FAST REPAIRING STORM DAMAGE

There Will Be No Sign Remaining at Corpus Christi Sept. 1, It Is Said

By Associated Press. Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 25.—By September 1 it was said today, there will be nothing visible to show that Corpus Christi has ever known one of the worst disasters in its history during the storm of August 18-19.

After the storm had subsided and all wreckage had been washed up on shore from jetties, docks and bathing piers along the waterfront, there were millions of feet of lumber scattered on two mile stretches of beach.

Work had commenced early in the week in replacing these structures blown by the wind, and repairing damage done in the residence and business sections. By the same time, it was said, railroad traffic over the San Antonio & Aransas Pass would be resumed and entirely normal conditions would prevail.

HAVE HITCH IN ARRANGING SETTLEMENT

STILL HOPEFUL

Conference Continues at the White House and Between the Members of Committees Representing the Two Factions at Washington.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 25.—The railroad strike negotiators resolved to meet today, outwardly at least, into a more or less confused state.

The railway executives conferred among themselves during the day and it was thought possible they might later go to the White House again. The brotherhood heads declared they were standing on President Wilson's plans and had not changed their demands.

President Wilson summoned representatives of the employers and employees involved in the threatened railroad strike to the White House today for conference to discuss the proposals which have been worked out of his original plans of settlement. Arrangements were made for the representatives of employees to see the president and for the representatives of the employers to see him later.

The four brotherhood heads, said on entering the White House that they did not know why they had been invited by the president. It is understood that President Wilson wanted to get their views on legislation under consideration for the future. The brotherhood heads remained with the president an hour and a half but would make no attempt to discuss the proposals which have been worked out.

The White House leader went from the White House to report to a meeting of the men but insisted that he had nothing particular to communicate. W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, gave out copies of an order which he said had been sent by the Northern Pacific to a state agency directing them to get local interests to send telegraphic protests to President Wilson against setting the conference in motion.

Value of Punctuality. The Woman's World appeals to women generally to follow the example of business women and cultivate the virtue of punctuality. 'One of the lessons,' it says, 'the business and working woman has learned is to be prompt. Managers of large establishments tell us that as a rule women are more punctual than men. There has been a notable improvement in the punctuality of the home, due mainly to the influence of modern business.'

Thrift Propaganda. The thrift propaganda undoubtedly will have the effect of making many people take greater care of their dimes and nickels. When the latter multiply into dollars the will power for saving dollars will have been formed in a way parallel to that by which physical strength came to the Greek hero who began by lifting a calf and lifted it every day till it became an ox.

Virtue and Riches. 'I cannot call riches,' says Bacon, 'better than the baggage of virtue. The Roman word is better, 'impedimenta,' for as the baggage is to an army so, are riches to virtue. It cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hindereth the march, yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory.'

Missed Both Ways. What is the difference between a man who has seen Niagara, a man who has not seen Niagara and a ham sandwich? One has seen the mist, the other has missed the scene. Do you want to know where the ham sandwich comes in? Well, that is where you bite.

To Give Children Powders. A successful method of giving children powders is to cut open a small piece of chocolate cream, insert the powder, and close the chocolate again. This is one of the easiest ways in inducing a child to take powder, and less pickening than the usual spoonful of jam.

Head Not Needed. Two ladies—each with her child—visited the Chicago Art Institute. As they passed the 'Winged Victory' the little boy exclaimed: 'Huh! She ain't got no head.' 'Sh! the horrid little girl replied. 'That's Art—she don't need none!'

Value of Lost Manuscript. A Massachusetts court rules that manuscripts lost in transit are worth $10 a pound. That is generous. It makes a large majority of them worth more than they would be if they ever arrived.

What It Means. 'The 'obey' clause in the marriage ceremony merely means that when the husband takes a twenty-dollar bill out of his pocket and commands his wife to take it, she must immediately comply—and she does.

Doctoring Mania. Some women are so thoroughly imbedded with the doctoring mania that when baby is entirely well and the old man's gripe has disappeared, she will imagine the old cow is sick and nearly dose her to death.

Willing to Be Heroic. 'Some men is no self-forgetful,' said Uncle Eben, 'dat dey's almost willin' to take deir share of a grip epidemic to de sake of seein' other people suffer.'

Willing to Compromise. Departing Diner—'I'd like to give you a tip, waiter, but I find I have only my tail here left.' Waiter—'They do say, sir, that an after-dinner walk is very good for the 'caith, sir.'

One Good Turn Enough. There are mornings in life when one thinks that rolling over and going to sleep again, after the alarm clock has done its worst, ought to count as a good turn for the day.

Source of Harmony. Harmony does not come only from having all the voices in tune, but from keeping those silent which are 'way off the key.'

Cause of Discontent. 'What makes us discontented with our condition is the absurdly exaggerated idea we have of the happiness of others.'—French Proverb.

New Filling for Teeth. Somebody has invented a glorious new filling for teeth. If it can beat a segment of pie, such as mother used to make, the inventor needs a medal.

Need of a Friend. A man needs a friend, not to flatter him, but to strengthen him at his weak points.

Chinese Proverb. My son, fear the man who fears thee, though thou hast the strength to crush him a thousand times.

Optimistic Thought. We cannot be just if we are not kindhearted.

Mrs. Harry Robertson will leave Monday for Whitecourt, where she will visit her mother.

Saves His Nerves. To give the baby a quiet disposition, the first step is to keep him free from nerves. One mother accounted for her baby's peaceful frame of mind by saying that until he was three months old he was ignored! That seems absurd, yet there is an element of truth in it. A baby is an excitable little being. It wants to play and be played with, and it means real self-denial on the part of the household to refrain from kissing and cuddling and romping with the baby.—Ladies' World.

Virtue of Necessity. The manager of a small department store in the West sought out one of the proprietors, saying: 'I can't do a thing with Jones, the new salesman. I have had him in three departments and he doeses all day long.' 'Put him at the pajama counter,' said the boss, 'and fasten this card on him. 'Our night clothes are of such a superior quality that even the clerk who wears them cannot keep awake.'

Declaration of Independence. Signers of the Declaration of Independence who were not born in the United States were Britton Givinnett, England; Francis Lewis, Wales; Robert Morris, England; James Smith, Ireland; George Taylor, Ireland; Matthew Thornton, Ireland; James Wilson, Scotland; John Witherspoon, Scotland.

Man and the Mouse. Did you ever see a mouse in a revolving cylindrical trap trying to climb up what it thought was an endless wire ladder? Well, that is a picture of man in the universe. And, like the mouse, it is his own active desire that keeps the whirling cylinder forever in motion.

No Dude. 'I s'pose I'm a reg'lar old fogy,' said Uncle Ezra, 'but I'm blamed if I can see any sense in dat there bathrobe my new nephew sent me from the city. I tried to take a bath in the darned thing last night, and if it wasn't for the style of it I could have done a doggone sight better without.'

Buildup as Mascot. A western university fraternity adopted a bulldog as its mascot. He proved to be understood the duties of that office when he gave an alarm which saved 24 of its members from death by fire. It is understood he is to have a life job.

Cause for Optimism. When a man yields to the pleading of his wife and goes to church for the first time in thirty years, he swells up and talks about it as though he had a ticket on the New Jerusalem Limited straight to heaven.

Husbands Outclass Riches. A census taken in a co-educational institution disclosed the fact that the dead girls were more interested in securing husbands than riches. Another demonstration, obviously, of the fallacy of the higher education.

Victimized. First City Man—'How are you coming along with your poultry venture?' Second Ditto—'I've been swindled. I bought three different incubators, and not one of them has laid an egg yet.'

Wouldn't Be Missed. A Russian count, testifying in his divorce suit, stated that he rises ordinarily about noon. He could stay in bed all day, no doubt, without disgracing the business world.

Too Much Speed on Saying. 'De man who prides hisself on sayin' what he thinks,' said Uncle Eben, 'is mighty liable to put too much speed on de sayin' an' not 'nuf power on de thinkin'.'

To Make Yourself Unpleasant. Another way to make yourself unpleasant is to sympathize with a man about something he didn't know was the matter with him.

Meant for 'Windflower.' Anemone is meant for 'windflower,' as it is so delicately poised that it aways with the slightest motion of the atmosphere.

Daily Thought. The happiness of your life, and its power, and its part or rank in earth or in heaven, depend on the way you pass your days now.—Ruskin.

Chicken Not Desired. No amount of sentiment will make the first robin as welcome as the first spring chicken.

Time to Consider. When a young man discovers that a girl's giggling doesn't irritate him, he is in danger.—Knickerbocker Press.

PROMISE RELIEF FROM SEWER LINE

PLANNED TO MOVE OUTLET FURTHER DOWN RIVER, WORK TO BEGIN SOON.

LIGHT CONTROVERSY

Council is of the Opinion That the Electric Company Owea City Refund for Street Lights.

Relief in the near future was promised to the people who live near the outlet of the sewer system in North Wichita by the council at last night's meeting. The council said that they had planned to move the outlet of the line further down the river, and at one time had had the pipe in place when differences with private owners near the new outlet had held up the work. The council had five thousand dollars appropriated for the work and the mayor asked for the original estimate of the differences which had originally been made for the outlet to be fixed up, and the work will probably begin soon in September. The members of the council did not think that they could wait for the outlet to be fixed up during the present month. Walter Nelson and T. P. Hunter both attorneys appeared in behalf of the complainants, fifteen thousand dollars of the bond issue recently sold represents proposed work on sewer lines. $5,000 will also be spent in running sewer connections from the flats and the negro quarters, which are now without connection with the sewer and a regular pest hole. The ordinance for the bond issue which was recently sold to the International Trust company of Denver, Colorado, was amended in such a way as to satisfy the attorneys for the complainants who are now looking into the locality of the bonds. The amendment is regarding the payment of the coupons which the original ordinance made at the office of the city treasurer of Wichita Falls, but which was afterward agreed by the council to be made at the office of the National Bank in New York at the option of the holder. The amended ordinance carries this provision: 'A Marcus and Stanley Field from the Rotary club appeared before the council and asked for several improvements in the name of the Rotary club. One of these was for a temporary improvement on Tenth street until work of a permanent nature could be done. The mayor stated to the satisfaction that the city has secured the building company that guaranteed the paving would come up for trial on Tuesday and the council did not feel like doing anything to the matter at this time as it might affect the case in some way. Another piece of work the Rotarians wanted was to have the railroad companies to fix up their crossings on Seventh street, which are in a bad condition. This was referred to the street committee. 'The last part was the paving of Ohio from the end of the present paving to the valley trucks. It was pointed out that that strip was part of the Meridian highway and that the heavy travel had cut up the dirt road so that it was in a shameful condition and gave visitors an unfavorable impression of the city in coming in over that road. The members of the council agreed with the Rotarians in this matter and had ordered the paving made some time ago contingent on the property owners signing up, but they could not get all to sign the contracts. However, the city attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary papers to have the city do the work before the property of those who will not sign for the paving, and take a lien against the property. The home-stand angle does not enter into the case in any of this property, so there is not thought that there will be any hitch. 'The chief of police was instructed to clear the alleys in the fire district. It was stated that many business houses that open on the alleys have made it a storehouse and also drawing old materials in the alleys, blocking them and making them extra fire-hazards. 'From the conversation of the members of the council it is estimated that the light company owes the city thousands of dollars on lights at crossings where they take on and discharge passengers. One of the members stated that an official of the company had stated that the city had been charging the city for these lights for the past five years, and it is thought by the council that there is a provision in the companies franchise that they will maintain lights at points where passengers are taken on and discharged. An investigation of the old records on this matter was ordered before the next meeting of the council, and if it is found that such a provision is in force the council members think there is, it will be up to the light company to make a refund.

