PRESIDENT HAS PUT SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE UP TO CONGRESS IN MESSAGE DELIVERED PERSONALLY

SUGGESTS SIX SUBJECTS FOR LEGISLATION

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES JOINT SESSION OF BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS THIS AFTERNOON ON EIGHT-HOUR CONTROVERSY.

EXPLAINS EFFORT

Assures Lawmakers That He Has Used His Best Endeavors to Secure an Agreement Without Success and Proposes Legislation.

President Wilson laid the railroad strike situation before congress at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in an address to both houses in joint session. The president told of his efforts to bring the railroad managers and the men into some sort of agreement, and saying he is powerless to do more, asked congress to enact certain specific legislation to deal with the situation now and in the future.

He proposed that congress first enlarge the membership of the Interstate Commerce Commission to equip it to deal with larger situations. Second, that an eight-hour day be established for all trainmen in interstate commerce and third that the commission investigate the effect of an eight-hour day without suggestion, that the public may learn from a disinterested source of the merits of the question. Fourth, that the Interstate Commerce Commission consider the increased cost of an eight-hour day in making legislation. Fifth, to amend the mediation law to prevent strikes of lockouts while industrial disputes are being investigated. The sixth proposal was that the president be empowered to operate the railroads in case of military necessity. How these things are to be carried out President Wilson left entirely in the hands of congress.

MESSAGE OF PRESIDENT DELIVERED IN PERSON

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson laid the threatened railway strike before Congress today in an address to both Houses assembled in joint session. He spoke as follows: "Gentlemen of the Congress: I have come to you to seek your assistance in dealing with a very grave situation which has arisen out of the demand of the employees of the railroads engaged in freight service that they be granted an eight hour working day, safeguarded by payment for an hour and a half of service for every hour of work beyond the eight hours. The matter has been under consideration for more than a year. The public has been made familiar with the demands of the men, and the arguments urged in favor of them, and even more familiar with the objections of the railroads and their counter-demand that certain privileges now enjoyed by their men and certain bases of payment, worked out through many years of contest, be reconsidered, especially in their relation to the adoption of an eight hour day. The matter came up for a final vote on a complete deadlock between the parties. The means provided by law for mediation of the controversy failed and the means of arbitration for which the law provides, were rejected.

"The representatives of the railway executives proposed that the demands be submitted in their entirety to arbitration, along with certain questions of readjustment as to pay and conditions of employment which seemed to them to be clearly associated with the demand or to carry reconsideration on their own merits; but the men absolutely declined arbitration especially if any of their established provisions were by that means to be drawn again in question. The law in the matter puts no compulsion upon them.

"The four hundred thousand men from whom the demands proceeded had voted to strike if their demands were refused—the strike was imminent—it has since been set for the fourth of September, next. It affects the men who man the freight trains on practically every railway in the country. The freight service throughout the United States must stand until their places are filled, if indeed it should prove possible to fill them at all. Cities will be cut off from their food supplies, the whole commerce of the nation will be paralyzed, men of every sort and occupation will be thrown out of employment, countless thousands will in all likelihood be brought, it may be, to the very point of starvation, and tragical national calamity brought on; to be added to the other distresses of the time, because no basis of accommodation or settlement has been found.

"Just so soon as it became evident that mediation under the existing laws had failed and that arbitration had been rendered impossible by the attitude of the men, I considered it my duty to confer with the representatives of both the railroads and the brotherhoods and myself after mediation, not as an arbitrator, but merely as a spokesman of the nation, in the interest of justice, indeed, and as a friend of both parties, but not as a judge, only as one representing the one hundred millions of men, women and children who would pay the price, the incalculable price of loss and suffering, should these few men insist upon their demands, and concluding the matters in controversy between them merely as employers and employees rather than as patriotic citizens of the United States, I felt and after, and accepting the larger responsibility which the public would put upon them.

"It seemed to me, in considering the subject matter of the controversy, that in the spirit of the time and the preponderant evidence of recent economic experience, spokes for the eight hour day, it has been adjudged by the thought and experience of recent years a thing upon which society is justified in insisting, as in the interest of health, efficiency, contentment and a general increase of production, the whole presumption of modern experience would, it seemed to me, be in its favor, whether or there was arbitration or not, and the decisive points to be settled were those which rose out of the acceptance of the eight hour day rather than those which affected its establishment. I therefore, proposed that the eight hour day be adopted by the railway management and put into practice for the present as a substitute for the existing ten hour basis of pay and service, that I should appoint within the permission of the Congress, a small commission to observe the results of the change, carefully studying the figures of the altered operating costs, not only but the conditions of labor under which the men worked and the operation of their existing arrangement with the railroads, with instructions to report the facts as they found them to the Congress at the earliest possible day, but without recommendation, and that after the facts had been ascertained, a settlement should be made in some orderly manner, brought of all the matters now left unadjusted between the railroad managers and the men.

"These proposals were exactly in line with the position which they took, the position taken by the supreme court of the United States when appealed to to protect certain rights of the railroads, which they should submit to the regulation of their charges and of their methods of service by public legislation. The form of judgment upon proposals, but could have its action only upon actual experience, that it must be supplied with facts, not only, but with candid opinions, however, scientifically attempted. To undertake to arbitrate the question of the adoption of an eight hour day in the light of a hearing, estimated and unadmitted would be to undertake an enterprise of conjecture. No wise man could undertake it or if he did undertake it, could feel assured or his contentment.

"I hesitatingly offered the friendly services of the administration to the railway managers to see to it that justice was done the railroads in the settlement, but I felt warranted in assuring that no obstacle of law would be suffered to stand in the way of their increasing their revenues to meet the change, so far as the development of their business and their administrative efficiency did not prove adequate to meet them. The public and the people, I felt justified in assuring them, were disposed to nothing but justice in such cases, and were willing to serve those who served the public.

"The representatives of the brotherhoods accepted the plan, but the representatives of the railroads declined to accept it. As the facts of the case, as they regard as the practical certainty that they will be ultimately obliged to accept the eight hour day by the concerted action of organized labor, backed by the favorable judgment of society, the representatives of the railway management have felt justified in declining a peaceful settlement which would engage all the forces of justice, public and private, on their side to take care of the events. They fear the hostile influence of shippers who would be opposed to an increase of course the public itself would pay; they apparently feel no confidence that the Interstate Commerce Commission could withstand the objection care to rely upon the friendly assurances of the Congress or the president. They have said they would yield, if they were forced to, but by the sufferings of the country. While my conferences with them were in progress, and while to all outward appearances these conferences have come to a standstill, the brotherhoods have suddenly acted and set the strike for September 4.

"The managers base their decision to reject my proposal in this matter upon a condition that they must, at any cost to themselves or to the country, stand firm to the principles of arbitration which they have rejected. I have based my counsel on the indisputable fact that there was no means of arbitration. Earnest stands at mediation had failed to in principle of arbitration, at least. To stand firm in the principles of arbitration and yet not get arbitration seems to me futile and something more than futile because it would inevitably distress to the country and consequently in some respects worse than war and that in the midst of peace.

"A situation had to be met whose elements and fixed condition were indisputable. The practical and patriotic course to pursue, as it seemed to me, was to secure immediate peace by conceding the one thing in the demand of the men which society itself and any arbitrator who represented public sentiment were most likely to approve and immediately lay the foundations for securing arbitration with regard to everything else involved. The event has confirmed that judgment. I was seeking to avert the strike by legislation.

STRIKE ORDER IS EFFECTIVE ON LABOR DAY

UNLESS A SETTLEMENT IS REACHED MEN ARE INSTRUCTED TO QUIT WORK WITHOUT FURTHER NOTICE ON SEPT. 4.

FEAR OF COURTS

Action Taken to Forestall Any Legal Action That May Have Been Contemplated to Prevent the Calling of the Men Out.

By Associated Press. Washington, Aug. 29.—While President Wilson was announcing that he would lay the railway strike situation before Congress at 2:30 o'clock today, the brotherhood leaders rejected the latest proposition of the committee of railway presidents and actually ordered the strike to begin at 7 a. m. Labor Day unless a settlement satisfactory to them is reached in the meantime.

Their previous order for the strike was tentative and required a secret signal to put it into effect. Unless a settlement satisfactory to labor leaders is reached before the strike begins, the union leaders will instruct the men to quit work without further notice.

The labor leaders admitted they took their action the first thing today in the belief that some means were being sought to prevent the strike actually being called. By their action, they think they have anticipated any legal processes which might be brought against them.

President Wilson announced his decision to address Congress in joint session at 2:30 o'clock after the decision of labor leaders became known. Arrangements were made at the capitol for house and senate to assemble in the house to hear the president propose the legislation which has been agreed upon by administrative leaders.

