MIGHTY BATTLE DEVELOPING ON WESTERN FRONT

WIPING OUT OF GERMAN SALLIANT AT MESSINES APPARENTLY ONLY PRELUDE TO FURTHER OFFENSIVE BY BRITISH.

RAIDS IN PROGRESS

For Distance of More Than 70 Miles British Are Raiding German Trenches Southward From Ypres—Sarrail's Forces Active.

The Associated Press war summary today says: The wiping out of the German salient at Messines appears in the light of later developments to be merely the prelude to a projected battle of a far mightier description after a German reaction of a surprisingly feeble character.

The British have resumed trench raids over a front reaching from north of Ypres to as far south as Enoy, a distance of about 70 miles as the crow flies, but far more along the tortuous windings of the battle field.

The official announcement of raids north of Ypres is of especial interest in view of the recent frequently reported heavy artillery fire on the Belgian front. Some weeks ago Germans made a voluntary retirement from in front of the Belgian lines, a fact little noted at the time in the pressure of greater events.

On the Belgian front considerable increase in artillery activity is reported, notably in the dunes near the coast, near Kluipert and east of Ypres where the recent British advance was effected. Here the British made a new thrust last night and advanced slightly south of Messines.

On the French front the artillery on both sides have displayed unusual activity along the Somme and along the Chemin des Dames and the Meuse front. A German attempt to carry out a surprise attack near Vimy failed.

In the meantime there are indications that General Sarrail is preparing to resume the offensive in Macedonia, the Bulgarian official announcement reporting a great increase in the violence in the allied artillery fire on this front. Considerable fighting has been going on in the Macedonia front since the beginning of the official reports and the British interests of events in France have combined to obscure the exact situation.

DOCTORS ORDERED TO SHAVE THEIR BEARDS

This is first requirement on entering training for military service.

By Associated Press

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11.—Several hundred doctors from West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana are at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near here, receiving training for active military service. The physicians make the most of their leisure hours, and for the first time they are being trained as a unit. The camp for the doctors opened formally several days ago, the physicians were slower in reporting than the wounded officers. First was a preliminary talk by many of them, which was followed by a lecture on the principles of military medicine. One of the first orders given them, and which was not carried out with out some reluctance, was to shave off all beards. Many of the doctors wore such facial adornments for years. Another order, trivial in itself, but which caused them surprise was to sit down in mud, when they were assigned to a preliminary talk by the higher officers of the camp. When some of the physicians showed a hesitancy to sit down in the mud with their new uniforms they were informed that "often it is lots muddier in the trenches in France."

The first instructions given consisted of lectures on the duties of military doctors and surgeons, a number of quizzes and discussions of medical questions and problems. Rain and inclement weather interfered to some extent with the first work outlined, so the program had to be confined to the indoor part of the instructions.

When all the men for the medical camp arrive about 600 will be enrolled.

MURDER CHARGE IN KEET BOY CASE

COMPLAINT FILED AGAINST DICK CARTER OF SPRINGFIELD BY COUNTY PROSECUTOR.

SPRINGFIELD QUIET

Five Other Prisoners At Stockton, Mo., Believed Least For Present at Least.

By Associated Press. Springfield, Mo., June 11.—A charge of first degree murder was preferred in a justice court here Saturday night against Dick Carter of Springfield, as a result of the investigation of the disappearance and death of Lloyd Keet, according to an announcement by Paul O'Day, county prosecutor here today. Carter was said to have been arrested at Hutchinson, Kansas. The announcement of the warrant against Carter was the first formal charge made against any person suspected of having been concerned in the death of the Keet baby. The six prisoners whom Keet surrounded at Stockton, Mo., early today were arrested in connection with an investigation of the Keet case, but were held on formal charges of attempting to commit a felony by planning other abductions. The warrant against Carter was sworn out, authorities explained today, after a statement had been made by W. L. Warner of Everton, Mo., and his brother-in-law, John Toothman Warner declared that he had been at the Cronshaw farm where the baby's brother had been found, the day after the disappearance. They were inspecting some work when they looked into one of the windows of the deserted house. Two men were seen peering through the window, one of whom was described as wearing a brown suit. Complete descriptions of each were given the authorities.

