BRITISH FORGE FORWARD AGAINST STUBBORN FOE

Arras Battle Believed To Depend Upon Ability To Sacrifice Men

The Associated Press summarizes European war operations as follows: The battle of Arras still rages with the issue still remaining in doubt. In the last six days rivers of blood have flowed and the armies of Germany and Great Britain still struggle for the mastery in a conflict which baffles superlatives.

Tens of thousands of reserves have been hurled against the British front by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in a supreme effort to check the British advance but so far without avail. Almost literally foot by foot, General Haig is forcing his stubborn foe back.

Both sides are fighting with a resolution as grim and savage as any war has shown and it seems to be a question as to which can sustain its deadly sacrifices the longest.

However momentous the issues which hang on the bloody struggle in France, they are insufficient to hold the attention of the German people, who are facing a situation fraught with even more tremendous possibilities.

On the eve of the great general strike planned for May day, the German press and leaders are displaying a feverish apprehension as to what the morrow will bring forth.

The majority Socialists are energetically supporting the government in its effort to have the workers refrain from striking. Even the radical minority seems to be frightened at the possible results of the agitation it has fostered.

Austria and Sweden are two other storm centers where May day may evoke popular uprisings of far-reaching effect. In the face of the brewing storm, word comes that the Hungarian government has declared itself in favor of important democratic reforms.

Outside of Europe interest centers on the possible course of Brazil and China. Peking dispatches say the Chinese republic will probably enter the war against Germany within the next two weeks. The Brazilian Congress meets Wednesday and then will decide on peace or war.

Officers Make It Plain That Heavy Sacrifices Must Be Expected.

By Associated Press. Washington, April 29.—President Wilson and Secretary Baker today took up differences between the Senate and House army bills. The conference adjourned after the two houses will be informed as a result, where the administration stands on disputed points. The age limits of 21 to 25, fixed in the Senate bill, are preferred by the administration, since they more nearly approximate the desire of the war department for age limits of from 18 to 25 years. The limits from 21 to 25, fixed by the House bill, are unattractive to the administration. The date for the registration of those liable to service will not be formally fixed by the president until the bill has been perfected in both houses. Until that time no campaign will be undertaken to recruit the regular army and National Guard to full war strength.

The administration's bill, though passed by both houses Saturday, is to run the gauntlet of minor opposition today in the Senate, when there was a talk of reopening the whole debate by amendments which Senator LaFollette, Gronna and others threatened to offer.

Using "Leftovers" Is Urged as Economical Wartime Measure

Numerous palatable combinations of two or more food materials which can be prepared by the housewife with but little trouble in themselves will supply the major part of a well-chosen meal. Such combinations should be used very frequently to simplify and make more economical the serving of a rational diet for the family.

The character of any one of the daily meals should be determined by that of the other meals that are served. A light breakfast and a light supper or luncheon, for instance, usually makes desirable a heavier dinner. In some families the preference may be for a hearty breakfast and dinner and a very light supper, and so on through a considerable range of individual tastes.

The following are some suggestions for a few of the many nutritious combination dishes which may be prepared without too much trouble from simple food materials and common "leftovers" and for other foods which can accompany them to make a well rounded meal.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful."

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need. NC-1X

Separate Waist and Skirt Favored This Season

Special to The Times. New York, April 29, 1917.—Separate waists and skirts are going to be very prominent this season. We have it on every good authority—no less than from Paris. There are all sorts of blouses and all sorts of skirts to suit women of every taste and every build. The woman who adores those charming "little" blouses of chiffon and Georgette will find myriads of them to her taste. Some are finely pleated or tucked, and those that require additional trimming take upon themselves bead trimmings of fillet lace, both of which forms of adornment are extremely popular. In the head work wooden beads are now being used together with the glass beads.

beads. This is the latest invention on the part of designers of fancy effects.

