MIDDLE WEST SNOWED UNDER BY BLIZZARD

Snow, Ice, Sleet, High Winds and Cold Feature Easter Weather

STORM AREA EXTENDED FROM TEXAS NORTHWARD

Forecast for Return of Balm Spring Weather Heartens Chilled People

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Easter storm which buried the south and middle west under a snow blanket is spreading today in four directions, with a cold wave enveloping practically all territory between the Appalachian and the Rocky mountains.

Rain or snow late today and freezing temperatures tonight were forecast for the territory east of the Appalachians. Frost and freezing temperatures, the bureau said, are probable tonight in the east gulf states, north and west of Georgia, extreme north Florida, Tennessee and the Ohio valley.

The Ohio valley storm of yesterday, according to the weather bureau, had subsided today and formed two centers of disturbance, one to the northward of Lake Ontario and the other over Virginia.

Excepting in the Atlantic and New England states generally fair weather for tonight and Tuesday was predicted by the weather bureau.

CHICAGO, April 5.—The middle west was snowed in today under several feet of snow with telegraphic and telephone badly crippled, as a result of a freak blizzard which swept midwestern states yesterday.

Chicago was trapped in a 40-mile blizzard from early yesterday to late last night. Every railroad reported trains several hours late. Because of the switchmen's strike here many trains running westward were more than 12 hours behind schedule.

Easter was featured in this section of the country yesterday with blizzard winds. Millions expended on Easter dinners were kept indoors.

Huge snow drifts, piled in streets and on elevated roads and delayed street car service.

Today lodging houses were scoured and every idle man put to work cleaning streets. Normal traffic was expected to be resumed during the day.

The storm hit the Illinois Central railroad hardest. Five thousand suburbanites were marooned at the station here early today because of inability to get a train.

The storm caused many short circuits and severed telegraph and many hundred homes were using candle light.

Chicago suffered less than other sections of the midwest, according to reports.

Dispatches from Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, northern Oklahoma and Ohio stated heavy snow falls and near zero temperature. Kansas City and St. Louis reported danger floods in valleys and bottom lands, due to the expected rapid rise in streams when the temperature rises.

The storm began in Texas and spreading over the central states wrought havoc with all communication. Many trains bound for Chicago were forced to halt several miles from stations and discharge their passengers.

Fall of snow was reported at Springfield. More snow fell there yesterday than in the winter months. While damage to crops in Kansas and other states is reported, it is believed no extensive Michigan fruit growers say their apple and peach trees were untouched.

The storm continued northeast and was expected to reach the Atlantic coast today.

Trains Stalled in Missouri. ST. LOUIS, MO., April 5.—The Easter blizzard in states adjacent to St. Louis, spilling spring millinery parades and ruining early fruit buds, was followed today by clear, cold weather.

St. Louis was raked by a stinging snow storm, as was most of Missouri. Snow in Missouri ranged from a few inches to two feet, delaying and temporarily stalling trains and cutting off wire communication.

Oklahoma Fruit Damaged. OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., April 5.—The Oklahoma fruit crop was virtually if not entirely destroyed by the cold wave which swept the state Easter Sunday and last night, according to John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture.

Temperatures over the state ranged from 24 to 30 above zero. Mr. Whitehurst said that the grain crops were not far enough advanced to be damaged.

Floods Now Feared. KANSAS CITY, MO., April 5.—The 24-hour blizzard, ending early Sunday, today had done extended damage to fruit crops in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

The storm left wires paralyzed and train and street car service demolished. Kansas perhaps was the hardest hit, Junction City reporting a two-foot snow fall and Salina 15 inches.

SUIT FOR $1,000,000 FILED IN NEW YORK AGAINST G. C. WOOD

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Woodburn Oil corporation of New York today filed suit in supreme court here against G. Clint Wood, said to be a widely known Texas and Oklahoma oil operator, for $1,000,000 damages for alleged breach of contract.

The company obtained a writ of attachment preventing Wood from disposing of his holdings up to $1,000,000, pending settlement of the suit. Its petition sets forth that the company entered into two contracts with Wood, paying him $600,000 for oil concessions he held in Texas and agreeing to give him 302,250 shares of stock in the company quoted at $8 a share.

In addition Wood was to receive $25,000 a year for his services to the company as an oil expert.

Wood, the company alleged, disposed of his holdings to Bertrom, Griscorn & Co., New York, in violation of these contracts. The company said it had already lost $300,000 in its investment as well as $1,000,000 in probable profits.

WITHDRAW RANGERS WHEN RECEIVER HAS TAKEN CHARGE

AUSTIN, TEX., April 5.—Acting Attorney General W. A. Keeling today ready to withdraw Texas rangers from the lands immediately upon his taking charge of the property.

The charges against Father Lodi Parachinnie of Montague, who is being held on a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed in giving testimony at the inquest held over the body of G. R. Milton of Wichita Falls, a victim of an automobile accident near Henrietta last Tuesday at noon, according to advices received Monday afternoon from Henrietta.

Father Parachinnie was represented by Judge J. S. Dickey of Henrietta. Bond was waived immediately after the fixing of bail by Justice Vaden.

A complaint alleging negligent homicide also has been filed against Father Parachinnie, according to Henrietta advices. An examination in this case will be conducted before Justice Vaden later in the present week, it is understood.

The charges against Father Parachinnie are the aftermath of a serious automobile accident alleged to have occurred at 5:00 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon on the Hill road six miles north of Henrietta in which G. R. Milton of Wichita Falls was killed and Dave Milton, also of Wichita Falls, was seriously injured.

EASTER BRINGS RED CROSS GIFTS TO DESTITUTE AUSTRIANS

VIENNA, April 5.—Four thousand destitute Austrian civilians who during the war were interned in foreign prison camps and who are now temporarily lodged in municipal barracks outside this city, received Easter gifts from the American Red Cross. Each received sugar, coffee, cocoa, canned meats and crackers, and every child was given a package of chocolates and several cans of condensed milk, the gift of the Junior Red Cross of America.

Twenty-four hundred pairs of shoes, 1,000 women's and girls' overcoats, 2,000 blankets and 2,000 pairs of stockings were also distributed.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER REACHES HIGH STAGE

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—Revised crest stages for the Mississippi river, announced by the weather bureau today, predict a stage of 50 to 51 feet for Natchez, Miss., by April 30; a stage of 38 to 38.5 feet at Baton Rouge, April 22, and 18.2 to 18.5 feet at New Orleans April 24. The great St. Donaldsonville, La., was forecast at 30 to 30.5 feet by April 24. All levees are declared to be in good condition.

BRITISH EXCHANGE RATE RISES TO $4.00, ALL EXCHANGE FIRMER

NEW YORK, April 5.—The British exchange rate rose about $4 today, after being below that figure since December 1, last. Cable on London sold at $4.00, shortly after the opening and demand balls at $3.995.

Notwithstanding the disturbed Franco-German situation, French, Italian and German rates also were firmer, franc checks opening at 1.55 to the American dollar.

SWITCHMAN'S STRIKE WILL AFFECT 50,000 STOCKYARD WORKERS

CHICAGO, April 5.—Fifty thousand stockyard employees will be thrown out of work tonight as a result of the strike of switchmen in the Chicago railroad yards, officials of the packing companies announced this morning.

Five thousand were laid off when they reported for work today, and others will follow soon, as the small receipts of animals on hand are disposed of. Only 3,500 cattle, 5,000 hogs and 500 sheep reached the stockyards today, as compared to receipts of 40,000 hogs alone a year ago.

An embargo on all express shipments was announced this morning by the American Railway Express company. Officials said the blizzard yesterday, combined with the switchmen's strike, had made it impossible to move in the local yards.

A. F. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which has branded the strike as "illegal" and in violation of the men's agreement with the roads, has taken personal charge of the efforts to break the walkout. Brotherhood members in other cities began arriving here this morning in response to Whitney's appeal for union "strikebreakers" and union officials hope to have enough men at work tonight to keep essential business moving.

Chicago's milk supply was seriously threatened this morning, but railroad officials said they would make every effort to keep milk trains running.

ROCK ISLAND TRAINMEN SIGN AGREEMENT

CHICAGO, April 5.—Trainmen on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroads who have been conducting negotiations with officials of the road for several weeks regarding changes in working conditions, have signed an agreement with them, the controversy being satisfactorily settled.

The executive committee of railroad officials has no connection with the switchmen's strike which, road officials say, has not as yet affected the Rock Island road.

EMBARGO PLACED ON EXPRESS SHIPMENTS

CHICAGO, April 5.—The up of railroad traffic by the strike of switchmen in Chicago today has resulted in the railway express company to place an embargo on all shipments to and from Chicago. This meant that express shipments routed through Chicago will be held up and practically place the trans-continental express business at a standstill.

Should the strike continue, railroads may follow with embargoes on non-essentials. The executive committee of railroad officials will be held up and practically place the trans-continental express business at a standstill.

