NO REST IS BEING GIVEN THE GERMANS

FRANCO-BRITISH FORCES ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE GROUND GAINED IN THE BATTLE ON THE SOMME FRONT.

TAKE OVER 60,000

This Number of Prisoners Have Been Captured by the Allied Troops Within Some 190 Square Miles of Territory Gained.

The Associated Press summarizes the war situation as follows: No rest is being given to the Germans by the victorious Franco-British forces on the Somme front.

Apparently this new drive is aimed at Chaulnes, which leads to the southern end of the Somme line somewhat to the north of the main line of a French effort to pocket the other German stronghold, was apparent some time ago and a further move, such as that reported today in the drive east from Verdunville to a point two miles almost directly south of Chaulnes, has not been unexpected.

The French lines already have been pushed well south of the town. Meanwhile the military importance of the gains from Thiepval to the Somme, except in the smashing offensive of the present week, are expected by military observers in the entente capitals to be made manifest by speedy further inroads upon German held territory. The French advance beyond Bouchevignes is pointed to as directly threatening Aillaines, two miles north of Peronne and preparing the way for an encircling movement intended to drive the Germans out of Peronne itself.

Related reports from the British front today announce the capture of between 2,000 and 3,000 German general staff's forces in the fighting Monday and Tuesday. The reported capture by the French brings this total up to more than 3,000. Unofficial figures show the aggregate number of prisoners taken by the Anglo-French armies during the Somme offensive from July 1 to 8 to have been 170,000 with some 100 square miles of territory and 14 villages.

In Macedonia the entente forces apparently are encountering a stiffened Bulgarian resistance, especially west of the Vardar region. Paris reports that the Bulgarian army, subjected to repeated attacks by Bulgarian forces, but declares the Serbians held fast to the captured position.

Official reports just received from Bucharest take back nothing of the claims made by the Rumanians of a notable victory over Field Marshal Von Mackensen in the great battle of last week on August 1, 1916. The Rumanians and their allies, it is declared, defeated heavy forces along the Danube end on the front and then, while the rest of the line held fast, the allies broke the resistance of the Bulgarian, German and Turk back in disorder.

Greece apparently is on the verge of coming out of the war on the side of the entente, King Constantine being now reported to have consented to such action. The revolutionary movement is continuing and on Crete 4,000 Greek troops in Crete are said to have joined the revolutionary forces.

By Associated Press. Del Rio, Sept. 27.—Joe Wilmoth, of the Livestock National Park of Chihuahua, and George Miers, a resident of Del Rio, and owner of a ranch locate in Mexico, 40 miles from the border, were arrested on Mier's ranch last Friday and are now being held in jail at Sabina, Mexico, pending payment of a $10,000 fine, according to word received here today.

GORGEOUS DISPLAY OF FASHION FANCIES

the windows and inside the store and the handsome models were shown and the crowd, particularly the women, found much to admire in the comprehensive stock of the newly arrived exclusive ready to wear shop which made its formal bow to the public last night.

A showing of neckties and evening dresses featured the model promenade at the Kahn store. A number of handsome rest robes with caps to match were displayed on the models and the evening dresses which were included in the special group for the parade were indeed beautiful. Dancing caps to match these dresses were worn. One handsome dress was a creation of old rose tulle, made with scores of ruffles on waist, sleeves and head. Head made trimmed the high collar, the cuffs and belt. The color was brown. During the entire opening two hours the store was thronged with an admiring public.

Particular attention was paid to this feature of the show for a number of firms there is no reason today why all should not be well informed as to the character and make of goods requisite for the well-dressed man. These displays covered a wide range and included not only an exposition of men's and boy's clothing, but of the furnishings required for proper dress.

At Kahn's, in addition to a very attractive window display, a living model was used in illustrating the different styles and patterns and large crowds were attracted to the store throughout the entire time of the show.

Another very pleasing exhibit, and one which caused a showing of much interest, was that of Baum & Gardner who featured a special window for men, displaying evening wear and providing youthful America to suit and attractiveness to the scene.

