

PLANT TOUR FRIDAY

U.S. Ag Officials To Visit Friona

Last week, Mrs. Carl Maurer brought us a clipping from an Iowa paper, and the piece was so closely related to National Farm Safety Week that we held it up to print this week, during our annual "Safety Week" promotion.

We realize that farm folks are busy this time of year with irrigating and keeping up with the crops, but we do hope our farm readers will take the time to read this quip, which has been re-printed by numerous publications, using a bit of humor to get across points of safety. (It might be worth your time to read it)

"Thou shalt diminish thy speed when approaching ditches and upon turning corners, thereby smiting prospects of thee having to support the weight of thy tractor with thine neck.

"Thou shalt proceed slowly on rough or slippery ground or roadways, for otherwise thy tractor may land most painfully atop thee.

"Thou shalt hitch drawbar loads low and forsake wrapping chain or cable about the axle, lest thy tractor wrap itself around its own axle and smother thee beneath.

"Thou shalt without fail present thyself to thy tractor fit and ready to operate it well and safely, and thou shalt reap a handsome day's work and good health for the evening meal.

"Thou shalt implore and require thy small sons and daughters (and thy neighbor's offspring) to keep themselves apart and distant from farm machinery.

"Thou shalt refuse to heed the begging of thy small sons and daughters to accompany thee on the tractor, and neither shall thou invite them to so travel.

"Thou shalt not require nor permit thy son to perform tractor tasks without first ascertaining if he is capable enough in body and temperament and thus satisfied, that he is sufficiently and properly trained to operate a tractor without risk to his precious life.

"Thou shalt without fail interrupt the flow of power before exploring, reaching or poking about to unplug or adjust machinery, particularly if thou treasures thy limbs.

"Thou shalt temper thy speed when crossing slopes and when going up or down hill.

"Thou shalt faithfully cause thine eyes to remain open to discern precisely where thy tractor and these are going, and furthermore, to spy hidden obstacles and other dangerous hazards so thou can avoid them before thee and thy tractor suffer misfortune.

"Thou shalt mind thy manners on the roadway, acting with courtesy to highway travelers by not entering the roadway until after thou has halted and established that the way is clear, by always signaling what thou art contriving to next do, and by decorating the rear of thy machinery with a slow-moving vehicle emblem to proclaim to thy brethren behind thee that thou are proceeding slowly along the way.

"Thou shalt render thy tractor out of gear and stoutly set the brakes before dismounting.

"Thou shalt pluck the ignition keys for safekeeping to thwart a curious child from giving life to thy tractor's engine at the risk of his own life and that of others.

"Thou shalt never permit a gear to turn nor a wheel to roll until all guards and safety devices are in place for, verily they mean to shield thee from grave harm.

"Thou shalt weight the front of thy tractor to balance it should the drawbar be heavily burdened with such as a two-wheel spreader, and also place upon the rear sufficient weight to effect balance when thy tractor is encumbered with a front-end loader.

"Thou shalt manage thy tractor and front-end loader with skill, traveling about with the bucket low, and forsaking lanky starts and stops and wild changes of direction, for otherwise thy travel may amount to nothing more than a side-ways flop.

"Thou shalt manage thy tractor and front-end loader with skill, traveling about with the bucket low, and forsaking lanky starts and stops and wild changes of direction, for otherwise thy travel may amount to nothing more than a side-ways flop.

The Friona area will be host on Friday to the largest delegation of Washington legislative officials to ever visit the area, when Congressman Bob Price brings a special delegation for a visit to Missouri Beef Packers.

Congressman Price is host to members of the House Agriculture Committee, as well as U.S. Department of Agriculture officials, including assistant secretary of agriculture Clarence D. Palmby.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin, who had been invited to tour the region with the 19-member House Agriculture Committee, has indicated that he will not be able to attend.

The delegation is due to visit Missouri Beef Packers' Friona plant at 3:15 p.m. during the first day of a full two-day schedule in Price's 19th Congressional District.

Congressmen expected to make the tour include W.R. (Bob) Poage, Graham Purcell and Eligio de la Garza, all of Texas; Paige Belcher of Oklahoma, Keith Sebellus of Kansas, John McMillan of South Carolina, George Goodling of Pennsylvania; Martin McNealey and Allard Lowenstern, both of New York and Robert Mathias of California.

Also, John Myers of Indiana, Clarence Miller of Ohio, Frank Stubblefield of Kentucky, Thomas Kleppe of North Dakota, Maston O'Neal of Georgia, Thomas Foley of Washington, Jorge Cordova of Puerto Rico, Ed Jones of Tennessee and John Zwach of Minnesota.