MANY ARRESTS SINN FEINERS FOLLOW RAIDS

The South of Ireland Virtually Under Military Rule on Monday

MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE BY MOBS ON EASTER SUNDAY

Troops Surround Cork, Dublin and Many Other Cities in Ireland

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

DUBLIN, April 5.—More than 500 Sinn Feinners had been arrested in a new series of raids by police and military, following the Easter uprising, according to estimates at Dublin Castle today.

The south of Ireland still was under virtual martial law.

North Ireland was completely cut off from telegraphic communication. A cordon of troops surrounded Dublin, Derry, Cork, Limerick, Newry, Thurles and Dundalk. Two British warships were lying in Kingstown harbor, a few miles from Dublin.

An unusual and ominous movement was reported from West Ireland where bands estimated at more than 500 men marched through the country, and confiscated thousands of acres of land in counties Roscommon and Galway, driving off owners of estates.

Ten grazing tenants were forced to leave one estate. There were indications that the Sinn Fein today estimated the damage to property in the Easter outbreak at more than $500,000, which they said, the tax payers would be forced to pay.

A number of bridges was blown up. The Sinn Fein flag was still flying on the Admiralty pier at Queenstown today. Halcyons had been cut and the flag pole gnawed. Official reports to early today showed 27 police barracks and 22 income tax offices were burned. It was believed the final total would be considerably higher.

Reports continued to arrive describing many outbreaks and several every indication the raids were carefully planned by a central organization. Officials at Dublin Castle admitted the raids had struck at the heart of governmental machinery. Destruction of the tax records, they said, would make enforcement of the tax law most difficult.

Today's reports showed the outbreak peaked in most extensive in the Belfast district. The city was isolated when wires were cut.

Armed mobs entered the Grand Central Hotel, housing the government departments of pension and labor, destroying many contents and setting fire to the building. The blaze was extinguished.

Police barracks were burned in Clough, Lough Brickland, Rostrevor, Troiloch, Leslie, Townshend, Skibberden and other centers.

Extensive raids were carried out in Cork. Firemen, attempting to extinguish the burning income tax offices in the city, were surrounded. Masked men covered the tax assessor with revolvers while they destroyed the tax records.

Total police barracks burned and bombed in the Easter uprising throughout Ireland stood at 99 at 2:00 p. m.

In Dublin troops were confined to their barracks. Officers had orders to be prepared for any eventuality. The night passed quietly.

Numerous new attacks were reported during the day. The tax office at Mullingar, 48 miles west and north of Dublin, was destroyed by fire last night. Police barracks at Stony Ford, 75 miles southwest of Dublin; Ballynagore, 70 miles west and north of the capital; Livestock and Drinarry also were burned.

The bitterness of the religious issue was indicated by attacks on Protestant churches in Milletown and Glin, about 60 miles northwest of Cork.

In northwest Ireland, dispatches said, automobiles were decorated with the Sinn Fein flag.

The Irish Times stressed the difficulties facing Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new chief secretary for Ireland in Premier Lloyd George's cabinet. "The new secretary is confronted with a deliberate, far-reaching conspiracy to make the government unworkable by the British," the newspaper said.

"The government is gravely hampered at this critical moment by a home rule bill which is heating coal on the fires of revolution."

Organized Murder. LONDON, April 5.—"Organized murder in Ireland now has been supplemented by organized incendiarism," the Post said today in commenting on the Easter uprising.

Practically the entire press joined in voicing British anger at the outbreak. The Post charged that politicians in London were hammering British executives in Ireland declaring there could be no other explanation for the government humiliating failure to grapple with the "Sinn Fein conspiracy."

The Daily News, while it continued to deplore British coercive methods, said that "nevertheless there is no language strong enough to characterize the criminality of the deeds by which Irishmen are making their country a by-word among nations."

SURGEON REMOVED TUMOR.

Dr. Harvey Cushing of the Peter Bent Brigham hospital of Boston, who in a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Douglas Robinson, declared he had removed a cyst the size of a mandarin orange from the brain of General Wood. He said the removal of this tumor, which had affected General Wood's side, was complete, and that there was no danger that he would suffer any mental affliction because of it.

A HEAVY VOTE IN MICHIGAN PRIMARY MONDAY FORECAST

DETROIT, MICH., April 5.—Michigan voters were today registering their preference for presidential nomination, with 13 candidates—seven republicans, five democrats and one socialist, seeking endorsement.

An exceptionally heavy vote was in prospect, notwithstanding that a large portion of the state was covered with two to six inches of snow and country highways were drifted several feet deep in places.

Vigorous campaigns made by several of the candidates and hotly contested municipal issues in nearly all the larger cities were counted upon by campaign managers to bring most of the voters to the polls.

Confidence in the outcome was expressed by the headquarters of Governor Lowden, Major General Wood and Senator Hiram W. Johnson, all of whom made extensive campaign tours.

Other republican candidates were General Pershing, Senator Miles, J. W. Alexander and William G. Simpson of Detroit. Herbert Hoover's name appeared on both the republican and democratic tickets.

Attorney General Palmer was the only democrat to campaign through the state, the others named on that ticket being William G. McAdoo, William J. Bryan and Governor Edwards of New Jersey.

Eugene P. Debs was the socialist candidate.

The polls opened at 7:00 a. m., and were to close in the rural precincts at five and in the cities at 8:00 p. m.

DEMOCRATS FIGHT FOR REPEAL OF SIX MORE WAR LAWS

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Repeal of six more of the important war laws was provided in resolutions introduced in the house today by Representative Wright, Georgia. The action is in accord with the decision of the democrats to fight the republican resolution declaring peace but to favor repeal of the war laws.

The laws Wright would repeal are the Overman act, the selective service law, the finance corporation act, the moratorium to protect the rights of men in the service, and the resolution authorizing the president to use armed forces to prevent an interference with any interstate commerce.

NO ARMED UPRISING EXPECTED IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, April 5.—The fourth anniversary of the rebellion of 1916 passed quietly in Dublin up to noon today. During the morning the streets were somewhat deserted, owing to the lack of number of people attending the Irish grand national horse races.

Reports of the burning of police barracks and other outrages Saturday and Sunday continue to pour in from many parts of the country but the general opinion here continues to be that there will be no armed rising.

GERMAN TROOPS CONTINUE OCCUPATION OF RUHR DISTRICT FRENCH READY TO INVADE

PARIS, April 5.—The utmost secrecy is being maintained in official circles concerning the nature of the "military precautions" which Premier Millerand has instructed Marshal Foch to take in the Rhine occupied zone. A rumor was current in Paris this afternoon that General De Goutte's army began moving from Mayence and Wiesbaden upon Frankfort this morning, but the war office refused either to confirm or deny the report.

All officers and soldiers on Easter holiday leaves have been ordered to join their units immediately.

France has four classes of men, those of from 1916 to 1919 inclusive, still under arms, or about 700,000 men. No other class has been recalled and no effort made to increase the effectives besides the cancellation of all leaves.

BY J. W. T. MASON (Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, April 5.—France has taken the first step in a new war by deciding to occupy Frankfort and other cities across the Rhine for retaliation for the German government's dispatch of troops to subdue the workingmen's revolt in the Ruhr district.

France and Germany have both broken the peace treaty. France has permitted the fact to become known that she now occupies an isolated position, unsupported by America, Great Britain and Italy. The result is to leave France and Germany facing each other alone along the Rhine. Out of just such a situation Germany's war of revenge will come some time in the future.

DUSSELDORF, April 5.—The reichswehr troops occupied Mulheim, east of Duisburg, today, the reeds retreating to Essen and the east. The reichswehr are marching on Essen.

Both Germany and France are now playing a game of strategy preliminary to war. There is no doubt from the standpoint of common sense, but that Germany should be allowed to put down the Ruhr insurrection. The only alternative would be for the allies to send their own force into the disturbed area. But if the allied troops were compelled to fire on German working men in a quarrel that only concerns domestic politics in Germany, the result might lead to serious and prolonged consequences. It would certainly cause needless embitterment.

France, however, has desired this step to be taken because of the imperialism now dominating practically all of France's politicians. Franco calculated that neither America, Great Britain nor Italy would permit their troops to enter the Ruhr area. Therefore, if the allies undertook the work of pacification, France would be left alone to do it. Once French troops were in the Ruhr, they might be kept there indefinitely, on the plea that France's coal rights under the peace treaty made their presence necessary.

Germany forestalled France by sending her own troops into the region. Germany's action was taken only because the government at Berlin knew France had not the support of her allies. By taking upon herself to punish Germany for the Ruhr move, France has begun the dangerous course of putting Marshal Foch's opinion above the protest of America, Great Britain and Italy. Marshal Foch wants to annex both banks of the Rhine. That is what he is working for. The consequences to the peace of the world are disquieting.

