

ROUMANIANS ON WESTERN FRONT SUFFER REVERSE

LOSE MORE THAN 2100 AND ARE FORCED TO RETIRE FROM SEVERAL IMPORTANT POSITIONS, ACCORDING TO BERLIN

LONDON CLAIMS GAIN

Further Progress on Avere Announced. Russian Standing Firm—Allies Report Advance in Their Drive Toward Monastir

The Associated Press summarizes European war operations as follows: The Rumanians have suffered further reverses at the hands of General Von Falkenhayn's invading forces according to today's official German announcement. Taking more than 2100 prisoners and a dozen machine guns, the Teutonic forces in yesterday's operation carried a mountain peak on the Moldavian frontier of Rumania east of Kedzivanarhely, penetrated a Rumanian position in the Predeal region and recaptured advances south of Rotenthurm Pass, the statement asserts.

Apparently the Rumanians are holding their own along the northern part of the Moldavian boundary line. Berlin reports them withstanding the Austro-German attack.

London reports a further British success last night in a renewed attack in the extension of the Somme offensive north of the Andre brook. A gain along the north bank of the river east of Beaucourt is claimed. Berlin declares a British attack in this region last evening failed. It records the repulse of an assault on the Somme front west of Lesars and announces that the British were forced back westward along the Piers-Tailly road.

Paris records no activity by the French infantry in the Somme region after yesterday's attack in which the positions taken by the Germans in the village of Sully-Salliseil were reclaimed according to last night's announcement. Berlin declares the French attacks on both sides of the village Sully-Salliseil but failed to gain.

The entente drive upon Monastir which has forced the German-Bulgarian defenders of this Serbian city back upon the inner lines of defense apparently has halted. Berlin reports the repulse of an assault by entente troops in the Cerna river region on the Monastir plain.

Threatens Libel Suit Against Those Who He Says Have Distorted His Statement

By Associated Press. San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 17.—"Baptists who are distorting the statement of my position regarding the kind of church work acceptable in border camps had better put their property in the names of their wives" was the comment made today by General Funston on the action of the Baptist General convention of Virginia at Norfolk, yesterday, in adopting a resolution protesting against the general's alleged attitude. He intimated that he might bring libel suit against his critics. The controversy was started when General Funston told Dr. J. B. Gambrell, representing the Texas Baptist state board, that he did not want men in the army to be considered as "lost souls."

"WHITE" ARMY IS NOW IN RETREAT

ADVANCED BRIGADE FALLS BACK BEFORE A WAVE OF "BROWN" FORCE

"BATTLE" IS LIKELY

Invaders Are Expected to Make Stand Near San Benito. War Game Continues

By Associated Press. Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 17.—The advanced brigade of the "white" army defending the United States from invasion by the "brown" army that theoretically has crossed into this country from Mexico today evacuated the city of San Benito, 19 miles north of Brownsville.

The brigade was threatened by the approaching 10,000 men of the invading force under command of Brigadier General H. A. Allen. The "brown" commander believes that the "white" brigade, commanded by Col. R. L. Bullard, will take positions six miles west of San Benito, and there where the country is favorable, make a stand.

The "brown" army broke camp at Olmeto, eleven miles from San Benito taking possession of the railroad and stations as it progressed.

The first outpost of the "white" forces was encountered late yesterday by a regiment of "brown" cavalry which was reconnoitering. The "whites" were driven back.

WAPLES FUNERAL AT DENISON SUNDAY

Body To Lie in State in Fort Worth Saturday and Stores Will Close

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 17.—Most of Fort Worth's business houses will be closed from 11 o'clock Saturday to 1 o'clock Sunday out of respect to Paul Waples, millionaire merchant and democratic state chairman who was killed Thursday when an interurban struck his automobile.

Services will be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The body will lie in state at this auditorium from ten in the morning until two o'clock in the afternoon when it will be removed to Waples' country home. A special train will take the body, relatives and friends to Denison Sunday, leaving here at 11 o'clock. The funeral will be held at Denison at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls is one of the honorary pall-bearers.

Mr. Waples was always interested in politics, though never a candidate for office. In 1903, when Governor Campbell was a candidate for reelection, Mr. Waples was numerously urged to make the race against him, but declined to do so. He was also urged to run in 1910, but his friends were unable to prevail upon him to become a candidate.

He was a native of Missouri, where he was born February 4, 1856. He graduated from the University of Missouri in 1871 and came to Texas in 1874, locating first at Denison, later at Sherman, and moving to Fort Worth in 1874. In 1875 he married Miss Minnie E. Hubbard of Columbia, Missouri, who died some years ago. No children survive. His interests were extensive; while he devoted himself to his wholesale grocery business, he was also interested in banking and railroad enterprises.

DENTON PRECINCT MAY VOTE ON ROAD BONDS

Special to The Times. Denton, Texas, Nov. 17.—Following the defeat Tuesday of the county road bond issue of one million dollars, plans are under way here for organizing a road precinct, including the territory about Denton, where an effort will probably be made to carry a smaller bond issue than that submitted Tuesday. Although the bonds were defeated by a vote of 1743 to 1468 and the county, the city of Denton went strongly for the issue, and it is considered probable that a precinct bond issue would be successful.

CROWDS ASSEMBLE TO CHEER WILSON AS PRESIDENT RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

President Wilson was in New York for a few minutes more than half an hour as he way back from Williams-town, Mass., to Washington. Three thousand people were lined up beside the pier at West Seventy-ninth street to cheer when he landed from the Mayflower. With him were Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones. They had come down the Hudson in the Mayflower from Rhinecliff during the night.

The party took a waiting automobile and started downtown to the Pennsylvania station at once. As they climbed the steep grade leading down to the landing the president's car slowed almost to a stop, which gave a half dozen enthusiasts on the sidewalk a chance to run out and grasp his hand. As the president drove down Broadway, leaving behind the crowd that had gathered to see him, the procession of five automobiles, led by a police car with a clanging gong, attracted much attention, but few people realized till he had passed that the president was in one of the autos.

At Fifty-seventh street Miss Margaret Wilson left the party, as she was to remain with friends in New York. The president drove on down Broadway. Another big crowd waiting for him at the Pennsylvania station greeted him lustily. Charles R.

Crane, president of the Wilson Business Men's National League; Colonel E. M. House, Gordon Auchincloss, Colonel House's son-in-law; Ambassador Gerard and Alderman John McCurt were among those who met him as he boarded his private car. There were several shouts of "Thank you for the eight hour law." The president smiled, but made no other response. In the picture from left to right are President and Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Bones.

In Santa Bernardino county a re-check resulted in the loss of nine of twelve votes for President Wilson. In San Francisco and Los Angeles counties, the count was being continued and it was not believed that the complete state recount could be completed before the middle of next week.

NEGRO CONFESSES DOUBLE SLAYING

Says He Shot Woman and Clubbed Child to Death When Refused Money

By Associated Press. Ashdown, Ark., Nov. 17.—John Hawkins, negro, 24 years old last night confessed, officers say, to having murdered Mrs. Ben Biles, wife of a railroad section foreman, and her fifteen months old daughter here on the afternoon of November 2. Rewards totalling $100 were outstanding.

The negro was spirited from town and rushed to the penitentiary at Little Rock. Officers say Hawkins admitted he shot Mrs. Biles and clubbed her child to death when the woman ran after he demanded money. He ransacked the house, procuring $15 and overtook $250 hidden in a bed. Hawkins produced the pocket book taken from the Bile home.

FEDERATION OF LABOR OPPOSES WILSON MEASURE

By Associated Press. Baltimore, Nov. 17.—The American Federation of Labor by a unanimous vote declared against that provision of President Wilson's legislative program, "making illegal any strike, boycott or lockout prior to the determination of the merits of the three-code letters on the wit stand. He insisted that there is not a word reflecting upon Countess Von Bernstorff in any of the letters.

They do contain information about certain stocks, he asserted, which could be played as sure winners on the American market because of certain German activities to come about in the near future. Also, he declared, they contain diplomatic secrets of high importance to this country.

Count Bernstorff, he charged, has made millions of dollars with friends in this country by playing stocks on advance secret information from Germany.

Bernstorff knew twenty-four hours before the U-53 appeared at Newport that she was in American waters and he "cleansed" up in the market on this advance information," Graves said. Count Von Bernstorff called Graves' assertions "rot."

WILSON ISSUES PROCLAMATION

CALLS ON NATION TO OBSERVE NOVEMBER 30 AS THANKS-GIVING DAY

REFERENCE TO WAR

Points to America's Peace and Prosperity as Comared With Europe's Plight

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson today formally by proclamation designated Thursday, November 30, as Thanksgiving day. The proclamation follows:

"It has long been the custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us and to the nation.

"The year that had elapsed since we last observed our day of Thanksgiving has been rich in blessings to us as a people, but the whole face of the world has been darkened by war. In the midst of our feasts and happiness, our thoughts dwell with painful disquiet upon the struggle and sufferings of the nations at war and of the people upon whom the war has brought disaster without the choice or possibility of escape on their part. We cannot think of our own happiness without thinking of their pitiful distress.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America do appoint Thursday, the 30th of November as a day of national Thanksgiving and prayer and urge and advise the people to resort to their several places of worship on that day to render thanks to Almighty God for the blessings of peace and unbroken prosperity which He has bestowed upon our beloved country in such unstinted measure.

"And I also urge and suggest our duty in this, our day of feast and abundance, to think in deep sympathy of the stricken peoples of the world upon whom the curse and terror of war has so pitilessly fallen to contribute of our abundant means to the relief of their suffering.

"Our people could in no better way show their real attitude toward the present struggle of the nations than by contributing out of their abundance to the relief of the suffering which war has brought in its train.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this 17th day of November in the year of our Lord, 1916, and of the independence of the United States the 41st.

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON, Secretary of State.

CROSS EXAMINATION AT WACO CONTINUES

Watson Says He Signed Many Letters When Requested By Sons To Do So

By Associated Press. Waco, Tex., Nov. 17.—Cross examination of T. R. Watson was continued this morning in the 54th district court where he is being tried for the killing of John B. Patterson.

The defendant said he did not remember that his bank was in trouble during the administration of W. W. Collier, a state commissioner of banking. He recalled that Bank Examiner Roberts came to his bank and took out $24,000 of alleged bad paper. Mr. Watson retorted that he did not have any correspondence personally relative to the bank's affairs, that when he signed letters as president of the Farmers & Merchants State Bank of Teague, it was at the request of his two sons engaged in the banking business with him.

FIVE DIE WHEN DEUTSCHLAND'S TUG IS RAMMED

SUBMARINE COLLIDES WITH ONE OF CONVOYS WHICH IS BUNK AND ALL MEMBERS OF CREW ARE DROWNED

DEPARTURE SUDDEN

Undersea Merchantman Begins Return Voyage Quietly But Comes Back into Port Again After Meeting With an Accident

By Associated Press. New London, Conn., Nov. 17.—Five lives were lost when the German submarine Deutschland, which left port early today for Bremen, rammed and sent to the bottom with 45 crew of five the U. S. Scott tug and two other convoying tugs. After the collision the Deutschland returned to port. The dead:

JOHN GILNEY, captain, had been WILLIAM A. CATON, engineer, EDWARD STONE, fireman, CLARENCE B. DAVIDSON, cook, EUGENE DUZANT, deck hand. The collision occurred about a mile inside the race and according to a member of the Deutschland's crew came "all in a minute. The tug, he said, unexpectedly got in front of the Deutschland, the distance being so slight between them that the submarine had no chance of avoiding the accident. Her nose struck the tug near the stern, lifting it well out of the water and sending the Scott's nose under. Almost immediately afterward the boilers of the tug exploded and the vessel sank with all on board.

Captain Fred Hinch of the interned German steamer Necker, who was on the tug, grasped a guy rope and was drawn down with the tug. When he rose to the surface he managed to grasp a life preserver and was thrown out by the Deutschland and was taken back to New London.

The Deutschland was not seriously damaged. It was stated, and probably would be ready to sail in a few days when repairs had been made. Several of the bow plates were bent and the rivets loosened on the tug. The repairs will be made by members of the crew.

Although the Deutschland apparently had been ready for her dash for some days her departure was rather unexpected. Her skipper, Paul Koenig, spent the night in the interior of the tug about the city. When asked about his sailing, the captain merely smiled and said he did not know.

