serve their purpose.

Mr. Colquitt announced himself as opposed to woman's suffrage, but said that were he friendly to the movement, he should demand that it be made a state and not a national issue, in keeping with the declaration of the democratic platform. He called attention to the will that would follow the practice of delegating the control of the ballot to the federal government and thought that this issue should be left entirely in the hands of the state, as well as all other issues affecting the right of suffrage.

Disposing of these issues the speaker entered into a discussion of the questions more directly affecting the people, such as the control of the land loan banks, the control of the federal government establish such institutions to loan money to the farmers at 4 per cent interest, the borrower to pay 2 per cent each year as means of creating a sinking fund to take care of the indebtedness. He further advanced the theory that this sinking fund could be made to bring in a 7 per cent return, and declared that the adoption of such a law would be a boon to the farmer and small borrower, and that its provisions would prove beneficial to a great many.

The speaker advocated other policies and made a strong defense of his action as governor in protecting the people of the state along the Texas border, which he characterized as a hotbed of disturbances along the Rio Grande during his term of office and declared that he had no apology to make for protecting the people from border raids and Mexican armies. Continuing, he said that it was the duty of those in authority to protect Americans here and in Mexico and that stringent measures should be used if necessary.

The former governor did not consume as much time as has been his custom during the campaign. In view of the fact that Mr. Goodrich was present, and expected to address the crowd in behalf of the railway employees. His remarks, through brief in dealing with some of the issues of the campaign, were well received and he was liberally applauded, especially so when discussing the Mexican situation.

Mr. Goodrich, representing the four organizations of railway employees, who are making a fight for an eight-hour day, and which question has been the subject of much consideration during the past few months, was introduced by M. H. Barwise of this city, one of the leading members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and made a strong appeal for a fair and impartial consideration of the claims of the four organizations involved in the controversy. He explained in detail the working conditions at this time, calling attention to the burden of the long hours necessary in performing their work under present conditions.

Mr. Goodrich explained that the granting of the demands of the employees would not inflict a hardship on the operating companies nor would it involve an increased expense on the public. It was also explained that the demand did not involve an increase in wages, but provided for doing practically the same work that is done now in a shorter day, that whereas the trains were being operated ten hours at a speed of 10 miles per hour, under the plan as proposed an average speed of 12 1/2 miles could be maintained and the work completed within the eight hours, or the working day as now generally recognized.

The speaker also discussed the overtime feature of the proposed change, declaring that the men should be accorded this concession when compelled to work beyond the usual day at a profit to the company.

The speaker was given close attention by the large number present, many of whom had not before heard this issue discussed. Mr. Goodrich has spoken here on former occasions, is not a stranger to the people of Wichita Falls, especially to those connected with organized labor, but this is the first opportunity that he has had to address an audience of any size. He is expected to remain over and address those attending the smoker at the Moose Hall tonight.

In conversing with friends yesterday afternoon, the former governor expressed complete confidence in the outcome of the primary Saturday.

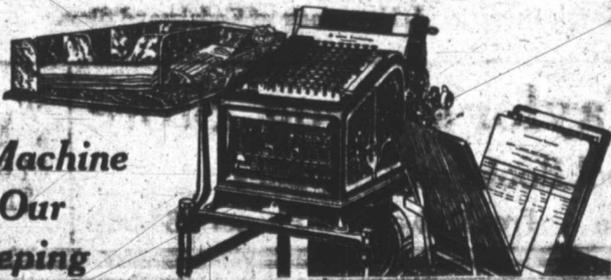

"I will be the high man," he said. He declined to predict as to who his running mate would be in the second primary.

Mr. Colquitt also expressed the belief that he will carry Wichita county and adhered to that opinion even after being told that this county had practically been conceded to other candidates.

"There will be 3,000 votes cast in this county, according to your estimates," said Mr. Colquitt, "and I expect to get 700 of them which will be more than any other candidate."

A son of the former governor, Sidney Colquitt, a first lieutenant in the United States Army, recently was admitted to the flying corps. Governor Colquitt has been advised. He applied for transfer to the aero division not long ago, and was accepted. Mr. Colquitt's oldest son, R. M. Colquitt, is managing his campaign.

Portrait of a Young Man. Behold our hero lying stretched out on the soft upholstery of a couch at his club. No attitude of more complete relaxation could be found; if there were one, he would find it. On a table at his side stands his whisky and soda, and at just the right distance to give the most grateful warmth crackles a wood fire. Outside, the keen air has the frosty tang of midwinter, and the north wind sweeps along, cleansing heaven and earth. Inside the clubhouse the air is warm and heavy with tobacco. Our hero yawns and moves one sly ankle under the fraction of an inch. He lights a cigarette and drops the glowing match on the carpet because it is too much work to reach over to the ash tray. Still he does reach almost as far to pick up his whisky and soda.—Cotton's Weekly.

How A Machine Does Our Bookkeeping

A short time ago we installed a remarkable machine in our Accounting Department—a machine which adds and subtracts, tells the date, keeps the books and gets out monthly statements. It does all this work much faster than any bookkeeper could, and has never been known to make a mistake.

The installation of this Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine means that our accounts will be handled just as rapidly and accurately as those of the largest and most up-to-date banks in the country.

