BLAIR EXPECTS EARLY START ON INTERURBAN

Bankers Coming Soon After Which Details of Financing Will be Announced

"I am confident that events will work out in such a manner as will enable us to start actual work on the Wichita Falls-Dallas Interurban by August 1," was the statement made Saturday by Wiley Blair of Dallas, president of the Blair-Hughes Wholesale Grocery company, and prime mover of the interurban project, who has just returned from New York where he was for several weeks in conference with investment bankers who are expected to underwrite the bond issue for the line.

Mr. Blair bases his prediction as to the early starting of the work on the belief that a trade will be consummated with these bankers on their impending visit to Texas which will enable the immediate carrying through of this project, and on the further belief that the people of Wichita Falls, Dallas and the intervening points will carry through their part of the project without hesitation as they have done in every other project with which the upbuilding of their immediate section, or of the state at large, was concerned. "The interests I have been in conference with are very much interested in this project," Mr. Blair states. "They are practical interurban people, and at present own and operate a number of interurban lines. They are particularly well acquainted with Texas, and very much interested in its possibilities, and they are, even more so, interested in the possibilities of Wichita Falls and Dallas, which they rate as the two most progressive cities of the state."

Highly beneficial to the project to Wichita Falls, Mr. Blair said: "I do not believe that any steam railroad line could be constructed from either Wichita Falls or Dallas, even one which would connect the two, which would be even nearly as beneficial to the business and property interests of the two places as would this interurban line."

The problem is a very unique one, as interurban projects go—not only with respect to the distance apart of the terminal cities and their importance commercially and industrially, but by reason of the unusually rich intervening territory. The project has appealed very much to the bankers with whom I have been conferring with regard to it, and I am sure will be of very compelling interest to business men all along the line and in the terminal cities.

The bankers of whom Mr. Blair spoke are expected in Dallas during the first week in May, and will be brought to Wichita Falls on the route which the line is to traverse immediately afterward. Following this a definite financial program will be mapped out, he said.

As it stands now, financial details have been worked out only in a very general way. It is expected that practically eight million dollars will be required to construct the line—around a million of which will be taken care of through the bonds, secured by a first mortgage on the property. Of the remaining amount half will be subscribed in Wichita Falls, Dallas and along the line, being underwritten probably by the two terminal cities in the proportion of one-third by Wichita Falls and two-thirds by Dallas. The remainder will be put by the General Electric people, who through their subsidiaries, the Texas Power & Light company, which owns among others the local light plant, and the Dallas Street Railways, already have considerable interests in Texas. They have agreed to put up dollar for dollar with the people living along the projected line, Mr. Blair stated. This amount will be taken care of in the form of preferred stock in the company.

ALLAN RYAN MAKES $1,650,000 IN SALE OF STUTZ SHARES

NEW YORK, April 24—Allen A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, is estimated to have added $1,650,000 to his wealth today when fifty-eight other brokers agreed to pay him $550 a share for stock of the Stutz Car Company, which they had sold short at prices ranging from $100 to $200.

He and a protective committee representing the short interests signed an agreement ending a controversy which has furnished the greatest Wall Street sensation in years. The controversy began March 31 when the exchange suspended trading in Stutz after the price had been jumping rapidly under efforts to cover. There followed charges and counter-charges. Ryan accused members of the board of governors of being short in the stock. Other members of the exchange accused him of having an illegal corner which would prevent him from enforcing the usual obligation of a broker to deliver stock he had sold.

BAVARIANS ARE ANGERED BY GESSLER ARMY PLAN

BERLIN, April 23—A sensation has been caused in Bavaria owing to a statement that Minister of Defense Gessler, who is now in Munich, has prepared with Major General Seeckt, chief of staff, a scheme to organize a strong new army corps composed solely of reliable republicans drawn from the existing army, according to advices from Munich. The newspaper demands that Herr Gessler either withdraw the plan or resign.

PRESENT ORGANIZATIONS WILL BE PERMITTED TEMPORARILY TO CONTINUE WORK, DELANO SAYS

Until the report embodying suggestions for the future development and operation of properties in his charge is filed with the Supreme Court of the United States in accordance with the order appointing him and accepted or modified by the court, Frederick A. Delano, federal receiver for the Red River bed oil lands, will permit organizations to temporarily continue their operations, provided they give evidence of co-operation in the production and conservation of oil and gas, and accurately account for their operations, according to a prepared statement issued Saturday in the name of the receiver by J. Spaulding Flannery of Washington, one of the attorneys to the receiver.

Asked as to whether this statement implied that the pipe lines at present running oil from this district would continue to do so, Mr. Flannery stated for the receiver that this was not yet settled, as an investigation of the pipe lines operating in the district at present was now in progress. "One thing is certain, though," he said, "all of the lines now running oil will not continue to do so."

There is a rumor on the streets to the effect that the Standard Oil subsidiaries in this district are to run all the oil from the lands involved in the receivership," Mr. Flannery was told. "No Decision as to Pipe Lines. "There is absolutely nothing to that," he replied. "No definite arrangements have been made as to the running of the oil. We are merely investigating pipe lines and pipe line companies, and have made no definite arrangements in this connection whatsoever."

This angle of the situation is expected by local oil operators who have been watching this situation to constitute one of the receiver's principle problems as many of the operators in this section are paying the oil from their operations in their own pipe lines and for the additional reason that many of the smaller pipe line companies are paying a premium on the oil run by them, while the trunk lines are paying only posted prices. Quarters for the Wichita Falls office of the receiver have not yet been obtained, Mr. Flannery stated, and are, for the present, being maintained at the hotel where the party is staying, the Hotel William and Mary, Tenth and Travis. Offices will probably be obtained within the next few days, he added. The statement referred to above is as follows:

Mr. Flannery's Statement.

"I feel quite sure that my silence will not be misunderstood or be construed as a lack of co-operation which has been exhibited by all interested parties. I would certainly be regrettable to have anybody believe me unappreciative. I am reluctant to speak for publication because I feel that in a matter of this magnitude and importance it is poor taste for one in my position to make any statement until the entire situation requires careful study before being made."

"However, in answer to your question as to what my policy will be, I will state that I shall endeavor to follow closely what I conceive to be the spirit, as well as the letter of the Supreme Court order. Your newspaper has published that in full for the benefit of your readers, and doubtless the public will recall that the order requires the receiver to 'organize and report to this court full and complete plans for prospecting such lands and developing and producing the oil and gas within the same; and until such a report is made and acted upon by the court the receiver shall operate the existing oil and gas wells on said land or permit them to be operated by their respective claimants under his direction and supervision or close down said wells if he shall deem it advisable to do so.'"

"Pending the time when this report of the receiver shall have been submitted and approved or modified, it will be the policy of the receiver to maintain existing organizations and to permit them temporarily to continue their operations, provided that the parties in control give evidence that they are ready to co-operate in the production and conservation of the oil and gas and accurately account to the receiver for their operations since April 1."

"There appears elsewhere in Saturday's Times not only the full page notice of the receiver, which quotes fully from the order of the Supreme Court, but also a questionnaire addressed to each and every claimant and operator within the district. The decision to be arrived at by the receiver will depend largely upon the replies received to this questionnaire and the more promptly those replies come in, the sooner will I be able to define my policy."

"After I shall have had an opportunity to familiarize myself with the many problems which the receiver will be called upon to solve and after consulting with experts and hearing the various parties interested, I shall endeavor to formulate and submit to the Supreme Court a plan for the operation and development of the property during the period of the receivership. The receiver has been directed to make this report within 30 days from the time he takes possession, and until the court has had an opportunity to consider the matter fully and instruct the receiver, I shall not be in a position to make any final arrangement for operation or future development."

HEAVY RAINFALL HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Following a shower Saturday afternoon a heavy rain fell in Wichita Falls beginning about ten o'clock Saturday night. While records were not available it was believed the precipitation was more than an inch. The downtown streets were flooded.

The Pennington and Hogan test in section 125-14, Tillman county, Oklahoma, has picked up a sand with oil indications just below 1600 feet, according to Joe Anderson, drilling contractor, who is just spudding in a test for the Richmond Oil company, of which he is president, just to the south and east and in the northern half of the Red river bed. The test is now shut down and waiting on casing.

The Texas Tillman test, in the adjoining section to the east, 75-14, also reported on the sand, is setting a liner to shut off water, according to Mr. Anderson. The test of the Gypsy Oil company in the same section is also on the sand, he says.

WICHITA FALLS WILL GIVE GENEROUS WELCOME TO MADAM SCHUMANN-HEINK ON APPEARANCE HERE MAY 5

The Schumann Heink concert, May 5, at the Wichita Theatre, promises to be one of the premier society events of the season, as well as one of the leading entertainment attractions ever staged in Wichita Falls. Several big box parties are planned, and everything points toward the greatest ovation ever tendered anyone, singer or actor, in Wichita Falls. The tickets are now on sale at the Wichita Theatre and all arrangements are made for the coming of the world-wide celebrity.

The famous prima donna has much to commend her to the love of the public in addition to her wonderful voice. There is the magnetic personality, and the strong feeling of motherhood that is uppermost, and the public has many delightful tales of her home life which endears the singer to them. Her views on the musical education of the child is therefore of much interest, expressed as follows:

It has been my good fortune to traverse my beloved adopted land innumerable times from coast to coast and I have met countless American children and American mothers. As a mother I think of their bright and happy faces, their American eagerness to do the best in all things, it seems a little presumptuous upon my part to affect an attitude of giving advice. True, I am pretty much of a mother, if the size of my family is considered. With all the hardships that come with motherhood, I still feel strongly that there is a reward which the right kind of mother that nothing else can possibly give.

The position of the busy concert singer is often unfortunate, as there is very little time to give to the details of the home. Strange to say, some of my children showed no great musical inclination. In such cases I did not force them to study. Now, I regard this as a mistake, as it seems to me that children will not study unless they have very strong inducements. If the inducements can be made delightful—and if the pupil responds to delightful inducements, all well and good—but if the pupil shows a least possible chance of musical ability and fails to respond to favorable conditions, the trouble is probably downright laziness and this demands copious doses of the old-fashioned household remedy that does not come in bottles.

I am sure that many American mothers will agree with me that what some term lack of musical ability, or lack of musical inclination, is nothing but pure indolence, mixed with juvenile "cussedness." Oh, the Machiavellian diplomacy that some children will resort to in order to avoid a few minutes practice. The average child will think of more excuses for avoiding practice than all the politicians of Europe have trumped up for the starting of the European war when it is perfectly plain to everybody that the real reason was the fight to maintain militarism.

In my own experience, the great blunders comes when the mother makes the first concession to the child. Children have an uncanny sense of reading the mother's mind. The mother does not have to speak; the mind is so close between the child and the mother that it has often seemed to me that all the mother has to do is to think and the child gets the meaning.

PROGRESS WITH PLANS FOR COMMENCEMENT WEEK

Preparations are being made by the high school seniors for commencement, which will conclude with the commencement night program on June 4, and active work has begun on the class night program. Ella Merle Mathis, Maurice Hickman and Harold Knotts are the program committee and they will be ready to announce their program shortly, it is understood.

The essays which each member of the graduating class must write are nearing completion, or should be nearing completion, for the finished essay must be handed in by Wednesday of this week. An unusual and interesting feature of the essays this year is that all are on some local subject. The oil industry, the refining branch of the oil industry, the manufactures, and the various other resources which have made Wichita Falls a city are forming the subjects of the graduates of 1920, a wide departure from some of the subjects formerly taken by graduates, such as "Beyond the Alps Lies Italy," and other highly idealistic subjects which gave room for wild flights of fancy.

WINNERS IN CONTEST GIVEN SILVER PENCILS

Winners among the Wichita Falls students in the district interscholastic literary contests have been presented with sterling silver pencils by the City National bank cashier, R. E. Shepherd, presenting the pencils at the chapel meeting on Wednesday. The pencils are engraved with the name of the winner and the date and occasion, also the donor. Those thus remembered are: Dorothy Reid and Sam Bashara, first place in the junior declaration; Ella Merle Mathis, first place senior girls; Pierce Langford, second place senior boys; Frank Patton and Temple Shell, debating team; Mortimer Clopton, first place extemporaneous speaking.

CONFERENCE TO ARRANGE FOR USE OF TERMINALS

Final working out of arrangements for the use of the joint terminals of the Wichita Falls by the Oil Belt railroad and the Katy lines here will be worked out Monday at a joint conference which will be attended by Frank Kell and Jake L. Hanson of Ardmore, owners of the Wichita Falls and Southern and the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth, an extension of the former from Newcastle to the North Central Texas oil fields, the two composing the "Oil Belt Line," and C. N. Whitehead of St. Louis, vice president in charge of operation of the Katy lines. A number of other officials of the lines concerned will also be in attendance at the conference.

HELPFUL SHOWERS FALL OVER LARGE AREA SATURDAY

Northwest Texas, including Wichita county, was visited by a general rain Saturday which began at Childress early in the forenoon and reached as far east as Fort Worth by 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Reports received at local railroad offices indicate that the rainfall varied from three-eighths of an inch at Wichita Falls to almost one inch at Childress. The rainfall was reported as being lighter toward Fort Worth.

Western Oklahoma was also visited by good rains Saturday according to reports received from various points along the route of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway extending as far northwest as Forgan. The rainfall is also reported as general, over much of central west Texas, according to reports from Abilene.

ARKANSAS AND LOUISIANA ROAD MAY BE SCRAPPED AS JUNK

SHREVEPORT, April 24.—United States Judge G. W. Jack has issued a decree ordering the sale at auction of work in progress of the Arkansas & Louisiana Midland Railroad, with W. P. Leary of Shreveport appointed special master to conduct the sale. The road operates between Monroe, La., and Crosscut, Ark. Bids are sought on five propositions, including one which provides that the whole of the railroad may be abandoned and scrapped as junk.

FIRE FROM PICTURE SHOW DESTROYS HALF OF OIL TOWN

ARKANSAS CITY, KANS., April 24.—Fire which started in a motion picture show this morning destroyed about one-half the small oil town of Dilworth, Oklahoma, located south of here. The loss is estimated at $75,000. The fire swept over two blocks of business houses, including the Dilworth Hotel and the American lumber yard.

Herbert Meyer, superintendent in this district for the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, accompanied by Mrs. Meyer and son, left late Friday for Washington in response to a message telling of the critical illness of an aunt of Mr. Meyer's. Mr. Meyer plans to return to Wichita Falls within a comparatively short time, while Mrs. Meyer expects to spend the summer in the east.

DALLAS OFFICIAL IS CALLED TO ADVISE OFFICIALS HERE

Hal Moseley, Street and Water Commissioner of Dallas Visits City

The rehabilitation of the Wichita Falls water system, which is to be taken over by the city in the near future, in order to make it adequate to the present needs of the city, presents a problem far from as complex as appears at first glance, in the opinion of Hal Moseley, street and water commissioner of Dallas, and for years city engineer of Dallas, who, being visitor in Wichita Falls Saturday, was impressed by the city administration in an advisory capacity and taken pretty thoroughly into the engineering problems confronting the city at the present time.

