

WILSON HAS 251 ELECTORAL VOTES, HUGHES 243, GOOD DEMOCRATIC PROSPECTS IN DOUBTFUL STATES

CALIFORNIA, NEW HAMPSHIRE AND NORTH DAKOTA GIVE SMALL LEADS TO WILSON

CHANGE IN NEW MEXICO MINNESOTA IS UNCERTAIN

LATEST FROM NEW MEXICO
By Associated Press.
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 9.—Three hundred and seventy-four out of 638 precincts in New Mexico give Wilson 21,424, and Hughes 20,686.

Late Thursday afternoon, nearly 48 hours after the closing of the polls, the Presidential election was still in doubt, but with the prospects for a Wilson victory unquestionably improved within the last 24 hours.

There was no promise of when the final deciding word would come, and the fact that recounts may be demanded in some of the states made it possible that weeks might elapse before it could be positively stated that either Hughes or Wilson had won.

The situation at mid-afternoon Thursday was as follows:

Wilson is credited with 251 electoral votes and Hughes with 243.

California with 13 electoral votes, Minnesota with 12, North Dakota with 5, New Hampshire with 4 and New Mexico with 3, are still in doubt.

Should Wilson prove to have carried California and any one of the four other doubtful states, he is elected.

Should Hughes prove to have carried both California and Minnesota, or should he have either one of these states and all three of the others, he is elected.

Wilson can win with any three of the doubtful states. Hughes can win with any four.

Of the five doubtful states, California, North Dakota and New Hampshire at present show Wilson leading. In Minnesota and New Mexico, Hughes is ahead.

California, to whom the Democrats pin great hopes, will return a Wilson plurality of about 200, according to Democratic claims. Republicans admit that Wilson will have a slender plurality on the face of the returns, but do not concede the state. The California situation is further complicated by the fact that one of the Republican electors was scratched, which may result in a split vote.

North Dakota, which, with California, would give Wilson 269 electoral votes, or three more than enough, seemed more likely to be placed in the Democratic than in the Republican column. Wilson now has a lead of several hundred votes, with prospects for something better than an even break in the remote counties that have not yet reported.

New Hampshire, at one time credited to Hughes, was returned to the list of doubtful states this morning, when errors in the tabulation gave Wilson a very slender lead. If Wilson has won in New Hampshire, the four electoral votes in that state, with those from California, would be sufficient.

lead Wednesday, now appears likely to give Hughes a plurality, the Democrats admitting that such is the indication, though not yet conceding the state.

Hughes was also ahead in New Mexico, but the three electoral votes of that state were far from being assured to him this afternoon. New Mexico returns were coming in slowly.

Two of the states listed as doubtful states late Wednesday—Nebraska and Wisconsin—were definitely placed today, Nebraska for Wilson and Wisconsin for Hughes. West Virginia, which at one time showed signs of going for Wilson, is no definitely placed in the Hughes column. Oregon, yesterday credited to Wilson, is today conceded to Hughes.

NORTH DAKOTA'S RETURNS FAVOR WILSON VICTORY

By Associated Press.
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 9.—It is not expected that complete returns in North Dakota will be received until late in the day.
Reports were received up to an early hour this morning which gave President Wilson a lead of something more than a thousand votes on Hughes. Political observers are not inclined to believe further returns will materially change the present standing.
Missing counties include seven that are normally democratic and six normally republican and two in which majorities are small and invariable, some of these are remote and without wire facilities.

ELECTORAL VOTE IN CALIFORNIA MAY BE DIVIDED

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Possibility of a split electoral vote is not at all remote in California and especially is it made likely at present because of the scratching of A. J. Wallace, republican elector by the radical vote because Wallace is one of the "drys."
For instance should Hughes carry California, there is a possibility of Wilson taking one vote from the state to the electoral college.

