CALLS A COWARD

Veteran Charges That Von Falkenhayn Is Childish and Unworthy of the Germans, in Which He is Sustained.

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 9.—According to reports from Germany received at Berlin, says a dispatch to the Wireless Press, the dismissal of General Erich von Falkenhayn as chief of the general staff was due to his suggestion of a complete change in Germany's war plans, which Emperor William indignantly rejected. "Von Falkenhayn urged that the whole campaign be abandoned, that the eastern line be shortened, and that the occupied territory in France be evacuated. The general expressed the opinion that the transformation of German strategy into a purely defensive campaign on a shorter front would paralyze the entente allies and make it impossible for them to crush Austro-German resistance for years."

FRENCH TROOPS HAVE INVADDED GERMAN TRENCHES

By Associated Press. Paris, Sept. 9.—French troops, by a brilliant assault this afternoon captured a section of German trenches east of Flury Verdun sector. German attempts to retake positions in the neighborhood of Berny on the Somme front were repulsed.

BULGARIANS DRIVEN BY RUSSIAN TROOPS

BRITISH OCCUPY A NEW TERRITORY

PRESENT PETITION OVER TWO MILES IN LENGTH

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 9.—The longest petition ever presented to Parliament arrived the other day from Ulster county, Ireland. It was 2 1/2 miles long and bore the signatures of 115,000 persons who asked for the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors for the term of the war and at least six months thereafter in Great Britain and Ireland.

ART SMITH MAY NEVER FLY AGAIN IN AN AEROPLANE

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Art Smith, the aviator, who claims to have made the first night flight in an illuminated aeroplane, may never fly in public again, it was announced today. He is in a plaster cast as a result of his recent attempt in Japan. When the bone is mended he expects to return to Japan to become interested in a business venture.

WAR SUMMARY

The Associated Press summarizes the European situation as follows: British troops have been engaged in the heaviest kind of fighting along a three and a half mile front on the Somme and have captured Ghinzy, which is almost directly north of Combes and all the ground between Ghinzy and Louzy wood. On a front of more than a quarter of a mile the British gained 300 yards east of High wood and captured two German machine gun positions and 600 yards of German trenches. In these engagements the German casualties, according to the British official statement, were extremely heavy. Likewise the French, forcing the attack in the Verdun sector, captured a whole section of German trenches east of Flury, the assault here being characterized by the French war office as a brilliant action.

Fighting on three fronts, the Rumanians have dealt hard blows at the armies of the central powers. In Dobruja or southeastern Roumania, Rumanian troops aided by Russians have driven the Bulgarians from the fortified town of Bardarjik or Dobric which was captured by the Bulgarians September 4. The Bulgarians also were forced to evacuate another north.

In northern Transylvania the Rumanians continuing their offensive in the region of Szereda have occupied Olah, Topitz, and a number of other towns. Bucharest records the repulse of an Austro-Hungarian attack south of Mehadia, north of Orsova, on the Danube. The fall of Halicz, southeast of Lemberg in Galicia, appears imminent, according to unofficial dispatches from Petrograd. The Austrians are reported blowing up the forts in Halicz and the Russians are said to have occupied some of them. It is further unofficially reported that the Russians on the left bank of the Dniester are bombarding the retreating Austrians.

The fighting on the Somme front is confined to small areas. The French have captured a small wood east of Bally-Est, and the British have taken a German trench in the High Wood. Berlin asserts that a British enterprise in High Wood and a French attack against the Berry-et-Manne Detonator sector failed. The French war office says 7700 Germans have been captured since September 3.

PROSPERITY HAS REACHED CREST

Sweden's Material Success in the Past Two Years Has Been Very Helpful.

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Stockholm, Sweden.—Now that the wave of war-time prosperity sweeping over Scandinavia has reached its crest, in the case of Sweden, with the greatest crops the country has ever known, some Northern peoples are forgetting some of the vicissitudes of the small neutral in the midst of the European conflagration, even the rigors of the blockade itself.

So great has been the prosperity in the last two years that it is reported the governments of Denmark, Sweden and Norway already have paid off or have sufficient funds in the state coffers to pay off all outstanding foreign indebtedness. So in a brief space of time the three small neutrals lying here in the very lap of war, but not of

The German mark has led the international monies downward with a loss of more than 30 per cent. The English pound, the American dollar, the Russian ruble, the continental franc all have been quoted on the Scandinavian bourses at a loss of 10 per cent and upward, so that the foreign buying power of the Scandinavian crown, when buying has been permitted, has greatly advanced. Sweden had borrowed much money from Germany. War-time trade with the blockaded Germans has brought enormous profits. This fact, combined with the cheapness of the German mark has enabled the Swedish debtors to wipe out many

Committee Makes Appeal For Funds For Campaign

An Appeal to the People of Wichita. Within the next few weeks the people of this county will elect their representatives for the next four years as their president. The administration of Woodrow Wilson is before the people for endorsement or condemnation. It is a record of wonderful achievement. The democratic party has been in control of the government for nearly two years, and in the time it has written more of constructive legislation than any other administration in the nation's history, and gained the ship of state through crises more numerous and more grave than had arisen in the preceding fifty years of our diplomacy.

The democratic administration has kept the country out of war, while preserving its honor unscathed and undisturbed. It has provided for adequate preparedness against aggression by any foe. It has preserved that strict neutrality which Washington declared should always be the policy of the United States. It has followed in Mexico the policy of Lincoln, who asserted the right of that unhappy people to order their own government.

It has established an amazingly more general and more ample than that people ever enjoyed before, so that every dinner table is full, every factory working, every man employed and the average wages highest. It has given the nation a system of banking and finance that shielded it from panic and depression when the whole structure of European credit was destroyed by war, and which overwhelmed other neutral nations whose statesmen lacked the foresight and capacity of America's democratic statesmen.

It has amended the anti-trust laws, making guilt personal, defining for the first time in our history what constitutes restraint of trade, and preventing trade monopoly with prohibition of interlocking directorates, and has set up a federal trade commission a court of business. Labor Not a Commodity. It has taken labor out of the classification of commodity, and led it as free to the same things it rationally craves without fear of punishment for doing so.

It has afforded the farmer easy credit and diminished the burden of interest he must carry. It has opened new avenues of business, created new markets for the products of American industry, and farm, chased new routes for commerce and is in way of establishing an American merchant marine, which will put our goods and our goods in every harbor in the world.

It has forever taken the tariff out of politics by the creation of a non-partisan committee for the collection and denial of the humanitarian in denying the goods produced by child labor the right to shipment in interstate commerce, and has passed child-labor laws, the nation's bureau laws. It has laid the groundwork for a national system of good roads, guarding against extravagance by the people's money with a provision that for every dollar appropriated by the federal government the states must appropriate another dollar.

It has kindled anew the fires of patriotism, reminding men and women of the meaning of Americanism, awakening the nation to live by the sword, its mission and quickening the pulse with fervor of devotion to the flag and all it symbolizes. These are only some of the larger achievements of the democratic administration, accomplished not only without disturbance to business, but with acceleration of business.

"You would be surprised," said an American musician in Paris to the Associated Press correspondent, "if you knew the names of some great artists that I could cite who are in the worst possible dilemma as a result of prolonged illness. One of them, a woman who has been applauded by people from all over the world, is living on almost nothing, toiling her washing and cleaning her own apartment. Another is selling off his rare furniture piece by piece, his distress being so acute that he has been forced to pose as a man of considerable means. The rare engagements that such artists now get is only a drop in the bucket, for some of them had incomes of from 25,000 francs upward before the war, lived accordingly and now have nothing." There are also teachers who have been able to secure pupils, but with a reduction of from fifty to seventy-five per cent in prices. There are many others who have not been able to maintain their classes at all. They, with the instrumental artist, out of employment, are in the worst position. Another in greatest distress is a musician who has had to give up appearances, generally pays a pretty good rental, and has a rather expensive household.

