Bailey will stay in the race for governor of Texas to the end and the "overwhelming appearance" of Saturday's precinct conventions, which overwhelped and endorsed the national administration are due to the "fraud and intimidation" practiced to a greater extent and with more brazen effrontery than in these precinct conventions, the statement declared.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., May 3.—A strike of approximately 20,000 operatives went into effect at thirty-seven cotton cloth mills in this city today. According to the reports received here today, all that remains for Oregon to do is to effect a national movement from the growing elements of disaffection. With this achieved—and it is believed General Obregon possesses the strength and personality to make it possible—the revolution to overthrow Carranza is a matter of time.

Beginning in Sonora, the forces under General Plutarco Calles are reported to have extended their control southward through Sinaloa to a point 40 miles north of Mazatlan. Carranza has located the state capital in Mazatlan, at the southernmost point of the state, in Tepic, south of Sinaloa, no other cities of importance have been reported thus far, but the loyalty of the state is doubted and bandit gangs are active.

From Chief Flynn and N. C. Danato, Salido's lawyer, it was learned that the circulars issued at the time of the explosions when attempts were made on the lives of many public men, had been printed in an Italian establishment in Brooklyn, where Salido was employed.

Declaring that the "fight for sound government has just begun," Mr. Nickles' statement says "when the opposition and party organization repudiated the national democratic platform and refused to provide for a primary election so that a fair and representative test might be had, we knew that the purpose existed, so to speak, of a clear majority of the people's will. We know now that such purpose was accomplished."

An appreciation of the splendid co-operation of the teachers, which has made this success possible was expressed at this meeting.

MISS KNICKERBOCKER'S MAY FETE HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

In one of the most elaborate and altogether pleasing programs ever presented in Wichita Falls, Miss Alzada Jane Knickerbocker on Saturday evening, May 1, presented her forty-five pupils in a May Fete before a capacity house, the high school auditorium being filled, and many turned away before the program was well started. The feature of the program was the one act flower extravaganza, "The Craving of the May Queen" in which forty-five children, all in costume took part. The program was beautifully and appropriately staged, palm and ferns banking the stage, and the attractive young performers, all on costume gave the stage the appearance of an animated flower garden. For the flower play a gold throne, decorated with pink roses and butterflies was placed on a dais of violets. The Goddess Flora, Miss Helen Snyder, one of the older pupils of Miss Knickerbocker, conducted the selection of the May Queen and heard the various reasons offered by the flowers for their choice, then called in the snowdrops, a group of little boys, dressed in mist grey chiffon, choose the May Queen, since "the showers bring May flowers." The little Moss Rose, Lida Lea, was chosen by the showers, and was crowned by the Goddess Flora. The individual numbers, from the tiny, short numbers by the little tots, in dialogue or individual readings, were all splendid, and there was much praise expressed at the beautifully managed program, with the large number of children appearing. This program shows the results of the first three months work of Miss Knickerbocker in Wichita Falls, and the instructor and her patrons as well were much pleased with this first elaborate program.

SUNRISE SHOWER FOR MISS KATHRINE COOK

Saturday afternoon Miss Kathrine Cook was given a delightful surprise party and shower by her students at her studio at the home of Mrs. George Lawler, 1210 Eighteenth street. On Miss Cook's entrance to the studio she was greeted with a bugle salute, blown by one of her students, then the party was on. There were games and contests and music to entertain all during the afternoon. In the prize contest the winner was Cyrus Jetter. After a most pleasant afternoon refreshments of brick ice cream and angel food cake were served. Miss Cook received many handsome presents from her students, who took this method of expressing their love and regard, and also of saying farewell, since Miss Cook is to leave in three weeks to join her brother and family, at Bentonville, Arkansas.

Before leaving she will give two recitals, presenting in one an advanced pupil, Miss Jessie Mae Layder, and in the second a group of her pupils. The date and place of these recitals will be announced later.

Amusements

Majestic

The one important thing in casting the part of the Chinese poet, Chang Huan, in "Broken Blossoms," which is now playing at the Majestic theater, was, according to D. W. Griffith, to secure a player whose facial expression would emphasize as fully as possible that line of Thomas Burke's in "Limelight Nights," "his love was a pain and by thinking even his worst enemies admitted that." It just chanced that, looking around for the right player, Mr. Griffith heard that Richard Barthelmess, for the time being, at liberty to accept the difficult engagement. The qualities of simplicity and naturalness which he had displayed in other films suggested him as the ideal actor for the part of Chang Huan and, in order that Mr. Barthelmess might get thoroughly into the atmosphere of the part, Mr. Griffith sent him from San Francisco to Shanghai, where he steered himself in the color and beauty of the Orient. There, learning of the wondrously kind attitude of the Chinese toward children, he became imbued with the spirit that enables him in "Broken Blossoms" to convey the ideal love which the Chinese poet feels for the poor little bruised and broken English girl. It is a love without a single thought or note of selfishness in it; a love of pity and human sympathy that makes those who see and realize it come away from the picture with a more tender and gentle feeling toward their kind.

