

SCHOOL OPENS WITH A LARGE ENROLLMENT

TERM BEGINS UNDER MOST FAVORABLE AUSPICES, WITH CROWDED CONDITION OVERCOME AT WARD BUILDINGS.

EXERCISES HELD

Number of Visitors Were Present and Encouraging Talks Were Made by Prominent Citizens Interested in School Work.

Enrollments in the Wichita Falls public schools today reached almost the 2,000 mark, comparing with an enrollment of 2,447 pupils at the close of the first month last year.

The high school opening was marked by a special program in chapel before settling down to the routine school work.

The exercises were opened by the singing of America by the schools and an invocation by Rev. N. F. Grafton.

Rev. E. P. Walters of the First Christian Church was present and spoke. J. W. Tallent of the Rotary Club and H. F. Johnson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told the students of the prizes which were to be offered by these organizations to the students in public and extemporaneous speaking, and spoke encouragingly to the boys and girls.

A few of the teachers were designated for various reading at the opening last week to be present for enrollment. All of these are now here.

Miss Mary Wilkes of Lebanon, Tenn., had been assigned to the Lincoln school for the next two weeks. Miss Hesse Stewart, principal of the San Jacinto school, who has been delayed at account of the illness of her sister, has resumed her duties.

Miss Anderson acted as principal during the enrollment and examination at the school. Miss W. Green of the Springs also arrived this morning and has been assigned to the Sam Houston school.

Conditions at the high school are going to be crowded to a degree this year, the enrollment this morning would indicate. There were more than 100 who came into the high school from the seventh grades of the ward schools and in addition there are other entirely new pupils as mentioned last June.

The other schools are able to care for the increased attendance very comfortably, reports from the various wards this afternoon indicate.

El Paso, Sept. 18.—A small band of Villistas made a Hidalgo Bay attack on Guerrero, 80 miles west of Chihuahua City but were repulsed and fell back across the line of the Mexican Northern Pacific railway toward the foothills.

Recent reports received here have indicated that American cavalry scout patrols have been operating between Guerrero and Namsamito. The patrols were sent out from El Valle, the southernmost American base in the zone, to report that Villa himself was leading the bandit band in that zone.

It was not considered probable that American patrols would encounter the bandits, who probably are making for secret lairs in the hills.

WARE FOUND DEAD IN HENRIETTA JAIL

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF MRS. MURREL ON PATTON FARM NEAR JOLLY.

HAD BEEN TRIED

Jury Failed to Agree and Defendant Was Held for a Second Trial.

Tom Ware, charged with the murder of Mrs. Murrel, wife of a prosperous farmer living on the B. H. Patton place near Jolly, several months ago, and who has been confined in the Henrietta jail since that time, was found dead in his cell Sunday morning, his jugular vein and the main arteries of both arms having been severed. A piece of blood-stained glass was found on the floor near the body and it is thought this was used in inflicting the fatal wounds.

Ware, who was about 60 years of age, and who had been employed on the Murrel place, shot and killed Mrs. Murrel with a shot gun, following a disagreement that he had with members of the family in connection with a trip that had been planned for that date. He was indicted by a Clay county grand jury soon after the crime and later was tried before Judge Bonner of the 50 district court at Henrietta, the jury failing to reach an agreement.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE VALLEY ROAD

Begin Work This Morning Laying Heavier Steel and Will Use Larger Engines.

A large crew of men this morning began taking up the light steel on the Wichita Valley and replacing it with 70-pound rails. The work will be pushed the first fourteen miles between this point and Holliday, within the next thirty days. As the heavier steel is put down the new track will be ballasted with gravel and cinders. Bigger engines are being put into service on the Valley and the heavier trains being hauled make these improvements necessary. With the completion of the improvements, faster train service, as well as all round better accommodations will be put in service to Abilene, Haskell and Stamford and other Valley points. In the words of Superintendent O. E. Maer, the Valley has come to life.

AGRICULTURAL MEN TO MEET AT WACO

A. K. Short of the Denver, to Be in Attendance—To Promote Dairy Interests.

A. K. Short, agricultural agent for the Denver at this place, left today for Waco, where he will meet with the other railroad agricultural agents of Texas, and representatives of the bankers and the state, to discuss ways and means whereby the bankers can help to promote dairying and the raising of dairy cattle among the farmers and dairy men of the state.