After his conference with President Wilson, Senator Newlands said definitely that the falling measure would be under consideration. An eight hour day for railroad employees.

A measure creating a commission for the investigation of the work ability of railroad employees and wage questions involved in the present controversy.

An act similar to the Canadian industrial dispute act for the investigation of disputes on railroads between operators and employees and prohibiting strikes or lockouts during the investigation.

A resolution authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to take wage standards into consideration in fixing freight rates.

Authorization for the president to draft men into the federal service for the operation of the railroads in cases of a strike.

After seeing the president, Senator Newlands went to the department of justice for a conference with Acting Attorney General Todd, Chairman Adamson of the house commerce committee, and Commissioner Charles of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Commissioner Chambers of the mediation board. The conference was for the purpose of putting the bill into final form.

Written invitations have gone out only to members of the national committee.

A post mortem examination showed tubercular lesions in the throat, stomach and intestines. Dr. Traynor, who gave the test, stated that he had the dairyman not had the foresight to have the cow examined before she was turned in with the rest of his herd, a large percentage of them might have caught the infection within a few days time.

again be in yogue. The friends of the measure are said to be looking to the future, rather than concerning themselves with what might have happened in the past.

Not even a grain of comfort was there for the republicans in the election Saturday. They had been prepared to make the most of a Colquitt victory, and such an eventuality would have given them a talking point that would certainly have been hard to answer.

Rumania, the fourteenth entry in the world war, comes in like Italy and Bulgaria, with no real principle at stake, but with merely a selfish desire for territorial gains.

Colquitt was never overly magnanimous when he won and it was perhaps not to be expected that he would be any too graceful when he lost.

Wichita Falls was the scene of much political activity Saturday. Democrats are voting in five boxes in the senatorial run-off primary.

Admiral Dewey thinks Mr. Daniels is doing all right. A great many people don't think so, but not many of them have any real battle for it.

The secret of the success of the French army lies in the democratic spirit that prevails in its ranks.

It was a wrench to think of the navy. That seems to be about all there is to it.

Texas has gone democratic. A fitting rebuke has been administered to the candidate whose political capital in the campaign just ended has been his opposition to the democratic national administration.

There is gossip in some political circles in Texas that a determined effort will be made in the next legislature to amend the election law so that plurality, instead of majority, nominations for United States Senator will feature in the run-off. There are many features connected with the primary that will be pleasing to democrats and the friends of the administration.

The affair of Saturday reminds us that nobody has heard anything of Cole Pleasance of South Carolina in quite a while.

It isn't any of the Times' business, of course; but it would seem that the republican congressional nominee could employ his time lots more profitably than by making a canvass of the district, as it is said he intends to do.

Burk Burnett's carnival, now in progress, gives Wichita county farmers their only opportunity to display their products and to compete for rewards for exceptionally good specimens.

With Rumania in the war, there are now fourteen nations engaged in the European struggle, ten on the side of the entente allies and four with the central powers.

Entente—Great Britain, France, Russia, Belgium, Italy, Serbia, Montenegro, Japan, Portugal and Rumania. Central Powers—Germany, Austria, Hungary, Turkey, Bulgaria.

Of the ten counties lined up with the entente allies, only five—Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy and Serbia—have lately been taking active part.

It may not be exactly apropos to talk about flood-prevention in times like these, and yet the steps that are now being taken on three "fronts" to safeguard property from future floods are noteworthy.

There were probably a great many of the several hundred Wichitans who visited Burk Burnett Tuesday who asked the question "Why hasn't Wichita Falls a fair?"

THE PRESIDENT'S APPEAL

President Wilson's address to Congress was not only an effective analysis of the railroad strike situation, it has developed, step by step, but it was an eloquent answer to those who have criticized the president's course in the controversy.

It might have seemed at first blush that there could be no objection to arbitration of all points involved, but a careful study of the issues reveals that there are times when arbitration is not advisable.

The big difference between the attitude of the railroads and that of the men is that the latter have made material concessions and that the former have not.

President Wilson, his efforts as mediator having apparently failed, takes the only course open. If there are flaws in the program he recommends to Congress—and there no doubt are—the program at least offers a reasonable equitable means of averting a strike.

NEGRO ARRESTED IN NORRIS CASE

PRISONER IDENTIFIED BY VICTIM OF BULLETS AT GENERAL HOSPITAL.

From Wednesday's Daily. M. H. Norris, the Clay county farmer who was wounded in an attempted holdup by a negro at Eleven and Ohio Monday night, last night positively identified a negro known as Hillside Tracy as his assailant.

The negro claims that he was in bed at 8:30 on the night of the hold-up, but one of the officers said that he had seen him up town at a much later hour.

Tracy, who is also known as Tracy Montgomery and whose real name is Ray Freeman, is well known in local police circles.

Another negro, who is known as "Tango" and who has been held by the police in connection with the shooting of Mr. Norris, was released yesterday evening after it was decided that he was not the man who shot the victim.

Mr. Norris, who is a man of about thirty years of age, is a native of Louisiana and is now residing in the city of Dallas.

NEGRO SHOTS A BOLD HOLD UP

Norris Was Fired Upon When He Broke Away—Negro Makes Successful Getaway.

From Tuesday's Daily. Another instance of the many outbreaks on the part of the lawless negro element here was afforded in the bold holdup and shooting of Mr. Norris, a Clay county farmer, near the corner of Eleventh and Ohio, within two blocks of the police station at a new corner after ten last night.

Mr. Norris, returning from a visit to a friend who comes toward town on Ohio when he was halted by a negro in a crowd of men. Norris, who was unarmed, was fired upon and he was severely wounded.

Constable Will Allen, Deputy Harold Bester and Night Chief Melton, who were at the station at the time of the holdup, ran immediately toward the scene of the shooting, but the negro had executed a disappearance before the officers got there.

Mr. Norris was taken to the hospital and is now in a critical condition.

KING CONS AN FINE OF GREECE QUILTS THRONE IN FAVOR OF CROWN PRINCE; COUNTRY TO AID ENTENTE ALLIES

VENIZELOS IS POWER BEHIND GREEK THRONE

ACCORDING TO PLANS PREMIER ZAIMIS WILL REMAIN AT THE HEAD OF GOVERNMENT FOR THE PRESENT AT LEAST.

MAY BE OPPOSED

Correspondent Questions Whether the Entente Allies Desire the Active Assistance of Greece in the Present Great Conflict.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 1.—King Constantine of Greece has abdicated according to the British press representative at Saloniki.

The press representative says the king has abdicated in favor of the crown prince, with Venizelos as the power behind the throne. The new policy, he asserts, will be to work with the entente allies.

According to this information, Premier Zaimis will remain at the head of the government. The correspondent questioned whether the entente allies desire the active assistance of Greece.

Crown Prince George of Greece, whose accession to the throne is reported as having been described as a man of liberal mind, in true sympathy with the aspirations of the Greek people, Prince George was born July 19, 1899. He is unmarried. His engagement to Princess Elizabeth of Romania was announced in 1914, but owing to the war the wedding was postponed.

Ward Price, to whom the above dispatch is credited, is the official British press representative, designated by the government to act for all British publications in that area. Nevertheless, his dispatches are subject, not only to the Greek censorship, but to the French military censorship which controls all lines of communication from Athens. The fact that both censorships as well as the British censorship in London have passed this dispatch is significant.

On Tuesday Mr. Price sent from Saloniki a report that King Constantine had fled from Athens to Larissa. This dispatch was discredited in London official circles. Doubt also appeared to be cast on its correctness by dispatches filed from Athens Wednesday, one of the reports of coming meetings between the king and the entente ministers and others having to do with the illness of the king, who was recently operated upon. It is possible, however, that the king may have departed secretly from Athens, as reported by Mr. Price, and that his absence was concealed from the newspaper correspondents here.

The reign of Constantine I, as king of the Hellenes, dates from March 18, 1913, when his father, George I, was assassinated in Saloniki. A brief as the reign has been, Constantine has enjoyed a period of remarkable popularity and increased the territory of the Greek monarchy by over 50 per cent.

Born on August 3, 1868, he was educated largely by private tutors from Leipzig, which was said to have stamped upon him a permanent German influence. His military education was furthered by attendance at maneuvers in Germany. He became a brother-in-law of the German emperor by marrying the latter's sister, Princess Sophia, in 1899.

His alleged pro-German leanings, thus indicated, were not always popular with his people, and during the war a strong party antagonistic to his desire to have Greece preserve neutrality and in favor of joining the allies, precipitated a cabinet crisis which was weathered with difficulty.

