

REPUBLICANS DO NOT CONCEDE WILSON'S ELECTION AND TAKE STEPS FOR LEGAL CONTEST OF RESULTS

MINNESOTA, NEW HAMPSHIRE AND NEW MEXICO STILL IN DOUBT; WILSON AHEAD IN LAST TWO

RESULT IN CALIFORNIA GIVES PRESIDENT VICTORY

Closeness of Count in Several States Causes Republicans to Lay Plans For Court Action

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 10.—Republican national Chairman William R. Willcox, following a conference of the campaign managers today, refused to concede the election of President Wilson.
President Wilson's reelection was made certain late Thursday night when it was ascertained that California had gone for him by more than 3000 votes. North Dakota had been conceded to Wilson earlier in the night. California's thirteen votes and the five from North Dakota, brought Wilson's electoral total to 269. At mid afternoon Friday, Hughes still had only the 243 votes credited to him Thursday, though it was expected that Minnesota's twelve would eventually go to him.
In a formal statement Chairman Willcox declared that the results still depend on the vote of close states and that the returns from these were so far unofficial and might be changed from count. Mr. Willcox stated, however, that the national committee would abide by the decision of the official count, unless special circumstances arose which made other actions necessary.
This was the important development in the presidential election situation up to one p. m. today. Returns continued to filter in from states that had been close but they made no change in the figures which gave President Wilson 269 and Hughes 243.
Minnesota, New Mexico and New Hampshire remain in doubt. Minnesota's latest returns showed Hughes leading by 752 but the figures for New Hampshire put Wilson ahead 239 with eleven precincts missing, while he also led in New Mexico.
At democratic national headquarters the view is taken that the election is all over. Chairman McCormick is preparing to go to his home in Harrisburg, Penn., to resume his business, he said today. Workmen were removing the furniture today and the committee's local business, it was stated, would be conducted at a branch office. The main headquarters will be in Washington.
If recount proceedings were instituted it was believed that George Wickersham, attorney general of the United States under Taft, would marshal the legal forces of the Republicans. He conferred late yesterday with Mr. Hughes and Chairman Willcox of the national committee at the nominee's hotel here. No formal statement was forthcoming as to what was contemplated, but Mr. Willcox asserted a recount would be demanded wherever the margin of democratic victory was so small that a comparatively few votes would turn the scale. He and his advisers took the position, it is said, that there should be no cloud upon Mr. Wilson's title to the presidency.

PRESIDENT HEARS NEWS BY WIRELESS

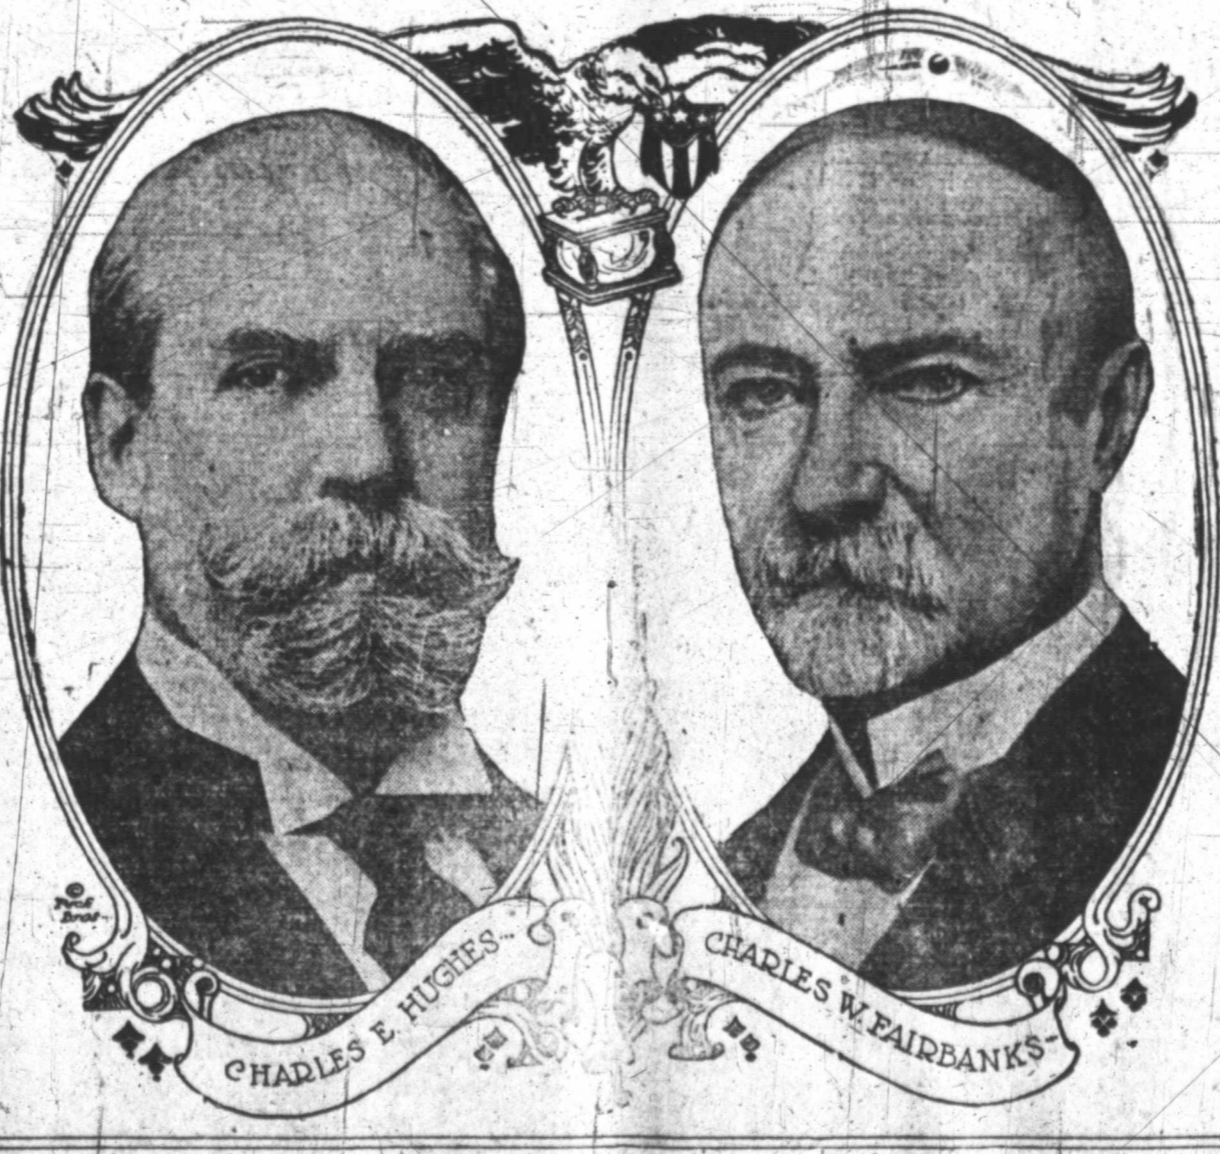

Final Word Comes To Him on Naval Yacht—Crowds Cheer When He Lands
By Associated Press.
Rhinecliff, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The naval yacht Mayflower with President and Mrs. Wilson on board on their way to Williamstown, Mass., arrived at Rhinecliff early today after an uneventful trip up the Hudson. The president came ashore at 9:50 o'clock to take his train for Williamstown where he will act as godfather for the second child of his daughter, Mrs. F. B. Sayre.
Throughs lined the river banks, many carrying American flags and when the Mayflower's launch carrying the president and Mrs. Wilson was seen to put off from yacht the crowd rushed excitedly toward the landing to greet them.
The president smiled and appeared completely happy. He had received by wireless the word that he had been reelected. He raised his hat and waved it to the crowd as he and Mrs. Wilson set out on foot to the railroad station nearby.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 10.—Certified returns from 286 precincts out of 294 in New Hampshire give Wilson 42,618; Hughes 42,723. Secretary of State Bean in announcing this tabulation said it did not include any Wilson votes from Ward 2 at Keene, which had reported to the press that Wilson electors received 125 of from Ward 2, Dover which gave Wilson 239 votes in press figures. Steps have been taken to correct the certified reports which he believed to be in error.
Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 10.—Unofficial returns from 548 out of the 588 precincts in Wyoming early today gave President Wilson 15,931; Hughes 12,751.

BEGIN FIGHT TO RETAKE BRIDGE ACROSS DANUBE

DJA ARE NEAR TCHERNAVODA, PETROGRAD REPORTS—RUSSIANS REPULSED ON THEIR WESTERN FRONT
MANY AERIAL FIGHTS
Seventy Are Reported in Franco—Russians Compelled to Fall Back Before Repeated Attacks By Teutons in Volhynia
The Associated Press summarizes European war operations as follows: Russian troops are now two miles west of Tchernavoda fighting for the famous bridge across the Danube, the Petrograd war office announced today in its report on the campaign in Dobruja.
On the Transylvanian front the Rumanians have suffered a reverse at the hands of the Teutonic forces. They were driven southward in the region west of Bezeu. Rumanian troops undertook an enveloping offensive movement in the direction of Fiedel.
A violent attack on Russian positions in the Stokod region of Volhynia was made yesterday by Austro-German forces. Petrograd admits that after repelling seven onslaughts the Russians were compelled to fall back to their second line.
Seventy-seven aerial combats were fought on the French front yesterday. Paris reports that in these encounters a Fokker and nine other German aeroplanes were brought down.
There was intermittent artillery fighting on various sections of the front and also infantry skirmishing. The Austro-German troops have made fresh progress against the Rumanians in the Fiedel sector south of the Transylvanian border, the German war office announced, and repulsed Rumanian counter attacks. Teutonic successes in the Alt region on this front are also reported.
Austro-German troops yesterday stopped Russian positions over a front of 2 1/2 miles in Volhynia. They took more than 3,000 prisoners as well as 27 machine guns and inflicted heavy casualties on the Russians. Heavy fighting is under way on the Transylvanian front, but no important changes in the military situation are reported from Rumania. Local attacks on the German lines in the Somme around Guesdecourt and Les Boifs and a more formidable attack by the French on both sides of Sailly are reported in the German official statement. Berlin says the attack was unsuccessful the result in the Sailly sector being repulsed in some instances by hand to hand fighting.

SPLIT EXPECTED IN CALIFORNIA'S ELECTORAL VOTE

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Both Secretary of States Jordan and Chester H. Rowell, chairman of the republican state central committee, who early last night conceded the state to Wilson, looked for a split delegation in California, as happened four years ago. An official report under the supervision of Jordan will begin Tuesday.
Governor Hiram W. Johnson has been elected to the United States senate by a large plurality his lead being more than two to one over Patton, democrat.
The coast states were watching with great interest the fight of Miss Jeanette Rankin for Congress. She had a lead of 400 votes over her male democratic opponent.

TIMES OFFICE HAS STEADY STREAM OF INQUIRIES

MANY FALSE REPORTS

Dame Rumor Put in Two Busy Days Decisive "Flash" Comes Late at Night

Approximately 2,000 telephone calls it is estimated, were received at The Times office from Tuesday afternoon until noon today, inquiring about election news. No record was kept of the number, but it did not seem to those whose duty it was to answer the calls that they had a moment's respite from early morning until late at night. There were long periods when calls were answered as rapidly as they could be put up.

The uniqueness of the contest and the many hours of indecision resulted in a most profitable crop of rumors, and most folks who heard a rumor of any kind promptly called The Times to get it confirmed. No finer tribute could have been paid to any paper than was evidenced by the fact that, regardless of other reports that were in circulation, the people of Wichita Falls and the Texas look on increasingly to The Times for accurate information.