ANNETTE WALSH TEACHER OF PIANO FORTE

Such is the Opinion of Chief of United States Bureau of Crop Estimates.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—The super high cost of living is not here to stay, is purely commercial and readily traceable to the basic laws of supply and demand.

Soaring prices of grain, he said, are directly due to the big falling off in production of almost every class of grain in the bumper crops of the last two years.

The sudden decrease in production this year has naturally sent prices skyward.

The season of 1916, unusually cool, witnessed a bumper vegetable crop in nearly all sections.

The constantly rising prices of meat results, Estabrook said, from a gradual falling off in production, while the demand has mounted steadily during the last ten years.

Cattle raisers, he said have for the last ten years complained that they were unable to obtain sufficient money from the packing houses to make the business moderately lucrative.

Wichita Falls, Texas, August 25, 1916

If there was nothing else of interest for the Northwest Texas editors to discuss in their meeting here, the situation of the paper market and the soaring prices of print paper would form topics that they could discuss through several days and then not exhaust their feeling in the discussion

When cotton went to a new high level several days ago it is reported that the members of one of the southern exchanges gave vent to their feelings by cheering. This seems strange action on the part of men who have been commonly charged with being parties to a conspiracy to hold down the price and beat down the cotton farmers.

In an effort to injure the candidacy of Senator Charles A. Culberson the Fort Worth Record made an impudent and uncalled for attack upon the postmaster at Wichita Falls, the national administration and the Times. The attention of the Record was called to its mistakes, or disregard of the facts. Had the Record desired to be fair to Senator Culberson and his candidacy it would have made a correction promptly, which would have appeared in today's issue, and would have been circulated before the day of the primary. The Record evidently wanted its false charges to prevail until after the primary. The Record calls itself a newspaper. It has done an injustice and has not taken the first opportunity to correct its injustice. It has waited until any correction it may make will be too late to reach a large part of its readers until after they have voted.

President Pope of the Texas Farmers' Union has wired to President Wilson urging that he postpone action in reference to an eight-hour day for the railroad brotherhoods until he can at least consider an eight-hour day for the farmers. The farmers of the country can govern their hours of labor themselves. If they want to work only eight hours a day they have nobody but themselves to consult in the matter. The farmer is the most independent of men. The majority of farmers don't average more than eight hours a day at work the year round. There are many days that the majority of farmers do little work. There are seasons when they toil long hours but they are not compelled to do so. Farmers are their own employers. Like other employers they can go to work and quit when they choose. If they start to work early and continue until late it is of their own choice. The farmers' hours of labor do not show so badly contrasted with those of an editor. An editor works from ten to twelve hours a day. If on a paper like the Times which has a Sunday morning edition these hours are lengthened on Saturday and Saturday night to 16 and 18 hours. There are no "between seasons" for the editor. When business is dull in other lines he must work the harder. He must do his utmost every day in the year. Probably if the editors would organize a union and form an agreement they might make enough to exist in eight hours of work a day. The eight-hour day is largely the result of organization. The printers are organized, they have an eight-hour day that is almost universal in that trade. The farmers also have a union. They have taken a step in the right direction. They more than any other class ought to be able to govern their hours of labor.

A DISCONSOLATE EDITOR.

The editor of the Denison Herald is disconsolate. Somebody has stolen the office Bible. Here's what the editor says: "Some miserable creature, groveling in the depths of despair and doubtless seeking comfort and consolation from promises made to the unregenerate in the book of all Books, has surreptitiously and feloniously purloined from the Herald's office library the only copy of the Sacred Word it possessed, thus leaving us unarm'd, defenseless and disconsolate. We suppose the scoundrel on his next visit will relieve us of our next valued treasure—Sir William Shakespeare's works—and thereby leave our discomfiture complete in every detail. However, we suppose if a man is unable to acquire a stock of religion other than by stealing it, the end justifies the means. But that doesn't alter the fact that we need our Bible and need it badly."

MR. WILSON IN THE RAILWAY CRISIS.

Mr. Wilson's treatment of the railroad crisis has been simple. He evidently began by making a careful study of the existing facts. Then he summoned representatives from both sides and let each side present its case. Then he proposed a compromise which seemed to him to come nearest to the fair solution. Finally, he has called in public opinion to bring pressure on the side which refuses to make the necessary compromise. In an emergency President Wilson might use the physical power of the Federal government. One guesses that Colonel Roosevelt would have come to that resource sooner than Mr. Wilson will. Mr. Wilson has not flourished a big stick nor made much parade of his personality. He has simply been a kind of focus for the ipse dixit of the entire public, a dietetic from those of any fraction of the public. This is "interference with business" beyond the shadow of a doubt. Mr. Wilson's action rests exactly on the same basis as all government regulation of economic affairs. He restricts the liberties of individual men and individual corporations in order that their liberty shall not make others suffer.—San Francisco Bulletin.

ARREST IS MADE ON WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

A laborer of Electra was arrested yesterday afternoon by S. Herzer, federal agent and deputy constable Ed Carnes, and is now being held for investigation on a charge of white slavery. The allegation is that he has abducted a woman from Oklahoma to Texas. The two have been living together at Electra since soon after Christmas, according to the information of the officers. The woman has made several statements to the officers, but all were directly conflicting with the ones which went before. The woman left her husband and children in Oklahoma City. The officers received their tip from a resident of Electra who got wind of the state of affairs there.

JUDGE RYE'S IMPRESSION OF CANDIDATE HUGHES

To the Times. San Diego, Cal.—I saw, I heard, and I will give you a first-hand impression of the republican presidential candidate, Charles Evans Hughes. With approximately eight thousand men and women, I heard him deliver one of his characteristic speeches at the Exposition grounds last evening. To say that I was disappointed in my expectations might be attributed to party prejudice, if I were to attempt to combat his arguments. But when I tell you that with the spirit that used to back my efforts as a newspaper reporter, I tried to put his words into concrete form that would express his views on public issues and failed to do so, you will at once understand that Mr. Hughes took up all his time criticizing Wilson's administration. Not once in his speech, did he promise any definite policy to take the place of what he termed, democratic blunders. His whole time, outside of throwing coquetry to civic pride of the citizens and officers of the exposition, was taken up generalizing and theorizing on Americanism. In other words, Candidate Hughes reminded me of the school boy who tried to discredit his teacher by making faces and calling him bad names in the presence of other scholars, when the teacher was absent. To give you an idea of what I mean, I enclose questions published in the afternoon "Sun," to which Mr. Hughes failed to respond. That they are pertinent issues, you can see at a glance, whether they are too long for you to publish, is a matter for you to judge. Another noticeable fact, during his speech today, over one-half of the audience failed to applaud his lack on Wilson's administration. Not only this, but expressions I heard from men in the audience were not at all favorable to Mr. Hughes' arguments. Editor, I have included the subject of Editor's note. The questions to which Judge Rye refers to were compiled by a group of professional writers. The questions are directed to Candidate Hughes, they follow: 1—Would you have filed instant protest against the invasion of Belgium and backed up that protest with the United States navy? 2—It is a tragic nonsense to talk about action that would have prevented the Lusitania tragedy. The vague advertisement did not appear until shortly before the hour of sailing. The occurrence was one of those things that civilization has made the world regard as incredible. The only honest question is this: Would you have made the subject of diplomatic negotiations or would you have broken relations with Germany at once? 3—Would you have urged upon Congress an embargo upon the shipment of munitions to the allies? 4—Would you urge universal compulsory military service? 5—You are frank in stating that Huerta's morals were of no concern to America. Does this mean that you would have recognized Huerta? 6—As matters stand today, would you be in favor of intervening in Mexico? 7—Does your attack upon the Wilson shipping bill mean that you are in favor of ship subsidies? 8—You speak enthusiastically of the rights of the worker. Does this imply that you endorse the Clayton anti-trust law and the Seaman's bill? Or would you urge their repeal? 9—What are your specific complaints against the Federal reserve law? 10—As governor of New York, you opposed the income tax amendment. Does this antagonism persist? Do you or do you not believe in paying for preparedness out of a tax on incomes, inheritances and munitions? We agree with you that it is a "critical period," by far the "critical" in need for candidates to talk in terms of office seeking rather than in the simple earnest language of definite Americanism.

HOG CHOLERA IS TO BE FOUGHT

A Campaign is on to Prevent Spread of Disease in the State

Dr. E. F. Jarrel, state veterinarian, who was in the city yesterday in connection with the injunction suit filed by Archer county stockmen, announced that a campaign had been inaugurated in the state to fight hog cholera and that experiments will be conducted in a number of counties. A series of demonstrations will be given of the application of the serum treatment. Dr. Jarrel stated that the campaign is to be a widespread one and that a great deal of work will be done in this movement from now on. Already arrangements have been made to carry on the campaign in Grayson, Coffey and Denton counties and the work will gradually be extended, as opportunity will permit. In discussing the efforts that are being made to prevent the spread of hog cholera, Dr. Jarrel stated that on account of the splendid facilities in this section of the state for hog raising, it was possible that quite a little work in an educational way would be done in West Texas at an early date, several counties being selected in which to conduct demonstrations. The only handicap to the work, he explained, being a lack of funds, as the state has heretofore made no appropriation for such a purpose. It is expected the next legislature will be asked to set aside a fund for this purpose.

LOCAL MERCHANT HOME FROM EAST

C. J. Barnard Reports Preponderance of Culberson Men in North Part of State

C. J. Barnard and family returned yesterday from Celeste, their old home, where they spent the week-end and land interests. Mr. Barnard says that the continued dry weather, more severe there even than it has been in this section, has cut down the cotton crop to a marked degree, and not more than a half crop can now be looked for. In speaking of the senatorial campaign, Mr. Barnard says that in the sections which he visited he found a preponderance of sentiment in favor of Culberson and that, in his opinion, the sentiment will be beyond doubt. He said that so far as he was able to discover, the most enthusiastic supporters of Colburn in East Texas were men who had always been classed as republicans, and that if all the

SHALLOW WELL BELT IS EXTENDED

Several Are Drilling on Gilbert Creek in Recently Discovered Territory. Burk Burnett, Tex., Aug. 25.—The shallow oil belt recently discovered on Gilbert creek two miles south of town is gradually being extended. A company composed of Walker, Bradford, Smith and several others have in a thousand or more acres leased in that locality and have three wells on the Cropper land, one on the Powell farm and one on the A. F. Dodson land. The Cropper wells are reported producing 15 to 25 barrels, the Powell well is expected to exceed these figures, while the Dodson well promises a fair yield, but neither it nor the Powell well has been put into the pump at this time. The company is expected to continue to drill near each of these wells, and will soon be in charge of the vocal department at the Wichita Falls College of Music this season, will sing Dudley Buck's "Salve Regina," at the First Presbyterian church at the morning service. Mr. Woodside, who gave a most successful recital here last June, possesses a baritone voice of exceptionally good quality, and sings with finish and artistic insight.