Other USDA officials expected to come include John Folts, legislative officer for the congressional liaison office and James V. Smith, administrator for the Farmers Home Administration. Others also may attend.

Price set up the tour to familiarize members of the agriculture committee with the various agricultural and farming operations of this area.

The group is to arrive in Amarillo late Thursday. Stops on Friday are scheduled at Randall County Feed Yards; Tullia, Dimmitt, Hereford, Friona, Plainview, Halfway Experiment Station, Jimmy Dean Pork Plant and Pampa.

On Saturday, the delegation is slated to visit Memphis, Perryton, Stratford, Dumas, Delhart, Hartley and Sunray.

Saturday night, the group will attend the "Texas" production at Palo Duro Canyon.

WRECK SCENE . . . Shown are the pickup and car which were involved in a head-on collision at the intersection of Highway 60 and Etta Avenue in Friona Tuesday morning. Claude McDowell, owner of Claude's Mobil Service, and James Cooper, were involved in the crash, and both have been hospitalized.

Highway 60 Collision Leaves Two Injured

Two persons were injured in a near head-on collision Tuesday morning at the intersection of Etta Avenue and West Highway 60.

Claude McDowell, 38, owner of Claude's Mobil Service located on one corner of the intersection, and James Cooper, 18, of Bovina, were the accident victims.

Investigating officers stated that Cooper was travelling east on Highway 60, and McDowell was attempting to turn left at the intersection.

Cooper was driving a 1964 Oldsmobile, and McDowell was driving a 1966 Ford pickup.

Cooper suffered a broken leg, as well as facial abrasions and lacerations. He was transferred to Amarillo following treatment at Parmer County Community Hospital.

McDowell suffered a possible broken cheek bone, facial lacerations and leg lacerations. He was described as in "satisfactory" condition Wednesday morning.

The accident was the second such collision for the particular intersection, and at least the fourth involving Friona people in a month's period.

All farmers in the county are invited to attend and bring a neighbor, according to Elvin Wilson, president of the county organization.

IOOF Chief To Visit

Claude Morris, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, state of Texas, will pay his official visit to District 4 of the IOOF on Tuesday, July 22, during a meeting at Friona Lodge No. 203.

Morris, master of the Grand Lodge of the State of Texas, will conduct a special session of Grand Lodge, for the purpose of conferring the Past Grand and Grand Lodge Degrees according to Billy Gene Zachary, Grand Master of the Friona Lodge.

The meeting will be for all Oddfellows in the area, and all are issued a cordial invitation to attend.

Other IOOF lodges in District 4 are located at Hereford, Dimmitt, Muleshoe and Earth. Oddfellows from those lodges will be guests at next Tuesday's meeting.

Bookmobile Sidetracked Two Weeks

The High Plains Library Bookmobile has been out of service the last two weeks and was unable to make the usual routes.

The Bookmobile did not go to Circleback, Bula, Amherst, Springlake, Earth, Pleasant Valley, Sudan, Morton, Whiteface, Lehman, Bledsoe, Maple, West Camp, Lariat, Bovina, Lums Chapel, Spade, Hart Camp, Fieldton, Olton and Littlefield.

"A new motor is being installed in the Bookmobile and we hope in the near future it will be running again. We do hope this hasn't inconvenienced our customers too much and hope to be of service to you again on our next scheduled stop in your community," says bookmobile librarian, Lorene Sooter.

FIRST CUSTOMER . . . Glenn E. Reeve, Jr. is shown presenting the keys to a new Oldsmobile Vista Cruiser to Mrs. H.H. Horton, Jr., as the Hortons were the first Oldsmobile customers for Reeve's brand-new Oldsmobile agency. The company is announcing the addition of the Oldsmobile line this week.

ADDS AGENCY

Reeve Is Friona Oldsmobile Dealer

Friona once again has an Oldsmobile agency, it was announced this week.

Reeve Chevrolet Co. is the new dealer, according to announcements from Oldsmobile and Glenn E. Reeve of the local agency.

Friona had been without an Oldsmobile agency for some four years. Former "Olds" dealer in Friona was Parmer County Implement Co.

"We are happy to be able to offer this additional line of fine automobiles to motorists in the Friona area. We know that there are many Oldsmobile owners in the area, and we hope to be able to serve them," Reeve said in making the announcement.

