OLSON LANDS 3-BASE DRIVE FOR VICTORY

FIELDERS SHINE
Two Brilliant Plays by Brooklyn Gardeners Contested Each Side Has One Pitcher Driven Out of Action

Special to The Times. Brooklyn, Oct. 10.—A scorching three bagger by Olson in the fifth inning, driving in two runs, gave Brooklyn the victory in the third game of the world's series, by a score of 4 to 3.

Although Boston, four runs behind the National League contenders, made a plucky rally and succeeded in putting three runs across the rubber, in the course of which Jack Coombs was driven from the pitchers' mound, the Sox were unable to get the tying score across.

The game was probably saved for the home team in the ninth when Leftfielder Wheat of Brooklyn raced back to the fence and gathered in Shorten's drive that was labeled for several bases. If not for the full circuit, Shorten had already landed for three hits. Another fielding feature was the great throw by the Robins in the first inning; Shorten had singled and when Hobitzell, as usual, singled to right field, Shorten turned second and raced for third, to be cut off by the Brooklyn right fielder's unerring peg.

Brooklyn put her first tally across in the third inning, when with one down, Daubert who broomed considerably into the hit column today, singled to right. Stengel advanced him to second with a one base drive to left; two runners were held when Wheat fled to right, but Cutshaw singled to right field and Daubert scored when Hooper failed to make a clean throw.

The second run came in the fourth Olson beat out a bunt down the third base line, going to second on Gardner's bunt throw. He bounced on Miller's sacrifice and Coombs' scored him with a clean single to the right garden.

In the fifth, Wheat walked after one out had been recorded, Cutshaw advanced him with a grounder to the box and Mowrey walked; with two on, Olson uncorked a three sack drive to the center field fence, scoring both runners. The fifth inning resulted in Mays' retiring from the mound in favor of Foster, who held the Robins scoreless for the remainder of the fray.

Four runs behind, Boston started her scoring in the sixth. With one down, Hendrickson, batting for Mays drew a base on balls. Hooper scored him with a three base drive to right. Janvin sent a pop-up to second but Shorten scored Hooper with a single to center.

Boston's other run came in the seventh when Gardner slammed one out for the full circuit, resulting in Coombs being yanked from the box. Pfeiffer replaced him and retired the Bostonians in one, two, three order in the remaining sessions. The details:

up at second. Wheat lifted a long fly to left, the runners being held on their bases. Daubert came home for the first tally of the game on Cutshaw's great drive to right. Hooper's return to the plate being bad, Stengel advanced to third and Cutshaw took second on the play. Mowrey ended the frame by grounding to short. One run, three hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING.
Boston—Janvin lead off for Boston by flying out to right. Shorten got his second hit, a clean single to left. Shorten fell a victim to Miller's deadly peg, being thrown out in an attempt to go down to second. Hobitzell flew to Myers. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Brooklyn—Olson laid down a bunt down the third base line, beating Gardner's throw at first and taking second when the peg went wild. Olson moved to third on Miller's sacrifice in front of the pitcher's box. Olson rounded home with a second tally for the Robins when Coombs came through with a clean single to right. Coombs advanced to second on Myers' sacrifice and Janvin advanced to the plate, getting a great hand from the home fans. However, Daubert's best was a grounder to short. One run, two hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING.
Boston—Lewis lifted to Wheat. Gardner popped up to third. Scott went down in order, rolling out to the pitcher. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Stengel lifted a pop foul to Gardner. Wheat promulgated for the second time. Wheat took another sack on Cutshaw's bunt, Cutshaw being out for stepping on the ball. Mowrey took first on four wide ones. Mays' first offering looked good to the crowd, who pushed it to the center field wall for a triple, registering Wheat and Mowrey. Miller grounded out to first. Two runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.
Boston—Thomas grounded out to Olson. Hendrickson batting for Mays waited out a pass. Hooper cracks out a triple to the right field wall, scoring Hendrickson. Janvin popped out to Cutshaw. Hooper being held at third. Hooper registered a moment later on Shorten's single to center. Pfeiffer ended the frame by rolling out to Coombs. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Coombs lined out to Scott. Postle having released Mays in the box for Boston. Myers popped to third. Daubert's third safety was a triple to the left field fence, but he was thrown out trying to stretch it into a home run, Lewis relaying the ball. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.
Boston—Lewis grounded to Daubert. Gardner lined one over the right field fence for the second home run of the series. Coombs was derelicted for Pfeiffer at this juncture. Scott flew to center. Thomas whiffed. One run, one hit, no errors.

