WOOD CAMPAIGN FUND OVER MILLION DOLLARS

Treasurer of Campaign Committee Accounts for Expenditures of $1,174,910

THREE MEN ADVANCED LARGER PART OF SUM

Further Testimony Before Senate Committee on Johnson-Hoover Contest

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Senate investigation today of pre-convention expenditures dealt largely with financing of Major General Leonard Wood's campaign and the Johnson-Hoover republican primary fight in California, with further attempts to get on the trail of the McAdoo boom. Holding its first night session and sitting all 11 hours, the committee heard evidence that a national campaign fund of $1,174,910 had been raised for Wood and that the national campaign fund for Senator Johnson approximated $200,000. Charges that Hoover supporters in California spent at the lowest estimate $300,000 in the primary fight against Senator Johnson also were made.

Mr. Sprague's testimony disclosed that the financing of General Wood's campaign had been done largely by three men—Colonel William Proctor of Cincinnati, A. E. Monell of New York, and Mr. Sprague, Colonel Proctor's partner. Mr. Monell contributed $100,000 in addition to a contribution of $20,000. Two hundred thousand dollars were borrowed from two Chicago banks on endorsement by Colonel Proctor. Mr. Sprague said he was a joint endorser of the note and expected to pay it.

He placed total contributions at $358,765 with John D. Rockefeller Jr. of New York, the largest with $25,000. Mr. Sprague said he expected to get back his advances but the witness expressed grave doubts that he would. Denying that there was any question of the deficiencies of $221,000, representing the difference between the total expenditures and receipts, he repaid.

Mr. Sprague's report showed that in Ohio where charges of excessive expenditures in the Wood campaign were made before the committee, $60,000 was spent on "state organizations," $12,000 on newspaper advertising and $24,000 on "postage, speakers traveling expenses, circularizing, bill boards, telephone and telegraph, $15,300."

Mr. Sprague testified that money was paid out from headquarters "on order from Colonel Proctor or W. B. Burtt."

WILSON'S REQUEST ARMENIAN MANDATE COMES UNDER FIRE

WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Wilson's request that congress authorize a mandate over Armenia came under fire from democrats and republicans today when the resolution to deny such an authorization was brought up in the senate.

From the democratic side, however, came a proposal to soften the resolution by adding a provision extending American aid in the economic upbuilding of the new republic. The plan was taken under advisement by republicans so that senators might study it, an agreement was made to defer until Monday any attempt to set a date for a vote.

Under the suggested provision, presented by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, a joint commission of Americans and Armenians would be authorized to supervise the sale of $50,000,000 in Armenian bonds. The proceeds would go to buy railroad and agricultural materials similar equipment and to the establishment of an Armenian banking system.

Senator Hitchcock said he felt that the resolution as reported would have the effect of "discouraging" the Armenian people. Senator Lodge, republican leader, replied that proposals to aid Armenia would be received with much sympathy on his side, but added that there were many ways in which aid could be extended.

TELS OF PLANS FOR REMOVAL OF AMERICAN DEAD

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Under an agreement reached with the French government, the return of the American soldier's bodies to their native zone in France will begin after September 15.

Ralph Hayes, assistant to Secretary Baker, recently returned from a mission to France to complete arrangements, has reported that French objections finally were waived in April, removal to be limited to those bodies for the return of which relatives had been asked.

Mr. Hayes reaffirms the policy of the war department to defer to relatives the disposition of bodies after arriving in America.

Those which remain in France will be "fittingly tendered" to the French government in fields of honor purchased for that purpose. The report deals at length with arrangements for acquisition, location and preparation of the bodies.

WOMEN TAKE HAND IN OPEN SHOP MOVE; MAN HOTEL CAFE AND PLEDGE SUPPORT TO MOVEMENT

Unqualified support to the Open Shop movement was pledged by those attending a well attended mass meeting of women held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon. Those in attendance were for the most part members of the Civic League, which organization is co-operating in every way with the Open Shop association.

While on account of the statutes of Texas no definite agreement to this effect could be made, individuals among the women in attendance who had occasion to speak declared an intention to patronize only business establishments who were identified with the Open Shop movement, statements which drew forth marks of approval from the women in attendance.

Mrs. T. B. Smock, president of the Civic League, presided at the meeting. Among the women speaking was Miss Florence Jackson, who has been in charge of the organization for the manning of a local restaurant, who spoke of a number of women calling up and volunteering their services in the emergency.

Other speakers included T. B. Noble, president of the Open Shop association; Col. E. E. Kelly, secretary-manager of the association; T. B. Smock, Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Frank Kell, and H. L. Bowman, manager of the Westland Hotel.

The power which lies in the hands of the women through their being the family purchasing agents were stressed by all the speakers.

Mr. Kell in his remarks referred to the overabundance of Wichita Falls' quota of half a million toward the building of the Wichita Falls-Dallas interurban in about 20 minutes time, and spoke of the fact that the men who were responsible for this, and for the various other progressive steps in Wichita Falls were identified with the Open Shop movement.

"The men who built this town are not going to see it destroyed through a continuance of conditions which have prevailed in the past," said Mr. Kell. "Furthermore they feel every confidence in the women of the city responding and backing their efforts as they always have without fail in the past."

Social Set as Waitresses.

The manning of the Westland cafe by women and girls from the most exclusive local social set was probably the outstanding feature in the events of the day in connection with the cooks and waiters' strike, which precipitated the latest activity in the Open Shop movement. The women worked in two shifts, the morning morning and noon meals, and the second shift being on duty at the evening meal. A tempting and substantial plate lunch at a moderate cost was served at each of the various meals. A feature of the work of the morning shift was the tips collected by the girls serving the tables, ranging in amounts of from $2 to $7 each. The money was donated by the girls to the Civic League treasury. No tips were collected at the meeting of the Saturday afternoon legislative against tips.

On Duty Again Today.

It is announced that the women will be again on duty Sunday. The cafe, however, expects to have a full crew in town by Monday and to be able to dispense with the services of the volunteers by that time.

Among those composing the two shifts on duty Saturday were the following: Misses Pauline Richard, Leah Belle Duff, Mary Colquitt, Agnes Reid, Ruby Moore, Adele Adickes, Leila Beall Anderson, Margaret McMahon, and Misses A. Richard, Frank Kell, M. M. Adickes, A. O. Scharrf, Joe Colonna, M. J. Gardner, Brown, E. B. Kirley, Barker, Francis, Jackson, C. M. Miller, Gafney, Smock and Norma Brown.

Other restaurants affected by the strike were also in operation Saturday, as well as on the preceding days. Many of these restaurants have several members interested in the management who are able to help in the kitchen and all have apparently been able to secure sufficient help other than the strikers to permit operations. Several of the proprietors asserted that they have men on the way to take the place of strikers, and others assert that they would not consider a return to work of their former employees.

Bus Boy Assaulted.

The single disturbance in connection with the strike came with the arrest of an ex-waiter who gave the name of Jackson, known as "Soldier Jack" by city policemen on a charge of striking a small Mexican boy employed in one of the restaurants affected by the strike with a stick. After investigation by the police, the case was adjudged to come within the jurisdiction of a higher court, and the prisoner was turned over to the county attorney's office. The man was later released by John Martin, assistant county attorney, who declared that the man's explanation of the affair was that the boy was struck in fun, and the striking had nothing to do with the present strike. A protest was later made by the Open Shop association, directors of which declared that the boy had had to be accompanied to his home for safety, and had been threatened with continued work in that cafe, and that the man had admitted to city police in their presence that he had struck the boy. The assistant county attorney declared that the boy had to be placed had been before him in the investigation. He was assured that the proprietor of the cafe in which the boy was at work was ready to file a complaint, whereupon the attorney assured them of prosecution. Later it was said, however, that the man had left town in the interim between this action and his being released.

ing was the limit for the Johnson campaign. "If you were impartial about it, would you write stories about the expenditure of all candidates?" said Senator Reed.

"Not exactly," the witness said. "I had a direct statement that $86,000 was raised for Johnson in California. Replying to further questioning the witness said his "paper is supporting Hoover."

Democrat Questioned.

Evan S. Harris of Albany, New York, former democratic state chairman, was called and questioned as to a campaign for William G. McAdoo. He said he did not know whether there was a McAdoo campaign or a McAdoo fund.

"We've been told you can give us something about this," Senator Kenyon said.

"I've been out of touch for two years," he answered.

"Did Daniel C. Roper ever ask you about the McAdoo candidacy?" Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey asked.

"I'll say no and then explain," Mr. Harris replied. "Mr. Roper asked me if I thought he should give up his business in case Mr. McAdoo becomes a candidate. I advised him not to."

"You know Mr. McAdoo is a candidate?" Senator Edge asked.

"I know he said he wasn't," Harris returned.

Principals and choruses of the big Shrine Club society musical event, are hard at work, and "Round the Clock with the Debutantes" is already taking on, even with the first few rehearsals the appearance of a real, sure enough girly, girly show, with lots of singing, dancing and pretty girls. Now for just a little hint of what there will be, and who there will be to see and hear. In the first place Mrs. James C. Mytinger, Mrs. Walter Mason Fridy, and Mrs. Walter S. Robertson are in the cast as soloists, among other favorite singers of the musical talent of Wichita Falls. All three have specialty song numbers, solo and with chorus.

There will be more than 100 society folks in the show, which will open with a big "Usherette" specialty number, with a bevy of dainty maids in usher costumes, mingling with the audience. With this peppy start the show winks into "In the Land of Let's Pretend" with Miss Audrey Ferguson as soloist, and Rose Marion Art as the Clock Baby Toe Dancer. Then the Clock Girls are introduced, Wichita Falls debutantes. Other specialty choruses will be the Spook Girls, the Rainbows, the Winter Garden Mirror Scene, the Blue Paradise Riding Girls, and so many more enticing things that we'll have to say "continued in our next."

CARPENTER'S UNION WILL CARRY OUT THEIR CONTRACTS

By a vote of 212 to 28, members of Wichita Falls local of the carpenters union Saturday night voted to carry out their contracts and to abide strictly by the rules of their international organization, according to a report made last night by W. B. McNeely, president of the local.

"This action means that the carpenters will carry out their contracts regardless of the actions of other unions," Mr. McNeely said. "That has been our vote every time the issue has been raised. The carpenters of Wichita Falls will not be the first to violate or break their contracts. We will adhere strictly to our contracts and by our international rules."

It has been reported previously that the carpenters had joined other crafts in a strike here.

Mr. McNeely's statement was taken to indicate that the carpenters had no intention of striking on work for members of the open shop unless such action was in accordance with the rules of the carpenters union, which was not indicated by him.

BUREAU OF MINES HAS PLAN TO MAKE LIGNITE MORE SUITED FOR FUEL

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Efforts to make the lignite or brown coals of Texas, North Dakota, and other western states so serviceable to that part of the country that it will be unnecessary in the future to ship in other coals at great expense are to be inaugurated immediately by the bureau of mines, department of the interior at New Salem, North Dakota, in cooperation with a company there.

constituting one-third of the fuel resources of the nation, are available in these states, but have been little used because of the great amount of moisture in them, their tendency to disintegrate when dry and their liability to spontaneous combustion. In fact, the difficulties have been so great in burning the lignite that the people have preferred to buy their coal in Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky and Pennsylvania, bringing into their localities several million tons of coal that had been hauled an average of 1,000 miles and at a cost of nearly $5,000,000 in freights. The bureau of mines proposes to carbonize and briquet this raw lignite and develop a smokeless domestic fuel that will do away with the importation of domestic coal into this section of the country. By heating the lignite sufficiently to drive off the moisture and a part of the gases, a char is obtained which in heating value closely approximates anthracite coal. The briquetting of this makes a very satisfactory fuel.

An appropriation of $100,000 was made by congress a year ago for this purpose and the bureau of mines has after a careful study of the entire field in which a number of the cities in these states have offered their facilities fitted for the investigations, selected New Salem as the place which will begin at once. It is claimed in this process of carbonizing the lignite and making briquettes out of it that not only is a superior domestic fuel created but that valuable by-products are made, such as enormous quantities of gas to be used for fuel or power purposes, and a great amount of oils and tars.

those parts of the plant that are unusual and special and in making a thorough investigation of the process and of the quantities produced so that a report for public use will be available for those desiring to enter this field.

MEN WILL BE SERVED AT Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA

The Y. W. C. A. will cater quite as much to the men, as to the women and girls of the town in the new cafeteria, which it is hoped to open on June 9, on the second floor of the Anderson building, over the Palace drug store, Miss Baze, the cafeteria director states. With the larger space there will be no restrictions necessary, as has been the case on the hours when the men can come, unattended. It has been necessary to make a rule that between 12:00 and 1:00 o'clock a man could not be served at the cafeteria, except when accompanying a woman or girl, but the necessity for this rule has been removed, and men are welcomed at all hours the cafeteria is open. The menus will also have specials to cater to the masculine taste, it is stated, and an increased patronage of men is hoped for.

If You Love Her—You Want Life Insurance to PROTECT HER!

Meet the question squarely. Be honest with yourself. Are you carrying enough life insurance to protect her if ———?

When your application for $1,000, $10,000 or $100,000 policy is accepted, you have instantly added that amount to your estate.

You have then assured yourself that your widow, your children, your mother or your sister will be provided for.

The time to become insured is when you are young, when your earning power is greatest—when you seem to need insurance the least.

In New York City 85.5% of the people who die, die penniless or nearly so. Most of these people were large wage earners for many years. Many were men receiving large salaries.

Insurance is a subject for immediate discussion—not to "talk about some other time," but NOW. "LATER" may mean—too late!

The average human life is 38 years, but no man can number the years of his own life.

TOMORROW!

Do you KNOW? You do NOT know what may happen—tomorrow.

Are you eligible for life insurance? Will the examining physician pass you—or pass you up?

Today is the time to think about these things. To think—to act.

If you love her—you want life insurance to protect her in time of need. Why not talk with us today?

We wish to state that we have one of the oldest and strongest life insurance companies of America, the Manhattan Life Insurance Co., of N. Y., organized 1850 and if you are interested in life insurance we would like to quote you rates.

BOY SCOUT WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED IN WICHITA FALLS

As a part of its tenth birthday celebration the Boy Scouts of America will observe the week commencing today, and ending June 6th, nationally as Boy Scout Week. This will be a characteristically outdoor celebration and a program of outdoor activities will be carried out in the 17,000 and more communities where scout troops are in operation.

J. P. Pich, national scout commissioner for this district, will arrive here today and take charge of the local campaign. Talks will be given in all the churches this forenoon, relative to the movement. The festivities will be brought to an end locally with a parade Saturday, after which a picture of the scouts will be taken from the Wichita theater.

The Boy Scout's committee of local business men will meet in the Chamber of Commerce Monday night to take active charge of the campaign to raise $7500 for extension work in Wichita Falls.

It would be impossible to estimate the tremendous impetus which the Boy Scout movement has given to outdoor life and outdoor activities among the American boys. During the ten years of its existence in this country it has led tens of thousands of lads away from city streets and set them hiking, camping, following woodland trails, learning to know the trees and stars and birds by name, to find their way by night or day with or without a compass, to choose the best kind of camp site, to set up camp in the right way, to signal messages by semaphore from tower to tower or by heliograph from hill to hill, to build camp fires and cook their own meals over them.

They learn to think quickly, to observe accurately, to look out for themselves and others in ordinary occasions and in special emergencies. They are "prepared" in every sense, prepared to enjoy life to the utmost, to be clean, vigorous, healthy, fresh air animals. Probably more boys have spent more days and nights in the open in the past ten years than in all the past history of this country since pioneer days—a fact very largely due to scout influence and training.

The activities of Boy Scout Week will include outdoor rallies, overnight hikes, barbecues, demonstration camps and competitions in outdoor scouting features.

THEFT FROM INTERSTATE SHIPMENT CHARGED

A complaint charging theft from an interstate shipment of commerce was filed Saturday in federal court here against R. Lanier and H. H. Lark, railway employees. They are alleged to be connected with the theft of a large quantity of oil field equipment from a freight car in the local railway yards about two months ago. Hearing for Lanier and Lark is set for Monday forenoon before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz.

NON-UNION WAITER SEVERELY BEATEN SATURDAY NIGHT

Jack Davis, non-union waiter employed at the Mecca Cafe No. 1, was attacked by nine men at the rear of the Labor temple Saturday night and seriously beaten. The police are searching for Davis' assailants but no arrests have been made. The proprietor of a rooming house on Seventh street near the scene of the affair told police that Davis' assailants fled down an alley just as patrolmen reached the scene.

Davis told Police Chief Goodfellow that he came to Wichita Falls from Kiowa, Oklahoma, in search of work. "I secured employment in a non-union place because I was broke and had to get work," Davis said. "I made application for membership in the cooks' and waiters' union and went to the Labor temple Saturday night for the purpose of joining. I was called to the rear of the Labor temple and attacked by persons, some of whom I recognized as men who earlier in the day had asked me to join the cooks and waiters organization."

Parties passing on the street at the time of the attack heard epithets and cries of "scab."

Davis sustained serious blows in the face. His lips were badly cut and places on his forehead showed that he had been struck several blows there. His shirt and cap was spotted with blood, and bore evidence of a hard struggle.

Police officials announced Saturday night that a strenuous effort would be made to apprehend Davis' assailants and in case they are apprehended charges will be filed against them.

OIL COMPANY CASE WILL GO TO JURY MONDAY

Argument in the case of Frank Pickrell et al vs. The Imperial Petroleum Company opened shortly afternoon Saturday and will be completed Monday. The case is on trial before Judge Edgar Scurry in the 78th district court since Monday.

Frank Pickrell and other prominent El Pasoans are connected in the case as plaintiffs. The plaintiffs are seeking to cancel a contract said to have been entered into with the Imperial Petroleum Company several months ago involving a leasehold upon land in the northwest extension to the Waggoner oil pool. The petition states that approximately $160,000 is involved in the suit.

Pickrell and associates allege that the tract leased by them from the Imperial Petroleum Company failed to produce oil in quantities as recommended by the defendants and upon this ground and several other allegations set forth in their petition, are seeking to secure cancellation of the leasehold contract and also to recover alleged damages said to have resulted from the transaction.

