

THAW TRIES TO END LIFE, AND MAY DIE

NOTORIOUS CHARACTER ABOUT TO BE ARRESTED BY PHILADELPHIA DETECTIVES, SLASHES HIS WRIST AND THROAT

NOW IN HOSPITAL

Chances for Recovery Not Known. Conflicting Reports as to His Condition and Mystery as to Facts Surrounding Incident

By Associated Press. Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Harry K. Thaw cut his wrist and throat in a private house on Walnut street, west of 52nd street here today and was taken to St. Mary's hospital, according to Captain of Detectives "Tate" who has been searching for him.

According to Captain Tate, Thaw's whereabouts were learned early today and the house was surrounded.

When detectives entered the place according to Tate, they found Thaw had cut his wrist and throat. Tate says, asked that Dr. Edward Kirby, a well known physician of this city, be sent for. When the doctor arrived he ordered Thaw removed to St. Mary's hospital where Dr. Kirby is head physician.

St. Mary's hospital is in the extreme northeastern part of the city, several miles from the house where Thaw was found.

Captain Tate later said he had been informed that Thaw was expected to die. What Thaw cut himself with, Tate said he did not know.

Lieutenant Scanlon of the detective bureau said that Thaw was found in the house shortly before 2 o'clock. Scanlon said he had learned that while Thaw was unconscious, he is expected to live.

Surprise was expressed that Thaw should be taken so far away when there were nearly a dozen hospitals nearer the West Philadelphia house where he was found.

Detective headquarters were not advised in their early reports whether Thaw was taken to the hospital in an auto patrol or the doctor's automobile.

In the absence of direct information from physicians attending him, there were conflicting reports as to how serious his condition was. The house where Thaw was found is within a short distance of the street where Thaw was in an automobile accident last May. It was a damage suit instituted against his mother the owner of the car that brought Thaw here last Monday to defend the action.

How the detectives learned that Thaw was in West Philadelphia they do not say. When they were asked by the New York authorities to apprehend Thaw, they were charged to bring him with assaulting Frederick Grump Jr., of Kansas City, they made a search of the city and were convinced that he had left.

SAN DOMINGO NATIVES LIKE HORSESHOE PITCHING. Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Pitching of horseshoes bids fair to rival baseball among the natives of San Domingo, who have taken to this outdoor sport with enthusiasm, according to United States marines just returned here from the island republic. Horseshoe-throwing is a daily habit and the natives rivalry exists among the leaders, who, following the custom of Uncle Sam's proteges everywhere, take readily to all American games, introduced by the "Soldiers of the Sea."

COMMITTEE NOT TO RECOMMEND "LEAK" INQUIRY

DEMOCRATS, WITH MAJORITY, VOTE AGAINST URGING INVESTIGATION OF THOMAS W. LAWSON'S CHARGES

TAKE VARIED VIEWS

Republicans Willing to Favor Any Sort of Inquiry, But are in Minority. To Be Reported to House Tomorrow

By Associated Press. Washington, Jan. 11.—The democratic majority of the rules committee today voted to report the Wood leak resolution adversely.

The action of the committee operates to end the inquiry. Republicans were willing to proceed with any kind of an inquiry that might be devised, but were solidly opposed by the democratic members, who concluded that there was no ground in Lawson's charges upon which to base an investigation.

Democratic and republican members disapproved as to the effect of the committee's action toward the Lawson contempt charges. Republicans said that he was absolved by a vote of the majority and that the investigation is over.

Chairman Henry insists that the special sub-committee to deal with Lawson's refusal to answer questions propounded by the committee and his publication of "leak" charges in newspapers still are in existence and may take some action. The opposing members also disagree as to whether the inquiry is over. Republicans say it is, in effect. Representative Henry says Representative Wood has another resolution before the committee which has not been acted upon which the majority refused to take up today.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Chairman Henry announced that owing to Speaker Clark being called to New York, the report of the rules committee would not be submitted to the House before tomorrow.

A new version of the leak in Wallace street was given to the House rules committee by James R. Reilly, managing editor of the Wall Street Journal.

A tip, picked up, he said, by a Dr. Jones, porter at Wall street that brokers private wires from Washington were saying the president was about to send a peace note, was solely responsible for the dispatch shadowing the note which appeared on the company's ticker at 2:05 p. m. Dec. 20, ten hours before the note was published.