The linking up of the many loose ends existing in the water system at present—a gridironing of the system to use Mr. Moseley's expression—eliminating the unnecessary pipe, and consequent saving of space, and securing a greater freedom in the circulation of the water in the system will be Mr. Moseley's opinion go toward relieving the present situation. He also suggests the laying out of additional feeding mains from the power plant fanwise in order to give additional outlets from the power station into the mains and in addition to obviate the situation existing at present where the system is practically dependent on a single system of feeding mains and water.

Mr. Moseley was also called on in number of other departments—his advice being asked with regard to the sewer system and the various other city departments, and he spent the evening, at the request of W. B. Curlew, street commissioner, in an advisory capacity at the conference of paving contractors where standard paving specifications were considered—altogether making an extremely busy day out of one intended as a social visit.

Mr. Moseley was elected commissioner of streets and water system in Dallas while serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France as a captain of Engineers. For a number of years before entering the service he was city engineer in Dallas, and built up one of the best engineering departments possessed by any of the cities in the country, Dallas, when he became city engineer, was confronted with a number of conditions similar to those at present in Wichita Falls—in the setting of which he has made a conspicuous success. He is also the city engineer who worked by George E. Messler, the city planning expert recently engaged by Wichita Falls, in drawing up his city plan for Dallas, and who initiated the execution of this plan by the city of Dallas.

THIRTY BLOCK PARTIES TO BE HELD IN WICHITA FALLS THIS WEEK, BRINGING TOTAL TO 60

More than 30 block parties are scheduled for this week, which promises to be a very active one in the neighborhood community movement. The parties will be held in various parts of Wichita Falls, and are expected to bring the total of organized blocks to about 60.

No invitations are usually issued to these parties, the notice in the papers being the only invitation required, and the City Beautification bureau urges that no one stand on ceremony, but attend the party in his block, with his family, when he sees notice given in the papers.

More than a score of very successful block parties have already been held, and the community movement is spreading steadily. Within a short time, efforts will be made to organize those parts of the city where little has been done so far.

The following block parties are scheduled for Tuesday night:

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Britain, 1002 Grace, for block bounded by Tenth, Eleventh, Grace and Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pridden, 906 Denver, for block bounded by Ninth, Tenth, Denver and Van Buren.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Drake, 1405 Lamar, for block bounded by Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Lamar and Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fox, Jr., 1207 Fifteenth, for block bounded by Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Broad.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Roberts, 1400 Lamar, for block bounded by Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Lamar and Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Smith, 1209 Austin, for block bounded by Twelfth, Thirteenth, Austin and Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sherrard, 1304 Darnell, for block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Burnett and Bluff.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hardy, 1206 Travis, for block bounded by Eleventh, Twelfth, Lamar and Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Swanson, 1208 Austin, for block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Austin and Burnett.

Mr. C. J. Coyne, 1200 Indiana, for block bounded by Twelfth, Thirteenth, Indiana and Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Winfrey, 1310 Twelfth, for block bounded by Eleventh, Twelfth, Bluff and Broad.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Taylor, 1008 Lamar, for block bounded by Tenth, Eleventh, Lamar and Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Richolt, 1108 Austin, for block bounded by Eleventh, Twelfth, Austin and Burnett.

On Monday or Tuesday night, definite announcement to be made later, parties will be held in block north of Ninth, for block bounded by Brook and Grant. In several instances, owing to irregularity of blocks, two or more blocks are combined, it being the idea that every resident in District "B" north of Ninth shall be a member of some block organization. The parties will be held as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Coffee, 1710 Seventh, for the 1700, 1800 and 1900 blocks between Sixth and Seventh, three blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hudson, 700 Van Buren, for 2000 block between Sixth and Eighth, two blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Gorsline, 2104 Eighth, for 2100 block between Sixth and Eighth, two blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cox, 2214 Eighth, for 2200 block between Seventh and Eighth.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Harper, 2304 Eighth, for 2300 block, between Seventh and Eighth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, 810

Denver, for 1900 blocks between Seventh and Ninth, two blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, 2412 Ninth, for 2400 block between Seventh and Ninth, two blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark, 2500 Ninth, for 2500 block between Eighth and Ninth.

For Thursday night, April 23, the following block parties are scheduled:

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Lyle, 1655 Lucile, for block bounded by Lucile, Collins, Alma and Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Mudd, 1516 Fifteenth, for block bounded by Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Grace and Holliday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gant, 1302 Broad, for block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Broad and Holliday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Erwin, 1400 Broad, for block bounded by Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Broad and Holliday.

PALMER DOES NOT ADMIRE THREAT TO LOCK UP STRIKERS

WASHINGTON, April 24—Attorney General Palmer today telegraphed District Attorney Wertz at Cleveland, calling for a complete explanation of reports that justice department officials there threatened to arrest railroad strikers who did not return to work.

Palmer indicated he will not back up such a policy. His telegram said in part: "Those who conspire with each other to upset transportation of necessities or of mail are guilty of a crime and are subject to prosecution. The law, however, does not compel an individual to work."

The inadequate salaries paid to these instructors is sending them into industrial activities.

In Nepal, an independent state bordering on northern India, the women do not cover the face with a veil. They freely move and share the burden of responsibilities of maintaining the family. They often wear a short skirt and bodice made of the cloth woven in their family looms. They also wear a "paryu," a long piece of cloth which is artistically draped over the body and gorgeously striped.

Their hair is parted in the middle and braided, sometimes being carried over the ears and decorated with flowers to look like a crown.

At least a dozen women took part in the discussions at the annual meeting of the British Association at Bournemouth some time ago, their papers covering a fascinating range of subjects. In 1915, it is interesting to recall, that a woman started the authorities at the Royal College of Science in Dublin by asking permission to attend the lectures. She was told that no woman had ever done so, but there was no law against it; she might come if she liked. This woman was Miss Stoford. She took the physics course with distinction and Dublin College was the first of the higher educational institutions to admit women to its lectures.

Will See Radical Reductions In Ladies Under Garments!

Mr. Davenport, the manager of the Ready-to-Wear department has gotten together as beautiful a line of under-garments as have ever been seen in the city. For the first three days of this week he has decided to place this fresh, new, merchandise on sale, at a straight reduction of 20%. This is indeed a rare occasion for the ladies of Wichita Falls, as such radical reductions are not usually offered so early in the season. The garments will be on display in the windows. - 1920—Candidate for Republican Presidential nomination.

Newspaper men around the Capitol at Washington will tell you there is not a more serious-minded man in politics than Hiram Warren Johnson. Reporters in California are likely to add that Johnson has been in earnest from the day the then obscure lawyer opened his office for general practice in Sacramento.

The Johnson two-fisted attitude has always made those who came in contact with him either supporters or opponents. A man of the fighting type, he is usually compared with Roosevelt. Yet those who expect him to relate amusing anecdotes from his life are usually disappointed. Although he has a keen sense of humor, he refrains from exhibiting the lighter side of life.

When he tells a joke only those who know him best and can catch the twinkle in his eye can tell he is not in earnest.

Johnson is always at work. That is, when he is not sitting behind his desk watching a ball game. Washington knows Johnson as the Senate's wildest fan. As soon as he leaves his office in the Senate Office Building, on warm days he usually heads for the Washington team's park, where, with coat and hat in his lap, he follows every play almost religiously.

In frame he is a giant. His appearance is that of a short-heavy man with a large, well-shaped head, a clear-cut nose, clear, blue eyes, and a straight mouth. When talking he emphasizes his remarks by gestures of his two big, clinched fists.

Johnson who has been conducting his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination by appealing direct to the people in preferential primary states, is 53 years old. He was born in Sacramento, Cal., where later he and a brother opened a law office. His youth was spent in the California capital. He attended the University of California but was never graduated.

In 1886 he was married to Miss Minnie L. McNeil of Sacramento. Admitted to the bar in 1887, Johnson was known as a fair lawyer, but not one whose business occupied all his time. Even after he moved to San Francisco in 1902, he still was an obscure attorney. It took the famous "boodling" cases—in which Abe Ruef and other city officials were charged with graft resulting from the rebuilding of San Francisco, following the earthquake and fire of 1906—to bring Johnson to public notice.

Associated with Francis J. Heney and William J. Burns in prosecuting Ruef, he at first took a minor part in the case. Later, however, when Heney was shot, Johnson went into court to take the place of the wounded prosecutor, and made such a masterly presentation of the state's case against Ruef that the former official was convicted and sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary.

Hiram Johnson was made. Later when a company of thinking men decided to form the Lincoln-Roosevelt League to fight bossism in California, they picked Johnson to head their ticket in the gubernatorial race. Taking advantage of the state's new direct primary laws, they appealed to the people. Dropping his now large law practice, Johnson bent to the task. Neither he nor any of his back-ers was wealthy, but all were honest. Winning the republican nomination in the direct primaries, Johnson began the first real hand-wagon campaign. He and his two sons composed the campaign party. One son drove an advance car from town to town, announcing that in two hours the candidate would appear in that town to ask the people's vote for governor. Then the announcer would drive to the next town. Johnson would appear as scheduled, his chauffeur being his other son.

"I am going to win this election," Johnson would say. "I am going to be governor. And my first act will be to kick the boss out of politics and to turn the government of this state back into the hands of the people."

Johnson's "little red automobile" became known in every hamlet in the state, from the Oregon line to the Mexican border. Large crowds eagerly awaited his appearance. At first ignored by the newspapers, his unique campaign so reached the people, that editors gradually began to scent the trend of public opinion. Johnson was fast becoming the most talked-of man in the state. His race attracted attention all over the United States, and near the end of his campaign his "little red automobile" became the head of a real tour.

Johnson's plurality was more than 20,000 votes. Once in the governor's chair at Sacramento, Johnson demonstrated he was greater as an executive than he even had been as an orator and a campaigner. His clean-up of politics in California began almost instantaneously. Within a few weeks after he was elected he had driven out of the state's pay every man who had had any connection whatsoever with the Southern Pacific railroad, whose machine had dominated the state for years.

Johnson was re-elected to a second term on his record as a fighting, progressive governor. His majority in 1914 was more than 200,000, 10 times the majority he had polled when he was first a candidate.

Shortly after his second inauguration he had his first encounter with the I. W. W., then just becoming a menace on the coast. A delegation of I. W. W.'s had persuaded the city government of Oakland to pay its way to Sacramento. Its leaders had expected to be able to get enough from Johnson to enable it to move on into the next state. But when the governor, who at first offered to give them the work they asked for and which they refused, saw their attitude, he ordered them out of town by night.

"I thought at first you were a lot of good-for-nothing bums!" Johnson told the leader. "At first I offered you work. I knew you wouldn't take it. Every one of you ought to be in jail or working the roads with chain gangs. Now I am going to give you men—the whole dirty crew of you—until 6:00 o'clock to get out of town. Now get out of my office."

By half past four, it is related, not one I. W. W. remained in Sacramento. In the second year of his second term he prevailed on to run for the senate. His majority over his democratic opponent was more than 300,000 votes.

GREECE IS GIVEN VALUED TERRITORY AROUND SMYRNA

San Remo Conference Decides to Allow Authority Over Hinterland

SAN REMO, April 23.—The sphere of Greek influence in the Smyrna district of Turkish Asia Minor, decided finally by the council of premiers today, gives Greece one of the most valuable concessions yet awarded any of the powers in the partition of Turkey.

The Greek concession extends more than 50 miles east and west of Smyrna and some 60 miles back into the hinterland.

Boundaries of the Greek zone are: Starting from a point north of the Gulf of Adria, opposite the north coast of the island of Mytilene running to the east including Hatesyasar, thence south crossing the railway midway between Cassaba Alsherier, near Saliki, which is excluded, thence westward following the watershed of the Little Great Meander, the latter excluded with the city of Aidin and finally reaching the sea near Scalinova which is outside the Greek zone.

The concession was considered a victory for Premier Venizelos.

While nominal sovereignty remains in Turkey, with the right to raise her flag on one of the forts in the outer port, Greece will exercise effective control, it was understood.

Greek authorities will administer the city of Smyrna and occupy the country. She cannot however impose military service as long as the present statute is in force.

Local government will be elected by universal suffrage with proportional representation. Greece must submit an electoral law within six months after ratification of the Turkish peace treaty. Elections will be held six months after the League of Nations has approved the law.

Clashes for protecting Turkish minorities are included in the Smyrna statute. The port is opened to subjects of all countries belonging to the League of Nations. The statute however can be changed at request of the district parliament two years after convocation. In the sense the parliament can ask annexation to Greece, but not to Turkey.

The supreme council will regulate economic relations between Turkey and the Greek zone.

Completion of the Smyrna decision was practically the only important work done by the council so far during the present session. In view of the slow progress of deliberations it was delivered the sessions may continue through Monday.

GAS REPORTED IN MUNSTER WELL AT 2342-FOOT DEPTH

NOCONA, TEX., April 24.—Gas is reported in the Munster well at 2,342 feet. The extent of the strike will not be fully known until the water can be cased off. This is an important find and is attracting considerable attention.

Blair, Montgomery and associates of Wichita Falls have a substantial guarantee in one of the St. Jo banks that drilling will be started on or before June 1 on a test well near Coppertown, east of St. Jo, the block of leases being in both Monague and Cooke counties.

The Warner Oil company test on the Pleading Secret survey, about 10 miles north of St. Jo, is drilling past the broken stem around 3,200 feet.

The Illinois Bend test, which is being drilled by the American Oil and Refining company of Oklahoma City, is working at about 400 feet. This is to be a deep test if necessary.

Information from the Oklahoma side is to the effect that southwestern Love county is to get a good testing out, and that one or more tests are being planned for in southeastern Jefferson county.

Locations for two or three tests out north of Nocona will soon be announced, though some delay has been met in securing necessary acreage. It might be said here that plans are being made for other locations in the county, and that out of these, some good strikes are anticipated.

GREEN AND WAGGONER MUNGER 1 WILL BE BAILED TODAY

Bailing will begin today on the Green and Waggoner No. 1 Munger, in lot 34, block 25, the first test to reach the sand after the recent sensations in the Kemp Munger Allen field. This test, which is expected to prove a considerable extension to the south, reached the sand at 1767 feet, and drilled six inches into the sand. The casing has been set successfully, without cementing.

To the north, in lot 20, the test started by Green and Waggoner and owned by J. A. Jones, Jr., of Dallas, reached the oil sand at 1737 feet on Thursday, and also has the casing set, preparing to bail. These two tests make the west side of the field very interesting at this time.

K. M. A. MUNGER 4 EXPECTS TO HAVE OIL SAND TODAY

The Kemp Munger Allen Oil Co.'s No. 4 Munger is expected to have the oil sand today, the test being coring down on Saturday, at 1739 feet. The utmost care has been exercised with this test, which has been standardized, and which for the last twenty-five feet has been laboriously coring to prevent any mis-step which would lead to the water troubles, which other wells have encountered.

The Kemp Munger Allen No. 4 is an offset to the Keen-Wolf well, which has the standard rig up preparatory to drilling in the sand. The well made around 400 barrels when drilled about fifteen inches into the sand. It continued flowing while the standard was being rigged up.

