OVER A SCORE OF FIRMS AFFECTED

RECENT ORDER OF NEW GAS COMPANY LEAD TO FUEL PROBLEM.

MUST CHANGE FUEL

Arrangements Are Already Under Way By Some Enterprises to Meet Condition.

More than a score of industrial users of natural gas will be affected by the order of the Wichita Gas Company cutting off the supply for manufacturing purposes October 1, the last including some of the city's most important industries. Some of them are also customers of the North Texas Gas Company.

Preparations to using other fuel are now being made by the concerns affected and most of them will follow the example of the plants affected by the North Texas Company's order, and install fuel burning equipment. It is known that since it became known some weeks ago, that some local plants would have to discontinue use of gas, other cities in the southwest have been endeavoring to persuade them to move away, but it is not believed that any such action will be taken by any of the companies. One South Texas city is conducting a systematic campaign to get factories from all of the towns where natural gas will be cut off for manufacturing plants.

The Wichita Gas Company's letter of notification follows:

"Gentlemen: On account of the continually declining pressure in the field, we will be compelled to discontinue the sale of gas at special rates for power and manufacturing purposes after October 1, 1916.

"Thanking you for patronage and cooperation in the past and trusting that some new development will give us a new supply of gas we beg to remain, most respectfully yours,

(Signed) "W. C. OGDEN, Mgr."

The concerns affected are:

- Ball Bros. Jar Factory.
- Wichita Falls Window Glass Co.
- Farmers Cotton Oil Co.
- Fort Worth & Denver Roundhouse.
- Frear Furniture Co.
- Jemison Gin Co.
- Model Laundry Co.
- Peoples Ice & Cold Storage Co.

BANK CASHIER AND MAYOR TO REFUND

Returns and Gives Bond, Promising to Make Good Shortage of $125,000.

Longview, Texas, Sept. 5.—Two Longview bankers who disappeared suddenly some time ago when the state bank examiner arrived to take charge of the People's State Bank, have returned of their own accord and undertaken the task of making good losses running into hundreds of thousands which were caused by their speculation on the cotton market.

They gave bond to answer to the November grand jury to any charge that may be placed against them. One of the men, G. A. Bodenheim, a heavy stockholder in the People's Bank, was mayor of the town for 18 years, and was one of the most respected business men. The other man is G. N. Campbell, 23 years old, the cashier.

During the absence of 10 days while the bank's affairs were being looked into by the state bank examiner these two men visited St. Louis, Chicago and Milwaukee. It has been learned that the cashier kept them constantly advised of the situation and after the excitement had cooled down advised them to return, and face the wreck of the institution and do their best to restore it.

Overdrafts Not Paid.

According to the information given out by the state bank examiner, Bodenheim was a heavy speculator in cotton futures. The cashier permitted the payment of overdrafts to cover his losses until the bank was out some $125,000. When these overdrafts were cashed, the cashier's name was wiped off the cotton exchanges, loser of everything.

Unpaid drafts totaling between $200,000 and $300,000, payment of which was guaranteed by the cashier, were by Cashier Campbell, are said by the bank examiner to be in the hands of exchanges in New Orleans, New York and Boston. The bank officials deny any liability on these drafts under the Texas law making gambling debts uncollectable.

The bank was capitalized at $60,000. The law makes stockholders liable for twice the face value of their stock to meet losses. The state guaranty fund protects depositors in full, except as to county and school funds which were deposited at interest. These public funds may be reimbursed by an assessment against the stockholders.

Premises to Repay Everything.

While he was mayor of Longview, Bodenheim led in enterprises which developed the town from a muddy village to a little city of 10,000 population. He had the streets paved, water and sewerage system installed and built up a modern and effective fire prevention system. He is married and has three children.

He says friends have promised to back him and help him recover his losses. He promised to pay everything, but would not talk about his cotton speculation. Campbell, who is also married, refused to discuss the matter on the advice of his attorney.

NEW PLAN FOR HOLDING FOR TEACHERS INSTITUTE

By Associated Press.

Corpus Christi, Texas, Sept. 4.—A new plan for holding of Teachers' Institutes has been evolved by South Texas educators, county and city superintendents of seven counties joining hands for the holding of a joint institute here, commencing today. Heretofore the plan has been for each county to hold its own institute. The advantages of the new plan include the securing of expert lecturing talent at the minimum expense. The institute closes Sept. 8.

San Patricio, Aransas, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Refugio, Brooks and Nueces are the counties to be represented at the South Texas Teachers' Institute. It is required that all public school teachers in the seven counties who have either written or oral contracts for teaching during the approaching scholastic year attend. The attendance of 450 teachers was anticipated. Instructors and lecturers for the five days include State Superintendent Doughty, Dr. W. B. Hazell, president of Texas A. and M. College, Dr. H. T. Musselman of Dallas, and Prof. C. E. Evans, president of San Marcos State Normal.

SEEKS DEMOCRACY LIKE AMERICA HAS

Hungarian Nobleman Has Thrown Down Gauntlet at Possible Cost of Political Future

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.

Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 4.—Count Karolyi, a nobleman of one of the most conservative of the old families, who has thrown down the gauntlet not only to the ill-favored government leader, Count Tisa, but even to the opposition leaders, and who, at the possible cost of his political future, is a leading candidate for the Hungarian, term the democratic groups that he is drawing his lessons from America.

He was in the United States raising funds for a campaign in favor of a more extended ballot in Hungary, when the war began but he reached Budapest finally, after being interned in France, and has kept the pot boiling ever since.

Among other things, in explaining his rupture with his old political unit and his plan for democracy, he said:

"I came to appreciate the great value of democracy when I was in the United States. There I saw the way in which Hungarians who had emigrated from their fatherland and who here merely vegetated without any of the real rights of citizenship, became valuable citizens, and I saw to what position of opinion they had brought themselves. A democratic reorganization of Hungary, the basis of which is the general right to vote, is a thing necessary for Hungary. Unfortunately I discovered in one wing of the party none of the inspiration and none of the determination necessary for the creation of a general ballot. Therefore there arose between me and a part of the party vital differences in this connection."

Karolyi came into political life as the heir of his uncle, Count Alexander Karolyi, for years leader of the ultra-conservative "High Agrarians." He was elected to his uncle's former place as president of the group—and then split hopelessly with the members over the high protective duties that had shut out the Balkan states. He resigned, disassociated himself with the agrarians, joined the independents with the platform of justice, the reform of democracy, actively participated, and now has left the ultra-conservatives to form a still more radical party.