SUFFERINGS OF BELGIUM WORSE

CARDINAL MERCIER SAYS NEUTRALS WOULD ACT IF FULL TRUTH WERE KNOWN

HAS WRITTEN LETTER

Says Nations Would Not Confine Selves to Words If They Could Learn Facts

By Associated Press. Paris, Jan. 11.—Cardinal Mercier, in a private letter printed in La Croix, the official church organ, declares that if the truth were known about Belgium, neutral nations would not confine themselves to words. The Belgian cardinal declares that Belgium is now suffering as never before. He writes:

"We are all prisoners, but if the neutrals knew of the treatment inflicted on us, I believe that they would not confine themselves to verbal reconstructions. If they did we should have to despair of fraternal charity and humanity."

The cardinal added in a postscript that although the Belgians are depressed, they are by no means discouraged and few want peace without victory.

MOB DEFIED BY GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY

CHIEF EXECUTIVE GOES TO TOWN WHERE LYNCHING IS THREATENED WITH JUDGE FOR POSTPONING TRIAL OF NEGRO

Enraged Citizens Even Talk of Violence Against Governor Himself When He Insists on Keeping Prisoner Away

By Associated Press. Murray, Ky., Jan. 11.—In line with his announced intention to give the mob a chance to lynch the governor of Kentucky first, Governor E. O. Stanley arrived here early today and charged the mob against the life of Circuit Judge Charles Bush and Commonwealth Attorney Denny Smith.

The special train on which Governor Stanley arrived was left standing with steam up ready to take them from Murray if further demonstrations were made against their lives.

Open threats were made on the streets that any attempt to remove Judge Bush from Murray or to prevent the trial today of Lule Martin, negro charged with killing Gabriel Peltus, a white man, would place the governor's own life in danger.

It was because of a continuance granted yesterday by Judge Bush in the case of Martin, that the anger of the mob was aroused. The continuance was ordered Martin was "spidied out" of Murray and taken to Paducah for safe keeping.

GOVERNOR ASSERTS HIS AUTHORITY IN MATTER

By Associated Press. Paducah, Ky., Jan. 11.—Lule Martin the negro brought here yesterday from Murray for safe keeping, will remain until his return is ordered by Governor Stanley.

"I am governor of Kentucky and that negro will be taken back to Murray when I say so and not before," said Governor Stanley, when he stopped here early today on his way to Murray. He was told on his arrival here that the negro's return had been ordered by Judge Charles Bush after threats had been made against the lives of Judge Bush and Commonwealth Attorney Denny Smith by a Murray mob, unless Martin was taken there for trial today.

EXPECT TO ACT ON PROHIBITION QUESTION FIRST

LITTLE PROSPECT FOR ANY OTHER LEGISLATION AT AUSTIN UNTIL SUBMISSION RESOLUTION HAS COME TO A VOTE

DEPENDS ON SENATE

Success in House Believed to Be Certain—Numerous Bills on Variety of Subjects are Introduced Today

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, Jan. 11.—Until the prohibition question has been finally decided it is said there will be little business transacted by either branch of the legislature, consequently every possible effort is being made to speed up the prohibition question. There is little doubt, prohibitionists say, that the submission amendment will be passed in the House, although it requires two-thirds of the entire membership of the House voting in the affirmative to carry the resolution through successfully. Sixty-five affirmative votes are necessary to adopt the resolution.

Representative Cope, author of the submission amendment in the House, has made a poll of the members and says he has obtained 20 signatures to the resolution, not including a number of members, a few pro and anti, who he says will vote for submission, but who did not care to sign the petition.

While no petition has been circulated in the Senate for the submission amendment, political leaders say the pros lack one vote of having the necessary 21, which is two-thirds of the entire membership. Both pros and anti are just as anxious as members of the House to dispose of the submission question. If the impending submission amendment fails, the pros, it is said, will make a strong effort to pass statutory prohibition.

After a day of comparative rest in the House, the avalanche of bills descended today when during the early morning session alone, 100 measures were introduced, together with eight resolutions.

Senate committees are now working about 60 bills.

