WANTS TEXANS TO REALIZE THEY OWN UNIVERSITY

PRESIDENT VINSON SAYS THIS IS GREATEST NEED OF INSTITUTION SPEAKS AT REUNION OF EX-STUDENTS THURSDAY

VERY HOPEFUL VIEW

Believes Better University Will Emerge From Present Troubles

The University ought to have better equipment but that is not its greatest need; the University ought to have better financial support, but that is not its greatest need; the University ought to be taken out of politics, but that is not its greatest need—the greatest need of the University of Texas is that the people of Texas should come to realize their ownership of it.

This was the message that Dr. R. E. Vinson, president of the University of Texas, brought to the "Texas Execs." of the Wichita Falls district at their annual reunion and banquet Thursday night.

The address of Dr. Vinson, inspiring, comforting and pleasing, was the closing feature of the reunion. There were 300 who gathered around the banquet table at the St. James for the occasion and of these probably half came from out of the city from other points in the Wichita Falls district.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at the meeting as follows: Lucian W. Parrish, of Henrietta, president; Judge H. G. McConnell of Haskell first vice president; Cecil Storey of Vernon, second vice president; Mrs. Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, secretary; Carter McGregor, treasurer; Martin L. Allday and Jerome S. Stone, tell leaders.

Boyd Dr. Vinson, Judge H. G. McConnell of Haskell, Judge W. D. Jones of Dallas, and Mrs. Carter McGregor of this city spoke. Judge Madison Morgan of Benjamin, who was also on the program, could not be present.

The meeting was the best attended that the district has yet had, in spite of the fact that many from out of town who had planned to be here. President Vinson, commenting upon the attendance, said that he proposed to tell every where he went how Northwest Texas "Execs" some of whom had traveled almost as far as he did to be present, showed their love and loyalty to their alma mater by making the sacrifice necessary.

The "Execs" some of whom had been feeling that the University's career would be set back or impeded by events at Austin, went home with a new conception of the situation and that not that the troubles are over or that the institution is yet out of the woods, but that whatever is done now the eventual results will be beneficial.

BRITISH FOOD SITUATION NOW SERIOUS

Greek King Bitter In Denunciation Of Allies

KING OF GREECE

By Associated Press. Athens, Jan. 14.—By a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press. King Constantine received the Associated Press correspondent in audience this morning just before the latter left for America. This is the Greek New Year's day, and before the interview the correspondent assisted with King Constantine, Queen Sophie, the Princess Helena and the young Prince Paul at the special New Year's ceremony, at which a band of Greeks sang choruses in praise of the king and country in the great hall of the palace.

"I am sorry you are leaving us," King Constantine began abruptly. "I don't believe there is a man or woman in Greece who does not feel very profoundly what the great thing it has been for us, during this most critical period in our national history, to have a correspondent of the Associated Press to tell the world with absolute impartiality, the truth of what is taking place. They tell me, however, that a good many of your telegrams to the Associated Press never got through the censor."

"The king laughed, a little ruefully. "You have nothing on me," he added. "I am afraid there is no way."

"After all, all we ask is fair play. We have been sorely tried these last two years, and we don't intend to have always been angry under the constant irritation of the ever increasing Allied control of every little thing in our own private life, letters, telegrams, police, everything."

"Moreover, by taking an active hand in our internal politics, England and France especially have succeeded in alienating our admiration, a sympathy and a devotion towards them on the part of the Greek people that at the beginning of the war was virtually a unanimous condition. I am a soldier myself and know nothing about politics, but it seems to me that when you start to fight with almost the whole country passionately in your favor, and end with it almost unanimously against you, you have succeeded in accomplishing your purpose."

"The only trouble with that is that they make us pay for the errors of their policy. The people of Greece are paying for them now in suffering and death from exposure and hunger while France and England starve us out because they have made the mistake of assuming that their man, Venizelos, could deliver the Greek army and the Greek people to the entire powers whenever they want regardless of the interests of Greece as an independent nation."

"There are just two things about our desperate struggle to save ourselves from destruction that I am glad to ask the Associated Press to try to make clear to the people of America. The result will come out some time in the world cannot keep the truth from the people. I understand, I do not presume to sit in judgment on the entire powers."

