DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AT WICHITA THEATRE TODAY

Today is Triangle day at the Wichita theater. For this occasion the management presents two of the strongest feature films ever seen here. Douglas Fairbanks heads the list in "Reggie Mixes In," and the comedy is called "Love's Getaway." The show tonight begins promptly at 7:30 and continues till 10:30.

Douglas Fairbanks is always a welcome visitor in Wichita. His versatility and talented ability go to make any performance pleasing, but in this play he is said to give an excellent presentation of his very best efforts.

The comedy "Love's Getaway," is said to be a laugh getter for fair. Its every moment is filled with exhilarating amusement and is especially pleasing to the kiddies.

Tomorrow the Wichita theater management present Charles Ray in the new Triangle "The Dividend," also a Royalfone comedy called "Bedelia's Bluff."

The Empress.

The Morosco-Paramount director had a difficult task in producing "The Making of Maddalena," the photo feature showing at the Empress today. He found that he would have to secure a physically perfect man, in the scenes of the Roman art students at work a male model was required. To preserve the atmosphere of the picture, the model was required to be perfect. The professional models were first photographed but the screen revealed flaws that the eye had not observed. Next his assistants secured the pick of the athletes and physical culturists but these likewise were not satisfactory enough. It looked as if the Morosco standard of only using the best would be unattainable in this case. Then the services of the famous A. T. Trolear, winner of a $1000 prize for being the most physically perfect man in the world, were secured and he photographed perfectly. When these tests were made it was found that his flawless build made a wonderful picture. The quality of the photograph of the photoplay were thus sustained in a very picturesque and interesting scene. A bona fide Italian marriage certificate which was secured after much communication with the Italian authorities is used in the Morosco-Paramount production "The Making of Maddalena," starring Edna Goodrich.

The Majestic.

A Bluebird makes up the program today and a very attractive Bluebird with a lovely star, in nature as well as name. Love and jealousy, hatred and vengeance, excitement and suspense and an altogether clever moving picture entertainment is promised in "The Gilded Spider" with beautiful Louise Lovely in the leading role. The millionaires have been drawn upon for new methods to quicken the interest; stirring scenes following in quick succession; there is a thrill and thrills in every scene and throughout the immensely entertaining photoplay there is an engaging love story to fire the imagination and double the interest. Covered by a millionaire world cruising yachtman the beautiful wife of an humble Italian was kidnapped—but rather than submit, she drowned herself in the hour her husband lived thereafter, the desire for vengeance grew deeper in his heart. How the Italian followed the American to his home, kidnapped the millionaire's wife, came face to face with the man he sought and was denied, by sudden death, the vengeance that he craved, forms but an outline of the gripping plot.

The Gem.

Cleo Madison, director and moviel beauty is seen in an unusual picture at the Gem today, a two reel Universal rural drama, "Priscilla's Prisoner." Gerard and Priscilla, a young man and woman, are quarrel with his father. After tramping around the country for some time they arrive one day at Priscilla's home, at the farm of Priscilla's father, a girl who is working her own farm. Priscilla is saving up to pay off the mortgage on the farm and Gerard, who is just as she is parting away, her savings. She refuses to give them anything to eat as they look so terrible. Gerard tells his friend of the refusal and also of the money and the two go to pick out a soft rock for a bed. Gerard awakes in the night to find his friend gone. Guessing that he has gone to steal the money, Maxime follows and tries to prevent the robbery. Priscilla arrives just in time to capture Gerard, the friend making his escape. As punishment Gerard is sentenced to work out his imprisonment on the farm. He is very happy as he has fallen in love with Priscilla, until one day without being given a chance to clear himself is beaten by some farmers. In the meantime his friend has gone home and told the Maxime of their son's plight. They come after him and find him in bed from his beating. Priscilla is of course astonished when she learns that Gerard comes from a prominent family. When Priscilla next goes to her lawyer's to see about the mortgage she finds that it is paid. Gerard then offers to be her prisoner for life. Does she accept? She does.

The general participation of all lines of business in the style show is assured, even in a larger degree than last Spring the first time such a general opening night, had been attempted. TOMORROW.

Will be cloudy and leaden. With clouds that so suddenly by like convicts whose memories die. Or outcasts whose memories die. The present may bring some gray sorrow.