Most of the calls came from Wichita Falls folks, but the number of long distance inquiries was enormous and from over a wide section of Northwest Texas and Western Oklahoma.

As was stated previously, The Times pinned its faith to the Associated Press. The "flash" that Wilson had carried California, came at 10:44 p. m. Thursday night and at 11:44 p. m., another "flash" came. It was the last word. Guesswork and premature announcement and speculation and "possibilities" had been their hour. "Wilson elected" the message said. It was the word that had been awaited during the more than 48 hours since the polls closed and it was the welcome word.

There were a good many such papers, as it happened, and this was some consolation to the erring ones, contrasting the old saying that misery loves company. Associated Press members, who knew that until the words "Flash—Wilson elected" came, snapping over the wires, every element of doubt had not been removed, waited. The wait was long and weary, especially for the Wilson partisans. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." But it came at last, and when it did come, it furnished the most shining example of the trustworthiness and accuracy of the Associated Press in the history of American journalism. Yet, after all, the Associated Press merely kept in mind what its "rivals" in the country outside of New York, Illinois and Indiana. "Safety first" had proved a good motto for news reporters. It had for other lines of work.

Answering the countless telephone calls might have been an entertaining task, had it not been so tiresome. Here are some samples of what might have been heard at the other ends of the lines, before the final glad news came.

"Hello! Say, who's elected? You don't? Well, I wish you'd hurry up and find out and let me know. My husband's got twenty dollars bet on Hughes and I'm going to get a new hat if he wins."

"Hello! Hello! Hello! Say what's the matter with you folks, why don't you get out an extra? What's that? Well, you sure are slow. I just talked to a fellow that had a long distance call to Oklahoma City. He said the fellow there told him Wilson had won, so it must be true."

"Hello! Say, did Wilson carry North Carolina? He did Oh, good. Thank you so much. Good bye."

"Hello! Listen guy, what's the latest dope? That so? Gee, that's swell, ain't it?"

"Hello! What's the latest? Oh, is that all? I thought sure you'd know who's elected by now. I guess they take their time about sending news to these little country papers. I'll buy a Dallas News this afternoon. They'll have it, I'm sure."

"Hello! Tell me quick, who got elected? Does it honest? Aw, w w w ain't that terrible. I guess we'll have to go to war now. I don't see how anybody could vote for him, do you? I made my old man go to vote this thing this morning. You bet I did. Say, they don't know for sure yet, do they? Well, I sure hope it ain't."

FROG POND SOURCE OF WATER SUPPLY

Fire Department Checks Ugly Blaze in Unique Way—No Mains in Factory District

Contrary to the prevailing impression the feat of the local fire department, mentioned in yesterday's Times in connection with the account of the fire in the factory district, in scooping up water from a frog pond and literally snatching one house from the flames in addition to controlling what bade fair to become a general conflagration, is by no means an isolated instance of this method of the fighting for the local department. This method is often resorted to in the factory district where, although it is outside the city limits, the department always answers alarms. This section is covered, especially after recent rains, with small ponds where the water has collected in shallow depressions, and as that section is without the usual water protection it is necessary to resort to makeshift measures in fighting fires.

The judgment of the fire fighters in picking the house on which their efforts were concentrated was proved by the final results, for although at the time of their arrival the house "lacked" by them seemed further gone than another in the string, later developments proved that the effort would have been hopeless in that instance, and as the pond was pumped practically dry by their efforts, their bolt or rather their water, might have been shot in vain, and four houses gone up in smoke instead of three.

A church building standing across the street from the houses burned caught after the arrival of the department, and was saved by the application of buckets of water by a man stationed on the roof.

The run from the central station, a matter of about four miles, was made in nine minutes from the time the alarm was turned in, and as the alarm came in to the police station instead of the usual channels, more delay than was ordinarily the case was experienced in starting. The run from the Floral Heights station was made in considerably less time than from the central station, having nearly two miles less to go.

Prospective Purchasers Numerous—City Gets Valuable Publicity as Result of Passage

The popularity that Wichita Falls bonds enjoy and the esteem in which they are held by the bond market in general is testified by the fact that with the ballots authorizing this city's latest bond issue not yet officially canvassed inquiries from prospective purchasers all over the United States have already begun pouring in. The mail of the city clerk and that of the other members of the city government is flooded with inquiries. This testimony is all the more remarkable when the smallness of this issue, the $15,000 park and cemetery issue authorized in Tuesday's election is taken into consideration. Although the majority of the inquiries are from houses in the large bond markets New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia, the smaller markets are not unrepresented, inquiries also having been received from St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Denver and Texas points, including San Antonio and Dallas. The Wichita Falls issue has proved especially popular at Denver, two recent issues having been sold to houses in that city at handsome premiums. [The issue is soundly financed as demonstrated by the fact that of the limit of five cents on the hundred dollar valuation for taxation to take care of issues of this nature, enough will remain after caring for this issue to float $25,000 worth of bonds of the same character. The new issue will add only five-eighths of a cent to the taxation for park bonds, making the total rate for this purpose 2 3/8 cents on the hundred. A tax of 2 3/4 cents is already in effect to take care of the $20,000 worth of park bonds in force prior to the latest issue.] The value of advertising of the progressive spirit of this city received as a result of voting the park bonds without taking into consideration the value of the improvements themselves will almost beyond a doubt prove worth the money in itself. Wichita Falls has been referred to as a city of the most progressive civic spirit not only by the press throughout Texas, but in adjoining states, besides attracting notices in trade journals with a national circulation. Dr. J. F. Reed, a member of the city council, received within the past day or two inquiries concerning the issue from a journal of this character which is devoted to the interests of landscape architects in which the interest of this and other cities in their cemeteries is to be made the basis for a special article. The margin which provides for the general bond issues of the city is as large as in the case with the special park issue. With a total bonded indebtedness of only $251,000 this city has an estimated property value of $12,000,000, an assessed valuation of nearly $9,000,000. The total floating indebtedness of the city is $67,830. A total of $15,000 is in the sinking fund, and in addition the various sinking funds own other bonds of the city to the amount of $23,000. The tax rate of 8 1/2 cents is one of the lowest in the state for a city of the size of Wichita Falls. One question which probably will come in for some consideration in regard to the new bond issue will be whether they will be redeemed in relation to the usual issue which will be taken care of by sinking fund. While the weight of precedent is in favor of the latter form, the serial bonds are coming more and more into popular favor for municipal issues and no doubt the matter will receive serious consideration before a decision is reached.

Young Men Have Ruled The World!

At fifteen, Alexander Hamilton commanded the attention of his country. At nineteen, George Washington was a Major. At twenty-four Bismark was Captain of King's Cavalry. At twenty-six, Mark Antony was the hero of Rome. At twenty-eight, Napoleon had revolutionized Europe. So throughout history "young blood" has ruled, just as young hands have caught and are holding the style reins of the world today.

And the young man's creed is EXPRESSION, instead of repression, and our creed is to give him clothes that express his buoyancy and confidence.

most attention is that the first time since the War Between the States, a presidential candidate has won without the votes of the so-called pivotal states of New York, Indiana and Illinois, and the political balance of power has been taken away from those commonwealths which are largely dominated by Wall Street.

Another interesting fact is that while Hughes has won a number of states, his pluralities in most instances have been small, even in republican strongholds, and that his proportion of the popular vote is quite likely to be the smallest ever cast for a republican candidate, and on the other hand Wilson's vote is likely to be the largest ever cast for any president.

The political map west of the Mississippi will show only a few blotches of states where Hughes won. President Wilson having carried everything west of the great river excepting Iowa, Oregon, South Dakota and possibly Minnesota.

But the most satisfying aspect of the result is that it proves genuine Americanism prevails and that insidious alien efforts have been rebuffed. The election of Hughes was desired by all foreign elements which have been against American neutrality and which have sought to involve the United States in the European war. The results show that America is now as free from foreign influence as it is from the domination of Wall Street of the country's credit and through this credit of the country's industry.

ABOUT THE RESULTS.

There are several outstanding features in connection with the results of Tuesday's election which are very satisfying to real progressives most of whom are now in the democratic party, so long as President Wilson retains his leadership in the party.

The feature that is attracting the

Those of us who are Democrats with a capital "D" too will rejoice that as the country has been freed from Wall Street's domination, so has the democratic party been freed from the baneful effects of Tammany's influence. A democratic president has been elected and Tammany Hall has had no part in his election. In fact the results for New York City indicate that what ever influence Tammany exerted must have been in the favor of the republican candidate.

As President Wilson has said there has been a lot of idle and loose talk during the campaign. Now we can get down to the work at hand.

AFTERMATH OF ELECTION.

Relying upon the gratitude, good judgment and fairness of the voters in this presidential campaign, especially the laboring men and women, farmers, mechanics and business men and women, who have profited by the wholesome laws passed during Woodrow Wilson's administration, I never have believed it possible the republican candidate, Charles Evans Hughes, to be elected. And, notwithstanding the fact news flash reports over the wire when the polls closed, November 7th reporting Hughes' election, I never wavered in my faith in the people. The later election returns bears out my pre-election predictions; but I am not going to say, I told you so, being content to say, let the people rule.

The result of this election gives us a hopeful view of the future. We can now face the world with confidence in our sense of justice to all mankind. The warring nations will understand that we are behind our president, who believes in strict neutrality, but at the same time will demand all the rights and privileges guaranteed to us under international law.

And now that the election is over it ought to be the purpose of every man and woman in the nation, to arise above partisan rancor and be true American citizens, regardless of party affiliations. Let our slogan be "America first, last and all the time."

And, although we had a battle royal let us forget and shake hands.

EDGAR RYE.

GAS COMPANY DIRECTORS MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

The directors of the new gas company are holding another meeting in the directors' room of the City National Bank this afternoon for the purpose of further perfecting their organization. While it is not known what matters are to come up for discussion this afternoon it is thought that some consideration will be given to the form of organization that is to be adopted, although a final decision on this point is not looked for at this meeting. A report on the rate that the first call for stock payments has been met by subscribers is also among the probabilities at this meeting.

Wichita Falls Fuel Development Company was the name adopted at the meeting yesterday afternoon, a name that has already demonstrated its fitness by the popularity which it has already attained on the streets.

J. N. Green Trading Stamps

In accordance with our original plans we have decided to issue S. & H. Green Trading Stamps on all cash sales and on all accounts paid within six days of date of invoice. These stamps have a very considerable value to our customers and are appreciated by all who have been keeping them. They are exchangeable for a large list of handsome articles carried in stock here by the Sperry & Hutchinson Co., which articles cost our customers absolutely nothing, thus making the stamps a real discount in the purchase price of goods. On account of the cost of these stamps to us it is impossible for us to give them on charge accounts that are not paid promptly, yet wishing to give our customers who carry an account with us the very best prices and service possible, we have determined hereafter to give them to all customers whose bills are paid within six days of the date of invoice. When you get our invoice you can readily compute the time for yourself, and if it is paid within six days of the date we shall be glad to give the trading stamps, but positively no stamps will be given on accounts not paid within the six days.

PAYING OF EIGHTH MAY START SHORTLY

Will Probably Come Before High. Other Matters Receive Council's Attention

Instructions issued at a short session of the city council last night to City Engineer Hinchley to notify the Water & Light Company to immediately put down on Eighth street larger water mains usually laid preparatory to paving indicates that the council has reached a decision to pave Eighth street right away even before the paving is done on lower Ohio. The paving on Eighth street as far out as Bluff has already been contracted for by property owners whose holding out on that strip with single exceptions. Although it is thought that that piece of property will also be contracted for the paving will not be held up longer on that account. In case this strip is not contracted for the work will proceed with that section eliminated. Ohio is not yet ready for the paving authorized on that street yet, storm sewers being as yet uninstalled, and minor complications in connection with the contracting of some of the property owners on that street being still unsettled, but that work is still very much to the fore, and will shortly follow the paving on Eighth.