Reeve's building at 510 Main Street was remodeled in 1966, to more than double the company's service area. Reeve has been the local Chevrolet dealer for the past 31 years.

The local agency has already had its first customer for a new Oldsmobile, as Hollis Horton bought a 1969 Vista Cruiser Station Wagon earlier this week.

Reeve indicated that the company would probably not have Oldsmobiles to show until the 1970 models come out in approximately 60 days. However, they will be able to secure some 1969 models from other area Oldsmobile dealers.

Further details of the new agency can be found in the official announcements on pages 6 and 7 of this issue.

TAX RATE SET

Board Approves Hike For Teachers' Pay

Teachers in the Friona Independent School District will receive $500 above the new state recommended minimum salaries, according to a motion passed by the district's board of trustees at their meeting last Saturday.

The board voted to leave all of Friona teachers' salaries at $500 above the state level.

In other business, the trustees set the school tax rate for 1969-70 at $1.50 per $100 evaluation, the same as for 1968.

The tentative tax roll for the coming year has been set at $30,339,817 by tax assessor-collector Porter Roberts, an increase of approximately $2,800,000 over last year.

Minimum salaries for Friona teachers, starting now with a bachelor's degree, will be $5837 per year. Minimum for new teachers with a master's degree will be $6377.

The maximum salary for teachers with bachelor's degrees will now be $7007 per year. The maximum yearly salary for teachers with master's degrees is set at $8231.

The salary for the beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree is $603 more than last year. The beginning salary for those with master's degrees is $877 more than a year ago.

The state will pay 80 percent of the teachers' raise, and the local school district will pay 20 percent.

The local district's share of the increase will be offset for the 1969-70 school year by using money on time deposit which has accumulated in the school's "sinking fund" in recent years.

Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr announced that two new teachers' contracts were approved at the board meeting. They are Mary Alice Merrell, from Bovina, who will teach first grade; and Wayne Wallace of Abilene, who will teach reading and spelling in the seventh and eighth grade.

Farr stated that he was in the process of hiring two additional teachers this week, which would leave the system just one position short - that of the assistant high school coach, vacated by Fred Dawson.

The board met following the annual board of equalization meeting last Saturday morning.

STAR GAMES SET

Champions Crowned In Summer Baseball Play

Play drew toward the close in Friona's summer baseball program this week, with champions crowned officially in both leagues. All-stars were being nominated for the annual all-star games on Saturday, July 26.

Friona Star-Hurst Department Store clinched the championship in the Intermediate League, with a 7-2 win over Reeve Chevrolet in their only game of the week. The winged Star-Hurst a 7-1 season record with a game to go.

The Parmer County Pump B-J Bees claimed the Pee-Wee League title with a 6-2 win over Parmer County Implement Company. As of Monday, the Bees had an 11-0 season record, and bid to be the only unbeaten team this season.

Continental Grain nailed down second place in the Pee-Wee League with a 6-0 win over Monsanto Ag Center, as Keith Martin and Mark Neill combined for a no-hit, no-run shut-out. The Grainmen won it with a six-run outburst in the third inning.

Winners Told By Auto Store

Winners were announced this week by Leland Hutson of Friona's White Auto Store in the drawing for grand opening prizes by the store.

Mrs. Loyd Widener of Lockney won the first prize—a personal-sized television set. Mrs. Widener is the mother of Mrs. Ray D. Fleming.

Wilma Wise was awarded second place of a record player, and Ann Spears won third prize, a transistor radio.

Phillips Attends V-I Course

Don L. Phillips of 911 Summit, Friona, is taking part in the 22nd annual summer school for vocational industrial education teachers at Texas A&M.

Phillips, an industrial cooperative training trades teacher, is one of nearly 300 instructors from across the state enrolled in the program.

"Our role is not one of teaching trades," said A&M instructor E.C. Fisher. "Rather we are interested in preparing teachers to better instruct their pupils."

He described A&M's role as one of teaching methods and techniques.

Pointing out that most vocational industrial teachers come direct from industry, Fisher added the summer school helps them prepare to teach what they already know as a trade.

Fisher said the problem of meeting industry's demands is a growing one, and that public schools are "doing their share to meet the demand."

He added approximately 18,000 boys are enrolled in the public school programs and about 4,000 girls in the personal service trades.

Club To Meet

The Friona Gun Club will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. for a trap shoot.

Beginning this Sunday, the club will meet every third Sunday of each month. Members and non-members are invited to the shoot on Sunday, which will be a practice affair.