"The first point is this. We have two problems on our hands here, an internal one and an external one. The entire powers have made the fundamental mistake of considering the two as one. They said to themselves: "Venizelos is the staunchest man in Greece and he is heart and soul with us. He can deliver the Greeks wherever he wants to. Let us back Venizelos, therefore, and when we need the Greek army, he will turn it over to us."

MUST DESTROY U-BOATS BEFORE ALLIES CAN WIN

THIS VIEW OF SITUATION IS EXPRESSED BY BRITISH PREMIER, WHO SAYS DRASTIC STEPS MUST NOW BE ENCOUNTERED

SCANT FOOD SUPPLY

Stocks Lower Than Ever Before, Says Lloyd George—Declares Present Tonnage Is Not Sufficient For Needs of Allies

By Associated Press. London, Feb. 23.—David Lloyd George, British premier, presented to the House of Commons in a speech lasting an hour and a half, his program for coping with the problem of shortage of shipping space. The premier gave full scope to the opportunity for optimism and endeavored to concentrate attention on the serious side of the situation facing us owing to the shortage of food stocks and the German submarine menace.

"Under the first head, Mr. Lloyd George outlined a scheme for speeding up the farmer by guaranteeing high prices for his commodities over a period of years, thus inviting him to grow more crops, such of available land. This he contemplated by the announcement that the land owner would be actually forced to cultivate his land.

"The premier said there was no sure way to victory without hunting the submarine from the seas. European sacrifices, he added, were necessary from the British public. He said the government proposed to dispense with all non-essential imports to save tonnage. There was a crowded house at the special meeting held to hear the premier's statement on the restriction of non-essential imports to save tonnage for the war effort."

"The premier said the ultimate success of the allied cause depended on the solution of the tonnage problem with which they were confronted. Before the war British tonnage had been just adequate and since that time there has been an enormous increase in the demand for tonnage. More than a million tons of British shipping had been allotted to France, he said.

"The premier said that for some time there has been a shortage of tonnage required for the nation and even a slight shortage in the tonnage for military purposes. The nation should realize absolutely what the conditions were, he said.

"If we take drastic measures," he said, "we can cope with the submarine menace, but if the nation is not prepared to accept drastic measures for dealing with the menace, disaster is before us."

WANTS TEXANS TO REALIZE THEY OWN UNIVERSITY

client, and neighbors and friends, how to obey and respect the law. The other class strives to educate the client and neighbors and friends how to obey and disregard the law.

Judge McConnell pleaded that the standards of the University might be such that men of the first class he mentioned might emerge from its portals.

President Vinson was accorded a tremendous ovation when he arose to speak, after an introduction by the toastmaster in which he was given assurance of the loyalty and support of the Exes of this district.

Dr. Vinson spoke first of the pleasure he felt at being able to attend and of his regret in not being able to fill all the engagements which originally were made for him here. He referred somewhat humorously to the trouble he had in getting his hands and said that, after all, he could not say that he had not enjoyed it to a certain extent.

"I'm inclined toward pacifism," he said, "but I've got some Scotch blood in me, and some French and a little Irish, and I don't know what else. I don't especially care for fighting, but when the cause for which I must fight is so entirely worth while, it is my place to fight."

He said he would not go into the details of all that had happened, as his train left at 12:15 p. m., and he wanted to get the train before then. Discussing some of the things that he thought the University would do in the future, he enumerated two reasons.

"In the first place," he said, "it has welded the ex-students of the University together as never before. It has brought them together as never before. I can't tell you what it has meant to me to have the letters piled high up on my desk, telling me they are with us in this fight, offering to help in any way they can and calling on me to lead them. That's not a small thing, my friends. It's a big thing. It means big things for the University."

"In the second place, the trouble will bring about a more careful study of the education needs of the state. There is already a movement on foot providing for educational commission, and I believe it will pass both Houses. If it passes, all that we have been through is well worth the struggle and the sacrifice, and all good is built on a foundation of sacrifice.

"The spirit of the University is big enough to endure it; the strength of the University is great enough to stand it; the ideals of the University are high enough to command it."