ROTEURUM PASS IMPORTANT WAY

Is One of the Three Most Important Gateways Through Transylvania Alps

Washington, Sept. 9.—The National Geographic Society issues the following war geography bulletin on the Roteturum Pass, one of the three great mountain passes through the Transylvania Alps from Roumania into Hungary, and the road used by the Roumanian forces during the first week of their advance on a decisive battle in the important commercial center, Hermannstadt.

Thirty miles north of the Roumanian plain of Wallachia and at a height of 1200 feet, the Roteturum Pass is threaded by a railroad on the left bank of the River Al (Aluta) and a wagon road on the right. Some distance of live and half miles from the little mountain stream, the mountain boundary at this point, the Roumanian side of the pass, the northern end of the pass. The ruins of the sixteenth-century Red Tower (toren turm) which gives the name to the pass, still stand near the end. Between the frontier stations of Verestorny (Hungary) and Clainu (Roumania) is a distance of thirteen miles and from the former it is less than 17 miles by rail to Hermannstadt.

As the Roumanians advanced along this line it would have been surprising if they had not been inspired to deeds of extraordinary valor as they approached Sellenberg (German, Schellenberg) three miles south of Hermannstadt, where a hill commemorates one of the greatest events in their national history—the defeat of the Transylvania chief, Cardinal Andrew Báthory, who led a Hungarian force, not only threw off the Turkish yoke but for a time during the last decade of the century, united Wallachia, Moldavia and Transylvania into a Greater Roumania. It is the recollection of what Michael accomplished during his brief reign of eight years that has been the imagination and the inspired dreams of the Roumanian race for three centuries.

MUSICIANS ARE HEAVIEST LOSERS

War Has Eaten Up Their Savings While Interfering With the Usual Income

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. Paris.—French musicians—instrumentalists, concert singers and teachers, comprising those who have gone to America—are among the greatest sufferers from the prolongation of the war. Those who had savings had eaten them up in two years waiting for a revival of social life after the concert and soiree engagements, while today that revival seems to be as far off as it did a year ago.

Some musicians have had engagements, such as opera singers and cafe concert artists. Although they have suffered less than those who have had nothing to do, they have felt the situation acutely. One singer, who held title roles at the opera and who received about 600 francs a night before the war, now gets ten francs. There are also teachers who have been able to secure pupils, but with a reduction of from fifty to seventy-five per cent in prices. There are many others who have not been able to maintain their classes at all.

They, with the instrumental artist, out of employment, are in the worst position. Another in greatest distress is a musician who has had to give up appearances, generally pays a pretty good rental, and has a rather expensive household.

the conservatory. Having located her, these people offered her such aid as she required, but she made no reply. The inference was that her court-yard work brought her more than these charitable deeds offered. The number of musicians who have smothered their grief, and gone into the street is very limited, however. Most of them are in dire straits in spite of their comfortable appearance in public, and some of them are nearly starving. Their relief is a most delicate and difficult matter, as few of them are willing to expose their needs. A good deal has been done in this direction, however, by a society of musicians, French and American, called "Les Aide Artistes Musiciens" who through their personal acquaintance with their fellow artists find it easier than most charitable organizations to extend a fraternal hand. As the war goes on, however, with a constant multiplication of charitable committees of different sorts and repeated demands upon charitable people for funds, there is less spontaneous and generous response for the relief of such poverty as this.

We read that the suffragists in their meeting at Atlantic City raised a campaign fund of $18,000 in thirty minutes. That's the way it is with these women, when they get the ball they get hold of the pocket book, too.

Billy Sunday is considering the lack of New York City. Mr. Sunday should be encouraged by recent developments here in Texas. New York is in about the same ratio to Mr. Sunday that Fort Worth was to Rev. Ham. Rev. Ham tackled Fort Worth and beat the crowd that tried to break up his meeting and now a local option election has been ordered in Tarrant county. If Rev. Ham can have that kind of success in Fort Worth how great expectations can we not have from Billy Sunday in New York.

The other day the Times called attention to the certain tendency of acts of retaliation toward savagery and the disregard of law altogether. But notwithstanding the dangers to which retaliation leads it sometimes brings the mitigation of evils without serious results. Congress has just placed in the hands of President Wilson the power to enforce retaliatory measures toward the European belligerents. While no country was named everybody knows that the provision for retaliation was aimed at Great Britain. It is to be hoped that the mere threat of retaliation will be sufficient to correct the abuses which Great Britain has been practicing. If it is necessary to begin retaliation no one can foresee the end to which it will bring us.

Despite announcements that the game will be played, the Times does not believe that nine white young men will be found in Wichita Falls who are anxious enough for notoriety to go into the diamond this afternoon in a ball game with a team of negroes. But if there are there will doubtless be some white folks who will be so far forgetful of the proprieties as to attend the game. But if there will be some whites in attendance, there will be many negroes who will have too much pride and regard for themselves to attend. These negroes as well as a good many white folks, know the danger that will come from the association of blacks and whites before a mixed crowd which will contain a large percentage of blacks who are likely to get some wrong impressions as to the public attitude toward the association of blacks and whites on terms of social equality. Baseball and other sports are in their very nature social pastimes, and the more so in the case of amateur contests. The playing of such a ball game as proposed this afternoon will not affect the attitude of the great majority of citizens. It may cause some foolish negroes to get false ideas that may cause trouble.

Rules that will not prohibit the ordinary farmer from marketing butter and milk and perfect sanitation are the two limits which should mark the milk-products regulation proposed by the city council. Everybody is agreed that every reasonable safeguard should surround the milk supply of a city like Wichita Falls. At the same time no regulation should be attempted that will prevent the farmer, if he is willing to observe reasonable regulations that are possible in his case, from marketing milk products in the city. Rules that can and ought to be made to apply to big dairies can not in many instances be made to apply to the farmers who milk half a dozen cows. The milk and butter business is a legitimate sideline for many farmers in this section. They must not be cut off from the Wichita Falls market. The people will approve reasonable regulations that will come within these limits. It will do no good for dairymen or others to fight such regulation because it will have public sentiment behind it. Regulation of the kind that will bar the farmer from the market, even if provided for, will not long stand.

IMPLEMENTENTS

We have persistently shied from the implement part of the business for the last 10 years. The implement business has been in such condition for the last year that the trade has been forced to go elsewhere. Numbers of our farmer friends have requested us to add some line. After a careful investigation we decided on the P. & O. line. We can supply you with your Superior Drill and Repairs or any other farming tool.

Lack of confidence in the result in the Maine election Tuesday is betrayed by both the republican and the democratic leaders in the fact that neither side is trying to attract any great attention to the election or to attach any great significance to the result. After the election, of course, the winners will recall that as Maine goes in September so goes the union in November, while the losers will deprecate the importance of this election as political weather vane. When the campaign opened the democrats had very little hope of carrying the Pine Tree state but in the last few weeks they have been decidedly more hopeful and no matter what may be said in explanation the democrats will be disappointed if the republicans carry the state by as much as 10,000 majority. The figures of 1912 show that the democrats must gain a considerable percentage of the progressive vote in order to win in Maine. In the 1912 election Maine gave Wilson 51,113 votes, Taft 26,545 votes and Roosevelt 48,493 votes.