Empress

In "The Heart of a Child," a special production adapted from Frank Danby's novel of the same name, Nazimova comes to the screen of the Empress theater for three days starting today in a role that is different from any of the wide variety of characters she has portrayed so marvelously in previous triumphs.

It is that of Sally Shupe, an English girl from the slum streets of London who finds herself orphaned at the most critical period of her life, and left to face alone, without any other aid than her unspontaneous, the struggle of maintaining the world's respect.

In her support is an exceptionally able cast, with Charles Bryant, adapter of the novel to the screen, as Lord Kidderminster; Ray Thompson, Nell Newman, Victor Patel, Eugene Klum, Claire Du Brey, Jane Sterling, John Stepping, William J. Irving, and Myrtle Riebell. Ray C. Smallwood directed the production, with Rudolph J. Bergquist in charge of the camera. The effectiveness of the pictorial element in the play is due to great measure to the special art effects by Allen Ruoff.

JUDGE BARWISE BURNS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MORTGAGE

In one of the most impressive ceremonies ever held in the First Presbyterian church, Judge J. H. Barwise, one of the organizers of the church in Wichita Falls, and the elder emeritus of the congregation, burned the mortgage on the church, and in a short talk commemorated the freeing of the church from debt. Destroying of the mortgage, which was paid the first of the year, was postponed until the weathering and Judge Barwise's health would permit his being present, and the ceremony was beautifully touching.

Judge Barwise was one of the organizers of the First Presbyterian church, in the early days of Wichita Falls, he having been one of the settlers of the town of Wichita Falls as well. The first church edifice built was on Indiana, just off Ninth street, and here the congregation worshipped for a number of years, until the union of the Northern Presbyterian, the Cumberland Presbyterian churches. The Cumberland building, corner of Tenth and Travis, where Kemp Kort now stands, was used by both the united churches until the time when the handsome church now occupies the site built at Tenth and Bluff. The dedication of this church will take place in the early fall, it was announced Sunday, the church customs providing dedication of any building not entirely free from debt.

The morning service was given entirely over to this ceremony, and reports from the Amarillo Presbytery which has just met. Mrs. A. J. Carrigan, giving the report from the missionary societies meeting held at Memphis, and the Hale Center Presbyterian meeting was reported by John D. Robertson. The local church has made greater contributions to benevolences during the past year than all the rest of the Amarillo Presbytery combined, it was brought out in the reports.

A collection for Trinity University was also taken on Sunday, this church being pledged to $50,000 of the $100,000 which has been assessed the Amarillo Presbytery. A substantial start on the $50,000 was made at the morning service, and it is expected that it will be subscribed early in the week.

ODD FELLOWS ATTEND SPECIAL SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A special Odd Fellow service was held at the First Baptist church Sunday morning, Rev. O. L. Powers, pastor, preaching a sermon on the subject of "Pure Religion." There was a special application to the Odd Fellows' creed in the sermon, as well as a general application to all Christians, the text being "Pure Religion shall undefiled before God, the Father, is this, to visit the Widow and Orphan in their Affliction and to keep One's self undefiled before the World." The service was attended by members of the Odd Fellows' lodge in this city in a body, a section having been reserved for them.

Mr. Powers went today to Throckmorton, where he will conduct a 10-days' revival service at the First Baptist church of that place. The local night will be filled next Sunday by Dr. Conner, professor of the Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, it is announced.

SPECIAL SESSION OF FEDERAL COURT IN JUNE

A session of federal district court is scheduled to be held in Wichita Falls in June, J. A. Lantz, United States commissioner announced Monday. This session is the regular March term and should have commenced last March the time the November term opened here, Federal district court being one term behind here. Commissioner Lantz has not been advised definitely that a term of the federal district court will be held here in June but is expecting definite announcement shortly. A large number of cases, both criminal and civil have been docketed, during recent weeks.

C. Hall, county school superintendent, announced Monday. Four schools of the county have closed the 1919-1920 term and teachers in these districts are holding out for substantial increases. ENDEAVOR DELEGATES RETURN FROM HENRIETTA Christian Endeavorers from the First and Central Presbyterian churches and the First Christian church of this city attended the district Christian Endeavor convention held in Henrietta Saturday and Sunday, number of them returning Sunday night by automobile, following the concluding services of the convention, while the remainder returned Monday morning. A splendid meeting is reported, with a good attendance and much interest. H. E. Brou, formerly of this city, now a student in the Fort Worth Christian Seminary, is president of the first district, and was in attendance, as were other district and state officers, and important Christian Endeavor workers.