Brooklyn—Stengel availed to Hooper. Wheat drove a liner to right. Wheat stole second. Thomas throwing low it was the first stolen base of the series. Cutshaw popped up to first. Wheat holding second. Mowrey rolled out to the pitcher. No runs, one hit, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.
Boston—Foster whiffed. Hooper rolled out to Pfeiffer. Janvin took the third one right in the middle of the plate. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Brooklyn—Olson landed on the first one and went out at first. Foster to Hobitzell. After fouling out four Miller went out at first. Hobitzell to Foster. Pfeiffer signaled his appearance at bat with a long drive to right which Hooper held down to a single. Lewis' error run for the Sox. Myers took the third strike. No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING.
Boston—Shorten robbed. Shorten of what would have been his fourth safety by going back to the fence for the latter's long fly. Hobitzell grounded out to Olson. Lewis retired on the side with a fly to left and Brooklyn's first victory was hung up.

ENGINE HITS WAGON JAMMED IN SWITCH, RELEASES SWITCH AND IS WRECKED

TWO VIEWS OF QUEER RAILROAD WRECK AT BRIDGEPORT, CONN.

A train from Housatonic arriving at Bridgeport, Conn., struck a team of horses drawing a heavy truck while crossing a grade in the city of Bridgeport. While the driver was hurrying his horses across the tracks one of the wheels of the truck became wedged in a switch. The train struck the wagon and when the wagon was torn from where it had been struck it released the switch, which caused the train to take a siding.

It was impossible for the engineer to stop the train which was going at great speed, and the engine jumped the track, tearing itself loose from the cars and rolled down an embankment about twenty feet where it struck another wagon and killed two horses drawing the same. The driver of this truck was unhurt. The locomotive of the train was killed instantly. Many passengers on the train were injured and an ambulance call was sounded. Had the train gone twenty-five feet farther on it would have leaped off the end of a viaduct, causing great loss of life. The situation was serious and the locomotive engine after it had struck and demolished the second wagon. The engine crew was not injured, the locomotive engineer and the fireman jumping before the engine struck the second wagon. Railroad men who investigated the wreck called it one of the queerest in their experience.

FRENCH ATTACK SOUTH OF RIVER IS IN PROSPECT

Neither Petrograd nor Berlin gives any intimation of outcome of Great Battle Waging Now in Volhynia and Galicia

The Associated Press summarizes the European war situation as follows: Increased activity south of the river Somme is reported by the French war office. For some time the main efforts of the French and British have been made north of the river but last night the artillery was unusually active on the front between Demicourt and Lihons. This may be the prelude to another blow below the river. In accordance with the French policy of swinging the attack back and forth from one side of the river to the other.

Although the great battle in Volhynia and Galicia apparently is continuing with the same ferocity that has marked the fighting since the new Russian offensive began, Petrograd reports that nothing of importance has occurred. Berlin is almost equally uncommunicative and few details are permitted to reach the outside world of this campaign which represents the supreme effort of the Russians this season to break the Austro-German lines and capture Lemberg. The Bulgarian war office acknowledges that Serbian troops have forced a passage of the Cerna river in Greek Macedonia. It says the Serbians were subjected to a counter attack and that the fighting continues. The French war office reports that the Bulgarians counter attack failed and more Serbians are crossing the river.

ALLIED PAPERS COMMENT UPON SUBMARINE RAID

London, Oct. 10.—The Times' legal correspondent dealing with German submarine activity off the American coast, says that the American blockade is a form of coercion adopted in time of peace to bring a wrong doing state to reason. If in the present instance the United States will tolerate pressure of this sort some steps will be caused by international law.

GUARDSMEN IN NO HURRY TO RETURN

MILITIAMAN FROM THIS CITY WRITES OF LIFE IN BORDER CAMP

GET MUCH DRILLING

"Just As Soon Be at Home" But Nobody Rearing to Quit, All Getting Good Training

As nothing has been heard from members of the National Guard from this city, who are stationed at Columbus, N. M., for some time, the following from a letter received from Weldon Wray will be of interest:

"Although had just as soon or had rather be at home than here, there is not a one that would say anything but an honorable discharge and transportation home to go. We are all satisfied with coming to the New Mexico Guard, rather than Camp Wilson. We think that the New Mexico First is among the best on the border, first because they are men adapted to the climate then because of the gain of a long hike for a number of days; second because it has more men qualified for the regular marksmanship records than any of the regiments from Southern States; third, because it has the second best militia battery in the United States and has for its officers men that have graduated with honors from West Point and the military institute at Rowell, N. M., reported as one of the best in the South.