After leaving the tug, the captain stroled down to the pier. In the meantime thorough preparations had been made for leaving. The machinery of the boat had been tested the day before and a craft was provisioned. First of all, the lights at the pier were extinguished and the deck of the Deutschland was cleared. Lloyd Line Willahad scurried down the river to see that the course was clear. Then the steel net that had protected the entrance to the pock was hauled up.

Farewells to the Willahad's crew were said quietly. At one o'clock the tug Casio and the Necker were up to the pier. The pontoon bearing a high fence that stood between the Willahad and the dock was pulled to one side and all 150 men of the Deutschland slipped silently down the Thames.

An "oddy" caused the accident according to Captain Baker of the Casio, the other convoy. The Casio was travelling about half a mile astern of the Deutschland while the Scott and the submarine were moving down the river. The Casio's helm, Captain Baker said, and conditions were normal.

The Scott carried the usual lights but the Deutschland had only her headlight and two side lights. The tide was running almost full and when about seven miles west of Raze Hook the boats struck on the matter, it was twisted out of control; shortly afterward they came together. He heard the crash.

The night was clear, he said, and there were no boats other than the two tugs and the Deutschland in the vicinity. He gave no credence to reports that a British boat was approaching the submarine. Captain Baker said that when the collision occurred he at once headed for the spot. He saw the Casio being towed by the water and took him on board the Casio. Earlier reports had it that Hinch had been rescued by the Deutschland.

Henry J. Hilken, president of the Eastern-Forwarding Company, said that so far as he knew the only damage to the Deutschland suffered was a twisted stern. It was learned later however, that the undersea boat was in her bow at least one hole about 20 inches square. A portable force was taken down of the pier and the hole is being patched up. Captain W. A. Pons, shore superintendent of the Scott company said he expected that the Deutschland would be ready to leave within two or three days.

Reports that a tug boat with gun mounted, was waiting outside the three mile limit, supposedly to convoy the Deutschland, failed of confirmation here.

CHICAGO'S MUNICIPAL LODGING HOUSE EMPTY

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—No fall opening of the municipal lodging hall has yet taken place. It was announced today that the city's pile of uncut wood is steadily growing higher. For the first time since the municipal "hog" was put in shape for occupancy, the building was empty yesterday at the first touch of winter weather. Itinerants have failed to appear this winter, due to prosperous times throughout the country. Owners of cheap lodging houses are complaining that while ordinarily at this season their places are filled to capacity and they have to turn them away at present less than half of their beds are being occupied, despite the cold weather.

HOSPITAL BOARD IS ELECTED TODAY

Members of the board of directors for the general hospital for the ensuing two years were elected today at a joint session of the city council and the commissioners court. Only two new members were elected, Dr. F. P. Collins of Iowa, Park and W. W. Collins of Encke. These men filled vacancies caused by the removal of Dr. Frank Clark of Iowa Park from the county and the election of H. L. Eads of Burk Burnett to the commissioners court. The other members of the board, Mrs. Frank Kell, Dr. C. R. Hartsook and Dr. J. E. Daniel were re-elected.

In bringing up the need of a new elevator for the hospital Judge Harvey Harris stated that he had been informed by the hospital authorities that if a very sick man was put on the hand elevator now in use at the hospital he would have plenty of time to die before reaching the top. However, Judge Harris stated that the commissioners had conferred with Stanley Field and the architect on this matter and had been informed that an automatic electric elevator would cost $3000 to install and would increase the operating cost of the hospital $20 or $25 per month, which amount those present were unanimously agreed was too much. The necessity of additional building in the not very distant future was brought out at the meeting.

PARK BOARD NAMES LANDSCAPE EXPERT

At the meeting of the park board at ten o'clock this afternoon it was agreed to recommend the employment of Charles W. Hughes as landscape architect in charge of the contemplated improvements at the park, cemetery, as the councilmen have already expressed themselves as ready to concur on any action in this connection. The park board, which is a virtual appointment.

That the closing of that part of Fifth street which divides the park and cemetery into two parts would be a help in carrying out the plans was the opinion of the meeting, and it is likely that the city council and the commissioners court will be asked to take action on this matter. Concurrent action by these bodies, or a special act of the state legislature is necessary to the closing of the street.

SANTA FE RUMORS OF INTEREST HERE

That definite action in regard to several extensions in this state planned by the Santa Fe, and especially the branch which is to tap the North Plains country, will be an immediate result of the trip of E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe system, now on a visit to Texas. The opinion expressed by well-informed railroad men of this city.

The Santa Fe has been more prominently mentioned as a possible builder into the North Plains territory than any other road, a report which has been strengthened by the fact that the Santa Fe Colonization company, in which many of the higher officials of the road are interested, recently bought immense tracts of land in Lipscomb, Ochiltree and Hansford counties. This extension is expected as the Shattuck extension, and will run from that point in Oklahoma to Hansford and possibly Lipscomb and Ochiltree.

The present trip of Mr. Ripley is believed to be for the purpose of determining the length of the extension, the route and other details of the nature, which indicate the advanced stage of the Santa Fe plans.

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 17.—Americanization of spring styles and fabrics for women is the plan up for discussion before the National Close Suit and Skirt Manufacturers association which opens in annual convention here today. A private style show for the benefit of members will be held tomorrow.

"To obtain the confidence of the American woman is the thing we are striving for in this country," declared J. T. Haviland, one of the Chicago members of the association. "It seems the lines for the coming season will be long and straight, with skirts not as short as hitherto and coats fitted away about the waist, stitching will be much used in heavy loose threads and the shades will be the most flower-like and delicate imaginable."

ASK TEXAS WOMEN TO GIVE DOLLARS

Suffragettes Want Non-Voting Sisters to Aid in Wiping Out Democratic Deficit

By Associated Press. Denton, Texas, Nov. 17.—For the reason, they say, that women in the suffrage states contributed largely to the victory of the president in the recent election, women in non-suffrage states will be asked to contribute one dollar each to wipe out the announced deficit of $300,000 in the democratic campaign fund, according to a plan announced today by suffrage leaders here. Appeals for the dollar subscriptions will be made in circular letters, it was said.

I Wait For Thee.
 I wait for thee, O bird of early morn,
 And know thy joyous voice must soon be gone
 For thou art fancy free, not bound by chains,
 And others need thy wondrous song:
 Beyond in shadow, in the tree I love,
 I wait the sun down hour for thee to sink
 To bring new gladness to the day apart.
 Thy trust to lift my ever-doubting heart,
 I wait for thee.
 I wait for thee.

KENTUCKY CLUB HAS SESSION THURSDAY NIGHT

The first of a series of programs and social meetings which will make things interesting for the newly organized Kentucky Club took place Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. There were about 40 present and the program, which had been arranged by the committee, proved very entertaining, consisting of talks, readings and music. The next meeting will be held in two weeks. The club is still anxious for other members and all former Kentuckians are urged to join.

WICHITA WHEAT FIRST PRIZE AT WACO

In addition to winning first prize for county exhibits at the Waco Cotton Palace the wheat shown in the exhibit from this county also took first place, writes Jerome Stone who is in charge of the Wichita county exhibit. History is likewise repeating itself in the interest which is being attracted by this county's exhibit. As was the case at the Dallas Fair the exhibit is being singled out by the crowds for an especially close examination, attracting more attention according to Mr. Stone, than all the rest of the agricultural exhibits put together.

AMERICA'S CHANCE FOR FOREIGN TRADE

Mining Congress Speaker Says This Country Must Cultivate International Mind

By Associated Press. Chicago, Nov. 17.—"Conditions grown out of the European war will demand, more than ever, that the people of the United States develop and live in the spirit of the international mind," said C. L. Deering, former president of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, in an address on "World Trade Conditions of the Future" before the American Mining Congress here.

"We have repeatedly been reminded," said Mr. Deering, "that the Spanish-American war of 1898 made this country an international power. Entrance into the world as a world's power quickened that international understanding known as the Monroe Doctrine and admonished both ourselves and the world that hereafter in statesmanship and in naval and military resources we must measure up to our responsibilities even as in industrial and commercial development we must measure up to our opportunities."

"The markets of the world are not to be taken by conquest. They must be won and held by the same business principles on which our domestic trade is founded, superior goods, superior service, uniform fair dealing, unfailing reliability and that faculty of being eternally on the job that is the true characteristic of American business."

"It is the foreign market that we should strive to hold in the future. Then there comes home to us at once the imperative necessity of a merchant marine—American ships to carry American merchandise. Another thing we must consider is the establishment of a permanent non-partisan tariff commission."

"The immediate and tangible opportunity is now to fit ourselves for the development the future may afford by educating ourselves and our people on the principles of conservation, economy, patriotism and national preparedness."

Dr. Willis R. Whitney, an electrical expert of Schenectady, sounded a note in national preparedness when he advocated today in an address before the congress, a more effective and extensive preparation of men for scientific research in America. Declaring that the country might be in a state of coma, induced "by super-cial prosperity, and prolonged by relatively disorganized conditions that have recently prevailed." Dr. Whitney said:

"England is planning a system of general industrial research to assist her manufacturers after the war. The scientific and engineering societies of Germany are banding under a single president to render cooperation more effective."

Dr. Whitney pointed out the necessity of devoting greater attention to natural sciences and to unearthing values of natural knowledge and said:

"The first step in this direction and a step which may well bring most valuable and far reaching results is that sought by a bill which has been before congress for several years which aims at the national encouragement of research. It was introduced and supported by the association of Land Grant Colleges of the separate states and it calls for an annual federal appropriation of $15,000,000."

"This bill which still is being advanced may well greatly aid the country in that type of preparedness of which the late J. J. Hill said: 'Economic preparedness that shall permit our abundant capital to employ itself wisely here, where it belongs and would prefer to stay, create new industry, make more prosperous the old and pay wages to all our workers. It is the test by which the future of our hopes and visions must stand or fall.'"

"We need more information on the properties of materials of all sorts in order to suggest their use in places where the needs are often already well in sight. The valuable results come from what appear to be the most insignificant observations of natural phenomena."

"One of the most terrible explosives of this terrible war is a mixture containing apparently harmless metallic aluminum and ammonium nitrate. It is the last thing in explosives? Certainly not. It is only the latest. It can be traced back to the German chemist, Wohler, who first studied aluminum extensively. If these things always can be traced back to some little experimenting laboratory, why do we not encourage greater supply of matter for what it may have in store for us rather than for what we think we need at the time?"

MEXICO PLANS MORE LIBERAL DIVORCE LAWS

By Associated Press. Mexico City, Nov. 17.—Under what is known as Circular No. 40 the constitutional government has proposed legislation which would give to Mexican courts the right to grant divorce decrees. While no steps have been taken to enumerate various causes for which a divorce may be procured, decrees have been issued wherein the government has right to grant divorces to natives and foreigners alike as follows:

To grant divorces to Mexicans whether the marriage ceremony performed within or outside the republic.

To grant divorces to Mexicans married to foreigners in whose country divorce is not recognized.

To grant divorce to foreigners residing in Mexico whether or not marriage is celebrated in a foreign country, such marriages being considered as having been celebrated in Mexico.

Divorces to be granted to foreigners residing in Mexico, providing the cause for which divorce is asked is recognized as sufficient ground for dissolution of marriage ties in the country where marriage is performed.

Divorce proceedings may be brought by either sex.

Until within the last few years, divorces in Mexico have been decidedly uncommon but is assumed in official quarters that they likely increase under the new decrees.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

"Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

"At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

"I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

MOVEMENT IS STARTED TO MAKE KANSAS CITY DRY

(Kansas City Times)

A step to make Kansas City dry by local option was taken at a meeting of fifteen leaders of the campaign at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. It was decided to start a canvass Sunday to get 7,500 signatures to a petition asking the city council to call a local option election.

William B. Henderson was placed in charge of the canvass. It will last ten days. Henderson said last night the petitions would be circulated through the same channels employed in making the campaign for the third amendment. This will include Bible classes, churches, the Inter-Church Older Boys' Council, the committee of one hundred and other social and religious organizations.

Appended to each petition will be an opinion on the local option law, stating its provisions. It will be cited a dry local option vote will not prohibit the sale of liquor for mechanical and scientific purposes and that it will not prohibit the manufacture of liquor in the dry territory.

It will be incumbent upon the council to call the election within forty days after the filing of the petition. The petition will be filed as soon as possible.