On the Kemp Munger-Allen No. 2, casing was being pulled Saturday, the last time we hope, officers of the company state, preparatory to setting the special packer to shut off the water, and also raising the casing through the sand which had been cut off by the casing before. What success this effort will have will be known early in the week.

On the west side of the lease, a short distance south of the No. 4, is nearing 1700 feet. This test will be standardized at the same depth as the No. 4 and the same procedure followed.

GULF PRODUCTION CO. GETS GOOD WELL SOUTH OF ELECTRA

The Gulf Production Company has the latest wildcat to turn producer in their No. 1 Melton, seven miles south of Electra, and in the Beaver Creek district, a 160-barrel well at 1430 feet. This well is two and one-half miles from the closest production and is one of the most important developments in the Electra district for some time.

C. N. HASKELL BUYS T. O. SHOPPELL LEASE FOR $1,100,000

Sale of the 68-acre T. O. Shoppell lease on the Hamilton, South Burk Burnett district, to C. N. Haskell, former governor of Oklahoma, and his New York associates, for a consideration of $1,100,000 was announced Saturday by E. B. Irwin, through whom the transaction was consummated. The property in question has seven producing wells, with a production of around 700 barrels per day, it is stated.

NEW WELLS MADE IMPORTANT EXTENSIONS OF WAGGONER POOL DURING PAST WEEK

The comeback staged by the Waggoner pool, in the western extension, which has called attention to the public interested in oil that the halcyon days of the Waggoner, and the big production is not entirely over yet, has several features this past week, or better, and are flowing. Extensions, all the way from 500 feet to a quarter of a mile. Production in Block 819, which had been confined to the Emerick and Danciger wells, on the south side, which had reached much abandoned territory, is extended up over 1,000 feet by three wells, the Smiley, in lot 5 McConnell subdivision, the Jupiter in lot 7, same subdivision and the Prescott Peoria in lot 8, same subdivision. All three are reported as thousand barrel wells, or better, and are flowing.

Another important development is the striking of the sand in the Hull-Tex Oil Company's No. 1 Michna, in lot 3, block 2 of the Tidwell subdivision, on the west side of the Michna tract. This practically assures another 1,500 foot extension. In lot 1 of this block the Danciger and Hull-Tex test, close to the Southern States abandoned hole has a sand and is about completed standardizing, and will be ready for completion in a short time. This is one of the most interesting tests in the entire reclamation area.

North of these new wells, and west of the production on the Evans tract, where the Mo-Tex has had several completions recently, the Sibley Taylor Oil Company No. 3 commenced working on their lease in Block 24, and has succeeded in shutting off the salt water in the No. 3 and are getting some oil from it. The hole is still in bad condition, representatives of the company state and the well will only be a small producer. A fourth hole is to be put down immediately.

The fourth completion in the Waggoner of sensational interest this week is the Congressional Oil Company's No. 1 John Siber, the first production in Block 69, and better than a quarter of a mile extension to the south, from the Texas Company's C. Birk lease. This well upset some more hope, for all this territory had been practically considered condemned. The well came in flowing at the rate of 100 barrels an hour. There is much drilling now in progress in this block, which has been overlooked in the earlier developments, because of the unfavorable aspect the entire section had. The Texas Company has made two locations on the south part of its C. Birk lease, and there are several new locations and drilling under way.

The Uncle Joe Oil Company and Danciger and Emerick, drilling on the lease where the Uncle Joe abandoned a hole as dry, months ago, has just completed their well, practically off setting the Emerick and Danciger No. 7, Michna. This well is estimated good for 1,000 barrels.

The Mo-Tax Pipeline and Refinery companies, which have brought in several wells already in the north part of Block 819, in territory where production was a surprise, it is stated, in the Michna leases, has three completions in this 819 lease this past week. The pipeline company has two of these wells, both good ones and the refinery completed a "gusher" they report.

In the Clara District in few weeks are expected to bring in interesting developments, the United Chief, Clara Burk, Bowers and Burk

Key tests all promising action of importance shortly. The Clara Burk and the United Chief may be looked for to supply the next sensation, the former now preparing to set casing to test the 1800 foot sand, in Block 828, while the latter is in the same block with the Burk Cameron, now producing better than 100 barrels though not finally completed, and is testing a 2,100 foot sand, having gone through the 1800 foot sand, before the Burk Cameron reached this sand, and showed it to be productive. Green and Waggoner, the Burk Cameron and the United Chief have all started new test operations in the Burk Cameron No. 1.

To the east, on the Peter Ramming farm, and close to the McCallister and Brown, Ilex and Langford, Staley and Chensault wells, the two latter recent completions, there are also several new rigs running, with forecasts for much more activity all the way from the Ramming farm, directly north of Clara to the new producer in Block 823.

A drilling summary, including the Clara district activities, and the western part of the Waggoner, where the bulk of operations in this section is centered, follows:

INTERESTING TEST IN JEFFERSON COUNTY, OKLA.

An interesting test is to be made by the Commercial Oil & Gas Company on a structure along Red River in Jefferson County, Okla., located and surveyed by C. H. Wegmann, U. S. geologist. Wegmann's report mentions the anticlinal axis in section 18, township 58, range 59, and it is here that the Commercial has made its location. The high opinion expressed in the geological report causes this test to be of interest, and it will be watched to see if geology will score another victory.

Machinery is being moved on the location for a 2,500 foot test. The structure is between the Walters, Okla., and Petrolia, Texas, oil and gas fields and between the Burk Burnett and Healdton and Hewitt fields.

The Commercial Oil & Gas Company office is in Room 1, McClurkin Building, E. Dixon is president, A. L. Wilkinson, vice president and R. H. Mann, secretary and treasurer. The company has a lease on 160 acres.

One of the Greene and Waggoner tests, in the same block is reported down 600 feet, and the Bowers Oil Company, also in block 823 is reported drilling around 1600 feet. The United Chief No. 2, south of the Burk Cameron, is reported drilling around 200 feet.

Marriage Without a Courtship

When a New Guinea woman falls in love with a man she sends a piece of love to his sister, or, if he has no sister, to his mother or another of his lady relatives. Then the lady who receives the string tells the favored man that the particular woman is in love with him. No courting follows, however, for it is considered beneath a New Guinea man's dignity to waste time in such a pursuit. If the man thinks he would like to wed the lady, he meets her alone, and they decide whether to marry or drop the idea.

OPEN SHOP THE ONLY SOLUTION OF LABOR TROUBLES

How the Chamber of Commerce and the Employers Tried Every Honorable Means to Bring Industrial Peace By Conciliatory Methods

The decision to form an Open Shop Association in Wichita Falls was not reached hastily, nor in haphazard fashion; it came only after every reasonable effort to compose local labor troubles had been made by representatives of builders and of the Chamber of Commerce, and had failed.

The committee went to work in the belief that conciliatory and conservative measures could bring about harmonious labor conditions here, and that the better elements in the labor union ranks should have every opportunity to compose the differences that had arisen.

The matter was first brought before the Chamber of Commerce directors by a group of master plumbers, who reported that on a Friday morning, the journeymen plumbers had presented a demand for a raise from $12 to $15 per day to become effective the following Monday morning, allowing only three days for the master plumbers to consider the matter. The master plumbers asked the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for an expression on this demand; the directors believing a wage of $15 per day to be out of all proportion to the work done, indorsed the action of the master plumbers in refusing the raise, and pledged their influence to prevent other employers from paying it.

The question of wages was not the only issue in the plumbers' controversy. It was shown that employing contractors had no voice in the hiring and discharging of journeymen, that they must accept such men as were sent to them by the business agent, or "walking delegate" regardless of the efficiency of such men, and that to discharge an incompetent man was next to impossible. The charge was made that the time required for a given amount of work had increased at least two-fold within a year, also that certain plumbers had been severely disciplined by the union for "speeding"—that is, for working too hard. These charges were denied by members of the union, who said that there had been no agreement or instructions limiting the amount of work to be done, and that the union "had never deliberately fined anyone for speeding."

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution indorsing the stand of the master plumbers for the right to hire and discharge their employes. The attitude of the master plumbers was also indorsed at a meeting of the Business Council; union labor representatives on the council did not oppose this indorsement, though they were present when it was voted.

At that stage of the controversy a wage advance for the bricklayers, from $12 to $14 per day, went into effect. It was claimed by the bricklayers that this advance became effective only after giving the 60 days notice which is customary in most unions.

In an effort to compose the situation arising from the plumbers' strike, J. A. Kemp, as a citizen, called a mass meeting, out of which grew a joint conference comprising builders, owners and contractors on one side, and representatives of the building trades union on the other. This conference elected W. N. Maer as chairman, and at a meeting at the Labor Temple, recommended a daily wage of $13 for the plumbers, as a compromise measure. The carpenters and some others favored this plan.

A meeting of the plumbers union was held, and W. N. Maer and E. Stanley Field went to the Labor Temple to present the recommendation of the joint conference. Messrs. Maer and Stanley waited on the steps of the building for more than an hour, expecting to have an opportunity to be heard, but the union adjourned without calling them in. They then asked for at least the courtesy of a hearing, and some members of the union returned to the meeting hall, listened to their proposition, and said that the plumbers would not accept it. Later, as will be shown in this advertisement, a more favorable attitude toward the $13-a-day offer was indicated.

Having failed to bring a solution of the plumbers' strike any nearer, the Chamber of Commerce directors sought to adjust matters by appealing to the other crafts. At a meeting of the directors, at which were present a number of builders, owners and contractors, a committee headed by T. B. Noble was named to go to the other building trades unions and ask if they would work with non-union plumbers.

This procedure was necessary because of the well known disposition among union men to refuse to work upon any building where any non-union man has worked, or is working.

The meeting of the directors was held April 8, and the committee was instructed to report April 10. As this gave insufficient time for the unions to consider the matter, the committee extended the time to April 14. On that date the committee met and received reports of several of the unions. Shortly afterward, the directors met, received the committee's report, and upon motion of Frank Kell extended until April 16, the time for receiving the answers of the unions.

On April 16, the directors met again, with the builders, owners and contractors, and upon learning that all but one or two of the unions were determined to support the demands of the plumbers and to refuse to work with non-union plumbers, undertook the organization of the Open Shop Association.

No middle-ground was possible. Only two courses were open: to submit to the plumbers and to the unions that sided with them, or to declare independence of union labor as a whole. The meeting took the American course.

At a committee meeting on April 14, reports were received from certain of the unions, as follows:

Carpenters—That they refused to support the plumbers in their illegal strike.

Sheet Metal Workers—That they would not work on any job with any man who has not a union card.

Painters—That they would not sustain the plumbers.

Laborers—That they would abide by the decision of a majority of the crafts.

Colored Hod Carriers—That they would not work with non-union plumbers.

The Plasterers, Electricians and Bricklayers did not report at the April 14 meeting.

At the April 16 meeting, no report came from the bricklayers but the Electricians and Plasterers declared their unwillingness to "work with scab plumbers" as they expressed it.

The Attitude of Union Labor As Shown by Verbatim Report of Meeting of Committee At Which Their Answers Were Received

Proceedings of the Committee Representing the Chamber of Commerce, and the Builders, Owners and Contractors on Labor Controversy

At: Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Wednesday morning, April 14, at 9 o'clock.

T. B. Noble, Chairman.

Members of the committee present: J. C. Myttinger and R. O. Harvey.

Members of the committee absent:

John Taylor, out of the city; W. S. Curlee, attending city council meeting.

Hubert M. Harrison, secretary.

Labor Representatives before the committee:

Jack Praether, American Federation of Labor.

J. C. McNeely and Mr. Goode, carpenters.

Taylor and Perrott, painters.

Hallburton, sheet metal workers.

Lee Dolton, plasterers.

Stuart, white laborers.

G. Garcia, Mexican common laborers.

Mr. Noble called the meeting to order and asked the Secretary to state the subject of the meeting. The Secretary stated that this committee was appointed by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and a large body of representative building owners and contractors to meet with representatives of labor crafts other than plumbers and ask them if they would agree to work on jobs with plumbers whether or not they were affiliated with the union if that should become necessary. The Secretary also stated that the original charge to the committee was to report back to the general body Saturday morning, April 10th, but that at the request of certain labor representatives they had extended the time until Wednesday morning in order to give their locals an opportunity to meet.

Chairman: Well, gentlemen, what have you to say?

Jack Praether: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—This is a rather serious question you have put to us. We have international laws in Organized Labor and when one craft disobeys those laws we have the right to reprimand them. We believe we are in a position this morning to reprimand the plumbers, because their action on going out on strike without giving due notice of a demand for an increase from $12.00 to $15.00 per day is illegal, but we don't know what assurance we may have from you that if we do this that the open shop movement in Wichita Falls will be stopped. We believe that the Open Shop will hurt you more than it will us. I would like to ask you, gentlemen, if you would be in a position to compromise the plumbers strike and put the plumbers back to work at $13.00 per day, pending the operation and action of a wage scale and labor board as proposed by another committee?

Chairman: No, Sir, absolutely not.

Praether: What is your objection?

Chairman: I will answer you in about four words. The plumbers are not efficient and they are not worth what they ask.

Praether: I feel a keen interest in the welfare of this city and I am not imported here to work on this matter. I am a citizen here.

Chairman: Mr. Praether, the people of Wichita Falls feel they are in the hands of labor leaders and that we are not living in a free country. They are unequivocally opposed to paying the plumbers more than the present scale of $12.00 per day and they believe that master plumbers should have the right to hire and fire their men and not have to go to a labor union and ask whom they can hire. I have lived in Wichita Falls a long time and am acquainted with a number of laboring men. The majority of laboring men are good men but we have gone wild in Wichita Falls. We are paying more for labor than in any city in Texas. It is operating as a differential against us in building, and we cannot stand it.

Hallburton: Mr. Chairman, the sheet metal workers absolutely will not work on any job with any man who has not a Union card.

Chairman: Then this meeting is at an end. Years ago when laboring men organized, they had a reason to organize. Capital had labor under its heel, but now Labor has gone to the other extreme and it is not now a fight between capital and labor. It is the fight of all the people.

McNeely: Mr. Chairman, you have stated that this meeting is at an end. I came here with a report from my local. If it is welcome I would like to give it.

Chairman: Certainly. We will be very glad to have it, Mr. McNeely.

McNeely: Some remarks have been made here this morning about labor leaders. I want to say that if the general public knew the facts labor leaders have in their own ranks, they might not call them leaders. They are more often driven than leaders. We have some radicals. You cannot pick Sunday school superintendents when you go out on a job on a building. You have to work with the men as they come. We have about as many radicals as is usually found in any group throughout the country. But we have an international law in the Carpenter's Union. Our Local has adopted that law and it is now our law. Our law is open to the public. The Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has a copy of our constitution and by-laws. We are willing for any one to read it. Mr. Chairman, the carpenters vote to live up to the instructions issued by their international officers. We refuse to come off a job if non-union plumbers come on. We refuse to support the plumbers in their illegal strike. We are not setting a precedent for the future, but just for this particular strike. If the plumbers should get right, we would support them. They are now wrong. I am not a man who is with the bunch, right or wrong. I am with them when they are right. The plumbers have ignored me and my organization. Now they want us to support them. We refuse.