Insures Accuracy

The fact that our figure work is done on a Burroughs is a guarantee to our customers of absolute accuracy in the handling of their accounts. The machine method of ledger posting makes it impossible for a mistake to get past unnoticed. This accuracy insurance alone is important enough to you and to us to justify the use of the machine method, but there are many other advantages.

Better Service to You. The Burroughs will handle our figure work in about half the time formerly needed. This gives us more time for other things—time to improve the service in every department of the bank.

Come in and see our machine bookkeeping system in operation. We will be glad to show you how the machine makes entries in our books, how it automatically adds in one column, subtracts in another and so on and how it makes mistakes impossible. You will be welcome any time.

We don't want you to think of this bank just as a place to deposit your money, although of course we are glad to have you keep as large a balance with us as possible. It is our desire to render our patrons every service and accommodation that can be reasonably expected from us.

Talk over your business problems with us. It is part of our work to study business and financial conditions, and it may be that we can suggest some ideas that you will find worth while. Please feel free to consult us at any time.

BRITISH ADVANCE AGAINST ENEMY LINES; VON EINEM HOLDS HIGH COMMAND IN WEST

GENERAL VON EINEM.

In the greatest single day's gain made by the British since their offensive began on July 1 they captured three villages on their way toward Bapaume, the important railroad center which is believed to be the present British objective. The map shows the British line as it was before July 1, when the advance began, and the gain made by the strong one day's advance. The Germans have consistently attempted since the war began to conceal the names of the generals who command in various sectors of the western front, but it is known that General von Einem, who is shown, has a very high command, perhaps the highest, in opposing the French and British offensive. He is a veteran of the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1.

Metal dealers declared Canada was not the only source of nickel in America. They said a quantity of nickel ore was obtained through various copper mines in the United States and that ore from New York State was brought here to be refined.

He also defended Johnson's policy of reducing street car fares in Cleveland from 5 cents to 3 cents. The physician who attended Dr. Adams gave it as his opinion that she died from an attempt to murder. It was said by Dr. Atwood that Miss Adams recently informed him that their marriage was impossible because Dr. Harris had wronged her, a charge which the latter denied.

Atwood was arraigned in court today and in default of $15,000 bond was committed to jail for a further hearing on July 22. The prisoner was not represented by counsel and did not plead.

SAYS CARRANZA TROOPS DID NOT FIRE ACROSS LINE

NO OFFICIAL REPORTS TO SUSTAIN ADVICES OF CLASH WHICH MAY BE TRUE WITH MASSACHUSETTS GUARD.

MAY BE SMUGGLERS' KEYNOTER IS HEARD

De Facto Officers Says That No Carranza Troops Are Stationed in Vicinity Where Shots Were Fired at Americans.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, July 19.—General Gonzalez, commander at Juarez, said today he had received no official report of the exchange of shots yesterday between a Massachusetts outpost and Mexicans below El Paso. Mexican customs line riders, General Gonzalez said, and none are stationed near the "island" where the shooting took place.

Military authorities on the American side assume that the Mexicans belonged to a band of smugglers said to have been operating in the district. There are only a few Carranza troops in this section of the frontier, Gonzalez said, and none are stationed near the "island" where the shooting took place.

Last night's advice said that a party of mounted Mexicans exchanged fire with Company I of the Ninth Massachusetts Infantry. According to reports, the guardsmen were doing outpost duty when the Mexicans rode up on the opposite bank of the Rio Grande and opened fire. The guardsmen suffered no casualty, but reported they believed they had killed one Mexican.

Captain Hickey of Dorchester, Mass., commanding the company, estimated the number of Mexicans at fifteen, but asserted that he was unable to determine whether or not they were soldiers. Approximately fifty shots were fired on each side, it was said.

Both General George Bell, Jr., commander of the El Paso military district, and Lieutenant Colonel Leon Bucom, acting garrison commander in Juarez, said they had received no official reports of the incident and both said it seemed trivial.

The shooting occurred in an isolated district about three miles south of the river from El Paso, known locally as the "island" section of the Masacapan duty in this district, one third of the duty in this district, consisting of the duty of being on guard and the duty of being on guard in the camp about half a mile to the east.

BURLESON TALKS OF ONE-CENT POSTAGE

Says He Will Recommend It Next Year if Certain Things Take Place.

By Associated Press. Washington, July 19.—Postmaster General Burleson was the principal speaker today before the convention of the National Association of Postmasters. Forward there was a discussion of the advantages to the government of owning automobiles for mail transportation, particularly in cities.

Burleson told the postmasters that if revenues from second-class mail were increased, "extravagance for useless political service" in the rural mail system were curtailed and payments to railroads for mail transportation under the new space basis were reduced, he could recommend to congress next year that letter postage be reduced to one cent.

The postmaster general, making today's principal address before the convention spoke of the space provision for railway mail pay in the postal bill as "the first step toward settlement of railway mail transportation."

"If I can keep down useless extravagance—not postal but political—in the rural mail service, I could promise you now that I will take the first step toward penny postage," Burleson said.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blacketer was loudly cheered when he said, "I am here to announce the party in control in Washington. There is no well worn path for multi-millionaires or special privilege; no sack of gold for the soft foot arist in Washington, for at least three years I think expressions of satisfaction and security floating around in Washington are founded on what is about to happen. I don't think anything but a calamity could prevent it and I don't believe it is necessary to say to you that your part is of course back home and I'm sure you'll attend to it when the time comes."