LONDON, April 5.—Germany is attempting to see "how far the treaty of Versailles may be stretched to safety," the Mail said today in commenting on the advance of reichswehr troops into the neutral Ruhr zone in violation of the treaty.

Newspapers generally looked upon the unwarranted advance of German troops as a deliberate military challenge to the allies. They took the position that the German excuse that the advance was necessary to restore order was unavailing because the communist groups already had agreed to lay down their arms. "The whole episode bears the familiar militarist stamp of old," the Times asserted.

"The affront which the allies would do well to overlook in the interest of restoration of order in the Ruhr district, France should not act alone," the newspaper continued, advising the Paris government to follow a course of "patience." It pointed out that they had to put down the red bands terrorizing the Ruhr district and it would be best to have Germany perform this work, both from the standpoint of expense and international relations.

The Express urged reflection, suggesting the admitted breach of the peace treaty might be regarded as a technicality which the allies would do well to overlook in the interest of restoration of order in the Ruhr district. France should not act alone, the newspaper continued, advising the Paris government to follow a course of "patience."

"It is to see how far the treaty of Versailles may be stretched to safety in how far the allies are united in upholding its provisions. It is of the most extreme importance that the allies show a firm hand."

LITTLE TIME GIVEN TEXANS TO ANSWER GOVERNMENT'S SUIT

Preparation on the part of Texas interested in the lands which are threatened with receivership and injunction granted by the Supreme Court of the United States to fight for a vacation of the order for such receivership to be effect further speeded up Monday on receipt of news from Washington to the effect that neither oral argument nor testimony will be heard by the court, but that the briefs and arguments against granting of the order must be printed and filed with the court before the expiration of the 15 days granted by the court for this action resulting in the time allowed for the preparation of the cases being cut down by the time which will be required for the printing of the documents. This information, which is regarded as important, was received by Judge C. L. Bass from Judge R. H. Ward, one of the attorneys of the Bass Petroleum Company, who is now in Washington. According to the rules of the Supreme Court these documents must be prepared in octavo volumes, and printed in type not less than small plain size. Reports of the progress of the committee of attorneys who are preparing the cases, and of the various committees who are raising the expense funds, will be heard at the meeting of the Red River Valley Texas, an organization of Texas claimants, to be held tonight in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

OBREGON SUMMONED AS WITNESS TO MEXICO CITY

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., April 5.—General Obregon, candidate for the presidency of Mexico, has been summoned to Mexico City as a witness in the case of Roberto Cejudo, who is charged with rebellion, according to Ignacio P. Garza, Obregon's business partner in Sonora, is in San Antonio on his return from Matamoros, who charges that the summons is a pretext to force Obregon to abandon part of his campaign tour. Garza brought copies of telegrams bearing on the case, in which Obregon informs Josefines Novelo, president of the Obregonista party in Mexico City, that "there is no danger in the frame up" as it will "only consolidate public opinion in our favor." In citing Obregon as a witness the war department declares that he has "been mentioned in the investigation being conducted against the rebel Roberto Cejudo." Cejudo, a follower of Felix Diaz, surrendered with his men in the state of Vera Cruz on the promise that he would be granted amnesty and become with his men, a part of the Mexican army. He was arrested on the charge that he had sought the amnesty in order to be armed and outfitted by the Carranza government.

HEAVY CIVIL DOCKET IN WICHITA COUNTY COURT

More than 100 civil cases were filed in county court during the past month, although a few answers have been filed it is likely that scores of judgments by default may be taken.

Nothing Aroused So Much Interest in Years

Nothing in recent years in Wichita Falls has created so much comment as the announcement of the "Organic Treatment," which will be personally demonstrated by Fred W. De Vinna who is closely associated with Harry Kessinger, the widely known Organone Health Teacher. Wichita Falls is indeed fortunate to secure a personal demonstration for this treatment in which has received so much talk and comment in this section of Texas and in fact, all over the country from ocean to ocean. Beginning next Saturday Mr. De Vinna and his assistants will be located at two of Wichita Falls' leading drug stores, to meet the public and explain "Organone Treatment."

"Prominent residents of Wichita Falls," said Mr. De Vinna's advance agent, "requested us to give the city a demonstration of our treatment as we have been giving people in other large American cities, where it is now being sold assisting thousands of suffering residents of those great centers."

Mr. Kessinger finally yielded to these invitations, and while here his personal representative, Mr. De Vinna and assistants, will make to every one how easy it is to guard against the throats of ill health by safeguarding your health as carefully as you do some other features of your daily life. "All affections of the head, nose, and stomach finally produce a stuffed up condition of the vital organs, and nine times out of ten this condition is responsible for most of the ill health of the average American. Our faulty methods of living is back of all, but it is never too late to correct our faults."

"Organone Treatment" is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific preparation containing no alcohol or other stimulating drugs and has been found the ideal method of combating this distressing and badly prevalent condition. Organone is the only treatment of its kind on the market today. This fact has been proved in hundreds of the large cities and will be unquestionably proved here. Thousands now testify to the merits of Organone and express an abiding faith in its power as a superior preparation.

OLD GOVERNMENT SCOUT TELLS OF RUNNING FIGHT WITH INDIANS IN 1872 ON SITE OF WICHITA FALLS

Reminiscences of a running fight between soldiers and a small band of raiding Comanches which took place on the present site of Wichita Falls, in fact coming down the street behind where the Wichita county courthouse now stands, and near where Seventh street now runs, were related to an appreciative audience Monday morning by Henry Strong, government guide, scout and soldier, and the "Nestor" of the old timers whose affidavits have been taken by attorneys for the Texas in connection with the boundary dispute as to the position of the Red River in the early days.

For the benefit of the other old timers, the scene of the fight can be best located from the fact that it was near the place where the home of Allen Palmer stood. The fight took place in 1872, the night soldiers in the part following the raiding band of some 20 Comanches from Jack county, getting close enough to them as they passed over what is now Wichita Falls to open a running fire and inflict considerable casualties before the marauders made their way across the river into what was then the wilds of Oklahoma.

Mr. Strong's first acquaintance with the Red River was in the spring of 1871, when he first saw the river while on a hunting trip to this vicinity from Jack county, where he was then living. At that time, he says he doesn't think that there was a house between his home in Jack county, and Pueblo, Colo. Subsequently to the events he mentioned above, in his capacity of government guide (about 1872) Mr. Strong moved up into this section, living for awhile on Gilbert creek. Mr. Strong is familiar with the government expedition headed by generals Marcey and George B. McClellan, who were then junior officers, which established the 100th meridian, and which marked the north fork of Red River as the main river, where it stood until the south fork was named as the main channel by the United States supreme court and Greer county was lost to Texas.

"The water in the bed of Red River where the oil lands, which are now disputed by it, has always flowed over the north side of the valley, as in the case today, since I have known the river."

"I should, indeed, make a very prejudiced juror for Texas," he quotes General McClellan as saying, "on account of what I saw during that early day expedition. This expedition dates back to the late thirties. Mr. Strong is at present making his home with a niece in Palestine, Tex.

YOUNGEST STAGE ARTISTE

Daughter of Bennett Director is Source of Amusement of Other Players.

By JANE DIXON.

Don't tell me there aren't good fairies for good folk!

Yes, and there are bad fairies, too, and ghosts and goblins and a "black man" and—and—everything.

ELFIN FINN

No longer than a couple of evenings ago I was talking with a very young little girl whose good fairy had danced across the tiny counterpane of the good little girl's bed, touched the small earth sleeper on the forehead with a magic noonbeam and left there in a hubby fist a real art in a big roadway play-show.

Good fairies are that way. For a very, very good little girl they will do the nicest things, but for a bad little girl they will do nothing at all, except may be send along a bad fairy to rub toes or bump heads on the girls into mischief, so they are sent to bed early—without dessert on chocolate cream night.

All this fairy lore was imparted to me by a sage young lady who has reached the advanced age of four years.

Her name is Miss "Elfin" Finn. Never was name more appropriately chosen. Of course, father and mother saddled her with a perfectly foolish length of title, Elizabeth Louise, but who could call a adorable parcel of delicate baby arms and legs, square little shoulders, deep set brown eyes, that look solemnly into the very soul of you, and thick bobbed brown hair that bounces about like a brown puff ball—who could call such a combination Elizabeth Louise?

In "Beyond the Horizon."

No one, to be sure, Not even father and mother. It was mother who discovered Elizabeth Louise Finn might through the use of the first letter of each name be abbreviated to "Elfin" and Elfin or Elffe or Elfin it has been ever since.

Elfin Finn, at four, is playing an important part in one of the metropolitan season's greatest dramatic successes, "Beyond the Horizon."

She is far and away the youngest child actress on the stage today. According to Frederick King, dramatic editor of Literary Digest, she is the youngest child actress to his knowledge since the days of the traveling caravans.