Mayor Britain reported that he and Alderman Richot had entered into an agreement with Ralph Hibbs for the brick storm sewers recently authorized to provide for the flood waters on the east of Ohio and Indiana when those streets were paved, the price being $3,000. The formal contract will be drawn immediately. The price lower than was at first anticipated. The contract calls for the excavation and filling to be done by the city.

Not were that unfortunate class, the delinquent who become temporarily wards of the city via necessary incarceration in the city lockup, reminded by the rather sharp tang of the night air for the past week, had the supply of blankets at the city secured authorized to repair any deficiency that might exist in that respect.

The franchise granting the North-western the right to cross Kentucky avenue in the farwise and Janick addition with sidetracks which have been delayed in final passage pending further amplification of the map accompanying and illustrating the ordinance, was finally passed last night on the receipt of the desired information. The ordinance amending the franchise to the Panhandle Refining Company granting them permission to lay their fuel oil pipe line through the streets and alleys of the city was passed on its second reading. This amendment affects one of the branch lines at 13th Street. Britain vacated the chair while action was being taken on this question, Dr. J. F. Reed, mayor pro tem, presiding.

The small brick tool house and rest room in the Lamar park which has been staggering toward completion for several months having begun to show symptoms of reaching the point, authorization for a warrant to pay for the work was made by the council.

W. B. Reeves Jr. and W. W. Shuler of Shuler & Wallace were given permission to install gasoline filling stations under the sidewalks at 902 Indiana and 7th Street respectively. Taylor Brothers were given permission to use Eighth street between Scott and Indiana and in front of the building they are erecting for storing and Robertsons for the piling of materials and the necessary tool sheds. It being understood that not more than a third of the street would be used for this purpose.

Election officials holding the park bond election and special policemen on duty circus day were ordered paid for their work.

Mayor Britain and Alderman Lea, Richot, Bradley, Reed and Gardner were present at last night's meeting. Among the city attorney, V. C. Sisco, city clerk, A. J. Humphris, chief of police, J. L. McClure, fire chief and L. C. Hinchley, city engineer were in attendance at the meeting.

person whom he believes will write the music to suit him, but unfortunately she is of the feminine sex and he is a woman hater. It is not without misgivings that he consents to have the young lady work with him and expressly stipulates with her that their dealings shall be strictly on a business basis. Of course, this arrangement does not work in practice and he soon falls desperately in love with his co-worker, and discovers that she is the only girl in the world for him.

Manager Weber promises a splendid production of "The Only Girl" and has engaged a cast of superior excellence. Among those who will be seen here being Grace Kennicott, Arthur Eursley, Esther Jarrett, Tom Burton, Helen Ford, John Chandler, Ellen Crane, Ernest Wood, Lydia Crane Dave Young and Meade Poster. There is a chorus of pretty girls and an augmented orchestra.

The Majestic.
"Mister 44," a Metro picture produced by the York Film Corporation, with Harold Lockwood and May Allison in the stellar roles, is the big feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre today. This is one of the finest productions in which the popular stars have ever appeared, and it is one of the most entertaining features ever released on the Metro program. There is a wealth of beautiful and wonderfully picturesque mountain scenes, where much of the action takes place. There are glimpses of city life in the factory district and among the slums, while in striking contrast are scenes enacted at an exclusive country club in which scores of prominent society folk actually participated. "Mister 44" is a story of distinctive American romance with a wholesome and refreshing appeal. Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison have a distinguished supporting cast which includes such well known artists of the screen and stage as Lester Cuneo, Franklin Hall, Yonda Landowska, Aileen Allen, Belle Hutchinson, Lee Aron, and Henry Otto. Mr. Otto also directed the production. He also produced "The River of Romance," in which Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison were starred by Metro.

The Gem.
The second episode of "Peg O' The Ring" is showing at the Gem today. The synopsis of the second episode opens with Dr. Lund, Jr., on board the circus train en route for the next town, with the unconscious Peg in the arms of Flip, the clown. About to enter the coach in search of Peg, Lund is seen by some of the ring crew and not recognized as the owner's son, he is forced off the train, despite his urgent attempts to convince them of his identity. Not to be put off without another effort to see the strange girl he had asked to marry him, Lund, Jr., starts out to walk, coach Peg regain consciousness, but is unable to remember anything that has taken place. Flip, realizing Peg's strange behavior, is becoming more anxious and tries to warn her, and watches her even more closely than before. Dr. Lund, Sr., unable to join the circus himself for fear of his wife, sends his man, a rough-necked former employe of the circus, to watch Peg and try to get the letter from Flip, which he is sure will reveal her identity as his child and cause trouble with his wife. His wife, recognizing Peg as La Bell's daughter, sends a hired thug to get her out of the way, fearing that Peg will cheat her out of some of his inheritance. Both rough-necks arrive at the circus at the same time, each ignorant of the other's identity, or mission. Peg and Flip in the practice ring—Peg with her big white horse and Flip watching her with loving pride, are ignorant of the destiny in store for them. In the meantime Dr. Lund, Jr., makes another attempt to see Peg, but meets with the same reception he received in the morning. The rough-neck sent by Dr. Lund, Sr., seeing him, tries to force him from the grounds. In the meantime the thug sent by Mrs. Lund succeeds in getting into Peg's room and tries to kidnap her. It is 1 o'clock, just when the change comes over her. Peg, in a rage, tears the clothes off the man. Her screams reached young Lund's ears. He knocks the rough-neck out and catches Peg in his arms in time to forestall the thug. He is about to take Peg out of the tent when Flip and the others come in. They ask her what is wrong and she turns on Lund and accuses him of trying to kidnap her—as the episode closes.

AT THE THEATRES

NEW YORK TOOK KINDLY TO "THE ONLY GIRL"

Of the many musical comedies produced in New York recently none won greater favor than did "The Only Girl," which is to be presented at the Wichita Theatre, Saturday, November 11th under the management of Joe Weber. It was this manager who felt assured that the combination of Henry Blossom, librettist, and Victor Herbert, composer, could not possibly fail and that he was right in his surmise is evidenced by the fact that

START BRICK WORK ON EIGHTH STREET BUILDING

With the foundation work completed, Taylor Brothers, contractors, yesterday started on the brick work for the new $25,000 Stringer-Robertson building which is being erected on Eighth street just off Indiana on the lot formerly occupied by the Barber's rooming house. The building is to be a two story brick 78 by 99 feet in dimensions. The lower floor will be divided into three rooms, while the second floor will be used as a rooming house. The building was designed by Field & Clarkson.

doors, but it is doubtful if any of his earlier pictures have approached "God's Country and the Woman" in providing an ideal blending of dramatic story material, beautiful locations and impressive acting. The picture is extraordinarily fine in every element contributing to a screen drama. It is bound to impress audiences of all classes and lovers of nature in the wild are highly to name it as the most satisfying of photoplay productions. To close followers of the screen series "God's Country and the Woman" Nell Shipman, writer of many scenarios, as an actress in a leading role, Miss Shipman is as good an actress as she is a writer, which is saying much for the beauty of a rarely expressive type and her playing is marked by intelligence and sincerity. The story in "God's Country and the Woman" is effectively presented to maintain suspense and to prepare for a final reel of cumulative power, in which the tragic secret of the woman's nature. When she proposes marriage in name only, to Weyman, declaring that such an alliance will aid her in account a tragic secret, the audience without knowing the cause behind the strange arrangement, is confident of the innocence of Josephine. Gradually and with an entirely logical sequence of events, the conflict between the three chief characters is brought to a stirring climax. Lang is killed and husband and wife are left to enjoy a mutual love that has grown during months of trial. William Duncan and George Holt give Miss Shipman excellent support, as do others in the cast. The dogs used in many scenes contribute appreciably to the picture's success.

"God's Country and the Woman"
A DRAMA OF THE NORTHWEST, FROM THE BOOK BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

Featuring
NELL SHIPMAN and WILLIAM DUNCAN

Read what the Press says:

The Journal of Commerce
And Commercial Bulletin
"God's Country and the Woman"—a drama of the Northwest—is from the story by James Oliver Curwood. There have been many pictures shown of life in the wilds of the North West, but none that exceed this in interest and artistic treatment. The photoplay is splendid, and each and every member of the cast is a finished player. The result is one of the best pictures that the Vitaphone Company ever has produced and shown.

The Evening Sun
Realism feature of "God's Country." The "atmosphere" and local color of the Northwest has been worked to a degree unusual even in this day of feature films, so realistic that nature herself feels paid beside them.

The Evening Telegram
Superb pictures of hunting and camping in the Canadian wilds, stirring views of dog teams in action, and a thrilling melodramatic story make "God's Country and the Woman" in the Fulton Theatre, a heart-breaking motion picture play.

TELLS HOW SPIRIT STRIVES WITH MEN

"Crossing the Deadline" is Thursday Night's Subject at Baptist Church.

Another immense congregation attended the Baptist revival service Thursday night, the interest and attendance in these services continuing excellent. Dr. H. B. Jenkins spoke last night on "Crossing the Deadline, or the Sin Against the Holy Spirit." He said that men might conduct themselves toward the Holy Spirit as to condemn themselves beyond hope of redemption.

"There are men walking the streets of Wichita Falls as completely lost as they had been in 1800 years," was among the striking utterances of the sermon. Dr. Jenkins said that the Holy Spirit is a real personality that strives with the souls of men.

STONE'S FRUIT CAKES

The simple announcement that they are STONE'S ought to be enough to insure their quality. It's absolutely impossible to give you any idea of the quality, flavor and richness of this cake through the medium of paper and ink. We could talk for pages about the materials that go into it—Pineapples from Hawaii, Almonds from Spain, Pecans from Texas, Cherries from California—what's the use of naming them over, even the entire list of twelve fruits that are used, when the deliciousness is only half in the materials, the other half being the art and skill with which they are combined to make the perfect FRUIT CAKE. And then, the price, 40 cents per pound to you. On the present market you can't buy the materials for that money. Mr. Stone informs us that his supply of fruits, etc., is limited, so it will be well for you to anticipate your wants for the entire holiday season, as a good FRUIT CAKE improves greatly with age.

RESULT STILL IN DOUBT ON THURSDAY MORNING

California, Minnesota, North Dakota and Other States Will Probably Decide

The results of the presidential election were still in doubt Thursday and it seems probable that the official count must be awaited in several of the states before the winner can be announced.

Wilson has carried the following states, with a total of 240 electoral votes:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, Ohio, North Carolina, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Wyoming.

Hughes has carried these states, with a total of 239 electoral votes:

Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The states still in doubt are California, Idaho, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia, New Mexico and Minnesota.

Wilson is leading in California, Idaho, North Dakota and Washington.

Hughes is leading in West Virginia, New Mexico and Minnesota.

Although the election returns at 3:45 Wednesday afternoon seemed to be a shade in Wilson's favor, the result at that time was too much in doubt to permit of any announcement that either candidate had won.

The apparently commanding lead which the Eastern States gave to Hughes was cut down relentlessly and steadily by the returns from Western States that, one by one, gave pluralities to the Democratic ticket.

Mid-afternoon returns gave Wilson 247 electoral votes to 229 for Hughes. These figures are based on official and unofficial returns, indicating as follows:

Wilson—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming, Idaho.

Hughes—Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, West Virginia.

States still considered too doubtful to place in either column, with their electoral votes, are: California 13, Minnesota 12, Nebraska 3, New Hampshire 4, North Dakota 5, Wisconsin 13.