"The regiment is not so well drilled as some, but they are rapidly improving in the close order drilling. Below I give a synopsis of our routine of work from day to day:

"After we were taught the mechanism of the rifle and taught the manual of arms, we were put under orders from headquarters that what we should do for the next fifteen days.

"On Monday we would have close extended order company drill from 7:30 to 9 with fifteen minutes rest, and then would have bayonet exercises and fencing for 45 minutes. After another fifteen minutes for rest we would have battalion drill from 10:45 to 11. After fifteen minutes rest again we would have signal drill and would then be excused until 5:45 when we would go on battalion parade. After parade we were free until 11 o'clock with the exception of one squad that must stay in camp. Turn about is taken for this, in order to divide the work.

"On Tuesday we would roll packs with heavy equipment and entrenching tools and at 7:30 a. m. would start on a hike of from 12 to 15 miles and be back by dinner, then be off duty except standing retreat at 6 p. m.

"Wednesday would be almost the same as Monday, except perhaps to drill in extended order and pass signals instead of the battalion drill.

"Thursday would also be about the same except that instead of battalion drill we would go out and entrench ourselves with entrenching tools.

"Friday is about the biggest day we have. We roll heavy equipment, take rations for dinner, which we cook in our mess kits. This is done after hiking about seven or eight miles. After an hour for dinner we start back for camp. In going and coming we practice rear and advance guard.

"On Saturday morning we have gun, equipment and quarters inspection by our major, an inspection of advancement in signals. In the evening we have regimental parade at 6 o'clock.

"Sunday is a day of divine worship and we go to church at the Y. M. C. A., or to other places, as we may choose, but good services are held at the Y.

"Since about a month ago the hikes have been discontinued and we have settled down to drills. As our turn comes we have fatigue and camp guard. There are three reliefs at each post and they are to watch the property and permit no one to carry it off without orders from the officer in command.

"Men report to the color sergeant to polish up around headquarters and men report as guard house duties are much harder as we are on 24 hours and have only 12 hours rest. "The program of drill changes every two weeks. Company M, New Mexico, has the reputation of not having fired a shot while on outpost or guard duty, either accidentally or from fear of being rode upon, to find later that the object was a mule or a big black dog."

HOW MORE ROSE BUSHES MAY BE EASILY OBTAINED

Wichitans interested in increasing the number of rose bushes on their premises may profit by the following advice from the federal department of agriculture:

"Limbing roses are propagated mostly by hardwood cuttings made in the fall; many cut flower roses may be propagated in the same way.

"Hardwood cuttings are taken from the dormant wood of winter, while softwood or greenwood cuttings are taken when the plants are in active growth. To make a hardwood cutting, good strong, well ripened shoots of the past summer's growth should be selected which have not been cut between the time the leaves fall and freezing weather. If left until after cold weather there is danger of injury from freezing. They should be cut into pieces of 5 or 6 inches with the upper cut just above the bud, and should be tied in bundles with raffia or with string that does not rot easily if exposed to dampness. After labeling plainly they should be buried in moist sand, tops down, and placed in a cool cellar, or buried in the open ground below danger of frost. They should be planted in the open ground in the spring about a little before corn planting time, so that one or two cuts or not over one inch of the cutting is above ground, which will leave 4 or 5 inches in the ground. Care must be taken not to injure the cuttings that have formed while the cuttings were buried.

You would do the same if you ever stopped to listen to the Playerphone. It is so much different, so much better, than any of the older makes of re-producing instruments that really it is not in the same class. The old metallic sound, that has been such a bad feature of all other instruments is entirely eliminated in the Playerphone by the installation of a tone chamber constructed entirely of the finest violin wood, and this gives it all the sweetness and purity of tone and sound that the original voice or instrument conveys.

NEW UNION STATION MEANS FARE INCREASE

By Associated Press. Dallas, Tex., Oct. 10.—Inauguration of train service into Dallas' new $5,000,000 union terminal station will mean that passengers from Texas points north, northeast and northwest of Dallas must pay five cents more for passenger fares than before.

