SAYS ROAD TO INDIA IS OPEN TO BOLSHIEVIKI

Note of Warning to British Government is Sounded by Gen. Maurice.

AN IMMEDIATE POLICY NECESSARY HE STATES

Bolshevik Emissaries Have Started a Concentrated Propaganda in that Direction

By ED L. KEENE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The road to India is open as the Russian Bolsheviki now threaten to establish communication with the entire east, General Maurice, British military expert, declared today in an article in the Daily News.

Official anxiety over the military situation in Russia was heightened by a wireless dispatch from Moscow in which the Russian Soviet government claimed its armies had entered Bokhara, the gateway to Afghanistan.

An immediate policy "should be established by the British government to prevent further extension of the Red's sphere of influence in countries now under their control," declared General Maurice.

Bolshevik emissaries have started a concentrated propaganda in the British sphere of influence to the north and west of India, according to Maurice.

With sporadic revolts already reported from the hill country of north India and fighting reported between Waziri and Mahaud tribesmen and British forces, British observers believe the Bolsheviki are already beginning to bear fruit.

Dispatches today amplified the Moscow wireless advice of yesterday, which announced that the Bolsheviki victory for the Red armies attacking General Denikin's anti-Bolsheviki troops in South Russia.

Besides the capture of the towns of Yermolovka and Novomoskovsk, the Reds claimed to have taken several other towns. Denikin's routed armies continue their retreat toward the north, the British military circles said.

General Denikin apparently is doomed to follow the fate of Yudenitch and Admiral Kolchak, who were forced to establish an anti-Bolsheviki government for Russia.

MEXICO MAY GRANT AMNESTY TO THOSE IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

MEXICO CITY, Thursday, Jan. 1.—Amnesty may be granted Mexican fugitives in foreign countries by the government, President Carranza declared today at the New Year's reception at the palace. The president's statement was in answer to a petition presented by Col. Antonio Juregui, survivor of the war of French intervention, who asked that former federal officers be pardoned for offenses charged against them. Many of these were involved in the revolt of 1913.

BERGER FORBIDDEN TO SPEAK IN PROVIDENCE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 2.—Victor L. Berger, who postponed an engagement to speak here Saturday night with the understanding that he would speak in the city at a later date, will not be permitted to make a public address here, according to a decision announced today by Walter A. Presby, chairman of the police commission.

After conferences with Mayor Gainer and the city solicitor on a protest filed by Providence Post of the American Legion, the commission issued a statement reviewing Berger's record and asserting that "to allow him to make an address in public here would permit him to further assail American institutions, besides endangering the public peace."

TWO ARE KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 2.—An explosion in the black powder plant of the Dupont works at Flagley, near Brandywine, Pa., today, resulted in the death of two men and injury of another. A small one-story building was wrecked. The shock of the explosion was felt for 30 miles.

EXPORT DUTY IS TEN PER CENT PER TON ON MEXICAN CRUDE

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2.—An export duty of 10 per cent per ton on crude oil was fixed by presidential decree today. The same decree fixed an ad valorem duty of 3 per cent on refined gasoline and kerosene, with a 4 per cent ad valorem duty on the unrefined product.

The treasury department will fix the value per ton of crude oil every two months, density and combustibility being taken into consideration by the department.

The decree, which became effective today, reforms the law of April 13, 1917.

SAYS PREVOST CAN EXPLAIN THE BROWN MURDER

Statement is Made by Chief of Police Straight in Discussing the Case.

MOUNT CLEMENS, MICH., Jan. 2.—Lloyd Prevost can explain the murder of J. Stanley Brown, in the opinion of Chief of Police Allan Straight. Straight declared today that if Prevost would talk he could clear up the mystery which has surrounded the case since Brown's body was found in an automobile near here December 23.

Prevost was arrested for the second time yesterday. He confronted Cecil Beatrice Vester, who is charged with Brown's murder, in her cell in the jail here.

"You killed him—you know you did and now you are trying to do anything behind woman's skirts," Mrs. Vester shouted.

Prevost did not reply. Mrs. Ruth Brown, widow of the slain man and cousin of Prevost, was expected to be re-arrested today. Mrs. Brown and Prevost were very friendly, authorities stated.

Chief Straight stated Brown had discovered the relations between his wife and Prevost and had remonstrated.

The last minute Brown was seen alive, just before 10:00 o'clock the night of his death, he said he was going to meet Lloyd Prevost to ride to Utica along the very road on which less than an hour later he was shot to death in his automobile. Straight said.

At 9:30 Prevost says he walked along Gratot avenue, the busiest street of the town, in which he was born and in which he knows almost every person, turned over the river bridge and walked a block to the Edison hotel.

"Continuing, he says, he went into the hotel and up to his and Brown's room and went to bed, departing for work in the morning.

No Witness Produced. "Yet Prevost has been unable to produce one person among all his friends in Mount Clemens who saw him walking along Gratot avenue and over to his hotel. He walked three blocks apparently at a busy time of the night and no one saw him, nor is he able to produce any one who saw him enter the hotel and go up stairs to his room.

"There are eight or nine hours in the life of Lloyd Prevost unaccounted for by a single witness and unfavorable for him, these hours are the ones that cover the murder of J. Stanley Brown."

A deputy sheriff today was to bring Gladys Summit, the girl whose story was responsible for the arrest of Cecil Beatrice Vester from her home in Battle Creek today for further questioning. This examination was scheduled for Wednesday, but was delayed.

Gladys Summit was asked to substantiate her story that Cecil was not in Battle Creek the night of December 23 or the morning of December 24.

MORE THAN 200 RADICALS LAND IN CHICAGO JAIL

Series of Raids Conducted Last Night Are Continued Today By State's Attorney

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—With more than 200 alleged radicals in prison, a search continuing, Chief Justice Robert E. Crowe prepared today to call a special grand jury Monday to investigate the entire "Red" situation in Chicago.

Thomas Whitehead, secretary and treasurer of the I. W. W., was among those arrested this morning, but his chief, William J. (Big Bill) Hayward, and a number of other leading officials of the organization are being sought.