A Costume With the New Coat Blouse

Some of the new blouses are made to give the effect of coats, especially those of hip- or fingertip length which are meant to be worn over the skirts. One of these new blouses is illustrated in the accompanying sketch. It has a vest in front to accentuate the coat-like appearance. It is fashioned of dotted sports silk with plain silk trimmings in the collar, belt, pockets and cuffs. Skirts capture both the straight, simple lines which combine to satisfy most women, and the draped effect with diminishing width at the hem of the skirt. The barrel effect in these skirts may be anywhere between the hips and the knees. White skirts of serge, flannel, gaberdine and wool jersey are worn with coats of velvet in both dark and light colors, besides the skirts of one color, stripes, checks and plaids with various colors are very frequently seen. The Embroidered Frock. Afternoon frocks lavishly trimmed with embroidery are as highly favored as ever. Many a frock is made in jumper effect; not the old kind of jumper, but an entirely new sleeveless affair extending below the waistline at the front and back. This smart type of jumper is shown in the sketch. The costume is one of those featuring the oval silhouette of the skirt being softly pleated at the top to produce the slightly distended effect at the hips. Over-sweat-dress fabrics, develops the costume and the embroidery on the jumper is done in the simple running-stitch in Chinese blue. The girle winds itself twice around the figure as most of the girdles of this type do in these days.

Summer Furs

Furs are not to be discarded when the warm days come. They will be worn all through the spring and summer just as they were last year. Those who gaped at the thought of wearing furs in summer did so because they did not realize that furs the fashionable women wore were not the wintry kind, but specially light summer furs. Although the fashion started as a fad, it has proved that a light fur wrap for the shoulders is readily acceptable in certain parts of the country especially in the evenings. And, of course, every woman they are. Furs appear as a trimming on several of the new satin wraps and coats. Satin is considered especially smart for wraps as well as dresses, and therefore very prominent. Among the new coats there are some cape effects which promise to be well received by the women.

of fashion. These have been hounded by the Paris designers and they seem already to be meeting with success. The High Cost of Shoes. The interest in footwear grows more and more as we hear of the soaring prices of leather. Plain, low pumps to be worn with spats are going to be worn very much now as this will be one of the means of solving the problem of the high cost of shoes. Black patent leather pumps with white, or sand-colored spats is the fashionable combination. In both pumps and high shoes, gray and the light tan shades, which are so very popular in dress materials, are also found in shoes. Kid and suede are equally smart for all occasions. In high shoes the upper part is usually ly of a light shade, either white, gray or light tan, and the lower part of a darker leather. This combination seems to be favored above all others. Low shoes, not intended to wear with spats, are sometimes ornamented with cut-steel buckles. The manufacturers are making shoes of cloth in gray tan and white to take the place of leather shoes. They are mostly of a fine grade of canvas made on the same lasts as the expensive kid shoes and are much less expensive. A few years ago, shoes of velvet and satin were the rage, and now that the price of leather is exorbitant will women take kindly to these more practical cloth shoes?

LOOK FOR REVIVAL IN ATHLETICS AFTER WAR

By Associated Press. New York, April 30.—Although the war has eliminated the major portion of athletic competition throughout the European countries, sport has not been entirely abandoned and there is plenty of evidence to support the belief that there will be a general revival of athletics following the declaration of peace. Many close observers of the physical condition of the troops here stated as their opinion that the training necessary to fit the young man for the modern battle-field is producing a new type of European manhood, which will instinctively turn to sport with extraordinary zest as soon as arms are laid aside. It is a matter of record that many forms of athletic competition are constantly being indulged in on all fronts, just back of the firing lines, and these games are particularly encouraged by both the French and English army authorities. Football, baseball, golf, cricket, wrestling, boxing and foot racing are all participated in by the soldiers off duty and it is said that some remarkable performances are witnessed from time to time when the handicaps, under which the games are played, are taken into consideration.

In the Scandinavian countries steady progress in the development of athletic standards is reported, notwithstanding the fact that these nations are far more affected by the great conflict than neutrals at a great distance. An example of the upbuilding and broadening of sport throughout this section of Europe is found in the recent Scandinavian Athletic Congress held at Stockholm. This congress was formed at the suggestion of the Swedish A. A. U. and was attended by representatives from the athletic organizations of Norway, Denmark and Sweden. At this conference it was agreed that the new body should have full charge of all athletic matters between these three nations or with teams from other countries which may later desire to compete against an All-Scandinavian combination.