"There is the University's greatest need? We need a new plant, better equipment, but that's not the greatest need. I have been doing some figuring since I became president, and I have calculated that it would take $4,500,000 for the main university at Austin and $500,000 for the Galveston branch to provide the plant and equipment that we ought to have for the present enrollment of the University. These are big figures for a man not accustomed to thinking in millions of dollars in his mind's eye. A plant that would not cause Texas, when they visit other states and see their magnificent University buildings, to think with shame of the shacks that we have."

Dr. Vinson outlined in detail his idea of the plant that the University should have. It included a new main building to replace the present antiquated structure, with buildings for the educational, law, engineering and scientific departments in each of the four corners of the campus. The purchase of additional land east of the campus was included, with dormitories for 2,000 men and 1,000 women, students, consisting of a big athletic stadium where the boys may work off, in the right, the exuberance of their natures instead of going down town and raising a fuss and making the policemen hunt their holes."

"But," continued Dr. Vinson, "much as we need adequate equipment, that is the least of our troubles. The University has been suggested that proper financial support is the greatest need. It certainly is a great need. I believe that the University should have an assured income that it knows it will get, either by legislative or

THINK THIS CITY'S CHANCES ARE SLIM

Agricultural Agents Do Not Believe Wichita Falls Will Land A. & M.

Wichita Falls' chance of securing the location of the West Texas A. & M. is a very slight one, according to what seemed to be the consensus of opinion of the farm demonstration agents who were here for the meeting just closed. None of them would positively express the belief that this city could not get the college, and a good many recognized several advantages that this place had to offer for the school, but the opinion that the city was located too far from the center of the territory that the school was designed to serve seemed to be a general one.

"You are just too far up in the corner of the territory the school is designed to serve," said one of them in discussing the school. "While you have a number of advantages to offer, not the least of which are your railroads radiating in every direction, I think that your location will prove fatal to your chances. If the city was only a little farther west, it might be different. However, the committee will surely investigate the advantages of your city, and it might be that you will be able to secure the college after all. Personally, I think that either Lubbock, Sweetwater or Spur will secure the school. All are centrally located, and all have excellent railroad facilities, with the possible exception of Spur."

At Spur, large holdings of a powerful land syndicate, and they have offered the school all the land needed. This may not cut any figure in the local market, but it is a serious disadvantage in the long run, as it is also true that only one small tract will be the bill calls for at least two. Lubbock, I understand, is all right regarding the fact of settling out the advantages of a location at that point, and is preparing to make a determined fight for the school, as centrally located than Lubbock. I do not believe that the locating committee will precipitate in the matter of locating the school, reserving their decision until they have thoroughly gone into the advantages and disadvantages of every site offered."

TWO FINES ARE ASSESSED ON CHARGE OF VAGRANCY

A white man and woman who were taken by Officer Frank Burns from an uptown room on Ohio avenue last night, plead guilty to vagrancy in the police court this morning and were fined $5 each. This is the fourth arrest of this kind which has been made since the closing of the flats the first of the month. The woman in this case however, is said by the police not to have been a former inmate of the flats.

Six of the nine cases coming before Judge Whitelaw this morning were for violations of the traffic ordinance. Five cases of speeding were fined by Traffic Officer Mack Ashford, in two of them a charge of running with the muffler open being an additional count. Four fines of $5 were assessed in those cases, the other case going over. A complaint filed by Officer Burns for running without a license number resulted in a fine. Only one case of intoxication was tried by the court this morning, and a fine of $5 was assessed in it.