Postmaster Weaver of Oklahoma City, a former congressman, made a speech in which he told the postmasters to "go home and remember that the great work of all the nation is the election of Woodrow Wilson."

BITTER CONTEST NOW THREATENS PRO CONVENTION

BULZER AND HANLEY FACTIONS IN CONTEST WHICH BECOMES RATHER HEATED—DELEGATES BEGING THEIR WORK TODAY.

KEYNOTER IS HEARD

Daniel Poling of Boston Delivers Address as Temporary Chairman—Trying to Unite Factions Upon Choice For President.

By Associated Press. St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—With the contest for the presidential nomination between adherents of William Sulzer and J. Frank Hanley at its intense point, delegates to the twelfth quadrennial convention of the national prohibition party opened their first session at the auditorium here this morning.

Applause punctuated the keynote address of Daniel Poling of Boston, temporary chairman of the convention, which he delivered in a manner which he deplored the European war, decried militarism, attacked munitions manufacturers and exhorted at the progress of the prohibition movement.

Vincent G. Hinshaw of Chicago, chairman of the national committee, called the convention to order at 10:20 a. m. Mrs. Frances E. Seachamp of Lexington, Ky., secretary of the national committee, read the official call and Mr. Poling was introduced as temporary chairman, immediately launching into his speech.

An early morning Sulzer meeting at a downtown hotel was the signal for the unmaking of the batteries of the Sulzer and Hanley forces, and bitter debates took place. The delegates, which the New Yorker's followers accused Hanley of trying to seize control of the party, while some of Hanley's adherents are busy with the support of liquor interests in his candidacy for the prohibition nomination.

These charges caused bitter quarrels in a crowded crowd of partisans. Meetings of the Hanley and Sulzer followers will be held tonight and are expected to arrive not later than tomorrow morning and will throw himself into the fight to prevent Hanley's nomination.

The Lotus Club, unofficially an organization of about 40 state leaders, held a long secret conference late last night in an effort to unite on a candidate for the presidency. Sentiment was divided between Sulzer and Hanley and a decision was postponed until tonight when another conference will be held.

Members of the Lotus Club, most of whom are out of accord with the present administration, are expected to be pressed belief today that Mr. Chaffin, candidate of the party in 1908 and 1912, will be accepted as a compromise candidate.

Dr. Ira D. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., practically conceded the nomination for the party to Mr. Chaffin and is acceptable to all factions.

Mr. Hinshaw, in his opening remarks, spoke as follows:

"This convention completes the rounding out of 47 years of uninterrupted history.

"Greenbackers, Populists and Bull Moose may perish from the earth, but we live on forever, or until our purpose is achieved.

"Our party ship has served as a refuge to those who would vote with clean hands, and as a lifeboat to those who have been cast adrift by wrecked liners.

"This, the year 1916, marks the high tide of prohibition sentiment in America and the world. We are not here to perpetuate and create anew an avenue of expression for the multitudes who have caught the vision and desire to resist their conviction of a wretched, emancipated womanhood and childhood, for the abolishment of crime by the abolition of crime's producer, for the ultimate establishment of a world court of justice, and for honest government.

"We are met here to put in nomination candidates for president and vice president—the mention of whose names will be felt and recognized in every home in America.

"We are here to inaugurate a campaign that will reach every voter of every county and every state of the Union. We are here to enlist service, to call for sacrifice, and to perfect an organization that will be as effective as our conscience is clear and as purposeful.

"We have a clear field. We are the one organization in this campaign that stands for the woman, the child, the home, and for the conservation of humanity."

Mr. Hinshaw then introduced the temporary chairman of the convention, Daniel A. Poling, of Boston.

"The call of the hour is the challenge of a supreme opportunity, to an unparalleled sacrifice. These are the words of triumph—Peace, prosperity and prohibition. Elect prohibition. Write woman into the constitution. Turn out the exploiters of the people. Take private profit from war. Stop the slaughter of peace. Save America and serve the world."

In these words Temporary Chairman Daniel A. Poling concluded his keynote address.

Mr. Poling declared that the prohibition party was now the sole representative of progressivism in national politics, extended an official and hearty invitation to the 4,000,000 voters who supported the progressive party ticket in 1912, and suggested that whatever the technical name of his own party should be upon the official ballot this year, it would be known henceforward as the liberal party of the United States.

Expressing the evidently overwhelming sentiment of the convention, Chairman Poling assailed the campaign of militaristic preparedness, aligned the republican and democratic parties alike for what he alleged to be an extravagant waste of national funds, exulted in the activities of the Navy.

"This convention completes the rounding out of 47 years of uninterrupted history.

"Greenbackers, Populists and Bull Moose may perish from the earth, but we live on forever, or until our purpose is achieved.

"Our party ship has served as a refuge to those who would vote with clean hands, and as a lifeboat to those who have been cast adrift by wrecked liners.

"This, the year 1916, marks the high tide of prohibition sentiment in America and the world. We are not here to perpetuate and create anew an avenue of expression for the multitudes who have caught the vision and desire to resist their conviction of a wretched, emancipated womanhood and childhood, for the abolishment of crime by the abolition of crime's producer, for the ultimate establishment of a world court of justice, and for honest government.

"We are met here to put in nomination candidates for president and vice president—the mention of whose names will be felt and recognized in every home in America.