Two bills have already been passed. The measure for the prohibition of the sale of liquor in the State and the measure for the prohibition of the sale of liquor in the State.

Among the measures offered today was a House joint resolution by Nichols, et al. submitting a state-wide prohibition amendment to be effective January 1, 1918.

Holland of Harris introducing a resolution in the House providing for registration of all "lobbyists." An amendment was offered by Beard of Harris to include women. Williams of McLennan opposed the resolution. Tillotson moved to postpone indefinitely but the resolution was adopted.

GRAVITY TEST OF ARCHER OIL MADE

Shows up Well—Collins Now on Sand—Two New Companies Organized Here

Archer county oil is fully up to the standard of that produced at Electra and Petrolia, hydrometer tests this morning showing it to have a gravity of 49 1/2 degrees as compared with 49 1/2 and 49 in Electra oil. The test was made by W. H. Harkness with oil from Panther No. 2 and showed that Archer oil is fully equal, if not superior, to that in other parts of the Northwest Texas field.

Collins No. 1 Orton had reached the sand this morning and was expected to tell something within the next 24 hours, although Sixty-Six stock today had not progressed sufficiently to give any indications.

Reports from both the Panther No. 2 and Sixty-Six wells are as follows: The first has filled 850 barrels of tankage, with a large amount evaporated and wasted and new tankage is being hurried to drive on Saturday 2,000 barrels tankage will be available. The Sixty-Six well is reported to have put 80 barrels of oil into the tanks.

Two new companies have been formed and will probably start drilling shortly. Jack Kelly has organized a $10,000 company to drill on a 100 acre lease on the G. T. Sutherland tract, south of Collins property and southwest of the Panther district. A company to be known as the Little Wichita Oil Company, with $50,000 capital has been formed; it has 100 acres in Archer county, in four tracts, one of which adjoins the Southside tract on the north, and which is thought to be very favorably situated. J. B. Marlow is the moving spirit of this organization.

It was reported today that a good looking sand had been encountered in the Allen-Hammond well on the Woodrum tract, some distance south of the Panther district, and that several miles from production and a strike there would open up a vast amount of new territory for development.

Officers of the Sixty-Six and Panther stock found no takers at the oil exchange this morning, the least that any owners of the stock want being 100 or ten for one. Sixty-Six stock is today quoted at three for one, while Southside stock is valued at par in spite of the failure, so far, to get a paying well.

The wells of the Stone Oil Company, Allen-Hammond and Parmenter companies are now all below the 1000 foot depth and their success or failure will probably bring definite news from each of these.

RECEIVE MANY BIDS FOR CITY'S $15,000 BOND ISSUE

Nearly twenty bids have been filed with W. G. Skeen, city clerk, for the $15,000 city improvement bond issue, which will be sold by the council at their session tonight, and it is expected that more will be received during the day. The number of bids filed is not only an unusual number, but is all the more surprising in view of the comparative smallness of the issue.

Most of the time at tonight's session will be taken up with the explanation of the city-improvement plans by Charles H. Harkness, landscape architect in charge of the work. Mr. Harkness has his plans and specifications completed at this time and it is probable that the council tonight will authorize advertisement for bids for the work, as it is important that the work be completed before spring.

NO CAMPAIGN FOR POLL TAXES HERE

Chamber of Commerce Not To Organize Movement as Has Been Done Previously

No campaign for the purpose of encouraging payment of poll taxes will be undertaken by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce as a body this year, according to a decision made some time ago and reaffirmed at a meeting of the organization today. Several reasons are assigned for this decision, one being that the campaign in former years has threatened to involve the organization in political issues, which is contrary to the constitution of the organization.

Another is that a campaign carried on as an organization has been construed in some cases as a technical violation of the law governing this matter, and that some question as to the legality of former campaigns was raised by state authorities following an unfavorable ruling of the attorney general.

While as an organization nothing will be done in this direction, it is likely that the time remaining for the payment of taxes will see quite a number of individuals who will do this on the part of members of the organization.

