WOULD HAVE ALL COMBATANTS PUT-TERMS IN CONCRETE FORM

AID FROM NEUTRALS WILL TOUR COUNTRY

Would Serve as Clearing Houses for Peace Offers From Time to Time

By Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 17.—Warrior countries of Europe would be asked to enumerate the objects for which they are fighting and place their peace terms in concrete form in the hands of the selected neutral countries, according to a plan for world peace made public today by Harold F. McCormick, wealthy Chicagoan, in a pamphlet received here. The role of the neutral countries would not be that of mediators but of custodians and transfer agents. McCormick is expected to return soon from Switzerland where for a year or more he has met with diplomats and interned officers and soldiers which make Swiss cities virtually clearing houses of information concerning the war.

According to McCormick's plans the peace terms depicted by belligerent powers could be changed periodically in accordance with the varying fortunes of war the resulting benefit being that each side could know at a given moment precisely what the other side was demanding and could examine its own assets, chances and hopes accordingly.

In other words, there would be obtained a quotation of the "cash value" of ultimate peace terms. McCormick said, "it is contended that this would result in the minimum duration of the war."

SAS COMPANY ORGANIZATION IS STARTED

COMMITTEE NAMED BY DIRECTORS TO WORK OUT DETAILS OF PLAN FOR SOLUTION OF THIS CITY'S FUEL PROBLEM

TO REPORT SOON

Large Attendance at Meeting and Question is Discussed at Length. Expect to Have all of Stock Subscribed in Wichita Falls

After much discussion, which went into the various features of the proposed company to explore prospective oil and gas fields in the vicinity of Wichita Falls, a committee from the Chamber of Commerce was this morning appointed on motion of Frank Kell which will go into the methods to be followed in securing the capital and the necessary leaseholds for the company, and report to the Chamber of Commerce with a definite proposition not later than next Tuesday. A motion of Mr. Kell, President Huff was made an ex-officio member of the committee and the chair appointed the following members: Frank Kell, chairman, T. B. Noble, J. L. Jackson, J. A. Kemp and C. W. Bean.

The interest that the gas situation has aroused was reflected by the attendance at the meeting, about 75 of the leading business and professional men of the city, both those members of the Chamber of Commerce and others.

Among the suggestions that were made was one by Miles O'Reilly who suggested that an effort be made to raise a company with a capitalization of millions instead of thousands. Mr. O'Reilly's opinion on interesting outside capital in the matter. However it was the general opinion of those present that the company would have to be organized largely with local capital as the proposition would be most attractive to Wichita Falls investors, although an effort would be made to interest all the outside capital that was possible. With the making of the proposition primarily a Wichita Falls enterprise it was conceded that it would have to be limited to the resources of the local capacity for investment, which would make Mr. O'Reilly's plan impracticable, although it was conceded that if so much capital could be interested it would make the proposition a safer speculation.

It was also suggested that the proposition that the gas supply should not be discovered be preserved for the sole use of Wichita Falls might have a deterrent effect on the investment of outside capital, although there was some difference of opinion on this feature, others holding that the outside capital would be interested chiefly in the prospect of the discovery of oil, to which the prospect of gas would be a secondary feature.

It was made plain by Frank Kell that the Chamber of Commerce as an institution would not try to direct the operations of the company once it was formed, nor would it as a body take stock in the enterprise, but that on account of the present need of a news gas supply the Chamber of Commerce was taking the initiative in trying to effect the organization of a company for exploration and that such members of the Chamber of Commerce who would risk their money in it could do so, the probability being that most of the capital stock would be subscribed from such sources.

Among those taking part in the discussion besides Messrs. Kell and O'Reilly were T. B. Smock, J. A. Kemp, Clint Woods, L. A. Thornberg and C. W. Reid.

Mr. Thornberg in discussing the matter predicted a bright future for the glass manufacturing interests in this state in the event that gas could be found.

Mr. Smock stated for himself and his firm that they would be found willing to do their part in the most being especially anxious to find the gas, but that without the gas they could not meet the competition of glass makers burning the cheap gas at Oklahoma points.