A committee was appointed to prepare a new code of eligibility and competitive regulations that will be uniform throughout Scandinavia. It was informally announced that this step was deemed advisable in view of the athletic challenge which this association is prepared to issue following the close of the war.

THE OLD-TIME FIGHTERS.

Now the Old Brigades, they want to go At the country's call—for to face the foe As they did on the battlefields of old. Their hair is gray, but their hearts are pure gold! For don't I see, where the old flag flies, The old-war fire in my old man's eyes, And the heat of the drum—it stirs him so, He forgets his crutches! He wants to go!

But I tell him: "There, in the easy chair Is the place for you, with the whitenin' hair. You've seen your battles, and lost or won, For you the flash o' fightin' done!" But sudden he sees the troops march by, And the wave o' the flags 'neath the springtime sky— It's the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Dixie," you fightin' men! And he's up and ready! He wants to go!

A True Patriot Stands Behind The "Federal Reserve" Now

The "Federal Reserve" will protect the Nation's finances in the most trying cases. While the "Federal Reserve" is not a war fund it is a "Home Guard" of finance that safeguards the interests of every community in war or peace. The true patriot places his money where it is a support to Wichita Falls and to every community where Wichita Falls sells the products of its industries. The strength of the Federal Reserve System is figured in billions; those billions in reserve are made possible thru the support of member banks like the First National Bank. When you place your funds in this National Bank you not only receive Federal Reserve protection but give your support in turn to one of the most important arms of the Government. Can Uncle Sam count on you? This National Bank is open for your account. Make a deposit.

BUSINESS AS USUAL.

A few American newspapers have undertaken to criticize the suggestion expressed in the slogan of England after the war, "Business as Usual."
In doing so they display great narrowness of vision and inability to understand the meaning in the lining up of the people of England and the people of this slogan and the reason why American people should follow it. The real leaders in England's business know that this slogan is the adoption of the purpose of awakening the country to the necessity of going forward with its business activity. They realized that if the welfare of the people was to be maintained at a point which would enable England to carry the great burden of the war, England must carry on its business operations at home and abroad. The old and the young who might not be available for the firing line and the women who could take the places of those on the firing line were called to the counting rooms and into other activities to take up and carry forward the business life of England in order that it might do "business as usual."

"Business as usual" means that the railroads must be expanded, in order to meet the increased pressure for transportation facilities. It means that iron and steel works must be pushed as never before, that ore and coal mines must be developed, that shipyards must be established and every available worker be turned in to producing ships, planes and munitions exactly what President Wilson said in his proclamation when he called the nation to work, and that is, the winning of every ounce of strength and energy in the country to carry forward every line of business that will "business as usual," the people may be employed in constructive activities, may be carried forward, and strength given to the nation to meet the tremendous cost in money and the drain on the nation's man power demanded by the war.

Occasionally people who never think but only imagine that they are thinking, jump at some conclusion and immediately give voice to it. It was on this account that some people criticized the English slogan as men who had adopted their slogan
"Business as Usual," and doubtless there are some people in this country whose capacity for thinking is not sufficiently broad to enable them to understand the real meaning of England's slogan for business—Manufacturers' Record.

II CERTIFIED TO OFFICERS CAMP FROM THIS CITY

There will be deplorable waste there always.
Then next fall with the prices on commercial canned vegetables scintillating around up in the Milky Way, people will say:
" If we had only known that prices were going into the air like this, we would have canned some of our surplus last spring."
Why not know it now? Prices before Christmas are going to be prohibitive to many.
Turn your home into a little factory. Can your surplus vegetables yourself. You'll be thanking heaven next winter if you do.
You can't put up the yodle about the price of sugar. This is a vegetable proposition. Fruit is another matter.

The homes of the nation were once the factories of the nation.
You can't call back the spinning wheel and the loom.
But you can crook your finger at a pot of water and a Mason jar, and begin canning industry back into the kitchens of America within a month.

The garden truck surplus, like time and tide, waits for no man.
You will have to be ready with your sleeves rolled up, and this is the time to prepare—Wichita Eagle.

Dukke of the Abruzzi, Known to Americans Heads Mission to U. S.