MEAT CLEAVER MAY BE USED AS EVIDENCE

A huge meat cleaver given up by the muddy waters of a lake near Henrietta will be used as evidence against John Borden, charged with the murder of D. E. Stenson, young Wacoan, whose trial will open at Henrietta Tuesday morning. The meat cleaver was found in the shallow waters of the lake by the Clay county grand jury headed by Fletcher Jones, district attorney. It is believed that the meat cleaver was hurled into the icy waters of the lake by the murderer of Stenson on the cold January night after the young construction gang workman met his death in a freight car near the Clay county seat. Borden was found a few hours later. He was placed in jail at Henrietta and a charge of murder filed against him. Discovery of the meat cleaver was followed by a bill of indictment being returned against Borden by the Clay county grand jury. A special venire of 100 men has been summoned from which the trial jury is to be selected. Judge Finley, chief of the 30th district court will preside at the trial.

Miss Juanita Kinsey, head of the department of public speaking, is receiving many congratulations in this city, and from the interscholastic head, Prof. E. D. Shurter, of Austin, for this splendid record from her classes. This is Miss Kinsey's first year in the local high school but it is her fifth year to take a team of winners to Austin. The Story of Modern Bread Making—Chapter X.

The High-Speed Mixer In Bread Baking

ONE of the highly important steps in bread making is the proper hydrating or saturating of the flour. Unless the moisture has sufficiently penetrated the starch cells they will not be ruptured by the steam, in baking, and the starch will not be made accessible as food.

The moisture is absorbed by the gluten of the flour mainly during the mixing process. To incorporate the moisture thoroughly, the familiar hand-kneading in the home kitchen is not entirely adequate. It is necessary, on the contrary, to beat the dough under a high speed and considerable pressure, in a scientifically constructed machine known as the "mixer." This process also insures the uniform distribution of the materials in the dough.

It is not true that all mechanical mixers in present use have this action. There has been wonderful progress in the scientific construction of baking machinery in the past few years, and only the most modern machines put into practice the principles which are now known to be correct.

Scientifically correct mixing in the type of machine shown here insures the proper hydration of the flour in KLEENMAID Bread, so that every particle of the starch will be ruptured and made available to the digestive fluids, resulting in bread that is completely digestible.

Proper mixing has much to do with the digestibility of bread

PANAMA MOB MARCHES STREETS OF CAPITAL, HALTING PERSHING AUTO

PANAMA, May 2.—Several thousand Panamanians tonight marched in a torch light parade as a protest against the acquisition by the United States of the major portion of Taboga Island for fortification as a part of the Pacific defense scheme of the Panama Canal.

An automobile in which General Pershing was driving to a ball at the Union Club was halted by the procession and forced to return to the Tivoli Hotel. Mobs later stoned Panama officials, a number of whom were injured. Mounted policemen charged and dispersed the demonstrators.

NO CARDINALS TO BE NAMED UNTIL CONSISTORY IN JUNE

ROME, May 3.—Confirmation of reports that no cardinal will be created at the consistory has been received from an official source at the Vatican. The consistory will concern itself entirely with the work of the canonization of Joan of Arc and Marie Alacoque, a French mystic and nun, who died in 1690. Another consistory may possibly be held in June, but it is possible it will be postponed until the end of the year when the creation of new American cardinals will be considered.

GIRL OF SIXTEEN IS ON THIRD TRIAL FOR DEATH OF PLUMBER

Ursula Broderick Alleged to Have Killed Man She Says Attacked Her

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—Ursula Broderick, 16, who shot and killed her father, Thomas P. Broderick, a plumber, and her stepfather, Joseph F. Woodlock, also a plumber, went to trial here for the third time today in juvenile court, for the death of the latter.

She is charged with first degree murder—the youngest girl, it is said, who ever faced this charge in Missouri. The minimum penalty is ten years in the penitentiary. A continuance was ordered the first time the case was called; the second time a mistrial resulted, the jury being unable to agree.

Woodlock was killed in April 1919, when, according to the girl's testimony, he attempted to attack her. She was exonerated by a coroner's jury after killing Broderick in October, 1916, on her plea that she shot in defense of her mother, who was being beaten by Broderick.

Taking of testimony is expected to begin Wednesday morning, the reviewing time being allowed the defense to prepare challenges. The state contends that Woodlock was shot while he lay asleep and that the girl and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Woodlock, plotted his death.

Mrs. Woodlock is also under indictment for her husband's death. Her trial will be held later.

The town has about 250 inhabitants and is one of the pattern small towns of the state.

REDS AND WHITE SOX LEAD RESPECTIVE LEAGUES AFTER WEEK OF ORDINARY PLAY

NEW YORK, May 3.—Outside of some wiggling around and shifting in the midsections, the major leagues have passed into the third week of the season in about the same fix.

Last week was productive of no spectacular results. The complexion of the National league race has been altered only slightly. The Reds by winning all their four games went into undisputed possession of first place and the Pirates who lost three out of four flopped down into fourth place. The Phils won three out of four and jumped from fifth to third. The Giants and the Cubs are playing consistently in the last hole.