The apparent certainty, at midnight Tuesday night, that Hughes had won, was removed early Wednesday, when additional returns made it certain that the announcement in some quarters that Hughes was elected had been premature, and as the morning hours sped by, Wilson gained State after State, his total of electoral votes mounting gradually until it topped that credited to the Republican ticket.

The almost unprecedented closeness of the race may cause many hours to pass before a definite announcement of victory for either side is possible.

Returns from California and Wisconsin were expected to figure largely in the final accounting. In the former, Hughes had a slight lead. In Wisconsin, Wilson's early lead was being reduced by later returns, with the possibility that the State might eventually be recorded for Hughes.

Aside from the uncertainty of the result, the most remarkable thing about the election was the sudden wiping out of the Hughes majority, piled up in the East, by returns coming in from the West. When the Republican landslide in New York became known and was quickly followed by

POOR GET THEIR DOLE OF FISH AT NEW YORK'S SEA FOOD MARKET

GETTING THEIR SUPPLY OF FREE FISH

Charity takes the form of free fish for the poor, with a smaller number of fish given to the children of the poor. The fish is distributed at the New York Sea Food Market, where a gathering of the city's fish supply is handled, photographed on a recent Friday after the early day's business is done.

Republican victories in New England, there was a veritable stampede to announce the election of Mr. Hughes.

Hundreds of thousands waiting in the streets saw the signal lights flash the defeat of the President. New York newspapers which have been prominent in their support of him, conceded the President's defeat before some of the Western States had been heard from.

Thousands of persons in the East went to bed believing Hughes elected and woke up this morning to find the result apparently changed while they slept. Hundreds who made plans for what they expected to happen in Wall Street today found them set all awry.

The first figures of Wilson's majority through the West did not shake the confidence of Hughes' supporters, and not until the steady stream of Wilson majorities began eating into the Hughes columns, piled up in the East, did any of them suspect that the result was in danger.

At midnight it was apparent that the free predictions of a sweeping Republican victory over the country were being contradicted by results from the West. As every hour saw the Hughes lead melting down, it became clear that the President was not to be defeated so easily, and when daylight came without any decisive result, it became apparent that the battle was being fought out in the doubtful States, with the advantage decidedly in favor of Mr. Wilson.

Not since a next day's revision of the returns seated Grover Cleveland in the contest of 1892 has the country been compelled to wait so long to know the result. More than twelve hours after the polls had closed President Wilson and Mr. Hughes were still running neck and neck, with the result still in doubt.

DEMOCRATS TO CONTROL SENATE

MAJORITY OF FROM EIGHT TO TWELVE INDICATED BY TODAY'S FIGURES.

Democrats Lose Several Seats and Are Not Yet Assured of Majority.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 8.—Late returns from Ohio indicate the reelection of Senator Allen B. Kaiser, democrat, virtually ending the possibility of republican ascendancy in the Senate.

With democratic leaders insisting that Hitchcock in Nebraska and Pittman in Nevada have been re-elected and with Kendrick probably elected in Wyoming, the political status of the new Senate would be—Democrats 57; republicans 43, with the result in Arizona and New Mexico still in doubt. Should the republicans carry both the democratic majority in the Senate would be eight.

REPUBLICANS GAIN IN CONGRESS.
New York, Nov. 8.—With 76 congressional districts to be cleared up, republicans now have gained nineteen seats over their quota in the present House, while the democrats have gained 10, a net gain on nine for the republicans, reducing the present democratic majority of 23 to five.

Two democratic districts in New Jersey, now reported doubtful, would, if reversed, reduce the majority to one.

TORPEDOING OF STEAMER ARABIA REPORTED TODAY

MISSIONARY TELLS OF EFFORTS IN BULGARIA.
Toledo, O., Nov. 8.—Phenomenal progress in education has been made in Bulgaria since that country's independence in 1878, according to The Hon. T. T. Holway, past president of the American Board of Christian Missions here last night.

"Bulgaria's recent past was tragically indeed," said Dr. Holway, "slendered before the world, deserted by every power in Europe, she was wrongly stripped of territory, justly hers by natural rights. Strong internal pressure from Germany, fear of losing her independence to Russia in Constantinople, and a justifiable desire to unite all Bulgarians in Macedonia and Bulgaria under one ruler, counterbalanced her majority's sympathy with England and France in the war."

"At the worst, we trust that after the war politically Bulgaria will be independent and geographically retain the boundaries of 1912. If so, freedom for missionary work is secure; if not, such religious freedom becomes problematical. Reaction still favors vital religion."

"Since her liberation in 1878 Bulgaria has made phenomenal progress in education. Sixty per cent of her army (universal military service) are illiterate. The education of her priests however, is wholly disproportionate. Yet the State church, waking to her opportunity, though late, she is pushing higher education for the clergy and requiring at least occasional preaching. Heretofore none has been required."

"Many priests, unable to prepare their own, use our evangelical sermons. Temperance is growing. Several pulpits buy and value highly every publication from our mission press."

"But materialism, irreligion and infidelity outrun the church. Their rapid growth is a grave menace. The also is a spur to us. Successfully to evangelize the Bulgarians, our mission must have greater efficiency. In Sofia and Philippopolis stations are doubled in size, six large districts being without a single worker."

NEW PLAN IS URGED IN VOTING ROAD BONDS.
Washington, Nov. 7.—Financing of highway improvements has been thoroughly investigated by experts of the Department of Agriculture's division of road economics who recommended to people of counties and municipalities intending to raise funds the advantages of the deferred serial plan over the ordinary sinking-fund plan.

Under the serial plan, a certain amount of bonds is retired each year and the bonds so retired cease to be an interest charge on the community. Under the sinking-fund plan none of the bonds is refundable until the end of a definite period, and the entire sum raised bears interest for the entire life of the bonds.

The department's experts say under the ordinary sinking-fund plan communities pay interest on the money borrowed and in addition set aside each year as a sinking fund an amount sufficient to retire all the bonds when they become due. The sinking-fund is deposited with banks and earns some interest. That interest ordinarily is only three per cent, whereas the communities pay five or six per cent to its bondholders. The serial plan is much cheaper, even though the sinking fund earns interest as high as four per cent, and in the opinion of the road specialists should be utilized whenever it is possible to market serial bonds.

A report on the subject has just been published by the Department of Agriculture which is distributing it to interest persons upon application.

LARGE MAJORITY FOR HURDLESTON

HAS UNDOUBTEDLY BEEN ELECTED TO FILL VACANCY ON COMMISSION.

By Associated Press. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8.—C. H. Hurdleston of Palestine undoubtedly has been elected to the unexpired term as railroad commissioner. Figures on the Texas election show today.

Returns on the school tax amendment are so fragmentary as to render an accurate forecast of its fate impossible, but it is believed it has passed.

The pluralities of the state candidates and of President Wilson may run nearer 190,000 than 160,000 as indicated last night.

BOYS CLUB ELECTS PRESIDENT MONDAY

Alfred Burnside Heads Organization, Plans Made For Coming State Conference

Alfred Burnside, football star, president of the Students' Athletic Association and a regular all around good fellow and student, according to the characterization of his fellow students and the faculty as well, was last night elected president of the High School Boys Club. This office was made vacant by the withdrawal of Lester Cooper from school to attend the normal at Denton.

Next in importance to the election of the president was the discussion of the Older Boys' Conference to be held at A. & M. at College Station, December 1, 2 and 3. Already a large number of boys have signified their intention of attending and it is hoped to have a special car from Wichita Falls, the local attendance to be supplemented by boys from nearby towns to whom the Wichita Falls Club has written urging that they go to the conference.

The program was for the most part humorous in nature, the comedy feature being supplied by Clyde Harrison, assisted by several other of the club members. Chester Bayless read an athletic story. The music for the evening was dispensed with on account of the absence of the accompanist.

There were 48 boys present at the meeting, which was one of the most interesting and successful in the history of the club. The Boys' Club is now in its second year in the Wichita Falls high school and the difficulties of last year have been largely overcome among the student body and similar discouragements are rapidly being overcome. The club will meet again next Monday night as is customary.

EXHIBITION HELD BY FARMING CLUBS

First of Series of Affairs by Young Farmers Proves Highly Creditable.

J. W. Campbell, demonstration agent for the United States government in this county, reports a very interesting meeting of the young farmers and girls clubs of the Burk Burnett community at that place on last Saturday. There was much interest manifested in the exhibits and the part of the young people who belong to the club and upon the part of the business men of Burk Burnett, who entertained the young folks royally and contributed $61.50 in prizes for the event.

There were exhibits and contests by the hog-raising club, the poultry club and the canning club, and most creditable showing was made, it is announced. Mr. Campbell is especially enthusiastic over the work of the boys and girls and what they have accomplished in these lines and predicts an exhibition when they come to Wichita Falls that will be an "eye-opener" to the people.

He states that he has never seen a finer exhibit of pigs than was shown Saturday, including a variety of breeds, ages and sizes, but all in tip-top shape. Louis Nichols, showing a Poland China pig six months and four days old that weighed 290 pounds, was awarded first prize, a $25 registered pig, given by F. F. Roberts. The prize-winner was sold in Burk Burnett Saturday at ten cents a pound.

Mr. Campbell states that the poultry and canning clubs made an equally creditable showing and the exhibits attracted a great deal of attention. Saturday will be club day at Electra for club members in that section of the county, and later it is planned to hold an exhibition in Wichita Falls, to the people.

MEXICO MAKES SAUCY REPLY TO GREAT BRITAIN

SEC LANSING'S WARNING OF SUBMARINE WAR DRAWS COMMENT FROM FOREIGN MINISTER AGUILAR

ASKS DIRECT ACTION

Says Won't Answer Further Notes Sent Through American State Department and Makes Suggestions About Submarines

By Associated Press. Mexico City, Nov. 6.—The Mexican government has been notified by the British ambassador at Washington of the presence of German submarines in the Gulf of Mexico and has been warned that the allies will take "drastic measures" if the American government does not give aid from Mexican ports or otherwise.

This information was made public last night by Foreign Minister Aguilar who issued the text of a note received from the British ambassador through American Secretary of State Lansing and Charge d'Affaires Parker. The British note demands a strict censorship of the Mexican wireless and says any failure to maintain Mexican neutrality will be attended by disastrous results.

In his reply, addressed to Mr. Parker, Aguilar says that it seems strange to the Mexican government that Great Britain should use the United States state department as an intermediary on a point concerning Mexico alone, especially when Great Britain has an accredited representative to Mexico.

The reply says that the Mexican government will, for this time only, answer the representations of the British government through Mr. Parker. Foreign Minister Aguilar states that the Mexican government feels it unjust for the allies to hold Mexico responsible for submarine activities in the Gulf of Mexico when the same submarines arrived in American ports and sank ships in American territorial waters without causing conflict or difficulties between Germany and the United States.

He adds that Mexico desires to retain cordial relations with Great Britain and to this end suggests that the British fleet prevent the German submarines from leaving their base, thus obviating to the Mexican government disagreeable incidents caused by the European conflict.

If such measures by England are not efficacious, the foreign minister concludes, the Mexican government will take such measures as the circumstances direct should German submarines enter Mexican waters.

FRIENDLY NOTE SENT TO AVOID COMPLICATIONS

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 6.—The American Government has informed the de facto government that precautions should be taken to prevent any violation of Mexico's neutrality by operation of belligerent submarines within its territorial waters, or the establishment of a submarine base on the Mexican coast. The information was conveyed, a state department official said today, in a wholly friendly spirit and not at the suggestion of any of the entente powers.

State department officials realize that if Germany began a widespread campaign of commerce raiding, as believed possible at the time the submarine U-55 attacked allied shipping off the New England coast, it might be extended to Mexico. Great oil fields there, the principal source of fuel for British vessels, it is thought might attract German submarines for the purpose of attacking German tank steamers carrying oil to Great Britain.