On motion of F. N. Lawton the Chamber of Commerce expressed thanks to Frank Cullinan, secretary of the Producers Oil Company for their cooperation in getting up the manufacturing exhibit for the Dallas fair, it being the opinion of those present that the oil rig and the oil map furnished by these gentlemen had no mean part in the winning of second prize for the Wichita county exhibit. The thanks of the directors were also extended to B. F. Johnson, secretary, for his efforts in this connection.

J. A. Kemp reported that W. A. Webb, chief operating officer of the Kays had signified his assent to the terms of the agreement with Vice President D. R. Keeler of the Denver as to the building for exhibit purposes on the platform at the station. No action was taken in regard to the building pending the return of Secretary Johnson from the Dallas fair, as it was understood that he had some special plans to be worked out in connection with the building.

The Chamber of Commerce endorsed as a body the telegram of protest on the freight rates promulgated as a result of the Shreveport decision which was sent in the name of the Chamber of Commerce by President Huff and Assistant Secretary Thomas. A reply has been received from the commission announcing their consent to an informal hearing of the case next Thursday.

Boys' Organization at High School Makes Plans For Active Year's Work

Seventy members of the Boys' Club, the largest attendance for the year thus far, heard the talk of Professor Leo Clark, superintendent of city schools on what he expected of the Boys' Club this year at the regular meeting Monday night at the high school. Plans were made at this meeting to elect a president to take the place of Lester Cooper, who has removed from the school at the next meeting and to discuss plans for work as well.

Mr. Clark in his talk outlined some of the aims which he desired that the boys should adopt and his view was seconded by the presidents of the various classes, responding by previous arrangement. These boys also told what might be expected of the boys and told of the high standard they hoped to set for the boys of the school. Charles Williams, president of the senior class was absent and was represented by Henry Akin. The other presidents speaking were: Andrew Egan of the junior class, Robert Frank of the sophomores and Frank Patton of the freshmen.

The program was completed by a comedy number by Paul Pond, Paul Rutledge, Frank Caultie and Robert Stoyton, in which by pantomime and dialogue some of the ideals and ambitions of the boys' club were brought out in an original way.

The club will have a program of three fold nature at each meeting to be held from 7:30 to 8:30 each Monday night, the divisions to include a serious talk by some business or professional man, a musical program and a comedy section for amusement only. The faculty advisors and the officers of the club are now busy making plans for future meetings and they announce that much of value is expected to be received by those who join the organization.

NOW LEADS RUSSO-ROUMANIAN FORCES FIGHTING ON THE DANUBE

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS

Grand Duke Nicholas, just recalled from the scene of his triumphs in the Caucasus, now commands the Russo-Roumanian forces against the Bulgarians. It is reported that the grand duke has supreme command of all the Russian and Roumanian forces operating in Dobruja and on the Danube. He may act as an adviser of the Roumanian commanders fighting for possession of Transylvania. Because of the heavy fighting in the Balkans, both on the Roumanian frontier and in Macedonia, the arrival of the grand duke on the Roumanian border, it is believed, will be the signal for the opening of the double barreled allied offensive on Bulgaria in an effort to close the Austro-German road to Constantinople.

FEW CHILDREN NOT ATTENDING SCHOOL

Comparatively Small Number of Cases Comes to Attention of School Officer

Little necessity exists in the rural districts for rigid enforcement of the compulsory school attendance law, judging from the experiences of C. C. Shelton, attendance officer, but in Wichita Falls several cases have been found that required his attention.

In most of the cases found, the children were kept out of school through lack of suitable clothing and in such cases there is little to be done at present. Later arrangements will be made to care for such cases. Other cases were those of children whose parents were preparing to leave the city shortly and who had not wished to enroll their children for the short period before their departure.

As yet, no arrests for failure to comply with the law have been made, though some warnings have been served. With work as plentiful as it is for all classes of labor, the number of cases where clothing and books cannot be provided is small. The law provides means whereby children can be supplied with books when their parents are unable to furnish them.

It is not probable that too great pressure will be brought to bear until the new school buildings are ready and additional children may be accommodated.

Fifteen Minute Song and Preaching Service - Another Large Crowd Hears Evangelist at Church Monday Night

The strains of "Nearer My God to Thee" resounding from a business office on Eighth street this morning, signified the invasion of Wichita Falls' business center by gospel forces.