It is expected that the duke of the Abruzzi, cousin of King Victor Emman-

The name of the Duke of Abruzzi, probably, as that of any other European royalty. Several years ago he figured extensively in the newspapers as a suitor for the hand of Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of Senator Elkins of West Virginia. She is now Mrs. Hitt, but the duke had renounced marriage.

He has commanded the Italian navy

HOLDS THAT LEGISLATURE CAN'T REDUCE SALARIES

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, April 30.—The attorney general's department today in an opinion to the general appropriation committee of the House held that the Legislature has no authority to reduce or increase salary of a state officer or employee where it has been fixed by statute. While the Legislature could appropriate less than the law fixed, it could not have the effect of repeal or even suspending the law, says the opinion, as the officer would be entitled to recover his salary fixed by the statute, and if an effort is made to increase such salaries it would be prohibited by Section 44 of Article 3 of the state constitution.

FIRST STEPS FOR ENROLLMENT ARE NOW BEING TAKEN

SHERIFF HAWKINS INSTRUCTED AS TO MANNER IN WHICH WORK IS TO PROCEED—COUNTY OFFICERS TO BE IN CHARGE.

MAY NOT START NOW

Preliminary Arrangements to be Completed Shortly, However, so That Everything Will be in Readiness—Message From Governor.

With the selective conscription act yet in Congress, active steps to begin the enrollment of those of military age has already begun, as is indicated by a telegram received by Sheriff George Hawkins from Governor Ferguson, instructing him in regard to the manner in which the enrollment will be made.

Acting under instructions from President Wilson the governor wired Sheriff Hawkins that the enrollment judge, the county clerk, the county judge, the county clerk, the county physician, and the presiding judges of the various election boxes. These officials are instructed to hold themselves in readiness to act on further instructions which will be sent within the next ten days.

According to the plan as outlined at present, it is not thought that the actual enrollment will be begun until late in August or early in September, as it is expected that three months will be allowed for enrollment. A publicity campaign will be carried on with the object of informing the public of those liable for military service so there can be no excuse for failure to register, which will be punished by a heavy fine.

The manner of selection has not been worked out yet, but it will probably be done in the same manner in which juries are selected, all the names being put in the jury wheel and the first taken out being called for service with the first contingent, the second for the second contingent, and the third and fourth for service on the successive calls, after which another name for the first contingent will be drawn, and so on down the line.

The first contingent will be called to the sixteen concentration camps to be located later for training, and it is expected that the other contingents will be called out at three month intervals thereafter.

The message received by Sheriff Hawkins from Governor Ferguson is as follows: "Acting under the direction of the President, I request that you at once get in communication with the county judge, county clerk, county physician and presiding judges of the various voting precincts of your county, and hold them in readiness for the next ten days within which time I will further communicate to you directions from the president for the quick enrollment of all men of military age under the act of Congress just passed. Where the office of presiding judge is vacant arrange at once to fill same. Please acknowledge receipt by wire of this message."

JAMES E. FERGUSON, Governor.

Recruiting in Army, Navy and National Guard So Far Is Disappointingly Slow

Washington, April 30.—The army is making its big drive to fill up the regular army and the national guard units, already organized, because they are the first units to be trained. They must be filled, and thoroughly trained and out of the way as a recruiting problem if possible, before a big conscript or volunteer army is called to camp. Persons may enlist in the regular army or national guard today for the period of war only. It makes little difference in the long run which branch they go into now, for as soon as the army is mobilized the guard and regulars will be exactly upon the same basis with no difference between them. With the passage of the army bill a sales campaign is being made in these branches of the service which inaugurated, such as this country has not seen since the Civil war.

The regular army recruiting has been very slow. Out of 182,888 men needed, only 27,745 had responded up to Sunday. At this rate of volunteering it would take years to raise an army and the situation is pointed to as one of the chief arguments for the conscription measure. The quota needed from states and the enlistments are as follows for the army:

Table with columns: State, Quota, to Apr. 22, Recruits, to Apr. 22. Lists states from Alabama to Wyoming with corresponding numbers.