The White Sox dropped two of their five games but they still cap the American league pile. The Indians and Red Sox won three each out of five, switched positions with Speaker second and Barrow third on the strength of a tie game. The Yanks with Ruth home running again, showed up into fourth place, although they dropped three out of five games. Jennings lost five more games which made his total for consecutive defeats thirteen.

The White Sox are working almost perfectly. Good, consistent batting for a team averaging of 275, and individual work by Jackson of 469, Eddie Collins 441, and Weaver 471 is getting the runs for the big three pitching staff—Williams, Cicotte and Fabe, who have accounted for eight out of nine games. Williams has won four straight.

Coveleski and Bagby with seven straight victories between them are helping Speaker along. The Indians are clubbing .309, the best in the league. They are also playing the tightest defensive game in the league.

Cobb 195 and Veach 185, and the whole club batting for a team average of 183 tells the whole sad tale about Detroit.

The Cincinnati Reds are batting 293 with four regulars hitting 300 and the pitchers are working well. A quartet of 300 hitters are getting the runs for Robinson's Brooklyn pitchers and the Phils are hitting the ball.

Major League Bits

Yesterday's hero—Babe Ruth. The New York outfielder knocked another home run and helped the Yankees win from the Red Sox 7 to 1.

Copper cut down the Reds after the champions had won six straight. Score 3 to 1.

Felch knocked a home run, Eddie Collins got a two bagger and a triple as the White Sox trimmed the Browns 7 to 3.

Bagby and the Indians took another poke at the Tigers and Detroit lost its thirteenth consecutive game of the season. Score 1 to 2.

Janvrin muffed a fly in the ninth and gave the Cubs a 5 to 4 win over the Cards.

Mack used 17 players trying to beat Walter Johnson and the Senators but failed 5 to 4.

The Dodgers made another record of 39 innings in two games when they went 13 innings to defeat at the hands of the Phillies. Score 4 to 3.

CORRALS AND ARENA BEING FINISHED AT BALL PARK FOR TOM BURNETT'S ROUND-UP

With a large force of workmen finishing the corrals, chutes and arena at the ball park for the Round-Up, which will take place there Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and with additional workmen building extra seats in every available foot of space adjoining the bleachers, the ball park presents a busy scene as preparations for the big show near completion.

Manager Burnett has announced that grand stand tickets will be sold only to the capacity of the grandstand and when these are sold for each day, performance then the sale will close so far as grand stand tickets are concerned and while this will no doubt cause hundreds to be turned away it will give comfort and safety to those in the grandstand and will avoid the usual overcrowding.

The fact that each contestant pays their own expenses and an entrance fee and gets nothing for their services unless they are able to out do the others to the extent of winning one of the large cash prizes is the incentive for each contestant trying to figure his or her chances with the other. There is no sport where the rivalry is keener. Possessing the elements of utmost danger, the keenest rivalry, courage, skill and with a do or die demeanor shown in every trial of its contestants, yet without unhanding methods and with a friendly feeling throughout, are some of the things that make a real western Round-Up different from any rehearsed performance, and causes it to long live in the memory of its audience.

BLACK SPUDDERS IN LAST GAME OF SERIES WITH DALLAS TEAM

The Wichita Black Spudders crossed bats with Dallas again today at the athletic park in the final game of the three-day series.

Nearly 3,000 people witnessed yesterday's game and saw the Black Spudders come out on the long end of a 5 to 4 score. Their victory gives them a total of 6 games won out of 8 and if they continue to put of the brand of ball already started, they will have little difficulty in remaining at the top of the heap.

After today's game they will lay off until Friday.

SEEK TWO "MASTER MINDS" BEHIND SECURITY THEFTS

NEW YORK, May 3.—A reward of $2500 was offered today for information leading to arrest and extradition of Jules W. "Nickie" Arnstein and Nicholas Cohen, alleged "master minds" behind the theft of $5,000,000 in securities from Wall Street concerns.

The reward was offered by Henry A. Gildersleeve, trustee in bankruptcy of Arnstein, and Saul S. Meyers, counsel for the trustee and the National Surety company.

Renewed activity in the hunt for Arnstein which began several weeks ago followed an alleged confession of Joseph Gluch, a messenger boy, that he turned over to Arnstein more than $1,000,000 worth of stolen goods.

JOHNSON LEADERS WORRIED OVER EXPENSE OF RE-COUNT

NEW YORK, May 3.—Johnson leaders here were today to decide whether to request Chief Justice William S. Gummere of New Jersey supreme court, to waive the $50,000 deposit he fixed to guarantee the expense of a re-count of primary votes in that state. They said it would be "impossible to raise the $50,000."

Be sure to write. "Good-by old hayseed, good-by."

The above farewells were chorused simultaneously from three "hello" girls who were grouped on the platform at North station to give a send-off to their friend, Gladys Farnum, who was leaving for a fortnight's vacation on a Maine farm.

"Good-by; get your choos ready," she called from the car window as the train pulled out of the track yard.