State's Attorney Mackley Hoyne, under whose direction the search is being made, declared today that the prosecution will proceed under a new state law against syndicalism and independently of the department of justice.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Two hundred men and women had been taken into custody today in the campaign started under the direction of Mackley Hoyne, state attorney, to rid Chicago of Reds.

The raid continued throughout the night. Homes and meeting places of alleged revolutionists were broken into and the leaders taken to jail.

Hoyne stated that the raids were first planned in connection with the cooperation of the department of justice refused to participate in the campaign at the last moment.

The department of justice refused to play politics and ordered the raids to continue without aid from the federal government.

Leading radicals of Chicago were among those seized. It was reported that the raiders were searching for "Big Bill" Hayward but they had not been able to locate him early today.

Among those arrested were "Little Rebel" Arrarato, James Crowley, secretary of the Chicago branch of the Socialist party, George Andrichine, who served a sentence in Leavenworth prison for objecting to military duty, and Annie Grodarsky, known as the "Little Rebel."

Hoyne charged the anarchists at meetings held here had plotted to overthrow the government and to slay United States officials.

The fact that the alleged Red leaders sought were not taken into custody was attributed by Hoyne to "double crossing" by the department of justice. He charged that agents of the department of justice had tipped the radicals that the raid would be made.

GRAND JURY PLANS AN INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Grand Jury investigation of Red activities was planned today by Mackley Hoyne, state attorney, following arrest of 275 alleged revolutionists in 300 raids here during the night of Jan. 1.

Hoyne announced he would ask Chief Justice Robert E. Crowe of criminal court to summon the grand jury. Hoyne said he believed his investigators had gathered sufficient evidence to deport or imprison every one caught in the raids.

Prosecution will be started under the new Illinois anti-Red law which provides a minimum of ten years imprisonment for anyone plotting to overthrow the government.

The raids continued today, although most of the Red headquarters were visited during the night. Several leaders, including "Big Bill" Hayward, for whom warrants were issued, were not in custody at noon.

Bitter Feeling Existed. Bitter feeling existed between the state attorney's forces and agents of the department of justice. Up to the last minute federal agents planned to cooperate with police in the raids. Hoyne said, but just before the hour set for the raids to start Hoyne received word from the department of justice asking that the raids be stopped. Hoyne said he would interfere with the government's fight against the Reds. This word, Hoyne said, came from Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's office.

Hoyne declared today in a formal statement that if the raids had not been carried out as scheduled, the fruits of five months' investigation by special officers and United States government agents would have been wasted. He accused Palmer of playing "party politics," Hoyne charges that the department of justice representatives had deliberately warned Reds of the impending raids caused sensation.

Center in Chicago. The scope of the Chicago raid is an indication of what may be expected in other cities, Hoyne declared. He said the Red activities centered in Chicago but plots to overthrow the national government also had been unearthed in other cities, including Cleveland, New York, Boston, Detroit and Seattle.

In a formal statement Hoyne declared the Reds were a "real menace" to the welfare of the government. The centers of their work are Chicago, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit and Seattle, he said.

They have established schools in Chicago and elsewhere to teach their propaganda," Hoyne stated. "Tons and tons of literature advocating destruction of our government are being distributed."

Most of this propaganda is printed in Chicago, Hoyne declared.

REPORTED, CANADIAN PAPER EMBARGO DENIED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Authoritative denial of rumors that the Canadian government contemplated an embargo on the exports of newsprint paper has been received by the bureau of commerce. Canadian mills were said to be running at capacity, turning out about 2,775 short tons daily, of which 90 per cent is exported, most of it to the United States.

LIMERICK, IRELAND POSTOFFICE ROBBED IN RAID LAST NIGHT

LIMERICK, IRELAND, Jan. 2.—The Limerick postoffice was raided about midnight last night by 20 masked and armed men who seized several thousand pounds in cash and money orders. The postoffice staff, numbering 12 persons, was held up until the pillage was completed.

The employees were then warned not to attempt to follow the raiders, who escaped unmolested. Military forces occupied the postoffice today.

WILSON'S PHRASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—The phrase "I may not" which President Wilson used in his address to Congress, has been seized by his bitter political foe, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho. In a letter to Gov. Frank O. Lowden, Borah said: "I may not give you an illustration in the capital."

WIDESPREAD TERROR IN TURKEY OVER FORECAST WORLD WAS TO END

CONSTANTINOPLE, Tuesday, Dec. 23.—There was widespread terror throughout Turkey on December 17 because of reports reaching this country from America that the end of the world was predicted for that day. Children were not sent to school, large numbers of people were afraid to leave their homes, and many Armenian and Turkish women became insane.

TO ENTER BRYAN IN THE MICHIGAN PRIMARY ELECTION

DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 2.—William J. Bryan will be entered in Michigan's presidential preference primary as a candidate for endorsement as Democratic nominee for president, according to local friends of the former secretary of state.

Petitions in his favor which will require only 100 names will be in circulation shortly, it was said. The primaries will be held April 5.

PARTY CONFERENCES HELD IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—Important party conferences on the peace and reconstruction stand upon such vital issues. He virtually dared Lowden not to reply.

At the conference plans were laid for reconvening the treaty discussions when the senate meets Monday and compromise proposals were discussed.

Republicans of every shade of opinion gathered in Lodge's office to go over certain proposals received early in the week from Democrats, including a proposed modification of the reservation on article 10 and the virtual elimination of the League reservation to equalize the voting strength of the United States and British Empire.

Hitchcock took counsel with Senators Swanson, King and others. King urged Hitchcock to accept a set of proposed compromise reservations, approval of which King has sought from Republican mild reservationists.

The arguments will require at least a day for each side, defense and prosecution attorneys have agreed. They thought it unlikely the case would go to the jury before next Wednesday.