SAYS CALIFORNIA FOR WILSON BY 500

Democratic Committee's Claim Indicates that Vote Will Be Very Close.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Louis H. Moser, vice chairman of the state central committee and vice president of the speaker's committee of the national committee issued the following statement in behalf of O. K. Cushing, chairman of the state central committee.
"We have California, we are absolutely positive. Mr. Cushing is checking up my figures received throughout the night and so far has found them correct. These figures show we have the state. Conceding that Los Angeles county gives Hughes a 22,000 lead, we will still carry California by at least 500 votes."

ONE WEST VIRGINIA VOTE IS DOUBTFUL

Hughes May Lose Counter In That State—Elector's Name Not on Ballot.

By Associated Press.
Charleston, West Va., Nov. 9.—If Charles E. Hughes carried West Virginia, he may get only seven electoral votes instead of the eight with which the state is credited. This became known today when it developed that the name of S. A. Scott had been left off the ticket in some counties. Scott was named as the republican elector when J. W. Dawson, who had been nominated by the state convention, resigned from the ticket.

FAVOR REINSTATEMENT OF U. D. C. CHAPTER

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, Nov. 9.—Recommendation that the J. J. Finley chapter of Gainesville, Florida, against which charges of insubordination had been filed, be reinstated in the Daughters of the Confederacy was passed by a vote of 125 to 88 at today's session of the general convention here.

Noon of Second Day Finds Outcome Still in Doubt, With Indications That Recounts Will Be Sought in Some States

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 9.—The election passed into the second day of uncertainty, with President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes both anxiously awaiting the count in a few Western states.

The pivotal ones are California, with 13 electoral votes, and Minnesota, with 12, New Mexico with three and North Dakota with five.

Although still so close that the result could not be regarded as assured, overnight returns seemed to dispose of previously doubtful states by placing West Virginia's eight votes in the Hughes column and giving the four votes of Idaho and seven of Washington to President Wilson.

The Hughes total thus became 247 and the Wilson 251, with 266 necessary to elect.

After so disposing of the previous doubtful states, from which the returns are still incomplete, the situation seemed to be as follows:

President Wilson can win with either California or Minnesota, but in addition must get either North Dakota or New Mexico. Mr. Hughes to win must have both California and Minnesota, or either one, and in addition, New Mexico and North Dakota.

The latest returns from Washington today apparently carried that state safely into the Democratic column.

Idaho was taken from the doubtful column at an early hour and again given to President Wilson, who had a lead of over 15,000 votes on the last returns. Less than 200 districts have not reported.

Mr. Hughes has a lead of over 3,500 votes on the returns early today from West Virginia, with only about 400 districts unreported.

Returns from the missing districts in the doubtful states were anxiously sought by the campaign managers at both Democratic and Republican headquarters today. Both sides claimed the election of their respective candidates, and it was evident that plans were being made to demand recounts and in some cases to carry the contests into the courts.

Numerous conferences were held at both headquarters and there were unconfirmed reports that Chairman William R. Willcox of the Republican committee, after talking over the situation with the Hughes leaders, had advised national committeemen in certain states to engage counsel in the event that recount proceedings were instituted.

It was commonly reported that recount proceedings will be instituted in all doubtful states. Chairman Vance McCormick of the Democratic national committee, followed his order to the chairmen in the various doubtful states to guard the ballot boxes and protect the count and engage special counsel to assist the committee in any steps it may desire to take. Chairman McCormick did not make any charges of fraud, but said he desired to be in a position to take any legal action that might be necessary. Quo warranto proceedings, looking to a recount in New Hampshire, are already under way.

Chairman Willcox declared himself confident that Mr. Hughes has been elected.

"We only ask what is fair," said Mr. Willcox, "and we only want what we are entitled to. That we propose to have."

WILSON'S LEAD REDUCED.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 9.—Discovery of a mistake of five hundred in the Oakland vote, cut President Wilson's lead in California to 2,522, with 339 precincts still missing.

REPUBLICANS PROMISE RE-COUNT.

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 9.—The Republican national committee says an official count probably will be necessary in North Dakota, New Mexico, New Hampshire and California before the result in these states will be definitely known.