CHAIRMAN POINDEXTER SAYS FUNDS ARE NEEDED
 Hon. William Poindexter, democratic national committeeman from Texas, who has just returned from Washington, where he attended a meeting of the national committee and from Shadow Lawn, New Jersey, where he attended the notification of President Wilson, in an interview in the Cleburne Morning Review, his home paper, says that there is a feeling of confidence of democratic success in November but that the national committee is hampered from want of campaign funds. Mr. Poindexter's statement follows:

"I spent three days in New York City. The main purpose of my trip was to attend a meeting of the National Democratic executive committee which met in New York on September 2. This meeting was also attended by those in charge of the national Democratic campaign. Several of the national committeemen did not attend in person because of anticipated strikes but these were represented by proxies. Reports were received from every state in the Union and these reports for the most part were very encouraging. It was the general opinion of the committee that if the election were to come off now Woodrow Wilson would be re-elected and that unless great changes were wrought between now and November, his election is assured.

"Indications are that New York City will go democratic. The democratic committee is somewhat hampered for want of funds to continue the campaign. The large monied institutions and what is known as big business are against Wilson and no aid can be expected from that source. We must depend upon the masses of the people for contributions to carry on the campaign. Small amounts are coming in from different states and different localities every day which indicates that the people are going to respond. The committee is expecting much from Texas and I confidently believe Texas will contribute as much as $100,000 to the campaign. Speakers have to be sent to the doubtful states, literature printed and distributed and it requires a great deal of money to carry on this work and every democrat should willingly assist because if we win this time the chances are the democratic party will be the dominant party for at least a quarter of a century. If we lose this time it is very doubtful whether the democratic party will obtain power within the next 25 or 30 years.

"Of course, I attended the luncheon given by the president and had the pleasure of meeting the president and Mrs. Wilson. The president seems to be exceedingly sanguine of success. The notification following the luncheon was a grand success. Eight thousand seats had been provided and these were all filled and eight or ten thousand people stood up for want of seats. The notification speech by Hon. Ollie James was a magnificent production and the president's speech of acceptance was a model and was received with great applause.

"The vast crowd departed with the conviction that there was no doubt of the president succeeding himself. The laboring people are undoubtedly for President Wilson and I believe there will be great gains among the agricultural population of republican states. "I spent last Monday in the city of Washington. Met and talked with Senator Culberson who, though he seemed to be in feeble health and seriously affected by some kind of nervous trouble, was in his seat attending to his duties and seemed to be clear headed and able to discharge his official duties. He is certainly very proud of his victory in Texas and appreciates beyond measure the loyalty of his friends.

"I met and talked with Senator Morris Sheppard, who seems to be in splendid health and fine spirits. I also met and talked with a number of Texas congressmen and several senators and congressmen from other states. They all seemed to feel confident of Democratic victory this fall.

WON'T STAND HITCHED.
 The real progressives of Oklahoma, the men who joined the progressive movement because they endorsed the principles enunciated in the platform of the party in 1912, refuse to deliver to the standstill republican faction at the instance of Mr. George Perkins and Colonel Roosevelt. Many of these men have already announced that they will support President Wilson in the absence of any nominee of the progressive ticket, and it is probable that the rank and file of that party, a large percentage of which voted with the republicans in 1914, will also refuse to stand hitched this year. They realize that President Wilson has given the country peace and prosperity, that he has accomplished more in the way of securing constructive legislation, which was demanded by the progressive platform, than had been given to the people in fifty years of republican rule, and it will take something more than the criticism and faultfinding of Mr. Hughes over minor matters to convince this class of independent voters that they should turn their backs on progress and deny the principles for which they fought so gallantly in 1912.—Grandfield Enterprise.

ABUSING THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.
 Senator Ashurst was quite indignant Wednesday when Senator Curtis of Kansas called attention to a campaign letter, 70,000 copies of which was franked out by the Arizona legislature. The senator resented the inference that these letters had been franked in violation of law. He declared the letter had been submitted to the postmaster general, who declared it frankable. But it is no use for congress to waste its time on corrupt practices legislation so long as it permits its own members to enjoy privileges of this character.

"Granting that the senator can send such campaign letters out under his frank without violating the law, it is nevertheless an outrage that such a letter, which utterly destroys the principle of equal and exact justice to all, special privileges to members of congress. If Senator Ashurst can have the benefit of free mail service in prosecuting his campaign for re-election, then his opponents ought to enjoy a like privilege. His opponents are at a disadvantage when the government makes him the beneficiary of $1400 worth of postal service, whereas they have to pay.

Even if this injustice were not involved, and all opponents were treated alike in the matter of the franking privilege, it is an outrage that the political expenses of members of congress upon the public. The money which this service and other free services costs is no considerable that the legitimate development of the postal service is actually retarded.

100 PER CENT DODGING.
 While Mr. Hughes was speaking at Nashville he referred to the attitude of President Wilson toward Huerta. "You would have recognized that assassin, wouldn't you?" shouted a man in the audience. "Now I didn't say that," replied Mr. Hughes. The same answer can be made of any inference that anybody tried to draw from Mr. Hughes' speeches. The candidate can always insist that "I didn't say that," for every statement admits of a multitude of interpretations.

It is impossible to ascertain from any of Mr. Hughes' speeches what he would do or what he would not do. At Nashville he attacked the president for preventing a railroad strike by the only means then available. But Mr. Hughes did not say what he would have done had he been president and confronted with the situation that the present faces. He stated that he would resign, but he did not say that if elected president he would recommend the immediate repeal of this eight-hour law. Yet if the law is wrong, that is what he ought to do. It is what he would do and what he would say if he had courage and convictions.

Mr. Hughes has been going about the country for weeks talking about the "timidity and vacillation" of Mr. Wilson; but no other candidate for president was ever so full of vacillating as Mr. Hughes. There is not a voter who does not know where Mr. Wilson stands on every issue of the campaign. There is not a voter who knows where Mr. Hughes stands on any issue.

Mr. Wilson in his speech of acceptance said frankly and unequivocally: "I neither seek the favor nor fear the displeasure of that small alien element which puts loyalty to any foreign power before loyalty to the United States."
 Everybody knows that that means, but who can make anything out of Mr. Hughes' "dominant Americanism" generalities? Mr. Roosevelt spoke boldly and fearlessly on the hyphen issue at Lewiston, and Mr. Hughes sent him a telegram of congratulation on his speech as a whole, but Mr. Hughes has never ventured to say what the president and Mr. Roosevelt have said, and all efforts to smoke him out have failed.

FAVOR DRESS OF TWO MATERIALS COMBINATIONS VELVET AND CLOTH

New York, September 9.—Women of fashion are, today, greatly interested in the "two material" dresses. Not Paris sanctioned them and put forth some of her best efforts in the fashioning of new variations of them for the coming season? No, it is not only the economical woman with an eye to making over her last winter's dress who looks with approval on this style. To be sure, she may take advantage of it, for this fashion holds great possibilities for her, but needless to say, it was not originally planned for her.

perenced combiner of colors would produce. In dresses for formal wear, one sees other combinations. A white Georgette crepe blouse in Russian style was combined with a black satin skirt and the blouse was edged with a wide band of black satin. There was a shoulder cape of white Georgette edged with fur, which trimming also finished the long sleeves. Another dress seen had a blouse of Copenhagen blue chiffon, also in Russian style, worn over a skirt of blue velvet the same shade. Fur edged the blouse.

Another detail of fashion which is making a strong appeal to the well-dressed woman is the use of colored embroidery as a dress trimming. An example is shown on the illustration here of a one-piece dress with carriage belt. Many of these dresses are seen in dark blue or black serge or satin with gray wool embroidery. In some, the hem of the skirt is further decorated with a wool fringe matching the embroidery and hanging from the lower edge. Other embroidery designs are carried out in Bulgarian colors in wool or silk, or in steel thread and also in gold threads. The two latter are especially effective on dark green, navy blue or black.

Fancy Handbags. A fashionable woman does not consider her costume complete today without a dainty fancy handbag, which she slings from a long ribbon or cord. Sometimes it takes the form of the old-fashioned reticule grandmother, used to wear hanging from her belt. In this instance the bag is almost always made from the same material as the dress. But there are numerous other forms and shapes of this important accessory, which, if it does not exactly match the costume should, in any event, harmonize with it. Some very attractive ones are of black velvet with steel beads or of moire with colored beads and some fluffy little creations are entirely of ruffles of ribbon.