METHODISTS WIN A 6 TO 5 GAME

Presbyterians Are Held Without a Score Until Their Rally in the Sixth

In spite of the Presbyterians' last inning rally in which five runs were made, the Methodists had the necessary margin and got the big lead, a 6 to 5 score yesterday in a Sunday School League game at the Katy ball park.

Children started the game for the Presbyterians but was replaced by Fontaine in the first inning. At this period something seemed to take all the pep out of the Presbyterians and before the assault was repulsed five markers went gaily flitting across Neither side scored until the third when the Methodists registered another one.

The Methodists were held scoreless for the remainder of the game chiefly through the inability to hit the ball and not through any effort on the Presbyterian field. Where all the runs came in was in the last of the fifth when with the bases filled and two down Fontaine, of the Presbyterians, poked a long fly to deep middle scoring three men and taking third on it.

A combination of Presbyterians and more runs and it looked like the Presbyterians would tie the score but a strikeout completed the job and ended the game. Mathis, the Methodist slabsman, pitched air tight ball until the fifth and only in the last round did he seem in the least bothered.

Fontaine twirled in excellent style considering the handicap. A different result would probably have been secured had he been backed up properly. Yesterday's game puts the Methodists within striking distance of first place and is the fourth straight game they have won.

The scores: Methodists 6, Presbyterians 5. Batteries: Mathis and Coleburn, Snell, Childers, Poline and Ward, Umpire, Houston.

PROF. BAKER IS TO TEACH AT VERNON

Has Been Selected as Principal of High School in That City

Vernon, Tex., Aug. 25.—The city school board in session last night selected Prof. H. A. Baker of Wichita Falls principal of the Vernon high school, taking the place made vacant by the resignation two weeks ago of A. F. Whiston of Fort Worth. Prof. Baker is a graduate of Trinity University at Wabash, Ind. and holds a Ph. D.

He is of middle life, single, and a man of ripe scholarship and culture. He has had considerable military training and is planning to organize the high school boys into military companies and do some drilling, and it is thought by the board that such training will be more beneficial than some of the other forms of athletics now common in most of the public schools.

Prof. Baker has had a number of years' experience in private and denominational schools. His recommendations are from the leading school men of the state. He has made special preparation for the work he is to have here, that of high school principal, having taught such subjects regularly several years.

The board instructed the committee on teachers to plan an entertainment of some kind for the teachers just before the opening of school in September. In order that the board and the patrons may have an opportunity to meet the faculty, and likewise, the faculty the patrons, to the end that all may come to know each other better, and that it may result to the profit of the whole school system. The committee will announce later where this entertainment will be held but they desire it understood now that all interested school patrons and friends are invited.

CONVENTIONS TO MEET SATURDAY

Democrats and Republicans to Convene Tomorrow to Canvas Election Returns

Politics will certainly have its day in Wichita Falls tomorrow for in addition to the senatorial primary the democratic and republican congressional conventions will meet here in the afternoon.

At the republican convention, held nominating a candidate for congress, the committee recently appointed by the county convention to draw up a county ticket will probably make its report. It is not known whether they will put out a ticket for Wichita county or not, although several prominent members of the party believe their report. It is not known whether it was decided to put such a ticket in the field, but the committee is still undecided about the wisdom of the move.

Several of the delegates to the congressional convention stated that a republican nominee for congress will be put in the field but no one would make a forecast as to who the nominee would be as no one has been talked of for the nomination. County Chairman Dan Boone stated that as far as his knowledge went there was nothing to come before the democratic convention save the canvass of the primary election and the placing of the name of Martin Jones on the ticket for the general election.

The democratic representative convention will also meet here tomorrow in pursuance to the call of Chairman McConnell of Vernon to canvass the vote for representative and declare Enos R. Greenwood the nominee for the next legislator from this district.

PLANNING FOR EARLY WILLIAMS TRIAL OF WILLIAMS

Ed Williams, the man who last Friday shot and killed T. C. Hollender, will probably have an early trial according to a statement of an officer today. Leslie Humphries, district attorney, and members of the sheriff's department have been busy today questioning witnesses of the shooting and the events leading up to the quarrel preceding the unfortunate affair, and it is expected that the case will be ready to lay before the grand jury when they reconvene Monday. In the event that Williams is indicted by the grand jury the case will in all probability be put in a place near the head of the docket in order that an early trial might be had.

MILLION AND HALF PAID TO CONFEDERATE VETERANS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 25.—Confederate pensioners in Texas have received $1,522,668 in pension since the inception of the present state administration, according to Col. J. C. Jones, state pension commissioner, and during the same period, 2842 additional names have been added to the pension rolls, making the total number approximately 10,000.

UNKNOWN BANDIT IS ARRESTED BY TROOPS

Laredo, Tex., Aug. 25.—An unknown Mexican alleged to have been implicated in a battle between Americans and bandits June 15 has been captured by members of the Fourteenth Cavalry under Major Alonzo Gray. He is being brought to Laredo for trial. Four of the bandits have already been tried and given the death penalty for the death of Private Oberlies, who was shot during the engagement.

To Soften Peas Shells. Almost all housewives know how very hard it is to crack peas nuts.

Pour boiling water over the nuts and allow them to stand tightly covered for five or six hours. The nut meats may then be extracted easily without a trace of the bitter lining of the nut. Use nut crackers and crack lightly all around the nuts. The work is quickly done and is not at all like the tedious process of picking out the meats from the dry nuts. The meats nearly always come out whole.

Recipe for Longevity. A nonagenarian advises the reading of newspapers and keeping youthful company as a recipe for longevity.

He believes in lengthening life by refusing to grow old. There is much sound philosophy in this theory of keeping young, for, even if it does not lead to the century mark, it makes every moment of life worth living.

To Make a Successful Man. Some seem to feel that anything which will put dollars into the pocket is proof of success, but it is not.

It may prove the power to get money, but, as another has said, "It takes something more than a mortar-board cap, a 'varsity' suit, a frat pin, a bulldog pipe, and 'rah-rah-rah' to make a successful man."

Needed an Audience. First Man of large crowd interestedly watching street excavators at work.

"That laborer in the yellow shirt seems to thoroughly enjoy his job," Second Man (explaining)—"You see, he has been an actor, but never played to such a large and attentive audience as this."

Without Philosophy. Without philosophy we should be little above the animals that dig or erect their habitations, prepare their food in them, take care of their little ones in their dwellings and live besides the good fortune, which we have not, of being born ready clothed.

Dream of Procrastinator. Dilydally (a chronic procrastinator)—"I dreamt last night that I was proposed to you. I wonder what that is a sign of?" Miss Engler (desperately)—"It is a sign that you have got more sense when you are asleep than when you are awake."

Anxious to Be Doing. Young Girl—"Yes, I feel an intense longing to do something for others." Friend—"Just whom do you mean by others?" "Well, I suppose almost anybody outside of my immediate family."

Actual Value of a Baby. According to a sociological expert, the actual value of a baby is $90. But you couldn't buy one for that price, no mother would sell it for that, and where he has a full house no father would give five cents for another.

Highly Excitable. "Brown is rather an excitable chap, isn't he?" "I should say he is! Why, he almost got a stroke of apoplexy the other night while watching a chess tournament."

Time for Futurist Music. "I don't care much for that piece the orchestra is playing now." "Why, that's futurist music." "Oh, is that? Why don't they play it some time in the future, then?"

Pathetic Weariness. When a woman who married a man to reform him lives to be sixty years old without becoming a widow, she is about as pathetic a picture of animated weariness as one ever sees.

To Keep Prosperity. Another way to keep prosperity is to scatter it around where it will have a chance to grow up with the country.—Atlanta Constitution.

Safety First. A Denver sociologist says that red-headed women are weaklings, but we'd going to let him tell them.—Macon News.

Daily Thought. I don't believe in anybody who has not had a tiff. It means a complete absence of character.—Mr. Justice Avory.

Optimism and Pessimism. An optimist sees more woman workers as a result of the big war. What does the pessimist see, more man loafers?

In Advance of His Time. "Look here, you said you'd have my car ready last night." "Well, what are you coming around tonight for?" Judge.

Blessed Man. Blessed is the man and beloved of all the gods who is afraid of no man, and of whom no man is afraid.—Vedas.

Ability Concealed. There is great ability in knowing how to conceal one's ability.—La Rochefoucauld.

Railway Men's Friend—Senator Active Western Union Night Letter

M. H. Barwise and Others, Wichita Falls, Texas. Washington, D. C., 7:13 p. m. Aug. 21, 1916. The undersigned, representing the Railway Conductors, Engineers, Firemen, Trainmen and Yardmen employed by Texas lines, called on Senators Culberson and Sheppard Saturday, August 19, without previous announcement and found them both in the senate chamber attending to their duties. Upon our request the two senators met us in the Judiciary Committee room of the senate, where they both made strong addresses. Many of us were surprised at Senator Culberson's improved health and his vigorous mental condition in view of reports which have been quite extensively circulated in Texas, and it affords us genuine pleasure to convey to our constituents and friends at home the information that Senator Culberson is both physically and mentally capable of attending to the duties of his high office. THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the sheriff or any constable of Wichita county, greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon James W. McCammon Jr., by name in publication, to appear in court in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county to appear at the next regular term of the 78th district court of Wichita county, to be held at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 1st Monday in September, A. D., 1916, the same being the 4th day of September, A. D., 1916, in order to answer a petition filed in said court on the 10th day of August, A. D., 1916, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 811, wherein Anna McCammon is plaintiff and James W. McCammon Jr. is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff was lawfully married to defendant May 14th, 1916 and lived together as husband and wife until May 28th, 1916 since which time they have lived wholly separate and apart. That during the time they lived together, plaintiff was a dutiful and affectionate wife and performed the duties imposed upon her by the marriage relation to the best of her ability, etc. That since said marriage defendant has adopted a course of such harsh, cruel and unusual treatment as to render their further living together insupportable. That within three days of their marriage, defendant began to drink heavily and would come home often in a highly intoxicated state and would alarm plaintiff and on two or three occasions would stay out all night carousing and gambling and would make unreasonable demands upon plaintiff, etc. That after two weeks, defendant left plaintiff, without funds and went out of the state. That during all of their marriage career, defendant failed and refused to provide for her and never contributed anything to her support. That because of the above facts she is entitled to an absolute divorce from defendant and her maiden name restored. Wherefore, plaintiff prays for service to defendant by publication for absolute divorce from defendant, cost of suit and her maiden name restored, etc. Herein fail not, but have before said court, at aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office, in Wichita Falls, Texas, this 10th day of August, A. D., 1916. MERRILL, Clerk District Court, Wichita County. By ISOLA MARSHALL, Deputy. EMPLOYEES ARE RESTLESS AND WANT ACTION

Declare That Railroad Managers Are Playing for Time With President as They Did With Railway Brotherhoods.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 23.—The railroad employees committee showed such marked signs of unrest today that the delay in the negotiations between President Wilson and the railway executives that the leaders of the men were alarmed and openly expressed fears of their ability to hold them together.