Mr. Short has just returned from Amarillo where he was judge of the farm products exhibits of the Panhandle State fair at the same time last week. Another Wichita attending the Panhandle fair was Dr. J. T. Traylor, city food and dairy inspector, who was one of the officials in the race meet held in connection with the fair.

Both these gentlemen are very enthusiastic in their praise of the Amarillo fair and are anxious for the day to come when Wichita Falls will be put on a big scale. Mr. Short has been appointed judge of the boy's corn club contest organized by the extension department of A. & M. College at the Texas State fair at Dallas.

PLANS INSIGNIA FOR AUTO CLUB

Secretary Thomas Has Design Which Meets Approval of Many of Members.

John W. Thomas, secretary of the new automobile club, has designed an insignia for the new club which is meeting with the favor of all members who have seen it. The design is possibly not quite finished, it shows that it will afford a very attractive insignia for the member's ears. The basic part of the design is similar to that of the A. A. A. which is two superimposed tires, in the central space marked out by these tires it is proposed to mount a profile of a Wichita Indian head, while the outside rim of the tires will carry the name of the organization, Wichita County Automobile club.

Quite a few members are not in favor of affixing with the A. A. A. They point out that the annual cost of such an affiliation will be one dollar per member, and as they already have more than two hundred members and expect to get two thousand, they think the cost would be out of proportion to the benefit received. They say that they think it would be better to make it just a local affair and devote the money to local use. Either a director's meeting or a general meeting of the membership will probably be called within the next few days, when the question will be finally passed on.

The membership committees of the club were out "bitting the ball" again this morning, and report meeting with gratifying results. However, the official reports for the day have not been received as yet and an accurate estimate of the number of additions during the day is not available.

IS TO ENCOURAGE POULTRY RAISING

Secretary Johnson of Chamber of Commerce Calls Attention to Its Possibilities

Wichita county farmers and suburban residents of Wichita Falls are to make their places pay extra profits in the scientific raising of poultry and eggs, says J. F. Johnson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The profits being made by other farmers, and even city residents, from a small poultry plant are almost unheard of, Mr. Johnson said. The following from this morning's Fort Worth Record illustrates what is meant.

"Pessimists and calamity howlers, listen to this story of a Tarrant county farmer and cheer up. 'Most people are naturally attracted to an investment that brings in a modest 100 per cent on a year's investment, although prone to doubt the existence of such.'

"However, it's true, W. T. Thomas, president of the Tarrant County Poultry Association made after all expenses had been deducted, a net yearly profit of $350 on 200 hens. With the high price of feed and other poultry necessities, this is considered something of a record by association members.

"What this Tarrant county farmer has done, anyone in Wichita county can do as well with only a small outlay and a little extra work. I am in constant communication with a party who will establish a poultry farm in the county in the near future, for which there should be bright future. Buy much of the best profitably on raising are made by small flocks on the farm or suburban lot. I will be glad to help start anyone who is interested."

ATHLETICS TO BE STARTED TUESDAY

Organization Was Postponed Today On Account of Work of School

Owing to the rush of the opening days of school and the consequent occupation of both teachers and pupils the meeting for the formation of the athletic association and the call for candidates for the football squad has been postponed until Tuesday, Sept. 19, until immediately after school tomorrow afternoon. In addition to the backbone of last year's squad which have reentered school, a number of busy youngsters who are new in the school, and who look to be likely material for the squad, showed up for registration this morning, and the prospects for a red letter year on the gridiron for the local school are even brighter than was anticipated.

Of course high school athletics are never entirely self-supporting, although almost so. One of the most important things that could be done to assure the Wichita Falls High School taking its place on a par with other high schools in the state of the same time would be the financial support by the board. The board has, however, already expressed an intention of doing something in this line for the boys.

The importance of athletics in the school activities is being more appreciated every year by the school boards of the most progressive centers, and the most progressive cities of the state are looked on as a back number. The promised action of the state.

FRY INDICTED IN TWO MORE CASES

Young County Grand Jury Returns Bill of Forgery and for Carrying Revolver.