Baby Elfin Finn has, within the short span of four years, and by two weeks' concentrated effort, accomplished what many a girl and woman has given the better part of her life to achieve—only to fail miserably at the finish. Baby Elfin has landed, and landed on Broadway.

"How did she do it?" Ask Elfin. I did. "The good fairy brought me here, she said." "Daddy came, too, so we wouldn't get lost or runned over." "Oh no, Mary." "Mary is only my play name. My Name's Elfin. An—Mr. Bennett—be ain—I mean—I met my daddy. He's only my pretensas if daddy. I see got a truly daddy, I has, Dere he is."

A ridiculously small dignitary pointed to where a tall smiling man nodded approval of Elfin's chatter. Leaning against the make-up shelf—we were in Elfin's dressing room of the Little Theater—a slender young woman with fluffy blonde hair and motherly blue eyes radiated pride and love and tenderness and faith like a prism reflecting the rays of a stray sunbeam.

Child's Success Awaits Parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Finn are more than a bit awed by this unequivocal success of their baby daughter, preening as it does, unlimited things to be. But they have no intention of allowing talent to interfere with becoming behavior.

"I must be a good little girl," Elfin explains, "or the good fairy will take me back home and never let me play theater any more."

Fate does so enjoy slipping a prize in our bag of candy when we are not looking.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Finn, for example, realized Elfin was God's sweetest gift, but not until Fate stepped into the home circle, Fate or the good fairy, did they suspect a precious prize of talent was intrusted to their keeping.

"Strange how it happened," reminisced Elfin's father, tussling the brown puff ball. "I have been Richard Bennett's stage director. Mr. Bennett, as you know, played the lead in "Beyond the Horizon." When the play was in rehearsal we tried out scores of little girls for the part of Mary. Those who would do were older. They could not look like a child of three, as the role requires.

"It was Mrs. Louise Closser-Hale, author-actress and Elfin's grandmother in the play who first suggested I try my own daughter for the part. I hesitated at first. She seems like such a baby."

"Yes," augmented an eager mother

LITTLE GIRL WITH AMAZING MEMORY

Elfin Finn, four-year-old member of cast of Broadway success, who knows every line in play.

voice, "but you remember, dear, she has always loved to play 'Mary' and have watched her do stunts for hours with her little playmate from upstairs for audience. I always thought she did it because her daddy talked theater and she had gone sometimes with you."

Learned Lines First Day.

"I know," said Elfin's Finn, his eyes shining. "I too thought it was child's play. But after Elffe learned her lines by heart the first day of rehearsal I knew there must be something more than child's fancy. The big surprise came when I heard her recite other lines, entire speeches, without missing a word I began to believe Mrs. Closser-Hale had the right idea."

There were many surprises in store for Elfin's amazed contemporaries. At the end of the first week of rehearsal she could repeat the lines of every one in the company, and more than once had to be cautioned for trying to coach Mr. Bennett or Miss Helen Freeman the lady lead, when they beat. The child cannot bear any praise, even though they are used for the purpose of effect. It took some time to learn she is not playing, Miss Freeman's part as well as her own.

It's awfully funny sometimes, the trick Elfin's memory plays, said Mother Finn laughing. "A little girl from an apartment upstairs where we live is two years older than our baby. Often she comes down and asks Elfin to read to her. Of course Elfin can read a word, but she knows the pictures and the stories that go with them. She reads these stories off without missing a word. I am sure the child from upstairs has never guessed Elfin's deception."

But this wonder child has more than a marvelous memory. She has imagination and initiative, two vital elements in the make up of a successful actress.

Absorbs Spirit of Part.

It is strikingly evident from "out front" that when Elfin Finn of New York City becomes baby "Mary" of the farmhouse, she feels like "Mary." She possesses the power of concentration in a remarkable degree.

For the time being the audience is shut away and she is the hapless little girl living in the midst of a great tragedy. The realism of the child is almost uncanny.

As to the initiative, it is present at almost every performance. At the one I saw for example, Elfin, in the midst of an important scene, scratched her arm deeply on the buckle of Mr. Bennett's suitcase. She let out a squeal and shut away and she is the hapless little girl living in the midst of a great tragedy. The realism of the child is almost uncanny.

Afterward, in her dressing room, I referred to the arm now carefully bound with antiseptic gauze. "I watched it," explained the baby who had picked up strange lines in spite of her hurt, "picked them up so smoothly not half a dozen people in the audience realized there had been an accident. 'It bled,' Daddy was the doctor and yelled it for me. 'It bled.'"

Again when "Mary" asleep in a room off the farmhouse kitchen, calls "Daddy," interrupting a tense scene between her father and mother, the child called before her cue. There was no time for prompting. Quick as a flash she realized her mistake, and when the cue came repeated the call it was the sort of presence of mind that saved a valuable theatrical moment.

Mother Was Child Actress.

Elfin was born in a small Ohio town, December 4, 1915. Her art does not fall from a clear sky to crown her baby head. It was, in part, an inheritance from her mother, who was a child actress at the age of five. And her father has a keen knowledge of that other and practical side of the stage, direction, as well as of the acting wing.

"No," he said in response to a question as to whether or not Elfin would take up her stage career from this point of beautiful success. "I want my daughter to develop naturally, to play with her dolls and go to school like other little girls. The stage is very serious, too heavy a burden for

WHAT'S YOUR HUSBAND DOING? AT THE EMPRESS

The picture at the Empress theater today and tomorrow is a mirth-provoking screen farce featuring two new youthful costars, Douglas MacLean and Doris May. It is called "What's Your Husband Doing?" and was adapted from George V. Hobart's stage play that pleased Broadway not so long ago.

So there was a hilarious melée struck 12 with these two delightful young people and he has shown a commendable desire to provide them with stories that bring out their high spirits and comedy talents to the best advantage. "What's Your Husband Doing?" is about a suspicious newlywed wife named Beatrice Ridley who wondered why her husband received letters, every morning with "Honey-suckle Inn," a lively roadhouse, printed on the envelope. And wondering she grew suspicious and consulted a lawyer. But the lawyer, who specialized in divorce cases, had troubles of his own with his wife. So did his rosy and loyal business partner.

So there was a hilarious melée of young and suspicious husbands and wives at the inn against a lively cabaret background. And Mrs. Ridley, drinking her first champagne, grew humorously tipsy and the police broke in at the last minute and packed the whole party off to the country jail.

What follows is too rich to reveal gratis. Suffice it to say that a combination of Miss May's fair face, Mr. MacLean's nerve, and a golf-playing judge, bring about a happy ending.

The picture is a Thomas H. Ince production released by Paramount.

NEARLY 40 ADDITIONS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH ON EASTER SUNDAY

Crowds that taxed the capacity of the building attended both morning and evening services at the First Christian church Sunday, and with nearly 40 additions to the church, hopes for a "high day" were fully realized.

The Easter cantata, "Life Everlasting," which featured the evening service proved a musical treat of surpassing excellence, and was considered as reflecting much credit upon the choir and the director, Miss Agnew. About 30 took part in the cantata.

In the morning over $900 was raised as an Easter offering to the Christian orphanage at Dallas.

PROPERTY OWNERS BEING SIGNED UP FOR LIGHTS

Property owners in the business section were being signed up for the new street lighting system today, the committee of which Newton Maser is chairman getting to work early Monday morning. Only about 10 days is expected to be necessary to complete the work, even to reaching the out-of-town property owners. Already a number of the larger property owners are reported signed up, and the plan is expected to meet with a speedy success.

MOTOR TRUCK COLLIDES WITH TOURING CAR

Traffic was held up for a few moments this morning when a big motor truck collided with a small touring car at the corner of Seventh and Indiana.

The truck was going west on Seventh and the touring car north on Indiana. In an attempt to turn to the left into Seventh street, the smaller car ran directly into the path of the truck, and before the truck could be stopped, the cars met.

No one was injured, but the front of the small car was badly damaged.

precautions, although the operation is not considered on a basis of war. The latest information reaching the foreign office confirms its belief that, despite the assurance officially given by the Germans that only a very limited number of troops had been sent to the Ruhr in reality, the number amounts to an army of 40,000 men. All information from the country bordering on the Ruhr basin, it was said at the foreign office today, tends to prove there was no necessity of sending an army into the Ruhr, as the workers and communists were exhausted and without money-food or ammunition. Confirmation of information has also been received that the movement in the industrial region was not Bolshevik in nature, although many aliens were involved, and was essentially anti-militaristic.

NO OFFICIAL ADVICES FROM FRENCH GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The United States soon is expected to make inquiry of France of her intention regarding advancing further into Germany, it was said today. This government probably will ask now far the French purpose is to inquire as to the truth of reports that the French intend to occupy Cologne, Cologne and other cities that are in the areas occupied by American and British troops.

