Special to The Times. New York, Nov. 6.—President Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, candidates of the dominant parties for president, remained at their homes today, recuperating from the long campaign. The last word sent by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon but later visited national republican headquarters chiefly to thank the workers for their efforts. It was stated, he intended to drive through the parks this afternoon and spend the rest of the day at his hotel. Tomorrow he will visit his home district here and tomorrow night will get the returns at his hotel.

Republican Chairman Wilcox this predicted Hughes would receive at least the majority in the electoral college while Democratic Chairman McCormick gave Mr. Wilson 264 votes in that body. The necessary electoral vote in the college is 270.

The larger participation of women as voters in a presidential campaign and the congressional elections is of keen interest to political generals.

Both parties are claiming Oklahoma. Socialist Vote is Expected to Be Heavy—Democrats Look for Majority of 50,000.

This was the prediction today of chairman Paul Waples of the state democratic executive committee who said that of the probable 2,000,000 votes cast in the state, approximately 750,000 would be polled by republicans, socialists and prohibitionists and the remainder by the democrats.

MEXICO MAKES SAUCY REPLY TO GREAT BRITAIN

SEC. LANSING'S WARNING OF SUBMARINES IN GULF DRAWS COMMENT FROM FOREIGN MINISTER AGUILAR

ASKS DIRECT ACTION

Says Won't Answer Further Notes Sent Through American State Department and Makes Suggestions About Submarines

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—The Mexican government has been notified by the British ambassador at Washington of the presence of German submarines in the Gulf of Mexico and has been warned that the allies will take "drastic measures" if the undersea craft receive aid from Mexican ports or sources. This information was made public last night by Foreign Minister Aguilar who issued the text of a note received from the British ambassador through American Secretary of State Lansing and Charge d'Affaires Parker. The British note demands a strict censorship of the Mexican wireless and says any failure to maintain Mexican neutrality will be attended by disastrous results.

In his reply, addressed to Mr. Parker, Aguilar says that it seems strange to the Mexican government that Great Britain should use the United States state department as an intermediary on a point concerning Mexico alone, especially when Great Britain's accredited representative to Mexico.

Foreign Minister Aguilar states that the Mexican government feels it unjust for the allies to hold Mexico responsible for submarine activities in the Gulf of Mexico when the same submarines arrived in American ports and sank ships in American territorial waters without causing any complications between Germany and the United States.

FRIENDLY NOTE SENT TO AVOID COMPLICATIONS

Washington, Nov. 6.—The American government has informed the de facto government that precautions should be taken to prevent any violations of Mexico's neutrality by operation of belligerent submarines within its territorial waters, or the establishment of a submarine base on the Mexican coast. The information was conveyed, a State Department official said today, in a wholly friendly spirit and in the suggestion of any of the entente powers.

State Department officials realize that if Germany began a widespread campaign of commerce raiding, as believed possible at the time the submarine U-53 attacked allied shipping off the New England coast, it might be attended to Mexico's oil fields there, the principal source of fuel oil for British war vessels. It was thought might attract German submarines for the purpose of attacking German tank steamers carrying oil to Great Britain.

MANY ATTEND AT BAPTIST CHURCH

TWO BIG CONGREGATIONS AT REVIVAL SERVICES THERE SUNDAY OPENS THIRD WEEK

Affecting Scene Follows Morning Sermon—"Death Trail," is Subject at Night

The revival at the First Baptist church entered upon its third week Sunday, three largely attended services being held during the day. There were fifteen additions to the church yesterday and many made requests for prayers.

Dr. Millard Jenkins, the evangelist, spoke at Sunday school at ten o'clock and preached to enormous audiences at the eleven o'clock and 7:30 o'clock services. Both sermons were considered tremendously effective. The revival will continue through the week. Special attention is being given the music and organization of a children's choir was undertaken today by C. A. Cook, who is leading the singing.

The service Sunday morning was particularly impressive. At the close of Dr. Jenkins' striking sermon on "The Christian's Mission," he called upon all those present who were willing to undertake that mission to come forward and take him by the hand, and several hundred responded. Then the invitation to the unsaved was delivered.

In his sermon, Dr. Jenkins had spoken with emphasis of Christians who neglected opportunities to influence others in coming into the church, referring especially to parents who did not speak to their children along this line.

Moaning with emotion, one elderly man came forward, and said that although his children were now grown, he had never made any effort to lead them into the church; the man seemed almost overcome with feeling and was scarcely able to speak as he sought comfort and sympathy from the evangelist. He called upon the church to pray for him, and there were many who witnessed the scene who gave way to tears.