It was explained by the railroad companies making this advance that it required a one mile longer haul to the new depot than to the individual stations previously used; hence the increased tariff.

Orders for this increase have been sent out from general offices here, but it does not become effective until the actual operation of trains into the new terminal.

Railroad companies operating trains from the south said they one mile shorter haul from that direction would not cause them to lower their fares by the same amount.

ELECTRA HIGH TO BE HERE SATURDAY

Will Meet Locals in First Game of Season on Home Grounds Saturday

The first at home football game for this season will be staged next Saturday at the Katy Park when the locals meet the team from the Electra high school. Electra has a strong team, having played Burk Burnett to a 6 to 7 score earlier in the season. The locals emerged from their Saturday's game with Burk Burnett in fine shape, and are already working out hard in preparation for Electra. With the experience gained in one game this season, and the added advantage of playing at home the locals expect to take Electra handsomely into the return game which is to be played sometime in November here. The showing made by the locals in the Burk Burnett game is said by Manager McClammy to have been on a par with that of Burk Burnett and with the breaks going the other way they assert that the local team would have been the victors.

MANY NEW MATERIALS AVAILABLE FOR MAKING OF AUTUMN COSTUMES

Special to The Times.—With the bright, crisp October days here, New York seems more alive than ever, and the fashionable thoroughfares of the great city are filled with crowds in new attire which is exceedingly smart. Everyone wants new clothes when autumn comes, and everyone seems to have new clothes.

with their large, high collars that-but ton snugly to the neck. Many of the collars are made of fur or fur cloth, which may had in such good imitations that only a very experienced eye could tell the difference. The materials for coats this season are simply irresistible; so beautiful are they in the rich, warm colors and so wonderfully soft in texture. Without being heavy or clumsy they are warm enough to wear.

Among the very newest materials are Bolivia cloth, a rich fabric with a sheen, and burella, a soft open weave, some of the most beautiful but very much more attractive and finer in quality. In addition to these, there are the more well known wool velours, wool plushes and wool velvets as well as many other fancy coatings. A pleasing note in the development of the new coats for fall is the use of bright colored linings. A very handsome imported coat of navy blue serge had a bright cerise lining which showed when the fronts were rolled open. Linings of the same color were also seen in the lining of the collar and cuffs. Other charming combinations that have been seen in the way of linings are brown with light blue, and black with cerise.

Like the coat in the illustration, a great many models show the straight closing down the front with gracefully curved lines at the sides. The back and sides are belted. Some models, however, are on the contrary, very full at the back and have no belt at all to confine the fulness, which starts at the neck and increases as the coat lengthens. Fur collars are particularly good style this fall. Hudson seal, beaver, kolinsky,itch, skunk and rabbit are the pelts most used. Very often the cuffs are of matching fur, too, but in many instances only the collar is of fur.

shown here, developed in serge and trimmed with rows of braid in different widths. It buttons trimly down the front, from collar to hem.

From Paquin comes an exquisite one-piece dress of brown Georgette crepe to be slipped on over the head. It is trimmed with dull gold embroidery. The skirt is quite long and weighted with a deep band of beaver fur. A high beaver collar and deep

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

The Merchant. When all your cash has faded, quite, And your friends are scarce, and your ladder's light, Who gives you grub 'till tomorrow night? The Merchant. Or if you ever farm at all, And you haven't a bit of grain to haul, Who carries you 'till the following fall? The Merchant. And then if the crops are a little slack, You skip out some night, never come back. Who is the man who holds the sack? The Merchant. When debts pile up that you cannot pay, And you go through the bankruptcy court some day, Who loses—but smiles in the same old way? The Merchant. When the church's funds are running low, Cause the members' gifts are rather slow, Where do the deacons get the dough? The Merchant. Balls and picnics, lodges galore, All take their toll from the general store. But he'll get his reward on that beautiful shore, The Merchant. Rocky Mountain Rube.

men of this type always wear made-to-measure clothes

IT'S rather interesting to note that the men with the high foreheads, the keen eyes and the genuinely cultured demeanor, always prefer custom tailored, made to measure clothes.

To such men, price is usually not a consideration—they buy what they like and want regardless of its price—they find that custom tailoring suits them perfectly.

But even to men to whom price is a consideration, custom tailoring is now available—we've combined all its advantages with the additional attraction of unusual value.