ENCOUNTER DELAY IN BANQUET PLANS

Postponement of A. & M. Association Meeting Causes Delay in Arrangements

Plans for the town builders banquet which is scheduled for the same time as the meeting of the West Texas A. & M. Association here are being held up by the unexpected postponement of that meeting until some time in December. The postponement of the meeting was brought about by a joint meeting which will be held with the trustees of the Texas A. & M. College at College Station on November 29. The West Texas association had to conform with the date of the trustees of the present college in order to bring about the meeting.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the banquet which will not only afford a well deserved tribute to the men whose energy and foresight have built Wichita Falls, but will provide a most appropriate and interesting entertainment for the state dignitaries who will be in the city at the time of the meeting.

As a blackmailer Dr. Karl Armgard Graves may be a failure, as his arrest in New York a few days ago on the complaint of the German embassy may indicate, but none who have read his stories of "inside" diplomatic history but will agree that as a story writer he is not excelled.

In a national election the first great demand of the public is to learn who has been elected president and to know the votes of the two major parties. After this demand is satisfied the public takes very little interest in the election. For this reason the energies and resources of the press of the nation are concentrated on finding out who has been elected president, and little effort is made to learn the number of votes cast for the socialist, prohibition and minor parties. The socialists have been collecting their own returns. The returns so far gathered indicate a slump from the big vote of 1912 when Debs polled 897,001 votes. It is believed that many who voted for Debs in 1912 voted for Wilson in 1916.

If the testimony of witnesses at the hearing before the farm loan board is conclusive, the rural credit bill has been beneficial to the farmers notwithstanding that it is not yet in operation. The testimony of practically all the witnesses who testified at Fort Worth was that immediately upon the enactment of the measure interest rates on farm loans had dropped from 10 to 12 per cent to 8 per cent and even lower in some instances. It is hard to conceive of an institution that in the United States, and it is not can take care of all of the farm loans hoped that the rural credit banks can do this. What they are expected to do is to influence the interest rates and other conditions as to farm loans so as to make outside money more easily available and at a lower rate than is now charged.

During the first four years of President Wilson's administration a great program of constructive legislation was accomplished. This was possible under President Wilson's leadership, though the big majority held by his party in both houses of Congress. At the beginning of his second term it appears that the President's party will be in a minority in the lower house while holding a majority in the Senate. This will mean that it will not be so easy to enact legislation, especially the legislation of a partisan character. This brake on the legislative machine will afford President Wilson opportunity for attention to the administrative features of the executive office, and the American people can expect him to carry out the reforms and changes which Candidate Hughes stressed in his campaign and which probably won for him the great measure of the honest support which he received. While new legislation cannot be enacted with the precision and celerity which marked the first four years, the democratic majority in the Senate will be an effective bar to any attempt to repeal such of the legislation as has been enacted as stands the test of application.

A MATTER OF CONCERN

President Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is quoted as saying: "Any railroad that attempts to cancel the present schedule of hours and pay or refuses to put the eight hour day into effect will find itself with a strike on its hands. What the Supreme Court does with the law is no concern of ours. We have demanded fair working hours and we are going to get them." What the Supreme Court does with the law ought to be of vital concern to everybody, and to Mr. Lee more than most of us. If the Supreme Court upholds the law, the trainmen will have gained their point without a strike. If the law is not upheld, a strike will result in which the trainmen, the railroads and the public will suffer. Mr. Lee's views are unhappily expressed. If he means that he has no respect for the Supreme Court, he has placed himself in a dangerous attitude. Once before in this country an element found no concern in what the Supreme Court ruled in an important matter and a great civil war was the result. What Mr. Lee intended to say doubtless was that the men would not give up their fight for an eight-hour day even if the Supreme Court failed to uphold the Adamson law. That is quite another thing than that the ruling of the Supreme Court, "is no concern of ours."

"WE TOLD YOU SO"

Democratic Brethren: If the first bulletins that are flashed on the screen tonight are against us, do not lose hope. The first bulletins in all probability will come from New England and Atlantic coast States where the vote is likely to be against the President. Republicans will do well not to rejoice and Democrats not to despair until word comes from the middle Western States.—Wichita Daily Times. The above paragraph was carried by the Times on the day of election and its appropriateness can now be appreciated. Surely did it speak prophetically, for events happened just as predicted. The first returns which came from the New England and Atlantic coast States were favorable to the Republican nominee and weak-kneed Democrats gave up in disgust and went home. It was later that the middle West and West were heard from and the world again became hatched in a blaze of glory. We often-times read pre-election editorials after the fight has been waged with amusement because of their far-fetched prophecies; but the Times' pre-election advice comes under an entirely different head at this time.—Denison Herald. Had the Times been able to take its own advice on the night of the election it would have been sustained and nooped and would have remained confident and undisturbed. As it actually was the Times "blowed up" and had no hope of getting together again except on an excursion headed up "Salt River." As early as six o'clock a bulletin was received saying that the New York World estimated that Hughes plurality in New York would be 200,000. A little later came from other bulletins saying that the New York Herald, The World and The Times had flashed the election of Hughes. The Times was downcast and fell ready to be trodden under foot. But it did not issue an extra proclaiming the election of Hughes. There was one gleam of hope. The Associated Press had announced that it would flash the election of the winner. That flash had not come. Until it had been received, The Times would not give up hope entirely. Along toward midnight the bulletins began to change as the Times had predicted. They indicated a close contest in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Ohio would give a big democratic plurality. In the West even Iowa was threatening to go for Wilson, but not even when the Times bulletins stopped at two o'clock on the morning after the election had there been such a change as would make probable the election of Wilson. Overnight the situation changed and the Associated Press flash on Thursday night settled the matter for all those who had followed the returns closely during the intervening hours and days. The Times had expected Mr. Wilson to lose New York, New Jersey and Indiana. It had "doped" the election that way in its columns. It had, however, doped it out that the President would carry West Virginia, that he would run close in Michigan and Wisconsin with good chances of carrying the last two states. It felt sure that he would carry the majority of the western states, but did not expect that he would carry California. The Times had felt before election day that he contest might be decided in Illinois, and the returns indicating that Illinois would give a plurality of 200,000 to Hughes was the chief straw that broke its hopes. The comment of the Denison Herald gives the Times an opportunity to make the confession that it was unable to accept its own philosophy.

THE MEXICAN OUTLOOK Most of the reports from Mexico are untrustworthy, but there is, nevertheless, ample verification of the statements that the northern members of the de facto Government, who are also avowed enemies of our own Government, have been unusually active lately in endeavoring to encourage in Mexico the day's statement from Eagle Pass that Carranza had been recaptured from the Villistas, though Eagle Pass is a long distance from Parral, and the announcement seems to verify the first report that Villa had actually captured the place. The yarn that the Carranza troops have captured Chihuahua is false, of course. But Villa, or the armed force working in his still-dreaded name continues to maintain a reign of terror in Northern Mexico, and the withdrawal of Gen. Huerta's army does not seem to be thought of at present. It is reported from Atlantic City that the "friend" of the Mexican Commission, Mr. Curtis, has been "tabled," but there is no indication that those Commissioners are yet ready to discuss practically the means of restoring order in Mexico. It is quite plain that Carranza without American aid is unable to restore order. The situation has grown more serious in the de facto Government's protracted deliberations of the international commission were begun. There is no reason to doubt the truth of the reports from southern Mexico, that the Legation, under Felix Diaz, occupy both Santa Lucaria and Rincon Antonio, important points on the Tehuantepec Railway, and are therefore, practically in control of the important line of communication from Coahuila on the east to Salina Cruz on the west. The shops of the railway are at Brownsville, and have heard very little hitherto of the progress of the Diaz movement, but there is no further doubt, that it is in the hands of Carranza, in the south. That Felix Diaz has an understanding with the Villistas has been asserted, but proof is lacking. The only person who is working for the Diaz side for which Villa worked, Diaz is frankly a conservative Government. In spite of the seemingly belated situation of Carranza, his embassies at Atlantic City keep a bold front. Mr. Cabrera talks as if his overthrow had been firmly established. What he means by this is not clear. He is the United States against any European power, and the problems of international relationship to be solved, is not the Mexican support of the enemies of free Government in Mexico is greatly to be desired. We are all still hoping that Carranza may appear on the scene, and we are all glad to hear that he is now contending. But the outlook is ominous. The desire of the American people for the peace of Mexico is clearly shown in the result of the election. The essential part of President Wilson's policy has been approved. The peace which has been given is not only their customary majorities to the Democratic ticket, but also a change of less than 300 votes for the Democrats would have overcome the handicap imposed by the two-thirds majority requirement and have ordered the issuance of a bond issue for the States. 500 for, showed that Denton citizens are for good roads. In the town itself despite the fact that none of the money would have been spent in Denton, the vote was probably 8 to 1 for. Just what will be the next step is a matter of some doubt. There are proposals of a bond issue for Precinct No. 1, in which more than two-thirds majority was given. There are others who favor a special district out to include those communities showing by their votes favor for the project. But there are a great many who believe the best plan would be to order another election within the next forty days in the same territory with the inclusion of Justin if those folks can be induced to come in. Denton county in defeating the first proposal is only 130 votes. The number of other counties that later on have voted for good roads; in most of the agricultural counties it has taken from two to three elections to secure the necessary two-thirds majority, and the vote Wednesday showed there has been a very radical change in the vote from the last previous election that in the Denton precinct in 1909.—Denton Record Chronicle.

VOX POPULI

The people of the United States are not in a truculent temper. They are not ashamed of the role this nation has played in the world since the war. They do not believe the Allies have been "fighting our battles" while we sat snugly by and "aimed blood" at the enemy. They are, however, patient under the injuries that both parties to the war have visited upon this country, because they take into account the abnormal state of the belligerents—very much as a wise man makes allowance for a neighbor who acts as a wise man makes allowance for a neighbor who acts in the street of overcrowded emotions. They are, in their international relations, by far the most idealistic people in the world—a result, no doubt, of their having been "fighting our battles" while we sat snugly by and "aimed blood" at the enemy. MANY RUMORS HEARD

Various Reports in Circulation, Some Disproved Thursday Night By Crowd Which Gathers Around the City Hall

The hunt for the negro assailant of Miss Beulah LaFayette, nine miles east of this city, continues Thursday night and entered upon the third day without results. Many of those who first took part in the search have ceased their efforts and a large score of citizens were still hunting this afternoon.

The girl, whose condition was much improved, was taken to Henrietta this morning by Sheriff Hawkins in the latter's car to appear before the grand jury, which was convened here.

At Henrietta, both Miss LaFayette and her father went before the grand jury, but no action had been announced late Friday afternoon. When it became known that the sheriff had gone to Henrietta, the rumor spread rapidly that the negro had been captured and taken to Henrietta in automobile. They encountered the sheriff's car.

There was some disorder at the city hall Thursday night when a crowd gained some erroneous ideas regarding the old negro who was shot near Turkey Bend Thursday afternoon. The bloodhounds from Oklahoma finally reached the scene. An effort had been made to protect the negro's tracks, plainly discernible, by placing boards over them, but the dogs failed to pick up the trail, then nearly 48 hours old, and the hope that they would prove of value in locating the fugitive faded.

Countless rumors were in circulation last night and today. The fact that some of the county officers were in the city during the day, taking no part in the search, gave rise to reports that the negro had been caught and jailed in some adjoining county. The rumors put the negro in every jail from Quanah to Fort Worth. Officers denied all such reports and said that if the negro had been safely jailed in some other county, they would have no reason for keeping the fact secret.

One of the largest crowds spent part of the night in and around the city hall and during the night, the wildest and most impossible rumors were circulated through a section of this crowd, which gave rise to reports that the negro had been caught and jailed in some adjoining county. The rumors put the negro in every jail from Quanah to Fort Worth. Officers denied all such reports and said that if the negro had been safely jailed in some other county, they would have no reason for keeping the fact secret.

The crowd apparently thought that the old negro knew something which he was holding secret and that he had the old man in a state bordering on hysteria before they were driven away by the officers. The officers would have let the old man stay after he was brought in being satisfied he knew nothing and the tale of the other negro in his tugboat a myth, except for the fact that they regarded it as a rather hazardous undertaking for the old man to try to make his way back to his home in the dark.

The action of the officers in keeping the crowd from badgering the old negro gave rise to still wilder rumors, the one which caused the most fever with the more excited members of the party being that the negro who was wanted was up there, and that the officers were only keeping him off until the crowd scattered to take him out to the LaFayette farm for identification by the young victims of the assault. On the circulation of this rumor quite a number of armed men loaded themselves into cars and set out for a point about half way from town on the road to the LaFayette home with the design of capturing the negro when the officers would bring him by. When told of this move, one of the officers was only too glad to see his only hope was that they stayed there all night.