"We are here to inaugurate a campaign that will reach every voter of every county and every state of the Union. We are here to enlist service, to call for sacrifice, and to perfect an organization that will be as effective as our conscience is clear and as purposeful.

"We have a clear field. We are the one organization in this campaign that stands for the woman, the child, the home, and for the conservation of humanity."

Mr. Hinshaw then introduced the temporary chairman of the convention, Daniel A. Poling, of Boston.

"The call of the hour is the challenge of a supreme opportunity, to an unparalleled sacrifice. These are the words of triumph—Peace, prosperity and prohibition. Elect prohibition. Write woman into the constitution. Turn out the exploiters of the people. Take private profit from war. Stop the slaughter of peace. Save America and serve the world."

In these words Temporary Chairman Daniel A. Poling concluded his keynote address.

Mr. Poling declared that the prohibition party was now the sole representative of progressivism in national politics, extended an official and hearty invitation to the 4,000,000 voters who supported the progressive party ticket in 1912, and suggested that whatever the technical name of his own party should be upon the official ballot this year, it would be known henceforward as the liberal party of the United States.

Expressing the evidently overwhelming sentiment of the convention, Chairman Poling assailed the campaign of militaristic preparedness, aligned the republican and democratic parties alike for what he alleged to be an extravagant waste of national funds, exulted in the activities of the Navy.

By Associated Press. St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—With the contest for the presidential nomination between adherents of William Sulzer and J. Frank Hanley at its intense point, delegates to the twelfth quadrennial convention of the national prohibition party opened their first session at the auditorium here this morning.

Applause punctuated the keynote address of Daniel Poling of Boston, temporary chairman of the convention, which he delivered in a manner which he deplored the European war, decried militarism, attacked munitions manufacturers and exhorted at the progress of the prohibition movement.

Vincent G. Hinshaw of Chicago, chairman of the national committee, called the convention to order at 10:20 a. m. Mrs. Frances E. Seachamp of Lexington, Ky., secretary of the national committee, read the official call and Mr. Poling was introduced as temporary chairman, immediately launching into his speech.

An early morning Sulzer meeting at a downtown hotel was the signal for the unmaking of the batteries of the Sulzer and Hanley forces, and bitter debates took place. The delegates, which the New Yorker's followers accused Hanley of trying to seize control of the party, while some of Hanley's adherents are busy with the support of liquor interests in his candidacy for the prohibition nomination.

These charges caused bitter quarrels in a crowded crowd of partisans. Meetings of the Hanley and Sulzer followers will be held tonight and are expected to arrive not later than tomorrow morning and will throw himself into the fight to prevent Hanley's nomination.

The Lotus Club, unofficially an organization of about 40 state leaders, held a long secret conference late last night in an effort to unite on a candidate for the presidency. Sentiment was divided between Sulzer and Hanley and a decision was postponed until tonight when another conference will be held.

Members of the Lotus Club, most of whom are out of accord with the present administration, are expected to be pressed belief today that Mr. Chaffin, candidate of the party in 1908 and 1912, will be accepted as a compromise candidate.

Dr. Ira D. Landrith of Nashville, Tenn., practically conceded the nomination for the party to Mr. Chaffin and is acceptable to all factions.

Mr. Hinshaw, in his opening remarks, spoke as follows:

"This convention completes the rounding out of 47 years of uninterrupted history.

ST. JOSEPH CASE ONE OF MYSTERY

SEVERAL THEORIES ON KILLING OF WIFE OF PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.

SUGGEST REVENGE

Threatening Letters Received by Husband of Woman Are Important Element.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 18.—The police are yet searching for the murderer of Mrs. Oscar D. McDaniel, wife of the prosecuting attorney of this county. If they catch him, he will take strong jail to hold him against a mob, for this city is worked up into a heat of excitement about this murder.

The McDaniel home is at 1806 South Twenty-first Street, more than a mile southeast of the business center. It is a large frame house that stands upon a terrace about ten feet above the street level. The garage is immediately south of the house, built into the embankment and its front door flush with the inner edge of the sidewalk.

A Mysterious Telephone Call. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel had been talking about the business and she intended to accompany him. At 11:30 o'clock Mrs. McDaniel had gone to her room upstairs. Two of her children were asleep in the room adjoining hers. The son, 14 years old, oldest of the children, was sitting at his grandfather, D. L. McDaniel, a wealthy farmer who lives ten miles south of St. Joseph.

THE ONLY MOTIVE, WHY SHOULD THE THIEF ON WATCH OUTSIDE AROUND THE NEIGHBORHOOD BY SHOOTING HIS PILOT AT THAT HOUR OF NIGHT WHEN HE COULD JUST AS WELL NOTIFY HIS CONFEDERATE BY TAPPING ON THE WINDOW OR BY A WHISTLE. ALAS! IT IS ARGUED, IF ROBBERY WERE THE PURPOSE, WHY DIDN'T THEY START ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE HOUSE? WHO DIDN'T THEY TAKE THE OTHER JEWELRY? MR. MCDANIEL HIMSELF SAYS HE WAS GONE FROM THE HOUSE THIRTY MINUTES BEFORE THE BURGLAR LOCKED THE DOOR. HE SAYS HE HAD RANSACKED THE HOUSE FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

Also, it was burglary, who hit the sleeping woman three blows when one would have sufficed to quiet her? If the burglar had been for revenge, argue the police, why kill the wife? She had never harmed anyone. If two or more men went there to avenge the death of the man who died, why didn't they shoot him when he came out of the house at first and was unlocking the door of his garage? That was their best opportunity. He was in full view of them without any motor to hide behind. The man in the street would have banged away at him. Why send him away downtown on a wild goose chase, thus arousing the suspicion of the police? The motor car and knowing, too, that the departing motor car would arouse the wife and children, in all probability the burglar would have stayed in the house with the telephone handy to notify the police. Why didn't he do that?