The shoot will be held at the trap range a mile east of Friona, on the Benger Air Park property.

Leave it to the kids to find a way to beat the hot weather Friona has been having this week. Six year old Mark Blackerby thinks turning the hose on himself is a good solution. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Zachary. Little Karen Lloyd takes to an ice cream cone like a duck to water. She is the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lloyd who are newcomers to Friona.

Pause And Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

The astronauts are not the only people "up in the air" this week.

In the U.S. Senate there is violent argument concerning the values of an A,B,M. system in our national defense.

Not one among this august body is against national defense. The foes of the A,B,M. system are for the most part merely advocating more research and better planning before we the people find ourselves committed to another fiasco similar to McNamara's electronic barbed wire fence across the DMZ in Vietnam.

(Incidentally did you know that the "fence" was built without waiting for the final word of approval?

And, that it won't work as planned?

Another "Edsel"?)

Many of the dissenting senators, as well as most of us taxpayers, are in the position of a burned child dreading fire. For instance --

Billions spent on planes, ships, tanks, guns and other "vital" defense measures that failed to operate as planned or were obsolete at completion time.

The multi million interstate highway network that is still limping along.

During the last five years I have driven over 20 thousand miles of it and believe me, "limping" is too kind a word!

The National Cultural Center (renamed since 1964 - The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts) is costing 20 million more than the original estimate of 45 million.

Oh, but that's alright it's backers hasten to say. It is being built with private money.

Hog wash!

So far it has cost you and me 23 million, plus 17 acres of priceless land next to the Lincoln Memorial.

In the beginning it was touted to be a noble gesture by the vastly rich to enable us peons to acquire a little culture.

And we wind up paying the bill.

Kind of like taking a girl to the movies - on a "dutch treat" date.

Small wonder then that some of the senators hesitate to swallow the Pentagon's plea hook, line and sinker.

Perhaps, too, they know that anything we can build to deter present day hostile missiles, the enemy can out maneuver by the time it is in operation.

Certainly our national defense is important -- but it is diplomacy and common sense.

Year after year, as the House Committee on Internal Security and the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee have carried on their investigations, evidence relating to Communist activities has been revealed.

One of the earliest explanations of what is meant by communism was issued by a House committee in an official report, and is worded just as if it were written today. It says:

"The following is a definition of communism, a world-wide political organization advocating:

"(1) Hatred of God and all forms of religion;

"(2) Destruction of private property, and inheritance;

"(3) Absolute social and racial equality; promotion of class hatred;

"(4) Revolutionary propaganda through the Communist international, stirring up communist activities in foreign countries in order to cause strikes, riots, sabotage, bloodshed and civil war;

"(5) Destruction of all forms of representative or democratic governments, including civil liberties, such as freedom of speech, of the press, or assembly, and trial by jury;

"(6) The ultimate and final objective is by means of world revolution to establish the dictatorship of the so-called proletariat into one world union of Soviet Socialist Republics with the capital at Moscow.

"Communism has also been defined as an organized effort to overthrow organized governments which operate contrary to the Communist plan now in effect in Russia. It aims at the socialization of government, private property, industry, labor, the home, education, and religion. Its objectives are the abolition of other governments, private ownership of property, inheritance, religion and family relations."

Future of Texas Should Have Our Full Attention

Three former governors — Allan Shivers, Price Daniel and John Connally — are joining Gov. Preston Smith in forming the Governor's Committee of 500 to urge approval Aug. 5 of the revolving fund bond issue authority needed to implement the Texas Water Plan.

The amount of bonding authority asked in the constitutional amendment up for voter action on Aug. 5 is $3.5 billion. This is the estimated state share in the future cost of developing reservoirs, canals and other features to be needed in the implementing of the Texas Water Plan.

Adoption of the water bond amendment will put Texas in position to match federal and local funds as required in the future as the massive plan's details materialize.

IT IS IMPORTANT to remember that the bonds to be issued under this authority will be repaid by water users. As they repay loans, the funds will be available for new issues. The revolving fund concept for water projects began in 1957 when the first such constitutional amendment was adopted overwhelmingly. By 1962 it was apparent that the maximum limit fixed in that amendment was too low, so a superseding amendment was offered and adopted to authorize up to $200 million in water development bonds.

As the Texas Water Plan took shape, was amended, revised and expanded in order to meet Texas' water supply needs for the next 50 years, it raised the question of how the state should finance its part of this plan.