Long before the war he claims to have foreseen this possibility, and as a preventive measure against it argued that Hungary secure in France and Russia the capital she had for years been unable to get in Germany and by making the loans there place "and thus in a position of not venturing to go to war with a country indebted to them."

When the war did come he attacked Count Tisa and his party savagely, and the opposition scarcely less viciously, because they had consented to the ultimatum to Serbia without any conditions, in other words that they had not asked a ballot to support Austria-Hungary should it come to war in return for reforms that at the time were being advocated and that would get out of the debt that had not said: "We'll fight for you, but only on condition that you give us a democratic Hungary."

Indirectly at least Karolyi was the author of a coalition cabinet proposed by Tisa earlier in the war. Karolyi announced his agreement to such a cabinet only on conditions that Tisa would get out of Hungary, and that a coalition cabinet which naturally Tisa would not do, Karolyi declared he felt there could come no change in the course of affairs unless Count Tisa were eliminated, and that a coalition cabinet with him at the head would be no better than no cabinet.

He has refused to have anything to do with the coalition effected by the opposition and the government, whereby the leaders of the former are to be consulted by the latter, kept informed of all that goes on, and permitted to offer advice as to the solution of big and important problems. Karolyi walked out of the independent party of which he had been leader since the war, and has since been in the path of a coalition cabinet proposed by Tisa earlier in the war. Karolyi announced his agreement to such a cabinet only on conditions that Tisa would get out of Hungary, and that a coalition cabinet which naturally Tisa would not do, Karolyi declared he felt there could come no change in the course of affairs unless Count Tisa were eliminated, and that a coalition cabinet with him at the head would be no better than no cabinet.

RUSSIAN COUNCIL HAS 19 CHANGES

Two Retiring Bring Total to This Number Since Beginning of the War

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.

Petrograd.—The recent resignation of S. I. Sazonoff, for six years minister of foreign affairs in Russia, and the resignation of A. N. Naumoff as minister of agriculture, to be succeeded by Count Bobrinsky, makes the thirteenth change in the council of ministers since the beginning of the war, and leaves P. L. Bark, minister of finance and L. K. Gregorovich, minister of marine, the sole survivors of the original thirteen members of the cabinet who held office in August, 1914.

This record is remarkable in a country where constitutional government has never developed beyond the embryo, where ministerial responsibility, general elections, votes of confidence and other parliamentary procedures, which lead to the overthrow of entire ministries are unknown. Before the war the average tenure of office was long, out during the past two years it has been measured by months and sometimes by weeks. It is also interesting that the frequent resignations and dismissals have in the main borne no relation to party politics and that men have been replaced by others of the same party affiliations and without any conspicuous difference in political views.

In the case of each dismissal there has been a complete change in the personnel of the department and the ministry of finance is the only one which has not been upset by an almost continuous series of appointments, dismissals and reappointments.

During the period of the war, there have been two prime ministers, two foreign ministers, three war ministers and five ministers of the interior. The ephemeral character of a ministerial post, in Russia has provoked considerable comment, for the most part facetious or satirical, in the Russian press. "In the morning when they wake up," says a writer in the Ruskaya Slova, "all our ministers do the same thing. Each one exclaims 'Thank God! I am still a minister!'"

REPUBLICAN WILL SUPPORT WILSON

Local Engineer Will, For the First Time, Support a Democrat For President

C. S. Mallett of this city proposes the organization of a Republican Woodrow Wilson Club, the members of which are Republicans who will vote for Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Mallett wants the honor of being the first to vote for Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Mallett is a railroad engineer and was a Union soldier in the Civil War. He will vote for the first Democrat in his life next November when he votes for Woodrow Wilson for president. He believes that the majority of the republicans here will vote for Wilson.

Mr. Mallett is a railroad engineer. He has always admired Wilson and his admiration has been greatly increased as a result of President Wilson's efforts to settle the Great Railroad strike. "That man Wilson's got backbone. He's a real man. Any railroad man or any other laboring man who fails to support him is standing in his own light," said Mr. Mallett.

The Times will be glad to receive the names of other republicans who will vote for Wilson or who have been converted to democracy.

The House and Senate celebrated Labor Day Monday by completing the passage of a workmen's compensation law affecting nearly half a million government employes.

The photograph of Tyrus Cobb is becoming almost as familiar as that of the man with the lame back, the congressman who took so and so's pills and the woman who had been restored to new life by such-and-such a compound. Tyrus has won fame on the diamond. He is getting notoriety through the patent medicine route.

Through one of those errors which it seems inevitable in making up a newspaper an Associated Press line appeared above an item in yesterday's Times declaring Hughes campaign trip a "trout." This article had been clipped from another paper and instead of the Associated Press line it should have been headed with the name of the paper from which the item was clipped. It is not the policy of the Associated Press to send out partisan matter such as this item and the Times regrets the mistake.

There was a striking contrast between the receptions accorded President Wilson and Candidate Hughes when the former traveled to Hodgenville, Ky., and the latter to Nashville, Tenn., on Labor Day. At every station along the way even after the hour of midnight thousands gathered to cheer the president as his train passed through the towns and villages on his way to Hodgenville. At his destination a mighty throng awaited him. About a thousand persons awaited Candidate Hughes when he arrived at Nashville, where a mix-up in his speaking arrangements served to dampen what little enthusiasm there was. The people are with President Wilson because there has been warmth and health in what he has done and what he proposes to do. The people are just beginning to understand the warm humanity of the man.

The imposition by legislative enactment of an eight-hour day upon the railroads for employes engaged in the operation of trains will serve to bring the whole railway problem up for study. It is impossible that the eight-hour basis can be put into effect without causing some increase in the pay of the employes, but that it will be as great as the railroads claim, those who have had practical experience with the eight-hour day are not prepared to believe. But the railroads have claimed that while they have shortened hours, increased pay and bettered working conditions there has not been an increase in rates and that expenses as a whole have increased in greater proportion than revenues. If this is the case the railroads ought to be allowed to increase freight rates. This is a matter of simple justice. Everybody ought to be agreed upon that point. The matter of an increase in rates probably controls some other things we will mention. When tracks are in need of repair, it has too often happened that track workers of railroads have been laid off. When business is normal station crews are too often reduced and other things done that would not for a moment be considered in any other well conducted business. Such things as these have created doubts in the minds of the public and among the employes as to the competency of some of those in authority.

IMPLEMENTS

We have persistently shied from the implement part of the business for the last 10 years. The implement business has been in such condition for the last year that the trade has been forced to go elsewhere. Numbers of our farmer friends have requested us to add some line. After a careful investigation we decided on the P. & O. line. We can supply you with your Superior Drill and Repairs or any other farming tool.