Some employees meeting this morning was thrown into an uproar by speeches of a minority which demanded immediate action, unless the roads accepted the president's plan but the leaders succeeded in adjourning before a vote could be taken on any of the proposals. They said afterward that while the president's plan was a step in the right direction, it was not strong enough and they believed the majority was willing to give the president a little more time.

Some of the men urged that most of them go home, leaving the brotherhood heads with authority to call a strike if the railroad does not accept the president's plan. The meeting adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

"It is our belief," one of the committee said, "that the railroads are playing for time with the president, just as they have done with us for many months. There is no reason why they should not have given the president an answer by this time. They are trying out and the men are getting disheartened with the whole situation."

While the railroad executives continued discussion of what form of appeal they shall make to President Wilson's plan, the president conferred with Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson, chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee in congress, about the bill to increase the membership of the interstate commerce commission by two. Senator Newlands afterwards announced he would push his bill immediately.

President Wilson plans to see Senator Newlands and Representative Adamson again, probably late today, and expects to receive another call from the committee of the interstate commerce commission before tomorrow. There were many indications that the railroad presidents were considering an eight hour day on condition that assurance be given that future differences may be arbitrated.

President Holden of the Burlington made the following statement: "A meeting of the presidents and managers was held at 11 this morning and a recess was taken until six o'clock. It is the intention of the committee of the presidents in session to give further consideration to the various problems presented."

Mr. Holden also stated that his conclusion had been reached was incorrect.

CONGRESS MAY PASS AN EIGHT HOUR LAW

URGE J. A. KEMP TO ANNOUNCE FOR GOVERNOR

STRONG SENTIMENT IS FORMING TO INDUCE HIM TO PERMIT THE USE OF HIS NAME IN THE PRIMARIES OF 1918.

IS OUT OF THE CITY

No Expression Has Been Obtained But It Is Thought That He Will Accept the Request of His Friends Over the State.

Friends of J. A. Kemp have launched a movement to induce him to permit the use of his name as a candidate for governor in the primaries of 1918. The movement is not confined to Wichita Falls, but is the result of expressions from his friends throughout the state as well as from those who are acquainted with his ability in Dallas and other principal cities of Texas.

For some time reports of a movement to this effect have been heard in this city, but it is only recently that the demand has become so insistent as to require some definite response. Mr. Kemp is now out of the city and it is impossible to secure an expression from him at this time, but it is understood from close personal friends that he will agree to the use of his name should he feel that there is a sufficient demand for his services to the state.

Particularly strong is the demand from the Panhandle section of the state that Mr. Kemp make the race, expressions having come from prominent Democrats in a number of the counties in that section. This is probably due to the fact that he is better known in this part of Texas, with which people he has had dealings, directly or indirectly for many years. His long residence in Wichita Falls and his active business life have placed him in touch with a large territory, and his reputation is such that his list of friends is only limited by the extent of his acquaintance.

Kemp has been a resident of Wichita Falls for many years and no man has been more instrumental in the development of this part of the state than he. For years he was engaged in mercantile pursuits on a large scale, but during all that period he found time to apply himself to the advancement of the section.

In later years he engaged in railroad construction, in connection with Frank Kelly, and his association with Kelly has been a well known one, not only in Texas, but throughout the business circles of the country. Even such an active life as he has led in the past has not prevented him from being interested in the upbuilding of public enterprises, and on every occasion when funds were to be raised for any institution of value to the community, he was one of the first and largest contributors.

His friends contend that the governor should be a successful business man, and they represent that he can best fulfill such a requirement in the conduct of the affairs of the state. News of his decision in the matter will be awaited with interest by the many who have interested themselves in the matter of inaugurating the movement to bring about the use of his name.

BOYS 11 AND 12 ADMIT MURDER

Tropical Disturbance Over Porto Rico Said to Be Moving Westward.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 23.—Judges and attorneys here expressed themselves today as being in a quandary over the disposition of Harold and Lim Lovelace, 11 and 12 years old respectively, who are held in the juvenile ward of the county jail at Twin Falls, contemners of murderers of Prof. Thomas Hannel, a Carson, Nevada, teacher whose body was found at his ranch near Twin Falls last Thursday.

No state law adequately covers their case. When the boys were taken into custody as runaways they had possession of Hannel's wagon, horse, pocketbook and gun. When questioned by the Twin Falls authorities they freely admitted their guilt and said they shot Hannel when he found them robbing his cabin. Efforts to find their parents are unavailing. They were left by their mother and stepfather in care of a neighbor but ran away as soon as possible.

PLACE EMBARGO ON STEAMSHIPS AT GALVESTON

By Associated Press. Berlin, Aug. 23.—All railroads entering Galveston have placed an absolute embargo on freight for the Morgan steamship line and an embargo, with exceptions, for the Malory steamship line here. It is understood this action was taken by the road on account of an embargo on certain classes of freight which the steamship lines have had in force since last October and which have been the subject of frequent modification.

CANDIDATE FOR SENATE TO SUPPORT CULBERSON

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, Aug. 23.—John Davis of Dallas, one of the candidates for the United States senate in the first primary, today announced that he would support Senator Charles A. Culbertson in the run-off primary next Saturday. Mr. Davis, in making his announcement, declared that a failure to publicly support and vote for Mr. Culbertson would be an indictment of the Wilson administration, a well-deserved and effective assault on the democratic party, and a bid for Machiavellian and foreign influences, ultimately leading to the overthrow of unalloyed Americanism.

ARMY BILL NOW UP TO THE HOUSE

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 23.—The Army appropriation bill, with revised articles of war approved by the war department, was passed today by the senate and now goes back to the house where the amendment is expected to be accepted. President Wilson vetoed the bill because the revision of the bill previously passed gave exemption to the retired officers, which the war department disapproved.

OPERATIONS IN BALKANS PLAY LEADING PART

DEVELOPMENTS FROM THAT SOURCE OVERSHADOW EVEN THE MOST IMPORTANT MILITARY OPERATIONS IN WAR.

BUT FEW ADVANCES

On the Western Front the French Forces Are Fighting Hard to Maintain the Trenches Captured Earlier in the Week.

The Associated Press summarizes the European war situation as follows: Political developments in the Balkans overshadow interest for the moment even the most important military operations in progress there but today's dispatches throw little light on the situation.

In connection with the attitude of Rumania the course of the campaign in Bukovina, close to the Rumanian frontier is being closely watched. The latest advices from Trianon sources declare that the Russians are being successfully resisted, not only in the Carpathian fighting but in the entire front to the north and in Wallachia.

With Russian and Italian troops added to the French, British and Serbian forces already in the field, the allies have a formidable array of fighting men in the Macedonian front, however its strength has not been exerted to marked effect. The Bulgarians have pushed back both wings and it is only in the Bardar valley that intense advances have been scored. It seems not improbable that this region, which offers superior railroad facilities because of the line running through it from Salonika to Vukovar, has been selected as the main avenue along which the entire thrust is to be made.

On the western front along the Somme the British continue to hold on to Thiepval on their left flank and appear almost within their grip. South of the Somme the French are fighting hard to maintain the trenches captured early this week in the vicinity of Estrees and Paris reports today that the Germans through a strong counter attack were able to gain a footing in their former trenches.

The Italians are continuing passive in the Gorizia sector as their infantry is concerned but their artillery is showing much activity. The work of consolidating the ground won east and southeast of Gorizia is being hurriedly completed. They have launched a new aggressive movement in the Dolomites, the Alpine region on the northern frontier.

The Turkish capture of important Austrian positions on the Tofana heights. The Turkish army, which has been pressing the Russians hard in Southern Turkey, has also attempted an offensive along the Black Sea coast, but Petrograd reports today that they were foiled in this movement and were back with the aid of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

MONEY AVAILABLE FOR GUARDSMEN

3 Quarters of a Million Dollars Has Been Shipped by Express From New Orleans.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 23.—A fund of $750,000 has been made available by the war department for the payment of state troops for duty along the border. Gen. Funston said today the amount would be sufficient to pay quartermasters for their services up to and including the month of July. The money was shipped by express from New Orleans yesterday.

Some of the state troops have considerable back pay due them. Gen. Funston explained that the delay was caused by the failure of the army appropriation bill to pass. This measure which was vetoed by President Wilson because it contained features in which he objected, makes provision to pay troops in the service. The amount just made available was taken from an other fund pending the army appropriation bill passage.

THIS CITY TO HAVE GIRLS' 1917 CAMP

WAS SELECTED TODAY IN CONTEST, DEFEATING FORT WORTH FOR THE HONOR OF ENTERTAINING THE YOUNG LADIES.

AT LAKE WICHITA

Miss Carver of Wichita Falls Was Largely Instrumental in Securing Encampment by Her Plucky Fight for Home City.

WICHITA FALLS WINS. Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 23.—The 1917 encampment will be held in Wichita Falls, that city being selected by a vote among the girls today.

The news of Wichita Falls' victory in the fight for the Girls' Honor Guard 1917 encampment came this afternoon and with it the news that a large share of the honor for the victory should go to Miss Gertrude Carver who for the past month or so has devoted her entire time to the Girls' National Honor Guard Campaign. Miss Carver and her determined campaign for the 1917 camp at Fort Worth Star-Telegram of this morning says:

"A little slip of a girl threatens to lick the whole city of Fort Worth to a frazzle before this day is over. She is fighting, and she is being led only with a smile, a pair of blue eyes and a natural talent to argue and talk."

Her name, Miss Gertrude Carver of Wichita Falls.

"The battle ground: Camp Tyra on the Lake."

"The reward: Location for 1917 encampment of the Girls' National Honor Guard."

"The first skirmish was fought in the 'big top' at Camp Tyra Monday night. In a debate with Ben E. Keith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayus E. Tyra and others she refused to yield an inch of her ground. Not only did she hold her ground, but an opinion is expressed here that she captured the first five trophies of the campaign."

"Wichita Falls wants the best encampment, and both the 'big top' and the Chamber of Commerce have deputized their fair hostesses to get it for them. Fort Worth wants the next encampment. Tyra and Keith are leading the objectors. Miss Carver has been backed by many officers of the brigade. Keith and Tyra extended their invitation last night, and Miss Carver was then introduced as 'Miss Carver had never made a speech in her life but she faced that audience of girls like a veteran politician. Her campaign was a success. She beat to tear the Fort Worth opposition to pieces. For a time it looked like she was overwhelmed by the oratorical artillery from both sides, but she did not flinch. This afternoon will decide the big fight. The girl cadets are to take a vote. Wichita Falls to Fort Worth are the only contenders."

"Miss Carver has shown a wonderful gift for 'subterranean' politics in camp. All week she has worked quietly among the girls in Wichita Falls, but the strength of Fort Worth opposition was not known until Monday night."

