GAME WON BY HITTING IN PINCHES

GARDNER'S HOME RUN WITH TWO ON BASES IN SECOND INNING IS DECIDING FACTOR IN TODAY'S CONTEST

SERIES NEAR END

Boston Needs Only One More Victory to Claim Championship, and Meets Superbas Tomorrow Upon Home Grounds

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, Oct. 11.—The Boston Americans, winning from Brooklyn today by a score of 6 to 2, triumphed upon the world's championship aspirations of the National League pennant winners, and placed themselves within striking distance of the world's premier baseball title.

Boston hit in the pinches today and Brooklyn didn't. That tells today's whole story. Brooklyn started briskly enough, Johnson landing on the first ball pitched in Brooklyn's half of the first inning, making a three bagger. He was scored a few seconds later and another tally was added in this frame, but that ended Brooklyn's participation in the rubber spiking part of the proceedings, and the vast majority of the 25,000 fans present at the Superbas pass over more than one good chance to put a run across in the remaining eight innings.

Gardner earned additional laurels for himself by landing for a home run in the second inning, with two men on bases. It was his second circuit clout of the series. Boston forced Brooklyn to try three pitchers, Ruben Marquard, Cheney and the veteran Nap Rucker being used in turn. Rucker held the Bostonians scoreless in the two innings that he occupied the mound, but the Sox landed entirely too freely upon the offerings of the other two, their hits being nicely timed.

Today's results put a deep crimp in Brooklyn's hopes, and the Sox are now win all the remaining games, while one more victory for Boston will bring the series to a close. The details of today's game follow:

FIRST INNING. Boston—Hooper rolled out to the box. Janvrin and Walker whiffed in succession. No runs, no hits, no errors. Brooklyn—Johnston opened the game for Boston by hitting to the center field fence for a three sacker, jumping on the first pitch.—Hooper followed with a clean safety to left, scoring Johnston. Merkle walked. Wheat forced Merkle at second; Myers going to third. Leonard worked a wild pitch at this juncture, Wheat going to second, but Myers holding third. Cutshaw hit to Janvrin who whiffed the ball, Myers scoring and Wheat taking third. Cutshaw stole second, but Wheat was caught off at third by Carrigan's short peg to Scott. Mowrey ended the frame by fanning. Two hits, two runs, one error.

SECOND INNING. Boston—Hoblitzell promanaded. Lewis put one against the right field fence for a double, Hoblitzell being held at third. Gardner hit to deep center for a home run, his second of the series, netting the Boston club three runs. Scott lifted to left, but Wheat muffed the ball and Scott perched on second. Scott took third on Carrigan's perfect bunt to the box. Carrigan going down at first. Leonard whiffed. Hooper batted for Rucker, by grounding out to first. Three runs, two hits, one error.

CRITICISES WILSON FOR SIGNING ARMY MEASURE

Portland, Oregon, Oct. 11. Allan J. Benson, successful candidate for president, criticized President Wilson in a speech here last night for having signed and Charles E. Hughes republican candidate, for not having thus far attacked the Hay-Chamberlain army reorganization bill. He said the president, in taking up the cudgels for the Johnson eight hour bill had ignored the needs of millions of other workers needing assistance more than the railroad men.

CONTROL OF THE DANUBE RIVER IS OBJECT OF BOTH SIDES IN ROUMANIAN CAMPAIGN

"IRON GATES OF THE DANUBE" GEN. MACKENSEN.

Where Austria-Hungary, Roumania and Serbia meet on the Danube is one of the important strategic points in the present warfare; the river there passing through the famous "iron gates" which barred navigation until a channel was opened in 1896. The Danube, which is second only to the Volga, among European rivers makes two sharp turns there, changing its course from northeast to south to southwest. The "iron gates" are controlled by the Roumanians. On the Hungarian side is the town of Orsova on the Roumanian side is the town of Turau-Severin. At Orsova (on the Danube near the Rugarian-Roumanian frontier) we repulsed three enemy attacks," said a Roumanian report. Mackensen, the famous German general, is fighting for the control of the Danube, which means virtually the decision of operations on trans-Atlantic voyages. The dissemination of accurate news is at all times a matter of high importance. We trust our authorities will extend their laudable energy in other directions also and visit with similar punishment any other news agencies or journals which may be convicted of publishing garbled intelligence from this country. The Chronicle says news which did not in fact come from this country.