Springfield today has resumed the even tenor of its way after a wild, threatening Saturday night and Sunday morning when more than 10,000 persons crowded the public square, threatening and planning to take the lives of six persons, one a woman, held in connection with various alleged abduction plots.

The prisoners not connected with the authorities with the kidnapping and death of baby Lloyd Keet, today were thought to be safe in the jails of other counties. The Keet home was filled today with flowers sent by friends and relatives and even persons unknown to the grief-stricken family. The funeral was to be held this afternoon. First plans were that the service would be held privately because of the prosecution of the baby's mother, but she had improved greatly today and it was determined the funeral should be made public.

ROOSEVELT FAVORS DEMOCRATIC ARMY

Former President Declares Country's New Army Should Be After French Model.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 11.—Theodore Roosevelt, in an address here last night at the annual memorial services of the Railroad Brotherhood and the order of Railway Telegraphs, asserted that this country's new army should be "not on the French, the democratic model, but on the Prussian, the aristocratic model." "I am sure that the army and people held together by the strong hand of our gracious Kaiser will enforce against any and every boy in the present war who does not do his duty as a soldier, as a brakeman or a railway president. Let discipline be strict in the performance of duty, obedience instant and unflinching, but outside of service let it be understood that there is no social line of cleavage between the one who does his full duty in one position and the one who does his full duty in another. Doing their full duty—that is the only test."

Colonel Roosevelt declared, through unpreparedness and taking little thought of the morrow, the people of the United States have been attributing to their virtues much which they really owe to the military program of a new continent separated by two great oceans from the Old World. "We have utterly failed to prepare for the war that has come upon us, we have continued, and now with the utmost energy and good will, but with a vast expenditure of money and effort, and with infinite hurry and confusion and blundering, we are endeavoring to make good—and at best we can only partially make good—the damage wrought by our foolish refusal to look unpleasant facts in the face."

Referring to the industrial situation, the former President declared "this is neither the time nor the place to attempt to work out in detail all that must be done in attempting to solve the industrial problem."

"But he added, it is eminently desirable to lay down a few broad principles, because it is eminently desirable that our people should grow to accept these principles as part of their fund of steady conviction which determines popular action, and should coolly and bravely go to work, not by study and abatement, but by cautious exertion, to the end of reducing the principles to action. "We must shun equally the mere selfish egotism and the mere well-meaning but unpractical conservatism. We should in every way foster and aid business, and we must remember that in the internationalized world of today the big business unit is indispensable. Then, together with this fostering and encouragement, should go such supervision and control as will secure the largest possible degree of equity in the distribution of the rewards and profits, and as far as possible, a growing measure of property interest in, and directional control over, the business, by all who work permanently therein."

GOVERNMENT SAYS THEY MAINTAINED COMMUNICATION WITH OUR ENEMIES

Ferdinand Henrik Adam, a young German, was arrested and charged with violating the federal postal laws. While no charge has been made against him his detention is regarded as highly important. In his room was found the photograph of a German army captain, his father, he explained. Adam said that he was rejected by the army examiners, left Germany in February, 1915, and shipped for Mexico from a Spanish port. The vessel was held up by a British cruiser and Adam was interned at Halifax seven months. When released, he came to the United States. He told the police he made several trips to Mexico.

Herman Frenkel, forty-one years old, of Brooklyn, an electrical engineer, was arrested and charged with mail matter to and from Germany by having it carried to Norway by men of the crews of the Norwegian American line steamships Bergensford and Kristiansund. Matter from Germany was brought here and mailed regularly and mail from South America and Mexico was sent here through the regular channels and turned over to the crews of the two ships.

Adam is employed by L. E. Frorip, a dealer in carbons at 225 Greenwich street between 4th and 5th streets, and a business relationship of Bonaparte. It is said Adam was employed to assemble and pack wireless equipment sent to Mexico. The parts were obtained from different manufacture. The government alleges they sent mail matter to and from Germany by having it carried to Norway by men of the crews of the Norwegian American line steamships Bergensford and Kristiansund. AN APPEAL TO THE MEN OF THE SOUTHWEST

The raising of the Liberty Loan constitutes our first battle with Germany, in which Germany is winning right along the line.