The experience of the existing water development bond program dating back to 1957 showed the soundness of this approach. The main need was to increase the top limit of bonding authority to cover the half-century ahead, hence the $3.5 billion amendment. This has received near-unanimous approval from the 61st legislature. The people will decide the matter Aug. 5.

A complicating factor is that the Aug. 5 constitutional amendment balloting includes a dozen different proposals on as many subjects. Gov. Smith and his predecessors know from their long experience in state affairs that when the legislature loads a constitutional amendment ballot with a number of controversial subjects the tendency of many voters is to register a negative answer on all of them. Thus the Governor's Committee of 500 is being organized to carry into all 254 counties of Texas the urgency of saying "yes" to the water development bond amendment.

IF THE STATE'S BEST interests are to be served, similar efforts must be made on behalf of the college loan fund amendment — another revolving fund — that is needed to assist thousands of Texas youngsters to obtain further education and training; on behalf of the amendment expanding the ability of Texas to care for its aged, blind, handicapped and helpless children; on behalf of turning interest rate limits over to the legislature so that state bonds can be marketed.

Unless all signs fail, the Aug. 5 election will attract a minority of the state's voters. There are major issues vital to all Texans at stake. Anything that can be done to arouse the citizens to pay attention to their own futures is worth doing, even worth over-doing, and the Governor's Committee of 500 is a good way to do this.

CITY RECORDS

Five Water Services Added During Month

Five additional water taps were made by the City of Friona during the month of June, making the total number of active services 1168 at the end of the month. The additions represented four new taps and one reactivation.

The five additional taps brought to 48 the number of water services which have been added by the city in the past six months.

Other records by the water department showed water use during the month at 22,085,500 gallons, an average of 736,183 gallons per day, a considerable gain from the previous month.

There were 25 changes of ownership involving city property reported by the county clerk's office during June. Nine new sewer taps were made during June, bringing the number of active services to 1126 at the month's end.

Thirty-one arrests were made during the month. Twenty-four were on traffic violations, two each for drunkenness and driving while intoxicated, and one each for driving with no license, driving while license was suspended and speeding.

Thirteen complaints were investigated; five on vandalism, four for thefts, two for prowlers in the area, and one each for break-in and shooting of fireworks.

The fire department answered six alarms during the month. Two were inside the city limits with an estimated loss of $3,500. Three were outside with estimated loss at $3,550, and one was a false alarm.

Double sealcoating began on June 10, with some 20 blocks of streets sealed as part of the city's annual maintenance program. The two blocks of sealcoating just west of the Post Office has required gravel five additional times during the 90 to 100-degree weather the last part of June.

Statistics showed almost 400 patrons of the City Library during June. The summer reading program is off to a good start with over 150 registered participants.

"Thou shalt respect thy tractor and keep it well, and not demand more from it than it can deliver, nor require that it labor under burdens better suited to a huskier steed, lest it repay thy maltreatment with low performance, mechanical troubles and accident.

"Thou shalt contain thy temper, even should the day go foul and everything attempted conspires against thee, as robust anger not only makes thee look foolish and exclaim unkind sentiments, but also multiplies thy prospects of coming to grief by accident.

"Thou shalt snuff out the fire of thy tobacco before refueling, and be it known too, that the wise man doth mount upon his tractor a fire extinguisher and first aid kit.

"Thou shalt enlist a protective frame or crush-resistant cab to assist thee in surviving should thy tractor tumble over despite thy good intentions to avoid that predicament."

* SIX FLAGS received in the mail 42,288 Guest Questionnaire Survey Cards filled out by visitors who had been to the Park during the 1968 season. Compilation of these cards revealed that SIX FLAGS guests came from 2,009 different cities in all 50 states and 59 cities in 34 foreign countries.

SURVEY SHOWS

Spectators At "Texas" Are From All Walks Of Life

More than 20,000 people have seen the "T E X A S" production which plays each evening in the Palo Duro Canyon. The production is a spectacular musical drama by the Pulitzer prize-winner, Paul Green, and tells the story of the Plains in song and story, dance and light and sound, bringing to the audience the conflicts, the storms, the drought and the prairie fire.

Audiences in this fourth season, 1969, have averaged more than a thousand people a evening, and they have come from nearby and the ends of the earth. For tickets, write to Box 268, Canyon, Texas, 79015.

To discover who made up the audiences, and where they came from, the staff made a survey during the second week of performances. They found one man who had come five times and many who had seen the show three or four times.