VERY CLOSE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

By Associated Press.
Concord, N. H., Nov. 9.—With two precincts missing, the count in New Hampshire at noon gave Wilson a lead of 121. Later unofficial returns from these precincts gave Hughes eleven votes and Wilson seven, reducing the plurality to 117.

ADMIT DEMOCRATIC LEAD.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Nov. 9.—The Republican State central committee says it is estimated the county totals for all California showed Hughes running two hundred behind Wilson, but declined to concede the state to the President.

SITUATION IN MINNESOTA.

By Associated Press.
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—With 224 precincts missing, Hughes led Wilson by 439 votes.
Democratic National Committeeman Fred Lynch telegraphed President Wilson this afternoon that returns indicated he would carry Minnesota by a thousand votes.

WILSON LEADS IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 9.—With 162 precincts missing, Wilson is leading. The vote stood: Wilson, 52,894; Hughes, 51,351.

"DEVIL'S TRAPS" IS SERMON SUBJECT

Dr. Jenkins Preaches on Devices That Are Used to Ensnare Mankind.

The devil sets his traps to catch men, just as human trappers set their snares and dead-falls for birds and animals, and he has many devices that are calculated to be successful. This was the substance of the sermon at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night, when Dr. Millard Jenkins, for Men, spoke on "The Devil's Traps for Men." The church was filled with an election excitement, there was a good attendance and half a dozen additions to the church resulted.

Dr. Jenkins spoke of the various traps that men use in their effort to catch birds and animals, and compared them to the devices employed by the devil to ensnare mankind. He spoke of the pleasures that cause men to fall, saying that the present generation is inclined to go pleasure-mad and forget the religious and religious interests in pursuit of worldly amusements, with the result that the devil's traps had a good reason. "Some things that are considered should be a blessing to man are abused," said Dr. Jenkins. "People use their automobiles to keep folks away from church, instead of to bring folks to church."

Habits were cited as another form of trap. First the thought, then the act, then the habit. The speaker, who was enumerated as the successive steps. Dr. Jenkins referred especially to the cigarette habit, how it grips young men, their health is undermined; he said that an increasing number of concerns would no longer take into their employ anyone addicted to cigarettes.

Keeping bad company was a favorite device of the devil, the speaker said. He referred to the social clubs, saying they were frequented by men who would not go to saloons, and that they served to keep many people out of the church. Dr. Jenkins spoke of the danger of evil associations in general and sounded a warning note with regard to them.

Evil thoughts were also mentioned as a danger to be avoided. Dr. Jenkins said that one favorite trap of the devil was religious unconcern and indifference, which caused one to drift further and further away and take less and less interest in church matters. The devil likes nothing better, he said, than to rob a man of interest in his church. Dr. Jenkins closed with an appeal to his hearers to remain safely away from the traps he mentioned.

"This morning Dr. Jenkins spoke on 'The Songs of Solomon.' His subject tonight will be 'Crossing the Dead Line,' or 'Sinning Against the Holy Ghost.'"

HEN HATCHES BROOD OF WOOD PECKERS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—A farmer near Federalburg, Ill., has a hen that hatched eleven chickens and two woodpeckers. The hen was missing for some time, having a hidden nest. When found she was mothering the chickens and birds. The little woodpeckers seem content to let the hen scratch worms for them and the hen pays as much attention to them as she does to the chickens. It is believed the woodpecker eggs were laid in the nest when the hen was feeding.

She "Mothers" Convicts, Helps Them Find Work After Their Release

MRS. STELLA B. DABNEY

"Ex-convicts? They're just other mothers' boys, that's all, and I've adopted them for mine."
Mrs. Stella B. Dabney, former society woman of Huntington, W. Va., and for two years "mother" to America's jailbirds, is working hard for "her boys" in New York City and elsewhere, trying to raise money. Around her neck is a long platinum chain, with an efficient little silver pencil in the end. The continued existence of the Prisoners' Relief Society of Huntington, which has found jobs for 3,000 convicts in the last two years, depends a lot upon that little silver pencil. It is used by wealthy persons in signing promises of money. Mrs. Dabney, as a leader of society and one of the heirs to the fortune left by her father, Captain George W. Day, the former Ohio river boat king, has been interested in the welfare of former convicts for two years.