Settling herself comfortably for an all-day ride, Miss Farnum recalled amusingly the bet made with her friends. Upon learning that the friends whom she was to visit had a son living at home the girls had prophesied that Gladys would fall in love and "take to the simple life."

"No farmer for mine. The simple life for me in little old Boston," said Gladys.

Upon which the bet had been taken. A five-pound box of chocolates for the three girls against a supper at some popular cafe from Gladys.

The train arrived on time. As Miss Farnum alighted she almost ran into a stalwart young man who was standing close to the car steps. Holding out his hand, he smilingly said. "Guess you're the girl mother sent me to meet."

"I guess you're Ben," said Gladys with a responsive smile.

"Right-o. How much baggage have you?"

"Only a suitcase."

"We can take that in the car. Wait a second and I'll fetch it around."

As they turned into the driveway, Gladys exclaimed. "Oh, what a dear place," which seemed to please Ben immensely.

A warm welcome greeted Gladys from Mr. and Mrs. Brewster.

"Supper is waiting. Come right in now and set up. Gracious, Henry, isn't Gladys the born image of her mother?" said Mrs. Brewster to her husband.

"Capt she ain't quite as good looking," said Uncle Henry with a huge wink. "Time she gets a coat of tan on her face she'll be all right."

At an early hour—for Gladys—Mrs. Brewster conducted her niece to her room, which had home braided rug on the floor, a star patchwork quilt on the bed, and dormer windows. Gladys went into raptures.

"I'm glad you like the room, dear," said Mrs. Brewster. "Now good-night and sleep as late as you want."

"I'm going to be up at 6 o'clock," raptly declared the farmerette.

"For the land's sake, Gladys, what you got on? Where's your skirt?" said Mrs. Brewster as Gladys appeared next morning.

"This is my bloomer suit. It hasn't any skirt."

"Well you can't wear that rig outdoors."

"But it's to work in. I—"

A shadow in the doorway caused both women to turn and meet the twinkling eyes of Ben.

"How long you been there, Ben?" queried his mother.

"Long enough to hear and to see. What's the matter with Glad's suit, mother? It's a dandy."

"Oh, Ben, your mother thinks it's a modest. Why, all women who work outdoors wear uniforms."

"Just right, too. Mother isn't used to the new woman yet," laughed Ben. Closing the argument, Ben and Gladys escaped to the hayfield.

The days that ensued were full of work, fun and a comradeship that included the family and working force. Of all farm varieties, small animals were the most interesting, and specializing in these, Gladys declared in favor of pigs. One day Mr. Brewster found one of them developing a rash and he teasingly told her she had "loved it too hard."

"Poor little piggy," she said, taking it into her lap. "What shall we do for him, uncle?"

"Guess we'll give him an oil bath. What do you put on that pig?"

"In the store room. Take a soft rag and give him a light rub."

Finding her equipment Gladys returned to give piggy a first aid-in-oil. The task was not easy by reason of piggy's strenuous objection, and work proceeded slowly. When the treatment was finished both physician and patient were sticky subjects and Gladys went to the house to remove the evidences. Changing into a blue linen dress and looking very sweet, she went out on the piazza to rest until supper time. Hearing boisterous laughter coming from the direction of the pig-gery she went around to the backyard from which the view was unobstructed. Standing among the laughing men was Mr. Brewster, who called, "Come up here Gladys."

As she neared the group she inquired, "What's the fun?"

"What did you put on that pig?" pointing to a very stiff, shiny pig, that looked as though it had just arrived from a taxidermist.

"Why, just what you ordered—oil." Again the men roared.

"Oil nothing," grinned Mr. Brewster. "You tarred him well with varnish."

Another howl from the men and Gladys, too humiliated to stand her ground, fled in tears to the garden, taking refuge under a lilac tree. Drooping on the bench beneath, a heavy cry relieved taut nerves and sore feelings.

While enjoying her damp steats she was masterfully enfolded in a pair of strong arms and Ben's voice whispered, "There girle don't cry. The whole batch of pigs ain't worth a tear."

"I'll never face those men again," sobbed Gladys. "I'm goin' back tomorrow," and sobbed harder after her ultimatum.

Ben tightened his clasp as he said, "You ain't goin' back, I'm goin' to keep you. Oh, Gladys, I love you so, won't you stay?"

"And take care of pigs?" coyly questioned the farmerette.

"Take care of me. I've cared ever since the first day you came. Won't you? Ca-can't you?" stammered Ben.

The next day a post card went Hubbard. It briefly stated:

"The bet's on me. Taken. Life share in a pigery. GLADYS."

His Method.

"I never pay old debts; I simply forget them."

"And your new ones?"

"Oh, I let them get old."

Caution.

"I want a pair of button shoes for my wife."

"This way, sir. What kind do you wish, sir?"

"Doesn't matter, just so they don't button in the back."

MRS. BARTON shut the front door with a satisfied bang and hurried down the steps. Her next door neighbor tapped on the window and came to the door.