The P. M. Co. as is their custom, entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion, and a showing of men's wear that was alike attractive and educational, providing a correct insight into the goods that are to be worn during the fall and winter seasons.

The display of the Perkins-Timberlake Company, was just as bright and snappy as is their magnificent new store, and the checkered goods shown just as up-to-date. The arrangement was especially noticeable and attracted much more favorable comment on the part of the visitors.

Biggs' Misfit Parlor, while not preparing a display of an unusual nature, had their windows attractively arranged, with good lighting effects, and with an appealing showing of new goods.

The same was true of the Loeb-Liepsold Company, which had a splendid showing of mens' hats and shoes, featuring in their windows a handsome $50 bathrobe and an attractive line of smoking jackets.

The Globe decorated its window attractively for the occasion and made a splendid showing of all lines of men's wear from the smaller items of ties and hosiery to the more expensive patterns of suits.

The Jones-Kennedy Company used one window in which to display an attractive line of shoes and articles of men's wear, which proved a pleasing effect in connection with their extensive exhibition of goods for millinery.

In keeping with the spirit of the occasion the Hatterie provided a very pretty display of hats, the window being beautifully decorated with the firm's Sample Shoe store had arranged a pleasing effect in their basement windows, showing the very latest in footwear for men, women and children.

Among the most attractive displays shown was that of the W. B. McClure & Co., which provided a window replete with valuable suggestions for men, showing some late and very pretty patterns in clothing.

Various articles of men's wear was also shown in a splendid arrangement in the windows of the Fine Dry Goods Company.

Among the more attractive windows devoted exclusively to men's goods, were those of Collier & Hendricks. Brilliantly lighted and attractively arranged they presented a pleasing appearance and carried a well assorted display of late designs in men's wear.

Proprietors of the different drug stores of the city gave the drug goods and clothing firms the run for honours in the amount of interest manifested in the occasion, practically all joining in the effort to make the show a success.

Mack Taylor's Drug Store used both windows in providing an attractive display of the Edson and Victoria and in calling attention to the fine musical instruments in the home. Young ladies in another window added to the effectiveness of the display arranged therein.

The Morris had one of the most extensive and attractive displays of diamonds ever shown in the city, comprising gems to the value of $10,000. These were tastefully arranged and attracted considerable attention. The store was otherwise very pleasingly decorated for the occasion.

The New Playerphone

Is not a talking machine, or a phonograph in the common usage of the word, but a new invention that actually re-creates all forms of music. It actually re-produces the voice and tone of a singer, or the instrumental performance exactly as the artist renders it. For this reason it is far superior to any other instrument on the market. It has absolutely no metallic sound, the sound chamber being constructed of the finest violin wood, rendering the tone as soft and sweet as that of the finest violins. The tone is rounder, fuller and richer, and re-voices the artists work more life-like and natural than any other instrument made.

We invite your inspection of the Playerphone, in comparison with all other instruments. Note the prices:

Richardson-Taylor Drug Co. "The Store of Better Service"

Phones 65-1792 Ohio at Seventh

At the Oxford Drug store young ladies were attracted to a window featuring attention their line of toilet preparations and their clever work in exhibiting the goods was a means of attracting many who passed the corner of Indiana and Ninth.

Faustaking and appropriate decorations were employed to add an unusual degree of attractiveness to the window decorations, special attention being given to the window displays.

At the Rexall both windows were used effectively, one carrying a stationery display, while the other was presided over by a lady in demonstrating various articles of merchandise carried by the store.

The Richardson & Taylor Drug company also featured stationery in very attractive display, and took advantage of the occasion to demonstrate the merits of the Playerphone, a new instrument that they are offering to the public.

Attractive Jewelry Displays. The large crowd in front of the store of Kruger Bros., during the progress of the show was sufficient evidence that a display of unusual interest was being exhibited there. Two children appropriately dressed as bride and groom were surrounded by a magnificent display of articles suitable for wedding gifts. The arrangement was very attractive and the exhibit was the subject of much favorable comment.