The most interesting chapter of Constantine's life is the way in which he became the people's idol. Like his father, he has had his ups and downs in favor, the Greeks having been quick-changing in their likes and dislikes. In 1906 when he saw his country drifting into war with Turkey, he sounded a warning that the Greek army was utterly unprepared for a campaign. The infantry was armed with condemned French rifles, which had cost $2 each; the cartridges were 15 years old; there was no cavalry; the artillery was obsolete, and its officers few. Nevertheless, the country decided upon war. The result was disaster—a humiliating defeat for Greece. Immediately the popular tide turned against its rulers, whom it denounced as foreigners who could have little in common with the Greeks. The king and queen were hooted in the streets, and the officers turned their backs upon the crown prince.

A similar scene was enacted against the royal house when, in 1909, King George tried to oppose the popular clamor for the annexation of Crete, knowing that Turkey was eagerly awaiting such an excuse to bring a second crushing defeat upon Greece. This time the clamor almost became a revolt, and the king was obliged to yield to the demand of the military league, both for a reorganization of the army and for the dismissal of the crown prince as generalissimo. He thereupon decided to accept a command in the Russian army, but the opposition to him was smoothed out and he was restored to his former dignities.

He finally became a national hero in the Balkan war of 1912, when he led an army of 100,000 Greeks to the capture of Saloniki, causing 30,000 Turks to lay down their arms. His popularity was such, as a result of this, that Greeks in America raised several thousand dollars with which to purchase a gift sword, inscribed: "To Constantine, the Liberator."

When Constantine came to the throne it was said he aimed to restore the former grandeur of the ancient Hellenic empire, and that he was a believer in the old national prophecy that under the reign of Constantine and a Son of the Eastern Empire would be called into life again and the cross restored on St. Sophia at Constantinople in place of the crescent.

By the peace treaty signed after the Balkan wars, Greece added a considerable stretch of Turkish territory to her domain and in December, 1913, the long desired annexation of the islands of Crete was carried out. King Constantine himself hoisted the Hellenic flag over the fort.

With the entrance of Turkey into the European war the question of the restoration of Greece soon became to be seriously considered by King Constantine. He insisted upon strict neutrality. The cabinet, headed by Premier Venizelos, which was for war on the side of the allies, finally tendered its resignation. The Greek attitude, at least so far as the war party was concerned, was largely to the effect that if Greece had no hand in the war, her interests might suffer when peace was arranged.

The Athens correspondent of the Morning Post, on March 29, 1915, attempted to explain the situation in a letter in which he said that in the second month of the war the Greek premier had admitted to the entente powers that Greece would join their cause actively if the necessity should arise, and with the commencement of the operations against the Dardanelles the government believed the time had come for Greece to abandon her neutrality. The king, however, refused to countenance this plan. It was argued that sending forces to the Dardanelles would dangerously weaken Greece's defense on the Bulgarian frontier, and since Greece had received no formal invitation from the triple entente her entrance into the war would be undertaken without any guarantee from the powers as to the Greek position on the mainland.

The king's refusal to consent to the war policy, said the Post correspondent, "was undoubtedly actuated in all good faith by a patriotic consideration of the military difficulties. Unfortunately, his entourage is known to hold strong pro-German sentiment. The principal officers of the general staff are pupils of the Berlin Kriegsschule, and are firmly convinced that Germany must ultimately win this war. This, and not fear of Bulgaria in the real reason of their opposition to Greece's participation in the operations against Turkey."

"The queen, of course, as a Hohenzollern princess, is wholly for her brother's cause. Hardly a day passes but she receives from the German military attaché the official German war reports. I am informed by persons who are competent to know that on the evening preceding the king's final decision a long telegram from the emperor was received at the palace, doubtless urging Greece's abstention from the war. I am also informed from the same source that the queen openly declared that if Greece took such action she would immediately leave her adopted country."

REPORT IS DISCOUNTED BY WASHINGTON OFFICIALS

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 1.—Reports of the abdication of the Greek king were discounted today at the Greek legation because it was declared the dispatches came from Saloniki which is controlled by the allies and through the British press censorship at London. It was thought strange that the king should have seen the French, English and Russian ministers only yesterday if he planned abdication.

MINERS' WASH HOUSE LAW IS EFFECTIVE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 1.—The law passed by the 24th legislature requiring mine owners and operators to provide wash houses for the miners became effective today. C. W. Woodman, state labor commissioner, says practically all of the mines in the state have been equipped with this convenience.

A short time ago Commissioner Woodman made an inspection of mines of the state and found most of them equipped with washhouses. After today, those mine owners who have not complied with this law are liable to prosecution. A heavy fine is provided for violation of the law. There is no disposition of the part of the state, it is said, to punish those operators who desire to comply with the act.

REVOLUTION UNDER WAY IN GREECE

REPORT FIGHTING BETWEEN GREEK GARRISON AT SALONIKI AND GREEK VOLUNTEERS RECENTLY ORGANIZED.

FRENCH STOP IT

Garrison Said to Have Finally Surrendered and Marched Out of Saloniki—Reports Are Vague Because of Censorship.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 1.—The surrender of several Greek garrisons which had taken over the administration of part of Macedonia is reported in a Reuter dispatch from Saloniki.

Various rumors are in circulation here in regard to the situation in Greece. Reuter dispatch from Saloniki would say there has been fighting between the Greek garrison at Saloniki and Greek volunteers recently organized to assist the Greek regulars who are resisting the Bulgarians in Macedonia.

French troops intervened to suppress the fighting and the garrison finally surrendered and marched out of Saloniki.

On the face of this dispatch, it is indicated that a revolution is under way in Greece but the message is worded so vaguely probably on account of the censorship that no definite conclusions can be drawn. There have been various indications since the entry of Roumania into the war of the political turmoil in Greece, owing to the conflict between the nationalists represented by King Constantine, and those who desire to intervene in the war on the entente side, led by Premier Venizelos.

Athens dispatch received yesterday predicted that Greece would abandon neutrality in the immediate future. It has also been reported that King Constantine is finding his position difficult on account of the growing strength of the pro-entente faction, and it was reported from Saloniki in a dispatch filed on Tuesday that the king had taken flight to Larissa, where he was under the protection of German soldiers.

There is an existence in Greece a committee representing the liberal or Venizelos faction, and it is possible that the Greek garrisons surrendered to this or some similar body. The committee was appointed Sunday on the occasion of the demonstration of 50,000 Greeks before the residence of Venizelos in Athens, and was instructed to present to the king resolutions warning him not to interfere in the approaching elections and to prepare the army for a possible rupture of existing conditions.

Roumanian troops are continuing, apparently without serious interruption, their invasion of Hungary. Official announcement was made at Bucharest that the advance being carried on successfully in all directions and that the important industrial center of Petroene in the Turling valley and Kronstadt have been occupied.

On the Macedonian front comparative quiet continues. Apparently the forces on both sides are waiting for the outbreak of political conditions in the Balkans. Bulgaria's expected declaration of war on Roumania is announced at Saloniki according to a dispatch filed on Tuesday.

On the French front fighting has died down although the artillery was very active last night in the Somme region.

STORM TAKES TOLL OF 50 IN WEST INDIES

By Associated Press. St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, Sept. 1.—Fifty lives were lost in a hurricane which struck the British West Indies island of Dominica last Monday night. The wind reached a velocity of more than 70 miles. The number of buildings wrecked or seriously damaged exceeds 200.

Moderate Gale in the Florida Straits

By Associated Press. Washington, Sept. 1.—Although the tropical disturbance over the Caribbean sea has not been attended by dangerous winds, thus far, weather bureau reports this far today indicate that winds of moderate gale force have prevailed during the last 24 hours in Florida straits, the Gulf of Mexico and the Yucatan channel. The storm was central this morning over the east coast of Yucatan and moving westward.

Northward Movement of American Troops

By Associated Press. El Paso, Sept. 1.—Mexican reports to Juarez yesterday said that after Gen. J. J. Pershing's recent visit to El Valle there was an apparent northward movement of American expeditionary forces from that point. The reports added that there are indications of plans to withdraw all American troops south of Colonia Dublan to the field headquarters there.

MANAGERS HOLD 8-HOUR LAW NOT CONSTITUTIONAL

HAVE BEEN ADVISED BY THEIR ATTORNEYS THAT ADAMSON BILL WILL CRUMBLE AT THE FIRST LEGAL BLAST.

ARE STILL PREPARING

Publicity Bureau of Road's Claim That the Are Preparing in Preparation For Strike Regardless of the Action of Congress.

By Associated Press. Council for the Road's claim that the Adamson bill is patently unconstitutional, Milwaukee & St. Paul and class legislation.

E. V. Ripley, president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe said today in a dispatch that the bill would merely postpone the strike.