Judge Scurry submitted the case to the jury upon six special issues all of which were set forth in his charge.

BUFFALO-TEXAS CO. COMPLETES FOURTH WELL ON DOUGLAS

The Buffalo-Texas Oil Company has finished its fourth well on the L. P. The company is running around one hundred and fifty barrels daily from their three first wells. All of them were drilled by the Weaver-Johnson Drilling Company.

THE STARRY SKIES IN JUNE

By PROFESSOR DOOLITTLE of the University of Pennsylvania.

The skies, on these warm evenings of early summer, are very beautiful. Surely, no one can glance at the southern heavens without being struck by the brilliant stars and planets which shine out there, especially toward the west; and if he is led to study somewhat the fainter stars, and to explore the eastern sky, especially with a small telescope or a pair of opera glasses, he will find there an inexhaustible source of interest and pleasure.

In the south there are now shining brilliantly the beautiful, bright stars Regulus, Arcturus, Spica and Antares, and the bright planets Jupiter, Saturn and Mars are still conspicuous in our evening sky. And this month we witness the reappearance of Scorpio, the most striking of all the summer groups, with its row in the eastern part of it, where are found the wonderful cloud forms of the Summer Branch of the Milky Way.

The Planets in June
An unusually favorable opportunity to observe the planet Mercury will be afforded toward the close of the month, when Mercury comes to its greatest eastern elongation. This will occur on June 29, and for a few days before and after this date the observer will see it shining far in the northwest in the twilight glow for more than one and one-half hours after sunset. If he finds it when near its elongation it will look half full, but having located it then, he can probably follow it for some weeks longer.

Jupiter continues its slow southward and eastward motion toward the eastern borders of Cancer, but is still in good position for observation. Interesting phenomena of its satellites may be observed on the evenings and nights of June 3, 16, 19, 23 and 25.

Saturn is moving southward and eastward, a very little to the east of the star at V. The rings are now seen so obliquely that they appear very narrow, but they will not entirely disappear until next November. The great moon, Titan, is farthest east of the planet on June 21, and farthest west on June 13 and 29. This moon, notwithstanding its great distance away from Saturn, can readily be seen in a small telescope. It is no less than 3500 miles through much larger than Mercury and nearly as large as Mars. The next largest moon, Iapetus, is 2000 miles in diameter; this can also easily be seen. As minutes P. M., the moon will pass to the east of Mars. As seen from the United States, the two objects will then be a little more than the diameter of the moon apart. Mars being north of the moon. Observers in southern latitudes, however, will see the planet hidden by the moon. On the same evening, and only four hours earlier, they will see the moon hide Spica, but will see our satellite will be soon to pass some distance south of the star.

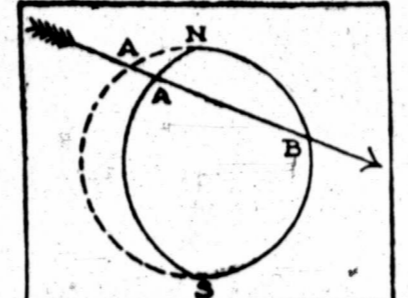

Fig. 3. Apparent path of Beta Scorpii during its occultation on the early morning of June 28.

both the satellites move in circles which we may regard as nearly circular; they seem to oscillate from one side of the planet to the other. Titan occupies a little less than 16 days in one revolution and Iapetus 79 days. The latter will pass from the east to the west of the planet on June 20.

The Longest Day
On June 21 at 0 hours and 40 minutes P. M. (Eastern Standard time), the sun will reach its highest point in the heavens and this will accordingly be the longest day of the year in a latitude of 40 degrees, the sun will rise at 4 hrs. 31 min. A. M. and set at 7 hrs. 32 min. P. M., the day being thus 5 hrs. 2 min. longer than the night. In higher altitudes the difference is, of course, still greater. For example, in latitude 60 degrees the sun will rise at 2 hrs. 26 min. and set at 9 hrs. 28 min., so that the night latitudes twilight will last throughout the year it will run eastward again; the night, and north of the Arctic Circle the sun will, of course, not set at all. Even in a latitude of 40 degrees one can see a faint glow from the sun exactly above the north point of the horizon at midnight.

The Occultation of Beta Scorpii
On the early morning of June 28 the nearly full moon will pass over the star at W (Figure 1) and hide it from view. As seen from Washington, the star will disappear at A (Figure 3) at 1 hour 5 minutes A. M. and reappear at B at 1 hour 47 minutes, thus remaining hidden by the moon for 47 minutes. These times, however, are subject to great variation as the observer changes his position on the earth, and hence looks at the moon from a slightly different direction. Thus, an observer more than 3 degrees below the earth's equator will see the moon pass above the star, one whose latitude is more than 56 degrees will see it pass below the star. In neither case will the star be hidden by the moon.

The best way to observe this interesting phenomenon is to turn the telescope on the star, perhaps 20 minutes before the first of the above times, and then to consider that the moon moves eastward an amount equal to its own diameter in about one hour. One can thus estimate quite closely when the star will disappear.

by the moon was seen and described in the year 295 B. C.

at three bright stars stretching from A to B. Figure 1: its fiery red star, Antares, at C, and its tall, extending first downward and then upward along the exact center of the Milky Way, all the way to D. For many centuries the bright stars E and F marked the tips of the claws in this constellation but these were later removed to form the balance. Before this was done Scorpio was one of the longest constellations of the Zodiac.

The June Stars
The possessor of a small telescope will find much of interest in any part of the sky. Even the very small and inconspicuous group of the balance, lying between Scorpio and Virgo, contains very much more than would be imagined from Figure 1. There are more than 50 naked-eye stars in this little region although, except for the two conspicuous ones, they are all very faint. Just to the right of the star at F, there is a remarkable variable star which grows more than a magnitude fainter in every two days eight hours, and which is now known to be partly eclipsed by a dark sun revolving about and observe its change into a narrow crescent.

Venus is now so very near the sun that it cannot be seen at all during the present month. On July 3 it will pass to the east of the sun and become an evening star, but it will not emerge sufficiently from the sun's rays to be easily seen until next autumn.

Those who have been watching the retrograde motion of Mars in Virgo have seen how this planet has been drawing nearer and nearer to the bluish star Spica (at S) until by June 1 it has almost reached this star, but is two degrees north of it. But on this evening at 8 o'clock the westward motion of Mars will cease, and from then on until the end of the year it will run eastward again; the night, and north of the Arctic Circle the sun will, of course, not set at all. Even in a latitude of 40 degrees one can see a faint glow from the sun exactly above the north point of the horizon at midnight.

The occultation of Beta Scorpii on the early morning of June 28 the nearly full moon will pass over the star at W (Figure 1) and hide it from view. 20 acres in Block 101, Wilbarger County, Texas, 7,000 feet in a northwesterly direction from the famous Sigler well, owned by the Prescott-Peoria people, the discovery well of that district.

CAPITALIZATION

This company is capitalized for $150,000.00 on 40 acres of land in two tracts. Both tracts being exceedingly well located. Our leases are offsets to production on both tracts. All indications are that we cannot miss production on either tract.

DRILLING CONTRACT

A contract has been let with the Burk-Wagoner Oil and Gas Company to drill eight wells on the company's 40 acres, four wells on each tract. Seven-sixteenths of the oil goes to the stockholders free of costs to them, as the drilling company must pay all expenses incident to the drilling of the wells and operation expenses when the wells are brought in.

This company will be operated under the same plan as that of the Golconda Oil Company No. 1, which to date has paid 649.5 per cent dividends off 10 acres, while we have 40 acres with a better chance for production than Golconda Oil Company No. 1 had when they sold their initial stock as they were considered a wildcat at that time, our leases being offsets to production on both tracts. Golconda Oil Company No. 1 is still paying dividends at the rate of 25 per cent monthly and is the most sought of all oil stocks in the open market.

OFFICERS

W. O. Powell, known to the oil fraternity as "Dump" Powell, is president of the company. He has been highly successful in the oil business and has acquired a reputation for honesty, energy and keen judgment. To those of Mr. Powell's acquaintance his endorsement on any proposition is a guarantee of its merit. The fact that he has put his name on this organization and is assuming active direction of its affairs argues well for the future of the company. He has laid down a policy of clean, sound business administration, and aggressive development of the company's property and pledges his every energy to the promotion of the stockholders' interests. Any bank or banker in Wichita or Wilbarger counties will cheerfully testify as to his financial responsibility and his success in the oil business.

Mr. J. E. MacDonald, the secretary-treasurer of the company, is a man of broad business experience and executive ability. He commands the respect of his legion of friends for his honesty, ambition, tact and energy. He is thoroughly conversant with the details of organization and administration of corporation business, and admirably equipped by education and training to carry out the policy of the company as laid down by the board of trustees.

SPUDDERS' SPURT STOPPED BY EXPORTERS IN FINAL GAME

EXPORTERS BREAK SPUDDERS' WINNING STREAK AND TAKE LONG END OF 4 TO 3 SCORE

'Buck' Weaver pitched in his usual hard luck yesterday and received that customary support that has been accorded him in the majority of games in which he had worked.

'Buck' was hit hard throughout the game, but had been backed up properly by the Spudders in the first inning.

The Spudders got the jump on the Spudgers in the first inning, Mathes drove one over Brown's head that was good for one sack.

Mathes pulled up at second, hit Bennett and he was safe. The Spudders grounded out in one, two three order in their portion of the inning.

The Exporters kept going in the second and added by a marvellous error by Brown registered another tally.

With one down, Monroe drew a pass. It looked very much as if Miller missed the fourth ball, however.

Monroe hit to Weaver who threw to Brown in plenty of time to make a double play, but the latter dropped the ball.

A fast double play killed the Spudgers chances in this round. Mokon opened with a pass, but was doubled when Storey hit weakly to Bailey.

Storey's single in the third was wasted and he got a runner than first. The Spudders got one run back in this frame.

The Spudders could do nothing with Bailey in the fourth and fifth and went out in order.

Beaumont's final tally in the sixth was the result of another error. Monroe punched a safety to right that went through Joseph's legs and the Beaumont scored his second.

The Spudders tried hard to tie up the score in the eighth but failed and Weaver in the eighth but fanned and Honck, hitting for Storey did likewise.

Sport Comment

By Paul W. Larkin

Well, we can't win 'em all. The Spudgers simply cannot play behind 'Buck' Weaver.

'Buck' wasn't the only loser on that score, though. We stated in this column yesterday that Miller was working under a handicap...

Mathes was having a snooze in the third when Grubb registered. He held the ball and watched Grubb tear for home, while a quick throw would have caught the Spudger easily.

Monroe turned in the fielding features of the game. He came in fast twice in the fifth inning, and got his men at first by quick throws. He did not have a second to spare, but his pegs were perfect.

This afternoon's opposition for the Spudders at Athletic park will be supplied by Galveston, the Pirates making their initial bow of the season here.

Tomorrow night will tell just how badly Speedy Sparks was damaged by Harry Krohn's last Monday night. Speedy was pretty well battered by Krohn but thinks he can stop Lavender.

Harvey Thorpe who has gained victories over Otto Wallace and Bobby Wagon, had been matched up by Edwards, with Eddie Huse, a welterweight from the Pacific coast. The scrappers will meet here June 7.

TEXAS KID

Everything is set for tomorrow night for the 12-round go at the Camel A. C. between Eddie Lewis and Texas Kid. The men have trained up to the last notch and both declared themselves fit for the fight, last night.

Lewis, who won the decision over Sid Martin last Monday night has been working out all week with Freddie Hill and Dick Griffin. Texas Kid needs no introduction to Wichita fight fans, as his work here two weeks ago stamps him as a scrapper of the first water. The main event will not have much of the semifinal for real speed and scrapping. Speedy Sparks and Gene Lavender of Houston will hook up in this event. Gene has licked all the 155 pounders between here and Houston and is looking for a main event. Sparks, on the other hand, is anxious to redeem himself for the defeat suffered last Monday night at the hands of Harry Krohn. If Sparks wins tomorrow night by a decisive margin he will meet Young Fitzsimmons June 7, and if he loses it will be a long time before he gets into another main event.

Manager Al Edwards brought back some good preliminary artists with him from Fort Worth and promises that there will be plenty of excitement from the opening gong until either Eddie Lewis or Texas Kid is declared winner.

LONGHORN BASEBALL SQUAD CLOSES SEASON SOUTHWEST CHAMPS

University of Texas Has Record of 17 Won Out of 22 Played

AUSTIN, May 29.—Baseball season has been officially closed at the University of Texas with the Longhorn squad of 1920 coming out as champions of the Southwest and of the state. Official statistics just issued show that the Texas squad won 17 out of 22 games played in the state and nine out of 11 conference games, giving all state leadership with a percentage of .722 and first place in the conference with .818. A. & M. College took second place in the conference with .667.

The 1920 intercollegiate baseball season in Texas was the most strenuous and closely-contested of any for years back. The Longhorns have not gone up against one mediocre college team but have had to fight in every game. Two games were taken from T. C. U. by sensational eighth and ninth inning rallies. The conference struggle developed three main contenders, Baylor, A. & M. and Texas. Up until the first contest with Baylor, April 30, the Baptists were leading the race, having lost only one game, but Texas took four straight from them, and these with three from A. & M. meant first honors.

Coach Ditch has announced that letters will be awarded to the following: D. C. Cannon (captain) of Bishop, Maxey Hart of Austin, Irvin Gilbert of Alpine, Albert Penn of Austin, Ralph Barry of Navasota, F. F. Leisner of Davy, B. A. Falk of Austin, George McCullough of Waco, Sammie Robertson of Dallas, Maxey Moore of Cleburne, Dudley English of Kennard, Howard Fitzgerald of Eagle Lake, and William L. McGill (manager) of Corsicana.

The batting and fielding averages are as follows:

BILL TO LEGALIZE TEN-ROUND BOUTS IS SUBMITTED

AUSTIN, TEX., May 29.—The boxing bill, which proposes to legalize boxing in Texas, was submitted to the legislature today by the governor. This bill, which is being advocated by the American Legion was introduced in the senate by Senators Bledsoe and Johnson. It authorizes 10-round bouts and provides for the appointment of a commission of three men appointed by the governor and to be known as the state athletic commission of Texas. The bill provides for licensed referees and that such officials must stop any bout when one man is apparently outclassed. In his message submitting the bill, the governor stated that the necessity for such a measure "has become apparent since the establishment of the army camps in Texas."

WICHITA MOTOR TRUCK BASEBALL OUTFIT GOING AT TOP SPEED AND LEADS WAY IN CITY LEAGUE

All work and no play is said to make Jack a dull boy and perhaps that is why there is so much of that stuff that has the merry chuckle to it found at the Wichita Motors Company factory nowadays. The Wichita Motors company has a real, live, active baseball team. Those who are inclined to doubt this statement can find sustaining evidence from the members of other teams in the Wichita Falls City league that have played against this peerless bunch of ballplayers.

This picture was posed especially for the times. The man in the standing row nearest the spare tire is Joe Hanson, the second baseman of this team. Hanson is in charge of the machine department at the factory. He is possessed of great agility and has an eye that could locate a dime in a saw-dust arena, an asset ever needed by ballplayers—not the dime, but that kind of eye.

The man who stands next to Hanson and who looks in the picture as if he were affectionately squeezing himself, is Coleman, the center fielder, and he fills his garden spots with a thoroughness that robs many an opponent of the great joys of juicy joy. The standing player with the hunchy nose who stands next to Coleman is one Arbuckle, who is not a relation to Patty, but who knows every swimming hole within seven miles of Austin and Webberville in this state.

Next to Arbuckle stands W. O. Beeman, president of the Wichita Falls City league and assistant treasurer of the Wichita Motors company. Beeman is the one who has his left hand on his right shoulder as if in the act of wanting to rub down his right arm gentilelike to assuage the effects of the second shot for paralympoid.

Claude A. Arnold, traffic manager, is that stocky built, semi-good looking and always in good humor man who stands to the port of Beeman. Arnold is the utility player. He can catch, throw, bat 'em out, and in a pinch can put 'em over the pitcher's slab.

The towering man just to the left of Arnold, and slightly back of him, is Team Captain Stanley Hill. He holds down first base. Hill owns a flivver, but he has never been rattled in any game he has played in. Next to Hill to the left is Scott, one of the pitchers, who has a greater collection of curves and such stuff than the average soldier of the S. O. S. in the A. E. F. had of battle relics when he last saw the face of Miss Goddess of Liberty in New York. The last man of the standing row is Fred Decker, by far the most astute looker of the whole team.

Decker is the prime utility player and he can take 'em on at any place. The young man with the debutante smile who is sitting, squatting, or tall-or-fashion resting, on the extreme end of the bottom row nearest the spare tire is Leon Trice, who plays third base with considerable gusto. Trice has practiced on that smile he is displaying continuously, and shows that practice can simulate perfection if persisted in. He is the company's photographer.

The man to the left of Trice, who is in a chuckling mood is Rinehart, the right fielder. Rinehart isn't long in body, but he has a rattling swift pair of legs, a holding pair of hands and a head full of all sorts of judgment of fly balls, whether fair or foul.

The center specimen of the bottom row, who has that 'oh, phaw, is that so?' pose is George McGhee, the left fielder. McGhee admits nativity of Vernon, Tex., and when pressed real hard will also acknowledge that during the cruel war he belonged to the air service. But he can play ball and he really likes it. He knows all about the rules, which is not a bad thing for a baseball player to know.

The other pitcher who is to the left of McGhee is Lee and Lee can pitch. He can shoot 'em over, top 'em over or curve 'em over in 57 different varieties. He is certainly some pickie!

The last man on the bottom row, the one nearest the front fenders in the sitting or semi-squatting posture, is Glass. Glass is a real ball player of the college variety. Besides being a ballplayer, Glass is also the sole owner of the nicest, gentlest and most perfectly handbroken mustache found on the Wichita Motors baseball team. He plays short stop and he covers his territory completely, generally.