They encountered one visitor who rode a horse in the first production ever given in the theatre who had brought his children and grandchildren down to see the place and the show.

Found were students from Sweded and the Avon manager from the British West Indies, a business man from Chile and a coach from Perth, Australia, a doctor and an electronic engineer from New York and a librarian from Long Island, housewives from the panhandle and North Dakota and Louisiana a photographer from Mississippi and a sanitarian from Arlington, Texas.

Also a glass worker from Houston and a rubber worker from Akron, Ohio, a mechanic from New York who heard about the show on a plane, a farmer from Follett and several ranchers from the area and a nurse from Hobart, a pilot from Irving and a computer operator from Detroit, Mich.

A suburban developer from Hereford was paying his fifth

Farmers Should Be Their Own Safety Engineer

Industry has done a remarkable job of reducing work-related accidents. Although there is still much to be done, National Safety Council statistics prove that—on the average—a worker is several times more safe in an industrial plant than on a farm. Industry's enviable record can, for the most part, be attributed to well organized and executed safety programs under the direction of trained safety engineers.

Few farms have enough employees to justify the employment of a "safety man." Every farm, however, can and should have someone with the responsibility of alerting other family members to hazards and seeing that safety rules are followed. This may be father, mother or one of the older youngsters.

Many plants require employe attendance at safety meetings. How about setting aside the after supper hour on the first Monday of each month for a family safety conference? Let each family member report on "near misses" he may have had. Discuss what can be done to prevent a recurrence. And do it.

Families working together can reduce the tragic toll of farm accidents if only you—and other members of your family—will be your own safety engineer . . . not just during Farm Safety Week, but during all 52 weeks of the year.

Litter Termed Big Enemy Of Conservation Farmers

Litter is almost as bitter an enemy of conservation farmers and ranchmen as erosion, a local conservation leader said this week.

Gary A. Batte, District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, said that was why his office and the Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District were glad to join with the "Beautify Texas Council" in helping focus public attention on the statewide litter problem. The Council recently asked all Texans to renew anti-litter efforts this summer. "Too many people still litter our countryside with bottles, cans, and other trash," Batte stressed. "This not only mars the beauty of our rural lands, but when it collects on farm or grassland, it can also become a conservation problem."

Batte listed several ways litter is a conservation menace. First, it is a fire hazard. He pointed out that under certain conditions, bottles had been blamed with magnifying the sun's rays enough to start costly grass and forest fires. Every year, countless wildlife and livestock are poisoned by litter thrown in pastures and fields. Others are starved or injured when they get their heads or feet caught in bottles, cans, and other trash.

The conservationist also said litter hinders farming and ranching operations: it can pollute ponds and streams, killing fish; some trash catches water, increasing mosquitoes, thus becoming a health problem; it can be a safety hazard; and it costs millions just to pick up every year. Besides that, he said, it's ugly.

"Conservation farmers and ranchmen do as much to help beautify Texas as anyone," Batte added. "Neatly contoured fields, well-managed grasslands and woodlands, sediment-free ponds, lakes, and streams, sloped and seeded gullied areas; all this and other work done by conservation farmers adds to the beauty of the landscape. The least the rest of us can do is put our litter in a trash can instead of throwing it on the land to mar this beauty," he said.

"All this litter and he expects a bite!"

RECEIVES AWARD . . . Ted Lamora, center, manager of Radio Station KNNN, was awarded a certificate this week for his assistance in recruiting for the United States Army through public service announcements. Making the presentation is Staff Sergeant Fuel Perry of Lewis and Staff Sergeant Betty Meador, WAC recruiting officer, Amarillo.

A tornado watch is used to alert the public to the possibility that tornadoes may develop over a certain area. A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been sighted in the area or its presence has been detected by radar. When the weather threatens, the Department of Public Safety urges you to keep tuned to your radio or television for information. Do not call police, civil defense, or the weather bureau except to report a tornado.

"SUCCESS DEPENDS ON SAFETY"

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK
JULY 20 - 26

Accident prevention and success go hand in hand, if for no other reason than it is difficult to succeed at anything when your physical, emotional and financial resources have been sapped as the consequence of an accident. Yet each year nearly 8,000 farm residents are killed and another 700,000 suffer disabling injuries.

Traditionally farmers have been independent and self-reliant, and it's in keeping with this proud heritage that farmers must look to themselves to reduce farm accidents.

How? First, make safety an integral part of your management planning, a part of every job and activity. Second, keep in mind and apply this little formula: 1) see the hazard, 2) know the defense, and 3) act in time.