We can hear the hymns of joy being sung in the German newspapers, we can hear the church bells of Berlin ringing and can anticipate the insolent and bombastic tones of the Kaiser's next message to the German people, in which he will take credit on himself and God for the condition of the American Nation who responded so glushly to the call of the Liberty Loan.

Men of America, can you stand this? The tragedy referred to must come upon us unless a great wave of patriotism, pride and energy sweeps over the South at once. This wave will have to be of tidal dimensions, and rise as suddenly as that phenomenon of nature.

While its accomplishment would be a near miracle, yet its accomplishment is a possibility and would be the greatest tribute to our resourcefulness.

To accomplish the object referred to, men of means must double their subscriptions, men who love eight per cent more than their country must change their affections. Wealthy land owners who say "this is not our war" must be brought to realize that the war is being largely in their interest, for they have most to lose by defeat.

Above all, the average citizen must drop his business for a few days, place himself at the disposal of his LIBERTY LOAN committee and go out and sell bonds.

Men are needed who will take their automobiles and make twenty calls a day.

The men will have to use a few crisp arguments, and then ask a man whether he cares to assert his citizenship by subscribing. Workers should not hesitate in approaching the wealthiest men in their community and should not hesitate to speak plainly, the time for lengthy arguments has passed.

Every one should be appealed to on the grounds that it is patriotic to subscribe, and it will be fatal to our business and our peace of mind to fail in the war.

The theory that the "other fellow" is finding the money must be killed, it is the most difficult falsehood with which we have to deal. The loan is short subscribed, the secretary of the treasury says so, every man must do his share, and some must do more than their share to supply the deficiencies of others.

Men of the Southwest, will you go out on Tuesday morning in your thousands resolved to save your community and your state from being an object of scorn?

Every subscription must be in the hands of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas by midday Friday, June 15th, so instant action is necessary. In the name of your country, our president, our democracy, humanity, your pride and for your own protection, we call upon you to act.

The decision today also bears on the Illinois two-cent passenger rate case.

TEXAS DRY STATISTICS SENT TO WASHINGTON

Austin, June 11.—The attorney general's department today transmitted to W. Lamar, solicitor general of the federal postal department at Washington, a mass of data and information relative to the wet and dry counties in Texas, this information to be used by the federal department in the enforcement of the federal law which comes effective July 1, prohibiting the use of the mails for carrying newspapers or circulars for distribution into dry territory. This data discloses there are 180 counties in Texas totally dry, twenty-two wholly wet and forty-nine partially dry. In the 251 counties in Texas, according to reports from county judges, there are 2,002 post offices located in dry territory and 228 in wet territory. Assistant Attorney General Keeling said that this law will practically prohibit the circulation of newspapers anywhere in Texas carrying liquor advertisements.

BILLION DOLLARS GOAL SET FOR NEW YORK CITY

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 11.—The second administration food control bill granting broad powers to the president was agreed to by the House agricultural committee today by a vote of 12 to 3 and immediately reported to the House. The bill provides a guaranteed minimum price to producers of non-perishable agricultural products under regulations to be prescribed by the president.

The committee dropped the plan for maximum price fixing on the ground that it was unnecessary. One member of the crew was drowned while attempting to escape in a small boat.

By Associated Press. New York, June 11.—With its own $500,000,000 allotted share of the Liberty Loan already practically accounted for, New York has set out to subscribe for $400,000,000 more. It was announced today by the Liberty Loan committee.

FACULTY ANSWER TO GOV. FERGUSON

STATEMENT TAKES UP CHARGES MADE BY EXECUTIVE IN HIS VETO MESSAGE.

CHARGES REFUTED

Statement Discusses Relations Between Governor and Board of University Regents.