Operating officials have been known to declare their helplessness to avoid such incongruities and have passed the blame onto those higher up who draw the salaries to which trainmen have pointed in recent instances as being all out of proportion to the work performed. All these things ought to be considered in any study that is made of the railroad problem. If it is shown that railroads are entitled to an increase in rates the general public is willing that they should have it. The opposition to increases will not come from the public at large but will come from the big shippers and special interests. It might be worth while to look into the activities of these big shippers and special interests in their opposition to freight rate increases.

It is difficult to interpret the activities of President Pope of the Texas Farmers' Union. Nobody wants to farmers of Texas is deliberately trying to embarrass President Wilson or believe that the head of the organization that he is the tool of President Wilson's enemies; yet that conclusion is hard to dismiss. It will be remembered shortly after Colquhoun, who was recently relegated to quietude, gave his infamous interview denouncing the administration, and the German propaganda of which this interview appeared to have been a part, that Pope announced that he would load a ship with cotton, consign it to a German port and demand that the state department at Washington insure its safe delivery, even if it required the entire American navy and involved the country in war to do it. Pope gave the fullest publicity possible to this proposal and left the impression with the farmers that they were not being fairly treated by the government. He even made a trip to Washington to which his press agent gave due publicity. Of course the ship never started, but Colquhoun seized the opportunity of the discontent engendered among the farmers to argue his candidacy on the platform of opposition to the administration. Again when President Wilson was doing his utmost to avert a threatened railway strike with some hope of success Pope came out with a letter to President Wilson to which his press agent gave the widest circulation possible which could have only the effect of muddying the water and hindering the negotiations. The Times feels certain that these activities of President Pope do not have the approval of the earnest, fair-minded men who form the majority of the Farmers' Union membership.

FIVE YEARS OF RAILROAD HISTORY.

The esteemed Philadelphia Record reminds us that in 1911 the interstate commerce commission rejected the application of the railway companies for an increase of rates. Late in the same year the engineers of 22 eastern roads, numbering about 30,000, demanded increased pay and several other concessions. Not getting them, 23 per cent of the men voted in January, 1912, for a strike. Arbitration was arranged, hearings began in July, and the award was made in November, dating back to May 1, to last one year. The increased wages allowed amounted to $2,000,000 instead of the $7,000,000 demanded. P. H. Morrissey, arbitrator for the men, refused to join in the award, because it recommended compulsory arbitration. In May, 1902, the $1,000 firemen of the same roads demanded increased wages and several other things. This was arbitrated under the Erdman act. The railroads had at first objected to proceedings under this law, and preferred a special board of seven, such as decided the engineers' demands, but made May 4, 1913. Some increase in wages was allowed, some demands were refused and some compromised. The wage increase demanded was estimated by the managers at 35 per cent. The award was variously estimated at from 6 to 12 per cent or from $2,500,000 to $4,500,000. The Newlands bill was rushed through congress in July, 1913, in order to obviate the difficulties encountered in arranging this arbitration. In 1913, 1903 conductors and 53,363 trainmen on roads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers demanded 21 per cent increase of wages and some other concessions. Seth Low and Dr. John H. Finley of New York, two railroad vice presidents and two representatives of the men took testimony for a month and made their award on November 10, dividing on the result by 4 to 2. The increase of wages allowed was 7 per cent, or about $6,000,000 a year, based upon the increased cost of living since 1910. A minimum daily and monthly pay was also granted to the men. Some of the demands were refused. The board considered this the final stage in a cycle of wage adjustments and hinted strongly that higher railroad rates would be necessary to meet these new demands and the urgent needs for new equipment and other improvements. In 1914 the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation failed to adjust matters between the engineers and firemen and 98 railroads west of Chicago. But President Wilson induced both parties to arbitrate. About 64,000 men were involved and they demanded increases of about $32,000,000 a year. They got very little of this. The advances allowed were principally to men in the switching service. In the main the arbitrators sustained the claim of the managers that they were already paying a very high standard of wages to all classes of men in the train service. The arbitrators in the case of the conductors and trainmen, in 1913, recognized that the rates of pay in the West and Southwest were higher than those in the East. This award was made in 1915. In the meanwhile, in 1914, the interstate commerce commission sanctioned the application of the companies for an increase of 5 per cent in rates as to a part of the traffic, but rejected it as to a very considerable amount of the business. In 1916, the engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen of all the railroads demanded what amounted to an increase of possibly as much as 25 per cent, and refused to arbitrate. President Wilson took a hand, with the result of an 8-hour bill being passed by the Congress, on the strength of which the strike which had been ordered was called off.—Waco Times-Herald.

At a busy session of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning, at which a large number of the members were present to give the new secretary the once-over, steps were taken to send a large delegation to the Vernon fair late this month, membership was taken in the United States Chamber of Commerce, a committee was named to take action toward helping straighten the Texas rate and appropriation made for the Dallas Fair exhibit, and an extended discussion held over who is liable for the expense of entertaining the W. O. W. encampment.

COTTON FACTORY IS CONSIDERED

STATUS OF PROPOSITION IS EXPLAINED TO DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER COMMERCE.

VERY ENCOURAGING

Several Other Matters Were Presented by the New Secretary and Were Discussed.

The meeting was the first at which the new secretary, B. F. Johnson was in charge. Mr. Johnson explained the status of a cotton mill proposition which is now being considered, but no definite action was taken in the absence of Mr. Kell who has been giving him considerable attention. Mr. Johnson stated that a proposition had been submitted for the establishment of a cotton factory here, but that the offer was not one that the organization would accept and efforts are now under way to obtain a more feasible proposition.

The proposition is for the establishment of a mill costing $200,000 to $250,000. Judge A. H. Carrigan, who is in the east recently, was instrumental in getting the proposition submitted and the outlook for it is said to be quite favorable. Much of the time of the meeting was taken up in discussing the bills for the W. O. W. encampment, the bill for about $480. The directors had been under the impression that this expense was to be borne by the traction company, but the return of the bill to the secretary of Mr. Kell of the traction company.

Congressman J. H. Stephens who holds patent rights upon a manufacturing device, has written regarding the establishment of a plant for it here. The secretary announced that this matter was not in shape for action this morning. Secretary Johnson brought up the matter of sending a big delegation to the Vernon when the Willinger fair is held, beginning September 27. A committee consisting of B. Noble, Pennington and J. A. Kemp was named to cooperate with the Automobile Club in sending. Shortly after this Mr. Kemp called upon the secretary to get a delegation to promote one for next year.