ZIMMERMAN WILL GO EAST IF HE IS TRADED

By Associated Press. Cincinnati, O., Aug. 23.—"I believe that Zimmerman, if he is traded will go to some town in the East," Manager Mathewson said, after his own offer for the Chicago third baseman had been refused by Manager Fletcher of the Cubs. "This is a case where the fact that none of the western teams has any trading material to offer in exchange for Zimmerman, while the other clubs have such an abundance of surplus talent, I know that the Chicago people will not consider a strictly cash offer for Zimmerman, as it is their own money that they would give me any encouragement. I want to secure Zimmerman as it would have bolstered up the team in one or two places where we are weak. In his playing ability Zimmerman can not touch the little third sacker that we have here right now. Hennie Grob is the more consistent ball player of the two, and if we had secured Grob, he would not have displaced Grob by any means. Zimmerman batted 240 one season; Grob has not come any where near that for some time. But there is an idea that because he once batted around that figure he might do it again with a change of scenery."

NEW BILL FOR FEDERAL COURT FOR THIS CITY

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 23.—Another Texas federal judgeship bill has been offered in Congress. Representative Stephens introduced a bill directing that the counties Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, King, Knox, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young shall be constituted in division in the northern judicial district with Wichita Falls as the courthouse seat. The bill also provides for a clerk and deputy at Wichita Falls and that court shall be held at least two years.

ADVOCATE ECONOMY IN ROAD BUILDING

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 21.—Resolutions adopted by the Texas good roads congress at its final session are an earnest determination of the thousands of active good roads promoters and builders of this state to force through public demand and crystallized sentiment, more comprehensive laws and a stricter regard for system and economy in carrying general road highway improvement.

The resolutions urged upon the legislature the necessity of giving Texas a state highway commission to an estimate available $500,000 federal aid and at the same time direct intelligent expenditure of road funds for construction and maintenance.

SEYMOUR NEGRO A POLICE PROBLEM

(From Monday's Daily.) What do we do with the Seymour negroes? This is one of the most puzzling problems with which the local police are confronted. Some time ago, when they were at their homes, most of them were good farmers and had good crops, but when they came to the city, they were in a bad way.

The problem of the alley bats who so long held forth in the alleys at night, seems to have been completely solved and the crusade of the officers through the alleys at night has almost broken up the habit of the negro women hanging out there.

SENATOR DEFENDS CHILD LABOR BILL

Culberson Replies to Critics and Explains Law Recently Passed by Congress

Washington, Aug. 21.—Senator Culberson, in answering some of the criticisms in Texas, has issued the following statement explaining his vote in favor of the child labor law recently passed by Congress.

"The National Democratic Convention, which was held at St. Louis in June, said 'we favor the speedy enforcement of an effective Federal child labor law. Notwithstanding his declaration, adverse criticism of me has been occasioned by my vote in favor of the bill, intended to meet this party obligation, to prevent interstate commerce in the products of child labor, and much misapprehension seems to exist as to the scope of the bill.

folks, as he told the Michiganers, that the fifty-one republicans who the other day, voted against an adequate army, are the spiritual successors of those republicans who, twenty years ago, voted for all kinds of half-measures in the hope of pleasing both the gold and the silver men. But, for obvious reasons, he must be regarded by a good many republicans as a high explosive indispensable against the enemy, yet liable to be carelessly used against themselves.

Colonel Roosevelt's invasion of Maine will be awaited with lively curiosity by most of us with minglings, probably, on the part of Mr. Hughes and his managers. For one thing, when the colonel goes into the campaign he can't help being its chief and commanding figure.—New York Times.

DIGNITY OF THE COURT.

The refusal of Mr. Justice Brandeis of the supreme court of the United States, to serve on the Mexican mediation commission is what might have been expected of him, considering the high commission given him by those who know him well during the unwarranted fight being waged against his appointment being confirmed by the senate.

The further fact that Mr. Chief Justice White was opposed to a member of the court serving on a political commission but goes to show the sense of the judicial court as against any member of that high and dignified tribunal engaging in any way in matters that might even be considered of a political nature.

The judiciary represents the highest and most sacred function of government and it is unbecoming on the part of any man honored with a place on the bench of any court to prostitute his position to political ambition, either for himself or for his friends.

Mr. Justice Brandeis had proven, long before he was selected by President Wilson for a place on the bench of the supreme court, that he was a man of broad views and the greatest integrity. He has again proven this by his recent action in refusing to accept a place on the Mexican mediation commission.

No doubt, President Wilson wanted able men, men of whose integrity there could be no question, on that commission and Mr. Justice Brandeis was honored in being selected, and by his refusal to act he stands higher with the people of the country and, no doubt, also in the mind of the president.

President Wilson has made few mistakes in his selection of men for high places. He appears to be an excellent judge of men for their ability, but what weighs largely with him is integrity. For this he is a stickler, and his appointments prove—Austin American.

LET'S NOT WORRY ABOUT THE MIDDLE CLASSES.

The problems of poverty are not very intense for single men who get more than $2000 a year, or married men who get more than $3000, and the fuss which has been made in congress over dropping the fringes of the income tax to cover these incomes is charged naturally, and as a good politician as safe as it is socially fair, reasonable and altogether desirable, to make owners of great fortunes pay in proportion to the size of their fortunes.

Somebody who will succeed Mr. Stephens attention may be called to the fact that many voted against Mr. Stephens in the primary through a misapprehension of his position on the question of national defense. Had Mr. Stephens taken the trouble to correct this misapprehension the July primary might have had a different result.

If a great railway strike is precipitated, the responsibility is placed on the railway managers and the president by President Wilson's statement which appears in the news columns of this issue. President Wilson had suggested a plan of mediation to the railway managers and the representatives of the brotherhoods. This plan made the acceptance of the eight-hour day basis by the railroads a condition of mediation. It was accepted by the brotherhoods but up to the time President Wilson issued his statement yesterday it had not been accepted by the railway officials.

The proposal will appeal to the country as fair and just. If a strike results, the railroads will be held responsible for it by the majority of citizens. The railroads ought to accept the eight-hour day. The eight-hour day movement is spreading steadily and will grow until it includes all industries. If the railroads succeed in putting it off now it will only be for a short time. A good many of the railroads of the country are already operating on an eight-hour basis. President Wilson has stated the situation admirably.

The eight-hour day, he says in his statement, "now undoubtedly has the sanction of the best judgment of society in its favor, and should be adopted as the basis for wages even where the actual work can not be completed within eight hours." When President Wilson said this, he doubtless made powerful enemies. But his saying it will go far toward bringing the day when the eight-hour basis of pay will be universal in this country.

Soon after the republican national convention last June The Times said that the republicans had paid President Wilson the highest tribute—they had selected as their candidate for president, the man in the republican party most like President Wilson. Developments in the campaign indicate that we were mistaken.

The selection of a man like Wilson may have been the purpose of the republicans all right but they utterly failed in the attempt. Candidate Hughes is on a speaking tour across the continent. His speeches show that so far from being a great leader in his party he is a follower of the standpatners and his speeches are the same stereotyped arguments and assertions that were used by republican campaign orators twenty years and more ago. He misrepresents President Wilson's position and President Wilson's efforts. He resorts to small political tricks and advantages and fails to show the breadth and strength which even democrats had believed he possessed.

He criticizes everything without telling what he would have done under similar conditions and circumstances. President Wilson has never attempted to take a small or mean advantage of any opponent. It's hard to imagine President Wilson going over the country talking about some man being displaced as a tax appraiser or as a director of the census, and if he did he would be certain to have the facts straight before he made assertions. The people of the United States will not expect President Wilson to utter petty criticisms and to pick a flaw here and an imperfection there. Rather, they will expect him to talk of principles and purposes and to discuss performance as a whole. No Candidate Hughes falls far short of meeting this standard of President Wilson. That's the reason why his speechmaking tour hasn't created deep or widespread interest. President Wilson will say something of real interest to say when he speaks. The country will take notice.

The International Institute of Agriculture says that reports indicate that the world's 1916 wheat crop is 25 per cent short of the 1915 crop. It more and more appears that the farmers who held their wheat this year acted wisely.

If it is found necessary to issue $125,000,000 in bonds on account of the army expenses on the border there won't be any trouble in selling the bonds. They will all be bought before breakfast at a liberal premium. This bond issue and the quarrel of a billion bond issue which Great Britain is arranging to market here won't cause indigestion in our bond market. They'll just be sort of an appetizer.

The Denton Herald says there is no political difference between Mr. Colquitt and President Wilson now. Everybody who reads the Times knows some of the things that Colquitt said about President Wilson and the democratic administration. If Colquitt had changed his mind about these things and if he is an honest and fair man he will retract what he has said and will apologize to President Wilson and the democrats of Texas. Nobody expects him to do this and there are few who will be fooled into believing that Colquitt is not now as far from being in harmony with the administration as he was when he gave his infamous interview.

The Times has just completed arrangements for a statewide service for returns from the senatorial run-off primary next Saturday night. It hopes to be able to publish a nearly complete report of the vote in Sunday morning's paper. No bulletins will be displayed Saturday night. Securing these returns is an expensive undertaking. The first primary was costly enough but now comes the expense of the run-off primary and a little later on will come the general election in November, making a triple election expense to be borne by the newspapers this year. The Times tries to cover these primaries and elections as well as the biggest papers in the state. It has done this for a number of years until the people of Wichita Falls and surrounding territory have come to expect it from the Times, which will strive to meet this expectation.

The Burk Burnett Carnival will open next Monday. This carnival is Wichita county's largest gathering of the year and it has become more than a local affair. It is not only a countywide show now but draws hundreds from the Oklahoma side of the river. Its agricultural, livestock and domestic exhibits are not excelled by any in this section of the state. The carnival will have a liberal patronage, as it well deserves, from Wichita Falls. The Times extends its compliments to the progressive citizens of Burk Burnett who are responsible for the Burk Burnett Carnival.

THE NEAREST THRUST.

The Times agrees with State Press of the Dallas News that the following from the Kaufman Post, in its gentle sarcasm is about the nearest thrust that has been fashioned since the star-fell and the woods burned!

Mr. Colquitt says that if elected to the Senate he will be found at all times working for the interests of Texas. Among other things, we may expect him to work for a repeal of the democratic tariff law, because it will be a good thing for American farmers to produce. He will demand that President Wilson reverse his "imbecile foreign policy" and send all the warships to Europe to show the world that we are no longer going to "submit weakly to foreign dictation." He will see to it that the men connected with the Wilson government are charged, inasmuch as they "are utterly incompetent." He can be depended upon to get a bill passed appropriating a billion dollars to be donated to the "widowhood misery" to which Wilson condemned the South. He will repeal the anti-trust laws—they are "barbaric taxes" and "a national disgrace." He will propose to show the world that we are no longer going to "submit weakly to foreign dictation." DAIRYMEN HOLD CLOSED MEETING

NUMBER OF THOSE ENGAGED IN BUSINESS PERFECT AN ORGANIZATION MONDAY.