Only when you become successful in accident prevention will you become successful in your other activities. And remember, accident prevention—like any other activity in successful farming—is a full-time, 52-weeks-out-of-the-year activity.

Make Farm Safety Week every week on your farm.

Accidents don't just happen They are CAUSED!

TEXAS HOG CHOLERA PROGRAM ADVANCES

Texas will advance to Phase 3 of the National Hog Cholera Eradication Program Aug. 1, the Texas Animal Health Commission has announced.

Dr. Don Hudman, Texas Agricultural Extension Service swine specialist at A&M University, said Phase 3 is a continuation of immediate reporting of hog cholera outbreaks and more vigorous inspection of garbage cooking and feeding facilities.

Infected herds will be quarantined and premises depopulated.

lated by marketing healthy animals in a federally inspected slaughter plant. Diseased animals will be eliminated on the premises by burying, burning or rendering under supervision of regulatory veterinarians.

Phase 3 also provides an indemnity payment due to an outbreak, Hudman added. The indemnity is shared equally by the state and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"Maximum indemnities for infected herds will be $100 per head for purebred, inbred and hybrid swine and $80 a head on grade swine," the specialist explained. "Payment will be limited to living swine present when a regulatory veterinarian arrives on the premises. Hog producers should report sick animals to local veterinarians to qualify for payments if cholera is present."

Another important part of the program is the ban of interstate shipment of vaccines and vaccinated hogs, Hudman added. A change in shipping rules will halt interstate shipment of modified live virus and inactivated cholera vaccines after July 1. Regulations do not affect use of anti-hog cholera serum.

Interstate shipment of hogs vaccinated with modified live virus, or exposed to hogs vaccinated with modified live virus, will be prohibited after Jan. 1, 1970, unless the animals were vaccinated before July 1 of this year, Hudman said.

County Fares Well In Government Aid Funds

NEW YORK, July 12 - From a dollars and cents standpoint, how well is Parmer County making out under the government's grants-in-aid program?

Does the price it is paying for these grants, through matching funds and other payments that come out of taxes, make them worthwhile financially?

The aid programs -- there are hundreds of them -- offer assistance to states and local communities for purposes ranging from road building and education to welfare grants and child care.

What it cost some localities, in the past year, proved to be greater than the aid they received. For others, it worked out favorably. They got back more than they put in.

A comprehensive study of the aid programs, made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit organization that watches government taxation and spending, shows how much aid was allocated to each state and, in each instance, what the cost was.

A breakdown of the state figures, which are based upon Treasury Department reports, indicates that the cost of Federal aid in Parmer County came to approximately $836,000 in the past fiscal year and that the amount that was returned, in the form of grants, was an estimated $899,000.

The state of Texas was also ahead on this score. The portion of its tax returns that were allocated to the Federal aid programs amounted to $845,300,000, the Tax Foundation reports. What came back, in grants to the state and its localities, was $908,900,000.

In effect $1 was received in the form of government aid for every 93 cents expended.

Of the 50 states, 17 got back less than they contributed and the remaining 33 received more.

It is explained that some communities fared better than others in the distribution of grants because their needs were relatively greater.

Determinations were made on that basis and without any attempt to return dollar for dollar.

As for fiscal 1970, the Tax Foundation finds that about $25 billion will go out in grants-in-aid. It will amount to nearly 18 percent of the revenue receipts of state and local governments.

Contracts Available For Conservation Practices

"Contracts are being developed by the local SCS office for anyone wanting to establish practices such as grass, diversion terraces, parallel terraces, grassed waterways, irrigation pipelines, and bench leveling on their farms or ranches," Soil Conservationist Glen Phillips said this week. Money for financing the program for the next 12 months is expected soon.

The Great Plains Program provides cost-share assistance to farmers and ranchers based upon a complete conservation plan for their operating unit. "The cost-share is set up in a contract over a scheduled period of three to 10 years, depending on needs of the farm or ranch operation and financial ability of the producer," Phillips said.

The plan of conservation operations developed with the landowner or operator includes a schedule of land use adjustment and conservation measures considered needed for the most efficient operation of the farm or ranch unit. Technical assistance is provided by the Soil Conservation Service for the planning and installation of the necessary conservation measures.

Public Law 1021 enacted by the 84th Congress set up the Great Plains Conservation Program in 1957. The Soil Conservation Service was given the responsibility of administering the program. The present congress has voted to extend the Great Plains Program for another ten years.