BRITISH CUT OFF HEARST PAPERS

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE CAN'T USE CABLES OR OFFICIAL PRESS REPORTS

"GARBLING" CHARGED

Denied That Pro-German Policy of Papers is Responsible For This Action

London, Oct. 11.—The morning newspapers publish in conspicuous places the official order denying the International News Service further use of the official press-bureau and the use of cables and all other facilities for transmission of news because of its "garbling" of messages and breach of faith. The order appears under headline as "No British News for Hearst." "News Made in America" and "American Agencies Garbling Messages." The Daily Express says by way of comment: "The Daily Express repeatedly has called attention to anti-British lies printed in American newspapers controlled by Hearst. The New York American, the Chicago Examiner and similar journals. This news is supplied by the International News Service, which is entirely a Hearst organization. These papers will not have a line of Hearst news today. This action follows repeated breaches of faith by the Hearst organizations. One of the latest instances was a message in the Chicago Examiner headed 'London in Flames' and purporting to describe a Zeppelin raid. It was never sent from London." In an extended editorial, the Times says: "The disciplinary measure taken against the International News Service is a satisfactory sign that the government appreciates the importance of dealing drastically with lying news agencies. The tone of Mr. Hearst's newspapers is strongly anti-British, but the action of the government has not been inspired by any resentment at their opinions. It is in consequence of deliberate falsification of intelligence of which the International News Agency has been repeatedly found guilty. While we repeatedly urged upon an unscrupulous news agency we trust that the measures taken will not be regarded by the people of this country as involving any slur upon the character and conscientiousness of the United States press as a whole. The reputation of the great majority of American journals for fairness and honesty stands above reproach and it has again and again been vindicated during the war. We imagine, indeed, that the American press and the pub-

MEXICAN COMMISSIONERS CONTINUE INSISTENT UPON THAT POINT

CONTROL OF BORDER

Delegates at Work Today Upon Plans For Protecting Life and Property There

Atlantic City, Oct. 11.—Schooled by General T. H. Miles, assistant chief of staff of the American army, the American members of the American-Mexican joint commission met Carranza's representatives today for further consideration of the different plans suggested for protecting life and property along the Mexican border. Both American and Mexican commissioners professed belief in a firm agreement on some plan for border control but none was willing to prophesy a culmination of their deliberations on that subject for some days. Nothing has arisen in the discussion so far that would indicate an alteration of the Mexican insistence on the withdrawal of American troops from Chihuahua or that indicates a willingness of the Americans to regard withdrawal as a leading feature of the conference.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 11.—This morning's session of the 34th district in the trial of T. R. Watson was devoted entirely to hearing witnesses for a change of venue. The list included ministers, teachers, bankers and District Judge Tom McCulloch of Waco. Without an exception each of the witnesses when asked the question said they believed the defendant guilty, this opinion being based on what they had read and on discussions of the case. Each said they believed the conclusion they had formed could be removed by evidence and that a fair and impartial jury could be had in McLennan county.

OFFICIALS SEE NO REASON FOR DRASTIC ACTION IN TRANSYLVANIA

LANING GOES OVER SUBMARINE SITUATION FULLY WITH PRESIDENT WILSON BUT NO STATEMENT HAS BEEN ISSUED

RETURNS TO CAPITOL

Not Believed Reports Received So Far Give Any Ground for Diplomatic Procedure—Wilson Leaves For Indianapolis

By Associated Press. Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 11.—Secretary Lansing declined to discuss the conference last night with President Wilson on the subject of submarine activity off the American coast. He left today for Washington. The secretary and Mr. Wilson were up early this morning and talked briefly before the former took his departure. It was reported after Mr. Lansing left that he would stop in Atlantic City on his way to Washington to confer with members of the Mexican-American commission but at executive offices here it was reported that he gave no indication of such an intention.