INTIMATES THAT RINTELEN WILL TELL WHOLE STORY

New York, April 30.—Indications that Franz Rintelen, captain in the German army, on trial here, charged with seven others with fomenting strikes to prevent manufacture and shipment of war materials to the United States, will make a full revelation of his activities in this country was contained in a question addressed by his counsel to the examination of prospective jurymen today.

CORPUS CHRISTI PRISONER IS WANTED ELSEWHERE

Corpus Christi, Texas, April 30.—A man arrested here Thursday on a quest from Denver, Amarillo and Santa Fe authorities, and who gave his name as Beale, confessed today, according to local police that his name is Roy Churchill and that he is wanted by police in a dozen or more Pacific coast and western cities, to answer forgery charges. Officers are en route here from Amarillo and Denver to identify the man.

UNION REVIVAL STARTS JUNE 3

ALL EVANGELICAL CHURCHES TO TAKE PART IN SERVICES AT THAT TIME.

TO HAVE TABERNACLE

Evangelist W. M. McIntosh of Mississippi to Conduct Services Here.

Union revival services, to be participated in by all the evangelical churches of the city, will commence Sunday, June 3, with Evangelist W. M. McIntosh of Mississippi, in charge of the services, according to a decision reached by the Pastors' Association, meeting in regular session this morning.

Present plans for the revival call for the erection of a large tabernacle in some place close to the business section.

The president of the association, Rev. N. F. Grafton, has asked that all the men of the various churches who are willing to enter this campaign meet at the M. E. Church, South, next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Full details of the meeting will be worked out. This is the first union revival held here in some years.

MANY WOULD SERVE IN RESERVE CORPS

Number of Applications From Texas Is Much Larger Than Expected.

San Antonio, Texas, April 30.—So many Texans are offering themselves as reserve officers that the Southern department headquarters found it necessary to divert applications originating in Oklahoma to the original plan to have the Leon Springs camp serve both Texas and Oklahoma, but events of the last few days have made it apparent that Texas will more than supply the 2,500 men desired for the encampment.

1916 NOT VERY PROFITABLE YEAR IN FIRE INSURANCE

Austin, Texas, April 30.—The net liabilities assumed by the 129 fire insurance companies operating in Texas for 1916, amounted to $8,494,044.87 according to a detailed statement of the subject just issued by the state fire insurance commission, while the net premiums received amounted to $12,074,708.69, and the net losses reached $1,140,226.66, and the loss ratio was 9.22. This discloses that the companies operating in Texas did not make much money during the year.

Conscription's Effect On Local Industries

A number of industries that are requested in the list of those whose workmen will probably, though not certainly, be exempted from military service under the conscription measure. The bill itself does not name the exempted industries, these to be fixed by a board which will pass upon the usefulness of the trades in question.

If the example of Great Britain is followed in fixing the exemptions, the oil field and glass factory employes here would be exempted, thus sparing two of this city's largest classes of employes, while it is taken for granted that railroad men will not be included. Other Wichita Falls trades that would be exempted under the British plan are brickyard employes, foundry em-

Every woman and every girl in Wichita County is interested in motor cars—you are as much interested as are the men—you know that the mechanism of the modern automobile is simple. But do you know why it is simple? Are you familiar with what goes on underneath the hood, when you throw in the clutch and press your foot on the starting pedal?

These pictures will make all these facts clear to you.

factory employes, printers and oil mill workers.

The matter is explained in detail in a recent issue of the New York Times, which says:

Before the greater American Army is raised the Council of National Defense is expected to publish a list of those trades that can best spare men for the army, or a list of those men who should not depart their industrial forces. The Labor Committee of the Advisory Committee of the Council of National Defense held a conference in Washington last week at which plans were formulated for taking stock of the labor resources of the country.

The United States expects to profit from the experience of England and France, where in the rush of raising the first big armies men were taken from trades upon which the efficient conduct of the war depended, and it was found that the nation would have been better off if some of the trained and skilled artisans had remained in their factories. Also in England there was a letting down of labor regulations which resulted in such impairment of output that the eight-hour day for women and the universal day-off rest were restored.

In connection with the ascertainment of what trades can best spare men for war, President Wilson has issued a statement to his employees in which he said that trained railroad workers would be of more service to the country in keeping the railroads in efficient operation than they would be in the army or navy.