Chairman: Mr. McNeely is exactly right and the carpenters have always been a pretty sane craft.

Lee Dolton: The plasterers voted to leave the matter up to the general laws. We have wired our international officers and have had no reply. Personally, I think the plumbers are wrong, but I think you, Mr. Chairman, are taking a wrong position when you dismiss this meeting because the sheet metal workers say they will support the plumbers.

Chairman: Well, gentlemen, I will leave it to the meeting. What else can we do except adjourn in the light of the statement from the sheet metal workers.

Hallburton: We are not the only craft who will quit the job when a rat plumber goes to work. You men have more respect for me for saying this frankly than you have for a man who tells you he will work with a scab.

Chairman: No, sir. You have me wrong. You are absolutely mistaken. The plumber's strike is illegal strike and I respect the man who obeys the law.

Hallburton: Well, we obey the law.

Chairman: Then you are getting yourself into a mighty close question that I won't attempt to ravel out for you.

Perrott: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—Society is divided into classes. There are the parsons, the professional men, like the doctors, the commercial men, who are in business, and if you will permit me to say it, the producers. If a doctor raises his price when there is sickness in your home, there is no hullabaloo. The whole party is making a fight on the man in overalls and I think their position is wrong.

Chairman: You do not report the action of your craft on this question.

Praether: I came here representing the American Federation of Labor. These gentlemen will report for the painters.

Taylor: I represent the painters. The painter's local voted they would not sustain the plumbers.

Chairman: Will you work on jobs with non-union plumbers?

Taylor: That matter was not brought up.

Chorus from the laboring men: That is what it means.

Taylor: I can make that a little clearer. I will state that the Local Union will not penalize painters for working with non-union plumbers.

Stuart: The white laborers voted to abide by the decision of the majority of the crafts.

Chairman: What do the colored hod carriers report?

Spriggs: "Brothers, the hod carriers won't work with non-union plumbers."

Chairman: Sit down! Who's next.

Garcia: We join with the white laborers and will abide by the decision of the majority of the crafts.

Chairman: Is there a representative of the electricians present?

McKeene: I am an electrician, but have not the authority to speak for the local. Our local has not met. We have no answer to make as yet.

Chairman: Are the brick layers represented.

Secretary: Mr. Chairman, I was informed last night, unofficially that the brick layers had taken the same action as the carpenters and that they would not sustain the plumbers but would work with non-union plumbers.

Dolton: Mr. Chairman, before this meeting is dismissed, I would like to request you to make a recommendation to your general body to have an arbitration committee appointed so we can know with whom we are dealing on all matters of this kind.

Praether: Mr. Chairman, our city is making an effort to get the international officials of the locals effected to help in the situation. I believe that if we will sit steady we will get results.

Chairman: What can we do when the sheet metal workers refuse to work with non-union plumbers.

Praether: We want to get their internationals to step in.

Chairman: Let me get this clear in my own mind. Will the international officials of the sheet metal workers say to them that they must do something that their local craft has said for them not to do and if the international should order them, would they abide by it.

Hallburton: I can answer that question. We know just where we stand. There are not enough sheet metal workers to take care of the work there is to be done. If our international wants to give us trouble they can take our charter but if they do take our charter, we will still stand on our decision here.

Chairman: You are making a dangerous statement, sir.

Hallburton: That is what I mean. I make that statement.

Chairman: Gentlemen, the meeting is adjourned.

MRS. E. L. FULTON GIVES STUDENTS' RECITAL TUESDAY

The students' recital given by Mrs. E. L. Fulton Tuesday evening at the Kemp library proved a treat indeed. Mrs. Fulton is a well known expression teacher and an artist of her calling reputation both by her charming personality and by her splendid work, which is characterized by thorough training in all lines of her profession, and artistic manner of handling and developing her material. The keynote of the Tuesday evening program was originally several readings were original, composed by Mrs. Fulton and one reading in particular being written entirely by her mother. The pupils showed a greater finish than usually displayed in student recitals denoting a grasp of the fundamental principles of expression and a desire on the part of the students to get the deepest work of a deep subject.

Amusement Calendar for Coming Week

MOTION PICTURES

NEW M. JESTIC PROGRAM AT WICHITA MONDAY NIGHT
A complete change of program will open at the Wichita Theatre Monday night in the Majestic (Keith-Orpheum-Interstate-Orpheum) circuit. There will be five good acts, it being impossible to announce them at this time as the advance billings have not arrived. Madam Schumann-Heink will appear at the Wichita Theatre on May the 5th.

EMPRESS CALENDAR

Wednesday—"Wanted, a Husband." Billie Burke, "Fanny" and Broadway Stars, Fanny Arbuckle.
Thursday—"Dangerous Hours." P. A. Special, "Gay Wail," Sennett comedy.
Friday and Saturday—"Toll Gate." William S. Hart.

MAJESTIC CALENDAR
Monday—Lillian Gish and Roszika Dolly in "Tiger Girl."
Tuesday—Olive Thomas in "Youthful Folly."
Wednesday and Thursday—William Farnum in "The Adventurer."
Friday and Saturday—Constance Talmadge in "Two Weeks."

THE TIGER GIRL AT THE MAJESTIC MONDAY
Lillian Gish, who will be seen in "Tiger Girl," the Talmadge production supervised by D. W. Griffith and adapted from "The Lily and the Rose," by Granville Van Hook, which will open at the Majestic Theatre Monday is the little star who will live in the hearts of movie fans forever by her clever interpretation of the tragic role.

Miss Gish was born in Springfield, Ohio, October 14, 1893. She first made her debut when only six years old in "The Little Red Schoolhouse." She then became a pupil in a Springfield dancing school, and her next engagement was as one of the fairy dancers with Sarah Bernhardt, then making one of her American tours. After two seasons with Miss Bernhardt she came to New York to finish her dancing lessons.

There Lillian renewed the acquaintance of Mary Pickford, whom she had met while on the "Lustige" stage. While visiting the studio she was engaged by D. W. Griffith, who was attracted by her natural poise and power of expression. This was about six years ago. Such rapid strides did Miss Gish make in her new field of endeavor that she soon gained fame as one of the greatest emotional actresses of the silent drama.

What makes "Tiger Girl" stand far above the usual run of pictures besides its notable cast and still more notable directors is the unusual story. We are a bit of the virtuous, confident, triumphant in the usual way. We still want virtue to triumph, but we don't want it to have an easy victory. In "Tiger Girl," the wife, portrayed by Lillian Gish, loses in her battle to hold her husband's love. The song of the siren is too sweet for the husband to resist. What is more, there is nothing which the wife attempts, and she tries everything her little brain can think of to win her husband back, that succeeds.

The ending is unusual. We will not tell you, but rest assured that it was done by a master hand. The direction is perfect and Miss Gish scores heavily.

"TERROR ISLAND" AT EMPRESS FOR TWO DAYS

On Monday and Tuesday of this week the Empress will show two feature pictures of exceptional interest. One is "Terror Island," a Paramount Artcraft melodrama starring Houdini and the other is the official picture of the exploits of the German submarine U-35. The latter shows pictures of the sinking of fifteen allied ships. The pictures were taken from the bridge of the submarine. In "Terror Island," a well developed story has been written around Houdini's feats by Arthur H. Reeve and John W. Gray. It presents Houdini as the inventor of a secret submarine device with which he hopes to salvage the cargoes of wrecked ships. However, through his meeting with a girl whose father is held captive on a South Sea island, Houdini is forced to put his invention to work sooner than he anticipated. Clashes with the native islanders in which Houdini makes all sorts of unbelievable escapes while under water, from reefs and packing boxes; a fight with a diver on the ocean bottom, as well as several feats of magic that mystify the audience as much as they do the South Sea natives on the screen are only part of the program of thrills.

Lila Lee is the leading woman and the picture was directed by James Cruze.

Screen Siftings

Two water polo teams from the Los Angeles Athletic club appear with Antonio Moreno in a spirited contest in scenes for his next Vitagraph serial, as yet unnamed. The scenes were taken in a large tank at the studio with the star playing one of the positions. Mr. Moreno, who lives at the club, is an exponent of the sport, so he had no difficulty in making the scenes realistic when the script called for the game.

David Smith, the Vitagraph director, who recently completed that company's special production by James Oliver Curwood, "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," has gone to Portland, Ore., to select locations for the next Curwood feature to be filmed by Vitagraph.

Tom Terriss, who is directing "The Girl Out of the Sky" at Vitagraph's west coast studio, proved he was an aviator recently by flying to his location at Palm Springs with Wallace MacDonald, his leading man, as a passenger. He also proved he was an amateur aviator by landing in the middle of the desert for lack of gasoline. Passing tourists brought the pair to Palm Springs, where the necessary fuel was obtained and sent out to the stranded plane. The flight was then resumed. The machine is being used in the production which Mr. Terriss is directing, an adaptation of a Gouverneur Morris story, Marguerite de la Motte has the leading feminine role.

Corinne Griffith, Vitagraph star, has gone to Savannah, Ga., with a large company to make exteriors for a new picture.

Charles Riesner, well known director of comedies, has been obtained to direct Earl Montgomery, the Vitagraph comedian, and is now working on the first production of this professional funster. The latter was until recently a member of the Vitagraph comedy team of Montgomery and Rock. Rock is also appearing as an individual comedy star.

A little pupil of Pavlova danced so well at 14 that she danced herself into motion pictures and now, at 17, is on her way to stardom. This is Marguerite de la Motte, who has attained her greatest part in the leading role of "The Girl Out of the Sky," the first big special production of Vitagraph being directed by Tom Terriss on the west coast. The story is taken from a widely read novel, "Trumpet Island," by Gouverneur Morris.

Joe Ryan again dons the cowboy attire in which he won his first success in pictures for scenes in the second episode of "Hidden Dangers," the new Vitagraph serial in which he is costarred with Jean Paton. The cowboy costume is a decided change from that worn in the first episode, in which he appears as a wealthy retired physician.

Pauline Curley scored such a success as leading woman for Antonio Moreno in his latest serial, "The Invisible Land," that Vitagraph has selected her to continue with that star in his next production.

Alice Joyce's special production to follow "The Sporting Duchess" will be released by Vitagraph in May. It is called "Dollars and the Woman," and while in many scenes Miss Joyce wears costumes fully as magnificent as those she wore as "the sporting duchess," she also appears in another part of the picture with clothes reflecting her reduced circumstances in life.

Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, made a special trip from Brooklyn to Los Angeles to personally supervise the filming of "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," the James Oliver Curwood novel which is being made into a special production. While the film has been completed and shipped east, Mr. Smith will remain on the coast for a few weeks longer.

Edith Johnson, leading woman for William Duncan, the serial king, has just signed a contract to appear with him in the six serials he is to make under his new Vitagraph contract. The first of these, rightfully called "The million dollar serial," is "The Silent Avenger," more than half of which has already been completed.

Every since he was a schoolboy—and it wasn't so many years ago—Larry Semon has wanted to make a comedy in which school children are shown at the opening, and then later in the play shown as adults. He has finally been able to do this. It's the theme of his newest comedy, the one to follow "The Fly Cop." Larry gets his comedy out of what surprising characters the children later turned out to be.

$300,000 SCHOOL BOND ISSUE CARRIED A VOTE OF 162-1

By a vote of 162 to 1, the Wichita Independent School District Saturday voted a bond issue of $300,000 for new buildings and grounds and extensions and improvements of present buildings. A total of 164 votes were polled. Of these 162 were for the bonds, one against and one ballot was mutilated.

It had been hoped to have a larger vote, but practical unanimity of the voters in favor of the bond issue was very pleasing to members of the school board. Negro citizens displayed a great deal of interest in the election and a fairly large percentage of the votes were polled by negroes. Negro school children Saturday paraded the negro residential section carrying banners urging votes for the bonds. A portion of the bond money is to be expended in providing better and larger facilities for the negro schools.

PRIZES OF $500 ARE OFFERED FOR BEST PAPERS ON TOPIC OF "WHAT THE CITY NEEDS MOST."

With the three-fold purpose of stimulating interest in the problems facing the city government, among the civic organizations of the city, of securing suggestions from these organizations as to the ways of dealing with these problems, and of bringing about a study of the powers and limitations of the city government in meeting these problems, in order that the suggestions may be directed in a practicable way, Mayor Walter D. Cline has announced a list of prizes aggregating $500 to be paid into the treasury of the civic organization advancing the four best suggestions as to what the city needs most, together with accompanying explanations of why it needs it, and how it is to be obtained under the present city charter.

The manuscripts to be considered in the contest must be of not more than 500 words, not more than 200 words being devoted to any one of the three best suggestions. Manuscripts must be filed with the city clerk not later than May 15. George E. Keasler, famous city planning expert, who will be in Wichita Falls about the time of the close of the contest, will be asked by Mayor Cline to act as chairman of the committee of judges—the others to be named later.

"That is about all of the conditions save a single remaining proviso—and this is the biggest of them all—five members of the competing organization must sign a certificate attached to the manuscript entered to the effect that they have read the new city charter in its entirety.

"There are a number of things which I have taken into consideration in making this offer to the organizations eligible to compete," said Mr. Cline in commenting on this offer.

"First is the idea that the city administration is going to have to spend some of the city money in getting expert advice on how to meet some of the problems which we are facing. And I conceived the idea that it would be a very good move to try to get some of this advice from the home-folks before going away for it.

"A second and more important one arises from the thought that the council will get a lot of suggestions from these civic organizations—and should have, for it is the people's government—and that this contest will produce a number of fine suggestions which are the product of the mature deliberation and discussion of a number of people.

"The proviso for a certificate from five members of the organization submitting a suggestion to the effect that they have read the charter in its entirety is put in order that the powers and limitations of the city government should be thoroughly understood by the organization making the suggestion, in order that no suggestions would be impracticable under the provision of our charter. In this connection, I will say that there will be a number of extra copies of the city charter at the office of the city clerk and the Chamber of Commerce.

"An important fact to be borne in mind in this connection is that the city, due to the demands imposed by its rapid growth, is practically without funds, and that any important public improvement project will have to be financed through a bond issue.

"This fact should be borne in mind, although it is of comparatively small importance here due to the fact that the bonded indebtedness of Wichita Falls is now practically negligible, being only $300,000 on assessed valuations of about thirty millions.

"The list of organizations named to compete in this contest include: Civic League, Welfare Council, the clergymen of the city, acting collectively; the bar association, medical association, High School Boys Club, Relief Merchants Association; Promoters and Refiners Association, business council of the Chamber of Commerce, Central Trades and Labor Council, Rotary Club and Wichita Club.

"In drawing up this list I have tried to bear in mind that these suggestions should not be limited to any particular body or class of people, and that the ones selected be chosen so as to cover as nearly as possible, either directly or indirectly, every organization in the city," said Mayor Cline.

"For instance, in naming the High School Boys Club, I did so with the view that they would consult with the Parent-Teacher Association and the board of school trustees, and, while working out the ideas in their own way, would also represent the views of these school organizations.