COMMITTEE ON INVESTIGATION DOES NOT EXIST

Such is Opinion Expressed in Connection With Request of R. L. Winfrey

AUSTIN, Jan. 2.—The investigating committee of the 36th legislature, which R. L. Winfrey, chairman of the prison commission, has asked to convene and hear charges of graft amounting to millions which he alleged exist in the state penitentiary system, does not exist, according to unofficial opinions of several state officials and members of the legislature here.

SEVEN WONDERFUL LAMPS SUBJECT OF DR. KAWCKERBOCKER

Yes, they will be literal lamps very beautiful and illustrating still more beautiful and radiant lights of laughter and love and joy and peace, the subject of the First Methodist Church Sunday night, namely, "A Merry Model Home Made Home Life With Seven Lamps." The lamps will be lit one by one as the radiant lights of home are symbolized by the speaker.

At 11 a. m. a great membership rally service will be held at the church. Every member of the church is to be present and begin the New Year right by worshipping God on the first Sabbath in the new year. The pastor has received 146 members in the six weeks of his pastorate and cordially invites all who intend to join the First Methodist Church here to come out Sunday and join and help him go over the 200 mark.

The subject of the New Year sermon will be "The Secret of Success is Will Power." What is the Secret of Will Power? The revelations of this discourse, says the preacher, apply to social and business life as well as religious life and will be of great interest to all who want to "get on" in this world as well as the next.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Praised for a statesman but not for the numerous stories that have been published concerning him, Colonel E. M. House, unwillingly declined to commit himself on any subject, political or otherwise, at a Democratic presidential candidate, either announced or prospective. He further declared that no one had been authorized to speak for him.

COL. HOUSE DECLINES TO COMMIT HIMSELF

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—General Francisco Murguia, commander of Mexican federal troops in the state of Coahuila, has returned against President Carranza, according to confidential advices received here today from Mexico. Carranza's control of Coahuila, his home, is put in jeopardy by this act of his general, it is believed here, since Villa and his forces are supposed to be encamped in the mountains in Northern Coahuila, may take advantage of this weak spot and make the state a base for recently added several towns in Coahuila.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WICHITA GUN CLUB SATURDAY EVENING

The annual meeting of the Wichita Gun Club will be held in Charlie Greenberg's store on Ohio avenue Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The feature of the meeting will be the discussion of plans for the 1920 state trapshooting tournament here, the holding of which will be one of the biggest sporting honors that has ever fallen to Wichita Falls; a recognition by other Texas cities that Wichita Falls is now in the "big league" class. All members of the organization are urged by Secretary J. L. Nabb to be on deck when the meeting opens.

A cold, raw northwest wind kept many members of the local club from the traps yesterday. "Nine of the old timers, however, showed up for the weekly battle, which resulted in a tie for high gun honors between Fate and Williams, each man breaking 28 as "birds" out of 100. W. L. Smith and Charlie Greenberg tied for second place with 23 breaks each. Deatheridge, who was down at the bottom of the list in the singles event, staged a comeback in the double, winning with 16 "deaths" in his 12 pairs. Adrian, Nabb and Spradling tied for second honors.

Practically all deals for players under consideration by the Wichita League have been concluded, according to a statement made today by Will Gray, secretary of the local club. The players have been ordered to report in this city on March 10.

Although the club is not yet ready to make public the names of all the men on the roster, it is expected that 35 experienced ball tossers, men with major and minor league records, will report here for the spring training. In addition to these, probably not less than a dozen rookies who have been playing with various semi-pro teams will receive opportunity to exhibit their baseball talents.

GERMANY MAY BE ALLOWED A LARGER ARMY

Will Probably Change Clause in Treaty to Permit Maximum of 200,000 Men

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The clause in the peace treaty providing a maximum strength for Germany's regular army of 100,000 men probably will be changed to allow a maximum of at least 200,000, it was learned today.

The Allies prefer a larger standing army to the present German plan of auxiliary units which now total with the regulars about 1,000,000 men, it was said. A force of at least 200,000 is necessary, however, to maintain order throughout Germany, in the opinion of Allied military experts.

As soon as the treaty is declared effective the Allies will insist upon dissolution of the various volunteer organizations, it was said, believing the Germans might use the volunteer plan as a substitute for her former system of universal training.

For the present, it was said, Allied leaders have no fear of a sudden military comeback on the part of the Germans. The nation has no adequate stock of munitions, it was pointed out, and the people are too war weary to be incited to any extensive military movement.

SUGGEST CREDIT TO HUMBLE TRASH CAN

In mentioning the benefits that accrue into Wichita Falls in the year 1913, why not chronicle in the public prints some mention of the humble trash cans presented to the city by the Clean-Up Committee? If "great oaks from little acorns grow" why not great municipal cleanliness from little trash cans?

Justing aside, the neat-appearing chest iron cans placed on downtown corners several weeks ago as receptacles for trash have "accomplished wonders," to quote Sanitation Officer Morgan, and Police Commissioner Goodfellow. They have helped remarkably in the city's efforts to keep the business streets neat and attractive, and it is expected that their usefulness will be a potent argument in 1914 for a greater crusade of cleanliness.

Harriet M. Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was responsible for the idea, and additional credit goes also to the Rotary and Wichita Chapter of the Civic League and the city council.

CHICAGO PRISONERS WITNESS HANGING OF RAFFALO DURRAGE

Two hundred prisoners in the Cook county jail today witnessed the hanging of Raffalo Durrage. The men stood in their cells, with windows facing on a court and saw Durrage go to his death, as a "moral lesson."

Jailer W. T. Davies and Sheriff C. W. Peters arranged for the prisoners to see the execution, despite protests from Chicago club women, social leaders and Governor Frank O. Lowden.

"The governor misunderstood the circumstances," said Jailer Davies. He thought we were going to allow all prisoners to witness the hanging. Instead we merely did not remove the prisoners who occupied cells facing on the court where the scaffold was erected.

The prisoners stood in the windows and watched the trap spring. A few turned away but the majority gazed at the spectacle without flinching.

Durrage was convicted of murdering his wife and Onorio Gargano, an Italian former hangings prisoner, were removed from cells facing the court where the hangings take place.