A six minute sermon by the evangelist marked the service, which was the first of a series of such meetings to be held downtown, planned as Dr. Hendrick expressed it, to bring business men to the service.

A saying by Jesus "How much will you love me and a saying by Paul, "I live for Christ" were taken by Dr. Hendrick this morning to illustrate a sermon on selfishness.

"I've been around, quite a bit for a man as young as I am," he said. "I've never met a man who had a home where there was a boy named Judas. There are lots of Pauls. The only Judas I ever heard of was the son of a neurotic woman who said she named him that because it would have been better if he'd never been born."

"There's a big difference between making a life and making a living. The greatest life is the unselfish life, and the opportunity is given to each of you to do good, but selfishness makes this world a cruel place to live in. Let your life be one of unselfishness, of cheerfulness. If you have got anything good to say about me, say it while I'm here."

HARDEMAN ed by the police on a charge of being drunk was late in the city and suffering from an infectious sort of rheumatism, intensified possibly by his spree. He has been too sick to be brought into police court, and the police officers deemed him a more fit candidate for a hospital than for the court. However, the officers state that the General Hospital has declined to take care of him on the grounds that he did not contract the disease in Wichita Falls. According to his statement he has been away from Wichita Falls more than 2 years. It is reported that the authorities plan to send him away if he is able to be moved, he having relatives in another city nearby. It is thought Judge Whitlaw is inclined to take issue with the authorities on the question of speeds having been away, declaring that to his certain knowledge the man has paid fines in the local police court within the year. Whatever the final disposition of the case, the police are anxious to get the man moved from the jail, deeming it the wrong place for a man in his condition, and an imposition on the other prisoners to have a party afflicted with communicable disease confined there. The sick man has had medical attendance at the jail since he has been there, and the physician agrees that the jail is no place for the man. Only five cases were disposed of in the police court this morning. Two of them, violations of the traffic ordinance in passing a street car halted to take on and discharge passengers resulting in 25 fines and three cases of intoxication drawing similar judgments. One of the latter was suspended during good behavior, the defendant having worked and promising to get out of town and get on his job.

BRITISH OFFICIALS CAREFULLY STUDY EVERY DETAIL OF FALLEN RAIDERS

LORD FRENCH INSPECTS GONDOLA OF WRECKED ZEPPELIN

Every detail of the Zeppelins brought down near London has been studied by high British officials. The two latest "Zepps" which fell on Sept. 24, when they made a raid, left much intact for the British government to learn about the intricate construction of the raiders. The photograph above which has just reached this country shows Lord French, commander of the home forces, inspecting the gondola which fell in a country field in Essex. This "Zepp" came down in a blaze and flame, and her crew was killed while the other landed safely. The farmer upon whose house the Zeppelin wreck pictured here fell said: "I saw only one political domination if it is to attract and hold the right kind of big men who put their independence in politics above all things else. There is no good reason why professors should be political coaches or that they should be denied the right to their opinions on any subject so long as their actual work in the University gives satisfaction to the board entrusted with the management of that institution.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

LOVETT RESUKES MR. HUGHES.

Mr. Hughes' heroic and persistent effort to make the Adamson eight-hour law the dominant issue in the presidential campaign has received a jolt. Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of the United Pacific railway, has just declared that the Adamson law is not a business issue compared with other issues involved in the election.

Mr. Lovett's attitude is a notable change. His firm conviction is that Wilson has more credit than most presidents who have preceded him. Mr. Lovett wonders whether Mr. Hughes would have acted differently under the circumstances. "It was silent until he saw the popular side of the question," he points out. "Not till then did his indignation boil and overflow. And most of the house resolutions including ex-Speaker Cannon voted for the bill."

NO IMPROVEMENT IN CAR SITUATION

Shortage Becoming Acute—Supt. Butz Tells of Conditions Along Northwest

The car shortage existing at present is more serious than even at the time of the grain rush earlier in the year, or practically at any time during the year, says J. W. Butz, superintendent of the Northwestern Railway. Mr. Butz added that the shortage is not confined to any particular section of the country, but all parts are suffering equally from the shortage.

A great prosperity envelops the United States.

As never before in the history of the land, legitimate enterprise is assured of rich rewards.