"Another idea is that the organizations selected would, in the particular points which would naturally interest them, have a say about Orgatone, which is a different phase of the city's activity—for instance the medical association would probably be interested primarily in the sanitation problems of the city, while another group would be interested in another direction.

"The more I have thought about this matter, the more I have liked it, and I expect it to result in a number of creative suggestions which the council will be able to take and work out along with the comprehensive program for meeting the various needs of the city on which the members of the council are now working in their various departments."

Wichita Architect Feels Like New Man

Edwin Alfred Schroeder, a well known Wichita Falls architect, whose address is 502 K. & K. Building, called at Young's Drug Store a few days ago, and had this to say about Orgatone.

"There is bound to be something unusual about Orgatone Treatment to do what it has for me. Why, since I started taking it about two weeks ago, I have gotten rid of a case of stomach trouble and indigestion that made life miserable for me for the past five years. My appetite went back on me and my stomach got in such a bad fix I could not eat anything but what it would sour and bloat me up until I could hardly get my breath. My heart bothered me from this gaseous condition and I would often be very dizzy. I was seldom free from headaches and often got so dizzy I had to hold to something to keep from falling. I was feeling bad all the time and was constantly taking something for this condition, but kept getting worse until I just had to give up and stop trying to do myself any good.

"Well, from what I had heard about Orgatone Treatment, I thought it must be good, but I had no idea it was so fine until I tried it myself. I had taken but my first bottle when I began to straighten right up. I am feeling better right now than I have in years, and I can't say but I haven't an ache or pain of any kind. My appetite was never better and although I eat just anything I want I never have a sign of indigestion afterwards. I am on the go from early morning to late at night and I am feeling so strong and well that I am willing to recommend Orgatone to anyone and am doing so every day. Orgatone is a great treatment, there is no getting around that fact.

"Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young and the Miller Drug stores exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

ODD FELLOWS TO OBSERVE ORDERS 101ST ANNIVERSARY

The Odd Fellows will not meet in regular session at the hall tomorrow night, but it will be given over for a general social and good time for all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families, and the occasion will mark the 101st birthday of Odd Fellowship in the U. S.

All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are expected to meet at the hall this morning at 10:15 and march in a body to the First Baptist church, where the Rev. O. L. Powers will deliver the regular annual memorial sermon, and a full attendance is much desired.

All Odd Fellows are expected to attend funeral of Brother B. F. Crawford's son who died yesterday and will be buried today at 3:00 p. m. The place of meeting and the hour will be announced at the hall this morning. Brother Crawford is practically a charter member of this lodge, coming into it within a few weeks after it was organized almost 30 years ago, and there is only one member now belonging whose membership is older than his.

JUSTICE GWINN OPENS VOL. 19 CRIMINAL RECORDS

Another volume has been added to the court records of Wichita county—volume 19, Justice court proceedings. A new criminal docket bearing the number 19, has replaced the old record book which has been moved to its place in the county's grim library of criminal proceedings. Justice R. V. Gwinn late Saturday filed a felony case upon the last page of volume 18, and the old book bursting with its crime-strained pages was pushed aside.

There was a time in the history of Wichita county, many years ago perhaps, when a 600-page record-book would record for a year or more the county's deeds of crime but recent months have brought about great changes and today criminal cases are being filed so rapidly that several volumes are required each year. A glance at the records of Justice court here gives a splendid index to crime in this county. Vagrancy is winner in the total number of cases filed, leading its nearest opponent, gambling, by fully 100 cases, during the past six months. The third most common crime is petty theft and then comes swindling, embezzlement and forgery.

Death ended at Fort Leavenworth the other day the life of a man who, only a few years ago, was one of the most promising physicians of his part of Texas.

BAILEY'S ATTITUDE ON LIBERTY BONDS. (Dallas News.) WHY?

IS A HORSESHOE SUPPOSED TO BE LUCKY?

From time immemorial, the new moon has been considered to bear good fortune, and from the moon itself, this belief gradually spread until it included articles which were crescent-shaped.

These two beliefs date back to the early history of the Egyptians, the Phoenicians, and the other nations in the vicinity of the Mediterranean. Gradually they spread until they reached the British Isles, where, even in the only tales of mythology, the horseshoe is regarded as a beast of good omen—probably for the same reason that iron was favored, because of its service to mankind.

Tom Nolan Says, "It Did the Work"

After I had gotten so much relief by taking Oratone, I began telling my friends and acquaintances about it and have been surprised at the number of them that tell me they have also been benefited by using it," said Tom Nolan of 117 Hemphill Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, recently. Mr. Nolan is a well known employee of the Fort Worth and Denver railway and has been employed at this work for the past eight years. "I was in a bad fix from stomach and nervous indigestion," continued Mr. Nolan, "and this trouble has been with me for several years. I didn't have any appetite to speak of and what little I did eat just seemed to sour on my stomach and form gas and I would suffer afterwards. Sometimes it looked like everything I would eat would just lodge in my stomach in a hard lump and felt heavy as lead and I would be awful nervous and didn't seem to have a particle of energy about me. I was troubled a lot with constipation, too, and had to be taking something all the time for this trouble and at times I would suffer with terrible headaches and have dizzy spells. I used to have such awful pains in my stomach sometimes that I couldn't rest at night and finally got to where I felt so fagged out and no account that I was unable to work and the railway company sent me to Fort Worth St. Joseph Hospital for treatment. After carefully examining me, the doctors there said a surgical operation would be necessary. "I was feeling just in this shape when I got to reading what some of the people around here had gotten relief by taking Oratone, so I decided to try it myself. I didn't have much faith in it to start with but I certainly changed my mind in no time. I didn't taken more than about two bottles of the treatment when I could notice a difference. My appetite picked up the first thing and I commenced eating and I would eat and didn't suffer much with gas on my stomach. Now my stomach is in fine shape. I can eat just anything and everything I want and am never troubled with my stomach afterwards. I feel as good as new. It has been so good in years. I have been relieved of constipation entirely. My nerves have been straightened out in fine shape and I can sleep like a log at night and don't get up in the mornings feeling all worn out like I used to. In fact, I am in better general health right now than I have been in years. Oratone surely is doing the work for me and saved me from the operating table and I am glad to speak a good word for it." Oratone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from Alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young Drug Company and the Miller Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Oratone representative.

WILL COMPLETE SIGNING PROPERTY OWNERS FOR STREET LIGHTING SYSTEM

Around 75 per cent of the owners of property abutting on streets where the ornamental street lighting is planned have signed contracts for the installation of the lighting, according to a report submitted at the Friday night meeting of the Business Council, Chamber of Commerce. The remainder of the property owners are expected to have contracts in within the next few days and the committee in charge of the lighting project were instructed to close contracts for the installation of the system.

C. C. Jensen, president of the Lone Star Refinery called attention to a recent news story appearing in the Times quoting oil operators as predicting that the price of oil would soon go to $4 per barrel, declaring the story to be "Standard Oil propaganda." No discussion on this point took place and the business council took no action.

The use of telephone or lighting poles for tacking up cards and posters, and the throwing around of circulars are practices that must be discontinued at once. This was announced Saturday by Police Chief Robert Goodfellow, who said that the ordinance against such practices would be rigidly enforced from now on.

Tacking cards on poles and throwing circulars or loose papers on the sidewalks are prohibited by city ordinance. Mr. Goodfellow said, "and while the ordinance has not been rigidly enforced, it is going to be from this time on. I want to warn those who have been offending in this manner to cut it out, or be fined."

During the recent windy weather, loose papers in the streets contributed much to the unpleasant consequences of the gusts, and numerous complaints were heard.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—It was mainly a weather market in cotton today with fluctuating buying conditions in Texas. After nervous and narrow price changes around the opening, both above and below the level of yesterday's close, a decided break resulted from prospects of rain for the drouthy sections of the west.

Extremely heavy selling followed the official forecast of rain for Texas and Oklahoma and prices fell to low levels where they stood at net declines of 45 to 52 points.

July dropped off to 37.62 and October to 34.16. Downside early sellers were inclined to realize profits and their demand for covers made a steadier market so that last prices showed net losses for the day of 30 to 40 points.

DALLAS, April 24.—Spot cotton steady; middling 41.00. HOUSTON, April 25.—Spot cotton dull; middling 42.00. GALVESTON, April 25.—Spot cotton quiet; middling 42.00.

Weekly Grain Review. CHICAGO, April 24.—Big setbacks in the value of grain and provisions have resulted this week from indications of severe financial strain. Compared with a week ago, corn prices this morning were 25c to 30c down, oats were off 1/2 to 2 1/2c and provisions lower 3/4 to 1 1/2c.

Deliveries of corn, wheat, and barley were at high levels for the season when suddenly the corn market was swept by an avalanche of selling. The pressure to get rid of holdings and to realize advantages from the break in prices went far beyond ordinary limits before traders began to regain their equilibrium and to be guided even partly by factors other than the violent changes of securities in New York. Active export demand for wheat and corn helped to a material extent at the juncture in restoring comparative confidence on the part of the bulls in the corn market. Grain led the downward plunge of corn, but rallied better owing to lackness of selling.

Weekly Financial Summary. NEW YORK, April 24.—Further "corrective measures" invoked by the federal reserve board to curtail or restrict speculative credits have the stock market a bit but set back this week, but the reaction was accelerated by a weakening bull position. The action of the central authorities took the form of advanced discount rates at 10 per cent.

Fort Worth Livestock. FORT WORTH, April 24.—Cattle receipts 4,625, steady; hogs $8.00@10.50; stockers $7.00@9.00; heifers $4.00@11.00; calves $6.00@10.00.

Chicago Livestock. CHICAGO, April 24.—Cattle receipts 3,000; steers $11.00@12.00; calf trade a big dollar decline, mostly $13.00 compared with a week ago; beef steers mostly $10.00@11.50 lower; butcher stock 50c to $1.00 lower; canners and cutters 25 to 50c lower; calves $2.00 lower; feeders unevenly lower.

FORMAL OPENING OF BANK BUILDING SATURDAY, MAY 1

The City National Bank of Commerce will open for business in its handsome new quarters at Eighth and Scott on Monday morning, May 3. The formal opening will be held from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock on the night of the opening day.

At the opening souvenirs will be given to both the men and women who attend, music will be provided and a general good time is anticipated.

All of the tenants in the building will co-operate in making of the opening of not only the banking institution but the building a great success. A chairman for each floor has been appointed by the general chairman, at a meeting of the tenants, who will arrange the details.

ELECTRA RAILWAY FOREMAN PLACED UNDER THEFT BOND

Two complaints, one in the state court and the other in federal court, were filed Saturday against O. B. Hardy, foreman of the railway warehouse at Electra. The complaints are in connection with the disappearance of articles of merchandise from the railway warehouse at Electra.

The state complaint, filed in Justice C. J. Arrington's court, alleges theft of property valued at over $50, while the complaint in federal court alleges theft from an interstate shipment of commerce. Bond on the federal charge was set by United States Commissioner Lantz at $1,000.

Hardy was arrested at Waco by a railway special agent.

W. B. Johnson, street railway motorman, was remanded to jail in default of $1,000 bond following preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. Johnson is alleged to have operated an illicit still near Lake Wichita.

A complaint alleging the illicit sale of whiskey has been filed against Johnson in Justice C. J. Arrington's court. He waived a hearing in state court and his bond was fixed by Justice Arrington at $750.

While Johnson had not furnished bond late Saturday, his attorneys expressed belief that the required bond would be arranged within a few days.

The average armature of a motor has about 3000 teeth. Testing it is about the same as testing a saw.

When it is great for the engine to be able to operate ordinarily in the cleanest condition.

Rubber gaskets for the water pump run through the sides in contact with the spark plug. This can also be prevented by covering it.

Slight bumps and shocks result in a bent shaft. This will cause the engine to run in time means to be replaced.

When it has been stored for some time, the oil must be changed. The oil should also be changed when the motor is stored for a long time. Much attention should be given to the oil.