OVER 300 RABBITS ARE SLAIN IN DRIVE

School is Dismissed so Pupils Can Participate in Hunt on Dale Ranch

School was dismissed yesterday at the Dale school house to allow the pupils to participate in the second day's rabbit drive at the Dale ranch, the scholars swelling the number engaged to more than 100. Over 300 rabbits were secured yesterday, 157 of them being captured alive. W. H. Norris, one of the tenants on the ranch was elected by the hunters as captain of the drive. Among those from Wichita Falls yesterday were W. S. Curlee, Louis Nussbaum and E. J. Hill.

Saturday is expected to be the big day. A special ground to be hunted over has been selected, and it is expected that at least 200 will participate on that day. A number are planning to go from here. Messrs. Curlee and Nussbaum, managers of the ranch, have extended an urgent invitation to the Wichitans to take part in the drive. As many rabbits as he can use in his work have been offered to Emerson Robb of the local charity association.

ROTARIANS TOLD OF MILK CAMPAIGN

City's Efforts To Insure Pure Supply Are Explained at Today's Meeting

"If every Wichitan who buys milk would take the time and the trouble to go and inspect the dairy he patronizes, it would give a tremendous impetus to the crusade for pure milk that would result in lasting good," said Mayor A. B. Britain, speaking today before the Rotarians at their meeting. Dr. J. T. Traylor and Dr. Q. B. Lee were speakers at the weekly luncheon, the milk question being brought forcibly to the attention of the Rotarians.

Dr. J. T. Traylor, city inspector, exhibited cards showing the amount of dirt extracted from a number of pints of milk, some of the amount shown being as much as one-half ounce of dirt. Dr. Traylor demonstrated the method by which the milk being forced through a small wad of cotton which retains the dirt. The samples taken in November showed considerably more dirt than those taken this week.

The inspector explained why a test for tuberculosis was necessary and discussed the several methods in use for the detection of the disease. He referred to the criticism passed by some of the dairymen at last Saturday's meeting upon the methods he uses. He declared that the method was approved by the highest authorities. Dr. Traylor said a law should be passed providing reimbursement for the cost when it was necessary to kill a cow.

Mayor Britain told of the passage of the ordinance saying that some of the Rotarians had been very helpful in their efforts to have the ordinance passed. He urged the Rotarians to inspect the sources of the milk in their territory and to cooperate with Dr. Traylor and the city officials in their efforts.

The ordinance seeks, first, Mr. Britain said, to provide that the milk shall be free from disease, and second, that the milk be handled by clean persons and under clean conditions.

The ordinance entitles heavy expense to the dairymen, saying elbow grease rather than money was required. The mayor referred to figures showing the extent of infant mortality due to impure milk, the number ranging into the hundreds of thousands in the United States.

Dr. Q. B. Lee, member of the health board, spoke briefly, urging the Rotarians to give a full measure of cooperation in the work of the city in trying to do so. He especially urged appreciation of Dr. Traylor's efforts, saying that the inspector had taken some of the criticism very much to heart.

The Rotarians were unusually good at today's meeting and much interest was manifested by those present.

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APENDICITIS

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Wichita Falls people should know that a few doses of simple buckhorn bark, given at the first signs of trouble, will often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such irritating material as ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-Ka is surprising. NEW HALF DOLLARS ARE EXPECTED HERE

Specimens of Government's Latest Coinage Due to Appear Here Shortly

Specimens of the new half dollars are due to appear in circulation by the mint last Tuesday, are expected to reach Wichita Falls very shortly. Some are already in circulation elsewhere in Texas. The new half dollars are worth four bits each in all cash transactions.

The coin bears a full length figure of Liberty with the folds of the Stars and Stripes flying to the breeze as a background. Liberty is progressing in full strides toward the dawn of a new day, symbol of civil and military glory. The hand of the figure is outstretched in bestowal of the spirit of Liberty.

The reverse side shows an eagle perched high on a mountain crag, his wings unfolded, fearless in spirit and conscious of his power. Springing

JURORS FORCED TO SLEEP UPON FLOOR

Scarcity of Accommodations Makes Night Uncomfortable One For Those Being Held

After a night spent on the floor of the court room on account of lack of jury room several of the ten members of the Williams jury secured yesterday announced that though they voted against the bond issue for a new court house, they were glad now that they were there.

At present there is only one jury room in the second story of the old jail building but it is equipped with the left arm of the Williams jury. Williams jurors envious of their contemporaries of the Governor, who occupied the beds by right of seniority.