There are no breadlines; there is no unemployment; the historic "dinner pail" is full to overflowing, and whether in field or factory, home or store, hope has been given strength and drive.

They shame America and deny plain facts who talk of "war profits." The new prosperity is bedrocked in new capacities. Manufactured products have increased $9,400,000,000 in the four years of Woodrow Wilson.

During the two years of war, our foreign trade balance—the excess of exports over imports—has increased $2,130,000,000.

The shining fact stands that our national wealth has increased $41,000,000,000 in three years. They say that this is "temporary prosperity;" we no more believe them than when they said prosperity was impossible.

The answer is not to be found save in the financial, economic and industrial reforms effected by Woodrow Wilson.

He has ended the rule of Special Privilege. Credit has been released, usury forbidden, exploitation checked and initiative encouraged.

It is the creative genius of the American people that has been recovered. The leg chains have been struck from opportunity. Courage has had the bit taken from its mouth.

The fear of panics is lifted. You know present conditions. Contrast them with past conditions. Do you want to go back to breadlines, unemployment, wholesale panics, government by greed?

Do you want freedom to prosper as your energies merit, or shall prosperity be returned to the selfish control of the powerful few?

The fight on Woodrow Wilson is the fight of those who owned the government before Woodrow Wilson gave it back into your hands. It is the fight of great overlords of finance eager for a return to the feudal conditions that fed their lust for wealth and power.

Fight back. Defend a prosperity that means health and hope and strength and happiness for you, your children and your children's children.

Send in your contribution so that victory may be given certainty. Even as Woodrow Wilson has served the people alone, so may the people alone provide his campaign fund.

Make a cash payment at once on your Prosperity policy.

SECOND HONORS TO THIS COUNTY AT DALLAS FAIR

NORTHWEST TEXAS SCORES HIGHER THAN ALL OTHER RIFLES GOING TO THIS SECTION WHEN JUDGES MAKE THEIR DECISIONS

COOKE COMES FIRST

Wilbarger and Ford Get Third and Fourth—Success Comes as Result of Determined Effort by Chamber of Commerce

The second prize of $500 was won at the Dallas Fair by the Wichita county exhibit, according to announcement made late Monday by the judges at Dallas. All of the four money prizes went to Northwest Texas counties, Cooke, Wichita, Wilbarger and Ford getting first, second, third and fourth, respectively. Three adjoining counties, Wilbarger and Ford and Cooke, thus captured three of the four premiums.

Up to a few weeks ago, it seemed doubtful whether Wichita county could make a creditable showing, as at that time comparatively few specimens had been received. Those interested put their shoulders to the wheel however and their efforts were largely rewarded when the ribbons were hung up Monday. Secretary B. F. Johnson, Assistant Secretary John W. Thomas and Agricultural Agent J. W. Campbell are those to whom congratulations are being extended. Secretary Johnson can also take some pride in the showing made by Cooke county, as the prize winning exhibit from there was largely due to the work he did before coming to this city.

Mr. Johnson is already planning for next year's exhibit and will start bright and early in preparing for it, with nothing less than first prize as his goal. The exhibit from this county gave more attention to manufacturing than most county displays, and the awards were largely upon the agricultural shows. The Dallas News of Monday contains the following description of the Wichita county exhibit:

"A miniature derrick and pumping machine, energy saving engine, crude oil into a tub, attracted many visitors to the Wichita county exhibit. Near by was a map showing the oil and gas fields, at a glance, of the county. Electric, Burkhart and Petrolia, including all pump stations, pipe lines, refineries and machinery supplies. According to the map there are 1,340 producing oil wells and 60 producing gas wells in Wichita county; the oil production for the first eight months of 1916 amounted in value to $3,500,000; the royalties to owners of the land $1,750,000 and the labor pay roll $1,125,000.

The remainder of the exhibit was divided into the following divisions: The factory. The idea carried out in the illustration was that the products are brought in to Wichita Falls from the county, cleaned, graded and made into finished articles for sale. The manufacturing industry is aided by the abundant supply of natural gas and fuel oil.

"Among the factory products shown to the booth were: natural gas heaters, fruit jars, brooms, products of an iron foundry, brick building shims and other crockery, cigars, metal covers and tanks, hardware, work, many articles from a glass works, artificial flowers, fruit and other decorative articles and various kinds of tools.