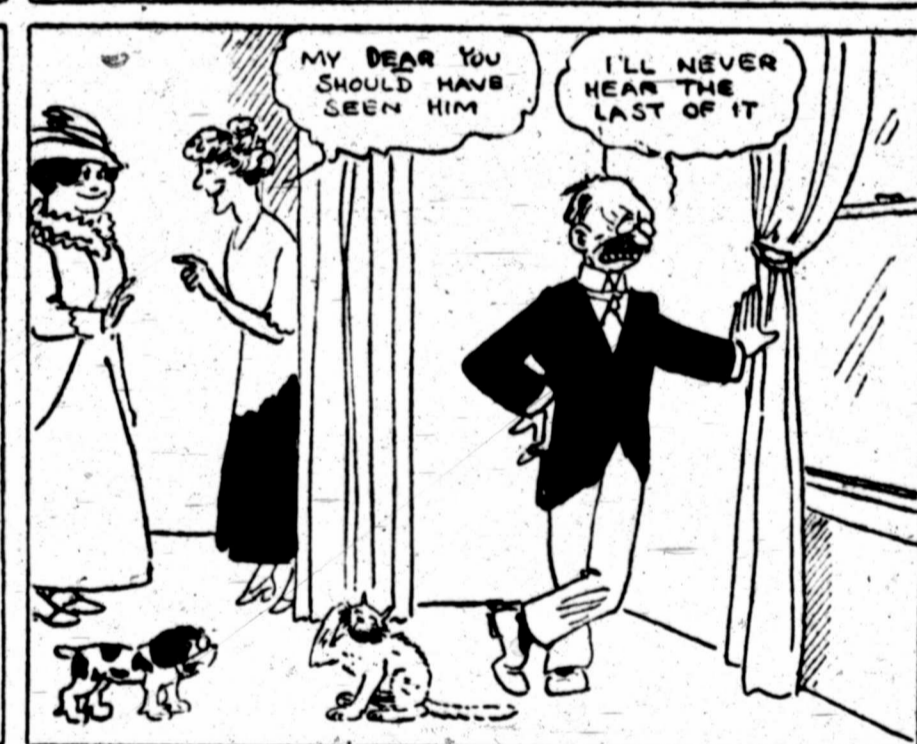

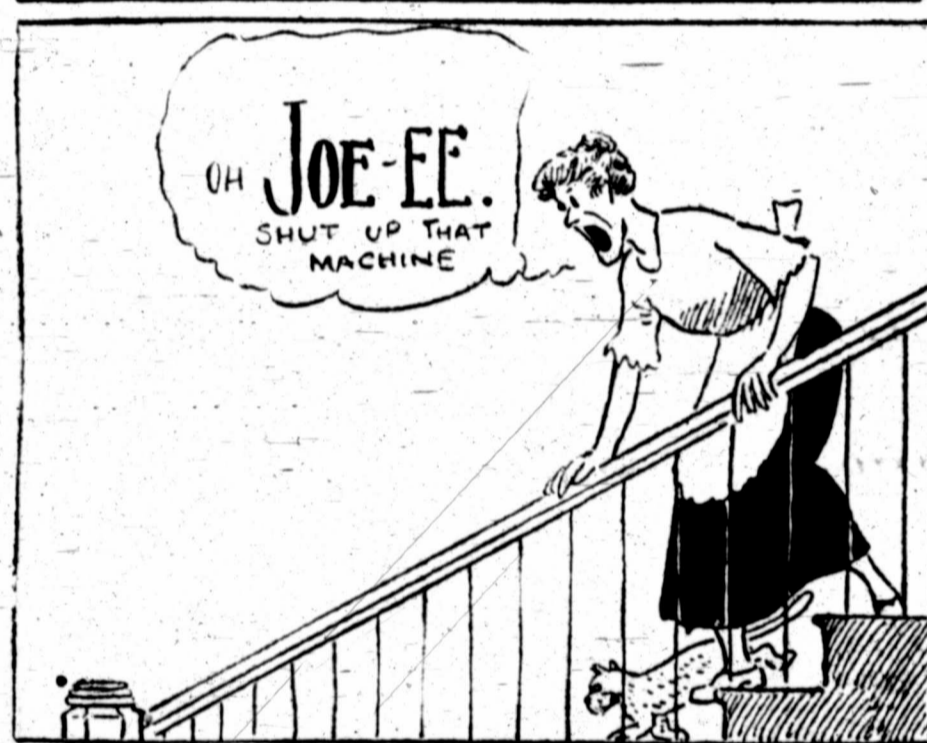

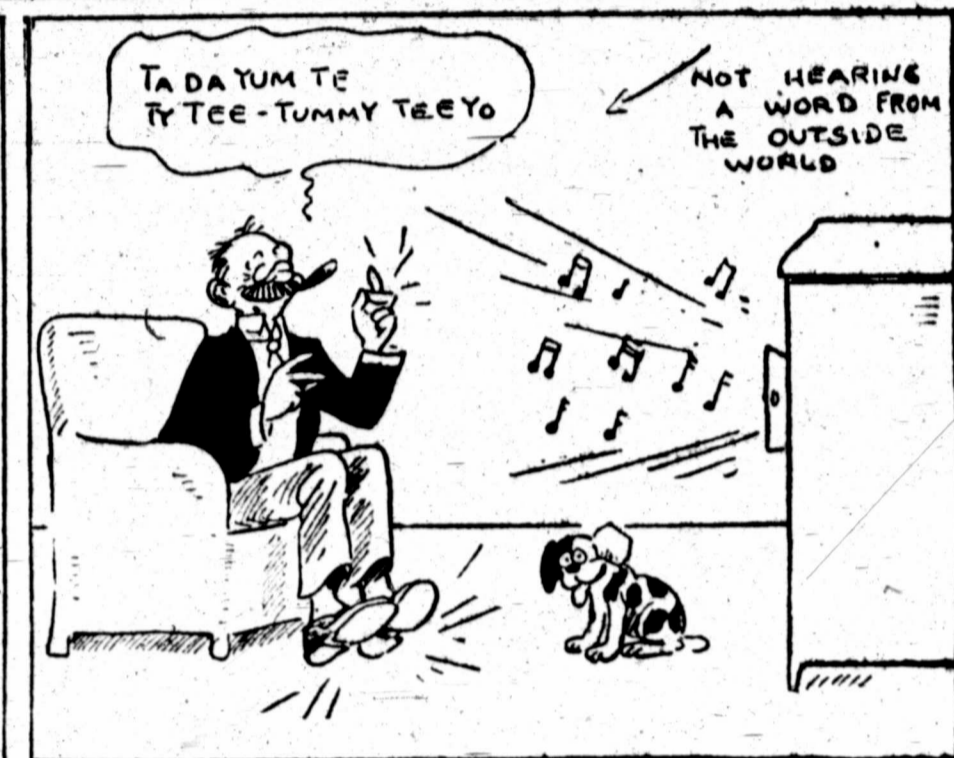

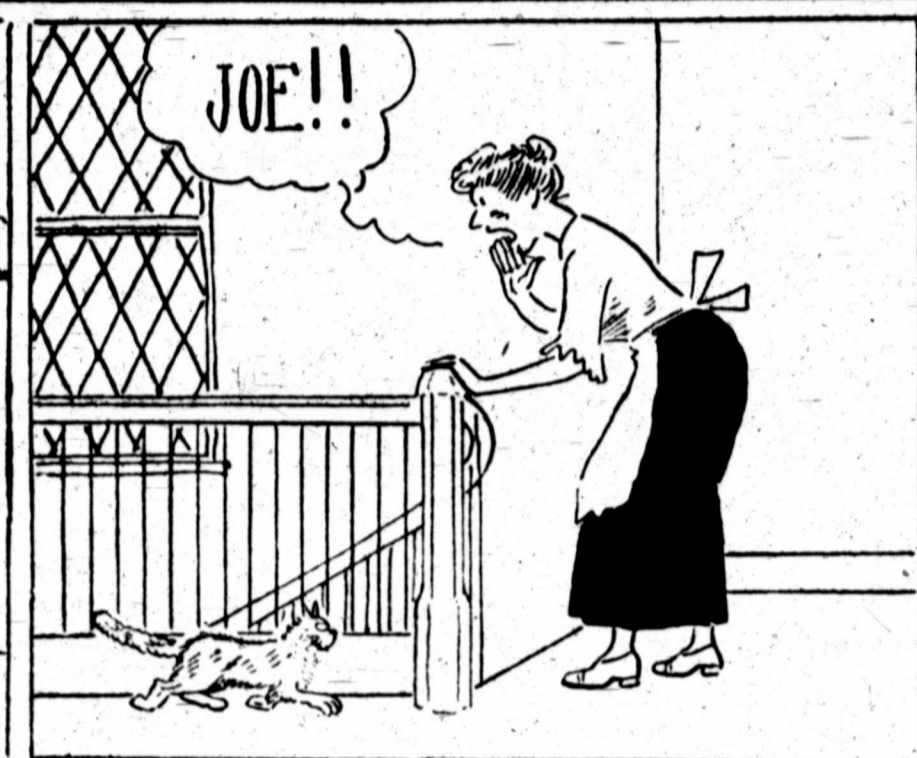

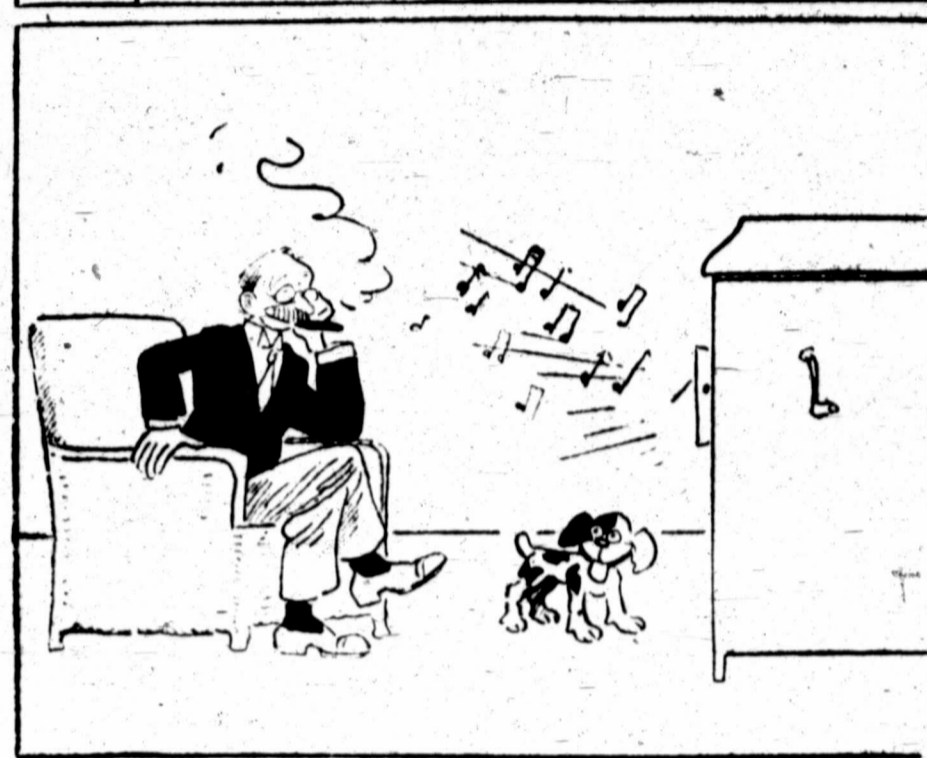

An automobile should be kept in a garage. It should be kept in a garage as well as the hood is lifted. The engine will run much better.

For heating the engine, a piece of tin should be placed in the length of the piston. This will prevent the piston from repair. This is the proper method of maintaining the engine.

It has long been known that the engine should be scraped. This is done in the manner of the piston in the sweep. This is likely to be under and the cylinder.

By fastening the edge of the rag below the edge which strikes the belt, a doctor bill for take this piece.

When you do not let it stay in the engine, it will allow the engine to run. A repair few minutes is

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

Spark plugs should be kept free from grease and dirt so as to prevent unnecessary misfiring.

Valve stem guides are best removed by driving them out from the top, using a hardwood block or a piece of soft metal, avoiding possible injury.

The average speed of rotation of the armature of an automobile generator is about 3000 revolutions per minute and in testing it is customary to operate it at about the same speed.

Slipping of the fan belt may be caused by several things. The belt may be oily, greasy or too loose; the fan may be tight on its bearings, possibly from lack of lubrication, or the pulley may be loose on the shaft.

When it is necessary to employ the low gear for a considerable period, it is possible to obtain the overhauling that would ordinarily result by keeping the mixture in the cleanest possible condition.

Rubber garden hose makes a neat protection for ignition cables if the wires are run through it and one end loops out in the sides in conformity with the location of the spark plugs. The starting motor cable can also be protected from oil, shorts, etc., by covering it with a piece of garden hose.

Slight bumps often cause disastrous results and should be avoided at all times. A slight bump against the curb is likely to result in a bent rear axle shaft, which in turn will cause excessive wear of the inner cone of the right and left bearings, which in time means that the entire bearing will be replaced.

When it becomes necessary to employ a team of horses to pull a car out of the mud or sand, the effort is not as long a tow rope as possible. Not only does this permit the team to get a better footing, but it allows the engine to be used to help the animals without fear of suddenly lunging forward into the team.

All oil and grease cups in cars that have been stored for the winter should be given careful attention before the car is taken out of storage for the summer season. The old grease should be removed and new, fresh grease put in each cup. Valve stems should also receive special attention before the motor is started. This will insure proper lubrication of the stems and save much unnecessary wear.

An automobile engine needs almost as much care as a lawn mower and every owner should see to it that his engine is given an occasional kerosene bath. First spray kerosene all over the engine and then wipe off all the dirt. This goes for the crankcase, as well as the parts that you can see when the hood is lifted. If cleaned occasionally the engine will last much longer and work much better.

For heating and pouring habits a worn-out gas engine piston can readily be converted into a substantial ladle by simply driving into the opening for the wrist pin a piece of iron pipe about two feet in length. When ladle parts, such as thrust washers, bearings, etc., are removed from repair jobs, these are thrown out this improvised ladle. This process will minimize considerable expense in buying fresh habits.

It has long been customary to clean engine cylinders with long-handled scraping tools. This method is not only time-consuming, but it is also dangerous. In scraping a cylinder in this manner, it is important to have the piston in the uppermost position of its sweep, since otherwise the scraping tool is likely to slip into the bore of the cylinder and injure the smooth surface of the cylinder wall.

By fastening a narrow apron to the front bow of the top so that it will hang down below the edge of the windshield, the draft which strikes the back of your neck can be kept out and probably save many a doctor bill for the driver who does not take this precaution to keep out the air.

When you smash or jam a wheel, expect not let it stay in a disrepair condition, as it allows dirt to enter and will in a short while, while awaiting the repair, to wear out. A repair line can be made in a very few minutes by the use of an old line tin can of proper size to fit the axle. Cut the can off two or three inches from the bottom and slit it down for an inch or so. Put the can over the hub and bind it with wire to hold it tightly in place.

Unless washed off properly with soap and water, road tar will quickly harden on a car, leaving unsightly streaks and spots. There are several good ways of removing it, however. One consists of an application of kerosene or kerosene-gasoline which will soften the tar without injury to the varnish. Another good solvent is cocoa butter, which is used in the theatrical profession for removing grease paint. This is a harmless solvent for all kinds of oil and grease as well as tar.

RED CROSS TO ASSIST DISCHARGED WAR WORKERS

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—Red Cross chapters throughout the United States will assist in the return to civilian employment of the large number of war workers brought to Washington by the government who will be released by the War Department between now and June 30, according to advices received today at Southwest Division Headquarters of the Red Cross at St. Louis. This service is undertaken upon the direct request of Secretary of War Baker. It is not proposed to set up an employment agency but the Red Cross will, through its network of chapters in every state, bring these workers and employers seeking capable help into communication.

The service to be conducted by the Red Cross thus will aim to place released war workers in the communities to which they wish to go. Histories of their employment and qualifications will be compiled under supervision of the War Department and transmitted to Red Cross Chapters in the localities desired. The Home Service Sections of the chapters will then enlist the free public employment office or such other placement facilities as may be available to find appropriate positions for the released workers. It is the hope of the War Department and the Red Cross that wide publicity will be given the undertaking, so that the girls who helped "on the home front" may be restored to civilian pursuits with a minimum of delay and that employers seeking tested help may know that a large number of office workers who have served the biggest employer in the country are now available for private employment.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

The Ideal Five-Passenger Car

Whether the Paige Glenbrook is chosen solely because of its beauty or rather because of its mechanical excellence, a full measure of satisfaction is assured to its owner in either case.

For it is well known that, in Paige cars, beauty and efficiency go hand in hand.

The same skill in car building which is responsible for making the Glenbrook a vehicle of exceptional grace is likewise responsible for making it an exceptional car from the mechanical standpoint.

In body, power plant and chassis, it is distinctly a Paige product—setting standards of comfort, economy and dependability such as have never before been present in a car of moderate price.

Although it has been before the public no more than four months, it is destined, we believe, to revolutionize the Light Six field.

Its new six-cylinder motor—designed and built in our own shops—is a feature which, in itself, entitles the new Paige Glenbrook to a place at the head of America's finest five-passenger motor cars.