The officers several times in the night offered the crowd a deposit of two or three of the more cool headed men in the crowd to go up to the jail and make such an investigation as they might desire, but they positively refused to have the crowd trooping up to the jail at will. A party to rush the jail was formed when the story that the negro had been taken to the jail first gained circulation, but they were driven back by the officers and the above offer was repeated.

While this clearing up of the matter only a portion of the crowd at the city hall they were especially troublesome for the officers. On his return from his rounds, one of the officers casually remarked on seeing this crowd still there that they were still evidently expecting the negro to walk into the city hall. He later observed that if the negro should come to town and go to bumping around the streets that bunch would in his opinion surely get him.

A breakdown in the car prevented the arrival of the bloodhounds until about 5 o'clock this morning, when they were carried out to the LaFayette place, but refused to pick up the trail, then about two days old. The dogs are excellent specimens of their breed and a keen disappointment has been expressed that they could not have been secured sooner.

As Sheriff Hawkins has been put to considerable personal expense in the hunt above the considerable expense attached to the bringing of the dog here, and as the county does not reimburse him for expense in cases of this kind, movement to make up the expense incurred in securing the dogs has been started and a considerable amount subscribed by those assisting in the search.

Plans for securing the cooperation of adjoining counties in the purchase of bloodhounds, which would be kept in Wichita Falls ready for use by officers in Clay, Wilbarger, and Archer counties, were under way today and a meeting of representatives from the other counties was scheduled for this afternoon but failed to materialize. LITTLE COTTON IS BEING SOLD HERE

High Prices Apparently Have No Effect—Five Cent Decline in Wheat.

Although a bale of cotton, with middling spots at 19 1/2 cents and seed at $50 per ton, was worth $130 to $240 in local markets today, little cotton was sold, and the unprecedented prices are not bringing any great amount of the staple to the buyers. There was a five-cent decline in wheat prices. The new quotation is $1.72 per bushel.

Fort Worth Live Stock.

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 17.—Cattle receipts, 5200, strong, 25 to 50 cents higher. Steers $7 to $7.75. Hog receipts 2900, steady, five cents higher. Sheep receipts 1300; market steady and active.

New York Cotton.

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 17.—The cotton market showed renewed activity and excitement this morning. First prices were seven to 21 points higher, and the active months sold 23 to 28 points above last night's closing. January sold off to 20.45 and May to 20.82, or about 15 to 18 points from the early high level during the afternoon and back to within nine or ten points of last night's closing figures. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-4 higher. Cotton closed irregular. December 20.24, January, 20.32, March, 20.48, May, 20.61, July, 20.63.

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Bearish foreign advices had a depressing effect on the wheat market here today. Opening prices ranged from 3/8 to 1 1/2 down, with December at $1.84 1/4 to $1.84 1/2 and May at $1.89 3/8 to $1.90 1/2. The close was heavy, 2 to 3 net lower with December at $1.85 5/8 to $1.82 7/8, and May $1.93 1/8 to $1.88 3/8. Corn gave way with wheat, closing weak, at 1 1/8 to 1 3/4 net decline.

the highest class features of the season and Miss Spoons is supported by a notable cast headed by Frank Mills, the well known dramatic actor, who has been starred on other programs. Others in the cast include Robin Raymond, Edwin Holt, Raymond McKee, Harry Davenport, Jerome N. Wilson and Charles Eldridge. George D. Baker, one of the best directors in the world, is the director of this production. "The Wheel of Justice," the story of "The Wheel of Justice," is a powerful document of human life, written by Katherine Kavanaugh; it deals with the fallibility of circumstantial evidence and the danger of depending upon it solely in obtaining a conviction. Many phases of life are depicted in this feature. There is a touch of politics, the life behind the scenes of a Broadway star, together with her home life. A novelty in the introduction of a scene from "La Tosca." Another interesting feature is a scene laid in a chemical laboratory, showing the arsenic test for the purpose of detecting the presence of the drug in the body of a poison victim. Among the big scenes is the reproduction of the Criminal Court in New York, where the trial of Harry Thaw, Lieutenant Charles Becker and others of almost equal notoriety were conducted. Then there is an elaborate church setting, which is said to be one of the most realistic and pretentious ever staged in a studio.

"LIGHT THAT FAILED" AT MAJESTIC SATURDAY

Rudyard Kipling's immortal masterpiece, "The Light That Failed," on the screen, produced by Edward Jose with Robert Edison as the star. Think of it. The name of Rudyard Kipling is known everywhere. "The Light That Failed" is as famous as its author. It is the first Kipling work to be produced as a motion picture and it is a tribute of which the Pathe company is justly proud that Kipling, not only allowed his masterpiece to be filmed but actually wrote the subtitles for the production. This shows the interest he took in it and is a stamp of approval upon the work of the producer and the actors. Edward Jose, director of Pathe's famous "Iron Claw" serial who is famous for the way in which he casts his pictures produced "The Light That Failed" to show at the Majestic Saturday. Robert Edison, the celebrated star of stage and screen, is chosen to play the part of Dick Helder, the hero. His work in the scene in which he realizes that the light has failed—that he is blind—the mad Englishman, is one of the best pieces of acting ever seen on the screen. In the supporting cast appear such well known players as Claude Fleming, Jose Collins, and Harry Tucker. Miss Collins as the jealous model, who in a fit of rage at her unrequited love, ruins his painting which he has just managed to finish before going blind, is remarkable, and the acting throughout is of the highest order. Some of the many remarkable scenes of the picture show a long line of camels outlined against the desert sky. Hundreds of "extras" British soldiers, tribesmen, etc., were used. These extras, who are Dick's luxurious studio lend atmosphere to the powerful story. It will hold the attention from the beginning to the end, when, cured with his blindness and with a deep ache in his heart, Dick Helder again hears the call of the East. Torpenhow follows the trail of the mad Englishman, who is called among the natives, for hundreds of miles across the desert and reaches him at a horde of Derwishes is about to take him in the arms. Dick is mortally wounded. Clenched in his hand Torpenhow finds the verse of his childhood dream of happiness with Marie: "And we shall be so happy 'That if either's lips were dumb 'They wouldn't smile 'Till the other's lips had come."

THE GEM

The third installment of "Fog of the Ring" is showing today at the Gem. This picture is only serving to increase the great popularity of Francis Ford and Grace Cunard, and each installment grows in interest. Picturing as it does circus life, each succeeding reel has something more of life under the big canvas to show to the delight of both children and their elders. On the regular program is "The Wrath of Cactus Moore," a three-part Gold Seal. "The Wrath of Cactus Moore" was written and produced by William V. Wong, and is a Mong production all the way through. Mong is one of the hardest working of all directors on the staff of the Big-U Company at Universal City, and he always writes as well as directs his productions, and as a rule takes the leading parts in them. Perhaps this does not mean anything to a person who has never watched the production of a film; but those who know anything at all about the work must appreciate the herculean task of the task. Mong in this play takes the part of a "hip-roarin', hell-raisin' buck of the plains who never outgrows the wildness of his youth. He cannot forgive an insult that he suffered years before, but at last is tamed by the affection of his enemy's daughter. A picture that radiates the verve and vim of the West.

AT THE THEATRES

The Majestic Today's feature at the Majestic is "Home" a Triangle with Bessie Barriscale and Charles Ray. Miss Barriscale is seen as Bessie Wheaton, the girl who is confronted with the difficult task, and her performance is said to mark another step in her remarkable advancement toward versatility as a screen star. In the part of Bob Wheaton, whom the unhappy girl finds to be a fool, Ray is declared to prove that he is as happily cast in light comedy as he is in heavy drama. His ready appreciation of every opportunity is manifest, it is said, in each scene. Supporting the two stars are six of the most accomplished players of the Triangle force. They are Clara Williams, George Fisher, Agnes Herring, Thomas S. Guise, Louise Glum and J. J. Dowling. The production was directed by Raymond B. West and photographed by G. Herriot, with art direction by Robert Brunton.

The Empress Emily Stevens, America's foremost emotional actress, who has been starred for two seasons in "The Unchastened Woman," one of the most successful recent plays on Broadway, will be seen on the screen here in "The Wheel of Justice," a sensational five-part Metro wonderplay, at the Empress theatre today. PLAN STORM SEWER ON EIGHTH STREET

City Council Prepares For Paving There—Other Matters Receive Attention

Preparatory to proceeding immediately with the paving of Eighth street the council last night authorized Mayor Britain to enter into a contract for the storm sewers necessary to care for the flood waters on that street after it is paved. The sewer will run on Eighth from Scott to Lamar, running under the north side of the street. Then crossing Lamar it will run on the south side of Eighth from Lamar to Travis. Connection with the present system of storm sewers will be made at Scott. Mayor Britain and Alderman Richolt formally reported the entering into a contract for the storm sewers recently authorized to care for the streets of Ohio and Indiana avenues, which report was formally adopted. Ralph Hibbs will do the brick work at a cost of approximately $20,000.

Contracts from property owners whose holdings adjoin the paving on the farther end of Ninth which authorized some time ago were submitted to the council last night, every property owner having signed a contract. This paving will start at the intersection of Kemp Boulevard and Ninth street, will continue down Ninth in the direction of town to Taylor street, thence via Taylor to Tenth street. Although all property owners whose holdings adjoin this paving had signed contracts for same, no action was taken in the matter by the council as it was desired to get the proposed paving on Eighth and on Ohio out of the way before proceeding with any further projects. Mayor Britain also reported that the $40,000 street improvement bonds had been delivered to the International Trust Company at Denver, and a draft drawn on that concern for the principal, accrued interest and $644 premium.

Victims from the recent bond election were canvassed, the official count being 378 votes for the $15,000 park bonds and 28 against, out of a total of 378 ballots cast.

Permission to use parts of the streets and allies adjoining the garage building being erected for Kemp and Kent at Sixth and Indiana was given to Naylor & Hammack, contractors.

Prior to the meeting being called to order the council heard from two ladies in regard to a complaint about the arrest of a negro cook by police officers at a servant's house in the rear of a Floral Heights residence.

It appears from the explanation of the officers that searching party engaged in rounding up the servant houses of the city in an effort to find negroes wanted for the assault up the river Wednesday had been denied admittance into the house by the negro woman. Returning to the city hall the party reported and asked for instructions. The instructions given were to by all means go through the house, and if the negro woman's demeanor was anything like suspicious to arrest her and bring her to the station, which was done. Here the woman not only gave unsatisfactory answers to questions addressed to her but was rather impudent which led to her being locked up for a while. No action was taken on the matter by the council.

The regular bills were allowed and warrants drawn for them. Dr. Reed was asked to get prices on the iron lamp posts which supported the gas lights formerly used for lighting the streets with a view of possibly realizing something from their sale.

Alderman Lea was absent from the meeting last night, being in Fort Worth on jury duty in the federal district court.

Mayor Britain and Aldermen Richolt, Reed Gardner and Bradley were present at last night's meeting. Horace Nutt, city attorney, Y. T. Coates, city clerk, A. C. Humphris, city marshal and L. C. Hinkleley, city engineer were in attendance.

Local Mann Act Officer Goes to Spur Following Their Arrest at That Place

Spear, Texas is the latest place where the "Forty Niners" who figured rather prominently in local court circles during a recent carnival show's stay in this city, have suffered arrest. S. Heyser, special white slave agent has gone in spur in pursuance of orders from the department of justice for the purpose of examining the evidence against those in custody in order to determine whether there is sufficient evidence against them to obtain a conviction under the Mann act.

Four former members of the band were taken into custody here a day or two ago under Mr. Heyser's orders and are being held for investigation, but it is not likely that white slave complaints will be filed against them on account of the inability of the officers to obtain sufficient evidence for a conviction against them. That they had been arrested at least five times since their leaving here was the statement of one of the parties to Mr. Heyser. The life was getting too fast for them, they stated, and when arrested here they were making their getaway from the show. It is hoped by the federal authorities that the constant arrest of the troupe will either break it up, or that if they continue to run it is expected that the necessary evidence will be forthcoming sooner or later. The federal officers, who had had their eyes on the activities of this troupe long previous to their appearance in this city, have not relaxed their vigilance for an instant in the hope of soon getting them where they wanted them.

ADVANCES IN OIL PRICES EXPECTED IN SOUTH TEXAS

(Houston Post) Is crude oil in the gulf coast fields due to increase in price when new long term contracts are made about January 1st? Independent oil producers assert that a rise is due and many of them will contract their oil unless a better price is obtained than is now warranted.