Some swampland through which we must grope, But ever the land of tomorrow Is painting a landscape of hope.

The past may arise in our slumber. Its human mistakes without number. Its slips and its shortcomings tell. The past with its reveals, its whirling Of day and delicious night; Tomorrow is ever unfolding A pace that is spotless and white.

The Past? It is gone with its sorrow. The present? It fits like a wreath. And we see how to tomorrow. The shirt of our hope and our faith The past can not lose if we sorrow. The present is dancing away. But dreams of a spotless tomorrow Will whiten the page of today.

Subways of Speech

BENEATH the streets of the cities run telephone subways that carry the talk trains of great populations. To put thousands of wires underground, to hide them cleverly away under streets and buildings and still keep them efficient transmitters of speech, is a task requiring constant watchfulness and high engineering ability. Thus the network of wires that once hung above the cities is eliminated and the streets cleared of poles.

Like these subways of speech it is a peculiarity of the telephone world that there are many invisible parts of the Bell system that work quietly and effectively for the public good.

WOUNDED SOLDIER FIGHTS PHYSICIAN

Paris, Sept. 5.—Has a wounded soldier the right to refuse medical treatment? Is a question now before a court martial at Tours. The prisoner, a Zouave aggravated his case by hitting an army surgeon when the latter wanted to submit him to electric treatment. As a matter of fact, the surgeon hit back, and there was a few minutes' fight in the hospital.

The Zouave's record is otherwise more than good, and he fought gallantly at the front. He received a wound which produced some form of paralysis, and being unable to walk upright was ordered a certain electric treatment. This was said to be efficacious, but declared to be extremely painful, whereupon the Zouave violently refused treatment, as has been mentioned.

His insubordination of course will receive punishment, but, while pleading inability on that point he claims the right to refuse treatment, and that is the point the court martial must settle.

Military jurisprudence hitherto has decided, for example, that a wounded soldier may refuse to have a limb amputated, but that he is not within his right to demand amputation, as in this case there is a possibility of a man who might become fit again being rendered finally incapable of military service.

P. L. Mercier, manager of Kahn's went to the city hospital Tuesday to take a course of treatment for nervous trouble.

POPE SEVERELY ARRAYS THE EIGHT HOUR LAW

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 6.—H. N. Pope, president of the Texas Farmers' union, has given out following statement concerning the eight-hour law passed by congress:

"The people of this nation have during the past week passed through the most humiliating experience this government ever endured. A few labor union leaders have stood at the portals of congress demanding that government give them a ransom or they would wreck society. This nation instead of meeting the situation bravely has delivered the goods in fear and trembling.

"Our American congress has stood within the shadows of the Goddess of Justice and voted an increase in wages to 400,000 trainmen who are the highest paid laborers in the world and never at any time mentioned the 550,000 trackmen who are perhaps the poorest paid workmen in the world and who must subsist almost wholly upon the crumbs that the trainmen leave upon the table.

"When cotton was selling for 6 cents per pound two years ago poverty stalked over the southland, causing a greater financial loss to the southern plowman than freeing the slaves, congress confessed inability and stepped aside, letting this awful weight fall upon the backs of the tillers of the soil.

"The organized farmers pleaded with congress for relief, but were told that it would not be constitutional for government to undertake to fix a price on cotton or to advance money on cotton in storage and that congress was a slow moving body and could not meet emergencies."

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Braucher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

"I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

"At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and wouldly troubles. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

"I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

"If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

NEW RULER RISES IN GREECE; ENTRY IN WAR IS NEAR

ALEXANDER ZAIMIS, PREMIER, SEIZES REINS OF POWER AND THRUSTS ASIDE

ALLIES IN CONTROL

The Streets of Athens Become Scenes of Riot—Austrian Legislation Official Shot

London, Sept. 6.—The entrance of Greece into the world war is only a matter of days. Her neutrality is a thing of the past. A new dictator has arisen. No longer her king, or Venizelos, her dominant politician, have any word to say, Alexander Zaimis, who holds the portfolio of premier, has seized the reins of power.

Greece has surrendered utterly to the ultimatum of France and Great Britain that her mails and telegraphs be handed over to allied supervision and that all German and Austrian agents be expelled from the country. French and British officials are taking over control of the postal and wire systems.