FRY FORGERY CASE CONTINUED MONDAY

Will Be Tried at Henrietta October 30—Many Witnesses From Graham

Another of the forgery cases against E. W. Fry, former county judge of Young county, was called for trial in the 20th district court at Archer City Monday, but was continued for the term upon motion of the defense. The illness of the mother of Judge R. E. Taylor of counsel for the defense was the cause of the continuance. The elder Mrs. Taylor suffered a stroke of paralysis recently. Four of the cases were continued for the term and three were referred to Clay county where they were set for trial October 30. Several scores of witnesses from Young county were in Archer City yesterday, expecting the trial to begin, and hotel and boarding house facilities were considerably taxed. Fry is now living at Sweetwater, where he is employed by the Santa Fe railroad.

MODERN CHURCH IS DECLARED WASTEFUL

President of General Convention of Churches of Christ Makes This Charge

By Associated Press. Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 10.—Division, wastefulness and inefficiency today is the reproach of the church, declared W. F. Richardson, president of the General Convention of the Churches of Christ, in his opening address here to the fourth annual meeting of that organization. He pointed to an annual convocation of the churches as the best means toward "remedying this unfortunate condition." He also pleaded for unity in the realization of the legitimacy of a missionary society, as a means by which the churches may fulfill their duty. Mr. Richardson also reviewed the accomplishments of the General Convention of Churches of Christ, and pointed out the scope of its future intentions. "It is a significant fact," he remarked, "that our movement had its origin in America. We are the only religious body of considerable strength that was not transplanted from European soil. The General Convention of Churches of Christ must lead its influence to make the democracy of the disciples of Christ more evident and more efficient. Speaking further of unity of action, Mr. Richardson declared of the American people, "our vast wealth, unlimited natural resources, rapidly increasing population and inventive genius do not insure us against disaster, unless we develop ourselves that self control, that command of our resources that unity of action which make all else effective. "We must find some better way to assimilate our polyglot population, that we may convert them from a menace into an asset. In the language of an acute observer of our times, we call our country the "melting pot of the nations," but we know that there is not fire enough under the pot to melt the hyphens, let alone the foreign names which link themselves with the word American. And it is more our fault than theirs." Just received a fresh shipment of Kosher meats for Dutch lunches. Live Oak George and Delicatessen, phone 2063, 711 Seventh. 129 ttc

UNITED STATES USING MUCH LABOR FROM MEXICO Laredo, Tex., Oct. 10.—Thousands of Mexican laborers, both residents of the American side and new arrivals from the interior have been taken to the north and east to fill the places in railroad section work made vacant by Italians and other foreigners who have returned to Europe to join their colors...

event of sickness and free transportation to their destinations are offered these laborers as an inducement to go east. Wages paid it is said, range from $1.80 to $2.25 per day. It is noticeable that although few of the Mexicans speak the English language, it is very seldom that an interpreter is employed, dependence rather being placed on securing a few among the laborers who speak a little English. Section foremen, it is said, prefer to convey orders to the laborers, and to illustrate the use of the English word, pick, axe and jacks by the sign language.

HINTS OF WINTER IN EVIDENCE TODAY

Drop of Over 30 Degrees in Temperature is Recorded Since Sunday

Thoughts of gas heaters and flannel under-rigging were prevalent in Wichita Falls this morning when a crisp north breeze pushed the mercury down to the 47 degree mark, the coolest day of the autumn. The temperature attained a maximum of 38 degrees Sunday, 43 Monday and 47 degrees yesterday, a decline of more than 50 degrees in 48 hours. Warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow so that the cool spell may not be of much duration. Many Wichitans have already taken the hint, however, and had their heaters put back in position.

You'll Always Remember the Way Alma Gluck

sings the old darkey's song "Carry Me Back to old Virginy, There's where the cotton and the corn and 'tatoes grow, There's where the birds warble sweet in the springtime, There's where this good old darkey's heart am long to go."

You've often heard this plaintive old song—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginy." Possibly it is one of your favorites. The simple melody, the yearning sentiment of it, have touched the hearts of thousands—but the old song never came into its own until Alma Gluck sang it for the Victor. The public has been quick to recognize the new beauty that Gluck has imparted to it. Her brilliance and her sympathy glorify the old darkey's plaint, and make this record one of the greatest treasures of the Victor catalog.

Its appeal is nearly universal—those who differ on other music unite in their enjoyment of this record. We want everybody to hear it—we are sure you will want to have it at home.