"Are you going shopping, Anna?" she asked. "Lucky woman! I want to go, but I haven't any money. If only prices weren't so high. I just love to go on a shopping spree, but I can't this week."

"Come with me today, Alice," laughed Mrs. Barton. "Have you 30 cents you can spare?"

"Yes, of course, I have that much, but—"

"Come along quick, then, for that's my spending money today. I admit I'm going on a shopping spree, but remember, this is not before the war, but after, a sort of a post-war, money-less spree! I'm off for three hours while mother takes care of the children. I need a rest and a change and some variety."

"Going to get it for 30 cents?" teased Alice.

"Yes, indeed, and so are you; but you must do exactly as I say."

When they left the train and got on the boat Alice Brown started to go in-

"Come out," insisted Anna. "Remember. We are out to get some air, as we housekeepers don't have half enough. Button up your coat and get five minutes of inspiration and lung power, all for nothing. That's our first purchase," she laughed.

Alice hurried for the car after they got off the boat, but her friend smilingly pulled her coat. "We're house-bound home-makers, my dear, out for exercise and air, and we get it by walking and saving our carfare."

"Our first stop on this tour," chanted Anna as they reached the shipping district, "is before the window of this big grocery store. Isn't it a picture! See the big baskets of lemons and oranges rising like heaps of gold from the back-ground of green leaves and crepe paper. The vase of jonquils in the center is perfect. There's a whole pot of color for me to think about on the next dull rainy day. All free for nothing, too," she ended.

"I do wish our grocers would take hints from these artistic fruits in here and make their windows pretty and sunny," said Alice.

"We will now turn into one of the little narrow streets that holds great treasures in small spaces," continued Anna. "Here is a store full of exquisite butterfly art craft. Talk about colors! Look at the shimmering lights on that one butterfly wing!"

"Press your nose close to this big window-pane and gaze at the wonderful paintings," commanded Anna as they walked on. "We couldn't think of buying them, but take them home in your brain so you can see them among the soap bubbles in your dishpan tomorrow."

"The next store gives you the latest news in books. Please note the titles of the new books, so we can get them plans.

"The most beautiful lily in the world," said Anna, "and I never saw enough of them before."

"White calla lilies in a quaint blue bowl."

Bring joy to the eyes and peace to the soul.

With sighs of satisfaction finally the friends turned away.

"I hate to bring you down from the heights of poetry and lilies, dear," said Alice, "but I've just remembered that I need some closet hooks."

"I'm down on the ground again. Well, my practical friend, you may spend just 10 cents and get your old hooks," laughed Anna.

As they came out of the store Anna met a friend and they stood talking a few minutes.

"I've been buying postcards," the newcomer said. "I buy them wholesale and sell retail to the girls in the

ADMITTS MURDERING FIFTH WIFE WHOSE NAME ESCAPES HIM

LOS ANGELES, May 3.—In a second alleged confession which officers were checking today, Walter Andrew Watson, alias James R. Hurst, admitted killing a woman he had married, but whose name he could not remember, according to Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, who said the "confession" was made to him yesterday. This makes five women the man was declared to have admitted slaying.

The district attorney said Watson told him he had married the woman in Tacoma, Wash., and that he choked her and pushed her overboard while they were boating on Lake Washington, near Seattle. He was quoted as saying he then rowed ashore, leaving the woman's body in the water.

"Naturally, I told no one about it," the district attorney quoted him.

Woolwine said his investigation showed that Watson married Mrs. Beatrice Andrews, a Canadian, in Tacoma Feb. 5, 1919, and that she was said to be missing. He said he had advised Washington authorities of Watson's statement.

BAILEY WILL NOT QUIT TEXAS RACE

view of these undoubted conditions it would be ridiculous to say that the convention is in any sense representative of the sentiment of the people.

Again, Mr. Bailey's candidacy for governor was not involved in the convention issue. Thousands of people who voted against us on the issue they involved, will vote with us in July and many other thousands who favor Mr. Bailey for governor, but who stayed away from the conventions on account of the issues there involved, and for other reasons, will be heard from in July.

Bailey Going Back East

DALLAS, May 3.—Meager additional returns from Saturday's Democratic caucus showed that Bailey, to elect delegates to county conventions Tuesday, which in turn, will select delegates to the Texas Democratic convention of May 25 further emphasized the overwhelming victory of that element of the party favorable to the national administration. The unofficial returns gave the forces endorsing W. Bailey 1,210 of the 1,400 votes in the state convention, while the figures for the anti-administration element headed by Governor United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey remained at forty-nine state convention votes.

Tomorrow Democrats in the more than 250 Texas counties will meet in county conventions and select 1,400 delegates to the state convention, instructed, in accordance with the will expressed by voters at the precinct meeting, to endorse the national administration and its policies. In none of the available returns, however, was preference expressed for any candidate in the Democratic presidential nomination.