Haltom & Friedly, in addition to a beautiful arrangement of the interior of their store, used both of the show windows in demonstrating, with indices to pleasingly illustrate the goods that they desired to introduce. Many articles of beauty and value were temptingly displayed and the exhibit was one of the best shown in the city.

At the store of B. T. Burgess, two attractive windows were shown, one of which was featured articles of jewelry that had been made by the firm in the store, and this attracted much attention on account of the variety of the articles, considered in connection with the fact that they were a home product.

The $35,000 collection of diamonds, which were worn last night at the Yacht Club by Mrs. Diney D'Aubrey was the feature of the window of the Art Jewelry Co. The features of this collection was a perfect seven carat diamond ring, a diamond encrusted platinum watch bracelet, valued at $1000. Mr. Art stated that this collection was selected from his regular stock.

Hardware Firms Participate. Farmer Bros. displayed a line of sporting goods, including ammunition, traps, and other articles. The store contained an exhibit of illuminated stoves, baskets and other articles of merchandise arranged with pleasing variety. The display of the Wichita Hardware Company, while the Maxwell Hardware Company joined in observing the occasion with a very attractive demonstration of articles of value to the home.

Miscellaneous Lines. Vic Stammel never forgets or fails to join in any move of public interest, and on this occasion he arranged a very attractive display of fancy cakes, bread and other delicacies. His window was attractively decorated with flowers.

Martin's Book Store, brilliantly lighted and with pleasing window decorations, attracted many of the visitors down town.

One with an appetite for toothsome sweets could not pass Pell's place without at least a desire to partake of some of the fine candies there shown in display windows and on the interior as well.

Several fine mounted specimens of birds, one of them standing on a branch, and a rabbit which he had just having killed, displayed before an effective background of green branches and Navajo blankets at Wilfong & Woods, made a display that was very appealing to those with hunting instincts. The exhibit of firearms rounded this effect out in a very clever way.

Saul Lebeson, with his characteristic enterprise, had on display a miniature automobile that is to be given away, which when operated on the street, attracted a great deal of attention, especially on the part of the children.

In the grocery stores, the Farmers Supply Company had a very attractive display, showing the various brands of goods in which they specialize. The windows were tastefully arranged and were viewed by many of the visitors to that part of the city.

Bert Bean, the coffee man, displayed his usual enthusiastic interest and had one of the most attractive exhibits to be seen, ladies pouring the delightful nectar made from his "Who Can Beat It" and other brands of coffee.

glances at this beautiful set during the evening.

A novel and original scene which drew and held a crowd out one of the windows of the Freear Furniture Company throughout the evening was the beautiful tableau representing the three Fates of classical mythology spinning out the thread of life. A handsome dining room set in another of the windows attracted more than passing attention.

A miniature bride and groom who, after their marriage and a wedding feast, started their married life in a miniature home with perfect appointments on a reduced scale, made an extremely pleasing spectacle and held a crowd around the windows of the Robertson Furniture Company from the beginning of the evening until the close of the display. A number of children played in chairs and swings in another of the windows.

A handsome dining room set of the William and Mary period occupied one of the windows of the North Texas Furniture Company while in another an exceedingly beautiful bedroom suite done in black walnut provoked a great deal of favorable comment from those viewing the exhibit. A particularly effective display of exquisite draperies occupied the north window.

ROTARIANS WILL BE IN EVIDENCE

Estimated That Seventy-Five Per Cent of Membership Will Go to Vernon.