In crocheted bags there is quite an attractive new style worked in various bright colors forming solid rows that go round and round. The bags are round, and longer than they are wide. The top is drawn together on a cord run through rings, and the bottom is finished with a long tassel. In velvet and silk bags there are a number of odd, irregular shapes as well as oval and round ones.

One-Piece Frock of Cloth and Satin.

Combinations of materials are used in dress of widely different character, quite as often in the one-piece frock for street as in the dress required for more formal wear. Of the first type is the smart dress of cloth and satin illustrated here. There is a suggestion of the military influence in this dress, too, which accounts for a part of its charm, as things military are still a source of inspiration to fashion designers. Perhaps it is the orderly row of buttons placed straight down the front, perhaps it is the four pockets with rounded flaps, or yet it may be the shoulder cape, or all of these together that give the soldierly tinge to this dress. One can readily imagine the design, developed in satin and serge, velvet and cloth, velvet and satin, or any one of these materials in two tones. A light and a dark shade of gray silk have been used very successfully by Parisian designers in such a dress as this. They have combined two different colors such as tan and brown, dark green and gray, and mahogany and gray. But the amateur should beware of combining two colors unless they are in perfect harmony, for the result may be vastly different from what the hands of an exed on the concluding republican program. Prominent men sharing in the democratic wind up included William C. Rodford, secretary of Commerce at Tidahiri, Frank C. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, at Eastport, Judge John W. Wescott, attorney general of New Jersey, at Rockland and Bulbridge Colby, former national chairman of the progressive party in this city.

Tonight both sides claimed the election, the democrats by a plurality of 3,496 and the republicans by 45,960. Not before in recent years has so determined an effort been made to make a showing on the country at large which expects to find its political pulse in the Maine result next Tuesday. The big speakers from other states either have attacked or been employed in the defense of the administration of the only democrat who received Maine's electoral vote since Franklin Pierce was elected president in 1852.

An eleventh hour development was the shifting of the republican attack from the administration's foreign policy in particular to the tariff question.

At the campaign opening republican speakers, notably Theodore Roosevelt, bitterly assailed the president's conduct of international affairs. Democratic leaders, Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy; Newton Baker, secretary of war; William B. Wilson, secretary of labor and Thomas W. Gregory, attorney general, generally "stood pat" on the accomplishments of the administration and kept always to the front the prosperity and their claim that the president had kept the country out of war.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 9.—Henry Wood, a white man of Lake City, Arkansas, who escaped to Canada after murdering his wife, today received a commutation from Governor George W. Hays, reducing his punishment from electrocution to life imprisonment.

CIRCLE OF STEEL STEADILY PRESSES ON CENTRAL POWERS FROM ALL SIDES

With the French driving on toward the Russian taking Carpathian points, pressing on to Hungary, with Roumania on the east and Italy on the west pushing northward against Austria, with strong allied forces at Saloniki, Greece pitted against Bulgaria and the Teutonic forces; the right of the sea blocked to any of the ships of the central powers, an effective ring of iron is now drawn around Germany and her allies. This is most graphically illustrated by this map. Shaded countries in map are those that are at war with Germany.

LOCAL APPLICATION OF REVENUE BILL

Manager Charles Popenoh, of the local Western Union office, was yesterday notified to cease collecting the one cent revenue tax which has been levied on telegrams since December 1, 1914. The same tax has been abolished on long distance calls and many other things, as a result of the provisions of the bill recently enacted by Congress, and Wichitans who have had to fish for pennies, or buy revenue stamps ever yime they used the long distance telephone, sent a telegraph message, recorded a deed, made a that expense or trouble.

By Associated Press. New York, Sept. 9.—An application before the supreme court today revealed that Jacques Lebaudy, self styled "emperor of the Sahara," has refused to accept the sum of $135,189 for all that is left of his unique empire in the heart of the African desert.

Superintendent Clark has an exceedingly busy week in store for him before the school opening, having within that time to complete the redistricting of the city.

One of the intended improvements was the building of a new school across the Valley tracks but on account of the increase in the cost of the Travis school and the high school addition the figures originally set aside by the board it is highly probable that this building will have to be for some time.

Billy Goat Proves Real Protector for Family of Sheep

Gainesville, Tex., Sept. 9.—Roy T. Potter, cashier of the Lindsay National Bank of this city, has a billy goat which he prizes higher than he would a diligent shepherd.

Potter has a flock of Shropshire sheep on his farm ten miles south of this city, which has suffered intensely lately from depredations of sheep-killing dogs, several fine specimens of the flock having been slain by nomadic curs. Potter was advised by a well known sheep raiser of the county to procure a big billy goat and place him with the flock as a protector against depredations of dogs. The goat was secured and placed in the flock last week and on Saturday night three large dogs appeared on the scene and attacked the sheep. The goat went to the rescue and attacked the dogs viciously causing each of them to turn on the goat and wage a terrific fight.

The bleating of the goat and the yelping of the dogs attracted the attention of a farmer who lived some distance away and he seized his gun and hastened to the scene. Before he reached the combatants the dogs threw the goat to the ground and were making short work of him when the farmer opened fire on them, killing all the dogs, but Billie came out of the mix-up bleating and butting the dead canines as he had in the beginning of the contest. Though badly wounded by the attack of the dogs it is thought he will recover.

Potter will now add a few more billy goats to his flock to help the original billy protect the sheep and himself as well.

BOY SCOUTS ARE HAVING A TIME

TROOP NO. 1 REPORTS A MOST ENJOYABLE TIME AT MEDICINE PARK, OKLA.

AN AUTOMOBILE TRIP

Party is in Charge of Scout Master, S. P. Sproles and Numbers Near Twenty.

By Eugene Douglas, Scout Reporter, Medicine Park, Okla., Sept. 9.—The Wichita Falls Boy Scouts, Troop No. One are learning the pleasures and profits of campcraft at their camp at Medicine Park, Okla. After a brief

"camping in" in Wichita Falls, while waiting for the weather men to play the part of a good scout, a more extended "camping out" is being enjoyed to the fullest at Camp Thomas at beautiful Medicine Park. The trip was made in automobiles, chauffeured by Scoutmaster S. P. Sproles, Mrs. H. F. Cauble and Paul Rutledge. Since their arrival they have had a continuous round of good times. Fishing, swimming, hiking, mountain climbing, sniping, pranking, eating, playing all kinds of games, sleeping, all the enjoyments of camping are combining to make it a worth while occasion. What this outing means to the boys can no better be expressed than in the following from the Boy Scout Handbook: "Camp life means to live under canvas, away from the piles of brick and stone that we generally call our cities. It means to be in the open air, to breathe pure oxygen, to sleep upon a bed of boughs beside the trail; to hear the whisper of the trees from amidst the fragrance of the couch of boughs; to look at the camp fire and the stars when the sun has set, to ply the oar or wield the paddle in the moonlight, to give in the cool waters of the lake or river at the dawn; to eat the plain, substantial food of the forests and the wilds, with delicacy of the fish and fruit which they afford; and to come-heart to heart with nature in constant communion with the woods, the mountains and streams—all this is camping and all this is good. But the camp affords a better opportunity than this. It offers the first method for a boy's education. Between the ages of 12 and 15 years the interests of a boy are general and reach all the way from the catching of minnows and tadpoles to finding God in the stars. Each day brings him new discoveries, and each night sends him back to his camp bed with an unspeakable joy tugging at his heart. A summer spent like this puts red blood in the boy's veins, a glow of health to his cheek, the hardness of steel to his muscles and sinews and fits him for the struggle of the school or the shop that is going to test his endurance during the long winter months. Those in the camping party are: Scoutmaster Sproles, Assistant Scoutmaster Watkins; Coyote Patrol, Robt. Stayton, Paul Rutledge, Ray Patton, Paul Pond, Bernie Ross, Clyde Bartlett, James Terrill; Tiger Patrol, Cedric Hamlin, Frank Cauble, Norman Downing, Forest Shelton, Eugene Douglas, Frank Nicholson; Mascot True Cauble. The boys expect to return to Wichita Falls the first of this week.