Action to prevent use of American troops in Germany in event of armed conflict between French and German forces in the Ruhr district may be considered by the Senate should the situation reach a crisis, leaders stated today. If the impending crisis develops, Senator Borah said, the state department today was without information on the Ruhr situation. Ambassador Wallace at Paris has not been heard from since last Thursday. It is expected, however, a communication will be received from the French government, outlining its stand in the situation and asking consent of the United States to dispatch troops into the Ruhr.

In a recent communication to the allies, the United States favored permission to Germany to send government troops into the Ruhr to quell radicals there and indicated that this government was opposed to the allied troops moving into the Ruhr. Since this there has been no official pronouncement of policy from this government.

KEEN-WOLF NO. 1 LOOKING LIKE BIG PRODUCER

With the sand barely entered by the drill after casing had been set, the Keen and Wolf No. 1 Munger, a couple of locations north and slightly east of the sensational Art-Boger-Ard-Haynes well in Block 25, Kemp's Wichita Valley farm lands, and on the west end of the Kemp-Munger-Allen holdings, promptly started a flow fully as sensational as the initial flows of the latter well Sunday evening, according to reports from the field, and gives every indication as being as large a producer as the well completed last week by Art and Wolf. The sand depth is almost identical with the Art well, having been picked up on the same day as in the case of the other test, delay in completion being due to inability to secure casing at once.

OWNERS BOGER-ARD PROPERTY REFUSE $1,500,000 OFFER

Refusal of an offer of $1,500,000 for the 110-acre holdings of the syndicate owning the Art-Boger-Ard-Haynes well, a mile northeast of the Kemp-Munger-Allen well, made by responsible operators, was reported Sunday from an apparently authoritative source.

HAIR TONIC INCITES SPEED PROCLIVITIES AND NEGROES LAND IN COURT

Three negroes arraigned before Corporation Judge Ogil Monday on a charge of intoxication and reckless driving were assessed fines ranging between $15 and $25. The driver of the car, who according to the evidence was the ringleader, was fined $25, while two of his companions were assessed fines of $15. The trio are alleged to have collided with another automobile on Eighth street near Bluff late Sunday. The negroes said that they had been drinking hair tonic. Several other "speeding" cases were heard and assessed, practically all of Monday's session of city court being given over to trial of traffic violation cases.

DELAWARE DIVIDES POLITICAL INTEREST WITH MICHIGAN

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NE YORK, April 5.—While politicians had one eye on the Michigan presidential primaries today, the other was on the suffrage situation in Delaware. Though entirely unrelated, the actions of both states were regarded as of equal importance.

The vote in Michigan was expected to give the first comprehensive comparison of the present strength of the leading presidential candidates in both major parties. The final vote on the federal suffrage amendment in the Delaware legislature, expected this week, was accepted as deciding two things:

1. Whether, as the 36th and deciding state, Delaware will increase the women's vote from the present 17,000,000 (under state suffrage) to nearly 25,000,000 (under federal suffrage).

2. Whether Delaware, normally a republican state, will run the possible risk of incurring for the national party the enmity of women in voting states or take a bid for their favor by ratification.

Leaders of both parties have long been awake to the importance of keeping in the good graces of the enfranchised women by fairly outdoing the women themselves in working for enactment of suffrage amendment.

In most states they have been successful but in others they have encountered difficulties, either through open opposition to the amendment or through a collision with local factional politics.

When the women succeeded in inducing the recent republican state convention in Connecticut to adopt a resolution endorsing suffrage and requesting governor Holcomb to call a special session of the legislature to ratify the amendment, they took the attitude expressed by one of their numbers as follows:

It is up to the republican party. If the governors will call an extraordinary session and the legislature ratifies the amendment we will see that the party gets proper credit and our sisters in other states can be quoted upon to show their appreciation in tangible form. If the governor refuses well the republicans must accept the responsibility and the consequences.

Holcomb refused to summon the legislature, explaining the constitution limited such action to an "emergency" and that no "emergency" existed. The suffrage leaders are still bringing all possible pressure to bear on him but obviously have abandoned hope.

The legislature of Mississippi, a democratic state, later defeated the amendment, while the women of Mississippi did not duplicate the threats of the Connecticut suffragists applying the same to the democratic party. It was assumed by observers that this had cancelled any possible effect on the republicans on Connecticut's negative action.

The Delaware legislature is now in special session, summoned by Governor Townsend, an ardent suffragist.

In the event Delaware finally rejects the amendment there remain four democratic states—Louisiana, Florida, North Carolina and Tennessee—and one republican, Vermont. Florida and Tennessee cannot until after an election. The latter already has state suffrage.

Women are voting in the Michigan primaries today and will vote in the Wisconsin and New York primaries tomorrow.

MOONSHINE STILL FOUND AT NEWTOWN BUT OPERATOR GONE

Officials of the sheriff's department Saturday discovered a "moonshine" still in the oil fields near Newtown, but the operator had evidently been "tipped" off to the approaching raid and escaped before arrival of county officials. The still was located in a tent in the edge of Newtown and, according to county officials, was one of the best equipped "wild cat" concerns discovered in this section. Announcement of the discovery was made at the sheriff's office Monday, a report on the incident having been withheld two days in the hope of apprehending the moonshiners.

Discovery of three moonshine stills has been reported during the past 19 days by county and federal officials. The first of these stills was discovered early last week in Clay county, another discovered a few days later near Newcastle in Young county and the third Saturday near Newtown in Wichita county.

SIX SHOW PEOPLE ARRESTED SUNDAY FOR VIOLATING LAW

Six motion picture managers and machine operators were arrested Sunday afternoon when three motion picture theaters opened for Sunday performances. Those arrested were H. S. Ford, M. Potts, Riley Carter, Clyde Bryant, Fred Hoenschel and Verne A. Baker. Theaters opened were the Majestic, Gem and Wichita. The defendants were escorted to the court house where bond was immediately furnished. They were not committed to the county jail as was done the Sunday previous.

The trial of local theater men will again open in county court Tuesday. Four defendants are yet to be tried on charges alleging violation of the Sunday closing law. Two picture theater operators who faced trial by jury last week were found guilty and were assessed fines of $50 each, the maximum penalty for violation of the Sunday closing law. It is understood that the cases have been carried to the court of criminal appeals.

TEMPERATURE FALLS TO 23 ABOVE ZERO HERE EARLY SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Twenty-three degrees was registered by the thermometer twice within the past 48 hours. A frost on Sunday morning at 7:00 o'clock and at the same hour this morning the mercury dropped to that point and remained between there and freezing for several hours.

The low temperature and high wind made up a bad combination for Easter Sunday, and its inevitable parade of fire, and a number of Easter hats were whisked away and shot along the street for distances ranging from 10 feet to 10 yards.

The freezing temperature badly damaged young plants in gardens and, it is feared, has been destructive to what ever chances there might have been for a fruit crop.

NOT RIDING THE FENCE.

The Abilene Reporter is not riding the fence in this campaign. No, indeed. Listen to this:

Do you regard national prohibition as a damnable piece of legislation which ought to be destroyed? Do you believe woman suffrage a device of the devil? Do you believe Woodrow Wilson a stubborn, unprincipled side-stepping grandstander and mental misbegotten? Do you believe dead and gone statesmen more capable of setting up suitable laws for modern America than present-day statesmen? Woodrow Wilson was twice elected president of the United States on the democratic ticket. He is the ostensible, obvious and titular head of the party. Under his leadership the democrats have put across some of the greatest, most lasting and most needed legislation in the history of the country. It conducted the country's greatest war with the least waste and extravagance. It raised the United States to world leadership and the highest and noblest world with its humanitarian treatment of the lesser peoples. Now, then, they are trying to destroy Woodrow Wilson and repudiate his leadership and the things he stands for. It is the price of fame. The same crowd barked at the heels of Washington and snarped at Lincoln's shadow. Truth is mighty and will prevail, and history will accord to Woodrow Wilson and his achievements a page of particular lushness.

It is of significance largely as showing how the average Texas democrat reacts to the present campaign in Texas against the national democratic administration, but it is a fact that anywhere from 85 to 90 per cent of the Texas democratic newspapers are resisting the attempt to use Texas democracy to discredit and repudiate the Wilson administration.

Our co-laborer on this page, Walt Mason, is always interesting and nearly always has a moral to adorn his tale as recited daily in prose rhyme that is ostensibly humorous but is in addition pointed as well. Proof that Walt Mason is a genius, we think, is found in his reply to an invitation to deliver an address to the students of the Oklahoma University School of Journalism, when he said: "It is a false alarm. I never make talks under any circumstances. If I had the gift of tongue, I certainly would consider it a privilege to do as you request, but I can't talk and have sense enough not to try." There are lots of people who can't talk, but they are almighty few who "have sense enough not to try."

William G. McAdoe has resigned as counsel for a corporation composed of Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin. No explanation was given, but perhaps Mrs. McAdoe could give one if she wanted to. Some folks think the divorce habit is "catching."