In fact, an increase over the contract price of last January, $1 per barrel, is expected, also some producers will "wait tight" and refuse to contract their oil. One man said Wednesday that he believed that new contracts this coming January will place oil at $1.25 a barrel, and several other producers declared that crude oil is due for an advance within the next 45 to 60 days.

Among the causes assigned for the anticipated rise were falling off of production in the gulf coast fields, increased cost of drilling and operating wells, and the cost of all oil supplies.

Recent quotations on oil show an advance in some other fields, and Houston producers declare that Humble, Sour Lake and Goose Creek oil is as valuable to the refineries as the oil which had advanced. Oil from the three named fields is well worth $3 per barrel for refinery use, one man said, and added that $3 is a very conservative estimate. Prices now current on Humble oil fix the selling. The price now current on Humble oil is 65 cents, with Goose Creek and Sour Lake oil about the same.

"The cost of supplies has advanced more than 40 per cent within the last few years," one producer asserted. "Pipe costs more and the cost is higher all down the line. You can safely estimate that it costs about 40 per cent more to drill a well than it did a short while back."

Still another operator declared that he expected a climb in prices and that without serious objection on the part of the people buying the oil. "We all know that the cost of production has increased and that if there is any development the price should be stimulated," he said.

Many producing companies will have contract expiring about the first of the year, while still others will have no more new contracts to make than any other time. One company is selling much of its oil on short term prices and is disposing of considerable oil at 65 cents per barrel, an official of the company said. Oil was optimistic regarding a rise.

Should there be a sharp rise in the price of crude oil it is believed that development of oil property will be undertaken on a larger scale than it will if the prices keep their present level.

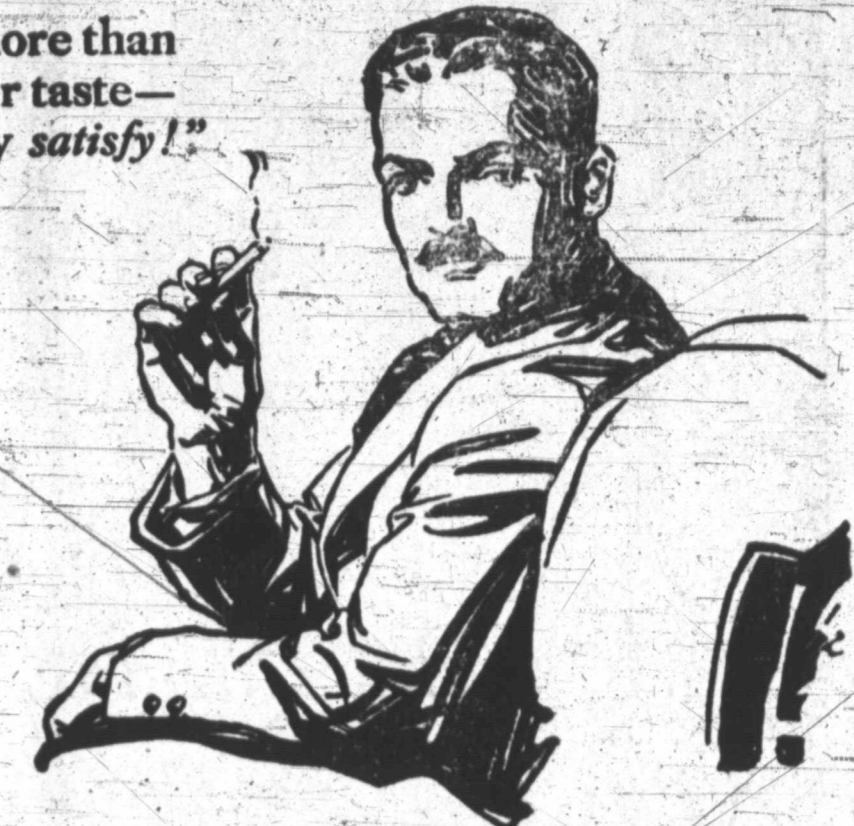

GOOD PORCH-CLIMBER WANTS TO JOIN MARINES

Special to The Times. New York, Nov. 17.—Because he is a good porch-climber, rifle-shooter, and has other marked accomplishments, Amandus Kessler wants to get out of jail at Easton, Pa., and become a fighter for Uncle Sam in the ranks of the United States Marine Corps, according to an appealing letter addressed to the Marine Recruiting Station in this city. Amandus wrote several pages in his patriotic outburst, and promised to use his influence to awaken his fellow-prisoners to the call of the flag, if the Marines would only come and get him out.

Although the young man claims to be a good "healthy feller," his morals are not in the same flourishing condition, so Amandus and his pals must languish in prison while the Marine Corps remains heartless but unconquered.

LONDON WOMEN FIRE FIGHTERS IN THEIR BUNKERS AND AT WORK.

enars, milkers and cowgirls. Women are in the postal service. They are street cleaners, window cleaners and lamp lighters. They are book clerks, coach cleaners, porters and ticket collectors in the railway service and are tramway conductors, drivers and taxicab drivers. Some muscular dames are blacksmiths in forging and welding shops. In the theaters they are scene shifters, limelight and cinema operators. In Scotland the women have even a wider range of employment. They are coal heaver in Edinburgh, and fish girls gather in the harvest of sprats and herrings.

In various parts of the United Kingdom there are women scavengers, butchers, bell-ringers, stable boys, sweeps, locksmiths, signers, "baker boys" and rope spinners, while thousands are now occupied in shell-making and mechanical employments. The filling of the places of firemen called to pictures show some of the women fire-fighters. In agricultural pursuits women in their bunks and also handling England now there are farmers, gardeners and the fire hose.

MAKING IT EASY FOR FATHER!

A RIOT OF LUXURY FOR THE WOMAN WHO BUYS A WEEK OF JOY FOR THE MAN WHO EARNS

Because we anticipated just such conditions in the mercantile market as have come to pass, and because we possess the facilities necessary to enable us to pick up bargains when they are offered, and to always buy on the lowest market, we are able to give our customers the advantage of many low prices—real bargains, if you please. We bought cotton goods when cotton was selling at 12 cents, we bought shoes when leather was very much lower than today, and we placed orders for clothing and all-wool goods when we were able to buy away below the present market. That's why we are able to "make it easy for father."

Sale Begins Saturday November 18th
Continues Eight Days

This is one of the occasions when our customers will profit big by our early buying. While there will be no big hurrah of cutting and slashing, and some goods will not be reduced at all. Still in every department there will be bargains that will appeal to economical buyers, and many of the most staple goods, as well as the newest and latest styles in ready-to-wear, will be offered at lower prices than we could put them back in stock for today. And no old stuff will be offered—the goods are all new and of standard make, just such as we shall continue to handle as long as we are in business. We are building, not for today, but for all time, and our object is simply to make new friends for the store by giving them the best bargains to be had.

GIVES ANALYSIS OF WILSON VOTE

WOMEN AND PROGRESSIVES PLAYED IMPORTANT PART, SAYS NEW YORK TIMES

"KEPT OUT OF WAR"

Neither Labor Nor "Hyphen" Vote Figured Extensively, Branch of 1912 Is Not Healed

Woodrow Wilson's victory on November 7 was brought about by the votes of the women and of the progressives who refused to follow their leaders back into the republican camp, according to an analysis of the situation which was published in the New York Times of last Sunday.

The women voters played a tremendously important part, according to the New York Times, and the "gold-en special" as the special train used by the republicans in their vote hunting tour of the west was called, not only did not make votes for Hughes, but made votes for Wilson. In Illinois, the women voted as their husbands did. In the rest of the suffrage states, they did not, to a great extent.

The breach in the republican party, made by Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, was not healed in 1916; this fact is clearly established, the New York Times shows.

The "Women's party" whose declaration in favor of Hughes was counted upon too strongly in the republican camp, entirely failed to deliver.

The states which went for Wilson have a total population of 45,737,643 in 1910 while those whose electoral votes go to Hughes had a population of 45,901,729. Wilson ran far ahead of the state democratic tickets in clearly all states, according to the New York Times.

Neither the so-called "hyphen" vote for the labor vote figured extensively in the result. It is estimated that the Times says in part:

"Two classes of voters, and two only, accomplished the result. They were not the German-Americans, the labor vote, or any of the groups standing for special interests. They were the progressives and the women voters."

The split made in the republican party in 1912, which became a break in 1916, was not mended at Chicago. The dispatches now in the hands of the progressives indicate the possibility of its being mended until the cause for it is taken away.

From the Hudson river to the Mississippi, the bolters of 1912 were largely satisfied with Hughes, but to the East and West of those boundaries, especially to the West, they were not. And it was the bolters who made the difference.

In New York and Illinois the breach was apparently healed; there is no sign of anything to the contrary in the records of the states that generally follow the leadership of these two. That, however, was as far as Col. Roosevelt went in making his own thing, and the progressives of Kansas, Washington, California and the other Western states have again defeated a republican candidate.

The progressives of Kansas, Washington, California and the other Western states have again defeated a republican candidate. The woman vote, and the progressive vote telescope each other, for in the critical states the women who turned the election were largely progressives. But the women voted as women, too. The reports from the states where women vote show that the dream of solidifying women as a sex and swinging her vote this way and that at the order of female political leaders is shattered forever.

But the women did make up their minds in 1910 while those whose electoral votes go to Hughes had a population of 45,901,729. Wilson ran far ahead of the state democratic tickets in

The women's party terrorized the two conventions and frightened them with the prospect of "four million votes" which it held over head as a club. Mr. Hughes was led to believe that it had the vote, and made his celebrated declaration for the Abolition of the Federal Reserve Bank. The men's party tried to make its threats good and marshal the Western vote for Hughes, but the dispatches received by the Times showed that it failed utterly.

It did have an influence, but the wrong kind. These dispatches are unanimous in declaring women as a sex and swinging her vote this way and that at the order of female political leaders is shattered forever. the same lines as the men and voted about the same.

"The result," says the Times-Chicago correspondent, "was to swell the vote of the state without changing the result, except in sporadic cases, where purely local affairs were at stake."

The republicans in Illinois appealed to the women in opposition to the slogan, "he kept us out of war" by bringing in women's personal experiences in Mexico and in Europe and to tell of their vain appeals for protection under the American flag. If "he kept us out of war" had any effect on the Illinois women, this move offset it.

In many of the downstate counties the election officials did not separate the vote of the men and women. Where the distinction was made the downstate totals were: Wilson men, 223,527; women, 142,679; Hughes men, 275,947; women, 187,808. The polling of 43,367 on the men's vote, and 43,328 on the women's vote, "kept us out of war" seems to have had no influence on the women of Illinois, but on the other hand they did not rise to the argument of the republicans, who wanted them to make suffrage the sole issue; there is too little difference between their vote and the men's for any such thing to have happened.

In Montana, as in Illinois the women appeared to be actuated by the same wishes and motives as the men.

Wyoming is the oldest woman suffrage state in the union. But it is no more a novelty there than it is among men in New York, and it was impossible to interest Wyoming women in the disfranchisement of women on the Atlantic coast. Their votes are usually pretty evenly divided between republican and democratic candidates.

Unlike these states, California furnishes evidence of a decided "woman vote" and to them, therefore, is due President Wilson's election, for they voted for him. It is estimated that about 400,000 women went to polls in San Francisco the ratio of women to men in the registration was about 71 to 119; in Los Angeles it was a larger registration of women than of men.

The national women's party whose support Mr. Hughes got by its declaration in favor of the Anthony amendment, made a hard campaign to array the woman vote of California for him, but it was a failure. It supported the democratic women of California to make an equally hard counter-campaign, and the women voted on other issues than that of woman suffrage.

The women's party leaders, of course, refuse to admit that their campaign was a failure and assert that the majority in California would have been much larger but for their efforts, and that they saved Oregon for Hughes. The California manager of the national party asserts that the party forced the democracy to the defensive on suffrage.

"Never again," said she, "will suffrage fail to be an issue in a national political campaign."

The democratic women in that state however hold that the woman's party is routed, because it failed to convince the women voters that suffrage was the paramount issue, and that the president should be rebuked for failing to endorse the federal amendment.

Women seem to have played in Kansas somewhat the same role they played in California.

"They said," says the Times-Texas correspondent, "that Hughes with Roosevelt urging him, would engulf the country in war with Mexico, and possibly with Germany. No amount of argument could shake Kansas women from this belief."