The possibility of the Covert Jury being held for another night was not a cause for pleasant participation on the part of the Williams jurors, who do not look forward with any great degree of pleasure to another sleep on the floor. Nor does Deputy Sheriff L. X. Jennings, who being in charge of the Williams jury was forced to share their discomforts.

Filing Case Labels In Justice Court Puzzle Uninitiated

Sooner or later the wandering eye of a visitor to the office of Justice J. F. Jones is arrested by the cryptic words which are pasted under the files of the office. Being in charge of the filing case built in the wall and he finds himself wondering what each means.

At first, as he reads Arrives, Done, God and Prout and other words, although failing to get the connection he supposes that they might have some connection with the business affairs of the office. When he next might judge that some cases arising in the administration of justice might be filed under Luck, but when the initials labeled Music, Cats, Quaker, Karo, Valspar and Johns are reached the problem is usually given up until Judge Jones is at leisure to answer a question as to the meaning. The explanation is simple. When the case was built the judge asked his small daughter to cut out the letters of the alphabet from the boxes with which she was to label the boxes but instead she cut out the whole word which was begun by the letter and pasted them on.

The initial arrangement of the initials of each word are readily apparent.

WICHITAN IS DEFENDANT IN UNIQUE CIVIL SUIT

Bert E. McGlamery, high school teacher, is defendant in a rather unique suit just filed at Fort Worth. He is sued for $350 by the Texas Woman's College, an institution in the Polytechnic College, because, after leaving school he became a school teacher instead of entering the ministry. Mr. McGlamery, it appears, when he entered Polytechnic made a verbal agreement similar to that made by other students, that if he entered the ministry of some evangelical church within two years after graduation, his tuition was to be free. He did not enter the ministry and the suit resulted. Mr. McGlamery states that the amount is considerably more than he owes for tuition, and that he has informed the authorities of the school that he expects to pay for the tuition when he is able, having already made one payment.

At the Theaters

The spirit of mischief runs rampant through the soul of Effie Marchand, the character whom June Caprice portrays in "The Mischief Maker," her latest photoplay for William Fox, showing today at the Empress. She is so full of fun that she keeps her Aunt Machand sitting up nights, worrying about her. When the worst comes to the worst and the girl positively refuses to notice the photograph of the man her aunt has selected for her husband, the old lady decides that boarding-school is the place for such beings. Perhaps other girls learned to behave at Madame Briand's school. Certainly Effie showed no signs of gaining such knowledge. She decided that boarding schools were made for a good time, and she set about demonstrating her decision to the other girls. When the art instructor, Jules Gerard (John Reinhard) asked Effie to come to his home and pose for him, she never thought of hesitating. What a lark it would be. May Murree (Margaret Fielding) was the only one who objected to this scheme. May had posed for the figure for Jules, and she did not want him to have another model. Madame Briand (Irene Marcel) knew nothing of all this, nor did the other girls. But Effie managed to make enough trouble about the school to force Madame to put her in prison on bread and water for a short time. Of course it was easy work to break the bars, and go romping across the fields at night to pose for Jules. To tell the rest would almost rob the story of its interest, so, merely to be assured that all turns out well after some very exciting adventures for the little miss.

Oakley since Constance Emory, the daughter of old Thomas Emory, the former manager, has evinced an interest in both which sways from one to another as her father's sympathies vary. The strike culminates in the cutting of the pipes leading to the water tank, which results in the explosion of an overheated engine boiler and a fire. The journey for aid to the next town to get the fire fighting apparatus through a roaring forest fire which threatens to lick up the puny train with its tongue of flame, falls to the brave young manager. On his return he has won not only the hearts of his men, but that of the beautiful Constance, who promises to become his partner for life. A touching bit of interest is inserted in the figure of old Roger Oakley, the father of Dan, who on returning from a twenty years' sentence in prison for a crime he never committed, is given a place in the cabinet shops. His loyalty to his son is almost pathetic, and when he dies in the crash of a burning tree which nearly wrecks the train bringing the fire apparatus, it is more than atonement for the killing of the strikers which he commits in self defense.