Dr. Jenkins told as his text the verses in John which show Christ after resurrection appeared to his apostles, convinced them that it was really Himself in the flesh, and then told them that the work which he had been doing was to be continued by them. It was first necessary for Christians to recognize Christ as their master. Dr. Jenkins said, as the apostles had done.

Taking up first the source of the mission, Dr. Jenkins said that it was in Christ.

"I'm here by His authority," he said. "He wants to save the lost in this town of Wichita Falls that is rocking along in sin. I'm trying to preach His message and I'll answer to Him for what I say and not to any man on earth."

The object of the mission, he continued, was the retaining and the retaining of sin. He explained the meaning of retaining sin by saying that when one failed to take advantage of an opportunity to lead another to Christ, the other's sins were retained by the one who had neglected the opportunity.

"Some of you church members, you mothers and fathers, what are you doing to lead your sons and daughters to Christ?" he asked. "are you doing your part, or are your children deep in that godless society that is enough to make the angels weep?"

Discussing the content of the mission, he said that Christ's life and work should be the criterion. First, he said, there was sympathy.

"Some people say that the masses have drifted away from the church," Dr. Jenkins declared. "I don't believe it, but I do believe that the church is drifting away from the masses." He said that the church must be what we need, and when I lose that sympathy, I'll tear up my credentials, throw away my Bible and join the Elks." He pleaded for more "hand-shaking church members."

"You must get down off your stilts," he said.

One content of the mission was service, he said, and willingness and consecration were needed for true service. He told some stories of the Cuban war, particularly how the soldiers were needed to go with Hobson, and how those who were not chosen wept because they were denied the opportunity of service, though the exploit was thought to mean certain death.

Service also meant applying one's talents to what one did for the church. In this connection he told the story of a society girl who had realized the emptiness of her life and who had become an "angel of the slums."

"Think of service like that, and then think of the pitiful, pusillanimous society in this one horse town of Wichita Falls," he said.

Another element of the mission was sacrifice, he said, and it was that from which so many people shrink.

Referring to the drink evil, he said that those "responsible for it will be judged by their votes." In conclusion he made an eloquent appeal to his hearers to join in the true mission of Christianity.

"The Death Trail" was Dr. Jenkins' subject last night, the text being: "He that pursueth evil pursueth to the death." In opening, Dr. Jenkins said that he had seen sufferers from tuberculosis and that he had seen them fade and die; that he had seen men afflicted with cancer and had known that death for them was certain; in the Holy Land, he had seen lepers waste slowly away to an awful death; in like manner, he declared, it was certain that death was surely ahead for the man in the grip of sin.

The death of conscience was one of the first consequences of the pursuit of evil, he said. Speaking of the public conscience, he said that public sin meant, eventually, death of the public conscience. In this connection he discussed the liquor traffic in a most virulent way, citing it as an example of loss of public conscience and loss of public morals. His arraignment of the liquor traffic was considered one of the most severe ever heard in this city.

Death of the home conscience was another consequence, he said. The home that admitted the various forms of the so-called respectable sin, he said, was facing the loss of the home.

The Tone Is The Thing

In every reproducing instrument the big feature is the tone. To eliminate metallic sound and give the graduated tone, dependent upon the character of the music or the volume that is required to fill the room. This is the work of the Graduola, in the new Aeolian-Vocalion. Through the Graduola the Vocalion is imbued with vital personality—your own—and each repetition of a record discloses new and unexpected beauties. This exclusive Vocalion device records exactly your own conception of each tone and every phrase of the master artist's skill, and the sweet tone graven in the record becomes the voice of your heart. The wonderful new privilege of tone control makes the Vocalion more than a tone-reproducing instrument—in reality a remarkable new medium for musical expression.

We are showing the Aeolian-Vocalion in four different styles at $75, $100, $150 and $200. Others are made up to $2,000.

A Great Loss and a Greater Gain

This business has rounded out twenty-two months of existence by distributing to owners more than one hundred thousand cars.

Price-concessions on this car are rarely asked, and never given with Dodge Brothers consent or to their knowledge.

You can therefore figure accurately the amount invested by the public in Dodge Brothers cars, by multiplying the output by the retail selling price. One hundred thousand cars at $785 per car means a sales-total in less than two years' time of $78,500,000—or, with freight-cost added, considerably more than $80,000,000.

There have been no bursts of speed in the up-building of this great business.

At no time has there been even an attempt at stimulation of sales or of production.

Never for a single day has production been speeded up for the sake of attaining a total.