Just Folks

BOY O' MINE
 Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, this is my prayer for you,
 This is my dream and my thought and my care for you;
 Strong be the spirit which dwells in the breast of you,
 Never may folly or shame get the best of you;
 You shall be tempted in fancied security,
 But make no choice that is stained with impurity.
 Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, time shall command of you,
 Thought from the brain of you, work from the hand of you;
 Voices of pleasure shall whisper and call to you,
 Luring you far from the hard tasks that fall to you;
 Then as you're meeting life's bitterest test of men,
 God grant you strength to be true as the best of men.
 Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, sing your way alone,
 Cling to your laughter and cheerfully play along;
 Kind to your neighbor, be offer your hand to him,
 You shall grow great as your heart shall expand to him;
 But when for victory sweet you are fighting there,
 Know that your record of life you are writing there.
 Boy o' mine, boy o' mine, this is my prayer for you;
 Never may shame pen one line of despair for you,
 Never may conquest or glory mean all to you,
 Cling to your honor whatever shall fall to you,
 Rather than victory, rather than fame to you,
 Choose to be true and let nothing bring shame to you.

Side Talks

What Different People Give Out.
 What a difference there is in what different people give out from any experience they have passed through. Some years ago I was to meet a man who had been to some of the most inaccessible places in the world. I looked forward to the evening, expecting to find him really entertaining. He was the biggest bore I ever met. We started him talking on his travels and he talked for two hours and talk said one interesting thing.
 It was really remarkable the way he seemed to avoid the interesting. He told all sorts of uninteresting details. He sketched diagrams of routes (don't you think all men like to make diagrams and all women hate them.) One might as well read the Baedeker for two hours—rather better, I think.
 An Evening of Enlightenment.
 Now here is a contrast. When I was quite a small child there came to our house a man who had been living for a year in Mexico. That man also said one interesting thing. It was a summer evening and we sat on the veranda—and so vivid is the whole thing that I can hear the old red piazza rockers creak and see the woodbine in the moonlight this minute. It was an evening of pure enchantment.
 He told one dramatic little story after another. I can still remember several of them in spite of being cursed with a wretched memory. His experience was nothing compared to the other man's but his reaction to it was so much more dramatic that he was like an Arabian Nights compared to the other man's Baedeker.
Haven't You Noticed This?
 I think you may have become particularly conscious of this difference in people through our experience with those who have come back from the great drama of the past four years.
 I know two young women of whom one went across and was 14 months in the thick of things, the other spent six months in an American training camp. You would think the woman who was in the thick of things would be far and away the more interesting. As a matter of fact, though she is perfectly willing to talk, she cannot talk interestingly. When one of her friends is the more meagre experience can keep you alternately laughing and on the verge of tears as long as she cares to talk.
And Millions Read About His Travels.
 Of course, to some extent this difference is temperamental. There are people who are born with the gift of a dramatic imagination. They get a touch of that genius which made it possible for Toureau to "travel extensively in Concord, Mass.," and thus make a whole world glad to read about his travels.
 But the dramatic instinct can be cultivated, too. You can train yourself to recognize and select the interesting, and to select the most interesting detail, if you care to try.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars indicate that do not commat."
 (Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Monday, April 5, 1920.

This is an unimportant day in planetary direction, according to the reading of the stars. Early in the morning Saturn and Venus are in benefic aspect, but during the hours of business the rule is weak, Jupiter and Neptune tending toward evil.
 There appears to be a tendency that will affect trade, especially where women buyers are concerned. Mercury has malign effect which seems to indicate that through writing or propaganda purchases of luxuries will decline.
 Women have the most promising conditions under which to do public work, but they will meet much secret opposition, especially in politics, it is predicted.
 Not only will women meet with enmity from men when they engage in politics, but there will be schisms in party organizations. Dissensions will not be confined to any party and all will meet similar problems, astrologers declare, for Venus is in threatening place.
 This is an encouraging government for the aged, as it is supposed to impart energy and hope, thus overcoming nervous depression.
 Neptune gives warning of much fraud in manufactured articles, especially in certain commodities much used by women.
 Some sort of court case growing out of the recent interest in spiritualism is prognosticated.
 There is a sign read as forecasting embarrassment to the political parties because of the women's preference for a candidate of independent ideas.
 A sensational book will cause scandal and even the possibility of a law suit in which prominent men are involved.
 The sun in trine to Saturn in the horoscope of the president is most encouraging, but there is a menacing aspect that must be overcome.
 Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful to avoid litigation during the coming year. Filtrations will be dangerous to young or old. Business affairs should monopolize attention.
 Children born on this day will probably be quick and keen of intellect. These subjects of Aries are often inclined to spend money too lavishly.

TIMES ECHOES

"A Texas witness before the agricultural committee in Washington told the committee that about the only Texans favorable to regulating the packers were socialists or ignoramus," says the Wichita Daily Times.
 The Texas Cattlemen's association, which is made up of neither socialists nor ignoramuses, voted 200 to 127 in favor of government regulation of the packers. Witnesses before congressional committees are not always what they seem and too often misrepresent those for whom they essay to speak.
 The Record cannot accept the viewpoint. To most people witnesses are just what they seem—Fort Worth Record.

LITTLE BERNY'S NOTE BOOK

Yesterday I was walking thro the dining room without any special reason, and wat did I see on the side board but a big lemmen merrang pie about 2 inches thick, me thinking, Gosh G., And I looked at it while wishing I was eating it, and then I stuck my little finger in the merrang part to see how long it would take to get to the lemmen part, thinking, Gosh, it made a hole.
 And I licked my finger and went out of the dining room, thinking, G, that's a heck of a way to leave a lemmen merrang pie, with a finger hole in it. And I went back agen and looked at the hole, thinking, Maybe I better cut out the whole piece and eat it, a pie with a piece out looks a darn site better than a pie with a finger hole in it.
 And I cut out the slice with the hole in it and ate it, taking awell, and the empty space in the pie looked about twice as big as wat the slice did, and went upstairs and ma was in her room darning holes out of socks—and I sed, Ma, can I have a slice of that lemmen merrang pie before supper?
 Yes mam, I sed. And ma dident say no, but she didnt say anything.
 No, sed ma, and I sed, Aw G., ma, why not?
 Because I say no, sed ma.
 Being a reason without any argument to use agen it, and after a while I sed, Well, I dont think I want any pie for supper, ma.
 Why not, for pity sake? sed ma.
 Because I had my slice, I sed.
 Well, sed ma, you take me cake.
 Wich I take the pie, enways.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

By WALT MASON.

In Germany all things are mixed, And nothing's settled, nothing's fixed. One government has quite a boom, and then it jonnepus up the flume; another comes, and it may bust, and leave behind a cloud of dust. And old Ex Bill, he sits and blinks, and many kinds of thoughts he thinks, "They can't cut too without a throne," he sighs, as he sits there alone; they talk republics and the like; republics! For the love of Mike! That sort of stuff is purely rot; they'll have to send for Me and Gert. Of course you'll say his thoughts are vain, that he is neither safe nor sane, that Germans wouldn't dare to place this relic of a bughouse race upon the throne. But, wait, wait while, already yet, it's sure, when all is said and done, we cannot trust the tricky Hun. He'd do the thing we least expect, although he utters be wricked. If thereby he could jar the foes who lately led him by the nose. And Germans want old things again, the throne, the crown, the war lost men. And so the dreams of old Ex Bill are not so wild, already still.

It Can't Be Done.

QUANAH, TEX., April 5.—Mrs. W. R. Hurst was burned to death at her home in Quanah Thursday afternoon. While having trash in her yard, her clothing caught on fire; being unable to put it out with her hands, she tried to get to the house in order to get something to smother out the flames, but was unable to get the gate open in time to save herself from being fatally burned. She died the following morning. A husband and several children survive her.

The Story of Modern Bread Making—Chapter II.

Scientific Storing and Aging of Flour

SCIENCE enters into even so simple a matter as the storing of flour at the bakery.

consideration—takes place under ideal conditions.

The length of time each shipment should be stored is strictly a matter for scientific determination. Some flours come from the mill "green," while others are well ripened. It is just as important that flour should be ripened when used for baking as that fruit should be ripe when eaten.

Green flour produces a loaf small in volume, dark in color, and of poor texture. The results of the baking test, considered in conjunction with the chemical analysis of the flour, indicate to the chemist just how long the flour should be aged before using.

Our flour is stored and aged under ideal conditions—an important factor in making

In such a room the process of "aging"—the second important

First, there is the question of the construction of the storeroom which must have been designed with a proper regard to temperature, ventilation, degree of light, protection from dust, odors, insects and mice. Flour should be stored in a warm, dry and rather dark room, where only fresh, pure air is admitted.

Our storeroom was designed with all these points in mind. Here the sacks are stacked not on the floor but on movable "skids," to allow free circulation of air around it.