An interesting exposition of the significance of the ark was given by Dr. Cross, introducing to many of his audience, no doubt, a new line of thought concerning the Trinity as noted in the Bible. "The ark signifies the church of Christ, built of one kind of wood, humanity," he said. "It was three stories high, emblematic of the Godhead: Father, Son and Holy Ghost. There were three dispensations, Patriarchal, Messianic and Christian. Jesus had three close companions among the apostles whom he took with Him to the Mount of Transfiguration. They were joined by Moses, representing the Patriarchal age and Elijah, prophet of the Messiah and with Christ the emblem of the Christian dispensation the trinity was completed. In the betrayal, death and resurrection of Christ we see the fulfilment of three again in element. Peter denied Him three times, then three times affirmed his love and obedience when the Savior was risen from the dead. Christ was crucified between two thieves, there being three crosses on the hill of Calvary. There were three inscriptions above his head in three different languages. For three days and three nights He laid in the tomb. There are three great commands given to the world, repent, believe and be baptized, and three great promises made by the Lord, remission of sins, the gift of the Holy Spirit and eternal life. And in countless other ways the trinity is demonstrated. And do you dare say this is only an accident? Why you might as well close your eyes, throw the alphabet on the floor and take there from a Shakespeare's Macbeth or a Milton's Paradise Lost. Then the ark had but one window, one light. This finds its parallel in God's word, the Bible. The Bible to Christianity is all sufficient, a light unto thy feet and a lamp unto thy path. And finally the ark had only one door, typical of Christ, the only entrance to salvation, the all sufficient way."

KEMP ASKS VOTES FOR AMENDMENT

URGES BANKERS IN CONVENTION TO SUPPORT IRRIGATION MEASURE

SNIDER IS ELECTED

Wichitan Made Vice-President of District—Many From This City Attend

An address by J. A. Kemp at the district convention of bankers at Fort Worth Thursday, urging support for the irrigation and conservation amendment to the constitution when it is submitted at the polls, was among the features of the meeting.

Mr. Kemp's address to the convention follows: "Mr. President and Gentlemen: I assure you that I greatly appreciate the honor of being accorded the privilege of talking to you a few moments upon the important subject assigned me on the program, today.

The greatest civilization and wealth of the ancients was obtained when the pursuit of agriculture was in the ascendant, and the lowest when the course thereof declined. The great irrigation canals along the Nile enabled Egypt to furnish food for Imperial Rome and made her the granary for the ancient world.

Another serious economic question to be met is that of homes for the people. In the older states all of the available agricultural land is being utilized. These are the very foundations of the tenant class unable to find homes to purchase. This condition of affairs exists to some extent in Texas, and it is growing so great has the need become for homes that the national government has set aside the proceeds of all its public lands to be used in the construction of great storage reservoirs in the arid northwest to conserve the storm waters for irrigation.

Texas contains an area of arable land greater than the German Empire, that wonderful nation that has been able to hold it for nearly all the great nations of Europe for more than two years, in the most Titanic struggle in the history of the world. For two and one half years her enemies have maintained a complete blockade of all her ports compelling her to rely upon her own resources strictly for the food with which to feed her great armies as well as those at home not engaged in the actual conflict.

Germany owes her ability to persevere with such a stupendous task to the fact, and that one fact alone, the scientific farming methods employed by her wonderful people. With the aid of scientific fertilization and scientific tillage her lands have been made to yield more than triple what was formerly obtained. The result of agriculture with them has become a real science. They employ the most skilled agriculturists to study soil conditions, who determine after the most scientific and painstaking investigation the proper fertilizer and the quantity requisite for producing the best results in the growing of the crop wanted, the crops grow and furnish food for her people millions.

Before the outbreak of this terrible war Germany supplied America as well as many other countries, with a large percentage of their sugar produced from the sugar beet which under scientific culture has been grown so successfully in that country.

While none of us, I am sure, are willing to lend our approval of their methods of warfare, nor the spirit which prompted their rulers in bringing about this frightful and bloody conflict, yet we are compelled to admit that the seriousness of many respects are the most wonderful race of people known to civilization. We can learn many profitable lessons from their remarkable achievements in the development of their agricultural resources.

"The time has come when it is the imperative duty of the banker and the merchant to cooperate with the farmer in working out his problems along more scientific lines. I desire to call your attention briefly to a very important matter affecting the agricultural interests of our state. The present legislature has adopted a resolution proposing an amendment to our constitution that will enable our law makers to remedy a very serious defect in our laws pertaining to the formation of irrigation and reclamation districts for irrigation or leasing and drainage. At present our constitution limits the bonds that can be issued for any of these purposes to one fourth the assessed value of the land to be served in such districts. This limitation has proven a very serious handicap to those communities desiring to organize irrigation or levee districts under existing laws.