Unprecedented scenes are taking place in the streets of Athens. Citizens of nations with which Greece is at peace are being hunted down by armed detachments of foreign soldiers and locked in the brigades of allied warships. An official of the Austrian legation was shot while riding in his automobile by British agents pursuing in another machine.

The seizure of power by Zaimis is one of the greatest political coups accomplished in years. His entire hand has been played beneath the table and it is only now that the nation is awakening to the fact that its fate rests in his hands.

Zaimis holds the most complete power. He can do what he will without parliamentary questioning or the embarrassments of public opinion. Zaimis made the first public move in his well planned campaign on last Wednesday. At that time he issued a decree forbidding a contemplated political gathering by the people. Two days later he disposed of any danger of parliamentary interference through the issuance of a decree dissolving the national parliament. Parliament had been adjourned and elections will now be necessary before a new parliament can sit.

Then began a series of conferences with the Venizelists and anti-Venizelists, as a result of which Zaimis succeeded in obtaining declarations of approval and support from both parties. He thereby gained for his cabinet the completion of a representative body, approved by all factions.

His hands are now free. Behind the shuttered windows his office he may take those measures which will plunge the nation into war within an hour. The constitution has been, to all intents and purposes, completely set aside. And all this was done while the people of Athens were watching the street sights afforded by the arrest of Germans and Austrians by French and British sailors.

The official press bureau gave the demand presented to the Greek government by the French and British ministers, and the reply of Premier Zaimis, undertaking to grant those demands.

EXHIBITION OF MODEL HOUSES

Complete Series Will Be Shown by Lumber Association at the Dallas Fair

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A complete series of model farm buildings, stables, poultry houses, swine houses, granaries, implement sheds and the like, national model houses, is being held in Chicago for exhibition at the Texas State Fair at Dallas, October 14-23. It has been a two weeks task for the entire force of the woodworking shop of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association to get the exhibit built for the fair, but the result is said to justify the time spent on the task.

The model buildings are made in absolute conformity to the designs worked out by agricultural experts, but will be the best part of the exhibit to be shown. In the model farm action there will be action farm buildings, shown, and also samples of all the commercial woods of the United States. There will be literature explaining the manner in which wood can best be used for all kinds of purposes, and not the least important will be a showing of creosoted material to show the farmer how to prevent decay of wood when placed in wet ground, and how to preserve wood under all kinds of conditions. There will also be a moving picture display, given constantly by the stereomicrograph, which will give pictures of how wood should and should not be used.

A local option election has been ordered in Tarrant county on September 25th. It is hardly to be hoped that the drays will win in Tarrant county but it can be expected that they will make a much stronger showing than in former elections of this character.

It is hard to believe the report that employes outside of the fourth brotherhoods are to make a fight against the Adamson eight-hour law. If they should succeed in defeating this law they will only postpone the day when they might also expect to find themselves on an eight-hour basis.

Candidate Hughes came nearer approaching a live issue in his speech at Nashville Monday night than at any time during his tour when he referred indirectly to the railroad strike. He indicated that he would have stood immovable for the principle of arbitration, but did not discuss the eight-hour day. Whether Candidate Hughes can win any votes or not, it is certain that he can get attention if he decides to discuss the issues involved in the threatened railway strike. With Colonel Roosevelt on the stump denouncing the principle of arbitration or even negotiations where vital principles of honor is concerned, and Candidate Hughes declaring immovable adherence to that principle in all matters, it will hardly be necessary for democratic orators to discuss the issue.

The Kansas City Star is a republican newspaper. It is opposing Wilson and supporting Candidate Hughes. But the Star is a conservative paper. It can be depended upon to get somewhere near the truth. A staff correspondent of the Star accompanied Candidate Hughes on his western tour. This correspondent in an article summarizing the trip says that the crowds were everything in size that a presidential candidate could expect but that demonstrative enthusiasm was lacking. Speaking of these crowds this staff writer said: "They were thoughtful and went away thinking. But summed up, the general impression was about this: 'He would do.' It is hardly probable that a candidate who merely 'will do' can hope to succeed against a man like Wilson with his record of achievement."