GARMENT WORKERS PLAN A STRIKE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The cloak and suit industry of New York, employing 45,000 persons, faces strikes for higher wages which are certain to begin without fail for the public unless checked, the Cloak, Suit and Shirt Manufacturers' Association announced today. Workers in 150 individual shops already are out striking, the association says, in violation of a three-year agreement made with the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union six months ago.

At the present time male operators, the association says, earn upwards of $75 a week, finishers $60 and women workers from $35 to $50.

TOOL DRESSER IS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

PONCA CITY, OKLA., Jan. 2.—Frank Underside, a tool dresser in an oil field near here, suffered injuries in an automobile accident late yesterday which resulted in his death.

Mrs. Underside who was riding with her husband was apparently uninjured.

A pet dog, carried in the car attempted to jump out and Underside detached one hand from the steering wheel to catch the dog, simultaneously by which the car apparently struck some object, causing it to overturn.

KING EMMAUEL TO VISIT UNITED STATES

LONDON, Jan. 2.—A Central News dispatch from Rome today said King Victor Emmanuel of Italy will visit the United States, Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina during the coming season.

ESTHONIAN'S SCORE NOTABLE SUCCESS IN ARMISTICE TERMS

DORPAT, Thursday, Jan. 1.—Study of the agreement signed by Esthonian and Bolshevik representatives last night preliminary to an armistice, indicate the Esthonians have scored a notable success in most important points under negotiation. The biggest surprise of the Esthonians was that the Esthonians were not required to eject soldiers not fought under General Yudenitch's recent campaign against Peking, until after the peace treaty between Esthonia and Soviet Russia is settled.

The military guarantees prohibit the presence in either Soviet Russia or Esthonia of any armed force other than their own or of friendly forces with which one of the contracting parties has concluded a military convention, but which is not actively warring against the other. Rebellions and organizing armies of our states and organizations hostile to either side is prohibited.

FOURTEENTH CENSUS OFFICIALLY BEGINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Taking of the 14th census officially began today in every part of a United States. Ninety thousand enumerators were ready to start their work.

The enumerators will show many million people there are in the United States as well as the monetary value of farms and manufactures. It will show much of the country's acreage is used for farming, it has many persons are employed each industry.

Work of enumerating is being directed from Washington by James I. Rogers, head of the Federal Census Bureau, who has divided the country into 275 regions along the lines of congressional districts. Cost making the census will be approximately $25,000,000, it is estimated.

Enumerators are paid from a to four cents for each name. They are required by oath not to divulge any information given them.

Last census figures showed the population of the United States to be 92,000,000. Figures for this year are expected to reach more than 100,000,000.

Although the enumeration will not take more than two weeks a month, it will be late in April before results become to be known. A work in all districts does not actually start today. Local supervisors commence counting when the time considered best in their region.

KENDALL COLLEGE TEAM WINS AN EASY VICTORY

TULSA, OKLA., Jan. 2.—Kendall College footballers won an easy victory here yesterday over the all star team of Bartlesville by a score of 21 to 0.

PREMIER WILL NOT RUN FOR THE SENATE

PARIS, Jan. 2.—Premier Clemenceau in a late afternoon address to the Chamber of Deputies, definitely announced he will not be a candidate for the Senate, according to a dispatch received today.

The premier also refused to admit he will be a candidate to succeed President Poincaré. The announcement he will not run for the senate, however, was taken as strong evidence he is considering the presidential candidacy.

In his long address the premier urged the voters to pay their taxes and "have as many children as possible."

"While I will no longer represent you in the senate, I will always remain France's most devoted son," Clemenceau said. "It is comforting to think I have done my duty and will continue to do so until the end."

TWO GOOD OIL WELLS REPORTED NEAR TULSA

TULSA, OKLA., Jan. 2.—The Barnard Oil Company reports a 1,200 barrel well brought in on the Kelly farm south of Tulsa.

An 1,800 barrel well is reported to have been brought in by the Ashland Oil Company. No location given.

PRESENT YEAR TO DETERMINE FUTURE OF GERMAN NATION

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The present year will determine whether Germany is to maintain herself as a nation or "through internal quarrels definitely collapse," President Ebert declared in a New Year's manifesto to the German people yesterday, which was received in an official wireless dispatch today.

"In the year that has passed chaos had been started and unity of the empire maintained and consolidated," Ebert said.

"Under pressure of reckless forces we have been compelled to conclude a peace threatening the honor and welfare of our nation and which delivers the fruits of our work of past years into the hands of the enemy."

"In the year that begins today we must decide whether we may hope that in spite of difficulties Germany will maintain herself as a nation and develop her economic life on a sound basis, or whether, through internal quarrels, she will definitely collapse, ruining even the hopes of her future generations."

CLEMENCEAU IS UNABLE TO FURTHER REPRESENT DEPARTMENT OF WAR

DRAGUIGNAN, FRANCE, Thursday, Jan. 1.—(REUTERS)—Premier Clemenceau declared today he could not continue to represent the department of war in the chamber of deputies, adding that "after the effort of the past year, I would be loath to start again on a task with a fear that my strength fail me before it could be completed."

COLONEL HOUSE PLANS A VISIT TO TEXAS

DRAMATIC SUCCESS.

One of the season's metropolitan successes is the play, "Abraham Lincoln," by John Drinkwater, an English actor and playwright.

Mr. Lomenzo's part on the play has been a masterpiece of acting. He has a restful, easy, and graceful manner that is a pleasure to watch.

There is no more significant paragraph in all the tentative recommendations of the industrial conference, we think, than that regarding public utilities.

The plan here proposed presents serious difficulties in application to certain competitive industries. The continuous operation of public utilities is vital to public welfare.

The Dallas father who wrote the Dallas Mothers' Council that the public schools were causing "much wretchedness" in the homes because girls in school did not dress simply.

HARVARD VICTORY PUT THE FANS IN MUCH BETTER MOOD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—All the east was chirping gleefully in chorus today. Perhaps no Christmas present put the fans in such a good mood as Harvard's 7 to 6 victory over Oregon.