"The farm section of the exhibit featured the vegetables and fruits raised in the county. Practically every variety of vegetable was there, turnips, tomatoes, cantaloupes, melons, onions, peppers, sweet potatoes, cucumbers, radishes, green peas and beets. There was some tobacco. Among the grains were barley, millet, wheat, rye, buff corn and milo maize. Wichita Falls is a big grain center.

"Several carloads of dairy cattle from Wisconsin have just been shipped into Wichita county. This is the second shipment another, having been made about six months ago. The Chamber of Commerce is putting them out among the farmers in herds of five cows.

ST. CLAIR SHERROD NEW GAME WARDEN

Receives Appointment as Deputy For This County—Says Will Enforce Law

St. Clair Sherrod of this city has received the appointment as state deputy game warden for this district and in another part of this issue appears a notice to the effect that the game and fish laws will be rigidly enforced by him and a competent force of deputies.

Mr. Sherrod states that any one furnishing him with sufficient information to obtain a conviction will be rewarded and this reward is donated by sportsmen of this county.

It is stated that there is more game in this section than there has been in several years and with a rigid enforcement of both out of season shooting and strict adherence to the bag limit there will be an increase.

That Mr. Sherrod will have the hearty cooperation of the sportsmen and all law abiding citizens is his confident expectation.

"Don't get mad," he says, "if your auto is searched for game-killed out of season."

RIVER MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED

NO TRACE OF BOX IN WHICH CHILD WAS THOUGHT TO BE FLOATING

Officers End Quest Efforts to Ascertain Truth of Reports of Incident Prove to Be Unavailing

All search for the box in which a child was reported to have been floating down the river yesterday has proved unavailing, and the quest has been practically given up by the authorities.

The officers express a great variety of conjectures in regard to the matter. Of course the obvious explanation is that the child was probably mistaken, but from the description they gave of the box a number of the officers believe they were probably right in regard to their having been a child in the box.

OSCAR WELLS HA ESCAPED FROM PEN

Negro Convicted Here on Charge of Murder Makes Getaway From Prison Camp

City and county authorities have received notification of the escape of Oscar Wells, a Wichita county negro who was serving time in Leavenworth for the murder of another negro. Wells who has a cook by trade was made a trusty soon after being received at the penitentiary last March and was used as a cook at Eastham farm from which the escape was made.

Although the officers are keeping a sharp lookout for the negro the press strenuously doubt as to his coming to this place as he is so well known to the local authorities. According to the notification of the negro's escape and his wife, Mary Wells still resides in Wichita Falls.

Wells is described as a former Federal convict, serving time in Leavenworth, but the charge on which this conviction was obtained is not specified. According to the description he is 37 years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighs 155 pounds, complexion dark brown, eyes dark brown, hair black, a cook by trade, of impenetrable habits and with only a common education.

AT THE THEATRES
The Empress
A delightful story of summer, is "The Summer Girl" showing today at the Empress. Mollie King and Arthur Ashley are starred. The story is given. Mary Anderson, daughter of wealthy parents while in the country, hides her real identity behind a ragged dress she is wearing when she meets Bruce Holdman, a poor artist, and introduces her to him as her mother. Bruce comes to the laundress' cottage every morning, where Mary awaits him to paint her picture and grows to love her. Mary's mother learns of her escapade and highly indignant, brings her back to the city. Bruce learns Mary's real identity from the laundress and is heartbroken. Mary enlists the services of her father and provokes him into taking her one night to Bruce's studio, where she begs his model. Misconstruing the meaning of her presence there, she tells Bruce when she awakes that she hates him. Bruce, heartbroken, is about to destroy her portrait but his model, who secretly loves him, intervenes, saves it, sends it to the Art Institute under Bruce's name and enters it in the prize competition, and lastly, goes to Mary's father and explains all to him. Mary's father decides to make a test and after he has gathered about him Addison, persistent suitor of Mary's favored by her mother for social reasons, Bruce and Mrs. Anderson, he tells them that through unexpected business reverses, he is penniless and must marry his daughter off to secure a son

KING GEORGE'S UNCLE SAILS
PORT AND DATE KEPT SECRET

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT AND (center) PRINCESS PATRICIA

The Duke of Connaught, retiring governor general of Canada with the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia left Ottawa to return to England. Due to war conditions their port of departure and the date of their sailing were withheld.
The Duke of Connaught became governor general in October, 1911, and has been one of the most popular of Canadian viceroys. He is a son of Queen Victoria's brother of Edward VII, and uncle of the present British king, George V. Most of his life has been passed in the British army service. A few years ago the duke and duchess and Princess Patricia visited the United States. The new governor general of Canada is the Duke of Devonshire.