On the contrary, it has been held down every day within the limits of close, careful, conscientious manufacturing.

Both production and sales have been stable, steady and spontaneous—scrupulous care in the one, producing huge volume in the other.

At this moment, as at every other period, although producing a large volume every day, Dodge Brothers are "losing business" by their policy of keeping production within the bounds of continuous betterment.

In that sense they have doubtless suffered a great loss in the past and will endure a great loss in the future.

But over against this great loss is an infinitely greater gain.

The people of the United States have implicit faith in the integrity of Dodge Brothers manufacturing methods.

One hundred thousand owners—or rather, one hundred thousand families—are practically of one mind concerning the car and the men who make it.

This business and its product are blessed with a friendship probably without parallel in the history of American manufacturing.

Fresh from the factory, or sold at second-hand, from one end of the nation to the other, the car has special value and a special reputation, because of the name it bears.

Because of the name it bears, you may be sure that the principle behind the car will never be changed a hair's breadth.

Dodge Brothers have only one idea in the upbuilding of their business.

That idea is to build so soundly and so well that the good will which they have won will grow and endure forever.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high.

A surprise party for Mrs. R. E. Roark whose seventieth birthday occurred Friday was given on that day by Mrs. J. D. Beggs and Mrs. Grey. Mrs. Roark was invited to the home of Mrs. Beggs to meet an old-time acquaintance. On arriving she was blindfolded and led to the dining room and with the bandage removed she was greeted by a number of friends and a beautiful birthday cake with gleaming candles that told the age of the honoree. ### MRS. GRISHAM ENTERTAINS WITH INFORMAL RECEPTION

Mrs. W. J. Grisham's first opening of her attractive new bungalow home on Tenth Street in Floral Heights in a social way was to honor her house guest, Mrs. Sidney Turner of Washburne and also to welcome to Wichita Falls society Mrs. Frank Timberlake but lately removed here from Decatur. For the occasion the house was abloom with roses, carnations and chrysanthemums, the carnations being given predominance in the scheme of decoration for the dining room, the chrysanthemums favored in the punch room while in the living room all three flowers were used impartially, combined with the green of smilax and ferns. Especially attractive was the dining room with the vases and baskets of pink carnations and ferns, the gift of the two honorees to Mrs. Grisham. The basket and the reflector base was twined with smilax in pleasing effect. A cherry ice with klasse and mints was served and the pink and white color note accented in the floral effect and the refreshment plate was repeated in the frock of the little daughter of the house, Miss Helen Grisham, who assisted her mother and other members of the house party in the dining room. Miss Fannie Minter presided over the punch bowl. The house party welcoming the callers more than 100 in number, included the hostess and the two honorees, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Timberlake, Mesdames Guest, Noble, Pounds, E. P. Greenwood Haynie of Dallas, Mack Thomas, R. D. Kennedy, Frank Griffin, Lowenstein of Houston, T. P. Adams, Snider, Arthur Huff, Harvey, Fisher, Straus, Langford Overton McDowell, Mark Moore, Silk, Strin Moore and Miss Minter. er and her excellent paper on this subject was followed by a round-table discussion. A feature of much interest was the report of the state convention of the D. A. R. at Fort Worth which was made by Mrs. S. H. Burdette who had just returned from that place. A refreshment course of marshmallow pudding and angel food cake was served at the close of the program. Mrs. Herbert M. Hughes of Dallas was a guest, the members present being: Miss Hickman, Miss Burdette, Mesdames Wiley, Blair, E. L. Jackson, Burnside, Ferguson, Hyatt, Ben Bell, McGregor, Arley and Carter McGregor.

COTTON BEING HELD IN SPITE OF PRICES

Growing Disposition To Keep Staple Out of Market Is Noted In This Section

Reports received from various parts of this section, including points as far west as Memphis and this fact, indicate that the farmers, who have heretofore been disposed to sell their cotton crop, are now beginning to hold the staple for a better price, some expected to receive as much as 20 cents.

The fact that they have been selling is largely attributed to the fact that the farmers desired to pay off their debts and lay in supplies before speculating on the result of the market by holding the remainder of the crop.

A prominent buyer stated this morning that at different points in this section and along the Denver line disposition to wait before selling had become much more pronounced within the last few days, with the possible exception of Memphis where the crop was late on account of the damage by hail.

Already many of the farmers have realized as much as 18 cents for their cotton and a greater portion of it has brought a price, which it is estimated will place the majority in splendid condition for another year.