Special to The Times, June 11.—Charges contained in Governor Ferguson's proclamation vetoing the appropriations for the State University have been replied to in a formal statement that was carefully prepared by Dr. H. Y. Benedict, dean of the College of Arts, dean of the men and professor of mathematics of the University of Texas, and four others of the faculty, all prominent members of the faculty, all of whom are also deans. In this answer the Governor's attempts to contrast the per capita cost of students of the University with that of those in the common schools is dissected and it is shown that the income of the common schools from local taxation and other sources is much greater than the income from the State taxes. The $15 per student referred to by the Governor is consequently less than one-half of the actual expenditures for common school students. It is, however, true that education costs more as one goes from the high school to the University and progressively more as one goes from the undergraduate to the graduate department of the University. It is shown that the cost of higher education at the University of Texas is low compared with the cost in other State institutions offering a similar grade of work. It is made clear in this answer that the friends of higher education in Texas are not opposed to the education in common schools. The University is based on the education in the common schools and there is not and never has been any opposition on the part of the University to liberal appropriations for the common schools. Without higher education there can be no progress or development of civilization. It is the keystone to the strength of the Nation. Governor Ferguson's attack upon Dr. Vinson because the latter is a sectarian preacher, is dwelt upon in the answer as a matter of principle. It says in part: "As we understand it, Governor Ferguson holds that if a sectarian preacher should be elected to the presidency of the State institution, he should not continue to preach. No self-respecting preacher would accept any office at the price of ceasing to proclaim the Gospel." It is shown that there is nothing in the constitution or laws that prohibits a preacher being elected to the presidency of the University, the only reference to that subject being that "nor shall any course of sectarian character be taught therein." As to the facts involved, however, it may be said that Dr. Vinson since his election as president of the University has preached only five times. The answer cites numerous cases where ministers of the gospel, including those of the Presbyterian, Jewish and other religious sects have held and are holding positions upon faculties of educational institutions of different states. There are about thirty-five privately endowed and nonsectarian colleges and universities in the United States and each has a sectarian preacher for president. Following out the Governor's idea, the chaplains of the Senate and House of the Legislature and of the penitentiary, as well as of the army and navy should be dismissed.

In reference to the Governor's attack upon the fraternities, the reply of Dr. Benedict and other members of the faculty says, in part: "So far as it can, the University discourages the display of wealth. Poverty is never ridiculed. Any foolish student who did so would be laughed to scorn by the overwhelming majority of the sensible and fair-minded students. The University gives equal opportunity to rich and poor. Its faculty consists largely of men who were poor boys and who now heartily sympathize with struggling and ambitious men and women. Considerably over half of the student body is poor, about 40 per cent is self-supporting."

The fraternities bring numbers of the student body together and enable them to rent their own houses or to build fraternity homes, thus helping to increase the supply of dormitories. The following significant paragraph in the answer is all that really needs to be said on the fraternity question. "That the University is a good training ground for citizenship is shown by the fact that about 400 students placed their lives at the service of their country by volunteering for the United States army. Fraternity men and non-fraternity men volunteered in nearly equal proportions, and it is safe to say that very few if any able-bodied fraternity men are now left in the University who are over 21, exceptions being made of a few medical and engineering students who have remained by government advice."

Dr. Benedict and his associates deny that the faculty is divided into small "cliques and clans." They say that on the contrary the faculty is remarkably harmonious and that it has desired only that the board of regents be left free to exercise its best judgment. In extenuation of the action of the student body in holding a parade the day after the publication of Governor Ferguson's purpose to have a secret for the purpose of removing President Vinson and four other members of the faculty and to prohibit fraternities, it is pointed out that the students in common with the people generally were aghast at the prospect and outraged at the proposal. The parade was instigated, planned and ordered by a meeting of the prominent students representing the student body. It was an orderly affair and was the only way the students had of protesting against the proposed action of the Governor to destroy the University.

The concluding paragraphs of the answer follow: "The University is not opposed to the rural schools. Two years ago the acting president of the University complimented the Governor in strong terms for his fine work in the interest of the rural schools. The faculty knows that better rural schools will mean better high schools, better high schools a better university. Upper and lower schools are friends, not enemies; the upper supply teachers to the lower, the lower supply pupils to the upper. It would be stupid, if true, for the University to oppose the rural or any other schools. The faculty has, in fact, placed upon its minutes and presented to the legislature its endorsement of greater support for rural schools.

"The University faculty has made no fight on the Governor, but clearly recognizes his responsibility and rights in connection with the University. His rights are fixed and limited by the laws and the constitution. In through their respective organizations, have protested against the decision of the municipal authorities to employ clergymen and non-conformist ministers as teachers in the elementary schools.