REGULATING AN ISSUE. Colonel W. A. Shaw says that the thirty-fifth legislature ought to submit the state-wide prohibition amendment on the first day of its session after organization, and in order that this may be done, he suggests that the pros and anti democrats who favor or such submission ought to get together and make up a program of action. He would include in this program a definite plan for legislation for the enforcement of state prohibition, if adopted, or for further regulatory laws, should state prohibition be defeated. Still further, he would have an agreement to abide the results of the state-wide election for ten years, or at least five years.

Colonel Shaw is an anti-prohibitionist. He does not want state-wide prohibition to carry. But as a democrat, he is willing to give the pros their chance to have the amendment voted upon by the people. This right they won by a majority vote in the primary election. That the majority was small makes no difference, and as Colonel Shaw suggests, district instructions can not properly govern.

There is no good reason why the prohibition issue should be with us always, throwing its shadow across all other paths. It is not merely that it impedes legislation; it is not merely that it keeps good legislation from being passed—any intelligent observer of legislative proceedings and political campaigns knows that it is largely responsible for the enactment of undesirable legislation, extravagance in appropriations and the election of incompetent and otherwise undesirable men to public office. For these conditions both pros and anti have been to blame. It remains to be seen who will be to blame in the future—it will be the anti if they block submission of the amendment in the next legislature. It will be the pro if they get submission, are defeated and then renege to abide by the result.

It is like that such an agreement as Colonel Shaw proposes should be made; time that those of our people who do not believe that state-wide prohibition in deserving of its paramountcy, once way or the other, and who desire the steady progress of temperance even in our wet towns, should take a hand in the matter.—Dallas Journal.

WASTED TIME AND ENERGY.

In saying that industrial waste prevents a Secretary of the American Federation of Labor has stated a great truth, but he leaves us in doubt as to the remedy which may be depended upon to solve it.

The greatest economic waste in the United States is that of time. The unemployment which is subject to the congested and deranged distribution of labor. It may be quite true that there is an oversupply of energy available for certain industries and activities, but in the greatest of all industries, that of agriculture, surely nobody will say there is a surplus of labor. The high price of food indicates in some respects that there is not enough of food produced in the world, and if there were any way to enumerate the vast host of people who are underfed it would be seen that much of the wasted time is due to the circumstance that agriculture is not sufficiently supplied with labor, whereas other branches of labor are oversupplied.

Here in Texas, we have year by year a deficiency of food production. This condition is common to the entire South, and this deficiency has to be supplied through the payment of high prices to other grain-growing sections. In Texas there is a regular deficiency of corn, wheat, oats, poultry, eggs, butter, fruit and vegetables. This deficiency is never fully supplied, because of the high prices entailed by purchasing elsewhere.

If the wasted energy of the world were diverted to agriculture, the world's food shortage would disappear. In Europe, in normal times, only the rich waste time. In the United States all classes waste it. Industrial conservation is, indeed, necessary and if we could attain a measure of economic reorganization and regeneration, we might see nearly every problem of consequence which confounds our statesmen disappear.

Chicago Grain. Chicago, Sept. 5.—High cable quotations had a bullish effect on wheat, but the effect was offset by an unexpected increase of the U. S. visible supply today. TREATY PROTECTS THE GAME BIRDS MOST PROSPEROUS OF BALKAN STATES

Much Satisfaction Results From Ratification of Agreement With Canada. Succinct Description of Roumania's Boundaries is Given in New Bulletin.

New York, Sept. 6.—Not since the federal law for the protection of migratory birds was passed have wild life conservationists been so elated as over the ratification by the United States Senate of a treaty which provides protection for practically all birds that migrate between this country and Canada.

The treaty is an important supplement to the federal law and provides in effect, three principal things: 1. That no bird important to agriculture because of insect destroying proclivities shall be shot at any time. 2. That no open season on any species of game birds shall extend for a longer period than three and one half months. 3. That both countries shall restrict open seasons on game birds as to prevent their being taken during the breeding season.

The ratification of the treaty means that this country now possesses the most advanced and effective legal protection for wild life of any on the globe. The enactment of the federal law in 1913 was a great step toward this end. It was necessary, however, to supplement this with protection for the large number of species of valuable birds which in Canada and either pass through the United States on their southern migration or actually winter here.