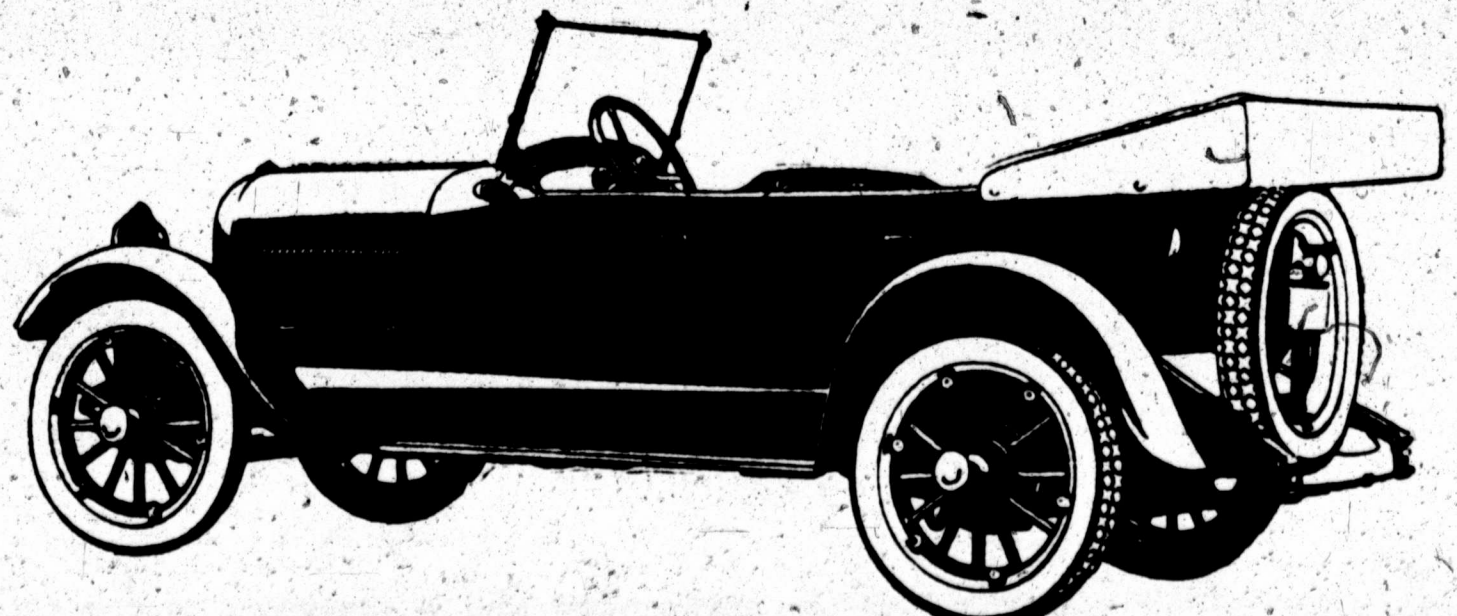

When you see this latest Paige model and ride in it, you will agree with us, we believe, that, from a mechanical as well as an artistic point of view, there is no finer five-passenger car on the market today.

That this is now quite the general opinion among motorists is indicated by the number who have already made arrangements for Spring deliveries.

Let us suggest that you give early consideration to the question of placing your order with our dealer while it is still possible for him to take care of your requirements.

Why does the Aero-EIGHT pick-up so swiftly and have so great a fund of reserve power?

An aviator can tell you the moment he takes the wheel and feels the car respond to the touch of the accelerator.

It's the minute balance of every unit that enables the mechanism to respond without effort or restraint when under way.

Aerotype engineering has increased the limits of motor car possibility, and Cole engineers have been the first to apply these principles to the automobile.

Aeroplane balance is one of the characteristics which the name of the Aero-EIGHT implies. It is balanced to zero, so that every unit is able to function 100 per cent.

SIGLER NUMBER 2 RIGGED UP READY TO SPUD IN THIS WEEK

By A. C. MCCONNELL

VERNON, TEX., April 24.—The last few days have marked much progress in drilling operations in Wilbarger county, and many of them contain excellent indications of lucky strikes at an early date.

Perhaps the most interesting piece of news to come from the field of operation is that the Sigler Oil Co. has rigged up their No. 2 Sigler and will spud in within the next few days. Derrick and machinery is all in shape ready to spud in. A derrick is also being built on a location known as Sigler No. 3. These two locations follow the structure and are practically within a half mile of Sigler No. 1, which started the Vernon boom. The tests will be drilled with rotary equipment and now that the sand depth in the Sigler district has been determined the new wells will be drilled in less time than required to complete the Sigler No. 1.

The Sigler discovery well is being cleaned and developed. The hole is being scrubbed and permitted to flow once a day. The well swabbed 200 barrels in two hours this week and it is estimated the production will be greater than first anticipated.

Within sight of the Sigler discovery well are 15 other derricks. Six of the wells have spudded in, being nearly a mile from Sigler No. 1. The Sigler well furnishing fuel for the derrick of three wells. The Sigler company is erecting many buildings on the Wharton ranch and are preparing to wage an extensive drilling campaign.

Another piece of interesting news is that the Magnolia Petroleum Co. is making fast time in drilling operations on the H. L. Green farm, north of Posey River.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. is evidently confident from their experience with this section, that there is a good sand in the district that can be made to yield rich returns. A few years ago, a well was drilled on the J. F. White farm, section 12, block 18, to a depth of 2195 feet. If this hole was entirely dry, as claimed, it should satisfy this company in regard to this section. But this company has recently paid $25,000 for over 200 acres east and northeast of this hole and is putting down a test on the D. L. Green place, section 36, block 15. It is pointed out that by spending this immense amount of money cannot but indicate definitely that a good oil sand was encountered by this company on the White test, which now desires to tap this sand at another point.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. is constructing a large number of buildings, bunk houses, etc., over their field in the eastern part of Wilbarger county in the vicinity of the Piper, Sumner and H. & T. leases. This is taken as an indication that they have arranged for an extensive drilling campaign in the eastern Wilbarger district. The Magnolia company had two failures last week, the first that have ever been drilled on the Piper and H. & T. C. leases out of six years profitable development and of drilling about 200 wells. The gas pressure in this section is said to be diminishing.

Interest in the north Vernon field is increasing, with much activity in leases as a result of prospects for a number of wells reported encountering oil sands. The general development on Red river is growing more brighter each day and vying with the south district for attention. The Webb-Magnolia, McCaleb No. 1 and the Neal-Hamilton tests are still holding the attention of the operators. Reports are that the Harrington and Robertson well on the McCaleb farm, on Red river, is in hard rock formation with acreage on the incline. A gas pocket was encountered Tuesday which is putting pep into activity in that district.

The Neal-Hamilton well is said to have struck a strong gas pressure Friday sufficient to force salt water to the mouth of the hole and the Webb-Magnolia well is the center of attraction. No information will be given out concerning this well and it is roped off from the public. As a prospective well, it is the favorite. Locations along Red river and Pease rivers continue.

The latest entry to the north Vernon field is the B. Churchill Oil Company, recently organized with a capital stock of $125,000.00. The company holds 500 acres in the Johnson-Hessley survey on Red river and has 100 acres of its own from the McCaleb well. The company is erecting a rotary rig and will commence drilling at once. B. C. Armstrong is president and T. H. Webb, secretary-treasurer. These operations are popular in the Burk Burnett field and have two machine shops in that field. William Kennedy, the Fort Worth geologist, passed on the 500 acres held by the company.

Carload shipments of both Chandlers and Cleveland are expected to arrive this week.

POWELL OIL COMPANY TO DEVELOP ACREAGE IN WILBARGER AND WICHITA

Announcement was made today that Vernon was selected as the headquarters of another oil company that is going to open an extensive drilling program in Wichita and Wilbarger counties.

The Powell Oil company, of which W. O. (Dumpy) Powell is president, has purchased and will develop two tracts of acreage—one in Wilbarger county and one in Wilbarger. The tract in Wilbarger county is located in Block 822, approximately 1,200 feet east of the Burk-Cameron well, comprising 20 acres, upon which four wells will be drilled.

The Wilbarger tract consists of 20 acres lying about one and one-quarter miles northwest of the Sigler well. This acreage is in the southeast quarter of block 101 and will also be developed with four wells—one to each five acres. Operations in both sections are to be carried on simultaneously. It is expected that the initial well on each tract will be spudded in within the next 10 days.

Temporary headquarters have been established in the Hotel Bailey, Vernon, from which the affairs of the

The Bug That Birds Eat. According to a paper on behalf of bird protection published by the State

Horticultural society of Kansas, the bird population of that state is 255,000,000 birds, which every year eat enough insects to fill 480 trains of 50 box cars each—24,000 cars of a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds to the car. These insect trains would be long enough to reach from Oklahoma to Nebraska. Reduced to pounds, Blair figures that the birds of Kansas every year eat 876,000,000 pounds of insects. It is hard to conceive the dollars and cents value of the insect eating birds to the Kansas farmer.

The JORDAN Silhouette

To dominate the open road in a handy, quick-about, light-weight car—this is the trend of the time.

Long have we waited for a car so thoroughly well balanced that its every movement is forward — so shorn of surplus weight that its up-keep cost is negligible—so inherently fine in line and design as to gratify every desire for beauty and elegance.

Jordan cars were built only after careful study of all American and foreign cars had revealed the prime car needs of today. For its wheelbase, the Jordan is the lightest car on the road.

Men wearied with the excessive cost of driving big and bulky cars, choose with joy the Jordan.

CHALMERS

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn Solve a Serious Problem

THOSE who understand motor cars know that the prevailing weakness is the inability of the various engines to deliver satisfactory results from gasoline. Gas has gone down and down in grade and engines have not been redesigned to meet the lower grade of fuel.

Chalmers engineers were first to supply the answer to this serious problem. They devised the Hot Spot and Ram's-horn.

The raw "gas," too heavy for the carburetor to vaporize properly, strikes the Hot Spot, and the result is much like a drop of water falling on the top of a red-hot stove.

Thus the heavy "gas" is turned into a "dry cloud" and before it has the slightest chance to revert to "mist" it is rushed via the Ram's-horn manifold into the cylinders.

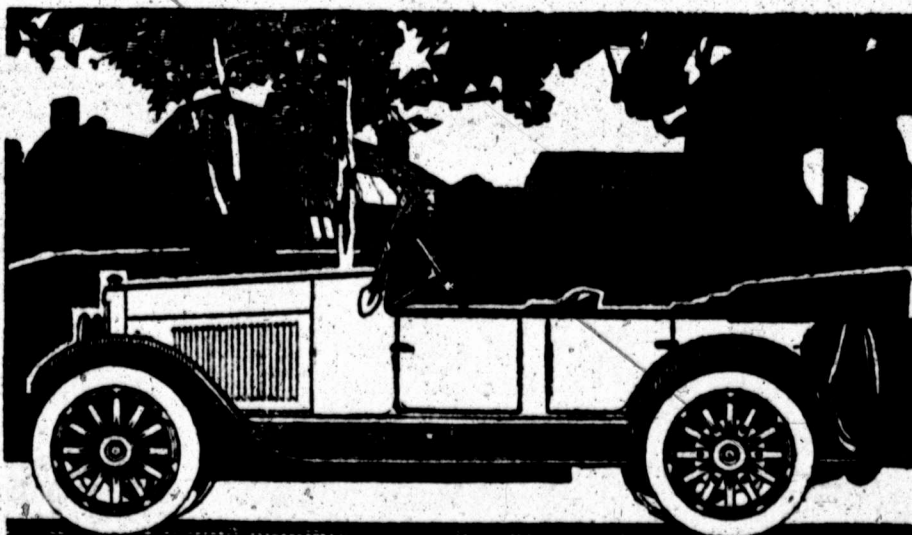

As the spark plugs touch off this finely vaporized fuel you get instantaneous combustion and maximum power.

You get smoothness, the absence of vibration and the consequent saving in repair bills from burned bearings, scored cylinders, fouled spark plugs and many troubles that are all traceable back to the inferior "gas" of the day.

Ride in a Chalmers and you, too, will say that it is one of the few great cars of the day.

LARGER PRODUCTION OF NECESSITIES IS SOLUTION OF ILL

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Means of stimulating production of the necessities of life as a step toward the cure of American economic and social ills, will be the sole topic of discussion at the eighth annual conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which will open in Atlantic City next Monday and continue until Thursday.

While the conference will deal primarily with material methods of increasing production, such as introduction of modern machinery, elimination of waste and the increased efficiency of distribution, the chamber is prepared, it was learned today, to follow with a nation-wide effort to stir individual Americans to their duty to aid the movement in every line of endeavor.

Industrial unrest reported by members of the chamber is without exception ascribed as the basic cause for the high prices the average worker has to pay for everything he purchases. Against this, however, is reported an apparent disposition on the part of the worker to reduce his effort during working hours or to lay off a part of each week or month. The convention will endeavor to work out a program by means of which both the manufacturer and the employe will be shown the necessity of augmenting output for the common good rather than as a method of increasing immediate profits.

"Work alone offers a cure for many of the ills left by war," said Homer L. Ferguson, president of the chamber. "Increased production means a larger share of the necessities and comforts for our own people; it means more for Europe, where people are dying for lack of food and clothes. In it lies the only means of making up the waste of war."

edy for the foreign exchange situation. W. D. Simmons of St. Louis and R. W. Belcher of Washington, D. C., will address the conference on the subject of "Domestic Distribution" and Secretary Alexander of the department of commerce is expected to indicate how far the government can go to cooperate in the movement. Other speakers will be George A. Post and William Fellows Morgan of New York.

The farmer, for the first time in the history of the chamber will be represented as a distinct and important part of the nation's industrial machinery. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Clemons, Ia., and Secretary Meredith of the department of agriculture will attend the conference.

ITALIANS MAY DECLARE JEWEL COMMERCE ILLEGAL
ROME, April 23.—Commerce in jewels and precious metals would be prohibited and owners would be compelled to send them to the state under the provisions of a bill presented in the chamber of deputies by Deputy Favio, democrat, today. Receipts would be given owners and the government would undertake that the confiscated property should be exchanged for money or returned when national finances would admit.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Hearings to determine whether membership in the Communist Labor party makes an alien subject to deportation under the act of congress of October 16, 1918, began today before Secretary Wilson, who already has ruled that membership in the Communist party is sufficient grounds for deportation. The case today was that of Carl Miller, German, who has lived in the United States since 1907 and who was arrested recently in Denver. The ruling is expected to fix the status of several hundred alien members of the Communist party who have been arrested by the department of justice.

THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

Some Practical Suggestions for Helping Meet Situation.

Editor's Note: In the following article the practical side of the railroad question discussed by E. A. McCarty, traffic manager of the Hyatt Roller Bearing Co. of Chicago. The discussion is from the practical standpoint of a traffic man. He makes some suggestions that are helpful and timely.

During the past winter I have seen office men of mediocre physique spend night after night in the railroad switching yards out in the snow and rain to make sure that their shipments were moved. I have seen these same men roll up their sleeves alongside freight handlers and help trundle stuff from one car to another. I have seen farm tractors do switching work day after day—switching that technically was the duty of the railroads. I have known manufacturers to send men across several states to get a trunk or a suit case full of parts to be used for completing machines—machines that were often sold at a loss.

One Michigan manufacturer, within the next few weeks, will begin operating a fleet of trucks between his factory and his sources of supply—in some instances a distance of over 700 miles.

In our own organization every man who has visited our factory during the past six months has been instructed to bring back as many bearings as he could carry as baggage.

During the express handlers' strike over half of our office force went down into the railroad yards and spent day after day—sometimes far into the night, unloading express cars containing our product in order to expedite deliveries to our customers.

It is hard for the public to realize that how many difficulties have beset a manufacturer in making deliveries during the past two years. Never before have so many different obstacles had to be overcome. Although on every hand we hear cries of greater production, I believe that a thorough analysis would convince anyone that it is more a question of transportation, rather than of disturbed labor conditions, the majority of delays in manufacturing can be traced directly or indirectly to delays in transporting materials.