It was said today the Mexican government was without sufficient means to insure its neutrality and that it might be compelled to establish a foreign power to establish a submarine base at some unsuspected point along that coast. Serious complications between Mexico and Great Britain or France might ensue, to the embarrassment of the de facto government, which might bring the United States into the controversy.

Denial was made at the department that any protest had been submitted to Mexico for Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador here.

SINK STEAMSHIP RECENTLY OWNED BY AMERICANS

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 6.—Lloyd's announces that the American steamship Lanoa was sunk by a submarine October 28. Thirty men were killed.

German submarines have been active for some weeks off the Spanish coast, where the steamship Lanoa apparently was sunk. One submarine commander was credited with the statement that he had received orders to sink all vessels bound for England. Spanish vessels, it is said, later were exempted on agreeing to carry nothing but fruit.

BOAT RECENTLY SOLD TO CHRISTIANA PARTY

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 6.—The steamship Lanoa is not an American owned vessel according to records of the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce which shows Hans Hanneberg of Christiania, Norway as her owner and that she was sold by her American owners in the Philippines recently.

Records of the bureau show the Lanoa was owned by the Findlay Miller Steamship Company of Manila. Her sale to Hanneberg was reported by the American consul general at London in a report sent July 24, 1916. The reported purchase price was $20,000.

$50,000 FIRE DAMAGE SUSTAINED AT CONSTOCK

By Associated Press. Del Rio, Texas, Nov. 6.—Damage to the extent of $50,000 was done today by fire which destroyed the McDonald store at Constock, 35 miles west. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

COTTON BEING HELD IN SPIKE OF PRICES

Growing Disposition To Keep Staple Out of Market is Noted in This Section

Reports received from various parts of this section, including points on the Denver as far west as Memphis, indicate that the farmers, who have heretofore been disposed to sell their cotton crop, are now beginning to hold the staple for a better price, some expected to receive as much as 20 cents.

The fact that they have been selling is largely attributed to the fact that the farmers desired to pay off their debts and lay in supplies before speculating on the result of the market by holding the remainder of the crop.

A prominent buyer stated this morning that at different points in this section and along the Denver the disposition to wait before selling had become much more pronounced with the passing of the last few days, with the possible exception of Memphis, where the crop was late on account of the damage by hail.

Already many of the farmers have realized as much as 19 cents for some of the crop and a greater price for the rest and the majority of it is estimated will place the market in splendid condition for another year.

This condition, with the amount realized for the wheat crop places this section in line shape, said to be the best in years, and this fact is emphasized by the large amount of wheat to be shipped by the farmers of the country.

GALVESTON FIRM NOW OFF BLACKLIST

No reason was given but it was understood the British government was satisfied the firm was not dealing with the enemy. Of the 36 firms originally blacklisted six have been removed.

AUTO OVERTURNS, 6 OCCUPANTS HURT

J. C. Zeigler and Family in Accident on Archer Road Sunday Afternoon

The automobile of J. C. Zeigler was overturned Sunday afternoon resulting in all of the six occupants being somewhat bruised, though none were seriously injured. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Zeigler, Mrs. L. H. Zeigler, Mrs. J. C. Zeigler and Mrs. E. Von der Lippe, Mr. Zeigler's sister were in the car. Mrs. Von der Lippe being the most painfully hurt.

The accident occurred on the Archer city road. Another machine was just ahead of the Zeigler car and it slowed down as it approached a culvert. This led the Zeigler car to slow down and as he did so he saw a third car approaching, threatening a collision.

He tried to drive around the car and the wheels struck the culvert, turning the machine completely over. All the occupants were hurled safely to the ground today none with the exception of Mrs. Von der Lippe are much the worse for their experience. Mrs. Von der Lippe is still in a doctor's care.

The Zeigler car was damaged by the accident, but not to any great extent.

GAS SUBSCRIPTIONS NOW TOTAL $114,300

Continue To Come In—Stockholders Will Hold Meeting Tomorrow Morning

From Monday's Daily. In spite of the fact that the capital stock of the gas company was over-subscribed Saturday subscriptions continued to come in today and it is expected that the $115,000 mark will have been passed by the time of tomorrow's meeting at 10 o'clock when the formal organization of the company will take place.

Just what form the organization of the company will take has not yet been decided, although several plans have been talked of. The one which perhaps meets with the most favor is that the company take out a charter for half the amount of the subscriptions, call an assessment of one-fourth of the subscriptions immediately which would pay in half the capital stock and enable the company to go to begin operations immediately.

Another plan advanced is for the formation of a joint stock company. Subscriptions received since the publication of the last list are as follows: Mrs. Eugene DeFarge, $200; E. F. Watson, $500; W. L. Greenhill, $1,000; L. L. Hood, $200; Roy Jones, $1,000; R. M. Mowery, $100; W. M. McGregor, $1,000; Miss Beat Qualls, $100; Miss Frankie Smith $200; W. Wiley, $500. The net total is $114,300.

The court transacted no business today, there being no cases ready for trial on the non-jury docket.

60 PROFESSIONS DURING REVIVAL

PRESBYTERIAN MEETING CLOSING WITH YESTERDAY'S SERVICE

3 MEETINGS SUNDAY

More Than 12,000 Have Attended During Three Weeks It is Announced

From Monday's Daily. With a record of 60 professions, with 68 additions to the church, the revival campaign which has been in progress at the First Presbyterian Church for the past three weeks came to a close Sunday night. Declaring the meeting to have far exceeded their fondest hopes, the revivallists, Dr. E. S. Hendrick, Rev. J. W. Carter, the singer, and Dale Haven, the pianist, together with Rev. N. F. Grafton, the pastor of the church, spoke briefly after the service, thanking the people for their interest an expressing pleasure at the various phases of the meeting. Both morning and night there were large crowds present. The audience at night filling the auditorium, both balconies, the aisles and the vestibules, and even then some were turned away.

The sum of $1200 was raised in a few minutes at the close of the morning service for the evangelistic party, the contribution coming rapidly and generously.

A total of 12,579 attended the various services held during the three weeks, according to figures read by Rev. N. F. Grafton last night. Of this number 7,811 attended the night services, including Sunday, 2,378 the meetings at the factories, 1,300 the 10 o'clock morning services at the church and 89 the downtown store and office meetings. There were 58 additions during the time, making a total of 127 since Mr. Grafton assumed the pastorate of the church, one year and two weeks ago.

At an experience meeting held at three o'clock in the afternoon, different church members, including members who had joined since the beginning of the meeting, told what the revival had meant to them. The three weeks' campaign was characterized as one which will leave no aftermath of hard feelings and open wounds to close. As one speaker put it, "Dr. Hendrick has preached the gospel without change of mind or without quibbling, but he has indulged in no harshness, as sometimes is heard in the course of a protracted meeting." Dr. Hendrick himself said: "One of the nicest things about the meeting is that we have all kept in such a good humor."

"Glory to God in the highest, peace and on earth good will to men" was the subject of Dr. Hendrick's closing sermon. It had been announced that he would speak on "The Harvest Is Passing, the Labor Is End and You Are Not Saved," but before his sermon he stated that he had changed his mind and decided on this last night, as on the previous ones, to preach "Are Not Saved," but before his sermon on "souls cast into outer darkness," which he characterized as a dreary sort of gospel at best, though true enough.

"My text is one that is usually considered strictly for the Christmas season," Dr. Hendrick said, "but I see no reason why the joyful story of the Savior come to earth should be reserved for that time only. It is the most wonderful story in the Bible, the Christmas story of Christ come from glory to live among us to save us from our sins."

His sermon was a very deep one, and was received with feeling interest by the large audience. Following the giving of the invitation and the reception of the members into the church, each of the three in the evangelistic party made a short talk. The party goes from here to Abilene to conduct a meeting, commencing next Thursday night.

BECOMES PASTOR OF FORT WORTH CHURCH

Dr. Andrews Gets New Assignment. Dallas Pastor Will Succeed Him Here

With Dr. A. L. Andrews assigned to the First Methodist Church at Fort Worth, the M. E. Church, South of this city, will have Rev. S. A. Barnes of Dallas as its new pastor, according to word received today from Greenville where the North Texas conference of the church is in session.

The news was contained in a telegram received at noon by Mrs. Andrews. It had been expected that the appointments would be announced today. The announcement that Dr. Andrews would go to the Fort Worth church occasioned no surprise among local Methodists, who had understood for several days that he would be given a more important post than the one here. It had been the expectation that Rev. H. P. Shuler of Austin, recently transferred to the North Texas district, would be assigned here, consequently the news that Dr. Barnes would take charge of the local church caused some surprise. Dr. Barnes has been pastor of the Erway Street Methodist church for four years, and is considered one of the ablest members of the conference. It is expected he will occupy the pulpit here next Sunday.

MANY ATTEND AT BAPTIST CHURCH

TWO BIG CONGREGATIONS AT REVIVAL SERVICES THERE SUNDAY

OPENS THIRD WEEK

Affecting Scene Follows Morning Sermon—'Death Trail' is Subject at Night

From Monday's Daily. The revival at the First Baptist church entered upon its third week Sunday, three largely attended services being held during the day. There were fifteen additions to the church yesterday, and many made requests for prayers.

Dr. Willard Jenkins, the evangelist, spoke at Sunday school at ten o'clock and preached to enormous audiences at the eleven o'clock and 7:30 o'clock services. Both sermons were considered tremendously effective. The revival will continue through this week, special attention is being given the music and organization of a children's choir was undertaken today by G. A. Cook, who is leading the singing.

The service Sunday morning was particularly impressive. At the close of Dr. Jenkins' striking sermon on "The Christian's Mission" he called upon all those present who were willing to undertake that mission to come forward and take up the cross, and several hundred responded. Thus the invitation to the unconverted was delivered.

In his sermon, Dr. Jenkins had spoken with emphasis of Christians who neglected opportunities to influence others in coming into the church, referring especially to parents who did not speak to their children along this line.

Speaking with emotion, one elderly man came forward and said that though his children were now grown, he had never made any effort to lead them into the church; the man seemed almost overcome with feeling and was scarcely able to speak as he sought comfort and sympathy from the evangelist. He called upon the church to pray for him and there were many who witnessed the scene who gave way to tears.

Dr. Jenkins took as his text the verses in John 12, telling how Christ after resurrection, appeared to his apostles, convinced them that it was really Himself in the flesh, and then sold them on the work which He will leave no aftermath of hard feelings and open wounds to close.

Taking up first the source of the mission, Dr. Jenkins said that it was in Christ. "I'm here by His authority," he said. "He wants to save the lost in this town of Wichita Falls that is rocking along in sin. I'm trying to preach His gospel and I'll come to Him for what I say and not to any man on earth."

The object of the mission, he continued, was the removal and retaining of sin. He explained the meaning of retaining sin by saying that when one failed to take advantage of an opportunity to lead another to Christ, the other's sins were retained by the one who had neglected the opportunity.

"Some of you church members, you mothers and fathers, what are you doing to lead your sons and daughters to Christ?" he asked, "are you doing your part, or are you sitting deep in that godless society that is enough to make the angels weep?"

Discussing the content of the mission, he said that Christ and His work should be the criterion. First, he said, there was sympathy. "Some people say that the masses have drifted away from the church," Dr. Jenkins declared, "I don't believe it, but I do believe that the church is drifting away from the masses." His own church will sympathize with what we need, and when I feel that sympathy, I'll tear up my credentials, throw away my Bible and join the masses. I'll plead for more "hand-shaking church" members. "You must get down off your stilts," he said.