TO FIGHT ORDINANCE COMMITTEE NAMED

Object to Some of the Provisions of City Law Governing Dairy Business.

From Tuesday's Daily. At a closed meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon, a protective association was organized among local dairymen, of which some of the members are the purpose to be the fighting of the new milk ordinance soon to go into effect.

Officers were said to have been elected as follows: Dr. L. C. Tyson, president; J. A. McSpadden, secretary; J. W. Carithers, secretary-treasurer.

No statement of the intentions of the association was given out, members of the organization stating yesterday that the meeting was merely for the purpose of organizing and that nothing further of a definite nature was done.

Copies of the milk ordinance were handed to a number of the dairymen who attended the meeting were noticed with copies of the ordinance as they were leaving the room.

A meeting to perfect the organization was held at 2 o'clock at the same place. Mr. Tyson, president of the new organization, stated that personally he would be in favor of meeting the public at this meeting. However, that will be up to the association which has so far not had a chance to pass on the matter.

A committee to draw up articles for the conduct of the organization had to report at the next meeting was appointed and include J. A. McSpadden, Anderson and W. H. Clark.

The opposition of the dairymen to the new ordinance seems to spring from the alleged expense that the complying with the new ordinance will entail. The principal items complained against are the fees for the inspection of the barns in the condition required by the ordinance will entail more outlay than the dairymen can afford, and the objection to the fees for the inspection of the barns in the condition required by the ordinance will entail more outlay than the dairymen can afford, and the objection to the fees for the inspection of the barns in the condition required by the ordinance will entail more outlay than the dairymen can afford.

A poll taken of the members of the board of health found them solidly lined up behind the new ordinance, which they all agreed was as lenient as it could be made under the circumstances. They took the attitude that it was in many cases a matter of either good clean milk and the preservation of babies' lives or the contrary. They stated the ordinance modeled on the one in effect at San Antonio and its validity had not been upheld by the courts, so they did not intend to pay for it unless they are able to fight it much from that angle.

Dr. J. T. Traylor, city food and dairy inspector, who was invited to the meeting, also came out strongly in favor of the new ordinance. He said that many of the dairymen whom he had been inspecting had been making some of the dirtiest pieces of milk in the city. He stated that many of the dairies do not have means of sterilizing the utensils used in handling the milk, did not take any means of protecting it while milking in the barns, and many are in filthy condition, being cleaned only spasmodically, that most of them made no distinction in selling milk to families when it was infected or contaminated. MAN OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES

Was Rescued By Two Companions Who Were Working on the Job

Overcome by the fumes of paint inside of the water tower on which he was working, T. H. Sutton, a painter, suffered a short attack of sickness on top of the tower. He fell to the street staying there from shortly after two this morning until 8:30, by which time he was able to climb down the tower to get him from the inside of the tower to the ground. He is now in the hospital, but with some assistance. Two of his companions on the job worked an hour after the sickness attacked him in order to get him from the inside of the tower to the ground. FALL STYLE SHOW ON SEPTEMBER 19

COMMITTEE NAMED

An Added Feature This Year Will Be an Automobile Parade Immediately Preceding.

From Wednesday's Daily. Tuesday, September 19, was officially set as the date of the 1916 Fall Style Show by the directors of the Retail Merchants Association meeting in an special session Tuesday afternoon. Committees were appointed to look after the various features of the show, including an executive committee composed of Messrs. Marvin Smith, Harry Baum and Jack Barnard.

An added feature of the Fall Style Show will be an automobile parade immediately preceding the opening of the show. The parade will consist of the curricula of the shop windows with the automobile dealers in charge of the parade. Messrs. Harold Carpenter, Newton Maer, J. C. McFall and Lloyd Weaver were named a committee to attend to the automobile dealers' share in the show.

Enthusiasm and conviction that the 1916 Fall Style Show would far surpass the two previous shows was evident in the talks made by the various merchants. The plan followed so successfully in the Spring Style Show was unanimously adopted to carry through the fall style show, that of sending out invitations to the neighboring townspeople, advertising, making each place of business an individual style show and having a band to play on the streets to entertain the crowds as they go from store to store. These features have been decided upon and in the month that will elapse before the show, the various merchants will be worked into the general plan.

It is just a year now since The Times originally reported the show and secured the co-operation of the merchants to such an extent that a very creditable affair was made of the 1915 Fall Style Show. A spring style show partook of a far more elaborate nature, all of the merchants in every line of business, from the hardware store to the open house. Record crowds attended each previous opening and though it is a mooted question whether the downtown style show will be the sound and the merchants and others who are co-operating to make this coming style show the biggest success ever, it is stated that the members of the organization are willing to abide by all state laws, with a slight emphasis on the state. He admitted, however, that the features of the state laws as regards inspection had not been enforced locally in the past.

A poll taken of the members of the board of health found them solidly lined up behind the new ordinance, which they all agreed was as lenient as it could be made under the circumstances. They took the attitude that it was in many cases a matter of either good clean milk and the preservation of babies' lives or the contrary. GUARDSMEN TO BE HOME SOON

Expected That They Will Be Released From Duty About November 1

Washington, Aug. 23.—Unless the joint commission for the settlement of all issues between the United States and Mexico fails to announce a definite plan for return of the guardsmen now on the border will be ordered to their home states and will be demobilized about November 1.

The tentative plan of ordering the guardsmen home is in a position to safeguard the rights of the citizens in Mexico, and to guard against further raids across the American line.

From the same source comes the definite information that there are now 104,000 National Guardsmen along the Mexican border. The war department has consistently refused to give out any figures as to the exact number of National Guardsmen in the field, but the number in camp in the various states, and the number which were included from the original mobilization orders. It is learned also that approximately

CATTLE OWNERS ASK INJUNCTION FOR TEXAS GUARD

Petition Filed Asking That Commission Be Enjoined in Archer County

From Tuesday's Daily. A petition was presented yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the 3rd district court attacking the constitutionality of the state law which requires that the Dallas recruiting station on a trip of inspection.

Several radical changes and an announcement regarding recruiting in the Dallas district will be made effective immediately. "I have just received orders from the war department," said Colonel Hoover, officer in charge of the Federalized National Guard recruiting for the Southern division of the United States, accompanied by members of his staff, visited the Dallas recruiting station on a trip of inspection.

The case is directed against Carroll Drew, agent for the commission and seeks to enjoin him from further enforcing the rule against owners whose cattle are free from ticks. It being contended that a number of cattle have died as a result of the too frequent application.

There are about fifty plaintiffs in the case, representing owners of about 2500 head of cattle head of cattle in Archer county and they are being represented by Attorneys Kay & Akin.

Y. M. C. A. WORK AMONG SOLDIERS

Organization Renders Efficient Service in Towns Having Border Camps.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 23.—L. A. Coulter, state secretary of the Texas Young Men's Christian Association, has been in Dallas, Texas, for several weeks to work among the Texas soldiers on the border. A recent statement given out by him discloses some interesting facts concerning the progress of the work. According to the information which he gave, buildings have been in use for some time at Harlingen, Mercedes and Donnell, serving as headquarters for the Texas soldiers on the border. Reports show that a great piece of service is being rendered. Hundreds of letters are written from each building every day.

Recently, Mr. Coulter made a trip to the Big Bend district and made a thorough investigation of the condition of the men in that section. In his district report he stated that the Texas soldiers on the border are well cared for. They are supplied with regular meals, together with regular and the guardsmen from Pennsylvania are stationed here.

It was stated that traveling secretaries would be necessary to touch those men situated miles away from the railroad and grouped in companies along the border. The Texas Young Men's Christian Association is now working to supply the needs of the soldiers. A large building, 40x80 feet, was occupied on the 14th at Harlingen, Texas, since it is at this point that the battalions of the second and third regiments are concentrated. This building will be large enough to serve the men of two or more regiments.

All of the work in behalf of the Texas soldiers, has been accomplished through the efforts of the state committee of the Texas Young Men's Christian Association. Local Associations have secured funds and are working through the State Committee.

40,000 guardsmen are still in training camps. The recent order dispatching 25,000 equipped units to Texas affected 25,000 others who are now being prepared for immediate campaigning.

From the information available there are 15 National Guardsmen under arms and 15,000 more in reserve. This would give the country a militia army of 750,000 of which 145,000 of them are in training camps. The strength of the National Guard six months ago was 12,000 men. This means that recent recruiting has been successful.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT FOR EARLY INSTITUTES

WAIT 1600 MEN FOR TEXAS GUARD

Colonel Hoover Ordered to Recruit Guard to its Full War Strength.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 23.—Col. John S. Hoover, officer in charge of the Federalized National Guard recruiting for the Southern division of the United States, accompanied by members of his staff, visited the Dallas recruiting station on a trip of inspection.

"I have just received orders from the war department," said Colonel Hoover, officer in charge of the Federalized National Guard recruiting for the Southern division of the United States, accompanied by members of his staff, visited the Dallas recruiting station on a trip of inspection.

The men are well fed. They are contented, and are not responsible for the statements credited to them in the newspapers. Under a new ruling, which goes into effect today, any man in Texas who wishes to join the National Guard has to go to the station nearest him. Dallas is known as the Western division and Lieut. M. G. Holliday is in charge of the station at Dallas. Lieut. Mountrous is in charge of the station at Fort Worth. By communicating with the nearest station of the division, a man will be furnished with transportation to the station, where he will undergo medical inspection. While in Dallas the government furnishes him with board and lodging, and if he is rejected by the doctor, transportation is given to his home.

The war department has agreed to give me sufficient captains, privates and noncommissioned officers to furnish full companies at each station. I have had only one application from enlisted men, and no applications from students for discharge. This ought to show whether or not the troops want to be discharged to the border service.

The health of the men is excellent. The sickness rate of the entire National Guard is 1.14 per cent since they were ordered to the border. This is lower than the rate in any city or town of equal population in the United States. In Dallas and Houston the average rate is about 15 per cent.

TEXAS HAS BIG ROAD PROBLEM

Biggest State Contains the Largest Mileage of Unimproved Public Roads.

Texas, according to the latest compilation of the United States Office of Public Roads, has 123,912 miles of highway, of which only 6 per cent is paved. The state has 3,000 miles of stone, gravel, or other hard surface roads. Rhode Island, the smallest state in the Union, has 1,000 miles of paved roads. Ohio has 58,000 miles of road, has improved 50 per cent of them. Evidently Texas road builders have a big job ahead of them in improving their roads.

Fortunately, also Texas will have the benefit of the experience of the pioneers in road improvement. This experience shows, among other things, that the modern method of building all-concrete roads, on the one hand, and macadamized roads, on the other, is the most economical and durable.

An expert who has surveyed the road material supplies of the state has concluded that Texas will get more road service for her money in the form of asphalt macadamized roads than in any other way. By the adoption of this form of construction it is estimated that the cost of building a mile of road will be reduced 50 per cent. At the same time, the value of concrete as a support or foundation is retained without any of the disadvantages of trying to use hard, unyielding slabs, subject to cracking and disintegration, as a wearing surface.

In Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana and other states it has been found that it is not only cheaper but better to build all roads with a 2-inch asphalt surface, than to build a concrete road with a 2-inch asphalt surface. This country is bound together with a natural asphalt binder which does not permit the road to ravel out under traffic or become a sticky mass of mud in wet weather. An additional advantage of such road surfaces is that they are equally well adapted to horse and motor traffic, and to heavy demands elastic road surfaces.

MOLFETTA YARDS TARGETS FOR NAVY

City is Subject of Geographical Bulletin, Recently Shelled by Torpedo Boats.

Washington, D. C. Aug. 23.—Molfetta, in the Gulf of Brindisi, Italy, which was shelled by Austrian torpedo boats recently, is the subject of the following geographical bulletin issued by the United States Navy, recently received from its Washington headquarters:

"The shipbuilding yards of Molfetta were probably the chief targets of the Austrian navy during the recent bombardment. While the town presents a striking appearance from the sea, its walls, studded with towers, are of a former age when such defenses were effective against the depredations of freebooters and adventurers.

"With a population of more than 40,000 Molfetta is one of the thriving commercial centers of the southern coast of Italy. In addition to its trade as a support the city has numerous manufacturing establishments, producing flour, soap, wines, bricks and vermicelli. Sixteen miles by rail to the southeast is the important town of Bari (the Barium of the ancients.)

"Evidence of a neolithic settlement have been found in the vicinity of Molfetta, but the origin of the present city is believed to figure in European history during the sixteenth century when Charles V. bestowed upon the Duke of Termoli, his viceroy in the Kingdom of Naples, the title of Duke of Molfetta. The Duke's new master, the Emperor Ferdinand of France, Odet de Foix-Lautrec, descended upon it and sacked the town. In 1572, a French campaign against the kingdom of Naples, Lautrec, though a valiant soldier, owed his advancement in the service of France to his brother, who was killed in the battle of Lepanto. The Duke of Molfetta, however, was one of the cities of Southern Italy in which serious disturbances occurred in 1898, when there was a sudden increase in the price of wheat.

"The most picturesque building in the medieval section of Molfetta is the cathedral, which like the cathedral in the neighboring Bari was the work of the architect of the same name attached to the east end. These cathedrals are of plain masonry, the stories being suggested by blind arches and a series of niches.

"The Austrian province of Herzegovina is directly across the Adriatic from Molfetta, a distance of 125 miles.

"The sheer sides of an ideal arena, cobweb shaped, with seats for twenty thousand, are rapidly rising to the floor level clouds, which float very near one's head. Under the pressure of the heights which brought fame to the family of Pike A hundred carpenters with a master planer, are busy at work in shaping the modern gladiatorial pit. Like every thing else, this remarkable club of millionaires does, it is going to bear 1890—that is, the year of the number 7 and their come.

The Wichita trucks are performing in a manner eminently satisfactory to the aviation corps of the French army, according to G. Vidie, a representative of the French company, who are buying the trucks for the resale to the French government who is stopping at the Westland. In fact all classes of American trucks have made an enviable reputation for themselves by their performance during the great war, says Mr. Vidie.

Mr. Vidie drove a truck in the aeroplane of the French army until he was wounded several months ago and recently recovering from his wound was sent to this country to place orders for trucks for his company. He has been in this country only about two weeks, landing in New York, but his impressions of America are so far of the most favorable order. He will be in the Wichita Falls for two or three days before returning to New York.

The immediate business that brings Mr. Vidie to Wichita Falls is the arranging of a schedule whereby 40 3 1/2 ton trucks per month will be delivered to his company by the Wichita Motor Company. An additional number of the smaller trucks will also probably be ordered from the local factory. The Wichita trucks are all used by the aviation corps. They are shipped without bodies, special bodies being put on them after their arrival in France by the Atlas Company. A number of the Wichita trucks have been used by the French army since the trip to France made by J. G. Cuthbert, manager of the local factory, in the interest of his company about a year ago.

MUST DEPEND ON MANUFACTURING

Hungary's Brightest Prospects For the Future Lie Along Such Lines

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Budapest, Hungary.—Count Albert Apponyi, former prime minister of Hungary, present leader of the opposition in Parliament, declares that Hungary's brightest prospects for the future lie along the path of manufacturing rather than agriculture.

"The Hungarian statesman, speaking to the Associated Press correspondent in one of the sessions of the impressive Parliament building on the bank of the Danube, discussed the Central European alliance, and the Paris conference, the outcome of which, with the latter's decision to vote against all trade with their present opponents after the conclusion of peace, he said that it had had the possible effects of the Paris conference for years to come he was not in the least shaken in his opposition to any proposal for a general economic treaty of the central powers.

The opposition of Count Apponyi and his followers to the conclusion at present of a treaty with Austria and Germany rests on the following basis. About a year ago there should have taken place a general election of the members of the parliament. The members were in the field, Parliament reluctantly voted a confidence in the government, and the government held three months after the end of the war.

The situation under the circumstances is, Count Apponyi feels, that Hungary is morally sure that he really represents the will of the people. In consequence he has not the right to undertake a step having such far-reaching consequences for the nation. Particularly he has not the right to conclude a treaty which probably will follow the old custom between Austria and Hungary and stand for ten years, or which as some now would be twice that length of time.

Though Hungary has been regarded as a manufacturing state (some 25 per cent of its male citizens are in peace times engaged in manufacturing) it is not a true manufacturing state. It is a cultural country. For it to be forced into, or kept in, the role and position of an agricultural country means a retrogression which is not only a national disaster, but also a cultural one. It is a cultural country. For it to be forced into, or kept in, the role and position of an agricultural country means a retrogression which is not only a national disaster, but also a cultural one.

Hence the necessity of an eventual agreement that will protect its budding industrial advance. Hence the desirability of assuming an attitude of equality toward the nations which are in the prospective Central European group an attitude which shall not only hand prevent Hungary, but also protect the person of the emperor, and on the other shall have as its ideal perfect harmony equable interchange and equal advantages for all concerned.

If nothing is undertaken too hurriedly during the present period of uncertainty, nothing is to be undertaken until the situation is clear. The representative Parliament, which knows exactly what the situation is, can act. Count Apponyi and his followers are in a position to do all that is in their power is bright. For the immediate present, however, he believes that nothing should be attempted until a general agreement has been reached to agree—later on.

But if the present majority in Parliament is inclined to agree with the Apponyi standpoint that nothing is to be gained by a hasty treaty, it is to be regretted that the knowledge of a better-war conditions. It does not share the minority view that a tariff against Austria is a national disaster. The opposition, therefore, has a double fight on its hands—first to postpone the conclusion of any trade and commercial agreement, and secondly to have the agreement incorporated into that agreement stipulations which it can hardly be anticipated Austria and Germany will accept without demur.

The strong agricultural interests in Hungary want some agreement whereby the duties in Germany against their products shall be lowered so as to give them a market which they once had in England, and which they even had in South America. Their export trade has been virtually at a standstill since 1890—that is, the year of the number 7 and their come. It has not grown by leaps and bounds in the preceding forty years.

Their cause is championed by the big millers and distillers, who would be willing even to see the heavy duties on agricultural products from the Balkan states if duties were so adjusted that they could compete in German markets. The same is true of the makers of wood, which always felt the cramped effects of protective duties aimed at them. They would be glad to see an agreement by which the duties on their products would be lowered.

Opposing them stand the textile and iron interests of Hungary. The former have for decades deplored the lack of sufficiently high protective duties. The government has tried to help them by means of subsidies, but it has been only a partial help, for their competitors have been Austrian and German firms that long ago had paid up their original capital out of their profits, and that today have even the advantage of superior efficiency because families for generations have worked for them and knew the work as few others.

The iron industry feels the need of protection especially keenly because of the physical situation in Hungary. The iron for most of the country is the iron that is its raw material; it is almost the opposite corner lies the coal that they must have. The mere work of bringing the two together in the iron for most of the country is the iron that is its raw material; it is almost the opposite corner lies the coal that they must have. GRAIN STANDARDS ACT HOW A LAW

Provides For Establishment of Official Standards and For Licensing Inspectors

The United States grain standards act, which gives the secretary of agriculture authority to establish, as soon as may be, official standards applicable to grain shipped in interstate or foreign commerce, became a law on August 11, 1916.

The act authorizes the secretary of agriculture to investigate the grading and grading of grain and to establish, as soon as may be, standards for corn, wheat, barley, rye, oats, and other grains. Not less than 90 days' public notice must be given in advance of the date on which any standard is to become effective. Whenever such standards are established for any grain, the act forbids the shipment or delivery for shipment, in interstate or foreign commerce, of any grain which is sold, offered for sale, or consigned for sale by grade, unless it is inspected and graded by a licensed inspector at the place of shipment, at a point in transit, or at the destination. In case no licensed inspector is located at the place of shipment, or at the point of destination, the grain may be shipped without inspection in interstate or foreign commerce, provided that the inspection is made to the grade to the secretary of agriculture.

When grain shipped or delivered for shipment in interstate or foreign commerce is required to be inspected and graded by a licensed inspector, it is made unlawful for any person to represent that it is of a grade other than that stated in a certificate issued in compliance with the act.

The act permits the shipment in interstate or foreign commerce of grain sold or offered for sale, or any description which is not false and misleading, and does not include any of the terms of the official grain standards.

The secretary of agriculture is authorized to examine grain that has been certified to conform to any grade standard of official grade, and has been shipped in interstate or foreign commerce. If, after an opportunity for hearing has been given to the interested parties, he finds that any such grain has been incorrectly certified or has been sold under a name, description, or designation which is false and misleading, he may publish his findings.

When grain shipped in interstate or foreign commerce has been inspected as required by the act, any interested party may, at any time, appeal the inspection, appeal the question of its grade to the secretary of agriculture. The secretary of agriculture is authorized to do so, and to issue a certificate of the grade, and his findings are made prima facie evidence of that fact in suits between the parties. Federal courts, in cases where a party is charged with hearing disputes and appeals. When appeals are sustained, such fees are to be refunded. By the act, the secretary of agriculture is prohibited from certifying the grain according to the official grade, unless he holds an unsuspended and unrevoked license issued by the secretary of agriculture.

An appeal which presents satisfactory evidence of competency may be licensed as an inspector under the act. In states which have, or may have, a department of agriculture, the secretary of agriculture is required to issue licenses to persons authorized and employed by the state to inspect and grade grain for shipment in interstate or foreign commerce. Licensed inspectors are required to keep records of all grain inspected by them, and to make detailed reports to the secretary of agriculture. The license of any inspector found to be incompetent or to have issued a false certificate of grade, or otherwise to have violated any provision of the act, may be suspended or revoked by the secretary of agriculture.

Any licensed inspector who knowingly inspects or grades improperly grain shipped in interstate or foreign commerce, or who issues a false certificate of grade, or accepts a bribe for neglect or improper performance of duty, may also be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both.

Similar punishment may be imposed upon other persons who violate certain portions of the act, particularly those which relate to the inspection of grain shipped in interstate or foreign commerce.

An appropriation of $250,000 is made for the enforcement of the act. The necessary rules and regulations will be prepared and published at the earliest practicable date, and persons interested may have an opportunity to become familiar with them before any of the standards become effective.