Seventy five Rotarians out of a total membership of one hundred are to go on the trip to Vernon tomorrow, which, considering the fact that a number of the members are out of the city, is indeed a high batting average. The interest of the Rotarians in this trip was such that it was the chief subject for today's "Buy It in Wichita Falls." For this reason and on account of the importance of the subject the same topic was taken for consideration at the next luncheon. The aim of the members in discussing this subject was to thresh out the question in such a way that it could be determined whether it was the fault of the retailer or the consumer that so many articles have been bought out of the city which could have been bought here at equal advantage. Each member will give a concrete example from his own experience of his having purchased an article away from home that he could have bought here, and explain why he did so. The question was discussed at today's meeting by Rotarians Joe Colonna, Burton Stayton, Jack Shelton and Bert Bean.

In connection with the Vernon trip it might be mentioned that the members of the Rotary club will be distinguished by their own pennants and caps. The caps are conical pasted affairs in the shape of a dome, famous by the dunce cap of school days fame, distinguished by a tissue paper plume and the Rotary insignia on the front.

A cordial invitation to attend the Dallas fair on Thursday, October 26, was received by the club from the Dallas Rotarians, who promise to put on some special stunts on that occasion and otherwise show them a good time. The invitation was accepted with enthusiasm and the club, it is planned, will attend on that date in a body.

At the directors' meeting immediately preceding the luncheon the matter of the city doing something to remedy the problem created by the present method of sewage disposal was referred to the public affairs committee for investigation.

Dr. F. P. Brown and R. H. Collier won the St. James prize.

permission to lower their rates on grain originating on the Northwest, grain for Eastern points so that the Katy could meet the rates made by the Rock Island, which latter road has a much shorter haul via Elk City than the Katy would have. The idea of the Katy would have been to bring the grain to Wichita Falls, then they wished to handle it to Sherman and turn it over to the Cotton Belt there for shipment into Memphis. This grain business amounts to a material figure and the extra revenue that the Katy would get for handling it the greater distance over its own line would have been quite a nice plum to them, without costing the shipper any more. However the commission is known not to look very favorably on any rates that would take away from one road the advantage of shorter mileage, and although this was not the grounds that the petition

Nothing the measure of the man is not to save a state in midst of fierce alarms. Do nobler deeds and mighty feats of arms. And feel the breath of battle waxing hot. There never been Caesars whose more humble lot. Forbade that they should bear the victor's palms; Cromwells who never left their peaceful farms; Napoleons without ambition's blot. Not in the deed that's done before the eyes. Of wonder-stricken lands upturned to view. But in the will, through no occasion rise. And sleeping still, that dares such deeds to do. SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good."

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

HONEY BOYS ARE FEATURES OF SHOW

Program of Genuine Merit Was Presented at Wichita Theater Evening.

"Gentlemen, be seated." "I say Mistah Interlocutor." And they were off, real minstrel men, some of them those who had won applause from Wichita Falls audiences, on numerous occasions when they were of the famous inner circle of the Honey-Boy Minstrel. These Honey-Boys, seven of them, featured the program of Orpheus vaudeville last night at the Wichita Theater and the audience just wouldn't let them go. They came in with whirl and a burst of song and from the song "When the Honey Boys Come to Town" to the last bit of buffoonery of the farand and many of the could have had anything they wanted from the audience. This is one time when a headline act's title is not apt to be disputed.

Though not disputing honors with star act but nevertheless crowding them closely came the funny dog and monkey pantomime. These canine and simian actors enacted a little tragic comedy in a miniature village labeled Dogtown. The honors in this act go to the poor old dog bum who sat outside the gloom, going in every night that anyone else did to accept the "all hands around" invitation until he was thoroughly stewed. The dog was a "stuffed" animal and the monkey was Charlie Chaplin. There was not a trainer on the stage during the entire act. Mr. Derkin, the manager of the unique troupe, came out to take their hand at the curtain.

Swan and Swan, who opened the show had a dandy act. The girl was a solo dancer that was class itself. Their juggling stunts were good and the man of the team added to the effectiveness of the act by his "nut" demeanor.