Officials here declared there was no statement to be made regarding Mr. Lansing's visit beyond the fact that he and the president had discussed the submarine situation very fully. It was reiterated that on the basis of reports so far received no grounds had been found for drastic action. Mr. Wilson planned to leave Shadow Lawn at 1:50 this afternoon for Indianapolis where he will speak twice tomorrow.

Two of the strikers are not expected to recover. The policemen were not hurt dangerously. The police are armed and most of them were entrenched today before the Standard Oil plant. The strikers and their sympathizers gathered a block away. The rioting was an outgrowth of a strike of 1500 employees of the Standard Oil company, which closed that plant, throwing 3000 more men out. Six hundred men of the Vacuum Oil company were wounded yesterday in a strike.

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN IS FRUITLESS

By Associated Press. Newport, R. I., Oct. 11.—The United States destroyers which have been searching for the crew of the British steamer Kingsstonian reported sunk by a German submarine off Nantucket Shoal Lightship last Sunday night, returned today. None of them reported having found any trace of the Kingsstonian's boats. What became of the submarine after she completed her raid on British and neutral steamers Sunday night remained a mystery today.

NO EVIDENCE OF SUBMARINE NEAR GEORGIA'S COAST

By Associated Press. Savannah, Ga., Oct. 11.—If a submarine is lurking in waters off the South Atlantic coast, as unofficially reported yesterday, it had successfully evaded detection today. Cradence given first reports diminished to such an extent that Captain Clover of the British steamship Noya cleared his vessel this morning and announced he expected to sail later in the day.

ROUMANIANS ARE BEING HAMMERED IN TRANSYLVANIA

HAVE BEEN PUSHED BACK ALMOST TO THEIR OWN BORDERS AND ARE BEING VIOLENTLY MENACED BY TEUTONS

BULGARS FALL BACK

Indications Are British Offensive in Macedonia—May Assume Important Phase—Austrians Report Success in Galicia

The Associated Press summarizes the European war situation as follows: British troops are now within two miles of Seres one of the most important towns in the strip of Greek Macedonia occupied by the Bulgarians shortly before Roumania entered the war. The sustained character of the offensive on the part of the British troops have forced a passage of the Straits indicates that after several momentary efforts, serious operations have been undertaken on the Macedonian front. Not only in the Struma region but in the territory south and southeast of Monastir where the Serbians have been making important progress recently heavy fighting is under way. It is probable these operations are being undertaken partially to relieve the pressure on the Roumanian forces who are being pressed by the Bulgarians and their Austrian and German allies.

In Transylvania the troops of General Von Eulenkamp are forcing back the Roumanians rapidly and are now close to the Roumanian border at some points. Official reports from the Roumanian side indicate that the Roumanians are now seriously menaced. The repulse of Russian attacks in Galicia is reported by the Austrian war office but few details are given of the great battle now in progress for possession of Hemberg. German troops have captured the village of Herbutov on the Narayuvka river southeast of Lemberg.

KELL TO REPORT ON COTTON MILL

MEETING THURSDAY

Will Present Report at Session of Chamber of Commerce Directors in Morning

Frank Kell has returned from an extended trip to the east where he had gone on business connected with the proposed cotton mill for this city, and a matter upon which he has been working earnestly for some time. With flattering prospects for a consummation of the plans that have been made to procure such an enterprise. It will be remembered that the opportunity for securing this institution was brought to the attention of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce some time ago by Mr. Kell and at the time there was much enthusiasm over the outlook Mr. Johnson, the new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, very fully revealed a feeling of optimism on the part of those in touch with the plan.