"Our lawyers," said Mr. Ripley, "informally and individually have expressed the opinion that the Adamson bill, if passed, will crumble at the first legal blast. If the bill passes the president counsel will confer formally as to legal procedure. It is logical to assume that the railroads will abandon their principles merely because they are attacked through Congress instead of directly by the brotherhoods."

R. H. Ashton, president of the Chicago & Northwestern, said that the railroads would obey the law. "But," he added, "it seems certain to us that the Adamson bill, if passed, will not stand the test of the courts. Obviously, if Congress could compel us to pay a certain scale of wages for eight hours work, it could compel us to pay the same scale for six hours or for four hours."

A statement was issued at publicity headquarters of the railroads that preparation for a strike next Monday was proceeding without regard to prospect of congressional action.

Road Claims Conductors Vote Not to Strike

By Associated Press. Milwaukee, Sept. 1.—W. B. Henrich, superintendent of terminals of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, announced today that he had been officially notified that the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors on the section of that system near the Wisconsin river, has voted not to strike.

BRITISH LOSS FOR AUGUST IS 127,945 MEN

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 1.—It was officially announced yesterday that the British casualties, killed, wounded and missing on all fronts totaled 471,000 officers and 127,945 men during the month of August.

A Chicago Man Kills Bride of Only One Month

By Associated Press. Chicago, Sept. 1.—Police are today searching for J. Maurice Pettitt, who yesterday murdered his bride of a month. After cutting his wife's throat Pettitt opened the door of the flat for his wife's mother, talked to her through the speaking tube and then escaped down the stairs. A block away he met a roomer and talked calmly with him before walking on.

CITY COUNCIL IN CLOSED SESSION

PART OF MEETING LAST NIGHT WAS EXECUTIVE AND NOT FOR PUBLIC.

PAVING IS DISCUSSED

Open Session Dealt With Improvement of Tenth Street and Light and Sewer Problems.

For the last twenty minutes of their meeting last night the council held an executive session and it was not known what was discussed, it is supposed to involve the consideration of a present or prospective project of paving this being the only project for which an executive session may be held, as provided in the city charter.

The council also discussed suit that seems to be pending on the part of the people who live near the sewer outlet in North Wichita was filed up. The council has been for a long time in a dilemma about the outlet of the sewer. The people, who live near the present outlet of the sewer have complained for some time of the stench that arises and the council has some time ago appropriated money to change the location but their operations were halted by a threat of a suit from the people near the proposed outlet, if it is moved. The city attorney has expressed the opinion that the property owners who complain of the sewer discharge can recover from the city if it is carried to the court. He has pointed out to the council the fact that the city will face a suit wherever the outlet is moved, and suggested that the only thing that they can do is to construct an aseptic tank which will permanently remove them from threats of a suit of this character.

POSSE HUNTING NEGRO IN OHIO

Sheriff Attacked and Thwarted With Lynching When He Refuses to Give Information

Lima, O., Sept. 1.—A dozen posse of enraged farmers continue to search the countryside here, bent on securing and lynching Charles Daniels, a negro who recently attacked Mrs. John Gabeer, 24 years old, a white woman, when she refused him food.

The negro has been jailed "somewhere in Northwestern Ohio" but at an early hour the mob had not discovered his location.

Meanwhile Sheriff Sherman Eley of Allen county lies in an Ottawa hospital with a broken arm and a broken leg, and a broken head, after he refused to reveal the hiding places of the negro. Only after being threatened with lynching did he tell the frantic farmers the negro was in the Putnam county jail at Ottawa.

Despite the injuries the bruised and bleeding sheriff was dragged into an automobile and rushed to Ottawa, where it was learned the hunted negro had again been spirited away.

Shortly before the lynching party arrived at the Ottawa jail, a closed automobile whizzed from the rear of the building. It is believed the negro was one of two hooded figures in the machine and that he was taken to another jail in a near by county.

GOOD PRICES TO HELP FARMERS

Will in a Measure Provide Relief From Shortage in Crops Over State

Special to The Times. Dallas, Tex., Aug. 31.—July and August weather have not been favorable to the maturing of crops says a Texas Industrial Congress bulletin. The long, severe drought in the southern counties was broken on July 4 by a heavy rain which has succeeded by others at frequent intervals, sprouting the seed planted in February and filling up the water holes and courses and restoring the range. There has been so much dry and hot weather in this section that the cotton fields are weedy and the farmers have not had sufficient opportunity to keep them clean. In the counties east of a line from Waco to San Antonio, rain has been plentiful, producing a vigorous growth and fruitage of the crops; in other sections of the state the weather has been dry and hot, except for reasonable local rains in some of the Red river counties. In the droughty sections the hot weather has put an end to the ravages of the boll weevil, but in the abundant rainfall, this damage has gone on unchecked.

The weather for August has resulted in a general drought over the state, interspersed with small rains of strictly local character, and a Gulf storm that swept a number of southern counties August 18. These conditions have been unfavorable for the crops. The early planted corn that escaped the April freeze had time to mature a good crop, but the late planted corn has been generally cut down in yield by lack of moisture at fruitage time. Speaking generally, Texas has made a half crop of wheat, a 65 per cent crop of corn, sweet and Irish potato crops under the average and a 65 per cent fruit crop. The hay crop, it is estimated will be 30 per cent short, but all of these crops have been generally well planted, but present indications are that the yield will be little, if any, better than last year's production, which was 2,155,000 bushels. The general drought in connection with boll weevil damage in sections where there has been no insufficiency of rainfall and the efforts of the storm in the southern counties are responsible for the indicated small yield.

The prolonged dry weather has affected unfavorably the grain sorghum crop, which is maturing and resistant, will make a fair yield. All most 200,000 acres of peanuts have been grown and much of the crop will be threshed and offered for sale.

Where five years ago, fear of the Moro and his lust for blood made the life of the foreigner in the Moro country a nightmare of worry and apprehension, today there is peace and the beginnings of a prosperity the like of which would have seemed a fool's dream in 1912.

Cole Blease of South Carolina may come back. He will be in a run-off primary for governor in that state, having received more votes in the first primary than the present incumbent who is seeking re-election. It beats all how fellows of the Blease type can command support, but there have been times in Texas politics when this state had little room to talk about South Carolina.

C. M. Cureton, assistant attorney-general, in a recent speech, urged adoption of a constitutional amendment for the creation of irrigation districts in Texas. Such an amendment has been defeated twice in the past, due to the amiable system of a number of Texas voters in scratching every constitutional amendment proposed, regardless of its merits, but the third time might prove the charm. Certainly nothing could contribute more to the development of West Texas.

September is here, and it has rained. The Fall Style Show, set for September 15, is less than three weeks distant now and it is time to begin active preparation for it. While it would be useless for The Times to attempt to explain the benefits of the Style Show to the merchants who haven't already discovered them, it may not be amiss to point out that every class of merchandise is included in the show and that every merchant, no matter what he sells, will profit by taking part in it. Style pertains more particularly, of course, to clothing, but when a city is showing off what she has, everything, from sausage to automobiles, ought to have a part in the display.

Miss, who, you might, to know, says that many good farm hands are spoiled in the making of poor lawyers. Which is no doubt true enough, but why confining it to lawyers? There are newspaper men and doctors and preachers and merchants and baseball players and men in all callings, trying to make a living, when chopping cotton would not only suit them better, but pay them better. In all the learned professions—prize fighting, vaudeville, driving automobiles, running for office, and so on, many are called but few are chosen.

A plan for advertising Wichita Falls was broached at Thursday's session of the Rotary club by A. E. Myles and it is hoped that some way will be found to put it into effect. The plan is a new one so far as any Texas city is concerned; it provides for taking a Wichita truck, filling it with the products of Wichita Falls factories and Wichita county farms, and taking it on a tour of central and northern states during the county fair season; it would be accompanied by a lecturer and moving pictures setting forth the advantages of this city and section would be a feature of the enterprise. Certainly no more effective way of advertising this city could be devised and the idea is worthy of serious consideration. The truck would be a Wichita Falls product; the farm specimens would be contained in Wichita Falls jars, or in show cases made in this city and arranged with Wichita Falls glass. The crew's bedding would include a Wichita Falls mattress, while the brooms, gasoline, gas heaters, pottery, cotton seed products, flour and other articles from Wichita Falls factories would be displayed with the wheat, corn, oats, cotton, forage crops, peanuts, melons, broomcorn, vegetables, fruit and poultry that Wichita county farms produce. It would make a display that few communities of counties could collect and it would certainly spread the fame of this city and county.