So I Take Real Pleasure in this Aeolian-Vocalion Music!

"I was one of those who held aloof from phonograph music, and while I could not but admire the excellence attained in many phonographic reproductions, they still were not quite satisfying to me.
"Thus it was with a quite critical attitude toward, if not with an actual prejudice against phonographs, that I first heard the Aeolian-Vocalion.
"A voice, a wonderful voice was singing. The aria was that very beautiful one from Tosca—'Vissi d'arte e d'amor.' What fine, sweet tone!—how rich with emotion!
"Never had I heard such a human voice from a phonograph. The artistic qualities were beyond reproach.
"Then taking the Graduala—the Vocalion expression device—I played a violin record myself—played it as I wanted it, with every tone shade, every crescendo as I felt it should be played. I play the piano, but I have always wished to play the violin. How I enjoyed that first opportunity!
"The Vocalion gives me satisfying tone, magnificent tone, and a freedom of personal musical expression that I never could have hoped for.
"The Vocalion is a true musical instrument."

U. D. C. PRESIDENT MAKES HER REPORT

Urges Action Looking to Return of Civil War's Cotton Money to South.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 9.—Factional differences in two state divisions—Maryland and Florida—are reflected in decisions returned by the president general, Mrs. Cordelia Powell Odenheimer, and made public today in her report to the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Members of the Baltimore chapter have refused to recognize as Maryland state president a candidate who gave the office by virtue of a decision by the president general. An appeal has been taken from the decision and is expected to come before the convention later in the week. The Gainesville, Florida, chapter has appealed from a decision of the president general revoking its charter because it had refused to pay its dues to the state organization with which it was at odds. Among the president general's recommendations were the following:

"That a chapter or division cannot have as a member of its advisory council or advisory board any one who is not a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy."
"That honorary officers for honorary members cannot hold executive offices or vote."
"At the New Orleans convention a resolution was adopted calling on each division to appoint a committee to bring before the congressmen a matter of the cotton tax collected from 1862 to 1868 and request them to cooperate in passing a bill to return this money, approximately $48,000,000, to southern States, these taxes to return the taxes to their legal owners or heirs."
"The president general reported that a number of bills had been reported in the house making different disposal of the money but that only that offered by Senator Simmons in the Senate accorded with the resolution."

"So far as I am personally able to judge," says Mrs. Odenheimer's report, "there seems little present probability of any portion of the sixty million being distributed in any shape whatever and only through concerted and persistent effort on the part of the Daughters, the Veterans and the Sons, can any results be expected. It is imperatively necessary that agreement be arrived at covering the exact form or manner in which this distribution is desired by them."

"Most of the bills introduced provide for disbursing the money among Confederate veterans of their families. The president general called attention to a bill introduced by Senator Martin appropriating $5,000 for rebuilding an old volume discovered in the archives of the war department containing the names and records of 27,000 Confederate soldiers who died in prison."
An appeal was made for cooperation in raising $10,000 remaining to be collected for Arlington and Shiloh monuments and the window which the Daughters of the Confederacy are to place in the new Red Cross building in Washington to the Women of the South.

GOOD PROGRESS ON ALASKA'S RAILROAD

Fifty-Nine Miles of Track Have Been Laid Since Government Began Work.

Seward, Alaska, Nov. 9.—Wm. C. Mee, chairman of the Alaskan Engineering Commission, who recently returned from Anchorage, reports excellent progress on the construction of the United States railroad.