District Attorney Leslie Humphrey has returned from Graham, where he has been attending the Young county district court. The criminal docket was completed there last week. In three cases suspended sentences were given by the fourth case, a perjury trial, the jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Two additional indictments were returned against E. W. Fry, former county judge. One charged him with carrying a revolver on the night that Court House Guard Cherrylones was shot. The other charged him with forgery. This indictment was similar to the others that have been returned. The case was sent to Clay county.

The next cases against Fry will be tried in Archer county, at the next session of the district court at Archer City. Mr. Humphrey's said this morning that published reports that other indictments against Fry had been dismissed and an agreement made to try only one case were untrue.

Beginning today the traction company has discontinued the fifteen minute service to the lake and during the fall and winter months trips will be made hourly by cars leaving the city on the hour. The last car returning will leave the pavilion at 6:45 p. m.

The change in the schedule results from the ending of the summer season and the fact that there is but little travel to and from the lake during the fall and winter months.

BLUE RIBBON FEATURE AT MAJESTIC TUESDAY

No effort was spared by Director Tice in the new Blue Ribbon Feature, "The Conflict" to show at the Majestic tomorrow. From the beginning to the end of the production, excellent acting, settings and light effects are in evidence. The script called for a number of lavish interiors—the suite of dressing rooms where a great deal of action takes place, speak for themselves of the interior decorator's efforts—the drawing room in the mansion, the boudoir of the wealthy woman—each and every one is all that could be desired. Miss Lucille Lee Stewart, as Madeleine Turner, becomes one of the highest theatrical stars of the day. Her dressing room at the theatre gives the audience their impression of the enormity of her salary. The furniture is white enamel of the highest quality. The walls are covered with a most attractive paper—wide black stripes entwined with rose wreaths. The rug is a pale pink velvet, and the hangings are of white and cream with a rose design.

Victor Moore, comedian in "The Clown" is to be the Paramount feature attraction today at the Empress.

BRADY FEATURE AT EMPRESS TUESDAY

Muriel Ostriche and Caryle Blackwell are stars of "Sally in Our Alley" a Brady picture on the program at the Empress tomorrow. The synopsis follows:

Sally McGill, a little Irish girl, brought up in a particularly sordid section, is compelled to carry support for her entire family. Ben Blaney, the young foreman where she works loves little Sally. Mrs. Rockwell, wealthy and childless, finds joy in taking a limited number of the poorest children to her country home each summer, and she selects those whom she will take. While visiting the lower East side, she is introduced to Sally and impulsively asks her to go along to warn her board and keep by caring for and helping with the children. Sally is overjoyed. Ben Blaney, however, proposes to Sally and is rejected. Mrs. Rockwell's niece, Isabelle is jealous of Sally and takes violent dislike to her. Sally's ambitions is to become a refined lady like those about her, and she is attracted to Paul Taylor, but knows she is inferior to him. Isabelle succeeds in having Sally discharged. She then goes to work in a millinery store where she has opportunities to learn the refined ways she so admires, and joins a library to study on this subject. Mrs. Rockwell, in need of a maid, seeks little Sally out and offers her the position, and she again meets Paul, who proposes to her on her way home one evening, but she realizing the great social gulf between them does not accept. Later, she tells him he must never see her again. She leaves Mrs. Rockwell's employment to become an artist's model and because she pledged Mrs. Rockwell to secrecy about her address, Paul goes to her mother, who, believing there is a possibility of a rich marriage, gives him Sally's address. Paul goes to her home, standing in the doorway for a chat. Ben sees them just as Paul is embracing Sally and in a rage strikes Paul down. Later when Ben learns that Paul has asked for Sally in marriage, he tells Sally that they are not made of the same clay and that she has outgrown "Pigtail Alley" and that she will be happy with Paul. She goes to Paul and he holds her in his arms and finishes the sentence he started in the morning. Ben interrupted. "When do we start for South America?"

STONE-GOULD WEDDING TAKES PLACE SUNDAY

Sunday, September 17 at 1 o'clock John (Gould), of the Times staff and Miss Della Stone, ward of Judge R. E. Huff, were united in marriage at the home, 1128 Brook. The ceremony being performed by the Rev. R. C. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church and witnessed by a few intimate friends of the young people. An altar of palms and roses was arranged in the drawing room and here the bride and groom took their place while the solemn words of the ring ceremony were pronounced. The bride and groom came unattended down the stairs through the hall and to the altar to the strains of the wedding march by Mrs. Ben Bell.