Mr. McDaniel's departure in the motor car did arouse some of the neighbors. William Berghoff, who lives across the street from the McDaniel garage, came home exactly at 11:30 o'clock. He says: "I saw Mr. McDaniel's car go out of the garage. I saw him come down the steps from his home, open the garage door and get into the machine. I went in the house, read a while, undressed and I think it was 45 minutes or so when I heard four or five shots. I was certain it was many, but I am sure it was not ten, and I grabbed my flashlight and revolver and ran across the street. It was 12:30 o'clock then. I saw the McDaniel home and I went in where Mrs. McDaniel lay and Mr. McDaniel was lying on the floor, prostrated with grief. I didn't see anybody around or running away. But of course, if they ran through the woods and brush I couldn't have seen them anyway."

Miss Caroline Berghoff, his sister, who lives in the room above the garage, looked directly across the street upon the garage door. A young woman friend who was visiting at the house, sleeping with her, Miss Berghoff said:

"ZEPPELIN WILL FOLLOW DEUTSCHLAND ACROSS SEA," SAYS SUBMARINE'S MASTER

PART OF CREW OF RECENTLY BUILT ZEPPELIN

Baltimore officials who visited the transatlantic merchant submarine Deutschland, quoted Captain Koehn as saying that Zeppelin airship freighters are being built in Germany for transatlantic service. "To you, Captain Koehn was quoted as saying, 'The trip of the Deutschland is a great achievement. You must be enthusiastic over it, for a bigger surprise is coming. A great Zeppelin airship—may be I should say airships—is being built in Germany. It is not distant future one. Of course, they will sail through the air to the United States. Just as sure as the Deutschland came to America, so will the Zeppelin come. Ambassador von Bernstorff visited the Deutschland at Baltimore, and his visit was the occasion of a gala day for those interested in the submarine enterprise and for Germans in Baltimore generally. He was accompanied by Hugo Schmidt, New York agent of the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, Dr. Albert, the American financial representative of the German government, and Carl A. Ludewitz, the ambassador, was in a jovial mood all during the trip about Baltimore harbor."

IOWA TOWN HAS MANY "SLACKERS" WILL GETS PLENTY ABUSE

FORTY MEMBERS OF NATIONAL GUARD WISE TO ANSWER WILSON'S CALL

GETS PLENTY ABUSE

Captain is Warned in Anonymous Letter Not to Return to Home Town.

(Kansas City Times.) West Branch, Ia., a superior town in many respects, has found itself suddenly hit up by public scorn. Benedict Arnold or a Judas Iscariot among municipalities. Reproaches, insults and threats are hung upon the little city's name. The wrath of a Nation seems focused with pitiless accuracy on a hamlet, according to the ancient custom, in sack cloth and ash. Well may the residents weep and moan and throw dust in their hair. The onus, distinctly, is on West Branch.

There is a reason—and, inevitably, an alibi. Capt. J. C. McGregor, commander of a troop of cavalry recruited in West Branch and vicinity, received word from home which he and his men were in the militia camp after Iowa had mobilized. Both letters said, in substance: "You are a deserter. You need not return to this town."

One letter was anonymous, the other was signed "The Citizens of West Branch." Following that, when the soldiers were asked to take the federal oath which would empower the president to send them into Mexico, if necessary, the whole company revolted. An Iowa City physician—a veteran of the Spanish-American War—who was in charge of the hospital squad attached to the troop, wired the War Department to transfer him somewhere—anywhere—away from such a "yellow bunch."

Thirty Out of Forty Quit. The newspapers and the press associations carried the story all over the United States. Captain McGregor, a member of the National Guard, including his first lieutenant, to stick with him, but thirty out of his party (chuck) the whole business and went home.

The case, at first blush, looked nasty against West Branch among the average, reasonably patriotic Americans. Of course, those who know all the facts, including his first lieutenant, to stick with him, but thirty out of his party (chuck) the whole business and went home.

INTELLIGENT MANAGEMENT OF A PUBLIC INDUSTRY

The interest of people in public affairs is considerably heightened when they learn that the revenues of the government are wisely and judiciously managed. A statement of economical administration, which is susceptible of proof will always attract attention and please the thoughtful reader.

Among the varied industrial enterprises of the Post Office department in Washington is an establishment devoted entirely to the manufacture of mail locks and the bag attachments used in mail transportation. When this administration came into power the department sorely needed an improved type of mail lock. The shop was immediately reorganized and the work was divided into two departments. The department formerly used the old-fashioned method of string and seal; a scheme for saving the people of the country, by a device which permits free and easy use without waste, and a flexible stamp design for which the contract price was 34 cents, but which will now be made at a cost of but 8 cents a piece.