Fifty-nine miles of track have been laid from Anchorage. With the seventy-one miles of the old Alaska Northern Railway that are now in operation to Kearn Creek, there have been completed 130 miles of the 470 that will connect Seward and Fairbanks. The track so far laid from Anchorage consists of six miles south toward Seward; thirty-eight miles of main line northward to Fairbanks, and fifteen miles on the Matanuska branch into the Matanuska coal field. The right of way has been cleared from Potter Creek, on Turnagain Arm, to Kings River, in the Matanuska coal field, a distance seventy-seven miles and on the main line from Matanuska to the Little Susitna River. Rail will be laid this fall as far as King's River, on the Matanuska Branch, a distance of sixty-two miles from Anchorage, and to Waasilla on the main line, approximately 15 miles from Matanuska. On the main line in the Susitna Valley, between Montana Creek and Indian River, a distance of 42 miles, the right of way is seventy per cent cleared and a number of grading contracts have been let. Grading of the right of way will proceed in this section from Talkeetna to Willow Creek, and north to Broad Pass. At Willow Creek it will connect with the work under the Matanuska district, and at Broad Pass with the work from the Nenana division.
Rail will be laid in the near future as far as Potter Creek, which is fifteen miles southeast of Anchorage on Turnagain Arm, and from which will branch the rock work on Turnagain Arm will be attacked during the winter.

For the week ending September 30, 1,367 men were employed on the Anchorage division, which includes Commission employees, stationmen and laborers, the August payroll being $258,350.00.

The population of Anchorage, which is the main construction base on the railroad, is between 4,000 and 5,000. At Matanuska, the junction of the Matanuska branch with the main line, the town is rapidly growing. The government and a town is now in course of development. There is also a small town at Moose Creek, about fifty miles from Anchorage, where the first mine on the railroad is in operation. At Waasilla, the name of the town where the railroad crosses the Knik-Willow Creek wagon road, the people are gathering. Waasilla will be the distributing point for freight and supplies for the Willow Creek mining district. The government is taking immediate steps to survey small townships at these places.

The railroad north and south from Anchorage passes through and defers the large agricultural country. There are now between 500 and 1,000 homesteaders along the line of the railroad in this section, and the agricultural land is being rapidly developed. The homesteaders are supplying a considerable portion of the foodstuffs for the railroad employees and other people in that section of the country. Recently the Alaskan Engineering Commission contracted for 400 tons, or over 13,000 bushels, of potatoes with the Matanuska farmers. Products are being hauled by the farmers to Matanuska and shipped over the railroad to Anchorage and other points along the line. There is still room for a large number of homesteaders in the vicinity of the railroad, and the government hopes to encourage the farmers from the States to come to Alaska and take up homesteads in the territory tributary to the railroad in order to develop the agricultural lands so that the country may some day in the near future be self-supporting.

MILITARY DECORATIONS COMMON IN FRANCE

Associated Press Mail Correspondence.
Paris, Nov. 8.—The psychology of the military decoration is showing up more obviously every day in Paris life; it is now getting into the police court. The winners of them have multiplied rapidly since the beginning of the battles of Verdun and the Somme, and increasing numbers of them are seen on the laps of men who have been mustered out and have resposered in civilian attire, but their prestige is undiminished. The cross of the Legion of Honor, the military medal and the war cross are shown a deference that amounts almost to a prostration in every place and to everybody; to illegitimate wearers of them

It amounts to a sort of stock trade. Tramway or subway passengers who, contrary to the traditional French politeness, were remarkably selfish as to seats before the war, now give way to the soldier with a medal on his breast or with a ribbon in his buttonhole, although they still let women stand. This deference is not always acceptable. A wounded man is likely to profit from the sacrifice, but the valid man, home on leave, seems to take it as a sort of superior manifestation on the part of the civilian, and resents the supposition that there may be some physical reason for it. One of them accepted a seat offered by a civilian in the subway the other day, but instead of occupying it himself, furnished a double object lesson by offering it in turn to a woman.

The sympathy that goes spontaneously to maimed soldiers has become the capital of men who lost legs or arms in accidents or battles not even remotely connected with war. For a franc they can buy any one of all three of the decoration ribbons at any one of the dozens of shops that are now doing a thriving trade with the mutilated soldiers who have been mustered out. Most of them use ribbons as a cover for simple begging, others for swindling, some to get work and not a few in mere vain and fraudulent show.