Shipping in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean is now exposed to a double peril, one from a tropical storm and the other from German submarines. Since their activity off the North Atlantic coast Sunday and Monday morning the German submarines have disappeared from the scene and there is fear that they may next show up in the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean trade routes.

Just because Wichita Falls cannot secure a donation from the Carnegie commission, all effort to secure a library for Wichita Falls ought not to stop. If the people of Wichita Falls want a library they can get one. The Times believes that there is a genuine want of a library here. Doubtless there are individual citizens of Wichita Falls who would make liberal donations for such a purpose.

Hon. William Poindeexter, Democratic National Committeeman in Texas has issued a statement in which he absolves Bonna Ridgway, chairman of the Texas Finance Committee, from all responsibility for the letter sent out some time ago urging contributions to the Wilson campaign fund. The letter in question very crudely intimated that postmasters and other federal employees were expected to come across with ten percent of their yearly salaries. The letter was repudiated by National Chairman Vance McCormick. Now comes Mr. Poindeexter with a statement in which he assumes responsibility for the letter. He said he discussed such a letter with Mr. Ridgway and that following their conference Mr. Ridgway sent out the letter without Mr. Poindeexter's having seen it. Mr. Poindeexter says that had he seen the letter he would have changed the wording. As a matter of fact federal officials appointed under the present administration ought to contribute to the campaign fund. Most of them are doing so. Mr. Ridgway's letter was too brutal and crude.

The action of the British government in refusing the use of the mails and of the cables and telegraph to the International News Service is in line with the action of General Funston in sending home the correspondents who misrepresented border incidents and conditions, with the difference that the British government does not place the blame upon the correspondents but charges that the news dispatches were "made in America." Of course Mr. Hearst will charge that the British are persecuting him because of his attitude toward the allies in the war, but unfortunately Mr. Hearst's reputation for garbling and exaggerating is such that his charges will not have great weight. It is certain that the British government will not lift its ban upon Hearst until he gives assurance that he will publish only the dispatches that are actually sent from England. Mr. Hearst will probably be unwilling to give such assurance. Being a man of vast wealth and great resourcefulness it is not unlikely that he will organize a wireless service that will enable him to get around the British censorship, so far as war news is concerned. Of course he will be shut off from news originating on British territory but all that will be necessary will be the employment of newspaper men whose powers of invention are well developed. A few of these could furnish plenty of interesting dispatches from England.

The Railroad Club of Kansas City has gone out of existence. This club was organized years ago by railroad men as a kind of a drinking club. Liquors were dispensed at all hours. For several years railroad men have formed only a small percentage of its membership and the bars were let down to let any man with a liking for liquor and companionship into its membership and up to the bar. But even by this the club has not been able to pay expenses and its managers have given up. The club or bar that depends on the patronage of railroad men is bound to have a pretty precarious existence these days. It wasn't so many years ago that railroad men were considered among the heartiest class of drinkers. Now drinking has gone out of style with railroad men, partly from compulsion on the part of their employers partly because of the discouragement of drinking among the men themselves.

HOW TO SECURE FEDERAL AID FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

A part of the Federal appropriation for road construction is certain to be asked for that section of the Meridian Highway from Red River at Burk Burnett to the Tarrant county line. Practically all of the remainder of the Meridian Route in Texas is already macadamized. It is not too early for those in Wichita county who are interested in good roads to lay plans for a campaign to secure a part of Texas' share of the appropriation. Fifteen requirements must be met before federal aid may be secured. The secretary of agriculture at Washington has prepared a concise summary of these requirements which are herewith printed:

- I.—Assent by the State Legislature to the provisions of the Federal Road Act, or pending the meeting of the Legislature, assent by the Governor.
- II.—Establishment of a State Highway Department if one is not already established.
- III.—The working out of a general plan of the project statement department for making use of the Federal aid and the submission of the same to the Secretary of Agriculture for approval.
- IV.—The submission by the State Highway Department of an application, known as a project statement to the Secretary of Agriculture on a form to be supplied by him for each road for which aid is sought.
- V.—Approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of the project statement after such inspection as he chooses to make.
- VI.—The making of surveys and the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates and submission to the Secretary of Agriculture by the State Highway Department.