In its victory Harvard sort of lost its identity as a Harvard unit. Captain Billy Murray's squad is regarded generally as an eastern team and its triumph is considered a restoration of prestige that was lost when Pacific coast teams beat Penn and Brown.

The Crimson squad will return to the east with a fixed impression that they know how to play football in the west.

The scant victory that the Cambridge team was able to score tells just as well as an analysis of the game that Hugo Bezdek, Oregon's former coach, was right when he said Harvard would have to use everything it had to win.

Casey Paves Way
Just as in the Princeton and Yale games the widely known Mr. Casey on the receiving end of forward passes paved the way for the lone touch down of the game.

The battle also gave two substitutes a chance to rise to lasting fame. Emulating the example of Frank Murray and Jim Scheerer famed pair of second string glories, Freddie Church and Manerud won for themselves seats among the noted.

Church smashed through tackle for 35 yards in the second period and scored the one and only touchdown. In the third period, Manerud, taking the place of Bill Steers, kicked a field goal for Oregon that put them within an inch of the mark.

Both Casey and Steers who were counted upon for spectacular work failed to get the spotlight for feature work. Both fumbled frequently. Steers had't much of a chance, however, as he was forced to retire early in the game with injuries and Sheetser Manerud, the 125 pound youngster, took his place.

Play Mediocre Ball.
Both lines played mediocre ball. Ralph Horween and Steers both had kicks blocked when the forwards broke through. Oregon's line vindicated itself in the final minutes of play, however, by holding Harvard for downs one the one yard line.

Of course, the east is entitled to be joyous over the victory. But in the midst of it there bobs up a memory of several weeks ago when Harvard first accepted the ball.

"Harvard can get out and play as a Harvard team but can't carry the colors of the east, because it is not the best team in the east," the skeptics say.

But since Harvard won, the fans are perfectly willing to have the westerners consider that they were beaten by the east.

JACK PERRY OUTPOINTS BILLY RYAN AT CANTON
CANTON, OHIO, Jan. 2.—Jack Perry, Pittsburgh, outpointed Billy Ryan here yesterday evening in 12 rounds. Perry was on the aggressive most of the time and in the tenth knocked Ryan down with a left swing to the jaw.

CHAMPIONSHIP IS NOT YET DECIDED
EVERETT, WASH., Jan. 2.—The National high school football championship was still undecided today. Everett high and Scott high of Toledo, Ohio, played a 7 to 7 tie here yesterday. The westerners scored a touch-down in the first period and kicked goal. Toledo tied the score in the second period. Neither team was able to score in the last half.

BRONSON KNOCKED OUT BY CHARLEY WHITE

END OF THE GREAT CALAMITY SHALL MARK NEW POLITICAL ERA WROTE COUNT TOLSTOI IN 1910

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The end of the great calamity shall mark a new political era for the old world. There will be left no empires and kingdoms, but the world will form a federation of the united states of nations. There will only remain four great giants—the Anglo-Saxons, the Latins, the Slavs and the Mongolians.

Thus prophesied Count Tolstol, the Russian philosopher, in 1910. Today, a decade later, it is possible to see with what accuracy his forecast has come true.

The prophecy came to Tolstol in the form of a vision, he said. He published it, dedicating it to the countless "visions" created somewhat of a sensation throughout the world and was referred to many times during the recent war, as the Kaiser's armies swept across Belgium and into France.

"Silhouette of Woman."

"I see floating on the surface of human fate the hug silhouette of a woman," wrote the philosopher.

"She is with her beauty, her poise, her smile, her jewels—a super-Venus. Nations rush madly after her, each of them eager to attract her especially. But she, like an eternal courtesan, flirts with them all. In her hair in ornaments of diamonds and rubies is engraved her name, the philosopher.

"As alluring and bewitching as she seems, much destruction and agony follow in her wake. He breathes, reeking of sordid transactions, her voice of metallic character like gold, and her look of greed, are so much poison to the nations that fall victims to her charms.

"And behold she has three gigantic arms, with torches of corruption in her hands.

"The first torch represents the flame of war. Patriotism answers with flashes of honest flame, but the end is the roar of guns and musketry.

Kindles the Minds.

The second torch bears the flame of bigotry and hypocrisy. It carries the sneer of false and fanaticism. It kindles the minds that are still in their cradles and follows them to their graves.

"The third torch is that of the law, that dangerous foundation of all unauthentic traditions which first does its fatal work in the home, then sweeps through the larger world of literature, art and statesmanship.

"The great conflagration will start in 1912, set by the torch of the first arm in the countries of southeastern Europe. It will develop into a destructive calamity in 1913. In that year I shall see all Europe in flames and bleeding. I hear the lamentations of huge battlefields.

"One motion of the hand of commercialism and a new history begins."

TABLOIDS

Money Inconvenient.

SAN FRANCISCO.—J. A. Folger, coffee merchant, found it "inconvenient" to have money in his pocket when he explained his fall in blood to Judge Hogan, ordered Folger to turn over $22.50 and a silver watch.

Followed in Her Wake.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Frank O'Conner trusted his wife so little after 25 years of married life that he followed her to a wake, to see if she met any strange men. Judge Graham granted Mrs. O'Conner a divorce.

Many Dallas Calls.

DALLAS, TEX.—The local telephone company reports they handled 32,600 calls daily last month. Question is: How did they do it?

Reputation Gone.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—The old African saloon, known as "The Bucket of Blood," failed to live up to its reputation. Two unattached ladies called on the bartender, $100 without a shot being fired.

STRIKE AFTERMATH IS RESPONSIBLE SAYS LOCAL RAILROAD MAN

After effects to be expected from the general piling up of traffic during the coal strike is the explanation offered at local railroad offices for the embargoes recently promulgated, the most stringent of which have been pronounced during recent years by the railroads in this section. It is emphasized at the local offices, however, that the embargoes do not apply alone to the Wichita Falls district, but is a measure of general application along the entire lines to allow for the reduction of a general congested condition. On the Katy the embargo which applies on all inbound shipments, puts the ban on every commodity with the exception of fuel, livestock and perishables.