Baseball and Trapshooting
SOILY BURNS AND
FREDDIE HILL AT
THE C. A. C. TONIGHT

All set for the scrap tonight. Soily Burns and Freddie Hill are pulling at the tape waiting for the gong that will start things going. And when things start, there should be some milling.

Burns came here not so much because he had the chance to earn a little money, but to get Freddie Hill and do it up right. That's what Tierney, his manager, says. Tierney says that Burns is not the best boy in these parts and that Hill will be duck-soup for him. He backs up this statement by Burns' record, which shows a big balance in favor of the local fighter. Among his more prominent victims is Bobby Waugh, who has appeared at the C. A. C.

Here's the way the scrapers line up:

In the first place, Freddie Hill walloped Otto Wallace in seven rounds of a scheduled 12 round go here about a month or so ago. Wallace has a draw with Jimmy Hanlon. His record is considered as good as Burns, and has been matched with Burns for Fort Worth in a couple of weeks.

Pretty even, isn't it?

Well, should Hill pry Burns loose from the canvas this evening, he'll probably get the bout with Hanlon in Burns' place. And that's just what he wants. He wants to whip Burns. He believes he can do it. Burns thinks Hill will be soft-pickins. So it looks like a real bout.

In the semi-wind-up, Sid Martineck, the Fighting Pirate, "Conqueror of Battling Roy, the Stockyards Bully, etc., etc." will take on one Cliff Kelly of Marlow, Okla., in a six-round exhibition. Martineck, a work before the local club has been attracting considerable attention. He has climbed into the ring on three occasions, and has managed to beat his man every time. Twice by the razor route, he has defeated a champion, who was a considerable efficiency, also that he packs the meanest kind of a wallop in either hand. Martineck has been working faithfully to get into the principal event class, and a victory over Clarke tonight will probably get him a bout with some lightweight.

Martineck is willing to go beyond the lightweight class for opposition. He has taken on Walters and beaten them, although he himself is a legitimate "light."

Another good card of prelims has been arranged for by Promoter Edwards, and one of the best cards yet put on is promised for this evening.

UNIVERSITY TRACK TEAM TO COMPETE WITH RICE

AUSTIN, TEX., April 5.—While coaches here have been talking concerning the Texas University track team, indications are that a strong aggregation will be sent to Houston for the meet of the season, which the Longhorns compete with the Rice Institute Ovis on April 7.

Two 10-15 second men, in addition to Herbert Beavers, who was a star on the cinder path two years ago, have come out for the 100 yard dash, and reports are that good time is being made in freights for other races. Joe Moss is reported to be taking turns in the same form which enabled him to defeat all comers during the past two years. Dewitt Walton is credited with 3 feet, 11 inches in the high jump and 11 feet, 3 inches in the broad jump.

Records in other events are not available.

A score of more trainees from other colleges, who were ineligible to play last season, promised to make the Longhorn a formidable aggregation next fall.

Taking On Smaller Fry

HOUSTON, TEX., April 5.—Houston lost its last 1920 exhibition game against a major league club and will now take on as opponents teams of smaller calibre. Tuesday and Wednesday the local Texas League club will perform at Huntsville against Sam Houston Normal. Friday, Saturday and Sunday Eves will lead his forces against Beaumont in Beaumont. The White Sox took three out of four from Houston here in the series just closed.

OF INTEREST TO SPORT FANS

The SPORTLIGHT
 by Grantland Rice

(Copyright 1920, New York Tribune.)

THE GOAL.

What is the goal that each holds dear?
 "Surpassing wealth," says the financier;
 "Love," sighs the maid, with eyes cast down,
 "Justice," says the poet, "and great renown";
 "Justice," we hear the stern judge say,
 "Youth," from the man whose hair is gray;
 "Honor," the knight's impassioned cry,
 "Truth," says the sage, with kindling eye;
 And then from the little boy at play
 We get this answer: "A holiday";
 "Home," yawns the exile overseas,
 "Learning is greater than all of these";
 The scholar hastens to make reply;
 "Health," says the invalid, with a sigh.

I pondered the long list through the night,
 Undecided which one was right:
 Until through the hedge of an open lane
 I caught the lilt of an old refrain,
 The careless lilt of a rover's song.
 From one unmindful of right or wrong,
 And so I asked, as he wandered near,
 "What is the goal that you hold dear?"
 Looking over the hills beyond,
 "An endless dream," said the vagabond.

"To those that hath shall be given." Always. The umpire has had his troubles for fifty years and now they have piled on an extra allotment in the minute inspection of freak ball deliveries. The only chance the umpire has to duck trouble now is to grab each pitcher as he enters the box, tear off his glove, manœuvre his nails and extract the last drop of saliva from his system. After which the contest can proceed in a comparatively fair amount of peace.

JOHNSON'S SLOW BALL.

Something like a matter of twelve or thirteen years ago a big blond hick arrived in Washington from Weller, Idaho. His name was Walter Johnson. "All he's got is speed," was the critical survey. Yes, that was about all.

And then as the seasons began to fill by the non-combatants and the embattled athletes were saying: "But he can't last. He'll wear his arm out buzzing 'em through at that pace."
 But he is still buzzing 'em. What they overlooked was this: Johnson had the easiest, simplest pitching motion in baseball—a motion that operated after the manner of a machine without a jerk or a quiver or a kick.
 There was no snap of the wrist, no straining of the elbow, no heaving of the shoulders. His delivery rippled off as a stream flows down the smoothest sort of river bed.

Year after year dazed batters have looked for this speed to wane. Yet last season, with a losing team, Johnson allowed fewer earned runs than any pitcher in either league—and he was working in a league that carried Cobb, Ruth, Collins, Jackson, Sisler, Veach and a number of others whose batting eyes are neatly adjusted.

Working for some run-making club, Johnson would be good for forty victories, from five to ten more than any man in baseball.

If he has lost his speed, there are still several pitchers who would like to acquire the marvelous slow ball which he pushes across the plate.

ODDS AND SUCH.

Jim Corbett knocked out Sullivan before Garpenier was born. And even that far away they were betting 5 to 1 on Sullivan.

It may be true that Sullivan was getting old and his condition was none too good. But for all that, they were betting 5 to 1 on him as he fought.

It may be that Garpenier would have no chance against Dempsey—just as Corbett had no chance against old John L.

Odds in a championship boxing match don't always mean a lot.

Last years in the two big sporting events of the season Willard and the White Sox were the favorites. The biggest clinch is the one that rarely comes off.

And yet there are still a few clinches left. One of these is that the next world series won't be between Boston and Philadelphia.

Cincinnati's outlook this season depends largely upon how much temperaments a championship season engendered. The average human can stand up under a future, but not one in a million can stand success.

They may not like us in Europe, but for that matter Chicago and Michigan refused to have anything to do with one another for fourteen years.

In the process of keeping your eye on the ball try to imagine it's a mint julep or a Bronx cocktail. If that doesn't help, trade your clubs for a barrel of grape juice.

ECHOES FROM TRAINING CAMPS
 Rookies and Regulars Limbering Up for the Big Show.

HOUSTON.—The White Sox today started their long trip homeward, booked for a week of one-day stands with clubs in various cities, intended for the athletes in prime condition for opening on the "big time." George Payne, recruit, pitched yesterday's game with the local team and won 10 to 2.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The Chicago Cubs today broke camp. One bunch was slated to go to Reno to play a team of Bloomer girls. The other part went to Phoenix. To make themselves solid with California fans for next winter, the Cubs dropped both ends of a double header yesterday, one to Oakland 8 to 6, and the other to San Francisco 2 to 1.

ST. LOUIS.—The Cardinals and Browns are scheduled to stage their second game of the major league series today. Sunday's game having been prohibited by the blizzard.

ST. LOUIS.—Jack Lawler, Omaha, and Young Chaney, New Orleans, will stage their fourth ring battle here tonight. Their first two clashes of 8 and 10 rounds, resulted in draws. The decision for Lawler in a later 20-round go at New Orleans was declared by sport serfuses as a draw also.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—After their game here today, the New York Giants went to Phoenix. Red Sox will start home. The game scheduled at Nashville yesterday, was forbidden by the mayor.

NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans Pelicans defeated the Cleveland Indians 4 to 1 here yesterday. They kicked the Indians for 12 hits.

NEW YORK.—Ping Bodie, Pratt and Hannah for Schang, Vitti and McNally in a trade between the Yankees and the Boston Red Sox was rumored here today. Manager Huggins made the offer, but Manager Barrow refused to dicker for Schang. It is said, Some trade is expected between the two clubs before their return north.

LOUISVILLE.—The Phillies and Colonels met in the first of a four game series this afternoon. Walter Tagrenson, Philadelphia catcher, will be out of the game for some time as the result of a broken nose. He was struck by a thrown ball.

ATLANTA.—When two squads of chief Athletics leave Wednesday, Connie Mack is expected to put a big shake up into effect. He will recast both teams. It is said and leave a few players with Atlanta in part payment for those he received at the close of last season.