The directors, upon recommendation of Secretary Johnson voted to have the Chamber of Commerce join the United States Chamber of Commerce at an expense of $50 annually. Messrs. Huff, Kemp and others spoke of the benefits of belonging to such an organization, declaring it would be worth much to Wichita Falls. The United States Chamber of Commerce collects information for the use of member organizations, and guards legislative interests at the national capital.

A communication from the Texas Traffic League, asking cooperation in getting the rate situation adjusted, was acted upon by the appointment of a committee consisting of Messrs. Kemp, Noble and Gates to look into the matter. Secretary Johnson suggested that a permanent resolution be adopted, saying there was much for it to consider. An appropriation of ten dollars monthly for the support of the Cotton and Grain Exchange was authorized. A ten dollar appropriation to defray the expenses of the Socialist encampment held last month was voted at the request of Mr. Mankler. It being stipulated that the assistance was given for the encampment feature and not for the political gathering. The secretary was authorized to incur the expense necessary for the Dallas Fair exhibit. He stated that he had secured a set of

Market Report

Local Wheat. Another advance is recorded on the local market and wheat was quoted at $1.40 today. Chicago Grain. Chicago, Sept. 5.—Bullish estimates of the yield both in the United States and in Canada had a decided strengthening effect today on the wheat market here. Opening prices which ranged from 1.38 to 1.40 higher, with December at 1.49 1/2 to 1.51, and May at 1.51 to 1.53 1/2, were followed by a slight reaction, but then a rally to nearly the top values. Corn hardened with wheat. Wheat closed up at 4 5/8 to 6 1/4 cent advance, with December at 1.52 3/8 to 1.53 and May at 1.52 3/4 to 1.54. New York Cotton. New York, Sept. 5.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of one point on October but generally 5 to 9 points higher in response to relatively firm cables. An early advance carried 1 cent up to 16 1/2 and January to 14.30 or about 19 to 21 points net higher. Shortly after midday December was ruling around 16.08 and January 16.18 or about 12 1/2 to 15 points off from the best, and within 5 to 6 points of Friday's close. Cotton closed steady October 15.72; December 15.88; January 15.96; March 16.12; May 16.21.

Fort Worth Livestock.

Fort Worth, Sept. 5.—Cattle receipts 700, steady, steers $6 to $7. Hog receipts 1,200 steady, $2 to 15 cents; but $19.25 to $16.45. Sheep 150, steady; lambs $9 to $9.50.

SOME FEATURES OF SCHOOL LAW

Compulsory Education is Now in Effect in Texas and Will Be Enforced. The Latimore compulsory education law which was passed by the last state legislatures, was effective September 1, and with the beginning of the scholastic year all children between the ages of 8 and 14 years in Texas will be compelled to attend the public schools. The compulsory school attendance law is too long to print in full, but the most important features are given herewith: Attendance Requirements and Penalties.—Every child in this state who is 8 years and not more than 14 years old shall be required to attend the public schools in the district of its residence or to some other district to which it may be transferred as provided by law, for a period of not less than 90 days for the scholastic year beginning September 1, 1916, and for a period of not less than 80 days for the scholastic year beginning September 1, 1917, and for the scholastic year thereafter, a minimum attendance of 100 days shall be required. The period of compulsory attendance at each school shall begin at the opening of the school term unless otherwise authorized by the district school trustees and notice given by the trustees prior to the beginning of such school term; provided, that no child shall be required to attend school for a longer period than the maximum term of the public school in the district where such child resides.

Exemptions.—The following classes of children are exempt from the requirements of this act: (a) Any child in attendance upon a private or parochial school or who is being properly instructed by a private tutor. (b) Any child who is being or has been properly instructed by a private tutor. (c) Any child who is blind, deaf, or feeble-minded for the instruction of whom no adequate provision has been made by the school district. (d) Any child living more than 2 1/2 miles by direct and traveled roads from the nearest public school supported for children of the same race and color of such child, and with no free transportation provided. (e) Any child more than 12 years of age who has satisfactorily completed the work of the fourth grade of a standard elementary school of seven grades and whose services are needed in support of a parent or other person standing in parental relation to the child, may, on presentation of proper evidence to the county superintendent of public instruction be exempt from further attendance at school. The law goes on, placing a penalty of $10 for each offense or any person or corporation employing children not exempt from the law. The law provides that in counties that have a scholastic population of 3000 or more the county board of trustees shall elect a school attendance officer. It shall be the duties of the attendance officer to investigate all cases of absence from school and compel the child to obey the law. Any parent not obeying this law may be fined $5 for the first offense, $10 for the second offense and $25 for any subsequent offense. TO SEND LECTURERS TO COUNTY INSTITUTES Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The department of extension of the University of Texas will send lecturers to 66 county teachers institutes, which will be held in different parts of the state during the first two weeks of September. These lecturers will deliver educational addresses and where requested will confer with local educators concerning problems of school improvement. The department of extension co-operates with the schools throughout the state, not only by sending lecturers out the state, but also by sending lecturers on a vast amount of work throughout the state.

JAPANESE TO BUY EXCHEQUER BONDS

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Tokio.—The Japanese government has officially announced that with its gold specie reserve on deposit in American banks it will purchase British exchequer bonds to the amount of 100,000,000 yen or about $50,000,000. The term is one year and the rate of interest six per cent. It is understood here that the British government will use the gold in payment for munitions of war purchased in the United States. It is understood that the Japanese specie will be transferred to the British government by degrees as necessity arises. The advantages of this investment are said to be manifold: In the first place, by converting government specie which cannot derive interest or profit than 1 1/2 per cent interest in the United States, into the 6 per cent British exchequer notes, Japan will be able to realize a net gain of 4 1/2 per cent interest per annum. Secondly in case the Japanese government is confronted with need of specie in America the British government will purchase proportionate rate between the British specie and furnish the required amount. Thirdly, the Japanese government will lose nothing from the disparity of the exchequer notes from the Japanese currency (pounds) and the American currency (dollars) in paying the price of the British exchequer notes in American specie, which difference is to be borne by the British government according to the agreement.

GERMANS ARE COMPELLED TO YIELD GROUND

With the British armies in France, by way of London, Sept. 5.—Despite the regular determined counter attack yesterday when they advanced in waves, shoulder to shoulder in defense of their chosen strategic position, the Germans had to yield Faloemont farm this morning. The British had closed around in the darkness, and dawn found the survivors of the garrison raked with machine gun fire. In a hopeless situation plastered with mud after a night of cold and heavy rain and having gone two days without sleep, they put up the white flag.

Only Home Made Toys for Santa Next Christmas

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Though the Christmas of 1916 will see a toy shortage, it will be the first in many years when it has not been possible to pick up toys from the counters and not find the familiar "Made in Germany" stamped on the boxes. This year there will be no German toys, except a few that have been left over.