Diane D'Aubrey had been billed as "the girl with the million dollar eyes." She certainly used them effectively in flirting with the audience. Her diamonds, which incidentally were the Style Show Display of the Art Loan Company, and her wonderful frocks were a whole new idea. It wouldn't have mattered whether she sang at all she made such an effective picture. Her "haven curie," her sparkling black eyes and pouting scarlet cupid's bow mouth. Her cigar ette song was quite a hit and she took the audience quite into her confidence.

Jan Rubini, violinist, gained a hearty encore and the audience seemed to find much to like in his offerings, mostly Kreisler arrangements or rather popularized old masters. Rubini wears his hair cut ala Jan Kubelik and his style is much the same as his famous countryman.

Helen Beresford and Company had quite a hilarious time in "getting married" by mail. Miss Beresford, "hash slinger in a Boston heavy time," a line of gab that quit came up to the part. The other characters were rural and all provided some good comedy.

Rita Mario, that name sounds like an Italian but her blonde hair and retreating hair evoked something more nearly American, led an orchestra of a considerable number of musicians, all of feminine persuasion. The bright spot of their act was when they played America and brought the audience to their feet. They had an unusual collection of musical instruments and played them with ease.

There was again a record attendance and, it being Style Show Night the crowd was an exceptionally well-dressed one. The curtain had been held for the opening until 9:15 on account of the Style Show and it was 12 o'clock before the house was dark.

STATE RAILROAD IS OPERATED SUCCESSFULLY

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 27.—The state railroad, owned and operated by the state of Texas, is operating successfully under the federal eight-hour law, according to an announcement made by C. H. Huddleston, general manager of the road, who spent some time here conferring with the railroad commission. Mr. Huddleston said that the new federal law will not seriously affect the revenue of the road; that the law has not necessitated any increase in the crews, the only difference being the extra time payments after eight hours work while under the old law, extra time did not commence until after ten hours work. While this road is making more than expenses at the present time, it is planned to sell it through a legislative enactment at the next session of the legislature. It operates from Palestine to Rusk, a distance of 32 miles.

PROGRAM FOR THE FIRST FAIR DAY

New Union Station Will Be Formally Opened to the Public on October 14.

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 27.—The program of events that will mark the opening of the State Fair at Texas and the South's greatest Union messenger terminals has been announced by the Union station celebration committee which met recently at the Chamber of Commerce and Manufacturers Association building. It follows:

Program for October 14:
Municipal parade at 9 o'clock.
Opening ceremonies at the Union Station at 11 o'clock.
Luncheon on second floor in honor of visiting railroad officials at 12:30.
Opening of State Fair of Texas and dedication of Sydney Smith Memorial, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.
Ballets and Ritz Cathedral beginning at 8 o'clock.

All doubt as to whether trains will be using the new union station during the thirty-first annual State Fair of Texas was removed by the announcement by the committee to the Union Terminal officers that the big terminals will handle the fair crowds and make possible the celebration of both events on the same day. The hour of the parade is set for 9 o'clock and the Union Terminal Company will officially turn over the $5,000,000 terminals to the city of Dallas and Mayor Lindsay will acknowledge acceptance on the part of the citizens. The luncheon in the main dining room of the station at which 100 guests will be present, will begin promptly at 12 o'clock. This event will be important at the conclusion of the ceremonies the guests will proceed to the State Fair grounds.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Wichita Falls Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Wichita Falls adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Dean's Kidney Pills. Read it.

G. A. Swope, carpenter, 612 Burnett St., Wichita Falls, says: "My kidneys were very irregular in action. Sometimes the kidney secretions passed too often and then again not often enough. The secretions were very painful in passage and contained sediment. Dean's Kidney Pills restored my kidneys to a normal condition and the kidney secretions became natural."