Another powerful argument in favor of the Kansas women toward Wilson was a thing that was intended to have quite the opposite effect. This was the special train of women boosters for Hughes which went out from New York.

"The wives of Kansas farmers," says the correspondent, "resented what they considered an attempt to tell the Kansas women how to vote."

The same sentiment is reported from Oregon, despite the fact that Hughes carried it off with a landslide in that state. The republican train seems to have kept down his vote there.

In the monster parade in Portland on Friday night to celebrate Wilson's victory, the women carrying banners, with such legends as "Four more years of Wilson will prosper," and some of the banners bore the words, "The Golden Special—It Helped."

The women's party had made a vigorous campaign in Oregon. "He kept us out of war" however, was the argument that influenced them, not the words of their suffrage leaders in the East or the necessity of punishing an un-enthusiastic candidate who would not enfranchise them.

"Even married women without children, as regards the Times Post-Land correspondent, were for Wilson because of the 'kept us out of war' slogan and were divided against their husbands in many households. The republican train seems to have kept down his vote there."

MEXICO IS TRYING TO ESTABLISH GOLD BASIS

Mexico City, Nov. 17.—Sometime past, owing to unsatisfactory economic conditions due to the depreciated value of the Constitutional fiat currency efforts have been made to place Mexico on a gold basis. Various decrees placing a gold basis and payment of salaries in silver or gold have been enforced.

The latest effort toward this proposed economic betterment provides that all public fees are hereafter payable in national gold.

Government employees who have been faithful in the Constitutional service, during the past week, have received bonuses amounting in some instances to their full salaries, these bonuses taking the form of gifts of silver and gold monies.

RAILROADS OPEN FIGHT, UPON 8-HOUR MEASURE

Pennsylvania, New York Central and Other Lines Take Action To Invalidate Law

By Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 15.—The New York Central Railroad today filed suit in the Federal District Court to test the constitutionality of the Adamson eight-hour law. The road's principal contention is, according to Albert H. Harris, general counsel, that the Adamson law is "in no sense a regulation of commerce, but a temporary and arbitrary increase in wages for the brotherhood men."

Announcement that the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad would also file suit to test the constitutionality of the Adamson law was made today by Howard Elliott, the road's president.

Pennsylvania Road Seeks Injunction.

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 15.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company today filed in the Federal District Court here a bill in equity, asking for an injunction against the three United States district attorneys in Pennsylvania, forbidding them from bringing prosecution against the railroad company under the Adamson eight-hour law. The court is asked to declare the eight-hour law unconstitutional and void.

GOVERNMENT TO PARTICIPATE IN DEFENSE OF LAW

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Attorney General Gregory has decided that suits by railroads against enforcement of the Adamson eight-hour law will be defended by the department of justice. The defense to be presented in each case will be worked out between Solicitor General Davis and other officials with United States attorneys in various jurisdictions.

The department today was unable to determine whether it would be necessary to defend each of the many suits announced to begin with, or whether they would be contented to make a test suit of one case. No word has reached the attorney general from the railroads suggesting such a course, and if such a proposal is not made each suit will be defended separately.

Reports that railroad brotherhood officials had considered a suggestion that Mr. Gregory be asked to suspend operations of the Adamson law for 30 days were met with the statement that the attorney general had no such authority and his only course is to defend the suit or let them go by default.

M'ADOO OPENS HEARING TODAY AT FORT WORTH

By Associated Press.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 15.—Train prevented the federal farm loan board beginning its Fort Worth hearing on time this morning, the party arriving from Dallas and Little Rock fifteen minutes late. The sessions were held with William G. McAdoo presiding. Fort Worth, Waco and Dallas presented their claims. A short recess was presented at noon to allow the visitors to attend a luncheon.

MCADOO AND PARTY AT DALLAS THIS MORNING

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 15.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, and members of the farm board, in Texas to gather data to enable them to determine which city is best adapted to the location of one of the proposed farm loan banks, left Dallas for Fort Worth at nine o'clock this morning, after being tendered a reception here by the Chamber of Commerce and Manufacturers association.

At a breakfast at a local hotel Mr. McAdoo made an address in which he spoke of the advantages of the proposed farm loan banks and also referred to the "great democratic victory" in the recent election. The official party spent about two hours in Dallas.

Soldiers who returned to New York City too late to register were given permission to vote, nevertheless. They had to appear in their armories in uniform and be identified by their officers. The photograph above shows a member of the First New York field artillery casting his ballot. The fact that Mr. Hughes, who voted in a small laundry at 716 Eighth avenue, New York, cast ballot No. 12, was remarked upon by man, President Wilson motored to his polling place at Princeton, N. J., from the summer White House, Shadow Lawn. He cast ballot No. 50 at an fire engine house.

LIEJOIS CASE IS AFFIRMED TODAY; CHARTER UPHELD

By Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 15.—The court of criminal appeals today affirmed the case of J. B. Legois from Wichita county, appellant having been given one year in the penitentiary on conviction of selling intoxicating liquor in the city limits of Wichita Falls outside the territory in which saloons are licensed by charter to sell liquor.

CHARTER IS SUSTAINED; OTHERS MAY BE AFFECTED

The action of the court of criminal appeals in affirming the conviction in the Legois case, is the first instance of any of the city's charter provisions going to the higher courts. The fact that the charter provision was upheld may mean action against other cities who have, it is alleged, been making liquor sales outside of the prescribed limits. The city charter forbids saloons outside of the business district, Tenth street being the line.

CONTEST IN TEXAS REPORTED PLANNED

Republicans Said to Be Considering Move to Throw Out Electoral Vote.

Special to The Times.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 15.—Possibility of a contest to throw out the 20 democratic electoral votes of Texas was intimated here today in the holding of a meeting of republican leaders in the state had such a movement in view. The legality of the election has been questioned and a conference will probably be held to investigate the matter. Referring to a telegram he received from a prominent upstate lawyer, H. P. MacGregor, republican national committeeman from this state, said Monday that the above step was suggested to him. He called attention to the fact that while the state laws provided that electors be named in the democratic primaries, the law was held unconstitutional, leaving the party without any statutory method of designating electors. They were then named by the state convention. As the republicans failed to poll the required 50,000 votes in the last previous election, they had authority to name electors by convention.

NEW BRITISH GAINS

Both Roumanians and Germans Win Successes in Fighting in Transylvania

The Associated Press summarizes European war operations as follows: With a battle between the British and Germans still raging around Amire brook the Germans have struck the French line a hard blow at the other extremity of the Somme front attacking early today between Albaincourt and the Chânes wood, southwest of the river.

Paris declares that this attack which was preceded by the assistance of liquid fro resulted in a gain of ground only east of Proseville, half way between Chaulnes and Albaincourt. Here the Germans reached a group of ruined dwellings.

The latest news from the British offensive in the Amire region reported General Hale's troops pressing on beyond the village of Beaucourt sur Amire, the ground about which has been well consolidated. The taking of more than 5,000 German prisoners has been officially announced.

North of the Somme Paris announces progress on the French in the St. Pierre Vaast wood region, where possession of the dominating ground of Sully Sallisel is facilitating their operations.

Successes for both the Roumanians and Teutonic forces in the bitter struggle in progress along the Roumanian Transylvanian border are reported today.

Progress for General Von Falkenhayn's armies in their invasion of Wallachia from the northern mountain passes is announced by Berlin and admitted in part by Petrograd and Bucharest. Austro-German columns have been reinforced by fresh troops. Their advance has been most notable in the Jul and All Valley.

On the Moldavian frontier the successes are on the side of the Roumanians who claim to be pursuing their Teutonic foe beyond the Transylvanian frontier.

A Roumanian advance on the Dobruja front has been reported also. Petrograd reports a Russian success along the Narayvka river in Galicia where the Germans have been driven out of trenches they captured in the recent fighting near the village of Liecholna.

Berlin admits a retirement of the German and Russian forces on the German river on the alcedonia front southeast of Monastir, owing to pressure on their flanks, but declares attack on the Monastir plain have been repulsed.

DAUGHTER DEAD, RELATIVES HELD

FATHER, MOTHER AND SISTER OF GIRL IN CUSTODY IN ILLINOIS

FIND BODY IN RIVER

Neighbors Had Understood That Missing Girl Had Gone To Visit
In Florida

By Associated Press.
Pontiac, Ill., Nov. 15.—Interest was manifested here today in the holding of the grand jury of Jacob Diemer, his wife and daughter, in connection with the death of another daughter, Christine.

The Diemer family is wealthy and prominent. Christine disappeared October 27. It was understood by neighbors that she was visiting in Florida where she spent last winter. On November 8, however, Mrs. Frank Haines, rowing a boat across the Vermilion river, came upon the girl's body floating. An autopsy disclosed a fractured skull and but little water in the lungs, indicating, it was said, death from outward violence.

At the inquest yesterday members of the family testified that Christine was last seen alive by them October 27. Christine, they said, told her father good night and retired.

WOMAN IS OUTRAGED BY NEGRO

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN THICKET
AFTER BEING TAKEN FROM HER HOME SECOND TIME. OFFICERS
SEARCHING

IN CLAY COUNTY

First Attacked Near Home Late Tuesday and is Missing Again Today Being Located After Search This Afternoon

Bound to a tree stump in an outlet of the way thicket, unconscious from the effects of an assault by a negro man, a white woman, her identity just across the Wichita county line in the direction of Charley, was found by officers early this afternoon.

Wichita and Clay county officers were engaged in search for the assailant this afternoon. The woman was a tenant on the farm of C. C.
Bunnenberg just over the line into Clay county.

She was seized while alone early in the night last night, blindfolded, gagged and dragged into a thicket where she was overpowered by her assailant.
Her clothes were torn off her body in the ineffective struggle she put up to save herself from further assault.

When Sheriff Hawkins and officers from Clay county arrived on the scene after being notified of the crime the woman could not tell who her assailant was.

After putting in all night last night searching the vicinity of the place for traces of the woman's assailant the officers returned to their homes for a little sleep.

At an early hour this morning they were notified that someone had returned to the woman's house and carried her away.

Search was instituted at once, but the woman was not found until early this afternoon.

She was then still unconscious from the effect of her treatment, but upon being revived she identified a negro man who had been hanging around in the vicinity for some time as the author of her brutal treatment. Officers are now searching for him.

BRITISH THINK NEW OFFENSIVE OF IMPORTANCE

(Copyright 1916 by Associated Press)
With the British Army in France, the British government over America's advance along both sides of the Amire which continued yesterday with the capture of the village of Beaucourt is considered by the British commanders as one of the most important successes in the four months of the offensive. They insist especially on the relative insignificant character of the German resistance in a position which they consider of great strategic importance and one of the most highly fortified on the entire western front.

More than 5,000 prisoners have been collected in the extensive subterranean galleries and chambers which were sunk on both sides of the valley and which were miles in extent.

British successes south of the Amire were increased owing to the fact that Germans in this sector were on the point of being relieved by fresh troops when the attack was launched. Twice the normal strength of its garrison was trapped.

WORK OF IRISH TROOPS IN BRITISH ARMY IS NOTABLE IN MANY WAYS

Associated Press Mail Correspondence. London.—The following letter, circulated by authority of the War Office, contains an interesting review of the work of the Sixteenth (Irish) Division. The letter, which was written by a major of the Sixteenth Division, addressed to the editors of the London newspapers, is quoted in part as follows: "The 16th Division established two years ago in response to the appeal of the Irish Nationalist Leaders has well justified its existence and has a record of service which Irishmen are proud of. Composed of battalions of well known Irish regiments, the division left for France in December 1915 under command of Major-General Hickie.

PROPOSED GOOD ROAD SYSTEM FOR WICHITA COUNTY AS OUTLINED BY FEDERAL EXPERT

The above map shows the county road system outlined by George D. Marshall, government road expert who was here last week. It reaches every important point in the county and makes connection with roads to important points in adjoining counties. The total mileage is as follows: Henrietta road from Clay county line to Wichita Falls, three miles. Petrolia road from Clay county line to Wichita Falls, three miles. Archer City road from Archer county line to Wichita Falls, four miles. Seymour road from Archer county line to Wichita Falls, three miles. Marshall road from Archer county line to Wichita Falls, three miles. Charles Thornberry road from Clay county line to Electra, 16 miles. This estimate includes all bridges save those across the river, which are already built or provided for. As planned, the system does not include the road from Wichita Falls to Lake Wichita, though a change might be made in the routing of the Archer City road so that it would include the lake road.