The team has gone up against some of the best amateur teams in Wichita Falls and it is still crowing lustily and with some real pride. Here are the results of the first six games thus far chalked up:

Presbyterians 8; Wichita Motors 9 (Garrison finish). American National bank 5; Wichita Motors 0. American National bank 5; Wichita Motors 6. City National bank 3; Wichita Motors 15.

The individual averages, exclusive of the first two games, follow:

Player	AB	H	PO	A	E	Field	Avg.
Coleman	12	5	1	1	6	417	.250
Rinehart	8	3	1	4	1	375	.375
Hill	15	5	4	7	3	333	.333
Hanson	18	6	4	6	5	323	.323

HAGEN-GOES TO ENGLAND FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, May 29.—Walter C. Hagen, of Rochester, N. Y., the national open title holder, has gone to England to take part in the British open championship competition which will begin at Brest, England, on June 28. The Kentish course is laid out over the sand dunes bordering the North Sea and the pick of the best British professional talent and half a score of first class amateurs will make up the field of contestants against whom the small team of American professionals headed by Hagen, will have to compete.

In Hagen the United States has a real home bred professional golfer, who has learned everything he knows about the game on this side of the Atlantic ocean. Born at Rochester, N. Y., 28 years ago, Hagen was first attracted to the ancient game when as a schoolboy he spent his evenings on the local club course working as a caddy. Although from his earliest efforts to master the intricacies of the links game Hagen gave promise of unusual proficiency it was not until the fall of 1913 that he jumped into public notice. That was the year in which Francis Ouimet tied with and subsequently defeated the British experts Vardon and Ray. In the national open championship tournament at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass. this famous trio had scores of 204 each while there was a quadruple tie for fourth place between Hagen, Jim Barnes, Macdonald Smith and Louis Talier, the French professional, with scores of 207 each.

In August of the following year, 1914, Hagen won the open title from a great field of players at the Midlothian Country Club, Blue Island, Ill., with a score of 290, just one stroke under the famous amateur Charles "Chick" Evans, of Chicago, who took second honors while Ouimet finished in a triple tie with the professionals M. J. Brady and James A. Donohue, for fifth place with scores of 298 each.

After finishing in seventeenth and seventh places for the open championship in 1915 and 1916, Hagen won the title again last year after a tie with M. J. Brady at Boston. Each had a score of 301 and in the 18 hole play off Hagen won with 77 to Brady's 72.

Miss Kathleen Lynch as "Laughing Water" in Longfellow's "Hiawatha"

HICKS, WHOSE HOUSEGUESTS MR. AND MRS. VANCELEAVE WERE

The dinner was given at the Hicks home, 1506 Filmore, a five course menu being served. The table appointments were exceptionally attractive, pink roses forming the centerpiece, and providing the motif for the various accessories.

The guests included several prominent visitors to Wichita Falls who were invited to meet the young oil magnate who is one of the best known figures in the oil history of this district, and his charming wife, Mr. and Mrs. Vancleave returned Saturday to their home, making only a flying visit in Wichita Falls.

Suits of Tricotine, Serges, Velours and other materials marked at a wonderful saving.

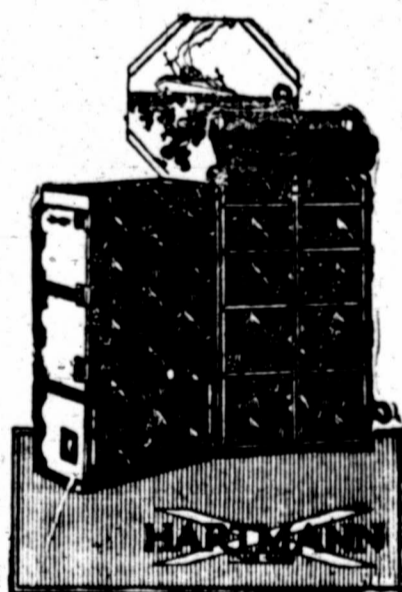

Be Careful About the Corset You Wear. It Will Make or Mar Your Attractiveness

Of one thing be quite sure; the day of the obviously corseted woman has gone. Buy your corsets with the idea of accenting the natural beauty of your figure. Buy the corset that will give you comfort; the corset that will give you poise and perfect body proportions without a moment's feeling of restraint; the corset that will accent your every natural charm.

There is not a type of figure however unusual or difficult to fit but can be successfully corseted in GOSSARD CORSETS. The admired woman who wears a GOSSARD has an unconscious grace that can only result from priceless comfort and her corset is so much a part of her that the most critical observer cannot trace her charm to its deft support.

And GOSSARDS are priced within the reach of every woman.

A few reasons why Women Should Buy Hartmann Wardrobe Trunks.

Do you know that in packing one of these trunks it is as easy as transferring clothes from one closet to another? Wouldn't it be a great convenience to feel that you will not have to pack and repack during the trip? Your frocks will be as safe during the whole trip as if they were in your own closets at home, and you can always select the frock you wish to wear instantly without disturbing the rest. Those who have once experienced the convenience of one of these wonderful trunks will never again put up with the old style trunks in which clothes are always jumbled together, and the frock you want is always at the bottom, necessitating you taking everything out to get it. So convenient is the wardrobe trunk, so much is it appreciated by the people who own one, that many ladies of this city use their trunks the whole year round. They keep their most cherished gowns in them, even when they are at home. Despite its many advantages the Hartmann Wardrobe Trunk costs very little if any more than a well made trunk of any style. For your clothes sake and because of its many conveniences it is a decided economy as well as a pleasure to own a Hartmann Wardrobe Trunk. Trunks priced up to $125.00.

ELEVEN MILES OF STREET PAVING IS MAPPED OUT

Street Commissioner Curlee Outlines Paving Program for Ensuing 12 Months

FIVE CONTINUOUS PAVED HIGHWAYS ARE INCLUDED

Concrete, Bitulithic and Tarvia are Materials That Will Probably be Used

A paving program comprising more than 11 miles has been mapped out by Councilman W. S. Curlee, street commissioner, for construction during the next 12 months. Completion of the program as a whole will depend largely upon the attitude of the property owners on the streets listed.

Mr. Curlee has announced a different policy in handling paving contracts: Hereafter, when the residents of a street desire paving, they present a petition to the council, specifying the material desired, and the council deals direct with the contractor. Concrete, asphalt, bitulithic and tarvia pavements are to be laid, Mr. Curlee's plan provides, with preference given the material chosen by property owners, whenever feasible.

One of the methods outlined in the charter, whereby paving may be paid for in annual installments, will probably be made effective in the near future, according to the street commissioner's plans.

Five Paved Highways.
The paving program would give five continuous paved highways to the western part of the city instead of one, as at present. Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Fifteenth streets, according to the program would be paved to the western residence district. Additional business district paving and much residence paving is provided for in the plan, which comprises a total of 209,000 square yards of paving and 100,800 linear feet of curb. The schedule follows:

Elk street from Bluff to Brook and Brook from Eighth to Tenth. A movement is now on foot to continue the Eighth paving through Floral Heights; six blocks.

Eleventh street from Scott to Grace. Eleventh is already paved from Grace to Harrison; eight blocks.

Burgess street from Second street to a point 240 feet south of Eighteenth street; 17 blocks.

Fifteenth street from Lamar to Grace, and Elizabeth street is now being paved from Marshall to Duval; 10 blocks.

Buchanan street from Tenth to Avenue H; six blocks.

Monroe street from Tenth to Avenue G; seven blocks.

Fillmore street from Tenth to Avenue M; 12 blocks.

Hayes street from Tenth to Avenue G; three blocks.

Tilden street from Tenth to Avenue H; five blocks.

Sixteenth street from Lamar to Holiday; six blocks.

Lamar street from Sixth to Ninth; three blocks.

Indiana avenue from Sixth to Front street; five blocks. Eighteen feet in center to be paid for by county as part of highway system.

Mississippi street, from Barwise to Jankovick five blocks.

Holiday street, from Eighth to Seventeenth; nine blocks.

Twelfth street from Ohio to Marshall; 11 blocks.

Marshall street, from Twelfth to Collins; four blocks.

Ninth street from Broad to Pierce; 12 blocks. Part of this is already under construction.

The list of patrons—thousands of them—of the City National Bank of Commerce include the names of high-salaried officials and also wage-earners. CONTRACT CLOSED FOR STREET LIGHTS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The ornamental lighting system for the downtown district was made a certainty Friday night when the contract was finally closed. The necessary material has been ordered, and work will start within a very short time. From 30 to 60 days will be required to complete the work.

The fact that a few property owners have so far failed to sign up will not affect the lighting system as a whole. In such cases, it is probable that no lights will be installed in front of the places owned by such property owners, though it is hoped to avoid such a plan if possible.

The lighting system is an achievement of the business council of the chamber of commerce, which undertook it as one of the first objectives for 1920. It will replace the present archaic and unsatisfactory system of are lights and will be far more attractive in appearance.

About 20 blocks are to be included in the original installation. It is confidently expected that property owners on other streets will readily agree to material extensions, once the benefits and attractiveness of the system are demonstrated.

BILL FOR COUNTY COURT AT LAW FAVORABLY REPORTED

The bill providing for a county court-at-law in Wichita county has been reported favorably by the judiciary committee of the house at Austin, and is considered as having excellent chances for passage, according to information from the capital. It has been submitted by Governor Hobby as a subject for legislative consideration.

The bill would create a judgeship for county court cases, leaving the county judge free to handle the many business matters in connection with administration of the county's affairs. Such a court is badly needed on account of the crowded condition of the county court docket.

VAUDEVILLE Amusement Calendar for Coming Week

MOTION PICTURES

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE WILL CLOSE SEASON HERE WEDNESDAY WITH EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD BILL

Majestic vaudeville will close for the season at the Wichita Wednesday night with an exceptionally good bill. "The Love Game" is a delightful comedy sketch that furnishes an abundance of smiles, laughs and thrills and at the end, perfect harmony. Harry Hayden, who plays the leading role in "The Love Game," is a juvenile best known to the legitimate stage. His most recent engagement was with David Belasco's "The Boomerang." In "Ginger Snaps," a novelty vaudeville act is offered consisting of two women and two men in a series of dances and songs. The scenic elements are original and very artistic as is the costuming. All in all "Ginger Snaps" is, vaudevilly speaking, "something different."

Lillian Gonne and Bert Albert will be seen in the comedy act "On Their Way to School," with a liberal assortment of song, dance and chatting. Billie Bowman has earned the distinction of being one of vaudeville's best character comedienne. The Ishikawa Brothers open the show with an astounding variety of equilibrium stunts that are truly marvelous. For the latter part of the week, Miss Frankie Terrell will present "Around the Clock With the Debutantes," a clever musical extravaganza, for the benefit of the Shrine band fund.

Constance and Norma Talmadge made their debut in public as singers at the big Actors Fund Benefit performance, given at the Florida Poinciana Hotel, in Palm Beach, Florida, recently under the direction of Basil Frohman. The girls were the biggest hit on the program, and both enjoyed the event immensely.

Ann Forrest, who plays the part of "Hetty Morten" in the Goldwyn picture, "The Great Accident," starring Tom Moore, got her first chance to work in films by doing stunts.

Leah Baird will be starred in Gibraltar productions.

Colleen Moore's real name is Kathryn Morrison.

Mary Pickford is working hard to complete her latest picture, "The Duchess of Suda."

Johnny Ray, interpreter of Irish character roles for the screen, is a jolly Welshman.

Jack Pickford, in his next picture, "The Man Who Had Everything," will be directed by Al Green and will have in his support Priscilla Bonner, Jewel Belmont, Alec Francis and Shannon Day.

Seena Owen has a tiny daughter, Patricia, who has a strong inclination, it is said, to appear in pictures, particularly when the young lady sees her mother before the camera and is not permitted the usual caress.

Cast for "The Black Pawl." Director Reginald Barker will commence work this week at the Goldwyn Culver City studios on the all-star production of "Black Pawl" by Ben Ames Williams.

Russell Simpson will play the title role.

DALLAS LEGION POST HAS MEMBERSHIP OF 1060

DALLAS, TEX., May 29.—J. A. Travis, adjutant of John W. Low Post No. 53, of the American Legion here, stated that membership in the local organization totals 1060, of which 550 are paid up to the end of the present year. Four hundred and fifty new members were obtained. Mr. Travis said, in a drive conducted for one week recently, from April 19 to 26,

The Royal Hawaiians who will appear at the Majestic theater all next week in connection with the regular picture program, offering three changes of bill.

ROYAL HAWAIIANS AT THE MAJESTIC ALL THIS WEEK

The Majestic theater has secured for a week's engagement beginning Monday "The Royal Hawaiians," a troupe of seven native Hawaiian singers, hula dancers and instrumental soloists. This troupe was formerly headed by the late Irena West, who brought the team to America for an engagement with the original "Bird of Paradise" company. So great was their success on Broadway that an engagement with a large phonograph company, for whom they made a number of records, and a tour of the country followed on the heels of their Broadway engagement. They have appeared in many of the country's biggest theaters and photoplay palaces, including Newman's in Kansas City, the Tivoli, San Francisco, and Grauman's Million Dollar theater in Los Angeles. They have also toured Mexico and South America. Following their week here they will proceed to Colorado Springs for a summer's engagement at the Broadmoor hotel.

The troupe includes a guitarist, guitar accompanist, a baritone, tenor, lyric soprano and two hula dancers.

Be the attraction at the Empress theater Monday and Tuesday, is declared to be a production that would delight the sea-loving heart of Jack London himself were he living. Noah Beery is in every respect the brute-philosopher hero-villain "Wolf." The film, which is a Paramount Artcraft, is striking in the extreme.

One of the latter, the Princess Lei Momi, is said to be one of the world's greatest hula dancers.

They will appear at the Majestic every day next week at two afternoon and two evening shows in connection with the regular picture program, changing their act completely Wednesday and Friday.

Anita Stewart in "Mind the Paint Girl" is the feature picture for Monday and Tuesday's bill.

BOLL WORM INVESTIGATION TO BE CONCLUDED TODAY

AUSTIN, TEX., May 29.—Investigation of the pink boll worm will be concluded today by the legislative committee, according to counsel for the interests represented. The bill prepared by a sub-committee providing for a strictly regulated zone in the alleged infested area, will probably receive the consideration of the entire committee this afternoon, and sentiment among the members seems to favor the passage of this bill rather than the Tillotson bill, which provides for a non-cotton zone in accordance with demands of the federal department of agriculture.

PROBATION WIFE AT PLAZA AIRDOME MONDAY AND TUESDAY

In "The Probation Wife," seen Monday and Tuesday at the Plaza Theater, Norma Talmadge again demonstrates that remarkable versatility in her roles for which she is rapidly becoming distinguished.

At the opening of the picture we see her as an inmate of a notorious cafe. She is young, vibrant with life, and with an inner refinement which makes this life repulsive to her—and Norma Talmadge is the girl who can make you feel all these things.

The cafe is raided and Miss Talmadge as Jo, is sent to the reformatory with the rest of the girls for three years. Here we have this talented heart star in another role. The hair dress and tousled hair, she scrubs floors and drudges most of the 24 hours every day during the year. She rebels against the lot fate has chosen for her and after two years in the reformatory she manages to escape.

She meets Harrison Wade and offers herself to him in return for whatever he deems fit to give her. He marries her and she becomes his probation wife. Here we have another Norma Talmadge. In the luxurious and refined home of Harrison Wade she develops into a different woman. From an inmate of a cafe, to a slavey, to a lady—Norma Talmadge is all of these in "The Probation Wife" and she is as perfect in one part as in the other. Her acting is excellent. One can feel what in words she cannot tell us. She is a vital, living force upon the screen. Never has she done better work. Thomas Melghan, as her leading man, gives her splendid support.

Well Known Carpenter Says He Can Now Eat Anything for First Time in Years—Gives Orgatone Credit.

"For the first time in years I am able to eat just anything I want without suffering any bad effects," said J. Parrett, a well known carpenter, residing at 1802 Bluff street, Wichita Falls, Texas, in telling of his remarkable restoration to health through the use of Orgatone Treatment.

"For six long years," he continued, "I suffered with stomach trouble and dizziness. Even the lightest meal would make my stomach as sour as vinegar, and dreadful bloating would result. I always had a bad taste in my mouth and was very bilious. I could hardly go about my work, and I would be so nervous at night I would sleep and toss, unable to sleep to amount to anything. I had awful headaches and sometimes what I often termed blind staggers.

"But, after taking three bottles of Orgatone Treatment I feel like I had taken a new lease on life. Have a fine appetite and eat anything I want, enjoy every mouthful and suffer no bad effects. My digestion is perfect, the gas, bloating, headaches, dizzy spells, and nervousness are things of the past, and I sleep like a 16-year-old boy, and when morning comes it takes an alarm clock to wake me up. I feel fine all day long. I never miss an opportunity to praise the wonderful treatment."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new, scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls by the Young and the Miller drug stores exclusively, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. (adv.)

FEW RESPONSES SO FAR TO APPEAL FOR AID FOR CITY SCHOOLS WHICH HAVE IMMEDIATE NEED FOR $50,000

Comparatively few people have responded to the appeal for aid in the crisis confronting the local schools by reason of the rising cost of living and inadequate provisions for teachers' salaries. It is announced by C. H. Clark, chairman of the citizens' committee which addressed the appeal, something like $1,500 being the present sum total of subscriptions with which to meet a need of $50,000.

The plan for the raising of this money was based on an appeal to patrons of the school to contribute $10 for each child attending the school. Many of the replies to this appeal received to date represent people without children, and a considerable amount of the money received to date represents subscriptions by individuals of means at a greater rate than asked for, indicating that but few of the parents of the city are as yet taking a very active interest in the means through which their children receive their education, or by whom this education is imparted.

The ministers of the city, belonging to a classification which is popularly classed with the school teachers themselves in point of remuneration, have to date shown the strongest interest as yet manifested by the members of any single calling. Strong letters bearing on the necessity for support of the movement accompanied the checks of a number of the clergymen, three of which are published below.