The bride wore her traveling suit, a tailored model of brown broadcloth trimmed in natural beaver with shoes of the same color and all accessories to correspond. Her hat was in harmonizing shades, ostrich trimmed and she carried an immense sheaf bouquet of bride's roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and punch served in the music room by Misses Lillian Sproule and Ola Mae Hamlin. The gifts received by the young couple were on display in the dining room although there had been no invitations issued, other than informal ones to the more intimate friends of the contracting parties, and no previous announcement had been made save this. The gifts were numerous and handsome, bespeaking the interest attached to the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould left shortly after the ceremony for Galveston, Austin, Waco and other Texas points on a short wedding trip.

The bride has been a member of the Huff family for a number of years and is known as one of the most charming girls of the city. She is a singer of much accomplishment and possesses an exceptionally attractive personality. The groom has been with The Times for the past six years, first as city editor and more recently in the capacity of managing editor. The many friends of both young people are uniting in congratulations.

BECAUSE THE ROSE MUST FADE.

Because the rose must fade,
Shall I not love the rose?
Because the summer shade
Passes when winter blows,
Shall I not rest me there
In the cool of it?

Because the sunset sky
Makes music in my soul,
Only to fall and die,
Shall I not take the whole
Of beauty that it gives
While yet it lives?

Because the sweet of youth
Doth vanish all too soon,
Shall I forget, forsooth,
To learn its lingering tune—
My joy to live in it
In those young eyes?

If, like the summer flower
Keeps music bath no power—
To live beyond its breath,
Then of this flood of song
Let me drink long!

Ah, yes, because the rose
Fades and the sun skies
Darken and winter blows
All bare, the music dies—
Therefore now is to me
Eternity!

AUTO DEALER HAS "SUSPICIOUS NEGRO" PLAN FOR WELCOME IS OUT-WITTED

Believes it Profitable to City to Extend the Glad Hand to All Tourists.

W. W. Coleman is intercepted as he Was En Route to Train Sunday Morning

A determined front displayed to a would-be negro hold-up saved W. W. Coleman from being robbed at a very early hour yesterday morning near the high school building while on his way to go off on the early morning Denver. As he passed an alley that runs into Eleventh, opposite the high school building, a negro came out of the alley a few feet in the rear of him and asked him to wait a minute. Mr. Coleman replied by quickening his pace a little. The negro followed and told him that if he would wait he would carry his trip. Mr. Coleman kept walking ahead, however, until he came to Broad street, here he set his suit case down, as if waiting for the car, and quickly opened it and took a pistol out at which the hold up man changed his direction.

Mr. Coleman left for Lindale, Smith county in response to a telegram from his brother telling of the death of their father, W. D. Coleman, 64 years of age, at that place from a stroke of paralysis. Although the elder Coleman had suffered a slight stroke earlier in the year he was in the best of health, happily and his death was totally unexpected.

A suggestion for welcoming motorists has been offered by A. R. Cotton, local distributor of the Dort. Mr. Cotton points out the value of the passing motorist's trade to the business of a town and suggests that local business men get together and take action towards getting more of this business for Wichita Falls. Mr. Cotton says, "Motorists bring business to the towns they visit. They leave their money with the garage man, the hotel keeper, the druggist, the department store, the grocer, the meat market, in fact nearly every line of mercantile endeavor profits directly or indirectly through the motorist."

"In my own experience in touring I have always had a kindly feeling for the towns that have made me welcome. It is something more than merely pleasing to find at the entrance of a new town a large sign board with 'Welcome' on it and another board at the other end of town with 'Thank you, Come Again' or some similar expression of cordiality. I always want to stop in these towns to eat or to rest, or to buy supplies; because I feel that their townspeople are in sympathy with me as a motorist—and I believe that such is the feeling of every motorist."

"But even more can be done to welcome the motor traveler. Each business man and citizen should go out of his way to make the motorist feel welcome, whether this spirit is shown in the pleasantness with which you direct the stranger, or in any of the ways in which you can make his stay in your city agreeable. This spirit toward the motorist is growing and the towns that are cultivating it are profiting substantially."