On the Denver the terms are even more stringent, applying not only to inbound shipments, but prohibiting the acceptance of outbound shipments for transportation to other than points on their own line. Livestock, fuel and perishables are on the accepted list on the Denver, but only on perishables already in transit does the exception apply.

COUNTY OFFICIALS BELIEVE THEY HAVE ESCAPED CONVICT

County officials are certain that one of the men held here in connection with the Waggoner City robbery of Tuesday night is an escaped convict from Kansas, Deputy Sheriff Jim Allen, on duty in the oil regions, said Friday that he is convinced that one of the men here was paroled out of the Kansas state penitentiary and later broke his parole and came to Texas.

While definite information regarding the man's identity has not been received, officials are in communication with Kansas officials, and full details are expected shortly. The suspects taken following the Waggoner City affair are being held here in default of bond.

MR. DODSON WARNS USERS OF CALOMEL

Says Drug Acts Like Dynamite on Liver and You Lose a Day's Work

There is no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating, emetic when a few doses of a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not sallowate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tonic, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than horrid Calomel your money is waiting for you.

Worn Out In Mind and Body

Your child is quick to observe disturbances in your mental attitude or physical condition. And when he asks: "What's the matter, Daddy?" there's a tone of solemn anxiety in his little voice. The depression deepened upon you reflects intensely upon him because of his profound sympathy. He at once drops his playthings and rushes to your side, but his happy smile has disappeared and his buoyant spirits are gone—replaced by a countenance of worry and a bearing of hopelessness.

You see it is the long-continued and untimely use of stimulants in body and brain that causes this depression. You see it is the long-continued and untimely use of stimulants that causes this depression. You see it is the long-continued and untimely use of stimulants that causes this depression.

PROMINENT OIL MAN DECLARES BURKBURNETT SAND THE RICHEST THAT HE HAS EVER RUN ACROSS

First we played it in a buyer field, but experience, and very few, in Ranger and other Central Texas fields has shown us conclusively that the sand formation is the only one to play if you expect to pay out. And the Wichita county sand, especially the one in the Burk Burnett pools, are among the richest and finest I have ever run across. This was the frank admission made recently by the representative of one of the largest oil companies in the business, in explaining why his and the other large oil concerns are turning to Wichita Falls, and away from the other nearby fields, and why others of the great companies who were in both places, are largely discontinuing operations at other points, and enlarging their operations in Wichita Falls.

The enormous initial production in Central Texas fields in the beginning attracted the big companies, as well as many of the large independent operators, to those fields, but the rapid falling off of this great initial production, which is now down to about nothing, has in a large measure convinced them that they had picked wrong, and that the game is to stay away from the limestone formations, where production falls away so rapidly, and to play where the formation has an oil-bearing sand, and the field has a longer life and greater stability of production.

The movement of the big companies to Wichita Falls is conclusively shown by the opening of offices at three of the great oil companies here in the latter part of the year just past, as well as the coming of almost a score of the "medium" large companies whose capitalization runs from one to five million dollars.

Others of the big companies are breaking up offices at other places, and enlarging their office forces at Wichita Falls, presumably with a view of increasing the scope of their operations at this place. Notable among these is the Humble Oil and Refining company, who are planning to break up their Fort Worth office, and move the greater part of this force to the Wichita Falls office, and take the rest to Cisco.

The comparative stories of the fields of the Wichita Falls district and of the various Central Texas fields is most strikingly illustrated by the graphic charts showing the rise and fall of production in the various fields, which are made by the engineering departments of all the big companies. On one of these charts the steady production of the Burk Burnett towns, and especially the Waggoner pool, the pool without a peer, shows a steady advance, a practically straight line running clear across the page, while the rise and fall of production in Ranger and near by fields shows up like a cross section of an irregular jagged part of the Rock, and the present decline is almost like the drawing showing the sheer edge of a cliff.

So it is the steady, and longer lived production, together with the comparative steadiness of operation, which is drawing the big concerns toward Wichita Falls. A large flush production, which rapidly goes away, and especially in a field where the operating cost is as large as in Central Texas, where the oil formation lies so deep, does not for long attract the companies which figure their operations on the cold matter of dollars and cents which the field will produce during its entire life, rather than the speculative and stock selling value which they will derive from a large flush production.

"Ranger has proved a veritable graveyard—the losses will run close to $100,000,000," said another official of the "medium" large company who has had some experience at Ranger. "There is hardly a chance for the big operators to get out of there without heavy losses. Many of them and some big independent operators are in the same fix, are depending upon their operations in the Wichita Falls district to pull them out on their operations in the fields further to the south.

"And they are now to the point where they have little doubt as to the future of the Wichita county sand play fields. Many of them have a feeling that the big pool, the pool which has been feeding these others, has not yet been struck in this county.

"In addition to that, they are beginning to think more of the numerous shallow fields which seem to be pretty well distributed over Wichita county. In those fields, where the expense of operating is practically nothing, figuring on the basis of deep and semi-deep sand development, the production holds out at a uniform rate for years. I am thoroughly convinced that the next two years will see $6 Mid-Continent oil, and this will make this shallow production immensely valuable property, to say nothing of the possible further developments at depths around those of Burk Burnett and Electric."

PRICE COMMITTEE POSTONES MEETING: TO MAKE A REPORT

Owing to the inability of several members to be present, the scheduled meeting of the fair price committee was postponed this morning. W. S. The fair price committee, Curlee added, will make a general report to the public within a short time, after several lines of investigation have been completed; and thereafter will stay "on the job" to receive all complaints regarding individual cases where profiteering may be alleged.

SHELTON ACQUITTED IN THE CITY COURT

Dr. Shelton, district manager of the Fulk detective agency, was found guilty by a jury in police court Friday morning on a charge of rudely displaying a pistol in the lobby of the Westland hotel on the night of Dec. 26. Shelton was represented by Bruce Greenwood, prominent local attorney, and H. D. Bishop, federal agent, and the prosecution was in the hands of City Attorney Ralph Mathis.