The lock in use weighed 5 1/2 ounces; the new one weighs 2 1/2 ounces. As 430,000 of this new product have been produced, the difference in weight (the government paying as much for the weight of equipment as it does for the mail itself) can be easily calculated. The locks replaced by this new and better style cost 21 cents each to make; those now being manufactured cost 8 1/2 cents, direct and indirect charges considered. The savings thus shown on original cost of production to date amounting to $53,750. Of the old style, 36,000 were annually returned for repair at a cost of about 1 cent each. The new style, out of the great number sent into the service, but 906 have been returned, and as these new style locks can be repaired at a cost of only 1 cent, it will amount to over $2,100.

The department has in this administration encouraged its employees to give their best service to the government and many instances have recently come to notice wherein the department has greatly profited by this wise public policy. In the lock shop a well-planned improvement in the work of three of its employees, for use on bags; also one designed for locking the mail boxes, has been developed. The new device is an improvement on the old-fashioned method which has heretofore been without this protection. It can be made at a very low price, requiring less material and a fewer number of operations. The savings on this device are estimated at between three and four millions, the output being 500,000 annually. As the cost has been reduced by the new method from 4 1/2 to 3 cents each, it will be seen what a splendid showing this makes for administrative economy.

Another valuable improvement has been the perfected locking cord fastener designed for use on tie sacks, some of which the department for years has needed and vainly endeavored to accomplish. This device will be of great value to the postal service as efficiency of mail bags to a degree difficult to estimate. The modern system of business methods and the proper encouragement of employees to take an active and earnest interest in their work, both of which desirable features this administration of the department has favored and put into practice, is responsible for the many improvements made and the advantages gained.

Active experiments are constantly being made for the betterment of the service. For many years a tremendous expense has been the labeling of the immense quantities of mail bags. It is possible that these mail bags are an expensive proposition, yet there appears to have been no effort on the part of previous administrations to improve on the old method. Under

At a meeting of the school board, held last night, all bids for the construction of an addition to the high school building were rejected and architects were instructed to prepare additional plans coming within the limit allowed by the funds available for this purpose from the recent bond election. The lowest bid received last night for the work, that had been planned was about $43,000, or more than the board can expend on the high school addition alone. The board has approved the plan, but there are other improvements necessary and a sufficient fund must be reserved for that purpose, the plans calling for the construction of one or two new buildings.

Architects were instructed to prepare new plans providing for a well-planned addition to the high school building, six rooms to be built on each end, the plans also to provide for a new roof for the entire structure. It is planned to have the new plans ready and to have a meeting next Monday night to receive bids thereon.

Plans are also being prepared for the construction of a new school building at Third and Adams and it is possible that these will be ready at the meeting proposed for next week.

CANDIDATES SPEAK AT ALLENDALE MONDAY NIGHT. The district and county candidates spoke to a fair sized audience at Allendale last night. This will be the last appointment until that to be held on the streets in this city Friday night.

GETTING READY FOR PRIMARY SATURDAY

Times Making Arrangements to Display County, State and District Results.

The Times is making extensive preparations for compiling election returns, county, district and state, on Saturday night. Arrangements are being made for the flashing of these returns in front of the Times office.

The Times is a member of an organization of Texas newspapers, formed to collect accurate, prompt returns, and through this agency it expects to be able to supply its readers and friends with early information Saturday night, in getting the returns in the county, the assistance of the Times has been requested, and with their cooperation the results will be made known as early as possible.

The Times wishes to request in advance that its friends avail themselves of the bulletins which will be flashed on the screen, rather than attempt to get information from the Times by phone. The members of the Times force will have plenty to do that night without answering phone calls.

Special steps have been taken this week by the state Democratic Executive committee to assist in securing for the public quick and comprehensive returns following the primary of July 22. It is announced from the office of the organization which will tabulate and compile these returns.

Every county chairman has been called upon to do all possible to induce precinct election officials to make immediate reports and to comply with the spirit of the law which calls for a fast count and early announcement as to the standing of candidates.

This effort on the part of the state committee originated with Secretary Charles J. Kirk, and it is stated that this is the first time the state committee has seen fit to go further, in holding primary elections, than to accept the ordinary road course, determined by long custom, in securing to the public reports therefrom.

TWO FINES FOLLOW NEIGHBORHOOD ROW

Two Men and Two Women Take Part With Wives Doing Most of Fighting.

An attempt of two women to settle a neighborhood quarrel by resorting to fistie argument led to one of them paying a five dollar fine for affray in the police court this morning. The other woman was let off with a stiff lecture. The men of the families seem to have attempted to intervene in the case to their own sorrow. One of them who attempted to check the conflagration by means of a bucket of ice water was let off with a certain lecture from the city attorney, and the other who resorted to more vigorous measures drew a five dollar fine for disturbing the peace. One other case of affray resulted in a five dollar assessment against the defendant. A charge of indecent exposure was dismissed for cause. Three cases of gaming were passed.

The board has approved the plan, but there are other improvements necessary and a sufficient fund must be reserved for that purpose, the plans calling for the construction of one or two new buildings.

Architects were instructed to prepare new plans providing for a well-planned addition to the high school building, six rooms to be built on each end, the plans also to provide for a new roof for the entire structure. It is planned to have the new plans ready and to have a meeting next Monday night to receive bids thereon.

Plans are also being prepared for the construction of a new school building at Third and Adams and it is possible that these will be ready at the meeting proposed for next week.

EFFECT OF WAR UPON FEMINISM

FRENCH WRITER THINKS WOMAN'S SPHERE WILL BE GREATLY ENLARGED.