The first call for 500,000 men will make every citizen fully occupied, and in the early stage of preparation of the country those in authority in Washington wish to make sure that the industry required for needs to conduct the war most vigorously will not be crippled.

English War Industries.

In this connection, an interest in England's list of "war industries" developed upon the experience of the crippling of industries at the start of the war. The lines of work which the British Government maintained as necessary follow:

Batteries, Bleaching and dyeing, Breweries, Brickyards, Brushmaking, Button industry, Canned goods, Cattle, Coal, Cement, Lime, Chemical industry, Coke, Cooperage, Engineering, Food, Foundries, Furniture, Glass, Hats, Iron and steel, Jewellery, Leather, Linoleum, Lubber, Matting, Mattresses, Metals, Military supplies, Motor cars, Mountings, Needles, Oil mills, Packing industries, Paper, Printing, Pottery, Pianos, Pottery, Powder, Printing, Rubber, Sand bags, Sawmills, Shipbuilding, Soap industry, Stone, Surgical appliances, Textiles, Tobacco, Tanning, Waters, (aerated), Wire, Woodworkers.

This list does not mean that the British found that all of the articles represented were needed in the conduct of the war, but those those employed in the manufacture of the named articles were generally skilled men, of whose experience adapted them for work in other lines of industry, if needed. The United States because of the difference in some basic industries between this country and England may strike some items from the list and add others. Because of the size of America's population and the diversity of her industries coupled with the opportunity of profiting by the experience of England and France, those who have studied the situation believe that the United States can raise an army of 1,000,000 men without crippling the industries needed in the conduct of the war. This is especially true of the munitions industry at present highly organized in the United States. But because it may be necessary to raise larger armies, the authorities see the importance of mapping out a comprehensive program. It is said by those who have cooperated with the labor committee of the Labor Committee, which have branches in every State in order to enable it to have at all times accurate returns of the best situation. With the labor committee are cooperating some experts who have studied the labor situation in Europe. The problem of having women replace men in factories is one of the things being considered.

Warns Against Overzeal

Labor leaders have generally signified their willingness to forego the benefits of labor regulations, with the understanding that they be restored after the war. In this connection the National Consumers' League has sent out a warning against relaxing labor regulations for women workers in the long run it will be costly to national defense. The league paid special reference to the danger of relaxing labor limitations for women workers. In a letter to Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, head of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, Miss Maude Wetmore, President of the National League for Women's Service; Mrs. Philip N. Moore, head of the National Council of Women; Miss Alice Carpenter, Chairman of the Women's Section of the National Service School; and Mrs. J. Willis Martin, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the National League for Women's Service, the league called attention to these dangers.

"The impulse to service," the letter said, "prompts eager men and women to risk their lives for their country's strength, homes, efforts of every kind to the country in war time. In their zeal and haste there is danger that the best of our men and women will be lost, and upon them success depends. In the whole industrial history of the country, in keeping the railroads in efficient operation, the United States is beginning preparation on a colossal scale; and the wage earners are called on to meet the best of our men and women. They will respond to the call. It is of supreme importance for the efficiency of the nation as a whole that the energies of the army should be kept at their best."

The league's warning said that at the beginning of the war England had passed laws limiting the hours of work even for women employed in war supplies factories; that the impairment of output in a few months led to an official investigation which in turn brought radical recommendations regarding the limitation of emergency measures, as a result of which the weekly day-of-rest was restored and the eight-hour shift for women went into effect in all Government munition works, and overtime was curtailed in all establishments. The league made these recommendations:

1. Preserve short working hours wherever they exist.
2. Maintain the present minimum of sanitation and safety.
3. Keep the children in school, by means of scholarships where necessary.
4. Uphold the standard of living for the family, whether the chief wage earner is a soldier at the front or working on national supplies at home.

The appeal was signed by Mrs. Florence Kelley, General Secretary of the league and Miss Pauline Goldmark, Research Secretary.