According to the evidence, Shelton, who also acts as a house detective for the hotel, was in the hat and cloak checking room when a man named Mason and "Chick" Ingram approached to check their grips. It seems that there was some hard feeling existing between these men and Shelton on account of some testimony Shelton had given in a trial in the federal court wherein the other men were charged with bootlegging. The conversation between the men started in a joking way, the evidence stated, but later when one of the men started cursing and using abusive language in the presence, it was alleged, of the young woman in charge of the checking room, Shelton tried to forcibly eject the men from the hotel. Not being successful in this, he testified in court, he went to the telephone and was calling up the police station for assistance when one of the men struck him on the nose.

Shelton declared he immediately drew a revolver and covered the two men and still had the gun pointed at Ingram when Officers Johnson and Humphries arrived on the scene. Shelton was taken to the city jail where the charge was placed against him.

The defense pleaded self-defense as the motive for the display of the weapon, claiming that Shelton believed he was in danger of bodily harm and also argued that Shelton, when acting in the capacity of house detective, had a right to carry a gun. The prosecution demanded conviction on the grounds that no man, whether he be a peace officer or a plain citizen, had a right to display a gun in a public place.

The jury, of which J. M. Baber, local real estate man, was foreman, was unable to arrive at a unanimous decision after five voting, for acquittal for conviction, but on the agreement of both the prosecution and defense, agreed to let the decision of the five stand.

BOYS

Are you desirous of earning money while attending school? Do you not think it pretty nice to have a pay envelope passed around to you on every Monday afternoon? And also, did you know that it only requires an-hour or so of work each afternoon after school to draw this pay envelope?

Now boys we have the finest proposition out, and it is this: We have drawn all along for route carriers. You can either take over the route on the independent system, which would net you a good income every month, or draw a weekly salary on same. If you are not a hustler and don't mean business we do not want you, but if you are willing to work what little time you have to put in and willing to do your best for your own good and for our good, you are the boy we want and the one to whom we are going to exert our every effort to help succeed. This work is all easy and very helpful in securing a business training.

Think it over boys and then come right down to the Times office and let me further explain this proposition to you.

Will Prohibition Reduce the Number of Divorces?

Two Prominent Judges So Declare, While Another Says Frankly He Will "Have to Be Shown" and Will Watch Future Figures.

There are too many divorces. That sounds like saying there is too much crime. Any crime is too much, and there are many who believe that any considerable number of divorces is too much. Some think there should be a good many divorces, and some few even proclaim that there should be more divorces than there are.

Nineteen hundred and forty-one divorces were granted by four judges of one great city in the last court year which ended July 1. The judges who granted most of them believe the number was too large, and they gave their opinions, in reply to inquiries, as to the means which might lessen the number of divorces.

Prohibition to Be Factor.

Two of the judges believe that the number of divorce suits, and hence the number of divorces granted, will become fewer from now on, because of prohibition. One says he has formed no conclusion as to this matter, but will watch the future figures with interest.

"People are likely to say this or that judge is too liberal in granting divorces," says another, "but the judge has very little option in the matter. The Supreme Court has held that when the necessary legal requirements

"Even if the judge has reason to believe that the person intends to marry again, that is no business of his. I have seen persons go from the courthouse to the marriage license office, not even waiting for the four days in which, under the court rules, a motion for a setting aside of the divorce decree could be filed.

"The judge may know that another marriage is intended, but he does not know but the new marriage will be a happy one. There is not much to do in an uncontested case but to grant the decree.

"In handling contested cases, I think there could be an improvement. The contested case is the case in which there is sometimes a possibility of reconciliation. Our divorce laws, as I believe, should be aimed to lessen the number of separations, and I think that here is where they might begin.

"Instead of leaving the contested divorce cases to come up before a judge brought by wives whose husbands had been discharged from the army, but had not come home to them.

The First Misunderstanding

"Negroes have been in the divorce courts more frequently than they used to be. This shows that they are taking the marriage relation more seriously. However, a good deal of the testimony is like that of the negroess whom Walter Kelly, the Virginia judge, tells about. 'Did he beat you?' the judge asked. 'He better not beat me,' the muscular plaintiff replied. 'Did he support you?' 'Oh, yes, he done give me a dollar and a quarter last week.' 'Then why do you want a divorce?' 'Well, judge, I just rchelly lost my taste for that nigger.'

"One negroess who got a divorce in my court said that her separation from her husband occurred after he had said, on departing from the house one morning: 'Nigger, when I come back here tonight, you all better not be here.' She said she didn't care to take a chance on finding out what he meant.

Case of a Cautious Negroess.

"As I have said, I think there can be better means of handling some cases, and I think there will be less non-support and fewer quarrels with the factor of drink removed. But so long as human nature is what it is, the divorce courts are not going to be idle."

One judge, in the past year, while granting 563 divorce decrees, has denied 33. The 596 divorce cases on his docket have been about three-fourths of the total number of suits of all kinds that he has heard, that total being 798.

His conclusion, from this year's experience on the divorce bench, has convinced him that new laws are needed, not so much for divorce as for marriage.

"I think my experience in these cases has tended to broaden and liberalize me," he said. "I am not an advocate of easy divorce, but I have changed my former opinion, which was that the number of divorces should be decreased by new requirements and restrictions.

"But after a year's experience, in hearing the stories of misery that are related in the divorce court, I feel that I would not make the statutes more stringent or their construction strict-

Where the Real Problem Lies.

"No one without prejudice or preconceived notions could hear the stories that these divorce seekers relate, and still believe that they should be required to go on in such conditions. Neither the good of the individual nor that of society requires that they should.

"There are too many separations of couples, but the cause does not lie in the statutes. It lies in haste, ignorance and false ideas in assuming the marriage relation.