FIREMEN TO CONTINUE STUDY OF BUILDING

The study of the principal buildings of the business and factory sections, in which they may be called on to fight fires, will be resumed this afternoon by the fire department, according to the plans of Chief McClure, unless the wind is of such a risk nature that he would deem it inadvisable for any of the men or apparatus to stir away from the station. This afternoon he plans to take his men to both the ice factories and the cold storage of the produce company for the especial purpose of studying the ammonia tanks. Ammonia is a highly volatile substance and will explode with more deadly effect than any other matter the fire department may be called on to work around. An "ammonia fire" is a dread of fire departments throughout the world. By getting the ammonia tanks located the firemen will be able should they ever be called on to fight a fire at any of these places, to avoid it in such a manner as will minimize the danger occurred in fighting such a fire, and possibly save several lives by this highly important piece of knowledge.

What Will You Give?

A weak President would have plunged the United States into war.

It is easy to hate, easy to strike. To do so requires neither bravery nor intelligence—and these are the very attributes which must characterize our Chief Executive if he is to guide the nation aright.

The courage, the devotion and the statesmanship of Woodrow Wilson have saved the nation from a horror and a crime. He played for the verdict of mankind and he has won the verdict.

He has stood firm against the lying clamor of concessionaires basely willing to guarantee their dividends with the blood of American youth.

It is not alone that the United States is at peace, that the land is not filled with a vast crying, that homes are not darkened, that our eyes are not scarred by the sight of the blind, the mangled and the crippled.

International law has been upheld, the rights of neutral nations secured, and civilization itself saved from the world ruin that would have followed America's leap into madness.

It has been shown that greed does not dominate us, that we square our practices with our professions, and that weaker peoples need not fear our friendship.

Even while feeding the hungry of the world, relieving wretchedness, and championing humanity, we stand ready to conduct those negotiations by which peace will come again to the world.

Woodrow Wilson has given you peace and prosperity without sacrifice of principle; without loss of honor.

Are these blessings nothing to you?

Do you stand for the proposition that no President may expect reelection who offends High Finance or who refuses to take his foreign policies from concessionaires and alien conspirators?

If not, then show it.

Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund must come from the people, for it is the people alone that he has served and that he will serve.

What will you give?

Candidate Hughes says he wants to see the patriot spirit of '61 perpetuated. Some of Mr. Hughes' campaign managers are doing all they can to revive old hates and prejudices and are trying to inject the issue of sectionalism into the campaign. Mr. Hughes may mean genuine patriotism when he speaks. His backers mean the spirit of sectionalism and hate that marked the regime of his party after the war between the States. They feel that if they can revive this feeling their candidate can be put across. There is a sectional party. It's vote is confined to the states north of the Mason and Dixon line. The democratic party is the real national party.

The revelations that have come as the result of the arrest of a gang of blackmailers will serve to acquaint the people of the country with the extent to which the Mann act has been used for blackmail purposes. The enactment of this law placed in the hands of blackmailers a most handy and effective weapon for their operations and they have not hesitated in making use of it. The Mann act is popularly known as the "white slave law." It could better be called the blackmailers' legal aid. It has not stopped, and has checked little, if any, the "white slave" traffic, but on the other hand it has traffic, but on the other hand it has probably led to many women falling into prostitution through the blackmail route. Certainly the measure in which the Mann act has checked prostitution and the "white slave" trade has not compensated for the measure in which it has encouraged blackmail.

Candidate Hughes is making the Adamson eight hour law the paramount issue in his campaign speeches. These 72 republican congressmen who voted for the bill and the entire republican membership in the Senate who placed no obstacle in the way of the bill's passage must feel about as cheerful as the first voter when he learns that he has crossed out the wrong line on his ballot and has really voted the opposite way from which he intended. Of course the republican congressmen and senators still feel that they are entirely right about it but they must stifle their own convictions on the subject and remain quiet for fear of imperiling the chances of the head of the ticket. His tenure on the supreme bench imbued Candidate Hughes with a sense of dignity. Of course, this sense of dignity will not permit Mr. Hughes to discuss whether he will at once urge the repeal of the Adamson law and whether he will attempt to carry out the program outlined by President Wilson when he recommended the passage of this law. Dignity is mighty saving quality sometimes.