Not too many years ago everyone who lived on a farm was familiar with the fury of a mother hen if danger threatened her babies. One pre-school age boy had been warned by his mother to stay away from a hen and her chickens because the old hen would "flog" him.

Without understanding the meaning of the word and not too sure his mother knew what she was talking about, he asked, "Mother, what does a hen do when she flogs?" About the same time a whirling bundle of feathers hit him and he soon learned first hand what the word meant.

If an episode like this comes to your mind when you think of a mother hen and some baby chicks, you probably are not very well acquainted with Mrs. Mother Hen 1969.

It seems that as the production of eggs has been the goal of men for hens, they have lost much of their maternal instinct. Farm homemakers of the past usually kept tubs with holes in the bottom near the hen house so when they gathered eggs in the spring time and found a broody hen on the nest, they could put her under the tub and keep her until she gave up the idea of having a family.

There has been a change.

One of our farm friends keeps a small flock of laying hens and enjoys caring for baby chicks. She rarely ever has a broody hen, but a few weeks ago Mrs. Speckle stayed on the nest two or three nights in a row.

Mrs. Farm Homemaker made arrangements to secure fertile eggs, but before she was able to get a "setting", Mrs. Speckle began to change her mind and left her nest.

Not one to be outdone, Mrs. Farm Homemaker put the eggs in the nest and went to the henhouse and caught the old hen and put her on the nest, too. All went well for a few days and Mrs. Speckle kept the eggs warm. Then when she was turned out to get some food and water, she went back to the roost.

The battle went on for three weeks with Mrs. Farm Homemaker keeping Mrs. Speckle on the nest. Finally the baby chicks hatched out. After the shells were removed from the nest and feed and water were provided, Mrs. Farm Homemaker went about her business feeling sure the young chickens would be properly cared for.

Late in the afternoon she went out to check and found Mrs. Speckle had deserted her family. With an attitude of "I don't need you any more," Mrs. Farm Homemaker installed a light bulb for warmth for the chickens and became their only mother.

A reader of this column called in Tuesday afternoon to report an amusing incident relative to delivery of mail in Friona.

A Friona resident, who lives behind one of our better known public buildings, had an out of town visitor recently. The visitor asked for the correct mailing address of her hostess before she left.

The hostess jokingly replied, "You really don't need my mailing address. Everyone in Friona knows I live back of the Blank Blank."

At the time she thought she would write her correct address down before her guest went home, but forgot to do so.

A few days after the guest's departure, the hostess received a letter addressed to her at Friona, Texas with a notation, "Back of the Blank Blank." It was promptly delivered.

didn't just stand there.

She got involved. Two years ago she helped organize a job clinic for minority group members as a Faith-In-Action program in Alliance, Ohio. A lot of unemployed now have jobs, thanks to Mrs. Young's leadership. Now they don't need welfare. They hold their heads a little higher. And her city named her Woman of the Year.

What made Mrs. Young get involved? Time on her hands? Not when you're holding down a full-time job as a reading center teacher's aide. Not when you're helping to put two children through college. With one still in high school and one in junior high.

It comes with strong religious Faith. And its demand that we help people. Any kind of people. And very often that faith is found in a church or synagogue—where you'll find ideas that are as old as time and as modern as tomorrow. Ideas like Mrs. Young's "No one's different than anyone else—we all have the same Father."

This is the kind of faith that acts. Ask somebody who's tried it. Like Mrs. Cleatus Young. HOW CAN YOU HELP? Write for free booklet, The Turning Point, Religion In American Life, 184 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10010.

Shirley Johnson

Local Girl Scout

Attends Conference

Senior Girl Scout Shirley Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Johnson, Route 3, Friona, who is a member of Troop #105 of Caprock Girl Scout Council, was among the more than 250 Girl Scouts from throughout the United States who attended a Creative Arts Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The conference was sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Philadelphia in cooperation with the Moore College of Art, Philadelphia from June 14 to July 6.

Miss Johnson says, "I have met many interesting girls from all over the United States, seen many interesting historical sights and learned a lot about the arts as a whole. This is an experience I will never forget." The goal of the conference was to provide Senior Girl Scouts with the opportunity of participating in music, painting, sculpture and design projects under the guidance of faculty members of local art schools.

"In addition to the art programs we had the chance of attending the theater, art galleries and taking part in Freedom Week ceremonies in Philadelphia," reported Miss Johnson.

One other Senior Girl Scout, Linda Wright of Plainview, Texas, represented the Caprock Council at the creative arts conference.