"As a citizen of Wichita Falls, I am in favor of erecting some of these 'Welcome' boards in our city and I am ready to do my part in standing a portion of the expense of their construction."

"Politician, isn't he?" "Oh, no; he's a statesman." "Well, what's that difference?" "A statesman, my dear chap, is one who is in politics because he has money; a politician is one who has money because he is in politics."—Boston Transcript.

HOW FARMERS MAY FORM A NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION

The Times has received a copy of circular No. 2 issued by the Federal Farm Loan Board outlining how farmers may form a national farm loan association. The text of the circular follows:

Farmers want cheaper money. They ought to have it. The Federal Farm Loan Act aims to get it. The operation of this law is under the control of the Federal Farm Loan Board. The board is the head of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau which is under the treasury department at Washington, D. C.

The Federal Farm Loan Act provides a way of getting mortgage loans for farmers at low rates of interest. At lengths of time to suit the borrower, and on easy terms of repayment. All farmers have to do to form themselves into a national farm loan association: The government will do its part in helping them. Farmers can easily form loan associations as prescribed by the law. Let us see how this may be done.

Farmers Only Need Apply. Ten farmers may unite to form a national farm loan association. That is the least number allowed, and farmers only can be members. If more than ten get together for this purpose, so much the better. But if only ten farmers want to apply, they may form an organization to borrow on farm mortgage that number satisfies the law.

Let us suppose these ten men are farm owners. They may all be close neighbors and know each other well. Yet they may live some distance from each other, though being in the same community. They may not know each other so well. But that makes no difference. They all have the same thing in view: to secure money on farm mortgages at 4, 5 or 6 per cent interest. They want the mortgages to run 5, 10 or 40 years, perhaps. They want to pay the mortgage debt off a little at a time. They know this will help them and so they get together.

Calling a Neighborhood Meeting. Now these 10 or more farmers in a community call a meeting. It may be held in a schoolhouse, a hall, a church, or in one of their houses most convenient for them all. When the farmers have come together, they discuss the subject informally and decide to form themselves into an association to borrow money on mortgage. They appoint a committee to draw up articles of association. These articles should set forth the object of the association and the territory within which it proposes to do business. They may follow a prescribed form furnished by the land bank, or it may be modified to suit the needs of the particular body of farmers. But nothing can be included in the articles of association that is contrary to the letter and spirit of the law which provides for the formation of such associations. The farmer who thus unites themselves into a national farm loan association then signs the articles. A copy of them is made to be sent to the federal land bank of the district within which the association is situated. When the articles of association are received by the land bank they are filed for record.

Appraising by a Loan Committee. A loan committee of three members must be appointed to pass on loans. A written report must be made by them after they have examined the lands. The committee examines the farms and farm lands for the purpose of appraising their value. The report of the loan committee, signed by all three members, must be sent to the land bank with the articles of association. All three members must sign their report. The report should state distinctly that the said committee had examined the lands and appraised their values. The lands and farms should be described and the value thereon stated which the members desire loans should be stated.

It is very important that the loan committee not be a mere technicality. Care should be taken not to put the valuation too high nor too low. The land value should be reported by the farmer. The land should be described and the value thereon stated which the members desire loans should be stated. Now the loan committee should remember that their appointment is only a preliminary; it is not binding on the federal land bank of their district. For later on the land bank will send its own appraisers to value the lands in the same farm. It would be a fine thing for the members of the association if the two independent appraisements of the same farms should come close together, as well as prove to the officers of the land bank that they were dealing with an upright, intelligent body of farmers. The report of the loan committee is sent to the land bank of their district. It certainly would help their financial credit. So loan committees should be fair at the beginning. Let them state the values of the lands of those members who are asking for loans. The report of the loan committee should also give any other information which would be helpful to understand conditions in that community.