One of the hopeful signs of the present difficulty in regard to the public school situation, both in state and city, is the interest that public men are taking toward solving the problem.

The situation is so grave that no let up in publicity should be permitted, until the people are thoroughly aroused to the danger of the situation. Too long have we allowed the public school system of Texas to grade away below the standard set by other states, and now when all are suffering we naturally suffer more.

The state of Texas has a record of ranking 35th in the degree of illiteracy of persons 10 years of age or over—a record of having lost 30 per cent of her teachers who do not live on the salaries paid them—a record of having 70,000 children in Texas who did not attend school because of this shortage—and a rather amazing record, that more than 50 per cent of our rural teachers are really boys and girls holding only second grade certificates. If we are wise to the danger confronting us, then we must see that we are face to face with a problem that must be solved and solved quickly.

No arguments are necessary as to the value of the public school. The republic stands or falls by its attitude to this free institution. Our fathers gave us as a precious heritage, the free church, a free press and a free school. For a century, under this beneficent legacy, the nation has prospered as no other nation under heaven has prospered. And because in a republic, every citizen must be strong and self-sustaining, the public school must be kept up to a high standard of efficiency. There can be no greater test of loyalty to the republic than our rallying to save the schools, for there, in democracy is nourished and fed. For too long a period we have worshipped the material things forgetful of the finer and better. Now we see how far we have wandered and with what disastrous results, and where we must stop and consider.

The constitutional amendment must carry. Every intelligent effort must be put forward to that end. Meanwhile we have a present duty to take care of the local situation. For a wealthy city like Wichita Falls to have to admit that it pays its teachers an average salary of $890 per year is something that no citizen can be proud of. I very cordially endorse the proposition of the committee to raise the necessary sum by popular subscription. No one realizing the importance of the situation can reasonably refuse to make a contribution. It is a simple price to pay to save one of the most important institutions of the state and nation. Sincerely yours,

FRED T. DATSON,
Rector Church of the Good Shepherd

Dear Mr. Clark:
Every citizen of this city should respond immediately to this call. The character of one's citizenship is clearly revealed by his response or his failure to respond to movements which stand for the highest and best interests of life. To pay more for muscle break rocks than we pay for train minds to build character and of ency is to stamp our race as one of gross materialism. This cause has been too long neglected. A general response all along the line is the imperative need of the hour. I have a utmost confidence in the good people of our city, and feel that the matter will be well cared for. The movement is a most commendable one.

Very cordially yours,
W. L. TITTLE,
Pastor Floral Heights Methodist Church.

Shall Weaklings Train Our Children?
What about a city that pays its shoeshiners more than it does its teachers? What about people who pay negro and Mexican common laborers more than they do the people who teach their children? What does this mean for us and our children; what does it mean for the future citizenship of Wichita Falls? It means that their teachers and that their examples are to be weaklings.
"Men and women with red blood in their veins, with pride and of the highest talents are not going to stand these conditions long, but are going to seek other employment, professions and fields of labor where the remuneration for their services will be greater.

What about the worth of a child, I mean your child? Are they not worth more than all the money in our banks, all the goods in our stores, all the oil in our wells, all the wheat and cotton in our fields and all the cattle on our ranches. What is $100,000 dollars when weighed in the balances with the children, the future citizenship of our city. We need this amount to put our schools over this year and to assure their opening for another year with a corps of strong teachers. I believe that when the men and women of Wichita Falls realize the need and see the opportunity that they have for laying the foundation of a great city and a well trained citizenship that they will rise up in their might and in their generosity and supply this need.

I hope the day will come when people will not only come to our community to discover oil and to find wealth, but when they decide to build a model church or a model school, or when they seek for a home in which to bring up their children under the best environment and the best teachers and trainers that they will come to Wichita Falls. I hope to live long enough in Wichita Falls to see the best schools, the best churches, the best stores and banks, the best kept streets, the finest parks and the best water and lighting systems in all of Texas.

If we are to hold our splendid, progressive and vigorous men and women, who have recently moved into our community, to build homes and make a fortune, we must set our hands to the task now of furnishing the best educational advantages that there are to be had within this state. Not only put our public schools on the map and on a solid foundation, but then get together and build the best college in all this commonwealth so that the people will not leave our community to educate their children, but that they will come here from every section in order that they may have the best of training along these lines.

Here is a work that challenges the best talent and the greatest brains that we have in the big men and women, who are leaders in our community life. May God help us to strengthen our hands for this good work.

WHAT IS A CHIROPRACTOR?

A Chiropractor is a person who, after being duly educated in the science of Chiropractic and trained in the application of the art, uses his bare hands in contact with a process of the vertebrae (small bone of the spine) to effect a peculiar move to realign the subluxated (misaligned) unit and release the nerve compression.

This adjustment is not to be confused with massage, pats, rubs, or manipulations of muscles in any way. When the compression is released, the life force flows uninterruptedly to the various organs or parts of the body, and HEALTH is the result. The effect has not been treated but the cause has been adjusted.

COUNTRY CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR SUMMER

Wednesday is to be Ladies Day at the Country Club, and on this day of each week there will be arrangements made for the entertainment informally of the wives and daughters of club members, and their out of town guests at this time, particularly in the morning hours during the summer, according to the plans made at the organization of the Ladies Auxiliary of the club, Wednesday morning, Mrs. Fred T. Couper was elected president and Mrs. Livingston Fain secretary-treasurer, with Mrs. Finley Weldon assistant.

A special assistance was voted by the ladies for permanent improvement, to make the club house still more attractive, and various plans will be made to make the club the center of social activities for club members and their families through the summer months particularly.

The Saturday night open house feature for the membership is to be continued, the next affair of this sort to be given Saturday, June 5.

The club house and grounds and particularly the swimming pool are proving to have great attractions, as the summer grows on, and there is not a morning, afternoon or night but that the members, old and young alike, are enjoying the pleasure which the club affords. The present plans, when they can be carried out, will serve to make the Country Club even more of a factor in the social life of Wichita Falls.

FAREWELL COMPLIMENT FOR MRS. C. W. ROUNTREE

Complimenting Mrs. C. W. Rountree, who is soon to leave for Colorado to make her home, the teachers and officers of the beginners department of the First Baptist Sunday school entertained on Friday with a 6:00 o'clock dinner, at the home of Mrs. E. W. Napier. The affair was in the nature of a surprise to Mrs. Rountree, who had been called to a teachers meeting.

A color scheme of pink and white carried out in the decorations, and a perfectly arranged menu made the dinner most delightful, then there was an enjoyable musical program, and a pleasant visit together which was featured by the presentation by Mrs. Clint Wood of a handsome chest of linens to Mrs. Rountree, as a substantial token of the esteem of those associates of hers in the work of the beginners department.

The music was provided by Miss Benson and Miss Pickle and Mrs. Napier. Those present: the honoree, Mrs. Rountree; Misses Bartlett, Brown, Pickle and Benson; Mesdames G. C. Wood, Leslie Humphrey, Ernest Trevathan, J. P. Detlefs, Ulrich and E. W. Napier.

The third meeting of the block bounded by Travis and Austin, Eleventh and Twelfth streets, was held Thursday night with Mrs. and Mr. Forcier host and hostess, at the Wilson apartments, 1105 Austin. A delightful impromptu musical program was given, including vocal numbers by Mrs. Young and Mrs. Kinney, and instrumental duets, with Miss Anna Dell Bradshaw at the piano and Paul Rutledge at the violin.

The next meeting will be a picnic, date to be announced later, with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson as host and hostess.

HASKELL COUNTY GROWING BARLEY ON LARGE SCALE

HASKELL, TEX., May 29.—Luther Burbank, agricultural wizard, might profitably study the barley prodigies of this county. Haskell has only lately gone into barley growing on a large scale. One seed dealer last year sold 1,000 bushels in the northern part of the county, and probably other dealers have disposed of many bushels in other sections, for barley seems to be greater in acreage than wheat. Here is the story told here to the publicity department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce by reliable, trustworthy, influential citizens: A certain farmer living near town found an isolated barley stalk which contained sixty stems with an average of 60 grains of barley to the stalk, making 3,600 grains. This Bible truth that some should produce, "twenty-fold, some sixty and some an hundred-fold," was here verified 3,600-fold. Now all Haskell believes the story of Jonah and the whale. Barley in this section is expected to make an average of 75 bushels to the acre. Oats and wheat are simply fine, and while the acreage is slightly less than in 1919 the harvest is expected to be really heavier. Splendid rains which have fallen in the county in the last 48 hours indicate crops will be all fine. Haskell county is expected to be represented at the Dallas State Fair, the Cotton Palace and in the National Exhibits Movement of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce this fall. B. M. Whitaker, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, is already preparing to collect agricultural exhibits for them.

PORTLAND, MAINE, May 29.—Six million pounds of frozen beef will be shipped to Germany and other countries of central Europe on the British steamer Armagh, which arrived here today from Boston on her way to Hamburg. The beef was sent here by western packers.

ACTION OF RESERVE BANK WILL EASE MONEY STRINGENCY

Belief that the action of the officers of the Federal Reserve Bank for this district, which is expected to be followed by similar action in the Kansas City and Atlanta districts, in ruling for the acceptance for rediscout of paper secured by shipments of grain and its products, will pave the way for a material easement in the present financial stringency was Saturday expressed by Frank Kell, following his return from a meeting of the board of directors of the eleventh district at Dallas. "I believe that this action will allow for the free movement for export of grain and its products both for the coming crop and for the holdover from last year's crop," said Mr. Kell. "At the present prices for these commodities a sufficient sum of new money should be obtained which will materially help the present financial situation." The action of the board permitted the acceptance for rediscout of paper offered by member banks of the system secured by bills of lading for shipments of these commodities, provided same is accompanied by a certified copy of a bona fide sale contract.

WELL DRILLING AT 1300 FEET IN STONEWALL COUNTY

STAMFORD, TEX., May 27.—The Republic well on the White Ranch, Stonewall county, is reported drilling at 1300 feet. The National Workers and Production Association well on the Baldwin ranch, near Old Ranier, is reported shut down for casing at 150 feet. The Rosenfield No. 1, near old Glory, Stonewall county, is shut down at 800 feet for repairs. The Republic Workers and Production company will establish headquarters in a building on the postoffice square in Stamford in the next three weeks, according to T. A. Hickey, one of the owners of the well drilling in Stonewall county.

BILL INTRODUCED TO INCREASE SHERIFF'S FEE

AUSTIN, TEX., May 29.—In the senate was passed finally today a bill by Senator Sutor authorizing county school trustees to fix the salaries of teachers and removing present limitations. Senator Cousins of Cabine introduced a bill, proposing to materially increase the fees of sheriffs in the state. He also introduced a bill amending small dealers from payment of license for dealing in fish and increasing the size of red fish that may be caught from 27 to 32 inches.

WHEN COURT IS CREATED COMMISSIONERS WILL CALL ELECTION FOR JUDGE

The county commissioners will be convened in special session immediately upon the creation by the legislature of a county court-at-law for Wichita county, for the purpose of selecting a judge to serve until the regular November elections, it was learned Saturday. The legislature is expected to act favorably upon the bill creating the new court and the commissioners will probably meet the latter part of next week for the selection of a judge. The name of Elmer DeMontell, local attorney, is being mentioned in connection with the new judgeship. Mr. DeMontell has been acting judge in the county court recently during the absence of County Judge J. P. Jones.

Favorable action is also expected upon the bill-creating a new district court for Wichita Falls.

A Permanent Purchase

"YOUR grandfather bought this Sealy for me before you were born. And it is as soft and springy and comfortable today as it was twenty-five years ago.
"Father was an old cotton planter and he knew that long-fibre cotton, air-woven (Sealy process), could never pack down or grow lumpy.

"So he selected a Sealy for me in preference to all other mattresses. Today, as you know, every bed in the house is made comfortable with a mattress bearing the same label. I consider them a splendid investment because they never have to be remade."

The Sealy Sanitary Tuftless Mattress

Under that smooth, curved surface is a springy batt of pure, new long-fibre cotton that stood five feet high before being compressed. The curly fibres are so thoroughly intermeshed by our special patented air-woven process that they can never pull apart, pack down or spread. Tufts are done away with, hence there are no bumps and hollows on the surface—no leather tabs to catch dirt—no stitch-holes to permit the entrance of foreign matter. When you buy the Sealy you buy for a lifetime. It is a permanent purchase. Sold by leading dealers everywhere.

The Sealy Pillow, also made by the Sealy process, is a clean, sweet, odorless head rest.

CAMPAIGN FUND DISCLOSURES.

Democrats are chuckling over the disclosures of the senate investigation into presidential campaign expenses; and republicans, if they be supporters of those candidates whose campaign chests are shown to have been overflowing, are correspondingly downcast; for nobody doubts that these disclosures are going to have a ponderable effect in the Chicago convention and there are those who quite candidly say that General Wood's chances of the nomination have been greatly reduced if not minimized by the showing Colonel Proctor, his campaign manager, made on the stand.

General Obregon's avowed purpose, as expressed in a message to American friends in Los Angeles, to seek to bring about amicable relations between Mexico and all other countries and "especially those next to us on the American continent," is in line with what Americans have expected of him and confirms the impression that he has made both before and since his elevation.

Some legislator has introduced a bill to increase the pay of county treasurers from $2,000 to $3,600. Since some counties have cut the pay of their treasurers to as little as $10 a year—with the result that the commissioners' courts have to appoint some employe of the bank making the highest bid for the county money to the place—why should the limit stop at $3,600?

One of the features of the daily speeches of the former senator in the recent campaign was his ridicule of the "two sisters and five slaves" who drafted the Dallas platform for the pro-administration forces in March.

"There has never been an hour in the last forty years," writes Colonel Bill Sterrett in a San Antonio dispatch to the Dallas News, "that any sensible man expected the republican party to triumph in this state."

A New York dispatch quotes a political observer as saying that the senate campaign fund investigation has caused a material decline in the Lowden and Wood chances.

"For a man who isn't a candidate, he is doing mighty well," is the characterization of Mr. McCadoo by Representative Carlin, campaign manager for Attorney General Palmer, in his testimony before the senate pre-convention campaign expenditures committee, and we'll say it is an apt one.

While the planetary rule indicates many efforts to distort the high cost of living, there will be an advance rather than a decline in many commodities, astrologers foretell.

DOES SALT MAKE US THIRSTY?

Anyone who has suffered from nose-bleed or who has tasted human blood knows that it contains a considerable proportion of salt—approximately the same amount as is present in sea water.

When an unusual amount of salt is taken into the stomach, it reacts in two ways. In the first place, the blood being already supplied with all the salt that it can handle, declines to take on any more and the saline solution remains in the stomach—"uncalled for," as it were.

This is the fourth of a series of advertisements to be published by us, in an endeavor to overcome a false impression concerning retail prices in Wichita Falls. In these articles we use our own experiences and prices as typical of local retail conditions—if they are not, the fault is not with us. We can only vouch for ourselves—and to that extent they are absolutely correct.

HOPE DOMESTIC

Wichita Falls 35c a Yard
Fort Worth 39c a Yard
Tulsa 45c a Yard

Hope Domestic is standard. Any housewife can tell you what it is, and knows the prices on it as well as on sugar.

Hope Domestic is a staple article. It has been a staple article since our grandmother's time. There is no variation of quality—it is absolutely the same whether bought in Yokohoma, Japan or Wichita Falls, Texas.

It is one of the things on which price comparisons are absolutely fair.

Note the above prices again, and then answer the statements by the agitator to the detriment of our city, that Wichia Falls robs her citizens with exhorbitant prices.

Our prices as compared with present wholesale prices:

OUR PRICES		WHOLESALE PRICES
Daisy Bleached Muslin	35c	Daisy Bleached Muslin	37c
Wearwell Sheeting	90c	Wearwell Sheeting	82c
Wearwell 81x90 Sheets	$2.50	Wearwell 81x90 Sheets	$2.58

Now let's take Satin Etoile. Satin Etoile is a silk, as staple in its line as Hope Domestic is in Muslins. Satin Etoile is carried in stock in one of the best stores in every town of any consequence in the country. It is made by one manufacturer, is of one quality, sold at one price to the retailer, and should be retailed at practically the same price.

Here is what our table shows. We sell it in Wichita Falls for $4.00 a yard. In Dallas it is being sold at $4.50 a yard.

Despite the cry of the "calamity howlers" and "foreign shoppers" Wichita Falls does not top the list. All of which goes to show that Wichita Falls is not such a bad place to live in and buy in, after all.

Maybe you would like to know what Satin Etoile costs us. If you are interested, let us show you our cost sheet.

Read our ad tomorrow. It's interesting to say the least.

BOND ISSUE OF $4,500,000 FOR BIG WICHITA IRRIGATION PROJECT WILL BE ASKED IN DISTRICT

Within the next 30 or 40 days, residents of Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 1, will be called upon to authorize a bond issue of $4,500,000 for the construction of the Big Wichita Irrigation Project. It was announced Saturday following a meeting of the board of directors of this district. The building of the project, as originally outlined, is to be undertaken by the district which includes Wichita Falls and the surrounding acreage suitable for industrial sites, and the bonds of the district No. 2, which will embrace 150,000 acres of Wichita county farm lands which will be put under irrigation by this project, will be taken in to the treasury of District No. 1 and will carry the burden of much of the bond issue to be made by the city district, the estimated ratio of the costs having been decided upon some months ago on a ratio of one-third for the city district and two-thirds for the farm lands put under irrigation.

The bonds authorized would not all be issued at once, according to the plan in the minds of the directors, being issued only as required by the progress of the work.

The first work to be undertaken will be the construction of the big diversion dam about 20 miles above Wichita Falls, which will cost about half a million dollars and which will fill the most pressing immediate need, the assurance of a never failing water supply for the city of Wichita Falls, regardless of drought conditions such as prevailed two years ago, and regardless of the size which it attains. This dam, it is estimated, will itself impound an amount of water three times as great as that at present obtained from Lake Wichita, and with Lake Wichita, will give this city a water supply unequalled in the entire southwest.