Lands that need to be reclaimed by leveling and drainage or the lands in those areas where the rainfall is deficient and requiring irrigation, are assessed at very low valuations. It is, therefore, apparent to any thoughtful man who studies the subject, that it would be an utter impossibility to construct any kind of irrigation or levee system with the money arising from the proceeds of a bond issue valued at one fourth of the assessed value of the land. In quite a number of instances irrigation and levee districts have been organized under our present statutes. They have endeavored to get around this difficulty by anticipating their valuations, according to actual consent to have their lands valued at what would be their estimated value after the completion of the levee or irrigation system. This is a very unsatisfactory method and one that can be in my opinion, is successfully employed to any extent very long. Men who buy bonds bearing five or six per cent interest want to know beyond doubt that there could arise no legal complications that might call into question their validity.

Now, gentlemen, there are many places in the semi-arid portions of our state where storage reservoirs could be constructed at compensatory cost to conserve the water to irrigate vast areas of land. The construction of such reservoirs to impound the flood waters would aid in preventing much of the damage caused from floods during periods of excessive rainfall. Every few years the rains come in torrents. Every water course becomes a raging stream, carrying the floods to the rivers that flow through the low lands of Southern Texas. The ruin and disaster to homes and lands, to railroads and other property, is a memory fresh in the recollection of thousands of sufferers. The value of this water, which after causing ruin and wreck in the fruitful valleys of the Brazos,

Colorado and the Trinity, has lost itself forever in the sea. Can there be any reason under the sun, why our citizens should not be provided with adequate facilities for overcoming these difficulties? There are many hundreds of thousands of acres of land along the Trinity, the Brazos, the Colorado and other streams in Texas that by the construction of an intelligent and comprehensive system of leveling and drainage could be made as fertile as the valley of the Nile.

"In my opinion, this proposed amendment is one of the most constructive pieces of legislation that was ever proposed by any legislature in our state. Its adoption by the people will mean the dawn of a new era in the development of the material resources of our great state. I am much gratified to know that this measure has been accorded such favorable consideration by our law makers; it having passed the Senate without a dissenting vote and met practically with the same favorable reception by the House members, there being only four votes against it, with 122 for.

"I sincerely hope that the bankers and business interests of our state generally will study this question and lend their aid in urging the voters of Texas to the great importance of its adoption. The proposition of this resolution have endeavored to make it broad enough to cover every phase of conservation, irrigation, drainage, leveling and forestry. At the same time they have been careful to see to it that the tax burden shall be borne only by those who receive the direct benefits. It is intended that it shall be purely local option in its operation. It will be left for each community to determine for themselves, by vote of the owners of lands to be effected in their respective localities, the burden of taxation to be equitably distributed according to benefits received.

CHILDREN ACTIVE IN CLEAN UP WORK

Inspection of San Jacinto District Reveals They Are Doing Better Than Parents

Inspection of the San Jacinto school district by the district chairman of the Civic League, Mrs. J. Coburn and Mrs. C. W. Deavers this morning in company with representatives from the city sanitary department revealed in a large measure the value of the Junior Civic League and the effective work done by the children of the San Jacinto organization. This inspection is the first held in any of the districts and is in the nature of a preliminary to the spring cleanup which will extend throughout March and April. Though some improvement over previous years is noted in the general condition of premises in this district visited by the ladies this morning, the ground covered extending from Scott to Brook between Seventh street and the river, there is still a good deal to be accomplished before the conditions can be declared ideal, according to the inspectors. Where homes and grounds were in still a good condition, with all litter and trash removed and cans collected in orderly piles it was generally found that this was the work of some Junior League or time after time the inspectors were given the information that the children of the home were responsible for the attractive conditions of yards and neighborhoods. The residents of the district inspected were informed that the city wagon will make the rounds the latter part of next week and will haul the trash for a small sum. However, it will be equally as satisfactory to employ any other means of disposing of the rubbish according to the city sanitary department, the results being the main thing.