The announcement that Russian troops are passing through Roumania is a logical but extremely interesting consequence of the declaration of war by the Bucharest government. In fact, Roumania was desired as an ally not so much on account of the actual assistance that her forces might give, though that may prove considerable, as on account of the passage she afforded the Russians in sending troops to the Balkans. Bulgaria now finds herself in a precarious position. She more than has her hands full on the Saloniki front, where forces of British, French, Russian and Serbian troops are advancing to the attack, and where there is promise of Greek forces being soon added, and even with the assistance of the Germans and Austrians, it is doubtful if she can muster a sufficient force to render formidable opposition to the Russian forces now pouring down upon her northern border. War observers have written frequently that the mighty offensives on the Somme, in the Trentino and along the Russian battle-line would become mere side shows when the Balkan offensive was launched and there is every reason to believe that it will have tremendous effect upon the war as a whole.

September is here, and it has rained. The Fall Style Show, set for September 15, is less than three weeks distant now and it is time to begin active preparation for it. While it would be useless for The Times to attempt to explain the benefits of the Style Show to the merchants who haven't already discovered them, it may not be amiss to point out that every class of merchandise is included in the show and that every merchant, no matter what he sells, will profit by taking part in it. BROTHERHOOD MAN RETURNS

J. Y. PRINCE IS HOME FROM TRIP TO NEW YORK AND WASHINGTON WITH COMMITTEE.

TALKS OF STRIKE

Says That Men Are Ready to Quit Monday Unless Code Message Is Received.

Unless the chairman of the four railroad brotherhoods receive a code message declaring that a satisfactory settlement has been reached, they will strike Monday morning, without further instructions or correspondence, according to J. Y. Prince of this city, general district chairman for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. Mr. Prince returned yesterday from New York and Washington, where he was one of the committee of 640 chairmen which conducted the negotiations, first with the railroad committee in New York, and later with the president at Washington. Every district chairman will wait for the secret code message stating that a settlement has been reached, before discontinuing preparations for the strike. Mr. Prince, as district chairman, will direct the movements of the locomotive firemen in his district, communicating with them through the chairmen of the brotherhood locals. A conference of several of these chairmen from points along the Denver was held Thursday after Mr. Prince's return from the east, various matters being discussed. A statement of the attitude of the men will probably be given out by Mr. Prince shortly. Mr. Prince said that, contrary to the impression which prevails in some quarters, the men will not only not molest railroad property in any way, but they will remain entirely away from the railroad yards and any men who disobey instructions of this sort will be liable to expulsion.

ELECTIONS FOR MEXICO SUNDAY

Marks First Step in Return to Civil Government in That Country

Juarez, Mexico, Throughout all Mexico, except in the capital where civil disturbances have caused a short postponement, municipal elections will be held on Sunday, September 3, a fact of no ordinary importance for it marks the first step in a return to civil control and an advance toward democratic government in the country. Municipal elections, in the Mexican sense, are not city elections, as the "municipio" is a district of a state analogous to the American county. The large cities are, however, separate municipalities. But neither they nor the country districts have ever in Mexican history enjoyed home rule. Power for various districts to manage their local affairs was granted by reform law of December 1914. But First Chief Calles has only now decided that the republic is sufficiently pacified to permit the experiment.

A WOMAN DRIVER MAKES FAST TIME

Crosses Continent in Eleven Days, Five Hours and Forty-Five Minutes.

New York, Sept. 1.—A new transcontinental touring record was established when Miss Amanda Preuss of Sacramento, Cal., succeeded in driving an Oldsmobile roadster from San Francisco to New York in 11 days, 5 hours, and 45 minutes, the best previous woman's performance being that of Anita Bengtson, moving picture actress, who drove from New York to San Francisco in 11 days, 3 hours and 30 minutes. Miss Preuss beat Baker's best previous performance of 11 days, 7 hours, and 15 minutes. In a Stutz roadster, by one and a half hours. Learning of this, Baker immediately sent a telegram of congratulations, commenting on her wonderful work. To make her record, Miss Preuss at times achieved almost the physically impossible, driving, on one occasion, 29 hours and 20 minutes without sleep between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Council Bluffs, Ia., a distance of 550 miles, dosing a couple of hours, and then proceeding 185 miles further to Amesla, where she spent the night. The next morning she arose at daybreak and drove straight through until the following morning, 23 hours and 45 minutes, to South Bend, 480 miles, with a couple of hours sleep in a garage at Dixon, Ill.

ASK IF OFFICIALS OF STATE CAN GO ARMED

Austin, Texas, Sept. 1.—Three or four heads of state departments have asked the attorney general for an opinion as to whether inspectors of these departments or their agents can go armed in the official discharge of their duties. These inquiries follow the shooting of insurance and banking Commissioner Patterson at Teague. The attorney general has not given his reply as yet.

Receipts grow at postoffice. Increase for August over corresponding month last year about 34 per cent. The monthly receipts of the Wichita Falls postoffice which have been steadily on the upgrade for the past year reached $5,455.48 during the month of August. The receipts for the corresponding period in 1915 amounted to $4,061.88, making the gain for the present year $1,393.60 or about 34 per cent. No more reliable evidence of the steady and healthy growth of the city can be found than the increase in the postal receipts which have shown an average gain of 25 per cent for the first six months of the present year.

terstate carriers from presidents down, as well as rate increases. It said he saw no reason why the commission should not consider the added burden put on the carriers by the eight hour day bill in considering requests for increased freight rates. Efforts still were being made to induce the brotherhoods to call off the strike order, but they were standing firm not to do so, unless the eight hour bill becomes a law before Saturday midnight. They felt something might arise to deter the measure and that they must guard against it by having the strike order stand.

Brotherhood leaders declared after a conference with Senator Newlands and others at the capital that the eight hour bill was certain of passage. Democratic Leader Kitchin called on the Adamson bill soon after the House met. "I ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration," said he. "I object," said Republican Leader Representative Harrison, "I object," then offered the special rule and there was discussion on that. Mr. Harrison said Congress is the interest of the American people ought to pass this bill by Saturday night and avert the strike.

Representative Bennett, republican, denounced the proposed legislation. "There's worse things than strikes," said Bennett, "and one of those things is the destruction of the American system of government. I don't propose to cast my vote with a pistol at my head."

Monthly Income About Balances Expense of Police System of Wichita Falls

Monthly reports extending over a term of several months show that the police department of the city is practically self-sustaining, that is the time collected during each month practically pay the running expenses for the month. Sometimes it runs a few dollars more or less, but it maintains exact parity about the same level. Since the early part of the year the monthly collections have been mostly between $450 and $500. Last month was an exceedingly dull month, only $214 being assessed in fines. Of this $137 was collected in cash. The rest is accounted for by suspensions, releases, jail terms and work on the street and other similar ways.

LOCAL BANKER IS INJURED BY CAR

Wiley Robertson Was Struck By Automobile While Fixing Car in Colorado

Wiley Robertson, assistant cashier of the City National Bank, sustained painful injuries in an accident in Colorado Wednesday, when he was struck by an automobile. Mr. Robertson was rendered unconscious and sustained an injury to his left leg. Mr. Robertson and his family, who had been in Colorado Springs, left that place early in the week in their car for home. At a point about 19 miles from Colorado Springs, a tire was punctured and when Mr. Robertson got out of his car to fix it, another car, said to be from Dallas, struck him. Mr. Robertson was knocked unconscious and was painfully bruised. He attempted after a time to resume the trip in his car, but after reaching the Texas Panhandle, decided to come down by train arriving this afternoon. His injuries are not expected to result seriously, but will probably cause him inconvenience for some time.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS FALSE ALARM

The fire department was called to Fourth and Travis about 5:30 yesterday afternoon on a false alarm. The rear tires on the large engine which were getting pretty old were started up so by the mud chains that a new set will have to be ordered costing about $200. With the exception of one fire this will be the first sleep-out expense for the big machine since it was delivered nearly twenty-three months ago.

FREIGHT EMBARGO BEING ENLARGED

Katy and Northwestern Make Further Plans For Strike If It is Called

The Katy and Northwestern have enlarged their embargo on freight during the pendency of the strike to include merchandise received after 9 o'clock tonight and all classes of freight after 8 o'clock tomorrow night to any destination. This order was issued by J. W. Butz, superintendent. The first embargo which was declared two days ago, applied only to live stock and perishables which would not be able to reach their destinations before Saturday night. Household goods and food stuffs are included in the list of goods that can not be accepted after 9 o'clock tonight.

So far the Denver has not received any additional instructions to the original declaration of embargo, which applied to perishable freight, but as they have announced that they will not operate any freight trains in the event of a strike, it is supposed that they, too, will refuse all kinds of freight shipments.