Neither will there be toys from Austria and only a few will come from Italy. Inadequate shipping facilities have made the bringing of toys from the latter country a difficult matter, and England's attitude toward shipping, even if they were manufacturing them, an impossibility. It is said that all manufacturers have had to turn in other directions.

Wife No. 2 Says She Loaned Her "Husband" $115

Los Angeles, Sept. 5. Carl Ducey is in jail here on a charge of passing bad checks and his program of getting married the first of each month and supporting himself on what he borrowed from his brides and by passing forged checks is suspended indefinitely. Wife No. 2 has lodged complaint against Ducey.

Wichita Falls' celebration of Labor Day which opened with the parade Tuesday morning, was completed in the afternoon and at night, when an immense crowd gathered at Lake Wichita, for a basket picnic.

It is charged that Ducey courted Ella Spaulding of 200 East Avenue, 56 and married her July 1, in Los Angeles.

It also is alleged that after a two-weeks' courtship Ducey married Miss Elizabeth Tate of 914 Diamond street, this city at Santa Anna, Aug. 1. His wife No. 1 is ill at home.

Ducey is held in default of $3,000 bail on a charge of issuing a bad check for $23 to Mrs. Van... of 914 Diamond street.

"Carl was such a gentleman, such a fine, moral appearing man," said wife No. 2, as she told her story in the District Attorney's office.

SCHOOL BEGINS AT BURKBURNETT

Term Starts with Satisfactory Attendance and Prospects for Good Results. Special to The Times. Burkburnett, Texas, September 5.—Burkburnett public school opened Monday with an attendance of 400. Superintendent J. B. Bird announces that he expects the attendance to be still further augmented during the week. The number of scholars in the district aggregate about 450, and several families living outside the district have transferred to Burkburnett. Considering the number of overers and unders that will attend the enrollment will likely reach 500 within a few weeks. The crowded condition of the school building has been somewhat relieved by a partition with folding doors being placed in the auditorium thereby making two additional class rooms. Ten teachers have been employed and two more are to be employed at once.

EPWORTH LEAGUE IS IN SESSION

About Thirty Delegates Are in Attendance From Towns in This Section. The Epworth Leaguers of the Wichita Falls district are in conference today at the M. E. Church, South, the convention assembling for the opening business session this morning at 9 o'clock. Merle T. Waggoner of this city is district president and is presiding. There are about 30 delegates in attendance from Iowa Park, Petrolia, Bellevue, Henrietta and Bowie.

ANOTHER BAWDY HOUSE CASE IS ON TRIAL

The county court was busy with the criminal docket today, taking up another of the bawdy house indictments returned by the grand jury at its recent session. The case was that against Edna Mays. After most of the morning was spent in getting a jury, testimony started this afternoon, the state rested after using two witnesses, and the defense rested without offering any testimony. Arraigned was...

AT THE THEATRES

The Gem.
There have been few picture plays who have retained their ability to charm and their popularity as has Mary Fuller, the pleasing Universal star. Today she is seen at the Gem in a most interesting drama, "A Spanish of Local Color." Miss Fuller makes a charming young authoress in search of local color. Bessie Lee, a writer is rooming in a cheap New York lodging house, an uncle in the country forwarding her an allowance each month. One morning with a rejected manuscript Bessie receives a sarcastic note from Thomas Harvey, editor of "Modern Life" a monthly magazine, informing her that she will never sell a story until she is able to put at least a splash of local color in her work. The same mail brings a letter from a country lawyer stating that Bessie's uncle died suddenly, leaving a heritage of debts. After several pathetic expostulations, friendless and penniless in the streets at night, Bessie, in desperation, appeals to a pedestrian, who proves to be a plain clothes detective, and he arrests her for soliciting. She is arraigned in the night court on a charge of street walking. Bessie is sent to the reformatory.

she is but eighteen years of age and has no employment, "home, money, friends or relatives." The judge sentences her to the House of the Good Shepherd. As the detective is about to lead her away a man seated in the rear of the court room, who has been an interested listener, rises, tells the judge that he is a Western ranch owner, that he likes Bessie's looks, believes her story and will carry her and give her a good home. Bessie, dazed, dithered and in a terror at the thought of the institution, agrees to marry the stranger, and so they are married and in the days that follow, the girl finds all sorts of local color to enrich her writings. How she makes a success and how the man who has made this strange bargain came to take such a step makes the finale one of intense interest.

The Empress.
"The Crucial Test" a World Film feature, with Kitty Gordon in the leading role will be the attraction at the Empress Theatre today. This marks Miss Gordon's third appearance on the World program, and is by far the greatest picture in which she has yet appeared. Her part gives her the opportunity to show that she is an accomplished actress, and the manner in which she executes her difficult roles proves her to be well versed in dramatic construction and able to perform the most almost case, grace and charm. Besides her splendid work throughout the five reels, she has occasion to wear clothes such as she is so noted for. As a whole, her work in "The Crucial Test" is an achievement of which any star may well be proud.

The Majestic.

No detail in the atmosphere of "The Alibi" to be shown at the Majestic Theatre today has been neglected. Director Paul Scardon who produced the picture for the Vitagraph Company, took care of that with the result that the completed picture is a masterpiece of capable direction. The large court room scene is correct to the minutest detail. The lawyers for the prosecution and defense are placed in the proper places—the jury performs in the proper manner and the tension on the part of the audience is evident in every scene. The interior of the house boat is also worthy of commendation. Big red baubles hang on the pegs stuck in the wall, the table is a rough wooden structure as is the cabinet and bed built against the wall. The scenes from the window is typical, too, and furthermore is not scenery, for this entire scene was taken on an old tug boat anchored in Sheephead Bay. It was only through the greatest bribing on the director's part that the ancient owner allowed the players to use his home as their studio for the few days when these scenes were filmed.

BILLIE BURKE AT WICHITA THEATRE TONIGHT

The screen's most charming artist, Miss Billie Burke, will be seen tonight at the Wichita theatre in the first chapter of the new serial "Gloria's Romance." Miss Burke is said to be unavailable in this picture and wears more than $40,000 worth of new gowns, furs and diamonds.

The story of "Gloria's Romance" is interesting and will hold the audience's attention throughout. Miss Burke with her crowning wealth of "Reddish" hair is evident throughout the picture and as in "Peggy" will more than delight.

Another picture with Billie Burke to be presented tonight is the drama of a heart's desire called "The Unattainable." This picture is filled to overflowing with emotion and intense interest. It is the story of a worldly woman who evades the snare and wiles of the metropolis and lastly basks in the sunshine of a great love. The picture will run continuous from 7:30 to 10:30.