SUFFRAGE QUESTION

Some Believe General "Emancipation" of Women Will Come, When Peace Comes.

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Paris. Feminism is making great strides during the war, says Eugene Brien a member of the French Academy...

Will woman suffrage be advanced by the war? Will women now replacing men in all sorts of occupations hold their places and come into competition with the discharged soldiers?

The competition between male and female labor will be a question, according to M. Brieux, and he declares that "women will abandon the career of housewife while young girls, having learned how to provide for themselves, will no longer look to man as a prospective protector."

Maurice Donnay agrees with his two conferees of the Academy that women will do more manual labor in factories and take a more active part in men's occupations generally, but he thinks there will be so much to do that a proper division of labor will prevent a war between the sexes.

Dr. Madeleine Pelletier, one of the leading French suffragettes, who says she "despaired of feminism before the war," now thinks that "the necessities of life are going to impose what years of propaganda failed to effect—the emancipation of women."

GETS FAMILIAR WITH POISON GAS

AMERICAN MILITARY ATTACHE IN PARIS CONDUCTS INVESTIGATION.

HAS SEVERE ORDEAL

Two Kinds Used By Germans Are Mild, But Third Proves More Efficacious.

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Paris. Colonel Spencer Cosby, United States military attaché at Paris, has been speaking in a hoarse whisper of late. His friends have noted and have expressed their regrets at his very bad cold. Colonel Cosby's voice has not permitted him to reply, and he has let it go at that—a cold. Did it was not a cold, but a gas.

The case which the German army has made of poison gas in the present war has brought a new and terrible element of destruction into military science. Just what this terrible new agency is, what part it plays in the offensive and defensive tactics, and to what extent if any it must be reckoned upon as a permanent element in future warfare—these are problems which the military experts throughout the world are trying to determine.

"But you should be warned of the extreme risk," said the Chief Chemist. It is very dangerous—a matter of life and death to deal with.

Against the warnings was the feeling that a mysterious agency of warfare needed to be explored to its very depths and that the world was going ahead and the official wheels turned swiftly in bringing together all sorts of gas, fresh and powerful, from the near-by fighting fronts.

The large bottles contained the various forms of liquid gas, direct from the front, and in varying quantities and strength. Most of them showed a volatile yellowish liquid upon being exposed to the air gave off the deadly gases which have wrought such havoc.

Dr. A. L. Andrews Discusses Voters' Responsibility in Coming Elections

ERADICATION WORK MAKING PROGRESS

Campaigns Against Tick and Scabies Waged in Many West Texas Counties.

From Monday's Daily. Steady progress is being made in West Texas in the eradication of both the tick and scabies. Vigorous campaigns against these pests now being waged in many counties. A recent statement on the results follows: The work of eradicating ticks in Texas and clearing the sheep producing section of the state from scabies has been pushed on under the administration of the livestock sanitary board with D. A. Cunningham as chairman.

Portions of Dr. Andrews' sermon are quoted as follows: "The government was divine. God ruled men through the mouth of his prophets, later he yielded to their desire for a king and committed the government to their hands. With this commitment Almighty God placed the responsibility of the ballot into man's hands."

Burk Burnett was forced to go eleven innings to take yesterday's game from the reorganized Merchants team from Wichita Falls at Burk Burnett's home.

The game was a fast one through out, being featured with excellent pitching and fast fielding by both of the clubs. A number of fans from the store building on the corner of Burnett opened the scoring in the fourth frame, getting a tally as the result of bunched hits and hung-up bats.

NEAR ANARCHY IN ALABAMA COUNTY

BLOOD AND VIOLENCE FOLLOW IN WAKE OF BOOZE.

3 DEATHS RESULTED

Judge is Murdered—Lawyer and Sheriff, Under Suspicion, Commit Suicide.

(Kansas City Star) Blood and violence have followed in the wake of booze in Huntsville, Ala. With the lapse of a few days these events occurred.

A judge was murdered. The militia was called out to prevent violence to men under suspicion.

A widely known lawyer committed suicide, protesting his innocence. The sheriff committed suicide, claiming that unjustly he had been suspected.

A special grand jury, hastily returned to probe the murder, returned eight indictments.

Two men, alleged to be accessories, were placed under arrest.

The sheriff committed suicide in the grand jury's report, resigned under fire.

A man hunted for a former county official accused of the murder conspiracy, which extended over several days, but without result.

Breeder's Troubles. Alabama is dry. Huntsville, county seat of Madison county, is near the border, and is the center in every town so located in prohibition territory, the enforcement of the law against liquor is peculiarly difficult.

Madison county is in the first tier below the Tennessee state line, and in Huntsville there have been two well defined factions—the drys and the wets.

A leader of the prohibition forces was W. T. Lawler, 56 years old, judge of the probate court, who won election for a third term in 1914.

After a bitter contest for the democratic nomination against O. D. Overton, a former clerk of the probate court, he was elected in sympathy with the wets.

In spite of the law bootleggers were active in Huntsville and the regular grand jury went into the matter in June. It was whispered that Judge Lawler was exerting himself to bring the offending bootleggers to justice.

What the public did not know at the time, but which has since become known, the regular grand jury returned 12 indictments against bootleggers, carrying violations of the prohibition law.

This was the situation when Huntsville was hit by a mob which in the annals of that town of eight thousand population is a record.