"The uniform laws we need are for marriage more than for divorce. There should be provisions, in all states, to make marriage more difficult, and to prevent sudden and unconsidered marriages. Marriages made in haste and without sufficient acquaintance, are more likely to lead to the divorce court than marriages in which time has been taken.

"The fact that, in more than 50 per cent of divorce cases there are no children, shown that the marriage relation has not been understood, or has been perverted.

Suggestion Is Made That Features of Illinois Law Requiring Interim of One Year Before Remarriage Should Be Made General.

as well. The marriage laws, in my opinion, need attention first.

"The publication of bans for marriage ceremonies should be required, and there should also be a public filing of applications for a license to marry, and in the case of the young, a requirement that the parent or guardian be notified of the application. Publicity is the best remedy for hasty marriages."

"Our divorce law needs certain changes," another judge said. "My experience has made me believe in a liberal divorce law, liberally administered. Too great strictness tends to produce immorality. But divorces must not be lightly granted.

"It is very clear to a judge, in many cases, that the divorce is being sought merely in order to permit a new marriage. Some infatuation has arisen, and the troubles which have arisen between husband and wife are magnified into grounds for divorce, for the purpose of a new marriage, which usually is not likely to be more happy than the first one.

"It would be better, in my opinion, if people knew that they could not come into court and get a divorce

Desertion Most Frequent Charge.

Several war cases have come before me. In some of these the marriage took place before the man went away, possibly with a view to the apartment which a soldier's wife gets. Then the husband, returning, found things in bad shape. In one case, a soldier returning on a furlough found that his wife was out of the city, in company with another man. In one case, an officer, living in Texas and on his way East, was overruled by his wife here and served with papers. I have not tried to make a record of speed in handling cases, but in un-

10 o'clock and go out and be married again at 11.

"At present the only thing a judge can do, when the indication of an intended marriage is plain, is to delay a case arbitrarily. I hold up one case two months."

"The law should also be changed in those states the rule does not now obtain, so as to permit the hearing of certain divorce testimony in private. This is not so much for the sake of the litigants as for the sake of the public. No public good is served by the recital of the testimony in some divorce cases, before big audiences. Then, too, there are children to be considered. They are sometimes necessarily in court in divorce proceedings, and they should not hear some of the things which are said about their parents. At present a judge can send the children from the courtroom arbitrarily, but this makes a bad impression.

"A law permitting the judge to hear testimony in private would appear, perhaps, to favor the rich, because its use would attract most attention in the cases of wealthy or conspicuous persons. But it would be used in the cases of poor and obscure people also.

"The judge in divorce cases has a good opportunity to see how difficult it is for people to tell the truth, when their own interests are involved. He comes to feel that in nearly all cases the truth is being colored, if not deliberately misstated. Cases where the plaintiff in a divorce suit appears to be trying to give the defendant a square deal, and to be 'on the level' with the court, come so seldom as to attract notice.

"Sometimes the testimony contradicts itself, or is at variance with the known facts. Most of the time the judge has to do the best he can at sep-

SOME OF THE INDIGNITIES.

INDIGNITIES alleged by wives in petitions for divorce included among the decrees granted in the last fiscal year covered a variety of offenses.

One plaintiff included among her allegations of humiliation suffered, that her husband refused to sit with her in church.

Another charged that her husband, who was a lieutenant in the Dental Corps, U. S. A., squandered all his money gambling.

One wife charged that her husband spent his evenings with his mother and state "rushing the beer can."

Another charged her husband with teaching the baby to drink beer.

One husband was accused of cursing his wife because she gave her daughter, by a former marriage, a pint of molasses.

A score of wives charged that their husbands contracted diseases.

One woman charged, among other humiliations, that her husband refused to build the fire and told her if she was cold "there is the stove and the coal."

One husband appeared as plaintiff alleging indignities in that his wife accused him of flirting with his stenographer, his neighbors and various other women; accused him of flirting with every woman he passed while they were motoring, and telephoned his doctor to examine him for insanity, as she believed he was going crazy over women.

THE VICTIM OF IT ALL

are complied with and the necessary facts shown, the plaintiff is entitled to a divorce, and the judge has no right to deny a decree.

"So a judge has to go through with the cases that are sent to him and make the best use that he can of his sense of humor, to keep his nerves from giving way under the strain of what he has to listen to. I have found it a good plan not to hear too many divorce cases at once, but to intersperse groups of divorce cases with civil suits.

"It is a judge's business, in handling divorce cases, to keep his record clean, and make sure that all the requirements are complied with. Some judges, in past years, have thought it necessary to go outside of this, and to make special efforts to lessen the number of decrees granted. It never appeared that they accomplished much.

Difficult to Check Evil.

"For instance, one judge used to object to hearing uncontested cases, which largely outnumber the contested cases. When it was reported that the defendant did not answer, he would ask why the defendant did not answer, and would send out after the defendant, usually a husband.

"This made a lot of work, and the result was usually that the man would fail to appear in court, or that he would come in and say he had nothing to say as to the divorce. That would leave the judge just where he was before.

"Of course, a judge knows that most of the testimony he hears is strongly colored, and he suspects that some of it is untrue. But when a case is uncontested, about all he can do is to accept the sworn statement of the plaintiff, unless it contradicts facts known to him.

Referees for Contested Cases.

"In cases where it has been necessary, because of evidence relating to a mother's conduct, to award a child or children to the custody of the father, I have always entered in the decree a reservation stating that the mother shall be permitted to see the child at any reasonable time. I believe that the mother has this right, no matter what she may have done, and that such visits may help her and will not harm the child.

"Some interesting cases growing out of the war have come before me. In most of them, soldiers were plaintiffs. They have shown misconduct of their wives in their absence. One man suspected that things at home were wrong, and got an admission from his wife, in a letter, that she had received the attentions of other men. He was on his way home from France, with this letter in his baggage, when the ship was sunk by a submarine, and he was in the water several hours, losing his baggage and escaping with his life.

When he got here he explained the absence of the letter he had intended to use as evidence, and he was able to make his case on evidence of witnesses who knew about his wife's behavior. "Some cases lately have been