"In view of the fact that the city of Tulsa is now projecting a bond issue of $5,000,000 for a water supply alone, I think that the opportunity afforded the people of Wichita Falls to secure an equal water supply at a fraction of the cost, and at the same time build up an irrigation district tributary to the city of 150,000 acres is an unparalleled one," declared J. A. Kemp in discussing the matter Saturday.

"The water supply will be gained in connection with this irrigation project, and the cost in this way shared between the city and the farmers, indeed a great advantage to both," he continued.

With property values standing as they do at present, it is estimated that the cost to the taxpayers in the city district will run about 35 cents on the $100 at the time of completion of the project. For the first two years, during which the project will be under construction, the cost will be only a portion of this, as the bonds are to be issued only as needed in the work. The normal growth and rise in value of properties in the city, is also expected to considerably lower the cost from the estimated 35 cents on $100 by the time the project is completed.

The cost to the farmers is expected to be in the neighborhood of $2.50 per acre per year during the 40 years of the life of the bonds, and only a fraction of that thereafter, being gradually reduced with the gradual reduction in the amount of the bonds during this period of years. However, it have decided, as the bond market conditions warrant, and allow for the obtaining of a top price for them. Should the market not seem favorable to the directors, the bonds will not be marketed until conditions take a more favorable turn.

The exact date of the bond election has not yet been set, but will be finally decided upon at a meeting of the directors in the near future. "As I have often said before, the successful culmination of this project will mark the realization of the dream of my life," said Mr. Kemp in discussing the project. "I have every confidence that our people will seize this opportunity for the rebuilding of the city, and put it on the firmest kind of a basis, in the same manner as the people of Los Angeles, seizing a similar opportunity some years ago, started the irrigation projects in that country and laid the foundation on which all the wonderful growth of that city since that time has been founded."

The directors are sending Vernon L. Sullivan, the engineer employed by them, and F. N. Lawton, manager of the project, to Dayton, Ohio, for a study of the earthen dams the people of that city are building at a cost of five million dollars for flood prevention. As much of the work in the building of this project will be earthwork, and since many recently devised machines are being used in this inspection, and expect to find that the estimates for the earthwork in the project can be materially lowered in the actual construction.

EXTENSIVE DEVELOPMENTS PLANNED ON GRIFFIN RANCH IN VICINITY OF DUNDEE OIL AND GAS CO. STRIKE

Derrick and rigs were going up Saturday on a number of new locations near the Dundee Oil and Gas company well on the Griffin ranch, four and a half miles west of the Kemp-Munger-Allen district, promising an intensive development for that section in the immediate future.

Among these locations are the No. 2 of the Dundee Oil and Gas company, about three locations east of the discovery well, Art and Hayes have a location just to the south and east of the No. 2 of the Dundee Oil and Gas company's No. 2. W. D. Woodruff et al have a location just to the north of the Dundee and across the county line into Wichita county. Just to the east of this location is a new test by Mudge et al. Over to the west, and across the Wichita River, McCarty and Hart have two locations in a north and south line, which are about on an east and west line with the Dundee tests. The Dundee Oil and Gas company have a wildcat location also on the Griffin, two miles to the southwest of the original test, in Block 20, Palo Pinto school lands.

GOVERNOR ALLEN WILL NOMINATE GENERAL WOOD

NEW YORK, May 29.—Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas who has himself been mentioned as a presidential possibility, has consented to place the name of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood before the republican national convention in Chicago next month for nomination for the presidency of the United States.

The matter of obtaining Governor Allen's consent to make the Wood nomination speech has been pending for some time. His consent was obtained this morning by Col. William C. Proctor, head of the Wood campaign forces.

The governor later made the following statement concerning the result of the parley:

"I received a telegram from General Wood, dated at Charlottesville, Va., last night," said Mr. Allen, "although I have not yet replied directly to General Wood, I got in touch this morning with Col. William C. Proctor in charge of his pre-convention campaign, and assured him I would consider it a great privilege to present the General's name."

The telegram from General Wood, the governor said, was in the nature of a personal invitation. It was to the effect that General Wood and his friends, after considering the most desirable man to place his name before the convention, had agreed that the governor was the most fitted.

E DISTRICT NORTH OF CLARA CONTINUES TO INTEREST WITH KEMP-MUNGER-ALLEN SECTION

The promise which the district of Clara held out last week for the developments of great interest in the entire Burburnett has been fulfilled by the Bowers well, No. 1 Ed Foster, No. 322, which gives the first dip to the new pool which was located by the Burk-Cameron well, No. 833, several miles from any section. This Bowers well, three-quarters of a mile southeast of the Cameron, has made several good wells, and gives every indication of when completed, an exceptional good well. The bottom of the hole is to be cased off, according to reports, and there is still some tank section, and pipe line connected to be made. The usual estimate that the Bowers will be anywhere from 1,500 barrels, depending on the amount of sand, and it is possible to drill, at present, two feet of sand has been made, it is stated. The well's behavior on first being opened was similar to the big wells of the Waggoner pool, and from this, as well as various other circumstances, factors in this section are looking for repetition of the big pool opened last summer.

Although several tests in this immediate section are around, and the well will probably furnish interesting results in a short time, there is nothing definite from this new development outside the amount of sand now being located are being made surrounding the various tests in this vicinity, and this district northwest of Clara promises to divide attention with the Kemp-Munger-Allen district.

In Block 69, contrary to expectations there have been no extensions of the line of production in block 69, and the Congressional Oil Co.'s No. 1 John Siber continues the furthest southwest production that has been found. A rapid dip to the west in the sand is indicated by the failure of Knight, Hartt and Grafa to get their sand in their well on the west line of 69 at the place where it had been expected. This test is now drilling below 1700 feet, and is prepared to go to 2,000 feet. It is stated, in block 68, still further west, the Clint Wood test, is reported shut down temporarily, also low the depth where the sand was and further east.

ELECTRA IS STRONG FOR BASEBALL AND HAS SEVEN TEAMS

By H. A. STROUD.
Special to The Times.

ELECTRA, TEX., May 29.—Electra is going strong for baseball this year, having a fast semi-professional club and six teams organized in a twilight league. The City League has games scheduled for every day in the week and the town team plays on Sundays, when J. Pivius is in an amiable mood and permits.

The Electra team has played three games this year for a percentage of 75. Burk Burnett and Frederick were each defeated and Vernon won the game lost. Burk Burnett has been scheduled to play here for the last four Sunday's but rain has prevented in each case. If the weather permits the game will be played next Sunday.

In the City League the teams are, Lina Motor Company, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Knights of Pythias, Le Bus MacWhite Shop, Federal Supply Company and the Volunteer Fire Department. The Magnolia and Lina Motor Company are tied for first place both having won all starts. The Knights of Pythias have played three, won one, tied one and lost one. The Fire Department, Federal Supply and Le Bus have not won a start to date.

Much interest is being manifested both in the regular team and in the City League teams.

Bumper Grain Crop.
Farmers coming in from all sections, the prospects for a bumper grain crop in the Electra territory has never been better. Wheat has a good long stem with well matured heads and from present indications will make an average of better than 20 bushels to the acre.

Wheat did not look so good during the early part of the season, as it had the appearance of taking on a premature head, but the cool damp weather proved ideal to its development and the stem has developed well, placing it in ideal condition.

New City Fire Marshal.
J. Ray Corder has been appointed city fire marshal and announces that the fire limits will be extended in the next few days and inspections made of all premises, with a view of greatly reducing the fire hazards.

Corder stated that another La France fire engine had been purchased and that nearly all the warrants had been sold to provide funds for the new fire station. He stated that the city commission authorized the purchase of $1,500 worth of new hose.

The Electra fire department is considered among the best volunteer outfits in the country and with the new equipment Electra will have two La France trucks and a station with all equipment.

BIG CALIFORNIA COMPANY TO ENTER EASTLAND FIELD

EASTLAND, TEX., May 28.—After acquiring something like 5,000 acres of the richest oil land immediately north and west of Eastland announcement was made this morning of the Associated Oil Company of California of their active entry into the Eastland oil field. The capital of the corporation is $40,000,000. The company yesterday obtained from former State Senator Homer P. Brelsford of this city a site outside the northern edge of the city limits for the purpose of erecting there their Texas headquarters. It is noted the expenditure as presented in the specifications call for an initial expenditure of one million dollars for the erection of buildings and establishing headquarters.

It is noted in the list of acreage which this company purchased is some of the richest in Eastland county and due to the fact that it is located immediately north and west of Eastland this city was selected as headquarters for the Associated Company.

Work of clearing a building site was started this morning and a large force of men under the supervision of the company's superintendent will push the building with all possible speed.

DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED SOUTH OF EASTLAND
EASTLAND, TEX., May 29.—Drilling around the interesting stage the United Oil Company on their well located two miles south of this city is expected to develop something out of the ordinary within a few days. Drillers are losing no time and it is said as many as three shifts are working on this job. The Unit is a direct offset to the big gasser on the Judge Joe Burkett farm, drilled by local capital and Abilene business men. Oil operators are of the opinion if the drillers can get through the gas pocket a splendid oil producer will be found.

720 OHIO AVENUE

The New Home of the Wilford-Harrison Drug Co.

The picture shown in the center of this page gives but a faint idea of the elaborate fittings of Texas' prettiest and most modern drug store. Only a few years ago the typical drug store had a green bottle in one window and a red bottle in the other, while a little sawdust and a few spittoons littered the floor. The druggist carried few side lines and there was little attraction there for the average citizen. Necessity was the force that drove him there.

The new and elegant store of the Wilford-Harrison Drug Co., is typical of the new order of things. The fixtures are built in the Hepplewhite Design of genuine Mahogany inlaid with Tulip wood, with plate glass shelves and plate glass mirror backs. The twenty foot soda fountain is of genuine Onyx of the very best grade.

The store is ideally located, in a store room especially designed for a modern drug store, in the new American National Bank building. It fronts on Eighth street and is but a stone's throw from the three new sky-scrapers—the Bob Waggoner office building, the new Kemp Hotel and the City National Bank Building—on the right side of the most popular thoroughfares in the city.

The new store caters to the best class of buyers. The prescription department, which is a hobby of Mr. Harrison's, himself being a graduate pharmacist, while under his supervision, is commanded by three other prescriptionists. Their wonderful business in the candy department they attribute to the fact that they have the exclusive agencies for the two highest class lines of candy on the market—"Pangburn's" and "Appollo." The cigar department is accessible from the lobby as well as the drug store and is operated as a separate department. At their soda fountain you may obtain a dish of Pangburn's Orange Ice Cream (the original).

They have tried to give Wichita Falls a drug store that would be "in keeping with the town" and believe that with their modern equipment and a stock of goods that is selected on a basis of quality not price that they merit a liberal share of your patronage.

We invite you to visit us during the opening Tuesday night, and inspect our new store.

American National Will Move Into Its New 12-Story Home Monday

Tuesday, June 1, will be a glad day for the officers and employees of the American National bank for on that day the bank will open the doors of its new home in the American National bank and Bashaara building to the thousands of friends in Wichita Falls and throughout this section. Throughout the day the bank will receive its patrons and its friends in its convenient, modern, handsome and thoroughly modern quarters. In the evening a public reception will be held.

In its new home the bank will be in a better position than ever to serve its constantly growing patronage and will have the dignified setting that goes with an institution of its character. Few banks in the southwest will have more beautiful and modern quarters than the American National in its new home, which is situated in the very heart of the business district.

For some time the officers of the bank have felt the handicap of a location that was unsuited for the banking business and for a number of months have been looking for better quarters. When the consolidation of the National Bank of Commerce and the City National bank made the new building of the National Bank of Commerce available, steps were taken to obtain it. A deal was finally consummated by a syndicate of stockholders of the bank for the purchase of the National Bank of Commerce's half interest in the building together with the banking fixtures which were being installed. Work of completing the banking rooms was rushed with all possible speed and tomorrow, which is a bank holiday, the bank will move its records, money and other paraphernalia into the new building and will have things in readiness for business and for the reception Tuesday.

Although its only a little more than 15 months old the American National bank has become one of the leading financial institutions in the southwest. Its deposits exceed two million dollars and its depositors number more than 3,000. The remarkable growth of this bank would hardly be possible in any other place than in Wichita Falls where the people are so quick to recognize enterprise and merit and to judge individuals and their worth by what they do and their service to the community.

Opened in February, 1919, the American National bank opened for business on February 19, 1919. At the close of business on the first day its deposits were more than $300,000 and the number of depositors had reached the two million mark. At its organization, Wade H. Hampton was president and Rhea S. Dixon, vice president. The first board of directors was comprised of Wade H. Hampton, W. N. Bonner, H. B. Hines, B. D. Donnell, J. B. Marlow, Rhea S. Dixon, Herbert S. Griffin and Louis S. Nixon. A few months later F. L. McCoy, then cashier of the Farmers State bank at Burk Burnett, became associated with the bank and in the southwest after Mr. Nixon and Mr. McCoy acquired the interest of Mr. Hampton. Mr. Nixon was then elected president and Mr. McCoy active vice president of the bank. Soon thereafter H. G. Burlew, auditor of the City National bank of Dallas, was called to the cashiership.

In April of this year Mr. Burlew was made an active vice president of the bank and W. M. Frank, then cashier of the Farmers State bank at Burk Burnett, was elected cashier. Early in its existence the bank had added A. C. Parker, one of the leading oil men of the southwest, to its board of directors and at the first of this year added R. M. Waggoner to its directorate. Mr. Waggoner, Mr. Parker, Mr. Bonner and Mr. Griffin were made vice presidents of the institution. It will be seen from the foregoing that the policy of the bank has been to associate with it keen active and experienced young men as its active officers and men of large affairs on its board of directors. At the end of eight months the bank showed a carrying of 2 1/2 per cent and paid a 10 per cent dividend. Five per cent was carried to its surplus fund and the remainder to its undivided profits. At that time it was voted to increase the capital and surplus to $250,000. This has been done enabling the bank to increase its business and to give still better service to its customers. An immediate increase of the capital and surplus is to be made again. The amount has not been definitely fixed but will probably be half a million dollars.

The officers of the bank now are as follows: Rhea S. Nixon, president; F. L. McCoy, active vice president; H. G. Burlew, active vice president; A. C. Parker, R. M. Waggoner, H. S. Griffin and W. N. Bonner, vice presidents; W. M. Frank, cashier; J. C. Chestnut and C. C. Crowell, assistant cashiers; R. D. Shirley, auditor. Other employees include: Ben C. McAdams, Joe Monkhouse, Tully E. Brown, Marvin Weeks, Jimmie Nixon, Vernon Davis, Bill Herndon, John Shirley, D. R. Bonner, Leo P. Gordon, Estelle Bevere, Lucille Murphy, Addie Joe Kute-man, Ethelyn Anderson.

The Directorate. The strength of the bank is said to lie in its board of directors, not alone in their financial strength, but in their business standing and experience and in their active interest in the bank's affairs. The officers of the American National bank have expressed pride in the bank's board. R. M. Waggoner, director and bank president of the bank, is the owner of the famous Waggoner lease and was the discoverer of the famed Burk-Waggoner pool, the richest that has been found in the United States. He is the largest royalty owner in Wichita county and probably in the United States. He is now operating in all the principal oil fields in Texas and Louisiana. He is the owner of one of the largest and finest buildings in Wichita Falls besides many other business property. He will probably be the largest individual tax payer in Wichita county this year.

A. C. Parker, director and vice president is owner of the famous Parker lease in the Burk Burnett district, and has valuable holdings in Wichita Falls besides many other business property. He owns stock in banks in Wichita Falls, Dallas and other cities and owns valuable business property in Dallas. He is trustee in Texas Christian University at Fort Worth and his philanthropies have been extended to a number of educational and charitable enterprises. H. S. Griffin, vice president and director, is the owner of the Griffin ranch in Taylor, Archer and Wichita counties comprising more than 18,000 acres. He also owns the Dundee townsite. His ranch is famed for its fine cattle. Only last week an oil well that promises to be a big producer was brought in on his land. Mr. Griffin is a young man of splendid enterprise and business acumen. W. N. Bonner, vice president and director, only recently resigned as judge of the 30th district court, to which he was first appointed, to accept the position of district judge in the 10th district, to devote his attention to his law practice, which is one of the largest in Wichita Falls.

H. G. Burlew, recently promoted from the cashiership of the bank to an active vice presidency, is a young man who has won his way in the banking business solely by his own efforts and merit. He started in his profession as a runner for the City National bank of Dallas and won one promotion after another until he was auditor. It was from that position that he was called to the American National bank here. F. L. McCoy, active vice president and director, is a member of one of the pioneer families of Dallas. He began his banking career as a runner for the First State bank there and advanced until he was cashier in charge of the savings deposits. He then became associated with the Farmers State bank at Burk Burnett as cashier. He came from that bank to the American National. Mr. McCoy is the owner of valuable oil interests and owns business property in Wichita Falls.

part of the basement contains the heating plant and other mechanical equipment of the building, also storage rooms. The first story is occupied by the American National bank in the front half, just back of which is the office building lobby with entrances to the elevators, to the bank and to the Willford Harrison drug store. The remaining store at the extreme west end of the first story is occupied by the Dave Paul Jewelry Co.

The upper stories are all offices. There are three high speed gearless electric elevators, equipped with Armstrong signal system and with electric interlocking safety devices. This safety device provides that when elevator doors are open, elevator cannot be moved, nor can the door be opened except when elevator is stopped at a floor landing.

The corridors throughout the building are finished with Alamora marble wainscoting six feet high and Carthage marble floors. In each corridor is a standard hose rack which is supplied with water from steel water tanks located on the 13th floor. These tanks not only supply the fire lines, but also supply the drinking fountains throughout the building as the city would not be able to force water to the top of the building. In each corridor is a drinking fountain which is supplied with drinking water from a house cooling system. There is a Cutler mail chute with opening at each floor.

The offices throughout have birch trim-finished with mahogany and have rock maple floors. The windows on the street sides of the building are glazed with genuine polished plate glass, the windows on the south and west sides being fire-proof metal windows glazed with wired glass. There is a steel fire escape from the ground floor to the roof with opening from the west end of all corridors into same. Also the stairway in the center of the building has been passed by the state board of fire insurance as a fire escape, it being enclosed in fireproof partitions with metal windows and doors.