Wilson's After Election Smile

Whether history will hold Mr. Wilson to have been one of our greatest presidents only posterity may know. Americans took no less interest in the events of his administration to give an impartial opinion. It is safe to say, however, that among his important works as statesman are: first, his conquest of the New Jersey bosses when governor of that state; second, the present law; third, the president's passage of the Federal Reserve Act; and, fourth, the diplomatic negotiations growing out of the European war.

GERMANY TO NEED AMERICAN MACHINES

This Country Expected to Sell Much Equipment There After War Ends

By Associated Press. New York, Nov. 14.—Interesting notes on several phases of German industry are contained in reports from the American Association of Commerce and Trade which have just reached here from Berlin.

The German machine industry, it is reported, is now in the process of a general readjustment, back to the production of implements of peace time as well as war. The fact that for two years many of the machine-producing factories have been concentrating on themselves from stagnation, has saved the supply of machines for all other purposes to decrease. "And," the report continues, "since competition of normal times has practically ceased, the demand for machines for peace production has steadily increased."

This is the case, for instance, with agricultural implements, manufacturers not being able at the present time to satisfy the demand, and works furnishing equipment and supplies to spinning, steel and iron mills, are expected to full capacity and to be equal to the task of filling orders.

The result, therefore, is a period of restoration and renovation of such overworked machinery as has now set in and which is limited only by the long deliveries required. It will be a tremendous undertaking after the first year's production of machine equipment of German factories, a work that will require several years to accomplish.

Statistics of German steel production month by month are showing substantial increases over 1915. The coal and coke situation, the output and the iron industry are all favorably reviewed. The hop crop for 1916 is shown to be way below that of the previous year, there having been a considerable decrease in the cultivated area.

The number of transient visitors in Berlin during the month of August was shown by the hotel registers to have reached a total of 110,452, which was a considerable increase over previous months. It is interesting to note that of this total number, 3,100 were foreigners, including 163 Americans. From hostile countries were recorded one each from France and Italy, two from England and from Russia.

The annual fair in Leipzig is reported by the American Association as having had very satisfactory results. Showing a considerable increase in demand for high quality goods of all sorts. "Experienced exhibitors," says the report, "explain this by the fact that a large part of the people are now earning much more than before the war."

The glass and ceramic industries reported good turnover, as did the entire metal goods industry. The latter having learned to adapt itself to altered conditions, and many substitutes were in evidence for copper and brass. Large orders were received by paper goods manufacturers, and novelties for the Easter holidays were sold in record time. Discussing the food-stuff branches, the report says that the demand for these commodities has increased with the results obtained, and the need for conservation is a permanent feature of the Leipzig fair.

The text of an appeal to the people to subscribe to the fifth German war loan is quoted in the Association's report as follows: "Notwithstanding recent political events, the Reichsbank once more is calling the roll for a war loan. The financial leaders of the Empire confidently hope that the performance of duty in this respect will not need an appeal to patriotism, but that it will take part in the achievement of an honorable peace, at all times alive."

The very increased number of our enemies forms an incentive to our efforts spurring on to unsurpassed achievements. "Our finances do not shake under the vast amounts which so far have been subscribed for, which will experience a further strengthening by the additional millions to be placed at the disposal of the Empire."

WILL ASK ENGLAND FOR PROHIBITION LAW

Petition to Be Presented Shortly Urging Government to Stop Sale of Liquor.

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 14.—A petition is shortly to be presented to the British Government by the "Strength of the Movement" asking that the British government follow the lead of the greatest of the Allies to prohibit the sale of alcohol. This remarkable appeal has already been signed by one thousand representatives of the brain power of the nation, including leading officers in the army and navy, prominent publicists, literary, art and music, finance and industry, university and college professors, members of the public and secondary schools, prominent scientists and social men.

The memorial claims that "two great evils stand before the world, the first holding back the power of victors and throwing a shadow over the vision of peace. One is the waste, the other is the impeding of infant life. Among all the factors of weakness these confront us with terrible vividness, and they are the result of our control, with the weakening power of alcohol removed, our national effort against the enemy would gather increased strength and our own resources would be more rapidly supplied our losses in six campaigns would have been substantially reduced." The following are some of the points concerning the effect of alcohol:

"It hinders the army, delays munitions, keeps thousands of men from work daily, makes good workmen inefficient, slows down repairs and congests docks."

"It threatens the mercantile marine, absorbing during the war between 50 and 70 million cubic feet of space, and retards building of ships."

"It destroys food supplies; in twenty months of war it consumes over two and a half million tons of food, with sugar enough to last the nation eighty days, and uses up more sugar than the army."

"It weakens our financial strength; in the first twenty months of the war our people spent on alcohol three hundred million sterling."

"It cripples our national strength; it uses 5,000,000 workers, one million acres of land and one and a half million tons of coal yearly; during the war it has absorbed 100,000 tons of iron and building on road and rail a weight equal to fifty million tons."

"It weakens our moral strength; it temptations to commit crimes and danger to children and anxiety to thousands of soldiers."

"The appeal goes on to say that during the war the British government appointed the Board of Control for the liquor traffic, which, though successful socially, has had little effect in the army and the men in the trenches are betrayed by an enemy at home."

"Russia and her prohibition is made much of in the memorial which concludes: "We are no temperance reformers as such. We stand for the great desire of all good people to strike the death blow to freedom of alcohol, which Britain is capable. We support the demand for prohibition made to the government by its own investigators, with not a teetotaler among them, in March, 1915. Believing in the prime necessity of freedom of alcohol, we are at stake, and that risk and peril alike should bear it. We ask the government to take the lead in this respect, and to the Kingdom for the period of the war."

"We believe a golden moment has opened for our country, that, preceded by the example of the King and Lord Kitchener, the nation is ready for the natural step that France and Russia have already taken. The prohibition of alcohol during the war, the conversion of the public houses into houses of refreshment, will lighten our civil and military burdens, will raise a new fire of resolution in our people, and will give to millions of the best opportunity they have ever had of breaking the habit of drunkenness and forming new habits of strength."

OPPORTUNITIES FOR BUSINESS IN ITALY

Chance Seen For Americans To Build Up Heavy Trade There After War

Associated Press Staff Correspondent. Rome, Italy.—James Francis Case, a credit expert representing the American International Corporation in Italy and Spain, has just completed his first inspection of business possibilities in Italy. One general conclusion he has drawn is that American firms should do all possible to lower the present high rates of exchange with the conclusion of the war.

Said Mr. Case to a correspondent of the Associated Press: "It has been said that Italy does not possess in Europe will suffer after the war from the high value of the dollar, as compared to other money, forcing these nations to pay for their goods without what they need, for instance, let us consider a pair of American shoes worth four dollars exchanged for the Italian lire. One dollar were worth just over twenty lire, whereas now these four dollars are worth 125 lire. This means that the American goods are worth 31 times as much in Italy, or in Russia, and even more in Austria or Germany, where the mark has depreciated. Naturally an Italian manufacturer who has his goods in another country where his lire has a better value than in the United States, he is going to do so."

"The solution is to exchange goods in such a way as to increase their trading value. The reason the exchange rate is so high is in that Europe's credit is bad with us, that we have no faith in her future prosperity; it is because we are not receiving any goods from her as before the war."

"I have no fear, however, that American business will be seriously handicapped by our higher exchange rate. Russia, for example, has lost a third of its value merely because she cannot get her wheat and other products to market. These goods will go to market and her ruble will go to its old place."

"Regarding Italy's business future, Mr. Case said that Italy does not enjoy the credit she should. She is a wealthy country and my principal reason for making this statement is that she is not doing her best. Italy, which has an honest, thrifty, hard working population such as she is blessed with, we Americans do not appreciate. Italy is a fine country, really a young country, that she has not been united for more than thirty years though the date of her union goes back to 1870."

"At present I do not find much inclination to consider new business in Italy, because every mind is still preoccupied by the war. But so soon as the war is over, Italy will come a fine field for Americans, not only for detail business but for big public improvements. Like the electrical industry, Italy has a great need of power, and the establishment of more electric power plants for factories."

"The American should find a ready market here and be well received, because as a rule the Italians know much more about our country and its products than we do about Italy."

Woman Elected to Congress Is From Montana, Tall, Red-Haired, Republican

Miss Jeanette Rankin, elected to the national house of representatives from Montana, is a source of particular pride to the National Suffrage association. In as much as she is for many years one of its most valued organizers and the standard bearer who carried her state for suffrage. She is tall and red-haired and a Republican in politics.

Jeannette Rankin is a member of a well-to-do banker's family of Missoula, Mont. In 1908 she was graduated from the New York School of Philanthropy, went to Seattle, Wash., filled a position of baby place, for a year, found that wasn't her métier and quit finding a home for infants to join the women fighters in Washington. She attempted and organized in the Washington campaign and received no remuneration. "It was for the cause," she said in referring to it. She became later the field secretary of the National Woman Suffrage association. Miss Rankin in pictures.

The election of Miss Rankin to membership in the house of representatives will not cause any revolution in that body, leaders here said. The personal work of the new congresswoman accepted by the house of representatives in Washington at her first official day will be to introduce a new universal suffrage bill. Miss Rankin is coming to Washington to represent the women and objects to be seen whether the new congresswoman will frequently use the cloak rooms which, as a peer of her colleagues, she will be entitled to.

Must Still Swear That They Haven't Fought Any Duels

Once each two years at that time when new officers are taking their oath of office, one is reminded of that clause surety of the constitution when the duello was within the pale of society, if without the law, wherein all state and county officers make oath. This fact they have not been guilty of participation in such an affair.

Many state and county officers, many of whom are taking their oath of office today, must declare upon oath. The form still survives in a number of other Southern states besides Texas. That part of the declaration relating to the duel is as follows: "I do further solemnly swear that since the adoption of the Constitution of this State, I have not fought a duel with deadly weapons, nor have I acted as a second, nor have I been a witness, nor have I assisted in any person thus offending."

All the cases had been called but one on the police court docket this morning, while every man in the room had been tried. The court went over the docket. "Wilton," said the judge, "took another look through the jail, both morning and night. There was a fellow asleep under the stove at midnight. He got up at five, ventured one of the prisoners. The missing one was found innocently slumbering under the stove, awakened and brought down into court. You're charged with instigating the prisoner charged by the court. I deny the charge," the prisoner stated in a loud but somewhat maudlin tone. "I am a United States citizen and I deny the charge," he said again with emphasis. "They brought me down here at first because they said I was fighting a duel with a man named 'Uncle Joe' Cannon, but I haven't been fighting anybody," he added. The judge looked at the prisoner's blood matted, battle scarred face. The prisoner was sent back to jail until he could get enough trial. Plain drunks cost eight and a half dollars a day around the morning, and a fancy drunk with bird trimmings stood the party in the morning in for $10. A case of speeding and another of intoxication were passed until in the morning.

COUNTY OFFICERS WILL BE SWORN IN

Few New Faces To Be Seen at Court House—Commissioners Canvass Returns

From Monday's Daily. Canvassing of election returns was the principal task before the county commissioners today and it was expected that several days would be required in checking the count, approving bonds, swearing in the officers and going over the quarterly reports. The oath of office will probably be administered tomorrow or Wednesday.

Few new faces will appear in the county official family, a contrast with the conditions of two years ago when practically an entirely new set of officers were sworn in. County Judge Harris, Sheriff Hawkins, Tax Collector Bullard, County Clerk Kelly, County Attorney Greenwood, County Treasurer McHam and District Clerk Kerr will all hold office for two years more. T. E. Ragadale, new tax assessor, has served as deputy in that office. E. C. Hall, clerk of the court, who succeeds R. M. Johnson as county superintendent is practically the only new comer in precinct offices. Justices of the Peace Harvill and Jones were re-elected; there will be a new constable, J. B. Rawls taking the place of Will Allen.

MANUAL TRAINING WORK IS APPROVED

State Inspector Who Was Here Recently, Finds Much Good Work Being Done

Although lacking in equipment in a number of particulars, and an additional instructor being needed in both the domestic science and manual training departments of the local high school, the commissioner and state inspector of schools for that county, E. C. Phillips, inspector of schools for the state university, recommends that the school be allowed the same credits for another year which they have been given in the past. Mr. Phillips spent November 2 in the domestic science and manual training departments of the high school and a copy of his report to the state university has just been received at the local school.