SEYMOUR IS POSITIVE IN ELIMINATING NEGROES
(Seymour Banney)
One of the greatest crowds ever gathered at the court house, and one of the greatest it is possible to be gathered in the district court room, assembled Saturday afternoon to pass upon the question of whether or not Baylor county wanted the negro back again. All the seats were taken and about 100 were standing at the doors. Hon. D. F. Goss was selected chairman of the meeting. From the beginning there could be no doubt how sentiment was running and conviction was still stronger when the speaking began. Only three speeches were made, all against the negro coming back. They were frequently inter-standing vote was taken on the question of whether or not it was the sentiment of the body as favoring the negro as a citizen of Baylor county. Practically the entire audience stood on the side unfavorable to the negro.

A few supporters of the other side were present at the beginning of the meeting but most of them left before the vote was taken. The crowd that voted was for the most part farmers and laboring men. Many land owners were present and a few business men were there. So far as can be learned, the action taken has been accepted as final, at least for the present. Dr. J. W. DuVal was called to Throckmorton yesterday on professional business.

CHINESE MUST LOOK TO JAPAN

FORMER COUNTRY IS DEPENDENT ON LATTER FOR MONEY FOR GOVERNMENT.

JAPAN ASKS POWER

Wants Inspectors in the Chinese Military Schools and Other Concessions.

By Associated Press. Peking, Sept. 9.—In addition to demand for police power in southern Manchuria and Mongolia as one of terms of the settlement of the incident at Chin Chautau in eastern Mongolia, Japan, it was learned in government in government circles today, also has secretly suggested to China military schools would be highly desirable. The Chinese press says the granting of Japanese demands would mean the abandonment of Chinese sovereignty in inner Mongolia and in south Manchuria.

China's dependency upon Japan for money, it is maintained in semi-official quarters, renders her unable to ignore either the Japanese demands or suggestions unless financial assistance is found elsewhere.

Wang Hung Nien, the Chinese commissioner, who was sent to investigate the incident in which several Japanese and Chinese soldiers were killed in a clash between troops of two garrisons, returned to Peking and reported that the trouble began with a street fight between a Japanese civilian and Chinese soldiers. Japanese soldiers tried to force their way into the Chinese barracks to arrest the soldier, whereupon firing began.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE FALL OF A NATION"
TO SHOW THIS WEEK

In the skillful blending of thrills, laughter, and some touches of pathos, though the latter element is small in proportion of the other two, "The Fall of a Nation" manifests the ingenuity of its author and producer, Thomas Dixon.

"The Fall of a Nation" shows our America invaded by a vast and efficient foreign army. Its propaganda is preparedness and its great mission, we believe, is to entertain, to thrill, to be deserving praise for nothing else, and surely he does, the author and producer of "The Fall of a Nation" should be highly commended for giving us a film of the propaganda type that is entertaining. "The Fall of a Nation" holds one's attention all the time.

"The Fall of a Nation" is entirely worthy of being classed with the greatest contributions of all classes to preparedness program. This it does by showing just what all the United States could expect were these shores invaded when the military affairs of the country are in their present condition.

The mother whose son and husband are killed by the filthy and brutal enemy finds a consolation in the unflinching utterance from the unbecoming bride advocate and so too, do all the characters in the story who oppose preparedness before the play comes to an end. But much more strength than the story is the production. That is if the story is to be considered in all its various phases. If at time one ceases a lack of sincerity that fact can not detract from the power of the thrilling moments and the humorous ones. In relieving the tension the hat the scenes create with these humorous incidents Mr. Dixon used expert judgment.

Mr. Dixon knows how to play up to the emotions of his audience. "The Fall of a Nation" takes hold of the spectator's interest and not once in the course of its prologue showing the beginning of the nation, and its two acts, of the fall and rescue respectively, does the picture relax its grip.

"The Fall of a Nation" comes to the Wichita theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday night with matinees on Friday and Saturday. Seats ready Tuesday at the Rexall Drug store.

CARTER DE HAVEN STAR
AT THE GEM MONDAY

"From Broadway to a Throne" is the feature at the Gem Monday and Carter De Haven plays the role of Battling Jimmie, prize fighter who stepped as the heir of a throne in distant Europe. Carter De Haven's name has grown to have a magnificent attraction for the motion picture fan. Probably no player in motion pictures has gained so large a following in so short a time as the diminutive-complexioned whose methods are as unique as his appearance. He is never obvious, and he is never vulgar, but his fun is of the spontaneous order which makes the "tired business man" forget his troubles and take as all out of ourselves while his pictures are being run. De Haven has appeared in Red Feather productions before, and his pictures have always "gone big" and there is good reason to think that the present one will beat the record. From Broadway to a throne is quite a jump, but Battling Jimmie accomplishes it safely. How he gets back again is the surprise, and it is such an unexpected one that it is a shame to spoil it by telling it before hand. The story is by W. J. Bowman, who also produced the picture, and the adaptation for the screen was made by E. J. Clifton. It will be somewhat of a shock to De Haven's admirers who are used to seeing him in the very glaze of fashion and the mold of form to behold him in the strictly utilitarian garments of a world's light-weight champion. But later far as you like," said De Haven, who on his blossoming first all the forenoon of the crown prince of Magnolia, one of these convenient countries which exist solely for the use of novelists and playwrights. To be sure, he wears his shako blind side before, drapes his sword belt around his many form in the wrong way, and commits other sartorial solecisms but his gorgeousness remains undimmed all the same. A very real prize fight is a feature of the first part of the story. Battling Jimmie meets a real fighter, Jockey Pierce, by name who at one time rode for James Keene. Jimmie is knocked out at the end of the bout, and the feature had to be rehearsed many times in order to reach the standard of realism demanded by Director Bowman. All the time De Haven had to entertain Pierce, and he decided that he spent at least a third of his salary bribing the "japs" with dimers, and the cigar men to make the punch too real-life in the numerous rehearsals. "Before the camera you can go as far as you like," said De Haven, who on his blossoming first all the forenoon of the crown prince of Magnolia, one of these convenient countries which exist solely for the use of nov-

"DESTINY'S TOY" AT THE EMPRESS WEDNESDAY

Edgar Allen Poe painted a terrible word picture of the terrors of a man who believed that he is being buried alive. But the sufferings of that man were only momentary compared to those of the man who has voluntarily enfolded himself in a great mansion after the loss of his dear, beloved wife and child. It is the reported death of his family on a great ocean liner that drives the wealthy Mr. Carter to seek seclusion in "Destiny's Toy," a Famous Players production which is the attraction of the Paramount program at the Empress Wednesday. In this dramatic photoplay beautiful Louise Huff, who won such a personal success in the Famous Players' adaptation of Benjam Thompson's celebrated play, "The Old Homestead," makes her first appearance since winning a permanent place in that company's forces through her clever and appealing performance. John B. O'Brien is the author and director of the production, the exterior scenes of which were filmed on picturesque block island.