FAVORS ABROGATION OF FREE PASS PRIVILEGE

The Times has received the following communication from Y. W. Grubb, Editor The Times: With great reluctance I have arrived at the conclusion that the State department of agriculture ought to be abolished. In taking this position I fully appreciate the fact that I am perhaps responsible to a greater extent than any other one person in this State for its establishment by the legislature in 1907 in the obedience to a democratic platform adopted by the convention at Dallas in 1906.

In 1899 I introduced the first bill in the Texas legislature to make said department a separate function of the state government. It was reported unfavorably by the house committee on

PRIZES FOR WINDOWS NOT YET AWARDED

Owing to a misunderstanding of the judges as to the classes and qualifications for the windows entered in the Style Show contest, the announcement of the prize awards has been delayed. The contest rules, if rigidly interpreted, would apply only to windows with regard to the fixed decorations and not to those with living models. The prize awards are intended to be left trimmed for a week with the blue ribbon decoration and with a window whose display consisted mainly of living models this would hardly be feasible. The prize awards will be announced later, the committee announces.

Officers of the local High School Athletic association were elected at their formal organization at the High School this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Alfred W. Burnside recently moved here from Westerville, Ohio, a member of the senior class and a candidate for fullback on the eleven, was elected president. Fritz Hickman, also a member of the senior class and a track man, was named as vice president. Miss Genevieve Mudd, junior, and a member of last season's girls' basketball team, was elected secretary. Henry F. McGlamery was named as faculty manager and treasurer of the association; S. J. King, another member of the faculty was again named coach of the eleven, and D. W. Cook, a member of the championship track team at Daniel Baker three years ago, elected as coach of the track team next spring.

Two students, a boy and a girl, will be elected from each class and will form the athletic council. As soon as the various classes elect their representatives to the athletic council, the council will organize and map out an active campaign in which it is hoped to secure every student in the school as a member of the athletic association. About eighty members have so far paid their dues in the association and are full fledged members. More than 150 are pledged membership and Manager McGlamery announces that the dues are being paid at a very satisfactory rate. It is hoped to build the membership to 200 before the first football game is staged on the home lot.

DEFENDANT ON THE STAND TODAY

WILLIAMS TESTIFIES IN HIS OWN BEHALF IN MURDER TRIAL THIS MORNING

OTHER TESTIMONY

Not Expected That Case Will Go to Jury Before Some Time Tomorrow.

C. R. Williams, on trial for the killing of C. Hollander, took the witness stand in his own behalf in the 78th district court this morning. He testified in detail his relations with the Hollander family and told the jury of a quarrel over a photograph of himself and Hollander's daughter preceding the killing. He told how Hollander had slapped him about fifteen minutes before he shot Hollander.

He said that he feared that Hollander meant to kill him and as he wanted to see some parties whom he had business with he went out across the river and got his shot gun. He said that he came upon Hollander while the latter was sitting on a bench in front of the Newport bar. He said Hollander got up and took a step or two toward him and then turned when he, Williams, raised his gun. Williams admitted that he shot Hollander as the latter was passing through the door of the saloon, but said he believed that Hollander was going into the saloon to get a revolver to shoot him. He said he believed one of Hollander's sons had a revolver and that the son was in the saloon. Williams was on the stand for about two hours, his examination being completed before the noon recess.

L. B. Bennett also testified for the defendant this morning. He told of threats he had heard Hollander make against Williams. The testimony of Dr. Reed and O. W. Hines was mostly as to the nature of the wound that caused Hollander's death. Mr. Hines, who is an undertaker, in addition testified that Williams had paid a bill for the funeral expenses of one of Hollander's grandchildren and that in doing so he had said that he was doing so in order to hold on to the "old man," meaning Hollander. Policeman Smith, who arrested Williams following the shooting, and who reached him a few seconds after the shot was fired, testified concerning the positions of Hollander and Williams and other details. Dr. Meredith on the stand this afternoon for the purpose of showing that Williams was an irritable man. The state will produce on a number of witnesses in rebuttal and it is not likely that the case will go to the jury before tomorrow.