In reporting the needs of these departments Mr. Phillips mentions that the lack of money was the explanation of failure to correct these defects, and likewise mentioned the fact that the completion of additions to the high school building would soon afford the departments more room, which was sorely needed by them. Both departments are filled to capacity, says the report, and a larger enrollment of students are available to permit of their expansion. The quality of instruction being given in these departments is especially mentioned in the report, special credit being also made of Miss Ora Mae Miller, instructor in domestic science, as a competent teacher and whose work with her pupils was thoroughly effective.

CHANGE IN RULES FOR ARMY SERVICE

Soldiers Who Become Proficient to Serve Only One Year—Several Recruits Here

From Monday's Daily. Active service on an enlistment in the regular army may now be terminated after one year's service under a new law which has just gone into effect, according to a notice received by the local army recruiting station. The term of enlistment remains the same, three years in the active service and four years in the reserve, during which latter period no active service is required. The new provision allows the discharge of a man after one year's service when he has shown proficiency in military science and is certified by his company commander to be a thoroughly trained man. It is expected that this new provision will be attractive to thousands of young men who would be willing to give one year from their civilian pursuits to get the necessary training but who would not be willing to sacrifice three years from private life.

Five recruits were forwarded to the recruit depot last week by the local station. D. L. Starnard of Wichita Falls and Claude S. Parker of Robert Lee being sent to the coast artillery corps; Hartwell H. Griffin of Port O'Connor, to the cavalry; and George F. McCombs of Lehigh, Okla., and William L. Timms of Woodson to the infantry. Saying that he was enlisting because he was hungry, and making no bones about the matter, Luther F. Keith entered Uncle Sams navy via the local recruiting station during the past week. He was a magnificent specimen physically and seemed to possess more the average of intelligence, consequently the local office had no hesitation in enlisting him as an apprentice seaman. Other recruits were forwarded by Keith; Henry S. Carter of Robert Lee, Texas, apprentice seaman; Carl Madden of Belton, coal passer; Robert C. Phillips of Scurry, Texas, apprentice seaman.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST VILLA IS PUSHED

Two Columns Sent in Pursuit. Defenders of Chihuahua Are Strengthened

Chihuahua City, Nov. 15.—The advance of General Marguel's force is officially announced here, has begun to advance northward from Escalon in two columns one of which is said to be proceeding up the line of the Mexpan-Central, repairing the track while the other, consisting of 300 cavalrymen is paralleling the track on a left flank.

Local military authorities here state that Villa is near the Durango border and that this movement will cut him off from the north or in the event of his escape northward will place him beyond and between the forces of Meria and the cavalry that General Trevino would dispatch from Chihuahua. The temporary fortifications encircling Chihuahua, also miles in circumference are being strengthened. A double row of barbed wire entanglements has been erected outside the infantry trenches while within three strong earthen redoubts are being built. These redoubts held 300 men each and are provided with artillery. Santa Rosa, the hill dominating the approach to the city, is fortified and armed with seven large caliber guns.

General Gonzalez Cuellar, a classmate of General Trevino at the military academy and in charge of the fortifications, commands 3000 men, mostly veterans of the siege of El Paso which held out 72 days against a force double its size, led by Villa.

POKER GAME NEAR ALTUS RESULTS IN TWO DEATHS

Altus (Frederick Leader). Grace Phillips, formerly a resident of Frederick, was killed at Altus last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock as a result of a quarrel over a card game. A negro, Louis Drake, understood to have been hired murderer, was in turn shot and killed by another white man in the same Phillips' body was brought here for burial. Funeral services were held Sunday and burial was made at the city cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. H. M. Woods. According to a message received by the leader from Altus, Phillips, Roy McClain, T. W. Pryor and one other white man and Louis Drake and "Heavy" Jones, negroes were engaged in a card game behind the oil mill dam, about a mile southwest of Altus. For a while the four white men only were playing. Later two of the white men and the negroes engaged in the game while the other two seem to have gone on top of the dam to stand guard. Phillips seems to have been the winner and to have started to quit the game, a white man against the protests of Drake. When he insisted on leaving, Drake is said to have shot him three times with a 22 automatic pistol. One of the shots went through Phillips' heart, one through the hand and another in the hip. He died instantly. The other white man in the game is said to have then shot Drake with a 25 automatic pistol, wounding him twice, one ball entering just above his heart and the other in the hip. Drake ran a distance of about a quarter of a mile, falling several times. His dead body was found in Kimbrell's pasture, nearly all of the clothes torn off, evidently the work of the negro in his dying agony. Two poker hands were found at the scene of the tragedy, the following: one consisting of three kings and a pair of aces and the other of two nines, an ace and a jack. McClain,

SOUTHWEST HAS RECORD WEATHER

ZERO TEMPERATURES PREDICTED FOR SOME PORTIONS TONIGHT

IS BELOW FREEZING

Snow Flurries Reported at Many Points—Rain in Many Counties of Panhandle

Kansas City, Nov. 14.—The weather bureau issued a prediction of zero weather for some parts of Kansas tonight. Snow and sleet flurries which prevailed this morning will be followed by fair weather tonight and the thermometer will range downward throughout the Missouri Valley and the Southwest, according to the forecast.

The cold will be general in the southwest reaching as low as 20 degrees in Central Texas. Temperatures will range to nearly five degrees above zero here and throughout practically all of Oklahoma and Arkansas. The thermometer will fall well below the freezing point, the forecast declared.

Snow flurries today visited all portions of Missouri and Kansas and sections of Oklahoma and Arkansas, the report showed. Temperatures reached 22 degrees here at 10 o'clock this morning, reports the Dodge City, Kan., 26 at Oklahoma City and 28 at Abilene, Texas.

PANHANDLE CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO GRAIN

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 13.—Weather far below normal is prevailing today over the entire cattle and grain region of West Texas, benefiting the grain but hurting stock. A rain is falling which with the cold will help grass unless a heavy freeze follows the rain. Reports from the weather bureau indicated that snow is falling in many parts of the Panhandle.

ALL WESTERN STATES IN COLD WAVE'S GRIP

Washington, Nov. 13.—A cold wave with temperatures at various places lower than ever before reported in November, is sweeping the region west of the Mississippi today and will move eastward to the Atlantic coast, according to reports from the weather bureau from three points, Cheyenne, Wyoming, 24 below zero; Rapid City, South Dakota, 22 below zero; and Denver, Colorado, 20 below zero.

BRITISH URGED TO HELP FRENCH MORE

Paris Writer Wants Them to Take Over Greater Part of Western Front

London, Nov. 12.—The Express features an article in today's issue by a French military writer, Captain Philippe Millet calling on Great Britain to take over more of the western front and relieve the French. Captain Millet says it is necessary to speak plainly, that the alliance of Great Britain and France cannot be based on a mere exchange of compliments and that all Frenchmen are wondering whether the English fully realize what is happening in France. He says the French will only fight what Great Britain has already done but feel that the time has come for the British army to relieve the French more efficiently.

DUCKS PLENTIFUL AROUND THIS CITY

Many Limit Bags Brought in—Change in Dove Season Likely Before Next Year

With ducks more plentiful than ever at Lake Wichita, local hunters are enjoying good sport there. Limit bags are being brought in numbers and water holes in this vicinity. When the season first opened ducks were disappointingly scarce, but the recent colder weather has made them plentiful.

The dove season has practically ended in this section, though it is still lawful to kill them. Doves are reported very plentiful and some good shooting is anticipated when the season opens December 1. This is probably the last year that dove shooting will be permitted as early as September 1; a strong effort will be made to have the law changed so that the season will open later and many Wichitans are joining in the movement. There is considerable sentiment in favor of protecting doves at all seasons. Few game law violators here have been reported this year. A sum in excess of $100 has been pledged, it is reported, by a frozen pipe. We intend as a reward for the arrest and conviction of violators.

The fire department responded to a call from Kemp Kort this morning, to pump the basement of that building, which had been flooded through the bursting of a frozen pipe. The engine from the Floral Heights station was used, all the members of the department save one, on watch at the central station, being called out.

SIMPLICITY MUCH IN EVIDENCE IN FASHIONS THIS SEASON

Special to The Times. Fashion designers in New York, Nov. 14.—The simplicity that has been a marked feature in the very first models with which the fashion designers have been busy this season depends on the beauty of the material and simplicity of line for their success rather than on elaborate trimmings. They are a line when the trimmings are a dress, not as such, if not more than the material, to the amazement, especially of the woman who wanted to be economical, but now it is the very contrary. A dress needs very little more than a touch of embroidery, or perhaps a contrasting collar, to make it an smart as fashion demands. The fur, and practically no extra coat, can add a great deal of style to the dress by a simple embroidered motif worked in heavy silk or wool yarn. Another means by which fashion eliminates the need for trimming is the use of two materials for fashioning a dress. It may be two contrasting shades of the same material, or two different materials in the same tone that are used. Both effects are very charming and highly popular.

No More Fights By High School Classes; Flag Pole Removed

No more will valiant and class spirited high school students battle it out on the flag pole in front of the high school building to snatch for today there is nothing but vacancy where the pole once was. The pole at whose base the bloodiest battle in the history of the school was waged some two years ago between the seniors and juniors with a tattered and torn class pennant as their goal, has been cut down and its privilege to the school is now a relic from the dome, celebrating the democratic victory.

The pole on the dome will of course never fly, though whenever needed but it will not be forgotten in the glamour of fast victories and defeats which the former staff held there. There are those who are proud and glad to see the pole cut down, and the lower edge is finished with braid.

DE LA ROSA EXECUTED. BROWNSVILLE REPORT SAYS

Brownsville, Texas, Nov. 12.—Eduardo de la Rosa, alleged leader of bandit raids in this section of Texas a year ago, has been executed in the prison at Monterrey, Mexico, according to reports in Matamoros. Mexican Consul J. A. Garza stated that he had no official information on the subject. This rumor is the first heard of de la Rosa since last June, when he was known to have been near the Texas border with about 400 followers. Carranza officials at that time stated de la Rosa would be run down.

VIEWS GIVEN ON WAR'S OUTCOME BY BOTH SIDES

By Associated Press. London, Nov. 13.—Two optimistic views of the war from the standpoint of the victors were prominent place in morning newspapers. The first is a quotation from the speech made at the lord mayor's banquet by Field Marshal Viscount French, who said: "It seems that the contest is approaching a climax, to come either now or in the spring. We must remember, however, that a climax and an end are not necessarily the same thing."

The second opinion was expressed by General Alexis Brusiloff, speaking to a British correspondent at Russian headquarters. He said: "It is merely a question of speculation as to how much longer it will be before the enemy is convinced that their cause is lost."

The general added that he spoke with authority in declaring that the judges of Russia's front-line superiority to the humbler soldier was determined to protect, help and support Roumania in every possible way. GERMAN CHANCELLOR REAFFIRMS CONVICTIONS. Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—Chancellor Von Bethman-Hollweg expressed the conviction that Germany was certain of final victory in his speech before the Reichstag committee yesterday, according to reports of the session published here. The chancellor is quoted as saying: "England and France in 1915 granted to Russia territorial rule over vast territories in the Caucasus and the western shores of the Balkans, while Alsace-Lorraine was to be divided among the members of the entente. Such a union of interests of our enemy also included Alsace-Lorraine which the League of Peace is to guarantee them."

"Such a policy of course cannot form a basis for an effective union. Germany is ready at all times to join a union of the peoples, and even to place herself at the head of such a union of peoples, but in the shadow of the peace, not in the shadow of Prussian militarism did the world live before the war and in the shadow of a policy of isolation which was to keep Germany down."

The German people waged this war as a defensive war for the safety of its national existence. We never pretended anything else, never intended anything else. The enemy obstinately will to war, with the calling up of military material and auxiliary forces from all parts of the world. These efforts against our resistance to still greater determination. Whatever England can still bring up of strength and France's command of strength has been a policy of isolation which was to keep Germany down."

YOUNG MAN HELD UP BY NEGROES NEAR OKLAHOMA. J. C. Clement, son of Rev. J. C. Clement living three miles north of Oklahoma, was accosted by two negroes early Monday morning as he was on his way to the cotton field. He had occasion to start early and as he passed by a hay stack by the way two negroes grabbed him and held him up for robbery. Finding nothing in his pockets they drew their knives and tried to cut him in the scuffle. Mr. Clement managed to free himself from their grasp and get away. He had a number of knife cuts in his clothing. The officers soon had knowledge of the matter and search has been made for the negroes, but they have not been intercepted as yet. It is thought that the blacks were transient and not from those picking cotton in the neighborhood. The assault was evidently made with intent to rob.