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE AT THE MAJESTIC TUESDAY

"Fatty" Arbuckle is now a Paramount star and will be seen in the first of his new comedies, "The Butcher Boy," Tuesday at the Majestic on the stage program with Clara Kimball Young in "Without a Soul." Of this comedy a Motion Picture Magazine reviewer says:

"If one laugh watched an ounce, 'The Butcher Boy,' the first two-reel comedy made for Paramount by Arbuckle would weigh as much as 'Fatty' himself. Cramped full of bumps and black legs, the offering justifies the wide press showing of bookings of the Arbuckle comedy. Surrounded by a group of expert funmakers, 'Fatty' comes on to even the most optimistic expectations. He is dead all through the film are the comedy touches that have made Arbuckle

"PATRIA" 9th Episode "CATSPAW AND SCAPEGOAT"

The ninth episode of "Patria" the serial romance of society and preparedness, starring Mrs. Vernon Castle shows Patria and Don rescued from the horrors of the Black Tom disaster in New York Harbor. This episode unfolds a plot to separate Patria and Donald Parr through the aid of an adventuresome, the outcome of which proves very interesting.

De Lima meets his death through the explosion of a bomb placed by his accomplice, Hurokki, to destroy his home and those in pursuit, with this we have a five reel Paramount feature.

ALONG WITH THIS WE HAVE A FIVE REEL PARAMOUNT FEATURE

"THE BOTTLE IMP"

(From Louis Stevenson's famous story)

The Favorite Japanese Actor SESSUE HAYAKAWA

The story has to do with the adventures of a poor fisherman, Lopaka, who seeks a girl of royal blood as his wife. The entire story is filled with unusual and startling incidents. In a thrilling battle on the top of a cliff, the famous star falls into the water and continues the conflict under its surface, which is photographed very plainly in this picture. Another very pleasing and interesting scene is the real, live volcano shown in the picture.

A comedy name to be conjured with "Fatty" is first seen as a butcher boy in a small country store. He puts over a lot of comical work in the store, and later takes a piece behind the counter of the general section. It is here that he meets the best comical character yet staged in a picture. The main ammunition is flour, and what don't happen in that store when the flour-bags begin to fly is hardly worth mentioning. The inevitable pie flashes the light. After the clouds of battle roll away the pretty daughter of the proprietor is sent to a missionary party, follows down as a girl, can you imagine "Fatty" in the arms of a sixteen-year-old girl, well, he's just what you expect, only more so. "Fatty" is also also depicted as a girl and goes to the school. In the school is where the comical dog proves himself as high in the canine world as his master. In the film comedy world, the dog might well be featured with his master. Al St. John is seen as the clerk, Josephine Stevens, a beautiful girl with an engaging personality, is seen as the cashier. "Fatty" is seen as some excellent comedy falls. Others on the screen are Arthur Earle and Agnes Neilson.

It would be impossible within the limitation of a short paragraph to go in to the contents of the "Inferno" as filmed by the company. With the creation, most necessarily prove a special attraction to readers of "Patria" it will be of interest to every man, woman and child, and the full and complete story is delivered with the picture makes every situation plain and clear, and a musical program has been arranged to accompany the picture.

HAWAIIAN PICTURE AT EMPRESS THEATER TODAY

Sessue Hayakawa, the celebrated Lasky Paramount star, who will be seen at the Empress today, in a picture of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story, "The Bottle Imp," up on his return from Honolulu found California enjoying its coldest winter weather. In order to maintain a Hawaiian temperature for Mr. Hayakawa and the twelve Hawaiian dancing girls who returned with the company, each one was supplied with an oil stove and when not before the camera they could be found chattering in the stores, which were going full blast. The dancing girls, after the completion of their work for the Lasky, Paramount production, will go to New York to fill an engagement with a leading cast.

wolf high act her simple brain reeling out of all reason. This much will indicate the nature of Hayakawa's latest production, "The Gift Girl," to be exhibited at the Plaza theater today, with Louise Lovely playing the harem reared-innocent and Rupert Julian co-star in a story of gripping interest and happy termination.

"Steel Hearts" will be the feature attraction at the Gem Theater today. This is one of the sort of pictures which has made the Bison brand famous. It was written by Wright Roberts and produced by Henry McRae, with Marie Walcamp and Lee Hill, and is directed by L. C. Shumway. In a series of thrilling stunts which are guaranteed to take away the breath of any fan.