Only Sure Thing Is Brooklyn Will Win If Boston Does Not

A bet that Brooklyn would get a man to second in the first inning proved to be pickin' for one Wichita Tuesday, according to reports. The bet was before the game and looked good to the folks who called it. But Brooklyn's first man up got to first and was promptly advanced to second. The Robins would score went beging, and was never called. A minute later those who didn't call it were kicking themselves, as no Robins crossed the plate in that inning.

The old bet that the total score in a game will be an odd number has proved a good one in the series. The totals for the three games so far have been 9, 3 and 7. For some reason, the total score is odd in a great majority of baseball games. Nobody knows why, but it happens that way.

Another old bet, that the winning team will make more runs in an inning than the losing team makes in the entire game, has figured some in this world's series, but has been a losing proposition, as that hasn't happened yet.

Interest has been kept up in this series by the fact that each game has been won by a one run margin, and each was anybody's contest until the last out was in. In the first game, looking back over the detailed reports of each game, it is easy to pick several plays that might have changed the face of things.

At this writing, Wednesday's game hasn't been played. Brooklyn supporters took much courage from Tuesday's result and hold to the fact that the Robins played errorless ball, evidencing, they say, that the Brooklynites have gotten over their world's series stage fright. They do not throw any more games away. It is noted that Boston has won, not on the excellence of her pitchers, but on the gift edged hitting of her bats. They have received and Brooklyn's supporters contend that their team's superior batting will give enough edge to win, if the holders continue to play up to yesterday's form.

On the other hand, Boston fans contend that Brooklyn was to be expected to win at least one game of the series and that the first game on the home grounds was the one they would be expected to win. If they expect Boston to win today and to take the necessary fourth game tomorrow.

But the dope may be liberally discounted, whether for Sox or Dodgers, when the fans gather at 1 p. m., and Leopold has his daily struggle trying to pronounce Holditzell's name.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM IS PRACTICING HARD

Will Be 50 Per Cent Stronger Saturday Than in Game With Burk Burnett

Coach King of the local high school football squad is leaving no stone unturned in the way of preparing his charges for the opening game of the home season at the Katy Park next Saturday when the local squad will meet the Electric team for the first time this season.

The game with Burk Burnett Saturday, the first of the year for the locals showed the weak points which will have to be brushed up, and with the charges that will be put in on these points this week it is estimated that the Wichita Falls club will come on the field 50 per cent stronger than last Saturday. The members of the team express themselves as being confident of walloping the visitors by a healthy margin.

In addition to practicing a good at- tention at Saturday's game, the sale of season tickets has been such that an order for new uniforms has been placed and the locals will be decked accordingly in Saturday's game. The supporters of the high school team are planning a parade and snazzy dance over the downtown streets Friday night in order to give the team a morale boost. A yell practice under the direction of Manager McGlamery is scheduled for Friday afternoon, so there seems little doubt that the boys will show up at Saturday's game.

MANY STRONG TEAMS IN TEXAS FOOTBALL

Last Week's Score Nearly All Close, Promising Good Games Later

After literally submerging S. M. U. only the week before at the opening game, the crushing running attack of Texas on Rice Saturday was easily the feature football of the week, showing the Texas eleven to be masters of either style and to have a balanced attack. The A. & M. squad which has not been in the state for several years. The work of Texas in the two games played so far this year has been heartening to their supporters who were given to believe earlier that the loss of so many stars would result in a lean year for the Longhorns, and give Coach P. H. Arbutckle of Rice that the Texas eleven this year is as good or better than the 1915 team. The quality of the Texas score in the 2 was probably due to the fact that they adhered so closely to the running game, which is not prolific of top heavy scores, although credit for a pucky fight must not be taken from the Rice team.