As preliminary to the decision of the authorities, the Board of Education a few months ago cancelled the regulation which prohibited the employment of clergy and ministers on the staffs of schools. The change is to be made for the period of the war as a means, it is said, of remedying the serious shortage of teachers.

The protest of the teachers is not based on economic or professional reasons but is made against the clergy and minister of military age. The teachers have called the ministers and clergy "professional conscientious objectors against military service."

Fashion At The Beaches

New York, June 9.—Yellow sands and cool breezy shores will very soon begin to draw the usual crowds that flock to the seaside in the summer months. This season sees the bathing suits carrying out the same colorful note that predominates in all sports clothes, and in materials there is also a similarity, namely, in the use of one of the most favored fabrics—wool jersey. This versatile material seems to make itself at home in any sphere. After having made its importance felt in sports clothes, one-piece frocks and semi-formal suits, the bathing suit has been lately added to its conquests. Yet, other materials compare very favorably with jersey cloth at the fashionable beaches. Black satin has lost none of its usual charms; taffeta, moiré, silk and poplin still retain their popularity; and the rubberized cloths are likewise favored to a great extent.

If the one-piece slip-on frocks have been a success in our every-day life, the same style adapted to bathing suits is still more successful. One could ask for nothing more practical than the one-piece bathing dress worn over bloomers, and to it may be added all the prevailing fashion features. There are suits of this type decorated with embroidery, with deep trimming bands, large pockets, and with girldes arranged according to the latest whims of fashion. Following out one of the late styles in suits is the bathing suit illustrated with a deep band at the lower part. This band is stitched at the front and back, but the sides are loose to give the effect of bulging pockets or an adaptation of the barrel idea which is still exploited by certain designers. This suit is of black satin with the band of striped satin.

The second sketch shows a chemise bathing suit fashioned of wool jersey with a trimming of braid, and the pointed pockets and long, soft girldes which are featured again and again in the frocks of the hour. White Turkish toweling with a light blue border trims a dark blue taffeta suit very effectively, forming the sailor collar and a band at the edge of the skirt. White tulle and tussar silk collars appear on many suits, and braid is a very popular trimming.

Bathing Suit Accessories. A complete bathing outfit by no means ends with the selection of the suit. Beach wraps, hats and caps, shoes and stockings, are quite as important. There are sets of matching hats, shoes and huge bags which are considered very smart. Rubberized silks in plain colors, as well as striped and flowered effects, are especially attractive for the beach wraps, which are usually made with very large collars.

In hats and caps, the choice lies between round sailors with straight brims and rather high crowns, and the small close-fitting rubber caps. Tam-o-shanters and the Chinese-shaped hats are also seen a great deal. On many hats and caps there are novel ornaments of rubber in bright contrasting colors.

Some New Sweaters. To be without a sweater at the seashore is almost as bad as being without a bathing suit. The knitted wool sweaters made with body and sleeves in one seem to be at the height of popularity just now. They are mostly of the kind that is slipped on over the head, with an opening only at the neck. Some of the newest ones are knitted to fit closely at the waist, with the top and the lower part knit more openly. They are usually hip length. Knitted in silk, these look more like waist than sweaters. Orange, rose, light green and royal blue are very prominent colors, sometimes relieved by white collars and cuffs. They are worn with white linen, gabardine, flannel or silk skirts. There is a wonderful variety of separate skirts for sports wear and general use. The models are box pleated, side pleated, gathered or plain, cut in two or three pieces, and generally carrying large pockets.

POSITIONS WILL BE HELD FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 11.—Heads of practically all the state departments and bureaus have advised their employees within the military age that if they desire to go to war their positions will be given them on their return. As a result of this announcement, quite a number of young men in the various departments have enlisted in the service. Most of them have joined the Texas National Guard, and will form a part of the division now in progress of organization. In many instances where vacancies have occurred by reason of the young men rallying to the colors, young women are being placed in the positions.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

HIS BIT.