OIL AND GAS PRODUCTION IN NORTHERN OKLAHOMA

The work of locating places where oil and gas are likely to be found by drilling is a task for painstaking and scientific geology. Although geologists can not positively determine whether oil and gas can be found in any region, they can locate the geological structures which have a great influence on the accumulation of oil and gas. For this reason most of the large oil companies now employ geologists to guide them in leasing and in locating exploratory wells.

The United States geological survey, department of the interior, has a corps of trained geologists working throughout the country to obtain information that will assist in developing our oil and gas resources. Their work, unlike that of the geologists in the employ of oil and gas companies, is done for the benefit of the country as a whole, and the landowner as well as the oil man can make use of the information they obtain.

In the summer and fall of 1915 a geologist of the survey examined the Foraker quadrangle, in northwestern Osage county, Oklahoma, and a report on this examination has now been published. The report, which was prepared by K. C. Heald, describes numerous anticline-rock arches—some large and some small, which exist in the region. The probabilities of finding oil and gas in the anticlines is discussed and recommendations are given for their systematic exploration.

Facts About Dynamite.

In spite of all that has been said and written to the contrary, many people still have the idea that dynamite is exceedingly dangerous stuff to take liberties with, and that it will explode at the least shock. This is a mistake. Nothing less than a tremendous shock will make dynamite explode, and this shock is obtained by exploding a mixture of nitric acid, mercury and alcohol, which in turn explodes the dynamite.

Mrs. Hep's Sayings.

"It's an awful shame that girls what is rattlin' good cooks an' socks darners" stormed Mrs. Jonathan Hep. "In eatin' meals in baby boardin' houses or gittin' them in their closets, while others that has husbands that comes home to meals regular is longin' for freedom to express themselves artistically in the higher life of a third floor back studio."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Taste of His Own Medicine.

A young lawyer who was rather given to browbeating, had a favorite mode of mystifying a witness by saying: "Well, sir, I shall ask you only one question, and I do not care which way you answer it." A man who was on the same circuit accused his friend one morning thus: "Well, James, I have but one question to ask you, and I do not care what way you answer it. How do you do today?"

Protection From Lightning.

A slate roof on a house helps a lot to protect it from lightning. Sheet-metal roofs, metal ornaments of size and gas or water pipes, if close to the rod, are bad. They may divert the course of the lightning bolt. In all such cases the rod system should be connected with the roof or with interior metal work, even though the latter be only a telephone wire.

Unrest in Crimson Gulch.

"Us fellers at Crimson Gulch decided," remarked Broncho Bob, "as how we're fur peace. The general sentiment was that we'd be more peaceful if we'd disarm." "But you are carrying a gun." "Yes. Everybody is waitin' fur everybody else to disarm first. I'm kind o' afraid this reluctance an' suspicion is goin' to start some hard feelin's."

Precocious Youngster.

One day Charles' father was sitting by the window reading his paper when he felt his son lean against his knee. As he lowered his paper and looked at him the little fellow said: "Say, papa, let's get out with the guys. I am tired of staying around here with mamma all the time."

Easy When Divided.

Four Conquistador men en route for the up-country harvest assembled at a certain point and were considering the length of the road they must travel in order to reach the desired place. It was estimated at 40 miles. "Come on," said one encouragingly. "What signifies 40 miles among four of us?"

There Are Buns and Buns.

A New Jersey woman is granted a divorce because her husband made her live on coffee and buns. The coffee is all right, but we would have to be informed as to the nature and variety of the "buns."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Association of Ideas.

Peggy was giving his four-year-old a "piggy bank" ride. In this position the youngster came into close proximity with the bald pate of his sire. Rubbing his tiny hand over the glossy surface, he exclaimed, "Moon, papa, moon!"

Depend on Underground Water.

The importance of underground water to residents of humid sections is shown by the fact that 75 per cent of the population in Michigan are directly dependent for water on the underground supply.

Good Workmanship.

Customer—"You know that coat I bought of you? Well, when I buttoned it the first time it split down the back." Clothing Dealer—"Indeed? It must be, then, that the buttons were sewed on too strongly."

His Charge.

Patient—"But, doctor, you are not asking five dollars for merely taking a cipher out of my eye?" Specialist—"Er—no. My charge is for removing a foreign substance from the cornea."

Philosophical Observation.

Worldly riches are like nuts. Many clothes are torn in getting them, many a tooth broken in cracking them, but never a belly filled with eating them.

Optimistic Thought.

Superiority of intellect has always been the target at which the shafts of envious and conscious mediocrity are launched.

China Great Producer of Hemp.

The production of hemp in China, the original home of the hemp plant, is greater than that of any other nation except Russia.

Woman 106 Years Old Tells How to Attain Great Age

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 5.—Here are 10 commandments which Mrs. Lucia Heald Sharpless has observed and which she believes have served to prolong her life to the age of 106 years.

- I—Thou shalt not worry.
  - II—Be calm under trial.
  - III—Husband thy health.
  - IV—Employ thy time industriously.
  - V—Eat whatever agrees with thee.
  - VI—Sleep eight hours.
  - VII—Be honorable in thy dealings.
  - VIII—Attend church regularly.
  - IX—Be temperate in thy habits.
  - X—Keep thy soul serene.
- Mrs. Sharpless of Whittier celebrated her 106th birthday anniversary last week.
- She has the distinction of being the oldest living Quaker woman and also the first woman to register in Whittier after the women of California were given suffrage. Recently she took an auto ride of 40 miles to attend a picnic.
- Usually the entire city of Whittier which is a Quaker town, turns out to honor Mrs. Sharpless on her birthday anniversary, but this year the celebration consisted only of an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Sharpless' daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Hiatt on East Philadelphia street.
- Mrs. Sharpless, with envied hair and garbed in Quaker gray, received her visitors.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP PLEA

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.
London.—The alliance for promoting international friendship through the Churches, which had its conception in the minds of some of the members of the Church Peace union, is making slow but steady progress in the work of setting up its machinery. The countries thus far included in its membership now number nine, viz., Great Britain, Italy, France, Switzerland, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and the United States.

Owing to the extremely delicate nature of the work of organization amid the jealousies and hatreds engendered between some of the Continental nations by the war, none of the officials in the work can be quoted for fear of discounting his effectiveness in passing from one belligerent country to another. It may be stated, however, that the work of the

GROWTH IN NUMBER OF CORRESPONDENCE STUDENTS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—The growth in the number of correspondence students in the University of Texas is one of the remarkable evidences of the interest felt in education by the citizens of Texas. During the three summer months, June, July and August, 763 individuals have enrolled in the various college courses offered by correspondence against 612 matriculations for the same three months in 1915—an increase of 151 students.