The entrance lobby to the office building is beautifully finished in Madri Veined statuary marble which covers the entire side walls, the floor is finished with Carthage marble and the ceiling decorated with ornamental plaster. There is a vestibule from the street entrance to the lobby. The drug store is very handsomely furnished with mahogany fixtures in Adam design.

The building is of reinforced concrete construction and is absolutely fireproof. There is no office building in Texas of higher grade construction and finish. The plans for the building were made in Wichita Falls by a main banking rooms and stairways to the safety deposit department and to the mezzanine floor. The fixtures are of Tavernele and American black walnut. They are of the most modern design with special lighting devices and all equipment known to modern bank design. The floor of the lobby is of marble, and the floor in the working space is of cork tiling. The decoration on the walls and ceilings is done in antique gold, the metal for this being among the first shipments which were imported after the war. The decoration was done by Theodore Beck, who is a local decorator and it is to the credit of Mr. Beck and of Wichita Falls that work of this quality could be obtained locally.

The switchboard for the bank's inter-communicating telephone system was located on the mezzanine story, where also is the directors' room, which is beautifully furnished and is equipped with a fireplace and book-cases. Also on the mezzanine floor is the vault which is used for storage of stationery and other supplies. This mezzanine story is connected with the floor by a handsome marble stairway.

In addition to the stationery vaults on the mezzanine story, is the cash and book vault on the main floor. All the vaults are enclosed in heavy concrete wall, reinforced with steel I-beams placed vertically which makes almost a solid steel wall. This vault is also the lowest burglar insurance rate that can be obtained on vault construction. The vault doors are all of Mosier manufacture and also take the lowest burglar insurance rate as they are of the most advanced design. The first story vault is equipped with steel cabinets in plain view of the department is in the basement and is reached by a very beautiful curved stairway with a large open well that is unusually interesting, being of period design, very massive and have a number of candle effect lights. These chandeliers, as well as the window hangings, rugs, etc. were furnished by Leslie Turney, representing the J. L. Strassell company.

Absolutely Fireproof. The building is of reinforced concrete construction and is absolutely fireproof. There is no office building in Texas of higher grade construction and finish. The plans for the building were made in Wichita Falls by a main banking rooms and stairways to the safety deposit department and to the mezzanine floor. The fixtures are of Tavernele and American black walnut. They are of the most modern design with special lighting devices and all equipment known to modern bank design. The floor of the lobby is of marble, and the floor in the working space is of cork tiling. The decoration on the walls and ceilings is done in antique gold, the metal for this being among the first shipments which were imported after the war. The decoration was done by Theodore Beck, who is a local decorator and it is to the credit of Mr. Beck and of Wichita Falls that work of this quality could be obtained locally.

The switchboard for the bank's inter-communicating telephone system was located on the mezzanine story, where also is the directors' room, which is beautifully furnished and is equipped with a fireplace and book-cases. Also on the mezzanine floor is the vault which is used for storage of stationery and other supplies. This mezzanine story is connected with the floor by a handsome marble stairway.

In addition to the stationery vaults on the mezzanine story, is the cash and book vault on the main floor. All the vaults are enclosed in heavy concrete wall, reinforced with steel I-beams placed vertically which makes almost a solid steel wall. This vault is also the lowest burglar insurance rate that can be obtained on vault construction. The vault doors are all of Mosier manufacture and also take the lowest burglar insurance rate as they are of the most advanced design. The first story vault is equipped with steel cabinets in plain view of the department is in the basement and is reached by a very beautiful curved stairway with a large open well that is unusually interesting, being of period design, very massive and have a number of candle effect lights. These chandeliers, as well as the window hangings, rugs, etc. were furnished by Leslie Turney, representing the J. L. Strassell company.

Field, and the building was constructed by the Charles M. Dunning Construction Co. of Oklahoma City, but they have also had offices in Wichita Falls for a number of years. The building is almost entirely finished and has been occupied for some little time, but details of finishing up have been delayed by labor troubles and delays in shipments of materials. The building is almost entirely finished and has been occupied for some little time, but details of finishing up have

AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK AND BASHARA BUILDING ONE OF MOST MODERN AND HANDSOME IN STATE

With the removal of the American National bank on Tuesday to its handsome new quarters in the American National bank and Bashaara building, one of the most modern and completely appointed banking rooms in the southwest, another distinct mark of progress will have been achieved in the construction of the modern business district of Wichita Falls, and the mark of final completion placed on a new office building constituting an ornament to Wichita Falls as it would to any other city in the country.

This building, which was the second of the new office buildings to go under way, is a monument to the progressive spirit of two local banking institutions, and of one of the largest and most progressive of the independent oil operators of this district. Mr. J. Bashaara. Originally planned, the building was to have been the home of the National Bank of Commerce, and was owned jointly by that bank and Mr. Bashaara. Following the consolidation of the latter institution with the City National bank, the officers and directors of the American National bank, then hardly more than a year old but already identified as a rapidly growing and progressive institution, seized an opportunity for a step and purchased the National Bank of Commerce interest and secured banking home which would do credit to any financial institution in the state.

Immediately upon buying an interest in the building the American National bank speeded up the completion of the building and of the banking room and while the latter is not yet fully finished as it will be later, it is ready for occupancy.

FIVE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS HAVE BEEN HELD IN COLISEUM; A RECORD HELD BY NO OTHER

CHICAGO, May 29.—The Chicago Coliseum, where the Republican National Convention of 1920 will be held, beginning June 8, has a history rich in political interest. Five national political conventions have been held within its walls, a record unsurpassed by any building in the United States.

Every four years since 1904 the republican party has met in the Coliseum to nominate its candidates for president and vice-president, and in 1912 the Progressive party also met there to nominate Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for president.

The Coliseum was completed in 1900. It was designed as a model convention hall and erected on the site of the old Libby War Prison Museum, at Wabash Avenue and Fifteenth street, less than a mile from the hotel and retail shopping district.

The castled walls of the old war prison were used for the Wabash Avenue side of the structure. It was built of stone, brick, steel and glass and is 402 feet long, 170 feet wide. It cost nearly $1,000,000. It has a wide balcony extending around three sides of walls, and this has been amplified for this year's convention by the addition of a second balcony on the north side.

As a result the seating capacity, 13,137, is the greatest in the building's history. Only 12,400 were seated in the 1916 convention.

The main floor of the Coliseum will seat 9,400 delegates, alternates, press representatives and spectators. There will be 100 doorkeepers, 200 ushers and 2,000 sergeants-at-arms. All the ushers and doorkeepers will be overseas soldiers, sailors and marines, working with military discipline under the direction of former army officers. By this system the national committee hopes to avert the overcrowding of four years ago when hundreds of persons stormed the doors, forced their way past the untrained doorkeepers and preempted seats for which they held no tickets.

The speaker's platform at the south end of the building will provide seats for the officers of the convention and members of the republican national committee. Behind this is a raised platform with 2,000 seats for the use of presidential candidates and other distinguished guests. On either side of the speaker's platform extending across the building is a press section containing 575 seats for working newspaper men.

Facing the speaker are the seats for the 954 delegates and an equal number of alternates. This section is enclosed by a heavy rail to hold back the crowds of frenzied spectators who frequently, during moments of intense enthusiasm, attempt to storm the speaker's stand. The rest of the main floor and all the balconies will be given over to visitors.

Tickets for spectators have been divided among the national committees from each state, in proportion to the state representation in the convention, with the exception of a block of about 2500 seats, which go to the Chicago convention committee, which financed the convention arrangements.

With less than 10,000 visitor's seats to be distributed, the committee had received more than 75,000 requests for tickets weeks in advance of the convention.

High Costs of Convention.

The Chicago Convention committee, of which Fred W. Upham, republican national treasurer, is chairman, raised $150,000 to bring the convention to Chicago. The high cost of everything has hit the convention. Music, which cost $2800 for the entire convention in 1916, cost $1,000 a day for a band of 50 pieces this year. Other expenses are in proportion.

The republican national committee moved its executive offices to the Coliseum several weeks in advance of the convention. Adjoining the main building is an annex connected with the Coliseum proper by several broad arches and entrances. Here are located the executive and administrative offices, a temporary hospital in charge of 100 Chicago physicians, and, in the basement, a telegraph and telephone room where scores of special wires have been installed for the use of the news gathering associations and newspapers which will cover the convention.

The annex also boasts a branch post office to facilitate speedy collection and distribution of mail to the convention officials, and numerous committee rooms for the national committee and various committees of the convention.

In the decoration of the convention hall the managers have abided by the long established custom of relying exclusively on profuse display of the American flag. Four years ago this custom was departed from in the use of gold and white bunting, but the cost was found excessive this year. C. R. Hall, superintendent of the Coliseum, who is in charge of the decorations, has used hundreds of big and little American flags to completely cover the girders and iron framework of the building.

That this is the age of gas is demonstrated by the fact that 1165 artificial gas companies in the United States are now supplying more than 300,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas of one sort or another to 8,500,000 customers.

FARM WORKERS CAN BE FOUND IF PRICE IS PAID

ALBANY, N. Y., May 29.—Farms of New York state will produce their normal contribution to the nation's food supply this season if the farmers are willing to pay 125 high wages demanded by farm labor, say officials of the State Department of Farms and Markets. These officials express the belief that the farmers are beginning to realize that their products will command high prices next fall and that this will induce them to pay high wages to laborers and to plant at least as many acres as in former years.

The farm workers will be found, say department officials, when the farmer is willing to pay them the wages they want. The problem of the farmer is the cost of labor rather than shortage, they declare. Woodmen who have been working in the logging camps during the winter are expected to go on the farms in the summer. Besides, say state officials, the annual "back to the land" migration from the cities should help to relieve the labor situation. Men who have been lured from the rural communities and towns by the higher wages offered in shop and factory begin to long for outdoor life when the warm days come, they say, and little coaxing is needed to make them exchange their work on their bench or machine for open spaces of field and meadow.

Planting has been delayed but this is attributed mostly to unfavorable weather conditions. There was difficulty early in the spring in obtaining seed, fertilizer, farm implements and machinery but the state officials say these commodities have been supplied as a result of efforts of the department of farms and markets in co-operation with railroad officials.

Expectation that the New York state farmer will see his duty and do it this year is based in part upon his record in 1917 and 1918 when farm laborers of the draft age were in the army. The state officials say that the farmer never before faced such a labor shortage, but, nevertheless, those were leaner years in crop production in New York state as well as for the bank balances for the farmers. They declare that if the farmer will pay the wages demanded, he will receive this year bigger profits than ever before.

The Turks are toppers for thrift as shown by a survey of the Ford plant at Detroit. They have an average of $321 in savings to their credit; Austrians, $641; Armenians, $641; Germans, $248; Hungarians, and Poles, $278.

POINTS LESSONS FROM TRUCK TOUR FOR ARCHER COUNTY

A caravan of about 20 loaded trucks from Wichita Falls was here Monday for a few hours on the first leg of its journey over a considerable portion of West Texas. The trip is being made to demonstrate to people along the route the possibilities and advantages of the auto truck over the old-fashioned horse or mule motive power wagons, or even over the railroads.

The caravan arrived here but a few moments behind its schedule time, and it came over 30 miles of roads, mostly freshly graded that would have strained a good mule team to pull an empty wagon over, and a loaded wagon would have been out of the question. Heavy and incessant rains previous had placed the road-bed in a fearful condition, and no more propitious time could have been chosen to prove the supremacy of the "haul by truck" method. These loaded trucks, some with two and three ton loads, manipulated the bad roads with nearly perfect success, and proved the contention that when the water is not too deep mud holes have no terrors for the trucks. Of course this demonstration of the "haul by truck" possibilities will doubtless convince at least some of our citizens they need a truck to the extent that they will buy one, but the demonstration was the county should have. Hauling by truck is already being practiced here on a tolerably pretentious scale. There is no way to keep these heavy trucks off the roads during wet weather, during which periods they simply tear the grade roads all to pieces. These trucks made ruts axle deep all the way from Wichita Falls here save a small stretch this side of the Little Wichita River bridge where the road had been graded. They did not leave a sign of a rut in this new work, which will eventually become as hard as cement. It costs $1.50 per mile. With our present graded roads the road tax will not suffice for upkeep much less build any more. At present we pay for all the road work and do not have good roads; with a bond issue for graded roads in excess of the present roads are costing. Study the matter over carefully. Our valuations have been increased 25 per cent for road purposes. Of this 25 per cent the state gets 10 to every dollar for the county. It will not suffice. In our opinion the choice will soon be up to our citizens—no roads, or another increase in valuation, or a bond issue. With good roads this section will continue to develop and prosper, with bad roads we will revert back to the old days and become a law of the land once more. Which do you prefer?—Archer City News.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

I have a 1918 model Maxwell. Have just put on a new Model "D" Schellenger carburetor. Engine will not run unless it "runs away with itself" or runs fast, and when I try to throttle it down it dies. My reason for installing this new carburetor was that the car was jumping and skipping when car was running. Have just had a new Bosch magneto installed and magneto seems to give off good spark, only thing it is awful hard to start, but I supposed this to be on account of defective carburetor. Can you make any suggestion to make it start easier? Please let me know what you think in the trouble with carburetor. Gas comes from gravity tank under dash on front of car. Am enclosing envelope for reply. Am very anxious as the tuning of Air Valve "A" cap and adjusting screw under does not seem to have bit of effect on it.

A. D.
It is assumed that this model carburetor is suited to your engine and if properly installed it should not cause the engine to race. You have stated that symptoms indicate too much air. Whether this is due to the air valve of carburetor or a manifold leak, should be determined first. You may find it necessary to change the specifications to suit your particular work. Difficult starting is caused by poor carburetion and also by poor ignition. If the magneto breaker points or spark plug gaps are not properly adjusted you will have trouble in starting. Better have an experienced mechanic check these adjustments for you.

I have a Ford car and the lights are from the magneto. Would it have any injurious effect on the magneto by installing an equalizing device or accumulator to maintain a brighter light at slow speed?
O. W.

It is doubtful whether you can do this. Why not use a storage battery for your lights and install a generator to charge the battery? This system will give you a uniform light under all conditions. Storage batteries must be charged with direct current.

I am very much interested in the fillers. I think if what they claim for them is true they are wonderful and may give considerable more wear per mileage. I have never seen any in use in this locality where so many autos come. I ask for more information and about guarantee regarding their wearing.
F. A. T.

At the present writing there seems to be nothing on the market equal to air for all around good service. There are many tire fillers, some good, others not so good. When a tire is old perhaps its service can be prolonged considerably by using the filler, but for resiliency and comfort there is nothing equal to air. The worth of a guarantee will depend entirely upon the character of the company making such warranty.

Would like to know how to correct a misfire in a motor at high speed, say 60 to 75 miles per hour. The car does not miss until it reaches 60 miles per hour. I have installed in the car a special gear ratio of 4 to 1. The plug points are in good condition, also distributor tightened points. Would a larger battery give a better spark? The car has a six volt battery at present. The carburetor has had every adjustment made for high speed. This is a Cadillac car, four passenger, Model 27. Would appreciate any suggestions.

You will probably find end play of axle play in the distributor shaft. This should be eliminated. You might also try another coil as a check on the present one. Are you sure that the carburetor specifications are right for the high engine speeds and does a sufficient supply of gasoline pass the fuel line connections? If your present battery is in first class condition no change should be necessary.

I have read your column on automobile troubles for some time. Would like to have you answer this if possible. I have a 1917, five passenger car that runs smooth and quiet until it strikes twenty-five miles per hour, when it makes a noise like gear meshing badly; will go that way from twenty-five to twenty-seven per hour; beyond or below that runs quiet and O. K. The noise appears to come from the left hand side under hood.

While the noise seems to come from under the hood, it may, nevertheless, be due to trouble in the transmission or rear axle. The construction is such that an internal rear axle noise may sound up through the whole car. If the motor runs well when idling slow or fast you can reasonably conclude that the engine is not at fault. If the differential crown and pinion gears are not properly meshed a disagreeable noise will result. Likewise, if the crown gear is not running true or any of the rear axle torque tube bearings are defective, trouble will result. A careful examination by a competent mechanic should locate the cause of the trouble.

Will you kindly let me know through your auto column what makes a bevel "growl" when car is turning a corner, and how to remedy it? The axle I refer to is a full floating type.

A. J.
If the large bevel gears are meshed too tightly they will growl continually. The fact that the gears growl only when turning corners indicates considerable wear in the differential unit. In straight-ahead driving the differential turns as a unit. In turning corners the floating bevel gears are brought into action. It is quite possible that some parts of this unit need renewing. Perhaps the spider holding the floating bevel gears in position is broken. It is not a difficult matter to remove the cover and inspect the whole unit. You may find it necessary to remove the unit in order to inspect thoroughly all the inner working parts. In the full floating type axle this is not a difficult matter.

I burned out No. 1 connecting rod in my Ford. Put in a new one, ran engine idle for a few minutes and then ran the car about half a mile when the new rod burned out. I fitted bearings carefully thought, had to use several shims and scrape out habit considerably as bearing was too tight when I first tried it. I used prussian blue in getting a good fit, and was able to crank my car by hand, so don't think it was too tight. Had my oil level up to top jet cock, also checked bearings before putting on. Crank shaft is nearly new and seemed smooth and in good shape. Can you suggest any reason to cause new bearing to burn out? S. A.

Before you fit a connecting rod bearing you must be sure that the connecting rod is true. Perhaps it is slightly bent. Something must be out of alignment to burn out a bearing in the manner you

If the CHALMERS Engine Had Windows You Would See These Revolutionary Processes

THE great thing about a motor car, after all, is how it transforms the energy that nature stored away in gasoline into horsepower.

Chalmers today leads in this, and the automobile industry to a large extent has accepted the Chalmers principles by which power is wrung from "gas."

If the Chalmers engine had windows you would witness these two amazing processes.