Making An Affidavit. With this list of proposed members, the articles of association and the report of the loan committee, an affidavit must be made out and sent to the federal land bank. This affidavit must be signed and acknowledged by the members. It must also be signed and acknowledged by the secretary-treasurer, whose residence and postoffice address must also be stated on the affidavit. This affidavit, thus signed and acknowledged by the members and the secretary-treasurer, should set forth that each subscriber is the owner of farm land, or is about to become the owner of a farm. That is, a person in the community may not be in actual possession of a farm but expects to be in a short time, by purchase, the owner of the particular farm described in his application; in that case he could legally join the association and become a member. The affidavit should also state that the desired loans added together amount to $25,000 or more.

chain of fertilizers or live stock, the construction of a silo, or for any other purpose which will improve the value of the farm.

But if a farmer has no mortgage on his farm and desires to borrow for improving it in any of the ways mentioned above, he can borrow money from the land bank by giving a first mortgage on his farm. The farmer has little to do. The practical work of a national farm loan association is done by the secretary-treasurer. He writes and answers letters, keeps the books, handles the funds, secures the loans from the land banks, pays over the money to borrowers and does all the active work of the association for the members.

The loans are made on first mortgages on farm lands. The mortgages may run not less than 5 years nor more than 40 years. The borrower himself decides the length of time for the loan. The interest can not exceed 6 per cent and may be lower. Every six months, or once each year, the farmer pays the installment on his debt. This includes interest part of the debt itself, and a small amount to cover expenses of the association. The secretary-treasurer makes the collections, gives his receipt for them, and sends the money collected to the federal land bank. This most of the work of the association is done by this officer. That is why he is allowed a small salary.

The federal land bank which receives the application for loans and other papers from the association then sends an appraiser to examine the land and the financial condition of the proposed borrowers. If these conditions are found satisfactory, the land bank forwards the papers to the Federal Farm Loan Board with their recommendation. On approval by the Federal Farm Loan Board, a charter is granted to the association, which is then filed with the secretary-treasurer, who forwards the charter by the federal land bank. When the charter has been granted, the association can borrow money of the land bank. The mortgages are then prepared and delivered to the secretary-treasurer, who forwards them to the federal land bank of the district. On its part, the land bank sends the money for the loans to the secretary-treasurer of the association. He in turn delivers the proper amount of money to the respective borrowers and the farm mortgage transaction is closed. The farmer has thus been enabled to borrow money on first mortgage with practically no trouble or expense on his part.

community go ahead at once and form temporary organization. It will help them and it will facilitate the work of organization.

Benefits To Farmers. In this way, the farmers themselves become the owners and directors of the national farm loan associations. They become investors as well as borrowers. The government has not only made the way easy, but it helps the farmers to reap the benefits of the profits derived from their own united efforts of borrowing.

The Majestic. Helen Holmes in "Whispering Smith" makes up the program today at the Majestic. Love, intrigue and adventure are the dominant themes of Whispering Smith. Action is the keynote. Interest in the picture is sustained from the very beginning, with the result that no audience, no matter how apathetic, will fail to catch the spirit of the production and be carried away with the very best.

Substantial Increase is Shown by Bank Statements Made This Month. Bank statements, as shown by reports of the condition of the different institutions in this city on September 12, represent a very noticeable increase in deposits over the amount shown in the report of June 30, as well as indicating a general prosperity in commercial circles. The deposits, as given in the statements on the two dates, were as follows:

MASS MEETING WELL ATTENDED Number of White People Present at Service in Interest of Negro Orphans Quite a large crowd of negroes and a good many white people attended the meeting in the interest of the Dickson Colored Orphan home at 4111th at the St. John's colored Baptist church yesterday afternoon. W. L. Dickson, president of the orphan home made an address on the industrial education and explained the purposes and workings of the home. Addresses were also made by a number of white ministers and educators among which were Rev. A. L. Arrows, pastor of the M. E. Church; Rev. F. H. Walters, pastor First Christian; Rev. N. F. Grafton of the First Presbyterian, and Superintendent Lee Clark of the public schools. At night Rev. Dickson made a talk on "Industrial Education for Negro Boys and Girls" at the First Baptist church. In the training of girls he said that they did not graduate until they had worked for a month each year of their three year course with some white family, thus giving them experience and familiarizing themselves with the customs in the best white homes. About 75 or 80 girls are thus placed in white homes for a month every year. They work without charge to the families except railroad fare to and from the home. A collection was taken up at both services and a good amount of money was realized for the home. Rev. Dickson will hold nightly meetings for some time at the colored church.