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Sept. 1.—Likelihood that the railway strike would be called off had effect today on wheat. Active buying in which some of the largest houses took a leading part, sent prices rapidly upward, almost as soon as trading began. Later a decided reaction took place, owing largely to fear that some hitch in congress would prevent the settlement of the strike. The close was unsettled 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 net lower with September at 1.40 3/4 and December at 1.42 3/4 to 1.44.

New York Cotton.
New York, Sept. 1.—A renewal of yesterday's buying movement was encouraged by a sensational advance in Liverpool today and the cotton market opened at an advance of 6 to 21 points with all positions making new high records. PLEA OF GUILTY AND ACQUITTAL
Counterfeiting Cases Are Held Before Commissioner May at Dallas.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 1.—In a preliminary trial on charges of counterfeiting before United States Commissioner A. W. May, David McCall pleaded guilty. Harry Meyer was acquitted and Thomas W. Winn was bound over for trial in federal court in January.

McCall and Winn each were required to give bond for $2,500. McCall will be carried to Amarillo in about a month for the assessment of penalty.

"I'm guilty," McCall said, as he tried to hold back the tears. "It was my first experience in this sort of thing. I was what a mistake I've made and want to act the man now and get through with it as soon as possible."

Winn pleaded "not guilty."

Officers Horn and Strait arrested the men several days ago in a rooming house on Elm street and found in the men's room, so they testified today, a band plaster, in which were found patches of paris mounds made in shoe polish boxes for the moulding of counterfeit half dollars.

In the bag also were found a number of the coins, together with sack of plaster of paris, a small brush, hammer, glass, a small frying pan and several other things, indicating that the coins had been made there in the room where the men were found.

Meyer was found at the rooming house with Winn and McCall, but did not come to the trial. He was released this morning he almost shouted with joy.

The landlady who conducted the rooming house where the men were found, testified she always cleaned and gave no evidence that anything was going wrong. When the trial was over she turned to the two men who were to be sent to jail and told them she was sorry for them.

The officers were called to arrest one of the men when he tried to pass one of the counterfeit half dollars on a jitney driver. It was after the second attempt to pass the coin, however, that Officer Horn was called. Another jitney driver also testified against the man.

FURTHER REPORT OF GOOD RAINS

Generous Downpour Amounting to a Half Inch Locally is General.

A generous soaking downpour, amounting to an inch and a half locally, and maintaining that average over the Texas and Southwest Oklahoma, has fallen within the last 24 hours, bringing needed relief to cotton, putting new life in forage crops, filling stock tanks and replenishing the water supply in the oil fields.

In some parts of Wichita county, where the rain of early last week did not extend, this was the first rain of consequence in nearly two months and while cotton had already suffered severely, the precipitation was in time to benefit it very materially.

The rain extended from the Panhandle to Fort Worth on the Fort Worth & Denver, from Byers to Abilene and from Stamford to Spur on the Wichita Valley, from Newcastle to Fort on the Wichita Falls route and east to Whitesboro on the Katy. At some points it was somewhat heavier than in this city, and at other points less heavy, but everywhere it was sufficient to be of material benefit.

While the benefit to cotton in this section will be considerable as a result of the rain, the greatest good result will be from the replenishing of the tanks, as in some instances it had become necessary for stockmen to drive five or six miles to water. In the oil fields where lack of water had begun to hamper operations, the rain filled tanks and materially improved the situation.

The rain caused very muddy conditions on the country roads, which had become deep in dust as a result of the long dry spell, and numbers of automobile touring parties were tied up here today, awaiting a few hours of sunshine needed to make the roads passable.

Last night there was a very brisk wind and an electrical display, but no damage resulted locally.

Several Wichitans who were at Iowa Park when the rain started yesterday, had to abandon their automobiles and come in on a freight train last night.

JOHN P. ST. JOON DIES IN KANSAS

Noted Temperance Advocate Passes Away at Age of 83 After An Active Life.

By Associated Press.
Olathe, Kansas, Sept. 1.—John P. St. Joon, one of the foremost figures in the ranks of prohibitionists of the nation died here last night, aged 83.

John Pierre St. Joon was one of the most widely known temperance advocates in the United States. He was a candidate for president on the Prohibition ticket in 1884, and served two terms as governor of Kansas—1879-1882—during which Kansas became a prohibition state.

Describing the fight for prohibition in Kansas, Governor St. Joon once said:

"The brewers have only themselves to blame for prohibition in Kansas. The first step toward a state-wide movement was at their suggestion. Mr. Pery, a minister, introduced in the House a bill to license and regulate the sale of beer. It stood a good chance of passage. To defeat it, the brewery agents suggested the people be given an opportunity to vote on state-wide prohibition. Of course it was not the purpose of the brewers to submit prohibition at all. But the coup to kill the high license bill killed the saloon in Kansas."

"The prohibitory amendment was submitted to the Senate and passed. The House was to kill it. The brewers had it all figured out. Enough members favored high license, but not prohibition, they believed, to defeat any attempt to submit the proposition to the people. The brewers guessed wrong about public sentiment."

"Every influence was brought to bear on House members by the brewers. I was governor, but I couldn't keep out of the fight. Violating all precedent, I left the governor's office to help fight the battle on the house floor."

"The day for the vote came. The galleries were packed. The politicians tried hard to avoid a vote by hiding. The sergeant-at-arms was busy rounding them up and bringing them into the chamber. Finally the voting was begun. The silence was intense. We needed only a vote to get the necessary two-thirds to carry the proposition through. We did not know how to get it. All at once Mrs. Greaver (the wife of one of the members) started from the aisle to her husband's desk. She stopped before him, and setting his hand in hers, pleaded with him.

"For my sake, for the sake of your children," she cried, "change your vote. Do it for my sake, for my sake, no matter what you believe."

"Greaver changed his vote, while the building shook with cheers."

Born at Brooksville, Ind., February 26, 1833, St. Joon served as a captain and lieutenant-colonel in the Civil War, and settled in Kansas, where he became a member of the state senate. He became a solid factor when he won a fight to displace United States Senator Samuel E. Pomeroy. Pomeroy and St. Joon had been personal friends, but the latter became displeased with the way Pomeroy conducted himself as a Senator, and thereupon championed John J. Ingalls, Pomeroy's opponent, who won. This made St. Joon a leader and resulted in his election as governor.

He was called a "traitor" when he deserted the republican party and became a candidate for president on the prohibition ticket in '84. During his campaign he was burned or hung in effigy more than 500 times. He was twice shot at, but unharmed. Many republicans attributed the defeat of James G. Blaine for president to St. Joon's endorsement of the ticket.

In 1912, notwithstanding his advanced age, he stump Kansas for woman suffrage, declaring that when women had the vote they would have prohibition. In 1914 he campaigned in the east for prohibition, estimating that up to that time he had, altogether, traveled 350,000 miles, and delivered 1,500 lectures in behalf of the prohibition cause.

When he was in the Kansas capitol he inaugurated the first "water banquets," with the result that liquor has been under tabs in the Kansas state house ever since.

OFFICERS MAKE SEVERAL ADDITIONAL ARRESTS

Several additional arrests have been made of persons against whom indictments were returned by the grand jury this week. DeAnna Finley, charged with assault to murder, Bertina Weber, charged with false swearing, Floyd Miller, charged with seduction and Herman Bullen, charged with theft, are the additional defendants now in custody.

In view of the fact that only a few weeks remain of the June term of the 30th district court, it is expected that most of the cases resulting from the recent indictments will be transferred to the 78th district court.

This is the last picture Chaplin made for Essanay, has been run here only one day and on account of the public having been lunched so often they seemed to hardly know what to expect, consequently the house was very small that saw the picture, we guarantee it to be one of the best of Chaplin's and practically new. THREE DAYS RUN OF "FALL OF A NATION"

The National Drama Corporation in pursuit of a purely cinematic plan to shed the light of drama into the lives of the sightless, has found a unique way of utilizing the stage behind the screen, which is usually waste space when a photoplay holds the boards.

There is often an audience behind the screen of which the spectators in front of the house know nothing. Moreover, it is literally an audience because its members cannot see and must rely entirely upon their sense of hearing to gain some idea of the picture which portrays "The Fall of a Nation."

There is conveyed mainly through the descriptive music which Viktor Herbert composed especially to suit the action, scenes by scenes and characterized the principals of the play through typical themes or leit motifs. Secondly, this musical impression is reinforced through verbal description by a young woman who was one of the principals in the photoplay.

This there is the unique spectacle of the photographic likeness of Flora MacDonald in the character of Angela Benda, enacting some of the most thrilling and pathetic scenes of the picture play, including the battle in which her screen spouse is killed and the subsequent war in which she leads an army of Amazons to avenge his death and win freedom; while behind the screen, Miss MacDonald, in dress and manner more like a teacher than an actress, explains the action of the photodrama to an interested audience of blind people from various institutions.