SMALL BLAZE AT HIGH SCHOOL IS SOON QUENCHED

Fire of unknown origin at 12:30 today in the southeast room on the first floor of the south annex to the high school building destroyed a teacher's desk and damaged the floor. The room which was used by the English classes of Miss Humphrey had been unoccupied for some time, the blaze being discovered by students passing through the hall when the desk was almost consumed. No alarm was turned to the city fire department, the fire being extinguished by the janitor and the principal, J. B. Jones, who covered himself with story and himself and much of the landscape as well with a flood from the extinguishing system with which the building is equipped. The loss probably will be within $50. There were a quantity of examination papers in the desk, besides class records and school books.

AGENTS HEAR OF HOMESTEAD LAW

CLARENCE OUSLEY SAYS MEASURE IS UNJUST—URGES SEVERAL CHANGES

MANY PAPERS READ

Variety of Subjects Discussed, Agents To Be Guests at Banquet Tonight

Texas homestead law was roundly scored by Clarence Ousley, director of the extension department of the Texas A. & M. in addressing northwest farm demonstration agents convention this morning. His attention is all right, but its construction is such that it permits disreputable traders who unscrupulously desire to take advantage of it. For example a hotel in Dallas is being held as a homestead. Or a man might go anywhere in Wichita county and buy 200 acres of land and develop an oil field on the land and hold it from his creditors under our homestead law as it is presently constructed. It is going to be changed, and it is going to be changed in such a manner as not to withdraw any of the protection for the women and children, but in such a manner as not to permit its being used by the unscrupulous as a means to cheat his creditors. The matter came up during a discussion of the Farm Loan banks by Mr. Ousley for the benefit of the farm agents. Mr. Ousley expressed himself believing that Texas was made a damn good deal to itself because of its peculiar homestead law, and the further belief that it will result in a very conservative policy by the Texas bank in the loaning of money for the improvement of homesteads. "This will mean that while the Oklahoma or Kansas farmer can borrow money for the building of barns, fences, the buying of fine stock or the sinking of deep wells, that the Texas farmer can not, or can borrow in limited quantities only," said Mr. Ousley. The belief that the alteration of the law was a matter of time and education only, was also expressed by the speaker. This afternoon Mr. Ousley discussed the relations of the county agent to the school superintendents and the county commissioners and gave an outline of cooperative efforts where by they might obtain the best results. R. O. Tackett, Lubbock county agent, gave the agents an interesting outline of the manner in which he had systematized his work in that county. Interesting bits of his experiences in the work in Donley county were recounted for the assembly by L. A. Reinders of Clarendon. Methods by which he had secured the cooperation and support of business men in the farm demonstration work in Palo Pinto county were outlined for the other agents by A. T. Chaney of Mineral Wells. The subject of sweet potato warehouses was discussed by Dr. R. H. Harkey of the A. & M. College at College Station. Benefits being derived from the farm demonstration work in Colleton county were recounted in a paper read by L. T. Hunter, the demonstration agent at Wellington. Other speakers at the afternoon session were: E. Gentry, John T. Egan of Seymour, H. H. Williamson of College Station, Harmon Boston of Amarillo and W. M. Mirkoff of Dalhart. R. L. Poy, dairy expert of the A. & M. college, who was expected to lecture on the selection and care of dairy cattle, was prevented from being in attendance. The demonstration agents were very much interested in the dairy barns of R. B. Woodall and J. A. Kemp which they visited while on an automobile drive over the city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Woodall and the attendants in charge of both places pointed out and explained the features of particular interest at the two dairies. The agents expressed particular admiration for Ross Hildard de Haan, a ten gallon cow at the Woodall dairy, and for the Holstein and Guernsey milks at the Kemp dairy. Tonight at the St. James the dem-

The P. & O. No. 111 Lister

This lister is known to farmers wherever sold as P. & O. No. 11, but the improved type is called No. 111 on account of important improvements.

There are more of them in the hands of farmers than all other makes combined, over 2,000 sold by one dealer in one county in West Texas. The special features on this Lister made it deserving of its immense sale. Its use is not confined to preparing for row crops; it is now almost universally used for plowing for small grain crops by listing and re-listing, leaving the ground in oval waves, which not only catches and holds the moisture but prevents the loose soils of the West from blowing away.