Mr. Anderson then warns Bruce to be careful in his decision, now that he has achieved fame and fortune, but Bruce in answer craves Mary to him as Mr. Anderson confesses to his wife that the tale of poverty was only a ruse to test his manhood.

AL WILSON PROVES TO BE AS PLEASING AS EVER

Al Wilson, who is still considerably of a favorite with music loving theatergoers after twenty years or more, was the attraction at the Wichita Theatre Monday night, presenting "A Kilarney Rose" to a large audience. Those who had expected the singer's voice to show the effects of its years of service were agreeably surprised when Wilson sang a number of songs with much of the old time golden melody. His singing has improved since his performance here a year ago, when it was a bit disappointing. He gave one of his old time yodeling songs last night, recalling the days when his "In Tyrol" and "Harvest Moon" were musical treats to be long remembered.

The production last night was an interesting and dramatic piece, with just enough music to give Al opportunity to entertain as of old. It was presented by an able company which made the most of the comical and melodramatic situations that it afforded. Of the song numbers, "The Love I Give To You" seemed to win the most favor.
Few actors of the present day have been as long in public favor as Al Wilson. It has been twenty years, if not longer, since he became a star, and through all these years he has had a devoted following wherever he goes, and productions such as that of last night will keep him in good standing for a long time.

URGES PASSAGE OF SCHOOL AMENDMENT

State Superintendent Says It Is Urgently Needed in Many Districts. The Times has received the following: All Friends of Education: Notwithstanding the fact that there is a general and widespread awakening of public interest in behalf of the new educational amendment known as House Joint Resolution No. 30 to be voted on by the people on the seventh of November, much work yet remains to be done by the friends of the schools to insure its adoption at the polls. The aroused determination on the part of the country people of the State, however, to demand as good free school opportunities for their children as are now enjoyed by the children of the cities and towns, and the disposition on the part of the people of the cities and towns to help the country people secure such privilege for their children augur well

The amendment proposes no tax of itself but extends the democratic principle of self government by allowing the voters of any district to tax themselves not exceeding one dollar on the hundred dollars value of property for the support of their own schools and by allowing the voters of any county to determine by popular vote if all the property of the county shall be taxed not exceeding 50 cents on a hundred dollars value of property to support all the schools of the county. The country schools have been handicapped, as compared with the city schools, for lack of money. I have never begrudged the city schools one cent of their money. On the other hand I am supporting this amendment because it enlarges the opportunity of the cities to increase the support of their own schools. The fact remains, however, that if the country children ever come into their own in the matter of securing an adequate common school education, we must have more money for the country schools. It is this money that a six months term of school with seven grades of work in a restricted course of study carried on in a ramshackle school house without libraries or laboratories, on a black and that a school ground is inadequate for country children needs. The county tax provided for in this amendment will go a long way toward overcoming these defects. Twenty-one states now provide for a county tax for support of the schools. The proposed amendment does not in any way interfere with the present state Advertiser Tax for education, we must have more money for the support of all the schools of the county, the proceeds of which will be apportioned to all schools of the county on an equal basis. This proposition is democratic, just and equitable and should receive the unhesitant support of all friends of the schools. Sincerely, W. F. DOUGHTY, State Superintendent.

KATY FARES NOT ADVANCED INTO NEW DALLAS STATION

The Katy is one of the two roads using the new union passenger station which will make no advance in the passenger fares on account of the reason is that the Katy had no increase had an increase of the road coming straight into the station from all directions. The Houston & Texas Central is the other road having a straight drive into the station. It is understood that the Santa Fe, Rock Island, Frisco, Texas & Pacific and Cotton Belt will have either to back their trains a good distance into the terminal or have to make a considerable detour in order to get to the station. Consequently five cent raises in the fare will be made by those roads, according to report.