FINDS $100 DIAMOND IN PLUG OF TOBACCO

Marysville, Cal.—Jerome J. Hayes, a farmer of Butte County, was in Marysville recently on business and purchased a 10-cent plug of chewing tobacco. Hayes took a bite off the plug and his teeth came in contact with a very hard substance. He investigated and discovered a solitary diamond in the center of the chew of tobacco. The diamond is said to be valued at $100. It is presumed that some fair Southern maid working in the tobacco factory, accidentally lost the diamond while from her ring.

BRILLIANT CHURCH WEDNESDAY WEDDING

A wedding in itself a most interesting event and one preceded by an unusual number of courtesies to both contracting parties was solemnized Wednesday evening at the First Presbyterian Church when in the presence of a host of assembled friends Miss Mary Joe Kell, youngest sister of the bride and Miss Josephine Hurdle of Dallas, niece of the groom were gowned in pink, both frocks being of tulle over pink silver cloth. Suspended from their necks with ribbons they carried wicker flower trays, filled with pink roses which they strewed in the path of the bride, down the white carpeted aisle to the altar.

The two little flower girls, little Miss Mary Joe Kell, youngest sister of the bride and Miss Josephine Hurdle of Dallas, niece of the groom were gowned in pink, both frocks being of tulle over pink silver cloth. Suspended from their necks with ribbons they carried wicker flower trays, filled with pink roses which they strewed in the path of the bride, down the white carpeted aisle to the altar.

The music added no little to the perfection of the occasion with Mrs. J. E. Maer at the pipe organ, Mrs. Walter M. Priddy as soloist and Mrs. Bruce Greenwood, violinist. The Berceuse from "Jocelyn" (Grieg), violin solo by Mrs. Greenwood was the opening musical number. Mrs. Priddy then sang Schubert's "Serenade" with violin obligato by Mrs. Greenwood and as the bridal party entered the organ took up the Mendelssohn wedding march, the strains changing to the Lohengrin chorus with the entrance of the bride on the arm of her father. The Mendelssohn march was the recessional.

DISCUSSES PARABLE OF FRUITLESS FIG TREE

At the Church of Christ revival last night Elder Atkins drew his lesson from the parable of the fruitless fig tree. He told the parable in his own words thus: A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard to which he came three successive years to find fruit and found none. So he commanded the dresser of the vineyard to cut it down for it was worthless. But the dresser began to beg for it. He begged to be allowed to care for it one more year, digging about it and fertilizing the soil and do all in his power to make it produce. Then if he came again and found no fruit he could cut it down. Then the lesson was drawn out: "The fig tree represents a Christian in the Kingdom of Christ of God. The owner of the vineyard is God. The dresser of the vineyard represents the elders or keepers of God's flock. A fruitless Christian is a disadvantage to the church. Here is a man that has been in the church three years and has made no progress whatever. He is just standing there in the way of others. God says get rid of him, but God's good minister says let me care for him one more year. And it may be that the fig tree was actually his, at least a part of the time. This may be why God has let him stand this long. And as he sometimes true with fruit trees, there may have been one bad fruit year. But these two things were not likely to be the fact. The third year, so the trouble must be with the tree. "It is not going to do any good, so cut it down. But the dresser of this vineyard begged for mercy in his behalf, so God's faithful shepherds beg for the fruitless Christian, that he may have every chance possible. No faithful shepherd rejoices in the failure of any Christian. But when every influence has been used in vain like this keeper of the vineyard, the keepers of the church are willing to let God cast the fruitless Christian away. The keeper said "Thou shalt cut it down." It would not be pleasant for him to do it himself, so he wanted the owner of the vineyard to do it. So it is with the officers of the church. It is sometimes because the duty to withdraw from the disorderly, but it is painful to them and they will not do so until every influence has been used to restore such. If it must be done when minister also can be done for the sake of the church itself."