On Wednesday night, July 14, Judge Lawler was summoned to the courthouse in Huntsville to meet a man prominent in county politics. The name of this man has not been made known, but he is said to have been an opponent of the judge.

The judge never again seen alive. During the early hours of the night, it developed later he had attempted to flee the town, but was widely known citizens of Huntsville, on the telephone, but failed in every instance.

A chauffeur was in progress and was being driven to a place to reach happened to be at the night lecture.

There were evidences of the morning the judge had drawn up to the courthouse. Judge Lawler's glasses were found on the courthouse lawn, evidently dropped in the struggle. But there were no other clues to his disappearance.

Sheriff Robert Phillips received an anonymous note during the night which said that search of a slough of the Tennessee River near Huntsville would reveal something of interest.

The sheriff, believing that the search of a cache of contraband liquor, sent his men to the place, but nothing was found in the bushes.

It was not until Sunday, with the growing conviction that Judge Lawler had been murdered, that the slough itself was dragged.

There, in a shallow hole in fifteen feet of water, was the body of the missing prohibition leader. His skull had been crushed and there were two bullet holes through his heart.

Mob Threatened Suspects. The slough is near a ferry and the owner of the ferry boat, Percy Brooks and his two employees, Joe Goforth and Zack Spanner, were arrested.

Reports of the news that they had been lodged in jail spread rapidly, and in a few moments a crowd of one thousand men had gathered around the structure.

Sheriff Phillips heard the threats of lynching which passed from mouth to mouth and wired the governor for a detachment of militia.

Two companies of state militia had been rushed by train into Huntsville and went into camp on the courthouse square.

The presence of armed soldiers quieted the mob demonstration, but the militia remained several days until it became known that the slough place was willing to let the law take its course.

The people were further disposed to this because on Monday morning a special grand jury, convened by Circuit Judge Robert C. Brickell, began an investigation of the murder.

The funeral of Judge Lawler was held Monday afternoon at the Methodist church, the pastor of the other churches of the town assisting in the service.

Not more than one third of the people assembled could gain an entrance to the funeral.

Huntsville had another sensation Tuesday. S. S. Pleasant, an attorney of state reputation, who had killed himself in his office. His stenographer found him when she returned from luncheon. A note on his desk said that he had taken his life because he had been suspected of the murder of Judge Lawler.

Mr. Pleasant was a republican and had taken the case of the wets in the Overton political contest. He had not been suspected of any connection with the crime, according to Prosecuting Attorney Brickell.

The coroner found that the suicide was temporarily unbalanced, a condition perhaps precipitated by the previous tragedy, but the dead attorney's secretary, Mrs. Mary Pleasant, who is his only surviving near relative, believes that he was made weak by the conspiracy which resulted in Judge Lawler's death.

Sheriff Killed Himself. Three days later Sheriff Phillips shot and killed himself in his rooms at the jail. A note addressed to his wife read:

Chief of Police Scored. Later in its report the grand jury stated: "Whiskey and beer have been transported in unlawful quantities and delivered almost under the nose of the city police."

The evidence that comes to us makes it very clear that there has existed an unprecedented lawless condition in the county for several years, which culminated in the horrible tragedy which brought us together.

GIRLS COMPANY MAY BE FORMED

MEETING WEDNESDAY TO ORGANIZE BRANCH OF HONOR ORGANIZATION.

MISS CARVER ACTIVE

is Taking Lead in Movement Here and Hopes to Interest Many.

From Sunday's Daily. Wednesday the excitement rife for the girls' honor guard will open in Wichita Falls, that being the date which Lieutenant Genevieve Carver, appointed by the national executives of the movement to command the formation of girls interested in the formation of the guard. This meeting will be held at Miss Carver's home 1006 Brook Street, Wednesday afternoon.

The Girls' National Honor Guard is a new organization but one from which much has been heard in recent weeks. It is a nationwide movement to promote patriotic sentiment among the girls and women of the United States and to prepare them so that in times of war they will be capable of rendering efficient service of whatever nature their country may demand. It is not a military organization, save that military titles are used, and in joining it no girl or woman is required in any way to do anything but show her patriotism in her own way. Members are not liable to be called as nurses or to render any other duty, but should they so desire when the necessity arises they will be fully capable of getting as nurses after the training which they will receive in the guard.

In all cities of the state and throughout the country in which the Honor Guard has been organized physicians have volunteered their services in giving practical instruction in first aid and in delivering lectures along practical lines. Miss Carver desires to ask through the columns of The Times that physicians who are willing to show their patriotism in assisting in this work will volunteer their services.

Explanation of what the physicians should do is entirely optional, but may be obtained by communicating with Miss Carver.

There will be three corps organized. The first will be the Central Corps. Miss Carver has appointed two of her aides, Misses Bertha Mae Kemp and Lella Beall Anderson. The third will be the first corps, which will be made up of nursing and hospital duties, the second corps will devote its time to helping the families of soldiers and sailors.

Persons who are interested in this work should go in for more strenuous work, such as riding, shooting, driving automobiles and motor boats. The line of endeavor which most appeals to them.

At least 100 members are desired for a new company which is Miss Carver's ambition. As well as the Port Worth camp which enrolled 50 charter members. All the girls of the city are urged to attend the meeting.

The only fee will be the 25 cent enrollment fee which goes to the national committee.