OUR NATIONAL BOTANIC GARDEN

SOME OF THE HOT HOUSES

For several years congress has been urged to give a new lease of life to one of the most interesting institutions in Washington—the National Botanic Garden—by removing it to a 400-acre tract in Rock Creek park. One need only walk through the garden to appreciate the need for such a change.

The giant palms in the conservatories are crowding the panes of glass out of the roofs of the buildings in which they are housed. Rare trees and plants encroach upon one another, pushing and struggling in their fights for life and beauty. Exotics that have been spared to fruit and flower in their perfection in past years are being persuaded to do so now, under present conditions of congestion, only by the hardest kind of labor on the part of the gardeners.

In this beautiful garden, started by George Washington, one meets people from all over the United States, says the Washington Star. A mecca for school children, teachers, bridal couples and other tourists, as well as men and women of purely scientific turn of mind, each season that passes gives it some new attraction, each year adds to its collections.

Recently the garden has been particularly enriched by the successful growth and fruiting of the Carica papaya, under the loving care of the superintendent, George W. Hess. This papaya is something like the papaya of the middle West, and is also known as the melon papaw. It is, however, a tropical fruit, known in tropical countries as the melon zapote. It comes from Mexico and Central America, and the two young trees in the botanic garden bear witness to the fact that the present occasion is the first time the fruit has been produced in Washington.

Superintendent Hess explained how he happened to be able to produce the fruit here. "These zapote trees," he said, "were mailed by me. They have been in the botanic garden, I suppose, about four-

Some Rare Foreign Plants

A walk through the conservatories shows this and many other foreign plants. One sees the greater palms, pushing their way through the glass window roofs at times, and the low height of these roofs is the cause of great trouble to the caretakers and attendants.

Here is a Washington filifera, a gigantic California palm, the largest in the conservatory. Here is a wampee tree from China, which attracts the attention of the Pennsylvania avenue curiosity, and which produces an edible fruit, used for preserving and also for a medicine. Here is a marinesia alba, the sensitive plant, so-called, from South America. One variety closes and shrivels, if touched, another closes at night, as a bird, closes its wings and settles down, as if to sleep. Elsewhere in the conservatory, which produces the best sort of oil for kerosene, which is also edible and which also produces a medicine. In another place is the Arabian coffee plant, in still another the Indian breadfruit, which looks something like a grapefruit. Nearby is a "traveler's tree" from Madagascar, which the natives tap and from which they obtain water in the desert. There are incense trees from India, Japanese plums, gorse, scarlet hibiscus, alligator trees, and there are, also, bananas, the fruit of the latter growing in Washington, if you please.

The conservatory is rich in the big family, many specimens being gathered here, some of which produce rubber and some fruit. The fig of commerce belongs to the rubber family. Then there is the fig (not fig, of course) of Peru, the most beautiful oak holly from southern Europe, wild date palms which fruit in winter, rattan palms, malacca palms, sago and tapioca.

Nearby are also to be found the nephetium longanum, so familiarly known to our childhood as the lyched or leched nut—the Chinese Christmas nut. One finds here, too, the chocolate plant, which has a fruit like the lima bean.

There are also betels, nuts which the East Indian troops now in France fighting for England, are reported to have been furnished by the British government that they may chew them, too large a dose of which is said to produce a stupor. There is hemp, from which rope is made, and there is the Clivia, a beautiful lily from the Cape of Good Hope, named for Lord Clive, famous as one of the earlier viceroys of India.

Outside the conservatory there are hundreds of interesting plants and trees. One of these is an acacia planted by General Grant. Another is the Hottentot poison tree. It has a formidable name—no less than toxicophlaca spectabilis, or acocathons. This is the so-called "ordral" tree of Madagascar which has been suspected as well as guilty persons in times gone by have been compelled to eat. The "ordral" to test whether suspicion was justly founded, always so proved, according to the belief of the Hottentots, for the suspected person who was obliged to eat of it always died. At the botanic gardens it is said to be the most poisonous of plants. It is said that a seed no longer than an almond suffices to kill twenty persons.