MARGUERITE CLARK STAR AT THE EMPRESS MONDAY

There comes a time in the life of every girl when she pictures herself a lovely lady and the object of some dashing, bold-knight's adoration. She shivers with apprehension at the thought of the burly villain into whose clutches she falls, and then glows with maidenly pride as she pictures her lover rushing to her rescue. So it is with every imaginative boy. From playing burglar, cowboy and soldier, he graduates to the warrior hold of the days of old and prances forth in his imaginary blazing armor to do battle with dragons and roving knights, for the hand of a lady fair "Silks and Satins" the delightfully charming romance in which, little Marguerite Clark is being starred by the Famous Players Film Company on the Paramount program is a reflection of every youthful dream that was ever dreamed. For in this thrillingly breath-taking and exciting picture, the feature at the Empress Monday dainty little Miss Clark is transported to the romantic days of the past through the medium of an old diary which she finds on the eve of her intended wedding to Felix Breton.

VAUDEVILLE TO OPEN SEPT 19 AT WICHITA

Orpheum vaudeville is coming and coming soon. Tuesday, September 19 is the date and one has but to glance over the list of acts offered to know that never before in the history of TEXAS has there been seen a bill of such talented ability. Everybody knows Orpheum vaudeville. If they have never had the pleasure of witnessing a performance they have surely heard of it and now that it is coming here they will have an opportunity of seeing the greatest stars selected from the variety world. The best week's bill Manager Scott Whiting & Burt headline the list with Homer Miles & Company a close second. The "Five Antwerp Girls" are the extra added attraction, while the Tuscan Bros. will keep the audience on tip toes. Then comes Fay, Elkins & Fay, Baird and Henslee and as a fitting close the management offers Rice, Sully & Scott.

Now then here is a bill of all stars. Not one is anything short of a headliner. Each is an artist that does things and the management declares this program to be the best ever sent to the state. The seat sale will go on at the Rexall Drug Store Friday morning at 9 o'clock and Manager Scott Dan urges folks to get theirs early to avoid disappointment.

TRIANGLE PROGRAM AT WICHITA THEATRE MONDAY

Tomorrow at the Wichita Theatre, the management offers a brand new Triangle Play called "The Market of Hearts Desire" and is presented to the public with the guarantee that no picture in recent years contains as much heart's interest nor thrilling scenes as depicted in this new Triangle.

The cast is superb. All of the Triangle stars take leading roles and the production far surpasses anything yet attempted by these master directors.

"The Market of Hearts Desire" tells a great story. It is a play of right now and hold the audience in spellbound interest throughout. A new comedy will also be shown called "The Two O'clock Train" and for laughs fairly excels start promptly at 1 and continue until 10:30.

VITAGRAPH FEATURE AT THE MAJESTIC TUESDAY

The new Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, "The Lights of New York" to show at the Majestic Tuesday, gives Adele De Garde of that company excellent opportunity to re-statement herself as a young lady in the hearts of the public, where she has reigned supreme as the girl for many years. She plays the role of Poppy Brown, a "child of the streets" with no small amount of artistry and finished acting. Her interpretation of the character could not be improved upon and the winsome mouth which won fame and fortune for her as the child will retain those factors for her as the young lady. In many scenes her changing emotions are registered upon her countenance with that inborn artistry to be expected in famous women of the screen, but which must be marveled over in a young girl of her years. The shabby clothes seem to have instilled a real ization of the part into the mind of the artist for through the production her work is pleasing to the spectator and never once does she fail to make the most of the slightest opportunity. Particularly lovely is Miss De Garde with the little children in the nursery home. Her attitude toward the little ones is realistic and helps a great deal in making the picture to be typical of that phase of the life in the large metropolis.

VIOLET MERSEREAU AT THE MAJESTIC MONDAY

The fast spreading theory that criminals may be reformed by proper environment, while exaggerated, and amplified by better surroundings once their term has expired has been made a measure, the topic of a photoplay to be seen at the Majestic Monday.

"The Great Problem" is the title of the photoplay and clever Violet Mersereau is the star. In her story relates to attempt to reform a young girl, raised in crime to become a graduate pickpocket. The lawyer who has prosecuted the girl's father and sent him to prison for a long term makes the experiment. The total of the outcome is, at least, a mighty interesting photoplay. Violet Mersereau plays the role of the light fingered girl who gives herself a term in the luxurious home of lawyer Devereaux, when she might better have expected a solitary with the warden instead. In the transition from sodden squalor and crime to the delights of Brussels carpets and deep bath tubs, Miss Mersereau carries a fine vein of comedy, making many scenes in the photoplay contrast sharply with the melodramatic results in other sections. While the main point of the film is to make direct application to the newer treatments in criminology, it must not be supposed that crime and degradation are dominant forces in the shifting scenes—the crime element is only carried to a point of proper emphasis in making the subsequent events follow in logical sequence.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

QUESTION OF COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE WILL FEATURE MEETING MONDAY.

TO SELECT OFFICER

Already Sufficient Number of Names Have Been Secured Recommending Man for Place.

Steps to put the compulsory school attendance law into effect in this county will be taken tomorrow morning at a meeting of the county board of education, and it is probable that the appointment of an attendance officer will be decided upon. This may be done upon petition of 50 or more taxpayers and that many signatures had been obtained to a petition which was circulated Saturday.

The board also made the appointment of school funds and fill one vacancy, that caused by the removal of Lee Prescott from the precinct he represents. The other members of the board are E. A. Dale, W. F. George, H. Willis and S. L. Deady. County Superintendent R. M. Johnson will furnish the teachers with lists of the children of scholastic age that should attend their schools, giving the names of the parents, and failure of any child to attend for the prescribed time will be looked into. A number of schools have already opened, among them being those at Thurkburn and Iowa Park; the Electric school will open tomorrow.

If an attendance officer is named, it is probable that Probation Officer Shelton will be named to look after this work in addition to his duties as juvenile officer.

THOUSANDS LOOK AT WILSON IN MOVIES

New York, Sept. 9.—Motion pictures of the notification ceremonies at Shadow Lawn were shown yesterday and today in all the large film theaters in New York. The president in action, replying to the notification address of Senator Ollie James followed in many theaters the appearance of Candidate Hughes in pictures of his western tour. A great audience at the Strand gave Mr. Hughes a vigorous hand but kept up thunderous applause for fully five minutes during and after the appearance of the president on the screen. The Universal, Pathe and Mutual weeklies will present the president in more than 1000 theaters in and around New York.

IMPROVEMENTS AT COMPRESS

WHEN COMPLETED WILL BE ONE OF THE LARGEST PLANTS IN NORTH TEXAS.

TO MUCH EXPENSE

Company Plans to Attain a Higher Grade in Classification Next Year.

Extensive improvements which are now under way at the Northwestern Compress on Pevan street, will, when completed, make that plant one of the largest in North Texas, giving it a total capacity of 11,000 bales and insuring adequate facilities for the immense amount of cotton from Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma that is annually handled through this city.

The compress has already received about 5000 bales this season having put over 2000 through the press already, although the season is just beginning to fairly open up.

The improvements consist of new sheds and platforms, which will considerably more than double the capacity of the compress. An immense shed will have room for 300 bales and a big new platform, 250x100 feet, will have room for 3,000 more bales. In addition the sheds and platforms already in use will accommodate 5000 bales, a feature of the improvements is the construction of a heavy concrete fire wall, 250 feet long, dividing the shed. A six inch water main has been laid around the platform and sheds, reducing the fire danger.

A. L. Warren, manager of the compress, hopes to get into "Class B" next year, compresses being divided into Classes A, B, C and D, according to the precautions against fire. Class A is all but unattainable, but the next compress will be in the next class when the present and projected betterments are completed.

There will be only one compress running here this year, the press of the other plant having been sold to an Alton concern; the sheds and platforms are now part of the Northwestern's facilities. The compress is of more importance as an industry than many realize, employing as many as 150 men during the rush season, and keeping some of these at work all the year around, which is something few compresses do.