WORN OUT ARMY MULES TO BE USED FOR PLOWING

Fort Bliss, Texas, April 30.—Long cared, ancient old government mules which have been kept at the Government corral here since General Pershing's expedition came out of Mexico, may be used to plow lands on the fort reservation and in the Rio Grande valley for war crops.

This suggestion has been made to General George Bell, Jr., by farmers in the valley who complain that they cannot get stock enough to do the necessary work of planting large crops of foodstuffs this year to carry out the president's plan of agricultural preparedness. The suggested plan is to loan these army mules to the farmers at a small charge plus their keep, bond to be given for their return at any time in good condition. This plan was used in Austria for cavalry and artillery horses, according to an army officer stationed here.

FARMERS UNION CHIEF CALLS CONFERENCE

Fort Worth, Texas, April 30.—President Edge of the Texas Farmers' Union has called a conference of the Education of American Producers and Consumers in Kansas City, May 5 to discuss the food situation.

UNUSUAL PICTURE AT THE PLAZA TODAY

She lived in a Persian harem until she was about sixteen. She was an English girl, but didn't know it. When she saw the man she was slated to marry, a big, burly, muscular fellow, she stood not upon the order of her going but went. And she kept on going until she landed in Persia, a land where she was to be married to a man who was a great deal older than she was. This play was used in Austria for cavalry and artillery horses, according to an army officer stationed here.

Read what the critics have to say about this picture.

"The true character of the Butcher Boy can best be conveyed by the statement that it comes fully up to the expectations arising from Arbuckle's past performances and the voluminous press notices announcing the comedian's first appearance on the Paramount Program." Exhibitor's Trade Review.

"The producers of this new Arbuckle series have undoubtedly a keen sense of the type of situations that are suited to his lumbering absurdities. As for Arbuckle himself, exhibitors have discovered long ago that he is the best known proof of the fact that everybody loves a fat comedian." Dramatic Mirror.

"Arbuckle will be hard put to it to maintain the quality of his premier releases, but if he succeeds, his output will be second to none in the country." Morning Telegraph.

"If a flying start will help, the new Fatty Arbuckle comedies are going to cross the tape first in the race for clean, dependable slapstick that will always get the money." Motion Picture News.

The above dates have been chosen by the Women's Clubs of America as Nation-Wide Baby Week. The purpose of Baby Week in a community is primarily, Education—First, to give the parents an opportunity of learning important facts with regard to the care and feeding of the baby, and second, to bring home to every individual the importance of the baby and the need of permanent work for baby's welfare. The season is at hand when little folks need careful attention especially children who require artificial foods. A large measure of protective care may always be given by the use of hygienic supplies, suitable foods and simple remedies—

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY
Washington, D. C.

To the Cannery of the United States:

Gentlemen:—Our study of the tin plate situation indicates that it will not be possible to manufacture all of the tin plate and tin containers that will be necessary to fill the demands of every kind which will arise within the next few months.

It is of vital importance that as much food as possible shall be conserved, not only to avoid waste and provide an economical food supply next winter, but to provide the necessary rations for our army and navy in the event of war. We believe that this can be accomplished by co-operation between our departments and the manufacturers of tin plate and of tin containers, as well as the canners of the country, and it may not be necessary to resort to any form of embargo or other drastic form of legislation to accomplish the result which we have in mind.

We ask you therefore to co-operate with us and to limit the canning of non-perishable food products, such as beans, spaghetti, hominy, etc., as much as possible and to concentrate on the canning of perishable food products. We think that this can be accomplished informally by arrangements which you can make.

We are writing letters of a similar nature to the manufacturers of tin plate and of tin containers urging their co-operation in this important matter—

(Signed) WILLIAM C. REDFIELD, Secretary of Commerce.
(Signed) D. F. HOUSTON, Secretary of Agriculture.

THERE IS NO EXCUSE OF USING TIN CONTAINERS FOR COFFEE WHEN YOU CAN GET IT FRESH FROM THE ROASTER.

WE ROAST COFFEE EVERY DAY.