He stood at the teller's gilded gate; Feeble was he and old. His coat was worn and his trousers frayed. And he shivered a bit with cold. He shivered a bit though the day was warm. For the blood in his veins was thin, And the pass-book shook in the withered hand. That he slowly thrust within, "It isn't much, but it's all I have, And it's every cent my own. I want that ye shall take it all For a share in the nation's loan. It's all I have and it's cost me dear; God knows how I've worked for it! But I've heard the call and my answer's here: It's a way I can do my bit."

The old man fingered the parchment stiff. The bond for his hoard of gold. A pitiful sum it seemed, forsooth, As a nation's wealth is told. A light leaped up in his dim blue eyes And his threadbare shoulders squared. There was strength of pride in his very step As into the street he fared. And who shall belittle that old man's bit? There is none can surpass his all. He gave of the strength of his long lost youth. When he answered the nation's call, And the heart of a patriot beat beneath That coat that was ill of fit. Have you of your competence done as much? Have you answered and "done your bit?" —By Thornton W. Burgess of the Vigilantes.

1917 GRADUATES ENTERTAINED BY MISS RUTH MCKENZIE

A delightful post graduation hospitality for the 1917 graduates was the class party of Friday night at the home of Miss Ruth McKenzie. Music, dancing and experiments with the Ouija board furnished diversion. The dining room was decorated in the class colors, blue and gold, and delicious food punch was served here. Those enjoying the evening, including class members and visitors: Misses Beulah Walker, Goldie and Allen Alverson, Margaret Burnside, Mattie Ruth Corlett, Eunice Musgrave, Mary Spyer, Clark, Blanche Irvine, Jewell Hales, Gladys Wilson, Irene Danielson, Jewell Brown, Patsy-Lou Kooner, Elaine Frieze, Louise Akers, Stella and Esther McKenzie; Messrs Fitz Hickman, Alfred Burnside, Charles Williams, Henry Davis, C. J. Shumake, Burke Taylor, George Ulrich, Guy Sinclair, D. W. Cocke and Mrs. McKenzie, mother of the hostess.

Fargo, N. D. June 11.—Thousands of acres of fertile land in the upper reaches of the Red river valley are being seeded to crops this year after being idle for two or three seasons. The dry spring has allowed practically all of this land to be reclaimed and plowing operations are under way. The farmers are seeding barley, corn and potatoes.

Farmers in these regions in the past few years have suffered heavy losses but they have proven themselves financially able to undertake the reclamation of their acres, previously devastated by floods. The states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota are working out a tri-state flood control program by which, it is hoped, this land may be kept under permanent cultivation without fear of high water.

MOBILIZATION OF LABOR FOR FARMS

Federal, State and Community Co-Operation Sought in Organization of Forces.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Under the government plan for the organization of farm labor, the details of which were announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture today, provision is made for nationwide co-operation in the solution of the farm help problem. The work of organization already has been started in about 40 states, and it is expected that eventually every community in the United States will be reached. It is believed that the resultant utilization of emergency labor will begin to have an appreciable effect on the farm labor situation before the season has far advanced. Meanwhile, the immediate and acute problem of supplying labor for the harvests, now beginning in the Southwest, is being handled, so far as the

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

Theodor's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it! NC-131

CHAS. H. WILLIAMS, Business Mgr.

Travelling Party 10, Paris 9, Amarillo 7, Sherman 5, Texarkana 5, San Angelo 5, Cleburne 4, Denison 3, Dallas headquarters reports a very satisfactory week throughout the district.

The local recruiting station has received a copy of the new pay sheet, which is now as follows: "Commencing June 1, 1917, and continuing until not later than six months after the close of the present war, all enlisted men of the navy of the United States in active service, whose base pay does not exceed $21 per month, shall receive an increase of $15 per month; those whose base pay is over $21 and does not exceed $24 per month, an increase of $8 per month; those whose base pay is over $24 and less than $45, an increase of $5 per month; and those whose base pay is $45 or over per month, an increase of $6 per month. Provided, that the increase of pay herein authorized shall not enter into the computation of continuous pay; provided, that during the continuance of the present war, warrant officers, petty officers, and enlisted men of the United States Coast Guard shall receive the same rates of pay as are or may hereafter be prescribed for corresponding grades or ratings, and length of service in the navy."