Senator Bailey, who left Dallas for Fort Worth yesterday, whence he said he would depart Monday for Washington, has not issued a statement regarding the results of the Saturday convention. Luther Nickels, campaign manager for Mr. Bailey, had made no statement up to noon today.

It was understood Mr. Bailey would return to Texas about May 15 to start his campaign for governor of Texas. He has previously stated his intention to remain in the gubernatorial race regardless of the outcome of the precinct conventions.

DALLAS, May 3.—Joseph W. Bailey, candidate for governor, whose organization received the most decisive repudiation ever accorded a similar group in Texas, arrived here today after it had been announced he was en route to the east.

Receipts of other candidates for the governorship confidently expected Bailey to announce his withdrawal from the race today.

Several competing returns from Saturday's precinct conventions continued strength in any section of the state. Bailey was defeated for a delegate to the Cooke county convention, his former home—was defeated in his own ward and repudiated in the county.

County conventions scheduled for tomorrow are expected only to reflect the practically unanimous endorsement of the Wilson administration expressed in Saturday's precinct meetings.

Conceded Victory Won Fairly

HOUSTON, May 3.—Conceding defeat here today, Murray B. Jones, Bailey manager for Harris county, declared the victory was won fairly by the administration forces.

Mrs. Ruth Prevost Brown, the widow, and Prevost were held as material witnesses. A formal charge was made against the man at the precinct of Mrs. Cecil Kester of Battle Creek, who claimed to have been Brown's close friend.

Tarwater's condition was said to be serious following a nervous breakdown. Gardner said he probably would be able to appear for trial about the middle of the present court term.

With the completion of the Boger-Ard Maer the Texas Bankers is again ready to start work, it is said.

DENIAL MADE THAT THE PLUMBER'S STRIKE SETTLED

The plumbers' strike has not been settled, stated T. B. Noble, president of the Open Shop association, at a meeting of the directors of that organization Monday morning. Mr. Noble made this statement in reply to a question from one of the other directors, a member of the Open Shop association, who stated that plumbers had come to him Monday morning with the statement that the strike had been settled and an agreement made whereby they were returning to work at a scale of $12 per day, in addition to which they were to receive a bonus of $2 per day.

This was later denied in a formal statement issued from the Open Shop association headquarters. "No agreement to this effect has been made, and we wish to deny flatly that any proposition of this sort has been offered to either by the association or its members," said Col. E. E. Kelly, secretary-manager. "A rumor to this effect has, however, been circulated over town by the plumbers themselves."

Colonel Kelly also announced that the strike had been settled and an agreement made whereby they were returning to work at a scale of $12 per day, in addition to which they were to receive a bonus of $2 per day.

COTTON MARKET.

New York Cotton. NEW YORK, May 3.—Reports that there had been a slight rise in eastern sections of the belt over Sunday combined with better prospects for a setback of the Lancashire wage disputes, the passing of May Day without any sensational advance abroad made cotton open today. First prices were unchanged to 50 points higher with late months relatively firm, but near positions turned up right after the call, about 25 to 30 points net higher. This carried July up to 38.50 and October to 36.00 after which there were reactions of 20 to 25 points under realizing. Trading was quiet during the early afternoon and there was little further change in prices, which, however, showed a tendency to sag under scattered liquidation. July sold off to 38.00, or about 20 points net lower, but the new crop remained relatively steady owing to unfavorable advices from the south with October falling around 35.57. The failure of the eastern belt rain news and early advance to attract a broadening commission house demand was evident as a disappointment to early buyers. The earlier tone of the market was not an opening advance also promoted a tendency to take profits on long contracts and other worked lower with late months July was relatively weak, selling off to 35.00, or 10 points net lower, while later months about 10 to 15 points higher than points from the best with October selling at 35.00 or only 10 points above Friday's close. Brokers were credited with selling July and October.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Chicago Grain. CHICAGO, May 3.—Uncertainty as to whether the intensity of the 1920 crop season did not mean production seriously below normal had a decided bullish effect today in the corn market. Comment that Chicago grain receipts were down to the burlesque point tended also to boost quotations. Opening quotations, which ranged from unchanged figures to 1 1/2c higher, with July $1.52 1/2 to $1.56 and September $1.56 to $1.58 1/2, were followed by material upturns all around. New high record prices were reached in oats. Scarciness of supplies readily available for delivery on May contracts was to a large extent responsible. After opening at 1 1/2c up, including July at 50 1/2 to 50c, the market continued to ascend. Demand for meats was lacking. Lard, however, scored a fair advance. No important set-back took place. The market closed nervous 3/4c to 4 1/2c net higher, with July $1.60 1/2 to $1.63 1/2 and September $1.60 to $1.63 1/2.