The content of the mission was service, he said, and willingness and consecration were needed for true service. He told some stories of the Cuban war, particularly how the volunteer doctors, who were often when needed to go with Hobson, and how those who were not chosen wept because they were denied the opportunity to serve, though the exploit was thought to mean certain death. Service also meant applying one's talents to what ones did for the church, he said, and he told the story of a society girl who had realized the emptiness of her life and who had become an "angel of the homes."

"Think of service like that, and then think of the pitiful, pusillanimous society in this one horse town of Wichita Falls," he said.

Another element of the mission was sacrifice, he said, and it was that from which so many people shrink.

Referring to the drink evil, he said that those responsible for it will be judged by their votes. In conclusion he made an appeal to those who were nearers to join in the true mission of Christianity.

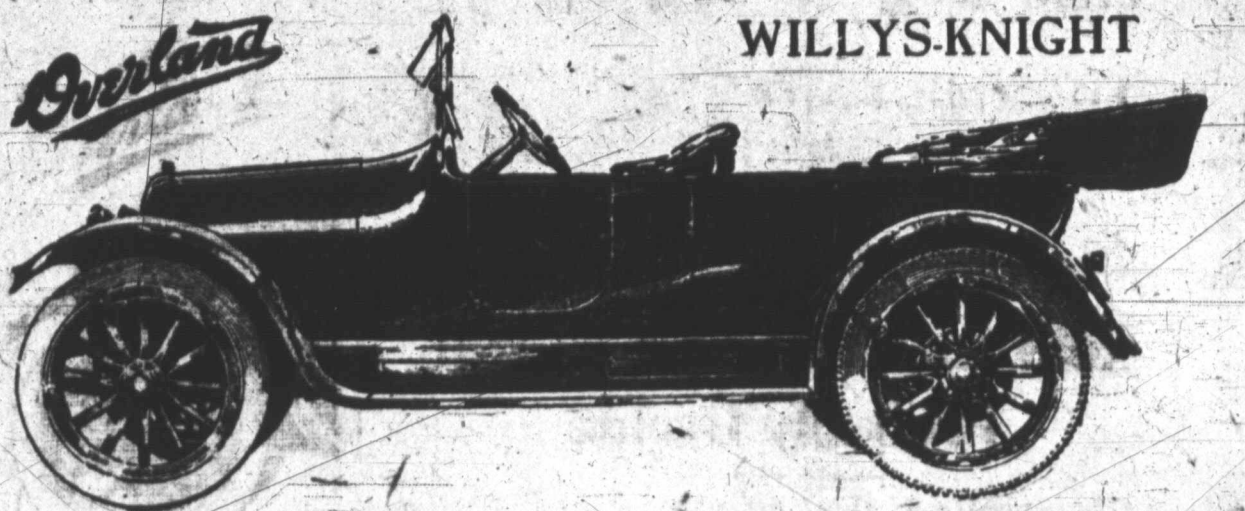

"The Death Trail" was Dr. Jenkins' subject last night; the text being "He that pursueth will pursue unto the death." In opening, Dr. Jenkins said that he had seen sufferers from tuberculosis and that he had seen them fade and die, that he had seen men afflicted with cancer and had known that death for them was certain; in the Holy Land, he had seen lepers was sick with a new death; in like manner, he declared, it was certain that death was surely ahead for the man in the grip of sin.

Finally, said Dr. Jenkins, one of the first consequences of the pursuit of evil, he said. Speaking of the public conscience, he said that public sin meant actually the death of the public conscience. In this connection he discussed the liquor traffic in a most vitriolic way, citing it as an example of a social public conscience and loss of public morals. His arraignment of the liquor traffic was considered one of the most severe of the evening.

Death of the home conscience was another consequence, he said. The home that admitted the various forms of the so-called public sin, he said, was facing the loss of the home conscience. "It has been said that the home of this nation is the capital of Washington," he said, but Henry Grady says that is not true, but that the real home of the nation is not decayed until the morals of the home decay."

The Place To Buy Groceries

The buying power and the volume of the business we do is the guarantee to the public that our prices are lower than is usually asked by grocers for the same quality of goods.

In the early stages of the present war we anticipated that food stuffs were bound to rise in price, and we therefore placed orders for large quantities of canned goods and other articles that we thought would advance.

The expected advance came, all right, but we are still able to serve our customers at prices lower than the wholesale market can quote today.

We would like to have your monthly account, and if you care to make arrangements to that end, we shall be glad to serve you on the monthly settlement plan, thus giving you the best service, and the lowest possible prices.

The conscience of the church is also susceptible to sin, Dr. Jenkins declared, saying that some churches have admitted sin until the church conscience is seared and the institution is on the rocks. Finally, said Dr. Jenkins, pursuit of evil means the death of the soul, just as certain as physical ailments mean the death of the body. He gave some striking illustrations of how sin kills the human soul, among them being the story of a man bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake and who knew that he faced death; he told those near him how he could feel the numbness creep over his foot, then up his leg and into his body, until death came. Sin, said the speaker, is slow, but no less sure in its deadly effect. In conclusion he urged his hearers to take Christ as an antidote for the poison of sin. Dr. Jenkins preached again this morning at 10 o'clock and will occupy the pulpit tonight at 7:30. Tonight's subject will be "Is the Devil Dead?" Dr. Jenkins will answer this question negatively and cite Wichita Falls proof of his position, it is prophesied. Downtown services will continue at 4 p. m. daily at Seventh and Indiana. A Woman's Loyalty

By GEORGE MUNSON

When Dyer was made manager of the company the employees knew that changes were coming. Dyer was a small-minded man, and the new president was a man of the same type. Efficiency was to take the place of good-will.

Dora, Seated Near Him, Understood.

He began. Then, "where is that letter?" he asked. "Mr. Lawson has it," said the stenographer. The manager telephoned and learned that Lawson had gone home. Lawson's work for the company had ended. And Dora's heart gave a great leap. She knew where that letter was. It was the most important letter that the company possessed.

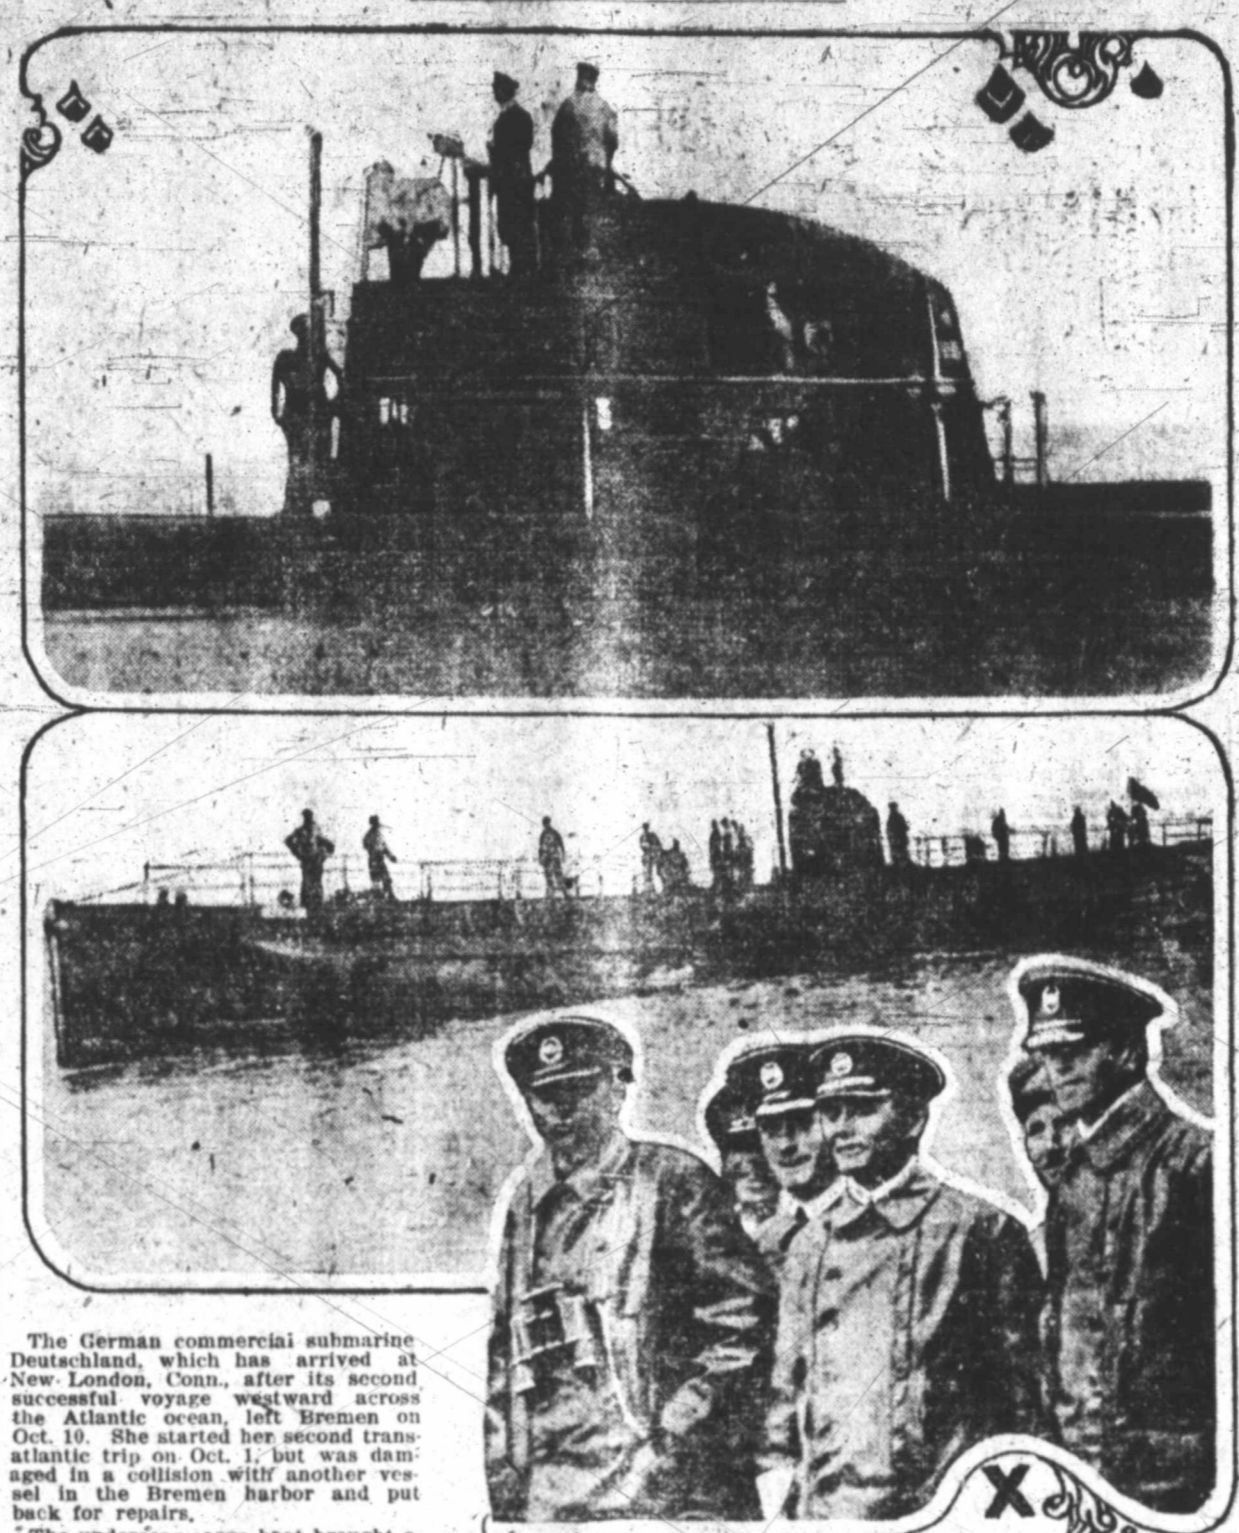

I wouldn't work after Mr. Lawson had gone. "Think a mighty lot of Lawson, don't you?" jeered Dyer. "Now, see here, young woman, my stenographer has been taking down every word you have said, and unless you divulge where you have put that paper I'll call a policeman."