The adjusting link on front end of beam is an important exclusive feature on the No. 111, absolutely preventing the point from running below the desired depth. The wheels are provided with dust-proof boxes, an immense help in the sandy loam lands of the West. The feeding device absolutely deposits one seed at a time of any of the row crops, besides can be equipped for both corn and cotton. You will have to see this wonderful improvement to appreciate it. The tilting hoppers allow change of plates without emptying them. Furnished with either disc or shovel covers. This Lister embodied many other important features that will convince you that it is the best on the market.

The P. & O. No. 123 4-Wheel Lister
This lister has all the advantage of the No. 111 and in addition has rear wheels. This is desired in many localities as it enables the operator to see the seed as planted. The rear wheels have cushion springs to hold them in line with the row and following the unevenness of the ground and conform to the ridge without straining the rear frame, compelling also, the Lister to remain in proper working position at all times. The friction lock disengages automatically, allowing the wheels to castor and turn round in a very small space. We manufacture the most complete line of Two Row Implements on the market. Ask your dealer and if you cannot be supplied through him, write us for circular and special introductory offer.

COURT OPPOSED BY FORT WORTH

OBJECTION TO CREATION OF WICHITA FALLS FEDERAL DISTRICT DEVELOPS

PROBABLY TOO LATE

Fort Worth Complains That Bill Takes Out of Its District

The federal measure creating a federal court in Wichita Falls has aroused opposition in Fort Worth, it was learned today, and interests in that city are to make an effort to prevent the bill going into effect. They object to the bill because the counties in the Wichita Falls district are taken out of the Fort Worth district. The measure has already gone to the president and perhaps has already received his approval, consequently it is thought doubtful whether Fort Worth's opposition comes in time to serve that city's purpose. However, it is certain that steps necessary to protect Wichita Falls' interests will be taken. It is felt here that the Fort Worth complaint is based altogether upon selfish motives. The Fort Worth Record of this morning says: Opposition is developing in Fort Worth to the proposed bill now before congress, which creates a new federal court at Wichita Falls, most of the counties in which district will be taken from the Fort Worth federal court district.

Another serious objection which is being urged against the bill, as proposed, is that it provides for the opening of the full term of the district court at Wichita Falls on the third Monday in November, and under the terms of the proposed bill, only two weeks would be allowed for the term here, whereas heretofore it has continued for about eight weeks. Five weeks of that time would be given to Wichita Falls, under the proposed bill. United States Commissioner George W. Mitchell said Thursday that the bill had already passed both houses of congress, but in view of the fact that certain amendments and changes were tacked on in the house of representatives, which forces the bill into the hands of a conference committee, it is hoped by the people of this city to prevail upon the United States senators from Texas to amend the bill in such a way that it will not seriously interfere with the court term in this city.

Telegrams have been sent by various individuals to Senator Culberson, in which the situation is thoroughly explained. No concerted action has as yet developed, however, according to C. C. Gamm, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who said his organization has not entered the fight.

CITY TO PROVIDE MORE FIRE PLUGS

Council Heeds Request of Chief McClure—New Paving Contest at $1.28 Per Yard

Without fire plugs within reach of the amount of hose carried on one and in some instances on both fire trucks, the fact that a number of houses in different parts of the city are without fire protection was brought out at last night's council meeting when Fire Chief J. L. McClure asked the council for the installation of three more fire plugs.

A special meeting of the council will be held Monday afternoon for the purpose of inspecting the three places and establishing the advisability of the installation of the plugs. The three places where the plugs were requested by the fire chief are the corner of Florida and Galveston streets, at Florida and Taylor and on Fourteenth between Brook and Grace. In the latter place especially the reported conditions are bad, 17 new houses being practically out of reach of the hose, a number of them being beyond the reach of that carried on both trucks. Recently near Eighth and Taylor a garage burned while the department stood helpless, unable to reach the nearest plug, said the chief. "There is always a chance of an accident to one of the trucks in answering an alarm at the speed they have to travel, which renders the other apparatus practically useless when the nearest plug requires the hose on both trucks for reaching the nearest plug.