As encouraging as was the showing of Rice last week, the showing of A. & M. against Southwestern was equally discouraging. The A. & M. attack was very ragged and lack of team work was apparent throughout. The coaches of A. & M. do not necessarily mean that the A. & M. team will be weak this season, for it is well known fact that the style of play of A. & M. coaches develops their team to its greatest powers in the big game alone, which this year will be the Turkey day game with Texas.

Southwestern's showing was considered encouraging. Last year Rice developed a strong team starting without one substitute left from the year before. This year his team is intact and has the benefit of one year's work. They show signs of making the going rough for some of the other clubs this year.

All of last week's games, with one exception, were marked by close football, showing that predictions that Texas coaches would return to the running game after slighting it for the open style for the past few years have apparently been justified. As most of the Texas elevens are already well grounded in the open game the return to the running attack should develop well balanced offensive tactics all over the state.

The one team working the open game last week was Baylor, which took S. M. U. into camp 62 to 0. Baylor's team, practically the same as last year, and in their game last year was the plugging game their resorting to the open attack shows that they too are mastering a varied of-

By Associated Press.
Amsterdam, Oct. 10.—The Berlin Vorwaerts incurred the most recent order for its suppression by advocating the appointment of a Reichstag committee for foreign affairs according to Berlin dispatches received here. In a leading article Sunday's issue, the Vorwaerts took up a request from several political quarters for the establishment of such a committee. Commenting upon the proposal the paper said that if it was adopted the antagonists of Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg would have an opportunity to ask for his dismissal. It added that the vote would show what the Reichstag thinks of Germany's war aims.

There was offered for sale a "magic" talisman said to be manufactured of natural chemical elements and guaranteed to bring good luck and happiness, success in business, love and everything else. The vendor asked the modest price of $18, American gold, for his talisman, payable $3 in cash and the balance in monthly installments. The advertiser carefully stated that his talisman would not resurrect the dead, or move the world, although almost every other miracle was possible.

CEREMONY HELD AT COURT HOUSE

CORNERSTONE LAID THIS AFTERNOON LOCAL LODGE OF MASONS

ADDRESS BY MAYOR

Compliments Citizenship of County and Refers to Achievements of Past

The corner stone of the magnificent new court house for Wichita county, now under course of construction, was laid this afternoon with appropriate ceremony, which was in charge of the Masonic fraternity, assisted by county and city officials.

Preliminary to the ceremony at the site of the new building the Masons assembled at their new Temple at the corner of Tenth and Scott and the Blue Lodge, which was in charge of the program, was escorted to the scene of the exercises by the local Commandery of Knight Templars in uniform, the procession being a large and impressive one.

With the characteristic concern of this organization in matters for the public welfare, the membership displayed an unusual degree of interest in the occasion and the line of march was one of the longest that has been seen from among the numbers of the organization in some time, with the possible exception of the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of their new Temple.

Arriving at the new building the impressive ceremony of the Masonic order was carried out with P. B. Cox, past worshipful master, in charge and with Frank Collier in command of the Knight Templars acting as escort.

Judge Harvey Harris, representing the county was present, and although having been confined to his home on account of illness during the past two or three days, was able to speak a few words of encouragement of the progress that had been made by the county in the construction of such a splendid edifice.

In the new corner stone were placed the articles taken from the corner stone of the old building which included a copy of the Wichita Herald of 30 years ago, a copy of the Colorado Clipper of similar date, several miscellaneous coins, a number of cards and men in business in Wichita Falls at that time, a scrap of paper with a message written thereon, the rattle from a snake and a star cut from wood and bearing the names of men engaged in the construction of the old building. In addition to this and as a contrast or in keeping with the progress of the new building, a copy of the Wichita Daily Times and other articles were deposited in the corner stone of the new building, to serve as a reminder to the generation of the future of the conditions that prevailed in this city today.

The reference to the conditions that obtained during the construction of the old building and those that prevail at this time were very impressive and were, of course, best appreciated by those who were here in the early days and have watched the progress of Wichita Falls from a struggling village to one of the principal cities in Texas of anything like similar size.