You would see the Hot Spot heat up and, like a hot stove sending up into steam water dropped on it, transform the raw, inferior "gas" of the day into a "vapor cloud."

You would see the instantaneous change from a "rainy liquid gas" to a so-called "dry gas."

Then you would look through Ram's horn and note this "vapor cloud" being rushed at a velocity of one hundred miles an hour through easy air bends an equal but short distance to each cylinder.

You would see the explosions in the cylinders, how much of this "cloud" was converted into power, how little was wasted through the exhaust.

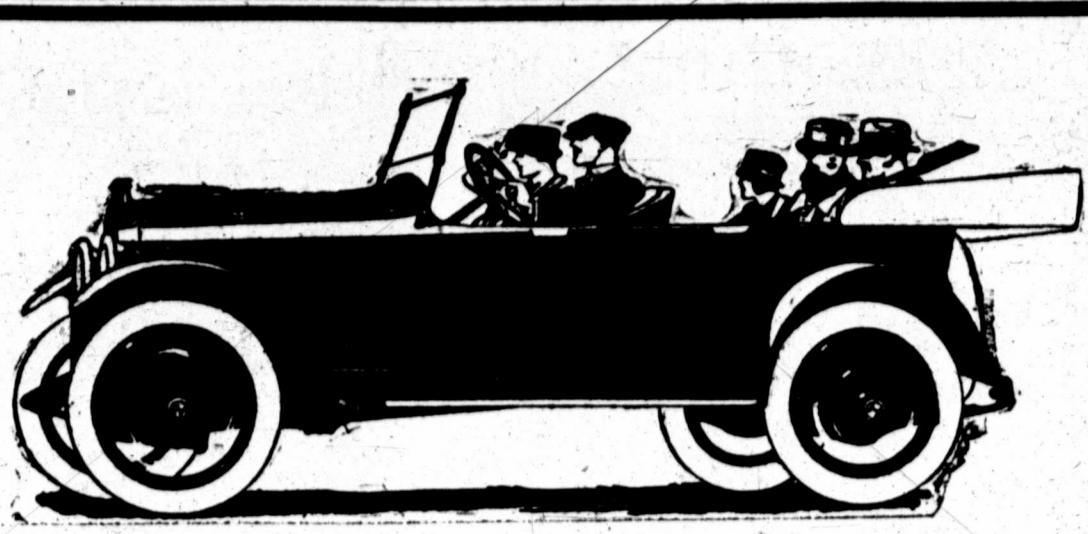

You would note, too, how even and smooth these explosions were, and how absent the element of vibration that raises so much havoc in a car.

You would understand clearly how such troubles as frequently fouled spark plugs, burned bearings, and scored cylinders are absent in a Chalmers.

Your conclusion would be identical with so many others: that Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

Probably most people in buying automobiles think first of economy, durability and performance.

It is natural that they should, for an automobile is first of all, an investment, the soundness of which depends upon the car's ability to deliver service at a minimum cost.

For in the Hupmobile the qualities of economy, durability, and performance exist to a degree so remarkable that the possession of them has long ceased to be a matter of argument.

But there are other automobile buyers—men and women—who, while they appreciate and demand the substantial qualities in their car, also insist on still another quality.

That quality is beauty—beauty of design, finish and appointments.

These people, too, are buying Hupmobiles.

state. In fitting a new bearing you must be sure to drill the oil holes and also clean the oil grooves in the surface of the bearing. These properly fitted bearings should be equally free at all positions of the shaft.

Will you kindly advise me in your next issue the following: I got a storage battery from a friend of mine the other day. Same has been standing around for two or three months without recharging. You think we only recharge it up to its recharging? Do you think it had any bad effect on it by standing idle? I wish to use it for the lights on my car. Do you think we can recharge it up to its full capacity as before, and have it last its proper time? Thanking you in advance for your courtesy in the matter.

When a storage battery has been allowed to stand for a long time without being recharged for the plates sulphate. It is possible that by giving the battery a very slow rate of charge it can be brought back to its normal condition. It is a question whether it will be as efficient as it was. Sometimes it is necessary to disassemble the battery and thoroughly renovate it. The damage may not be as serious as you think. Would you suggest charging it at a very low rate in order to bring it back into condition.

It became necessary just lately to take my motor down in order to have some repairs done. Reassembling the motor I find there has developed a humming noise which seems to come from the transmission. It is decidedly more pronounced when disengaged; for instance, when I push in clutch on down hill run. Have had a mechanic examine some information regarding this? Also advise if you think new lamps are required.

Repairs to the engine should hardly affect the transmission, unless there is a misalignment of parts. You had better make sure that the engine is in proper line with the clutch and transmission.

My car is equipped with an electric lighting system, which has a generator and storage battery; also a self-starter. The other night the head lamps failed to work as they should. They gave a little light, but not enough to light up the road. They acted just as if they did not get enough current from the battery. I tested the battery, but found it O. K. I looked all over for the trouble, but found all connections intact. I am told the lamp bulbs need replacing, and that this is the only trouble. These appear to be all right, and since they are so costly thought best to seek a little advice. There is no garage near here, and while I do not use the head lamps very often, nevertheless I fear that something is wrong which possibly may result seriously later. Can you give me any information regarding this? Also advise if you think new lamps are required.

New lamp bulbs are not required. These do not burn out gradually. If the filament of the lamp becomes broken or otherwise injured, it will give no light at all. The leakage in current may be due to loose ground connections. It is quite probable, however, that the trouble lies in a defective fuse. Since the battery is in good condition, there is somewhere undue resistance to the current supplied to the head lamps. There is a fuse in the fuse box controlling the head lights, and would suggest that this be replaced. Also note if all electrical connections are clean and tight, including those in the fuse box.

Helpful Hints. Driving in deep mud is not difficult if good judgment is used by the driver. Don't try to force the car in high gear causing the wheels to spin. Shift to a lower gear, and take it slowly. If the car stops, reverse and back up for several feet. This will give you a chance to gain momentum to overcome the obstruction. Forcing the engine, and spinning the wheels, only tends to dig a hole.

When the rear wheels get into a hole and it is difficult to obtain traction to pull out, back up and, then shift gear quickly to take advantage of any forward momentum of the car. This forward drift of the car may be just enough to help you out.

In driving over crater-like holes, watch the road and try to stagger the jolts. Don't let both wheels hit the obstruction squarely. The impact will not be so severe on the car. The effect is noticeable when crossing rough tracks at an angle.

Always bear in mind that chains when installed should be draped over the tire with the locking clamps toward the rear. Then the forward movement of the car does not tend to unlock them. Do not install too tightly, but allow enough freedom, so they can creep. This prevents cutting the rubber in one place. Cross links should be replaced immediately when broken, and in such a manner that the open part of the hooks is on the outside, and also so that the new cross link member will lay flat on the tire without any twist.

TRUCKS TAKING PLACE IN TRADE RIVALRIES

Reports emanating from many sections of the country show various cities profiting in volume of business transacted, in growth of population, and in the reduction of the cost of the necessities of life by the use of motor truck transportation, according to the Ship by Truck Bureau at Akron, Ohio, where data dealing with the problems of transportation and distribution is being compiled.

A year ago, for example, business men in a Michigan city found wholesalers in a Wisconsin city across the lake were making substantial inroads into their markets. Lake transportation was making it possible for the Wisconsin dealers to get shipments into the Michigan territory more quickly than could the Michigan city's dealers. These Michigan dealers turned to the motor truck, laid great stress on the desirability of good roads, and today they are outdistancing their competitors in the fight for business in the smaller Michigan cities and towns.

More than 250,000 pounds of freight are leaving the two loading platforms of this city's Ship by Truck terminal daily, according to the most recent reports, and 19 motor express routes are used. They enable the wholesalers to make deliveries the same day orders are received.

Two other cities, rivals for many years, have raced neck and neck in the field of business with little perceptible gain on either side until the larger of them suddenly saw the advantages of motor express and lent its support in promoting terminal stations for truck lines running out into the country.

"It is not quality of goods, nor prices," reads a report recently submitted by an investigator of the smaller city on the reason why the wholesaler business of the rival had grown so rapidly. "It simply is a matter of deliveries. They have organized Ship by Truck by establishing a union freight trucking station, facilitating and speeding shipments to and fro."

The chamber of commerce got the point. As a result of the report it encouraged the establishment of the same system for motor transportation. Today it is gradually regaining old customers for its business houses and obtaining a substantial share of new business.

TRUCK INDUSTRY IS GOING FORWARD WITH GREAT STRIDES

Production figures over a period of years, as compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, show the giant strides the motor truck industry is taking, and that its advance was greatly accelerated last year. The figures are as follows:

Year	Number	Value
1904	411	$ 946,947
1911	10,655	22,292,321
1917	125,187	230,982,668
1918	227,250	434,168,992
1919	305,142	408,311,535
Average wholesale price for 1919—		$1,338

At the beginning of 1919 the entire automobile industry was on practically a 100 per cent war basis. Due to this fact passenger car production was the lightest less than in 1917, although greater than in 1918. But manufacturers of motor trucks were able to overcome this handicap of the early months and make possible a substantial increase for their product over all previous records.

Nevertheless, during the twelve months demand stepped ahead of production, its rapid advance having resulted in large part from the publicity given the war-time performance of the truck and from the accumulative power of demonstrations made by the truck itself in commerce.

Backing up in mud has a tendency to unlock the chain fasteners. Then when you drive along for a while, one or more of your chains may be lost. This can be avoided by putting a piece of wire around the locking clamp. It is an easy matter to remove it with a pair of pliers.

After a blowout comes, do not run the tire a foot further than is necessary, but immediately put in a temporary repair or change tires, and as soon as possible take the injured tire to the vulcanizer for a permanent repair. For an emergency repair on the road use a sticupatch; it should be applied without cement so that it can be removed later under less stressful conditions.

Never leave your car unprotected on the street. Secure a serviceable lock and always take time to use it no matter how short a time you are leaving the car.

Axles or rims that have become bent will cause the tires to suffer, due to the fact that the wheel is not turning true.

When removing dust from your car first use a soft dust brush before putting any water on the car.

To avoid trouble and annoyance with squirrels and constables, use a little care and refrain from violating speed laws.

At least once every six months ball bearings should be inspected, the rough or worn balls replaced with perfect ones and the ball run filled with graphite grease.

It is well to enclose the electric wires the points where they are held to the iron frame with rubber tubing.

In some instances a nut is so placed that it is extremely difficult to reach with a wrench. Often this may be obtained by reversing the bolt, whereby the nut is brought within easy reach.

Oil joints should be fitted with wrapping paper gaskets. Water joints should have asbestos gaskets coated with

The TULSA

It Conquered the World's Worst Roads

Created for private needs of oil men, now they answer public demand for this amazing car

Unusual conditions forced a group of wealthy oil men to build a car for their own use—one that would withstand the world's worst roads—the oil fields of Oklahoma. They called it the TULSA, after the city that is the hub of their activities.

These men KNEW FROM EXPERIENCE what they needed in a car to stand the terrific punishment inflicted upon motor cars in the oil fields. They built the TULSA to these specifications. Day in and day out, the TULSA has been subjected to the most grueling tests. It has gone down into the very depths of mud, gumbo, ruts and sand—over roads utterly impossible to describe.

Hundreds of TULSA cars were watched carefully in actual use, for the least sign of letting up. Minor shortcomings were immediately remedied, until today the TULSA is known to be RIGHT.

The public was quick to find out about the unusual performance of the TULSA. Oil men and oil companies asked to be supplied. Then came merchants, salesmen and farmers—all wanting the privilege of the use of this car of astounding achievements. So, what was the outgrowth of these oil men's needs, now becomes a gift to others.

graphite, while hot gas joints should have copper-covered asbestos and dry gas joints need coated asbestos gaskets.

By taking out the inner tubes once in two months an driver's vision of conditions in the tires, the danger of having the tubes rubbed through by the edges of the flap or by their slight projection in the casing is removed.

A thin coat of ether applied to the surface of your celluloid windows, and allowed to dry in the air will clean them and take out the finer hair scratches. The best that can be done with heavier scratches is to fill them with white shellac or varnish.

When the hot fails to take up wear in the square hole in the steering crank, thrust a small steel plate in the slot to keep it open and then strike the arm a sharp blow with a hammer just above the hole. This will be found more satisfactory than the use of shims.

Castellated nuts have a way of tightening up between hotches, the nut is screwed up to the notch ahead of it is too tight, while the notch back is too loose. This trouble can be cured by a careful filing of the face of the nut so that it can be screwed to the notch ahead.

The proper method of mounting straight side tires is to lay the rim on the floor, inserting the valve stem of the tire in its proper place. The head for ten inches in both sides of a valve should be bent and forced in place. After starting the tire in this way it should be forced in place further by stamping on it, first on one side and then the other. Stamping in this way will let the operator seat the tire easily as a general thing, though it is sometimes necessary to resort to a tire tool. The ends of the rim may be brought into play by means of a screw-driver to use in prying, and care must be used not to make a mistake and get the wrong end of the rim on top.

Be careful when turning corners and go a little slowly, for many a car has turned turtle by a too sudden swerve, especially at the end of a small hill. The warning may also be heeded in the city on the crowded streets, as a sudden turning of a corner without notice or warning, may hit a pedestrian who has looked up and down the street, and started to cross in apparent safety until a car swiftly turns a corner and catches him. Another thing, stick to the car path between the curb and the safety zone, that is, the space allotted passengers while alighting to and from trolley cars.

STANDARDIZATION OF WORK OBJECT OF CONFERENCE

BOSTON, May 30.—Standardization of quantity and quality of work in the clothing industry with a view to increasing business as well as undue speed of production is one of the aims of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and the co-operation of the manufacturers is hoped for by the union, according to the general secretary of the clothing workers, Joseph Schlossberg. The plan which is in the hands of the general executive board of the organization is regarded as a new departure in the management of labor.

The general executive board will make a study of the market conditions in each large city and then invite a conference with the clothing manufacturers for the purpose of agreeing upon a scale of work. It is planned to establish a standard of quantity and quality that must be performed for the maximum pay, and there is to be a lower standard of quantity and quality with a corresponding rate of pay for the worker who cannot reach the first standard. In the past the workers have claimed that they have been speeded up too much by the manufacturers and have met that issue by fixing an arbitrary limit upon production in certain fields, while some manufacturers have been contending that the men and women in the trade have not been doing an honest amount of work for the pay. Piece work tended to drive the workers too fast, according to their own view of it, and was everywhere discouraged by the unions; pay by the week regardless of the amount of work performed, has not been satisfactory to the manufacturers.

FEWER LUXURIES ARE NOW BEING PURCHASED IN ELEVENTH DISTRICT

DALLAS, TEX., May 28.—April witnessed a general slowing up of agricultural business and financial operations in the Eleventh Federal Reserve district, according to the monthly review made public today by the Dallas reserve bank. In each of these three lines of activity, however, the change of pace was not without its compensations, the review added.

Agricultural processes, after being arrested by very unusual spring drouths, made rapid recovery at the close of April when heavy general rains ushered in the month of May. A slump in trade was noticeable throughout the district, but was not strong enough to impair the general situation. The inherent soundness of trade conditions as a whole, the report said, was emphasized by the fact that business failures, measured in liabilities involved, were the smallest in April than in any month during the past three years with the exception of last September.

The tendency not to buy high-priced articles was noticeable especially in regard to luxuries, the review said, adding that department stores emphasized the lack of demand for silks. The nation-wide tension in the money market is making itself felt in the Eleventh district, the review continued. Bankers are scrutinizing the needs of their customers more closely and a number of banks reported a healthy spirit of caution already visible in their clients' plans for the coming months. There seems, however, to be no ground for serious alarm in financial requirements of essential businesses.

"The cold, dry windy weather which prevailed during the greater part of the month of April adversely affected the agricultural situation, throughout the district," the review said. "In New Mexico the wheat crop suffered particularly from high winds and lack of moisture. Late reports from Arizona and Oklahoma indicate that farming conditions in those states are more encouraging. The drouth in Texas, which was only partially relieved by showers during the latter part of April was detrimental to winter wheat, the condition of which was estimated at 73 per cent of normal, which forecasts a yield of 11,813,000 bushels. * * * Plowing for spring planting on May 1 was reported to be 86 per cent complete in Texas and 84 per cent in Oklahoma.

"Due to the low germinating power of the seed used, and the cold rainy weather of early May, early cotton has made slow growth in Texas and the stand generally is poor. Livestock prices were on a general downward trend during April, according to the review, notwithstanding a greatly restricted marketing movement. Drouth, strikes, car shortages and unsettled market conditions, were contributing factors in sharply restricted livestock movements. Oil production in the Texas and North Louisiana fields for April totaled 11,024,345 barrels, compared with 11,132,024 for March. Lumber production was 85 per cent of normal in April, with prices ranging downward, the decline at mills ranging from $5 to $8 per thousand feet on the more active list. Coal mines were operating 60 per cent of capacity; copper mines of Arizona and New Mexico 50 per cent of normal.

SUMMER BRINGS HEAVY STRAIN ON YOUR BATTERY

Summer plays almost as many pranks with an automobile storage battery as winter, says Casey Durney at Friddy Building U.S. Service Station representative for this section, set forth yesterday in advising motorists to take a primary course in the care of their batteries.

"The long summer days," he said, "may result in serious damage to the battery because more energy is being manufactured than consumed. In other words, the proportion of charge and discharge is greatly in favor of the former.

"The battery has less work to do in summer than in winter, due to a number of causes. The engine starts easier, the gasoline vaporizes more generously and the lamps are not called upon to the extent that they are in the winter. This means that, as a general proposition, less energy is discharged from the battery in the course of its regular work in summer.

"Not only is less energy drawn from the battery in summer, and therefore relatively more energy put into it, but the atmosphere's heat on hot days adds to the battery's temperature so that the battery is more apt to be overheated in summer.

"Overcharging of the battery may be relieved by disconnecting the battery from the dynamo by means of a touring switch, or by turning on all the lamps on the car. The battery may be discharged during certain periods that the engine is idle by turning the lamps on.