"I don't want to put the city to any unnecessary expense," said Chief McClure in discussing the matter last night, "but I feel very uneasy about these places. I feel that we will have a fire here sometime which we will be unable to reach without the additional plugs. Then when we lose a house from inability to reach a fire plug, the fire department has to stand the brunt of the consequent abuse."

Without going into executive session, but requesting those present to allow the council to discuss the matter in privacy, the council decided to make a new contract for paving work with I. H. Roberts at his advanced price, $1.28 per square yard. This decision was made after a lengthy and exhaustive investigation of prices of materials, and the profit to be made at that price was decided to be a very reasonable one in view of the rise in price of all materials. Quite a little figuring has been done by the council during the three meetings at which the matter was discussed with a view of the city doing its own paving, but after figuring the rise in all paving materials and the probable further rise in the price of some of them, the council decided to let, well, enough alone, and continue the paving by contract. Mr. Roberts' former contract price was $1.10 the advance being 18 cents on the square yard.

TODAY SPECIAL FEATURE DAY AT MAJESTIC

Baby Marie Osborne lost her amateur standing as a guileless child and assumed the professional dignity of an honest to goodness leading lady back to the free spaces of the "never never land." Now she is to be seen at the Majestic Theatre Friday in "Shadows and Sunshine" one of those "once upon a time" butterfles through whose gauzy wing we see life in rare and delightful bits. Five reels isn't a scene too long for Baby Marie, who "Gauk" Heaven, doesn't realize the charm of her chubbiness in the self and never overdoes the "saccharine stuff." Her utter unconsciousness of herself is a revelation in art particularly in one so young and young points encouragingly to a brilliant stage career. PRODUCERS PLAN ANOTHER WILBARGER COUNTY TEST

(Vernon Record.) A drilling crew of the Producers Oil Company Monday began assembling material and machinery on the farm of R. L. Castlebury, eight and a half miles directly south of Vernon, preparatory to beginning work on a new well. Incidentally this is the eighth well sunk, or being sunk, by the Producers company in the Vernon field, and is nearer Vernon than any other project in the territory under lease to that concern. Five of the wells are located on the Waggoner ranch, one on the Wheeler place and the last on Mr. Castlebury's farm. It is noteworthy that not one of the wells in this part of the Vernon field has been brought in "dry." Of the wells on the Waggoner property, two are producing oil in paying quantities, while the other two are strong gas wells. It is impossible to learn definitely the output of these wells as the Producers people maintain a rule of secrecy concerning all their development operations. Drilling is still under way on the other three wells in the field. The beginning of operations on the Castlebury place carries the development further west and further north than any previous well started by the company.

4 DAYS MARRIED LIFE SUFFICIENT

Petition For Divorce Alleges That Period Long Enough For One Husband

Although his married life lasted only four days according to the petition in which he asks the court for a dissolution of his marriage vows, a Wichita Falls husband secured sufficient material in that short and eventful experience to make out a lengthy bill of complaint concerning his wife's conduct. "Soon after our marriage, she began to drink intoxicating liquors to excess in her home," the petition alleges in one place. She frequently would curse and abuse him, according to another of the allegations. She went car riding with other men and women, drinking and carousing and otherwise conducting herself as to bring shame and disgrace on him, continued the document. This conduct, he said, caused him to give up hope of their further living together and make the thought of such unsupportable, whereby the court is petitioned to dissolve the marriage bonds which existed during this brief trip on the troubled waters of the matrimonial sea.

This Is a Fact--

That no coffee man will dare dispute—Coffee begins to deteriorate as soon as roasted and the longer it is roasted the worse it gets. Ask any coffee man—The first thing it loses is its delightful aroma, and next its strength and healthfulness. A tin can only adds to the cost—it cannot retain the aroma. Coffee blending is a matter of painstaking study and experiment, not the size or location of the town in which you live. Green coffee is a commodity like wheat, corn, cotton, etc., and is for sale to all at the same price. We have over a quarter of a century of experience in coffee blending, and have applied ourselves diligently to the production of the best cup results. Don't you believe we can best serve you?