Recipes for this column are solicited. Phone 1671 or send to The Times office. Only One Way. However the battle is ended, though proud the victor comes with fluttering flags and prancing mags. And echoing rolls of drums. Still truth proclaims this motto in letters of living light: No question is ever settled until it is settled right. Though the heel of the strong oppressor May grind the weak in the dust, And the voices of fame with one acclaim Let call him great and just, Let those who applaud take warning And keep their eyes on the right. No question is ever settled until it is settled right. Let those who have failed take courage, Though the enemy seems to have won Though his ranks are strong, if in the wrong The battle is not yet done; For sure as the morning follows The darkest hour of night No question is ever settled until it is settled right. PANAMA TO ENCOURAGE CULTIVATION OF SUGAR Associated Press. Mail Correspondence. Panama.—The Assembly of Panama has passed a bill authorizing the government to spend $500,000 in loans to sugar plantation operators for the immediate payment of loans and interest on them contracted outside. Loans by the government must be repaid within ten years. The applicant for assistance must be a producer of 15,000 tons of raw sugar per annum; and must have already invested at least one-half of the amount for which he asks. The bill was fathered by Deputy Eusebio A. Morales, formerly minister of Panama to the United States. 2 SUBSCRIPTIONS OF $1200 COME FROM WICHITANS This morning's mail brought the local Chamber of Commerce a communication from Frank Kell, doubling his subscription to the work of that organization, making the contribution $1200 per year, or $100 a month. A similar amount has been pledged by J. A. Kemp. By doubling his subscription, Mr. Kell now shares with Mr. Kemp the distinction of being the largest individual contributors to the work of a commercial organization in the state. The value of the organization's work to Wichita Falls in the eyes of both Mr. Kell and Mr. Kemp is demonstrated by the fact that they not only are substantial contributors financially to its work, but are among the most faithful of any of the members in giving their time and personal efforts to the work of the organization.

FIELD CROP SHOW TO BE BIG AFFAIR Plans for 1918 Meeting Include Broadening Scope—Expected to Bring Many Farmers. Next year's meeting of the Texas Field Crops Association, which has been secured for Wichita Falls as a result of the visit of H. F. Johnson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to the Temple meeting, is expected to see a remarkable expansion by the already large institution, both in the amount of prizes offered, attendance and the territory covered. The primary object of the show in coming here is that of bringing Panhandle agriculturists, who heretofore have been too remote from the places where the show of the association was held, into close touch with its activities. The rapidly developing section of Southwestern Oklahoma, traversed by the Wichita Falls and Northwestern railways, and easily accessible to Wichita Falls, will also be taken into the next show. The association has heretofore confined its activities to Texas. The prize list for the 1918 exhibition will be at least $100,000, according to present plans. This is in addition to the massive silver cups which are competed for annually. At Temple the prize was over $500. Wichita Falls is pledged to contribute $300 toward the expenses of the secretary of the association in raising the prize list over the state. He will also receive the assistance of officials of the local Chamber of Commerce in this connection. An effort lasting throughout the year will be made to secure the maximum attendance at the Wichita Falls meeting. As usual, an extensive program, including speakers of state and national reputation, will be given at the various branches of agricultural science will be prepared by the association and extensively advertised in the local press. Cooperation has been promised by the other railroad agents to this end. Agricultural agents from Southwestern Oklahoma who attended the Temple meeting, assured Mr. Johnson of their co-operation in securing a large attendance from Southwestern Oklahoma. The attendance at Temple during the three days was over 1,000, nearly an equal number.

Perhaps there is some good reason why the petition of the Texas Company to the legislature of Texas should not be granted. If there are such reasons they are not apparent. The Texas Company is a corporation in which all Texas can take pride. Its business extends to the corners of the earth. It is a real giant in industry. It has become a giant in spite of legal handicaps whose tendency has been to hinder its growth. It does appear that it suffers discrimination through the operation of Texas laws. This discrimination ought to end.

Last summer more than 2,000 American men increased their physical efficiency, received disciplinary training and put themselves in a position to be of service in the defense of their country when they spent three months aboard U. S. Naval vessels under the training of naval officers. The results were so satisfactory that the navy department is preparing to greatly increase the facilities for giving citizens naval training. It is expected that ten thousand men will avail themselves of the opportunity this year. If this practice is continued it will be seen that within a few years the navy will have given training to thousands of men who would become fitted for the service of their country within a short time in case of war. The organization of the Naval Training Association is one of a number of praiseworthy undertakings of the navy department under the administration of Secretary Daniels. Mr. Daniels has been bitterly assailed from some quarters, but it appears that he has gone steadily ahead in his work of raising the efficiency of the navy.