The benefits which the act seeks to confer are described in the language used in the annual report of 1914 of the secretary of agriculture with particular reference to the establishment of standards for corn. Grades for that grain generally adopted and uniformly applied throughout the country, will simplify the relations between producers, dealers, and consumers. Under these grades, the farmer will receive a fair value for his product, and the shipper of a superior quality of grain will be in a position to demand from the buyer the fair value to which the quality of his product entitles him. On the other hand, the producer of a product of inferior quality will receive a lower return.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO ENTER PRIMARY

Wichita, Texas, August 23.—A warning to county chairman and all election officers to be on the lookout for Republicans who will attempt to vote in the second municipal primary election Saturday was issued from the headquarters today through Judge Barry Miller, chairman of the Democratic primary committee.

Information is being given to the Republican campaign committee that many Republicans throughout the State, who will vote for Hughes and Fairbanks, are planning to go into the Democratic primary and vote for Colquhoun, the statement reads, "because by doing so they will greatly aid their party in the national campaign."

Judge Barry Miller authorized the issuance of the statement over long distance telephone from Beaumont this morning, as follows: "To the Democratic Voters of Texas: In view of the great number of votes being taken in the present senatorial contest in Texas by the Republican leaders and campaign managers throughout the country as evidenced by the report appearing in the Dallas News of Aug. 22 of the visit of H. F. McCreary, Republican National Committee member for Texas, to the Republican campaign headquarters in Chicago, I think it important to issue a warning to county chairmen and all election officers to be on the lookout for Republicans who will attempt to vote in the primary."

In the dispatch from Chicago Mr. McCreary is reported as saying that if the sentiment in Texas against the present Wilson was regarded as the policy there is no question, but that Hughes, the Republican nominee, would carry the State of Texas. He says, further, the sentiment among the Democratic voters of Texas was expressed in the recent primary vote for candidates for Senator, when former Governor Colquhoun, who has vigorously opposed President Wilson's Mexican policy, was the highest man on the ticket.

His information is that many Republicans throughout the State, who will vote for Hughes and Fairbanks are planning to go into the Democratic primary and vote for Colquhoun, by so doing they will greatly aid their party in the national Republican campaign, providing Colquhoun should be nominated. I know of one Colquhoun, Hughes Club in Archer County composed of 110 Germans, and throughout the State there are thousands of citizens who expect to vote for Hughes and Fairbanks in the fall, who also expect to vote in the primary for Colquhoun. As many of these as possible, should be promptly challenged and every man who does not expect to support the Democratic ticket in the national election should be refused a vote Saturday primary. Let the officers of the election in the various counties bear this strict warning, and challenge every voter about whose conduct there is the least suspicion. BARRY MILLER, Chairman, Campaign Headquarters.

MAYOR DEFENDS MILK ORDINANCE

States That Council Will Stand Pat and Ask Cooperation of Public

The council will stand pat on the milk ordinance, according to a statement of Mayor Britain this afternoon. He called on all citizens who believe that the ordinance is entitled to a clean and wholesome milk supply to stand behind the council in this fight. If there should be a fight, however, he said, he would be ready to stand by the ordinance as he believed it was for the benefit of the city. The ordinance was passed in order to be as fair as possible to both sides, the council repeatedly visited the dairymen to the meetings of the council at which the matter was discussed in order that the council might be fully informed of the results of their experience. Only two or three appeared before the council in regard to this matter and the ordinance was argued at that time to the ordinance was broken away as soon as they had read the ordinance.

He further said that he did not believe that any who attended the council meeting had read the ordinance, or at least read it understandingly. The council has been asked to consider the matter as they possibly could insure pure milk. The only requirement of the ordinance when all is said and done is to require the dairymen to keep their places clean, and any one who is fighting this ordinance is simply fighting clean milk. The mayor does not see how the ordinance can be a very expensive proposition.

He further said that he understood that the dairymen or two or three exceptions that the men fighting the ordinance were small dairymen, and added that he could not see why the dairymen should not be required to keep their places clean like the large dairymen, since several small dairies can as effectively spread their manure as a large one.

He pointed out that the dairymen in San Antonio and a number of other cities where the ordinance is in effect, are working under its provisions.

CAMP GIRLS HAVE TO SEEK SHELTER

Camp Terra, Lake Worth, Aug. 23.—Heavy rains starting just before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, drove members of the Girls' National Honor Guard, encamped here into their tents. Camp leaders having predicted a rain for several days had taken all precautions and tents were fastened as well as possible.

Dark clouds, thunder and high wind gave warning for the campers to get their belongings under the tents. Lieutenant Henderson gave orders for the girls to go to their respective tents to remain until the rain was over. The girls were called out for retreat just before 6 o'clock.

Arrangements were started here on preparing to break camp this afternoon at 1 o'clock at which time the retreat was called out for retreat just before 6 o'clock. The girls will go to the Girls' National Honor Guard headquarters at Fort Worth, which is located in the Hotel Westbrook. Here they will prepare for the night entertainment.

INVESTIGATION OF EGGS AND MEAT

Member of State Board of Inspection Carries Samples of Meat to Austin

A commendation of the manner in which eggs are handled by local producers was made by Dr. J. R. Brim of the state board of inspection, who was here yesterday afternoon for a short time, visiting the produce houses and meat markets. Dr. Brim will return next for another inspection trip and will also make a report on the meat samples secured yesterday. He said any adulteration or introduction of unwholesome meat will be cited immediately.

GIVES THE HORSE TEN YEARS MORE

Dr. Rowe Predicts Its Practical Disappearance From Roads In Decade

"Another ten years will see national road systems covering every section of the country—the practical step in the direction of preparedness that could be made," says Dr. H. M. Rowe, the newly elected president of the American Automobile Association, in an interview at Washington. "In a decade we shall begin to have separate roads for freight traffic and passenger traffic, and the horse and mule will have practically disappeared. Our present highways will be greatly multiplied and largely improved in width and improved in quality. No other country on the face of the earth can make such good and profitable use of good roads as the United States of America. We will eventually excel them in this respect in many other things. There have been wonderful changes in all matters relating to transportation since the introduction of the motor car, but there are still greater things to come."

"We have worked for good roads for the reason that they are of equal economic benefit in the final analysis to the people of every country should have the advantages to which they are entitled. We have worked for unrestricted intercourse between the states through the use of motor cars, because that is a constitutional right that has been denied us. We have asked for equal taxation. That is another constitutional right that has been denied us. In addition, the owners of motor cars are being subjected to all sorts of petty annoyances—special taxes, license, and rules of lights, and many restrictions, epidemic alike in two places, and which have not been subjected to women to arrest and conviction, even for the most trivial reasons. Much has been accomplished, it is true, but there yet remains much to be accomplished before the motor car can be subjected to annoyances and unfair treatment which is not visited upon those who employ other road vehicles."

FOREST FIRES HAVE BEEN SWEEPING GREECE

By Associated Press. The immense forest fires that have swept Greece during the past few weeks have been a source of particular chagrin to Queen Sophia, for the queen of the Hellenes has been the leading figure in the reconstruction movement in Greece. The barren mountains that three thousand years ago were clad with verdure have now a test for the Queen in her crusade to teach the modern Greeks the need of preservation of the woods and streams. Each year Queen Sophia plants a tree with her own hands as an emblem to the women of Greece. But this year she had no luck, for during the night following this Arbor Day ceremony a wandering shepherd passed with his flock and the newly planted tree was ignominiously cut by the sheep.

GREAT CHANGE IN PORT FIBRED IN BIBLICAL HISTORY

Washington, Aug. 23.—During the past month the battle front in German East Africa has changed more radically than in any other theatre of the world war. The British troops have been pushing the German colonial and native troops northward over an extent of territory which has carried forward in the same direction eastward from Victoria Nyanza westward to within 500 miles of the Indian ocean, and the distance was to advance as far north as the advanced front as British troops have advanced southward from Muanza to the Victoria Nyanza. Victoria Nyanza is in the hands of General Cameron. If the Russians could have effected a landing on the coast of East Africa during the same period, they could have secured a possession of Warsaw, Cracow, Lemberg and Konigsberg today. By such a combination of forces, the extent of the territory over which the European forces in East Africa are fighting is not only a matter of national pride, but also a matter of national safety.

The British force in East Africa is reported to be attacking the German forces along a line extending from the port of Tanga, opposite the island of Pemba, to the north of the Victoria Nyanza, a distance of 500 miles. CHILDREN MUCH MORE EXPENSIVE

Everything for Their Care and Comfort Has Been Increased in Price

London.—It is estimated that the all-around expenditure on a baby born this year is probably from $100 to $125 higher than in 1914. Food alone adds about $15 to the year's cost of the war-baby. Milk has gone up four cents a quart and it is estimated that the average baby consumes from 400 to 450 pints a year. Baby foods are up about 10 per cent. Feeding bottles cost a third more, and the specialized food for treatment of ailments has advanced from ten cents to 25 cents a pint.

Even a baby's bath costs about one-third more; soap is a third dearer, the bath thermometer is up about 25 per cent, toilet paper, chiefly because of the rise in the price of the hortic acid it contains, is 100 per cent dearer. Nearly all medicines cost much more.

Parabulaters are about one-fourth dearer. What formerly was sold for 25 cents is now 35 cents. A cot that could be bought before the war for $5 is now $7.50; the fleecy wool mattress baby's basket and baby's high chair are up 10 per cent. SCOLASTIC CENSUS GIVES WICHITA FALLS STANDING OVER SEVERAL RIVAL CITIES

MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR HIS RE-ELECTION TO UNITED STATES SENATE

POPULATION 17,000 COLQUITT IS SCORED

From Sunday's Daily. Wichita Falls, which ranked 26th in population of Texas cities in 1910, passed a number of other rival cities since that year and now ranks at least as high as seventeenth according to the scholastic census for the current year.

Wichita Falls' present population, based upon the scholastic census, is 17,000. This figure is five inhabitants for each child of scholastic age and allows for the part of the school district which is not in the corporate limits. While the state figures on six inhabitants for each scholastic...

The following figures for Texas towns which had less than 20,000 population in 1910, show the present standing:

Table with 2 columns: City Name and 1910 Census. Includes Abilene (9,204), Amarillo (9,557), Ardmore (10,217), Colquitt (10,364), Corpus Christi (10,322), Corsicana (10,249), Greenville (8,550), Laredo (14,555), Marshall (11,452), Paris (11,289), San Angelo (10,221), Sherman (10,212), Tyler (10,400), Wichita Falls (8,200).

One outstanding feature of the 1916 figures is the fact that even conceding several towns the outside population included in their scholastic figures, Wichita Falls is greater than any other town in the state...

Estimates of the present population of the towns are as follows:

- 1-Dallas. 2-Dallas. 3-Houston. 4-Fort Worth. 5-El Paso. 6-Dallas. 7-Austin. 8-Waco. 9-Beggs. 10-Brownsville. 11-Laredo. 12-Corpus Christi. 13-Paris. 14-Marshall. 15-Marshall. 16-Cleburne. 17-Wichita Falls.