Four more men were recruited for the navy yesterday: Ernest Shepherd, Clyde; John E. Briggs, Wichita Falls; Hiram M. Barton, Quail, and George D. Crowley, also from Quail.

The local recruiting station for the army sent three to Dallas yesterday: Elton J. Copeland, Kennedy; Robert Dowdy, Electra, and Bruce C. McCann, Benjamin.

Deputy Constable J. B. Nail this morning dashed a quantity of miscellaneous articles out of the river. About a hundred pounds of apparently new copper wire, a large copper kettle and some heavy machinery casting were among the articles found.

A small boy this morning reported that the "contraband" was being hidden in the river, and Officer Nail arrived in time to give the thief a hard chase. By dint of hard running the culprit got away.

EASTLAND DISASTER CASES TO BE TRIED SEPARATELY

COYOTE, HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL IS READY

Publication is Handsome Volume Reflecting Credit on Those Who Produced It.

The 1917 issue of the High School annual, the Coyote, was given to subscribers today, and all of the students seemed highly pleased with the efforts of the editorial and business staff in presenting a review of the school work for the year.

The Coyote this year is composed of 158 pages, printed on enamel book paper and bound in black calf, which makes of it a permanent volume that will be kept in the libraries of those who receive it for many years to come and will always be a reminder of the pleasant memories associated with the school year of 1917.

Pictures, in half tone, are shown of the scholars, the faculty and the school board, as well as a large number of kodak views of the class of '17 taken in characteristic poses. The work is dedicated to Bert E. McGlamery, with a special word of appreciation for the help given the class by W. P. Akin.

Much of the credit of the publication is due to the very skillful and conscientious effort put into the compiling of the literary part of the book to Miss Marian Dobson, who spent much time and labor in making the work a success. The cartoons supplied by Leslie Turner also merit the highest appreciation, showing in their lines the work of one who is destined to make a wonderful success in this line of work for the business management, in securing advertisements and otherwise making the book a financial success. Charles Williams as advertising manager, deserve much credit from their school mates and the parents and teachers as well.

The work is from the press of the Times job department.

FALSE REGISTRATIONS WILL BE PROSECUTED

Government agents, it is understood, have a number of names of parties in this county against whom they are preparing to file complaints for false registration. No complaints have yet been filed it was stated. The officers are said to be in possession of the names of several parties who have not registered and are deferring filing complaints in the expectation that those who have not done so will register voluntarily. Government officers have received instructions to give every opportunity possible before filing complaints.

To the Capitalists and Business Men of Wichita Falls, Texas:

You expect the soldiers of the United States to stand up and be shot at to protect your home, your wife, your children. You are quite willing that our boys should be sent across the seas to fight your battles that you may remain in peace and security. You are willing for the fleets of the United States and their allies to keep the Atlantic open so that the trade of the country may go on and you may have plenty of business and get good prices for your products.

Mothers will be left to mourn their sons, wives will be left desolate, in order that you may live in peace and security. Money is needed to assist our allies and to furnish supplies for our army and navy to provide for your protection. You MAY have bought a Liberty Bond. If so, be sure that you have bought the denomination that you should have bought. If your ability is such that you should have bought a $500.00 or $1,000.00 bond, don't salve your conscience with the knowledge that you have bought only a $50.00 or $100.00 bond.

Last Tuesday, the young men of this county registered and, under the law, are liable to be called to the colors at any time. It is gratifying to all that there did not appear to be any slackers among them. There should be no slackers now among the business men of this community. The City of Wichita Falls should take and pay for, on the basis of population and wealth, not less than $360,000 worth of Liberty Loan Bonds. The men who should lead in buying these bonds are the men whose property and business will be protected and whose persons are not going to be imperiled in the war. When the final list of subscribers is published it should be a Roll of Honor, and the omission of YOUR name from that list for the proper amount will be considered a badge of dishonor by every patriotic citizen. While every one should do his share the man with money or a prosperous business should, if necessary, forego his usual profit while the war lasts and be content with the interest an investment in bonds will bring for his country's sake.

THIS IS NO DONATION: It is a patriotic duty. If you have not already subscribed to these Liberty Loan Bonds for an amount proportionate to your ability, go straight to your banker and do it now.