"The constitutional" of the federal law which is now before the supreme court of the United States for adjudication, becomes more or less an academic question, in the opinion of many legal authorities, now that the treaty has been ratified, as its operation will bring about practically the same results as the provisions of the law. Those holding the opinion that their contention on the theory that the court will decline to render a decision that would impair the country's obligation under the treaty.

This resolution, slightly modified, was reintroduced by Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut during the following April and was reported favorably.

Following an arduous campaign involving the overcoming of seemingly insuperable obstacles with the present result.

"Senator George P. McLean of Connecticut, deserves the greatest credit for the work he did in bringing about the ratification of the treaty, and merits the thanks of every conservationist in the country. Aid of the greatest value was rendered by Mr. Henry Ford of Detroit, and Dr. Edward Howe Farhous, state ornithologist of Massachusetts.

"Similar conventions with other countries, principally those of America and the West Indies, will be sought in due course."

NEGRO MEETING AIRED IN COURT. Alleged Disturbance at Revival Subject of Interesting Session in Court.

Interesting sidelights on the custom connected with negro revival meetings were flashed this morning in Justice Jones' court when Rev. E. P. McClelland, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Baptist church, colored, was tried on a charge of disturbing a meeting of religious worship. The complaint was filed by E. C. Cash, an ebony divine, who claimed to have authority to preach from a Baptist association. The alleged disturbance took place on the night of August 25th in a canvas tabernacle in the negro section where Cash had been conducting a meeting.

LEADING CLUBS OF FEWEST MEN Teams Playing Best Ball the Past Season Had the Smallest Payroll

Two hundred and forty-eight players were on the roster of the eight clubs of the Texas League during the season of 1916, which is an average of 31 players to the club. Conwell of Waco and Bernie B. of Shreveport were the shining lights in so far as general utility is concerned, for each one of these players covered around seven different positions on the field. Conwell filling every position in the in and out fields leaving only the pitching and catching end of the game to the regulars on the Navigators' club. Bernie on the other hand, took up the twirling end of the game in one battle, also donned the mitt and mask during the absence of Manager Smith and played every other position both in the in and out fields excepting second base and center field. Dodd of Houston and Delahanty of Beaumont were placed in six different positions, on diverse times, the former playing in all excepting catcher, third baseman and center field, while the latter kept himself out of the pitching, catching and center field.

dance at the various schools. This action was taken to prevent an overcrowded condition in some of the schools, as has been the case heretofore. Prof. Clark will take up this matter at once and hopes to be able to announce the changes in the boundaries within the next few days.

The board contracted for heaters for the new building on Lee street, eight being purchased at a price of $75 each. These stoves are of the very latest pattern, and besides complying with the regulations of the state, are also made to burn gas or coal.

The plumbing contract for this building was awarded to Robert Elliott, while the Southern Electric Company was the successful bidder for the electrical work.

Supt. Clark was authorized by the board to close a contract for seats needed for the schools. This matter has been pending for some time, but has been postponed with a view of securing better prices which now seems possible.

The question of a medical examination of students and other matters of interest were discussed but no further action was taken.

TERRITORY FREE OF CATTLE TICK

Quarantine Lifted From 9,493 Square Miles in Six States—California Wholly Free

Washington, Sept. 6.—Approximately 9,493 square miles of territory in six states is released from quarantine on account of the Texas fever cattle tick by an order signed by the secretary of agriculture to become effective September 15, 1916. The order releases the last area under quarantine in California, adding this state to the tick free list. The other territory released consists of ten counties in Georgia, three in South Carolina, two in Alabama, two whole counties and two fractional parts of counties in Oklahoma and a portion of one county in Mississippi.

Greater interest in tick eradication is being taken throughout the South than at any time since the beginning of the work cooperatively by the U. S. department of agriculture and the states in 1906.

The territory released is, in detail, as follows:

In Alabama, the counties of Autauga and Greene.

In California, the remainder of San Diego county, making the entire state now free from quarantine.

In Georgia, the counties of Barrow, Bartow, Campbell, Columbia, Fayette, Floyd, Henry, Jackson, Paulding and Walton.

In Mississippi, the remainder of Yazoo county.

In Oklahoma, the entire counties of Wagoner and Stephens and portions of Muskogee and Tulsa counties.

In South Carolina, the counties of Bamberg, Barnwell and Edgefield.