"He will, will he?" shouted Lawson in a rage. "Well, I guess he won't. I've just called up the Smith-Benson company and accepted a position as their manager at just 50 per cent more money."

PORT WORTH PAPER'S ITEM IS READ WITH INTEREST

Spokane Wash.—C. E. Cranke of Colville for years has had a well-established reputation as a practical joker, but his latest exploit in this line, which he is relating to his acquaintances with great glee, created such a commotion in a Pullman sleep-car on an O. W. & N. train near Pendleton recently that the crew had to take a hand to quell the disorder and quiet the passengers.

Dropped it and Ran Screaming.

Awakened during the night by some one rummaging around under his berth, Mr. Cranke discovered the colored porter down on his knees poking into the recesses under the seats with a cane. The Pullman conductor about this time thrust his head out from the curtains of his section and remonstrated with the porter for making so much noise.

The manager gave him several letters to translate from the French. He finished this work and then burst out angrily, asking why he was made to work when he was hungry.

White grabbed a towel to stop the blood, and noting the lighted "bomb," drenched it with a mug of water. Barbers and patrons cautiously crept back and found the bomb dead. Police who were summoned found the bomb's fuse was rope and that the lead pipe was empty. The ends had been hammered together to hold the rope in position.

White lost a good portion of his nose. The police are searching for the "bomb" thrower. The manager told the clerk to keep playing records for Labordi, and he escaped and telephoned for the police. Mrs. Valerie Bell, who was in the store and knew Mlle. Lucienne Brevall, questioned Labordi and asked him intimate questions concerning the singer's life, all of which he answered readily and correctly.

RELAY TRIP ON MERIDIAN ROUTE OVER

CARS REACH TERMINI IN SOUTH TEXAS SUNDAY SATURDAY AFTERNOON WICHITANS MAKE REMARKABLE RECORD

SO THROUGH CITY

Finish Run From Red River to Fort Worth in Four Hours and 25 Minutes—Distance Without any Mishap

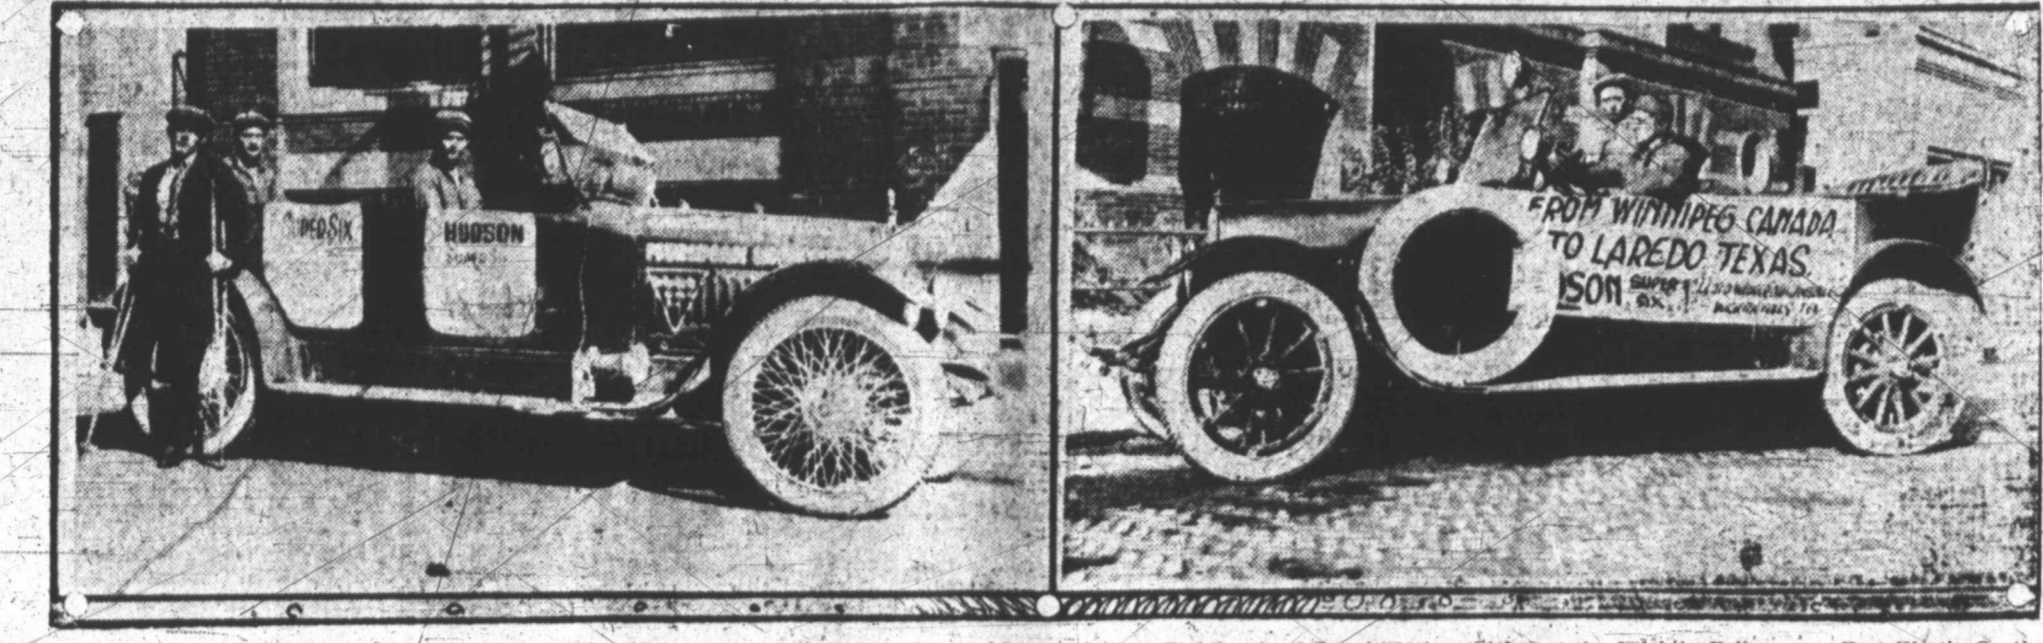

The Meridian road relay run, from Canada to the Gulf, was completed Saturday afternoon when the two cars which completed the trip arrived at Galveston and Laredo respectively.

The trip, which it had been planned to complete in 54 hours, was finished in ten hours less than that to Galveston and Laredo, the remaining newspaper men would make an effort to catch the Oklahoma car, which it was presumed would proceed on to Wichita Falls and that falling in, they would remain in the Weaver machine and make the trip as far as the Wichita Falls.

At about 7 o'clock word came to the bridge that the car had passed Lawton at 6:35 and it was estimated that it would reach Red River in not less than an hour and a half. Messrs. Weaver and Smith went over their machine one more time, seeing that everything was fit and ready, and waited as patiently as possible for the Oklahoma car.

"Harry's just as excited as can be," confided Weaver to one of the newspaper men, as they waited, "he hasn't hardly eaten anything since he knew the news. Lloyd sure is worked up over this drive."

The two agreed to alternate in driving during the night, and each declared that he would be most nervous when the other was at the wheel, not that they did not have full confidence in each other, but it was harder to watch than it was to drive.

The two cars that sped the message across Texas, in 18 hours. On the left is the machine of William Steinhart of San Antonio, which met the Wichita Falls car at Fort Worth. On the right is shown the car manned by Lloyd Weaver and Harry Smith of this city, which met the message at the Oklahoma line. Mrs. Weaver said Saturday night that anyone who wished to examine the machine just as it made the trip is ready for public inspection.

Upon arrival at the bridge, arrangements were made by telephone to promptly notify them by the machine passed Lawton. Some of those in the party fired the long shot decision to return to Wichita Falls, so as to see the car speed through the city. It was decided that the remaining newspaper men would make an effort to catch the Oklahoma car, which it was presumed would proceed on to Wichita Falls and that falling in, they would remain in the Weaver machine and make the trip as far as the Wichita Falls.

GUILTY VERDICT IN TRIAL OF FRY

FORMER COUNTY JUDGE OF YOUNG COUNTY CONVICTED AT HENRIETTA

TWO YEAR SENTENCE

Defendant Hears Verdict Without Emotion—Jury Is Out Over Five Hours

From Sunday's Daily. A verdict of guilty, with a sentence of two years in the penitentiary was returned Saturday night at Henrietta in the case of E. W. Fry, charged with forgery.

In this case Fry was charged with having forged the name of C. T. Lane in cashing a county warrant for $84.50. The case went to the jury at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, after the closing argument by Judge John Kay, for the state, and the last night, the jurors announced ready to report.

The evidence at the Henrietta trial was practically the same as that in previous trials. It dealt to some extent with the geological structure of the section and the fact that Fry had been arrested in Wichita Falls on the 15th of February, 1915 while he was serving as a legislator at Austin.

The forgery indictments against Judge Fry allege that he forged in Burkburnett county, Oklahoma, a check for $1200, the total amount involved being several thousand dollars.

COUNTY RANKS HIGH ON CAMPAIGN FUND

From Sunday's Daily. No county in Texas has made a better showing, population considered, in raising campaign funds than Wichita county, judging from preliminary reports from other parts of the state.

In acknowledging Electra's contributions recently, Marriott & Son were credited with one dollar, the amount they gave was $10.

- From statements made by Boona Ridgeway, state chairman for raising campaign funds in Texas, it seems as if Wichita county will probably be at least sixth. Dallas, Harris, Travis, Tarrant, and El Paso also rank high. Mr. Ridgeway has estimated that the total amount raised in the state will be $1200,000, and also expects some additional contributions from the Burkburnett committee.

Although the Times is unable to add anything further than has already been said in its columns in support of the school tax amendment, it takes this last occasion to direct the attention of the voters and to ask that they vote for the amendment.

Every one of us must wish that our loved ones rest in their last sleep in ground made beautiful as possible. If there is any man who does not he will vote against the proposed bond issue in tomorrow's election.

For every vote cast for Woodrow Wilson in 1912, Wichita county has sent a dollar to the democratic national campaign fund.

Desperate efforts are being made to turn the Wilson tide that has been moving with increasing volume. In ordinarily republican strongholds in upper New York we read that republican campaigners are offering to "buy" the time of farmers who will take time to go to the polls and vote.

As a result of the decision of the supreme court in reference to the name of C. H. Hurdleston on the democratic ticket for railroad commissioner to succeed Mr. Williams, all sorts of diabolical schemes have been hatched.

The many and wonderful monstrosities of the Terrell election law are again brought to the attention of the people by the latest decision of the supreme court.

Robbing a blind man has heretofore been considered the limit of knavery. A new limit has been set by a Dallas thief who stole from a preacher as the latter was praying for sinners.

The officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce oil and gas company elected this morning are men of such standing and character as to inspire even greater confidence in the success of the enterprise.

Wichita Falls made three good records last week. The first was over-subscribing the stock for a $100,000 corporation to explore for oil and gas, the second was the completion of a fund of more than a thousand dollars for the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund and the third was the drilling in of an oil well in new territory tributary to the city by Wichita Falls capitalists.

Democrats Brethren: If the first bulletins that are flashed on the screen tonight are against us, do not lose hope. The first bulletins, in all probability will come from New England and Atlantic coast states where the vote is likely to be against the President.