PANHANDLE IS TO HAVE NEW ROADS

Much Interest Manifested in Railroad Construction in That Part of State.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 9.—From the time the Santa Fe reached the Panhandle country until the present day there seems to be a quickened impulse upon the part of the management to extend its lines and build new ones wherever the increase in population seems to demand. As an empire builder, especially in the Panhandle country, the Santa Fe has been making rapid strides.

The latest information coming from Lubbock indicates that the general offices of the Crosby-South Plains railway, recently acquired by the Santa Fe system, will be moved to Lubbock, where other great improvements of moment are to be made soon. After the office of force and equipment has been moved.

Construction work on the Lubbock and Great Northern railway, to traverse a fine section of country between Lubbock and Hollis, Okla., and the contract on which was recently let to J. P. Nelson of San Antonio for $2,500,000, will be begun as soon as sufficient material and force are on the ground. This line is calculated to open up one of the best pieces of virgin country in the entire state of Texas and shorten the distance between Lubbock country points and Oklahoma by many miles.

Other lines in view in the Panhandle and western part of the state are figuring extensively upon extending their lines to territory which is now far removed from the usual means of commercial travel. Two railroads are racing toward Seminole, and before a town has been built plans have been laid for an upstart city at the terminus of one of the lines.

For several years railroad building in Texas has been a nonentity. Some railroads gave as excuse for the paucity of extension the fact that the increase of railroad rates has not kept pace with the big expenditures necessary and forced by the railroad commissions; others, that the sections of the state as yet untapped were too scantily populated and the trade from

PRIZES FOR A CITY BEAUTIFUL

INSPECTION BY THE VARIOUS DISTRICT CHAIRMEN WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK.

SPLENDID PROGRESS

Mrs. Boger, General Chairman, Gives Recent Evidence of Results of the Campaign.

Inspection of the city by the various district chairmen of the "City Beautiful" contest will begin next week preliminary to the awarding of the prizes which will be made October 10. This announcement was made Saturday by Mrs. T. K. Boger, general chairman.

The contest closed this week in all classes and several weeks of inspection and grading will be required to determine the winners. As usual handsome prizes are offered in each district for the various departments.

In discussing the progress made in the work of beautifying the town as a whole by the work of individuals, Mrs. Boger cited the recent effective campaign against the bag worm as one way in which the people and the authorities as well have done much. The trees which add so much to the appearance of a home and of a city were being threatened alarmingly by the pest which was eating the foliage and destroying the very life of the tree. Since the city council took steps toward it has almost been exterminated and the trees are much improved in appearance. Just at this time spraying will do no further good, Mrs. Boger says, as the worm has sealed itself up in a cocoon. However when fall comes and the leaves fall from the trees it will be advisable and even imperative that these sacks be pulled from the trees and burned. If not spring will find the worms evolved into a moth, flying from the tree to do further damage.

CALIFORNIA IS A WONDERFUL SHIP

Will Be the Most Formidable of All Warships of the United States Navy.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—Besides being an electrical marvel, the new super-dreadnought California, which is to have her keel laid probably some time this month, at Mare Island Navy yard, will be as near impregnable to mine and torpedo attacks as it is possible to make a modern warship. The armor and other protection against these weapons have been worked out in the greatest detail and embody many novel features that are the result of careful study of naval engagements in the present European war.

When the contract for Battleship No. 44 was awarded to the Mare Island Navy yard the name "California" already had been given to Battleship No. 40 under construction at the New York Navy yard. Inasmuch as No. 44 was to be the largest warship to be built on the Pacific coast, the navy department directed that the name of the one to be built at California and the one building in New York should be named the New Mexico.

For some time before the plans for the California were made the navy department experts satisfied themselves by exhaustive tests that vessels of the proposed construction could not be sunk either by striking a mine or torpedo attack. It is understood that the construction of the bulkheads by improved methods is relied upon to make the vessel impervious to torpedo and mine destruction. They are to be steel but will not be rigid as is the case in other ships. Also resistance has been increased 25 to 30 per cent.

The main engines will be electric, the electric generators being driven by steam turbines of 28,000 horsepower, the steam supplied by oil burning water tube boilers. Not only the type of the machinery installation but its arrangements is said to be entirely different from any ever adopted for a previous warship.

for controlling the fire of the guns, similar to the familiar type designed by American constructors and now fitted on all battleships of the United States navy. Another feature of her appearance that immediately attracts attention is the clipper type of bow, instead of the convention ram.

The use of electricity throughout the vessel will be most extended in addition to the main propelling engines of the ship, the handling will be hoisted in and out, anchors raised, the vessel steered, and ventilating blowers operated by electricity.

Other minor machines—driven by electricity will be potato peeling, which is performed in a separate compartment, the machine having a capacity of 1,000 pounds per hour; ice cream freezing, complete laundry installation, printing machinery, food and meat grinder, kitchen and cake machine of 60-quart capacity, dough mixer of 2 barrels per hour, and a dish washing machine that will handle 1000 dishes per hour.

PLAN TEST WELL AT GRANDFIELD

Machinery is on the Ground For a New Well, Drilling to Start September 15

Grandfield, Okla., Sept. 9.—All machinery is on the ground and the derrick is completed on the A. J. Pruitt farm two miles northeast of Grandfield, where another oil test well will be sunk to a depth of 2,500 feet. The Princess Oil Co., has put up a $2,000 bond to guarantee the well to be drilled. Actual drilling will start on September 15. It is understood that the same drillers will work on the new well that drilled the well west of town. Formations in the test well west of town must be very promising or the oil companies would not be going so strong in wild cat drilling.

DAIRYMAN AGAIN ASK CHANGE IN MILK ORDINANCE

HOLD MEETING SATURDAY AFTERNOON — OUST EVERYBODY FROM HALL, INCLUDING STATE DEPARTMENT LECTURER.

POSITION EXPLAINED

Secretary Sets Forth Reasons For Opposition — "Peace Party" at Saturday Meeting Proves in Minority and Fight Will Continue.

Another effort will be made by the dairymen's organization to secure changes and concessions in the milk ordinance which becomes effective tomorrow. This was decided upon Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the dairymen at which the situation was gone over thoroughly and during which there seemed to be little evidence of any tendency to accept the ordinance as it now stands.

The ordinance becomes effective tomorrow, yesterday being the last day upon which permits might be taken out. Up to last night about a score of these permits had been issued, but most of the dairymen were still holding out.

Yesterday's meeting had been called for the Chamber of Commerce at 2:30, it being announced that the meeting of the dairymen would be in connection with the lecture to be delivered by J. C. Allen, lecturer for the state department of agriculture. Quite a number gathered at the appointed time, most of them being dairymen and the crowd became so large that it overflowed its quarters, and adjournment was taken to the I. O. O. F. hall on Seventh street, whither all repaired. After getting into that building, the dairymen proceeded to hold their meeting and presently one of them requested that all who were not dairymen absent themselves from the room. Mr. Allen and the handful of farmers who had come for his part of the meeting accordingly withdrew and Mr. Allen was unable to deliver his lecture.

Proceeding behind closed doors, the dairymen thrashed the proposition out with results as above set forth. Before the Times representative was excluded, some of the speakers who were inclined to accept the ordinance, declaring that it was not as burdensome as had been claimed.

"If you want to fight, go to Germany," was the way one speaker expressed it. He said that the state was back of the ordinance and that the dairymen would lose in the end. This speaker declared that the provision governing milking could be followed by building a small shed, sufficient to accommodate one or two cows at a time, and he also contended that the fees would not prove burdensome.

The next speaker, who was the one that demanded the exclusion of all except dairymen, took quite a different view and was distinctly for fighting without going to Germany.

"That city council made fun of us," he said, "when we went to them before. They had us written up in the papers, and I suspect there's some of those newspaper men here now and if they are I want 'em to get out."