"The Neck of the Bottle"

During the past three years transportation has been the "neck of the bottle." No one has been free from the effects. The manufacturer has been delayed in getting his material. He is dependent upon the steel mills and the parts makers and they in turn are dependent upon the mines and then again the mines are dependent on other manufacturers for mining equipment with which to operate.

Thus we get an endless circle of dependencies and analyzing the situation from its various angles the wonder is that things are moving along as smoothly as they are.

Since 1915 the volume of freight handled in this country has increased 45 per cent. During the same period the increase in number of freight cars amounts to only 2 per cent.

This deficiency in freight car equipment is seen reflected in express service: when a shipper realizes the congested freight condition he routes more and more of his goods by express.

As a result of this condition express shipments have increased more rapidly than ever before. Few express cars have been built during the past three years. Today it is quite the practice to ship commodities by express that under normal conditions would have always gone by freight.

This has been a substantial factor in increasing prices.

The railroads are the arteries through which the very life blood of the nation flows. These arteries are hardened, they no longer expand, the blood pressure is high. Goods can not be freely transported from one section of the country to another and as a result of this our whole industrial system is out of joint.

The only way to compensate for the deficiency is to speed the flow of products through the available channels. It is up to the traffic men—both with the railroads and with private corporations to accomplish this. It is their duty to judiciously apportion material and transportation equipment to protect both buyer and seller, to use every piece of equipment to the greatest possible advantage, to safeguard the public interests.

—always observing the basic economic rule, "the greatest good to the greatest number."

It is a "man's job." It is an unending job. Conditions are serious—if we give up to them they will immediately become disastrous!

More Work, Less Talk

More work, more thought and less talk are needed. High-brow legislation will not change the economic condition. The problem is practical rather than political. We have no time to spend in proving who is to blame. It is a question of making the best of things by putting forth constructive effort and real "sweat."

Traffic men cannot remedy the situation single handed. Others must do their share. The dealer in farm machinery should have a clearer understanding of the problems that confront the manufacturer and the farmer should appreciate the dealer's efforts to supply his needs. The public as a whole should maintain a liberal minded attitude towards the railroads.

Transportation is the neck of the bottle. Immediate individual profit is quite incidental. The big problem is to keep the wheels of industry turning. It is up to everyone to face the situation and consider things fairly. The problem affects everyone directly or indirectly. It is up to everyone to do his part toward alleviating the condition.

Equipment should not be delayed. The fact that a man is willing or able to pay a high demurrage charge does not entitle him to hold up a freight car.

Such a man is not only subjecting some other shipper to a hardship, but he is placing himself in a position where the railroads will not be inclined to give him preferred service the next time he needs a car. To needlessly detain equipment is a crime against the economic welfare of the nation. The man who is guilty of it is an enemy of society. Cars should be loaded to a maximum capacity, which, generally speaking, is 10 per cent above the rated capacity. In other words a car marked 60,000 pounds should be loaded to 66,000 pounds.

Consignees should promptly take up L. C. L. shipments in order to avoid freight house congestions.

Buyers of all kinds should anticipate their requirements as far ahead as possible.

Idle talk will accomplish nothing. Intelligent co-operation and hard work will save the day.

See Why Essex Set a World's Selling Record

Consider Its Unequaled Endurance Records—3,037 Miles in 50 Hours
—1061 Road Miles in 24 Hours

Essex in its first year set a world's sales record. That shows how men wanted and talked about what it offered.

But of chief importance to you are the qualities which earned this world selling mark.

You know what an uphill fight the car of average ability must make for even limited recognition.

What then was the Essex appeal that swept aside the natural doubts of buyers?

It was not prestige, born of confidence in its makers. Their identity was not revealed. Essex was required to make its own name stand for the things men seek in a car.

And it won because of its fine performance, riding ease and endurance, qualities hitherto regarded as exclusive to large costly cars. And further, because of its economy and convenience, which were exclusive light car advantages.

Essex Won Thousands Because of This

In beauty of line, in finish and luxurious appointment, Essex also has the advantage of being the product of those who build the world's largest selling fine car.

Essex revealed performance ability never expected of a light car. It set the official world's long distance endurance mark of 3037 miles in 50 hours. The same stock chassis traveled 5870 miles at better than a mile a minute.

An Essex stock touring car made the world's best 24-hour road record of 1061 miles. Almost everywhere Essex holds local speed, hill-climbing and acceleration records, that all acknowledge.

These Are the Advantages You Want

Greater size could add nothing to Essex. You sacrifice no motoring pleasure, comfort or good looks that large, high-priced cars can give. And you gain all the advantages of the lightweight type, more important today than ever.

They cover not alone the cost of operation. They include the satisfaction that comes with its distinction as a fine, beautiful car. And it has a new advantage in handling ease.

And there is all the surety of uninterrupted service and comfort as well as repair freedom, which hitherto were looked upon as exclusive costly car qualities.

Knowing the demand existing for all wanted cars, you will understand the importance of speaking for your Essex now.

PROHIBITION AS AN ISSUE

By William Jennings Bryan
Copyright 1920, Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

Editor's Note—The Times today is publishing the second of a series of eight articles by William J. Bryan on the issues that will be before the American people in the coming campaign. Mr. Bryan, last week, was elected a delegate to the democratic national convention. Bryan may not be able to secure the nomination for himself, but whoever is nominated will have his support. His articles will be read with interest.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The activity of the opponents of prohibition comes in the nature of a surprise, but of their activity there is no longer room for doubt. It is a surprise because the triumph of prohibition was never for one moment lowered the flag or slackened their efforts. Twenty-six years ago the Anti-Saloon League was organized. It also had its birthplace in Ohio. Its name indicates its relentless opposition to the liquor traffic.

The prohibition party, organized for the sole purpose of abolishing the saloon, is older than the Anti-Saloon League, and has entered every presidential campaign since its birth with a candidate pledged to the overthrow of the saloon.

A quarter of a century ought to be sufficient to give the dealers in intoxicants fair notice and to warn the supporters of the saloon of the movement on foot for its extermination. The movement seems new to the eyes only because most of the eastern newspapers do not take the efforts of prohibitionists seriously. Probably they are under the delusion that because the wise men came from the east 150 years ago, they must necessarily come from that direction all the time. They seem to think that the law is a law of nature that cannot be changed.

Begin in South. When the south began to go dry they said to their readers, "Don't worry about the south; the white people there don't want prohibition to be enforced. They want it only for the black man. It will never cross the Mason and Dixon line." But it did cross that line and reached the Canadian line and every state bordering on Canada ratified.

When the west began to go dry they said to their readers, "That is another eastern craze and will soon blow over." Their attitude recalls a story told on a Kansas farmer who lived on the prairie where the winds were high. He was putting up a fence with some old moccasins when a neighbor came along and said, "I wouldn't waste time on that fence, the first high wind will blow it over." "Look at that fence," said the farmer, "three feet high and four feet wide. If the wind ever blows it over it will be a foot higher than it is now." And prohibition did blow over the whole country. As the first states to go dry were agricultural states, the wets congratulated themselves that it was purely a rural movement, and would not reach states containing large cities. But it did. State after state went dry—south, west and north. The movement traveled toward the northeast, gathering strength as it went. Still the eastern editors insisted that it never could be submitted, because submission required two-thirds of both houses. But it was submitted and won with votes to spare. Then the wets said that it could not be ratified, and they pointed out what seemed to them an insurmountable opposition. "The dries," they said, "must have both branches of the legislature in three-fourths of the states, while the wets need only one house in each of thirteen states." In other words, the dries had to elect 72 houses in 36 states, while the wets only had to hold 13 houses in 13 states. It did seem like a tremendous handicap, but the dries carried 91 houses out of 96, while the wets held both houses in New Jersey, both in Rhode Island and one house in Connecticut.

When ratification began some of the smaller states acted first. Then the wet press began to predict that if the amendment was ratified, it would be ratified by the small states—that they might thus force prohibition on the big states. They grew very indignant at a constitution that would permit such an outrage. But within an incredibly short time—less than a year and a half—all the big states, all the middle states and most of the small states had ratified. The big states joined the middle-size states and nearly all the small states in forcing prohibition on Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island.

Victory Now Complete. To show how complete the victory is, it is only necessary to point out a few facts. First, 34 states are dry by their own individual act—nearly all of them by constitutional amendments adopted by popular vote. Those states that adopted prohibition by statute have, since its adoption, elected legislatures pledged to continue prohibition.

The amendment was submitted by five more than four-fifths of the senate, when only a two-thirds vote was required for submission. The house gave it more than two-thirds. Votes taken since that time indicate that the strength of prohibition has increased in both senate and house. The last record vote in the senate showed a majority of 5 to 1 for the prohibition side. The last vote in the house showed a majority of almost 4 to 1. But, more significant still, it is a partisan victory. On the contrary, the two leading parties have been close rivals in the effort to see which could give to prohibition the largest percentage of its votes in senate and house. In the senate the democratic vote was just 3 to 1 in favor of submission and the republican vote, 5 more than 3 to 1. In the house both parties gave more than two-thirds of their vote to the amendment, the democratic percentage being just a little the larger.

Seldom, if ever before, have the two parties acted together so harmoniously on any important question. It was a triumph of the conscience of the nation irrespective of party. It was the greatest moral victory ever achieved at the polls so far as history records. These facts have been presented in order that the reader may understand the audacity of the effort now being made by the opponents of prohibition to undo what has been done or, rather, to invite a period of lawlessness, because they can not hope to repeal the constitutional amendment by constitutional methods.

Repeat Unlikely. To repeal the amendment it would be necessary for the wets to secure two-thirds of both houses in order to submit a repealing amendment and then secure ratification by 36 of the 48 states. Who believes that such a change in public sentiment is possible?

A few states have attempted to define for themselves the alcoholic content to be permitted in beverages manufactured and sold within the state. Rhode Island attempted to fix the alcoholic content at 4 per cent and New Jersey has recently attempted to fix it at 3 1/2 per cent. In Massachusetts a number of legislative districts voted under a state statute, to instruct their representatives in the legislature to vote for 4 per cent. The federal enforcement law fixes the alcoholic content at one-half of 1 per cent and one and four-tenths per cent has been declared by the war department to be intoxicating—possibly not to the men whose systems have been diseased by alcohol—but at least to the beginner.

State Cannot Nullify. It is hardly possible that the Supreme court will permit the nullification of a Federal statute and the Federal Constitution by state action. A decision sustaining a state law permitting more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol in beverages would entirely defeat the purpose of the Constitutional amendment; because, if the Constitution has no effect, as against state statutes, it is of no value whatever and leaves prohibition entirely a state matter. The court can not so hold on the ground that the fixing of the alcoholic content is a judicial matter, because it has already held that it is a political question which congress has the right to decide.

If the court were to hold that prohibition is a subject upon which the Federal government can not act, (that is, that it comes within the reserved rights of the states), it would be equivalent to declaring that the dead can control the living and no one can tell how far-reaching such a decision would be.

If the people who lived in 1789, when the Constitution was written, made a Constitution that can not be changed by subsequent generations, the American people of today are in a difficult position. But there is no likelihood of any Supreme court tying the hands of the people, and surely those who wrote the Constitution never intended to make it unchangeable, for they expressly provided a way by which the Constitution could be amended, and the present amendment has been adopted in strict conformity with the Constitution's provisions.

Of course, no attention will be paid to these wets who protest against the amendment, because it was ratified by state legislatures. Eighteen amendments have been adopted and they have all been adopted in this way.

The absurdity of the protest is apparent when it is remembered that the state legislatures deal with all other questions. The wets do not complain when a state legislature changes the laws in regard to domestic relations, the care of children, educational institutions and taxes. Even human life. Even human life can be taken in accordance with legislative provisions. It is only when a legislature dares to deal with the saloon question that the wets lose faith in the judgment of legislators.

It seems impossible that either party would put a wet plank in its platform or nominate a candidate pledged in advance to violate the oath of office and refuse to enforce prohibition, and it likewise seems impossible that a congress can be elected favorable to a repeal or material modification of the enforcement law.

William Jennings Bryan, April 15, 1920.

What then will be the effect of the injection of the prohibition question into the campaign? It will simply prevent a deliberate consideration of other pressing subjects and make the prohibition question the permanent issue. Those who are leading the fight have nothing else on their minds. No matter what a candidate may think on any other questions, if he is not wet they are against him.

Cannot ignore issue. This being the attitude of the west, the drys are not at liberty to ignore the issue. To do so would bring a condition that would soon subordinate all other issues and compel the country to give its entire attention to the anarchistic liquor traffic that has been legally exterminated by a constitutional amendment.

Statistics show that crime as well as drunkenness has decreased under prohibition and that the homes of the land have been safer than ever before. To turn back would be worse than never to have entered upon the fight. The liquor business, if it were "called back" after the adoption of prohibition, would be more impudent and insolent than it has been in the past, if any increase of its impudence and insolence were possible.

A return to the saloon would not only be ruinous to us but it would be disastrous to the cause in other lands. If prohibition can not be successful here—especially after such a victory—where on earth can its friends expect the home select a battlefield for the triumph of virtue and morality?

It behooves dry democrats and dry republicans to besell themselves at once, and, beginning with the local political units, instruct those who go to the conventions, state and national, to vote for a dry platform, pledging the party to prohibition as the permanent policy of the country and to strict enforcement of existing laws, together with the nomination of men who can be trusted to carry the message of those who would carry us back to the reign of the liquor traffic.

The more decisive the victory for prohibition the more speedily shall we be able to give attention to other problems, domestic and foreign. The sooner the dry forces make their power manifest the less disturbance will the liquor forces make in the two conventions. There never was a greater issue before the country than the prohibition issue now is, and no time is to be lost in meeting the challenge of those who represent the friends of the brewery, distillery and saloon.

The Widow of Maximilian. Charlotte, widow of Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, is 73 years old. She is in good health and lives at the Chateau de Bouillon near Antwerp. ### PALMER CONSIDERS OUTLAW STRIKE IN ITS MANY DETAILS

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Attorney General Palmer today gave personal attention to the so-called "outlaw" railroad strike, seemingly more acute than for several days.

Palmer got reports from Cleveland, where his representatives yesterday communicated with "outlaw" strike leaders, and from other cities, where hundreds of men still are idle. Late yesterday Palmer characterized the strike as "far from finished."

Officials of the established unions would say little concerning situations in Jersey City, Cleveland and Chicago. "We're pressing demands for wage increases on the railroad labor board," said Vice President Doak of the trainmen.

The New Jersey men are trying to reach an agreement with the railway executives.

President Shea of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen, appeared today before the labor board to argue for increases asked by men of his union. Shea said his men want a "basic living wage" of $6.50 per day with differentials for responsibility, skill and experience.

PRACTICALLY NO PRODUCTION COMES FROM KANSAS MINES

PITTSBURG, KANS., April 24.—There was practically no coal production in the Kansas mining field today, reports to the headquarters of the operators showed. All but a few hundred of the 12,000 Kansas miners were idle.

It had been expected that the agreement on the explosive price controversy, reached at a joint conference in Kansas City yesterday, would result in the return to work of most of the miners. Operators' representatives this morning said that causes other than the prices of explosives apparently were causing idleness.