Miss MacDonald does not have to see the picture as she describes it, because she knows both it and the score by heart; and with every change of theme in the orchestra she can tell exactly what scene is on the screen. Her talks are entirely informal, but Mr. Dixon has asked her to write out a lecture to be used the same way in other cities where the picture is shown. "The Fall of a Nation" comes to the Wichita Theatre September 14, 15 and 16.

AT THE THEATRES

The Gem.
The film serial, "The Secret of the Submarine" heads today's program at the Gem. Also showing is a two part Rex society drama, "Francisco's Pal." So realistic as to surprise rarely seen, even on the screen, as it is displayed in this picture. For the sake of the girl he loves, Jack loses friends, fortune and his life. Only his dog remains true to him in his misfortune. One of the features of this picture is "Nick" the one who finally succeeds in bringing Helen and Jack together after their misunderstanding. The part of Nick is played by Nick himself. Nick is the dog.

The Empress.
Mme. Petrova, the foremost emotional star of the stage or screen, will be seen here at the Empress today in "The Eternal Question" a five part Metro wonderplay produced by the Popular Plays and Players. This is, without a doubt, the strongest feature in which the great Petrova has ever appeared, and it is one to miss one of the sensations of the year. The production abounds with big scenes, including a realistic chapter made at sea when the hero goes in chase in an aeroplane and overtakes a steamship going under full steam. The heroine, played by Mme. Petrova, has been abducted and taken aboard the vessel and rescued in one of the most thrilling affairs ever shown in motion pictures. In "The Eternal Question" Mme. Petrova is surrounded by an unusually strong cast which includes Arthur Hoops, Mablon Hamilton, Edward Martindale, Warren Oland, Henry Leone, Howard Messinger and Evelyn Dumco. The story is an original one written by Aaron Hoffman, was directed by Burton King and the production was supervised by Harry Revier, a master of intricate plots and novelties in motion pictures.

WARREN KERRIGAN AT THE MAJESTIC SATURDAY

Warren Kerrigan is the star of the picture "A Son of the Immortals" a Bluebird feature to show at the Majestic Saturday, at the opening of that theatre with its new management. A review of the picture follows:

Mr. Kerrigan's Prince Alexis is a paragon of all the many virtues, and by way of contrast his father, the deposed ruler Kosnovia, is made the incarnation of a spineless cop. Then there is Lois Wilson, looking altogether sweet and fetching as a young girl studying art in Paris and flirting with the gay prince, who soon—poor man—is doomed to wear the crown of a stormy little kingdom. But the picture is an unscrupulous and unscrupulous prime minister, his woman accomplice, all the disrupting forces combined are not enough to check the overwhelming love of the prince and the American girl. As a model hero should he insists that she shall be his queen, and when he is asked to choose between the throne and the woman, he decides without a moment's hesitation.

Then to make even more certain of his popularity, a secret that has been kept through four reels is disclosed. Alexis is just a plain American, and proud of it after his experience with European royalty. Whether the settings were made to fit the story, or the story to fit the settings is an extra feature. All events there are entirely adequate and not a few of the street scenes, showing the populace in a festive spirit, or in revolt, are elaborate. Less than picture lack excitement, a bridge is blown up in an attempt by the conspirators to take the life of the prince; also there is a spirited attack on the palace occupied by the soldiers. Her tram Grassby gives a clever portrayal of the foppish Prince Michael.

SEATS SELLING FAST FOR "NEVER DO WELL"

The "Never Do Well" is catching on in great shape and seats are selling rapidly. This picture comes here as a program in an extra feature at the Wichita theatre with the direct understanding that it is the greatest film play in years and that every moment of the presentation is filled with tense interest. It is a story of love, adventure, romance, and the many scenes are filmed in Panama. Patrons who desire seats can either call or telegraph to the theatre. Seats for 1863 and tickets will be held until the day of performance.

Mitchell, accompanied by his brother-manager, Billy, and Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee sport writer and promoter, will arrive at the Springs on Saturday. OFFICERS PRAISE MEXICAN GUARDS

Loyalty of Spanish-American Legion is Subject of Favorable Comment

By Associated Press.

Columbus, N. M., Sept. 1.—Military men write of themselves as enthusiastic over the spirit and loyalty of the Spanish-American legion that is helping the American army guard its Mexican boundaries.

One third of the men of the First New Mexico Infantry, on station here, as incorporated into the United States service, are of Mexican origin and some of them are of Mexican birth. Three companies of the regiment, A, E, and L, are composed entirely of Latin-Americans. The men, mechanics, clerks, vaqueros and farmers; a few also being college graduates in civil life. They speak, read and write the English language, but Spanish being their mother tongue, they usually speak it when among themselves. It is not unusual to hear voices engaged in a spirited argument in Spanish arising from the tents of the New Mexico regiment. James Baca of E Company, Santa Fe, himself a Spanish-American says: "There are sixty-eight Spanish-Americans in my company. Give me sixty-eight plugs of chewing tobacco and sixty-eight canteens of water; leave out the grub and, together, I'll march one hundred miles without a whimper."

Practically every company in the First New Mexico contains a few men of Mexican descent, at least several of the members of the regiment speak the Spanish language, it being pointed out that in the state there are more Spanish-speaking English men spoken except before strangers. Yet the enlisted men coming from these districts are just as proud of their American citizenship as are the members of the Second Massachusetts Infantry, encamped at their side.

Col. E. C. Abbott, commanding the New Mexico, is especially enthusiastic in praise of his Spanish-American men.

"When President Wilson called the state troops to the border, our regiment was the first to go on its way to Columbus within twenty-four hours," he said. "And, in my opinion, the most pleasing factor in the mobilization was the way our Spanish-American members responded. It had been said that in the event of any impending trouble with Mexico our Spanish-Americans would show the way forward. The reverse was true. They were among the first to fall into the ranks and shoulder rifles."

Morrison Declares Had Right to Spend Money As He Pleas'd

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Edward W. Morrison, reclusive millionaire, who goes into Federal Judge Landis' court ready to resume the witness stand in proceedings to throw his estate into bankruptcy, said that he made most of his fortune and had a right to spend it as he pleased.

Morrison explained his version of the adoption of Margaret and Alice Burnstein, whose father, Joseph Burnstein, declared the widow actually the daughter of Morrison himself.

"I was a lifelong friend of the girls' mother," he said. "She came to me last spring and said she was going to be operated on and feared she would die. She asked me for the sake of friendship to watch out for her daughters. She died and I adopted them. They seem like grandchildren to me."

Attorney James R. Ward, to whom Morrison transferred more than $1,000,000 worth of his property, will be auctioned by Judge Landlie on November 13th. Mitchell, accompanied by his brother-manager, Billy, and Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee sport writer and promoter, will arrive at the Springs on Saturday. Andrews is acting for Tortorich and sends word he will come armed with a forfeit to post on behalf of Tortorich and Andrews also. Mitchell will be ready to post his forfeit. This all of course providing "the winner" is able to take on the match. The date of the match is acceptable to him, that he will take Mitchell for an opponent and its up to the Tortorich-Andrews team to make a suitable offer. He says he won't be unreasonable.

WINNER HAS OFFER FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

Colorado Springs, Sept. 1.—The winner of Fredie Welsh-Chelle White's world's lightweight championship fight to be held next Monday afternoon Labor Day, before the Hundred Million Dollar Club, of Colorado Springs, has been offered an offer for another championship match. Donnie Tortorich, the famous promoter of New Orleans, wants the victor to meet Ritchie Mitchell, of Milwaukee, on November 13th. Mitchell, accompanied by his brother-manager, Billy, and Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee sport writer and promoter, will arrive at the Springs on Saturday. Andrews is acting for Tortorich and sends word he will come armed with a forfeit to post on behalf of Tortorich and Andrews also. Mitchell will be ready to post his forfeit. DALLAS INTERURBAN IS OPENED

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 1.—Formal opening of Dallas' new interurban terminal station, the largest of its kind in the United States was scheduled for today, when the entire building, with all conveniences, was to be thrown open to the public for inspection and general use. The building was recently completed at a cost of $1,500,000. First cars on all interurban lines out of Dallas to be operated from this station was another feature of the opening.

The building is eight stories in height, the main part of approximately half a block. The remainder of the block on which the building stands is used for trackage, on which is located waiting and baggage rooms, ticket offices and trainmen quarters. Almost the entire building is used for office purposes.

There are trackage facilities under cover to handle twenty-four cars at one time. These tracks will be used by trains of the North Texas Traction company, the Texas Traction company and the Southern Traction company.