New Orleans Cotton. NEW ORLEANS, May 3.—Much rain in the eastern half of the belt caused rather strenuous buying of cotton on the opening today and for sometime after, but after July had risen to 38.50 and the active months were 10 to 15 points up, the market did a right-about and reacted sharply on private predictions of rain in Texas. Toward the middle of the morning, the trading months were only 10 to 20 points higher than the close of last week, July falling off to 35.00. Reaction in rain for the west was based on the low barometer over that section of the belt. Unfavorable labor developments among New England mills were arger offset by numerous complaints of repeating on the part of the cotton growers in the belt and the market made little price change, standing late in the morning at 35.00 points over the close of last week. The distant months being stronger than the near. The market retained a rather easy undertone into the late trading and toward the close stood 5 points down to 22 points up compared with Saturday's final prices, July being the weakest month and dropping to 35.00. Distant months were steadier than the near because of reports of more rain during the day in the eastern belt. The market closed steady at a net advance of 10 to 40 points.

New York Stocks. NEW YORK, May 3.—Trading on the stock exchange today opened with a number of substantial advances, sentiment evidently being encouraged at the absence of labor disturbances during the May Day recess. Brokers reported many buying orders from interior points. General Motors was the stronger feature at the start, gaining 3 points. Republic, Studebaker, Baldwin and Mexican Petroleum advanced 1 to 2 1/2 points. The demand for rails was light at irregular change. Steadiness became more acute during the noon hour. The Mexican situation added to other unfavorable developments. General Motors extended its loss to almost 30 points and Crucible Steel showed an ex-

FOREMAN'S ASSAILANTS FINED IN POLICE COURT

The second battle of Ninth street was fought late Saturday afternoon, according to "official" reports entered upon the records of police courts Monday morning. The second battle was staged a few hours after the first and was by far the most important engagement. There was lots of blood, much loud talking and at least one casualty. If reports disclosed before Justice Judge Ogilvie are correct.

The "battle" was a rather one-sided affair. Five husky common laborers formed in battle array and armed with shovels, heavy boards and rocks attacked with vigor the foreman of the gang. The foreman, a big Minnesotan, who served in the Argonne, at Saint Mihiel and several other places with the Yankee division, proved a veteran fighter and his assailants were hurled in rapid succession down a seven-foot excavation. At length a member of the attacking party placed a knockout blow with a heavy piece of timber upon the husky Minnesotan's head and two "coppers" came up from an alley just in time to count him out.

The Minnesotan was adjudged not guilty by Police Judge Ogilvie following a long trial Monday. City Attorney Mann recommended that a verdict of not guilty be written. The Minnesotan's three assailants, however, were fined $15 each. The former 28th division veteran appeared in police court last week charged with affray. He was adjudged not guilty in this case also, but three persons charged with assaulting him were fined for affray.

MANY FELONY CASES AWAIT GRAND JURY

At least 40 felony cases are scheduled for investigation by the grand jury, when it convenes here May 17, it was announced at the district attorney's office Monday. Three murder cases will be investigated and information is now being gathered on a large number of felony cases involving theft of oil field equipment, swindling and similar offenses.

District Attorney Fletcher Jones has been at Henrietta during much of the past week working with the Clay county grand jury there. The office here has been in charge of Sam Holiday, assistant district attorney, during Mr. Jones' absence. Mr. Holiday had devoted a major portion of his time to collecting data on criminal cases, which he will place before the grand jury.

BURKBURNETT TO HAVE NEW FIRE TRUCK

BURKBURNETT, May 3.—Burkburnett is to have a new fire truck. The city has just ordered a $11,500 fire truck, which will be delivered within 90 days. The truck is the most up to date apparatus now manufactured and should be worth thousands of dollars to Burkburnett in the way of saving on the large premiums now being required on fire insurance policies. The initial payment on this truck will be $5,500. The city is in a bad way at this time to make this payment; but it is hoped that in 90 days the greater part of the delinquent taxes will have been paid into the city treasury. Some $50,000 in taxes is past due the city by oil companies who have taken millions of dollars in oil from under the townsite during the past year; they have destroyed beautiful homes, demanded and received fire and police protection, and the small amount of taxes against their once valuable properties remain unpaid.

These same oil companies have drawn oil from underneath the street and alleys of Burkburnett without protection from the city and it does seem like they might "kick in" the small amount of taxes which is now past due and badly needed to further protect their interests in the development of their leases within the city limits. This is a time coming when these properties will be sold at auction for these demands, according to law.

Many places of business, including drug stores, soft drink stands, soda water fountains and wholesale dealers of near beer, voluntarily closed their places of business here this morning. Later in the day some of them, however, re-opened their doors and business was resumed the rest of the day. It is reported that this step was taken in anticipation of the enforcement of the Sunday laws by the city authorities. No order had gone out from the department, however, from the city officials, but the rumor that such action would be taken was spread, hence the action of the dealers.

Late Saturday night a committee called upon the mayor for an expression of his views on the subject, and was informed by that official to the effect that all complaints made before him on any violation of the laws over which he had jurisdiction would have his consideration and would be prosecuted, regardless as to whether they were Sunday laws or otherwise.