PLANS ARE COMPLETE FOR DALLAS EXCURSION

Dallas, Sept. 27.—Arrangements for the third one-day trade trip of the Chamber of Commerce and Manufacturers' Association to Vernon and Wichita Falls next Friday have been completed by Secretary Richard Haughton. Fifty-six reservations already have been made and at least seventy-five firms are expected to be represented. A special train over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Road will leave Dallas Thursday night at 9 o'clock, reaching Vernon at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning at 7 o'clock. NEARLY 500 TO GO TO PARSONS

Much interest is manifested by Katy Employes' Athletic Meet. Nearly five hundred have applied for transportation on the Katy employes' special to the Parsons meet which leaves here October 6, it was announced today. The equipment of the train will consist of three standard sleepers, twelve two-bed lower tourist sleepers as was announced yesterday. The sleepers have accommodations for only 150 and the rest will have to make reservations. Those who wish to make sleeper reservations are urged to do so at once to save being disappointed. No entries have been made from the Wichita Falls district in any of the events, it was announced this morning and if any are to be made they will have to be made at once, as the margin of time for making such entries is getting rather short. However it is not thought that any entries will be made from this division, the employes on this end of the line seeming to be inclined to "let the others do the work."

RURAL COMMUNITIES INTEREST IN TAX RATE

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Sept. 27.—According to Professor W. F. Doughty, state superintendent of public instruction, great interest is being manifested by the people in cities and towns of 30,000 population and under, and in rural communities in the proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on at the general election to be held next November—authorizing the increasing of the constitutional limit of the school tax levy from fifty cents to one dollar on the $100 property valuation. Superintendent Doughty spent a week visiting the various points in the state during which time he made a strong appeal to the voters for this amendment, pointing out in Texas that there are thousands of schools which are suffering from the lack of funds with which to provide adequate accommodations for the rapidly increasing attendance of pupils and also to meet the requirements of the compulsory school attendance law, which became effective Sept. 1st.

AT THE THEATRES

The Empress. Myrtle Stedman is the star of today's program appearing in a Paramount production, "The American Beauty." In this picture Miss Stedman appears as both mother and daughter, a wonderfully effective dual role. Martin Ellsworth, a wealthy American, and his young wife and baby are returning from a trip to Newfoundland. This liner caters fine and in the ensuing panic, the Ellsworths become separated from their baby. The child is picked up at sea by an over-turned boat by Cleve, a fisherman. Being told the child's parents are dead, the Cleves adopt it. The adopted daughter grows up and as Ruth Cleve, works in a sweet shop. Mrs. Cleve, becoming a widow, is forced to scrub for a living. She is employed by Paul Keith, a wealthy young American painter. An Italian artist friend of Keith's gives a dinner to celebrate the success of his painting. All his artist friends of many nationalities are invited, including Keith. At the dinner each painter toasts his country's type of beauty. A contest is decided upon. Each artist is to paint his national type of beauty, for a prize of $1,000 offered by Herbert "Boss" Hunter. THREE DRUNKS IN POLICE COURT TODAY Three plain drunks, the first in more than two days, made the corporation court again look natural this morning, and each of these drew $5 fines. Fifty dollars slipped through the court's fingers this morning when five alleged negro gamblers, who were captured in a raid of the negro section yesterday afternoon, were dismissed for want of sufficient evidence to convict.

Style All the While!

They say, "we aint got no style"—We're style all the while! What's more in style than a cup of good coffee? Why, coffee is the Aristocrat of the breakfast table, and the after-dinner cup is to the meal what the hat is to milady's costume—the finishing touch. A meal without coffee is like a hat or dress without trimming, or a home without furniture. If you drink our coffees the memory of the last cup lingers, and you live in anticipation of the next.

Oh! yes, there's style and satisfaction both in a cup of coffee BERT BEAN COFFEE HOUSE 824 Indiana Telephone 35