During the same months 55 women's clubs of Texas have registered for group study courses under the direction of University professors. These clubs represent an average membership of from 15 to 20 members. Something like 2000 people, therefore, have registered for study in the university who will not be in active attendance in the class rooms. This total will probably be nearly doubled during the remainder of the year.

Monuments of Store Erected by Guard Girls Submerged

Fort Worth, Sept. 5.—Fifteen little pyramids of stone, left slanting upon the sands and lashed by angry waves, no longer show the water as a memorial to work done by members of the Girls' National Honor Guard during their encampment at Camp Tera two weeks ago.
Each morning during the encampment a squad of pretty girls, faces tanned, noses peeling and arms blistered, gathered unto themselves a dozen rakes and journeyed to the water's edge, where for an hour they piled the instruments diligently, combing the beach for stones. The stones were neatly piled into pyramids seven inches high from the water lines and when the camp broke up the monuments stood there as testimonials. But it rained. And Lake Worth swelled in volume and the water sank into the water several feet out from the beach were covered and gradually the water encroached upon the beach and the little piles of white stones.

Legal Notices

SHERIFF'S SALE
The State of Texas, county of Wichita, by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable district court of Wichita county, on the 5th day of September, 1916 by A. F. Myers, clerk of said court against B. J. Myers and J. Myers et al, and placed in my hands, as sheriff of Wichita county, Texas, did on the 5th day of September, 1916 levy on certain real estate situated in Wichita county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: A one tenth undivided interest in and to a certain oil lease taken in the name of B. J. Myers and J. Myers and described as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of said S. A. & M. Co. R. 1. Company's survey No. 1, thence east with north line of said survey to the east line of the west one half of said survey, thence south with said east line to a point on same from where, if a line drawn westerly direction and appraised with the north line of said survey to the west line of said survey, it would include forty acres; thence west to the west line of S. A. & M. Co. R. 1. Company's survey No. 1, thence north with said west line of said survey to the place of beginning. Said tract of land containing this one oil well in compliance with a lease now on record in the deed records of Wichita county, Texas, to which reference is hereby made for a more particular description of same, and levied upon as the property of said B. J. Myers and J. H. Miller. And on Thursday the 2nd day of October, 1916 at the court house door of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., I will sell said real estate at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said B. J. Myers and J. H. Miller by virtue of said levy and said order of sale. And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks, immediately preceding the said day of sale, in the Wichita Times a newspaper published in Wichita county. Witness my hand this 5th day of September, 1916. G. A. HAWKINS, Sheriff Wichita County, Texas. By R. L. LASSITER, Deputy. 99 105 11 c

Affection.

The wild havoc affection makes in that part of the world which should be most polite is visible wherever we turn our eyes; It pushes men not only into impertinences in conversation, but also into their premeditated speeches. At the bar it torments the bench whose business it is to cut off all superfluities in that is spoken before it by the practitioner; as well as several litigious pieces of justices which arise from the law itself. I have seen it make a man run from the purpose to before a judge who was, when at the bar himself, so bold and logical a pleader that, with all the pomp of eloquence in his power, he never spoke a word too much.—Steele.

FLORAL HEIGHTS CITIZENS OBJECT

Several Floral Heights residents complained to the city authorities this morning that a slaughter pen had been established just outside the city limits not far from the old ballpark, and that as a result some unpleasant smells were in evidence in that vicinity. It was also stated that a raying near that site was being used for disposition of carcasses.
Although the pen is outside of the city limits, the city charter empowers the city authorities to deal with such cases where it is shown that it affects the welfare of residents of the city. Mayor Britain promised that the matter would receive prompt attention.

SIXTEEN BEFORE JUDGE WHITELAW

There were sixteen defendants in the city court this morning, a somewhat heavier docket than usual, resulting from the celebration of Labor Day. Most of the offenders were charged with intoxication, with an occasional case of affray or disturbing the peace by way of variety.
Pending on the docket are about two dozen cases of violations of the sanitary ordinance, the list of defendants including several prominent citizens. A few have been assessed in these cases, notification of the filing of the charge having resulted in remedying the conditions complained of.

DEAF AND DUMB SCHOOL TURNING DOWN APPLICANTS

Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—Although the state school for the deaf and dumb does not open for the fall term until September 20, Prof. G. F. Brinkley, superintendent, is turning down applications for admission. This institution has a capacity of 450 students and is now turning down over 10,000 applicants for the term, and with proper facilities 150 more students could be admitted. There is, however, now in course of construction a new dormitory and school building which when finished will add not less than 150 to the present capacity of the institution. The new building will cost approximately $1,000,000. Agriculture and the raising of hogs for home consumption has been introduced in this institution with success, according to the superintendent, last year over 100,000 pounds of pork having been produced and there are now upward of 200 head of hogs on the place.

NEGRO QUESTION IS PROBLEM OF CHURCH

New York, Sept. 5.—A joint commission of clergymen appointed by the Protestant Episcopal church to consider the proposal to have negro bishops at large to superintend negro churches in the United States has prepared two opposing reports for the next general convention beginning October 8 at St. Louis. The majority report recommends the establishment of a separate ecclesiastical district for negroes and in the south, relieving southern dioceses of further jurisdiction over the thousands of negro churches and parishes. The minority report recommends a negro bishop of the diocese.

DR. GOODNOW ON PROGRAM TO ADDRESS UNIVERSITY

Austin, Texas, Sept. 5.—Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of the University of Texas, will address the university on Monday next on the subject of "The Chinese Government." He is the author of numerous books in the field of administrative and municipal law, some of the more noted ones being "Municipal Home Rule," "Municipal Problems," "City Government in the United States," "Principles of Administrative Law in the United States," "Social Government," "Social Reform and the Constitution." Other speakers will be announced later by the committee in charge of the inauguration program. This committee consists of the following: Dr. W. W. Simmons, Dr. G. C. F. Butte, Dr. T. L. Kelly. The students of the university will cooperate with the faculty of the institution through a specially appointed committee to make the inauguration exercises a noteworthy educational occasion.

WATSON SONS ALLOWED BAIL

Released on Bonds of $5,000 Each by Agreement Between the State and Defense
By Associated Press.
Waco, Tex., Sept. 5.—By agreement between the state and defense in the room of $5,000 each was allowed J. E. and W. R. Watson, indicted by a McAllen county grand jury for the murder of state Commissioner of Banking and Insurance J. S. Patterson. Bond was made immediately by the defendants. Proceedings were waived by the state when the habeas corpus hearings for the Watsons began this morning, no testimony being taken. The cases are set for September 18.
District Judge J. C. McCullough presided at the hearing this morning. The court room was inadequate to accommodate the crowd. Both defendants were in the court room while the proceedings were in progress.