Another of the inequities of the Mann act has come to light in the Federal court in session at Sherman. It appears that a boy and girl in North Texas were in love. They desired to marry but the parents objected. The young couple eloped. They arrived in Kansas only to find that their youth prevented marriage there. They lived together as man and wife very happily until federal authorities arrived on the scene. And then they were haled before the court there to answer to the charge of white slavery! Fortunately a humane judge was on the bench. The parents were persuaded to give their consent to the marriage which was then and there performed. The groom was fined the minimum amount of $5 and two hearts were made happy that, in a stern rendition of the law's demands, might have been miserable through all the coming years. A few more men of Gordon Russell's type on the bench would improve the humanity of the courts of the country in no small degree.—Houston Post.

ON DENTAL AND MEDICAL INSPECTION

Editor the Times: In these days when the high cost of living is being worried over it is well to look with suspicion on anything that is offered free of charge—for instance, the dental and medical inspections with which our schools are infected. The writer does not know just who, or what, is behind this business, but one thing is quite certain, Sir Bonehead is presiding over the formalities. We are told that the prime cause is to keep tuberculosis, and other dread diseases out of the schools. Good—but why not have kept them out of the schools earlier last year, and here three months went by before the examinations were begun. Sir Bonehead does not know that but few disease seems lie dormant for that length of time. Common sense would have conducted the exams before a single foot had crossed the threshold of a school room.

Then, too, why try to run any measure over a thinking people when it is not a law? "But," I am told, "some thinking has to be done for the masses." True, some of us must awaken the other fellow out of his lethargic sleep—that is what the writer is trying to do right now.

It was only within the past week that the announcement was made in the High School that those inspections were not compulsory. The children have been led to believe that they were. In this late talk it was stated that only one family had raised any objections to the inspections.

Yours truly is the "family" referred to, I suppose, as, after hearing the tale of how things were handled in one of the ward schools, I forbid my children in the high school opening their mouths to any dentists alive unless I could be present. This mode of procedure is utterly repulsive to my sense of sanitation.

If there is one thing more repulsive than another it is a foul mouth; and he never dreamed but what a dental examination would have been conducted along the line of the latest sanitary methods. Investigation would prove facts which ought to put a few months on the school board.

This is no personal attack; but there were dental examinations in the school that were less sanitary and unclean. More than one little girl got her first taste of tobacco during the dental examination. What think you, O mother, of a dainty little daughter whose teeth you have so carefully watched over, and whose welfare is never off your mind, what think you when a mouth mirror is taken from the mouth of a young cigarette fiend and placed in your child's mouth without ever being dipped into whatever was at hand, not to mention the towel which if used at all had plenty of time to have become infected?

And yet these children were told that they should appreciate the blessings of a free examination—free terms, free spit, free foolishness.

It is lamentably true that few parents take time to investigate the new rulings, of which so many are but whitened sepulchres tied up with red tape.

Just at present the high school needs detective service worse than any other one thing. The student body have learned that it is safer to turn in on the back on personal property. Investigation will prove the truth of this furthermore. It has been going on all the present term. The money spent for blank, which now lie with the waste paper could have been put to better advantage here.

I wish to give credit to the Times for mentioning once that the boys' values were not compulsory, but this was never given out by the teachers until the next few days, and only then because of a few refusals to comply with grade conditions.

The need to open the eyes of the patrons of the public schools had to be met by somebody, and so the "family" who refused to have its mouth "inspected" got the job; however the "family" freely forgoes the public statement that the authorities did not care if the "family's" teeth were never looked after. Amen.

ALICE FROWN YEAGER.