The principal speaker this afternoon in connection with the ceremony was Mayor A. H. Britain, who in a brief but comprehensive address, referred to the difficulties encountered in the early days by the pioneers who paved the way for the progressive citizenship that is now characteristic of Wichita Falls.

Mayor Britain, in his address, was reminiscent in referring to the history of this people and the obstacles that had been encountered in their efforts to make of this a community of law abiding and progressive people. He called attention to the fact that many of our settlers had left comfortable homes to come to this, which was at that time an undeveloped and uncertain country, and he urged that we have the way for a civilization that would prove both pleasant and profitable; how they had manifested an interest in the welfare of the community not only in this but adjoining counties in an effort to promote the peace and prosperity of a people that were at that time afflicted with the depredations of the red man.

Mayor Britain, in this connection, called attention to the great sacrifice that was made in the construction of the old court house, thirty years ago, stating that such an improvement at that time was a much greater undertaking than the construction of the new splendid edifice under present conditions.

The mayor then took occasion to congratulate the citizenship of Wichita county for the manner in which they had met the demand for a new and more modern building, stating that the people on this, as on all other occasions when the interest of the public was involved had responded nobly to the cause of progress.

Concluding, Mr. Britain expressed the hope that the new building would in reality be a "temple of justice" not only for the public welfare, but for each individual of the county, that there should never arise a circumstance that would tarnish the good name of this people. In this connection he complimented the county that its record has been a clean one, a record that every citizen could point to with pride and be proud of in the future. The same care be used in the selection of men to administer the affairs of the county, that there might never be the least suspicion of graft in public matters in this county.

LABOR MOVEMENT GAINS IN JAPAN

SIGNIFICANCE IS ATTACHED TO SUCCESS OF EFFORTS AT ORGANIZATION

AMERICA AS MODEL

Patterned After Plans of Labor Unions in United States, Much Interest Aroused.

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.

Tokio.—Announcement that Dr. Doshi Suzuki, president of the laborers' friendly society of Japan will attend the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor at Baltimore in November, has attracted attention from Japan has drawn attention to the extraordinary growth of the organization of the working people of the Japanese Empire. Dr. Suzuki, who visited the United States last year and by meeting the leading trade unionists of California did much to clarify the labor questions pending between the two nations. The Japanese believe that his forthcoming visit to America will materially advance the work begun last year and help to the attainment of a better understanding between Japan and the United States.

The grouping of Japanese laborers into one national association constitutes one of the most dramatic chapters in the history of modern Japan, and the fact that only last month the doors were thrown open to the idea has suddenly concentrated interest in the movement. Conceived only four years ago by Mr. Suzuki, the idea has developed so rapidly that 23,000 working men and women are affiliated with the laborers' organization and 2,000 new members are joining every month.

Great strikes are as yet unknown in Japan where an oligarchic government keeps jealous watch and controls the all associations and activities of its people, yet President Suzuki and his fellow officers have settled no fewer than twenty-seven small strikes by conciliation and arbitration.

"How far the laborers' movement will spread and what place it will fill in the economic and industrial life of the nation are questions which are holding the attention of the empire. Certainly for the present, the attitude of the government seems not only friendly but actively helpful."

That its future is great because its object is in no sense political but dedicated to the welfare of the working people was the opinion expressed by President Suzuki in the correspondence of the Associated Press. He talked with glowing enthusiasm about what he considered the great life devoted to the advancement of the interests of the people. Of massive build, earnest in manner, direct in gaze, modest but not devoid of speech, Mr. Suzuki resembles a prosperous business man or a university professor. He graduated from the Imperial University at on the Tokio Asahi. In 1909 he became secretary to the Rev. Clay MacCauley, the head of the American Unitarian Mission in Japan. Adopting Christianity, he turned himself fervor into the work of Dr. MacCauley's mission in Tokio and took a leading part in the social service work of the church.