Play Benefit Game.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, April 5.—The San Antonio Bronchos, after trouncing local army and city teams badly, ended up by beating the Lone Star Motors, city champions of last year, 5 to 3 Sunday, will take on the local American Legion team Tuesday for the benefit of a fund to supply sanitariums for tubercular Texas soldiers.

At low estimate, there are probably 12,500 wagonmen doing an aggregate bus business of $25,000,000 year.

BALL PLAYERS WILL BE ENTERTAINED WITH DANCE APRIL 14TH

The first step toward the systematic entertainment of the members of the local Texas League baseball team was taken Monday morning when Carl Heck, manager of the Dancin' Dancers, and R. H. Venavio offered the hall and the services of their orchestra for a big pre-season dance to take place the evening of Wednesday, April 14. The offer was made to the baseball association and was accepted.

J. Will Gray, secretary of the association, will have charge of the dance, but will delegate his authority to an invitation committee which is to be made up of a number of prominent young business men of the city. A plan for the dance has already been made and it is expected to be sent to quite a number of the more prominent rosters. It is expected that the first steps toward the organization of a rosters' club will be taken on that night of the dance. The dance will be a strictly invitation affair.

The affair will take place two days before the opening of the season. The first game will be played on Friday, and the dance will give the boys a real send-off.

Practically all the players are strangers to this city. They have been recruited from all parts of the country, and from the looks of things, the time has not been spent in vain. But that old wheeze about "all work and no play," and "no rest for the weary" ball players, but from the looks of things, there will be no more idle months go by. Dominoes, checkers, etc., have been the principal amusements to date, but these have sort of lost their interest. The dance and reception will give them all a chance to get acquainted, and that's all that is necessary.

What things will probably follow the organization of a rosters' club, the dance and reception being merely the starter. Besides furnishing the Spudders with the kind of backing that every ball club needs, they'll see to the social end of the thing, and see that the boys will have a good time while representing Wichita Falls on the baseball map.

Any number of things will be possible after the preliminary organization has been perfected, and the dance will give the local men a chance to get that through.

Weather Prevents Game With the Sox Sunday Afternoon

Old Boss Boreas, manager of the Winds, walloped Kid Baseball over the eye Sunday afternoon, thereby disappointing a bunch of fans who had hoped to spend the after-dinner hours watching Venie Richard Kerr and Long Grover Lowdermilk get walloped by the Spudders.

But such was not the case.

The Winds—all kinds of them, from the north, east, south and west, took possession of the ball yard about 1 a. m. Sunday and hung on until about bedtime on Saturday night.

Shano Collins came down to the park and looked things over. Bennie Brownlow stuck his head out of an upstairs window of the club house.

"Nope, no game," says Bennie.

Will Gray looked on with considerable sadness in his eyes.

After that the boys were kept busy tuning the fans away for about an hour. It was a dark, damp and dreary afternoon all around.

To add to the general misery, a number of the more ambitious Spudders retreated to the club house and staged an alleged concert. It too was a success.

The Sox spent the day looking over the town and getting the general idea of the part a derri-ki plays in getting oil from Mother Earth. After that they too retreated to their rooms and staged some sort of an entertainment, the exact nature of which could not be determined.

When the hose came here they had intended to visit the oil fields, but when they got out yesterday's wind, they decided to learn all about the oil fields from books and maps, which they didn't.

As the series stands, the Sox have one, and the Spudders have one. It may be decided next year.

SIGLER WILDCAT WELL PERFORMS TO A LARGE CROWD OF VISITORS; PUTS OIL HIGH INTO DERRICK

By A. C. MCCONNELL.

VERNON, TEX., April 5.—The wildcat of Lloyd Sigler gave several performances last Saturday to crowds as assembled about the well as audiences. The show was pleasing and came up to the expectations of those who journeyed out to see the well in action. On several occasions during the day the greasy fluid spouted from the mouth of the hole, flowing to the second tier of the derrick, spraying visitors with Wilbarger liquid gold. It was an unexpected scene, when the drillers opened up the hole and a field man is sleeping with "one eye open," in order that no one may be permitted to cross the confines of the company's property. The well is down about 2,000 feet. All increase surrounding the test has been withdrawn from the market, with heavy calls for same. The stock is skyrocketing with much speculation increasing today. Saturday draw to close, a member of the talent whispered that "something will break Monday or Tuesday," and everyone is watching for the result.

Predictions made by Lloyd Sigler that the Sigler well would clean itself out came true when Thursday night the heavy gas pressure sent forth an eruption of mud and rocks that had accumulated in the well following a cavein. Mr. Sigler states that the pipe it not down to the bottom of the hole, and at the end of the 34 pipe it leaves an open hole of 30 feet. The open hole caved in last week, but late Thursday night after it bridged over with the 30 feet of open hole, blew it clean out. After the eruption of mud and nothing further was done and Mr. Sigler and the driller were confident it would clean itself out a confidence that was borne out by the subsequent eruption Thursday night. Mr. Sigler said the open well of 30 feet caved in and bridged. "We sent a string of tools and pounded through the bridge," said Mr. Sigler. "The well is now down the derrick and it stuck at 12 feet from the bottom of the hole. We got the baller out and went back in with the tool and pounded away. Nothing happened. We had simply pounded the clay into the sand and sealed it over. We are going to leave the hole as it is for 24 hours and let her clean herself out by the subsequent eruption. I am confident that it will blow herself in again. Mr. Sigler says it has not been determined yet whether the well will be under-reamed with 60-inch casing or not before drilling deeper into the sand. If no further cavein occurs it will be drilled deeper into the sand. The stem is only 60 inches in diameter. The pipe sands go westward and the Piper and Sigler sands are identical. This is an important phase developed since the well blew over the top last Wednesday morning. Another interesting feature incident to the strike is that the oil is now showing a greenish tint. These facts—that the oil is known to be of high grade and of a paraffin base, with a greenish color—have convinced the promoters that they have a well worth while and Mr.

for oil. A large number of companies have been formed to drill in block 14, being in the same block as the Sigler well. The Burk-Waggoner Oil company have material on the ground for tests. One test will be made in section 36 and another in block 100. One tract is 40 acres and the other is 50 acres.

J. R. Brewer, W. T. Lincoln and A. T. McDonald of Electra and Dr. Alden Coffee of Fort Worth have bought two 40-acre tracts from A. G. Carter and associates for $190,000. The land is one-half mile from the Sigler well. They will begin drilling in 30 days.

Lawrence, Robertson and associates are hauling material to section 67, block 14, for a test. This test is one and one-half miles northwest of the Sigler well and in the same area as the Castletary gasser. The test will be made on the Castletary tract. Oronizio is to drill in section 25, block 2, adjoining the Sigler section. The Vernon-Patria Oil company, has been formed with a capital stock of $125,000. Harry A. Frankel, M. Marks, Jake Katz, D. S. Friedner and I. G. Hawkins are the associates in the promotion of the company. Drilling is to commence at once.

The Wilbarger-Southern Oil company, the first company to organize following the coming in of the Sigler well, is about ready to spill in. They have 25 acres near the Sigler well, and is being promoted by a party of business men, headed by McAdoo, Oakes and Schaffer.

First Attention to All Orders For the Sick

The railroads have offered a rate of a fare and one-half on the certificate plan; that is, full fare will be charged to College Station, then, if as many as two hundred and fifty are in attendance, the return ticket may be purchased at one-half. It is imperative that a receipt be taken for the ticket to place on all the regular trains pullmen which will be set off at college. Those who are unable to secure berths on these pullmans for the night will be furnished beds on arrival at College Station. Meals will be served at Bernard Shiga Hall. The day morning, April 20, the opening address will be delivered in Galien Hall at 9:30 a. m. by Dr. W. B. Brazell on "The Relation of the A. and M. College to the Banker-Farmer Conference" followed by a response from F. M. Law, president, Texas State Bankers' Association, on the "Influence of the Banker-Farmer Conference on Agriculture in Texas." Then Joseph Hirsch, chairman of the agricultural commission, America's Bankers' Association, will deliver an address on "The Responsibility of the Texas Bankers to Agriculture," followed by an address on "Farm Tenantry," by F. L. Downs, chairman of committee of agriculture, Texas Bankers' Association, after which T. O. Walton, director of the extension service, will tell "What the Extension Service is Doing for Agriculture in Texas." The balance of the forenoon will be devoted to questions and discussions by bankers and farmers. Tuesday afternoon practical demonstrations will be given at the Animal Husbandry Building, beginning at 1:30 p. m. The leading characteristics of the principal breeds of livestock will be pointed out from living specimens: Beef cattle—J. C. Burns, professor animal husbandry; Dairy Cattle—J. W. Ridgway, professor of dairy husbandry; Sheep—R. F. Miller, professor of sheep husbandry; Hogs—D. W. Williams, associate professor of animal husbandry; Horses—L. W.