"These are facts well worth the consideration of any motorist who desires to lengthen the life of his battery. Other things are just as important, for instance, the 'standing up' of the battery plates under the influence of hot weather. For summer touring I believe nothing can outlast the machine-pasted plate which is a substantial improvement over the hand-pasted plate as most well-informed motorists are already aware."

It is quite evident that many believe it the part of economy to buy a Paige Glenbrook even though there are other five-passenger cars that sell for less money.

There is no longer any confusion between true economy and false economy. The former takes account of values, while the latter concerns itself only with cheapness of price.

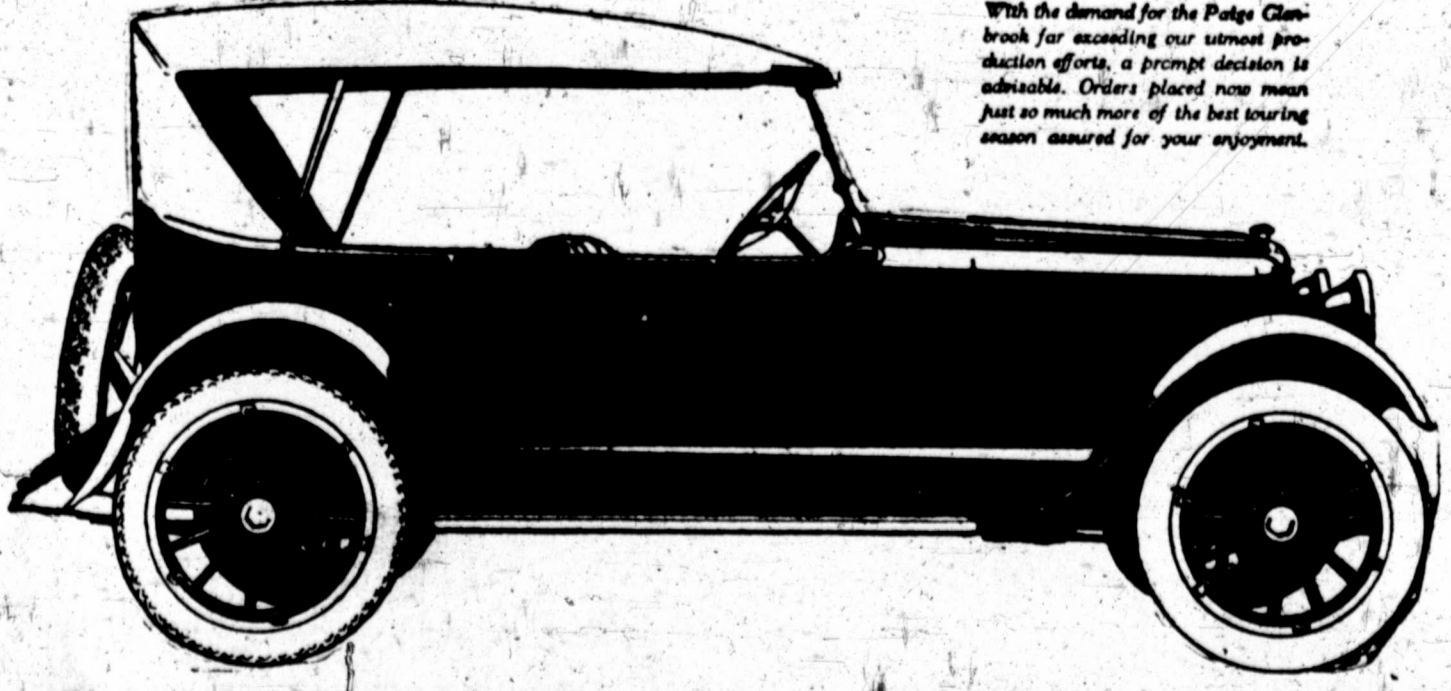

Such considerations as beauty, comfort and sturdy dependability far outweigh mere difference in original cost. The lasting enjoyment and enduring satisfaction acquired through the ownership of a five-passenger Glenbrook are more to be considered than the few dollars which might be saved through false economy, based on comparative prices rather than on comparative values.

When once you have seen the new Paige Glenbrook and have ridden in it, you will appreciate more fully just what we mean. And you will realize then, we believe, the full truth of our assertion that it is really the part of economy to purchase a Paige Glenbrook if your requirements are for a car of five-passenger size.

'LAZY LARRY'

By
GEORGE MITCHEL AND TUNY SARG

Lazy Larry loved to shirk
Anything that looked like work;
Yet, when his hat was in the ring
He'd take a crack at anything.

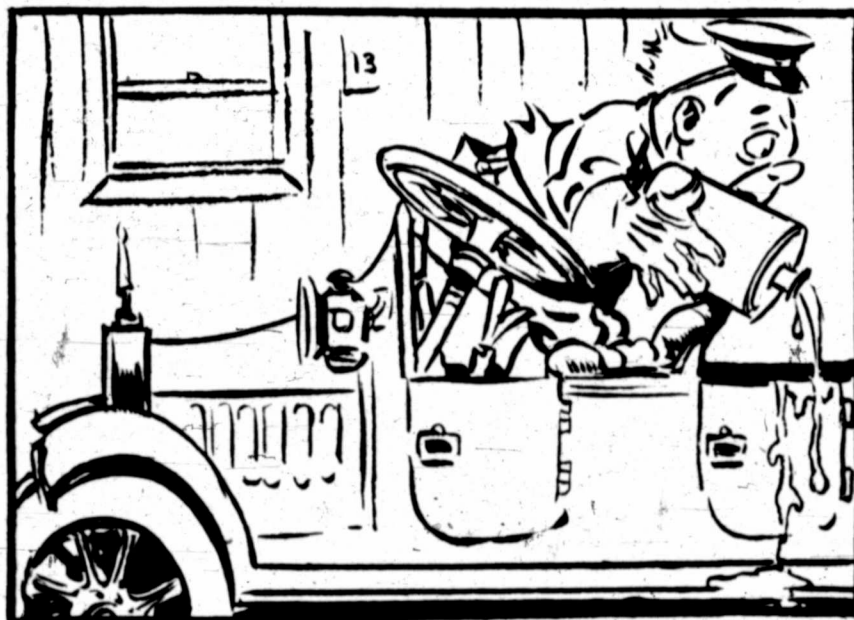

Said Lazy Larry: "Some kind fate
Has hung that sign upon that gate.
I hate to work, but I must eat;
I'm hungry to my very feet."

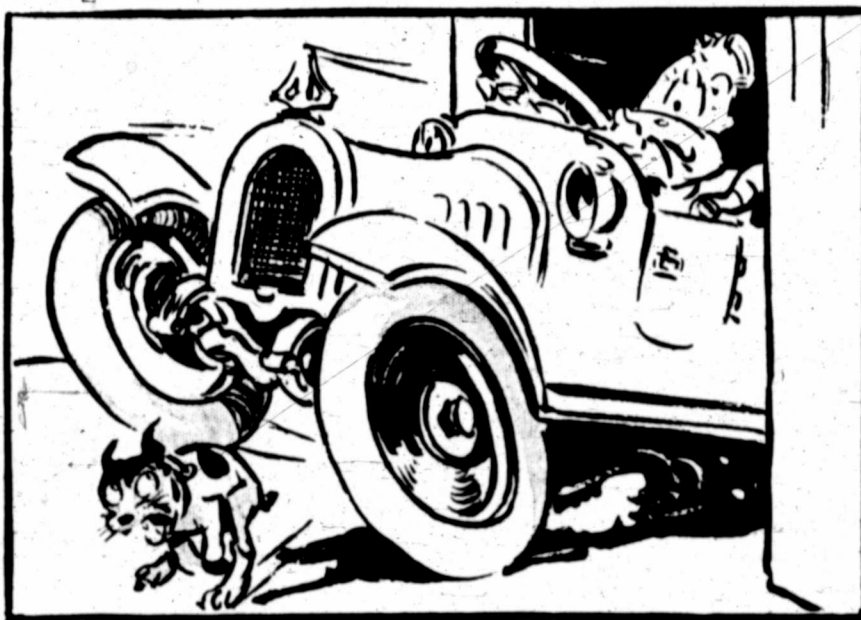

He met the Boss and said: "I see
You need a chauffeur. Why not me?"
"You drive, of course?" the Boss inquired.
"That's me," said Larry, and was hired.

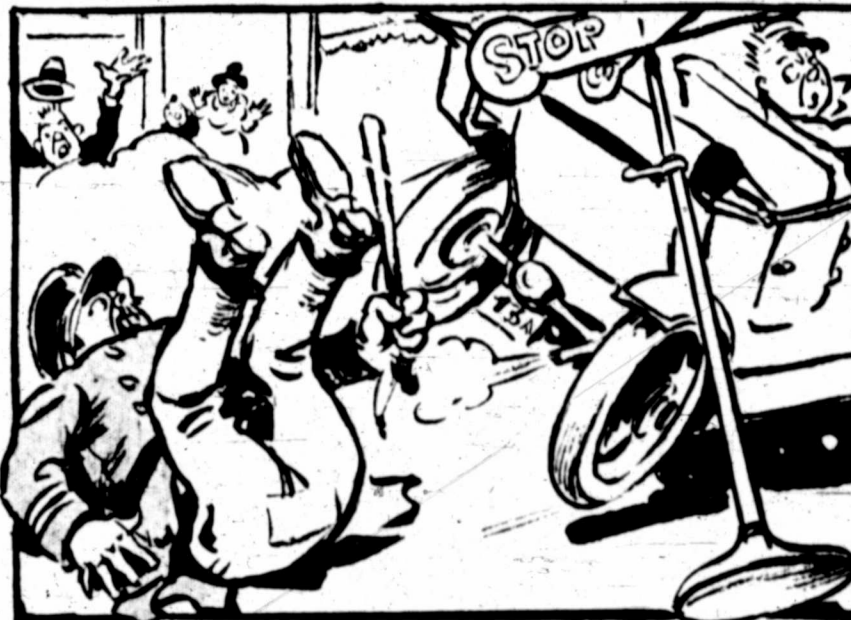

And now to the garage they strolled
And there our lazy friend was told
To don the family livery
And bring the touring car at three.

Now Lazy Larry didn't know
A thing about a car, and so
He couldn't tell a limousine
From half a pint of gasoline.

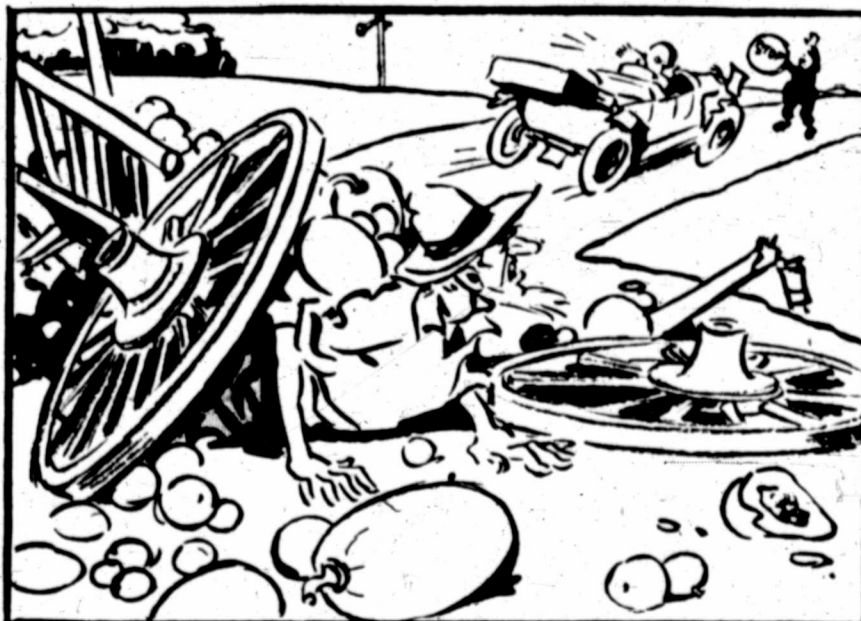

He pulled a lever here and there—
The engine sputtered everywhere;
Then threw the clutch, he knew not why,
And leaped from the garage on "high."

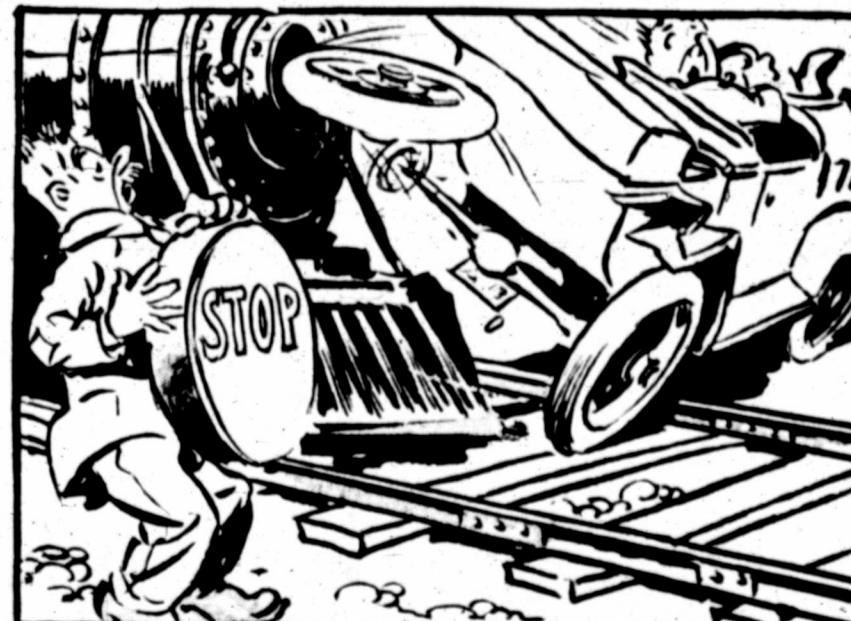

At sixty per he hit the street,
Too fat to fall out of his seat,
And though he tried, he couldn't sto;
To argue with a traffic cop.

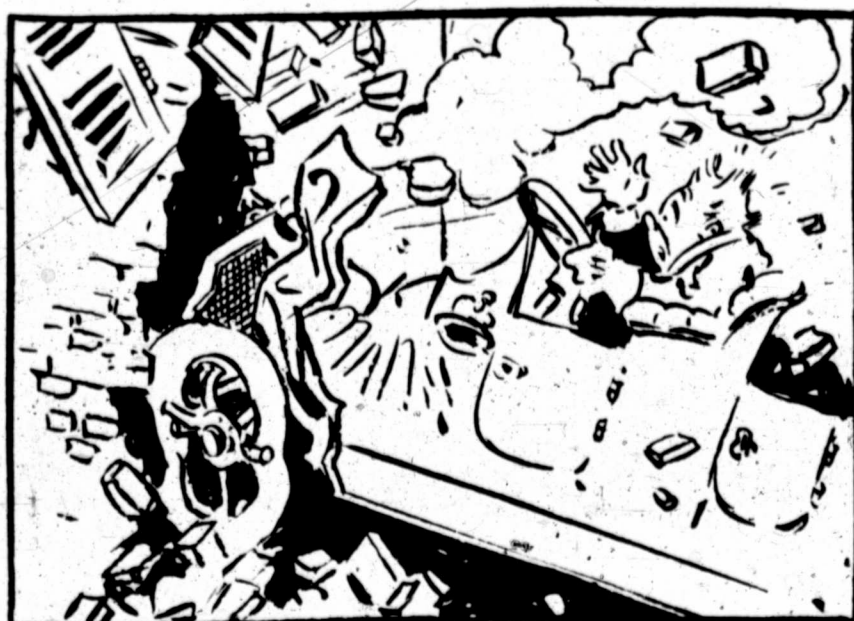

He hurdled walls and fallen trees;
He jumped a brook with perfect ease,
And made a pretty "loop the loop,"
A short cut through a chicken coop.

He met a farmer on the road,
He also met the farmer's load
Of pumpkins, scattered them sky-high,
And smeared the map with pumpkin-pie.

He turned and made for town again,
And raced a fast-approaching train.
Too late he heard the whistle squeal—
He won the race, but lost a wheel.

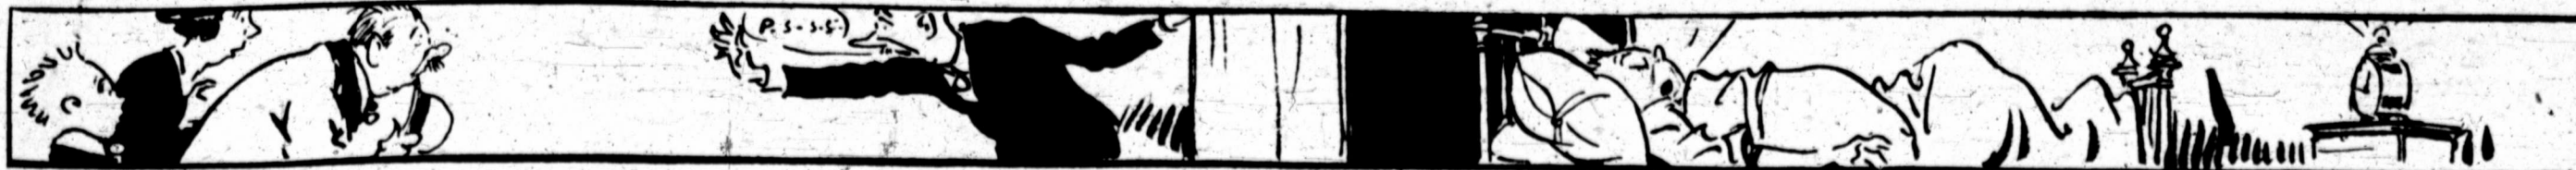

Along the street he madly raced:
As, by a million people chased,
He struck the house, a clock struck three.
"I'm always right on time," said he.

On, up the stoop and through the hall
He sizzled like a cannon-ball.
"I'm here," said Larry, with a grin;
"I thought I'd better drive right in."

Said Larry: "'S hard to please some folk
They don't know how to take a joke.
I had a bully drive, but then
'll never, never drive again."