The chairman sustained the desire and the press withdrew. From reliable sources, however, it was learned that the "peace" faction was decidedly in the minority at the meeting and that nearly all of those present wanted to resist the ordinance as far as possible. A committee, the personnel of which was not learned, was named to again take the matter up with the city council.

The attitude of the dairymen who are members of the organization has been explained by J. H. Carithers, secretary of the association, who yesterday issued a statement covering the matter from the dairymen's viewpoint. It follows:

"For the past few weeks there has been quite a little excitement regarding the attitude of the dairymen in reference to the milk ordinance. As their secretary, in behalf of the dairymen, I will say they do not object to any reasonable demand of the city as to purity of milk, cleanliness, proper handling, etc., but they do not quite relish some of the demands made of them by the city inspector. It has been suggested by some of the city people interested in this matter that those who are not able to equip themselves to comply with the requirements of the city, should quit the dairy business. Now from a standpoint of justice, is that right? We have long since boasted of our free country and our liberty and the people, the most humble man in the country does not like to be deprived of the privilege and pleasure of taking care of his cows. It is not the city, but the law of the land, that is to blame for this situation. If by choice or force of circumstances he happens to choose this for an avocation, would it not be just as reasonable on the principle of the same thing, to tell the small merchant, because he can not have his store look as well as the larger ones, that he must quit business."

"The dairymen think it unjust of the city to require them to build barns, especially on rented places. They also think it unjust of one dollar per place a direct tax on the city with an article which they produce, when the merchants of the city pay no occupying tax to buy an article. One dollar within itself is a small item, but the principle is the same as if it had been placed at $50 instead of one. The dairymen also object to the paying one dollar per head to the city for testing their cows for tuberculosis which is within itself an indirect tax. Now if it were an absolute fact that this test for this dreaded disease proves anything helpful the case would be different, but these things are disputed in the medical and scientific world. No substantial fact, however, I will quote some phrases from the address of Mr. A. L. Brockway of Syracuse, New York, vice president and chairman of the finance committee of the Holstein Friesian Association of America, and speaking before the Holstein Friesian Breeders' Club of Maryland:

"The tuberculosis test originated in Germany," says Mr. Brockway, "and it has been abandoned in Germany. After Dr. Koch made this discovery they jumped to a lot of conclusions that it was the most wonderful thing, and going to be a sure indication of tuberculosis, and if a cow had it she was not a safe proposition, and now," said Mr. Brockway, "experience has proved that all of these assertions are not justified. In other words here is Dr. Hermann Biggs, head of the German Veterinary State of New York, Dr. Moore, dean of Agriculture College at Cornell University, the veterinarians in the Indiana Agricultural College, and Italy and in Germany, where they carried out great series of experiments only to prove that the original conclusions they drew from the tuberculin test have not been justified. A cow may not react to the tuberculin test and still be a general case of tuberculosis. She may be so permeated with it that the tuberculin will have no effect and she goes through with a normal temperature and in six months she may break down physically. Therefore, Germany no longer uses the tuberculin test. They test the milk, the manure and the saliva for the infection. Oftentimes an inspector is incompetent to administer a tuberculin and the cow may become infected when the test is given. A cow may react to the tuberculin and not be giving off the tubercle bacilli and be in no way a dangerous cow. Around 95 per cent of the carcasses of cows that react to the tuberculin test, and are condemned, are sold as surplus to the state and federal inspectors and are given as pure food for human consumption. And further the records show that there are only about six in the whole world where a human being has contracted tuberculosis from the cow."

"Now, why should Wichita Falls be alarmed over the situation? Should the dairymen have to pay this inspection fee, which will amount to most twice as much as the state and county taxes? Just recently Birmingham, Ala., had over 600 cases of typhoid fever in the city and in their search for the trouble they drained the reservoirs, and this is what the people were drinking water out of. We have dead cows and the bodies of six human beings. Who knows what is in the big lake out here, that covers several thousand acres, and the only water supply of the city? Why is so much war made on milk when people have been drinking it for hundreds of years and the human race is not all dead yet? The ordinance as it reads, calls for the inspection of milk and milk products, but in the enforcement of the law the burden is all upon the sweet milk people. The man who sells butter goes free and handles his product in any way he sees fit. He might have typhoid fever, tuberculosis, or any contagious diseases on his place, and yet the inspector never goes about him so long as he sells only butter, and it is a fact that disease germs can be distributed in butter as well as in sweet milk."

"Now is this right? Is it justice to the sweet milk man? Would it not seem more practical and would it not be safer for the people of Wichita Falls for each dairyman to leave a sample of his milk with the city inspector once a week, or once a month, as the board of health might see fit, and let this milk be tested for purity, instead of forcing some out of business and others to lots of expense, and still taking quite a chance as to the quality of milk the public is using? The dairymen are only asking for what they think is right."

"Dr. Brockway terms this 'scare about milk hysteria' and says it has greatly crippled the milk business of the country, in as much as there are so many erroneous statements made in regard to the impurity of milk."

"Now in conclusion I will say that we do not object to having our milk tested for purity, and our premises inspected, but we do object to the direct taxation of one dollar, to the holding of new barns, and the paying of one dollar to the city for the testing of our cows for tuberculosis."

James Stringer will enter the junior department of the Terrill School for boys at Dallas.

Schools out of the state have claimed nearly as many as the Texas institutions, some of the students going quite a distance from home.

What Mitchell Extra Would You Have Us Omit?

The Mitchell is the car of extras. They are due to John W. Bate, the efficiency engineer—due to his factory economies and his zeal for perfection. Come see them. Then decide for yourself if there is one which you would have omitted.

In the Mitchell equipment there are 26 extras, of which no other car has more than two or three.

In the Mitchell chassis there are 440 parts which are either drop forged or steel stamped. Castings are almost eliminated.

There are many oversize parts, to attain the Bate standard of 50% over-strength. There are many parts built of Chrome-Vanadium steel, costing up to 15 cents per pound.

In the Mitchell bodies—open and closed—the beauties and luxuries of the finest cars are combined.

Come study these cars in detail. Then say for yourself if Bate-built cars deserve the place they hold.

50% Over-Strength

Mr. Bate's standard for every part is at least 50 per cent over-strength. And every part in the Mitchell meets it.

There is no uncertainty on this. He has used up fifty cars in proving strength requirements. And his tests showed when he met them.

Another Bate idea for years has been to make this a lifetime car. Now it evidently is. One Bate-built car has run 218,000 miles. Seven have averaged 175,000 miles each—over 30 years of ordinary service.

Studied 257 Cars

This year our designers, under Mr. Bate, have created seven new-style bodies. Three are open bodies, two are all-season bodies, and two are winter cars.

Before designing these bodies, our artists examined 257 late models, European and American. This to make sure that the Mitchell omitted no attraction known. Each Mitchell body has at least twenty features which no like-type body has.

You will see in the Mitchell luxurious bodies another idea of efficiency.

Won Experts' Respect

This Bate-built car, all the world over, has won the respect of experts. Every Mitchell showroom has a list of great engineers—men of nation-wide fame—who have bought it.

We urge you to learn the reasons. Some of them are conspicuous. Some of them appear at once in the car's performance. All of them will be gladly pointed out.

"This Bate efficiency which the Mitchell exemplifies is a major fact to consider. It means, for one thing, 20 per cent extra value. It means twice-as-long service and twice-as-good service as careless methods offer.

The new bodies are now on show. MITCHELL MOTORS COMPANY, Inc. Racine, Wis., U. S. A.

Know the Bate Idea

Factory economy is only one side of efficiency. But it's a vital side.

In this model factory, built and equipped by Mr. Bate, our factory costs have been cut in two. That is what pays for the Mitchell extras. No car like this could be sold at this price if built as most cars are built.

But John W. Bate's ideas of efficiency go very much further than that.