"That work," said Mr. Suzuki to the correspondent, "brought me closely in touch with the working men and women of the great metropolis. Much was being done for them in philanthropic ways but one might like an inspiration came the thought that a great service for the people was needed. And it was that they should be banded together for their mutual happiness and for their improvement—morally and socially, economically and technically. So I went down into the factories and gathered together in Unitarian hall a few of the leaders and we talked it all over. It was no easy thing.

"We knew that many might deem it bold and even revolutionary. We knew that the government did not tolerate trade unionism. There was to bind the people together for their welfare and happiness and be not misunderstood? Then we saw light. We decided then and there that our organization would never in duty in defiance and that it would never enter politics. To that platform of negotiation have we steadfastly adhered and it is the sacred determination of us all to adhere to it always."

The project of organization was worked out in detail and its object was set forth to be the ethical, intellectual, economic and technical improvement of the working man and the betterment of his lot.

The motto of the first steps soon found that they had built bigger than they knew. Working men rallied to their idea and by their standard. The laborers' cause was a Roman banner. The soaring flame symbolized the spirit of brotherhood and warmth of affection uniting the members. The motto pointed to the brotherly indignity fastened to the lapel of his coat.

"Soon," he went on, "we had to think of establishing branches of our Tokyo organization. We started a magazine and called it 'Labor and Industry.' When the women joined us we began to print a special magazine for them and called it 'Friendly Woman.' The men's paper has a circulation of 18,000 distributed among Christian organizations which total eighty. We have had to get new clerks, larger quarters—more of everything."

Perky spoke the associations in the various cities and towns—hold meetings and every year there is an annual general convention.

The correspondent asked about a strike at Yokohama last week which the newspapers mentioned as having been settled by the head of the laborers' society. "It is true," Mr. Suzuki explained. "Three hundred employees of the Yokohama Dock Company went out to protest the discharge of two old workmen. One of the discharged men had been with the company sixteen years, the other 23. They were dismissed on the ground that they were idle. Not only did the strikers insist upon the reinstatement of the men, but upon the withdrawal of the right of foremen to discharge workmen and upon granting of an increase of wages. The strikers announced from Kobe and after a long and bitter discussion with the officers of the company we won our cause, or at least the chief demands. The men were reinstated, the authority to dismiss was removed from the foreman and the company promised an increase of wages within a reasonable time. We do not encourage strikes, but we mean to labor for the betterment of the working people."

The corporal of the guard had told him what to do when the officer of the day appeared, which by rule ought to be at about half past nine that night. Sentry was to notify corporal when the officer had passed. At ten o'clock no report from the sentry. The corporal wanted to know why. Much perturbed, the sentry said he was sorry. He had not seen the officer.

"Keep me posted," said the corporal sharply. "He might be late."

Fifteen minutes later the officer appeared, and this colloquy ensued:
Sentry—Who goes there?
Officer—Officer of the day.
Sentry—You're late, you are. You'll get the devil when the corporal of the guard sees you.

Cocoa as Currency.

Cocoa passed as currency among the natives of Central and South America at the time of the European conquest, and that despite a plentiful supply of gold, Joseph Acosta, in 1540, tells us the Indians used "none of their gold or silver for traffic in any way, but used only the cocoa bean, which continues among them that instead of money they use cocoa. The Aztecs of ancient Mexico also used "cocoa" as small change, as many as 8,000 beans being counted legal tender. The value of the beans may be judged from the fact that "a tolerably good slave" could be purchased for 100 of them.

You'll Always Remember the Way Alma Gluck

sings the old darky's song "Carry Me Back to old Virginy, There's where the cotton and the corn and 'tatoes grow, There's where the birds warble sweet in the springtime, There's where this good old darky's heart am long to go."

You've often heard this plaintive old song—"Carry Me Back to Old Virginy." Possibly it is one of your favorites. The simple melody, the yearning sentiment of it, have touched the hearts of thousands—but the old song never came into its own until Alma Gluck sang it for the Victor. The public has been quick to recognize the new beauty that Gluck has imparted to it.