The building, which is owned by the Dallas Interurban Terminal Association, is regarded as an example of record breaking, reinforced concrete construction. Excavation was commenced on December 11, 1915, and the building was finished completely today, four months ahead of contract specifications.

VERNON PLANS A GREAT FAIR

President of Association Talks Plans for the Forthcoming Celebration

Vernon, Tex., Sept. 1.—President Hawkins of the fair association has the following to say with reference to the fair to be held in this city September 27 to 30 inclusive:

"We are spending and going to spend thousands of dollars in purses, premiums, etc., to make it entertaining for the people. We have contracted for a daily airship flight, mind you airship, not a balloon ascension; biggest display of fire works night; that has ever been witnessed in this part of the country, managed by an expert that will be sent here; all kinds of races by the best horses, a big tractor demonstration on the inside of the race track; big automobile exhibits showing the new 1917 models.

"We are in correspondence with, and expect to close a contract this week with a band of 250 Comanche Indians to camp at the fair grounds. They will give big war dances, run races, etc.

"We have also arranged relay races to be run by the four big ranches in our county. The cowboys are now training their horses for this event. We will also have one of the biggest carnival companies in the south to pitch their tents within the fair grounds to help furnish entertainment for the big crowds. There will be from two to five bands on the grounds all the time and we have secured the annual log rolling of the Modern Woodmen to be held during the fair.

"The wholesale merchants of Dallas will be here for one day one hundred strong, with their own band, to meet the retail dealers within a distance of fifty miles of Vernon. Fort Worth and Wichita Falls are also going to send up big delegations on that date. We have contracted with a big tent manufacturing concern to furnish tents for our exhibit halls, speaking, etc. All we want is cooperation from the citizenship of Wichita Falls. We are going to have the biggest and best display of farm products and livestock ever shown in this section."

TESTAMENTS FOR SOLDIER BOYS

Campaign Launched at Dallas to Provide Supply for Men on Border.

Dallas, Sept. 1.—A khaki testament in whatever quantities needed to secure in whatever quantities needed a well-printed, light-weight testament, attractively and durably bound in khaki at 25c each, or for less than manufacturing cost. This book was designed especially to withstand the hard usages of camp life. Mr. Morgan in announcing the campaign said:

Already the American Bible Society has had three men at work on the Mexican border seeking to supply the American soldiers with Scriptures. The scarcity of Bibles among them is surprising. From all we can learn, at least one-half the men have no part of the Bible in their equipment. The soldiers have been quick to recognize however, that it is an important book they have left behind. They have received eagerly what books our co-workers could supply. Up to date we have furnished about 10,000 men. Fifty hundred more testaments, at the very lowest estimate, will be needed. Very few soldiers are in a position to pay for them, nor does it seem right that the American Bible Society should furnish more testaments, at the very lowest estimate, will be needed. Very few soldiers are in a position to pay for them, nor does it seem right that the American Bible Society should furnish more testaments, at the very lowest estimate, will be needed.

TOURS THROUGH COLORADO LAND

Motorist Finds Texas Roads Good Except Stretch Through This Section

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 1.—From June 22 to August 25 was the extent of the tour taken through Colorado by R. L. Liddy, sales manager Southern Sales Book and System Company, who returned to Dallas on the latter date. With his party Mr. Liddy traveled 15,000 miles, or about 3,000 miles in Colorado, the itinerary taking him to the Wyoming state line in Colorado. Mr. Liddy made the entire trip in his original starting number, 1000, in the city of Denver he built a number of stone shelter-houses for the accommodation of motorists—throughout the entire state, in fact, the traveler is glad to feel that he is at home and entirely welcome. The roads of the state are perfect, most of them having been built by convict labor.

NOTED RAILROAD PROMOTOR HERE

Austin, Visitor Also a Musician of Some Note and Entertains Friends

Thomas Moore of Austin, railroad builder and other things, has been in Wichita Falls recently, visiting Prof. Lee Clark, an old friend of his. Mr. Moore is one of the veterans among railroad builders, but railroad building is not his sole diversion, he being a singer of unusual ability. When he first went to Austin folks who attended church services were surprised to hear splendid tenor notes coming from the throat of a white-haired old gentleman who might have been supposed to have lost his voice years before. For Colonel Moore is an old man. Just how old, he says, nobody knows but despite his advanced age his voice is as young as ever. He can sing over 500 songs without written words or music, and his favorite pastime is to gather about him a number of children and sing to his heart's content. Frequently when he has visited towns in his work, he has sung for the school children, and he is a great favorite with the little ones.

Pictures Valued at $400,000 Are Sent From London to South Africa.

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. London.—Word has been received from the arrival of three vessels laden with $400,000 worth of pictures secretly sent out from London, and that are to constitute a national art gallery for South Africa. The pictures represent a collection purchased in 1913 by Max Michaelis, the Rand magistrate, who was seeking a means of recording his affection for the country of his birth. The gift has been delayed in England, first in order that a gallery might be prepared to receive them and then by the outbreak of the war. The paintings have now been transported to Capetown by a generous shipowner at his own expense. It was after the late Sir Hugh Lane, a victim of the Lusitania, took out to Johannesburg a collection of modern paintings that the leading men of the South African population expressed their desire to have a gallery of their own. Following this Sir Hugh made the collection that has now been received in South Africa and Mr. Michaelis purchased it promptly.

PRESIDENT HAS GAINED VOTERS BY STRIKE STAND

Washington, Sept. 1.—That President Wilson has strengthened himself politically by the stand he has taken in the railroad strike situation is the belief of lenders here. These lenders are now trying to figure if the friendship of the labor element will be more potential than the opposition of the railroad magistrates a large interest. Most of them believe that it will. Some lenders point out that the president in deciding with the men, gained the friendship of a large class of people who have favored the eight hour day and are members of the other political parties. Others point out the vast power held by the railroads. Interest which they believe will be arrayed against the president in November.

NEW FISCAL YEAR OF STATE BEGINS

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 1.—With approximately $4,000,000 in cash in the state treasury, $3,000,000 of which is to the credit of the general revenue fund, and $1,000,000 to the credit of the available school fund, the new fiscal year of the state comptroller's department opened today.

This is the first time in a number of years that there has been such a healthy balance at the beginning of the fiscal year, and there are slight chances of a deficit. The money on hand will be ample to meet the state's obligations until the tax collections begin to pour into the state treasury. Collections commence in December and heavy remittances are made in that month, January, February and March.

There also became available today appropriations amounting to about $7,000,000 for the support of the state government for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1917.

The Greatest Endorsement Ever Given Any Musical Instrument

The mere fact that the world's greatest artists—universally acknowledged the greatest, and commanding the highest salaries—make records exclusively for the Victrola is the most conclusive endorsement of the Victor supremacy.

These famous artists know that the Victrola carries to the uttermost corners of the world their voices and art true to the very life, with all the beauty of shading and individuality of expression which characterize their every rendition.

They know that the Victrola is the only instrument that brings out their voice and art with absolute fidelity—that brings out of the Victor record every part of every selection just as sweet and just as natural as when they sing or play on the operatic or concert stage.

The proof is in the hearing. We will gladly play for you any Victor record and demonstrate any style of Victrola.

And remember—YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD FOR A VICTROLA. NO MATTER WHERE YOU LIVE OR WHAT KIND OR STYLE OF INSTRUMENT YOU WISH, WE WILL GLADLY SELL IT TO YOU ON A SMALL CASH PAYMENT AND THE BALANCE TO SUIT YOUR CONVENIENCE.

RUMORED KING - QUILTS THRONE

Greek Government Has Been Thrown Into Chaos By Recent Reports

London, Sept. 1.—The Greek government has been thrown into chaos by the resignation of Premier Zaimis while rumors are in circulation that King Constantine has fled, says an Athens dispatch.

Zaimis, who became head of the Greek cabinet on June 23, resigned because of Roumania's entrance into the war, the dispatch said. He informed King Constantine two weeks ago that he would not attempt to direct the affairs of the government if the Balkan situation was made more complicated by a declaration of war from Roumania. Reports that King Constantine has fled his capital and taken refuge with a German escort of Uhlans at Larissa 150 miles north of Athens have not been confirmed.

The report was first telegraphed to London by the official British press representative with the allied forces at Saloniki, who telegraphed also a report that the allies landed a strong force at Piraeus, eight miles from Athens, which was engaged by a Greek army. Several Greek princes have fallen, the dispatch said.

Earlier dispatches from Athens said that the French and British ministers had made several unsuccessful attempts to obtain an audience with King Constantine since the Roumanian declaration of war.

The fall of the Zaimis neutrality cabinet may mean the immediate elevation of former Premier Venizelos to the head of the Greek government and a declaration of war on the central powers, it is believed here.