If President Wilson wins in today's election it will be because his administration has appealed to the progressive thought of the nation and that he has won the majority of the independent voters.

While the returns are yet indefinite, early this afternoon they indicated the re-election of President Wilson by the largest popular vote ever cast for a presidential candidate.

The new and wonderful monstrosities of the Terrell election law are again brought to the attention of the people by the latest decision of the supreme court.

LAW AND THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE

The many and wonderful monstrosities of the Terrell election law are again brought to the attention of the people by the latest decision of the supreme court.

Courts are established for the purpose of giving an intelligent and intelligible interpretation of the laws.

When the secretary of state ordered the name of the nominee for railroad commissioner, named by the executive committee of the democratic party, to be printed on the ticket, he was acting under the law as it existed and was in force at that time.

In the short interval between that time and the coming of the election the supreme court reverses the decision under which the secretary of state acted and tells the people that the printed name must be wholly erased and the name of the man for whom the voter desires to cast his ballot must be written thereon with a pen or pencil.

Suppose the voter lets his ballot go through without erasing that printed name and deposits that ballot with the printed name thereon as his choice for that particular office, and that ballot is thrown out under the decision of the court, is that really complying with the law?

The books are filled with decisions in contested election cases and there is just the one underlying principle involved in all of them—what was the intent and desire of the voter? This is the one and only rule that can dominate a decision on the result of an election.

What was the intent and desire of the voter, what was he trying to do, for whom did he intend to vote, and the presumption conclusively is that the name of a candidate, was on the ballot, he cast, written and printed there, that is the man for whom the ballot was cast.

SOUND CAUSE FOR COLONEL'S RAGE

Not unexpected is the most recent development in the curious controversy as to what Secretary of War Newton D. Baker said concerning the soldiers of Washington at Valley Forge. This is the sarcastic allegation that the speaker was, unfortunately, in his selection of historians, instead of quoting John Fiske, as he did, he should have chosen Theodore Roosevelt, author of the "Life of Gouverneur Morris, and critic par excellence of all things non-dominion. Discarding the self-styled soldiers' biographer said that they "had to be soiled into line," meaning that they were arrant cowards.

THE FALSE AND THE TRUE

The Second Commandment is that we shall not worship the gods of our own making. The ancient Greeks worshiped the outward and visible signs of beauty, which degenerated into the worship of the outward expression of law, which degenerated into worship of the emperor.

Here is a man who worships what has been irreverently called the Almighty Dollar, and he knows not the God of Israel. Here is another man who worships power in his own person, and he bends all his energies to his attainment.

Being forbidden by edict of the state to introduce another god, even the God of Israel, and seeing an altar erected to the unknown God, Paul seized the occasion to exclaim, "Whom ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you."

The revelation of the one true God to a distracted humanity is the highest mission to which any man can devote himself. Amarillo democrats held a big Wilson rally last night.

The achievement of over-subscribing within four days the stock in a $100,000 corporation, the first purpose of which is community benefit, is an achievement that fittingly exemplifies the Wichita spirit.

It's good strategy to dissipate the resources of the enemy in fruitless attacks. Texas democratic newspapers can readily justify their acceptance of republican campaign ads on this theory.

"The real complaint of the republicans in Mexico," says the Philadelphia Record, "is that Mr. Wilson did not prevent the revolution which occurred while Mr. Taft was president."

The agricultural committee of the Texas Bankers' Association is planning a vigorous campaign to encourage the Texas farmers to diversify their production.

tempt to debase the elections there will be no sympathy felt for them when they are sent to Leavenworth or some other federal prison. Here in the South we are much freer from fraudulent voting than in the states in the North where the negro is a factor in politics, but the Nation cannot stand if corruption of the ballot on a scale as wholesale as is indicated in connection with the colonization of these thousands of negroes in the doubtful states is permitted.

There are some people living in Wichita County who are not in favor of voting bonds for good roads, and when you mention good roads they say, "I have no automobile to travel in—the man who owns an automobile is the one who wants good roads."

If straw polls are a reliable indication, the democrats must hope to win without the electoral votes of New York, Indiana and New Jersey. Practically all the polls that have been taken indicate that this trio of states will give their votes for Hughes.

The revelation of the one true God to a distracted humanity is the highest mission to which any man can devote himself. Amarillo democrats held a big Wilson rally last night.

The Times again wants to urge upon the men of all parties in Wichita county to go to the polls Tuesday and vote the ticket of their choice. Only about one voter out of three has been voting in the general elections heretofore and where there was a total vote of less than 1500 in the county four years ago there ought to be between 3500 and 4000 in Tuesday's election.

In reference to the colonization of thousands of negroes in Ohio, Illinois and Indiana, all good citizens will join in the hope that the activities of the federal investigators will deter attempts to vote them, but if the warnings should fail of their purpose and the negroes are voted, then all right thinking citizens will hope just as fervently that those connected with the conspiracy will be convicted and sentenced to prison.

Mr. Hughes as a candidate for President who is without a policy or a programme is a sorry spectacle. But Mr. Hughes as a candidate for President who has formally renounced political leadership is a menace to the peace, the welfare and the national safety of the American people.

Nobody knows definitely where he stands. One week before election he is still without a policy and without a programme of government. What is far more important, Mr. Hughes has succeeded in proving that he has no adequate theory of the Presidency in any of the functions or relations of that office.

My conception of the Presidency differs absolutely from that of Mr. Wilson. Look upon the President as the administrative head of the Government. He looks upon the President as primarily the political leader and lawmaker of the Nation.

Let us suppose that Mr. Hughes is elected President. Who, then, shall lead the party in power if the President does not lead? Who is to exercise the law-making function to recommend to the Congress "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient" if the President does not exercise it?

Let us suppose that Mr. Hughes is elected President. Who, then, shall lead the party in power if the President does not lead? Who is to exercise the law-making function to recommend to the Congress "such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient" if the President does not exercise it?

In government somebody leads. Somebody must lead. When Mr. Hughes formally renounced political leadership he is a menace to the peace, the welfare and the national safety of the American people.

The last Chief Executive of this country who held to the Hughes theory that the President is not a political leader and lawmaker, but merely the administrative head of the Government, was James Buchanan. The results of Buchananism are matters of history. Now when civilization is staggering through the most terrible crisis of modern times, when two-thirds of the civilized world is at war and is menaced by social revolution, at the end of war when the destiny of the United States hinges upon the character and ability of its political leadership during the next four years, Mr.

Hughes asks to be elected President on the ground that he will not be a leader, but that he will be a sound and dependable parish head. Mr. Choate's argument against Mr. Hughes' capacity to handle the foreign affairs of the United States extends to all the functions of the Executive. No man who has the parochial conception of the Presidency that Mr. Hughes proclaims can be trusted with the fate of Nation in this crisis, for in any crisis, to elect a President who is resolved not to be a leader and a lawmaker is to elect chaos.—New York World.

SUPPLIES ELECTION NEWS TO THOUSANDS

Flashed Bulletins, Telephone Calls and Times Extras Tell of Developments. With hundreds of people watching the election bulletins flashed on the screen in front of its office Tuesday night, the Times has been crowding the office Wednesday morning and several scores of folks both in Wichita Falls and in Northwest Texas and Oklahoma bearing the office news by phone, in addition to the thousands who receive the news through the regular and extra editions of the paper.

Thousands might a big throng gathered in front of the office to read the bulletins flashed upon a screen by a stereopticon, the watchers alternately cheering and sighing as the favorable and unfavorable news appeared. Hundreds in this city and in other towns used the telephone to get their news, calls being received from such points as Stamford, Quanah, Childress, Wellington and Decatur in Texas and from points in Oklahoma as far distant as Woodward.

Although the early returns favored Hughes so overwhelmingly that eastern papers declared him elected and some news gathering associations notified their clients to the same effect, The Times pinned its faith to the Associated Press. This faith was justified to a great extent when this morning's returns showed that Wilson's "counter attack" was reclaiming many of the states thought to have been lost in the Hughes "drive." As this is written at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the result is still in doubt and the situation is still such that the announcement of a Hughes victory was shown to be very premature.

Without waiting for the "flash" that would remove all doubt as to the result, The Times issued three extra editions, one at midnight Tuesday, another at 9 a. m. Wednesday and a third at noon Wednesday. Throughout the morning The Times office was thronged with visitors who wanted the latest information. Conflicting and contradictory reports spread over the city through the day but there was no definite word. The Times sought, most of all, to make its reports accurate and did not follow the example of many good democratic newspapers throughout the country in announcing Hughes' election prematurely.

STOCKHOLDERS NAME OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

GAS COMPANY ORGANIZATION BEGINS TODAY AND CALL IS MADE FOR ONE-FOURTH OF STOCK SUBSCRIPTIONS

NO NAME SELECTED

J. A. Kemp is President of Company, Decision Reached As To Form of Organization, Subscriptions Total Nearly $120,000

With the election of officers and directors and the issuance call for the immediate payment of 25 per cent of the stock subscriptions, the activities of the new gas company were getting well under way.

The board of directors is composed of W. M. McGregor, G. C. Wood, C. L. Clarke, J. E. Lines, J. A. Kemp, R. O. Harvey and W. R. Ferguson.

The names of the directors were proposed by a committee composed of R. E. Lines, J. A. Kemp, R. E. Huff and W. R. Ferguson, and approved unanimously by the stockholders.

Immediately after the adjournment of the meeting officers were elected in a directors meeting. J. A. Kemp being president, G. C. Wood, secretary, R. O. Harvey, assistant secretary, and W. M. McGregor, treasurer.

The directors will meet again in the directors rooms of the City National Bank tomorrow afternoon. In compliance with the instruction of the stockholders meeting to issue the first call for stock payments of at least one-fourth of the amount subscribed immediately, the directors called for that amount which may be paid to W. M. McGregor, treasurer, or may be paid to the cashier of any bank in Wichita Falls as trustee.

No decision was reached as to the form the organization should take, this being left in the hands of the directors for investigation and action. The subscription lists were made immediately after the meeting of the stockholders meeting to issue the first call for stock payments.

The usual next meeting is scheduled for the afternoon before the game at the high school, the student body being invited to attend. The Quanaah team at the Katy Park next Saturday.

M. E. SOUTH ALL-DAY PRAYER SERVICE TOMORROW

Donations for the orphanage gift box will be received by the Mission Society of the M. E. Church, South, tomorrow at the all-day "Week of Prayer" service and members are urged to remember to bring their contributions.

In moving the recommendation to the directors that a first assessment of at least 25 per cent of the stock be called for immediately, J. A. Kemp gave as his opinion that with the working capital provided by this means another call would probably be found unnecessary.

That the directors should remain open under the supervision of the board of directors was the decision arrived at by the stockholders. The amount subscribed to the enterprise had been swelled to the sum of $120,000 just before the meeting.

Myles O'Reilly having increased his subscription $1,000 making $2,500 in all, just before the meeting, called to order, and A. Nussbaum raising his $500 subscription to $700. It was then announced that $300 more was needed to make the amount of the $120,000 mark, and J. C. Ward increased his subscription by that amount.

However, an action of Frank Kell, a member of the company, was held in abeyance for the present, including that of Ball Brothers for $10,000, the Water and Light Company for $1,000, the Brick & Tile Company for $2,500 and the Wichita Cotton Oil Company for $1,000 leaving the total of bona fide subscriptions at $101,500.

Ball Brothers subscription was held up on account of stipulations restricting the price and conditions, which was to be found, and as both Messrs. Kell and Huff expressed themselves as opposed to any such restriction at this stage. However, Mr. Kell stated that he believed that the firm would agree to waive these restrictions when the situation was explained to them, and their unconditional confirmation is expected.