This condition, with the amount realized for the wheat crop, places this section in fine shape, said to be the best in the country. This fact is emphasized by the large amount of money being deposited by the farmers of the country.

REXALL STRAW VOTE GIVES WILSON LEAD

Latest Report Shows Him Favorite in States With 281 Electoral Votes

The latest bulletin on a series of straw votes being issued by the United Drug Company of Boston, through the Rexall Drug Stores over the country, gives President Wilson a total of 281 electoral votes and Hughes 250. This compilation is made from reports received from 8,000 of these stores in different sections of the United States and is a straw vote that is thought to indicate as accurately as any or possibly more so, the sentiment obtained with reference to the presidential race.

Four bulletins have been issued; the first giving the president a lead. The second showed that Hughes had overcome this lead with a few votes, while the third again placed the advantage slightly in favor of the president. The last gives Wilson a majority of 31. This bulletin gives Wilson a popular vote of 236,455 and Hughes 244,917, making a total of nearly 600,000 votes that have been taken by the companies.

Notable among the results forecasted in this bulletin is the vote of New York. Wilson is credited with 36,381 and Hughes 35,387, a difference showing a close vote as reported in Illinois and Indiana, both of which are placed in the Hughes column, as are also Michigan, Maine and California. Wilson is credited with Delaware, Ohio, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Kansas, North and South Dakota and West Virginia.

BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY

$15,000 Issue for Cemetery Expected to Win Despite Lack of Interest

Although interest in the general election threatens to overshadow the local issues of the $15,000 park improvement bonds is considered certain by those interested that the bonds will carry by a safe margin.

"I don't see how anyone could be opposed to these bonds," said Mayor Britain in speaking of this matter today. "The cemetery is either now the last resting place of loved ones of every voter in town, or in all probability will sometime be. I can't conceive how anyone could be opposed to a proposition with the object of making this place more attractive. I haven't heard of any opposition to the matter, however, and can hardly imagine there will be. The bond issue we asked will be sufficient not only to make the cemetery one of the most beautiful in the state of Texas, but also to provide for the construction of a drive along the river and back through the cemetery which should be one of the most picturesque and popular ones in North-west Texas.

In addition to these a concrete restroom and chapel will be erected within the grounds, something which will be

Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 6, 1916.

Although the Times is unable to add anything further than has already been said in its columns in support of the school tax amendment, it takes this last occasion to direct the attention to the voters and to ask that they vote for the amendment.

Every one of us must wish that our loved ones rest in their last sleep in ground made beautiful as possible. If there is any man who does not wish to vote against the proposed bond issue in tomorrow's election, that kind of a man is in a very insignificant minority, but there are many others who will neglect to vote unless their attention is called to the matter.

For every vote cast for Woodrow Wilson in 1912, Wichita county has sent a dollar to the democratic national campaign fund, Wichita county admirers of President Wilson, among whom are many republicans, have not only done this but they have sent several hundred dollars additional.

Desperate efforts are being made to turn the Wilson tide that has been moving with increasing volume in ordinarily republican strongholds in upper New York we read that republican campaigners are offering to "buy" the time of farmers who will take time to go to the polls and vote; they are hiring big teams to haul timber and his hands to the polls.

As a result of the decision of the supreme court in reference to the name of C. H. Hurdleston on the democratic ticket for railroad commissioner to succeed Mr. Williams, all sorts of dilemmas have arisen.

NAME MUST NOT GO PROFESSIONS SHOW ON BALLOT DURING REVIVAL

JUDGES ASKED TO SCRATCH OUT HURDLESTON'S DESIGNATION AS NOMINEE

RESULT OF DECISION 3 MEETINGS SUNDAY

Supreme Court's Action Causes Ruling That May Make Ballots "Illegal" More Than 12,000 Have Attended During Three Weeks It is Announced

Officers in charge of the preparation and distribution of the election tickets tomorrow were very much puzzled this morning as to the result of the decision of the supreme court which held that the state executive committee was not authorized to certify the names of the nominees of the democratic party for railroad commissioner to succeed W. D. Williams, deceased.

The ruling of the attorney general relative to the ballots is as follows: "In view of the decision of the supreme court today, holding that the democratic executive committee was without authority to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner to fill the vacancy created by the death of H. D. Williams, the legal tickets intended for use at the election, according to provisions of Article 2966, Revised Statutes, the same being Section 183 of the election laws, providing that no name shall appear on the official ballot except that of a candidate who has been actually nominated, are therefore illegal for the name of a candidate for this vacancy to be printed upon the official ballot to be used in the general election."