WASHINGTON POWERS MUST ACT

General Funston, no doubt, knows more real facts about the Mexican situation than any man on the border, or in Washington, either. He is not given to long talks, but what he does say usually means much. His latest utterance relative to the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico is summed up in the following expression, attributed to him while passing through El Paso. He is quoted as saying: "If Pershing's recall rests with me he will stay in Mexico until he cannot spit over his chin. I sent Brigadier General Pershing into Mexico on the following orders. The same kind of orders will have to pull Major General Pershing out. They can't pass the Rio Grande, although they are stationed as a border guard, would mean aggressions on the part of both Carranza and Villa troops and innumerable bands of desperadoes clear up to the border, with, no doubt, frequent raids across it, such as that which occurred at Columbus.

mean aggressions on the part of both Carranza and Villa troops and innumerable bands of desperadoes clear up to the border, with, no doubt, frequent raids across it, such as that which occurred at Columbus.

General Funston knows the Mexican character so well, knows fully that it is useless to trust or trade with them, that they cannot be depended upon, that he does not believe in any-half-way measures with them. When General Pershing's expedition was sent into Mexico, General Funston had a right to believe that Villa would be captured shortly and the bandits of northern Mexico suppressed. Months have gone by, and this has not been done, and there has not been one bit of improvement in conditions there since General Pershing entered the country. On the contrary, Villa has re-declared himself as come into his own once more and is a greater menace than at any previous time.

The commission is scheduled to meet again this week, but there is no promise and no expectation that anything will result from the meeting. It has been given out that President Wilson has a new policy to put into effect toward Mexico. If it be one of force, so much the better, for that is his only argument that will have any effect on the Mexicans.

There is but little doubt that if the question was left to General Funston and General Pershing, they would quickly suppress both Carranza and Villa, place a protectorate over the country and bring about peace in a short time.—Austin American.

Hen Pays Carfare of Her Owner as He Travels Home

It happened in a Southern car a night or two ago, or at least a local railroad man who bears a pretty good reputation for truth and accuracy says it did and it must have. The principals of the tableau were a male resident of the Southern addition, occupying one of the forward seats and a hen which he was holding by the feet in an upright position in his left hand. His right hand was held palm upward in his lap. The rest of the tableau, the usual human-bound street car crowd, whose eyes were caught by the preparatory action of the hen were turned on her and her owner. A deposit was soon made in the open hand of the hen's owner a brand new egg. At first he did not notice but seeing the crowd staring in his direction he initiated an investigation which soon discovered the hen fruit. Coolly placing it in his pocket he at first feigned indifference to the roar of laughter which shook the car, but the fire proving too strong he left the car at the next block with his valuable possessions. One of the boys busy to remark that the man certainly had no kick, coming for the hen had sold his carfare, eggs being worth in the neighborhood of a nickel anyway.

DESTRUCTIVE BLAZE AT NEWCASTLE MONDAY

(Graham Reporter) Monday afternoon about 3:45 fire broke out in a restaurant owned by Bob Hawley and situated on the south side of the main business street in Newcastle, and it is reported that a can of gasoline was put on a stove through mistake, instead of water as intended. Within a very few minutes the entire building which was of frame, was a mass of flames; the blaze was soon communicated to the adjoining four frame buildings which were also consumed; the other buildings were Richard's tailor shop, Yancy's pool hall, Graftman's bakery and Mrs. Hawkin's millinery store.

We have not been able to learn of the amount of loss or what insurance carried; the restaurant was a total loss, but all stocks were practically removed from the other buildings. The handsome brick building of the First State Bank, caught fire but was soon extinguished and with only a slight damage.

EDDIE PLANK MAY GO TO NEW YORK AMERICANS

By Associated Press St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 11.—Eddie Plank, the veteran southpaw with the St. Louis Browns last season may wear a New York Yankee uniform in 1917. It is understood that the owners of the New York club are in a receptive mood as regards the acquisition of Plank, although they seem unwilling to trade any promising young material. Plank notified Manager Fielder Jones that he would retire from the game rather than play another season in St. Louis. He played two years there. Plank asked to be traded or sold to some eastern club. Plank's work last season ranked him among the best in the league. He finished twelfth among the twirlers in regard to earned runs off his delivery. In 27 games, pitching 225 2-3 innings, 357 batters opposed him. He was hit safely 203 times, and charged with 41 earned runs. He finished the season with an average of 2.35 earned runs per game. Plank is past forty years old and still is said to possess plenty of his old time speed.