FOREIGNERS ARE TO BE REMOVED FROM CHIHUAHUA

Such is Feminine Nature. Once there was a model young man. He boasted in a chaste and triumphant way that he had never used tobacco nor liquor, had never attended a dance nor a horse race and never played a game of cards. He never went to the theater to see a real show, but was extremely fond of helpful lectures and greatly enjoyed the chautauks. Indeed, he stuck so closely to the straight and narrow way that all the parents in the community pointed to him as being everything that a young man should be, and all the girls went with the other fellows.

University Will Ask $3,500,000 BOND ISSUE. Austin, Tex., Nov. 9.—In order to carry out its plans for the erection of new buildings to meet the growing needs of the University of Texas, the board of regents of that institution has decided to ask the next legislature for authority to issue $3,500,000 in bonds against the available income of the University.

Under present laws the legislature can only provide for the maintenance of the University and funds for building purposes must be derived from its lands and interest. It is claimed that these funds do not accumulate fast enough to meet the growing needs of the institution. The alternative in for the lands of the University to be sold. That step, however, is not favored by the regents.

The plan in view is to issue bonds, interest and sinking fund for which can be met by the annual income available for building purposes.

HOW PRESENT SYSTEM OF MAKING WEATHER FORECASTS ORIGINATED

Cleveland Abbe, the weather bureau official who died October 28 at Washington, recently told in an article in the Scientific American, how the weather bureau came into being. He wrote: My boyhood life in New York City impressed me with the popular ignorance and also with the great need of something better than local lore and weather proverbs. The popular articles in the New York daily papers by Merriam, Egan, Joseph, Hien and others—notably Redfield and Loomis—had by 1857 convinced me that men could and must overcome our ignorance of the weather. It was in the summer of 1857 (1858?) that I read the beginning of the classic article by William Ferrell in the 'Mathematische Annalen'...

TOWN BUILDERS BANQUET PLANS

WILL PROBABLY BE HELD DURING WEST TEXAS A. & M. MEETING

RAILROAD PROSPECTS

Directors Hear Letter to Mr. Kell From Santa Fe—Session Held This Morning

That the town builders banquet planned in honor of the builders of Wichita Falls will be held at a date coincident with the meeting of the West Texas A. & M. association was the decision made at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the state who are in attendance at the banquet. It is also hoped that Governor Ferguson can be in attendance at this meeting. The thought that the bringing of the legislators together with the leading citizens of Wichita Falls at the banquet may result very favorably in an effort made by Wichita Falls to secure the school. The date of the A. & M. meeting has not yet been set but will be held the latter part of this month, or early in the next.

GRASSHOPPER SANDWICH DECLARED TOOTHsome

Sandusky, O., Nov. 9.—L. Chester Bliss, assistant curator of the Sandusky high school museum, had a grasshopper sandwich for luncheon the other day. He caught the hoppers, removed their heads and wings, toasted them over a slow fire, after putting salt and pepper on them and placed them between two thin slices of bread.

"The grasshoppers turned red like lobsters," he said. "They had a nutty flavor and I enjoyed them very much." Bliss said some day grasshoppers would be a choice morsel in leading hotels and restaurants.

STONE'S FRUIT CAKES

The simple announcement that they are STONE'S ought to be enough to insure their quality.

It's absolutely impossible to give you any idea of the quality, flavor and richness of this cake through the medium of paper and ink. We could talk for pages about the materials that go into it—Pineapples from Hawaii, Almonds from Spain, Pecans from Texas, Cherries from California—what's the use of naming them over, even the entire list of twelve fruits that are used, when the deliciousness is only half in the materials, the other half being the art and skill with which they are combined to make the perfect FRUIT CAKE. And then, the price, 40 cents per pound to you.

On the present market you can't buy the materials for that money. Mr. Stone informs us that his supply of fruits, etc., is limited, so it will be well for you to anticipate your wants for the entire holiday season, as a good FRUIT CAKE improves greatly with age.