BRYAN HAS COMPLETED HIS LECTURING TOUR

By Associated Press.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 5.—W. J. Bryan today completed his season's work on the chautauque platform and will leave this evening for a two week vacation in Western Nebraska. Beginning September 18 Mr. Bryan will enter the campaign at the service of the democratic national committee, reserving the last week for speaking in Nebraska.

WICHITA THEATRE OPEN FOR SEASON

Initial Program Attracts a Large and Well Pleased Audience.
The Wichita Theatre opened the 1916-17 season Monday night with presentation of the pictureization of "The Ne'er-Do-Well," the novel by Rex Beach. The attendance augured well for a prosperous season, the house being filled almost to capacity. The ten-reel production was largely enjoyed. Kati orchestra furnished music, which added much to the evening's entertainment.
Those present found that many improvements had been made in the theatre since the new manager, Sol Dan, assumed charge. The lobby has been made especially attractive. The new presents a very up-to-date appearance.
Tonight will be shown the first instalment of the Billy Burke serial, "Gloria's Romance." Several other exceptional photoplay offerings are promised in the near future, with the opening of the vaudeville circuit scheduled for late this month.

EXTRAORDINARY FRAUDS OF FOOD SURROGATES

Amsterdam, Netherlands. Official analysis of some of the food surrogates in Belgium is disclosing some extraordinary frauds. The Director-General of the Public Health Service has found that some of the substitutes for oil, which is no longer obtainable, are worthless concoctions that cost the manufacturers only a few cents per liter but which are sold to a gullible public at fancy prices. One oil sauce was found to be 99.25 per cent water, with the remaining 76.100 per cent an extract of gum. A "Mayonnaise" in fancy packing and "highly recommended" was found to contain 86 per cent water, 1.30 per cent oil, 10.70 per cent starch, and 2 per cent ash. An "ice-cream" food advertised as "meat extract, extra quality" was made of 65 per cent water, 25 per cent burnt sugar and 25 per cent salt. "Butter" that sold for 1.120 per kilogram was made of tallow, cotton oil and borax. Jam brewed of seaweed; plaster of Paris that passed for rice flour; coffee that was made of soda seeds; cheese that were rolled in a fine chestnut-tree leaf with the filling of various dried leaves, and such frauds, also.

M. H. CARPENTER WRITES OF THEIR TRIP

Editor The Times: We drove into Chicago Friday with our Wichita Falls Chalmers 3400 and rode 78 miles through the streets and parks. We have Wichita Falls, Texas painted in 6 inch letters on rear and both sides of our car, and with our khaki trousers and brown flannel shirts, every one thinks we are soldiers from the border. More than a thousand people have asked us how the trouble is and how we liked the service and if we killed any Mexicans... The big newspapers, Motor Age, and the Chalmers dealers and the E. F. Goodrich Rubber Company have taken our pictures and are writing line stories about our trip. They have never seen a car from Texas before up here. We have our camping outfit, awl guns and kodaks on the car and with a heavy coat of black paint we certainly look like we came from Texas... This is the sixth state that we have been in. We left Texas and crossed Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. Have driven over 3500 miles at the rate of 3 to 400 miles a day and have averaged 20 miles per gallon of gasoline and 1500 miles per gallon of oil... We weighed the car and passengers at Miller Bros. 161 ranch in Oklahoma and found we had 1276 pounds of passengers and baggage. In reaching Chicago after plying through 150 miles of gumbo mud in Iowa and Illinois we weighed the car and found 287 pounds of mud had collected on the car... We have driven the entire distance without a single adjustment of any kind. We have not opened the hood, oil or cleaned a spark plug. The further we go the further we want to go... We sleep out doors and cook breakfast and supper in camp and can not help from feeling good all day. We came from Chicago along the lake shore drive and could see Lake Michigan on our right all the way up here. After sun down we saw the prettiest sight over the horizon on the water. It was the Aurora Borealis or northern lights as one sees them in the arctic region... We have a 350 mile drive before us today so I will close. With regards to everybody in Wichita Falls, I am sincerely yours, M. H. CARPENTER, Milwaukee, Wis.

ELECTION CONTEST SET FOR FRIDAY Fight On Bridge Bonds To Be Heard On That Day in the 78th District Court

The case of A. J. Schulz, et al vs. F. B. Greenwood et al, being the suit to enjoin issuance of the county bridge bonds, is set for next Friday in the 78th district court, to which it was transferred from the 30th. The injunction was sought against Mr. Greenwood as county attorney and against practically all the county officers, alleging that there were election irregularities and that the law was not complied with in several particulars. Wichitans who were interested in getting the bond issue carried are expected to take steps to prevent the injunction being made permanent.

JAPANESE TRADE IS GROWING FAST

Country Has Greatly Increased Her Exports As Result of European War

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Sydney, Australia.—The presence of a series of Japanese steamers in Sydney harbor—to say nothing of their calls at other commonwealth ports—attests how the foreign trade of the Japanese empire is expanding under the stimulus of the war and how Australia is assisting in that expansion. Japan has greatly increased her exports to Australia mainly in the shape of raw silk, cotton yards and other cotton products, matches, hats, buttons, pottery, toys and glassware; and in the way of imports there has been a decided advance in raw cotton, rubber, iron, lead, zinc and paper pulp.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha line of steamers has reinforced the fleet plying between Japanese and other Asiatic ports and Australian cities and lately it has decided to extend that service to New Zealand. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha maintains a regular mail service to Australia and in addition it runs a direct cargo service to the commonwealth.

JAMAICA HAS LOST EXPORTABLE CROPS

Kingston, Jamaica.—"Everybody is agreed that we have lost about 50 per cent of our exportable crops for a year," said Governor Manning after returning from a tour of inspection of the damage caused by the hurricane of August 16. "Bananas are all down; in some parts of the country coconuts have been severely damaged; coconuts have been blown off trees, and many of the blossoms have been blown off, too. I am hoping that most of the ground provisions have been spared. But other than the actual damage done, it is an unfortunate blow. Twenty ships were on their way here and would have come had it not been for the hurricane. They would have lifted an enormous quantity of fruit. Sugar and rum are helping the situation somewhat, and will help it still more later on. Sugar does not seem to have suffered much in this blow, and if we can develop it we must do so. But there has been no definite scheme for the expansion of the sugar to America, and that will be good news to the planters."

County Attorney Lynn of Donley county was here today on business.
